Many believe that Masaryk had remained on with the new government as foreign minister, not because he accepted as inevitable Communist domination, but because he felt he could serve best within the government, working secretly with democratic elements. He made a cryptic declaration in a speech to the Czech army after the Communist assumption of power, in which he said: "Czech and Slovak brothers, I am with you."

This may have been an indication of his true purpose; to direct the underground.

But something changed his mind about the course he was to pursue.

One must take into consideration the attitude toward self-destruction in a country which had a long tradition of martyrdom and underground resistance, and no Catholic background. I do not know how much of a mystic Jan Masaryk may have been. But it has been emphasized that only a few hours before his death, he visited his father's grave with others, to venerate the honored memory. And he remained there, alone, long after the others had gone.

Perhaps he felt that he had received, in that lonely vigil, some mystic command, say as Hamlet did after a similar experience: ". . . and thy commandment all alone shall live within the book and volume of my brain, unmix'd with baser matter: yes, by heaven!"

* * *

Peace Depends On World's Children

Recently I received a pamphlet from the General Brotherhood board containing an article by Gordon Allport, department of social relations at Harvard, entitled: "Guide Lines for Research in International Cooperation."

Allport points out that most international conferences meet in the Credit United Nations World

These United Nations members don't quarrel. Can you guess the country to which these children of members of the United Nations staff belong?

glare of cameras, microphones and bald heads, and that it is time to concentrate our efforts on the children.

In teaching children about the peoples of the world, Allport says the tendency is to accentuate the DIFFERENCES.

He says: "The American child learns with horror about headhunters, about infanticide; and he learns to laugh at the Dutch who clop in wooden shoes, and at the quaint observances of Easter among adherents to the Orthodox faith. The implication of inferiority is a usual by-product of our present method of teaching cultural and national differences. Less dramatic, but far sounder, would be the teaching of the common considerations of justice and morality that are identical over vast areas of the earth. Practices that may SEEM to differ dramatically often indicate common aspirations and common values. The prayer wheels of Tibet and the silent Quaker meeting have virtually identical functional significance; so too the initiation rites of the Pawnee and the American high school commencement.

Little effort has been made, Allport claims, to search for the common ground of mankind—and he suggests that the United Nations prepare an encyclopedia of the uniformities and similarities in the beliefs, practices and aspirations of all peoples—an encyclopedia which would serve as a reference guide for innumerable aspects of world policy for years to come.

Allport thinks that a study of the common peoples of the world undoubtedly would reveal that more important to them than boundaries and national aspirations are matters of self-respect, pride, food, shelter, marriage and the welfare of their children.

Yes, as I said earlier, ask the peoples of the world to vote between capture of territory, acquisition of ports or oil fields at the price of war—and there would be no question of their choice.

The Washington MERRY-GO-ROUND

DREW PEARSON

Washington War Jitters

OFFICIAL WASHINGTON GIVES ALL the appearances of having a bad case of war jitters or else planning a deliberate show of military activity in order to outbluff the Russians.

Telegrams have been sent to large groups of reserve officers to be ready in case of trouble. No one has been called officially, but many have been warned that they may be called.

In addition, army representatives have visited certain key factories and inquired about plans for rapid conversion of their plants in case of trouble. The army has been especially interested in cement factories, pointing out that it may be necessary to do a lot of underground construction.

Behind this, war chiefs admit, have been some ominous moves by the Russian army, which has now concentrated heavy reinforcements either in Russian-occupied Germany or else near the German border.

There is no way of knowing just what this means. It may mean that the Russians are prepared to move into Western Europe in retaliation for the Western alliance and the U. S.-British-French plan for a separate control of the Ruhr. Or it may merely mean that the Russians are shifting their troops around in order to intimidate the Italians on the eve of the election and also to scare the United States. It is considered unlikely that Russia really wants war now, so it may well be that the Russian troop maneuvers are a bluff.

In any event, U. S. war chiefs, having been caught napping at Pearl Harbor, are taking no chances again.

To this end, only a few U. S. troops are being left in Germany.

Large U. S. forces there might tempt the Russians to deliver a crippling blow and execute a Dunkirk.

Should Moscow not be bluffing and suddenly advance through Germany, plans are all set for the U. S. army to high-tail it across the continent and on to England.

* * *

Navy Sponsors Tours

THE ARMY AND NAVY are supposed to be united now, but the navy has started imitating the army in a drive to win friends and influence taxpayers.

Every few months a group of prominent educators, editors and industrialists is invited to attend a 10-day school and learn all about the navy. They are taken behind the scenes at a big naval base, given a front row seat to the navy in action, even awarded diplomas after the course is completed.

It's an indirect lobbying plan somewhat similar to the army's system of flying civilians to Fort Knox to view the trial military training school. This lobbying recently was censured severely by congress.

The navy's next course for civilians opens at the Pensacola naval air station, with 60 educators, editors and businessmen invited.

"These men will come from nearby southern states and will pay all their own expenses," explained Capt. A. Macondray, officer in charge of the project.

When pinned down, however Macondray admitted that three men have been invited to fly all the way from Alaska in naval planes, and that several others are also traveling at government expense.

"But," insisted Macondray, "they will have to pay for their own meals."

* * *

Truman Blasts Pearson

THE PRESIDENT of the United States was blazing mad and shooting from the hip when Democratic Chairman Howard McGrath and Executive Director Gael Sullivan went in to see him. They had expected to have a quiet talk over political conditions and warn Mr. Truman of growing revolt inside the party.

But they never had a chance.

Once inside the door, Mr. Truman said he was fed up with the lack of loyalty by certain party leaders.

He blamed the southern revolt on Senator Byrd of Virginia and described Byrd as the "finest Republican in the Democratic party."

Mr. Truman also leveled a blast at the "no-good columnist Drew Pearson" and congratulated McGrath for having issued a statement denying a Pearson report that he, McGrath, would like to resign as national chairman.

McGrath had intended talking to Mr. Truman about a vice-presidential running mate, and planned to suggest Sen. Lister Hill of Alabama. He thought a southerner on the ticket would win back the South, and that Hill also would be liberal enough to suit the North.

Knocked off base by the vehemence of the President's tirade, however, McGrath forgot all about mentioning Hill's name.

Gems of T

CHEERFULNES are great be are famous preser ful looks.—Dicken

Once he (Diogene blushing, and ad "Courage, my boy! plexion of virtue."

As rust corrupts corrupts man.

Boomera

"At her request drinking?"

"Yes."

"And you stopped sm same reason?"

"I did."

"And it was for her up dancing, card pa Hards?"

"Correct."

"Then why didn't her?"

"Well, after all this decided I could do b

CLASSI DEPART

HELP WANTED

Experienced feed salesman pre-mix to feed mills; old cern; commission and d Southwest Iowa, nil Nebras portunity for salesman that details. Write E. L. Woodbu Street, Minneapolis, Minn.

SALESMAN to sell "SUN vest Hats. Big commissio AMERICAN HARVEST HA Mo.

SALESMAN with car, call machy. dlrs., etc.; new id Craftsmen power tools, excel necessary. JOSEPH BOLD Grand Ave., Muskegon, Mich.

SALESMEN Want Good Income? Earn alons selling nationally know proteins feeds of quality to Good repeat business. Car Dept. DM. PURITAN LABORATORI Des Moines, Iow

HELP WANTED—MEN

WANTED: Married couple, Man, yard, garden, woman, work, cooking Separate quar Hopley, Atlantic, Ia.

FARMS & RANC

FARMS for sale—160-140 acr well improved, all are electri Price $150 to $160 per acre. man, Bixby, Minn.

160 ACRE farm, 6 miles we Minnesota. Black loam soil. All plete set of buildings. Price possession at once. Mrs. Lena LeRoy, Minnesota.

5 acre, 7-yr. old grove in Rio Reds and Oranges. T P. A Payne Road, Des Moines, Iow

REAL ESTATE—BUS

Retiring—Sacrifice money-maki quick sale. Terms Write for 2523 3rd Ave. So., Minneapolis

CANADIAN FARMS—Write at fo FORMATION on farm settlement Fertile soils. Reasonably priced. Canadian Pacific Railway, Dept. Paul, Minn.

BUSINESS & INV. OP

BE independent, 3-2 tavern co deed to bldg. and home. Only town, no hard liquor, only real b No agents. $8000 purchase price John Moreland, Delavan, Minn.

A BUSINESS OPPORTU Express shipping gift packers pl home on paved road, with 30 acre citrus groves special planting fer March 10 I drove through the open grant with orange blossoms, 25 perature. Earnings limited only b ity to take care of business offer near Harlingen, the commercial Rio Grande Valley of Texas. earned in the business. J. B. East Fifth Street, Des Moines, Io 3-1884. Residence, 5-0556.

THEATRE for Sale by owner, S nois. Pop. 950. Good location ment. Priced right. Shown by a only. C. SANFLEBEN, Wyanet,

MAKE $5 to $10 per day in spar ing new laundry basket. No more no more tripping on stairs. Sells shown. Write ALLIED IND 1220½ Grand Ave., Des Moines, Io

POULTRY, CHICKS & E

BROODER AND LAYING HOUS factured by leading firm of midwe materials, finished craftsmanship est quality buildings obtainable er in your locality with Champi houses. Write for free literature Silo Company, West Des Moines,

HAY, GRAIN, FEED

MINDO oats, Minn., blue tag germ. Very early, heavy yieldi resistant. Excellent for heavy soil bu. in 3-bu. bags, $3.25 for 30-bu. fob. Carl E. Larson, Milaca, M

SEEDS, PLANTS, ETC

CLINTON SEED OATS from cer germination, 97% test 42c, price truck load lots. Ph. 27, Albert worth, Ia.

Seed Corn—Certified, blue tag, treated, US 13, US 35, Ohio C 49 sistant strain, Indiana 605, Iow 939, $5.75 per bu fob. Perry. Geo. Perry, Iowa.

2000 BUSHELS Blue Tag Certifi No. 1 seed oats. Minnesota's newes est early seed oats. Perfect for c Raise Mindo oats for seed in 1949 real money from your oat crop. 3000 bushels certified No. 1 Benton The oat that made history this pas Moore & McCann Seed 116 Sycamore St. - Waterloo, Ia

MISCELLANEOUS

FOR SALE—1940 Chev. with 2 sp and Bahlman chain drive lime spread 1939 Mercury 4-door $500.00. Sold with St. Paul hyd. hoist, fits any ba base, $400.00. 1946 Taylorcraft cus luxe with radio, low hours, $1100.00. T-type hangar 26x80, $500.00. WA THIEKING, 423 2nd Ave., SW, Wav

WANTED TO PURCHAS GOOD WALNUT TREES We pay highest cash prices. Take advantage of present market. Call or write March Veneer & Lumber Co., Dubuque, Ia.

WNU—N 1

Planning for the Futur Buy U. S. Savings Bo

...orite Dish ...ery Weather; ... How It's Done

...an easy way to have ...dly for youngsters who ...e to eat. Soup may be ...d of time, reheated and ...ily with sandwiches or ... well-balanced lunch.

...aking is one of the old-...king arts known to the ..., and though we do not ... often as did our ances-...grant bowl of soup on ...ol day has lost none of ...

... soup for many reasons. ...all, there's its delicious ...d its good, filling qual-...

... serve ... soup, ... little ... it, per- ... a salad ...t des- ...ps are ...y noted ...shment. Meats and vege-...ey have plentifully; and ...ream soup you are serv-..., that's an easy way to ... and cream into the diet. ...is a good filler-upper if ... a hungry crowd of men ...rk out-of-doors all day ...'s also a good stimulant ... appetite.

... made with quantities of ... especially fine to serve ...heon if you have children. ... easy to make and you ...re to worry if the young-...re a little late in getting ...cause soup is easy to keep ... will not spoil with a bit ... cooking.

...EAM OF CORN SOUP
... quart of milk
... No. 2 size can of cream ...style corn
... cup chopped onion
... teaspoons salt
... tablespoon cornstarch
... tablespoons cold water
... teaspoon paprika
... teaspoon pepper

...ine milk, corn, onion and ...cook in a double boiler for ...utes. Remove from heat ...ce through a strainer. Add ...rch dissolved in water. ... to double boiler and cook ...minutes. Add pepper and ... Top with croutons or ..., if desired, and serve.

...EAM OF PEA SOUP
(Serves 6)
... cups canned peas
... cup finely chopped onion
... tablespoons fat
... tablespoons flour
... cups rich milk
... teaspoons salt
... teaspoon pepper

LYNN SAYS:

...w to Serve Soup: If you ...serving a thin soup, the ...er dish is a two-handled ...of some sort. This is used ...se it is quite correct for ...le to lift them up and drink ...oup.

...arty soups such as chow-... are served in soup plates, ...s or marmites. Never serve ...owder as a first course be-...e it is much too heavy a ... for this type of eating. ...eam soups may be cor-...ly served as a first course, ...our thin soup, but do not ...e the servings too gener-... or the remainder of the ...er will go begging. ... the soup is to be served ..., it must be piping hot. ...e sure the family is ready ...come to dinner before dish-... it out.

...hilled soups are good on ...m nights, and may be ...ved in the two-handled ...es suggested above. ...accompaniments, for soup ...uld be small and dainty, at-...ctively served on small ...es with doilies.

LYNN CHAMBERS' MENU
Ham and Asparagus Rolls
Hollandaise Sauce
Paprika Potatoes
Carrot-Grapefruit Salad
Rye Bread Sandwiches
Apple Turnovers
Beverage

Heat peas and liquid to boiling. Remove from heat and force through strainer. Cook onion until golden in hot fat, then add flour and blend. Add milk and cook, stirring constantly until smooth and thickened. Add peas and seasonings.

POTATO SOUP, VIENNA STYLE
(Serves 4-5)

- 2½ cups diced, pared potatoes
- ¾ cup diced onion
- 3 cups boiling water
- 1½ cups rich milk or cream
- 1 No. ½ size can of Vienna sausage, sliced
- 1 tablespoon butter
- 1½ teaspoons salt

Cook potatoes and onion in boiling water until tender. Rub potato mixture, including liquid, through a sieve. Add milk, sausage, butter and seasonings.

Homemakers who have large families to feed will do well to make a large pot full of rich, delicious soup stock. This can be done on an afternoon when you're ironing or mending, so that you can look at the pot occasionally to see that it is kept simmering slowly for several hours. Then the stock can be served with dumplings, vegetables, noodles and rice, a different way for several days.

BROWN STOCK

- 5 pounds beef soupbone
- 4½ quarts cold water
- 8 peppercorns
- 5 cloves
- 1 bay leaf
- 2 sprigs parsley
- 3 sprigs thyme
- 1 tablespoon salt
- ½ cup diced carrots
- ½ cup diced turnips
- 2 large onions, sliced

Cut lean meat from the bones and brown ⅓ of it in the marrow taken from the bones. Place the rest of the meat and bones in a large kettle with the cold water and let stand for one hour. Add browned meat and all seasonings and bring to a boil. Reduce heat and let simmer for 5 hours. Add the vegetables and cook 1½ hours more. When cold, remove layer of fat that forms on top.

In making meat and vegetable soups it is very important not to add water once the soup starts simmering.

Soups such as chowders may be served at the table from a tureen. A salad and dessert complete the meal and give hearty nourishment even though members of the family may be engaged in heavy work.

Fish chowders are hearty enough to serve with just a salad, preferably fruit, and a light dessert. Here is one made with cod that is truly delicious:

FORTY-FATHOM CHOWDER

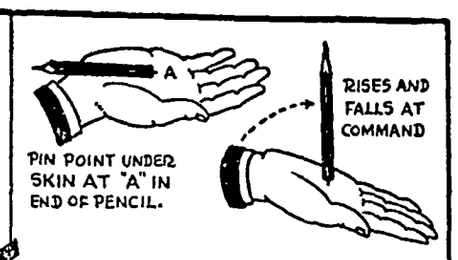
- 2-3 pounds fillet of cod, frozen
- ¼ cup diced fat salt pork
- ¾ cup sliced onions
- 2 cups hot water
- 2 cups sliced potatoes
- 2½ teaspoons salt
- Dash of pepper
- 1 cup evaporated milk
- 3 cups fresh milk

Cut fillets of fish crosswise in 2-inch strips. Fry out salt pork in kettle until crisp and delicately browned. Add onions and saute slowly. Add water and potatoes, and cook 5 minutes, or until potatoes are partially done. Then add fish and cook until it can be separated into large flakes with a fork. Add remaining ingredients; reheat and serve.

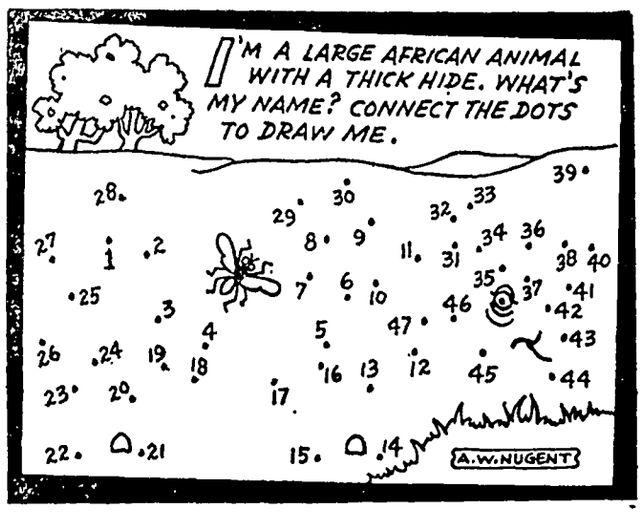
Released by Western Newspaper Union

FUNLAND
BY A.W. NUGENT

THE MAGIC PENCIL



HERE'S A MYSTIFYING TRICK. A PENCIL IS LAID FLAT ON YOUR HAND, AND AT THE WORD OF COMMAND IT RISES, FALLS, BOWS, LIES DOWN AND BEHAVES AS THOUGH IT WERE ALIVE. THE SECRET IS SHOWN IN THE ABOVE DRAWINGS. THE POINT CAN BE INSERTED TO HOLD WITHOUT GOING THROUGH THE SKIN.



RIDDLES

1. WHAT FLOWER DESCRIBES A FINE SPECIMEN OF AN ANIMAL?
2. WHAT FLOWER SUGGESTS GROUPS OF ANIMALS?

1. DANDELION; 2. PHLOX (FLOCKS).

DRAWING FUN

NOTE THAT THE LETTERS, IN ROTATION, SPELL AND ALSO FORM MY COMPLETE PICTURE.

ADD THE LETTERS, STEP BY STEP, TO DRAW ME.

WNU 4814

CROSSWORD PUZZLE

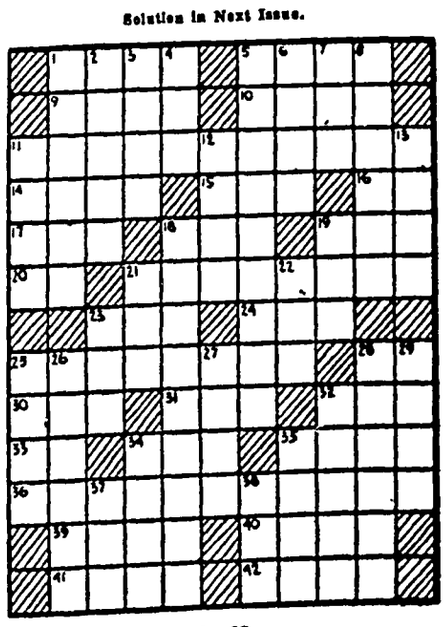
Horizontal

1 To schedule
5 Base
9 60 minutes
10 Norse god
11 Officers who check expenditures
14 Leave out
15 Regret
16 Gold (sym.)
17 100,000 rupees
18 Forbid
19 Grow old
20 Like
21 Raptorial birds
23 Decorated letter (paragraph beginning)
24 King of Judah
25 President of France (1913)
28 Masurium (sym.)
30 Subside
31 Character—"Little Women"
32 Slope
33 New Jersey (abbr.)
34 Antelope (Afri.)
35 Sand hill
36 Kingdom, W. Europe
39 American Indian
40 At one time
41 One of many layers
42 Obnoxious plant

Vertical

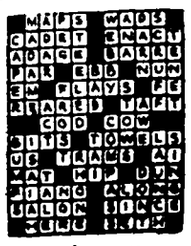
1 One of the Twelve Apostles
2 Type of architecture
3 Mongrel dog
4 Blunder
5 Self-impelled
6 Not working
7 Falsehood
8 Madden
11 African tree
12 Verbal
13 Prosecutes judicially
18 A pirate
19 Constellation
21 Carting vehicle
22 Employ
23 White lie
25 Founder (Pennsylvania)
26 A spectacle
27 River (Asia)
28 Obeyed
29 Simians
32 A dull-witted person
34 A semifluid butter (India)
35 Native of Denmark
37 Three (prefix)
38 Humble

Solution in Next Issue.



No. 12

Answer to Puzzle Number 11



WNU 4814

Series J-48

Sportlight
by GRANTLAND RICE

WHEN THEY LET YOU in back of the scene you often can pick up a lot of information you can't get out front.

I discovered that in talking things over with Cat Brecheen, a Cardinal pitcher who is just about as good as they come or go.

"I would like," I said to the Feline Phenom, "to have you explain one thing.

"Shoot," said Brecheen.

"Just a year ago around this time, the Cardinals were 3-to-5 favorites. They were the surest things in baseball. They also were kicking such teams as the Yankees, Tigers, Red Sox and others around as if the opposition had just emerged from the bush. How could this happen when later the Cardinals looked like an orphan asylum with cramp colic the first two months of the season? I don't mean looked bad, I mean looked terrible."

Harry the Cat fixed two shining eyes on me and started to talk.

"That's very simple," he said. "The Cardinal veterans were not belting the other teams around. It was the Cardinal rookies—the kids. We had infielders and outfielders who were knocking down the fences—all rookies. We had fine pitching—mostly rookies.

"Naturally the veterans sat back and laughed. What a push-over. Sam Breadon said it was the greatest bunch of rookies ever known. We thought so too.

"Howie Pollet, with a sore arm, was taking things easy. So was Red Munger. So was Murry Dickson. So was Marty Marion. So was Stan Musial. Most of them didn't feel any too well. They needed time. But why rush things with all those murderous rookies around?

"So when the season opened, the veterans were not ready. And the rookies were no help. The stars of the Citrus Circuit no longer starred beneath the great white spotlight.

"We lost nine straight. We kept on losing. Nobody could win. The veterans were bad and the rookies, outside of Jim Hearn, were worse. But that won't happen any more. You can bet on that."

* * *

Gene Sarazen Arrives

Like a robin blown from a snowdrift or a bluebird wafted from an ice floe, a short, stocky fellow with a quick smile and piano legs came into the room. His name happens to be Gene Sarazen, one of the best, one of the smartest and one of the most popular golfers of all time.

Gene had an idea that the younger and unknown pros should get more protection or help.

"You don't have to help the Hogans, Sneads, Demarets, Nelsons or Lockes," he said. "They can take care of themselves. But these younger fellows on a tour have to pay out rather important money—from $2,000 to $3,000. There should be bigger cash prizes, extended to those who finish from 12th to 20th place.

"Young ballplayers and young football players get paid something—I mean the pros. Can you imagine these fellows being asked to fork over $2,000 each to get experience?

"Golf doesn't care for its own. Most of the money goes to just a few people. We should have people ahead of a tour making arrangements for the younger fellows at much cheaper prices—not $20 a day. Give them a break."

If golf, pro golf, ever got a real commissioner, my vote would go to Sarazen. Maybe he wouldn't want it or wouldn't take it. Gene is for the older golfer, the kid golfer, as well as for the star golfer.

* * *

The Coming Battle

A few years ago Bob Zuppke, then football coach at Illinois, was talking of the season ahead. "We can play fine football," he said, "still lose every game."

This is the way Ben Chapman thinks about the National League race. "The Phillies can play high-grade baseball this season and still finish last. That also goes for the Cubs, Pirates and Reds.

"We are all improved over last year," Chapman continued. "The Cubs, Pirates and Reds are much stronger. So are we. All of us are shooting for the first division, or the top of the second. But someone has to finish last and next to last.

"Miller will help us a lot. We'll hit all right. If we can get the pitching I hope we can get, we'll bother all of them."

Eddie Dyer, the Cardinal chief, agreed with this angle. "It used to be you could save your best pitching for your leading rivals. You can't do that any more. The Phillies, for example, are likely to murder just fair pitching any day.

"You can't do any resting up now, for there are no push-overs left. I don't think you'll hear any teams cheering when they have to meet Blackwell of the Reds. The Pirates might be the most improved squad in baseball. I'd hate to have to pick the team that will finish last."

Party Apron Has Gay Applique

THIS handsome bib apron is such easy sewing, looks so pretty for your hostess duties. This appliqued pansy pocket in yellow and brown or purple and lavender adds a nice accent. Use organdy with eyelet trim, gingham or percale.

To obtain complete cutting pattern, pansy applique pattern, finishing instructions for the Pansy Pocket Apron (Pattern No. 5387) sizes 14, 16 and 18 included. Send 20 cents in coin, Your Name, Address and Pattern Number.

Due to an unusually large demand and current conditions, slightly more time is required in filling orders for a few of the most popular patterns.

Send your order to:

SEWING CIRCLE NEEDLEWORK
530 South Wells St. Chicago 7, Ill.
Enclose 20 cents for Pattern.
No._____
Name_____
Address_____

Relieves Distress of MONTHLY FEMALE WEAKNESS

Also Helps Build Up Red Blood!

Do female functional periodic disturbances make you suffer pain, feel so nervous, irritable—at such times? Then try Lydia E. Pinkham's TABLETS to relieve such symptoms. Pinkham's Tablets are also very effective to help build up red blood in simple anemia.

Lydia E. Pinkham's TABLETS

REDUCING? HERE'S A HELPFUL TIP

Are you slim enough to wear the new styles?...Remember, no matter what you pay, "new look" fashions aren't flattering if you're overweight.

If you're reducing now—or plan to—you'll find the booklet, "Kellogg's Weight Control Plan," helpful. It gives 3 special sets of scientifically balanced menus for every meal, every day of the week—and insurance-company weight tables for each type of body frame... These menus include KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN which contains vital whole-grain protective food elements — needed whether you diet or not... This booklet is FREE—just write Kellogg Co., Dept. N, Battle Creek, Mich.

NEWS that makes folks sleep all night!

Thousands now sleep undisturbed because of the news that their being awakened night after night might be from bladder irritation, not the kidneys. Let's hope so! That's a condition Foley Pills usually allay within 24 hours. Since bladder irritation is so prevalent and Foley Pills so potent Foley Pills must benefit you within 24 hours or DOUBLE YOUR MONEY BACK. Make 24-hour test. Get Foley Pills from druggist. Full satisfaction or DOUBLE YOUR MONEY BACK.

SPRAY WITH Black Leaf 40

—Double-duty Insecticide: Kills by contact; kills by fumes. Destroys plant lice but spares beneficial insects. Insist on original factory-sealed containers to insure full strength.

One ounce plus soap makes 6 gallons of effective aphid-spray.

TOBACCO BY-PRODUCTS & CHEMICAL CORPORATION
Nicotine Specialists Since 1885
LOUISVILLE 2, KENTUCKY

LOOK FOR THE LEAF ON THE PACKAGE

Watch Your Kidneys!

Help Them Cleanse the Blood of Harmful Body Waste

Your kidneys are constantly filtering waste matter from the blood stream. But kidneys sometimes lag in their work—do not act as Nature intended—fail to remove impurities that, if retained, may poison the system and upset the whole body machinery.

Symptoms may be nagging backache, persistent headache, attacks of dizziness, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes—a feeling of nervous anxiety and loss of pep and strength.

Other signs of kidney or bladder disorder are sometimes burning, scanty or too frequent urination.

There should be no doubt that prompt treatment is wiser than neglect. Doan's Pills. Doan's have been winning new friends for more than forty years. They have a nation-wide reputation. Are recommended by grateful people the country over. Ask your neighbor!

DOAN'S PILLS

Get higher yields

OF SMALL GRAINS, CORN, FLAX AND PASTURES

KILL WEEDS

in growing crops with

AGRICULTURAL WEED-NO-MORE
TRADE MARK
A Proven Ester Formulation of 2,4-D

The new miracle chemical 2,4-D in Agricultural Weed-No-More, brings you the practical, low-cost way to kill weeds in growing small grains.

Spraying Agricultural Weed-No-More on young corn is faster than cultivating, kills weeds right up to the corn plants, makes row-planting practical.

On pastures, fence rows, ditch banks, and grassed waterways, Agricultural Weed-No-More kills many weeds, roots and all.

Agricultural Weed-No-More goes on fast—covers 7 to 15 acres per hour. It goes far, too—¼ pint to 2 pints in only 5 gallons of water treats 1 acre! Apply it by the new low-gallonage method developed and proved by Sherwin-Williams Research. Use a simple, low-cost rig that you or any local shop can quickly assemble.

AGRICULTURAL WEED-NO-MORE

Costs less per acre because it controls weeds more effectively!

Agricultural authorities have found that the ester forms of 2,4-D used in Agricultural Weed-No-More penetrate weed leaves within 5 minutes, do not wash off, mix easily with water, won't clog or corrode spray equipment, and are harmless to stock. Agricultural Weed-No-More has been proved on more than 500,000 acres.

SEE WEED-NO-MORE AT WORK IN NEW SOUND MOVIE

Ask your county agent, vo-ag teacher or farm supply dealer to arrange for you and your neighbors to see "Agriculture's New Conquest." It will show you how you can boost yields and profits with 2,4-D.

FREE BULLETINS

See your farm supply dealer for free bulletins on Agricultural Weed-No-More and on the proved, low-gallonage spray method and easy-to-build spray rig. If he can't supply you at once, write direct to Agricultural Chemicals Division, 1229 Midland Bldg., Cleveland 1, Ohio.

Acme White Lead & Color Works, Detroit • W. W. Lawrence & Co., Pittsburgh
The Lowe Brothers Co., Dayton • John Lucas & Co., Inc., Philadelphia
The Martin-Senour Co., Chicago • The Sherwin-Williams Co., Cleveland

PRODUCT OF SHERWIN-WILLIAMS RESEARCH

TYPEWRITERS — REPAIRED and cleaned. All work guaranteed. Leave at Times Office.

BRING YOUR CAR TO US FOR

Greasing

AND A COMPLETE SPRING CHANGEOVER

★

In Motor Oil, Transmission, Differentail, Wheels and Chassis.

★

We have the equipment and proper lubricants to give you the best service.

★

See us for your needs in Batteries, Spark Plugs, and accessories of all kinds.

★

Smith's

STANDARD SERVICE
Klemme Iowa

B. C. BERGE
ATTORNEY-AT-LAW
Office Over Federated Store
Phone 20 Garner, Iowa

For Spring Work

●

- HEAT HAUSERS. Stay warm on Cold mornings ---------- $ 41.50
- DISC BLADES ---------- each $ 1.75
- DRAG TEETH ---------- each $ .14
- SPRING TEETH for harrows - each $ 1.15
- KOVER KOLTER for clean plowing ---------- $ 22.50

OTHER SPRING ITEMS:

Come in and see the New Pincor Power Lawn Mowers. 20-inch cut, 1½ h. p. engine. This is a real lawn mower and at a reasonable price.

●

Northern Lumber Co.

FARM IMPLEMENTS
Phone 49 Klemme, Iowa

The Senior Class Of The Klemme High School
Presents

"Aunt Cathie's Cat"

A Mystery-Comedy In Three Acts
(under the direction of Mrs. Robert Andreae)
THURSDAY, APRIL 15, 1948
At 8:00 O'clock P. M.
Klemme High School Gymnasium

★ ● ★

Cast Of Characters

Bill Pryor, young real estate agent ---------- Darwin Wille
Miss Jane Trimble, middle-aged old maid -- Ruby Ella Anderson
Miss Cathie Trimble, an older maid ---------- Alice Anderson
Margaret (Peggy) Trimble, niece of old maids ------ Ruth Kurtz
Dorothy Trimble, the younger niece ---------- Irene Menage
Mari'a Garci'a, Spanish Servant ---------- Esther Klinge
Jose' Garci'a, Spanish Servant ---------- William Jones
Gas Man ---------- Billy Lacey
Officer ---------- Leland Hummel
Mr. David Brent, retired business man --------- Ed Grosshuesch
Elizabeth Pryor, Bill's sister ---------- Beulah Goll
Tilly Pitts, the maid ---------- Donna Heivilin
Miss Walker, saleswoman ---------- Charlotte Lewis
Dead Man ---------- Carolynn Albers
Assistant Director and promptor ---------- LaVonne Beier

★ ● ★

Synopsis Of Acts

The entire play takes place in the living room of an old mansion.

Act 1 - Late in afternoon.
Act 2 - A few minutes later.
Act 3 - A few minutes later.

Special music by High School Music Department

Produced by special arrangement with the Heuer Publishing Company, Cedar Rapids, Iowa.

ADMISSION

GRADES 25c; HIGH SCHOOL 35c; ADULTS 55c (Tax Included)

HANCOCK COUNTY BOARD PROCEEDINGS

14TH ADJOURNED JANUARY MEETING

Garner, Iowa
April 1, 1948

The Hancock County, Iowa Board of Supervisors met in session on above captioned date pursuant to adjournment with Supervisors F J Schoun, John Chambers, and Geo. Th. Gerdes present.

The minutes of the last meeting were read and approved as read.

On motion and second Improvement Certificate number 1 on D D. No. 145, is approved.

On motion and second Supervisor Chambers is appointed a committee to investigate and cause repairs to be made in D. D. No. 6, Lateral 1

On motion and second Supervisor Schoun is appointed a committee to investigate and cause repairs to be made in D. D. No. 37-39, Lateral 11

WHEREAS, Harold C Patrick, who had a legal settlement, or residence, in Garner, Hancock County, Iowa, was committed to the Hospital for the Insane at Cherokee, Iowa on or about November 26, 1940; and

WHEREAS, he received support from Hancock, County, Iowa, from on or about November 26, 1940 to September 30, 1946 in an amount as shown by the Ledger of State Institution Account Liens in the Office of the County Auditor of Hancock County, Iowa, for such period of time, and

WHEREAS, Mrs Helen Patrick, who was the wife of Harold C Patrick has made an offer to compromise such claim and lien insofar as it affects her and her daughter, Joanne Patrick and

WHEREAS, the Board of Supervisors deem such compromise offer to be for the best interest of Hancock County, Iowa; and

WHEREAS, The Board of Supervisors of Hancock County, Iowa, have the authority to compromise such a lien and to release such lien by virtue of Code Sections 230.17 and 230.29 of the 1946 Code of Iowa and other laws applicable thereto.

NOW THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED that the lien for support furnished to said Harold C. Patrick is compromised only insofar as it affects Mrs. Helen Patrick, former wife of said Harold C. Patrick, and Joanne Patrick, his daughter, and the lien against Mrs. Helen Patrick and or Joanne Patrick is hereby released, but such lien shall remain in full force and affect as to said Harold C. Patrick, and the County Auditor of Hancock County, Iowa is hereby directed to enter a release of said lien upon the page or pages in the ledger of the State Institution Account Lien Book in his office as to said Mrs. Helen Patrick and as to Joanne Patrick.

The foregoing resolution was read and offered by Supervisor Geo. Th Gerdes, who moved its adoption. It was duly seconded by Supervisor F. J. Schoun. Thereupon the chairman presented the motion of its adoption, and the vote thereon was as follows: Ayes, J A. Chambers, F. J Schoun, Geo. The Gerdes. Nays, none.

The Chairman of the Board of Supervisors declared said resolution adopted

ATTEST MAYNARD SCHONEMAN
County Auditor
J A. CHAMBERS
Chairman of the Board of Supervisors, Hancock County

On motion and second the quarterly reports of Maynard Schoneman, County Auditor, Ruth Hughes, Clerk of Courts; and Fern Peck Katter, County Recorder, are approved.

On motion and second the suspension of real property tax on Old Age Recipient Case No. 41-491, is hereby discontinued as provided by law

On motion and second the Secondary Road Construction Program for 1948 as approved by the State Highway Commission for Hancock County Iowa, is approved.

WHEREAS C. F. Merten, Engineer, has recommended a letting on the construction of six (6) Wooden bridges to be constructed on Hancock County roads during the 1948 season, and it is deemed for the best interest of the taxpayers of Hancock County that said letting be held.

BE AND IT IS THEREFORE RESOLVED by the Board of Supervisors of Hancock County, Iowa, that a letting on the Construction of 6 wooden bridges be and the same is hereby ordered held at the Courthouse in Garner, Iowa at 10:30 A M on the 19th day of April A. D. 1948.

The County Auditor be and he is hereby ordered to publish a notice of such letting in the Garner Leader and Signal and in the Britt News-Tribune setting out the time and place of letting, the approximate amount and kind of work to be done, the date for Commencement and Completion and that the Board reserves the right to waive technicalities and to reject any or all bids

BE IT RESOLVED that the claims hereinafter set out be allowed in amounts designated thereon and the county auditor be and he is hereby authorized and ordered to draw warrants on the several funds of Hancock County, Iowa, in payment of such claims in amounts set opposite such claim.

COUNTY FUND WARRANTS FOR

Scanlon's Elec. Shop, mtrl. and labor cthouse	123.37
Curtis G. Riehm, Att'y exp	27.32
Mina Formanek, work, auto Dept.	50.09
M. L. Swaney, Acting P. M. Stamps, Treas	15.00
Stamps, Treas.	15.00
Stamps, Cerk	15.00
Northwestern Bell, Services cthouse	92.90
Northwestern Bell, Services Nurse	11.77
Northwestern Bell, Services OAA Office	7 49
V. A. Cook, co bd of educ	1.87
Mrs. H C. Meyer, co bd of educ	1.87
G A Robinson, co bd of educ	2.57
W E. Puffer, co bd of educ	4.68
M. L. Swaney Act. P. M. Stamps aud.	3.00
Postage, Aud	6.00
Postage, Aud.	10.50
Envelopes and Cards Assess	13.61
Joe Johnson, maps, Aud.	50.00
Roy McMillin, Co. Treas. March Bounty	195.00
L. M Brower, Sheriff exp	55 75
Harriet Oxley, Nurse exp	41.12
Jim Cooper, Dep. Sheriff exp.	77 00
Chas. Whitney, Supt exp	27.30
R. A Jorgenson, bd proc and supp (rec)	49.05
Daniel Williams, JP reports Broome, Moss, Nelseus Lauman	14.00
Maxine I Panosh, supp for OAA paid by Mrs. Panosh	6.23
Sue Wille, work recorders	50.09
F. J. Schoun, soss, comm mi	65.00
F. J Schoun, Sess and comm	167.20
Geo. Th. Gerdes, Sess and Comm	169.50
Geo. Th Gerdes, sess and comm mi	81.80
Geo, Th Gerdes, Tele tolls	4.76
J. A. Chambers, Soss and Comm	164.90
J A. Chambers, sess and Comm mi	69.25
Blank Drug Store, supp Rec.	2.09
Vern Butz, painted signs (Eng. Assess, Abs.)	5.00
M L. Swaney Act. P. M. Envelopes, Supt.	17.32
Iowa State Highway Comm maps, Supt.	2.75
Ribbon & Carbon Supply Co. merchandise co Supt.	13.23
Loring Supply Co. supp Supt.	14 44
Klipto Loose Leaf Co., Supp, Eng., Supt., Treas., Aud, Rec, and Assr	84 65
Fidlar & Chambers Co. supp., Sher-Aud-Assr	24.71
Boone Blank Book Co, supp Aud., Assr., Clk	29.11
Grill Cafe, meals, pris	3.37
Ell Towp. Trustees, meeting
W. H. Greiman, trustee	8 00
H. J. Thieman, Trustee	8.00
Alfred V. Josten Trustee	8.00
Edmund K. Josten, Clerk	8.00
M. L. Swaney Acting P. M. box rent and postage due	20.00
Jay Stole, shave and haircut, Jensen and Henricksen	2.00
Elling Insurance Agency, insurance, cthouse	361 09
Coast-to-Coast Store, supp cthouse	.66
E. M. Papousek, rent sander cthouse	3 68
Woodford Wheeler Lbr. Co. truscon, cthouse	2 96
Farmers Co-operative Soc. supp, cthouse	24.91
Wm. Henschen, engineer (149 Co Adv)	60.00
Philip Johnson, Rodman (149 Co Adv)	7.75
J N. Steil, Rodman, (149 Co Adv)	10.50
Addressograph-Multigraph Corp., addressograph and supplies	2,372.25

POOR FUND

Farmers Hybrids, seed corn county home	40.00
Bock Oil Co., anti-freeze county home	.99
Boughton's Funeral Home funeral, Gansveled	101.00
Oscar Durham, papers, co home	3.60
Farmers Co-op Soc., sand, lime and coal, co. home	576 61
Scanlon's Elec. Shop, labor county home	7.43
Viken Hardware, supp co. home	29.61
Dr. Thos. McMahon, med serv, co. home year 1947	150.00
Emily Book, wages c.o. home	49.50
A. G. Landon, dental care Bonham, Mertin, county home	8.00
Hilary Greiman, grinding, co. home	14.81
Frank Falanda, groceries county home	53.05
Edelen Food Mkt, groceries county home	37.53
B. A Reemtsma, seed corn county home	26.00
Griesemer Harness Shop, repairs and supp, co. home	7.25
Hancock Co. Co-op. Oil, distillate, co. home	11.02
Butz Hatcheries, supp, co home	8.05
Blank Drug Store, supp, co home	13.64
Margie Branstead, work co home	30.00
Kreitinger Hardware, supp county home	7.93
Garner Bakery, bread co. home	67.49
Raymond Hejlik, bales hay county home	90.00
Herman Paul, exp paid by Paul county home	16.25
R. A. Jorgenson, not-care iny print, county home	9.70
C. J. Schneider, groceries county home	98.84
Gildner & Paulson, clothing county home	11 17
Neva L. Patterson, assistance, Perkins	19.07
Lutheran Welfare Soc., care Brones & Fisher children	134.25
Dept. of Social Welfare, aid to dependent children	405.55
Lutheran Children's Home, care Mar-Feb and Dental wk Klippink	62.35
Central States Electric Co. fuel, Amanda Brocks	10.00
Dept of Social Welfare emergency relief fund	5.17
Dept of Social Welfare aid to blind	20.41
Dr. Thos. McMahon, med services, Knoke	12.00
Dr. T. A. Burke, operation Frisbie	100.00
Quackerdale Farm, Dingman care for March	30.00
St. Joseph's Mercy Hospital hospital, Noble	55.25
Brueckner's Drug Store, supp, Geiner	14.68

COURT EXPENSE

W. D. Linnell, Court Rep. Per Diem and Expense	119.10
Mrs. Dorothy Templeton transcribed notes for court	15.00

REFUND

Lorraine Stith, refund on taxes	13.40
Marvin Woiwood, refund on Sold Exemption	8.80
John Griffen et al refund on homestead	62.50
Christina B. Fox, double assessment	67 49

LIBRARY

A C. McClurg & Co. books Supt.	44.62
E. M. Hale & Co., books Supt.	90.87
United Toy Publishers, books Supt.	36.79

ST. INST.

L. A. Brower, Trans. McGurk Cherokee	24 19

T. B. HAD.

Dr. F. A. Bonnstetter, Inspector	64.20

BANG'S

Chas. McFarling, stock slaughtered	12.50

COUNTY ASSESSOR

Harold Eliason, Assessing Twin Lake	272.70
John Haan, Assessing Crystal Twp.	173.00
Willard Fessenden, Assessing Klemme	192.90
Wm. Erdman, Assessing Magor Twp.	275.80
E. H. Olsen, Assessing Britt Twp and mi	273.15
A. R. Jansson, Assessing Crystal Lake	143.25
Luverne Thompson, Assessing Boone Twp.	259.65
Myrtle Halverson, Assessing Ellington TWp.	336.62
Ole G. Peterson, Assessing Britt Corp.	298.55
Herman Neuhring, Assessing Orthel	277 55
Walter Boller, Assessing Goodell	142 60
F. J. Bush, Assessing Corwith	228 55
C. L. Smith, Assessing Erin	258.95
Martin Smith, Assessing Woden	126.85
Jesse Smith, Assessing Amsterdam	278.86
E. H. Olsen, Assessing Kanawha (part)	110.42
Herman Nuehring, Assessing Kanawha (part)	110.42
Fisher Typewriter Co., typewriter, Assessor	200.00
Edward Mullin, mi assesing and exp	8.64

DOG ANIMAL

Harold Eliason, listing dogs Twin Lake	8.70
John Haan, listing dogs Crystal	9.00
Willard Fessenden, listing dogs, Klemme	2.30
Wm. Erdman, listing dogs Magor	9.00
E. H. Olsen, listing dogs Britt Twp.	9.10
A. R. Janssen, listing dogs Crystal Lake	1.60
Luverne Thompson, listing dogs, Boone	6.70
Myrtle Halverson, listing dogs, Ellington	17.60
Ole G Peterson, listing dogs, Britt Corp.	4.40
Herman Nuehring, listing dogs, Orthel	9.60
Walter Boller, listing dogs Goodell	1.20
F J Bush, listing dogs Corwith	3 20
C. L. Smith, listing dogs Erin	10.60
Martin Smith, listing dogs Woden	2.30
Pesse Smith, listing dogs Amsterdam	8.00

ROAD MAINT.

Central States Elec., electric and gas service	76.85
Farmers Co-op. Elevator coal	17 68
J. H. Junker, repairs	13.21
Northwestern Bell Tele. Co. telephone service	6.88
Bock Oil Co., gasoline	733.35
John Carothers, freight	1.14
Bernard Abbas, labor	181.20
Kenneth C. Boller, labor	190 46
Marvin Bredlow, labor	199.06
Elmer Carr, labor	183.26
Merle Deibler, labor	197 31
Emmett Devin, labor	201 96
John Haaf, labor	185.96
Paul Halfpop, labor	193.71
Robert C. Hansen, labor	197.31
Carl John Heginger, labor	196.47
Donald Hodson, labor	198 36
Leo Hughes, labor	197 31
Ivan Iverson, labor	197.31
Carl Kluseman, labor	176.62
Louis Knoke, labor	186.26
Clifford Montgomery, labor	198.36
Milbern F. Rapp, labor	194.41
Harold H. Rhine, labor	166.21
Kenton Richards, labor	170.21
L. F. Schleuger, labor	197.31
Henry Steinlicht, labor	201 96
George Stille, labor	197 31
Gene Sweeney, labor	193 71
Joe L. Tobin, labor	190.46
Wm. J. Wood, labor	197.31
C. F Merten, rodman	191.40
C. F. Merten, car mileage	42.05
Wesley Steinhiker, labor	24.50
Robert Devin, labor	28.00
George R. King, labor	35.00
Woodford Wheeler Lbr. shed lumber	26.11
The Miller Garage, bulbs	1.17
Aldrich Nedved, tile across road	39.00
Hancock Co. Co-op Oil Ass'n diesel fuel and repairs	427.45
Central States Elec., services, co sheds	1.02
Moeller & Brunsen, tires	322.72
Ray Love, gas and oil co shed	170.47
V. L. Fric, labor	38.61
Kenneth Shave, labor	20.30
Dickie Jenssen, labor	20.30
Wm. Gelner, tile across road	35.00
Victor C. Waldeck, tile road crossing	6.47
Woodford Wheeler Lbr. cement	.92
Enar Franzen, oil and grease	204.86
S. T Hokenson, tools	2.76
C. M Paulson, expenses pd	8.98
Rogers Tire Service, tire recap	93.72
Central Auto Elec. Co., repairs	56.97
Pittsburg Plate Glass Co. glass	1.14
Oakes & Clark, repairs	11.28
Standard Bearings Co., repairs	14.43
Motor Inn, repairs	70.11
Nissen Drug Co., supplies	1.01
Fort Dodge "Seal Fast" Co. supp co. shop	47.48
Herman M. Brown Company repairs	119.87
Thompson Distributing Co. repairs	160.44
The Alemite Co., tools	62.23
Kossuth Motor Co., repairs	47.04
Leo L. Becker, bridge repairs	225.00
Gibb-Cook Tractor & Equip. repairs	1496.67
Tande & Son, repairs	27 11
Floyd & Leonard Auto Elec. Inc., repairs	9.87
Sief-Fort Dodge Co., repairs	131 81
Car Wood Industries Inc. repairs	26.00
Fort Dodge Machine & Supply Co., repairs	18 69
Redden Hardware, hardware	6.18
W D. Allen Mfg Company white paint	32.33
Iowa Machinery & Supply Co., supplies	63.68
Farmers Co-op Soc., lumber	1 39
Garner Coast-to-Coast Store hardware	18.47
Kreitinger Hardware & Furniture, hardware	13.70
Minneapolis Iron Store, iron supplies	83.76
Globe Machinery & Supply Co., tools	18 37

ROAD CONST.

Elmer Jensen, bd of approv and mi	8.90
W. F. Erdman, bd of approv and mi	9.60
Henry E. Haverly bd of approv and mi	9.10
Everett Sheets, bd of approv and mi	9.00
M. J Stupka, bd of approv and mi	7 60
W H. Greiman, bd of approv and mi	7.45
S. A Barber, bd of approv and mi	8.80
Carl F Hollatz, bd of approv and mi	7 10
Gus Schutz, bd of approv and mi	8.40
Alfred E. Boman, bd of approv and mi	8.50
C. A Bird, bd of approv and mi	9.50
J J Cook, bd of approv and mi	8.30
M. L. Thompson, bd of approv and mi	8.80
John Brcka, bd of approv and mi	7 95
John Buzicky, bd of approv and mi	7 90
Highway Construction Pay roll pay roll
G. D. McNabb, foreman	33 25
Wm. Hughes, labor	33.25
Sheri May, labor	28.50
John Brower, labor	9.50
Henry M Haxton, labor	9.50
Burnes-Hoak Company, fuse	54 60
Bowen's Superire Explosive Co., dynamite	321.30
The Frederick Post Company tapes	32.56
Philip Johnson, rodman	192.05
Fern Katter, Recorder recording essements	2.45
Wm. Henschen, rodman	101 83

DRAINAGE

V L. Fric, labor, DD 113	4.95
V L. Fric, labor, DD 3 and 4 L 49	53 21
Fabian Kadera, labor, DD 113	5.94
Fabian Kadera labor, D D 3 and 4 L49	63.85
Wm. Henschen, engineer, DD 3 and 4 Main	71.28
Carl Kluseman labor, DD 3 and 4 L 49	15.15
Carl Heginger, labor, DD91	8.41
Merle Deibler labor, DD 3 and 4 L 49	7 57
Gaulord D. Shumway, DD meeting, DD 36-2	2 43
Glen Purcell, repairs, DD 17-52-54	24.62
Motor Service Station, labor DD 17-52-54	.75
Dwight Graham, cutting brush, DD 87-5	15.84
Fertiel Lumber Co., material for repairs DD 52-54-17	4 69
Concrete Product, estimate one, DD 145	3329.02
Clarence Van Hove, cutting brush, DD 87-5	17.28
Robert H. Spear, cutting brush, DD 87-5	2.52
Dick Bande, cutting brush DD 87-5	18.72
C. H Cooper, cutting brush brush, DD 87-5	18.72
Lem Stockwell, cutting brush DD 87-5	1 80
F J. Schoun, drainage hearing, DD 3 and 4	3.50
Senneff & Buck, meeting fee and mi. DD 3 and 4	76.00
F. J. Schoun, drainage work and mi., DD 52-54-17	5.10
Donald Newbrough, labor as rodman, DD 100-131-93	.30
Vernon Miller, engineering work, DD 100-131-93	3.13
Walter Kahl, appraiser DD 3 and 4 Main	7 00
George Th. Gerdes, mi and DD work, DD 3 and 4	5.50
Chas Grau, cement and labor DD 3 and 4 L 10	13.05
Farmers Co-op Soc., roofing DD 81	3.01
J. A. Chambers, dr. wk DD 3 and 4	6.00
J A Chambers, dr wk and mi, DD 91	4 00
Wm. Boehnke, assessment DD 144	5.00
C. F Merten, engineer DD 144	14.03
Ray S. Baker, appraiser DD 3 and 4 M	5.00
C. F Merten, engineer DD 122 M	13.28
C. F. Merten, engineer, DD No. 1 and 2 SM	13.68

On motion and second the Board adjourned to Monday, April 5, A. D. 1948 at 9.00 A. M.

ATTEST:

MAYNARD SCHONEMAN
County Auditor
JOHN CHAMBERS
Chairman

HANCOCK COUNTY BOARD PROCEEDINGS

REGULAR APRIL MEETING

Garner, Iowa
April 5, 1948

The Hancock County, Iowa, Board of Supervisors met in session on above captioned date as directed by law with John Chambers, George Th. Gerdes and F J Schoun present

On motion and second the 1948 road grading program for Hancock County, Iowa, as submitted by C F Merten, Engineer is approved.

On motion and second the bond of Wm. Henschen, Engineer on proposed Drainage District Number 149, is hereby approved.

On motion and second the Workman's Compensation Policy No. 241197 of the Iowa Mutual Liability Insurance Company is approved.

On motion and second the Courthouse Fire Insurance Policy No 8192, of the National Union Fire Insurance Company, is approved.

On motion and second the County Auditor be and he is hereby directed to cause notice of a letting to be published on the leasing of the Southeast, one-fourth of Section 27, Township 96, Range 26, for a period of one year from and after the 1st day of April A. D. 1948.

Said letting to be held at the Courthouse in Garner, Iowa, at 1:00 P. M on the 19th day of April, A. D., 1948. The Board reserves the right to waive technicalaties and to reject any or all bids.

This being the 5th day of April A. D., 1948, a date heretofore fixed for a letting on the Woden Waterworks Project including Construction of the tower and tank, installing the pump and excavation and backfill of the trenches, at Woden, Iowa, the hour for said letting having arrived, the proof of publication being on file and the board being fully advised, said letting was held as scheduled The Chairman of the board proceeded to open all bids and after fully considering all bids, the Board, with full agreement with all bidders, decided to adjourn said meeting until April 20 A. D. 1948 at 10:30 A. M. Adjournment and postponement on motion by Supervisor Schoun and second by Supervisor Gerdes.

WHEREAS, C. F. Merten, County Engineer, has filed a report recommending the grading of certain Hancock County roads during 1948 and further recommends that a letting be held on such grading.

BE AND IT IS THEREFORE RESOLVED, by the Board of Supervisors in and for Hancock County, Iowa, that the report of the Engineer be and the same is hereby approved and the County Auditor be and he is authorized and ordered to advertise a letting on the grading of a certain Hancock County roads according to plans and specifications furnished by the County Engineer Said letting to be held at the Courthouse in Garner, Iowa, at 1 30 P M on the 20th day of April A. D., 1948. Said notice of letting to be published in the Kanawha Reporter, a newspaper published at Kanawha, Iowa, and the Britt News-Tribune, a newspaper published at Britt, Iowa which notice shall state the time and place of letting, the approximate amount and kind of work to be done, the time for commencement and completion and that the board reserves the right to waive technicalities and to reject any or all bids.

BE IT RESOLVED that the claims hereinafter set out be allow-

Phone your new

DR. F. L.
DENTIS
Office Over Re
Phone 21 Ga

Arthur Wel
FUNERAL DI
—with long expe best equipment
PROMPT AMB
SERVIC
Phone 23-R2 Day

Klemme

K. F. M. Special

FRIDAY and SATURDAY, APRIL 16 - 17
We Reserve The Right To Limit

MONARCH FOODS

Monarch
MINCE MEAT ---------- 9 oz. pkg.

Week End Special
BON AMI ----------

For Your Spring Clean-up
OLD DUTCH CLEANSER ---------- 2 for

Friday and Saturday
O' CEDAR POLISH ----------

Jack Sprat Ice Cream Mix
VANILLA and STRAWBERRY -- 2 boxes

Dromedary
FUDGE and FROSTING MIX ----------

For A Breakfast Treat
GRAPE NUTS FLAKES ----------

For That Washday Wonder
P and G SOAP ---------- 2 for

Friday and Saturday
DRANO ----------

BRING US YOUR EGGS — CASH OR T

Klemme Food Marke
Monarch Finer Foods C. A. Larsen,

COOL SPRING The Vegeta King

NOW FEATURING Lake Mills

Large Tender Sweet Pea
Packed in the Large No. 2 Size Can
Excellent Quality Peas at an Economical Pri

Ask Your Local Grocer for

TUNE IN RADIO KGLO 3:25 P.M. DAILY Monday thru Friday COOL SPRING NEWS OF THE NATION

LAKE MILLS LARGE TENDER PEAS
and
OTHER COOL SPRING PRODUCTS
Whole Kernel Golden Corn : Cream Sty
Golden Corn : Green Beans : Wax Bea
Early June Peas : Sweet Peas

Packed by COOL SPRING CANNING CO. Lake Mi

you dont want it, sell it Times want ad.

FEDERAL
Land Bank
LOANS
Term Low Interest
Fees No Commission
Wm. F. Johannaber
Secretary-Treasurer
Forest City, Iowa
Phone 50

Check With ROCK ISLAND
three are vitally important getting your shipments rough on time and in A-1 shape. By handling thousands of shipments of many kinds every day, Rock Island has gained valuable experience that may save you important money. For expert help, and information on rates and routes, call ed in amounts designated thereon and the county auditor be and he is hereby authorized and ordered to draw warrants on the several funds of Hancock County, Iowa, in payment of such claims in amounts set opposite each claim.
A. A. HALLECK, Division Freight Agent. Rock Island Passenger Station, Estherville, Ia.
Rock Island Lines
The Road of Planned Progress

COUNTY

M. S. Swaney, Acting P. M. stamps, Aud.	13.00
Central States Elec., services, cthouse	132.61
F. J. Schoun, tele tolls	9.28
J. A. Chambers, tele tolls	15.97
Maurice Monson, care prisoners	6.80
Gamble Store, supp, courthouse	1.82
Kanawha Reporter, bd proc and notices	47.10
R. A. Jorgenson, supp. Treas. and Aud.	71.87
Britt News Tribune, bd proc and supp Aud.	144.80
Charles Wellik, premium wk-men's compensation	175.00
Britt Twp. Trustees, meeting	1947
W. J. Rasmuson, trustee	4 00
A. B. Thompson, trustee	4.00
Ray S. Baker, trustee	4.00
E. W Sheets, clerk	4.00
Koch Brothers, supp, Aud., Assr., Treas., Eng.	90.58
Matt Parrott & Sons Co. supp, Treas., Rec., Sher., Aud., Assr.	164.82
Acres-Blackmar Co's., supp Rec., Aud., Sher., Assr.	247.65
Britt News Tribune, bids andslips, Woden water works	7.77
C. I. Hartzell, making arrest trial-meals for Neisius, Moss, Broome, Lauman	10 46
Thos Thompson, Assink, Jackson, Veldhouse, Harman	10.50

POOR

R. A. Jorgenson, subc, co home	4.00
Kanawha Reporter, notice co home Med care	1.98
Britt News Tribune, notice med care co home	1 70
Central States Elec. services, co home	42.59
Hancock Co. Co-op Oil Assn., distillate, fuel, co home	27 74
Garner Electric Shop, rep and supp, co home	6.25
Redden Harware, supp, co home	3.57
Coast-to-Coast, supp, county home	2.13
Brueckner's Drug, supp, co home	2.90
Lloyd Lau, hauling oats and coal, co home	14.27
Dr B. R. Westen, med care Merten co home	100.00

ROAD MAINT

Central States Elec. Co. electric service	3 78
Norton Machine Works, repairs	10.94
Hancock County Co-op Oil Assn., diesal fuel and supp	556.06
Barclay Company, welding supplies	10.90
Jay's Super Service, supp	29.32
Bennie Barthoson, labor	31 50
Central States Electric Co. service	61.89
Federal North Iowa Grain Co., coal	18.63
Vans Motor Sales repairs	53 09
Woodford Wheeler Lumber Co., coal	13.45

DRAINAGE

F R. Everds, Equipment on job, DD No. 100-131-93	19 39

On motion and second the Board adjourned to April 12th, A. D. 1948, at 9:00 A. M.

ATTEST:

MAYNARD SCHONEMAN
County Auditor
JOHN CHAMBERS
Chairman

Buy and sell with a Times want ad.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

COUNTY PROPERTY APPRAISALS

There has always been more or less doubt in the mind of the tax payer if he is getting a square deal as compared to his neighbor, or someone else with a like amount of property in another part of the county, when he is assessed.

There is but one solution to this tax adjusting problem and that is for the Board of Supervisors to hire an outside, independent property appraiser to appraise every piece of property in the county. In this way only will there be a fair and just assessment made and every tax payer will be on an even keel with every other tax payer in the county.

Private firms have already been hired by nine counties: Cerro Gordo, Page, Adair, Dallas, Madison, Sac, Polk, Wright and Fayette Mason City has also hired their own appraiser.

John Barnes, property tax chief of the state tax commission said a good many other counties and cities employ appraisal firms to evaluate real property in the 1949 quadrennial appraisal

Barnes also said, "before the legislature's action, there always was a question of a county's or a city's right to hire outside appraisers."

We think it would be a real step forward if our Hancock County Board of Supervisors would hire outside appraisers to get this work done. It is the only way open to fair taxation of property owners.

In the past many property owners have been getting by on low assessments while others are carrying more than their share of the taxes. An appraisal of all property is the only way to equal taxation.

COUNTY PRINTING

In our editorial of last week regarding county printing being ordered from out of the county by county officials, we were unfair to the Board of Supervisors. They are "county officials" but have nothing to do with ordering printing and supplies, which is left up to the individual office holder outside of the Board.

In fact, back in 1943 the writer of this article met with the Board to see if anything could be done to keep the printing and office supply business in the county The Board was in favor of the idea and recommended that the officers purchase their supplies from the printers in the county. That was as far as the Board could go. The other officers order their supplies and the Board authorizes the payment.

However, apparently this record was not written into the Board Proceedings at the time, as we looked through the minutes for 1943 and could not find the item where the Board recommended that printing and other office supplies should be ordered from the printers in the county.

In fairness to the present Board, we want to state that, Chairman J. A. Chambers told the writer he remembers the meeting and that the Board is still in favor of having the county officers order their supplies in the county. Frank Schoun, present Board member, also sat in on that meeting. Penn Eckels was the other member at the time. George Gerdes is on the Board now in place of Eckels.

DR. E. H. PHILLIPS
Osteopathis Physician
Xray - Short Wave Diathermy and Ultra Violet Equipment
Phone 149 Garner, Iowa

For Quick Truck Delivery On
Diamond
D-X
Products of all kinds
Phone 85
ERNEST HENSCHEN
Klemme, Iowa

Good Balance Necessary To Achieve Mental Poise

If you want mental health, stop worrying, advises extension specialist in home health and sanitation. Worry is a complete circle of inefficient thought whirling about on a pivot of fear. It ruins efficiency and increases nervousness.

In outlining suggestions for mental poise and contentment, extension specialists say a proper proportion must be maintained between work, rest and play. Never get too old nor too busy to play. Play will ease mental and physical fatigue. Cultivate self-control in your habits, your attitudes and even in your ideals.

"You should accept your emotions," specialists advise, "do not run away from them or fight them. They are your automatically mobilized energies and you can usually do with them what you choose. Work thoroughly on one thing at a time, learn to concentrate. Concentration is the gentle art of controlling the attention."

Think of yourself as a normal person, and as such prepare yourself to carry a normal part of a normal world's work. Energy often is wasted by a peculiar process as "getting up steam." Many persons think this is necessary before doing anything difficult. This "flourish before action" is unnecessary. Expend the energy on the work to be done instead.

Haste is not a necessary part of modern life, so avoid it if possible. Try to start each day rested, both in body and mind. A well-planned life is made up of well-planned days. Such a life absorbs emergencies without strain.

Uniform Observance of Arbor Day Is Proposed

A movement to set up the last Friday in April as National Arbor Day is being supported by leading horticultural interests, according to Dr. Richard P. White, executive secretary of American Association of Nurserymen.

The first Arbor Day was celebrated 75 years ago as a result of a resolution passed by the state legislature of Nebraska, "setting apart and consecrating the tenth day of April, 1872, to tree planting."

"Tree Planting Day," when a tree is supposed to be planted for every man, woman and child, now is being observed on varying dates in every state. Last year, 17 states specified the last Friday in April and others range from early winter to May in their observance.

Pointing to a recent statement of the United States Forest service that only 5 per cent of the nation's tree planting job had been completed, and President Truman's Arbor Day message warning that the nation is facing a very real forest problem, Dr. White said "A uniform date in all 48 states would be one powerful way of focusing attention on the ever-increasing need for reforestation and community planting."

Exploding Grains

A new process for exploding cereal grains into flour that "has possibilities of revolutionizing the milling industry to the advantage of both miller and consumer" was reported by Harold Vactborg, president of Midwest Research institute. The process involves explosion of the grains by means of compressed air or other gases and is considered by the institute as its outstanding development to date. There is no known scientific record that the process, known as "explosive disssociation" of grain," ever has been accomplished before. Significance of the experiments, Vactborg said, lies in the fact that preferential separation of the component parts of the grain berry can be obtained. Wheat flour can be made free of the germ, something exceedingly difficult under conventional milling methods. Bran can be blown off, oat husks removed.

Indian Cashew Nut

A recent immigrant into the United States, the cashew nut, arrived from India, where it was introduced from Brazil by the Portuguese, who also brought the tree to East Africa. There is a common belief that each nut has a worm inside, as infrequently found in overripe cherries. This little soft, white "thing" found in some cashew nuts is the start of germination when the nuts have been picked too late, somewhat like potatoes starting to sprout. In India the cashew is hand cracked, roasted in shallow pans over open fires to the point when cracking of the nuts may be done easily. The United States is almost the sole buyer of the cashew output from India, usually in burnt or salted form.

Curb Wedding Costs

Extravagances in Hindu weddings would be curbed by fixing maximum amounts which could be expended for receptions, under terms of a bill pending in the India legislative assembly. The bill, which would limit expenditures according to the means of the contracting parties, not only would punish violation with jail sentences for the parents or guardians of the wedding principals, but also would provide jailing for the priest performing a more elaborate ceremony and on the barber who gives the groom his ceremonial haircut.

'Orphan' Room of Old Home Can Be Used to Advantage

Fibber McGee's closet has nothing on some of the poor, little rooms to be found in many old homes. These rooms for some reason, which nobody can discover, were built too small, supposedly, for any good reason. As a result, they are used by the whole family as a dumping ground for everything from out-of-season clothes to pictures of unpopular family relatives.

However, in these days of space economy and imaginative ingenuity, there is no reason for such a room to remain an "orphan" when it could be put to so many good uses. For instance, it might make an ideal daytime retreat for the housewife and it could also serve as an extra guest room. It would be a cozy haven for daytime napping, doing needlework, listening to a favorite radio program or just reading.

Cleared of its accumulated spoils and freshly wallpapered or painted, the room will begin to present interesting possibilities. Planning for a bed in such a small room would seem a problem but modern sofa beds take up little room and yet provide top comfort for both daytime lounging and sleeping at night. The color of the sofa bed upholstery can set the color scheme for the room with draperies and extra pillows chosen to harmonize End tables at each end of the sofa bed will provide space for lamps, books and plants.

To avoid a crowded appearance, only the absolutely necessary pieces of furniture should be added to the sofa bed group. A cabinet or chest of drawers to provide storage space, pin-up lamps for extra light, one or two pictures, and perhaps a mirror to give the illusion of more space, some wall brackets for plants and a small radio are enough to complete an inviting room of bandbox smartness.

Radioactive Iodine

Radioactive iodine was effective in the treatment of a patient with a malignant tumor of the thyroid gland, it is reported in the Journal of the American Medical association by Drs. S. M. Seidlin, L. D. Marinelli and Eleanor Oshry of Montefiore hospital and Memorial hospital, New York. The patient had his thyroid removed in 1923. In 1939, despite the fact that he had no thyroid gland, he showed all the symptoms of an overactive thyroid. Examination revealed a malignant tumor which had spread from remaining thyroid tissue. Subsequently, other cancerous tumors, of thyroid tissue origin, were found in the lungs, thigh bone, small intestine, skull and second rib on the left side. After X-rays and drugs proved ineffective he was given radioactive iodine, administered by mouth in the form of sodium iodide in water

CURTIS G. RIEHM
Attorney-At-Law
Office Over Federated Store
Res. Phone 133W2
Phone 133 Garner, Iowa

GENERAL
TRUCKING
Local and Long Distance Hauling
ALVIN ALBERS
Phone 13F111 BELMOND

Keeping Feet 'Well Shod' Avoids Muscular Fatigue

Despite the wonders of modern transportation, the average American still does a lot of walking. The homemaker who goes downtown for a day of shopping, for example, probably covers about 8½ miles during the day. A schoolboy may travel 15 miles a day and a business clerk about 9 miles "on foot."

For this reason it is important to keep the feet—one of the most overworked parts of the body—well shod, according to home extension specialists. Runover heels, soles that are worn through or shoes that have lost their original shape can cause unnecessary muscular fatigue.

The tiredness is not always confined to the feet either Poor shoes may cause aches in the legs, knees or back. They even can affect the neck and eyes and cause headaches because of the direct harm they do to the circulation and the nervous system

To avoid such troubles as these, specialists advise wearing good-quality shoes at all times—not just for special occasions. Shoes should have soft yet firm uppers and flexible soles that bend freely with the movements of the feet.

When possible, it helps to rest the feet and legs at frequent intervals by elevating the feet higher than the hips for 10 minutes at a time. When there is a continuous painful foot ailment, it's time to see your family doctor, who will refer you to a specialist if necessary

Cooking Cabbage

Cabbage is often a cheaper source of vitamin C than fruits, but this vitamin may be lost in cooking. Raw cabbage will give you in one generous serving about half of the vitamin C you need for one day, according to one report. Cabbage cooked in a little water in a closely covered frying pan will furnish about a third of your daily need. But cabbage which has been boiled will give you only about a sixth of your need. When cabbage is boiled the vitamin C goes into the liquid. So if you don't want to lose your precious vitamin C, you will have to serve the liquid, too. Pan cooked cabbage will not be as bright green as boiled cabbage but it will taste better and offer you more vitamin C.

Want Ads

For Sale

FOR SALE—EMPTY STEEL Barrels. Klemme Co-op. Grain Co. (1tc)

FOR SALE—TRACTOR TIRES. Have a large stock of rears on hand. Garner Auto Co., Garner, Iowa. (M-8tfc)

YES WE HAVE IT, NUTRENA Crumblized Chick Feed. For faster gains and less waste. We deliver ½ ton lots or more. GREEN ELEVATOR CO., Goodell, Iowa. (Apr 14 tfc)

FOR SALE—4-ROW PLANTER, IHC, also some baled and loose straw. Adolf Meinders, Phone 3-F7. (Ap 7-2tp)

Get your "Thank You Notes" at the Times Office. 59 cents. per box.

Miscellaneous

INSURE WITH HENRY WARD, Klemme for Auto, Personal Property, Farm Liability Insurance. (May 1, '48)

SEE R. W. ELDER FOR HANcock Co. Mutual Fire & Lightning Insurance renewals or new policies. (Apr. 1 pd)

Wanted To Buy

WANTED TO BUY FOR CASH —your used car. Any make, any model. Garner Auto Company, Garner, Iowa. M-8tfc)

Services Offered

FEED GRINDING OF ALL kinds done on your farm. Phone Klemme 76 or Goodell 58561. Carroll Etchen. (j-28-tc)

SELL WHAT YOU DON'T NEED with a Times Want Adv.

Advertisement

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

Now It's Necktie Made of Milk!

Fellow in Andy Botkin's Tavern was boasting about a trick necktie he was wearing made out of a by-product of milk. "Took 33 pounds of milk to make this tie," he says.

Bill Webster was unimpressed. "Personally," he says, "I'd rather have the milk to drink. Just as I wouldn't change one glass of good American beer for a necktie made from thirty barrels of it!"

Yes, modern science being what it is—seems like you can make "anything out of anything" these days. But in the case of milk, well I guess drinking it is still a whole lot better than just wearing it.

Of course there are lots of other ways of abusing goods and beverages—like a fellow who doesn't appreciate good beer enough to drink it slowly and in moderation.

But from where I sit, most people who enjoy a wholesome beverage like beer or ale are moderate—because beer itself is a beverage of moderation.

Joe Marsh

Copyright, 1948, United States Brewers Foundation

Is Your Car Ready For Spring?

Have you made sure your car is ready for spring and summer driving? Will it take the open road trouble-free? Have you changed over the lubricants?

Your car is only as good as the service it gives you. Be sure it is the best. Have us put it in shape and keep it in shape.

WHEEL BALANCING
$1.00
Per Wheel Plus Weights

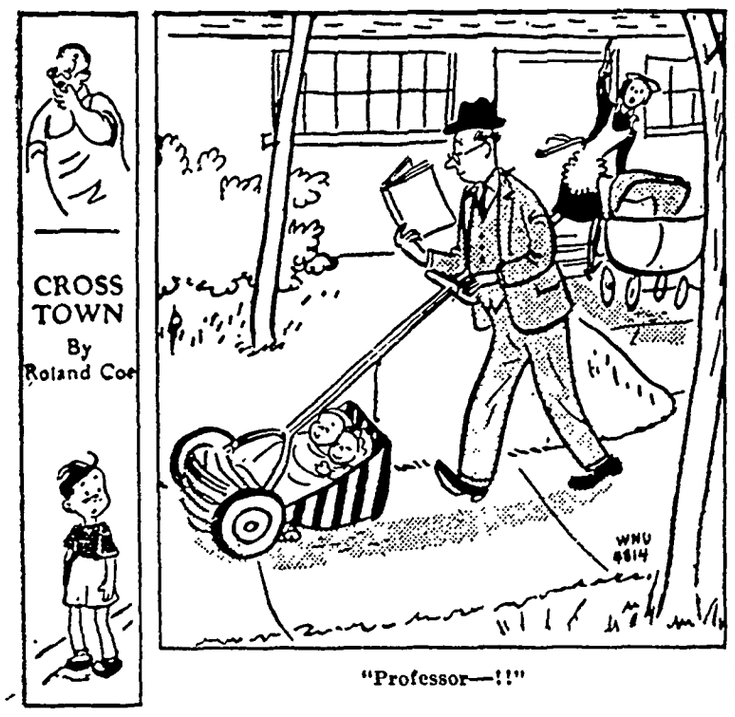
Larson's Hiway Service
On Highway 69 West Of Klemme.

KEEP THE FARM SANITARY
2-HOUR SERVICE ON REMOVAL OF
Dead Stock
Phone
KLEMME 580
BELMOND 580
We Pay The Call
A Clean Truck With An Efficient Driver In Your Neighborhood Daily.
Belmond By-Products
"Your Home Plant"
Phone 580 Belmond, Iowa.

FELCO
TRADE MARK REGISTERED
FEED
Make Us Your Feed Headquarters
Felco Starter and Grower Felco Hog Balancer
Felco 20% Laying Mash Felco Pig and Sow
Pilotbrand Oyster Shells Std. Midds
Granite Grit Bran
Linseed Meal Soybean Meal
Meat Scraps Tankage
"Buy And Sell Where You Get A Dividend"
Klemme Coop. Grain Company
"The Farmers Elevator" Glen Bridges, Manager

CROSS TOWN

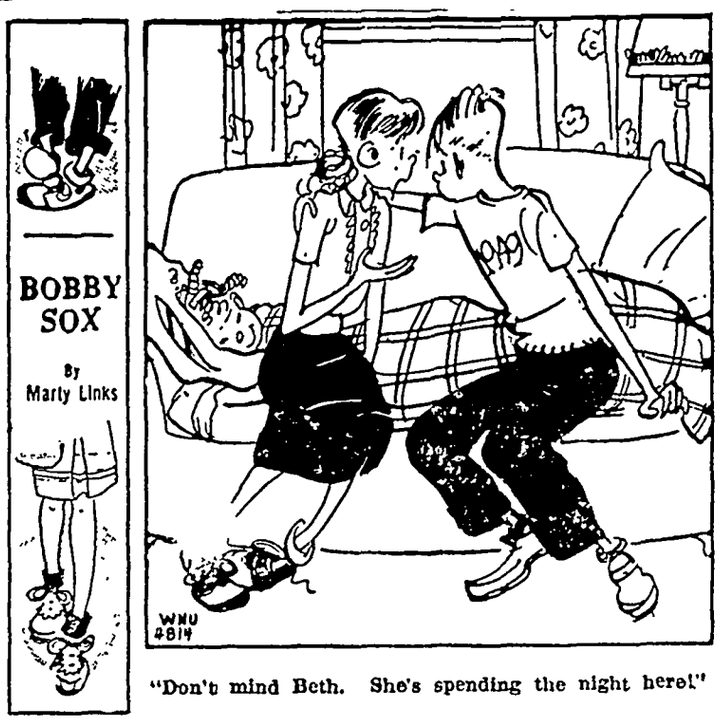
By Roland Coe



"Professor—!!"

BOBBY SOX

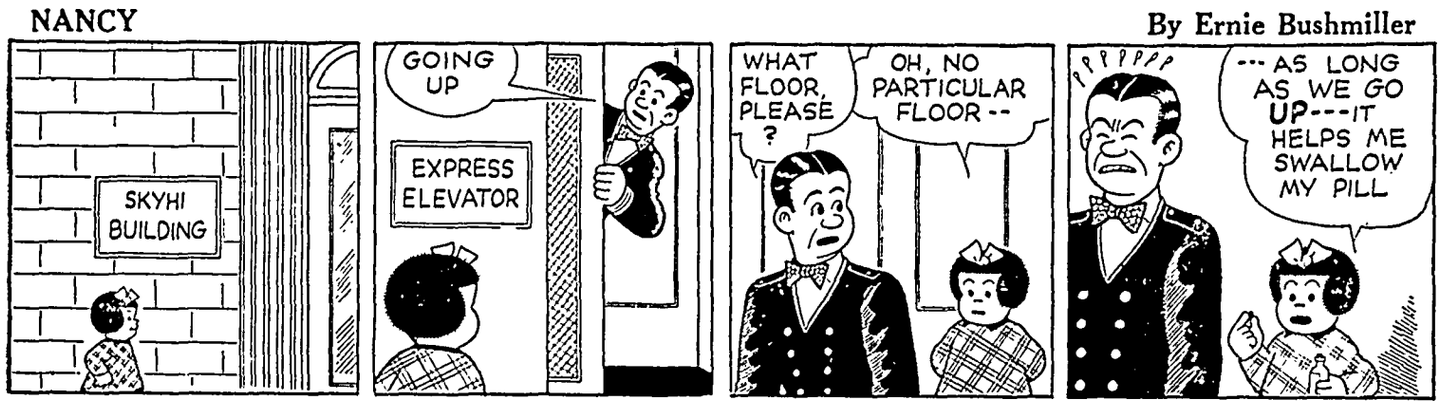
By Marty Links



"Don't mind Beth. She's spending the night here!"

NANCY

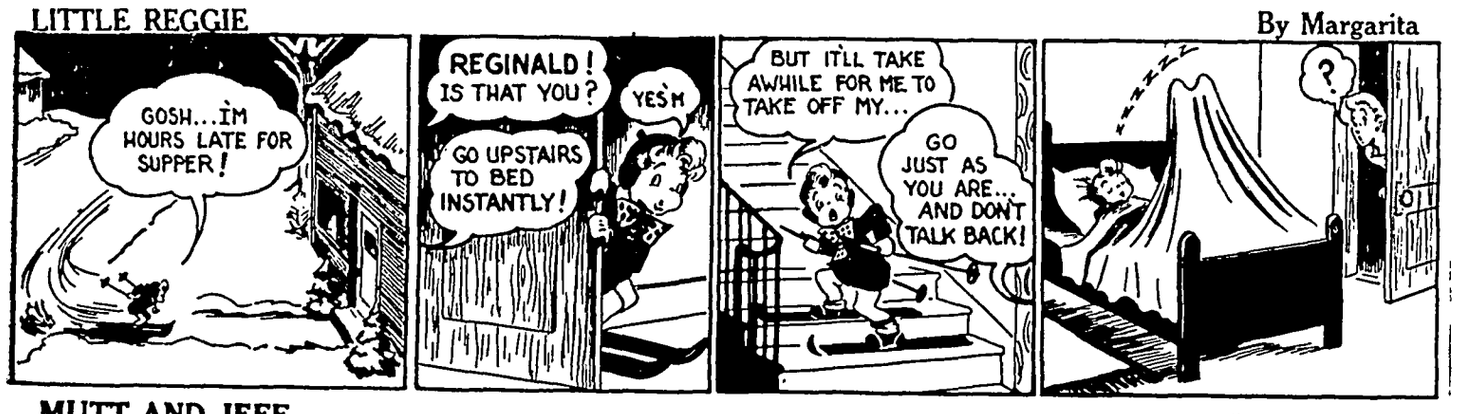
By Ernie Bushmiller



SKYHI BUILDING
GOING UP
EXPRESS ELEVATOR
WHAT FLOOR, PLEASE?
OH, NO PARTICULAR FLOOR --
--- AS LONG AS WE GO UP---IT HELPS ME SWALLOW MY PILL

LITTLE REGGIE

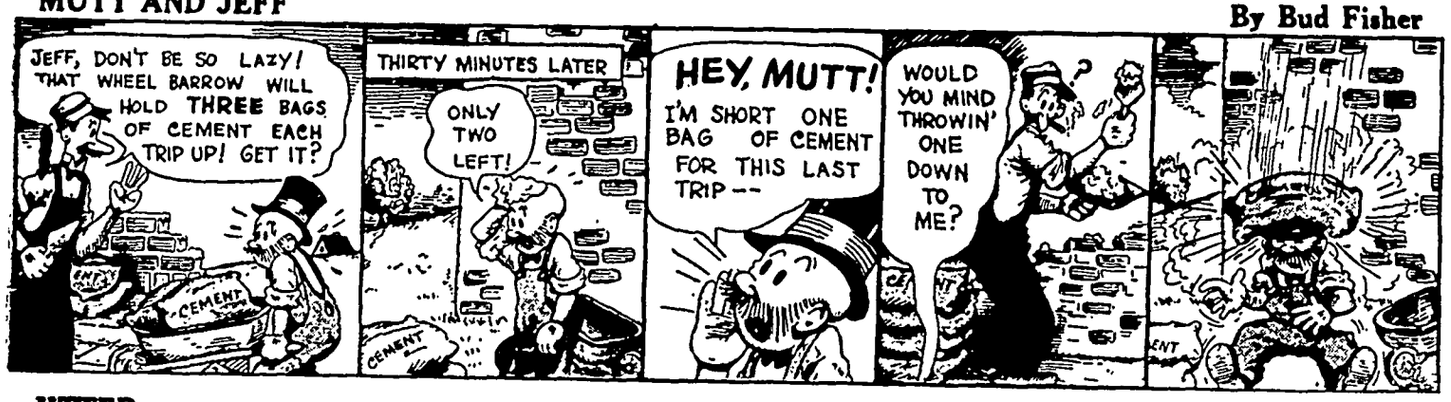
By Margarita



GOSH...I'M HOURS LATE FOR SUPPER!
REGINALD! IS THAT YOU?
YES'M
GO UPSTAIRS TO BED INSTANTLY!
BUT IT'LL TAKE AWHILE FOR ME TO TAKE OFF MY...
GO JUST AS YOU ARE... AND DON'T TALK BACK!
?

MUTT AND JEFF

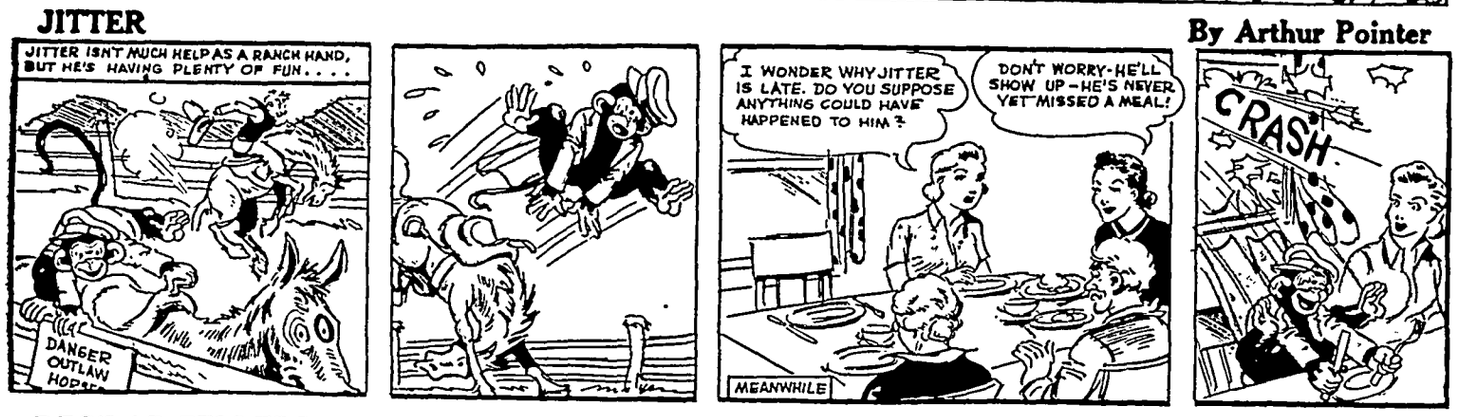
By Bud Fisher



JEFF, DON'T BE SO LAZY! THAT WHEEL BARROW WILL HOLD THREE BAGS OF CEMENT EACH TRIP UP! GET IT?
CEMENT
THIRTY MINUTES LATER
ONLY TWO LEFT!
CEMENT
HEY, MUTT!
I'M SHORT ONE BAG OF CEMENT FOR THIS LAST TRIP --
WOULD YOU MIND THROWIN' ONE DOWN TO ME?

JITTER

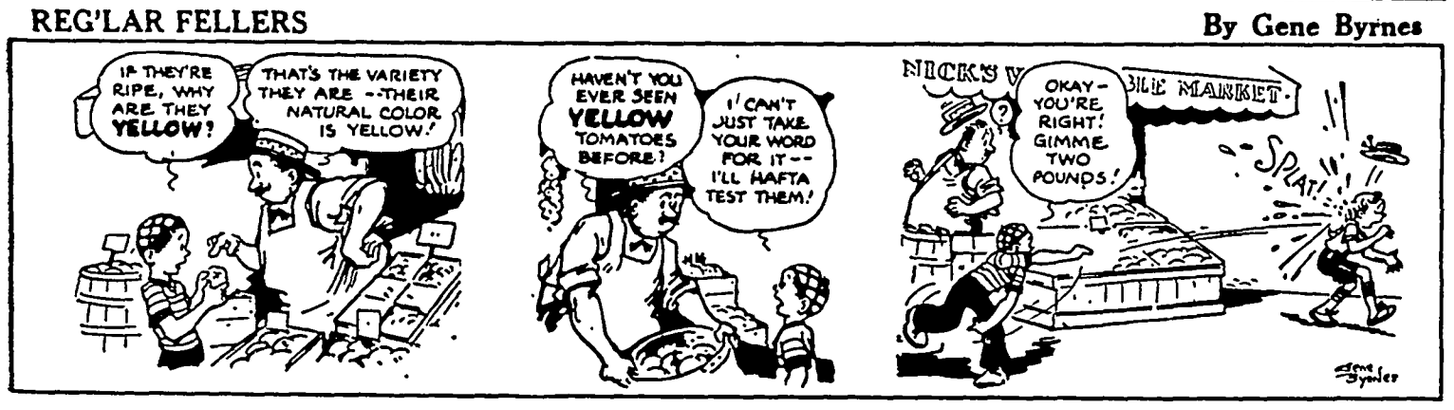
By Arthur Pointer



JITTER ISN'T MUCH HELP AS A RANCH HAND, BUT HE'S HAVING PLENTY OF FUN....
DANGER OUTLAW HOPS
I WONDER WHY JITTER IS LATE. DO YOU SUPPOSE ANYTHING COULD HAVE HAPPENED TO HIM?
DON'T WORRY-HE'LL SHOW UP-HE'S NEVER YET MISSED A MEAL!
MEANWHILE
CRASH

REG'LAR FELLERS

By Gene Byrnes



IF THEY'RE RIPE, WHY ARE THEY YELLOW!
THAT'S THE VARIETY THEY ARE --THEIR NATURAL COLOR IS YELLOW!
HAVEN'T YOU EVER SEEN YELLOW TOMATOES BEFORE!
I CAN'T JUST TAKE YOUR WORD FOR IT-- I'LL HAFTA TEST THEM!
OKAY- YOU'RE RIGHT! GIMME TWO POUNDS!
SPLAT!

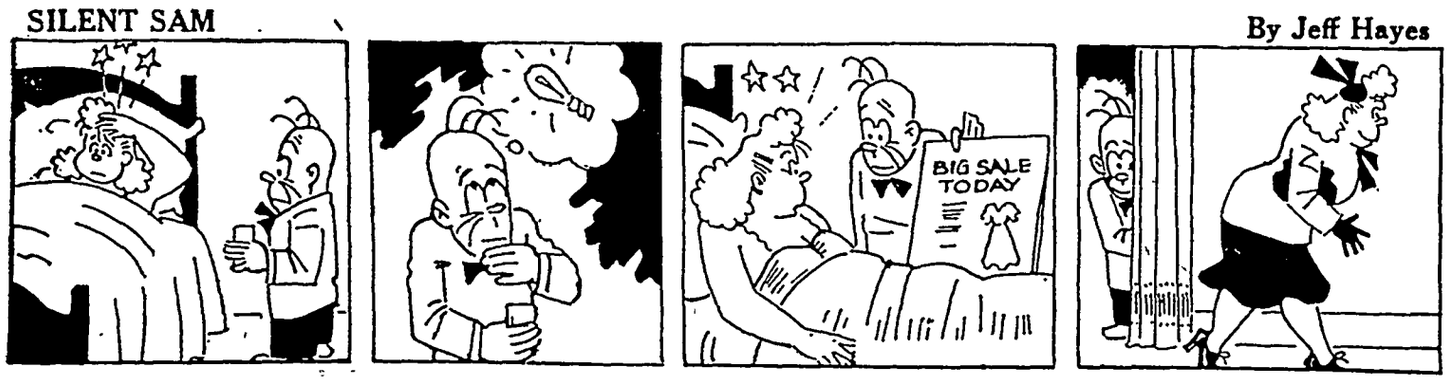
VIRGIL

By Len Kleis

I CAN'T COME OUT- I'VE GOT TO SIT IN TH' BATHTUB FOR TH' NEXT THIRTY MINUTES -
WHY?
I FELL IN TH' MUD! I HAVE TO STAY HERE UNTIL IT ALL SOAKS OFF
SURE
WOULD YOU LIKE TO MAKE A LITTLE EASY MONEY WHILE YOU'RE WAITING?
FOUNTAIN PENS CLEANED 3¢

SILENT SAM

By Jeff Hayes



PRESIDENTIAL TIMBER

The race to be Mister Harassment or the Worrying Man, otherwise known as President of the United States, is on. Everybody is coming into the ring at the drop of a nat, so to speak. The stewards may have to divide it into two heats to prevent overcrowding and piling up in the stretch.

— • —

Gen. Douglas MacArthur is willing to go to the post. He is quite a man. George Washington threw a dollar across the Rappahannock but MacArthur threw a brass hat across the Pacific ocean

— • —

General MacArthur offers himself to the Republicans if they insist and it sounds a little like a reiteration of his famous statement, "I shall return." Anybody who can wind up ruling Japan after Corregidor is not to be discounted no matter how long or difficult the road.

— • —

President Truman made the announcement that he would like four years more of trials and tribulations the same day MacArthur's word came from Tokyo. In the last couple of years Harry has been through more fighting than Douglas

— • —

Messrs. Dewey, Taft, Stassen, Vandenburg and other GOP hopefuls took the entry of General MacArthur with a show of minimum concern but no race is ever made any easier by traffic congestion at the post.

— • —

General Ike, the Abilene Bearcat, announced that he would not be a candidate and added that he did not see anything in the situation which required a military man to make a general headquarters of the White House. Plainly MacArthur's reply to this is, "Sez you!"

— • —

Democratic politicians are insisting that if they could get Truman to step out and get Ike to ride the donkey it wouldn't make any difference if the Republicans ran MacArthur, Doolittle, Bradley, Spatz, Nimitz and Halsey all on one ticket.

— • —

Could it come to pass that, with General MacArthur seeing an excuse for a military man camping on the Potomac, General Eisenhower might be prevailed upon to change his mind? We shall see what we shall see, as the fellow said as he looked into the wrong end of a telescope. But we hope the campaign will be recognizable as a political contest and not a major military event.

* * *

Elmer Twitchell is close to a fortune. He is thinking of signing up to supply the United Nations with loopholes. The demand for smaller ones is especially high.

Special Delivery

Dear Uncle Sam:

This is a follow up to my recent letter asking if you didn't think it time you snapped out of that self-destructive trance in the drug-store window and started acting as if you were hep to the fact that Kremlin workers for your liquidation are just about the most efficient, wideawake, high-powered 24-hours-a-day shift organization in the land.

— • —

Sure, the people are asleep at the switch. Sure, they are hard to arouse. Yeah, I know 85 per cent of all Americans are so busy playing pinball machines, writing limericks for radio prizes, applauding the wrong people in newsreels and trying to get a new sedan that the 15 per cent hard at work to Sovietize America are having it easy.

— • —

What we need are demonstrations in every town and city for the preservation of America, and in 'em there should be the spirit of the old-time Fourth of July meetings, with the brass bands playing "Yankee Doodle" and the eyes of the people lighted up with gratitude for the great blessing of living in the greatest country on earth.

— • —

Americans are good joiners and good organizers. Once aroused they are tough babies and nobody's fools. How about a national campaign to get them as hard-working, alert and vigorous in preserving the country as the Moscow agents are for feeding it to the crows? I'm just asking.

Yours still wondering,
Elmer.

* * *

CAN YOU REMEMBER—

Away back when a man wasn't afraid to make more money?

* * *

The shoe industry predicts a drop from $1 to $3 in the price of shoes this year. Oh for the days when we could afford them on both feet!

* * *

Truman Says He Will Run. Headline.

— • —

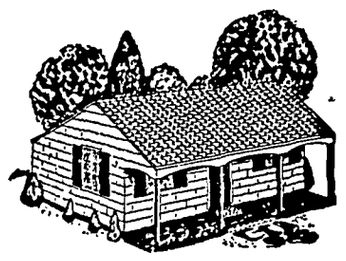
Might be a good idea to develop the hook slide, too.

* * *

Eamon de Valera was in New York and the city, of course, gave him the green light.

Easily Built Cottage Solves Housing Problem

IF you have a housing problem build this cottage now. Total cost of materials runs well under $1,000.00. The simplified Pattern Method of Construction takes all the mystery out of building. Pattern tells what materials to buy and where to use them . . . specifies size and quantity of nails and other hardware needed.



Complete information is provided for laying out guide lines, digging foundations and putting in footings. Framing and sheathing instructions are also included. Assembly illustrations show exact location of all framing members. After the subflooring is nailed to the floor joists, the four wall frames are built complete on the working platform. Each is then raised and nailed in position.

Patterns are provided for making all angle cuts on studs and rafters. Step by step directions are written so that any 17 or 18 year old boy can follow and understand the procedure outlined.

Solve your housing problem by building this cottage yourself just as our pioneer forefathers solved theirs.

Send $2.00 for Country Cottage Pattern No. 91 to Easi-Bild Pattern Company, Department W, Pleasantville, N. Y.

The Navy has a Real Business Proposition for You

Find out about this opportunity by reading the detailed booklet, "Life in the Peacetime Navy." Ask for your copy at the Navy Recruiting Station.

OLD TIES LOOK LIKE NEW

IT'S SAFE • IT'S QUICK • IT'S EASY
IT CLEANS • IT SHAPES • IT PRESSES

TY-D-TY will do it NO HEAT REQUIRED — CHEMICAL PROCESS — INTRODUCTORY OFFER $1.00—Tablets to process 100 ties—(Extra tablets fifty cents)—Purchase price REFUNDED in full if not satisfactory.

SEE-GEE DISTRIBUTING CO.
Suite 104, Dept. A
107 W. Linwood Blvd. Kansas City, Mo.

PILES TROUBLE?
For Quick Relief

DON'T DELAY ANY LONGER! Now, a doctor's formula you can use at home to relieve distressing discomfort of pain—itch—irritation due to piles. Tends to soften and shrink swelling. Use this proven doctor's formula. You'll be amazed at its speedy action relief. Ask your druggist today for Thornton & Minor's Rectal Ointment or Suppositories. Follow label instructions. For sale at all drug stores.

don't use Harsh Laxatives

Keep regular this healthful way-

The juice of a lemon in a glass of water, when taken first thing on arising, is all that most people need to insure prompt, normal elimination.

No more harsh laxatives that irritate the digestive tract and impair nutrition! Lemon in water is good for you!

Generations of Americans have taken lemons for health—and generations of doctors have recommended them. They are rich in vitamin C; supply valuable amounts of B_1 and P. They alkalinize; aid digestion.

Not too sharp or sour, lemon in water has a refreshing tang—clears the mouth, wakes you up. It's not a purgative—simply helps your system regulate itself. Try it 10 days.

USE CALIFORNIA SUNKIST LEMONS

NO SALE

"I'm in charge of the offi day," said the middle-aged w "What can I do for you?"

The farmer hesitated.

"You sure this is the Wo Exchange?"

"Of course."

"And you're the woman?"

"That's right. What can I you?"

"Nothin'," said the farm guess I'll keep Semanthy, all."

One Too Many

A farmer instructed his man, who had been with him number of years, to write on egg the date laid and the bre the hen. Pretty soon the hired resigned.

Farmer — Why do you wa leave?

Hired Man — I'm through. done all sorts of jobs, but I dra line on bein' secretary to a b o' hens.

Hard on the Throat

Tommy had been away school for some days and ret with his throat in red flannel presented a note:

"Please do not let Tommy any more French. His throat soar that he can hardly speak lish."

THIS ONE STOPPED HI

A certain inspector, noted for fault-finding propensities, was specting a newly completed por of a transcontinental highway. grumbled at everything. The cr was not high enough, the shou too steep, the ditches not enough, and so on. The fores bore it all patiently. Then straightened up to his full hei and looking the inspector in the asked: "How is she for length

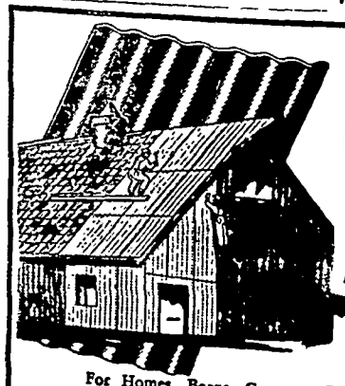
'HOW!'

Western Tourist (to Indian) White man glad to see red m White man hope big chief feel tip-top this morning.

Indian (calling) — Hey, Ja Come here and get a load of th The guy's terrific.

FIRST CHOICE OF MILLIONS
St. Joseph ASPIRIN
WORLD'S LARGEST-SELLER AT 10-

STOP LIGHTNING DAMAGE
"National Quality" Systems Prevent Lightning Stroke from Occurring. Write for FREE Book "Is Lightning Protection Worth Providing"
NAT'AL LIGHTNING PROTECTION CO.



Make Your Spring Repairs
PERMANENT REPAIRS with Corrugated ALUMINUM ROOFING and SIDING

For Homes, Barns, Garages, Commercial and Utility Buildings

6 ft., 8 ft., 10 ft., 12 ft. lengths; 26 inches wide; 1¼ or 1½ corrugations; .027 inch thick (22 gauge).
IMMEDIATE DELIVERY

- Light—easy to handle and apply
- Fireproof—will not rust
- Requires no paint or maintenance
- Beautiful; long lasting

Write, Wire or Phone
SOHKEN-GALAMBA CORPORATION
Second and Riverview (X-216), Kansas City 18, Kansas. TWatcher 9900

...CTION Corner

SLOW AND CAREFUL

By JOHN SCOTT DOUGLAS

...make fast moves when ...bees, so a beeman ...slow and careful no mat... ...happens. I remembered ...I stopped by Oakknoll ...found a stranger sitting ...house kitchen and watch... ...prepare a fat fryer.

...been in love with Emmy ...was 16. The 10 years that ...since then have changed ...e that if I were buzzing ...ing for something sweet, ...ick Emmy. The western ...g through the window ...o of her fair hair and her ...ushed from the hot stove. ...a floury hand as she ...drumstick into the put...se.

...Bill," she said. "I want ...et Fuller Launson. He's ...Hall place and is raising ...are'd you come from?"

...foothills," I answered, ...g my bees down to Red... ...pollinate the Farland or...

...s a pollinating service," ...plained. "Arsenic sprays ...any bees that orchardists ...to bring his hives, so the ...bear fruit."

...Launson said, the wisp of ...stache over his thin lips ...ring.

...n't make up my mind ...he was one of those rob... ...that steal honey from an... ...e or whether he was a ...at lets the workers sup... ...He had black eyes and a ...face. And there was con... ...the way he looked at my ...ands that mighty near put ...stinging mood. I can't ...ith gloves when I'm hand... ...ires all the time.

...about his horses while Em... ...d supper, but he seemed to ...dropping in and wouldn't ...h. However, he admitted ...d man had plenty of money ...ght that since Fuller Laun... ...n't much good in his busi... ...might as well try to raise ...

...mmy has a heart as big as a ...hive and she's always feel... ...for queer characters. She ...as much about herself, but ...good listener. Still I couldn't ...at she saw in Launson, ex... ...t he had a college degree ...respects education. I could ...Launson other things about ...e's been lonely since her ...d, however, so if she found ...company, that was all right ... A beeman learns not to ...be queen unless he has to.

...supper I had to leave to get ...up in the fields of the Red... ...chard before sun-up. Laun... ...ed no signs of swarming, so ...d he planned to visit a while ...ith Emmy. But a beeman ...jump to conclusions. As I ...learns to be slow and care...

...s two weeks before I got ...Oakknoll again. Launson sat ...ame chair, as if he hadn't ...in all that time. He didn't ...al friendly, and acted bored ...asked about his horses.

...supper didn't go so well that ...mmy treated me as she al...ys, but Launson sulked as ...on a rainy day when they ...ther pollen.

...supper, Launson said, ...a good movie in town. Like ...Emily?"

...rted shaking her head, but I ...go right along. I've been ...nights and working days until ...wore out to be fit company ...one. I'll just catch a few ...winks on the sofa and push along about 11."

"Oh, Bill," Emmy said anxiously, "do you have to work so hard? You haven't an ounce of flesh!"

"No money'd keep me driving this way," I admitted. "Now that the war's over and we got to help feed the world, we need bigger fruit crops.

Well, supper didn't go as well that night. Emmy treated me as she always does, but Launson sulked as bees do on a rainy day when they can't gather pollen.

But the spring pollinating is almost over and soon I can take it easier."

"Not here, I hope," Launson said unpleasantly, when Emmy went into the bedroom to get her hat.

I knew then how bees feel when you shake their hive on a cold day but I was too tired to argue. I was asleep before they drove away and the alarm-clock awakened me before they returned.

It was nearly a month before I could get back. When I drove past the old Hall place, it looked like Launson hadn't given his horses much care. He stepped out of the house after I'd stopped the truck, and spoke as if he owned Oakknoll.

"You back?"

"Yep," I said. "Just in time for supper."

"I didn't know Emily was expecting you," he snapped.

I wondered whether Launson's weak chin would hurt my swollen hands much. I decided not to try it.

"Launson," I said, "I'm putting some hives out under the trees here. If you ain't afraid of bees, I want you to give me a hand."

When I came inside later to wash up, Emmy was just putting the last steaming dishes on the table.

"Where's Mr. Launson?" She asked.

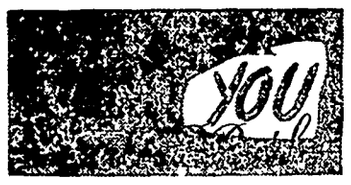
"Last I saw of him," I said, tucking in my napkin, "he was running toward his house with a veil of bees trailing behind him. He dropped a hive he was carrying and instead of backing away slow and careful like, he began swatting bees. They kind of resented it."

Emmy didn't say anything for a minute. "I'm glad he's gone," she said, and smiled. "I'd have told him things before, but I get so lonely when you're away, Bill. What made him drop the hive?

"I guess something I said startled him. You see, he'd just advised me to move on, saying I'd never get anywhere with you, Emmy."

"The idea! What'd you say to that, Bill?"

"Why, I told him he was crazy—that we'd been married 10 years."



YOU CAN'T RUN AWAY

One of my younger friends, a man in whom I always have had considerable confidence, did something last week that caused my confidence to be shaken. I'll tell you about it.

When the pressure in a job he has held for two or three years became too great, he quit. "I am going to pull stakes and go to another town," he told me. "I just couldn't take it any more."

I say that my confidence was shaken. What I mean is this, that whenever anyone tries to run away from a crisis, a situation, a condition or himself, he's doomed to fail.

Yet every day you see someone who is trying to run away from himself. Psychologists are very much interested in the roads which these runaways take, and one of their first considerations in evaluating a personality which is broken or unhappy is escape.

You probably know that you live every day with a conflict raging inside yourself. Sometimes the conflict is subdued by a quiet sort of guerrilla warfare of the mind. At other times it reaches the battle point. Only rarely is there total peace.

When this conflict becomes too formidable, too threatening, you do the obvious thing—you try to run. That seems to be the thing to do, but often the escape is worse than the conflict—and more lives are damaged by these escape or fight mechanisms than by any one thing.

Maybe you'd like to have me tell you very briefly about the various escape routes that the mind follows when things get too hot.

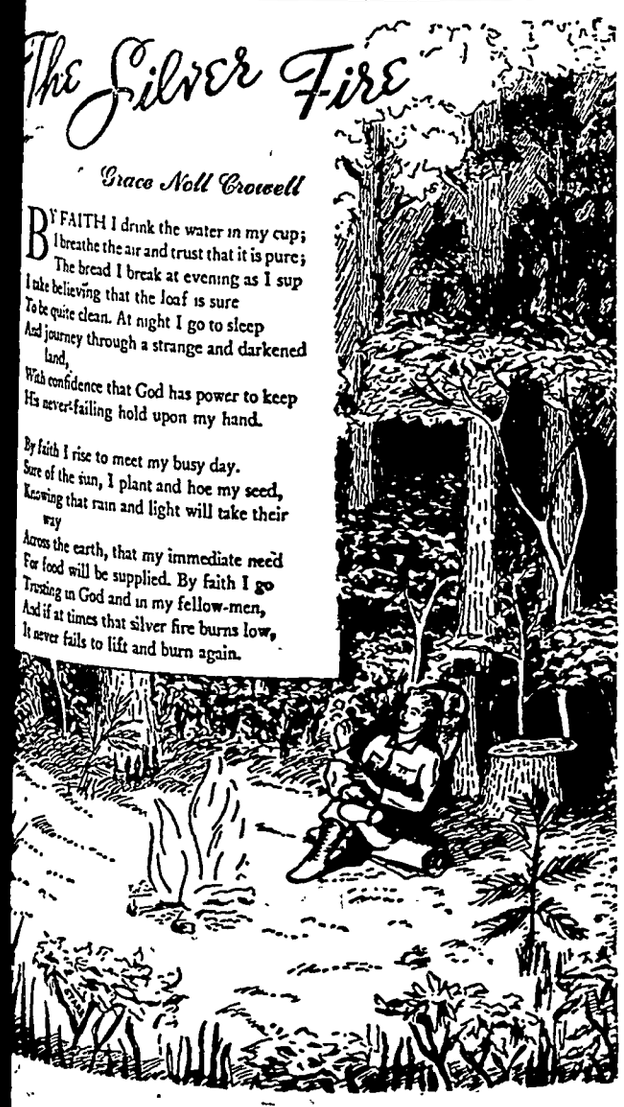
They are 13. First comes regression, which means to go backward, do childish things. Then comes extroversion—that means to turn to excessive activity to cover up the conflict. The opposite of that is introversion—to think excessively, to dodge real issues.

Rationalization is to indulge in false thinking, while segregation is not to let your right hand know what your left hand is doing.

When you practice repression, you forget unpleasant things; and when you disassociate, you pass the buck. Sometimes you resort to conversion—that means to have a breakdown or illness in place of a conflict. Displacement is to worry over one thing when another is to blame, and projection is to attribute your own faults to others.

Another escape is called identification; that means to form phantasies. When you follow compensation, you overdo some particular thing in order to overcome your inadequacies.

The final escape route is the only one which is wholeheartedly recommended. It is called sublimation—that means to turn the effect of the conflict into some useful channel



The Silver Fire

Grace Noll Crowell

BY FAITH I drink the water in my cup;
I breathe the air and trust that it is pure;
The bread I break at evening as I sup
I take believing that the loaf is sure
To be quite clean. At night I go to sleep
And journey through a strange and darkened land,
With confidence that God has power to keep
His never-failing hold upon my hand.

By faith I rise to meet my busy day.
Sure of the sun, I plant and hoe my seed,
Knowing that rain and light will take their way
Across the earth, that my immediate need
For food will be supplied. By faith I go
Trusting in God and in my fellow-men,
And if at times that silver fire burns low,
It never fails to lift and burn again.

THE HOME TOWN REPORTER IN WASHINGTON

WALTER SHEAD WNU Correspondent

Religion in Schools

NOT in a generation has there been a more controversial ruling handed down by the supreme court than the 8 to 1 decision overruling the lower courts in the religious instruction case at Champaign, Ill.

Coming at a time when the nation is engaged in an all-out battle against the forces of atheistic communism and even war looms as a consequence, the court itself and newspapers throughout the country have been swamped with letters for and against the decision.

The court's ruling was based on use of tax-supported school property for religious instruction in various faiths provided by the Champaign council on religious education one period a week. An atheist brought suit because her son was "embarrassed." The court said she was right and the practice violated the first amendment to the Constitution which reads:

"Congress shall make no law respecting an establishment of religion or prohibiting the free exercise thereof." No federal law was in question, merely the action of a school board which is under jurisdiction of the state, as are all public schools.

Justice Reed in his dissenting opinion held there was no more violation of the traditional separation of church and state than the practice of using chaplains in the army and navy or for congress itself.

So concerned was the neutral National Education association that it issued a statement holding the decision "in no way voids the responsibility of the public schools to inculcate those moral and ethical principles which are the essence of the good life. One of the important objectives of public education has been, and always will be, to inspire in youth a deep appreciation for the basic spiritual and religious values which give meaning to existence, provide the foundations of good character and are guides to a high order of human conduct."

* * *

About the only semblance to rent control remaining in the so-called rent control bill as it came from the house banking and currency committee is the name. As the measure passed the senate it was weak but the house committee merely enlarged these weaknesses and gave sole and autonomous power over rents to local boards. So it is now a "local option" law without any federal authority since the right of review is taken away from the housing expediter and is, in the opinion of many, except perhaps the national association of real estate boards, a farce, pure and simple.

* * *

As was predicted in this column months ago, that section of the Taft-Hartley law which prohibited political activity by labor unions and expressions of political opinions by labor newspapers has been declared unconstitutional. The case which had president Phil Murray of the CIO under indictment will go to the supreme court. Other sections also likely will be ruled out by the courts.

* * *

Back to the Kitchen

The supercharged issue of whether or not federal taxes on oleomargarine should be repealed was supposed to develop into one of the most historic fights since the battle of Agincourt, but instead it dropped dead before it even got up to the line of scrimmage. The house agriculture committee administered the coup de grace by voting 16 to 10 to shelve all legislation to repeal federal taxes on oleo.

Said Rep. Clifford Hope (Rep., Kas.): "This kills legislation to repeal these taxes at this session of congress."

Some diehards, however, want to get a bill to the house floor by a discharge petition, but that would require 218 signatures and it is doubtful that they could be obtained. Meantime, housewives all over the nation continued to develop lame arms by mixing the color into the margarine themselves.

* * *

For no apparent reason except that he doesn't like to live in Washington and is not content with the way his party is running things in his home state, freshman Sen. William E. Jenner of Indiana whose term runs to 1953 plans to run for governor at the coming Republican state convention at Indianapolis. And he does so despite a resolution adopted by the Indiana Republican Editorial association reminding him that he was elected to the U. S. senate and urging him to stay in Washington and tend to his knittin'.

* * *

Preparedness Program

The crisis in world affairs concerning which the President spoke in his special message to congress almost certainly will embark the government on a huge preparedness program—a program designed not for war but for peace if possible. In debate over the Marshall plan, the senate virtually howled down further Russian appeasement. But several senators urged the government to seek an atmosphere of understanding with Russia.

Soybeans Provide Protein To Offset High Food Cost

High food costs make it difficult for the homemaker to know how she can get the most for her food dollar. Protein is one of the most essential protective elements in the human diet, say extension service nutritionists.

Foods which contain protein — meats, eggs, milk, cheese—are high in cost, but they must not be left out of the diet. Cheaper cuts of meats, meat stretchers, egg dishes and cheese dishes will help supply the body's need for protein. Other sources of protein are soybeans, dried beans and peas. These vegetables come nearest to meat, eggs, milk and cheese as body builders. They also contain Vitamin B1 and iron.

For homemakers not familiar with the soybean, this information is offered: "Soybeans contain protein of high quality, similar to animal protein. They can be used in place of meat in the diet. Soybeans are good sources of usable iron and other mineral, such as calcium, phosphorus, as well as an excellent source of vitamins of the B-complex. Fresh, green soybeans are rich in Vitamin A. They are high in fat, and sprouted soybeans are a useful source of Vitamin C."

SEWING CIRCLE PATTERNS

Make this Lovely Frock Easily Shirtwaister Is Neat and Trim

Washable Dress

HERE'S a clever summer washable that you can put together in no time! It's cut all in one piece with drawstring to snug in your waistline. Youthful and charming as can be.

Pattern No. 1743 is for sizes 12, 14, 16, 18 and 20. Size 14, 3 yards of 36 or 39-inch.

Tailored Frocks

A HANDSOMELY tailored shirtwaister that's a pet style with every well dressed woman. Buttoned down the front, it will be cool and comfortable to wear—a joy to launder. Have cap or short set-in sleeves.

Pattern No. 8274 comes in sizes 14, 16, 18, 20; 40, 42, 44 and 46. Size 16, 4 yards of 39-inch.

The Spring and Summer issue of FASHION offers a wealth of sewing inspiration for every home dressmaker. Free knitting directions and a free pattern printed inside the book 25 cents.

SEWING CIRCLE PATTERN DEPT.
530 South Wells St. - Chicago 7, Ill.
Enclose 25 cents in coins for each pattern desired.
Pattern No. _____ Size _____
Name _____
Address _____

Young Evangelist Preaches, Sings and Plays Accordion

LOS ANGELES. — Little Marjoe Gortner, three and one-half-year-old "preacher," is the talk of Los Angeles evangelist circles.

The curly-haired son of the Rev. and Mrs. Vernon Gortner, both Long Beach evangelists, made his pulpit debut at a local downtown meeting and since has given several sermons, followers say.

His average sermon lasts about 10 minutes. He also sings and accompanies himself on the accordion.

Marjoe's best sermon, say his backers, is "The Last Roundup," in which he comes on singing, dressed in a cowboy suit, and concludes with a short message on the general theme.

New Clam Eating Champ Downs 120 in 10 Minutes

SEATTLE.—The Pacific Freestyle Amateur Clam Eating Contest association—a serious-minded organization with 193 vice presidents and no rank and file members—claims a new world clam eating record of 120 devoured in 10 minutes.

The new champion hailed by the association is Richard Watson, Seattle cab driver, who slammed down a clam every five seconds during the 10-minute contest.

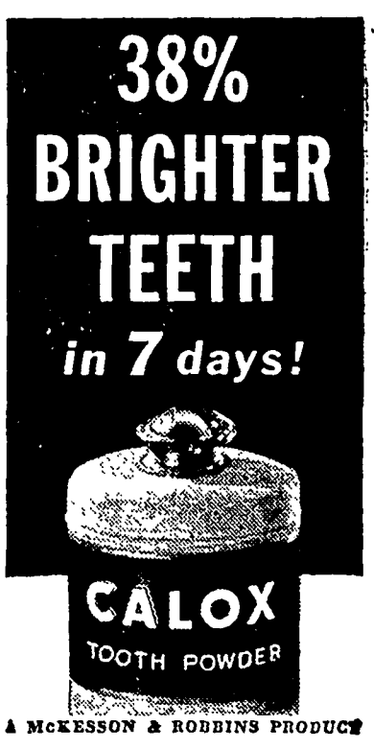
Planning for the Future?
Buy U. S. Savings Bonds!

● In NR (Nature's Remedy) Tablets there are no chemicals, no minerals, no phenol derivatives. NR Tablets are different—act different. Purely vegetable—a combination of 10 vegetable ingredients formulated over 50 years ago. Uncoated or candy coated, their action is dependable, thorough, yet gentle, as millions of NR's have proved. Get a 25¢ box. Use as directed.

Nature's Remedy NR TO-NIGHT TOMORROW ALRIGHT

ALWAYS CARRY TUMS QUICK RELIEF FOR ACID INDIGESTION

38% BRIGHTER TEETH in 7 days!



A McKESSON & ROBBINS PRODUCT

Build Vigor... Energy!

Delicious Kellogg's Corn Flakes are satisfying fuel-food! A quick energy food for kids. They sure can use it!

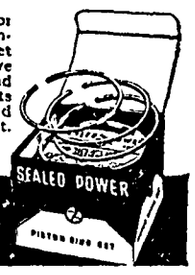
Kellogg's CORN FLAKES
MOTHER KNOWS BEST!

Sure, I can give you THAT NEW-CAR FEEL!

Let your Sealed Power Franchised Dealer give your old engine that new-car feel! He is an engine expert. With new Sealed Power Piston Rings and a complete overhaul he can restore the power your car, truck, or tractor had when new, whatever the make, model or cylinder wear condition. You'll save gas and oil, too! See your Sealed Power Franchised Dealer!

Send a postal for illustrated, informative new booklet on 7 ways to save oil. It's free and may save you lots of money Sealed Power Corp., Dept. W4, Muskegon, Mich.

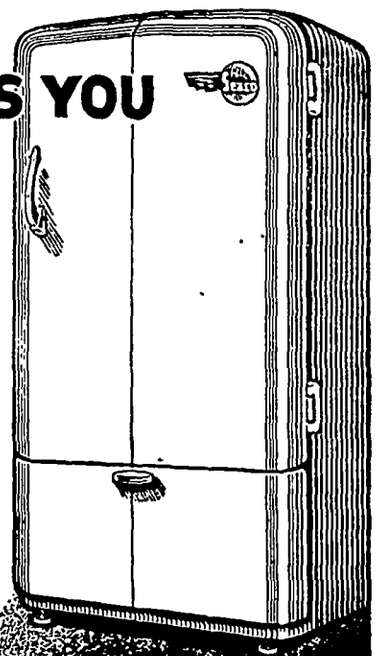


SEALED POWER PISTON RINGS
BEST IN NEW ENGINES! BEST IN OLD ENGINES!

Seaco GIVES YOU Triple cooking Pleasure

1. It is a pleasure to use Seaco. Big, gleaming white, beautiful. Makes any kitchen brighter, more cheerful. Keeps all foods just right for handling and cooking.
2. It is a pleasure to eat Seaco protected foods. They stay chock full of natural, tasty flavors. Remain healthful with Seaco guarded vitamins and minerals.
3. It is a pleasure to save money with Seaco. Seaco operates cheaply, and silently. Protects more food — no throw-aways. Large capacity. Save more than $10 a month with Seaco's protective economical operation. Long, steady use assured by durable, quality construction.

See the big pleasure giving SEACO today.



Seaco Recipe

Hot Hog Sandwich

Grind 10 slices of bacon, 1 medium onion, and ½ lb. of cheese together. Mix with 1 teaspoon dried mustard and add 3 tablespoons mayonnaise. Spread on bread and broil in slow oven until cheese melts and bacon crispens. Keep mixture in Seaco till used.

Seaco Inc. SIOUX CITY IOWA

110-VOLT OR 32-VOLT
9 CU. FT. CAPACITY
OVER 20 SQUARE FEET SHELF AREA
ALL SHELVES REMOVABLE
FULL 5-YEAR WARRANTY
ONE PIECE STEEL CABINET
3-3½" FIBRE GLASS INSULATION
SUPER SILENT SEALED UNIT

We specialize in printing Wedding Announcements.

GARNER CLINIC
GARNER, IOWA

Dr. E. M. Christensen, M.D.
Physician & Surgeon, Ph. 18
EYES TESTED — GLASSES FITTED

Dr. A. G. Landon, D.D.S.
Dentist, Ph. 207

HOGS DIE

Apparently catching fire from a defective brooder, a hog-house at the Albert Henrichsen home in Holstein caught fire and burned one night recently, with the loss of three hogs and 20 small pigs. To make it worse, freezing rain had "iced up" the fire siren at Cushing and the firemen were a little delayed in getting to the scene of the blaze.

IT'S TIME TO THINK ABOUT YOUR

Fencing . . .

FOR THE SEASON AHEAD

How about your fences? Are they in good shape for the season. Do you need a new fence? Save time by putting in extra gate here and there.

- STEEL GATES 12, 14 and 16 feet
- BARBED WIRE
- CREOSOTE POSTS, all sizes.

CEMENT, CEMENT, CEMENT!

Again it looks like CEMENT will be hard to get again this year after July. Don't wait too long to order your Cement if you are going to need it this summer or fall. Play safe and order today!

Northern Lumber Co.

Lloyd Sherwood, Mgr. Klemme, Iowa.

Thank You!

Red Cross Workers . .

THE AMERICAN RED CROSS—1948

Mrs. C. E. Barnes	GARNER
Mrs. Anna B. Williams
Mrs. H. G. Voetberg
Mrs. J. R. Keith
Mrs. Edward J. Steil
Mrs. E. M. Christensen
Mrs. N. E. Brear
Mrs. Ruth Bridges	KLEMME
Mrs. Ed Becker
Mrs. Mary Jane Jorgenson
Mrs. Viola Lawhorn
Mrs. Sumner Trumbell
Mrs. Clarence Larsen
Mrs. Pearl Kingery
Mrs. Vera Dulmes
Mrs. Ina Smith
Mrs. Mildred Day
Mrs. Roy Boller	GOODELL
Mrs. V. E. Harris
Blanche Evenson
Louise Johnson
Alma Carpenter
Pearl Wesenberg
Eunice Kurtz
Frae Alice Boller
Mrs. T. Burgess
Mrs. Sherwood
Mrs. Harris
Mrs. McMullen
Mrs. Carpenter
Mrs. Wesenberg

These are the names listed as workers on the tally sheets and if there are any others whose time was spent in this worthy cause, we take this means of thanking them along with the above mentioned workers for the time and co-operation given to the American Red Cross Drive for the year of 1948. We also want to at this time, also thank all those who gave so generously to the 1948 Red Cross Drive.

The total to date, taken in for this year is

$1,635.70

The Officers of The Garner Chapter of The

American Red Cross

KLEMME LOCAL NEWS

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Hansen, of near Kanawha, were business callers in Klemme Monday.

R. A. Jorgenson was at Lake Mills on business Thursday afternoon.

Mrs. Albert Lange underwent a major operation at the Mercy hospital Monday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Montgomery, Bud and Carole drove to Albert Lea, Minn. last Wednesday on business.

Mrs. Elsie Baack will be minus from the Klemme Food Market this week, as she is ill and confined to her home.

Mr. and Mrs. Dorance Day and Gary of Mason City spent Sunday visiting at the Mrs. Mildred Day home.

Mrs. E. B. Albro of Rowan came Saturday to visit over the week end with her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Harson.

Mr. Joe Nyby, of Lake View, came Monday forenoon to visit his nephew, Elwood Geary and wife. Mr. Nyby returned home Tuesday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Fuss moved Sunday from the Emil Patet residence to the apartment above the post office recently occupied by the late Mrs. Peter Merkel. Mr. and Mrs. Patet spent the winter in Florida and are expected home any day.

Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Jorgenson, Sr. entertained to a turkey dinner Friday evening Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Vaughter of New Orleans, La.; Mrs. Lee Slattery of Washington, D. C.; Mr. and Mrs. Ray A. Jorgenson, Jr. and children, Judy and Ray III; and Dr. and Mrs. A. H. Dulmes and son, Dick.

KLEMME LOCAL NEWS

Mr. and Mrs. Loren Gast and daughter, and Mr. and Mrs. Herman Gast visited at Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Beiers Sunday afternoon. Mr. and Mrs. Frank Schultz of Garner also called.

Mr. and Mrs. O. W. Lemke and Mrs. Walt Lemke, Joann, Earl spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Lemke and family at Des Moines to help Waye celebrate his birthday which is on April 14th.

Mr. and Mrs. Vern Pehrson and son, Russel of Ames, came Sunday for a visit at the J. C. Thomas home. Mr. Pehrson returned to his college work but Mrs. Pehrson and Russel are here for a week's visit.

Dr. and Mrs. W. F. Missman, Mrs. A. H. Dulmes, Miss Gertrude Grosshuesch and Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Jorgenson went to Garner Thursday evening to hear Dr. Harold Morgan of Mason City give a talk on Cancer. The Hancock County Cancer fund drive opens this month.

Does your child show signs of exceptional intelligence? Read "What Becomes of Gifted Children." It will help you guide your child to a brilliant future. In the American Weekly with Sunday's CHICAGO HERALD-AMERICAN.

Mrs. Ernest Gerardi and two daughters returned to their home in Kansas City Monday morning. Mr. Gerardi drove up on Saturday night to take them home. Mrs. Gerardi had been here to care for her mother, Mrs. Quandt, who is ill. Mrs. Quandt is showing good improvement and is reported much better at this writing.

Mrs. Frank Ward returned home Friday from Berkely, Cal., where she went the latter part of February by plane from Des Moines for a visit with her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Dwight Johnston. She returned by rail on the Union Pacific and had a short stop at Ogden, Utah, crossed the Salt Lake flats and had other short stops at Cheyenne, Wy. and Kearney, Nebr. on the home trip. She enjoyed the trip out and back and had a fine time in California.

Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Vaughter, of New Orleans, La., and her mother, Mrs. Lee Slattery of Washington, D. C., who had spent a week visiting at the Ray Jorgenson, Jr. home, left Saturday morning on their way to Amherst, Texas, for a visit with Mr. Vaughter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. N. A. Vaughter. D. C. is a brother of Mrs. Ray Jorgenson, Jr. Mrs. R. A. Jorgenson, Sr. accompanied them as far as Kansas City where she visited until Tuesday at the Hugh Chapman home.

40 YEARS

Harry Bloodgood has completed 40 years as a rural letter carrier from the Paullina post office. He started work there in April, 1908 and his first years on the 24½ mile route were made with horses. His first car, a "Fuller," was purchased in 1910. Since then he has used up 26 autos.

The Methodist Church
Herschel E. Harvey, Pastor

KLEMME

Wednesday:
Choir at the church at 7:30 p. m.

Thursday:
District Institute on Town and Country Work at Britt a 2.00 p. m.
Work Group meets at the church at 2:00 p. m.

Saturday:
Membership Confirmation Class at the Manse at 10:00 A. M.

SUNDAY
Worship at 10.00 A. M.
Sunday School at 11:00 A. M.
Youth Fellowship at 7 P. M.

LIBERTY

Thursday:
Britt at 2 p. m. (See Klemme).

SUNDAY
Church School at 10:15 A. M.
Worship at 11:15 A. M.
Y. F. at 7 at Klemme.

Get Your Upper Rooms Today

Advertise with a Times want ad.

RATTLESNAKE ROUNDUP

In an effort to rid Madison county of rattlesnakes, the Sportsmen's club there will hold a snake drive in the near future and award prizes to the teams bringing in the most rattlers.

Evangelical & Reformed Church
Calvin Grosshuesch, Pastor

SUNDAY
10:00 A. M. Morning Worship.
11:00 A. M. Sunday School.
7:00 P. M. Young People's Bible Class.

TUESDAY
8:00 A. M. Church Cleaning.

FRIDAY
8:00 P. M. Choir.

HANCOCK COUNTY REAL ESTATE DEALS

George Walter and Henry Walter,, Exc's of Estate of Minnie Anderson, Dec'd to Dallenbach, J. A. and Emma L. 3-20-48 $2,500.00 Executor's Deed L6 Blk. 3 Brown and Treganza Add to Britt.

George Walter and Henry Walter, Exc's of Estate of Minnie Anderson, Dec'd to Dallenbach, J. A. 3-20-48 Executors' Deed $3,000.00 L9 Blk. 8 Anderson's Add. to Britt.

Carolyn M. and John H. Butterfield, husband to Gilbert H. and Eleanor Guenther, wife as jt. ten. 4-2-48 Wty. Deed $60,000. S½ SW¼ and S 2 rds. of SE¼ Sec. 20 and W½ Sec. 29 Exc. 1 acre in square form in SW corner all in 95-25.

Chester and Sylvia F. Holcomb, wife to Federal North Iowa Grain Co. 2-6-48 Wty. Deed $1,000 L1 and N 28' L3 Blk. L John K's 1st Add to Britt.

L. C. and Ethel Banker, wife to Donald and Viola Eliason, wife as Jt. Ten. 3-31-48 Wty. Deed $1100.00 L14-15-16 Blk. 2 Hanson and Severin's 1st Add to Kanawha.

First Methodist Episcopal Church, of Crystal Lake, to Juanita Earp L15 Blk. 18 inthe town of Crystal Lake.

Hansen, H. C., assignee for Benefit of creditors of Ole Thompson to Raymond and Gertrude Pals Assignee's Deed 1-25-46 $13,000.00 E½ SE¼ Sec. 25-94-25.

AVERY
—The—
Theatre Beautiful
Garner, Iowa

Wednes. - Thursday
APRIL 14, 15
A HEART-WARMING STORY!
"DRIFTWOOD"
Starring
RUTH WARRICK
And
WALTER BRENNAN

APRIL 16, 17
Wednes. - Thursday
"HELDORADO"
Starring
"ROY ROGERS"
And
"TRIGGER"
With
GABBY HAYES
DALE EVANS
(A Reupblic Picture)

APRIL 18, 19, 20
Sun. - Mon. - Tues.
Together—and in LOVE
"DESIRE ME"
GREER GARSON
And
ROBERT MITCHUM
With
RICHARD HART

APRIL 21, 22
Friday - Saturday
"GOLDEN EARRINGS"
RAY MILLAND
And
MARLENE DIETRICH
(A Paramount Picture)

Stille, Earl and Denna, husband and wife to Stille, Roy H. 3-29-48 Wty. Deed $1.00 N 50' L6 Blk. 14 Tallman's Add to Garner.

Elmer H. Nelson and Dorothy wife et al to Prohaska, Leonard 1-31-48 Wty. Deed $1.00 NW¼ NE¼ Sec. 13-96-24.

Elmer Nelson and Dorothy I., wife to Prohaska, Leonard 2-2-48 Wty. Deed $1.00 S½ NE¼ Sec. 13-96-24.

Greiner, Stanley G., single to Ellgen, Louis F. and Grace, wife 3-22-48 Wty Deed $1.00 Part of Auditor's Sub-div. NE-¼ Sec.6-94-26.

Huling, Claude, et al to Bush, Fred J. 1-20-48 QCD $1.00 Part of Blk 1 Sapp's Add to Corwith also tract in NE¼ SE¼ Sec. 6-94-26.

Hoenk, Albert R. to Henneberry, John J. 3-5-48 Wty. Deed $1.00 all that part of SE¼ Sec. 13 lying W of DD No. 1 and 2, 95-25.

Stille, William E., unmarried to Patterson, Wesley E. and Ferrol 3-15-48 Wty. Deed $1.00 L 1 and 2 Blk. 4 Gruetzmacher Bros. and Hanson's Sub-div, Out-Lot 6 Klemme's 1st Add to Klemme.

Lee, Carrie B. and A. W. hus. to Sorensen, Nellie M. 7-8-48 Wty. Deed $1.00 E½ NE¼ Blk. 15 Stubbins Add to Britt.

Duckett, Mary, widow to Wagner, Eugene J. and Bertha H. 3-26-48 Wty Deed $1.00 part of L1 Blk. 5 Orig town of Corwith.

Aetna Life Insurance Co. to Butterfield, Carolyn M. 3-9-48 Wty Deed $50,000 W½ exc. 1 A. in SW¼ and S Sec. 20 and S 2 rds S 20 all in 95-25.

PHOTOGRAPHS
Live Forever
RUSSEL Photo Studio
Next to J. C. Penny
Ph. 2272 Mason City

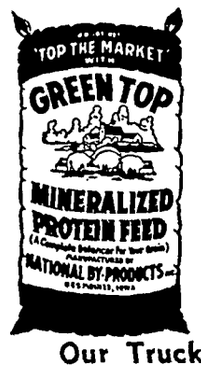
No Mea

Due to the illness of Quandt we will discon serving meals for the ent, but will continue lunches and other serv

TOBACCOS
ICE CREAM
CIGARETTES
CANDY BARS

Thank You
QUANDT'S CA
Mr. and Mrs. Conra Quandt

DEAD STOCK
PROMPTLY REMOVED



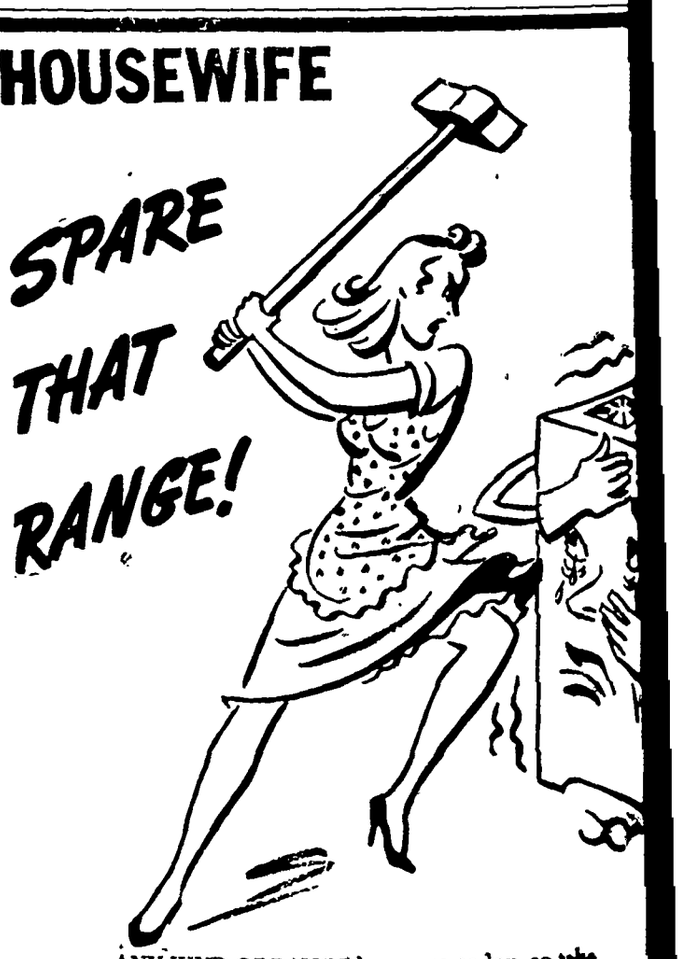
Britt Rendering Co
Dept. of Agr. Lic. No. 22

WE PAY PHONE CHARGES
KLEMME Phone 700
GARNER Phone 4000

Our Trucks Are Steam Cleaned After Each Load

TANKAGE AND MINERALIZED FEED FOR SALE AT OUR PLANT

HOUSEWIFE



ANY KIND OF RANGE is scarce today, so take care of the one you have. If you have a gas range that is not acting as it should "don't fly off the handle"... call us. We will be only too glad to put it back in service for you so that you can again cook those delicious meals to which your family has grown accustomed.

And we'll also supply you with all the Shellane you need. For there's plenty of this modern bottled gas...enough for your gas range, your automatic water heater and your gas refrigerator, too!

Josten Appliance

SHELLANE
THE MODERN BOTTLED GAS

THE KLEMME TIMES

ume 53. KLEMME, IOWA, APRIL 21, 1948 Number 23.

ntral States Construction Crew Working In Klemme

RN TYPE STREET LIGHTING SYSTEM WILL BE INSTALLED

k Is Also Being Done On nsmission Lines In Town

Central States Electric ny sent in a construction here last week to begin on installing a new street g system along the Main As many local workers ing employed as the Com- can get to help with the k is also being done on the nission lines around the and new poles are being where needed. This work been scheduled for some but some of the vital ma- were hard to get and the had to be postponed. ver, the Company is now right ahead with work in me and expect to get their ment all up in first class tion.

electroliers that will be ed on Main street are the type of street lighting. ment and should give the of Klemme a real "white at night. Instead of three on each side of the main s, the Company is install- ur electroliers and are ex- g the lights to the park.

s Open For Postmaster Assistant Here

Eighth U. S. Civil Service on announced today that an ination will be held for Substitute Clerk or Regular positions in the Klemme, Post Office on May 7, 1948 0 A. M. at the Court House, t City, Iowa.

e beginning basic rate of is 79 cents per hour for tutes. The salaries of the ar clerk range from $1600 100 a year, depending upon of the office.

plicants must be citizens of e allegiance to the United s. The age limits are 18 to cept veterans and persons e Federal Service who are Service Indefinite employe-order to qualify applicants pass the written test, which res about 4 hours. Inter- persons should ask for er information and obtain cation forms from the local aster or from the Eighth Civil Service Regional Of- Post Office and Custom- e Building, Saint Paul 1: Applicants must bring leted application forms with at the time of the written

T JURORS FOR THE MAY TERM OF COURT

dge Beardmore Presiding

Hall	Garner
le Johnson	Forest City
Lonning	Britt
rietta Matson	Britt
Eisemann	Woden
Helm	Woden
ur Tegtmeyer	Britt
am Mullin	Britt
Earl Hesley	Britt
Chris Jacobson	Britt
M. Lae	Britt
a Ostercamp	Britt
Bert Heimendinger	Britt
Deibler	Britt
Ida Foy	Britt
rude Urich	Garner
ys Schmidt	Garner
a Goll	Garner
Pollock	Garner
ce Engstler	Garner
y Rehm	Garner
ur Katter	Garner
Ray Ford	Garner
Lackore	Garner
Scott	Corwith
Schroeder	Kanawha
Howlett	Kanawha
s B. Martin	Corwith
Mitchell	Corwith
Woodbury	Corwith

FARMERS DEMAND FLOOD CONTROL

Flood control and prevention remains a major item to be accomplished in Iowa, according to Hancock County Farm Bureau President, Jack Dethmers, who reminded members in his county that state and federal efforts have done little to solve the problem in the past year.

Farm Bureau has a positive resolution on this problem, Jack Dethmers said, and study of the position of organized farmers in the state might be a positive factor in the starting of an effective control plan.

"A year ago, Iowa suffered millions of dollars in damages and in property loss when the worst floods in history swept the state. Lack of an adequate control program in the Missouri Valley leaves us vulnerable to floods again this spring.

"The Iowa Farm Bureau resolution on flood control as adopted in December, 1947, says in part:

"From this year's experience with floods in Iowa we are well aware of the need for flood control. We beleive that flood control is an integral part of soil conservation and that adequate State and Federal funds be allocated to deal with it as such. Since the flood control problem is by nature too vast and intricate to be adequately solved on a local level, it becomes a problem of grave concern for the State and Nation—.

"We feel that one of the soil conservation measures which merits attention is a program of development of the Missouri Valley water shed, specifically for soil subject to the scrutiny and approval not only of existing soil conservation districts, but also of qualified consultants in state colleges and public positioned within the affected areas".

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Musefelt Honored On 57 Wedding Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Musefelt of Clarion, former Klemme residents, were honored on their 57th wedding anniversary at a dinner at the home of Mrs. Mary Waterman, Thursday evening, April 15th.

Other guests present were: Mrs. Lackore and mother, Mrs. Schram, and Frieda Radloff of the Garner community; Mrs. Wes Schuldt, Mrs. Lena Schroeder and Mrs. Henry Wille, all of Klemme. Mrs. Wille went to school with Mr. Musefelt when both families lived in Clayton county.

Entertained Friends At Steak Dinner Sunday Evening

Mr. and Mrs. Art Kudje entertained at a steak dinner at the Forest City hotel Sunday evening the several couples who planned the silver wedding dinner in their honor a few weeks ago. After dinner Court Whist was played with Mrs. Dulmes winning high for the ladies and Mrs. Terhufen second high. Dr. Dulmes won high for the men and Bob Gisel won second high.

Improves Home

Mrs. Martha Bredbenner is making more improvements to her home. The past week the carpenters have been putting on light colored asbestos shingles on the sides in place of the old wooden siding. Last fall Mrs. Bredbenner had her house raised, a basement excavated and new walls laid. A back porch was also remodeled at the time. Mrs. Bredbenner will have a very attractive home when all of the improvements are completed.

TROUT SEASON OPENS MAY FIRST AT 5:00 A. M.

The 1948 trout season in Iowa opens May 1 at 5:00 a. m. and trout fishermen anticipate one of the best opening days in recent years. All Iowa trout are hatchery raised and are released prior to and during the trout season as adults. More than 180,000 are available for stocking during 1948.

For the first time in many years road conditions are such that the heavy stocking trucks are finding good access to stocking points on roads that during the early spring months are generally almost inacceccible. Consequently pre-season stocking has advanced much more rapidly than normal and the 40 northeast Iowa trout streams are "fat" with rainbow, brook, and brown trout ranging in size from eight-inch "freshmen" to lunkers weighing four to six pounds and larger.

All of Iowa's trout waters are in the northeast corner of the state where summer water temperatures in the clear, spring-fed streams do not rise above 75 degrees. This year, for the first time, there is no size limit on trout in Iowa and it is legal to keep any length trout caught.

The season, opening May 1 at 5:00 a. m., closes November 30, with fishing legal from 5:00 a. m. to 9:00 p. m. each day. The daily catch limit is eight; possession limit is eight.

Anglers wishing information on trout fishing locations may secure a map of the trout streams, cost free, by writing to the State Conservation Commission, 914 Grand, Des Moines 8, Iowa.

Large Crowd Attended Concert At Klemme Evangelical And Reformed Church April 13

This community was indeed privileged last Tuesday evening, April 13, in hearing a concert given by the Mission House College, a cappella choir of Plymouth, Wisconsin. A large audience was present at the Evangelical and Reformed church at Klemme to hear this select group sing a pleasant variety of sacred music. Probably the two selection, "To Be Sung of a Summer Night on the Water," (a song without words) and the well loved "Beautiful Saviour" were most noted for their harmony and expression

Truly this group is to be complimented on their splended performance and the director for his art of producing such pleasant music for the listening ear.

Hancock County Ministerial Association Met Here

The Hancock County Ministerial Association met at the Methodist Church in Klemme last Monday morning. Rev. F. F. Robinson, Britt, presided in the absence of Rev. Wolsterholm, the President.

Rev. Herschel E. Harvey gave the devotional talk. Mr. E. M. Paulson was present to speak on the matter of Old Age Assistance. Mr. Paulson is the Director of the Board of Social Welfare in the county. The election of officers for the coming year resulted in the following elections: President, E. Walter Lindgren; Vice President, L. E. Gatch; Secretary-Treasurer, E. M. Mille. The next meeting will be held at the Southside State Park, Clear Lake, on May 17 with a basket picnic for the ministerial families.

American Legion Auxiliary Invited To County Meeting

All members of the American Legion Auxiliary are invited to attend the county meeting to be held at Goodell in the U. B. Church on Tuesday afternoon, April 27 at 2:00 p. m.

Those who want to go and do not have a way be at Thada's at 1:30 p. m.

School Calendar

April 30 -- Eighth Grade Exams.
May 7 -------- Grade Operetta
May 8 -- Junior-Senior Banquet
May 16 ---------- Baccaluarate
May 19 --- 8th Grade Exercises
May 20 ------- Commencement
May 21 ---------- Picnic

MARSHALL—WADE MARRIAGE

Miss Pearl Viola Wade, granddaughter of Mr. Henry Wade of Liberty township was united in marriage to Mr. Glenn Dale Marshall of Bristow, Oklahoma, at the Methodist Manse by the Rev. H. E. Harvey on Monday evening, April 19th at 7 o'clock. The couple was attended by Miss Dorothy Klinge and Dick Legge.

Mr. Marshall is a sanitary inspector and will work in the Eastern States inspecting city water systems.

Birthdays Celebrated

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Riemer entertained to dinner Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Will Riemer, Mr. and Mrs. Emil Blumer, Iola Riemer, and Mr. and Mrs. Emil Beier. The dinner was in honor of the birthdays of Mrs. Will Riemer an April 17, and Mrs. Emil Blumer's birthday on April 21.

In the afternoon the following came to the Riemer home: Mr. and Mrs. Carol Brager, Daryl and Maridee; Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Kern and Mary Kathryn; Mr. and Mrs. Will Keraus; Mr. and Mrs. Merlin Neuberger and Dean.

A birthday cake with ice cream was served as an afternoon lunch.

Sunbeams Met At Helps Home

Six visitors, two leaders, and nine members were present at the Avery 4-H Sunbeams meeting held at the home of Lois Helps, April 17.

Each girl showed the club a garment she has started or completed Committees were chosen to plan the Mother's Tea which the club will give. We also heard the plans for Rally Day and Fun Night.

The follwing talks were given "The Use of The guide Sheet" by Iris Rosendahl, "Storage of Woolens" by Judith Brede. Joan Burgess gave a demonstration on making tailors tacks, and Mrs. Arnold demonstrated laying on a pattern.

The next meeting will be postponed until May 15, when we shall have the Mothers' Tea at Iris Rosendahl's home.

Klemme Couple Builds Duplex In Ruskin, Florida

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. "Bill" Johnson returned on Saturday afternoon from their stay in Florida during winter months.

During the past winter Mr. Johnson began work on a duplex house. The Johnsons will live in one of the apartments, while they will rent out the other. The duplex is not quite complete, so they expect to return to Ruskin, Florida, where their duplex is located about next September when they will complete the building.

During the summer they expect to live in one of their houses, the one in northwest Klemme where Gene Kluckhohn and family now live. The Kluckhohns will move to Stanhope about May 1st.

FARMER INJURED

John Kaduce, Sr. was injured Monday while working with a manure loader attached to his tractor. Mr. Kaduce was cranking the tractor and standing on the loader which was evidently in gear as it elevated him against a building roof it nearly doubled his body with the result that he suffered a fractured vertebrae and was taken to the hospital Monday for treatment.

CANCER DRIVE FUND WENT OVER THE TOP IN KLEMME

Klemme people again proved that they support all good projects liberally and the canvass for funds to battle Cancer, like all other drives, "went over the top." Klemme's quota had been set at $200.00 and when funds were checked after the drive a total of $224.00 had been collected. This will probably be increased some, as a number of poeple were not at home when the solicitors called.

Any who were missed and who would like to contribute to fight Cancer may leave their donations at The Times and receive a receipt for the same.

The ladies who made the canvass Friday were Mrs. Carl Finders, Mrs. A. H. Dulmes, Mrs Cliff Montgomery, Mrs. W. F. Missman, Winifred Kothenbeutel, Mrs. Geo. Lawhorn and Mrs. R. A. Jorgenson, Sr., chairman.

Following is a list of contributions received:

$10.00

C. A. Larsen

$5.00

Marie Blank, Louis Perkins, Klemme Creamery, Ed. Buntenbach, Geo. Schoenwetter, Dr. D. P. Anderson, J. A. Chambers, Lloyd Lau, First National Bank, H. Lau Sons, Thada Store, Northern Lumber, Northern Implement Co., Klemme Co-op. Grain Co.

$3.00

Kenneth Kluckhohn, Fred Barz, Kluckhohn Bros., Art Wellemeyer, Joseph W. Finnegan, Roths Cafe.

$2.00

R. A. Jorgenson, Frank Schulz, Fred Becker, Leonard Swanson, E. G. Beier, Stanley Bulka, M. Isvik, Gilbert Jones, Robert Loock, Orville Bridges, Josten Appliance, Earle Smith, Mike Lemke, Jim Thomas, L. A. Jennings, Franklin Kluckhohn, A. L. Kingery, Bernice Tanner.

$1.50

Mr. Andreae

$1.00

J. E. Stille, Dave Schwichtenberg, Stub Lewis, John Neuberger, John Clements, Clara Barz, Walter Lemke, Herman Priebe, Henry Wessels, Asa Gibbs, Ed Becker, Mrs. Clara Stille, C. L. Montgomery, Rev. H. E. Harvey, Daisy Lemke, Geo. Thieman, Wm. Stille, Mrs. Art Knoke, Paul Haefner, J. W. Haefner, Luther Schmidt, Geo. Cosgriff, Nellie Lou Sherwood, Edw. Schaefer. Winifred Kothenbeutel, John Heginger, Martin Barz, Fred Kluckhohn, Verner Christie. Melvin Schlei, Frank Ward, J. W. Waddingham, Jake Hess, Esther Barz, E. Henschen. M. L. Harson, Ed Jacobs, Sumner Trumbell, Louise Rosendahl, Albert Schmidt, Art Kudje, Herman Gast, Pearl Sshwartz, Will Tiggeman, Rev. Grosshuesch, W. C. Keraus, Allan Barz, A. R. Arnold, C. G. Waterman, Ted Webner, Ed Barz, Dr. W. F. Missman, Dorothy Meyer, Irene Schmidt, Fred Bell, Henry Jost, Lloyd Sherwood, Henry Smid, W. F. Pavey, Klemme Hardware Co., Dr. A. H. Dulmes, R. A. Jorgenson, Jr., Quandt Cafe, Kenneth Medin, Glenn Bridges, Herman Back, Doris Johnson, Don Schaefer, Everett Weiland, Harold Kothenbeutel, Harvey Hubbard, Harvey Barz, Graydon Back, Fred J. Arnold, Mrs. John Johnson, Gertrude Grosshuesch, Mrs. Mildred Day.

Mrs. Roy Schaefer, George Lawhorn, George Buseman, Mrs. Naska Bock, Wesley Patterson, Miss Halwassen. Mrs. Smith, Miss Seim, Mrs. Julius Priebe, John Josten.

50c

N. G. Moberly, Mary Lou Netland, Lena Schroeder, Art Schoenwetter, Henry Thieman, a Friend, Fred Neuhring, George Born, Henry Suckow.

Anyone accidently omitted, please call The Times and it will be printed next week.

Reformed Guild

The Guild of the Evangelical and Reformed Church will meet April 28th with Mrs. Dale Schlei and Mrs. A. H. Dulmes as hostesses.

High School Musicians Will Compete In District Meet

OBITUARY OF LAVONNE LORENSON LEMKE

LaVonne Lorenson Lemke, 30, wife of Wm. Lemke of St. Paul, Minnesota, passed away after a brief illness at 3:25 p. m. on April 10, 1948 due to a heart condition at the Midway Hospital in St. Paul, Minnesota.

Mrs. Wm. Lemke the former LaVonne Evelyn Lorenson of Shevlin, Minn., was born at Lengby, Minn. on October 28, 1917. She graduated from Fosston High School in 1937 and from Wessington Springs Junior College in 1939. In the winter of 1940 she was called to Mason City, Iowa by Mrs. Paull Freleigh to do Evangelism work among the children of that city. While there she met Mr. Lemke. In September 28, 1941 they were united in marriage by her father at the Christian and Missionary Alliance Church and a few weeks later both she and her husband joined as members of this church.

All who have known Mrs. Lemke can testify to the fact that she was a person who lived a consistent Christian life A person of a greater Faith in God can rarely be found, and her life which influenced so many shall continue to live on through the lives of those who have had the priveledge of knowing her.

She was preceded in death by her father, the Rev. N. K. Lorenson, Shevlin, Minn. in August 1947, and by her mother, Neona Lorenson in January 1948. She leaves surviving, her husband, Wm. Lemke at 1361 Englewood Ave., St. Paul 4, Minnesota; two sons, Wm. Dale age 2½ years and Bryant Edward one month; one brother, Harris Lorenson of Renton, Wash.; one half brother, Norman Lorenson of Colechestón, Ill.; one sister, Mrs. Warren Thompson of Pound, Wisconsin.

Fire Department Made Early Run To Blank Farm

The Klemme Fire Department were called to the Junior Blank farm seven miles west of Klemme at 5:00 o'clock Saturday morning where the house was on fire.

The Blank family was awakened by the smell of smoke and a fire had broken out in their living room, burning off the wall paper and damaging the wood work and some furniture. Neighbors who arrived in a few minutes were able to extinguish the flames with buckets of water and the blaze was confined to the one room.

Grandma Suckow Suffers Fractured Hip In Fall At The County Home

Mrs. H. L. Suckow a resident at the County Home and formerly of Klemme, had the misfortune to miss the bottom step while coming down the stairs at the County Home Sunday and in the fall fractured her hip.

She was taken to the Mercy hospital in Wellemeyer's ambulance and is receiving treatment there now.

Fifty-Fifty Class

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Arnold entertained the Fifty-Fifty Class of the Methodist Sunday School at their home Tuesday evening. A large number was present and all enjoyed a fine time. Lunch was served by the hostess.

Building New Garage

Frank Schulz is improving his property by building a new garage at the rear of his house. Mr. and Mrs. Schulz have a new house which was completed last fall.

KLEMME HIGH SCHOOL MUSICIANS WON HIGH HONORS AT HAMPTON

Won Several Division One Ratings In Strong Competition

Mr. Stanley Bulka's high school music department have brought several honors to Klemme when they completed and won several high ratings at Hampton.

The Sextette, composed of LaVonne Beier, Helen Suckow, Iris Rosndahl, LaNelle Harvey, JoAnn Hummel and Donna Hevilin, with Gloria Haefner, accompaist, won a Division 1 Rating. Mrs. Wesley Patterson instructs and directs the Sextette.

The High School Band, directed by Stanley Bulka also pulled down a Division 1 Rating.

LaNelle Harvey and Gloria Haefner each won a Division 1 Rating in Piano Solo. They were in the contest at Garner.

On To Emmetsburg

The Sextette, Band, LaNelle Harvey and Gloria Haefner will all enter the District Music Contest at Emmetsburg on May 1st.

Mr. Bulka deserves special credit for the fine work he has done with the band in the short time he has been working with them. His band of 30 pieces is really a fine organization.

PROPERTY OWNERS WANT CONCRETE ALONG MAIN STREET

Every property owner, except one, signed the petition to put in curbing and a concrete strip to meet the proposed concrete farm to market paving through the Main Street of Klemme.

Property owners all over the town of Klemme also have the opportunity to have the streets blacktopped adjacent to their property. The first notice to that effect is appearing in the Times this week. Klemme residents for a long time have felt that the streets should be permanently improved with hard surfacing and also to free the town of road dust. The cost of the black top program is quite reasonable and seems to offer the best solution to the street problem.

There will be no voting on the black top program. Those who may have an objection will be heard at a special meeting of the Town Council.

Entertained Bridge Club

Mrs. Wesley Patterson was hostess to the Saturday Bridge Club at her home Saturday afternoon with Mrs. A. L. Kingery and Mrs. R. A. Jorgenson, Sr. as guests.

High scores in bridge were won by Mrs. Kingery, high, and Mrs. Sumner Trumbell, second high.

Mrs. Patterson served a nice lunch after the games.

HELLO, FOLKS!

Mr. and Mrs. Elwood Geary are the proud parents of a 6 lbs. 5 oz. baby boy born Friday morning, April 16, 1948 at the Mercy Hospital in Mason City. The new boy will be named Eldon Elwood.

If there are a lot of errors in the paper this week, just blame his dad who operates the linotype machine at The Times plant. As soon as the young man discards his triangular pants his dad will start teaching him linotype operating.

WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS

Lewis Battles Taft-Hartley Law; Baruch Sees 'Total Mobilization'; Eisenhower Repeats His Refusal

Released by WNU Features

(EDITOR'S NOTE: When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of Western Newspaper Union's news analysts and not necessarily of this newspaper.)

LABOR:
Lewis Fight

John L. Lewis and the Taft-Hartley law were locked in a mortal struggle.

His United Mine Workers were still out of the pits in a "voluntary" objection to the companies' alleged refusal to provide them with a $100-a-month pension plan. Most of the 400,000 miners were out fishing. Lewis himself was out gunning for the Taft-Hartley law, enactment of which was largely the result of his activities in the first place.

After the miners had gone out, President Truman, acting under the Taft-Hartley law, had appointed a fact-finding board to investigate the difficulties. But when the board asked John L. Lewis to testify, he refused.

Then the board issued a subpoena requesting that he appear. Again Lewis refused, stating that the board had no right to demand his presence before it.

He said he based his disinclination to testify on the facts that:

1. Neither he nor the UMW had done anything covered by the Taft-Hartley law, thereby nullifying the President's invocation of the law, and

2. Two of the three board members were "biased and prejudiced and in honor should not serve."

Finally, minutes before the deadline, the burly, bushy-eyebrowed chief appeared.

It was obvious, of course, that the UMW chief was out to break the Taft-Hartley enactment. Apparently he was determined to drag the pension dispute all the way through the courts—preferably as high as the supreme court to get a final verdict.

And any way it turned out, the process would react for the miners' immediate benefit. While the courts would be mulling over the matter the date for the annual renewal of the mine workers' contract in June would be approaching. The longer the present dispute remained unsettled, the worse the nation's coal situation would grow, thus putting Lewis in a good bargaining position to extract a favorable contract for next year.

MOBILIZE:
Controls?

Bernard M. Baruch approves of selective service and universal military training for the present quasi-crisis, but he does not think that is enough to meet all the implications the world situation holds.

The financier and presidential adviser called also for an "economic mobilization plan" and said that America's failure to muster all its resources now for peace would leave "no alternative but to mobilize for war" in the future.

Baruch told the senate armed services committee that he was afraid that if the nation suddenly and without preparation were called upon to mobilize and prepare for a big war, such forces of domestic inflation would be set in motion as could blow the country wide open and leave it defenseless.

He suggested the appointment of someone to "watch the impact upon our economy of the partial mobilization we are entering upon and to maintain a constant inventory, balancing all our growing commitments against our resources."

It had not been a hidden threat, but Baruch's statement had focused attention on the possible danger that a sudden spate of military spending could bring about ruinous inflation.

As a result, talk of reviving the defunct OPA was being heard in Washington. Baruch's warning touched off informal discussions in congress about the possibility of reviving wage-price controls, rationing and other curbs on the domestic economy.

This, of course, had been an integral part of President Truman's famous 10-point program against inflation which he proposed last year, but most congressmen virtually had gagged at the thought of reimposing price and wage controls, and the President was accused of trying to set up something like a "police state."

Now, however, congressmen were not so sure. They were beginning to wonder if the military spending necessary to contain Russia might not have to be buttressed by controls at home.

'Greatest Killer'

Glenn L. Martin, pioneer aircraft builder, revealed that the U. S. has developed an offensive weapon superior to the atomic bomb. He called it a "radioactive cloud—the greatest killer of human beings ever devised." Martin said also, "I'd be in favor of using it before I'd become a slave to another nation."

LUCIUS CLOBB

On War Nerves

"Pharonie," said Lucius Clobb to his helpmate as he arranged a quizzical wrinkle in his brow, "d'you think we're thunderin' toward another war?"

"Soon as you open your mouth I figure we're in for at least a skirmish," retorted Pharonie. "If you spent half as much time cultivatin' my peace of mind as you do your soybeans we wouldn't have near the arguments we do." She impaled the elder statesman of Pawhooley county on a spearlike glance.

"Dang it, Pharonie, why do you have to drag your rockin' chair militarism into everything I set out to do a little talkin' on? One of the reasons you married me in the first place was to get security. Now you got security but you still want to fight."

The light of creative achievement gleamed briskly in Lucius Clobb's eye.

"Say, by gosh, that there gives me a right smart idea for an aphorism. Nothing I like better than an aphorism. What d'you think of this Pharonie: Between 1941 and 1945 we were united with Russia in the bonds of holy warlock, but now the honeymoon's over, the lock is busted and there ain't nothin' left of the original idea except war."

"Mister Clobb, you can put that out in the corn crib with the rest of your aphorisms," commented the critical Pharonie.

"Mebbe so," sighed the elder statesman, "but it worries me—not knowin' how to feel about this here world situation. I'm gettin' on toward 69, so I could afford to think that in order to have peace and a secure foreign policy we first got to rig up a strong backbone at home. And a strong backbone right now means a strong army and navy and air force."

REPEAT:
Ike's 'No'

Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, fair-haired boy of both political parties, said it once more: He would not be a presidential candidate on anybody's ticket.

There had been a lull following his unequivocal refusal of Republican overtures, and then the pro-Eisenhower sentiment was resurrected in the hearts of no fewer than four widely divergent groups.

Probably the most unique approach was being made by Torrey Stearns, a New York public relations man, who harbors the opinion that Eisenhower is a Republican. He conceived a "People for Eisenhower" movement. The method is a nationwide solicitation of voting citizens to send in postcards bearing this signed testimony:

"I want to vote for General Eisenhower for president in November. I am a citizen of voting age."

"On June 21," Stearns announced, "all of the statements will be presented to the Republican national convention as indisputable evidence that the people of the United States demand the nomination of Dwight D. Eisenhower for president."

But Eisenhower was having none of it. Speaking through a statement by Maj. Gen. Floyd L. Parks, army press chief, he indicated that "his no politics statement of some weeks ago" should "apply to all parties and groups of voters."

BUNDLE FROM HEAVEN

New Minor Planet 'Swims Into Ken'

U. S. astronomers have revealed the discovery of a bundle from heaven—a strange new minor planet which moves around the sun at high speed.

The planetoid is only about two miles in diameter. Although there are about 1,600 of these minor chunks of matter, all circling around the earth like the sun, most of them travel in orbits far larger than that of the earth and do not come anywhere near it.

It is the fact that the newly discovered planet cuts through the earth's orbit that makes it unusual. Only four other minor planets have been found which do this, and they have since been lost to astronomers' telescopes.

TO WALLACE:
Veiled Hint

Henry Wallace, whose third party movement was coming more and more to follow the standard Communist party line, had reached the status of a complete pariah as far as President Truman was concerned.

In his St. Patrick's day address in New York the President had rejected angrily any notion of accepting Wallace's support in his campaign, even if it cost him the election.

Then, during the course of remarks made at a dinner meeting of Greek-Americans in Washington, Mr. Truman turned on still more heat.

He issued an acidulous, thinly veiled suggestion that Wallace take his third party movement to Russia where Mr. Truman obviously thinks it belongs.

"I was going to tell you that the Greeks had a Henry Wallace," the President said to his listeners. "I was going to tell you that the Greeks had a statesman, an orator, a demagogue. . . . They had the greatest demagogue of all times, Alcibiades."

(Alcibiades was a famous Athenian who, after committing certain indiscretions, was forced to flee Athens. He went to Sparta and there betrayed secrets of his countrymen which were instrumental in bringing about the fall of Athens.)

Mr. Truman continued: "If imitators of that ancient Greek conqueror want to see . . . liberties subverted, I suggest that they go not to the Rocky mountains—that's fine country out there. He ought to go to the country he loves so well and help them against his own country if that's the way he feels."

Aw, Drop Dead

Few people can appear more human than this quizzical simian as he bestows a suspicious glare on photographer Arthur Sasse and obviously is thinking he wants his picture taken about as much as he wants a hole in the head. Sasse, staunchly unafraid in his belief that no animal would attack a photographer, has been taking pictures at New York's Bronx zoo for 28 years.

HOMEBODY:
No Meeting

With the arrival of spring and the yearly rebirth of hope eternal, a second-hand rumor suddenly was revived across the Atlantic. It had to do with the rebuilding of the stripped gears of East-West relations.

The rumor, which was being circulated widely in Europe, said that President Truman was planning a trip to the continent for a Big Three conference with Attlee and Stalin.

Another version, as given currency by newspapers in Turkey, reported that the President might go to Europe sometime in April and possibly visit Turkey and Greece.

All this was good for a flurry of excitement, but in the end it turned out to be nothing more than a clutching at straws.

Mr. Truman, the White House announced, had no plans for leaving the country, and there was no prospect of a Big Three meeting.

SPIES:
In Germany

Conditions were getting back to the cloak and dagger state.

With a dramatic flare, radio Moscow charged that Russia had uncovered an American-directed spy ring of former German army officers operating out of western Germany, Austria and Sweden to learn Soviet zone secrets.

Leader of the group functioning in the Soviet zone had been captured and had confessed, Moscow reported. The broadcast claimed, in part:

"He confessed he was a member of an illegal Fascist organization existing in the western occupation zone of Germany, consisting of officers of the former German army who are being used by the American intelligence service for espionage in the Soviet zone."

PIPELINE:
Junked

The Canol pipeline, that 140-million-dollar project constructed during the war as a means of getting an emergency oil supply from Norman wells in Northwest Canada to Alaska, is ending in the junk yard.

All that is left of it now is being trucked out for shipment to junk dealers in the Midwest United States. Fifty trucks work night and day out of Johnson's Crossing on the Alaska highway hauling salvage.

Washington Digest

Ruminating on Ruminants, Or Cogitating About Cows

By BAUKHAGE
News Analyst and Commentator

WASHINGTON,—The subject of cows recently has been called to my attention.

In the early pre-crossword days, a cow was supposed to be an animal of the bovine species. Now it is just a three-letter word meaning ruminant. There is another three-letter word which also sometimes means a ruminant of which I will speak later.

Before I knew that a cow was either a member of the bovine species or a ruminant, I thought it was something fearful which was euphemistically addressed as "Bossie," and which (I was told) would not hurt me. I took the former statement as correct, but had grave doubts about the latter. Later I was taught that c-o-w spelled, not bossie, but cow, and still later I was chased by one. This caused additional doubt concerning free information furnished by one's elders.

Then came the crossword puzzles. I saw that "three, horizontal" was a three-letter word meaning ruminant. Having heard of the word "ruminate" by that time, and thinking that, thinking or, if you will, ruminating, was a fairly common practice among the genus homo, I wrote down "man." Later when I met a number of congressmen I was convinced of my error.

Now I know that neither definition is entirely wrong. A cow ruminates when it chews its cud (having chewed it before), and a man ruminates when he chews an idea upon which he has chewed before.

In some ways however, cows and men differ. In fact, cows even differ in some respects from women, although all three creatures—man, woman and cow—are mammals, the highest form of vertebrate, those which (the authorities inform me) nurse their young with milk. Just how man gets into this category is a little beyond me, but that is what the scientist says, and I am willing to strain my credulity a little. After all, I suppose that my father, who paid for the milk which I drank when I got so I could take it out of a glass, nourished me in a manner of speaking. We will let it go at that, although it seems to me that a man assumes a little of what might be criticized as the gland manner of speaking when he tries to get more than a grade B rating as a mammal.

But to return to the differences between cows on the one hand, and men and women on the other—(and I think no one will contradict me when I say there ARE differences): One thing a cow cannot do that a man can, is blow its own horn. And as we know from listening to the soap operas, it is easier to make a woman slip than to make a cowslip.

Now what has a cow got that you and I haven't? Answer: Cattle are closely related to the buffalo, the bison and the yak. I defy any genealogist to produce a bison, a buffalo and a yak in one human family tree. On the other hand, in the branches of a cow's family tree, there are no monkeys.

In some ways the cow has superior abilities. For instance, I have seen a cow roll over without spilling a drop of milk, which is more than any man, carrying a similar amount of lacteal fluid, could do.

Philologically, the cow seems to have somewhat of an edge on man, at least for those who believe in the capitalistic system. The Latin word for cattle (as of course you know if you just looked it up as I did) is "pecus." And the word pecuniary is derived from that, and the words cattle, chattel and capital are to each other what cow itself is to buffalo, bison and yak.

All present-day breeds of cattle, I am authoritatively informed, are descended from the two types, large and small, known in prehistoric times in Europe. However, in recent time- (and now we are getting down to what started me ruminating), something new has been added. We now have developed what might be laughingly called "hot cows" and "cold cows."

The "hot" are the Brahmas which have been insinuated into our own American strains to inure them to our southern latitudes and for other purposes. As you know, Brahma cattle are known by their humps. A braw Brahma has a large hump just abaft the shoulders, a d the others of lesser rank have smaller humps getting down to something not much larger than a fever blister.

The "cold" cow is quite a different thing. As might be expected, it comes from Russia where they invented the cold war, the cold shoulder and the common or Siberian cold, which is used to correct false ideologies, longevity and monopolistic capitalism.

When applied to cows instead of capitalists, the cold has the opposite effect on longevity. According to a recent article in Food Industries, a McGraw-Hill publication, the Russians have produced, by means of a chilling process applied from early calf-hood, cows which live with a high output to 15 years, yield up to 100,000 liters of milk and give birth to 15 calves.

The process is simple. One selects a calf from selected parents. It is put in an unheated barn where the temperature is kept at five degrees fahrenheit. The barns, I take it, are much like the ordinary Soviet citizen's dwelling except that there is plenty of bedding and the calves are provided with earmuffs. A citizen of the U.S.S.R. doesn't need the earmuffs because he is only allowed to listen to what the government thinks is good for him, and if his ears freeze it's all right with the censor.

This is Pat Walker of Woodland, Calif., queen of the Poly Royal celebration at California State Polytechnic college. With her, to do a spot of ruminating, is one of the college's better beef sires, Domino Prince 63rd. His mother was one of the aristocratic ruminants who even now chews her cud in pride over the elegance of her son.

The results of the chilling process on calves appear remarkable, but not for a moment would I doubt the veracity of the writer—despite my early experience with erroneous information concerning cows.

The other type of ruminant upon which these ruminations are based is illustrated in these columns.

* * *

The Old Order How It Passeth

After the grey winter days New Hampshire avenue almost sparkles these spring mornings.

The elm buds are spreading and the shadows of trunk and limb make sharp patterns on the wide expanse of the huge Belmont house. This house now is occupied by the Eastern Star—no family ever could have done more than rattle about in that palatial mansion. I suppose there will be few such palaces built in Washington any more—one after another, they are being torn down. The Leiter house on Dupont Circle is gone and a family hotel is rising in its place. Many other mansions, too big for embassies even, served as boarding houses for war workers and now they are empty and for sale.

One huge house which I pass occasionally is opened when the third generation, which still retains some of the original fortune, comes to Washington for a wedding or a party. After that the house is sealed up, again, the burglar alarms are attached and the old residence goes back to dreaming of the past.

A part of this section of Washington—Dupont Circle—is being sealed off for a year while the roadbuilders burrow under the grassy park to make an underpass for trolley cars and automobiles. This will be the final blow of disfiguration to Connecticut avenue, which has yielded gradually over the years since I first knew it, to the vulgarian invasion.

A block below Dupont Circle that once was gay with the chatter of nursemaids and children of the foreign diplomats stood the British embassy. On the site today is a filling station.

* * *

Americans have eaten bananas since the 19th century but still many misconceptions concerning them exist, says Middle America Information. Not, we hope, that they should be kept in the refrigerator.

* * *

Two-thirds of all divorces are granted to women. Is that because of male chivalry—or the lack of it?

Sportlight
BY GRANTLAND RICE

WHEN YOU HEAR some one crying or complaining about his bad luck or the tough breaks that have followed him, you don't have to pay the slightest attention to the sombre squawk. All you have to do is think about Al Snyder.

His dream, that of every jockey, was to ride a Kentucky Derby winner. Beyond that, to be the winning rider of the Triple Crown.

Snyder, after 10 tough riding years, was set to make his triple move in the Derby, the Preakness and the Belmont on a three-year-old known as Citation, rated today as the surest Triple Crown winner in racing history.

Unfortunately, Snyder went fishing in a small boat with two friends. They were in the famous Florida Keys. A gale came along without warning, and someone else will ride Citation in the three rich races. A whirl of wind at twilight—and the small boat had vanished.

As the late Mr. Henley so well wrote: "Into the night go one and all."

Snyder would have drawn 10 per cent in each of these $100,000 tests. As far as one can peer into the fogs and mists of the future, here was $30,000—plus other big races to come as well as the fame of riding a standout champion.

Citation is still here and ready. So are Ben and Jimmy Jones. But just what happened to Snyder is anybody's guess.

Sport is always packed full of soul-searing breaks—of sudden turns that mean the difference between victory and defeat. But this is a different case. This sudden squall meant the difference between life with fame and gold and the sudden blotting out of a career that was just beginning to unfold.

On the verge of moving into the greatest fame a jockey could know, Snyder suddenly came to the end of the road in the roaring, boiling water of the Keys. Fate never bothers where the aces or the deuces fall.

* * *

Golf Winners in 1948

Who will win the Masters? Who will win the Open? Who will win the P.G.A.? Apparently it doesn't matter.

Herman Keiser won the Masters in 1946 and has won little since. Lew Worsham won the Open at St. Louis last year and hasn't won a tournament since. Jim Ferrier from Australia won the P.G.A. but has set no blazing woodlands on fire since.

Why is it that we have no golfers who can win more than one tournament on a 3,500-mile junket? Horton Smith won six around 1928. Jimmy Demaret won six or seven a few years back. MacDonald Smith won eight big ones in a year. Bobby Jones mopped up in 1930. Jones and Hagen won 24 national and international championships between them.

Now you can't find a golfer who can win as many as two. Ben Hogan never has won an Open. Jimmy Demaret never has won an Open or a P.G.A. Sammy Snead never has won a U. S. Open, although the brilliant but erratic Snead has won the P.G.A. and the British Open.

Hogan, Nelson, Snead and Demaret are too good to stand on their records in the U. S. Open, the British Open and the P.G.A., the three top titles of golf.

Where is another Bobby Jones? Another Walter Hagen, another Gene Sarazen? I might add another Tommy Armour and another Jim Barnes, who won these three major events.

The modern charge is made that Jones, Hagen and Sarazen played in only few tournaments—that all three would have been nervous wrecks if they had followed the rough trail that Hogan, Demaret, Snead and the others have taken. This can be true.

I am not going to deny it for I can't prove these charges are wrong. All I know is there are too many tournaments today for the good of the player. Especially the better player.

Big money golf is much rougher on the nerves than world series baseball or any form of football. The mental side is far more important in golf than it is in baseball, football or boxing.

* * *

Yogi Berra, the "Arm"

A year ago at the St. Petersburg dog track, I bought Yogi Berra a $2 ticket on a greyhound that paid $112. Lately I have given Berra several tips that finished last or close to last. Much to my astonishment, Berra still remembered the first and only good deed. "Who cares?" he would say as my tip finished far out of the money.

This made me realize that Berra was an exceptional human being. He remembers only the good that is buried with mankind, not the evil that lives after them.

Berra, the Yankee catcher, has a friendly heart and a deadly batting eye. The pride of Dago Hill, St. Louis, likes everybody and everybody likes him.

Gems of Tho

CHEERFULNESS a are great beauti are famous preserver ful looks.—Dickens.

Once he (Diogenes) blushing, and addre "Courage, my boy! that plexion of virtue."

As rust corrupts iron corrupts man.

HOUSE HINTS

To keep order in the and prevent squabble wash cloths and towels tain color to each mem family. Never change scheme, though.

—•—

Casters that are oile cally make furniture move while cleaning.

To prevent desk or bu ers from sticking rub low soap or paraffin edges.

—•—

Larger windows ar practicable in cold clim the South, especially si vention of the insulatin which is nothing more pieces of plate glass w space between them. cold they are nearly as the wall of the house.

CLASSIF DEPARTM

HELP WANTED—

Experienced feed salesman to pre-mix to feed mills old es corn; commission and draw Southwest Iowa, all Nebraska. portunity for sale man that ca details. Write E. L. Woodburn, Street, Minneapolis, Minn.

SALESMEN
Want Good Income? Earn th sions selling nationally known proteins feeds of quality in t Good repeat business. Car n Dept. DM.
PURITAN LABORATORI Des Moines, Iowa

HELP WANTED—W

GEN'L Housework, 20-45 yea home, own room & bath. top S. Zeid, 2446 W. Morse Ave.,

HELP WANTED—MEN,

Attention All: Get set for Many kinds. Thousands need other countries, Islands. Ear companies hiring. $1 postpaid eral latest spring listings. general labor. Foreign & Do Directory, P. O. Box 145 Dept. 2, Wash.

FARMS & RANCH

160 ACRE farm, 6 miles west Minnesota. Black loam soil. All plete set of buildings. Price possession at once. Mrs. Lena LeRoy, Minnesota.

BARGAIN 80 A. $45 A. Good line. Gravel close. 3 mi. town. Inquire Priest's Oil Station, T

FLORIDA—7500 A. Cattle & Marion Co., Under Oil Lease, smaller farms, City Homes. Wm. Chisman, Lisbon, No. D

CANADIAN FARMS—Write us for FORMATION on farm settlement Fertile soils. Reasonably priced B. C Canadian Pacific Railway, Union Paul, Minn.

BUSINESS & INV. O

DEALERS WANT
For household refrigerators, volt models available. Choice t central eastern and south-ea available. Write Kline Distri 321 Liberty Building, Des Moin

POULTRY, CHICKS &

BROODER AND LAYING HOU factured by leading firm of mid materials, finished craftsmanship est quality buildings obtainable. er in your locality with Cham houses. Write for free literature Silo Company, West Des Moines,

SEEDS, PLANTS,

Seed Corn—Certified, blue tag, treated, US 13, US 35, Ohio C sistant strain. Indiana 605. I 39. $5.75 per bu fob. Perry. G Perry, Iowa.

2000 BU. Certified Benton oat bagged & tagged. $2.50 per bu HARTKE, Dieterich, Ill.

STATE Certified Strawberry and berry plants. Write for prices. NURSERY, Rt. 2, Baraboo, W

FARM MACHINERY &

JOHN DEERE power corn bind ber, three years old. One S draulic Farm Hand, one year old bucker, manure fork and gravel fit H or M Farmall. No phone. BROS., Echo, Minnesota.

WANTED TO PURCH
GOOD WALNUT TR
We pay highest cash pri Take advantage of pres market. Call or write M Veneer & Lumber Co., buque, Ia.

WNU—N

PILES TROUB
For Quick Rel
DON'T DELAY ANY LONGER doctor's formula you can use at relieve distressing discomfort itch—irritation due to piles. Te ten and shrink swelling. Use th doctor's formula. You'll be amaz speedy action relief. Ask your today for Thornton & Minor's Rec ment or Suppositories. Follow structions. For sale at all dru

STOP LIGHTNING DAMAGE
"National Quality" Systems Prevent Stroke from Occurring. Write for FR "No Lightning Protection Worth Pa
NAT'AL LIGHTNING PROTECTION CO

AS PURE AS MONEY CA
St.Joseph ASP
WORLD'S LARGEST SELLE

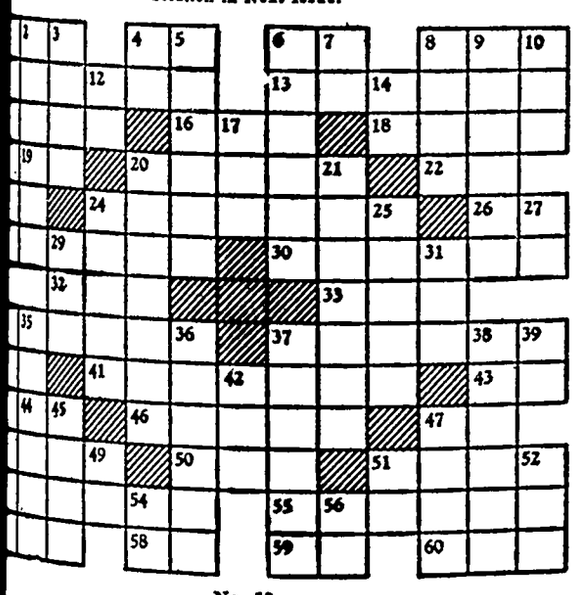
FUNLAND

BY A.W. NUGENT

THE MAGIC MATCH
PLACE A WOODEN MATCH ON THE KNUCKLE OF YOUR FOREFINGER AND BALANCE IT TO THE AMAZEMENT OF YOUR FRIENDS. . . HERE'S THE SECRET: BEND THE FOREFINGER INWARD AND PLACE THE MATCH IN THE CREASE. THEN STRAIGHTEN THE FINGER TO HOLD THE MATCH.
MPLETE MY FACE..
MINE ALSO.
NDMA
GRANDPA
START WITH THE NUM- R 8 AND D THE OTHER ES TO DRAW E.
1
2
3
START
ESCAPE
ESCAPE
CAUGHT
OU WILL BE DECLARED A WINNER OF THIS MAZE GAME IF YOU CAN LEAD THE HOOKED SAILFISH TO THE POSITION MARKED "CAUGHT" BY NOT NG MORE THAN THREE TRIALS. START EACH TURN FROM ISH. PLAY FAIR, DON'T CROSS A LINE OR TURN BACK U LAND IN A PATH THAT WILL PERMIT THE FISH SCAPE. IF IT ESCAPES THREE TIMES YOU WILL LOSE.
WNU 4615

CROSSWORD PUZZLE

Solution in Next Issue.



No. 13

HORIZONTAL
1 Music: as 6 Written
11 Current
12 (Fr.)
13 Therefore
14 Bed
16 Locked
18 Recently
19 Peasant's bed
20 Bundle
21 Saddle
22 Preserved
24 Northern
25 Note (abbr.)
26 Part sign of
27 The Zodiac
29 Symbol for 30 Helium
31 Ad 416
32 Abraham
33 Mother of
35 In
36 Tax
37 Three-cor-
38 Bred pants
39 Anger
41 In favor of 42 Short-dis-
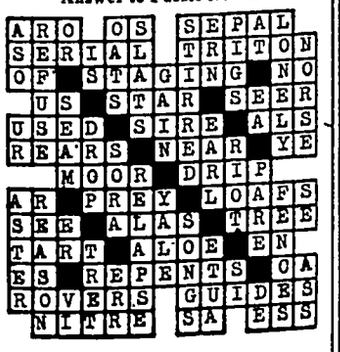
43 Race
44 Spired
45 Boiled lava
46 Entries
47 Negative
49 Initials of
50 Ish Presi-
51 Not
52 Bale, yellow-
54 Like clay
58 Note of scale
59 Desert dweller
60 Damp
61 Small quantity
63 To spin
65 Of greater length
67 Abstract being
68 Indian mulberry
69 Printer's measure
70 Guido's high note

VERTICAL
1 Resort
2 A game
3 Norse galley
4 Personal pronoun
5 Admires
6 Prolonged tirade
7 Correlative of either
8 Arabian seaport
9 To sever by cutting
10 A number
12 Egyptian sun god
14 While
17 River island
20 Repository of munitions of war
21 Hidden marksmen
23 Parent (coll.)
24 Danger
25 Challenges
27 Teutonic deity
29 Title of respect
31 Explosive sound
34 Symbol for samarium
35 Benefactor
36 Mason's tool
37 Instrument for mixing substances
38 Glossy paint
39 To perform
42 River in Wales
45 Rodents
47 Theater box
48 Exist
49 College degree (abbr.)
51 Symbol for tin
52 Period of time
54 Symbol for tantalum
56 Concerning

Answer to Puzzle No. 12.



WNU 4615

SEVEN FAT YEARS

High Agricultural Production Reverses Egyptian Chronicle

Experience in the United States has run just contrary to the Egyptian chronicle of the seven lean years following the seven fat years of the Pharaoh's dream which Joseph interpreted. Here the seven "fat" years of high production have followed instead of preceded the seven "lean" years (1933-39).

However, as a result of the change in demand—both national and world-wide—the farm situation in the "lean" years was characterized by a threatening and persistent "surplus" problem. In the "fat" years, the parade of record-breaking crops has not been able to match the war-created requirements, and "shortages" have accompanied bumper crops.

Production Increases

These contrasts appear in department of agriculture tabulations of crop production. By using crop report figures for the seven fa' years and official estimates for previous years, simple addition shows a production of more than 21 billion bushels of corn for the seven years of 1940 to 1946. For the seven previous years the "lean" production was 15.4 billion bushels.

For wheat, the figures show almost 7 billion bushels in the seven fat years and 4.8 billions in the lean period. For oats, the record stands at more than 9 billion bushels compared with 6.5 billion.

Two Equals Three

The record reveals that for these crops, production in two "fat" years has been nearly equal to three of the "lean" years. And the United States has experienced seven successive fat years of good crops.

Crop experts agree that the weather is a principal item. They mention as other elements in the picture: Hard work and planning by farmers, improved machinery and better cultural practices that include such items as use of fertilizer, hybrid corn and improved varieties of other crops, and control of erosion. From the standpoint of human nutrition, substitution of machines for horses as farm power has released much acreage for food growing.

Legless Civilian Helps Vets Get 'Back on Feet'

HELENA, Mont.—Battle-clouds of World War II have cleared but one battle—the fight to rehabilitate crippled veterans—continues. Among the leaders in this struggle is Joe M. Miller, 21, himself legless, who never wore a uniform, but who is using his own bitter experiences as the basis for helping legless veterans to overcome their war-received handicaps.

Taking cognizance of Miller's work among amputees, the war department awarded him a commendation of exceptional civilian service in a ceremony at Washington. In the citation, presented by Maj. Gen. Norman T. Kirk, surgeon general, Miller was commended for "his untiring activity on behalf of amputee patients, his kindly assistance and continuous demonstration of courage and skill."

Loses Legs at 12

When he was 12 years of age, Miller, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Miller of Helena, lost both legs in a train accident. Hospitalized for two years, he continued his studies and received his grammar school diploma while still confined in the hospital.

Painfully mastering the use of artificial limbs after grueling hours of practice, Miller finally returned home. In high school he was able to dance, ride horseback, swim, drive automobiles and ski.

A leader in school, he served as class president, school cheerleader and chairman of the school's first scrap drive.

Takes Hospital Job

After graduation in 1943, Joe worked as a radio announcer and later enrolled at Montana State college at Bozeman. There he decided a 4-F draft classification shouldn't keep him from helping the war effort. He wrote a letter to President Roosevelt, which resulted in an interview at the army's Bushnell General hospital Brigham City, Utah, where he accepted a civil service job in March 1944 as an orthopedic mechanic. He helped design artificial limbs and soon expanded his activities to the introduction of swimming, horseback riding, skiing and automobile driving to programs for legless veterans.

Expecting Guests? Just Blow Up Bed

Novel solution of the guest problem in this day of crowded housing conditions is the new mattress-bed, which is inflated for sleeping and can be stowed away on a closet shelf.

The mattress, which is made of cotton coated with neoprene, is laid on the floor and blown up with a vacuum cleaner blower attachment. It also can be blown up with a hand pump or—in case of emergency—by mouth.

Although the 11-pound mattress and pillow are one piece, they are inflated separately to permit adjustment of each section to the desire of the sleeper.

If the mattress-bed becomes soiled from an outdoor trip, it can be cleaned with the garden hose or washed in the bathtub.

Old Refrigerator Car Converted into House

MICHIGAN CITY, Ind.—Home is where you find it, contends Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Hanson, and they have found theirs in an abandoned railroad refrigerator car. The car, with trucks removed, has been installed over a previously dug basement. Finished with shingles, it has a living room built on in front and is a complete two-bedroom residence.

"Off We Go" AVIATION NOTES

SUPPORT AIR SUPREMACY

The day when farm folk shaded their eyes and looked up when they heard a plane flying over and then went back to their hoeing is gone forever. Aviation no longer is a luxury business; on the contrary, it's really "down to earth."

Evidence of that fact comes in the report that three of the largest farm organizations in the nation have gone on record urging the government to "spread aviation all over" and to see to it that some of the taxpayers' money goes into advancement of aviation.

Typical is the comment of Edward A. O'Neal, Farm Bureau president: "The United States farmer has a deep interest in aeronautical research and he wants it continued at a high level, first because he realizes that this country must maintain its leadership in aerial technology for security reasons, and second because he will use air transport increasingly for travel and shipping certain commodities."

* * *

Rural areas are expected to account for more than 60 per cent of future sales of small aircraft, it is disclosed in a recent national survey. Basis for the prediction is the wide utility of aircraft in the agricultural industry.

* * *

SLOW PARACHUTE SPEED

New devices introduced by army air forces include a "sand bullet," designed to slow the fall of parachuting troops and supplies and to eliminate landing hazards.

The "bullet" consists of a U-shaped tube with an explosive charge in the center and a charge of sand in each end. It is set off just before the equipment lands. Recoil of the explosion almost stops the heaviest loads, the AAF said, adding that the rest of the drop is like "falling off a chair."

Another new device for slowing descent of a parachute is the "bare charge" unit, which has been tested successfully at Wright Field. It consists of a small explosive charge placed between heavy falling loads and their parachutes. The charge is set off several feet from the ground, the resultant shock wave of the blast exerting a tremendous upward pressure against the underside of the inflated chute, thus working like a brake.

TEST MODEL . . . The Bendix helicopter, Model K, has been .ying for more than a year, gathering data for the larger four-passenger machines now under construction.

* * *

CHINA SEEKS PLANES

In an effort to expand its operations to Tokyo and Manila, China Air Transport corporation is attempting to purchase surplus American airplanes and equipment being sold in the Philippines. The company's main objective is to secure the 150 American transport planes which operated over the "Hump" during the war. The transports now are grounded in Shanghai, with 70 of them in flying condition.

The Washington MERRY-GO-ROUND

DREW PEARSON

Low Alcohol Reserves

WHILE THE BRASS HATS demand the drafting of men for the army, they continue to let the big distillers pour out more and more whiskey, despite the fact that the nation's industrial alcohol reserve remains dangerously low.

Industrial alcohol was one of the most strategic materials of the late war, being used in producing synthetic rubber, chemicals, insecticides, TNT and munitions. In fact, industrial alcohol was considered so essential that more than 200 million gallons were stockpiled in the year 1943 alone.

Today, however, only about 21 million gallons of industrial alcohol are stockpiled—enough to last 10 short days if war should break.

While the big distillers are ignoring Mr. Truman's plea for voluntary rationing by adding to the already groaning supplies of whiskey in warehouses, the army and navy munitions board is doing absolutely nothing about stockpiling industrial alcohol for defense.

Real fact is that we face a worse industrial alcohol shortage, in event of an emergency, than before the war—because at that time we had a big grain surplus. Now we have virtually no grain surplus, with foreign aid taking about all we can spare.

Meanwhile, the brass hat-controlled munitions board hasn't even bothered to put industrial alcohol on its list of "strategic and critical materials."

* * *

U. S. Won't Drop A-Bomb

WITH THE WAR SCARE such as it is, one all-important, obvious question is whether the United States should get the draw on Russia and drop the A-bomb first. This question has been discussed at Key West and at other military conferences, but the decision seems to have been no.

In fact, at Key West, Admiral Leahy, the President's chief of staff, even made a passionate plea that the atomic bomb not be used in such a way as to harm innocent women and children in enemy territory.

However, it was decided that the United States will lean over backward to make sure no war initiative, no overt act, no premature dropping of the A-bomb takes place.

At present, the United States has a more than ample supply of A-bombs, plus the capacity to make more at assembly-line speed. Furthermore, the new A-bomb is about 1,000 times more powerful than the bomb dropped on Hiroshima.

But they will not be used against any enemy in any surprise move. To do so would be against the Christian concepts of humanity, also against the century-and-a-half tradition of the United States that we never have attacked another nation.

Furthermore, for the United States to get the jump on the enemy by dropping the A-bomb would mean such revulsion of world feeling that we would lose our present moral position in Europe.

The history of every war is that when people consider themselves wronged, they bide their time and build up their resources until they can come back at their conqueror.

Another important point considered by U. S. defense chiefs is the fact that the Russians now have obtained all the secrets of German submarines and undoubtedly will use them to release rockets at major U. S. cities.

As a result, Russian subs today could come close to American cities with V-2 rockets aboard, to be launched against U. S. cities from submarine decks.

These gruesome prospects are some of the things U. S. strategists necessarily must consider. They feel there is no use shutting our eyes to them, in fact, that if we prepare to meet them, the prospects of war with Russia will be lessened.

* * *

Need Key Materials

PRESIDENT TRUMAN HAS RECEIVED a blunt warning from William M. Allen, president of Boeing Aircraft company, that the government must reinstitute allocations of key materials, such as aluminum, if the U. S. is to build airplanes for future emergencies.

Allen, who was accompanied to the White House by Sen. Warren Magnuson of Washington, told Mr. Truman that his company now is producing a super successor to the B-29, known as the B-50, at the rate of seven planes a month. The new planes can outstrip both the 3,200-mile range of the B-29 and its 350-mile-an-hour speed. Boeing also is testing a new jet bomber of revolutionary speed and range.

But, Allen told the president:

"We can't begin turning out these new planes in any quantity unless there are allocations of the materials needed to produce them, so we can plan our production schedules at least six months ahead. We can gear up our production of B-50's right now to 40 a month, but not without material allocations."

ASK ME ANOTHER?

A quiz with answers offering information on various subjects

THE QUESTIONS

1. Where is the geographic center of the United States?
2. By what name was Australia once known?
3. How many prescriptions do drug stores fill each year?
4. What's the smallest bird?
5. Who is the supreme god of the Hindus?

THE ANSWERS

1. In Smith County, Kansas, latitude 39 degrees 50 minutes; longitude 98 degrees 35 minutes.
2. New Holland.
3. All drugstores in the United States fill about 250 million prescriptions a year.
4. A species of humming bird called Mellisuga Minima. It's about two inches long. It weighs less than 1|200 of an ounce and stripped of all feathers is no larger than an ordinary bumblebee.
5. Brahma. Hindus believe he has four heads.

SHORT TRIP

A missionary, newly arrived at the Cannibal Islands, asked where his predecessor was.

"Your predecessor," replied the cannibal chief, "has taken a trip to the interior."

Trained Homemaker Shortage in America

Maude Morlock, consultant to the United States Childrens Service, believes this country is far behind in supplying homemakers services for families temporarily without the help of their mothers.

"In this country," Miss Morlock said, "we have only made a slight beginning to develop trained homemakers who can take over the duties of a mother who is temporarily disabled or absent from her home".

She rated the U. S. second in a survey she conducted to all the following countries: England, New Zealand, New South Wales, Sweden and Denmark.

Newest Idea in Paint!

MATCH YOUR Kem-Tone WALLS with these stunning

ACME PAINTS

EVERY WOMAN who keeps a spotless home will welcome the lovely new Acme paints that match, harmonize or contrast with Kem-Tone colors. With these practical paints, you can extend your Kem-Tone color scheme into kitchen, nursery, bath or any room—and easily keep walls and woodwork bright and clean.

Remember—with the patter of little feet go the smudges made by tiny hands. If you want pleasant, harmonious rooms that wash new again in a jiffy, see your Acme dealer! Acme White Lead & Color Works, Detroit 11, Michigan.

THESE ARE THE PAINTS!

WOODWORK & FURNITURE: Acme Enamel-Kote—Brilliant finish, easy to keep bright and gleaming.

WALLS & CEILINGS in kitchen, bathroom, nursery: Acme Semi-Gloss Finish—smooth, washable, with lasting luster.

FLOORS: Acme Floor & Porch Enamel—gives new life to tired floors; resists water and wear.

NATURAL WOOD SURFACES: Acme Varno-Lac—stains and varnishes in one easy operation. Makes old wood look like new, new wood like a million.

Acme House Paint, too!

Gives longer-lasting beauty because it's especially made to fight action of wind, dust, rain and snow.

ACME PAINTS

One of America's Great Institutions. Founded in 1884

Acme means high-quality paints, automobile finishes and insecticides. Largest maker in many fields, a leader in all.

Ladies or Couples

WHO LIKE TO PLAY POOL

You can make reservations for the use of our tables at 8:00 o'clock.

Tuesday Evenings

Reservations to be made in the afternoon. Make up your party and come on down.

Joe's Place

Klemme Iowa

An Extra Service

Spring Check-Up Puts Your Car In Better Driving Condition: —

Our trained personnel use the best lubrication methods for each car. They reach as many as fifty lubrication points. A spring change-over means new transmission and differential grease, new summer-weight oil, wheel bearing and steering wheel grease.

Phone Us And We Will Call For Your Car, Service It And Deliver It To You.

Hancock Co. Coop. Oil Association

SUPER SERVICE STATIONS

Garner — Klemme — Ventura

COOL SPRING The Vegetable King

NOW FEATURING Lake Mills

Large Tender Sweet Peas

Packed in the Large No. 2 Size Can

Excellent Quality Peas at an Economical Price

Ask Your Local Grocer for

TUNE IN RADIO KGLO 3:25 P.M. DAILY Monday thru Friday COOL SPRING NEWS OF THE NATION

LAKE MILLS LARGE TENDER PEAS

and

OTHER COOL SPRING PRODUCTS

Whole Kernel Golden Corn : Cream Style Golden Corn : Green Beans : Wax Beans Early June Peas : Sweet Peas

Packed by COOL SPRING CANNING CO. Lake Mills, Iowa

SHOOTING SONG BIRDS PROHIBITED

It has been called to our attention that boys have been shooting robins and other song birds in Klemme.

Let us warn these boys that song birds are protected by law and anyone shooting them may be proscecuted by law. Also there is a Town Ordinance which makes it an offense to shoot within the city limits.

SELL WHAT YOU DON'T NEED with a Times Want Adv.

FEDERAL

Land Bank

LOANS

Long Term Low Interest
No Fees No Commission

Wm. F. Johannaber

Secretary-Treasurer

Forest City, Iowa

Phone 50

AVERY

—The—

Theatre Beautiful

Garner, Iowa

APRIL 21, 22

Wednes. - Thursday

"GOLDEN EARRINGS"

RAY MILLAND

And

MARLENE DIETRICH

(A Paramount Picture)

APRIL 23, 24

Friday - Saturday

WINTER WONDERLAND

LYNNE ROBERTS

And

CHARLES DRAKE

— DOUBLE FEATURE —

"DANGEROUS VENTURE"

APRIL 25, 26, 27

Sun. - Mon. - Tues.

IT'S PLAY ROUGH . . . OR ELSE!

I WALK ALONE

Starring

LIZABETH SCOTT

And

BURT LANCASTER

With

Kirk Douglas
George Rigaud
Kristine Miller
Mike Mazurki

APRIL 28, 29

Wednes. - Thursday

GAMBLING RACKETS BUSTED!

BIG TOWN AFTER DARK

PHILIP REED

And

HILLARY BROOKE

OFFICIAL NOTICE

The Hancock County Board of Education will consider textbook adoption for the county schools in arithmetic, grades 1-8

Hearings will be held before a committee of professional people on May 25 at 8 p. m., 1948, in the courtroom, Garner, Iowa. Bids will be received until 4 p. m. the day of the hearing The County Board of Education reserves the right to waive technicalities and to reject any or all bids.

Textbook companies may submit five sets of sample textbooks to the County Superintendent of Schools, acting as co-chairman, for the professional committee on selection.

This publication complies with Section 3017 Code of Iowa 1946, and is published by order of the Hancock County Board of Education

Chas S. Whitney, Executive Secretary, County Board of Education, Co- Chairman, Textbook Committee

Dated at Garner, Iowa, April 15, 1948.

(Pub. April 21, 28, 1948)

NOTICE OF A PROPOSED RESOLUTION OF NECESSITY

TO ALL INTERESTED PROPERTY OWNERS

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that the Town Council of the Town of Klemme, Iowa, at a meeting held on the 12th day of April, 1948, proposed and placed on file a Resolution of Necessity whereby it was deemed necessary and advisable to improve by liquid asphalt and gravel surfacing the following streets in the Town of Klemme, Iowa, to-wit

Elder Street from the East line of Right of way and Station grounds of C R I & P RR Co. to Fourth Street, Day Street from First Street to Fourth Street, Main Street from Second Street to the East Corporation Line,

Hancock Street from First Street to Fourth Street, Iowa Street from Front Street to Fourth Street Gruetzmacher Street from First Street to the alley in Block 21, Klemme Addition.

Hanson Street from First Street to Second Street, First Street from the south corporation line to the alley in Block 4, Original Town,

Second Street from the south line of Lot 7, Block 3, Gruetzmacher Bros., and Hansons Addition to Jerusalem Street,

Third Street from the south line of Blocks 21 and 22 Klemmes Addition to Dakota Street,

Fourth Street from the south line of Block 22 Klemmes Addition to Dakota Street,

The Street running northerly from Main Street through OL-1 Klemmes Addition from Main Street to a point approximately 313 feet north of the north line of Main Street

Morningside Road from fourth Street to Arthurs Lane, Arthurs Lane from Morningside Road to the east Corporation Line,

The street lying between the triangular park in Morningside Addition and Block 2 of said Morningside Addition from Morningside Road to Pauls Drive,

YOU ARE FURTHER HEREBY NOTIFIED that it is proposed to pay the cost of said improvement by a special assessment or assessments against abutting and adjacent property as provided by statute and in accordance with the plat and schedule now on file in the office of the Town Clerk of the Town of Klemme, Iowa

YOU ARE FURTHER HEREBY NOTIFIED that the Town Council of Klemme, Iowa, will meet on the 14th day of May, 1948, at 8 00 p. m in the Community Building, in said Town of Klemme, Iowa, for the purpose of considering said Resolution at which time said Resolution may be amended and adopted or adopted as proposed Any person affected by said proposed improvement may appear and object thereto at the time and place mentioned or may at any time previous thereto file objections with the Town Clerk. Any person failing to appear at said time and place or to have on file with the Town Clerk objections to said improvement contemplated, in said Resolution of Necessity or to proposed assessments for same shall be deemed to have waived all rights to object thereto.

Dated at Klemme, Iowa, this 15 day of April, 1948.

A J KUDJE
Town Clerk of the Town of Klemme, Iowa.

(Pub. April 21, 28, 1948.)

KING SIZE

In a recent hail storm, Red Oak was pelted with stones bigger than eggs and a number of cars received badly dented tops and fenders. At Villisca, stones as big as baseballs were reported.

DR. E. H. PHILLIPS

Osteopathis Physician

Xray - Short Wave Diathermy and Ultra Violet Equipment

Phone 149 Garner, Iowa

BRING YOUR CAR TO US FOR

Greasing

AND A COMPLETE SPRING CHANGEOVER

*

In Motor Oil, Transmission, Differentail, Wheels and Chassis.

*

We have the equipment and proper lubricants to give you the best service.

*

See us for your needs in Batteries, Spark Plugs, and accessories of all kinds.

*

Smith's

STANDARD SERVICE

Klemme Iowa

Hancock County Rural Young People Met At Britt

"Table Setting" was studied by the girls and "The Pig That Did't Get To Market" by the boys at the April meeting of the Hancock County Rural Young People at Britt on Monday evening, April 12th.

Miss Arlene Upton, home economics instructor at Britt, gave pointers to be considered in buying silverware, dishes and table linens as well as illustrating table setting at the meeting for the girls.

Paul Crockett, vocational agriculture instructor in Britt, was the speaker for the boys.

Alvin Swanson, president of the group, read invitations from the Franklin County Rural Youth Group for a banquet and dance. He also reported on a banquet that he attended in Kossuth County

Arrangements were made for a delegation from our county to attend a meeting at Pocahontas on Tuesday evening, April 20th, to help plan a district Rural Young People's camp.

A scavenger hunt and square dancing made up the evening's entertainment. Leon Griffin, entertainment. Helen Formanek, Leon Griffin, Lois Abele and Harlan DeGroote were the committee in charge.

If you dont want it, sell it with a Times want ad.

OLD TIME

DANCE

Duncan Community Hall

Monday, April ,26

Everyone Welcome

DR. F. L. HAYES

DENTIST

Office Over Rexall Store

Phone 21 Garner, Iowa

Arthur Wellemeyer

FUNERAL DIRECTOR

—with long experince and best equipment.

PROMPT AMBULANCE SERVICE

Phone 23-R2 Day or Night

Klemme - Iowa

A Times Want Ad Brings Result

The Perfect Finish

FOR LARGE SURFACE AREAS

BPS GLOS-LUX ENAMEL

For extra long wear...beauty that lasts for years...and ease of application... GLOS-LUX is in a class by itself. It's smooth flowing...easy brushing...and dries quickly to a high gloss tile-like finish . . . that can be washed. Use it on Walls, Ceilings, Woodwork, Cupboards.

A PATTERSON SARGENT PAINT

Northern Lumber C

Lloyd Sherwood, Mgr. Klemme, I

Need A Pump

SEE US FOR . . .

V K and MEYERS PUMPS.

For all purposes. We have these in sto

PIPE and COPPER TUBING

We have pipe and plenty of copper tu to go with them at a good price.

Westinghouse Electric Ranges In Stock

Klemme Hardwar Company

Wm. Fuss Harry Schu

WHO GETS THE CREAM?

Occasionally, people unfamiliar with cooperative business, ask: "Who gets the profits, or the cream of the business?"

We don't operate for profit, but for service to our membership. That's why people join co-ops, to provide themselves with goods and services—at the lowest possible cost.

Members make worthwhile savings when they join and patronize their own co-op. These savings are the "cream," and it all comes back to individual members on the basis of patronage.

We invite your membership and patronage. You help yourself, your family and community when you pool your efforts with others through co-ops.

BUY THROUGH A CO-OP—SELL THROUGH A CO-OP

Klemme Coop. Creamery Co.

Kenneth Medin, Manager Klemme, Iowa

Report Of Condition Of

State Savings Bank

Of Goodell

in the State of Iowa at the close of business on April 12, 1948

ASSETS

Cash, balances with other banks, including reserve balances and cash items in process of collection	$	52,243.29
United States Government obligations, direct and guaranteed		406,989.58
Other bonds, notes, and debentures		7,473.65
Loans and discounts (including $478.77 overdrafts)		74,470.97
Bank premises owned $4,000, furniture and fixtures $850.00		58,709.15
		4,850.00
TOTAL ASSETS	$	604,736.64

LIABILITIES

Demand deposits of individuals, partnerships, and corporations	$	415,830.55
Time deposits of individuals, partnerships, and corporatins		89,279.61
Deposits of United States Government (including postal savings)		35,802.85
Deposits of State and political subdivisions		32,929.17
Other deposits (certified and officers' checks, etc.)		217.81
TOTAL DEPOSITS $574,059.99
Other liabilities
TOTAL LIABILITIES	$	574,059.99

CAPITAL ACCOUNTS

Capital *	$	15,000.00
Surplus		7,500.00
Undivided profits		5,377.75
Reserves (and retirement account for preferred capital)		2,798.90
TOTAL CAPITAL ACCOUNTS		30,676.65
TOTAL LIABILITIES AND CAPITAL ACCOUNTS	$	604,736.64

* This bank's capital consists of:
Common stock with par value of $15,000.00

We, V E Harris, President and William P. Butts, Cashier of the above-named bank do solemnly swear and affirm that the above statement is true, and that this report fully and correctly represents the true state of the several matters herein contained and set forth to the best of our knowledge and belief.

V E. HARRIS, President.
WILLIAM P. BUTTS, Cashier.

Correct—Attest:
WARNER F BUTTS
AMOS O. HANSON
MABLE BURGESS
ALVA M. NEWGORD, Directors

STATE OF IOWA, Hancock County, ss.
Sworn to and subscribed before me this 15th day of April, 1948.
MARIE HARRIS, Notary Public.
My commission expires July 4, 1948.
(Notary Seal)

Advertisement

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

Homer Does Some "Back-Seat Sewing!"

mer Bentley's missus was ing on her new sewing ma- when Homer comes in, draws chair, and starts talking: 't you think you're running fast?" he says. "Slow down! ch out! Be careful!"

Then the missus finally turns murder in her eyes, Homer goodnaturedly: "I thought might like a little help, dear— you help me drive the car."

e missus can't help but burst laughing—and they settle what t have been a quarrel over a friendly glass of beer. The missus agrees to give up back-seat driving and nagging Homer about ashes on the rug. Homer agrees to quit criticizing Sarah's taste for flowery hats and parsley salad.

From where I sit, the key to getting on together is meeting every issue half way—and overlooking any petty differences in tastes—whether these tastes apply to beer or flowery-looking hats!

Joe Marsh

Copyright, 1948, United States Brewers Foundation

TTER MAKES THE BREAKFAST. es someone in your family be- the day handicapped by a lf-hearted breakfast? Then ll in the meal-time magic of tter, and watch his appetite re- nd. Spread butter generously his toast. Have plenty for his ncakes. Pop a chunk of butter his boiled eggs. Breakfast time or any time, the matchless flavor of Butter does so much for other foods. Its natural gold color comes from rich golden cream (it takes four pints to make a pound of butter). For nutrition, for health, for downright goodness, Butter is still one of the greatest values your money can buy.

Iowa Dairy Industry Commission

IT'S BETTER WITH BUTTER -ORDER SOME TODAY

Is Your Car Ready For Spring?

Have you made sure your car is ready for spring and summer driving? Will it take the open road trouble-free? Have you changed over the lubricants?

Your car is only as good as the service it gives you. Be sure it is the best. Have us put it in shape and keep it in shape.

WHEEL BALANCING

$1.00

Per Wheel Plus Weights

Larson's Hiway Service

On Highway 69 West Of Klemme.

KEEP THE FARM SANITARY
2-HOUR SERVICE ON REMOVAL OF

Dead Stock

Phone

KLEMME ---------- 580
BELMOND ---------- 580

We Pay The Call
A Clean Truck With An Efficient Driver In Your Neighborhood Daily.

Belmond By-Products

"Your Home Plant"

Phone 580 Belmond, Iowa.

Want Ads

For Sale

FOR SALE—NICE CARPETing. Rugs 12x15, 12x13, 27"x 5 ft. Never used. Will deliver to purchaser laid. Also new white enamel and chrome breakfast set. Good discount will be given for quick sale. Mrs. Fred Kothenbeutel. (1tc)

FOR SALE—TRACTOR TIRES. Have a large stock of rears on hand. Garner Auto Co., Garner, Iowa. (M-8tfc)

FOR SALE—COBBLER SEED Potatoes, $2.00 per bag. Dick Bamman. (1tp)

FOR SALE—DESIRABLE CORner lot on East Main Street. John Meinders. (Apr. 21-28 p)

YES WE HAVE IT, NUTRENA Crumblized Chick Feed For faster gains and less waste We deliver ½ ton lots or more. GREEN ELEVATOR CO, Goodell, Iowa. (Apr 14 tfc)

FOR SALE—160 A. FARM, REA fair buildings, 2 m. s. w. of Klemme Price $135.00 Fred Chisel, Forest City. (Apr. 21-22 p)

Get your "Thank You Notes" at the Times Office. 59 cents. per box.

Miscellaneous

INSURE WITH HENRY WARD, Klemme for Auto, Personal Property, Farm Liability Insurance. (May 1, '48)

SEE R. W. ELDER FOR HANcock Co. Mutual Fire & Lightning Insurance renewals or new policies. (Apr. 1 pd)

Wanted To Buy

WANTED TO BUY FOR CASH —your used car Any make, any model. Garner Auto Company, Garner, Iowa. M-8tfc)

Services Offered

FEED GRINDING OF ALL kinds done on your farm. Phone Klemme 76 or Goodell 58561. Carroll Etchen. (j-28-tc)

Salesman Wanted

MAN WANTED—to succed H. J Luthro as Rawleigh Dealer. Unexpected change makes available West Wright County. Selling experience unnecessary to start. Splendid opportunity to step into a permanent and profitable business where Rawleigh Products have been sold over 50 years. Good profit to willing worker Write Rawleigh's Dept. IAD-163-10 Freeport, Ill. (Apr. 21, May 5 tp)

Card Of Thanks

We wish to thank the Klemme Fire Department for their prompt response when we called them to extinguish a grass fire which was threatening property in the neighborhood.

Mr. and Mrs. Jake Hess. (1tp)

I want to take this means of expressing my sincere thanks to all who sent me cards and flowers and who visited me while I was a patient at the Lutheran hospital in Hampton.

Dean Rasmus. (1tp)

We want to thank all our relatives, neighbors and friends who helped to make our Golden Wedding a happy occasion with their cards, gifts and visits to our home. It was all greatly appreciated.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Born. (1tp)

B. C. BERGE
ATTORNEY-AT-LAW
Office Over Federated Store
Phone 20 Garner, Iowa

For Quick Truck Delivery On
Diamond
D-X
Products of all kinds
Phone 85
ERNEST HENSCHEN
Klemme, Iowa

Vegetable Growers Committee Hold Meeting

A committee of Commercial Vegetable Growers appointed to study and set up an educational program to assist the commercial vegetable growers met at the Farm Bureau office Monday evening, April 12 with Paul Henderson, county extension director and A. E. Cott, horticulture specialist from Iowa State College. Those on the committee are J. B. Haan, Chairman, Bernard Engstler and Elmer Haas. The first meeting of the committee brought out a few of the big problems facing the growers, such as crop diseases, drainage of the peat areas and new crop varieties.

The committee is setting up an open meeting of the growers for early in June. This will give all of the growers a chance to get acquainted with Mr. Cott and present their problems.

Plan For 4-H Events

The County 4-H committee met at the Central States Building in Britt, on Wednesday, April 14, to make plans for 4-H "Rally Day" and also the 4-H Achievement Show.

Miss Julia Faltison, 4-H State Assistant Leader, attended the meeting and gave helpful suggestions for the coming events.

COUNCIL PROCEEDINGS

Klemme, Iowa
April 12th, 1948

Regular meeting called by the Mayor with all members present. Minutes of previous meeting were read and approved

On motion the following bills were allowed.

State Bank Fort Dodge Interest	$ 7 00
State Tax Commission, Sales Tax	15 06
Iowa Old Age and Insurance System, 1st quarter SS Tax	4 50
A J Kudje, phone calls and postage	1 29
First National Bank, water bond interest	78 75
Klemme Harware Company meters 7 etc.	153 17
Central States Electric Co. power	38 96
Klemme Times, notices	4 20
Richard Graham, Engineering services	175.00
Klemme Fire Co, Lawhorn Hess fires	16 00
Geo. Buseman, salary	150.00

Increase granted the Klemme Fire Company as per their request for street washing and attendance at fires

Atty Welble & Engineer Graham met with Council and the necessary resolutions were passed in connection with the blacktopping program Meeting adjourned

A. J. KUDJE, Clerk

QUARTERLY REPORT
Klemme Independent School District
Period Ending December 31, 1947

Receipts
Co Treas District Tax	$ 6,996.39
State Comptroller, At. Aid and Tran	3,764 17
Albert Etchen, Transportation	17 33
Floyd Franklin, Transportation	17 33
Liberty Township School Tuition and Trans.	1,159 10
Office Receipts	42.76
Sub Total	11,997 08
Balance on hand Sept. 30 1947	5,966.25
Total	$ 17,963.23
Disbursements
Faculty Salaries	$ 8,437.82
Bank Drafts, Bonds Int.	1,637.53
Treas. of State, Use Tax	12.11
Ia. Old Age and Ret. System Tax	51.18
Central Iowa Telephone Co., Telephone	32.36
Central States Elec. Co. Electricity	105.77
C. Nelson, freight	.36
A. H. Dulmes, Exams	10.50
E. F Jacobs, supplies	336.39
Smith Service, Bus service	33.51
Klemme Times, supplies	10.91
O. M Schmitz, Piano Tuning	6.00
Standard Oil, gas and tires	217.78
Hancock County Co-op. Oil, gas and tires	131.56
Northern Implement, Bus Service	61.31
Klipto Looseleaf Comany supplies	4.69
Ia. Pupils Reading Circle	73.52
Garrard Press, supplies	1.65
Holly School Supply Co.	10.34
Hawkeye School Supply Co., supplies	5 61
J S. Latta & Son, Supplies	42.54
Pigott Supply Company Supplies	21.78
Decker Bros, supplies	8.57
Zack Bros., Repair motor	7.99
Underwood Corp., Typewriter	202 33
Metropolitan Supply, supplies	368.04
Gamble Store, books	39.60
Civic Ed. Service, books	78.00
Readers Digest, Subs.	13.50
Fisher Typewriter, rental	82.48
Houghton Mifflin Company, books	40.66
A L. Klingery, mileage	20 65
P O. Dept., stamps	3.50
R. I RR Co., freight	8.98
John Heginger, labor	2.50
F J Arnold, repairs	11 01
Northern Lumber Company, lumber	5.88
Bureau Dental Hygiene supplies	2.78
American Book Company books	8.79
Lyons & Carnahan, books	1.92
South Western Publishing Co., books	28 63
Currie Van Ness, supplies	11.22
Town of Klemme, water	45.86
E. L. Henschen, gasoline	91.00
Ia. Body Equip. Company bus supplies	13.49
I. H. Company, bus supplies	72.89
Bureau Ed. Research, supplies	29.39
H. N Nelson Company books	2.80
Norman C. Haynor Co. books	17.75
W M Welch Mfg. Co supplies	33.81
Willcox & Follett, books	2.42
Sub-Total	12,501.66
Bal. on Hand Dec. 31, 1947	5,461 57
Total	$ 17,963.23

The Methodist Church

Herschel E. Harvey, Pastor

KLEMME

Wednesday:
Chior at church at 7 p. m.

SUNDAY

Worship at 10.00 A. M.
Sunday School at 11:00 A. M
Youth Fellowship at 7:00 p. m.
Rally at Estherville.

LIBERTY

SUNDAY

Church School at 10:15 A. M.
Worship at 11:15 A. M.

Methodist Circle Five

Methodist Circle 5 will be entertained at the home of Mrs. Lloyd Sherwood on Thursday afternoon, April 22 at 2:00 o'clock.

HELP WANTED

LABORS

$1.00 per hour

Time and a half for over 40 hours.

Apply on the job on Klemme Main Street.

Riley Construction Company

Here's How to Help Yourself

317,700 IOWANS POINT THE WAY

By taking a simple, economic step, farmers in our trade area are lowering the costs of farming, and selling to better advantage.

They are doing it through their co-ops. By lending your support to a purchasing co-op through membership and patronage—you can save money, be assured of dependable quality. There are similar advantages if you market your farm products through cooperative channels. Co-ops are owned by the patrons—by the members who are building their own business to serve their own needs, without profit.

317,700 members of Iowa co-ops made savings of over $13,000,000 in 1944. These savings are increasing year by year through increased membership and patronage. You can help your own budget if you

BUY THROUGH A CO-OP—SELL THROUGH A CO-OP

CO-OPS ARE COMMUNITY BUILDERS

"The Farmers Elevator"

Klemme Co-Operative Grain Company

Glen Bridges, Manager Klemme, Iowa

TYPEWRITERS — REPAIRED and cleaned. All work guaranteed. Leave at Times Office.

CURTIS G. RIEHM
Attorney-At-Law
Office Over Federated Store
Res. Phone 133W2
Phone 133 Garner, Iowa

GENERAL
TRUCKING
Local and Long Distance Hauling
ALVIN ALBERS
Phone 13F111 BELMOND

Tiling and Drainage

I have switched machines and am now working with the Greiman Trench Digger. Faster and better work. No job too large or small. Honest dependable work. Fourty-two years experience sewer work. Trenches dug and tile laid for farm water systems. Prices reasonable.

Phone 101R3 Klemme, Iowa

Roy I. Schaefer

SEWERS TILING

Friday and Saturday

SPECIALS!

Make THADA'S STORE your headquarters for work clothing. You can't find a better overall or jacket than a "BIG SMITH" and you won't find a better price

Big Smith Overalls ----- $2.89
Big Smith Jackets ----- $2.98

CERTAINTY FLOUR: 50 lb. bag only $3.39.

Your full purchase price returned to you if not satisfied after two bakings.

We now have a complete line of Earthenware pans, jars and crocks from ½ gallon size up. When in need of mixing bowls or any size jar for pickles, meats etc., be sure to see our complete line.

ATTENTION CHICK RAISERS—choose your chick feed as carefully as you choose you chicks and you will find chick raising profitable.

MURPHY'S CHICK STARTER is a freshly ground feed of all the right proportions of the necessary ingredients.

We Deliver To Your Farm Free Of Charge

Washing Powder
"VEL" ---------- 2 large boxes 59c

All Flavors of
POP ---------- per case $1.00

All Flavors of
JELLO ---------- 4 boxes 29c

Week End Special
TOILET TISSUE ---------- 2 rolls for 25c

Whipped Creams, Maple Filled Clusters, etc.
CHOCOLATE CANDY ---------- per lb. 49c

SUGAR ---------- 100 lbs. only $8.75

BOX CHEESE ---------- 2 lb. 98c

TABLE SALT ---------- 2 large boxes 15c

Staley's
GLOSS STARCH ---------- 1lb. 9c

Otoe
BEANS and BACON ---------- 2 cans 17c

Tones (pressure packed)
COFFEE ---------- per lb. 39c

American
LYE ---------- 3 cans for 25c

Makes 20 gallons of cleaner
PERFEX CLEANER ---------- per box 19c

Thada's

A Good Store In A Good Town Klemme, Ia.

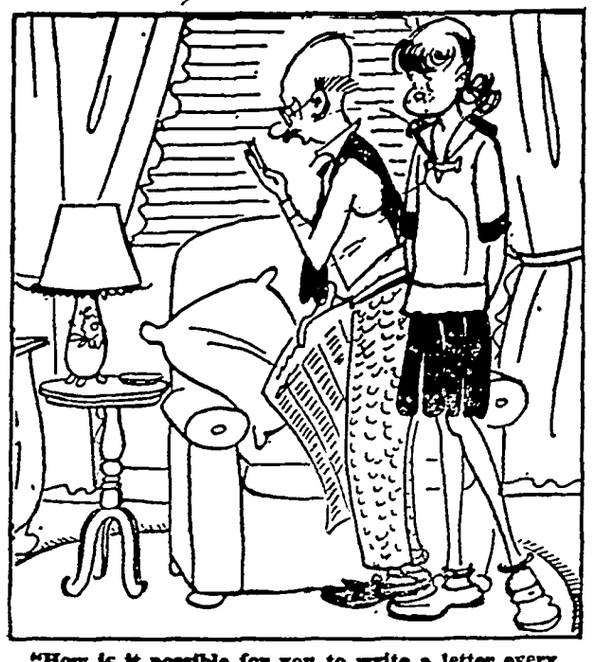
CROSS TOWN

By Roland Coe

"You must get awful tired sweeping up the whole town!".

BOBBY SOX

By Marty Links



"How is it possible for you to write a letter every night to Alvin—and yet flunk English composition?"

HAVING SPENT MOST OF THE DRIVE STOPPING THE CAR SO THE WOMENFOLK COULD LOOK AT HOOKED RUGS, OR BUY COUNTRY PRODUCE, OR GET DRINKS OF WATER OR PICK FLOWERS, YOU LAY DOWN THE LAW THAT THIS DRIVE WAS TO ENJOY THE SCENERY AND THAT YOU WON'T STOP THE CAR AGAIN FOR ANYTHING, AT WHICH MOMENT YOU DISCOVER YOU NEED GAS
WNU 4814

NANCY

By Ernie Bushmiller

WHATCHA DOIN' HERE?
WAITING FOR THE MOVIES TO OPEN
HAVE YA BEEN HERE LONG?
OH, ABOUT AN HOUR
WHAT'S THE NAME OF THE MOVIE TODAY?
OH, I DON'T KNOW--- IT'S A LONG NAME UNDERGOING ALTERATIONS

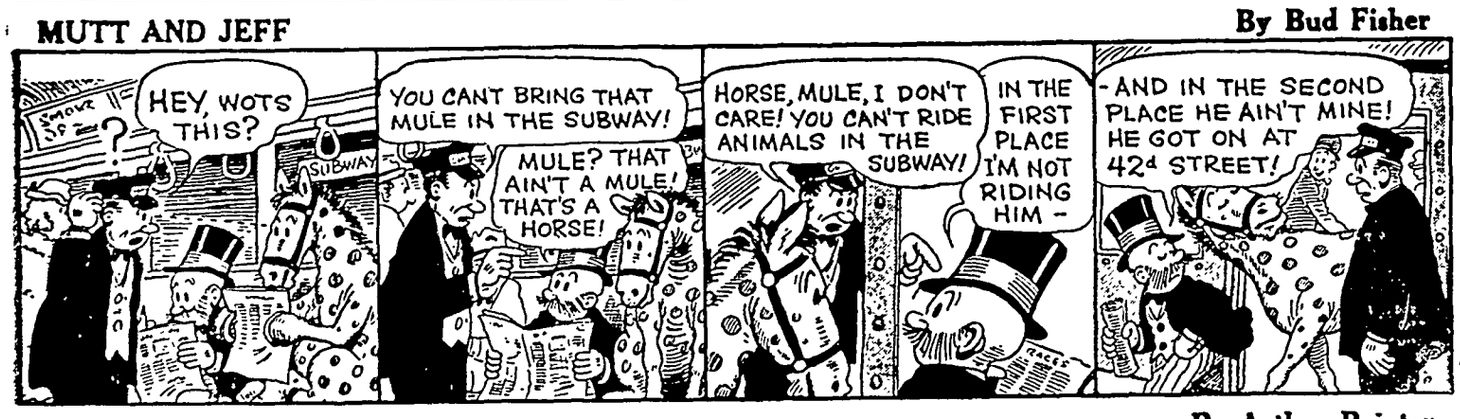
LITTLE REGGIE

By Margarita

YA KNOW, FELIX— THERE'S BEEN BURIED TREASURE FOUND IN THESE PARTS!
YEAH?
MAYBE YOU'LL DIG UP A GOLD NUGGET... OR A CHEST OF DIAMONDS...
GOSH!
... AN INDIAN ARROW HEAD ... OR AN OLD SKULL AND BONES...
HOLY SMOKES!
REGGIE—DO YOU HAVE THE GARDEN DUG YET?
SURE HAVE MOM!

MUTT AND JEFF

By Bud Fisher



HEY, WOTS THIS?
SUBWAY
YOU CAN'T BRING THAT MULE IN THE SUBWAY!
MULE? THAT AIN'T A MULE! THAT'S A HORSE!
HORSE, MULE, I DON'T CARE! YOU CAN'T RIDE ANIMALS IN THE SUBWAY!
IN THE FIRST PLACE I'M NOT RIDING HIM - RACES
-AND IN THE SECOND PLACE HE AIN'T MINE! HE GOT ON AT 42d STREET!

JITTER

By Arthur Pointer

JITTER, I'M GOING TO A FISH FRY WITH TONY AND SUE HAS A DATE SO YOU'LL HAVE TO EAT YOUR DINNER OUTSIDE WITH THE PUP!
DON'T LOOK SO CROSS! WHY I EVEN SNEAKED SOME BANANA PUDDING FOR YOU BECAUSE I KNEW HOW YOU LIKED IT!
GRRRR
GRRRR
GRRRR

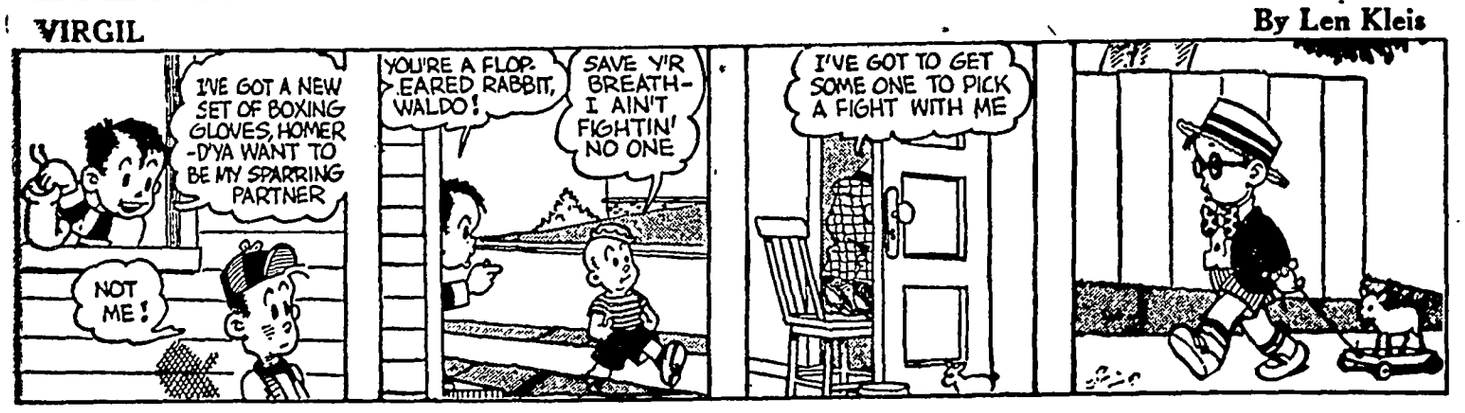
REG'LAR FELLERS

By Gene Byrnes

OH DEAR! THE FRONT WHEEL ON MY NEW BICYCLE IS BROKEN AND I SO WANTED TO RIDE TODAY!
WELL, NOW, MARY--
-THAT REALLY ISN'T A PROBLEM A-TALL WITH A GUY LIKE ME AROUN'!
OH, JIMMIE--
YESSIR, SONNY-- THA'S WHATCHA CALL LOVE!
FASTER, JIMMIE!

VIRGIL

By Len Kleis



I'VE GOT A NEW SET OF BOXING GLOVES, HOMER -D'YA WANT TO BE MY SPARRING PARTNER NOT ME!
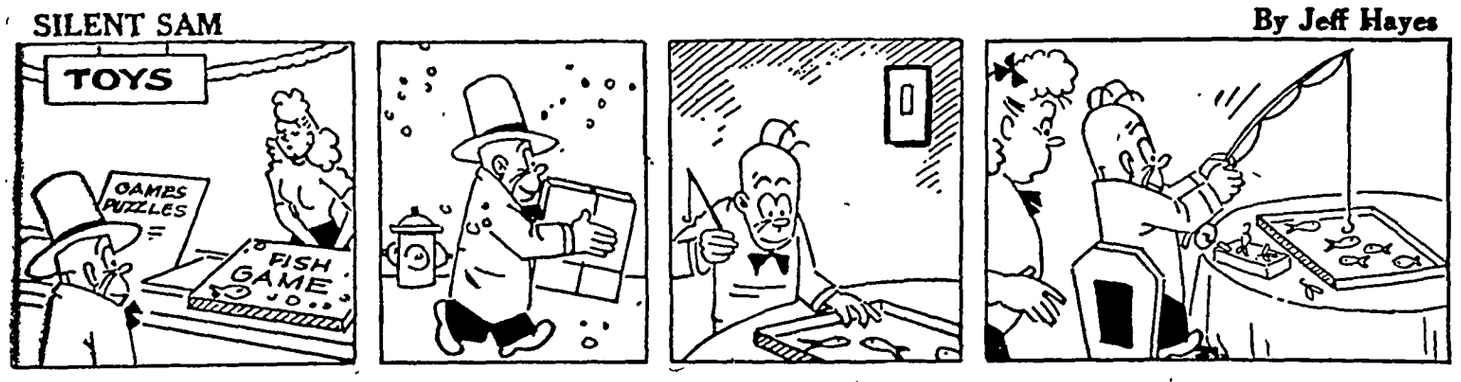
YOU'RE A FLOP-EARED RABBIT, WALDO!
SAVE Y'R BREATH- I AIN'T FIGHTIN' NO ONE
I'VE GOT TO GET SOME ONE TO PICK A FIGHT WITH ME

SILENT SAM

By Jeff Hayes



WEEKLY RIB!

By Roy Mathison

IF I BUY A BOX OF MATCHES, MR. KRAUS, WILL YOU PLEASE DELIVER THEM AT ONCE AND SEND JUNIOR ALONG WITH THEM? I WANT TO GO TO THE MOVIE!
PRICES
OUR LADIES
WNU 4814

"How Does That One Set . . . Mrs. Featherby?"

KRNT RADIO THEATER
DES MOINES, IOWA.

ONE NIGHT ONLY — SUNDAY, APR. 25 swing and sway with Sammy Kaye
and HIS ORCHESTRA
In Person
PLUS
THAT SENSATIONAL FEATURE
"SO YOU WANT TO LEAD A BAND"

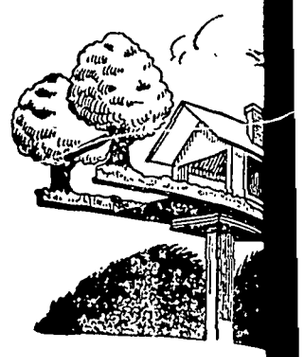
MAIL ORDERS NOW! Window sale opens Apr. 7. Enclose self-addressed stamped envelope.
PRICES: Main Floor $3.05, $2.44; Balcony $3.05, $2.44, $1.83, $1.22.
All prices include tax.

ONE NIGHT ONLY—TUESDAY, APR. 27
JOHN C. WILSON presents
Tallulah Bankhead
IN
NOEL COWARD'S BEST COMEDY
PRIVATE LIVES
WITH DONALD COOK

MAIL YOUR ORDER NOW
Window Sale Opens Apr. 12 at Theater and New Utica
PRICES: Main Floor $4.27, $3.66, $3.05; Balcony $3.66, $3.05, $2.44, $1.83, $1.22 (tax included). Enclose self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Easily Built Bird H... And Feeding St...

IF you want to turn you... time into a useful and ... tive hobby, make up this bir... and feeding station. You'l... fun building these attractive ... and will be agreeably surpr... see what a professional j... can do using only hand too...



Since each component part of th... is reproduced full size on the printe... pattern, all the mystery usually a... with woodworking is dispelled. You... cut each piece of wood according ... shape and size of the pattern, the... each part together in exact posi... cated. Decorating the finished house ... ther simplified by merely tracing ... size decorating guides directly on th... The outlines are then painted the... pattern specifies.

If your youngster is interested in ... ing a part-time business, get him ... up one or two of these houses or ... stations. Almost every homeowner ... ested in attracting birds and they ... delighted to buy these two houses.

The Pattern specifies exact ... amount of materials needed. Mostly ... wood can be salvaged from grocery ... crates, etc. Send 2c each for Bird ... Pattern No. 10 and Feeding Station ... No. 9 to Easi-Bild Pattern Compa... partment W, Pleasantville, N. Y.

TAKE LAXATIVES? Try This Instead
JUST THE JUICE OF A LEMON
IN A GLASS OF WATER
FIRST THING ON ARISING
LEMON IN WATER IS GOOD FOR YOU
Try it 10 days - Sunkist

38% BRIGHTER TEETH in 7 days!
CALOX TOOTH POWDER
A McKESSON & ROBBINS PRODUCT

Buy U. S. Savings Bonds

CHANGE of LIFE?
Are you going through the fu... tional 'middle age' period peculi... to women (38 to 52 yrs.)? Does t... make you suffer from hot flash... feel so nervous, highstrung, tire... Then do try Lydia E. Pinkham's ... Vegetable Compound to relieve s... symptoms. Pinkham's Compou... also has what Doctors call a ... machic tonic effect!
LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S VEGETA... COMPOU...

When Your Back Hurts
And Your Strength and Energy Is Below Par
It may be caused by disorder of th... ney function that permits poisonou... waste to accumulate. For truly many ... people feel tired, weak and miserable ... when the kidneys fail to remove exce... acids and other waste matter from th... blood.
You may suffer nagging backache ... rheumatic pains, headaches, dizziness ... getting up nights, leg pains, swelling ... Sometimes frequent and scanty urina... tion with smarting and burning is ... other sign that something is wrong wi... the kidneys or bladder.
There should be no doubt that prompt ... treatment is wiser than neglect. Use ... Doan's Pills. It is better to rely on a ... medicine that has won country-wide ap... proval than on something less favorably ... known. Doan's have been tried and test... ed many years. Are at all drug stores. ... Get Doan's today
DOAN'S PILLS

...s of Thought

...FULNESS and content ...reat beautifiers, and ...us preservers of youth. —Dickens.

...(Diogenes) saw a youth ...and addressed him: ...my boy! that is the com... ...virtue."

...corrupts iron—so envy ...man.

...t is clogged with metal ...should be bumped lightly ...in order to dislodge the ...clutter up the teeth.

—•—

...shine on woolens, use ...team iron over a press... ...nd apply a pressing ac... ...than an ironing motion.

—•—

...baking recipe calls for ...g whites, separate the ...whites while the eggs ...Let the whites reach ...perature before beating. ...e will be greater.

—•—

...tion bag over the broom ...you have a handy tool ...ing down walls and ceil... ...the bag becomes soiled, ...k in hot soapy water and ...e regular way.

—•—

...dpapering surfaces that ...painted, fold the sand... ...a small block of wood.

A dress to keep you pretty while waiting for baby

8.95

...soft rayon crepe bodice ...ping with sparkling dots ...softly at the throat . . . ...long, fabulously full ...in rustling rayon faille, ...gs from a waistline that ...out now . . and adjusts ...again after baby ...es . . . BLACK or NAVY! Get it direct from Lane ...nt . . . who invented the ...rnity dress . . . and who ...s all the fashion tricks ...amouflage!

Lane Bryant

...TH AVE. AT 40TH ...NEW YORK

ORDER BY MAIL ...SEND NO MONEY

...BRYANT, Fifth Ave. at 40th ...ork 17, N. Y.

...ane Bryant:
...send me your Dotted-top swing ...Maternity Dress. I will pay ...postman $8.95 plus postage ...C.O.D. charges when received.

Color_____

NAME_____

...or R.F.D._____

_____STATE_____

...d for Free Fashion Catalogue

THE FICTION CORNER

STRICTLY BUSINESS

By ROBERT C. BLACKMON

THE finest sermon I ever heard ended and the benediction came straight from the heart of the broad-shouldered figure in the pulpit. The stirring voice of the big organ filled the church and the congregation began to leave.

Harry Thatcher and I were surrounded by sober, thoughtful people as we went to the car. He drove out toward the lake.

"Don," Thatcher said abruptly after he got a cigar started. We were entering the lake drive. "There are three million, five hundred and sixty-thousand, four hundred and eighty letters in the Bible."

"I suppose so." I almost dropped my cigarette. His talking about the Book took me by surprise. His interest was financial news, exclusively.

"There are seven hundred and seventy-three thousand, seven hundred and forty-six words in its thirty-one thousand, one hundred and seventy-three verses."

"Sure." I looked at him, wondering.

His gray eyes were half closed, his broad face grave. One could see why he was called "Bull-dog" Thatcher. He had a reputation of going after business, wherever it was, and getting it.

"Shortly after the war ended, a young man named Phillip Crasor came into my club one evening." Thatcher settled himself more comfortably in the broad front seat of the car, one big hand on the wheel rim. "He had been a pilot. I don't know how many missions, but enough. Star end at the university before that. All around athlete. He had been mentioned as a possible Olympic chance. Folks had a little money."

The car rolled with almost no noise. I said nothing. This wasn't the Harry Thatcher I'd known. I'd dropped in on him last night since I was in town for a few days, and he'd insisted upon my going to church with him this morning. Thatcher was not a church man, so far as I knew. I waited.

"Phillip had got some cockeyed ideas in the army," Thatcher went on. "Some radical talk. He started griping about youngsters in the army getting killed while the big-income businessmen stayed home safe. My income runs up a little." He couldn't conceal a note of pride. "He looked at me when he said it and I thought he was making it personal. I told him big-income men were worth what they got and he said they were a lot of stuffed fools. I got sore. I told him he couldn't handle a $50,000 job for a month, much less a year."

Thatcher coughed a little, apologetically.

"I was a captain in the first world war. Infantry. Shrapnel." His hand moved to his right side. "They wouldn't take me the last time."

He straightened. Breeze from the lake swept our smoke from the car.

"Phillip Crasor said he had $5,000 that said he could handle any $50,000 job for 12 months. Inherited the money from an aunt, I believe. Anyway, he said for me to put up or shut up. The fellows in the club laughed, and I—well, I lost my temper. I called him at ten to one, betting 50,000 against his five that he couldn't handle the job. I was to name the job. It wasn't to be impossible, or require technical skill neither of us had. It was foolish, but neither of us would back down. It was a bet and I couldn't call it off. Betting is strictly business with me. If I win I collect, and if I lose I pay off. Strictly business. If a man can't look at it like that, he has no business betting."

He tooled the big car around a curve. Sunlight was on the lake, a moving pattern of glinting water under a cloud splashed sky.

"The club was in an uproar, with men betting each other we'd both back out, or go on with it. I went over to the big bookcase at the other end of the room to think it out.

"I saw the Bible in the bookcase and remembered my mother telling me that the Book was good to read when you didn't know what to do. I didn't know what to do.

"I took the Bible and saw in the back where it had so many letters and words and all that, and it gave me an idea. When I was in school I couldn't spell.

"The teacher used to make me write missed words on the blackboard a couple of hundred times. I wrote about 20 words a minute. writing carefully. I figured I could write perhaps 30 words a minute, fast. That meant about 15,000 words in a full day of writing. At that rate, it would take 50 days to complete a handwritten copy of the Bible. Ten good, clear, handwritten copies would therefore take about 500 days, and the bet was for a year."

Thatcher laughed softly, remembering.

"I realized that this was an ideal job for the purpose. It required no technical skill neither of us had, and there was a good chance that Phillip Crasor couldn't do it. I didn't want to lose $50,000 any more than he wanted to lose the five. Phillip hadn't stuck at anything since he came out of the army, and I figured he'd drop out within a few weeks at the most. Then, I'd return his money and teach him a lesson he wouldn't forget about betting. And there was a very good chance that, after he learned what the job was to be, he'd drop the whole thing and agree to call the bet off. That would have been fine with me. I couldn't back down as long as Phillip wanted to go on, of course. The men at the club never would have forgotten it, and it would have hurt me in a business way. I went back to the others."

He nursed his cigar for a few moments.

"Phillip Crasor exploded when he learned what the job was to be. I didn't know it, but his handwriting was awful. He thought I was ribbing him. The men in the club were having the time of their lives. A well-known lawyer drew up a contract and both of us signed it. Phillip Crasor wouldn't back down and I couldn't. I was to furnish the place and the materials to do the job, and I was to be the judge of whether the copies produced were acceptable or not. If we had too much argument we could each choose a friend and they would choose a third party to settle the argument. There wasn't anything left for me to do but go through with it. I was going to each Phillip Crasor a lesson, anyway."

My forgotten cigarette burned my fingers and I tossed it from the car.

"I turned over a small cottage down on the lake to Phillip Crasor, stocked it with a Bible, paper, pens, ink and blotters and told him to go to work. I left a man there to see that he didn't get outside help. It was strictly business with me. I had $50,000 at stake."

"Phillip Crasor was going to produce 10 perfectly legible handwritten copies of the Bible, as the contract provided, or he would lose the bet."

"I didn't get back for a week or two, and Phillip had spoiled a lot of paper but produced nothing acceptable. He wanted to fight, but I told him to read the contract and it was time for him to put up or shut up. I thought he would burst. The club was betting he'd last about another week. I did not think he'd go that long."

My man cabled me that Phillip Crasor had locked himself in the cottage and wouldn't let anyone in.

Thatcher looked out over the lake, then his eyes came back to the drive before us.

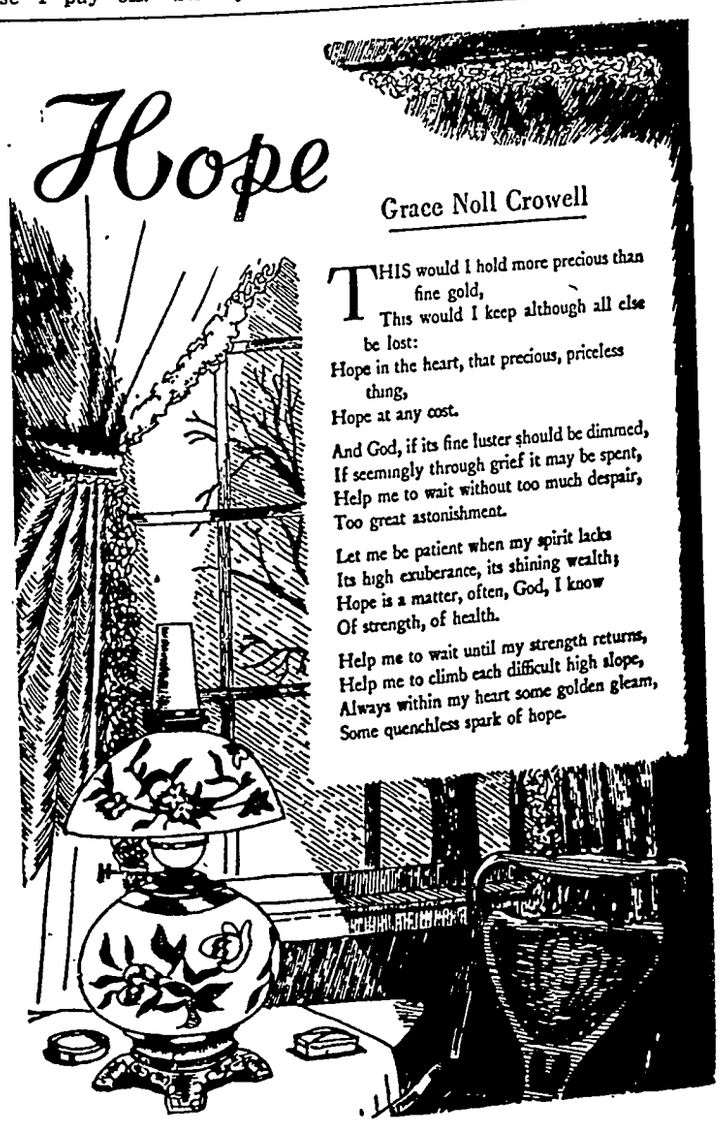
"Business suddenly took me to France and Italy and I stayed there for months." He coughed again, apologetically. "All wars are not won on the battlefield, and all soldiers do not wear uniforms, you know. Anyway, I was gone over nine months. My man cabled me that Phillip Crasor had locked himself in the cottage and wouldn't let anyone in. The year was almost up when I got back home. It had about 20 days to run. I hurried down to the cottage."

Thatcher flicked ashes from the cigar.

"My man said Phillip Crasor had been gone for a week. The 10 handwritten copies of the Bible were on a table in the cottage, all perfectly legible. On top of one pile was a letter to me from Phillip Crasor. I have that letter home now, in my Bible. He said he wouldn't take the $50,000 and the bet was off. I paid, though, to the church we attended this morning. When a man loses, he should pay. It's strictly business. If I'd won—"

"But what about Phillip Crasor?" I held another forgotten cigarette in my hand.

"Oh. He preached that sermon you heard this morning."



Hope
Grace Noll Crowell
THIS would I hold more precious than fine gold,
This would I keep although all else be lost:
Hope in the heart, that precious, priceless thing,
Hope at any cost.
And God, if its fine luster should be dimmed,
If seemingly through grief it may be spent,
Help me to wait without too much despair,
Too great astonishment.
Let me be patient when my spirit lacks
Its high exuberance, its shining wealth;
Hope is a matter, often, God, I know
Of strength, of health.
Help me to wait until my strength returns,
Help me to climb each difficult high slope,
Always within my heart some golden gleam,
Some quenchless spark of hope.

LET'S TALK ABOUT You

BY CHARLES B. ROTH

GIVE YOURSELF TO A CHAIR

A friend of the late William James, greatest psychologist of his day, asked the noted man if he would mind giving a few rules for the improvement of personality.

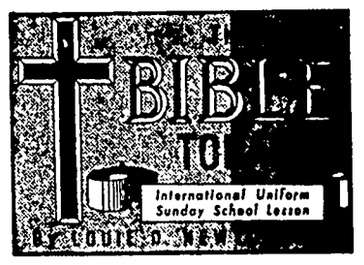
"One rule I will give you," responded Dr. James, "a simple rule—but so important. The rule is this: Learn to give yourself up to a chair at least once each day."

Mystified, the inquirer asked what Dr. James meant when he said "give yourself up to a chair."

"Practice conscious relaxation," he was told. "Relax every day. Relaxation, particularly the ease and restfulness associated with utter relaxation, is one of the best aids I know in developing a charming personality."

How often one sees these futile run-arounds, men and women who are busy from morning till night, who never relax, who dash from one thing to another, who fidget and fume, who talk rapidly, who burn up energy and tire themselves and everyone else out by their fruitless display of waste motion. And how rarely one finds the composed, relaxed personality of power.

Dr. James' advice was, of course, purely physical—all you had to do was to give yourself up to the chair, relax utterly, let your body sag where it would. But there is always a subtle and marked relationship between mind and body. And the purpose of his counsel was to let your mental moods take their tone from your physical department. "What mental mood can you expect if you are always physically tense?" he inquired.



ZECHARIAH 1 1-6; 4; 7—8.
DEVOTIONAL READING: Psalms 24: 1-6.

Zechariah Pleads For Righteousness

Lesson for April 25, 1948

ZECHARIAH almost certainly was born and reared in or near Babylon, and was trained for the priesthood and ordained of the Lord as a prophet. His father, Berechiah, was the son of Iddo, the prophet. Though much younger than Haggai, about whom we studied last Sunday, Zechariah began his ministry only two months later than Haggai—a ministry which was to summon the people to righteousness as a condition essential in the rebuilding of the temple and in cleansing themselves of idolatry, if they were to throw off the yoke of their foes. The student will need to read the entire Book of Zechariah to have the background for this lesson. Also Psalm 24:1-6.

Dr. Newton

* * *

LIVING TOGETHER IN GOD'S WAY

"TURN ye unto me, saith the Lord of hosts, and I will turn unto you," Zechariah 1:3. People cannot live together in peace and harmony until first they are on speaking terms with God The insidious onslaught of secularism was weakening the Jews at the very moment when they needed to be strong and united for the task of rebuilding the temple and restoring their life in Jerusalem

Read further into the prophecy of Zechariah and note the admonitions of the Lord for kindness one toward another—kindness and understanding and sincerity, which are the indispensable qualities of community life.

* * *

WHAT MAKES A PEOPLE GREAT?

ZECHARIAH reminds the people that the downfall of their fathers had been due to their forgetfulness of God. He calls them now to repentance of their own sins, that they become truly a great people. "Fear not, but let your hands be strong," Zechariah 8:13.

"What makes a nation great and strong?
Not brick, nor stone, nor wood,
But justice, love and brotherhood"

Boys and girls will do well to look again at what this old prophet was saying. We long to see the United States a truly great nation. Then let us be strong in the Lord.

* * *

GOD HAS A STANDARD

READ chapter seven, verses 8-14, and 8:16-17, for some of the standards which God sets up for his people. "Execute true judgment, and show kindness and compassion every man to his brother. Oppress not the widow, the orphan, the foreigner, or the poor, and never plot evil in your hearts against one another."

Zechariah is here epitomizing the Ten Commandments and the Sermon on the Mount. All of which is to remind us today that we do not need new standards. We simply need to conform to God's eternal standards.

* * *

GOD IS TO BE SOUGHT UNTO

THE first eight chapters of Zechariah have to do with the essential qualities of life if the people are to rebuild the temple The last six chapters deal with the general standards of life which we must accept and strive to attain if we are to be well-pleasing unto him.

I like the phrase of the fathers. "God is to be sought unto." And how are we to come into the presence of the Lord? "He that hath clean hands, and a pure heart; who hath not lifted up his soul unto vanity, nor sworn deceitfully," Psalms 24:4.

It was not enough to rebuild the temple. God wanted his people to become living stones of integrity and fidelity in the city of God.

This we shall attain only as we seek first the Kingdom of God and his righteousness—constantly seek this daily walk with the Lord, in the light of his word.

"Righteousness exalteth a nation, but sin is a reproach to any people."

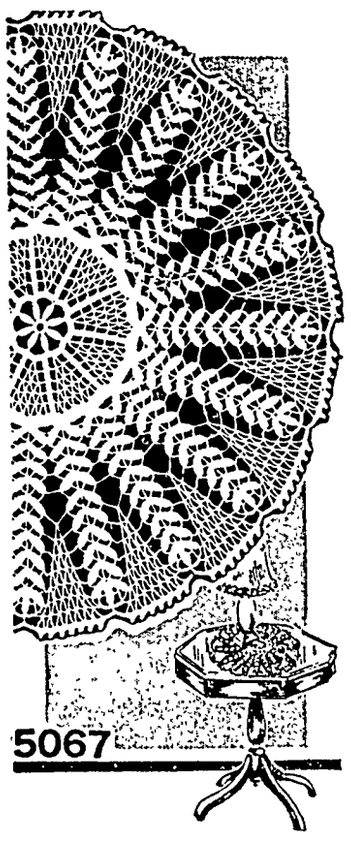
* * *

(Copyright by the International Council of Religious Education on behalf of 40 Protestant denominations. Released by WNU Features.)

By the Bible

If we abide by the principles taught in the Bible, our country will go on prospering and to prosper; but if we and our posterity neglect its instructions and authority, no man can tell how sudden a catastrophe may overwhelm us and bury all our glory in profound obscurity. —Daniel Webster.

The Fern Doily



YOU CAN bring all the delicate charm of the lovely fern leaf right into your home by making one or more of those handsome doilies for your best table. You will be thrilled to watch the fern fronds grow right out of very attractive nineteen-inch center piece while you crochet.

To obtain complete crocheting instructions for the Fern Doily (Pattern No. 5067) send 20 cents in coin, Your Name, Address and Pattern Number.

Due to an unusually large demand and current conditions, slightly more time is required in filling orders for a few of the most popular patterns.

Send your order to

SEWING CIRCLE NEEDLEWORK
530 South Wells St. Chicago 7, Ill.
Enclose 20 cents for Pattern.

No._____

Name_____

Address_____

COMMON SENSE.. proved thousands upon thousands of times! ALL-VEGETABLE LAXATIVE

● In NR (Nature's Remedy) Tablets, there are no chemicals, no minerals, no phenol derivatives. NR Tablets are different—act different. Purely vegetable—a combination of 10 vegetable ingredients formulated over 50 years ago. Uncoated or candy coated, their action is dependable, thorough, yet gentle, as millions of NR's have proved. Get a 25¢ box. Use as directed.

Nature's Remedy NR TO-NIGHT TOMORROW ALRIGHT

ALWAYS CARRY TUMS QUICK RELIEF FOR ACID INDIGESTION

SPRAY WITH Black Leaf 40

—Double-duty Insecticide: Kills by contact; kills by fumes. Destroys plant lice but spares beneficial insects. Insist on original factory-sealed containers to insure full strength.

One ounce plus soap makes 6 gallons of effective aphid-spray.

TOBACCO BY-PRODUCTS & CHEMICAL CORPORATION
Nicotine Specialists Since 1889
LOUISVILLE 2, KENTUCKY

LOOK FOR THE LEAF ON THE PACKAGE

SPEEDED-UP COMFORT for so-called KIDNEY SUFFERERS

Backaches, leg pains, broken sleep, painful passages usually go so much quicker if you switch to Foley (the new kidney-bladder) Pills. They stimulate sluggish kidneys, then ALLAY BLADDER IRRITATION. That's the cause of most pains, aches, urges once thought entirely due to kidneys. So for quicker, longer-lasting relief, soothe bladder as well as stimulate kidney action. Do this: use Foley (the new kidney-bladder) Pills; they also have direct sedative-like action on bladder At your druggist. Unless you find them far more satisfactory, DOUBLE YOUR MONEY BACK

You Can Be a Partner
Buy U. S. Savings Bonds!

FOR YOUR RECIPE FILE

RICE KRISPIES MARSHMALLOW SQUARES!

SO GOOD! SO EASY! SO THRIFTY!

¼ cup butter or margarine
½ lb. marshmallows (about 2½ doz.)
½ teaspoon vanilla
1 pkg. Kellogg's Rice Krispies (5½ oz.)

Kellogg's RICE KRISPIES

Heat butter or margarine and marshmallows over water until syrupy. Beat in vanilla. Put Rice Krispies in greased bowl and pour mixture on top. Mix well. Press into 9 x 13 greased shallow tin. Cut into 2¼" squares when cool. Yield: 24 delicious Rice Krispies Marshmallow Squares. Everyone will love them!

COPYRIGHT 1948, BY KELLOGG CO.

IS IT HARD FOR YOU TO CUT DOWN SMOKING?

Then change to SANO, the safer cigarette with

51.6%* LESS NICOTINE

Not a Substitute—Not Medicated

Sano's scientific process cuts nicotine content to half that of ordinary cigarettes. Yet skillful blending makes every puff a pleasure.

FLEMING-HALL TOBACCO CO., INC., N. Y.
Average based on continuing tests of popular brands*

ASK YOUR DOCTOR ABOUT SANO CIGARETTES

I LIKE MY OWN RECIPES

SWEDISH LIMPA

2 pkgs. Red Star Dry Yeast
½ cup warm water (100 -110 F.)
1 cup milk
2 teaspoons caraway seed (optional)
1 tablespoon salt
¼ cup brown sugar
½ cup water
3 cups rye flour, loosely packed
2 tablespoons melted shortening
3½ cups sifted all-purpose flour

Add 2 pkgs. Red Star Dry Yeast to ½ cup warm water. Let stand. Scald milk. Add caraway seed, salt, brown sugar and water Cool to lukewarm. Stir yeast solution and add to warm milk mixture. Add rye flour and beat well. Stir in shortening. Add all-purpose flour to make a stiff dough. Turn onto floured board and knead 5 minutes. Place dough in lightly greased bowl, Cover and let rise until double in bulk, about 45 minutes. Divide dough into two equal portions. Shape into loaves. Place in greased loaf pans. Cover. Let rise until light, about 45 minutes. Bake in moderately hot oven (375° F.) 50 minutes. Makes 2 loaves.

ANY RECIPE IS A RED STAR DRY YEAST RECIPE
IS RED STAR AS FAST AS OTHER YEASTS?
IT'S FASTER... BEST OF ALL RED STAR KEEPS FOR MONTHS ON THE PANTRY SHELF
Red Star
QUICK RISING
Dry Yeast
QUICKER EASIER FOR EATING FOR BAKING

RED STAR DRY YEAST

HANCOCK COUNTY BOARD PROCEEDINGS

1ST ADJOURNED APRIL MEETING

Garner, Iowa
April 12, 1948

The Hancock County, Iowa, Board of Supervisors met in session on above captioned date pursuant to adjournment with Supervisor John Chambers, F. J. Schoun and George Th. Gerdes present.

The minutes of the 14th adjourned January meeting and of the last meeting were read and approved as read.

On motion and second the hearing on a highway between sections 21 and 28 in Garfield Township, Hancock County, Iowa, petitioned for by Edward Formanek, ea al is hereby continued to May 10th A. D., 1948 at 12 o'clock noon.

Supervisor Chambers is appointed a committee to investigate and cause repairs to be made in D. D. No. 116.

Supervisor Gerdes is appointed a committee to investigate and cause repairs to be made in D. D. No. 146, D. D. No. 46-3, L. 70; and D. D. No. 1 and 2.

Supervisor Schoun is appointed a committee to investigate and cause repairs to be made in D. D. No. 7, L. 49 and 50 and D. D. No. 7.

On motion and second the Board adjourned to april 19th A. D. 1948 at 9 00 A. M.

ATTEST:

MAYNARD SCHONEMAN,
County Auditor
JOHN CHAMBERS
Chairman

Mr. and Mrs. Eldon Hagen were guests Sunday at Mrs. Clara Barz home.

GARNER CLINIC
GARNER, IOWA

Dr. E. M. Christensen, M.D.
Physician & Surgeon, Ph. 18
EYES TESTED — GLASSES FITTED

Dr. A. G. Landon, D.D.S.
Dentist, Ph. 207

KLEMME LOCAL NEWS

Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Kropp of Goodell visited at the Emil Beier home Sunday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Emil Patet were dinner guests Sunday at the Will Gast home in Garner.

Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Mutch of Grundy Center spent Monday night at the Dr. A. H. Dulmes home.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Ott of Clear Lake were visiting Mrs. Elwood Geary at the Mercy hospital Tuesday evening.

Mr. nd Mrs. Harry Leith went to Fort Dodge and Manson on Tuesday to visit over the week end.

Mrs. Marvin Isvik and daughters visited Saturday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Stokesbary at Amboy, Minn.

Mr. and Mrs Lloyd Lau and Cozette were Sunday evening dinner guests at the Art Boehnke home at Ventura.

Drs. Marinus and Lannon of Mason City and Dr Dulmes of Klemme attended a State Medical meeting at Des Moins Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. John Chambers and Mr. and Mrs. Roy Arnold and Bill drove to Ruthven Sunday to attend church. They were dinner guests at the home of Rev. and Mrs. Potter.

New Things - -

Transfers for furniture, cabinets, walls, Beds, Toys, etc. Large Selection

Decals

Large Sets ---------- 29c
Small Sets ---------- 10c

Now You Can Make Sundaes At Home
YOUR CHOICE
6 oz. jar
SUNDAETTES
Strawberry, Pineapple, Cherry, Chocolate Butterscotch, Walnuts in syrup

The Corner Store

R. A. Jorgenson, Jr., Prop. Phone 10

KLEMME LOCAL NEWS

Rev. and Mrs. Earl E. Josten and son Robert E. of Des Moines came Tuesday to visit Mr. Josten's father, John Josten.

W. F. Pavey spent Sunday at Waterloo visiting with his uncle, Dr. Ridenour, who is ill with pneumonia.

Mrs. Paul Lau and new baby daughter returned home from the Mercy hospital on Tuesday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. John Schwichtenberg and Mrs. Dave Schwichtenberg were dinner guests Sunday at the Will Kraus home in Garner.

Mrs. Conrad Quandt is gradually improving from her illness and was able to be out doors Sunday afternoon for a few hours.

Mrs. Wallie Geary of Fonda came Tuesday afternoon to visit her son and daughter-in-law and to see her new grandson, Eldon Elwood.

Rev. and Mrs. H. E. Harvey and Mrs. R. A. Jorgenson, Sr. were at Britt Thursday afternoon to attend a Methodist District meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Kluckhohn enjoyed a visit the past week from her brother, Homer Butcher and wife of Unionville, Michigan.

Mr. and Mrs. John Etchen left last Thursday for Detriot, Michigan to spend 10 days visiting their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Radics, Jr.

Dan Green came to Klemme Monday from a trip to Texas where he visited for some time with his brother in southeast Texas. Dan liked it there and expects to return to Texas.

Miss Minnie Lenz and Mrs. Martha Ridder returned home about a week ago from Florida where they visited for a couple of months.

Kay Keraus of Garner spent the week end visiting with her grandparents Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Keraus while her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Verle Keraus were in Minneapolis visiting Larry Wicks.

Thursday evening. Mr and Mrs. Fred Kluckhohn entertained to dinner Mr. and Mrs. Homer Butcher of Unionville, Michigan; Mr. and Mrs. Carold Larson and two sons and Frank Kluckhohn and son, Franklin.

We specialize in printing Wedding Announcements.

KLEMME LOCAL NEWS

Miss Novella Bredbenner spent the week end in Klemme visiting with her mother, Mrs. Martha Bredbenner.

Mickey Keraus of Garner visited over the week end with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Buntenbach.

Mrs. Mildred Day went to Mason City Friday and brought her grandson, Gary Day, home with her for the week end.

Mr. and Mrs. Dorance Day and son, Gary, were gusets at the Mrs. Mildred Day home Sunday.

Dean Rasmus returned home Sunday from the Lutheran hospital at Hampton where he underwent an appendix operation. Dean is now getting along fine.

Mrs. Russell Hansen, Mrs. Edd Schoenwetter and Elwood Geary were visiting Mrs. Geary and son, Eldon Elwood, at the Mercy hospital Friday afternoon.

Miss Velma Tiggeman of Forest City visited over the week end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Tiggeman.

Sunday the members of the local Evangelical and Reformed Church will vote on the proposed merger with the Congregational-Christian Church.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Kluckhohn observed their 37th wedding anniversary on Monday, April 12th. Mr. and Mrs. Carold Larson took them to a show and treated them afterwards.

Mrs. Harry Adams returned to her home at Missouri Valley Friday after spending about 2 weeks with her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Patterson.

The Women's Guild Regional meeting of North East Iowa will be held at the Evangelical and Reformed Church Thursday, for a one day session. The local ladies will serve dinner to all delegates and visitors.

Advertise with a Times want ad.

KLEMME LOCAL NEWS

Mrs. Lena Helps returned home Friday from several days visit with her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Pringnitz and family who live northeast of Garner on a farm they purchased.

The Larson Highway Service west of town has improved their place of business with a new type hoist. Carold now has two hoists in his garage which helps speed up the work at his place of business.

Mr. and Mrs. Emil Patet returned home Saturday from their winter's stay at Tampa, Florida. Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Fuss, who lived in the Patet home during the winter, are now living in the apartment over the post office.

Quality Of Cream Is Improving Greatly Throughout County

A report by Nick Venechuk, county fieldman, states that there has been steady improvement in the quality of cream coming into our creameries, and that he is well pleased in the way the farmers are cooperating and are trying their best to improve their cream.

Here are some interesting things they are doing: installing new cooling tanks, straining their milk, cream and water when showing signs of rust, washing all equipment twice a day, washing their cans that go to the creamery with hot water and wetting agent, using a regular milk bottle brush to wash it with, and keeping cream covered at all times and cooling immediately after separating, and before mixing with other cream.

Mr. Venechuk also states that there has been very little cream that has been rejected so far.

Painless Childbirth without drugs? See "My Baby Was Born Under Hypnosis" in The American Weekly, the magazine of true-life stories distributed with Sunday's CHICAGO HERALD-AMERICAN.

IOWA MAY GET TALLEST MAN-MADE STRUCTURE

There is a difinite possibility that Iowa may, in the next few years, claim the tallest man-made structure in the world.

The structure will be a 1,530-foot radio tower for Station KRNT in Des Moines. A stratospheric undertaking in engineering skill, the tower would top the Empire State Building in New York City, reputedly the world's highest building, by 282 feet, and would dwarf the Eiffel Tower in Paris, France. The Empire State Building is 1,248 feet high and the Eiffel Tower reaches 984 feet.

Evangelical & Reformed Church

Calvin Grosshuesch, Pastor

SUNDAY

10:00 A. M. Morning Worship.
11:00 A. M. Sunday School.
7:00 P. M. Young People's Bible Class.

THURSDAY

10:00 A. M. Regional Guild meeting.
2:00 P. M. Afternoon Session.

FRIDAY

8:00 P. M. Choir.

Read it first in The

PHOTOGRAPHS
•
Live
Forever
•
RUSSELL
Photo Studio
Next to J. C. Penney
Ph. 2272 Mason City

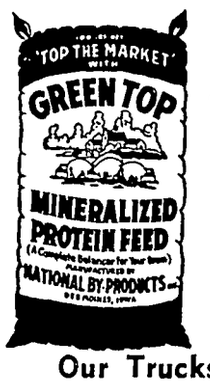
No Meal

Due to the illness of Quandt we will discontinue serving meals for the present, but will continue lunches and other service

TOBACCOS
ICE CREAM
CIGARETTES
CANDY BARS

Thank You
QUANDT'S CAFE
Mr. and Mrs. Conrad Quandt

DEAD STOCK
PROMPTLY REMOVED



Britt Rendering Co.
Dept. of Agr. Lic. No. 22
WE PAY PHONE CHARGE
KLEMME Phone 700
GARNER Phone 4000
Our Trucks Are Steam Cleaned After Each Load
TANKAGE AND MINERALIZED FEED FOR SALE AT OUR PLANT

Charter No. 6659 — Reserve District No. 7

Report Of Condition Of

First National Bank

Of Klemme

in the State of Iowa, at the close of business on April 12th, 1948. Published in response to call made by Comptroller of the Currency, under Section 5211, U. S. Revised Statutes.

ASSETS

Cash, balances with other banks, including reserve balance, and cash items in process of collection	602,279.20
United States Government obligations, direct and guaranteed	1,233,269.08
Obligaions of States and political subdivisions	11,194.62
Corporate stocks (including $2,100.00 stock of Federal Reserve bank)	2,100.00
Loans and discounts (including $2,514 85 overdrafts)	159,527.95
Bank premises owned $5,000, furniture and fixtures $1,500.	6,500.00
Other assets	4,381.28
TOTAL ASSETS	$ 2,019,252.13

LIABILITIES

Demand deposits of individuals, partnerships, and corporations	1,352,852.20
Time deposits of individuals, partnerships, and corporations	414,078.88
Deposits of United States Government (including postal savings	359.55
Deposits of States and political subdivisions	159,059.10
Other deposits (certified and cashier's checks, etc.)
TOTAL DEPOSITS $1,926,349.73
Other liabilities	.20
TOTAL LIABILITIES	$ 1,926,349.93

CAPITAL ACCOUNTS

Capital Stock: Common stock, total par $35,000.00	35,000.00
Surplus	35,000.00
Undivided profits	22,902.20
TOTAL CAPITAL ACCOUNTS	92,902.20
TOTAL LIABILITIES and CAPITAL ACCOUNTS	$ 2,019,252.13

State of Iowa, County of Hancock, ss:

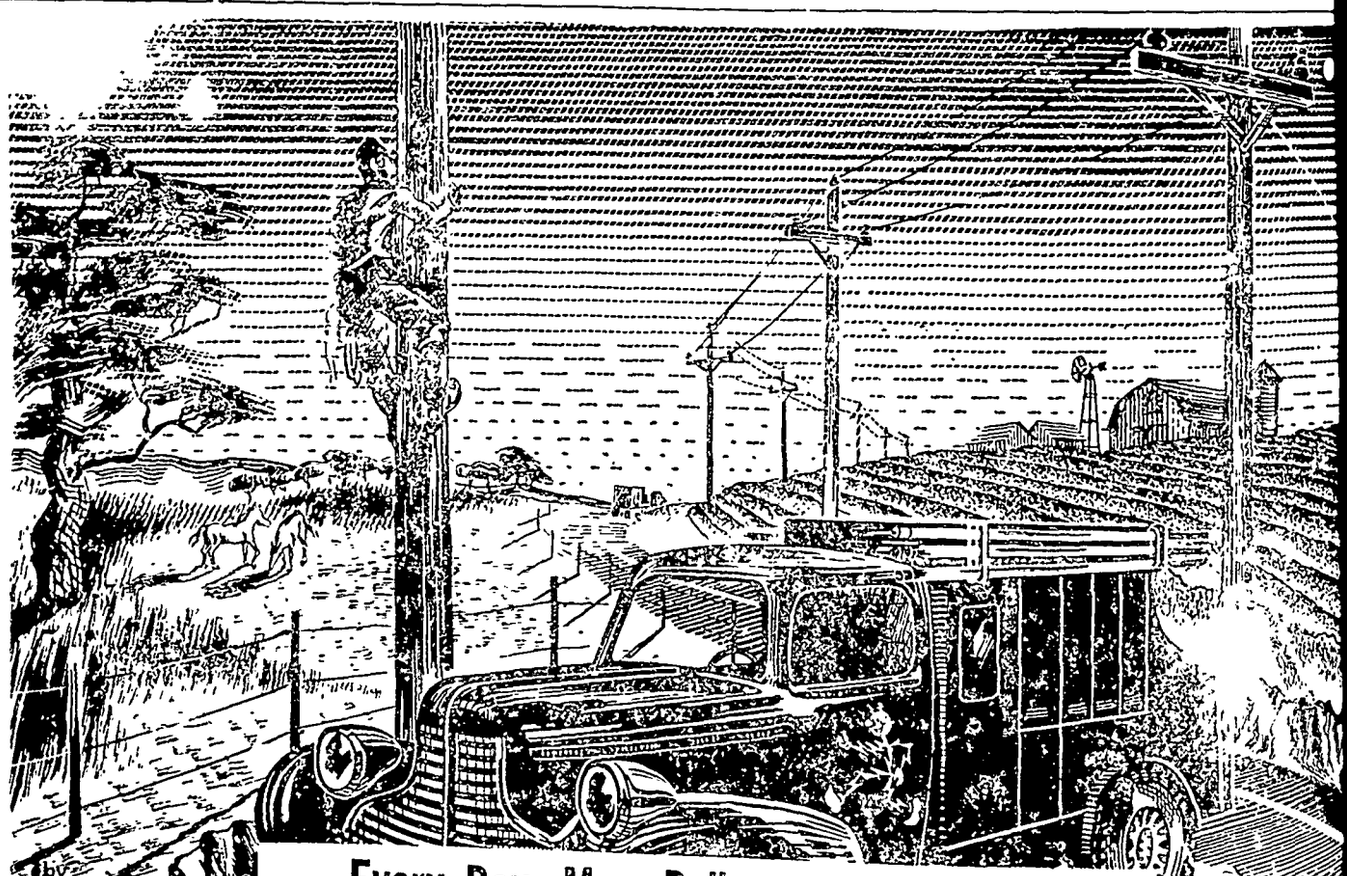
I, C. G. Waterman, cashier of the above named bank, do solemnly swear that the above statement is true to the best of my knowledge and belief.

C. G. WATERMAN Cashier.

Sworn to and subscribed before me this 17th day of April, 1948.

(SEAL) FRED J. ARNOLD Notary Public.

Correct—Attest: W. H. Greimann, F. A. Arnold, A. J. Kudje, Directors



Every Day, Men, Dollars and Equipment Go to Work Along the Line to Bring You Better Service

EVERY year is a busy one for your electric company. We're keeping busy building miles of new transmission lines. New generating equipment is being installed to help us catch up with ever increasing demands for electricity. That means more men, dollars and equipment going to work for you.

Because of continued critical shortages in materials and equipment and in skilled manpower, both the human and physical resources of your electric company have been severely taxed. We've made a strenuous effort to take care of your demands, which have almost doubled in the past 7 years. Some of the new equipment needed has been on order for several years. Manufacturers' deliveries are slow because of 'hard-to-get' materials.

In some instances shortages have kept us from rendering the kind of 'top-notch' service which is continually our objective. We appreciate your patience, understanding and cooperation. Please be assured that we are doing everything in our power to measure up to our responsibilities in the future.

CENTRAL STATES ELECTRIC COMPANY

"The Low Rate Company"

CIAL
NTY
ER

THE KLEMME TIMES

me 53. KLEMME, IOWA, APRIL 28, 1948 Number 24.

cMillin Reports On Tax Collections In County

TAXES NOT ALL COLL-CTED FROM PROPERTY

ested Exemption, Gasoline Soldiers' Exeption, Help ay Cost of Gov. Here

ncock County, like all the s, have been doing their e in paying the cost of ty Government. Total Tax-anded the County Treasur-r 1947 have increased $117,-9 over 1946, making a total e collected for the year of 423.78. To date our figures that 60 percent of this unt has been paid.

mestead Exemptions are a help, paying the tax on all erty where a home is tained. Even the heirs liv-on a property are given the fit of this fund.

e check for Homestead Ex-tion this year has increased 39,277.90 to be apportioned ng the above taxpayers. 25 s on $2500.00, or $62.50, is highest amount allowed any property.

nother item this year that not been returned before is Soldiers' Exemption. This the state will return an unt of $9,868.06. This amount pportioned back to each tax-district. World War 1 ex-tions are allowed on $750.00 le World War II are given mptions on $500.00. Both r Homestead and Soldier's mptions are growing con-rtly, by the way, as GI's ac-re property on which both these exemptions apply.

he Real Estate Boom shows on tax records, too, as more ple acquire homes of their n and Homesteads increase.

Most of the State Funds come m the three point tax, Sales x, Income Tax and Liquor x collection are returned to h county as their share of s fund.

Gasoline Tax is another item t goes in to the Road Con-uction account and checks for s during the year 1947 amount $120,196.67.

Drainage has been a large m in collection this spring. e first three months our col-tions were $75,529.02.

Cost of operation in the hools is one of the items ich go to increase the tax in e county and we have just illed the schools their orders the first quarter in the ount of $316,904.04.

Corporation orders mailed to e towns of the county for e first quarter amounted to $,261.11.

On our payment of taxes for e first quarter of 1947 we find ere are four levies which have t appeared before and they e as follows:

Collections First Quarter

ounty Assessor,	.738	$10,786.23
o. Board of Educ.,	.482	7,044.67
ounty Hospital	.410	5,992.36
ond Interest	.062	906.17

Costs of all types of govern-ental functions increase right long with the families cost of ving. That is one reason all f the tax bills are larger each ear.

—Roy L. McMillin

Liberty Go-Getters Met At Zrostlik's

The Liberty Go-Getters held heir meeting at the Francis and erry Zrostlik home Thursday, pril 15 with 9 members pres-nt, 3 new members and 5 visit-rs. Moving pictures on the im-roved and advance designs of ires were shown by Frank rostlik. The township Farm Bureau program was also dis-ussed. Clarence Brcka, Duane rohaska, Norman Stromer and Paul Zrostlik were appointed on a committee to plan this pro-ram. The next meeting is to e held at Paul Zrostlik's.

HAWKEYE PRESS CLUB ENTERTAINED BY GLOBE GAZETTE

Over Sixty Members Given Banquet At The Cerro Gordo Hotel

Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Jorgenson were among some sixty members of the Hawkeye Press Club who were entertained by the Mason City Globe Gazette at a banquet at the Cerro Gordo Hotel Saturday evening and later visited the Globe Gazette plant to see the new $14,000 linotype machine recently installed. The new machine was demonstrated to club members.

During the visit at the plant a picture taken at the banquet was developed and processed for a newspaper cut. A page was made up, a mat rolled and a sterotype made which was buckled on the press and a special edition of the Globe Gazette was turned out telling all about the Hawkeye Press club and a write-up of each member.

There was plenty of "razzing" on this special page which this writer had been invited to write up. But the Clobe-Gazette force had fixed up a special deal to get it back on us and when the Special Edition rolled off the press pictures of seven ex-presidents appeared on the bottom of the page. The pay-off was that instead of using a picture of the Editor of the Klemme Times, the picture of "Hobo Benson" was labeled "R. A. "Jergie" Jorgenson" 2nd president.

"Hobo Benson" will no doubt sue Earl Hall and the Globe Gazette for gross misrepresentation!

A copy of the Special Edition may be seen at the Times Office.

HERE'S ONE FOR RIPLEY

You can believe it or not but on April 9th the Klemme Locker Plant killed and processed a hog that weighed 930 pounds when alive and dressed out 670 pounds. And that's a lot of pork chops!

Dressed out the various parts weighed as follows.

Head	68 lbs.
2 Shoulders	150 lbs.
Full Loins	316 lbs.
Hams	136 lbs.
Total	670 lbs.

In addition to the above, the hide weighed 85 lbs. It all goes to prove that corn fed hogs do get big. This was the largest hog that butcher Martin Barz had ever killed.

HELLO, FOLKS!

Mr. and Mrs. James Fredin of Fort Dodge are the proud parents of a baby girl, weight 7 lbs. 12¼ oz. born at the Lutheran hospital in Fort Dodge on Wednesday, April 21, 1948. She has been named Carolyn Kay.

Mr. and Mrs. Clair West of Sioux City are the parents of a 9 lb. baby girl born Sunday, April 25 at the Methodist Hospital in Sioux City. The Wests now have a family of three girls and one boy,Peter, who is staying with his grandparens, Mr. and Mrs. Sumner Trumbell. Peter says girls are alright, but he is still going to be the "boss." That's what Peter thinks!

It takes a year to make a friend, but you can lose him in an hour.

FRIEDA SCHULDT TELLS OF TRIP IN CUBA

April 22, 1948

Dear Mrs. Jorgenson,

Knowing that you are interested in air travel I will try and give you a short account of my first long flight on an air cruise to Havana. Leaving Des Moines at 10:09 A. M. by Mid Continent Air Lines we arrived in St. Louis at 12:15 P. M. here we transferred to a four motored, fifty passenger Dixie Cruiser These giant planes cruise at 210 to 230 miles an hour at an altitude of 8,000 to10,000 feet. Many strange sights may be seen at this height. The landscape resembles a checker board of green yellow and gray with ribbons of gray and silver winding thru the forests and fields. The reflection sun is a silver ball floating thru the water and the streams are silver threads. The clouds in the distance resemble snow capped mountains and white caps on the sea.

We crossed the Gulf in a little over 3½ hours arriving in Havana at 10:56 P. M. eastern time. It takes a boat 2 days and 4 hours to cross the Gulf, a distance of 678 miles. Havana is a beautiful city with a million population. It seems like a "Tale out of the Arabian Nights" to float thru the air on a magic carpet, and in a few short hours arrive in this tropical land of Royal Palms and pineapple, sugar and coffee. The pineapple for breakfast were delicious with sugar. The fruit carts are passing thru the streets with pineapple, watermelon, bananas,, oranges, and fruits that are new to me.

The Vedado Hotel will be my home for five days and six nights. It is located in a beautiful residential section of the city just two blocks from the sea. This morning I took a stroll thru the beautiful grounds of the Hotel de Nacionale, a great resort place, built upon a high rock overlooking the sea.

This afternoon I went on a tour of the city. Thru the National Capitol, a beautiful building. It covers a ground surface of two city blocks, it was started in 1925 and completed in 1929 at a cost of over 16 million dollars. Havanas cemetery is one of the largest and one of the most beautiful in the world. This city has many beautiful buildings and all are made of stone or stucco. Tomorrow we'll go on a tour of the countryside where we will see ceffee and tobacco plantations. Today we visited a cigar factory where cigars are hand rolled, one man rolls 100 large size cigars in one day.

I shall now take a birds eye view of the city from the roof garden of this Vedado Hotel and watch the sun sinking into the blue waters of the Gulf. It sinks in a few minutes and darkness falls.

Sincerely,
Frieda Schuldt

SHOULD WE HAVE NEW STREET FLAGS?

The other day we were rummaging through some old checks and came upon a check dated July 7, 1924 made out to the American Legion for $4.50.

That means that our street flags are almost 24 years old. Some of the flags are getting a bit frayed and a bit faded. Let's give our grand old flags an honorable discharge and replace them with some new ones if it is possible to procure a complete set at this time.

The poles are still in good condition and can be used to fly new Stars and Stripes.

With our new street lighting system now being installed, the new flags would add a great deal to the appearance of our street on holidays when the flags are set out.

Cancer Fund

Additional this week: Mrs. Anna Ulrich $1.00.

School Calendar

April 30 -- Eighth Grade Exams.
May 7 -------- Grade Operetta
May 15 -- Junior-Senior Banquet
May 16 ---------- Baccaluarate
May 19 --- 8th Grade Exercises
May 20 ------- Commencement
May 21 ---------- Picnic

TOWN AND COUNTY MAKE READY FOR FLY CONTROL

"Goodbye Fly" will be Hancock County's greeting to the filthy insects that normally spread disease and discomfort through Iowa during the summer months.

Last year nearly half of the towns in the state and nearly three-fourths of the farms have practiced fly control of some sort. As a result, thousands of families enjoyed their first fly-free summer, and hundreds of stores and food handling establishments had increased cleanliness and more pleasant surroundings for their customers.

Hancock County's fly control campaign was one of the many which lead national magazines and radio commentators to observe "there are on flies in Iowa."

So successful was that campaign that Henderson said it is planned to repeat it again this year, using the slogan "Goodbye Fly." Already Britt, Garner, Crystal Lake, Woden, Corwith and Kanawha, have indicated that they plan to participate.

Rural areas will also cooperate again, according to County Extension Director Paul Henderson. These towns have committees appointed or are in the process of being appointed. The 1947 results showed that Britt, Garner, Woden, Crystal Lake, Corwith, and Kanawha, had organized programs, Klemme and Goodell business men did some spraying but didn't have an organized campaign.

The estimated amount of spraying done in Hancock County showed the following figures. Eight towns in the county participated and were sprayed, 7 commercial sprayers were trained in the county; 1,080 of the 1,964 farms were sprayed, and 30,000 head of cattle were sprayed.

ROY L. McMILLIN REPORTS ON POLIO FUND

Roy L. McMillin, Chairman for the Hancock County Polio Fund reports as follows:

Balance n hand in county as of Sept. 1947--	$1,343.31
Collections to Date for the 1948 quoto ------	2,851.84
	$4,195.15
Current expense and checks outstanding --	500.39
Balance on Hand ---- 	$3,694.56

Of these total collection for 1948 we send to the National Foundation for research and Permanent Fund one-half of the amount collected $1,425.92

Leaving a Net Balance on Hand of ---------- $2,268.64

We have borrowed from the National Foundation to care for and pay expense of local cases as follows:

12-7-45 ----------$	750.00
1-14-48 ----------	1,500.00
	$2,250.00

It is easy to see that we can not return the amount we owe and while the National Foundation has written us and asked that we pay some on the account as they have advanced to the States as a whole the amount of $3,181,113.67 and feel that each one should try to pay as they go.

We feel if we could return the first loan of $750.00 that perhaps we might get along. While our collection was good, yet so many did not reply. Our quoto of $5,000.00 was far from reached.

May we thank all who sent in their donations and hope more may see the good that this fund does.

HANCOCK COUNTY DENTAL HEALTH DAY CELEBRATION AT BRITT MAY 8TH

The Britt Rotary Club is sponsoring the biggest health show ever held in Hancock County. With the assistance of the Iowa State Health Department, the County Nurse, Harriett Oxley, tthe various dentists, the co-operation of the school teachers and parents of children, it is expected to entertain about two thousand people at Britt on Saturday, May 8th.

Plans are under way to welcome some 1500 children participants, their parents and the teachers as a climax to a campaign for better health and better dental care among the rural school and grade children of Hancock County.

This is the first year that a celebration of this kind has been attempted to honor the many children who have cooperated one hundred per cent in the dental program. A nice program is planned for them including a parade, awards for 100 percent rural schools and 100 percent grades, also a free picture show. Several marching bands will participate in the parade and a half hour band concert will be held in Liberty Memorial Park for the parents.

The Program

9:00 A. M. First Show. All participants of Britt and vicinity.

11:00 A. M. Parade.

12:00 noon. Family or group picnic. Free coffee and lemonade served.

1:00 P. M. Second Show. Participants outside Britt and vicinity.

1:30 to 3:00 Band Concert.

2:30 P. M. Third Show. Participants outside of Britt and vicinity.

Everyone is invited to attend the Hancock County Dental Health Day. Bring your picnic lunch. The parade alone will be a great attraction. Over 1000 children from Kindergarten and through the eighth grade will be in parade—banners, floats, and bands. Don't miss it.

Awards will be given by Miss Louise Q. Beyer, attorney, of Garner. Dr. Hoffman, dental director State Board of Health, will appear on the program.

MISS NOVELLA BREDBENNER NAMED ON ISTC HONOR ROLL

Novella D. Bredbenner of Klemme was named to the honor roll at the Iowa State Teachers College for the winter quarter, Dr. M. J. Nelson, dean of faculty, announced today.

A total of 207 students. 105 men and 102 women, out of an enrollment of 2700 were named to the honor roll for the winter quarter of the year.

To be eligible, students must cary 14 or more hours and maintain a grade point average of 3.33. Under the Teachers College system. an "A" is four points, a "B" three points, and a "C" two points.

KOERNER DAIRY SELLS BUSINESS TO KLEMME COOP. CREAMERY

Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Koerner are this week announcing that they have sold their dairy business to the Klemme Cooperative Creamery Co. who will take over May 1st. However, they are keeping their fine herd of dairy cattle and will sell their milk to the creamery.

Mr. and Mrs. Koerner have operated the dairy for about the past twenty years.

A few years ago the Creamery purchased the Elder Dairy which also operated in Klemme. Thus the two former dairies are now consolidated and operated by the Creamery.

An average woman's vocabulary is said to be about 500 words. Small inventory, but think of the turnover.

Klemme Church Entertained Regional Guild Meeting

MISS RUTH BELL SPRING BRIDE IN CANDLELIGHT CEREMONY APRIL 21

Became Bride Of Junior Pringnitz At The Evangelical And Reformed Church

The Klemme Evangelical and Reformed Church was the setting for a very pretty candlelight wedding Wednesday afternoon, April 21st, 1948. Baskets of snap dragons were used for the floral decorations.

Miss Iris Rosendahl played the wedding marches on the organ and "I Love You Truly." Miss Elizabeth Goll sang, "Because," and "The Lord,s Prayer," accompanied by Miss Rosendahl at the organ.

In this beautiful setting Miss Ruth Bell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Bell of Klemme, became the bride of Junior Pringnitz, son of Mr. and Mrs. Emil Pringnitz of Kanawha. Rev. Calvin Grosshuesch united the couple in Holy bonds of matrimony using the double ring ceremony. The couple was attended by Mrs. Lloyd Gordan, sister of the bride, and Ronald Pringnitz, brother of the Groom. Ushers were Aaron Wille and Ben Nieman, Jr.

The bride wore a street length white crepe dress and carried a bouquet of roses and sweet peas. Mrs. Gordon wore a dress of dusty pink and her bouquet was also of roses and sweet peas. The Bride's mother wore a Navy blue sheer dress and the Groom's mother wore a crepe print dress. Both had corsages of red roses.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the Social Room of the Church where some 65 relatives and friends were seated and lunch served. A decorated wedding cake served as the center-piece on the Bride's table.

The newly weds left the same day by car on a honeymoon trip to Kentucky where they plan to spend about a week. They will be at home in the Bell house in northeast Klemme after May 1st.

The bride is a graduate of the class of 1946 of the Klemme high school and has been employed in clerical work at Mason City.

The groom has been assisting his father with work on the farm southwest of Klemme and will continue in that occupation.

TWIN LAKE TEACHERS AND PUPILS ENJOYED PICNIC

Mrs. Quentin Stille and her pupils of Twin Lake No. 1 and Gladys Eliason and her pupils of Twin Lake No. 6, all went to Lake Cornelia Friday afternoon to enjoy a picnic and to roller skate. All had a fine time.

DONNA HEVILIN HONORED AT BIRTHDAY DINNER

Miss Donna Hevilin celebrated her 17th birthday anniversary on Tuesday, April 27th and in honor of the event her mother, Mrs. Stewart Hevilin invited a number of relatives for the afternoon and had a birthday dinner for Donna in the evening. Donna received a number of nice gifts.

W. S. C. S. Will Meet May 6th

The W. S. C. S. of the Methodist Church will meet Thursday, May 6th with Mrs. George Schoenwetter as leader of the Worship Service and Mrs. Jennings Anderson as leader of the program. The hostesses are Mrs. Wesley Patterson, Mrs. M. L. Harson and Mrs. Merlin Neuberger.

NORTHEAST IOWA REGIONAL WOMEN'S GUILD MET THURSDAY

The seventh annual meeting of the Northeast Iowa Regional Women's Guild met at the Klemme Evangelical and Reformed Church on Thursday, April 22. Despite the rainy weather there were 240 people present, the largest number ever to attend a regional guild meeting.

Registration was started at 9:30, followed by a worship service conducted by Mrs. W. J. Becker of Geneva, Synodical Spiritual Life Chairman and a solo, "Bless This House" by Mrs. John Krimeyer of Geneva. She was accompanied by Mrs. Wm. Reinhart.

Mrs. Martin Barz, president of the local Guild gave the welcome address. Mrs. Geo. Seeman of Grundy Center gave the response. An interesting presentation on Literature, "Between the Book Ends" by the ladies of Ackley, which was followed by the hymn, "O, Master of the Waking World."

Reports by the regional department chairman were given by Mrs. Theo. Hezog of Baxter, Mrs. C. M. Johannsen of Marshalltown; Mrs. Albert Mueller of Manly; Mrs. August Josten of Klemme; Mrs. Frank Kroll of Ackley; Mrs. Arthur Meyer of Elkader; Mrs. Claude Wesp of Fredericksburg; Mrs. Robert Fauth of Tripoli; Mrs. W. J. Becker of Geneva.

A prayer was given by Rev. Calvin Grosshuesch after which we were dismissed for dinner. The dinner was in charge of Mrs. Marvin Barz and Mrs. Ewald Josten.

The afternoon worship service was conducted by Mrs Arthur Meyer of Elkader, the regional Spiritual life chairman. An inspiritional address was given by Rev. Lee Rockwill of Chicago. "The Care and Rehabilation of Under Privileged Children" The offering of the day, $114.00 was given for the support of his work.

A very interesting report of the summer conference at Crete was given by Mrs. W. J. Becker assisted by Mrs. John Kreimeyer. Followed by a solo "The Lord's Prayer" by Allen Barz accompanied by Iris Rosendahl.

The newly elected officers were installed by Rev. Grosshuesch, who also spoke the closing prayer. After the meeting lunch was served.

Mrs. Naska Bock, Mrs. Fred Becker and Mrs. Irving Haupt were in charge of the Registration. Mrs. Edwin Thiemann, Mrs. Lynford Back, Mrs. Ronald Barz, and Mrs. Milvern Barz were the tellers. Mrs. Harvey Barz and Mrs. Glen Terhufen had charge of the decorations. Mrs. Laurice Lemke had charge of the dinning room.

Grade School To Present Operetta May 7th

The grade school operetta, "On Midsummers Day" will be given Friday, May 7th, at 8:00 p. m. The operetta will include all children in kindergarten through eighth grade. The grade school children have worked hard to make this operetta a success so don't miss seeing it. Mrs. W. E. Patterson is helping the grade faculty get ready for the program.

Was On Crutches

Mrs. Vivian Mace was on crutches a few days the past week due to a fall when she sprained her ankle. She is able to get around quite well again at this time.

CROSS TOWN
By Roland Coe

"I didn't like it—you wouldn't want me t' go t' school in a town that doesn't even have a juke box, would you?"

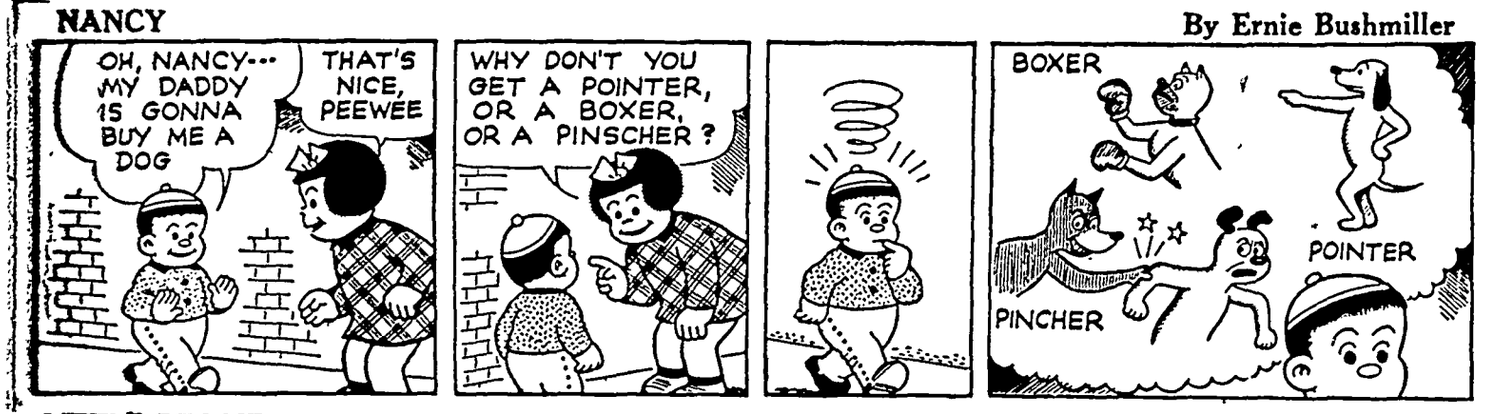
4516

BOBBY SOX
By Marty Links

"But, Bobby, we can't send out printed announcements everytime you become engaged!"

NANCY

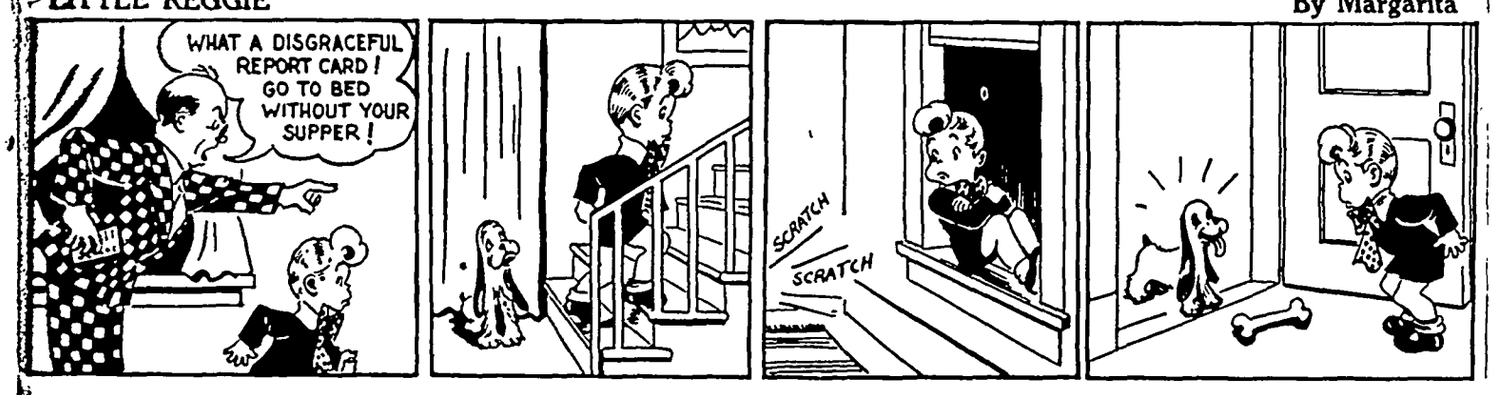
By Ernie Bushmiller



OH, NANCY--- MY DADDY IS GONNA BUY ME A DOG
THAT'S NICE, PEEWEE
WHY DON'T YOU GET A POINTER, OR A BOXER, OR A PINSCHER ?
BOXER
POINTER
PINCHER

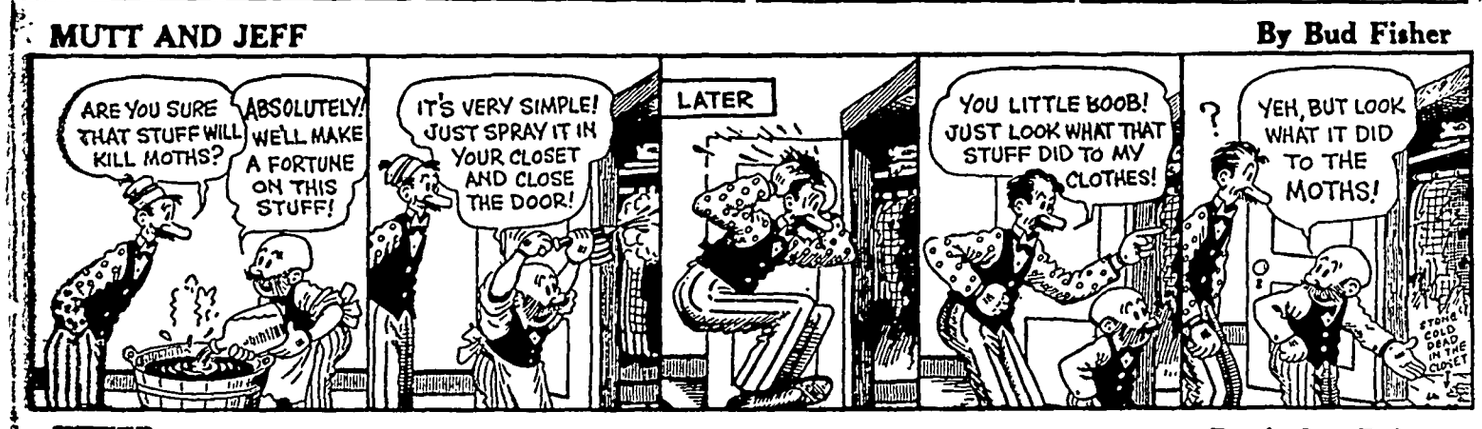
LITTLE REGGIE

By Margarita



MUTT AND JEFF

By Bud Fisher



ARE YOU SURE THAT STUFF WILL KILL MOTHS?
ABSOLUTELY! WE'LL MAKE A FORTUNE ON THIS STUFF!
IT'S VERY SIMPLE! JUST SPRAY IT IN YOUR CLOSET AND CLOSE THE DOOR!
LATER
YOU LITTLE BOOB! JUST LOOK WHAT THAT STUFF DID TO MY CLOTHES!
YEH, BUT LOOK WHAT IT DID TO THE MOTHS!
STONE COLD DEAD IN THE CLOSET

JITTER

By Arthur Pointer

IS THAT YOUR PET MONKEY?
YOU BET, AND IS HE SMART!
EVERY AFTERNOON HE PADDLES OUT TO A FISHING HOLE HE LOCATED AND BRINGS BACK A BIG MESS OF FISH.
HMMM
THAT'S AMAZING! DO YOU BUY HIM A FISHING LICENSE?
A FISHING LICENSE FOR A MONKEY?...THAT'S RICH! WHAT ARE YOU, A HUMORIST?
NOPE, A GAME WARDEN!

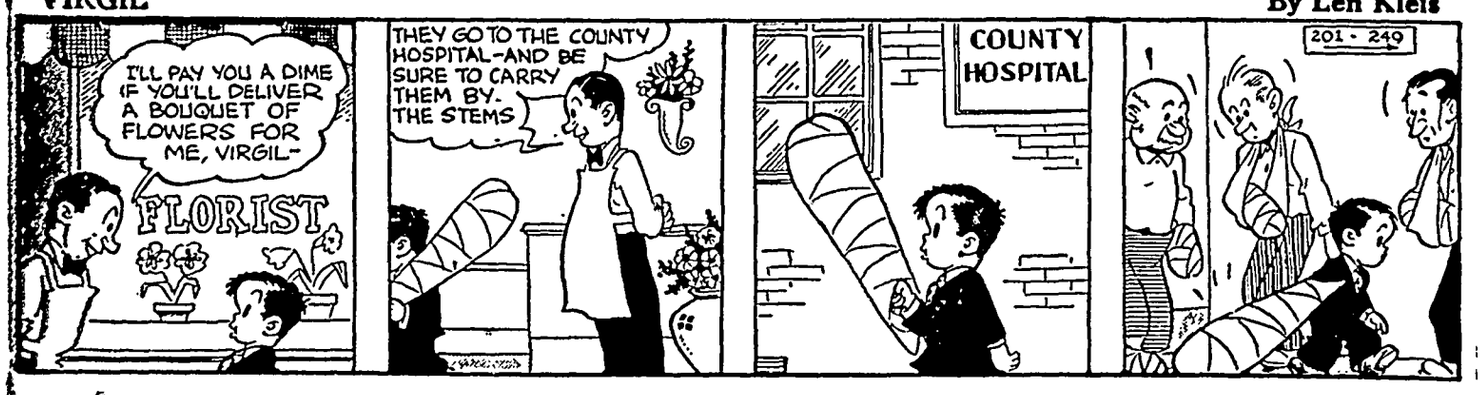
REG'LAR FELLERS

By Gene Byrnes

THAT'S TH' KIND OF CLOTHES THEY WORE IN TH' OLE DAYS -- MADE OUTA IRON AN SHEET STEEL!
WOW!
THAT'S OKAY FOR DAYTIME - - BUT KIN YOU IMAGINE WHAT TH' PAJAMAS WAS LIKE?
THAT AIN'T TH' WORST, BUTCH!
-THINK OF CAST IRON AN' STEEL BATHIN' SUITS!
CLUB!
MUSEUM OF ANCIENT HISTORY

VIRGIL

By Len Kleis



I'LL PAY YOU A DIME IF YOU'LL DELIVER A BOUQUET OF FLOWERS FOR ME, VIRGIL-FLORIST
THEY GO TO THE COUNTY HOSPITAL-AND BE SURE TO CARRY THEM BY THE STEMS COUNTY HOSPITAL
201 - 249

SILENT SAM

By Jeff Hayes

SPECIAL DELIVERY

Mr. James Caesar Petrillo,
Dear Jabez:—

Next to a daffodil poking its head outside my window, your recent announcement that you have made peace with radio is the most welcome event, but you will pardon me for looking for a catch in it. For some time I will keep fearing an explanation from you that it was all a mistake due to reading spring poetry or seeing a lambkin gambol on a green somewhere.

— * —

It could even be that, being a great judge of news values, you realized that any man taking a peaceful step anywhere today would be a global standout. You could even get the Nobel peace prize, who can tell? But, of course, your announcement has left the public reeling around the room expecting any minute to hear that John L. Lewis has quit the coal miners to play Little Eva in a Tom show and that Marshal Tito has resigned to raise pigeons.

— * —

Right in plain type it says that you have come out for an agreement with radio for three years, dropping all your recent demands, giving the stations the green light and that (excuse me while I see if my head is on straight) you "fully recognize the development stage of television and wish to help it grow."

— * —

I read it again, thinking maybe the word was "blow" or "go" instead of "grow." But there is no mistaking the word. You, James Caesar Petrillo, co-operating with radio! (Just a minute while I take some spirits of ammonia.) Well, Jimmy, I never have been knocked so groggy since Hitler decided he had been shooting the wrong people and Gargantua started playing with old tire shoes.

— * —

You wouldn't be holding a bass viol behind you with one hand while you offer the olive branch with the other would you, James?

— * —

No? So you are on the level! Okay, it comes as a great relief because I have not been able to enjoy radio music for years. When it was good I was afraid you would step in and interrupt it. When it was bad I was afraid you would not.

— * —

However, peace is peace and a little of it around somewhere should be deeply appreciated, so good wishes to all concerned and don't say it was something you ate.

Sincerely,
Elmer.

* * *

SPRING PROTEST

I like commuters,
But my ardor cools
When they take my seat
For their garden tools.

* * *

Double Talk

"You are certainly a good sport and I am deeply touched. This is still America and you are doing your part to keep it so."—From a letter from Henry Wallace to Secretary of Commerce Averell Harriman.

— * —

"The departure from the cabinet of Messrs. Royall, Forrestal and Harriman would be welcome evidence that the President means what he says when he speaks of civil liberties."—Henry Wallace in a speech a few days later.

* * *

Vanishing Americanisms

I'll take the 50 cent lunch."

— * —

"The management invites complaints of incivility."

— * —

"Make my martini light."

— * —

"After you get a car, the cost of operation is cheap."

— * —

"Waiter, a porterhouse steak for four!"

* * *

"What Russia has done is to establish reforms constituting achievements which can only be dreamed of by democracies which, at close examination, have the color of a sick man."—Gromyko.

— * —

The delicatessen men have a name for it.

* * *

General MacArthur announces he is willing to run for the presidency. He is so familiar with the Japanese custom of sitting on the floor that he will be nearer his hat than the others.

* * *

Flash from New Haven: Six taxicabs drew up in front of Yale bowl today and Herman Hickman got out!

* * *

"I shall not accept the support of any individual or group advocating the violent overthrow of the government of the United States."—Henry Wallace.

— * —

Wanna bet?

* * *

It's a wise man who knows enough never to criticize his wife's hat.

THERE are more shattered dreams, dislocated hopes and tragedies in a training camp than non-combatants could ever guess.

This is no sob story—no crying match. It is a true story affecting the future lives and hopes of many very fine young men—such as Charlie Keller of the Yankees. Keller is as clean and as fine a citizen as I ever have known. He was a top student at Maryland. He was a young star with the Yankees. He has known more than one bad break. He was just edging into the money when he was called to war service. Last season a growth on his spine cut him down.

Keller has been working desperately to get back. The old pain is gone. The suffering is over. But back muscles take time to mend. "I can hit the ball solidly," he told me, "but it doesn't go very far. I need time to rebuild those destroyed muscles. What about the future? Who knows? I can only hope."

There is Spud Chandler, nearing 40, a great pitcher with a great heart. The chunk they cut from his elbow is still a St. Petersburg exhibit. "I'm aiming at 15 wins," Chandler told me. "I won't be far away." Maybe. Maybe not. But here's a man's career hanging in the balance.

Tex Hughson of the Red Sox—one of the best. Chandler rated Hughson the best in the American League. Last year Hughson won 12 and lost 11. Not too hot. But he also had a sore arm that called for an operation.

How good will Hughson be this season? Who can say? Hughson in old-time shape can win the American League pennant for Joe McCarthy and the Red Sox. A wavering Hughson can bring about their defeat.

If you saw the Kellers, the Chandlers, the Hughsons and others on the borderline, at work, you could sense their background of tragedy or their hopes of better and brighter days. A job is pretty important when you have a wife and a few kids. I mean a job where you belong—a job such as these veterans and others deserve.

There happens to be more than you might know on the human side in a spring training camp, where men from 30 to 39 might be wondering what the next move will be.

* * *

Football Coaches

The new football season of 1948 already is under way, with the greatest coaching shift in history. There are new men at Yale, Harvard, Indiana, Navy, Michigan, Washington and Kansas, to mention only a few. They are all good men and those who have the best material will win. Those who haven't, won't.

The most distinct shift belongs to Herman Hickman who left Army for Yale. The poet laureate of the Smoky mountains, who as a fat country boy, reached stardom as a guard at Tennessee over 20 years ago, had no early dream that some day he would be head football man beneath New Haven's classic elms.

At West Point, Hickman became the best line coach I ever saw. He also became one of the most inspirational factors in all football.

No one can say just yet how Hickman will work out as a head coach in his first year. My guess is that the Smoky mountain bard will do a fine job with even fair material.

Even at football's middle age, Herman knows in advance that he can handle any man on his squad, physically. This was true at Army when he had Coulter, Foldberg, Steffy and a few other brawny linemen. I've seen Hickman take them on two at a time with his amazingly active 300 or more pounds.

Hickman should make a fine head coach. He has been a great football player—and also a great fellow. Between seasons he can take over the chair of mountain poetry at Yale, in which his kinfolk might figure.

* * *

The Great Bambino

There is a story marching the rounds that is beyond all telling. Its setting is deep in tragedy, but its outline is as brilliant as any rim of stars.

It is the story of Babe Ruth, suffering beyond all comprehension, yet valiantly retracing his path of nearly 30 years ago for the good of baseball, for the good of all kids and for the good of suffering humanity in general—whatever the cause may be.

It is the story of a man who is much greater nearing the trail's end of glory than he ever was hitting his 714 home runs, and giving a vast nation the greatest thrills that sport ever has known.

Babe Ruth has been my friend for over 30 years—a great guy, set in mammoth proportions of build, heart and appetite, especially when he was starring from 1914 through 1935 in the box, in the field and above all, at bat.

Broken, but not beaten, a relic of the king that was, he is an even greater man today. His head may be bloody—but it remains unbowed.

I have watched his drawn face, where anyone could see his inward suffering, as he autographed baseballs and score cards.

ASK ME ANOTHER

A General Quiz

The Questions

1. Where is the Song of S found?
2. How fast do shootin travel?
3. Who were the Casket American history?
4. The land occupied by ton National cemetery wa the home of what person?
5. How many words an ters are there in the Bible?
6. How big do mushrooms
7. Mount Popocatepetl is where?
8. What is the largest area in the United States?
9. How much of the ear mosphere is composed of
10. Do fat persons have blood than thin ones?

The Answers

1. In the Bible.
2. Slow meteorites travel 25,000 miles an hour; rapid orites at approximately miles per hour.
3. Women imported into ana as wives for settlers.
4. Robert E. Lee.
5. There are 1,189 chap the King James version Bible, and 773,692 words.
6. One found in Thuringi many, weighed 56 pounds.
7. Mexico.
8. Los Angeles, Calif., largest in land area. It is 5 long, 9 miles wide, and cov area of 450 square miles.
9. About 21 per cent.
10. No. If the bone struct the same, a fat person wil relatively less blood than person.

Sweet old lady (to golfer y searching for his ball)— it be cheating if I told you it was?

Figuratively

A G.I. met a little Cockne was enthused about a cru had made to South Americ "First," he reported, "we at Cuba and then puts Haiti."

"And what comes after H asked the G.I. politely.

"H'eighty-one," said the

FOR A LIMITED TIME ONLY! 7-PC. SET PYREX OVENWA
AS A GIFT
With the Purchase of This CADMIUM PLATED DISH DRA
What a value! Dish drainer (eliminates ing dishes!) to fit ANY sink, and a GIFT of 6 5-oz. individual Pyrex bak nickel-plated rack. All yours for only a $1 plus 15c to cover postage. ORDER MONEY BACK GUARANTEE.
Send Name, Address and $1 Bill plus to cover postage to BLUE RIBBON LINE
Manufacturers
6326 Morningside, Dept. D, Kansas City

"Everybody love
SMACKS
THE REALLY DELICIOUS COCONUT

STOP LIGHTNING DAMAGE
"National Quality" Systems Prevent Lig Stroke from Occurring. Write for FREE "Is Lightning Protection Worth
NAT'AL LIGHTNING PROTECTION CO.

Why EVER PAY MORE?
St. Joseph ASPIRIN
WORLD'S LARGEST SELLER AT 10¢

KILL RATS LOW-COST WA
1 PACKAGE KILLS UP TO 100
STEARNS' ELECTRIC RAT & ROACH PASTE
Rats cost money. S costly rat destruc to feed, livestock property. Kill with Stearns' Use farmers for 69 35¢ & $1.00 at DRUGG

STOP USIN HARS LAXATI
Try Lemon in Water it's good for you
The juice of a lemon in a gl water, when taken first thing ing, is all that most people insure prompt, normal elimin
No more harsh laxatives that irr the digestive tract and impair tion! Lemon in water is good for Generations of Americans have lemons for health—and gener of doctors have recommended They are rich in vitamin C; valuable amounts of B1 and P. alkalinize; aid digestion.
Not too sharp or sour, lemon in has a refreshing tang—clears mouth, wakes you up. It's purgative—simply helps your tem regulate itself. Try it 10
USE CALIFORNIA SUNKIST LEM

...CTION Corner

MERRY MERRY MERMAID

By MARY LOUISE CHEATHAM

...early and the beach was ...except for a few lone ...around the shoreline. ...ed her splashing in the ...and climbed on a rock ...side, the only rock in ...re on the sandy beach. ...ce spot to sit and dry as ...sun grew warmer. ...r beach robe over the ...ect her new green bath... rubbed her arms and ...with a towel, then cast ...rummaged in the can... ...bag for her brush and ...hand mirror. She had ...shaking the water from ...blonde hair and was ...to a golden sheen when ...voice beside her told ...no longer alone.

...rmaid!" said the voice, ...stood a bronzed young ...ming trunks. He was tall ...d broad-shouldered, and ...t of young man a girl ...meeting on her vacation, ...appeared much too soon. ...and groped for an an... ...hivered and sneezed.

...commented the young ...n't know mermaid lang... ...rchoo, yourself."

...aiting to be asked, he ...himself on the sand be... ...k and not knowing what ...Merry went on awkwardly ...r hair.

...your name?" he asked. ...erry Thornton. Staying ...cousins at that cottage ...ce."

...she admitted unhappily. ...; Merry, like in Merry ...Only my last name's ...other had original ideas." ...Terry mused. "Well, on ...ed out all right, though ...chance. Supposing you ...of those grave, sober ...go around frowning all ...But with those dimples ...mile it suits you."

...ushed again. It was dis... ...to have a strange young ...ing her face so closely, ...funny, too. She laughed. ...he repeated. "I like that. ...Terry. Makes a good ...n. Hey! Where you go... ...jump back in the water, ...I'll only swim right after ...

...st," said Merry, gather... ...belongings. "We haven't ...They're expecting me at ..." ...said Terry reluctantly. ...en, for now. See you ...walked over to the deep ...pier, waved, dived clean... ...Merry left the beach, she ...swimming with long, sure ...to the raft. If only, she ...e hadn't come along quite ...ow she would have to go ...ch even earlier.

...Thornton?" said Mrs. ...h whom Merry was board... ...her vacation. "Why, yes. ...up here summers to visit ...in one of those cottages ...ow. One of the best swim... ...d here. Regular fish."

...heart sank but she ate ...the blueberry muffins ...ed nothing was going to ...vacation of hers. She ...ed too long and worked ...for it, and now she was ...enjoy every minute.

...ot much fun, going in the ...terribly early, but she ...determinedly the next ...hen spread her beach robe ...nd and lay there on her ...soaking up what sunshine ... Head cradled on elbow, ...dreamily at the lake. It ...s changing color, like the ...a ring she used to have—green, blue, silver or gray, according to the light. The office, with its irritations, seemed far away.

"Hello, there!" It was Terry. She sensed his presence before he spoke. "Care for a swim?"

She shook her head. "I've already been in," she said.

"Well," he persisted, "You can go in again."

"No," said Merry. "I like it here on the beach."

"Okay," Terry shrugged. "Suit yourself, I'm going to take a swim, then I've got to go to the village. Be gone all day. You ought to come along."

"No," said Merry. "Thanks anyway."

She was sorry to see him go, yet happy, too. He would be gone all day! As soon as he was completely out of sight she waded back into the water. Olga, Mrs. White's cook, came wading out but Merry didn't mind. Olga was plump and comfortable and she was eating an apple.

other, she managed to avoid Terry and keep on with her attempts to swim. "I don't know why I don't tell him," she thought. "He probably would teach me himself but he might think I am awfully stupid, the way I don't make any progress. Somehow, I am ashamed to let him know."

She went on practicing strokes and kicks, swallowing water and floundering in despair—and then, one day, one day of days, it happened! She swam! Only a few feet at first, then farther and farther and farther with practice. Bobby, her 10-year-old teacher, jumped up and down and shrieked with joy, and they had a water-fight to celebrate. After that, nothing could stop her. It was just an easy sidestroke but it was swimming!

"Tell you what," said Bobby. "I'll take the rowboat and row alongside in case you need me, and I

She had just finished shaking the water from her long, blonde hair and was brushing it to a golden sheen when a masculine voice beside her told her she was no longer alone.

"Can you swim, Olga?" called Merry.

"No," answered Olga, "but I can float." She lay back, easily, on the surface of the water and continued eating her apple, gazing unconcernedly up at the sky.

"That's wonderful!" said Merry. She tried it but sank immediately, and sat up, gasping and blowing water out of her nose. A peal of laughter rang out and she looked into the face of a 10-year-old boy who was swimming about like a porpoise.

"Here's the way," he said, and floated like Olga. "Gee!" he said. "Don't you know how to swim?"

"No," Merry admitted, sadly. "I've never been around water, much. I've always lived in the city, and I just never did learn."

"It's easy," said the boy. "Watch here."

So the lessons began. Hopeful and hopeless by turn, Merry kicked and splashed. Her freckle-faced tutor was a hard taskmaster and a merciless critic. They kept at it most of the day but Merry still couldn't stay on top of the water. "Looks like I'll never learn!" she thought, but early the next morning she was at it again. She managed to be lying on the beach when Terry dropped by. She turned down his invitation to go on an all-day boating trip with some friends. "Another day," she thought hopefully. Her young instructor turned up again that afternoon, as enthusiastic as Merry was determined.

Day after day, by some ruse or think by now you can easily make it as far as the raft."

"All right," Merry agreed bravely. "I'll do it."

She lay on her side, taking slow, easy strokes, watching Bobby in the boat. The water felt wonderful—she felt wonderful herself! Hardly out of breath at all, she reached the raft.

"Hurray!" shouted Bobby. "You made it!"

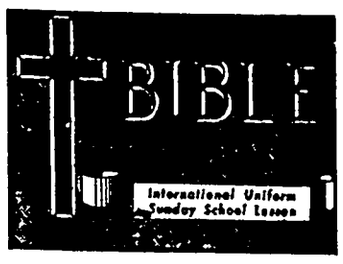
"Hurray!" echoed another voice, "Three cheers for the merry mermaid!"

And there on the raft, outlined against the sun, was Terry. Eagerly, he pulled her out of the water.

"I crown you queen of the mermaids," he said, adorning her head with a dripping white waterlily he had brought from the lagoon. "So you learned to swim in less than two weeks!"

Merry caught her breath. "How did you know?" she asked.

"Well," said Terry, smiling deeply into her eyes. "That kid brother of mine is a pretty good teacher."



SCRIPTURE: Nehemiah 1—7.
DEVOTIONAL READING: Psalms 122: 1-9.

Nehemiah Rebuilds Jerusalem

Lesson for May 2, 1948

BORN and reared in Persia, Nehemiah appears in the opening scene of his prophecy as cup bearer to King Artaxerxes in the royal palace at Shushan. He was a favorite at court, due, no doubt, to his personality and training, plus a keen desire to serve his people. He obtained a royal order from Artaxerxes, granting him passage to Jerusalem. It was a long and dangerous journey, but Nehemiah travelled not only with letters from the king, but assurance in his heart that he was on the Lord's mission. He was given authority to seek help from other nations. Just how much help he received from other nations is not definitely certified, but we do know that he achieved the high purpose which God had put in his heart. He governed the city wisely for a dozen years, and wrought many notable reforms. Read the first seven chapters of Nehemiah for the complete story. Read also Psalms 122:1-9.

Dr. Newton

* * *

WHEN FRIENDS WORK TOGETHER

UPON arrival in Jerusalem, Nehemiah made a tour of the city by night. He was shocked and amazed at the ruins. He called upon the people to come and help rebuild the walls. And they were impressed with the earnestness and sincerity and courage of his call. "So built we the wall; and all the wall was joined together unto the half thereof; for the people had a mind to work," Nehemiah 4:6.

There is work for everyone who is of a willing mind There is work in the home. Boys and girls who pitch in and share in the everyday work of the home make glad the hearts of their parents, and at the same time they are learning how to care for their own homes when they grow up.

* * *

STRENGTH AND ENCOURAGEMENT

NEHEMIAH set the people together in families, with tools for work and weapons for defense against the enemy. And in this union of numbers there was both strength and courage. We need today to learn anew this lesson of working together. So often we witness evidence of people pulling against one another. We see it in the home and in the school and in the wider areas of life—in politics and in the clash between capital and labor.

* * *

THOSE WHO OPPOSED NEHEMIAH

OUR lesson describes not only the courage and wisdom of Nehemiah in getting the Jews to work and work together, but it tells us about those who opposed the rebuilding of Jerusalem. Sanballat was the governor of Samaria, and when he heard that Nehemiah was rebuilding Jerusalem, he put in to defeat him by many schemes of sabotage.

He began with ridicule. "What do these feeble Jews?" he scoffingly asked. Ridicule is always one of the weapons of those who would tear down and destroy. Young people will do well to guard themselves against the snare of cynicism. It is a dangerous thing. Sanballat and his cohorts, Tobiah, and certain Arabians and Ammonites and Ashdodites, conspired to hinder Nehemiah in many devious attacks; but the people worked and fought, in the name of the Lord.

* * *

WHAT MAKES A REAL LEADER?

THIS is the question which will inevitably arise as we study this lesson. How could one man inspire people to undertake the impossible? First, Nehemiah relied implicitly upon God's help. Second, he threw himself into the task, fearlessly and intelligently. Third, he possessed the quality of inspiring faith and hope in others. These are the qualities that make a real leader, anywhere, any time.

How we do need such leaders today! And the Bible speaks to us, in the story of Nehemiah, reminding us how real leaders are produced. Read the 122nd Psalm. Here is the secret of it all—"They shall prosper that love thee." Every difficulty confronting the home, the community, the nation, the world, can be met and mastered, provided we tackle it in the name of the Lord, relying upon his wisdom, his strength, his poise.

* * *

(Copyright by the International Council of Religious Education on behalf of 40 Protestant denominations. Released by WNU Features.)

LET'S TALK ABOUT You

BY CHARLES B. ROTH

A Good Conversationalist

That the man I have just spent a week with has mastered one of the most important of all human arts, there is no doubt. Wherever we went he charmed those we met, charmed them by his personality, his graciousness, his poise, but principally by his conversation.

For he seemed to know exactly what to say to everyone to whom we talked. I mentioned it to him.

"Oh, it's simple," he replied, "all I do is talk to them in terms of interests—their interests—their SPECIAL INTERESTS."

Every human being, as you know, has certain subjects in which he is especially interested—his business, his hobby, his family, some outside accomplishment, politics, something that especially interests.

Anything that appeals to a person's special interests, identifies you with him, will get and hold his attention—and if you get and hold anyone's attention he will find you an engaging personality.

If you want your personality to appeal to others, all you have to do is follow the few simple rules which my friend explained to me.

"The first thing you have to do is to find out what your person's interests are," he began. "And that is not hard. Listen to anyone talk. We all talk most about what interests us most. You can also ask others about the interests of the person you are going to meet. It isn't hard to get information."

"Then," he continued, "acquire knowledge on the subject." None of us likes to talk to an ignoramus, but you can read up on any subject and get a passable knowledge of it.

"Then—and this is the last rule—all you have to do is show him you are interested in the subject, too. Then in his eyes you become irresistibly interesting. See how easy it is?"

SEWING CIRCLE PATTERNS

Princess Dress Is Easy Sewing Clever Pair for Sunny Weather

Princess Dress

DAINTY as can be—and so easy to sew, too! This prettily trimmed dress is cut on princess lines, has a narrow back-belt that ties in a bow. For school or parties.

Pattern No. 8284 comes in sizes 2, 3, 4, 5, and 6 years. Size 3, 1⅞ yards of 35-inch; 1 yard ric rac.

Little Twosome

A CLEVER little twosome you'll wear all summer long—pattern 1740 has a simple yet flattering sunback frock for sun-tanning weather plus a pert flared jacket with scalloped closing. An eye-catcher for certain!

Pattern No. 1740 is for sizes 10, 12, 14, 16, 18 and 20. Size 12, dress, 4¼ yards of 35 or 39-inch; jacket, 1¾ yards.

The Spring and Summer issue of FASHION offers a wealth of sewing information for every home dressmaker. Free knitting instructions and a free pattern printed inside the book. 25 cents.

Send your order to:

SEWING CIRCLE PATTERN DEPT.
530 South Wells St. Chicago 7, Ill.
Enclose 25 cents in coins for each pattern desired.
Pattern No._____ Size_____
Name_____
Address_____

ASK ME ANOTHER?

A General Quiz

THE QUESTIONS

1. Who invented that pole with which your grocer picks cans and packages from the top shelf?
2. What is the coldest place in the world on land?
3. Do birds sleep in their nests?
4. If you find a pearl in a restaurant oyster, is it any good?
5. How much can you see with your eyes moving?

THE ANSWERS

1. Benjamine Franklin.
2. Verkhoyansk, Siberia. The January temperature averages 50 degrees below zero.
3. Only when they are too young to leave them, though a mother bird might accidently snooze while sitting on her eggs.
4. Probably not. Very seldom do pearls found in oysters by diners have any value. If the oyster was cooked, you can be sure the pearl is practically worthless.
5. Not a thing. You are stone blind when your eyes are moving in their sockets.

Retired Minister Reads Complete Bible 50 Times

CAMBRIDGE, MASS.—The Rev. Benjamin Beers, 71, has read the complete Bible 50 times and the New Testament 115 times. The retired minister of the United Pentecostal Council of the Assemblies of God makes a practice of reading the Bible two or three times a day for a total of about two hours.

'Ain't It So

Almost every time we turn to face a new emergency, an old one gives us a kick in the pants.

Hating one another is obviously so expensive in the end that nations some day may realize they can't afford it.

The dumb would be harmless if they didn't insist that they are not dumb.

A man is never completely down until he is down on everybody.

A chip on the shoulder always indicates that there is wood higher up.

Tossed From His Car, Driver Chases Vehicle

LYNN, MASS. — Roger Bragdon's motor trip from Lynn to nearby Revere left him footsore and leg-weary.

En route his car was in collision with a trolley. The crash tossed Bragdon—uninjured—out of his automobile, which kept on going. The 23-year-old driver chased the vehicle several blocks before he could overtake it and climb back into the driver's seat.

● In NR (Nature's Remedy) Tablets, there are no chemicals, no minerals, no phenol derivatives. NR Tablets are different—act different. Purely vegetable—a combination of 10 vegetable ingredients formulated over 50 years ago. Uncoated or candy coated, their action is dependable, thorough, yet gentle, as millions of NR's have proved. Get a 25¢ box. Use as directed.

Nature's Remedy NR TO-NIGHT TOMORROW ALRIGHT
ALWAYS CARRY TUMS QUICK RELIEF FOR ACID INDIGESTION

BUSHMAN SAW
With Swedish Steel Blade

Thousands of progressive farmers know and appreciate the numerous uses of this all-purpose saw. Fine for cutting firewood, fence posts, tree trimming and general rough work. Razor sharp blade cuts smooth at high speed, stays sharp longer. 24, 30, 36, 42, 48 inch lengths.

"Insist on Bushman," nothing else compares.

AT LEADING HARDWARE STORES
GENSCO TOOL DIVISION
GENERAL STEEL WAREHOUSE CO.
1830 N. Kostner Ave., Chicago 39

Fresher—so...Tastier, Crisper

Because Kellogg's Corn Flakes are so popular, they come to you fresher. Crispy-delicious!

MOTHER KNOWS BEST! Kellogg's CORN FLAKES

MORE practical features WITH Seaco

'9 in 7' feature: The 9 cubic foot Seaco occupies the same space as ordinary 7 cubic foot refrigerators. Scientific design adds 2 cubic feet of space—completely insulated with 3 to 3½ inches of fibre glass. This extra space feature protects more food—allows for quantity buys—cuts down on trips to the store—saves kitchen space.

Over 20 square feet of shelf area—always room for more dishes. Oversize ice-maker—freezes 16½ lbs. of ice cubes, frozen foods, desserts, or 2 whole chickens. Twin hydrators fresh-up fruits and vegetables. Super silent sealed unit. Meat chiller.

Still more features: All shelves removable, 2 slide—Feather touch door handle—Acid resistant inside — No-seam door seal—Handy cold selector knob — 32 volt and 110 volt models.

See your SEACO dealer today.

Seaco Inc. SIOUX CITY IOWA

Seaco Recipe

Seaco Pie

Crush 18 graham crackers and roll fine. Line dry glass plate with half of cracker crumbs. Cream ½ cup butter, slowly add 1 cup confectioner's sugar, mix, add 1 whole egg and whip. Smooth mixture over crumbs. Whip 1 cup cream, fold in 8 oz. can crushed, drained pineapple. Cover all with remaining cracker crumbs. Cool in Seaco 2 hours.

This Brave New World

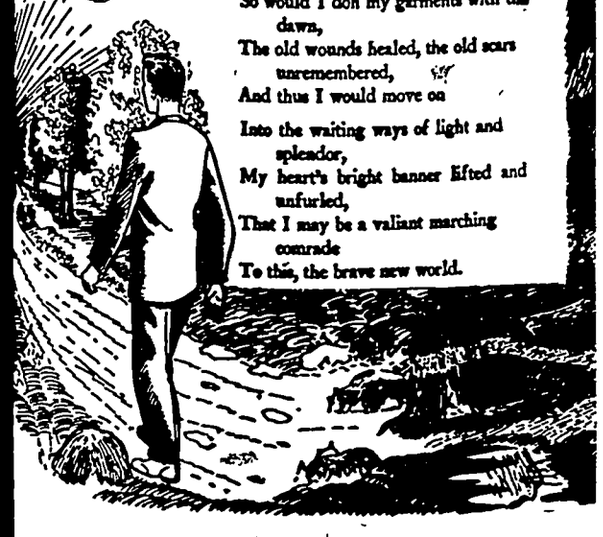
Grace Noll Crowell

DEWY-EYED and shining-faced the morning
Is starting on its journey of today,
Its old wounds healed and seemingly forgotten,
Its old scars wiped away.

This brave new world! How staunchly it arises
From out the darkened covers of the night;
How valiently it girds itself to enter
The splendid ways of light!

So would I shake the darkness from my eyelids,
So would I don my garments with the dawn,
The old wounds healed, the old scars unremembered,
And thus I would move on

Into the waiting ways of light and splendor,
My heart's bright banner lifted and unfurled,
That I may be a valiant marching comrade
To this, the brave new world.



Read the Want Ads and business Ads, they are here to help you do your business more quickly and economically.

Phone your news to 12.

BRING YOUR CAR TO US FOR

Greasing

AND A COMPLETE SPRING CHANGEOVER

*

In Motor Oil, Transmission, Differentail, Wheels and Chassis.

*

We have the equipment and proper lubricants to give you the best service.

*

See us for your needs in Batteries, Spark Plugs, and accessories of all kinds.

*

Smith's

STANDARD SERVICE
Klemme Iowa

FEDERAL
Land Bank
LOANS
Long Term Low Interest
No Fees No Commission
Wm. F. Johannaber
Secretary-Treasurer
Forest City, Iowa
Phone 58

COOL SPRING The Vegetable King

NOW FEATURING Lake Mills

Large Tender Sweet Peas
Packed in the Large No. 2 Size Can
Excellent Quality Peas at an Economical Price

Ask Your Local Grocer for

LAKE MILLS LARGE TENDER PEAS
and
OTHER COOL SPRING PRODUCTS
Whole Kernel Golden Corn : Cream Style Golden Corn : Green Beans : Wax Beans
Early June Peas : Sweet Peas

TUNE IN RADIO KGLO 3:25 P.M. DAILY Monday thru Friday COOL SPRING NEWS OF THE NATION

Packed by COOL SPRING CANNING CO. Lake Mills, Iowa

Nature's Sunshine Color

put into every pound of Butter

with
4 PINTS OF CREAM

BUTTER'S golden-yellow sunshine color comes from cream It takes four pints of cream to make a pound of BUTTER. So BUTTER'S natural golden glow . . . bestowed by four pints of cream in every pound . . . is your way to identify BUTTER . . . your protection against substitution . . . your guarantee that you get what you pay for—golden, delicious BUTTER. ONLY BUTTER CAN BE BUTTER!

IT'S BETTER WITH BUTTER

Klemme Co-Operative Creamery Company
Kenneth Medin, Manager Klemme, Iowa

HANCOCK COUNTY BOARD PROCEEDINGS

2ND ADJOURNED APRIL MEETING

Garner, Iowa
April 19, 1948

The Hancock County, Iowa, Board of Supervisors met in session on above captioned date with George Th. Gerdes, John Chambers, and F. J. Schoun present.

The minutes of the last meeting were read and approved as read.

Supervisor Gerdes is appointed a committee to investigate and cause repairs to be made in D. D. No. 44.

Supervisor Schoun is appointed a committee to investigate and cause repairs to be made in D. D. No. 138, Laterial No. 68.

Supervisor Chambers is appointed a committee to investigate and cause repairs to be made in D. D. No 9, Laterial No. 2.

On motion and second the Report of the Boiler Inspection is approved.

On motion and second the Borrow Dirt Agreement entered into by Hancock County, Iowa and Frank Thada is approved and John Chambers, Chairman of the Board of Supervisors, is hereby authorized to execute a contract relative to said Borrow Dirt Agreement.

On motion and second Additional Insurance to be made a part of Policy No. 354176 with Iowa Mutual Tornado Insurance Association and Policy Number 22705 with Farmers Mutual Fire and Lighting Insurance Association, is approved.

In the matter of a letting of the leasing of the Southeast one-fourth of Section 27, Township 96, Range 26, the bid of Frank J Gahan was found to be the highest and best bid, therefore.

On motion and second Frank J. Gahan is hereby awarded a lease on the SE¼, Section 27, Township 96, Range 26, for one year from and after the 1st day of April A. D., 1948. All other bids are hereby rejected.

This being the 19th day of April A. D., 1948, a date heretofore fixed for a letting on the construction of 6 wooden bridges to be constructed on Hancock County roads during the summer of 1948, the hour for said hearing having arrived, the proof of publication being on file and the board being fully advised said letting was held as scheduled. The Chairman of the Board proceeded to open all bids on file and after duly considering all bids on file, the board does find the bid of Leo Becker to be the lowest and best bid therefore.

BE AND IT IS THEREFORE RESOLVED by the Board of Supervisors in and for Hancock County, Iowa, that the bid of Leo Becker be and the same is hereby accepted as the lowest and best bid for the construction of 6 wooden bridges on certain Hancock County roads. All other bids are hereby rejected. ....

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that Chairman John Chambers be and he is hereby authorized and ordered to execute a contract with Leo Becker for the construction of said bridges.

This being the 19th day of April A. D., 1948, a date heretofore fixed for a letting on the reconstruction of D. D. No. 3 and 4, Hancock County, Iowa, the hour for said letting having arrived, the proof of publication being on file and the board being fully advised, said letting was held as scheduled The Chairman of the Board proceeded to open all bids on file and after duly considering all bids on file the bid of Nielsen Brothers of Onawa, Iowa, was found to be the lowest and best bid on file.

BE AND IT IS THEREFORE RESOLVED by the Board of Supervisors acting for and in behalf of D D No. 3 and 4 that the bid of Nielson Brothers of Onawa, Iowa, is hereby accepted as the lowest and best bid for the reconstruction of D. D. No. 3 and 4, Hancock County, Iowa. All other bids are hereby rejected

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that a contract is hereby awarded to Nielson Brothers of Onawa,, Iowa, and Chairman John Chambers is hereby authorized to execute said contract in behalf of Hancock County, Iowa.

Wm. Henschen is hereby appointed construction Engineer as commanded in section 455 39, Code of Iowa, 1946, and laws amendatory thereto and his bond is fixed at 2500 00

The foregoing resolution was offered and read by Supervisor Schoun who moved its adoption, was seconded by Supervisor Gerdes, whereupon the Chairman placed the motion of its adoption and upon roll call the vote thereon is F. J. Schoun, George Th. Gerdes and John Chambers, aye. Nays, none. Whereupon the Chairman declared the resolution duly adopted.

On motion and second Wm. Henschen, Engineer, Walter Kahl and W. J. Rasmussen are hereby appointed a Commission to classify lands and assess benefits in drainage District No. 3 and 4, Hancock County, Iowa, as commanded in Section 455.45, Code of Iowa, 1946 and laws amendatory thereto. Said Commission shall qualify as by law directed and proceed to view the lands in Drainage District No. 3 and 4 and shall report their findings to this board in accordance with Section 455.45, Code of Iowa, 1946, and laws amendatory thereto.

BE IT RESOLVED by the Board of Supervisors of Hancock County, Iowa, that the following named persons be and they are appointed judges and clerks of election to serve at the Primary on June 7, A D., 1948, and the General Election on November 2, A. D., 1948, for the various precincts as hereinafter set out.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that in the precincts hereinafter named there be and are hereby appointed the persons whose names are placed opposite the herein named voting precincts to serve as Counting boards at the Primary Election on June 7, 1948, and the General election on November 2, A. D., 1948, and they are ordered to proceed with their duties at one o'clock P. M. on election dates, except that the County boards appointed in Britt, Concord and Amsterdam Township precincts shall take charge of the ballot boxes in their respective precincts at any hour after nine o'clock A. M and after fifty votes have been cast in such respective precincts.

JUDGES AND CLERK OF ELECTION

Ellington Township
Receiving Board:
Clerks: Myrtle Halverson, Fred L. Meinecke
Judges: A. E. Boman, K. J. Juhl, L. B. Katterhenry
Counting Board:
Clerks: Mrs. Juhl Boman, Evelyn Boman
Judges Olaf Westerberg, Martin Bleich, Oscar Nyhus

Madison Township
Receiving Board:
Clerks: A. C. Taylor, Evelyn Hass
Judges: Albert Lundberg, Gustav Schulz, D. E. Keat
Counting Board:
Clerks. Blanche Ritter, Viola Erdman
Judges: N. H. Willis, Thomas T. Blank, Mrs. Alice Hayes

Crystal Township
Receiving Board:
Clerks: Norman Hanson, J. C. Kuch
Judges: J. J. Ransen, John Ruoss, Elmer Jensen
Counting Board:
Clerks· Andy Jannssen, Leo Paulson
Judges: A. C. Fredrickson, Jim Nelson, Laurence Nielson

Bingham Township
Receiving Board:
Clerks: D. H. Sonius, John Greenfield
Judges: George Senne, Fred Gerdes, Alfred Hutchison
Counting Board:
Clerks: Mrs. Martin Smith, Mrs. Irma Tindall
Judges: Clarence Bird, Hans Smith, Marie Nyman

Orthel Township
Receiving Board:
Clerks: Ben Higdon, Jr. Raymond Otis
Judges: G. A. Robinson, M. C. Gahan, Everett Sheets
Counting Board:
Clerks: Anna Sankey, Lena Montag
Judges: Edgar Clapsaddle, Ernest Sheets, Henry Swanson

Britt Township
Receiving Board:
Clerks: Elmer Sheets, W. J. Rasmussen, R. H. Higdon, Mrs. Fred Holck
Judges: Ray S. Baker
Counting Board:
Clerks: Mrs. Frank Baxter, Clifford Schaper
Judges: A B. Thompson, Ole G. Peterson, Mrs. Minnie Higdon

Garfield Township
Receiving Board:
Clerks: E. B. Nedved, Wm. E. Haes
Judges: M. J. Stupka, Harry Horecka, Geo. Knoll
Counting Board:
Clerks. Ruth Butz, Mrs. Geo. Urich
Judges: Louise Schleusner, Agnes Kudej, Louie Urich

Concord Township
Receiving Board:
Clerks: Maude Brugman, H. L. Ollenburg
Judges: F. S. Beshey, Chas. F. Hollatz, Wm. Boehnke
Counting Board:
Clerks: Thelma Stille, LenaBelle Bock
Judges: J. C. Steinberg, Dorothy Templeton, Frank J. Trca

Ell Township
Receiving Board:
Clerks: Edmund Josten, Emmett Royt
Judges: John Humphrey, W. H. Greiman, Henry Thleman
Counting Board:
Clerks: Rev. H. E. Harvey, Rev. Calvin Grosshuesch
Judges: Harvey Barz, W. C. Keraus, Mrs. Dwight Hummel

Erin Township
Receiving Board:
Clerks: H. V Caldwell, E. J Andregg
Judges: John F Brcka, Helmer Hill, W. E. Chandler
Counting Board:
Cerks: D. J LaBounty, Leon Hanson
Judges: Erwin Kahl, Jake VanDusseldorf, Ben Katuin

Boone Township
Clerks. Terry Long, Victor Loebig
Judges: J P. Studer, Christyna Callison, Henry Haverly

Corwith Precinct Boone
Clerks: Bud Lawson, Ernest Bonnstetter
Judges: Budd Livingston, Jim Tabb, Raymond Frey

Magor Township
Receiving Board:
Clerks: W E. Puffer, Fred J Bush
Judges: Rufus Welter, Wm. Erdman, R. E. Bonnstetter
Counting Board:
Clerks: Gladys Wood, Ed Hauptman
Judges: Tom Hain, Mildred Gaskill, Mrs. Carl Long

Amsterdam Township
Receiving Board:
Clerks: F. N. Knudson, Oren Thompson
Judges: B. L. Converse, Paul Hasty, N. L. Thompson
Counting Board:
Clerks: Mrs. H. H. Stewart, Mrs. D. H. Wilkie
Judges: H. D. Schroeder, O. J Maland, Victor Blomgren

Twin Lake Township
Receiving Board:
Clerks: Art Chelsvig, Ole Ellason
Judges: S. A. Barber, Elias Eliason, A. G. Ruka
Counting Board:
Clerks: Mabel Heginger, Harold Eliason
Judges: Herman Schmidt, Henry Nolte, Gerald Janssen

Avery Township
Receiving Board:
Clerks: Anson Avery, Vern Schluter
Judges: Paul Veldhouse, J. J. Cook, Edna McNutt
Counting Board:
Clerks: Harold Savogue, Peral Wesenberg
Judges: Arthur Lowenberg, E. V. Mayhew, Paul Ludeke

Liberty Township
Receiving Board:
Clerks: Ben V. Greiman, J. L. Abele
Judges· John Buzicky, Fred Klinge, Jr, Lester Stille
Counting Board:
Clerks: W. L. Habercamp, Ben Katter
Judges: E. J Blumer, Vic Hueneman, J. J. Hrubes

On motion and second the Board adjourned to April 20, 1948, A. D. at 10·00 A. M.

ATTEST:
MAYNARD SCHONEMAN,
County Auditor
JOHN CHAMBERS, Chairman

QUARTERLY REPORT
Klemme Independent School District
Period Ending March 31st, 1948

Receipts

Co Treas. District Tax	$ 782.17
Liberty Township School Tuition	951 00
Office Receipts	123.37
Sub Total	1,856.54
Balance on Hand December 31st, 1947	5,461 57
Interest Bearing Warrants 3-31-48	4,361.74
Total	$ 11,679.85

Disbursements

Facalty Salaries	$ 8,549 86
Bank Drafts, Int	68.75
Treas. of State, Use Tax	4 68
Iowa Old Age and Retirement System Tax	81.13
Central Iowa Telephone Co., Telephone	33.19
Central States Electric Electricity	176 25
A. H. Dulmes, Exam.	5.00
Smith Service, bus service	630.46
Klemme Times, supplies	16.20
Standard Oil, gasoline	191.00
Hancock County Oil Ass'n.	229.83
Hawkeye School Supply	33 41
J. S. Latta & Son, supplies	61.19
Pigott Supply Co. supplies	14 23
Metropolitan Supply Co. supply	18.76
Gambel Store, books	22.85
Readers Digest, subs.	15.75
A. L. Kingery, Trans.	4 00
P O Dept., Env.	34.22
R I RR Co., freight	8.11
American Book Company	7 56
Lyons & Carnahan, books	23.38
Southwestern Pub. Co.	10.59
E. L. Henschen, gas	100.00
Bureau Ed Research, tests	18.41
Jost DX, gas	1 19
Lewis Radio, supplies	.82
Etchen Auto Company bus service	42.73
Urich Implement Co., repair bus	317.84
Thada's, supplies	53.58
Klemme Hwd. Company
Education Progress League, supplies	6.90
Des Moines Sanitary Co. supplies	55.59
Groller Ed Dist., libr. books	2.62
Scott Forseman, books	1.12
Milton Bradley Company books	17.16
Ginn & Co, books	103.37
Cook & Co., books	5.62
Singer Sewing Machine	9.95
D. C. Health Co., books	12.06
Gregg Pub. o., books	17.20
NuBall Mfg. Co., supplies	26.39
Ferroll Patterson, Sub. teaching	30.00
Nellie Harvey, Substituto teaching	5.00
Klemme Grain Company coal	51 67
Arthur Wellemeyer, supplies	5.35
Larson Hiway, bus service	7 00
Josten Appliance, supp.	12.19
Popular Science Monthly books	22.00
Hammond Stephens Co. books	2.67
H. E. Barz, trans.	4.00
Iowa Mutual Liability Co. Co., bus insurance	78.77
Royal Insurance Company building Insurance	37.40
W. F. Pavey, repairs	8.75
Glen Bridges, trans.	4.00
Geo. Lawhorn, trans.	4 00
Glen Terhufen, trans.	1 00
Joyce Ins. Bond	10.00
Aslesen Co., sink	85.00
Science Research Lab	15.60
Total	$ 11,679.85

A. J. KUDJE, Sec.

OFFICIAL NOTICE

The Hancock County Board of Education will consider textbook adoption for the county schools in arithmetic, grades 1-8.

Hearings will be held before a committee of professional people on May 25 at 8 p. m., 1948, in the courtroom, Garner, Iowa. Bids will be received until 4 p. m. the day of the hearing The County Board of Education reserves the right to waive technicalities and to reject any or all bids.

Textbook companies may submit five sets of sample textbooks to the County Superintendent of Schools, acting as co-chairman, for the professional committee on selection.

This publication complies with Section 301 7 Code of Iowa 1946, and is published by order of the Hancock County Board of Education.

Chas S. Whitney, Executive Secretary, County Board of Education, Co- Chairman, Textbook Committee

Dated at Garner, Iowa, April 15, 1948.

(Pub. April 21, 28, 1948)

NOTICE OF A PROPOSED RESOLUTION OF NECESSITY
TO ALL INTERESTED PROPERTY OWNERS

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that the Town Council of the Town of Klemme, Iowa, at a meeting held on the 12th day of April, 1948, proposed and placed on file a Resolution of Necessity whereby it was deemed necessary and advisable to improve by liquid asphalt and gravel surfacing the following streets in the Town of Klemme, Iowa, to-wit

Elder Street from the East line of Right of way and Station grounds of C R I & P RR Co. to Fourth Street, Day Street from First Street to Fourth Street, Main Street from Second Street to the East Corporation Line.

Hancock Street from First Street to Fourth Street Iowa Street from Front Street to Fourth Street Gruetzmacher Street from First Street to the alley in Block 21, Klemme Addition

Hanson Street from First Street to Second Street, First Street from the south corporation line to the alley in Block 4, Original Town,

Second Street from the south line of Lot 7, Block 3, Gruetzmacher Bros., and Hansons Addition to Jerusalem Street,

Third Street from the south line of Blocks 21 and 22 Klemmes Addition to Dakota Street,

Fourth Street from the south line of Block 22 Klemmes Addition to Dakota Street,

The Street running northerly from Main Street through OL-1 Klemmes Addition from Main Street to a point approximately 313 feet north of the north line of Main Street,

Morningside Road from fourth Street to Arthurs Lane, Arthurs Lane from Morningside Road to the east Corporation Line,

The street lying between the triangular park in Morningside Addition and Block 2 of said Morningside Addition from Morningside Road to Pauls Drive,

YOU ARE FURTHER HEREBY NOTIFIED that it is proposed to pay the cost of said improvement by a special assessment or assessments against abutting and adjacent property as provided by statute and in accordance with the plat and schedule now on file in the office of the Town Clerk of the Town of Klemme Iowa

YOU ARE FURTHER HEREBY NOTIFIED that the Town Council of Klemme, Iowa, will meet on the 14th day of May 1948, at 8 00 p. m. in the Community Building, in said Town of Klemme, Iowa, for the purpose of considering said Resolution at which time said Resolution may be amended and adopted or adopted as proposed Any person affected by said proposed improvement may appear and object thereto at the time and place mentioned or may at any time previous thereto file objections with the Town Clerk Any person failing to appear at said time and place or to have on file with the Town Clerk objections to said improvement contemplated, in said Resolution of Necessity or to proposed assessments for same shall be deemed to have waived all rights to object thereto.

Dated at Klemme, Iowa, this 15 day of April, 1948

A. J KUDJE
Town Clerk of the Town of Klemme, Iowa.

(Pub. April 21, 28, 1948.)

HELP PREVENT ACCIDENTS ON THE FARM

The busy season on Iowa farms is here again. There is increased activity in the fields from one end of the state to the other. And with the increase in activity comes another increase—an increase in farm accidents.

The Iowa department of public advises farmers to become accident conscious. By thinking constantly about accidents and how to prevent them the farmer may save himself from injury or death.

The most frequent safety violation on the farm is failure to turn off the motor when a piece of farm machinery needs repair. Farm safety experts point out that anyone who tampers with a machine when the motor is running is asking for trouble. There is at least one victim of this type of accident in most rural neighborhoods. These attempt to save time have resulted in a great loss of time and money, as well as much pain, for far too many farmers.

Department officials remind farmers that this is one accident that is almost always preventable, and ask for cooperation in keeping farm injuries at mum this year.

Entertained On Birth

Mrs. Lena Medaus her birthday April 18th a dinner guests at the Mr. and Mrs. Fred Schmi and Mrs. Julius Priebe so guests.

Evangelical & Ref Church
Calvin Grosshuesch, P

SUNDAY
10:00 A. M. Morning W
11:00 A. M. Sunday Sch
7:00 P. M. Young P Bible Class.

WEDNESDAY
2:00 P. M. Women's Gu

FRIDAY
8:00 P. M. Choir.

DR. E. H. PHILL
Osteopathis Physicia
Xray - Short Wave thermy and Ultra Vi Equipment
Phone 149 Garner,

DURABLE
Scuff-Proof PROTECTION FOR "FLOOR
WOOD or CE

BPS FLORLUX

INTERIOR and EXTERI FLOOR ENAMEL

- Quick Drying—waterproof
- Tough, glossy finish seals against dirt, moisture, grease.
- Covers in one coat over any painted surface.
- Use it on porch floors, decks, steps, lawn and porch furniture.
- Easy to keep clean.
- For exterior or interior surfaces of wood, metal and cement.
- Gives extra tough protection.

A PATTERSON-SARGENT PAINT

Northern Lumber Co
Lloyd Sherwood, Mgr. Klemme, Iow

FELCO
TRADE MARK REGISTERED

FEED

When you buy FELCO FEEDS you are supporting a feed plant owned by you and controlled by you and your neighbors, and where all the cooperative principles are at work for your benefit.

"Buy And Sell Where You Get A Dividend"

Klemme Coop. Grain Company
"The Farmers Elevator"
Glen Bridges, Manager

r Reformed Church
V. E. D. STUEBBE

CHURCH:
ar services Sunday.

CHURCH:
lar services Sunday.

B. C. BERGE
ATTORNEY-AT-LAW
Over Federated Store
Garner, Iowa

VERY
—The—
heatre Beautiful
Garner, Iowa

APRIL 28, 29
dnes. - Thursday
MBLING RACKETS
BUSTED!
TOWN
AFTER DARK
PHILIP REED
And
HILLARY BROOKE

IL 30, MAY 1
iday - Saturday
HE'S BACK!
GENE AUTRY
In OUX CITY SUE

MAY 2, 3, 4
. - Mon - Tues.
ANTIC ADVENTURE!
Starring
TYRONE POWER
APTAIN FROM CASTILE
And Introducing
JEAN PETERS
N TECHNICOLOR

MAY 5, 6
dnes. - Thursday
ICKEY ROONEY as KILLER McCOY
With
BRIAN DONLEVY
ANN BLYTH
JAMES DUNN

FALL PIGS SAID TO HAVE ADVANTAGES

As They Are Farrowed Under Ideal Conditions More Should Be Raised

Iowa farmers should raise more fall pigs.

Fall pigs are farrowed under most favorable conditions. Sows and gilts have been on pasture during pregnancy with the full benefit of sunshine, exercise and green grass, points out Iowa State College extension swine specialist E. L. Quaife.

Stronger Litters

Litters usually come stronger and more pigs are saved in the fall than from early spring litters—especially if the spring is a cold, wet one. Fall pigs may be farrowed on clean pastures. Hog lots are drier. There is less danger of infection from disease and internal parasites. Better use can be made of equipment by spreading farrowing over both spring and fall. Labor is usually more available in the fall.

Prices are usually going up during March and April—just when fall pigs are ready for the market. This is also generally true if fall pigs are marketed the next July.

Lighter Weights

Where the farrowings are divided between spring and fall, there is opportunity to feed for the yearly market peaks and to sell hogs at the more desirable weights of 200 to 250 pounds, says Quaife. He has found that producers who raise both the spring and fall pigs invariably market at lighter weights than do those who farrow spring pigs only.

Looking into the future, Quaife believes that any plan which permits the marketing of hogs at lighter weights will pay off. Consumer demands are swinging toward smaller hogs. Too, selling lighter hogs means a smaller feed bill for the producer. Lard surpluses can also be cut down.

Arthur Wellemeyer
FUNERAL DIRECTOR
—with long experince and best equipment.
PROMPT AMBULANCE SERVICE
Phone 23-R2 Day or Night
Klemme - Iowa

Want Ads

For Sale

FOR SALE—ELECTRIC LIGHT Fixture, 15 ft. farm gate. F. A. Arnold. (1tc)

WILL SELL SPINET TYPE Piano in Klemme. $345.00 if taken at once. Convenient terms. Write Critchett Piano Company. Des Moines, Iowa. (1tp)

FOR SALE—QUICK MEAL Combination coal and gas range. White with black trim. Good condition. Mrs. W. F. Pavey (1tp)

FOR SALE—ROOM OIL HEATer, like new. Priced right. Fred N. Becker, Garner (1tp)

FOR SALE—TRACTOR TIRES. Have a large stock of rears on hand. Garner Auto Co., Garner, Iowa. (M-8tfc)

FOR SALE—DESIRABLE CORner lot on East Main Street. John Meinders. (Apr. 21-28 p)

YES WE HAVE IT, NUTRENA Crumblized Chick Feed. For faster gains and less waste. We deliver ½ ton lots or more. GREEN ELEVATOR CO., Goodell, Iowa. (Apr 14 tfc)

FOR SALE—160 A. FARM, REA fair buildings, 2 m. s. w. of Klemme. Price $135.00 Fred Chisel, Forest City. (Apr. 21-22 p)

Get your "Thank You Notes" at the Times Office. 59 cents. per box.

Miscellaneous

INSURE WITH HENRY WARD, Klemme for Auto, Personal Property, Farm Liability Insurance. (May 1, '48)

SEE R. W. ELDER FOR HANcock Co. Mutual Fire & Lightning Insurance renewals or new policies. (Apr. 1 pd)

Wanted To Buy

WANTED TO BUY FOR CASH —your used car. Any make, any model. Garner Auto Company, Garner, Iowa. M-8tfc)

Services Offered

FEED GRINDING OF ALL kinds done on your farm Phone Klemme 76 or Goodell 58561. Carroll Etchen. (j-28-tc)

Salesman Wanted

MAN WANTED—to succed H. J. Luthro as Rawleigh Dealer. Unexpected change makes available West Wright County. Selling experience unnecessary to start. Splendid opportunity to step into a permanent and profitable business where Rawleigh Products have been sold over 50 years. Good profit to willing worker. Write Rawleigh's Dept. IAD-163-10 Freeport, Ill. (Apr. 21, May 5 tp)

Card Of Thanks

I wish to take this means of expressing my sincere thanks to all who sent me flowers and fruits during my illness. I appricate your kindness.
Mrs. Conrad Quandt. (1tc)

I want to thank all my friends and neighbors for their letters, cards and many deeds of kindness extended to me during my recent illness.
Elsie Baack. (1tc)

We wish to thank all who sent us flowers, cards and gifts and who visited with us at the Mercy Hospital in Mason City. Your kindness and best wishes are appreciated. Mrs. Paul Lau and Janelle Kaye. (1tc)

We wish to thank all our relatives, friends and neighbors for their visits, and for the many cards and letters we received while we were at the Mercy Hospital, they were greatly appreciated. Mrs. Elwood Geary and Eldon Elwood. (1tp)

I want to say "Thank You" to all who sent me flowers, cards and letters, and who visited me while I was at the Mercy hospital in Mason City. and thanking those who helped in any way. Your kindness was appreciated.
Mrs. Albert Lange. (1tc)

AROUND IOWA

"MIRACLE MAN"

At Sac City, Robert Irwin got off his tractor to pick up a rock in front of a 15 foot disc. The clutch slipped into gear and started up, while Mr. Irwin frantically clung to the disc. At last he dropped off and the disc passed over his body. Far from being sliced into sections, he was not even seriously injured and after a couple of days in bed was up and about. Friends now call him the "miracle man."

GETTING MONOTONOUS

Mike Dahlke of Rock Rapids is really having some tough luck. In January he slipped on the ice and broke his left leg and was on crutches several weeks. Recently he returned to his work as an auto repairman, slipped off a car and broke the same leg again.

27 LIVES?

A Persian cat belonging to Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Wasson on Panora recently gave birth to Siamese triplets. The little kittens, normal in practically all respects, were joined together by their hind legs. As a kindness, their 27 lives were destroyed.

LONG TIME

J P. Ellis of Postville, blacksmith, will hang up his apron and hammers for the first time in 55 years on June 8. He has been in the same location, and in the same business, longer than any one in Postville. His sons, Clifford and Kenneth, will succeed him.

GRASS FIRE

Stamping out a grass fire cost Delbert James Knox his life last week. The 74 year old resident of Hawkeye received fatal burns when his pants leg caught fire and passed away a short time later in the hospital at West Union.

SOLD FARM

A farm which has been in the possession of one family for 110 years, was sold last week at New London. Known as the MacDonald farm, it was first acquired by government title in 1883 when John Tyler was the president of the United States. The original MacDonald was a great-grandfather of the recent owner, William MacDonald, who sold the farm due to ill health.

JOINT SUBSCRIPTION

The Osceola Sentinel received an unusual subscription last week. When the proprietor of a local cafe, Dell Watson, transferred his own subscription to his home 47 customers chipped in with nickels and pennies and ordered a copy of "their own", so they can read it at the coffee shop.

FRESH TOMATO

The Gordon Shavers of Indianola will be eating a fresh homegrown tomato soon. No, the tomatoes were not grown outdoors. Mrs. Shaver received the plant from her mother as a Christmas gift without knowing what it was and raised it in her kitchen.

WEAVES RUG

Orval Linn, of Stuart, is carrying on an unusual business there. He weaves rugs. Mr. Linn was crippled in 1945 by arthritis and was unable to continue farming. Since starting up in the rug making business, he has made more than 1,050 and has purchasers in many states.

Can Apply Nitrogen To Oats As Top Dressing

Farmers who didn't put nitrogen on their oats ground before seeding time can still get good results by applying the nitrogen as a top dressing after the oats are up. Wheat, barley and flax may also be top-dressed.

Top dressing, applied 3 or 4 weeks after seeding oat yields as much as when the nitrogen is put on before planting, Iowa State College studies show.

The recommended treatment is 20 pounds of elemental (pure) nitrogen contained in 65 pounds of ammonium nitrate per acre. Or, 100 pounds of 20 percent ammonium sulfate or calcium cyanamid may be used, where that percentage is available. The higher applications will often give higher oat yields but should not be used because they may depress the stand and growth of legumes seeded with the oats.

Trouble is usually produced by those who don't produce anything else.

HANCOCK COUNTY REAL ESTATE DEALS

Reihertt, Irwin W. and Bernice A., wife to Schrader, John William and Hyla G., wife 3-10-48 Wty. Deed $1.00 L4 and 5 in Blk. 4 Maple Hill Add. to Britt.

Bridges, Lucille Stille and Cecil, husband to Lemke, Walter 2-16-48 Wty. Deed $1.00 L6 Blk. 13 Klemme's 1st Add to Klemme.

Bless, Lawrence L. and Marie to Grell, L. A. 3-16-48 Wty. Deed $1.00 W½ NW¼ Sec. 25-96-23.

Sell Wool On Grade, Handle It Carefully

Plan to sell wool on grade and make careful handling part of the shearing procedure—that is the advice for Iowa wool growers from C. W. McDonald, extension sheep specialist at the Iowa State College.

He says to keep good clean wool separated from poor quality. Use separate bags for burry wool, tags, dead wool and black or gray wool. Poor fleeces should not be packed with high quality wool.

Have a broom handy while shearing. Keep the shearing floor clean and free of straw. also have the sheep dry. Shear close and avoid second cuts. Use care to remove the fleece unbroken.

After shearing, spread the fleece flesh side down on a clean floor. Fold it in about 10 inches on all sides and then roll it into a neat bundle, starting from the tail end. Bind the wool with paper twine but do not pack it too tightly.

McDonald reminds growers not to overlook the possibility of marketing wool through the Iowa Sheep and Wool Growers Cooperative. The cooperative doesn't buy wool. The farmer consigns his wool, making it possible to keep title to his wool and to receive the full benefit of the price support program. The cooperative sells the wool to the Commodity Credit Corporation (CCC).

The price the CCC will pay for medium wools, such as most Iowa farmers produce, is substantially higher at the mill. All wool is marketed by grade.

New wool bags are available at the local Farm Bureau office. Farmers who allow the Iowa Sheep and Wool Growers Cooperative to handle their wool on consignment receive 2 checks for their clip. The first comes at shearing time and represents about 80 percent of the value. The other is in payment for the balance and comes during the fall or winter months after the wool has been sold to the CCC.

Thanks for sending in your news. Phone or send it in.

Avery "Hustlers" Study Rat Control

Do you know how much it costs to keep one rat for one year? That is the question that was studied by the Avery Hustlers boys 4-H club. The boys were surprised to learn that it costs approximately $1.00 to keep each rat one year. They also learned that rats destroy or contaminate 50,000,000 bushels of corn each year.

The different methods which may be used to control rats was the subject for discussion of the Avery Hustlers 4-H club, when it held its regular meeting at the home of Larry Langlitz on April 13.

The boys are "Hustlers" true to their name and the club is growing by leaps and bounds. Another new member joined at the April meeting. The next meeting will be at the home of Gerry Kastler on May 17.

Try A Times Want Ad.

Phone your news to 12.

CURTIS G. RIEHM
Attorney-At-Law
Office Over Federated Store
Res. Phone 133W2
Phone 133 Garner, Iowa

GENERAL
TRUCKING
Local and Long Distance Hauling
ALVIN ALBERS
Phone 13F111 BELMOND

For Quick Truck Delivery On
Diamond
D-X
Products of all kinds
Phone 85
ERNEST HENSCHEN
Klemme, Iowa

VOTE FOR
Dr. Frank W. Missman
Republican Candidate For
HANCOCK COUNTY CORONER
Your Vote and Influence Will Be Greatly Appreciated

The Grade School Pupils Of The Klemme Schools, Kindergarten Through 8th Grade WILL PRESENT
"On Midsummer's Day"
AN OPERETTA

Directed By The Grade School Faculty
Assisted By Mrs. Patterson

On

Friday, May 7th

Beginning At 8:00 P. M.

The Grade School Operetta is one of the outstanding grade projects of the year. The operetta chosen for this year's production is perhaps one of the best to be given.

Don't Miss This Entertainment
Admission. 20c and 35c Tax Included.

Advertisement

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

Sam's Hens Wear Spectacles!

it's a fact! Sam's brood of ozen hens are wearing spec—which he bought from a rder house in Capitol City.

n says it works (and big y raisers say so, too). The see each other through soft d glasses, and instead of g and picking at each other, go around placidly, gain t, and lay more eggs.

es me almost wish we could rose-colored glasses for hu- eings, too. So that instead of eling and criticizing, like we do so much of the time, we'd live and let live in contentment.

From where I sit, the human race wastes a powerful lot of time in wrangling over minor issues ... whether a man should drink beer or cider ... whether a woman should wear slacks or skirts ... instead of seeing each other through "spectacles" of tolerance that enable us to live-and-let-live like Sam's brood of chickens.

Joe Marsh

Copyright, 1948, United States Brewers Foundation

KEEP THE FARM SANITARY 2-HOUR SERVICE ON REMOVAL OF Dead Stock
Phone
EMME ---------- 580
LMOND ---------- 580
We Pay The Call
A Clean Truck With An Efficient Driver In ur Neighborhood Daily.
Belmond By-Products
"Your Home Plant"
ne 580 Belmond, Iowa.

Announcement . . .

WE HAVE SOLD OUR DAIRY BUSINESS

We wish to announce to the people of Klemme and to the farmers that we have sold our dairy business to the Klemme Cooperative Creamery Co., who will take over on or about May 1st.

We want to take this opportunity of thanking the many people who have been our loyal customers all these years. It has been a real pleasure to serve you. We hope that you will continue as customers with the Creamery, who we are sure will give you the best of service as well as a quality milk.

Please consider this a special Thank You from:

Mr. and Mrs.
A. G. Koerner
Kermit Koerner and Roger Ridder, Dairymen
Mrs. Nova Stokesbary, Sec. and Collector

WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS

U. S. Carries Fight to Communists As Congress Approves Foreign Aid; Income Tax Cut Becomes a Reality

By Bill Schoentgen, WNU Staff Writer

(EDITOR'S NOTE: When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of Western Newspaper Union's news analysts and not necessarily of this newspaper.)

FOREIGN AID:
In Motion

With President Truman's signature on the $6,098,000,000 foreign aid bill, the massive, potent forces of western capitalism moved into action against Russian communism for the beginning of a titanic, long range clash of strength.

To observers in the U.S. this interplay of forces had all the ingredients of an epic poem—the power of good striving mightily to overcome the power of evil, with the fate of a large segment of mankind depending on outcome of the struggle.

There was an epic quality, too, in the manner in which congress, seemingly impelled by a strong sense of urgency, raced the bill through for final action. The house approved it with a vote of 318 to 75 after less than 15 minutes of explanation, and the senate followed up swiftly with a voice vote.

Two days after passage of the measure President Truman meshed the gears of the global aid program by ordering the reconstruction finance corporation to advance 1.16 billion dollars at once. That action released U.S. dollars, reconstruction supplies and in some cases arms to 15 European nations, as well as Turkey, western Germany, Trieste and China.

The overall $6,098,000,000 aid package includes 4.3 billion dollars for the European recovery program, 275 million dollars for military assistance to Greece and Turkey, 463 million for China and 2 million dollars for Trieste. All of it is aimed at areas where communists are sharpening their sword of aggression.

An ill-starred movement in the house to include aid to Franco Spain in the bill was defeated before it had time to do much damage to U.S. prestige and moral stature abroad.

As the aid started to move, the situation abroad stacked up something like this:

Russia's seizure of Czechoslovakia, its new pact with Finland and pressure on Scandinavian nations, the Soviets' arbitrary action in Berlin all pointed to the fact that Moscow was trying to bring about a showdown in Europe before the European recovery plan began to work effectively.

On the other hand, the rapid passage of the foreign aid measure, the proposal to return Trieste to Italy and the stiffening of American will in Berlin seemed to indicate that the U.S., while not forcing a showdown, was, nevertheless, willing to have it as soon as possible.

Few persons familiar with the situation thought that a showdown with Russia necessarily meant war. But it did involve acceptance of a risk of war. U.S. leaders were willing to take that risk on the theory that the likelihood of a shooting war is less now than it might be in the foreseeable future.

REDUCTION:
Tax Measure

President Truman's veto of the income tax reduction bill was crushingly overridden by both houses of congress—311 to 88 in the house, 77 to 10 in the senate—and U.S. citizens sat back to gloat over the first major tax-cutting measure passed in nearly 20 years.

In his now characteristic "I'd rather be right than be president" role, Mr. Truman had stubbornly affixed his veto to the bill, protesting that it mainly would benefit persons with incomes of $5,000 or more, encourage further inflation and sap the nation's strength at a time of international "danger."

Examination of the new tax structure indicated that the President was right in his first contention, at least—that the law would be of greater benefit to persons with high incomes than to those in lower brackets. Reason for that is that 12.6 per cent of $3,000 is considerably less than 5 per cent of a million. (Cuts in tax rates as provided by the new law range from 12.6 per cent in the lowest brackets to 5 per cent in the top level.)

Most interesting aspect of the tax cut development was the question of what motivated Mr. Truman to veto the bill. He was aware that enough members of both houses were supporting tax reduction in this election year to override his veto; hence, that his veto would be a gesture of futility that would place him on record as opposing the popular will.

Mr. Truman must have been aware, also, of the strong possibility that next year congress, safely through the elections, will boost federal income by reimposing some version of the wartime excess profit tax.

In view of these unpretty but inescapable realities, the President's veto of the tax bill simply did not fit the preconceived pattern of political action in an election year. Rather, it looked more like the deliberate driving of another nail in his political coffin.

In his veto message, Mr. Truman contended that increased defense and foreign aid measures might make it necessary for congress to raise taxes next year.

"In the case of the income tax," he said, "nearly 40 per cent of the reduction would go to individuals with net incomes in excess of $5,000, who constitute less than 5 per cent of all taxpayers."

Also, the President continued, while national income is high every effort should be made to reduce the size of the 253-billion-dollar public debt.

He was, beyond doubt, sincere in his objections, but they fell on deaf ears in congress.

APOLOGIA:
From Russia

Even as Russia officially expressed regret over the "unfortunate" British-Soviet plane crash over Berlin which cost 15 lives, plain people all over the world began to see more clearly how, although no nation is seeking war now, a war could start accidentally.

A pilot of a Russian fighter plane had buzzed a British plane, carrying 14 passengers, as it was landing in Berlin. The transport crashed in the Russian zone where the wreckage lay for 12 hours before the bodies were permitted to be moved.

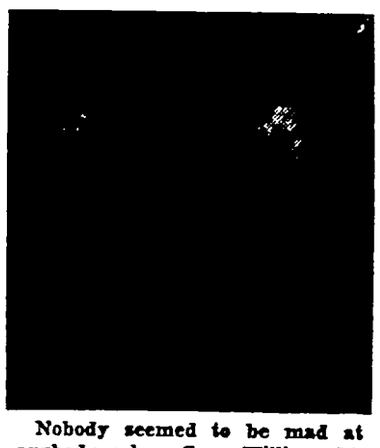
Tension in Berlin eased somewhat when British officials accepted the Russian apology and canceled plans to assign fighter plane escorts to all air transports coming into Berlin.

The official British account of the crash quoted eyewitnesses as saying that the Russian fighter pilot was "frolicking" when he hit the big plane.

While the fighter pilot undoubtedly had not been ordered to harrass the British plane, it was equally apparent that he and his cohorts had not been forbidden to do so.

Aside from the number of lives lost, the disturbing part of the incident is that it was, in a manner of speaking, an aggressive action, an overt act of deliberate provocation. And it is just such incidents as that that world leaders fear might one day touch off the conflagration.

Who's Mad?



Nobody seemed to be mad at anybody when Gov. William M. Tuck of Virginia and President Truman met at convocation exercises at William and Mary college, Williamsburg, Va., to receive honorary degrees of doctor of laws. Mr. Truman exchanged a cordial handshake with Governor Tuck, vociferous leader of the southern states' rebellion on the President's civil rights program.

Headliners

IN MANILA, P. I. . . . Ariston Almalel, veteran of Bataan, received an army back pay check for 49 cents, promptly went insane and died.

IN GOSHEN, Ind. . . . Harold Tinsley, 9, wanted to do something for underprivileged children overseas, nobly turned over to the Salvation Army his entire hoard of bubble gum—561 sticks.

IN ARTESIA, N. M. . . . Conscientious city fathers were trying to figure out a way to keep absent-minded citizens from mailing letters in trash cans.

MODERN MOTORCADE

Cars on Road Hit Historic Figure

Number of passenger cars on the road in the U.S. today is at an all-time high, according to an article in the April edition of "Business Comment," bulletin of Northern Trust company.

This is true despite the fact that no passenger cars were manufactured for private use during the war, that an estimated average of 1.2 million passenger cars were scrapped or put into storage yearly during the same period, and that postwar production has not yet exceeded the best prewar years, the bulletin stated.

Latest available figures indicate a total of 27.5 million passenger cars registered in the U.S. on July 1, 1947, the article reported.

NEW START:
China's Chiang

Hopelessly lost in the political and economic confusion of China, Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek, leader of the republic in one capacity or another since 1927, was casting about for a new role in the tragedy of the Far East.

Afflicted externally by Communist armies and internally by the venality of black marketeers and corrupt government officials, Chiang has been in the position of a man attempting to build a house on a pile of soggy refuse.

Now, however, there was a report out that Chiang had decided to quit the presidency of China. But there also were indications that, far from going into retirement, he would remain as Kuomintang strong man by becoming premier.

A spokesman for the Kuomintang, China's governing party, said that the generalissimo was determined to free himself from the presidency in order to lead a "holy war" against the increasingly powerful Chinese communists.

According to latest reports, Chiang was urging that Dr. Hu Shih be elected president. Former ambassador to Washington, Hu Shih now is president of Peking university.

PALESTINE:
Trusteeship

Studiously ignoring the groups and individuals who threw up their hands in horror when the U. S. reversed its position on partition of Palestine, this nation went right ahead with its avowed plan for a United Nations trusteeship of the Holy Land.

Disclosing some of the details of that plan, Warren R. Austin, American delegate to the U.N., told security council members that the United States favors sending foreign troops to Palestine to keep order, if and when that becomes necessary, under the trusteeship formula.

Unmistakably implied, although not stated outright, was U. S. willingness to send American troops to the Holy Land, provided other nations would join the parade also. Another provision was that the number of nations supplying troops be specifically limited.

Actually, there was little optimism that the fratricidal strife in Palestine or the causes producing it could be effaced by the expedient of imposing a U.N. trusteeship.

NUMBER ONE
Public Friend

Carl C. Countryman again wants to be President of the United States. With true political ebullience he has dubbed himself "American Public Friend Number One" and adopted a monolithic slogan: "Countryman for his countrymen; his countrymen for Countryman."

That this near-palindromic tonguetwister is intended to strike sparks of devotion from the flinty hearts of American voters is apparent in Countryman's frank statement that:

"My campaign must be for overwhelming publicity and an appeal to the imagination of the American people. I have a lot of evidence that my slogan, 'Countryman for his countrymen; his countrymen for Countryman,' is doing the trick."

Countryman is not a myth. He is not a hoax himself, nor is he trying to perpetrate a hoax through his presidency campaign. He is just a man, getting along in years now, who is serving the sincere belief that he could do better in the White House than the political figureheads in vogue.

Countryman opposes communism: "I want no part nor dealings with the Communist usurpers, who represent but a small fragment of the great Russian people."

Countryman opposes the military draft: "The draft is a subterfuge of incompetence. I favor making universal military training so attractive that it will be universal or approximately so."

Countryman's name will appear on no primary election ballots: "The gain inherent in such a course will not justify the necessary expenditure of time and money."

Countryman likes John Bricker of Ohio: "If I cannot get the nomination, I am all for Bricker. I should like to have the ticket Countryman and Bricker but if not, then Bricker and Countryman."

There is a truism which holds that universally present in the heart of every man is the belief that he could play Hamlet and run a newspaper. Countryman brings that deeply felt human motivation to the height of true nobility. For in his heart is the crowning belief that he also could be a good president.

Seek Uranium

Uranium—that most precious of all metals since advent of the atomic age—is being sought in Colorado now.

Department of the interior has set aside about 40 square miles of public land in the southwestern part of the state for exclusive use of the atomic energy commission, which will conduct an exhaustive investigation there for deposits of uranium, source of atomic energy

Washington Digest

U. S. Has Best Opportunity To Enforce Peace in World

By BAUKHAGE
News Analyst and Commentator

Once again we face the high cost of savagery—or preventing it—depending on how you put it. Billions more to run the government and the world, and to cover a stepped-up defense program. Talk of a 10 per cent increase in the budget for next year seems logical. As one cynic remarked, in the next war perhaps we ought to try to get on the losing side, and let the victors support us for a change.

Discussion of the details and cost of a selective service and universal military training program has been going on for some time. Sentiment against drafting husbands and G.I.'s seems to be crystallizing.

It would seem that G.I.'s might be fairly good material in an emergency without having to learn the general orders over again, and without having to reacquire precision in bringing the right hand smartly to the cap brim or lying down within a reasonable period before the arrival of a machine gun bullet.

As to the husbands—they aren't entirely expendable, of course—all of them. Probably the most effective thing congress could have done was to vote immediately for immediate registration for everyone. The age brackets and exemptions, after all, could be settled later. If the emergency arises or even approaches—we can talk details. That is the kind of emergency we face, and no sacrifice would be too great to prevent it. Right now proof of our willingness to act is most important.

Contrary to the general assumption that all we need is a few push-button experts and professors of nuclear science, any war that might come from now on would require a more extensive mobilization of civilian as well as soldier than anything which has preceded it.

Meantime, there is a better chance to establish a solid and stable peace than there ever has been. The United States has a better opportunity to enforce peace than any nation ever had. We could, with comparatively small sacrifice, start a preparedness program to prevent the "imbalance" of power against us, as they say in diplomatic language.

In other words we could, without danger of actual conflict, since there is no power NOW (not tomorrow or next year, but NOW) strong enough to threaten us, establish a Pax Americana. And with the will to peace that exists in the world today, we could use that situation, not as the Pax Romana or the Pax Britanica was used—to create enemies—but to build an effective Pax Universa.

America, in its strength could well afford to yield sovereignty to an international force. A period of tranquillity, enforced if necessary, is what the world needs; time to reflect. Rome and Britain did bring a long peace of sorts; we can establish a longer one—one long enough, perhaps, to build a permanent one.

The principle is simple—as a colleague of mine is fond of saying—"nobody tries to pick a fight with Joe Lewis."

Early statements were made to the effect that it would cost an additional 480 millions over what already has been budgeted for universal military training. We now spend 650 million dollars a year on cosmetics. And the total time used in applying them, according to my private statisticians, divided into manhours of military training, leaves a generous surplus for home-work.

I do not mean to treat lightly the world situation and the idea of a Pax Americana is not an empty one.

It is, in fact, the only kind of a peace we can be sure of until we have time to stabilize world conditions, until there is a fairer division of the bread, and the security in which to earn it and eat it; a cessation of the fear, suffering and anxiety which make men trade their heritage of freedom for the empty promise of protection at any price.

I sympathize with the people who oppose militarism in any form; but I do not accept as a valid syllogism: Militarism is bad; military training in America is militarism; therefore, military training in America is bad. Military training in Germany (the classic example) was the result of militarism, not its cause. Military training in America is no more related to German militarism than a hot dog is brother to a Dachshund.

Value of the Little Fish

The little ones didn't get away!

That is what Secretary of the Interior Julius A. Krug is explaining as he spreads the mesh of one of the 90-foot nets used by commercial fishermen of the New England coast.

"Fifteen million baby haddock that didn't get away," says Krug, who as interior secretary is likewise responsible for keeping a government eye on America's fish and wildlife, "would have been worth a million and a half dollars to New England's fishermen from March to mid-October of last year. They were caught in ordinary nets, killed and discarded."

If the little haddock had managed to get away, they probably would have grown up, been caught this year and sold by the same fishermen for a million and a half dollars."

This was one of the things I learned aboard the Albatross III, only floating laboratory possessed by the United States, which goes into service this spring. She started out as a regular commercial trawler, was drafted, transformed into a member of the coast guard's Atlantic patrol, discharged and now is equipped to do exactly the work commercial fishermen do, plus a lot more (by her crew of scientists) which will help the fishermen do better.

Baukhage interviews Interior Secretary Julius A. Krug aboard the floating fish laboratory "Albatross III" in Boston harbor.

One of the tasks of the fish experts is to see if anything can be figured out which will save the wastage created by catching the fish too young and thus preventing them from growing up to be caught and sold another year.

The mesh in the net in the picture is four and a half inches instead of the standard three-and-a-half measurement. Experiments have shown that use of the larger mesh saves 80 per cent of the under-sized fish, and does not reduce the size of the catch of the larger, marketable fish. But the commercial fishermen have to be shown.

One of the many tasks of the Albatross III is to prove by actual demonstration that this is true. It is a big job. And the department of the interior has a big man at the head of it. The dwarf in the photograph to whom Krug is talking (according to figures on my White House pass provided by the secret service) is 5 feet, 11 inches tall—and I am standing on my two feet, not kneeling.

* * *

Few Americans sipping their coffee, says Mid-America Information bureau, know that the berries from which it is made look a good deal like cherries. And for that matter, few Americans, sipping their Manhattans, say I, know that the cherries in them look a good deal like coffee berries.

BARBS . . . by Baukhage

The world's largest herd of dwarf cattle recently reached Chicago—five cows and bulls totaling less than the weight of an average steer. Now I know where that steak I got last night came from.

* * *

Old songs are being revived, but there still are a lot of people who would rather hear "Beautiful Ohio" than "Missouri Waltz."

The Australian government is anxious that Australian girls who married American servicemen return to Australia with their husbands. Some of the girls are anxious to return to Australia, period.

* * *

Farmers say egg prices are too low, considering the high cost of poultry feed. Which comes first: The chicken, the egg or the feed?

The Washington MERRY-GO-ROUND

By DREW PEARSON

Britain Will Fight Reds

ONE ALL-IMPORTANT QUESTION debated by war chiefs during recent defense discussions was whether Great Britain would throw its weight with the U. S. in case of a Red army sweep across Europe.

It is no secret that there has been strong sentiment in war-weary Britain for sitting out the next war. Five years of buzz-bombs and living in air-raid shelters have made a lot of Britishers feel that neutrality may be the best policy.

Incidentally this opinion is also widely held by many Frenchmen, Belgians, Dutch and other continentals.

The answer to this question was all-important to U. S. defense planners. They had to figure out in advance whether the United States would be able to have air bases near the European continent. With the Red army probably sweeping to the English Channel in a few weeks in case of war, Britain and Spain would be the only potential bases usable by the United States.

However, definite word has now been given the United States by the British government that, if Russia attacks, Britain will fight. British bases will be available to American bombers.

* * *

Navajos Own Valuable Land

IT NOW LOOKS AS IF the poverty-stricken Navajo Indians, trying to scratch a precarious living from the wastelands of Arizona and New Mexico, may own one of the most priceless pieces of property in the U. S.

For some time our chief worry in production of atomic energy was the fact that all uranium deposits lay outside the United States. However, it now appears that the Navajos have been tending their pitiful flocks above a hidden atomic treasure. For, upon the Navajo reservation in the upper corner of Arizona and New Mexico, the Vanadium Corporation of America has been quietly extracting uranium.

Further details regarding this operation must remain a military secret. One amazing fact can be revealed. So far, the Navajos haven't received one penny for the uranium taken from their land. Instead, the profits have been raked in by the Vanadium corporation.

The price which the atomic energy commission is paying the Vanadium corporation for uranium also is secret, but a member of the joint congressional committee on atomic energy predicted that the metal may become almost as precious as diamonds. Since the richest deposits are all outside the United States and could be cut off in case of war, this domestic supply becomes all the more valuable.

But the Navajos, sitting on one of nature's jackpots, so far haven't been able to collect a cent. Reason for this again is largely obscured by secrecy, and only part of the story can be told within the limits of national security.

For one thing, uranium does not exist in its pure form on the reservation but must be extracted as a by-product from vanadium. The only leases to dig for vanadium on Navajo territory—six in all—are held by the Vanadium corporation. These leases specify that the Indians will be paid 10 per cent royalty on all mineral compounds—except vanadium compounds.

In the latter case, the royalty is stipulated as 10 per cent of the vanadium oxide, a metal used to toughen steel. Since uranium is part of the raw vanadium ore until processed, the company conceivably might get away with paying royalty only on the comparatively valueless vanadium oxide, not on the other raw vanadium out of which uranium comes.

The Indian service takes the view that uranium is a separate metal apart from vanadium, therefore is subject to the full 10 per cent royalty fee.

* * *

Stalin's Cigarette Case

COMRADE ANDREI GROMYKO, Russia's dour-faced ambassador to the United Nations, always looks as if he had a grouch on when snapped by photographers. Actually, he has a sense of humor. Or so a fellow diplomat found when he told Gromyko this story.

At Yalta, Winston Churchill took out his handsome gold cigarette case and offered Stalin and FDR a cigarette. The cigarette case evoked considerable admiration—especially the inscription: "To Winston from his colleagues in the house of commons."

A little later Roosevelt took out his cigarette case and offered the conferring statesmen a cigarette. His case also evoked admiration, including the inscription which read: "To FDR from the boys on Capitol Hill."

Next it was Stalin's turn to flash a diamond-studded cigarette case. Its inscription read: "To Count Szecheny from his friends at the jockey club."

Gromyko listened carefully, roared with laughter.

Easily Built Garage Extra Storage

IF you know the differ... tween a hammer and a ... shouldn't have any difficul... this 13 ft. x 20 ft. garag... if you don't want to do ... building yourself, the ... method of construction pro... the information needed to ... own materials and to act ... own contractor.

With the purchase list of ma... can shop around for the bes... lumber as easily as shopping for ... Then by following the step by ... tions and assembly illustrations ... do all or part of the work you...

As the floor plan indicates, the... space for even the longest car... all this garage provides a separa... space for garden tools. Entry to ... is from the outside. Here the law... rakes, roller and other garden ... well as a bicycle or two, can ... without cluttering up the garage...

Along one wall, directly below ... ment windows, there is room for ... workbench. Toward the rear is ... that can be used for any number ... ideas. It's large enough for a c... unit or for a reserve canned goo... screens or storm sash, paints, ca... endless other uses.

Building the garage yourself c... of fun. You'll not only save a lot ... but you'll be surprised to see what ... sional looking job you can turn out ... from a pattern eliminates all ... The pattern tells you what to buy ... to use each piece. Step by step dr... easy to follow. Full Size Pattern ... making angle cuts on rafters ... studs. All construction is laid o... no special tools are needed. Dr... building the cupola are included.

Directions and assembly illustr... also provided for building a brea... necting the garage to your hous...

Send $1.00 for Garage and T... Pattern No. 113 to Enid-Bild Pat... pany, Department W, Pleasantvi...

CLASSIFI... DEPARTME...

HELP WANTED—M...

Experienced feed salesman to sell ... pre-mix to feed mills; old estab... corn; commission and drawing ... Southwest Iowa, all Nebraska, ... portunity for salesman that can q... details. Write E. L. Woodburn, ... Street, Minneapolis, Minn.

HELP WANTED—MEN, W...

Attention All: Get set for C... Many kinds. Thousands needed ... other countries, Islands. East, W... companies hiring $1 postpaid ... eral latest spring listings. Also ... general labor Foreign & Dome... Directory, P. O. Box 145 Dept. 2... 2, Wash.

FARMS & RANCHE...

CANADIAN FARMS—Write us for ... FORMATION on farm settlement o... Fertile soils. Reasonably priced. R. C... Canadian Pacific Railway, Units 8... Paul, Minn.

REAL ESTATE—BUS. ...

SACRIFICE money-making resort ... disability. For information, TAY... 3rd Ave. So., Minneapolis, Minn.

REAL ESTATE—MI...

PASTURE LAND For Sale—400 ac... County, Iowa. Owner, LEROY ... Grand River, Iowa.

BUSINESS & INV. OPP...

DEALERS WANTE...

For household refrigerators, 32 ... volt models available. Choice ter... central eastern and south-east... available. Write Kline Distribu... 321 Liberty Building, Des Moines...

SALE—Complete shoe shop equip... machines new. A good stock o... Anyone wanting to start a shop, ... this offer. WALTER COFFIN, Ge...

50 POPCORN VENDING MACHIN... lish your own profitable busines... tails, contact HOWARD J. TAYLO... ton, Iowa. Phones Red 449 and B...

OPERATE your own moving pict... Requires background and ability to ... lic. Very profitable. ROBERT ... Alden, Iowa.

GROCERY and meat market for ... serve and cash. One of the best in ... doing very good business. All new ... equipment, fixtures. Good location ... able rent. See it at once. GEORGE ... Cordova, Ill.

POULTRY, CHICKS & E...

BROODER AND LAYING HOUS... factured by leading firm of midwe... materials, finished craftsmanship ... est quality buildings obtainable. L... er in your locality with Charm... houses. Write for free literature ... Silo Company, West Des Moines, ...

13 x 56 ROUND end sectional 2 ... house. New roof, ceiling insulated, ... dition. $650. JOHN W. SEVER... bridge, Iowa.

BE ASSURED of Added Poultry ... year. Buy Lobdell's Giant Type ... horns. LOBDELL HATCHERY, ... terloo, Iowa.

DOGS, CATS, PETS, E...

NORWEGIAN Elkhound Nov. P... tered. The dog you will be pro... M. O. TJERNAGEL, Story City, ...

SEEDS, PLANTS, ET...

Seed Corn—Certified, blue tag, ... treated, US 18, US 35, Ohio C ... sistant strain, Indiana 609, Io... 939. $5.75 per bu fob. Perry. Ge... Perry, Iowa.

FARM MACHINERY & E...

M. M. New Corn Sheller for sale ... Size Model D list price. ALVIN ... Templeton, Iowa.

WANTED TO PURCH...
GOOD WALNUT TRE...
We pay highest cash pric... Take advantage of pres... market. Call or write M... Veneer & Lumber Co., ... buque, Ia.

AUTOS, TRUCKS & AC...

NEW 1947 Chev. school bus, 42 ... Superior body. Fully equipped. P... write LEWIS CHEVROLET CO., G...

MISCELLANEOUS

SHELLED PECANS. Medium s... halves guaranteed first quality. H... two-pound carton delivered to yo... the mail carrier, postage prepaid. ... Send check or money order to A... Pecan Co., Grand Bay, Alabam...

ND IN THE SKY' . . . A man-made planet, or "island in the envisioned by Donald J. Ritchie, ex-serviceman, as a terminal t ships soaring to the moon and between planets.

SE UNITED STATES

G.I. Scientist Envisions ure 'Island in the Sky'

OIT, MICH. — They at Jules Verne and later ome more at H. G. Wells any of the "impossible" hat these men foresaw in ion now are fact.

't laugh too loud nor too the dream of Donald J. 25-year-old Detroit ex- envisions a man-made r "island in the sky," ll be a stop-off point on urneys to the moon.

, currently a student at Institute of Technology t, didn't pick his dream in air. Before his dis- rom the army air forces, draftsman and designer ir technical command at Field, Ohio.

dn't get overseas, but came to him in the form n plans and models for war weapons captured or acquired by our forces. them were sent to Field for study.

g the war loot were nd models of the nazis' highly-developed rock- st important, however, me recorded fragments German dream to estab- "base" in outer space hich they could bom- e earth. These frag- ormed the basis for Rit- ream of an "island in "

heory is that rockets, a final speed of 16,700 hour outside the earth's re, would balance that with their own centri- rce. The rockets then volve around the earth further need of power. ctually would become of the earth.

y Ills Lead ly Troubles

AUKEE, Wis. — Money list of family troubles, f the Family Service in- re disclose.

an 11-month period 625 for help in money and home management eived by the service, an of 60 per cent over the year.

rease, according to Miss Park, family counselor y Service, is attributed cost of living, fewer working, men working time, strikes and work . All these conditions the number of families bles.

too, there are the tired machine, the broken- davenport, the sagging and the limping vac- aner — all household at need replacements.

now how" of budgeting aging a home is a sci- s Park insists. "It is not worrying before rather er you spend all your t is making money buy meet all a family needs, food, shelter and cloth- adds.

tter how you try, there a limit to that dollar. y needs $30 a week and come of $20, no budget- retching will make up erence, the counselor t.

' City Gets a 'Hottest'

TAFF, Ariz.—Although claims to be the coolest rizona and boasts vast as a tourist attraction, ow is importing ice. The in carload lots from which doesn't claim to f the hottest cities in but admits it. It's all lagstaff has grown too

"Off We Go"

AVIATION NOTES

NEW JOBS FOR PLANES

Ingenuity of American fliers, especially flying farmers, continues to produce new uses for the small airplane.

Rural use of the airplane, particularly in areas where farms or ranches are of large size, is growing, according to a roundup of information on airplane uses compiled by personal flying representatives of Civil Aeronautics administration.

Commercial dusting and spraying of crops and mosquito-breeding spots still ranks as the major rural use of airplanes, but this work is done mostly by companies organized for the purpose.

On large ranches, such as those in the West, an airplane can replace many a rider on a pony. Planes are used for observation and maintenance of windmills as well as for patrolling miles of fences and irrigation ditches.

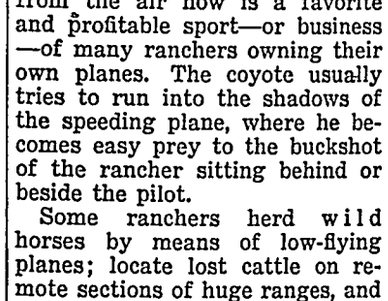
The airplanes take a more aggressive part in operation and protection of large ranches. Hunting down and shooting coyotes from the air now is a favorite and profitable sport—or business—of many ranchers owning their own planes. The coyote usually tries to run into the shadows of the speeding plane, where he becomes easy prey to the buckshot of the rancher sitting behind or beside the pilot.

Some ranchers herd wild horses by means of low-flying planes; locate lost cattle on remote sections of huge ranges, and assist cowboys in cattle roundups by utilizing the plane as cow pony.

More unusual uses of the airplane in rural areas include spreading of fertilizer, spraying of soil with oil solutions and stocking of streams and lakes with fish.

Ingenuity of young Americans returned from the global air war is accounting for many new uses of the airplane in commercial and industrial life. In additional to the standard business of pilot instruction, charter operation, aerial photography and aerial advertising, planes are being used in many diverse fields.

Transportation of fire-fighters to areas where they can head off forest fires soon may be supplemented by dropping of extinguishing chemicals from airplanes.



LARGEST HELICOPTER . . . World's largest and first twin-engine helicopter, known as the navy's XHJD-1, was built primarily as a research vehicle.

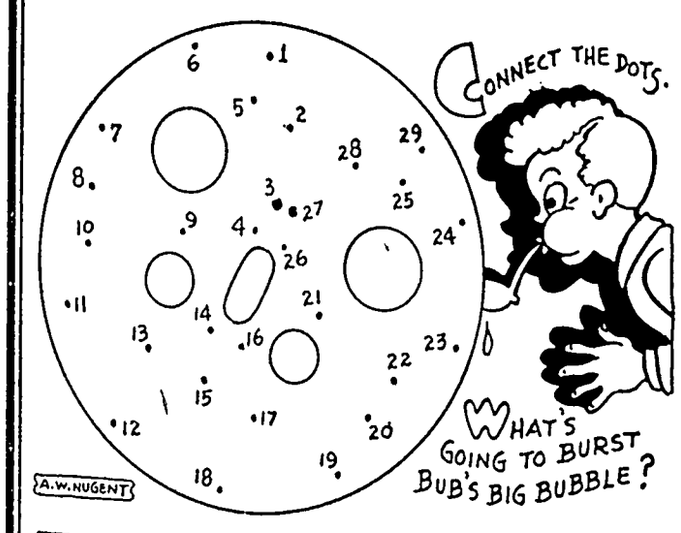
* * *

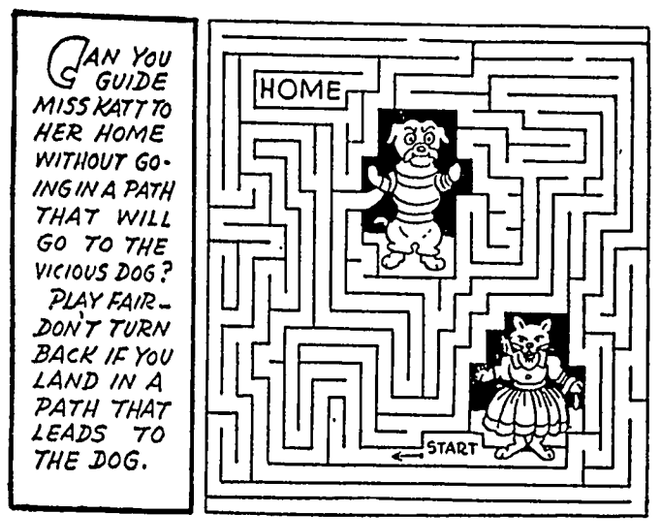
TAILWINDS SPEED FLIGHTS

Clipper planes to Europe have cut flying time 10 per cent by riding strong North Atlantic winds. Until lately, airliners followed a Great Circle route—the shortest distance to Ireland. Now, say officials of Pan American World Airways, navigators use weather forecasts to chart courses hundreds of miles off the Great Circle by which planes can travel with one wind after another.

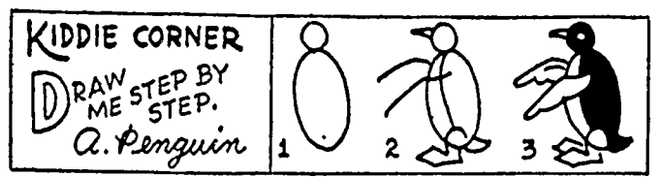
FUNLAND

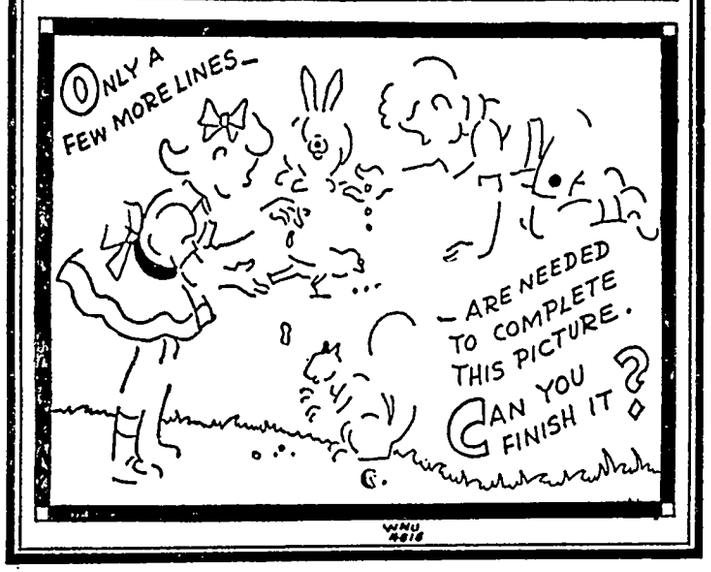
BY A.W. NUGENT





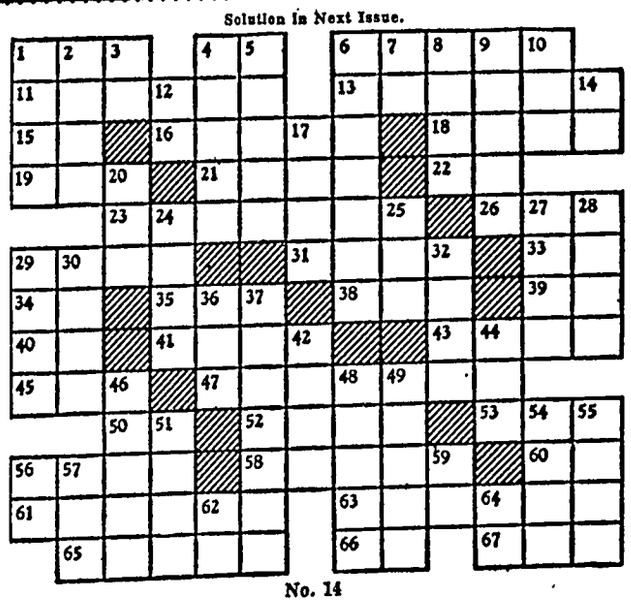
CAN YOU GUIDE MISS KATT TO HER HOME WITHOUT GOING IN A PATH THAT WILL GO TO THE VICIOUS DOG? PLAY FAIR—DON'T TURN BACK IF YOU LAND IN A PATH THAT LEADS TO THE DOG.
HOME
START





CROSSWORD PUZZLE

Solution in Next Issue.



No. 14

HORIZONTAL

1 To recede
4 A call to excite attention
6 To pilfer, as game
11 Gushed
13 Yearly
15 Toward 16 More mature
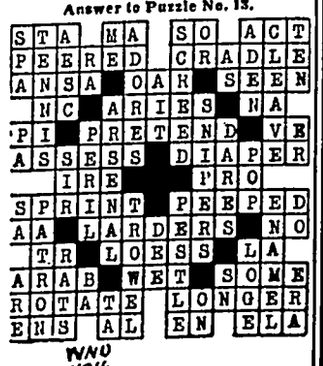
18 Gait of a horse
19 A pigpen
21 Russian river
22 Plural ending
23 A division of corals
26 To consume
29 Harden into a mass
31 To cull
33 International language
34 Symbol for oleum
35 Part of a circle
38 Confederate general
39 A pronoun
40 Note of scale
41 New Zealand tree with reddish wood
43 Utters
45 Beast of burden
47 Missiles
50 Symbol for tantalum
52 A species of dolphinlike cetaceans
53 Knave of clubs in Lu
56 Predatory incursion
58 Seasons
60 A linguistic stock of Gold Coast Negroes
61 To assert to be true
63 Tantalizer
65 Spanish title
66 Senior (abbr.)
67 A worm

VERTICAL

1 Newts
2 A stain
3 Buddhist priest
4 Greeting
5 Queerer
6 A sunshade
7 Upon
8 Poker stake
9 To swear
10 A Chinese weight
12 Grief
14 Commissioned officer (abbr.)
17 Man's name
20 Tibetan ox
24 A kind of fuel
25 Measure of land
27 Military force
28 Pedal digits
29 Genus of African trees
30 Word of sorrow
32 Examination
36 To steal
37 Armed vessel
42 Bone of the forearm
44 A poisonous snake
46 Fence steps
48 Sings in a lively manner
49 One who consumes food
51 British colony in southwestern Arabia
54 Grows older
55 A planet
56 Sun god
57 Indian mulberry (pl.)
59 Symbol for samarium
62 To depart
64 A compass point

Answer to Puzzle No. 13.



WNU 4816

NO BARE CUPBOARDS

Scientists Study 15-Year Food Program for World

By WNU Features

Filling Mother Hubbard's cupboards all over the world is the objective of the United Nations Food and Agriculture organization, now engaged in a study designed to formulate a 15-year program aimed at increasing world diets.

Intent on assuring "freedom from want"—second of the "four freedoms"—for peoples all over the world, the group of scientists comprising FAO are attempting to devise methods by which at least 2,600 calories a day will be provided for everyone.

The plan involves no charity. Rather, it's a boot-strap lifting item whereby it is hoped the nations of the world can lift themselves to decent diets.

Same Areas Affected

FAO has found that practically the same areas that are the unhappy footballs of the world's politicians also are the areas which are among the most poorly fed: India, Java, Korea, Iran, Iraq, Transjordan and China.

Peace scholars feel that if those underfed areas had enjoyed good living for at least two generations there never would have been any more likelihood of using China's 400,000,000 as a political pawn than there is of using pugnacious Australia with its mere 7,000,000.

FAO has been at work for a year in Washington headquarters. It has 42 member nations, including all the major powers except Russia.

Early this year FAO experts took the first world food survey to get a basis for a UN program.

The program sets 1960 as a "target date" and says that to get a minimum diet of 2,600 calories by then, the world must increase its food production by the following percentages:

Cereals 21; roots 27; sugar 12; fats 34; peas and beans 80; fruits and vegetables 163; meats 46; milk 100.

The plan by no means sees everyone eating alike. It takes account of India's love of rice, Latin American preferences for beans, and so on.

It only hopes to raise the calory intake of the poorer countries (and 2,600 calories would be 1,000 more than some are getting). It makes no attempt to get the best balance between cereals, meats and vegetables.

For the richer countries, such as the United States, it does propose a better balance.

Nations Lead

FAO found that in only 11 nations out of the 70 surveyed do the people normally average at least 3,000 calories a day. These were the United States, Canada, Eire, the United Kingdom, Denmark, Norway, Sweden, Switzerland, Argentina, New Zealand and Australia.

In 11 other nations the people normally average 2,000 or fewer a day: Korea, India, Java, the Philippines, Iran, Iraq, Transjordan, Costa Rica, El Salvador, Mexico and Colombia.

Navy Launches Test for Air-conditioning of Fleet

WASHINGTON — Sun-scorched after a day's work under a blazing summer sun, weary men some day in the near future may walk past a postoffice to be greeted by a navy recruiting poster with the message, "20 degrees cooler aboard ship." That will be particularly true in Midwest states, long a fertile field for navy enlistments.

The navy is planning to air-condition its fleet and toward this goal two heavy cruisers now building, the Salem and the Newport News, are being used as guinea pigs to determine the best type of equipment.

Vice Admiral E. L. Cochrane, chief of the bureau of ships, emphasized that the navy "is not trying to mollycoddle its personnel." Rather, its aim is to improve efficiency on the theory that men can work and fight better if they don't have to waste energy lambasting the heat.

Advantage in Action

As Cochrane. put it, "there can be no question but that the crew in an air conditioned warship will have a distinct and perhaps a decisive advantage in action with an enemy fatigued and of lowered alertness from living in a ship that is not air conditioned."

Early reports from the south Pacific fighting fronts made it clear that heat exhaustion was a tactical factor. Cochrane said, adding, however, that since Japanese ships weren't air conditioned either, "we fought on equal terms in that regard."

The navy's decision followed extensive experiments conducted at the naval medical research institute at Bethesda, Md., and aboard the carrier Franklin on her Caribbean shakedown cruise.

Test Two Types

Two types of air conditioning are being tested on the two cruisers. Steam jet equipment will be aboard the Salem when she is completed in late 1947. The Newport News will have equipment utilizing high speed freon compressors.

Although the Salem and Newport News will be the first combat ships to have living quarters completely air-conditioned, cooling systems aboard navy ships are not new.

About 40 years ago, temperature control was introduced in powder magazines. About 20 years ago mechanical cooling systems were installed in plotting and control rooms.

Also beginning in 1942, aircraft carriers have had mechanically cooled rooms for aviators togged out in their heavy equipment and standing by on alert. All ships later were equipped with air-conditioned hospital space.

AGRICULTURAL MISSIONARY . . . Franklin Wallick of Dayton, Ohio, pictured on his tractor, is one of a group of "agricultural missionaries" who will work in China as part of a 50-man unit sponsored by UNNRA and Ccurch of the Brethern, historic peace church with headquarters in Elgin, Ill. They will plant wheat in the Yellow river area flooded during the war.

Weathers Three Wars, Will Sit Out Next One

STOCKTON, Calif. — After living through three wars, Karl L. Horst is ready to go underground and sit out the next one. Horst, 59, has weathered the Spanish-American war, World War I and World War II.

But when an atom bomb leveled Hiroshima and Nagasaki and then snapped the seams on the Saratoga, the Arkansas and a few other assorted craft at Bikini atoll, he figured he'd had enough.

Consequently he inserted an advertisement in a Stockton newspaper:

"If interested in creating a safe shelter of refuge from atomic bombs for yourself and family, write at once."

Horst has a superbomb shelter in mind, located at some secret spot in the High Sierras. Perhaps an old gold mine could be converted or a new hole tunneled, he says.

Gems of Thought

For every woman who makes a fool out of a man, there's another who makes a man out of a fool.—Anon.

The real problem of your leisure is to keep other people from using it.—Anon.

Habit is either the best of servants, or the worst of masters.—Nathaniel Emmonds.

Untapped Knowledge

THE old farmer was dozing in the shade of his front porch, when a high-pressure salesman bustled up the front walk and awakened him with a cheery "Good afternoon." He had a sample book of a 10-volume set on scientific agriculture he was selling.

The old farmer was at length persuaded to page through the specimen volume.

"Nope," he objected; "ain't got no use for it."

"But you ought to have it," the salesman insisted. "It will teach you to farm twice as good as you do now."

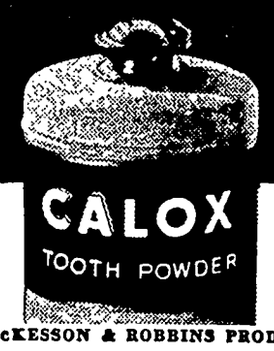
"Hell, son," barked the ancient agriculturist, "I don't farm half as good now as I know how."

No Longer Constipated

"Since I made ALL-BRAN my breakfast cereal I've stopped taking laxatives!"—Mrs. V. DeBonis, Philadelphia, Pa.

If your diet lacks bulk for normal elimination, this delicious cereal will suppy it. Eat an ounce every day in milk—and drink plenty of water. If not satisfied after 10 days, send the empty carton to the Kellogg Co., Battle Creek, Mich., and get DOUBLE YOUR MONEY BACK. Order KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN today.

38% BRIGHTER TEETH in 7 days!



A McKESSON & ROBBINS PRODUCT

SPRAY WITH Black Leaf 40

—Double-duty insecticide: Kills by contact; kills by fumes. Destroys plant lice but spares beneficial insects. Insist on original factory-sealed containers to insure full strength.

One ounce plus soap makes 6 gallons of effective aphid-spray.

TOBACCO BY-PRODUCTS & CHEMICAL CORPORATION
Nicotine Specialists Since 1882
LOUISVILLE 2, KENTUCKY

LOOK FOR THE LEAF ON THE PACKAGE

Relieves Distress of MONTHLY FEMALE WEAKNESS

Also Helps Build Up Red Blood!

Do female functional periodic disturbances make you suffer pain, feel so nervous, irritable—at such times? Then try Lydia E. Pinkham's TABLETS to relieve such symptoms. Pinkham's Tablets are also very effective to help build up red blood in simple anemia.

Lydia E. Pinkham's TABLETS

Kidneys Must Work Well-

For You To Feel Well

24 hours every day, 7 days every week, never stopping, the kidneys filter waste matter from the blood.

If more people were aware of how the kidneys must constantly remove surplus fluid, excess acids and other waste matter that cannot stay in the blood without injury to health, there would be better understanding of why the whole system is upset when kidneys fail to function properly.

Burning, scanty or too frequent urination sometimes warns that something is wrong. You may suffer nagging backache, headaches, dizziness, rheumatic pains, getting up at nights, swelling.

Why not try Doan's Pills? You will be using a medicine recommended the country over. Doan's stimulate the function of the kidneys and help them to flush out poisonous waste from the blood. They contain nothing harmful. Get Doan's today. Use with confidence. At all drug stores.

DOAN'S PILLS

Saturday Bridge Club Met

Mrs. Kenneth Medin entertained the Saturday Bridge Club at her home Saturday afternoon. Mrs. Geo. Lawhorn and Mrs. R. A. Jorgenson were guests. Mrs. Medin served a nice lunch after the games.

Mrs. Lawhorn won high score in contract bride, while Mrs. M. L. Harson was second.

GARNER CLINIC
GARNER, IOWA

Dr. E. M. Christensen, M.D.
Physician & Surgeon, Ph. 18
EYES TESTED — GLASSES FITTED

Dr. A. G. Landon, D.D.S.
Dentist, Ph. 207

PHOTOGRAPHS
•
Live
Forever
•
RUSSELL
Photo Studio
Next to J. C. Penny Co.
Ph. 2272 Mason City, Ia.

KLEMME LOCAL NEWS

Mary Loock and Mrs. Hummel called on Mrs. Lena Medaus Sunday afternoon.

W. F. Pavey and John Clements went to Garrison, Iowa, on business Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Ell of Belmond attended church in Klemme and visited with friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Ridder were entertained Sunday at the Fred Gates home at Garner.

Edna Curtis and Lester Bredlow of Swaledale were dinner guests Sunday at the Emil Beier home.

Mrs. Lena Schroder and Mrs. Calvin Grosshuesch are serving at the meeting of the Guild at the Evangelical and Reformed Church today.

Mr. and Mrs. Verne Priebe and children and Mrs. Louise Rosendahl were visitors at the Sumner Trumbell home Sunday evening.

Mrs. Albert Lange has returned home from the Mercy hospital where she underwent a major operation. Mrs. Lange is reported to be making a good recovery.

KLEMME LOCAL NEWS

Mrs. A. L. Kingery and Miss Francis Tanner were Mason City visitors Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Gast and Mrs. Ronald Gibbs and Ronna spent Monday a the Kenneth Gast home near Miller.

Mrs. A. H. Dulmes and Dick went to Grundy Center Friday afternoon for a visit over the week end with Miss Ada Mutch.

Mrs. Wm. Fuss left Friday for Lone Tree where she will visit her parents for a couple of weeks.

Alfred Josten and Rev. Calvin Grosshuesch left Tuesday for Quincy, Illinois where they will attend a three-day Synod meeting.

Mrs. Calvin Grosshuesch left Friday for Melbourne, Iowa to spend about a week visiting with her son, Rev. Ruben Grosshuesch and family.

Rudy Quandt, of Belmond, began work last week at the Quandt Cafe. Rudy worked at the cafe several months last summer and fall.

The C. S. C. S. of the Methodist Church will meet May 2nd. All children come at 10:00 a. m. with Mrs. D. P. Anderson as leader.

Mrs. Erma Ramsay of Montezula, Montanna; Mr. and Mrs. Chester Luick of Belmond and Mrs. Theo. Wright of Belmond visited at the Sumner Trumbell home Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Loren Gast and Kathryn were dinner guests at the Ronald Gibbs Home Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. Herman Gast called there in the afternoon and were supper guests.

Mrs. Elwood Geary and baby son returned home from the Mercy hospital Friday morning. Mrs. Geary is staying at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edd Schoenwetter for a week.

KLEMME LOCAL NEWS

Kenneth Medin was at Algona Saturday afternoon for a visit with his parents.

Mrs. Charles Conklin of Godell came Saturday morning to help care for her mother, Mrs. Della Christie, who is confined to her bed at the Sumner Trumbell home.

Sunday, April 18 Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Blank of Iowa Falls; Mr and Mrs. Fred Blank, Lora and Frederick of West Bend and Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Usher and Carroll of Rowan visited at the Conrad Quandt and T. Blank homes.

Mr. and Mrs. John Etchen returned home Friday from Detriot, Michigan, where they had spent a week visiting their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Radics, Jr. The Etchens enjoyed a fine time and a good vacation.

"Bodge" Bowles, of Indianola, coach of the Klemme high school before the war, was visiting with Klemme friends Saturday evening. He will coach athletics in North High at Des Moines this coming year. He also announced that he will be married in June.

AROUND IOWA

NARROW ESCAPE

At Osage, two men narrowly escaped last week with their lives when their clothing became drenched with gasoline as they were emptying a gasoline truck into a reservoir. The clothing of both men, Luther Seeber of Osage and the truck driver from Clear Lake, was set afire as Mr. Seeber pulled an electric switch. The driver drove his truck out of danger; the bulk plant went up in flames and and neither man was injured.

DIED

A fall from the back porch cost the life of Mrs. Mary Jane Innes, 84, of the Amity community near Reinbeck recently.

TIN HAT

Little Judy Merkel of Remsen tried on a tin pail as a hat one day recently while playing in the sand pile. The pail fit perfectly; so well in fact, that Judy couldn't get it off. Her father ran down to the hardware store and got some tin snips and freed Judy from her Easter bonnet.

EIHGT LEGS

An eight-legged lamb was born on the Anderson-Lemley farm near Wellman recently. The lamb was born alive, as the twin to a normal lamb, but was killed due to its weakened condition.

TARPAULIN

As he drove his car to Fort Dodge, Norman Price of Iowa Falls was killed when he met a truck and the tarpaulin covering the truck blew over the Price car, obscuring the driver's vision. He lost control and went into a ditch. His injuries proved fatal.

FISH

When Mr. and Mrs. Monty Hood of Osceola stopped in at a Florida fishing resort recently, the proprietor showed them an eight-pound bass which had been caught by a guest the day before. The lady who caught the bass was Grace Robinson—also of Osceola.

BROKE BACK

While trimming branches in his yard recently, Kenneth Lashbrook, Osage postal employee, fell from a limb and fractured a vertebra in his back. He will be in a cast for about 3 weeks.

Farm Bureau Calendar Of Coming Events

May:
Fun Night for all 4-H members in Hancock County and other members of their families. Garner high school at 8 p. m.

May 3:
County Women's Committees meeting to plan extension program for 1949.

May 3:
Ellington 4-H boys meeting at Skogerboes at 8:00 p. m.

May 4:
Crystal Merrymaid's Club meeting at 7:30 p. m.

May 4:
Hancock County Farm Bureau Board meeting at 8:00 P. M. at the County Office.

KLEMME GIRL IN CHORAL CONCERT AT ISTC

Elizabeth Goll, of Klemme, is one of the 150 students who will appear in the choral concert at the Iowa State Teachers College Thursday, May 6, at 8:00 p. m. in the auditorium.

Joining together for an evening of vocal music will be the A Cappella Choir and the College Chorus, conducted by Maurice Gerow, and the College Women's Chorus, conducted by Jane Mauck.

The Teachers College student choral groups will present a varied program, ranging from a motet by Bach to a contemporary arrangement of Fred Waring. Both secular and religious compositions will be included, among them, "Break Forth, O Beauteous Heavenly Light" (Bach), "Rustling Leaves" (Russian Folk Tune), "Comin' Thru the Rye" (arranged by Sieone) and "Where You There" (arranged by Ringvald.

Winter Kill Of Clover Calls For Emergency Seeding

An emergency planting of forage crops in Hancock County probably will be necessary this year to replace clover which has been winter-killed in many places, according to County Extension Director Paul Henderson.

He aid low temperatures when there was little or no snow cover on the ground during the past winter probably accounted for the excessive amount of winter-kill. Heaving from the alternate thawing and freezing may have added to the damage

Henderson estimates that the kill among the clover in the county may run as high as 75 percent. Surveys in the state thus far indicate that about half of Iowa's counties have suffered similar damage, it is reported by Ralph Krenzin, an Iowa State agronomist. Kill is placed as high as 75 percent in some counties

The southeast part of the state has been most severely affected.

To provide a guide for emergency plantings for hay and pasture to carry farmers over the coming season, the Extension Service has prepared a mimeographed sheet on "Emergency Forage Crops," (Agronomy Publication No. 94. Henderson said a supply has been received at his office, and a copy may be had free of charge by anyone wishing it.

"Pasturing off spring-seeded small grain crops with which clover and grass are seeded provides one of the best emergency pastures, and is one of the surest methods of establishing clover and grass" Iowa State College agronomists say. "Begin with pastureing when the small grain is about eight to ten inches high."

The agronomists also suggest Sudangrass, rye and rape as possible emergency pasture. For an emergency hay crop, soybeans, Sudangrass and oats are recommended as the most valuable in Iowa. They have given satisfactory yields, and are less expensive to seed than some crops.

Mrs. A. H. Dulmes Entertained U-Delt-Em Club

Mrs. A. H. Dulmes was hostess to the U-Delt-Em club at her home Friday afternoon with Mrs. Kenneth Medin as a guest. The high score was won by Mrs. Medin and Mrs. Geo. Lawhorn won second high. Lunch was served by the hostess.

Repeat Plantings Of Certain Garden Crops

Succession plantings are now in order for short season crops in the home garden.

Fresh, crisp radishes, lettuce, carrots, spinach and other quick growing garden crops can be stretched over a longer period this summer through succession plantings, says Ed Cott, extension horticulturist at Iowa State College. If you planted any of those crops about 2 weeks ago, it is now time for the second seeding to insure a steady table supply.

It's also time to get bush and pole bean seed on hand. Bean planting can start now in the southern half of Iowa, Cott says, or in the Northern half of the state the first week in May.

"Gaston B. Means, Master Rogue" —A profile of the "biggest liar of the century." This spy and murder suspect swindled Mrs. Evalyn Walsh McLean out of one thousand dollars in the Lindbergh Case in The American Weekly magazine distributed with the Sunday's Chicago Herald-American.

The Methodist Church
Herschel E. Harvey, Pastor

KLEMME

SUNDAY

Worship at 10.00 A. M.

Sunday School at 11:00 A. M.

Youth Fellowship at 7:00 p. m. with election of officers and games afterward.

LIBERTY

SUNDAY

Church School at 10:15 A. M.

Worship at 11:15 A. M.

M. Y. F. at Klemme at 7, with election.

Home Builders at the church at 7:30 p. m. with supper.

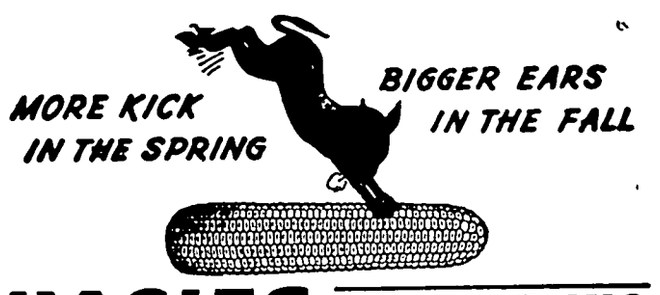
WSCS May 5 at 2 p. m. with Mrs. Elmer Schaefer.

Read it first in The

DR. F. L. HA
DENTIST
Office Over Rexa
Phone 21 Garn

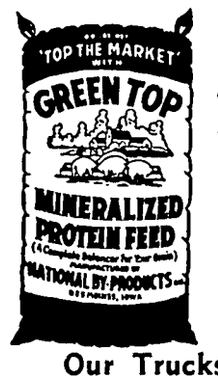
No Me
Due to the illness Quandt we will dis serving meals for t ent, but will conti lunches and other
TOBACCOS
ICE CREA
CIGARETT
CANDY BA

Thank You
QUANDT'S C
Mr. and Mrs. Co Quandt



HAGIES HYBRIDS, INC.
CLARION, IOWA
* • *
ELMER SCHAEFER — GARNER, IOWA

DEAD STOC
PROMPTLY REMOVED



Britt Rendering
Dept. of Agr. Lic. No. 2
WE PAY PHONE CHA
KLEMME Phone 700
GARNER Phone 400
Our Trucks Are Steam Cleaned Af Each Load
TANKAGE AND MINERALIZED FEED FOR SALE AT OUR PLANT

PUBLIC NOTICE

KLEMME'S ANNUAL SPRING CLEAN-UP WEEK

Starts Monday, May 3 Thorugh May 8

Our Citizens Are Asked To . . . .

1. Gather discarded materials.
2. Place scrap and rubber in piles for scrap dealer.
3. Haul away ashes, tin cans and other rubbish.
4. Clean up your yard, street and alley.
5. Burn materials of no value.
6. Assist in making Klemme an attractive town.

Don't Let Your Chickens Run At Large

Keep Chickens penned up during the Spring and Summer months so they don't ruin your neighbor's garden and property.

Use Of The Town Dumping Grounds Is Restricted!

Misuse of the dumping privilege on the ground as the Town Dump has caused it to become a public nuisance. The dumping of garbage, dead animals. paper and other offensive waste any place within the Town of Klemme is prohibited by the Laws of Iowa and Ordinances of the Town of Klemme. The dumping of anything offensive to the health and welfare of the residents or the property in Klemme will be prosecuted under existing Town Ordinances and State Laws. Please cooperate.

Notice To Dog Owners . . . .

All dogs after May 1st will be picked up if they are not wearing a collar with a License Tag attached and they will be disposed of in the usual manner. See the Town Clerk about a license tag today.

Free Dumping

FROM MAY 3 TO MAY 8
RESIDENTS ONLY

After May 8 the dumping grounds will only be open to public on Saturdays and the charge will be $1.00 per load.

PUBLISHED BY ORDER OF THE TOWN COUNCIL

J. E. Stille, Mayor

Clean Up—Haul Away Rubbish! Help To Keep Klemme Clean!

K. F. M. Special

FRIDAY and SATURDAY, APRIL 30 - May
We Reserve The Right To Limit

Miracle
SANDWICH SPREAD _____ pt. ja

Monarch
DARK SWEET CHERRIES _____ No. 2 ca

Hallmark
PRE COOKED BEANS _____

Week End Special
JELLO TAPIOCA PUDDING _____ 2 fo

For A Breakfast Treat
KIX _____ 2 fo

Monarch
PINEAPPLE JUICE _____ No. 2 ca

Johnson's
GLO COAT _____ pt. ca

Friday and Saturday
BON AMI _____ 2 cans

Week End Special
SANI FLUSH _____ ca

BRING US YOUR EGGS — CASH OR

Klemme Food Mark
Monarch Finer Foods C. A. Larse

THE KLEMME TIMES

ume 53. KLEMME, IOWA, MAY 5, 1948 Number 25.

mme Band Won Division One Rating In State Meet

LEY BULKA'S 30-PIECE ND CLIMBED TO TOP IN CONTESTS

e Harvey Won Division 1 ing With Piano Solo

key Bulka, band direc- the Klemme high school, coached his band to the top in state competition the Klemme band, com- in a strong field at Em- g Saturday emerged from ests with a State Divis- Rating, the very top, and as the band can go this e Klemme band competed ss D, in the State Contest, chools of 100 and under. A number of bands were and what Klemme lack- the number of players, evidently made up in quali- The Klemme band had 30 ians in the contests, where schools had from 40 on up. bands to win a Division 1 in Class D were Manly, LuVerne and Primghar. er band in Hancock Coun- rit, also won a Division 1 in Class C.

Other Entries Placed

e Klemme School had three entries in the contest: lle Harvey, who won a ion 1 Rating in piano solo who will go to Boone May for further competition; e Haefner who won a Divi- II Rating in piano solo, and Girls Sextette, who won a ion II Rating.

OME SCHOOLS STILL ACK FULL TEACHING STAFF FOR NEXT YEAR

e Klemme Schools still lack w teachers to complete the lty for next year.

ose who have signed up to h here next year are Supt. L. Kingery; Robt. Andreae, ematics; Mrs. Robt. An- e, Home Economics; Mrs. y Schlawin, 5th and 6th es; Miss Lena Halfwassen, and 2nd grades. and Miss rine Seim, Kindergarten. achers are still lacking for and 8th grades; high school h and commercial. The ic department is still doubt-

Built House In Texas

r. and Mrs. Wm. Ax and son, n, returned home Saturday Brownsville, Texas, where spent three months and re they had an apartment. y visited with the John Neu- er family and also the Lloyd family.

r. and Mrs. Ax built a new e at Brownsville which has completed and which they e rented until next winter. and Mrs. Lloyd Ax also lt a new house at Browns- e. Both new huoses being x 24 feet in size. They found difficulty in procuring the ding materials and millwork found that pipe for gas was hardest to get.

r, and Mrs. Ax expect to rn south again next winter both enjoyed the sunny th in the Rio Grande Valley.

Recovering From Injury

Grandma H. L. Suckow, who e time ago fell and fractured hip at the County Home and been a patient at the Mercy ital since, was returned to can Sunday in Wellemey- ambulance. She resides her son-in-law and daugh Mr. and Mrs. Herman Paul, ward and stewardess at the nty Home. Mrs. Suckow is orted to be making a satis- ry recovery.

KILL WEEDS EARLY IN SOYBEAN FIELD

That Is First Rule For High Yield On Iowa Farms Crops Men Say

Kill weeds early to increase soybean yields. That's the advice of Charles R. Weber and Martin G. Weiss, Iowa State College agronomists.

Prepare the seedbed early, select the best variety, then follow with a shallow cultivation just before seeding time. Next, harrow the field after the soybeans are planted. Besides breaking up any crust that may have formed, harrowing helps kill weeds.

After the beans are up, treat themrough. Pull a harrow, rotary hoe or weeder through the field at a fast speed. While a few bean plants may be destroyed, several harrowings will kill enough weeds so that one cultivation may be enough later.

Plant In Rows

Planting soybeans in rows gives better results han drilling solid, Weber and Weiss report. Drilling solid decreases labor costs and soil erosion, but row plantings usually yield higher. Row-seedings can be cultivated, the plants dry faster for harvest and they can be combined earlier and more easily with less loss from shattering.

Keep the rows close together. Rows can be narrowed by shortening the gauge on an ordinary two-row corn planter so that alternate rows are close together. Or some planters may be adjusted to plant narrower. To cultivate alternating rows, remove the outside shovels on your two-row cultivator.

Planting Date, Rate

Plant according to seed germination tests. If the seed germinates 90 percent or higher, about 1.4 bushels per acre is recommended for 21-24 inch rows. For rows averaging 30-36 inches apart, use 1 bushel of seed per acre. Seed more beans per acre if your soil crust after a rain, if germination is poor or if seed contains foreign material.

If a variety of beans is adapted to your region, plant between May 15 and 31. June plantings yield highest when early maturing varieties are used. Weber and Weiss point out that Mandarin, an early variety, out-yield Richland, Mukden and Dunfield when all were seeded after June 10.

The soybean specialists believe that these practices can increase average bean yields 5 to 7 bushels per acre if all are put into use.

BULL ATTACKS

Hwo Iowans have been attacked by bulls recently. At Cresco, neighbors and friends gathered to plow and seed oats for Harlan Hovey, who had been injured when a bull attacked him down and breaking his collar bone before Jerald Neubauer drove the animal away with an improvised club. Near Albia, Mrs. Ralph Guther suffered cuts in her left leg when a bull ripped her with its horns.

HELLO, FOLKS!

Mr. and Mrs. Arnett Waddingham, who reside northeast of Klemme, are the parents of a baby boy, weight 6 lbs. born at the Mercy hospital at Mason City on May Day, Saturday, May 1st.

STOLEN

At Logan, Sheriff Cass Bullis reports a case of dynamite has been stolen from a club house. He thinks it might be the work of young people. Meanwhile, residents of that area are holding their breath, wondering when there will be a further "report" on the matter.

ABANDONED

At LeMars, a young woman admitted to officers that she had abandoned her 12-hour old baby in the lobby of a hotel there The child was born Saturday morning, abandoned Saturday evening. The mother went back to work Sunday and did a washing Monday.

Ventura Girl Bride Of Klemme Farmer

MISS CANNON, G. NANNENGA ARE MARRIED

Miss Melva Jean Cannon, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Emmons Cannon, Ventura, became the bride of George W. Nannenga, Garner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Nannenga, Klemme, in a wedding ceremony at the Lakeside Church, Ventura, Thursday, April 22. The Rev. George A. Wolfe, Iowa Falls, read the double ring service at 12:30 o'clock.

Attendants were Miss Bonnie Allen, Plymouth, and Earl Cannon, brother of the bride.

Miss Joan Miles played the traditional wedding marches and accompanied Miss Beverly Byerly who sang "Because," "I Love You Truly" and "Lord's Prayer."

Miss Cannon, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a blue street dress with matching accessories and a corsage of red roses. She also wore her mother's gold stone necklace worn by Mrs. Cannon at her own wedding 25 years ago.

Miss Allen wore a rose taupe dress with matching accessories and corsage of pink carnations. Mrs. Cannon and Mrs. Nannenga, mothers of the bride and bridegroom, respectively, wore black with corsages of pink and white carnations.

Guests from away included Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Billings, of Springview, Nebr., Mmes. Gale Laudermilk and Ray Kessel, Mable, Minn. Mr. and Mrs. Henry Johnson and Marilyn , Alexander; Miss Bessie Smidt, Meservey, and other friends and acquaintancs from Clear Lake, Goodell, Garner, Klemme and Ventura.

A recreation was held in the church parlors. Mrs. Laudermilk, aunt of the bride, and Mrs. Kessel, served the cake and Mrs. Billings poured. Miss Lorraine Abel was in charge of the guest book.

Mr. and Mrs. Nannenga went on a wedding trip to Minnesota and are now at home on a farm near Garner. Mrs. Nannenga was graduated from Ventura high school. Mr. Nannenga has served in the army in the Pacific area several years.

School Calendar

May 7 -------- Grade Operetta
May 15 -- Junior-Senior Banquet
May 16 ---------- Baccaluarate
May 19 --- 8th Grade Exercises
May 20 ------- Commencement
May 21 ---------- Picnic

FOR RIPLEY!

KLEMME LADY HAS TWENTY-EIGHT GREAT GRANDCHILDREN

Here is another one for Ripley: Mrs. Anna Wille just received word that she is a great grandmother for the twenty-eighth time!

The newest arrival is a daughter born to Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Domonoske at St. Luke's hospital at Fairbault, Minnesota.

Mrs. Domonske, a granddaghter of Mrs. Wille, is the former Miss Gladys Palmby, youngest daughter of Mrs. and Mrs. Ernest Palmby of Vernon Center, Minnesota

DECKS CLEARED FOR HANCOCK COUNTY HEALTH DAY SATURDAY

All arrangements are now complete for the celebration of Hancock County Health Day at Britt on Saturday, May 8. Picnic grounds are in readiness and accomodations for a large crowd are insured. Bring your family (or group picnic) lunch and enjoy an old fashioned picnic with your neighbors amid pleasant surroundings. Plenty of entertainment on the side. Free coffee and lemonade served.

Reports from most of the rural and grade teachers indicate a large attendance of school children to participate in the parade and attend the free picture shows. The large number of floats, tsunts, etc. for the parade, listed in their reports, indicate the great interest and enthusiasm in Health Day.

Don't forget the day—Saturday, May 8, 1948— Parade starts at 11 o'clock. Band concert in the park for two hours. Come and help honor these children who have so successfully completed their project for better health.

Thanks To Teachers

The Britt Rotary Club, sponsors of this celebration, wish to thank the teachers for their splendid co-operation. Many of the teachers are spending their own time in preparing floats and stunts for the parade, and should be highly commended for their interest in better health for the children of Hancock County.

The program as published last week will be carried out. Come early. Stay all day. Bring your friends along.

Mrs. Anderson's Circle Met On Friday Eve With Mary Swanson

Mrs. D. P. Anderson's Circle No 6 of the Methodist Church met Friday evening at the home of Miss Mary Swanson with ten present. A good program was enjoyed after which a delicious lunch was enjoyed.

Twentieth Wedding Anniversary Celebrated By Couple

MR. AND MRS. WALTER ROSENDAHL GIVEN SURPRISE ON ANNIVERSARY

Sunday, May 2, was the 20th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Rosendahl, who live on their farm southeast of Klemme. Their daughter, Iris, was in on the secret so detained her parents at the church until the self-invited guests would have time to arrive at the Rosnedahl home.

When the Rosendahl family arrived at their home the Barz clan had everything all set for a big dinner. The table was decorated and beautiful wedding cake, baked by Mrs. Harvey Barz, served as the center-piece. The guests had brought well filled baskets of food and a sumptious dinner was served.

The afternoon was spent in visiting and after a late afternoon lunch the visitors departed for home wishing Mr. and Mrs. Rosendahl many more happy anniversaries.

Mr. and Mrs. Rosendahl, who were presented with a nice gift, are the parents of four children: Ardel, Iris, Ione and Rosalie.

Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Barz and family; Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Barz and Darlene; Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Barz and family; Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Greiman and family; Mr. and Mrs. Fred Barz.

Leases Station

Edwin Bock, owner and operator of the Bock super service station at Garner has leased his station to Asa Gibbs and M. M. Schoneman, effective Saturday. Both Gibbs and Schoneman are experienced station operators. Both served in World War II. Bock will continue to operate his tank wagon service and fleet transports which were operated in connection with his station.

Liberty W. S. C. S.

The Liberty ladies will meet with Mrs. Elmer Schaefer on Wednesday, May 5th. Hostesses are Mrs. E. Blumer and Mrs. E. Pringnitz.

Will Further Improve Electric Service

CREW COMING HERE TO TRIM TREES IN CITY

The Central States Electric Company has contracted with the Wright Tree Service of Des Moines to trim trees in Klemme that interfere with its service lines. These people are experienced tree surgeons, and employ only skilled workmen. They will arrive in this city early next week.

It is necessary for the power company to trim trees from time to time in order to maintain good service. Trees that are allowed to grow into distribution circuits, interfere with your electric service in many ways.

Probably the most noticeable to customer is through radio interference. The reason for most interruptions to your service is poor tree clearance.

The Central States Electric Company instructed these tree surgeons to not only trim the trees to provide good clearance for its wires, but in every case to do everything possible to improve the general appearance of all trees on which they are required to work on.

STATE FIRE LOSS IN 1947 AVERAGED $3.25 PER PERSON

Iowa Figure Is Highest Since 1931; Homes Had Greatest Loss Report

Property damage due to fires in Iowa last year averaged $3.25 for every person living in the state. The total loss amounted to $8,297,073, the highest since 1931 when the damage totaled $8,593,966. The fireworks blaze at Spencer caused more than one million damage that year.

The figures were contained in the annual report of the state fire marshal, John W. Strohm.

Fire damage during 1947 was almost two million dollars higher than in 1946. The loss resulted from 4,032 fires, 59 more than the previous year.

Last year 118 persons were killed by fires in Iowa. Of these, 85 were adults and 33 were children under 15 years of age.

The report showed that December was the most dangerous month for fires last year. Damage for the month totaled $1,175-939.

Two counties, Bremer and Osceola, reported no fire damage for the entire year.

The rural fire loss in 1947 was $1,959,877, an increase of $8,572 over 1946.

Fires from unknown causes damaged $3,818,937 worth of property last year. Blazes in adjoining buildings or lots resulted in $613,573 loss. Damage from fires caused by defective electrical wiring totaled $483,-434 and overheated stoves and heating plants brought a $463,083 property loss. Careless smokers were the cause for fires costing Iowans $212,782.

Homes bore the brunt of the Iowa fire loss in 1947. Damage to the 1,607 home totally or partially destroyed amounted to $1,521,317. Warehouse and storage fires were the next most expensive. The $1,350,427 loss was the result of 11 blazes. The factory fire loss was $834,145. There were 49 fires in factories during the year.

The state fire marshal's office made 70 arson investigations in 1947 and obtained 23 confessions, according to the report. More than 200 fire safety hazards were investigated and the corrections were ordered. Other inspections including 350 liquefied gas installations, and the investigation of all state institutions as required by the state law.

Safety officials said the increased fire damage during 1947 as shown in the report emphasizes the importance of the state fire prevention conference which has been called by Gov. Robert D. Blue. The conference will be in Des Moines May 28 and 29.

Engineer Merten Tells Of Program For Summer Work

COUNTY BOARD OF REVIEW MET TO MAP OUT PLANS

The Hancock County Board of Review met at the Courthouse in Garner Monday for the purpose of organizing and mapping out plans for the review of the 1948 personal property assessment. The members cast lots for the length of their terms as required by law. Members are. W. C. Keraus, Klemme; C. H. Schissel, Garner; Chris Jacobsen, Britt; Ernest Senne, Woden; and H. D. Schroeder, Kanawha.

All field assessors have now returned their books and only a few assessments remain to be made.

FEWER CATTLE ON FEED NOW THAN YEAR AGO

Corn Belt cattle feeders have marketed their cattle at a rapid rate during the first 3 months of the year, and at the same time cut down on the number of cattle they put on feed. The result — fewer cattle on feed April 1 than a year earlier.

Iowa had a 28 percent drop, which was exactly average for the western half of the Corn Belt.

In reporting these facts, Francis Kutish, Iowa State College agricultural economist, says that cattle going into the feedlots this winer have cost much more than during the previous two years. Average cost from Jan. through March was $28.68. This compares with $18.43 for the same period last year and $13.95 in 1946.

"Short corn supplies have also put a damper on feeding operations," says Kutish. "Corn Belt feeders reported they had a third less corn on hand at the beginning of April than a year ago."

Marketing intentions of the feeders are such that about 50 percent of the cattle on feed will be marketed by July 1. This is about the same proportion as last year. If these intentions are carried out, there will be about 25 percent fewer cattle coming to market from now until next fall.

"And if marketings should speed up as they did during the first of the year, then sale of finished cattle will thin out pretty fast during the latter part of the summer," Kutish concludes.

GRADES WILL PRESENT AN OPERETTA IN GYM ON FRIDAY EVENING

Mrs W. E. Patterson, assisted by the Grade teachers, announce that everything is now in readiness to present the grade school operetta, "On Midsummer's Day" at the high school gym on Friday evening of this week.

The operetta is presented by the grade pupils from the Kindergarten through the eighth grade. The program will begin at 8:00 o'clock.

ROAD NOTES

—By C. F. Merten, County Engineer

Contracts have been awarded for all of the secondary road work advertised for letting on April 20 with the exception of the work in Garfield Township which may be done by a county crew.

Herman Buns and Son of Woden will grade the trunk road from Klemme west to Highway 69, the trunk road from Hutchins south one-half mile, and the trunk road from Corwith south one-half mile. They will grade all local roads north of Highway 18 and do some road repair work.

Herman Brummund will grade the local roads south of Highway 18.

At a letting in Ames on April 27th Herman Buns and Son were low bidders on the grading of the farm to market road north and west of Woden and they will probably receive a contract for that work. Only one bid was received for the grading of the farm to market road from Hayfield to the schoolhouse two miles east of Miller and that bid was not consideded to be satisfactory. This road will probably be advertised again for a letting in June at which time the road from Klemme east should be ready for a letting. The Woden and Miller roads are to be built on a right of way ninety feet wide and the road east of Klemme will have a right of way ninety-four feet wide.

Farm to Market roads construction is under the supervision of the Iowa Highway Commission and projects are financed with a fund made up of Federal Aid and gasoline tax receipts.

NOT TOO LATE FOR GARDEN FERTILIZER

Can Be Side-dressed On Up To June 1 Or Applied In Liquid Form

Commercial fertilizers will give a good boost to your garden any time up to about June 1.

Ed. Cott, Iowa State College horticulturist, says if you have not applied the fertilizer yet, there's still time to use it as a side dressing or on new plantings.

When used as a side dressing, a complete fertilizer should be applied at the rate of 1 pound on each side for each 50 feet of row. Put it on both sides of the row, making a total application of 2 pounds for each 50 feet.

How Close?

Place it as close as possible to small plants without actually touching them, but for large plants such as corn or peas stay about 5 or 6 inches away. Use a hoe to work the fertilizer into the top 2 or 3 inches of soil.

For plants such as tomatoes, cabbage or peppers, place a ring around each plant at a distance of 5 or 6 inches.

As Liquid

The fertilizer may also be applied as a liquid. Dissolve it at the rate of 3 tablespoons per gallon of water. Let it stand overnight, if possible, or at least for 3 or 4 hours. Then use it as a side dressing at the rate of a gallon for each 8 to 10 feet of row.

The liquid is especially good as a "starter solution" for tomato plants. Water the plants with it immediately after they have been set out.

Cancer Fund Contribution

Miss Frances Tanner ------ $2.00

WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS

Revolt Interrupts Bogota Parley; Miners Get Pension, End Walkout; GOP Aspirants in Primaries Fight

By Bill Schoentgen, WNU Staff Writer

(EDITOR'S NOTE: When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of Western Newspaper Union's news analysts and not necessarily of this newspaper.)

REVOLT:
Bogota

It was a peaceful early afternoon in Bogota, Colombia, and the inter-American conference was droning along in customary style in the capitol building on the Plaza Bolivar.

Then, with the firing of four assassin's bullets into the body of Jorge Elicier Gaitan, popular leader of Colombia's Liberal party, one of the worst revolts Latin American has seen exploded into violence.

During the first afternoon Bogota descended into a state of complete anarchy. Mobs prowled the streets, burning and looting. Scores were killed. The residence of President Ospina Perez was attacked and windows were broken befor.. army troops drove away the crowd.

Above the confused clamor of the throng could be heard shouts of "Down with the government, down with the Conservatives."

Three days later, as the riots simmered to a halt, 300 person were dead, many others injured. Downtown Bogota was a welter of destruction. Colombia had broken relations with Soviet Russia, and the inter-American conference had almost cracked up, with delegates uncertain as to whether they could continue.

On the face of it, the revolt was a sudden eruption of violent sentiment of Liberal party followers against the Conservative government in power. Immediate result was the formation of a new coalition cabinet, equally composed of Liberals and Conservatives.

Big question was how much Communists had to do with the Bogota riots.

U.S. Secretary of State George Marshall, who with other Americans in Bogota got through the riots unscathed, claimed the revolt was Communist:

"The occurrence goes beyond Colombia. It is of the same definite patterns as the occurrences which provoked strikes in France and Italy."

And the Colombian government, in severing relations with Russia, declared that a "Communist insurrection" had touched off the mob fury.

Finally, it was announced from Bogota that the inter-American conference would resume "so that Communism could not triumph over Colombia and the rest of the nations of the hemisphere."

SETTLEMENT:
Coal Strike

John L. Lewis wasn't exactly in the position of a man who had asked friends out to dinner and then found he couldn't pay the check, but he was verging on some such situation.

Half a million soft coal miners started to straggle back to work after a 28-day strike when Lewis informed them that the fight for $100-a-month pensions had been won, but Lewis himself had to appear before Federal Judge T. Alan Goldsborough to answer a contempt of court charge.

Lewis was cited for contempt by Goldsborough, his 1947 nemesis, on the grounds that he ignored an April 3 court order to call off the strike.

Apart from the contempt of court citation, settlement of the coal strike was distinguished mainly by a slightly marvelous amalgam of political action and expedient compromise.

Beginning of the end came when Speaker of the House Joseph Martin (Rep., Mass.) moved into the dispute by persuading Lewis and Ezra Van Horn, a mine operator, to meet with him in his office. Martin then suggested that Sen. Styles Bridges (Rep., N.H.) be named the third member of the board which administers the miners' welfare and retirement fund. (Lewis and Van Horn are the other two members.)

At a subsequent meeting of the three, Bridges proposed a plan that would give $100-a-month pensions to 62-year-old miners with 20 years of service who retired after May 28, 1946, the date on which the miners' welfare fund was set up. Bridges' plan was accepted and the strike called off.

Actually, Lewis, in approving the New Hampshire senator's proposal, had descended several notches from his original demands.

Politically, the most fascinating aspect of the affair was how Joe Martin managed to take the play away from the administration in arranging for a settlement.

On Wisconsin

In his South St. Paul home Stassen grinned with the comfortable cheer of a cat who had just swiped all the cream in Wisconsin as he sat with his wife and received reports stating that he had run off with 19 of the 27 delegates in that state's primary election.

PRIMARIES:
Wisconsin

Wisconsin's presidential primary election to choose delegates to the Republican national convention in Philadelphia on June 21 was regarded, as usual, as a straw in the wind; but this year the political breeze was a shifting one.

For Harold Stassen, ex-governor of Minnesota, a hard, thorough campaign waged by himself and his volunteer supporters up and down the state paid off nobly when Wisconsin voters granted him a total of 19 of the state's 27 delegates to the GOP convention.

Gen. Douglas MacArthur took the remaining eight to run a poor second, despite a flamboyant publicity drive carried out by his backers (notably the Hearst newspapers) which was built around the theory that he is "the only man equipped to deal with Russia."

Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York drew a complete blank in Wisconsin, where he had been the Republican favorite in 1940 and again in 1944.

As a result of the Wisconsin election, Stassen was catapulted into public consciousness as a leading contender for the Republican nomination. It was certain that his top-heavy victory there would be reflected in the other primaries to follow, and that he had gained considerable stature in the Midwest.

It was difficult to tell which of the two losers—Dewey or MacArthur—had been hit harder by his defeat. Dewey, who received no delegates, might seem to be in a position similar to that of Wendell Willkie in 1944 when he withdrew from the GOP race after losing ignominiously in the Wisconsin primary. But the New York governor previously had beaten Stassen in the New Hampshire primary, and, also, he had the full slate of New York delegates pledged to him.

It was on MacArthur, who had claimed Wisconsin as his home state, that the axe of public disfavor appeared to have fallen with greatest force.

More To Come

From Wisconsin the election year wind swung to the plains of Nebraska where seven leading contenders in the Republican presidential race fought it out in a free-for-all match, with Stassen again emerging as the big winner.

After Nebraska the battlefield shifted to Pennsylvania and Massachusetts on April 27. A total of 108 delegates to the GOP convention was at stake.

On May 4 Harold Stassen was to carry the fight to Sen. Howard Taft's home arena, the state of Ohio. It was no secret that Taft was worried over which way his fellow Ohioans might go, and a good showing by Stassen would hamper materially Taft's White House ambitions.

In his second pitched battle with Governor Dewey (New Hampshire was the first) Stassen was slated to invade Oregon for that state's GOP primary on May 21. While results of the Oregon primary were not expected to be conclusive, they would serve to provide a first sampling of West coast opinion.

Final state presidential primary on the Republican side occurs in California on June 1. Earl Warren is unopposed as the state's favorite son for the GOP nomination.

EDUCATION:

Nearly half of the 5,245,000 World War II veterans who entered special education and training programs under the G.I. bill of rights have abandoned their courses, Veterans' administration says.

More than 400,000 completed their work, however—382,000 of them under the G.I. bill and the rest under the rehabilitation program for disabled veterans. Many of those that quit plan to return later, it was indicated.

Gasoline from Coal

Gasoline made from coal, even when it comes into general use, probably will cost more than petroleum gasoline, but at least motorists won't have to worry about shortages, a research scientist, Dr. R. W. Krebs of Baton Rouge, La., has predicted.

He estimated that coal gasoline will cost from 10 to 15 cents more a gallon than gasoline currently in use, but he added that the supply will be enough to last 1,000 years.

TREATY:
Finns-Russ

Russia had what it wanted from Finland—a buffer state to the northwest.

The two nations signed a 10-year treaty of mutual assistance which binds Finland to fight within its own borders in the event either country is attacked.

Finland and Russia, stated the pact, would battle side by side to repel aggression by Germany "or another state allied with" Germany. The treaty circumspectly failed to mention any other state by name.

Despite the fact that Finland's delegation virtually had been commanded to appear at Moscow to sign a treaty with Russia, Premier Josef Stalin beamed expansively after the agreement had been concluded, hailing it as a "treaty between equals." And he said:

"I would like to see us pass from a long period of mutual distrust against each other, to a new period in our relations—to a period of mutual trust."

Actually, the Finns got a better deal from Russia than they might have hoped for. Their nation had not been forced into a tight, arbitrary military accord with the Soviets, nor had Finland lost its sovereignty although it was brought firmly into the bloc of states along Russia's exposed western flank.

ATOM BOMB:
No Secret

Secretary of Defense James Forrestal put a name and a definitive edge, after a fashion, to all the restless postwar fears Americans have been experiencing.

He did it by announcing to the house armed services committee that Russia knows how to make the atomic bomb. More specifically, the Russians possess the knowledge of how to put the bomb together but so far do not have the industrial capacity to capitalize on that knowledge.

Russia does not yet have an atom bomb, but the days of U. S. monopoly of A-bomb production are numbered, Forrestal said. He told the congressional committee that he got his information from Dr. Vannevar Bush, chairman of the U.S. research and development board.

During the course of his testimony regarding a two-year draft of men 19 through 25, the defense secretary answered queries with:

"I said they do not have the atom bomb. I did not say they do not have the secret of the atomb bomb.

"I am informed by Dr. Bush that the scientific knowledge and technical procedure involved in the manufacture of the atom bomb are known to Russia."

Thus, U.S.-Russian relations on the atomic level had developed to the point where there was only one unknown quantity: How soon would the Soviets acquire the industrial capacity to produce atom bombs?

Secretary Forrestal admitted he didn't know.

Italian Style

U.S. Ambassador to Italy James Clement Dunn (right) peers benevolently at an Italian worker in Taranto as he tastes grain that was among the foodstuffs delivered aboard the 500th relief ship to bring food to Italy.

CONTROLS:
Cold Shoulder

The jeering specter of price, wage and ration controls was invoked again by President Truman's council of economic advisers which called for nationwide "discipline" to prevent inflation under the impact of the new defense program.

As usual, this advice rattled cheerlessly among the stony hearts of electioneering congressmen.

In its report covering the first three months of 1948 the council denounced the tax cut law as "inflationary" and recommended new taxes if the planned defense spending is not offset by reduced government costs in other areas.

Republican - dominated congress received rather happily the council's call for reduced government spending, but maintained a glum silence on the subject of selective price, wage and ration controls.

Congressmen indicated that they want to study possible inflationary effects of the preparedness program and foreign aid spending under the Marshall plan before they give any serious consideration to resurrecting economic controls.

Although the council admitted that foreign spending coupled with a big defense outlay "will not swamp our economy nor require us to pass from free enterprise to regimentation," it added that "some rather systematic and vigorous discipline must be exercised."

Washington Digest

Muff (a Dog) Has Her Ideas About the Nobility of Man

By BAUKHAGE
News Analyst and Commentator

WASHINGTON—There is nothing particularly strange about a dog guarding a batch of milk cans like the one in the accompanying photograph. You wouldn't be too surprised to be told that the dog knew who should collect the cans and who shouldn't; to hear about other dogs who go to the store with a shopping list, bring back groceries and even steaks in the basket they carry; and you know all about the wonderful "Seeing-Eye" dogs which not only guard their masters from harm, but often appear to sense danger's approach.

But the other day I had an experience with a dog which you probably won't believe.

I was sitting at twilight on my porch after a long day and a comforting meal. I was digesting my dinner while Muff, my wire - haired fox, was removing the last vestiges of her share of it from her beard. She was lolling in front of me on the flat topped porch-post, her favorite resting place. She finished her toilet, flopped her chin on one paw facing me and winked—or so it seemed in the fading light. A robin was sounding the last sleepy cadences of his vesper song from the recesses of an ancient maple.

I looked at Muff. She looked back and smiled beneath her whiskers—or so I guessed she might be doing.

"If I had the patience," I said half-aloud, "I could teach you to talk."

"Oh, no you couldn't!"

I could almost swear Muff had responded. She certainly had opened her mouth. I let my imagination run on. "Oh, yes, I could," I replied, pretending she could understand me. "You've got the brains. How do you know that when I take my briefcase, I'll be back in the evening and when I take my suitcase, I won't be back for several days? You DO know, because you show it very plainly: briefcase, a couple of wags and a woof; suitcase, body-wiggles, plaintive arfs, up-jumping and hand-licks."

I went on cataloguing the obvious indications of Muff's intelligence, which far surpasses that of many loquacious human acquaintances. As I talked on, Muff rolled over carefully (there was just room for it on her perch) and yawned. Not because she was bored, as I was to learn later, but because praise of this type always embarrasses her. She will wag herself wagless at a "good dog!" for some stupid, fetch-and-carry trick that even a Boston terrier could learn, but when one praises her intellectual achievements, it always embarrasses her and she tries to hide it.

"Well," I insisted, "It's true you are intelligent enough to talk."

Then I was puzzled. Distinctly, though in a breathy voice which sounded the way a dog does before he has quite decided to bark, I heard an answer: "It isn't that I am not intelligent enough. And it isn't that dogs will never talk, but I'm afraid I shall never learn."

I'm dreaming, I said to myself, but no. There was Muff, there was the outline of the maple, dim now as the darkness gathered. There was I.

I shut my eyes. I'll handle this rationally, I said. Just let things happen. I relaxed and was less surprised to hear the soft, breathy voice continue: "It isn't that there's anything wrong with my speech center in the third, left convolution of my cortex—but, I want to repeat, that dogs never can learn to talk. . . ."

Gently I opened my eyes. Muff was sitting up now, her head cocked to one side, her mouth, or at least her jaw, moving a little, because even in the crepuscule I could see her beard wagging gently as she went on:

"Because, as you may know, we canines, and I believe this applies to other animals as well, have far clearer race-memories than human beings. You sometimes mistakenly refer to these memories as intuition. That is nonsense.

"We canines picked man as a friend and were probably one of the great factcrs in his domestication, largely because we found him more malleable than any of the other fauna. And I think we have done a good job. We have not been harsh masters. We may be over-sentimental at times, but you with YOUR maudlin sentiment, you frequently interpret sound, practical loyalty, motivated by a high moral sense, as a slavish devotion.

"But I'm digressing (the voice went on)—what I would like to bring to your attention is this business of race memories. You men have some, too, and you have something else—traditions. They don't go back as far, but they are part and parcel of the same thing. Only many of your traditions lead you into trouble. In the last few months, while you thought I was asleep, I've heard you and your high-brow friends use phrases like, 'always been wars'; peace never has been maintained except by 'balance of power'; men are 'fighting animals' and so on ad nauseam—(pardon the Latin but a Roman senator belonged to one of my ancestors.) Now I, with my race memories—can recall more of them which have worn thin and been discarded than your species (which I doubt will have a very extended destiny) ever will have.

"Just an example. With little effort, I can recall some of the silly shibboleths which made trouble for some of my ancestors. It was back in the stone age, just about the same time when we canines decided Man had reached the point where he was ready for adoption and training in civilization.

"At that period in pre-history we had advanced to the point where we hunted in packs instead of singly. Our policy was still kill and let be killed although some of us had discovered its fallacy. We also had a long list of so-called hereditary enemies, and next to the apes, Man led them all.

"We canines picked man as a friend and were probably one of the great factors in his domestication."

"I don't know how many centuries it took to revise that list, and accept Man as a friend. A pretty stupid and cruel friend, to be sure, but one who could be trained. There was one saying, I believe, which was very popular, but which the more enlightened canines knew was nothing but an old females' tale. It went: 'Don't trust a man any farther than you can smell him.' You would realize the force of that if you knew how far you used to smell.

"There was another saying: 'The only good man is a dead one, and even then you'd better let the jackals taste him first.' I could go on endlessly. It took an awful lot of work to explode those myths. Almost as long as it did to get some of the cruelty out of Man. We've gone a long way in that direction, as you know. In another 10 or 15 centuries I wouldn't be surprised if we got you to treat each other as well as most of you treat us. Your wars! Ugh! That shouldn't—and wouldn't—happen to a dog!"

At this point I sat up. Muff always had been faithful, obedient, and I thought not only my true friend, but also my respectful and humble servant. And this was going too far! Why this was impertinent. My own dog, talking like that!

I must have spoken out loud, for I heard something that sounded like a laugh.

"Now don't try to bust your leash," I heard her remark. "After all, if you think I'm your dog, okay. Somehow I feel that you're my man. So let's let it go at that and we'll both be happy.

"I didn't mean to run on like this and I didn't mean to get dogmatic. I just wanted to say that I know my limitations. I can't talk. But if it's in the canine cards, my descendants will. It took several thousand years to kill the race memories which would have dictated that I take a nip out of your calf instead of licking your hand. And, there's hope for you, too. Maybe progress is just around the corner—"

There was a sudden whoosh, a flash of gray in the night, followed by a parabola of fur as Muff left the post in one leap after the neighbor's cat which by now was snickering at her from the maple branch.

Muff came back. She gave me a hang-dog look and remarked through her whiskers. "That is one race-memory that I can't eliminate." "And by the way," she added, "Don't mention this conversation. Nobody will believe you if you do."

Sportlight
BY GRANTLAND RICE

MANY queries have been thrown our way concerning the pennant race that is just starting. The two questions that come up most frequently are:

NO. 1.: Who are the outstanding stars you have seen?

NO. 2.: Who are the leading rookies who might make a difference in a pennant race? (Note—this refers only in the Florida sector.)

Here are listed the outstanding pitchers we have seen — Ewell Blackwell, the six-foot five-inch anaconda or python with the Cincinnati Reds who will throttle many a hitter this season. Blackwell, with any sort of team support, will win 25 games—even with the Reds. He is baseball's star pitcher.

Hal Newhouser of the Tigers is another 25-game winner with a second-grade infield and only a fair outfield behind him. Warren Spahn and Johnny Sain of the Braves, Murry Dickson of the Cardinals and Joe Dobson of the Red Sox also are near the top.

We would like to see Blackwell and Newhouser with the Red Sox or the Yankees. Both could pass the 30-game mark.

BEST INFIELDERS — Few real standouts. No top first basemen, barring Musial; Kell of Tigers, the best at third. Many good shortstops.

BEST OUTFIELDERS — Joe DiMaggio, Ted Williams and Country Slaughter, the game's tops. Cliff Mapes of the Yankees and Sam Mele of the Red Sox are high grade, but they are not of the reigning trio's calibre.

BEST ROOKIES—Curt Simmons of the Phillies, Leland Brissie of the Athletics—(two sure stars—an 18-year-old kid and a badly wounded war veteran); Stallcup, Reds' shortstop; Alvin Dark, Braves' shortstop; Al Papai, Cardinal pitcher, and Hank Sauer, Reds' outfielder.

You'll hear more about these later on. They are ballplayers. These are the ones that Bucky Harris of the Yankees and Eddie Dyer of the Cardinals recommend.

Harris is game enough to state openly that his Yankees and Eddie Dyer's Cardinals will be in the next world series.

"I think it will be that way," Harris tells you. "Why not say so? Certainly we can run second or third. So can the Cardinals. I just don't think we will. I think both teams will have too much pitching. Between us, we have from 18 to 20 good starting pitchers. That should be enough."

* * *

Attendance Figures

There is always an added interest in the number of people who have time and interest enough and cash enough to attend ball games.

The 1947 season broke all past records for total attendance. The teams at home that passed the million mark were these:

American league: New York, 2,178,937; Detroit, 1,398,093; Cleveland, 1,521,978, and Boston 1,427,-315.

National league: Brooklyn, 1,-807,596; New York, 1,599,784, and Chicago, 1,364,039. Boston, Pittsburgh and St. Louis were all over the million mark.

Only the Cincinnati Reds and the Philadelphia Phillies failed to reach or crack the one million mark in the National league. Maybe Red rooters were dreaming of the hour. That many should have gone out to see Blackwell. He was worth it.

But about 1948? Attendance in the Citrus circuit has been well above any past year. St. Petersburg has cracked all past records.

Lang field should slide by the 65,000 mark. Tampa has known a big spring. These are the top spots.

* * *

Surplus Weight

It will be only a short while before Joe Louis is back home again, all set to start his training for the June show with Jersey Joe Walcott.

Despite what you hear, Louis must take off at least 30 pounds to be in first-class condition again and, at the age of 34, you don't shed 30 pounds in any rush. The flesh hangs on with rare persistence and doesn't care to be shaken loose.

Back in December, Louis had lost all semblance of speed. He had lost all speed of foot and speed of hands. At one time he had as fast a pair of hands as anyone would care to see. He was a rattlesnake in bronze. Against Walcott, he could set nothing in motion but his dreams of yesterday.

Louis left for England much fatter than he was against Walcott. In a recently-posed picture, he even made Tommy Farr look slender.

He is going to crowd it all in a few weeks—the preparation needed to get keen and sharp again, something approaching the Louis that used to be. He could never even come close to that. Time and the passing years have taken care of this problem—that, plus surplus weight.

The factor that worked so roughly against Louis is that for five years after the war came along, he had only two unimportant fights against Conn and Mauriello. The first was no contest and the second was a one-round flare-up.

Gems of Thoug

THE man who keeps thing for himself pauper. Those who wo rich themselves must b enriching others.

* * *

Disappointment should be taken as a stimulant, a viewed as a discouragemen Newcomb.

* * *

Freedom is not worth if it does not connote f to err.—Mahatma Gand

* * *

Know how to listen, will profit even from tho talk badly.—Plutarch.

Changed Her

She was pensive when I me
Sadness was on her brow
But my checkbook made h
And she's ex-pensive now.

Why Repeat?

Professor—Why aren't ing notes on my lecture?

Student—Don't have to, my grandfather's.

A vacationing wife home to her husband a weeks, looked at the ho said, "Everything's exac left it. What have you beer

Said She

"You have the advanta me when we are out toget

"How so?"

"You're in better compa I am."

CLASSIFI
DEPARTME

HELP WANTED—MI

WANTED — EXPERIENCED J SALESMAN WITH FOLLOWING ON JEWELRY STORES IN IOWA SENTING JOBBER HANDLING ALLY ADVERTISED LINES OF J AND WATCHES. MUST HAVE BERT MARKS CO. 40 Fountain St. Provide

WANTED — Steady, dependable m man, for work on modern Dairy F habits, no liquor; $140.00 per m room and washing; good home. J. C. TEETERS, Rt. 1, Hampshir

WANTED — Experienced furnace metal man. Steady year around wo SHEET METAL SHOP, Donald A Box 112, George Iowa, Tel. 79 or 1

HELP WANTED—MEN, W

Attention All: Get set for Ge Many kinds. Thousands needed other countries, Islands. East, W companies hiring. $1 postpaid br eral latest spring listings. Alas general labor. Foreign & Domes Directory, P. O. Box 145 Dept. 27, 2, Wash.

FARMS & RANCHES

CANADIAN FARMS—Write us for FR FORMATION on farm settlement oppor Fertile soils. Reasonably priced R. C Be Canadian Pacific Railway, Union Stati Paul, Minn.

KANSAS ½ SECTION 60 acres good wheat, 50 brome gra corn, 170 blue steam. Ample bar granaries, chicken house, 6-room ho electricity, gas, Possession. TOM Box 183, Emporia, Kans.

180 A. GOOD LAND, buildings, 29 line, Dodge Co., Minn. 5 mi. N E graveled road. $150 acre, all cash. and mixed community; Lutheran byterian churches. Owner, 18 St. Paul 4, Minn.

DO YOU LIKE TO MAKE MON can make it here. Investigate my farm and ranch in Hyde County at BARNES, Pierre, S. D.

240 ACRE imp. farm in Hardin C or rent. Immediate poss. FRANK Iowa Falls, Iowa. Phone 57F13.

REAL ESTATE—MISC

PASTURE LAND For Sale—110 acr County, Iowa. Owner, LEROY S Grand River, Iowa.

BUSINESS & INV. OPPO

DEALERS WANTE For household refrigerators, 32 volt models available. Choice terri central eastern and south-easter available. Write Kline Distributi 321 Liberty Building, Des Moines,

POULTRY, CHICKS & EQ

BROODER AND LAYING HOUSE factured by leading firm of midwest materials, finished craftsmanship In est quality buildings obtainable. Be er in your locality with Champion houses. Write for free literature to Silo Company, West Des Moines, Io

BE ASSURED of Added Poultry Pr year. Buy Lobdell's Giant Type W horns. LOBDELL HATCHERY, Bo terloo, Iowa.

SEEDS, PLANTS, ETC

FOR SALE: Approximately 800 bu. soybeans, germ. 97%. Write MIKE F Iowa Falls, Iowa.

FARM MACHINERY & EQ

GEHL FEED MILL, '42 single moto new in '43, mounted on '42 Ford Tr condition; near new motor; all ne Good buy. Contact STANLEY H Chariton, Iowa.

50-T 1947 BALER with Chute, li $2675. Seasons twine. H. SWEITZ S. York, Elmhurst, Ill. Ph. 2551M

AUTOS, TRUCKS & ACC

1942 CHEVROLET 2-ton truck for sa speed axle, grain box, stock rack, hoist. Call or write for more Info O. A. CLARK, LaPorte City, Ia. Ph

INSTRUCTION

LEARN PIANO TUNING and repa home. Course by Dr. William Brad Write KARL BARTENBACH, 1001 Street, Lafayette, Indiana.

PERSONAL

EXCHANGE your Neckties for Sna ors. Mail five ties you're tired of You'll receive immediately same n handsomely cleaned, different ties. P man $1 plus postage on return of yo age. NECKTIE EXCH., P.O. Box Moines, Iowa.

TIE TRADE. Send us six old ties dollar. We'll send you six different tifully cleaned. TIE TRADE, Sta Box 392, Dept. D, Ames, Iowa.

WNU—N

ostwar Travel Conveniences Stress Comfort of 'Small-Fry'

n in Baby raffic Induces Special Services

By WNU Features

ay's diaper set is cutting its on wheels, wings and water. before in the history of ican transportation has been such a boom in travel-ulties.

ders of the nation's trans-tion systems estimate that than double the number of are traveling today in the land and on the sea than rmal prewar days. And they not overlooked this small-de in planning postwar con-ces.

e nation's railroads' plans for future make traveling with ildren their special concern. junior club cars will feature ms, modern toys, sterilized ent for feeding and attend-trained in child care.

Cater to Youngsters

day's modern airliner car-strained and chopped baby as standard equipment. e in the younger set has be-so great, some airlines are distributing children's kits to thers traveling with babies ng children.

efine stewardesses' training es a course in care and guid-of babies. Baby's bottle may ed in the refrigerator and,

LONGER AN ORDEAL . . . Train d no longer is an ordeal for moth-l infant, postwar streamliners of-many new conveniences for the ing baby. Hostesses again are ble to amuse the baby or to tend s needs while mother enjoys a e.

YOUNG TRAVELERS WILL REVEL HERE . . . The junior club car pictured above is an indication of the attitude of the railroads in bidding for postwar travel market. This is the first railroad car ever planned for children. Parents will leave their youngsters here under supervision of a trained stewardess while they relax in the observation car.

when mealtime speeds around, special jars of baby food are warmed and served upon request while winging through the clouds.

Although the majority of the luxury cruise ships have not yet returned to service, considerable attention is being given to the junior set in preparing these liners for postwar travel.

Sun-bathing decks, swimming pool, special equipment in the gymnasium, afternoon tea parties and children's books are some of the attractions for youngsters, while baby has play pens, cribs, high chairs, games and toys to keep him occupied.

Stewardesses will take care of infants while parents enjoy brief trips ashore and all ships will carry a complete stock of baby foods.

Nurseries at Terminals

Even the country's railroad terminals have been equipped to cater to the journeying junior. Pennsylvania station in New York City, world's largest depot, opened its nursery in 1944. Registered nurses have attended to more than 18,000 infants to date. Emergency supplies of diapers, baby oil, powder, safety pins and other accessories for baby's comfort are always available.

Grand Central terminal in New York City also boasts a nursery with similar conveniences. Cribs are there for baby's nap between trains and facilities for feeding the youngsters are offered. Other terminals in large cities are similarly equipped.

Despite current overcrowded conditions, hotels too are bidding for the favor of the young guest. While stopping overnight on a long trip, families are finding unexpected conveniences in the nation's hostelries.

Plan Special Meals

Some hotels offer a special childrens' menu featuring appetizing foods for the youngster. High chairs are provided. A bib and a box of animal crackers are brought to the table as soon as mother and child are seated. A word to the desk clerk will bring a crib or bassinet in short order. Arrangements may be made to have a maid mind the baby in the evening.

If parents desire to send their own baby food to the kitchen, dieticians will heat the food and return the warmed meal. They also will prepare the formula upon proper instructions.

Families who must travel with youngsters today are demanding more service from postwar transportation. And they're getting it.

SERVICE IN THE CLOUDS . . . Jars of baby foods are standard equipment on today's modern airliners. While mother relaxes, stewardesses will warm the food and serve it right at the seat. Special children's kits with toys and games also are available for youngsters who become bored with flying.

IN THESE UNITED STATES

Mail-Order Idea Extends To Citizenship in South

BATON ROUGE, La.—Here in the United States, where you can buy anything from a ball of twine to a 10-room house by mail, it's not surprising to realize that citizenship can be attained the same way.

Operating in Louisiana for the past year under supervision of State Department of Education, this "citizenship by mail" program is helping hundreds of foreign-born residents to prepare for citizenship in the United States.

From the Federal Immigration and Naturalization Service, the Department of Education receives a list of names of people who are seeking citizenship in Louisiana. Circulars then are sent to these people explaining the advantages of the free course and inviting them to register for it.

The course consists of two simple textbooks, "Our Constitution and Government" and "Federal Textbook for Citizenship." Students are permitted a helper, who may be a relative, friend or the neighborhood schoolteacher, to assist them in thoroughly understanding the lessons.

No time limit is placed on the course. Some students have completed the entire course in less than a month while others have labored over their lessons for a year.

Completion of the course and passing of final examination entitle the student to a certificate from the Department of Education. But more than that, it prepares him to cope with questions he will be asked when he goes into naturalization court to receive citizenship.

More Fathers Get Training In Child Care

NEW YORK—Training in child care and maternity care for fathers—not just mothers—is a definite trend.

"Classes for prospective fathers were sort of like man-bites-dog 10 years ago when the idea was first started but now they are becoming the accepted thing," declares Miss Hazel Corbin, director of Maternity Center association.

The classes are particularly important now, she said, because of the increased responsibility placed on fathers when mothers and babies are sent home from overcrowded hospitals three or four days after the child's birth.

Men Were Bewildered

Maternity Center association was first to give fathers' courses in child and maternity care, because the demand from bewildered men showed the need for them. Since that beginning other organizations have started similar courses in Flint, Mich., Philadelphia, New Haven, Brooklyn and many other cities, Miss Corbin reports.

Maternity Center association now graduates four or five classes a year, and has trained approximately 2,000 men in the ways of the nursery.

This begins with the practical details of baby bathing, at which fathers are often more deft than women because they are eager to learn, Miss Corbin says. They learn to handle the child so he will feel secure and not in danger of being dropped as well as how to sterilize bottles and prepare formulas.

The child care end of the courses also includes the growing child.

The classes also teach fathers embryology—the baby's development before birth, so the father will know why his wife needs prenatal care. Then he will not complain because he thinks she goes to the doctor too often, may urge her to go if she neglects it.

They teach the physiological and emotional changes that take place in a pregnant woman, so that if her temper is sharper than usual or she is prone to tears, the prospective father will be equipped to meet the situation with tact or diversion.

"Off We Go"

AVIATION NOTES

STILL "HEDGE-HOPPING"

The dream of every active army air force pilot—all the "hedge-hopping" he could possibly do—has come true for two veteran combat fliers of the European theater. They are now engaged in a different kind of "blitzing" as key men in Pennsylvania gypsy moth control work by airplane in forest areas of Luzerne and Lackawanna counties.

Skimming dangerously close to the tree tops, their bomb loads are tanks of DDT solution. Their attack guns are spray jets which force a fine mist that deals death to caterpillars engaged in devouring foliage from invaluable forest trees.

They are pilots of planes used in early morning and late evening in cooperative efforts of state and federal agricultural departments to wipe out the destructive gypsy moth on 28,000 acres of the 600-square-mile infested area.

The two ex-army DDT fliers are Robert E. Frownfelter 31, of Garrett, Ind., and Val Mackiewicz, 28, of Northampton, Mass. Frownfelter made 221 combat reconnaissance flights while Mackiewicz flew a B-17 flying fortress on 50 combat missions from Italy.

* * *

Contrary to general opinion, airline stewardesses wed "Just Joes"—just like everyone else. A survey of 100 Pan American stewardesses, disclosed that the glamourous beauties seldom, if ever, wed millionaire passengers they meet on flights. More than half the girls do their courting aisling with airlines personnel—pilots, airport managers, traffic men and pursers. The rest marry childhood sweethearts. They do marry, however—and fast. On the average, PAA stewardesses last 9.7 months before the love bug bites them.

* * *

CRACKUPS WANING

Accidents among former military pilots flying light planes back home are waning after reaching an alarming point during the summer.

Many of the 250,000 returning war pilots wanted to continue flying. But when they tried to fly ordinary light planes as they had flown their fast, fighting ships, it just didn't work. Although they were good pilots, they were cracking up all over the lot.

Watching crackup figures spiral, Civil Aeronautics board was convinced that last year's total of 4,562 would be passed by about 2,000 this year.

CAB urged former military pilots to submit to check flights in light ships.

IN BRIGHT BLUE YONDER . . . In one of the first operations of its kind, 49 purebred greyhounds were shipped to Paris from Ireland recently in a TWO cargo plane. The high-strung dogs are shown aboard the plane.

* * *

FLYING MECHANICS

Hard on the winged heels of the plane piloting "flying farmers" comes the "flying farm repairmen." When a combine, tractor or other piece of equipment stalls in the midst of an important farm operation, William E. Vulgamott or Oliver R. Bowers, implement dealers of Cerro Gordo, Ill., rush to the rescue. They land in a field near the idle machine and quickly rush the repairs.

SCRIPTURE: Ezra 7:6-10; Nehemiah 8:1-10; 13.
DEVOTIONAL READING: Psalms 119: 9-16.

Ezra Leads A Revival

Lesson for May 9, 1948

GLANCING for a moment at our history, we see that in 536 B. C., 50,000 Jews were returned to Jerusalem from Babylon, and the temple was rebuilt; and 78 years later, Ezra returns with about 7,000 Jews to inaugurate needed reforms. Then came Nehemiah, 444 B. C., to rebuild the walls, and with Ezra to lead in a needed religious revival.

Dr. Newton

* * *

HAPPY TIMES WITH THE BIBLE

"FOR Ezra had prepared his heart to seek the law of the Lord, and to do it, and to teach in Israel statutes and judgments."

There was great need for a revival of religion, and Ezra knew that there can be no real revival until the people come back to God. He therefore read to them the statutes and judgments. Ezra read from the law of Moses from morning until midday, "and the ears of all the people were attentive unto the book of the law."

What would you think of the people being summoned into some public place today to hear the Bible read? But you say, we hear it read over the radio, and we hear it read in church, and we sometimes hear it read in the home. But do we hear it? And are our ears really attentive?

* * *

HEARING AND DOING GOD'S WORD

EZRA not only read God's word to the people, but he led them to do what they were commanded in the law. They went out to give portions to those who were in need. They came back to worship God. They began both to hear and do.

"Be ye doers of the word, and not hearers only," James 1:22.

It is positively dangerous to receive impressions from God and refuse to express what he has put in our hearts to do for him. Let me put it this way, we can become religiously intoxicated unless we go forth to serve.

* * *

LIVING OUR RELIGION

WHAT Ezra and Nehemiah led the people to do in the long ago was to put into practice what they heard—to live their religion. The late Gandhi was reported to have said, "I might have embraced Christianity, had Christians lived what they professed."

Let us keep clearly in mind that Ezra was first concerned in instructing the people according to all that God had said in the Scriptures. That comes first. We must have conviction about what is right. We must have a creed, but we are to remember that it is in daily living that we make our creeds effective.

* * *

WHAT IS A RELIGIOUS REVIVAL?

THIS lesson intends to reveal to us how a religious revival broke out in Jerusalem in the long ago, nearly 500 years before Christ was born. We'll may we ask, What is a religious revival?

"Lord, send a revival, and let it begin in my heart." Revivals are prayed down, not talked up. We have fallen into the fallacy of speaking of revivals when some overnight spell-binder comes along and kicks up a big sensation. Before he leaves town, Pharisaism is more rampant than ever. It is not until the Spirit of God moves upon the hearts of his people and rekindles in them a sense of sin, bringing them to true repentance, that we can have a real religious revival.

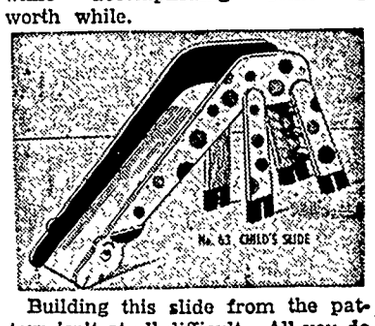
When men are convicted of their sins, they will say with Zacchaeus, "Lord, the half of my goods I give to the poor, and if I have taken from any man by false accusation, I restore him fourfold." When men begin to feel and talk and act like that, you have a real religious revival. And I repeat, such revivals are prayed down, not talked up. Now you are ready to read Psalms 119:9-16.

* * *

(Copyright by the International Council of Religious Education on behalf of 40 Protestant denominations. Released by WNU Features.)

Easily Built Children's Giraffe's Neck Slide

Do you feel tired, jittery, in need of a vacation? If the news on the front page starts to get you down, it's time to relax. You'll be agreeably surprised to see how far away from the worries of the world you can get by working with wood. Sawing wood and then putting the pieces together has tremendous therapeutic values. It's a grand way to keep yourself completely occupied while accomplishing something worth while.



Building this slide from the pattern isn't at all difficult. All you do is cut each part according to the pattern. Then fasten each piece together exactly in position indicated on the printed paper pattern. No special tools or skill are required. The pattern specifies materials to buy and where to use each piece. All lumber is stock size and readily obtainable at lumber yards everywhere.

Send 50 cents for Slide Pattern No. 63 to Easi-Bild Pattern Company, Dept. W, Pleasantville, N. Y.

Calm Example of Two Nuns Helps Avoid Panic in Wreck

BOSTON.—Two nuns seated in the first car of a wrecked train helped, by their own calm example, to avert wholesale panic among passengers, a Back Bay woman reports.

"Passengers started crowding toward the rear door to get out," said the woman.

"The two nuns sat in their seats, and on their faces was a look of peace and calm that I'll never forget. Just by their appearance, they calmed the passengers and helped them get off the train without panic."

"Everybody loves" SMACKS THE REALLY DELICIOUS COCONUT BAR!

IT'S ASPIRIN AT ITS BEST St. Joseph ASPIRIN WORLD'S LARGEST SELLER AT 10¢

10¢

Harsh Laxatives are NOT necessary for most people

The juice of a lemon in a glass of water, when taken first thing on arising, is all that most people need to insure prompt, normal elimination.

No more harsh laxatives that irritate the digestive tract and impair nutrition! Lemon in water is good for you!

Generations of Americans have taken lemons for health—and generations of doctors have recommended them. They are rich in vitamin C; supply valuable amounts of B_1 and P. They alkalinize; aid digestion.

Not too sharp or sour, lemon in water has a refreshing tang—clears the mouth, wakes you up. It's not a purgative—simply helps your system regulate itself. Try it 10 days.

USE CALIFORNIA SUNKIST LEMONS

ELS' WITH FACE

Facial Vision' Aids Vet in Farm Work

OHNSTOWN, Colo.—Joe Baca, strapping, 25-year-old war ran, cares for his flock of 350 kens just like any other far-near this northern Colorado does. Walking from his neat, room house to the chicken he cleans the watering ghs and scatters feed with rely a sign that a booby trap e mountains of Italy had to-blinded him more than two s ago.

I feel my way with my face," ains Baca, who uses neither nor dog to guide him in his y tasks. He was taught facial on at the army's Old Farms valescent hospital at Avon, , after army surgeons had ired parts of his face and by plastic surgery.

Injured in Italy

aca, who was wounded seri-y in Italy in August, 1944, n a booby trap was set off dentally, spent 14 weeks in Connecticut hospital.

There he was taught to "feel" jects with his face as he ap-ached them or, in the case moving objects, as they ap-ached him. By feeling the ange in air pressure on his e, for example, he can "feel" e location of his car in the iveway.

Discharged from the service, e returned to Colorado, where had been a sharecropper before ering the army in November, 2. At the Veterans Adminis-tion in Denver, he arranged a for purchase of the house here on a one-acre plot, the t size for chicken raising.

By taking on-the-job training under the G. I. bill of rights at a nearby hatchery, Baca intends to further his knowledge of the chicken industry. Eventually he hopes to expand his flock to 500 laying hens. Fruit trees on his plot provide shade while a good stand of alfalfa assure cheap feed.

A typewriter equipped with a Braille keyboard, provided by VA, is used for his correspondence. When he wants to "read," he merely turns on a record player, also furnished by VA, and listens to a book.

When Baca went into the service, his wife, Lucille, and infant son, Bobby, remained at home. Now Bobby is four years old and accompanies his father on trips to town. He's also handy around the chicken yard and, when not helping his dad, he sometimes gives his mother a hand with the newest addition to the family, a sister.

Postmen Carry Bag of Protests

DETROIT, Mich.—Snow, rain or gloom of night hold no terror for mail carriers—it's 184 other obstacles that bring woe to these couriers on their appointed rounds.

Current unhappiness of the nation's mailmen is reflected in 184 resolutions now being considered by the National Association of Letter Carriers following presentation at the organization's annual convention.

Postmen's gripes range from the condition of sidewalks and the appetite of dogs to the universally heavy bulk of holiday greetings. Here are some high spots of their suggested reforms:

Florida and Missouri mailmen want legislation holding dog owners responsible "for biting postmen."

In Washington state, mailmen propose that the government pay chiropractor fees if a letter carrier is "injured in line of duty."

Iowa's carriers want "permanent sidewalks." They also demand "an end to unwarranted spying on letter carriers."

In an action which might be construed as critical of their employers, California mailmen urge the United States government "to get its mailing lists up-to-date."

Fourteen state organizations want the mailman's load cut to 35 pounds. Michigan mailmen also want all Christmas and greeting cards of standard size. They also request "magazines mailed flat instead of rolled."

A resolution asks that mail inspectors stop using "nasty language" in their form letters to carriers—it makes mailmen upset and nervous.

Florida mailmen would like to smoke on their rounds while Montana postal workers urge that all postoffices be air-conditioned.

And these are only 3/46 of the postman's beefs against things as they exist in the world today.

ding Public at 'Bubble-gum' Age, Educator Avers

ITTSBURGH, Pa.—America's ing habits are at the "bubble-" stage, declares Dr. Gerald Yoakam, education professor University of Pittsburgh.

ooks and magazines written ond the understanding of a th-grade pupil stand little nce of being widely read, the cator insists. As proof, he nts out that the army during rld War II had to keep its in-uctions at the fourth-grade level to be certain the soldier readers would have complete understanding.

Whether love or the atomic bomb is discussed, the general public wants its reading matter written in a sixth-grade manner, according to Dr. Yoakam. The subject isn't important, he adds, the public merely demanding something simple to read.

The professor believes the reading level of the nation must be raised to that of a 14-year-old child or "at least to where we can grasp the social and economic problems that confront us."

The educator's guide in judging reading material takes into consideration vocabulary, length of sentences and complexities. On his basis, women's magazines average about halfway through seventh grade while love, sports and western magazines are about sixth grade.

Middle Class Tots Are More Inclined To Thumb Sucking

DETROIT, Mich. — Thumb sucking is three times more prevalent among children of middle class families than among children of the poor, according to Dr. Martha Ericson, psychologist at Merrill Palmer school here.

The reason, Dr. Ericson explains, is that youngsters on the Gold Coast are nursed less by their mothers and are bottle fed shorter periods than the "tenement child."

Other findings, gleaned from interviews of 48 middle class and 52 lower class mothers in Chicago, include:

1. Children in middle class families are expected to assume responsibility in the home earlier than the lower class children.

2. The school and work expectation for middle class children show that children are expected to prepare themselves for a profession. The lower class parents would like their children to become professional workers, but high school graduation is usually the actual ceiling level for most of the low class children.

School Children Get Fewer Report Cards

NEW YORK—New York City's 200,000 elementary public school children are getting a break this year in that bugaboo of childhood—the report card. They will receive only four this year. Last year they received six, and in previous years they got one a month. The new cards, however, include a space for notations by teachers of personality and appearance.

That Nagging Backache

May Warn of Disordered Kidney Action

Modern life with its hurry and worry, irregular habits, improper eating and drinking—its risk of exposure and infection—throws heavy strain on the work of the kidneys. They are apt to become over-taxed and fail to filter excess acid and other impurities from the life-giving blood.

You may suffer nagging backache, headache, dizziness, getting up nights, leg pains, swelling—feel constantly tired, nervous, all worn out. Other signs of kidney or bladder disorder are sometimes burning, scanty or too frequent urination.

Try Doan's Pills. Doan's help the kidneys to pass off harmful excess body waste. They have had more than half a century of public approval. Are recommended by grateful users everywhere. Ask your neighbor!

DOAN'S PILLS

CHANGE of LIFE?

Are you going through the functional 'middle age' period peculiar to women (38 to 52 yrs.)? Does this make you suffer from hot flashes, feel so nervous, highstrung, tired? Then do try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to relieve such symptoms. Pinkham's Compound also has what Doctors call a stomachic tonic effect!

LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S VEGETABLE COMPOUND

Ruined by Hate

Hate never ruined an enemy, but it has ruined the lives of many a hater.

You never fail to get your reward for Christian service, for the reason that it is its own compensation.

Discontent is the want of self-reliance; it is the infirmity of will.—Emerson.

Public dumps are a prime breeding place for rats.

FEDERAL
Land Bank
LOANS
Long Term Low Interest
No Fees No Commission
Wm. F. Johannaber
Secretary-Treasurer
Forest City, Iowa
Phone 50

BRING YOUR CAR TO US FOR

Greasing

AND A COMPLETE SPRING CHANGEOVER

*

In Motor Oil, Transmission, Differentail, Wheels and Chassis.

*

We have the equipment and proper lubricants to give you the best service.

*

See us for your needs in Batteries, Spark Plugs, and accessories of all kinds.

*

Smith's

STANDARD SERVICE
Klemme Iowa

HANCOCK COUNTY BOARD PROCEEDINGS

3RD ADJOURNED APRIL MEETING

Garner, Iowa
April 20, 1948

The Hancock County, Iowa Board of Supervisors met in session on above captioned date pursuant to adjournment with John Chambers, George Th. Gerdes and Frank Schoun present.

On motion by Supervisor Gerdes and second by Supervisor Schoun the Revised Plans and Specifications of the Woden Waterworks Project of Woden, Iowa, are hereby adopted as of March 8, 1948, the date of filing

The foregoing resolution was offered and read by Supervisor Gerdes, who moved its adoption, was seconded by Supervisor Schoun, whereupon the Chairman, John Chambers placed the motion of its adoption and upon roll call, the voto thereon is F J Schoun, Geo. Th. Gerdes and John Chambers, aye. Nays, none. Whereupon the chairman declared the resolution duly adopted.

This being the 20th day of April, A. D., 1948, a date heretofore fixed for a letting on the casting, blading end haul, and incidentals on trunk and local roads in Hancock County, Iowa, the hour for said letting having arrived, the proof of publication being on file and the Board being fully advised, said letting was held as scheduled. The Chairman of the Board proceeded to open all bids on file and after duly considering all bids on file, the Board finds the bid of Herman Buns and Son of Woden, Iowa, on sections 2 and 3 to be the best bid on file.

BE AND IT IS THEREFORE RESOLVED by the Board of Supervisors of Hancock County, Iowa, that the bid of Herman Buns and Son of Woden, Iowa, on secctions 2 and 3, be and the same is hereby accepted as the best bid for casting, blading, end haul and incidentals in said sections. All other bids are hereby rejected

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that John Chambers, Chairman, be and he is hereby authorized and ordered to execute a Contract in behalf of Hancock County, Iowa, with Herman Buns and Son of Woden, Iowa, on sections 2 and 3.

On motion and second the bond of Nielsen Brothers, Contractors, of Onawa, Iowa is hereby approved.

This being the 20th day of April A. D., 1948, a date heretofore fixed for a continuation of a letting on the Woden, Waterworks project of Woden, Iowa, the hour for said letting having arrived, the proof of publication being on file and the board being fully advised, said letting was held as scheduled. The Chairman of the Board proceeded to open all bids on file and after duly considering all bids on file, the Board does find the bid of Pittsburgh-Des Moines steel Company of Des Moines, Iowa, the lowest and best bid for Sections 5 and 6, which sections include the tank, tower, foundations and material; and the bid of Thorpe Well Company of Des Moines, Iowa the lowest and best bid for Section 4, which section includes the pump and control, therefore

BE AND IT IS THEREFORE RESOLVED by the Board of Supervisors of Hancock County, Iowa that the bid of Pittsburgh-Des Moines Steel Company of Des Moines, Iowa on Sections 5 and 6; and the bid of Thorpe Well Company of Des Moines, Iowa on Section 4, be and the same are hereby accepted as the lowest and best bids on the Woden Waterworks project of Woden, Iowa. All other bids are rejected.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that John Chambers, Chairman, be and he is hereby authorized and ordered to execute Contracts in behalf of Hancock County, Iowa with Pittsburgh-Des Moines Steel Company on Section 5 and 6 and with Thorpe Well Company on Section 4 of said Woden Waterworks Project of Woden, Iowa.

The foregoing resolution was offered and read by Supervisor Gerdes, who moved its adoption, was seconded by Supervisor Schoun, whereupon the Chairman John Chambers, placed the motion of its adoption and upon roll call, the vote thereon is George Th Gerdes, F. J. Schoun and John Chambers, aye. Nays, none. Whereupon the Chairman decared the resolution duly adopted

On motion and second the Board adjourned to May 3, A D., 1948, at 9 00 A. M.

ATTEST
MAYNARD SCHONEMAN,
County Auditor
JOHN CHAMBERS,
Chairman

DR. E. H. PHILLIPS
Osteopathis Physician
Xray - Short Wave Diathermy and Ultra Violet Equipment
Phone 149 Garner, Iowa

NOTICE TO RIFLE SHOOTERS

Boys have been shooting rifles on my property at the edge of Klemme and have been disturbing wild ducks and other wildlife. This practice must be stopped or the violaters will be punished according to law. Do not forget it is a Federal offense to shoot at wild ducks out of season.

It would be much bettter if the boys would cooperate with me in my wildlife project so that we can all enjoy better hunting later.

HERB GREIMAN. (2tp)

Baptism

Kenneth Dean, son of Mr. and Mrs. Erwin Rasmus was baptized at the Klemme Evangelical and Reformed Church Sunday by the Rev. Calvin Grosshuesch.

Evangelical & Reformed Church

Calvin Grosshuesch, Pastor

SUNDAY
10:00 A. M. Morning Worship.
11:00 A. M. Sunday School.
7:00 P. M. Young People's Bible Class.

THURSDAY
Ascension Day
10:00 A. M. Morning Worship.
8:30 P. M. meeting of Consistory and Repair Committee.

FRIDAY
8:00 P. M. Choir.

Campaign Aimed to Erase Ancient Stigma of Leprosy

The stigma attached to leprosy since Biblical times soon may be erased as a result of a campaign being waged by the medical profession.

Impetus to the campaign was given by the recent discharge of 21 lepers from the Carville, La., marine hospital. The patients were discharged as "arrested cases," which is considered as cured in all respects. Nineteen of the patients were treated with promin and two with diasone, both new drugs. Another new drug, promizole, also is being utilized in the war on leprosy.

On the basis of these drugs it appears that early cases are rather readily stopped. Therefore public health authorities are trying to institute the same early diagnosis and treatment for leprosy that is used for tuberculosis and cancer.

To succeed it is necessary to get the public to understand that leprosy is not a "horrible" disease. The bad name of leprosy was started in the Scriptures. Whatever the Scriptural disease may have been that was called leprosy, it is not the disease now known to the world.

Dr. G. H. Faget, medical officer in charge of the Carville hospital, says:

There are several types of leprosy, some of which are not contagious at all.

Some of the patients with the greatest amount of mutilation are burned-out cases, and of absolutely no danger to others.

Fingers and toes do not drop off. In far-advanced cases deformities occur.

Children are more susceptible than adults.

Leprosy is a family disease. It is not hereditary, but the child may contract it from contact with his parents.

Leprosy is not a filth disease, it is not an unclean disease, it is not a curse of God.

'Blue Monday' Expression Originated With Pilgrims

Ever wonder where the expression "blue Monday" comes from? According to the log of the Mayflower, the Pilgrims landed on Sunday and spent the day giving thanks. On the very next day, a bleak November Monday, the Pilgrim women took their clothing to the shore and had America's first washday. Whether they always washed on Monday or not, the expression has become a tradition.

But washday needn't be a "blue Monday"—not if you follow these suggestions from the laundry experts in the college of home economics: First of all, let everyone in the family collect his own soiled clothes and put them in the laundry. Then you won't need to waste time rummaging through drawers and closets. Be sure to remove all stains from garments before washing, and mend what's necessary before the clothes go through the machine. As for drying clothes, if you fold sheets and bedding carefully when you hang them, they won't need ironing. The same goes for towels. And sit down to do the ironing.

Farm Bureau Calendar Of Coming Events

May 7:
Britt Busy Beavers Girls 4-H Club, Mothers Party at Mrs. Louis Fisher.

May 10:
R. Y. P. Meeting at the Central States Basement in Britt at 8:00 P. M.

May 10:
Mrs. Clarence Greiman to discuss Hancock County Women's Day over KGLO at 11:45 A. M.

May 10:
4-H County Committee meeting at Central States in Britt at 1:30 P. M.

May 11:
Amsterdam 4-H boys meeting at 8:00 P. M.

May 11:
Concord Nimble Fingers Club Mother's Party at Darlene Nelson's at 8:00 P. M.

May 12:
Hancock County Women's Day at the Garner High School Auditorium. Registration at 1:15 P. M. Martha Duncan to be main speaker.

May 13:
Liberty 4-H Boys meeting at Paul Zrostlik's at 8:00 P. M.

May 17:
Bingham4-H Boys meeting at Henry Boyken's at 8:00 P. M.

May 17:
Magor 4-H Boys meeting at 8:00 P. M.

May 17:
Avery 4-H Boys meeting at Garry Kastler's at 8:00 P. M.

May 18:
Boone 4-H Boys meeting at the Zuehl Brothers at 8:00 P. M.

May 19:
Orthel Boys 4-H meeting at Larry Fox's at 8:00 P. M.

May 19:
Britt 4-H Boys meeting at Rasmuson's at 8:00 P. M.

Klemme School News

Third And Fourth Grade News

Dennis Haefner has been absent two weeks with the mumps.

We have four dental cards to be returned. We hope to have all of them back before next Friday.

Roger Johnson celebrated his birthday Monday, by treating us to popcorn balls. David Waddingham treated us to froststicks Friday in honor of his birthday.

We are Sunbonnet Babes and Overall Boys in the Operetta. The girls have been busy making aprons and sunbonnets from crepe paper.

We have finished our Geography work for the year. The past four weeks we have been having map study. This week we made maps of Hancock County, putting in towns, roads, townships and railroads.

The following had 100 in Spelling this Friday:

Third Grade

Gary Baack
Berleen Bridges
Janice Stokesbary
Barbara Thompson
Roger Johnson

Fonda Beir, Herbert Greiman, and Eva Theiman missed only one word.

Fourth Grade

Bob Arnold
Lois Heginger

Carol Bridges and Raymond Helps missed one word.

Martin's Ceiropia moth came out of its cacoon Monday. It was very beautiful, and Tuesday we took it outdoors and let it fly.

Fifth And Sixth Grade News

The 5th and 6th Grades are working very hard in Arithmetic and Geography so that we can cover the material in the next two weeks.

We are practicing on our operetta which takes several of our class periods. We all think it will be a very colorful and good operetta.

The sixth grade is one hundred percent in their dental cards. The fifth grade is close at their heals with just one missing. No one is allowed to go to the dental day at Britt on May 8, unless they have a dental card signed by their dentist and teacher. We have been making costumes for that as well as May baskets and Mother's Day gifts. We will be very happy when next week end rolls around.

What's new in cancer research? Read how a new drug has helped incurable cancer victims. See "Manna From The Sky" in the American Weekly, the great magazine distributed with Sunday's Hearald-American.

FOREST FIRE

Forest fires are not common to Iowa but near Chariton last week, a blaze destroyed about 20 acres of pine trees and raced through another 80 land near the "Thou Tract" there. Hundr growing trees, inclu planted by CCC work state-owned tract, we

Spring Change Ov

Your car won't perform well until let it have a Spring change-over at our Service Station. It includes complete lu tion, change of oil, change of grease, drai flush radiator, check fan belt, sparkplug cleaner, etc. Don't wait! Check with us

AUTO ACCESSORIES OF ALL KINDS IN STOCK

Hancock Co. Coo Oil Association

SUPER SERVICE STATIONS

Klemme Io

The Right Way

TO PAINT YOUR HOU

For the FIRST COAT use

BPS FOUNDATION COAT

Why use a Foundation Coat? . . . for many re . . . most important is Economy. The big job o Foundation Coat is to hide dirt and grime . . properly prime and seal the surface . . thus m the finished coat last longer and wear bett saves by eliminating a third coat.

For the SECOND COAT use

BPS HOUSE PAINT

Provides a tough, elastic film that gives longe ing protection against wear and weather. BPS H Paint covers solidly . . . spreads farther The gloss finish resists dirt, wear and weather . . non-fading colors and white staying clean a tractive for many years to come.

You Don't have to Paint so often when you use BPS

ONLY $ PER GAL.

A PATTERSON-SARGENT PAINT

Northern Lumber C

Lloyd Sherwood, Mgr. Klemme, Io

Soy Beans

SHOULD BE TESTED NOW . . .

FARMERS . . . Now is a good time to test your Soy Bean Seed for germination by planting a few so you will be sure about a good stand.

INOCULATION

We have Soy Bean INOCULATION on hand. Come in and get your supply now and get your seed prepared.

"The Farmers Elevator"

Klemme Co-Operative Grain Company

Glen Bridges, Manager Klemme, Iowa

To Serve You Better...

We have purchased the Koerner Dairy as announced by them last week.

With the addition of this dairy to our present milk and cream business it will enable us to serve all customers more efficiently from one location.

We will continue to handle raw milk for those who so desire, as well as pasteurized milk which we feature.

We urge former Koerner customers to try our pasteurized milk, we are sure that once you use pasteurized milk you will always want it.

Your continued patronage and cooperation will be appreciated.

Klemme Coop. Creamery Co.

Kenneth Medin, Manager Phone 57, Klemme, Iowa

Tree Trimmers

WILL IMPROVE YOUR ELECTRIC SERVICE

In order to improve electric service in Klemme, we have engaged the Wright Tree Service of Des Moines to trim all trees that interfere with our lines that carry energy to your property.

This firm of expert trimmers are under contract to get permission from all property owners before trimming any trees. These specialists make every effort to improve the appearance of trees that need trimming in order to provide proper clearances for electric lines.

We want you to have the best electric service possible.

CENTRAL STATES ELECTRIC COMPANY

the Want Ads and business they are here to help you your business more quickly economically.

Arthur Wellemeyer
FUNERAL DIRECTOR
With long experince and best equipment.
PROMPT AMBULANCE SERVICE
Phone 23-R2 Day or Night
Klemme - Iowa

AVERY
—The—
Theatre Beautiful
Garner, Iowa

MAY 5, 6
Wednes. - Thursday
MICKEY ROONEY as KILLER McCOY
With
BRIAN DONLEVY
ANN BLYTH
JAMES DUNN

MAY 7, 8
Friday - Saturday
ROY ROGERS
In
BELLS OF SAN ANGELO
With
DALE EVANS
ANDY DEVINE
In Trucolor
(A Republic Picture)

MAY 9, 10, 11
Sun. - Mon. - Tues.
CROSSROADS OF ADVENTURE! . . .
With LADD and LAKE
Gunning for Trouble!
"SAIGON"
ALAN LADD
VERONICA LAKE

MAY 12, 13
Wednes. - Thursday
LOUIS HAYWARD
JOAN LESLIE
In
REPEAT PERFORMANCE

YOUNG PEOPLE MET

A panel discussion, led by Harriet Oxley, Hancock County Health Nurse, on the Pre-School Dental Clinic held in Hancock County in April, was the interesting part of the Young Married Peoples meeting. The meeting was in the C. D. of A. Hall in Garner on Tuesday evening, April 27. Other members of the panel were Mrs. Imko Huisinga of Woden, Mrs. Emery Weaver, of Garner, and Mrs. Henry Voetberg of Garner.

Each member of the panel helped at one or more of the Clinics held in each town in the county. Data was given on the results of the clinics.

Miss Oxley, also showed colored slides on teeth. Plans were made for the next meeting to be held May 25, in Britt. Dr. Voetberg, Federal Veterinarian for this District, will be the speaker. His topic will be, "Bangs Disease."

New Discoveries Being Made In Fight Against Cancer

On April 21st the Atomic Energy Commission announced the discovery of "cobalt blue," a cheap but medically comparable substitute for rare and costly radium, a discovery which brings the cost of treatment within the economic range of thousands of cancer sufferers.

On the same day, at the conference of the American College of Physicians, Dr. C. P. Rhoads made unconditional reference to a "cure" for a specific type of cancer.

Here are profound events in the fight against cancer which prove that the battle is going our way, provided our allies stand firmly behind us.

The American Cancer Society is now engaged in its annual drive for funds—money which is sorely needed for the types of research described above, as well as for a vast cancer control program.

Now is the time to develop the irresistible momentum which will result in victory against one of mankind's most vicious enemies. Now is the itme for the nation to throw its weight into the fight by contributing funds for further research.

Kiddies Celebrated May Day

The small fry of Klemme had a big time early Saturday evening making their annual delivery of May baskets to their little friends. The little girls and boys had a lot of fun.

Methodist Youth Fellowship Install New Officers

Newly elected officers for the Methodist Youth Fellowship are as follows: President; Francis Sherwood; Vice President; Marjorie Lau; Sec.-Treas., Beverly Beier; Worship Chairman, LaNelle Harvey; World Friendship Chairman, Shirley Bisom; Community Service Chairman. Isabelle Gibbs; Social Chairman, Gloria Haefner, Music, LaVonne Beier. The Youth Fellowship meets every Sunday evening at 7 o'clock and is for all senior youths of both churches, Liberty and Klemme.

Methodist Study Group

The Fellowship of Study Group met at the church last Tuesday evening with fifteen present for the first chapter of "The Habit Of Adventure" from "Alternative to Futility" These reviews will be for six weeks period, and any one is invited to attend.

Even Animals Court

The mating of animals is not an entirely cut-and-dried matter on a biological basis. The courtship elements typical of the human race also are carried over into the animal world. Birds and other animals "primp" themselves to attract a mate, often bringing gifts of food or bright attractive objects to win the affection of a desired mate. There is the famous case of the bower birds of New Guinea in which the male bird builds a courtship arbor and performs a courtship dance in front of the female.

Livestock numbers have been going downhill since 1944. Today they are the lowest since 1939.

One pocket gopher will dig a half-mile or so of runway in a year.

Want Ads

For Sale

FOR SALE—2 PORTABLE HOG Houses. Plank floor on skids. Cedar shingle roof. Walter Neuberger, 5 mi. e. of Klemme (1tp)

FOR SALE—TRACTOR TIRES Have a large stock of rears on hand. Garner Auto Co., Garner, Iowa. (M-8tfc)

FOR SALE—NEW McDRG. 4-wheel wagon. This is a Real Wagon on Rubber Northern Lumber Co. (1tc

YES WE HAVE IT, NUTRENA Crumblized Chick Feed. For faster gains and less waste. We deliver ½ ton lots or more. GREEN ELEVATOR CO., Goodell, Iowa. (Apr 14 tfc)

FOR SALE—1937 F—20 TRACtor completely overhauled, and Ready to go. Northern Lumber Company (1tc)

Get your "Thank You Notes" at the Times Office. 50 cents. per box.

FOR SALE—NEW M. and H. 238 Hydraulic Cultivator. Northern Lumber Co. (1tc)

Miscellaneous

INSURE WITH HENRY WARD, Klemme for Auto, Personal Property, Farm Liability Insurance. (May 1, '48)

SEE R. W. ELDER FOR HANcock Co. Mutual Fire & Lightning Insurance renewals or new policies. (Apr. 1 pd)

Wanted To Buy

WANTED TO BUY FOR CASH —your used car. Any make, any model. Garner Auto Company, Garner, Iowa. M-8tfc)

Services Offered

FEED GRINDING OF ALL kinds done on your farm. Phone Klemme 76 or Goodell 58561. Carroll Etchen. (j-28-tc)

Salesman Wanted

MAN WANTED—to succed H. J. Luthro as Rawleigh Dealer. Unexpected change makes available West Wright County. Selling experience unnecessary to start. Splendid opportunity to step into a permanent and profitable business where Rawleigh Products have been sold over 50 years. Good profit to willing worker. Write Rawleigh's Dept. IAD-163-10 Freeport, Ill. (Apr. 21, May 5 tp)

AROUND IOWA

LIGHTNING

in a freak thunderstorm near Dysart last week, Jacob Moeller was killed by a bolt of lightning while plowing with a tractor. The tractor kept going and for about two hours traveled in circles, with Mr. Moeller's body aboard. The accident was discovered when Mrs. Moeller called her husband to lunch and found the machine still going in circles.

PUZZLED

Carol Jean Bierstedt of Fenton is puzzled. She celebrated her 13th birthday last week and on that morning received a birthday card from Germany, signed by a name wholly unfamiliar to her.

TO MUCH WATER

Work on a new municipal light plant at Independence struck a snag last week. Workman there struck water about four feet under the surface.

FATAL

A fall from a horse proved fatal to Gale Boozell, five year old Lucas county lad. He was unconscious for 10 days before death occurred.

The Methodist Church
Herschel E. Harvey, Pastor

KLEMME

Thursday:
Womans Society at 2:00.
Choir at 7:30.

SUNDAY
Worship at 10.00 A. M.
Sunday School at 11.00 A. M
Youth Fellowship at 7 p. m.

LIBERTY

Wednesday.
Womans Society at Elmer Schaefers at 2:00.

SUNDAY
Church School at 10:15 A. M.
Worship at 11:15 A. M.
Youth Fellowship at 7:00 at Klemme.

Monday:
Birthday Social with supper at 7:30 p. m.

HANCOCK COUNTY REAL ESTATE DEALS

Aetna Life Ins. Co. to Dusseldrop, Neal and Marie Spec Wty. Deed 2-26-48 $15,000 NE¼ Sec. 27-96-26.

Michelson, Severt, widower to Michelson, Norris 4-3-48 Wty. $1.00 NW¼, except right of way M & St L. RR Sec 20-94-25

Nall, Russell D. and Winnie L. wife to Bravick, Robert D. and Jeanette O., wife 3-22-48 Wty. Deed $1.00 L 5 6 7 8 9 and 10, Blk. 3 in Stilson.

Christenson, Chas. and Anna wife to DeWaard, Lyda 2-26-48 Wty. Deed $1.00 L 4 in Blk. 16 in Original town of Woden.

Blum, John A. and Ottillia A. et al to Baack, Hermann and Lillie 3-1-48 Wty. Deed $1.00 SE¼ Sec. 20-95-23.

Stille, W. F., unmarried to Lewis, Ernest E. and Gladys F. 12-5-47 Wty. Deed $1. 00 L3 and 4 Blk. 2 Gruetzmalher Bros and Hanson's Sub-div to out-lot 6 Klemme's 1st Add to Klemme.

Hancock County, State of Ia. to Johnson, Oscar 12-3-45 QCD $50.00 L3 and 4 Blk. 1 Grandview Add to Kanawha.

Orthell, Marie and H. J., husband to Devine, Bernard J. and Elenora, wife as jt. ten. 1-4-48 Wty. Deed $1.00 E½ SE¼ and SW¼ SE¼ Sec. 14 and SE¼ and W½ NE¼ Sec. 23-97-26.

Entertained Conference

The Calvinistic Conference met at the home of Rev. Calvin Grosshuesch.

Don't Feed Treated Seed To Stock

Don't feed it. That is the advice of County Extension Director, Paul Henderson, to Hancock County farmrs who are wondering whether or not they can feed left-over reated barley and oats seed to livestock.

Seed which has been treated with either Ceresan M or New Improved Ceresan contains mercury and lead and can kill animals. Such should not be fed. Chickens are the least susceptible to the two seed treatment compounds, Henderson says, but does not recommend feeding the grain to them.

Treated seed left over from this year's planting should be labeled "treated" and stored away from animals and dampness for use next planting season.

Bond crossed oats, such as Clinton, Benton, and Cherokee, can safely be stored until 1949. Germination will be practically as high as this year if it is stored properly, according to the Iowa State College plant pathologist, C. S. Reddy. Barley should be stored in the same way.

Arasan and Spergon, the two main seed treating compounds, are only slightly poisonous to animals. Spergon in moderate quantities is considered about as poisonous as common salt. Treated seed corn can also be safely stored for next year's planting.

B. C. BERGE
ATTORNEY-AT-LAW
Office Over Federated Store
Phone 20 Garner, Iowa

Phone your news to 12

CURTIS G. RIEHM
Attorney-At-Law
Office Over Federated Store
Res. Phone 133W2
Phone 133 Garner, Iowa

GENERAL TRUCKING
Local and Long Distance Hauling
ALVIN ALBERS
Phone 13F111 BELMOND

For Quick Truck Delivery On
Diamond D-X
Products of all kinds
Phone 85
ERNEST HENSCHEN
Klemme, Iowa

EASY TO LIKE VEGETABLES. Add a flavor they like—and your children will eat their vegetables with real enthusiasm. And how children love the flavor of Butter—golden butter so rich in the vitamins they need Yes, the matchless flavor of Butter does so much for the appetite appeal of other foods. Its natural golden color comes from rich golden cream—and it takes four pints of cream to make a pound of butter. For nutrition, for health, for downright goodness, Butter is still one of the greatest values your money can buy.
Iowa Dairy Industry Commission

IT'S BETTER WITH BUTTER—ORDER SOME TODAY

Advertisement

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

"What's Your Opinion, Mister?"

Fellow from one of those public opinion polls was in Andy's Garden Tavern, querying Andy's patrons on everything from that "new look" to the next election.

And it occurred to me that there's nothing more typically American than collecting other folks' opinions, as well as giving out with one's own. And from where I sit, it's a mighty healthy habit.

So long as people can discuss both sides of a question that comes up—whether it concerns short skirts versus long, beer compared with cider, or the larger issues of party versus party—we're sure of the individual liberty that has made this country great.

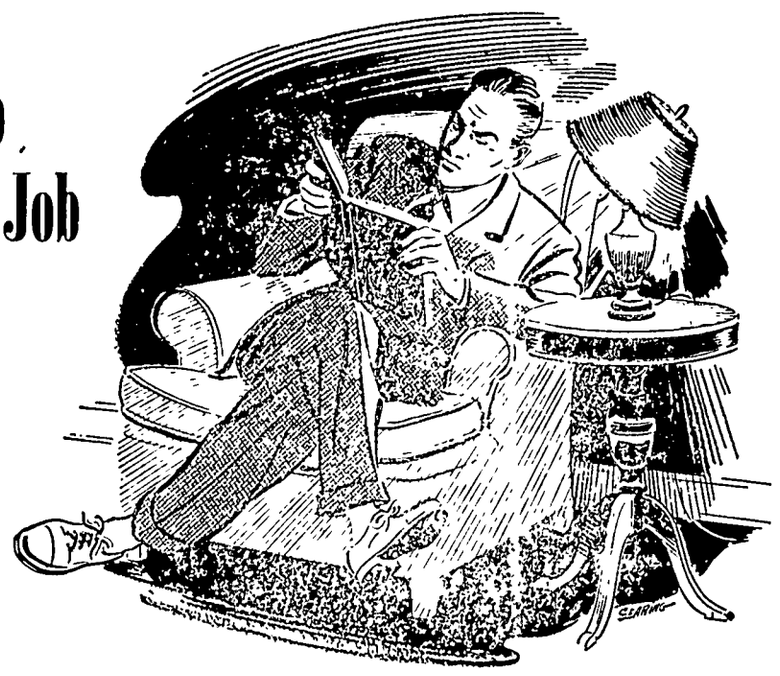
For it isn't differences of opinion that matter. The important thing is tolerance for differences of opinion—whether they affect the right of an individual to vote, to speak his mind, or enjoy a glass of beer. They're all parts of the freedom that we cherish!

Joe Marsh

Copyright, 1948, United States Brewers Foundation

KEEP THE FARM SANITARY
2-HOUR SERVICE ON REMOVAL OF
Dead Stock
Phone
KLEMME 580
BELMOND 580
We Pay The Call
A Clean Truck With An Efficient Driver In Your Neighborhood Daily.
Belmond By-Products
"Your Home Plant"
Phone 580 Belmond, Iowa.

There's a Light Bulb to Fit Every Seeing Job

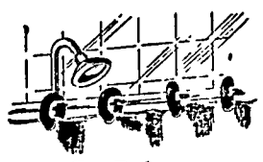


The right amount of glareless, well-diffused light protects your eyes . . . enables you to see more easily, quickly and surely . . . without the usual contortions to get "all set" for reading.

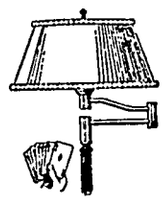
Light bulbs are the heart of every system of good lighting. Different seeing jobs require different sized bulbs . . . and better distribution of light. Used in the correct lamp or fixture, the right sized bulb puts you in a better mood for reading, study, housework, card-playing or working at your hobby. Check your bulbs today . . . replace them with adequate right-sized bulbs.

Reddy Kilowatt Suggests Right-Sized Bulbs

For Kitchen
150 watts



For Bathroom
60 to 100 watts



For Bridge Lamps
150 watts

For Large Floor Lamps
300-watt or one 100-200-300 watt 3-way bulb

For Table and Study Lamps
One 100-watt or two 60-watt bulbs

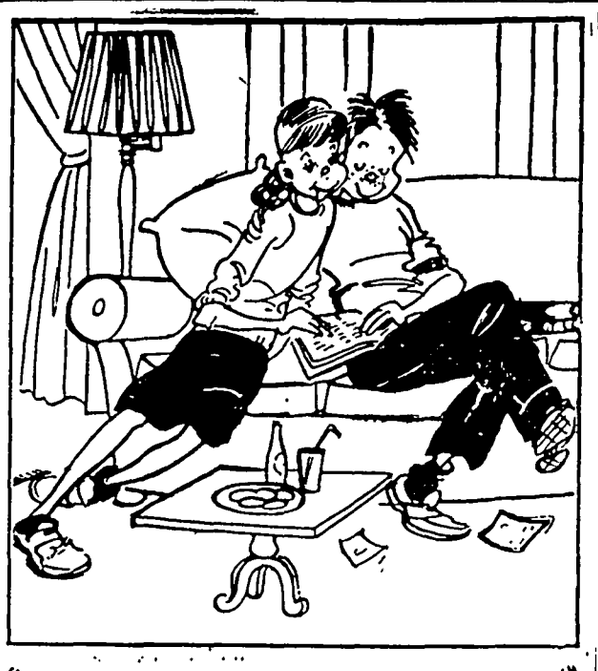
CENTRAL STATES ELECTRIC COMPANY
"The Low Rate Company"

Cross Town by Roland Coe

"WOULD YOUSE GENTS CARE TO JOIN ME, IN A CAN OF STEW?"

4817

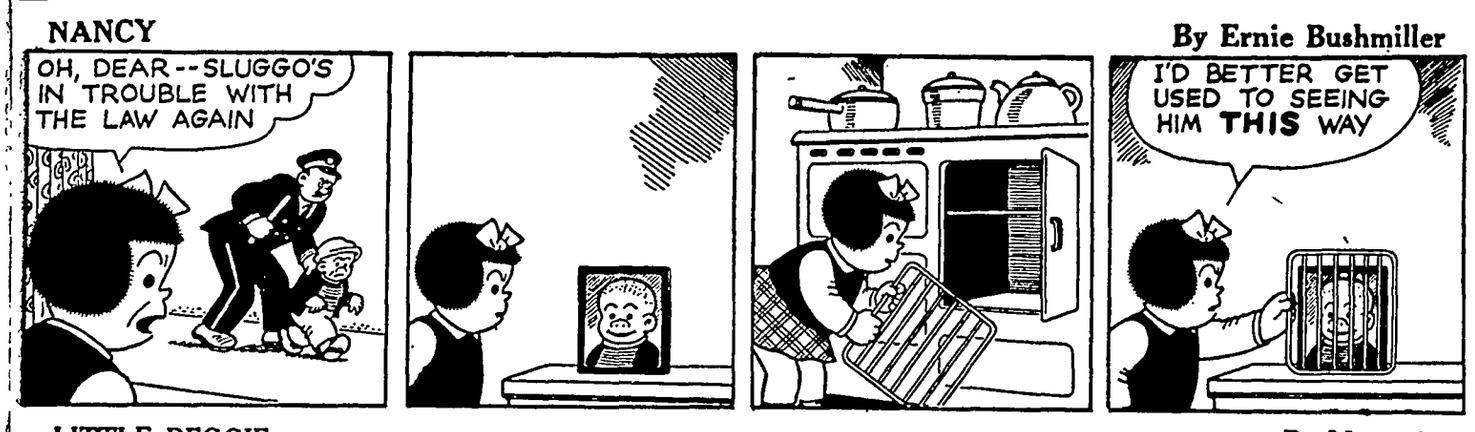
Bobby Sox by Mary Links



"TWO HEADS ARE BETTER THAN ONE, I ALWAYS SAY!"

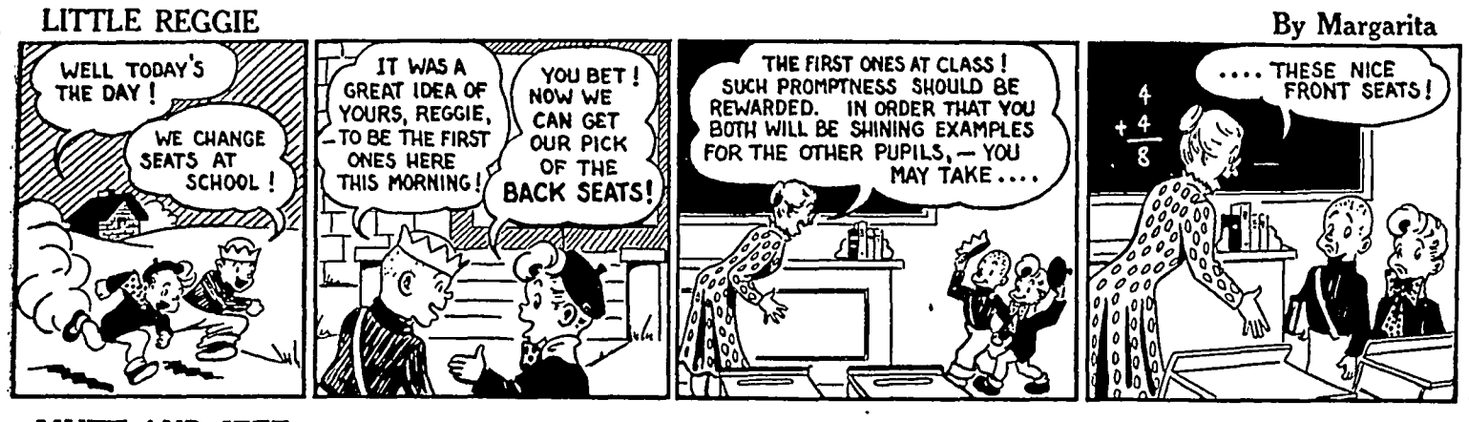
NANCY

By Ernie Bushmiller



LITTLE REGGIE

By Margarita



WELL TODAY'S THE DAY!
WE CHANGE SEATS AT SCHOOL!
IT WAS A GREAT IDEA OF YOURS, REGGIE, — TO BE THE FIRST ONES HERE THIS MORNING!
YOU BET! NOW WE CAN GET OUR PICK OF THE BACK SEATS!
THE FIRST ONES AT CLASS! SUCH PROMPTNESS SHOULD BE REWARDED. IN ORDER THAT YOU BOTH WILL BE SHINING EXAMPLES FOR THE OTHER PUPILS, — YOU MAY TAKE....
4 + 4 = 8
.... THESE NICE FRONT SEATS!

MUTT AND JEFF

By Bud Fisher

MUTT, LOOK WHAT I GOT IN NIGHT SCHOOL FOR MY GOOD WORK!
WHAT IS IT?
IT'S A RED STAR!
WHAT'S IT GOOD FOR?
YOU SAVE 'EM TILL YOU GET 100 OF 'EM!
WHAT DO YOU GET FOR A HUNDRED?
A BLUE STAR!
WHAT'S THAT FOR?
YOU SAVE 'EM TILL YOU GET 100 BLUE STARS!
THEN WHAT?
THEN YOU GET A GOLD ONE WHICH SEZ "THIS STUDENT HAS SAVED 10,000 RED AND 100 BLUE STARS!

JITTER

By Arthur Pointer

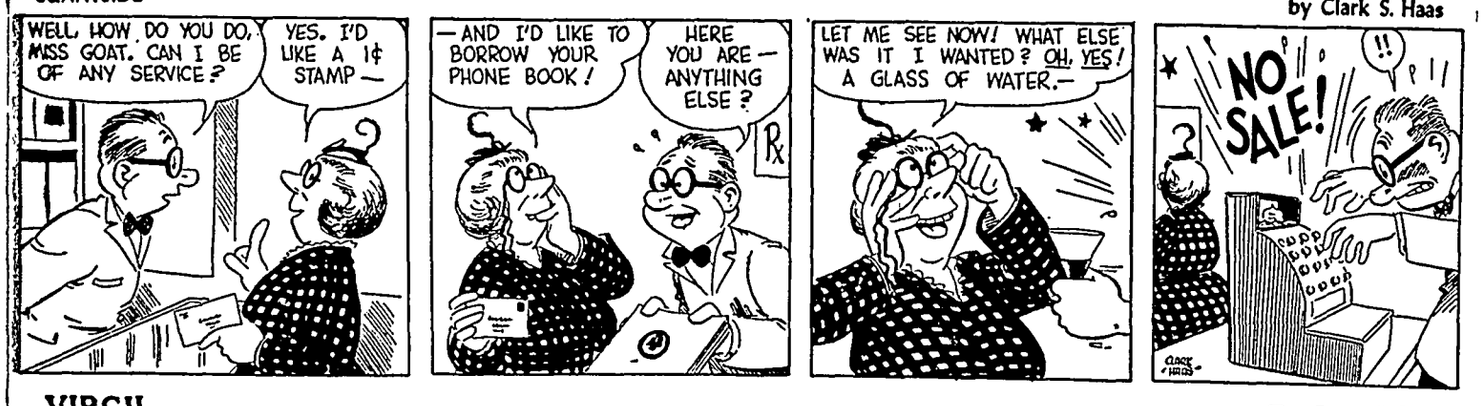
REG'LAR FELLERS

By Gene Byrnes

MY GOSH! TH' PRICE OF LICKRISH IS UP AGAIN — WHAT'S TH' IDEA?
THE OLD LAW OF SUPPLY AND DEMAND, SONNY!
WHAT'S SHE MEAN BY TH' LAW OF SUPPLY AN' DEMAND?
IT MEANS THAT MERRILL'S CANDY STORE HAS TH' SUPPLY AN' DEMANDS THAT PRICE FOR IT!

SUNNYSIDE

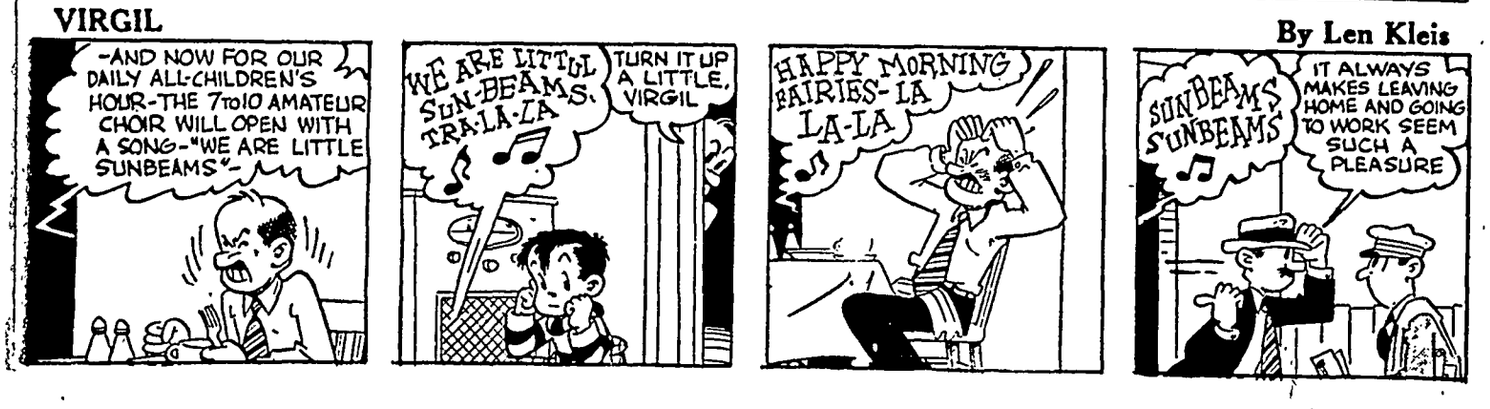
by Clark S. Haas



WELL, HOW DO YOU DO, MISS GOAT. CAN I BE OF ANY SERVICE?
YES. I'D LIKE A 1¢ STAMP —
— AND I'D LIKE TO BORROW YOUR PHONE BOOK!
HERE YOU ARE — ANYTHING ELSE?
LET ME SEE NOW! WHAT ELSE WAS IT I WANTED? OH, YES! A GLASS OF WATER.—
NO SALE!

VIRGIL

By Len Kleis

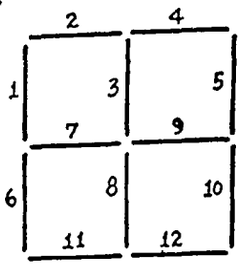


-AND NOW FOR OUR DAILY ALL-CHILDREN'S HOUR-THE 7 to 10 AMATEUR CHOIR WILL OPEN WITH A SONG-"WE ARE LITTLE SUNBEAMS"-
WE ARE LITTUL SUN-BEAMS. TRA-LA-LA
TURN IT UP A LITTLE, VIRGIL
HAPPY MORNING FAIRIES-LA LA-LA
SUNBEAMS SUNBEAMS
IT ALWAYS MAKES LEAVING HOME AND GOING TO WORK SEEM SUCH A PLEASURE

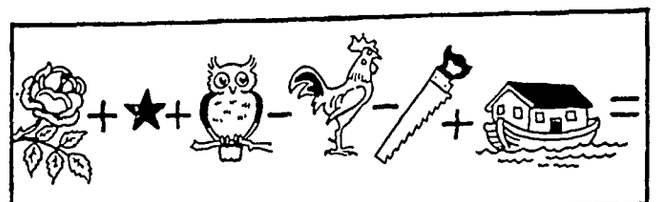
FUNLAND

BY A.W. NUGENT

BY DRAWING 12 LINES MAKE 4 BOXES AS PICTURED BELOW. CAN YOU CHANGE THE POSITIONS OF ONLY 3 LINES TO MAKE 3 EQUAL SIZE SQUARES ?



MOVE LINES FOUR, SIX AND ELEVEN TO THE RIGHT OF LINE FIVE.

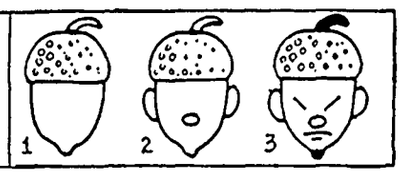


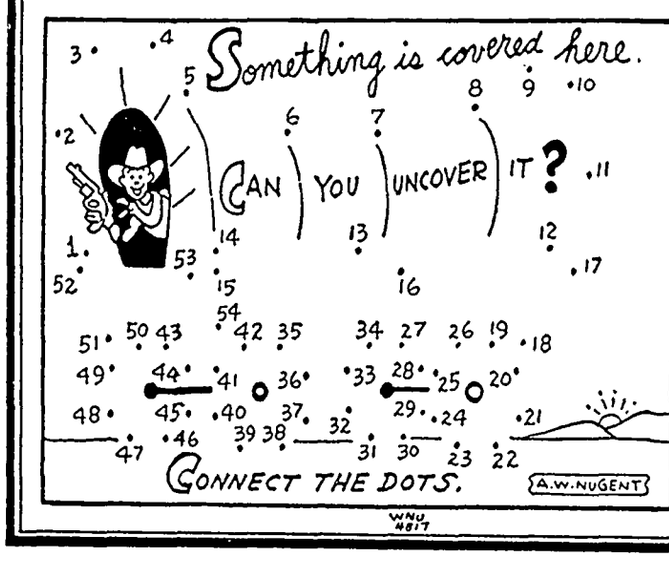
CAN YOU ADD AND SUBTRACT THE LETTERS FORMING THE NAMES OF THE ABOVE SIX PICTURES? IF YOU DO THIS CORRECTLY YOU WILL HAVE AS A RESULT FOUR LETTERS THAT WILL SPELL THE NAME OF A CERTAIN BIRD. WHAT BIRD IS IT ????

ROSE + STAR + OWL - ROOSTER - SAW + ARK = LARK

KIDDIE CORNER

FIRST DRAW AN ACORN. THEN MAKE IT GROW TO A CHINESE MAN

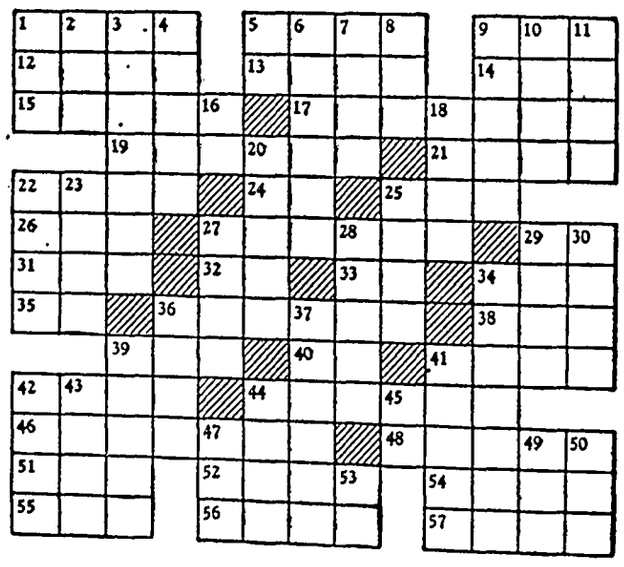




WNU 4817

CROSSWORD PUZZLE

Solution in Next Issue.



No. 15

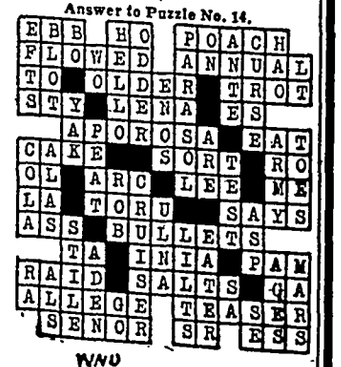
HORIZONTAL

1 Urn
5 Ship's complement
9 To batter
12 Preposition
13 Danish island
14 Yellow bugle
15 Aromatic plant
17 Cut short
19 Washes lightly
21 Bacteriologist's wire
22 Farm building
24 Paid notice
25 Vase
26 Native metal
27 To satisfy
29 Whether
31 Cover
32 Note of scale
33 French for "the"
34 Nahoor sheep
35 Hypothetical force
36 Gathered
38 To spread for drying
39 Man's nickname
40 Teutonic deity
41 Southwestern Indian
42 Seed coating
44 Clothing
46 Calmest
48 Abounds
51 Caoutchoue tree
52 To crease
54 Chief divinity of ancient Memphis
56 Woody plant
57 Slave

VERTICAL

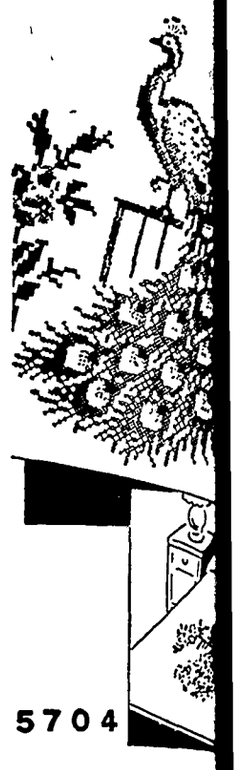
1 By way of
2 Girl's name
3 Mixed
4 Reddish coloring matter
5 Symbol for calcium
6 To fall back
7 Is mistaken
8 To court
9 To mature
10 The birds
11 Manufactured
16 Printer's measure
18 Small opening
20 Transactions
22 Philippine weapon
23 Dry
25 Employed
27 English baby carriage
28 Nimble
29 Arrow poison
30 To lose color
34 Thoroughfares
36 To fashion
37 To adjust
39 Ornamented with squares of baked clay
41 Fabric
42 River in Asia
43 To irritate
44 Musical instrument
45 That thing
47 Newt
49 To provide crew
50 Feminine pronoun
53 Prefix: from

Answer to Puzzle No. 14.



WNU 4817

Peacock Makes Handsome



5704

Heirloom Piece

BEAUTIFUL enough t... as an heirloom p... proud peacock is embro... all its glorious colorings... look handsome on your ... for the beginner because... broidery is in simple cr... The design measures 1... inches.

To obtain hot-iron transfer... color chart and stitch illus... Glorious Bird (Pattern No. 570...

Send 20 cents in coin. Your... dress and Pattern Number.

SEWING CIRCLE NEED... 530 South Wells St. Chic... Enclose 20 cents for P...

No.

Name

Address

MADE TO ORD...

Canvasser—May I ha... minutes of your time?

Prospect—Yes, if you... brief. What can I do ... I'm a man of few word...

Canvasser—Just the ... looking for, my specialt... tionaries.

Older folks say it's common sense..

ALL-VEGETA... LAXATIV...

● In NR (Nature's Remedy)... there are no chemicals, no... no ...enol derivatives. NR T... different—act different. Pur... table—a combination of 10... ingredients formulated over... ago. Uncoated or candy co... action is dependable, thoro... gentle, as millions of N... proved. Get a 25¢ box. Use as...

Nature's Rem...

NR TO-NIGHT TONG... ALK...

ALWAYS CARRY ... TUMS TUM...

STOP LIGHTNING DAMAGE

"National Quality" Systems Preve... Stroke from Occurring. Write for F...

"Is Lightning Protection Worth ...

NAT'AL LIGHTNING PROTECTION ...

38% BRIGHTE... TEETH in 7 days

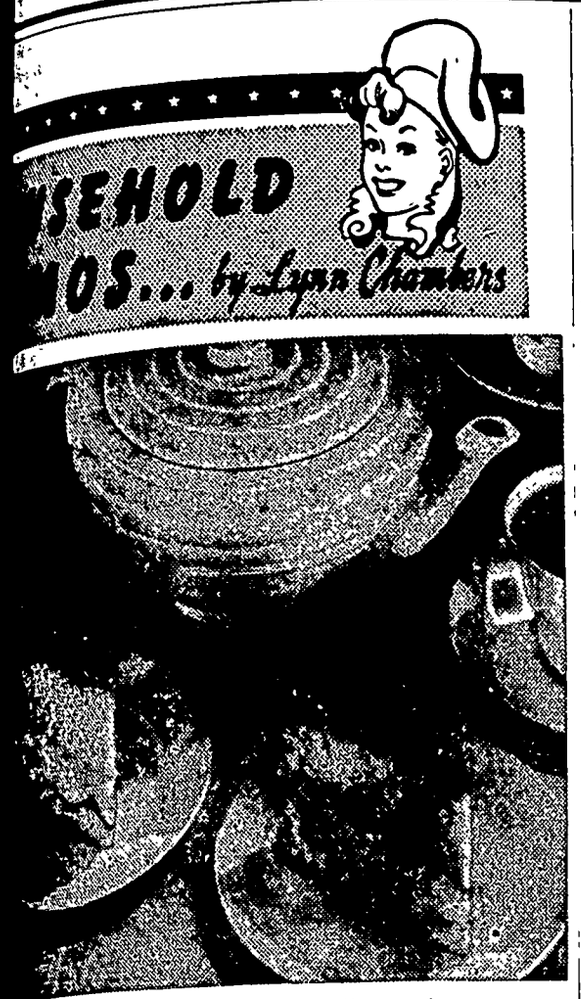
CALOX TOOTH POWDE...

A McKESSON & ROBBINS P...

PILES TROUB...

For Quick Rel...

DON'T DELAY ANY LONGER... doctor's formula you can use at... relieve distressing discomfort ... itch—irritation due to piles. Tend... ten and shrink swelling. Use th... doctor's formula. You'll be amaz... speedy action relief. Ask your ... today for Thornton & Minor's Re... ment or Suppositories. Follow ... structions. For sale at all dr...



Honey Almond Cream Cake Tops Desserts
(See recipes below)

...sert Tonic

...casting about for new ...'ll like the ones we've ...y. All of them are real- ...and fun to make. But ...more fun to serving ...listening to the family ...them.

...this time of year we ...something different to ...and it's a good idea to ...dessert department. ...like a delicious honey ...am cake with a delect- ...to put just the right end- ...dinner; or, perhaps a ...sauce cake would be ...ing.

...'d even prefer an un- ...tion of apple pie, or one ...pastries which haven't ...picture. You'll find these ...column whether it's for ...ner or just entertain-

...Almond Cream Cake
...s two 8-inch layers)
...sifted cake flour
...ons baking powder
...poon soda
...poon salt
...shortening
...milk
...light corn syrup
...poon vanilla
...poon almond extract

...honey
...cups oven-popped rice
...
...poon melted butter.

...r, baking powder, soda ...into mixing bowl. Add ... milk, corn syrup, va- ...almond extract. Beat un- ..., about 150 strokes. Scrape ...poon often during baking. ... and beat 250 strokes; ...l. Add honey and beat ... Pour batter into two ...ased pans. Sprinkle one ... rice cereal which has ...el and mixed with melt- ... Bake in a moderate ...) oven about 30 minutes. ..., spread honey almond ...ween layers, placing the ... topping on top.

...Almond Cream Filling
...poons light corn syrup
...poons honey
...poons flour
...poon salt
...lk, slightly beaten
...
...poon vanilla
...poon almond extract

...her corn syrup, honey, ...alt. Combine egg and ...to first mixture and blend ... over hot water stirring ... until thick and smooth, ... minutes. Cool; add flav- ...read between layers of

...nnace Spice Cake
...akes 9 servings)
... bran
...ooked applesauce
...shortening
... sugar
...poon salt
...
...ps sifted flour
...oons baking powder
...poon soda
...poon cinnamon
...poon cloves
... chopped nutmeats
... seedless raisins

...n applesauce. Blend ... sugar and salt. Add egg ...well. Stir in bran alter- ... sifted dry ingredients. ...nuts and raisins. Spread in

...TS:
...urnt
...ways

...l the pastry too much or it ...tough. And avoid extra ...of flour.

...stretch the pastry to fit the ...will shrink. Fit loosely to ...rinkage.

...vent a soggy crust in berry ...ples, place in a hot oven on ...shelf to set the crust and ...before it becomes soaked ...filling.

LYNN CHAMBERS' MENU

Broiled Whitefish
Lemon and Parsley Garnish
Boiled Potatoes Broccoli
Lettuce with Sour Cream Dressing
*Chocolate Chip Custard Pie
*Recipe Given

greased pan (8x8 inch pan) and bake in a moderate (350 degree) oven for 35 to 40 minutes. When cool, frost with honey meringue.

Honey Meringue

1/4 cup honey
1/8 teaspoon salt
1 egg white

Heat honey over hot water; pour over egg white; add salt. Beat until thick enough to spread.

Cocoanut Cream Pie
(Nine Inch Pie)

1/2 cup sugar
5 tablespoons flour
1/8 teaspoon salt
1 1/2 cups milk
3 egg yolks, well beaten
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 cup cocoanut shredded

Combine first three ingredients, then add milk and cook over low heat until thickened. Add egg yolks and cook two minutes. Remove from fire, cool, and add vanilla and cocoanut. Pour into baked pie shell and cover with the following meringue:

Meringue

4 tablespoons sugar
2 egg whites, well beaten
1/8 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon vanilla

Add sugar to egg whites, beating constantly. Add salt and vanilla. Pile lightly on pie bringing it over the crust. Brown in a moderate oven for 9 to 10 minutes.

Chocolate Chip Custard Pie
(10 Inch Pie)

4 egg yolks, beaten
1/2 cup sugar
2 cups milk, scalded
1 tablespoon gelatin
1/4 cup cold water
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 graham cracker crust
1/2 cup semi-sweet chocolate, chopped fine
1/4 teaspoon cream of tartar
4 egg whites
1/2 cup sugar

Beat egg yolks, add sugar and milk and cook in double boiler until thick. Add gelatin softened in water and vanilla. Cool. Pour into crust and sprinkle with chocolate. Add cream of tartar to egg whites and beat until stiff. Add sugar. Continue beating until very stiff. Spread over chocolate. Chill one hour.

Deep Dish Cherry Pie
(Makes 6 servings)

1 quart pitted sour cherries, drained
3 1/2 tablespoons corn starch
1/4 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon almond extract
1 teaspoon lemon juice
1 teaspoon grated lemon rind
1 tablespoon melted butter
1 cup syrup
1/2 pastry recipe

Place cherries in nine-inch deep pie dish. Combine a half cup of cherry juice with other ingredients; stir until well blended. Pour over cherries. Cut nine-inch circle from pastry rolled 1/8 inch thick; cut slits or a cherry design to let steam escape. Bake in hot (450 degree) oven 10 minutes; reduce to moderate (350 degree) oven, bake 35 minutes longer. Serve warm.

Released by WNU Features

Measure shortening accurately. The water displacement method is good. For every cup of flour, 1/3 cup of shortening is required. Place 2/3 cup of water in the cup and add shortening until the water reaches the top. Saves a dirty cup, too.

Never over-mix the flour and shortening. It's best to use scissors or a pastry blender to prevent heating the fat with warm fingers. Leave some of the fat in large sized pieces so these streak through the crust and give you the desired flakiness.

The FICTION Corner

EXCEPTION

By PAUL TULIEN

DOWN in the well, with no way of getting out and with little hope of rescue, Chris Thornton remembered the line he had written over and over in his copybook some 40 years before. "NEVER PUT OFF TILL TOMORROW WHAT YOU CAN DO TODAY." He could fairly see the large round letters he had so laboriously formed with pen held stiffly in ink-smeared fingers.

The line had had little meaning for him then—just some words that he must write over and over until Miss Curry was satisfied. And Miss Curry had been hard to satisfy. Its meaning was brought home sharply to him now—when perhaps it was too late.

However, the former owner of the farm had let so many things about the place run down that he had time only to take care of what seemed most necessary. Undoubtedly, he thought ruefully, it would have been wiser to replace the rotten boards that covered the abandoned well, even though his cows might have stepped over a fallen wire to trample his promising corn.

All day he had been fixing fences, and coming home he had forgotten about the well which he could not see in the darkness. An ankle had been hurt in the fall—perhaps sprained or broken. It was swollen and painful, and probably would be worse by morning.

He struck a match and looked at his watch. Twenty to nine. Surely it must be later than that, for it seemed like hours since he had fallen. He held the watch to his ear; it was running now anyway.

Never before had a night been so unending. Snatches of sleep came at intervals, sleep broken by torturous dreams in which he was forever climbing, yet never quite reaching the top.

How long, he wondered, could a man live without water? And how soon would anyone miss him? Not soon enough, he was certain.

The farm lay in a lonely place and a car seldom passed over the grass-grown road. He had had few visitors during the months he had lived here. Lou Edwards, his nearest neighbor, had stopped in several times, but it was unlikely that Edwards would come again soon for he had little time for visiting since his last boy had left.

Thornton knew that a man could climb out of a well without a ladder by bracing his back against one side and getting a toehold between the stones on the opposite side. He had seen it done though he had never tried it himself. To try it now, when his foot was so painful he could not stand on it, was out of the question.

"Should've busted my neck instead," he muttered bitterly. "That would have ended the misery sooner."

The stars faded from the small circle of sky that he could see. Gradually light entered the well. Whining softly, his dog looked down at him; probably she had been sitting there all night, waiting for him to come up. If only there were a way to have the dog summon help. He might as well forget that. There wasn't any way.

He wished it would rain, for enough water might run down into the well to satisfy his growing thirst. Then too, Edwards might find time to come; his other visits had been made on rainy days. Might as well forget that too. It wouldn't rain.

Why did that copybook line keep looming before his eyes? Otherwise he never thought of things that happened so long ago. Of course, otherwise he had other things to think about—like worrying about the crops or planning something else. Such worries looked pretty inconsequential now. And unless he could get out of the well, there wouldn't be any more planning.

Thinking of the line made him think of the boys who had been his schoolmates and playmates in those long-past days — Tom, George, Cecil, Jimmy, Fred and many others whose names he could not even recall. Where were they now? He hadn't seen one of them for years.

Dimly their faces appeared out of the past, and then the line came bobbing back, blotting them out. "NEVER PUT OFF TILL TOMORROW WHAT YOU CAN DO TODAY." Why couldn't the line stay away, he thought angrily. It couldn't do him any good now.

His dog began barking—at a squirrel maybe. Or was somebody coming? He shouted for help, hopefully at first, but as the minutes went by, despairingly.

The dog continued to bark. Probably at a squirrel, for there were many of them about.

"Where are you?" some one called faintly.

* * *

After the stranger had found a ladder and helped him out, Thornton said, "I should have fixed that long ago. 'Way back when I was in the second grade I wrote in my copybook about 'leven hundred times, 'NEVER PUT OFF TILL TOMORROW WHAT YOU CAN DO TODAY,' and I've certainly found out now how wise that is."

"I suppose that makes good sense always," agreed the other, "unless there's an exception to prove the rule."

"Well, if every rule has an exception, this was no exception, anyway," Thornton said, adding suddenly, "Say, how did you happen to come?"

"I represent the Valley Farmer. Your subscription has run out."

Thornton laughed. "There's the exception we were talking about. I got a letter from your paper a month ago asking me to renew. I've put off sending the money again and again, but if I hadn't put it off, you wouldn't have come today."

How long, he wondered, could a man live without water? And how soon would anyone miss him? Not soon enough, he was certain.

LET'S TALK ABOUT You

BY CHARLES B. ROTH

Why Be a Negative?

There are some persons — too many, I am forced to declare—who live under the handicap of a personality that has a negative tinge.

In psychology we recognize them as a definite and an unpleasant group. We classify them. We name them. We call them negatives, and the disease from which they suffer —for it is really a chronic mental state of unhealth—we call negativism.

A person with a negativistic personality always is ready to argue the other side of the question. You make a statement. He says: "Oh, I don't know about that. Listen." And then the battle is on. For an exhibition of downright contrariness, the negativistics always are on hand.

They do not really know that they handicap themselves by this trait. To the contrary. They are proud of their bold, contrary attitude. They will tell you it is a sign of courage and strong will. All of which is piffle.

A negativistic tendency, far from being a sign of strong will and intelligence, is definite evidence of an adult who hasn't grown up and who is dumb in the bargain!

Dr. M. M. Reynolds, careful observer of human traits, made a study of negativism in babies. It begins to appear at the age of six months, he found. Then it gradually subsides. Intelligent children exhibit negativism less than dull children. Wherever it persists, it is a sign of deficient intelligence and a mind that won't grow up. And to have negativism is not a thing of which to be proud.

Closely akin to negativism is a commoner trait. We call it stubbornness. One-third of us are born stubborn, grow up stubborn, die stubborn—to the everlasting damage of our personalities. For like negativism, stubbornness is a sign of mental deficiency and inadequacy. The stubborn person isn't strong; he is merely weak; he is afraid that if he gives in, yields a point, he never again will be able to climb back to the same degree of vantage. Therefore he sits tight.

If you have negativistic or stubborn tendencies, don't give up heart. You can get over both. Just examine your own mental outlook. Do you find yourself taking the opposite side of questions? Do you find yourself holding your ground when there is no reason for it, no need of it?

Then guard against both these tendencies of yours. Watchfulness you must exercise. But you can win if you try. And you must win, because no negative, no stubborn personality was ever a successful, a likeable or a charming personality.

Job Injuries Increase In Postwar Industry

U. S. economy is expanding under the pressure of postwar necessity, but that almost frantic expansion is taking a high toll in deaths and injuries of workers.

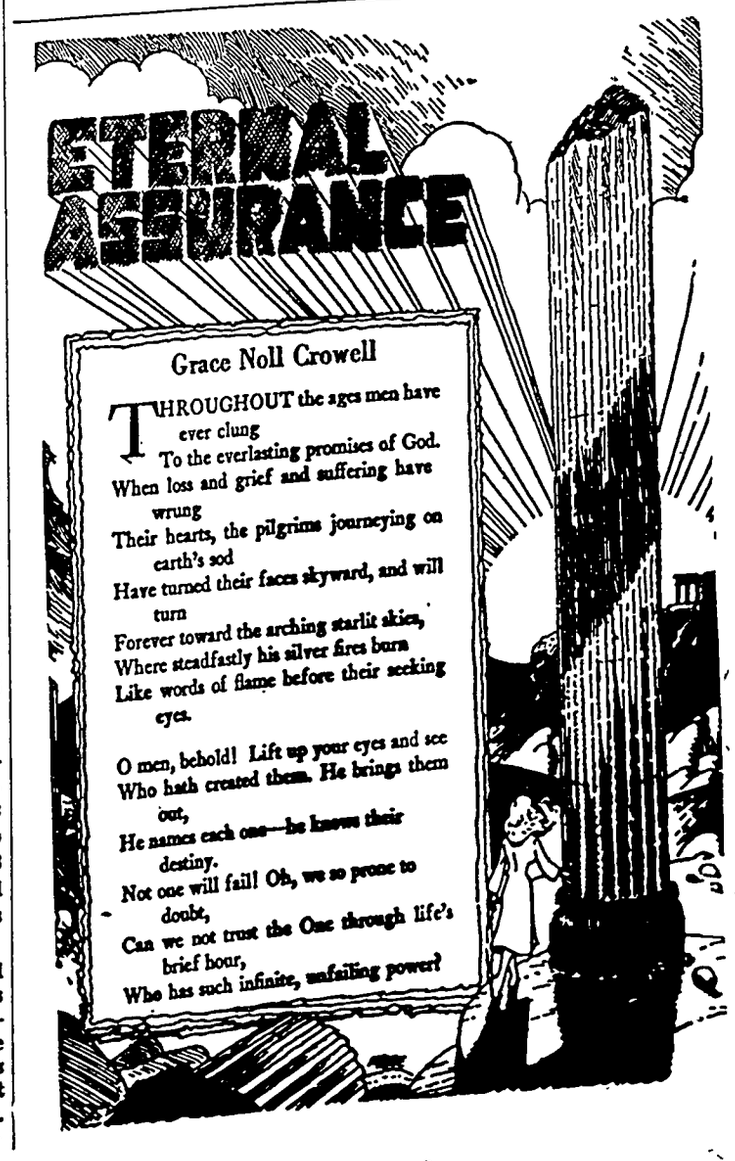
Last year, the bureau of labor statistics reports, was the seventh in a row in which more than two million workers suffered disabling injuries on the job. Time lost during the year because of injuries amounted to 44.7 million man-days—the equivalent of a year's full-time employment for about 150,000 persons.

Giving even greater pause was the fact that 17,000 persons were killed in job accidents during 1947.

Bureau of labor statistics puts the blame, to a large extent, on rising employment. Another factor last year, however, were two major industrial disasters—the Texas City explosion and the Centralia, Ill., mine disaster—both of which took heavy tolls.

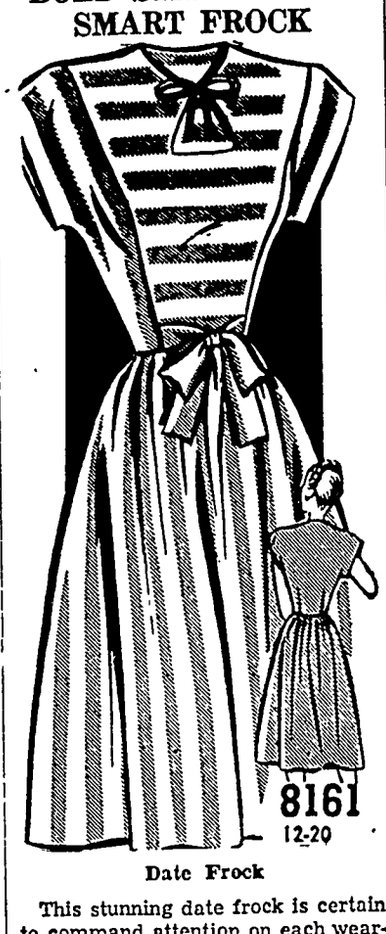
Job injuries in 1947 increased 1 per cent over 1946, job injury deaths jumped 3 per cent. The year's toll included 1,800 employees who will be totally disabled for the rest of their lives and another 90,000 who will suffer some permanent impairment as long as they live.

Increases in injuries and deaths occurred in construction, mining and quarrying, public utilities and trade. Agriculture and railroading injuries were fewer than in 1946.



ETERNAL ASSURANCE
Grace Noll Crowell
THROUGHOUT the ages men have ever clung
To the everlasting promises of God.
When loss and grief and suffering have wrung
Their hearts, the pilgrims journeying on earth's sod
Have turned their faces skyward, and will turn
Forever toward the arching starlit skies,
Where steadfastly his silver fires burn
Like words of flame before their seeking eyes.
O men, behold! Lift up your eyes and see
Who hath created them. He brings them out,
He names each one—he knows their destiny.
Not one will fail! Oh, we so prone to doubt,
Can we not trust the One through life's brief hour,
Who has such infinite, unfailing power?

BOLD STRIPES FOR SMART FROCK



Date Frock

This stunning date frock is certain to command attention on each wearing. A bold striped fabric, used in contrast, works out beautifully. The keyhole neck is especially appealing—a bow ties softly in front.

Pattern No. 8161 is designed for sizes 12, 14, 16, 18, 20. Size 14, 3¼ yards of 35 or 39-inch.

SEWING CIRCLE PATTERN DEPT.
530 South Wells St. - Chicago 7, Ill.
Enclose 25 cents in coins for each pattern desired.
Pattern No. Size
Name
Address

Famous St. Bernards Seek Rescue Work

Modern means of travel have rendered the famous St. Bernard Hospice in Switzerland almost unnecessary. It is to be closed after nearly 1,000 years of service. The monks and dogs will live in the Rhone Valley from now on.

Its head, Prior Lucien Gailloud has explained that the hospice is not to be abandoned completely. Four dogs will stay for rescue work. Some time ago several dogs were sent to Tibet to establish in the mountains a branch of the Great St. Bernard Hospice. The kennels for the famous dogs are located at Martigny.

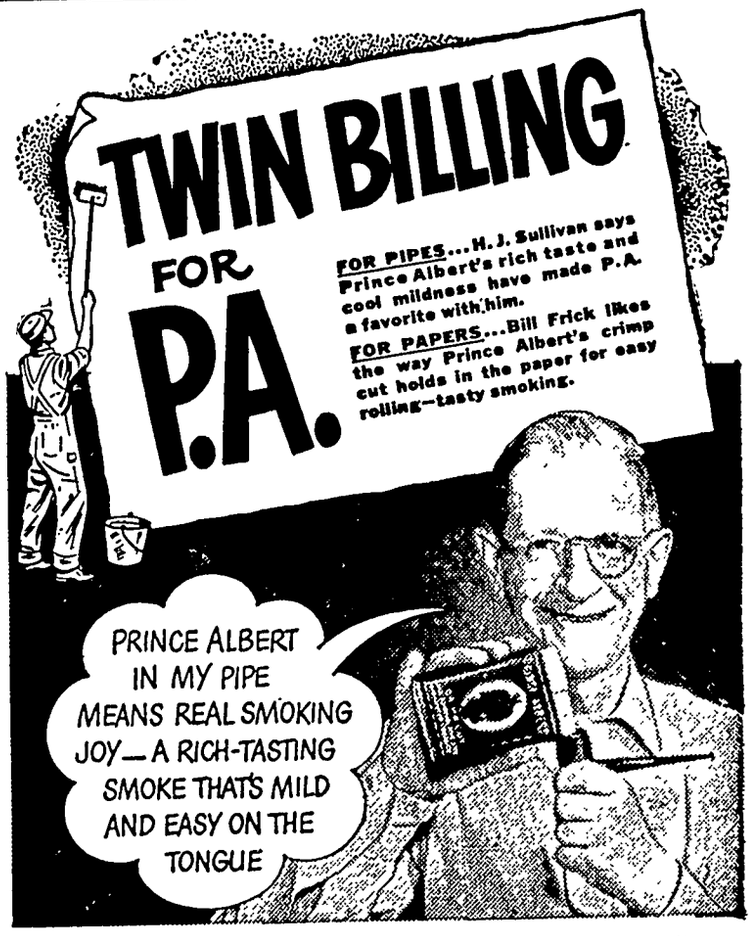
Buy U. S. Savings Bonds!

SNAP! CRACKLE! AND POP! SAY...

MORE MOTHERS buy Kellogg's Rice Krispies, for their families than any other brand of rice cereal. Um! Popular! Delicious!

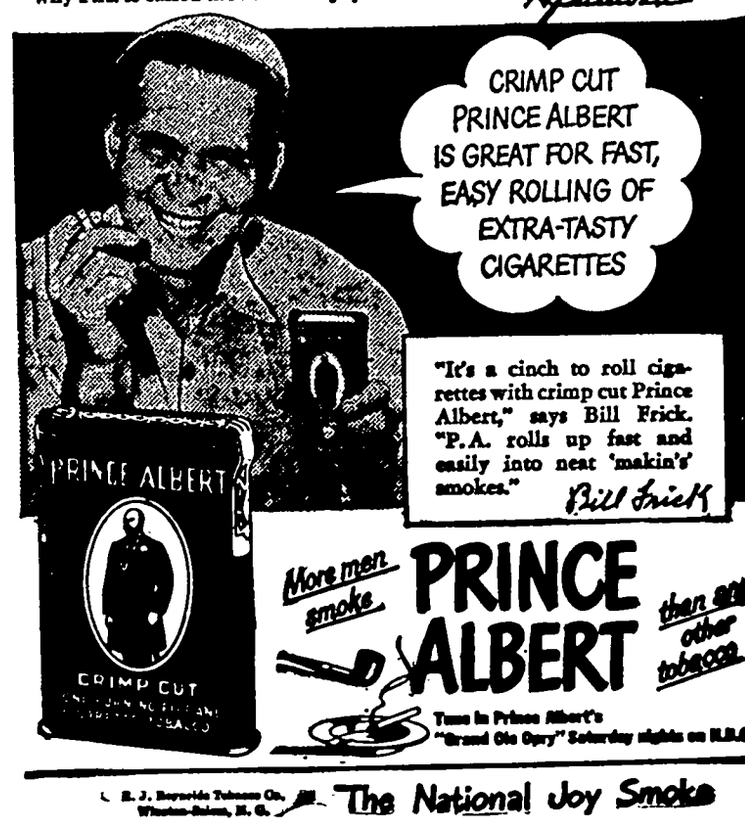
COPYRIGHT 1948, BY KELLOGG CO.

MOTHER KNOWS BEST!



TWIN BILLING FOR P.A.
FOR PIPES... H. J. Sullivan says Prince Albert's rich taste and cool mildness have made P.A. a favorite with him.
FOR PAPERS... Bill Frick likes the way Prince Albert's crimp cut holds in the paper for easy rolling—tasty smoking.
PRINCE ALBERT IN MY PIPE MEANS REAL SMOKING JOY—A RICH-TASTING SMOKE THAT'S MILD AND EASY ON THE TONGUE

"I've smoked crimp cut Prince Albert for years," says H. J. Sullivan, "and I like the way P.A. packs in my pipe and stays lit. A Prince Albert smoke is rich tasting and tongue-easy, too. I know why P.A. is called the National Joy Smoke." H. J. Sullivan



CRIMP CUT PRINCE ALBERT IS GREAT FOR FAST, EASY ROLLING OF EXTRA-TASTY CIGARETTES
"It's a cinch to roll cigarettes with crimp cut Prince Albert," says Bill Frick. "P.A. rolls up fast and easily into neat 'makin's' smokes." Bill Frick
PRINCE ALBERT
CRIMP CUT
More men smoke PRINCE ALBERT than any other tobacco
Tune in Prince Albert's "Grand Ole Opry" Saturday nights on N.B.C.

R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Co. Winston-Salem, N. C. The National Joy Smoke

KLEMME LOCAL NEWS

Mrs. Winifred Kothenbeutel left Klemme Monday to make her home at Brainerd, Minn.

Dr. H. G. Voetberg and Wm. Barz of Garner, were business callers in Klemme Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Truels Steffen and family of Waterloo spent Saturday and Sunday at the Mrs. Hilma Johnson home.

Miss Elizabeth Goll of Iowa State Teachers College spent the week end visiting with her mother, Mrs. G. A. Goll.

Mrs. R A Jorgenson, Sr. and son, Ray A Jorgenson, Jr. were in Mason City on business Friday evening

Mrs E. L. Albro of Rowan spent Thursday and Friday visiting at the home of her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Harson.

Dr. and Mrs. A. H. Dulmes and son Dick, drove to Adel, Wisconsin Friday afternoon to be with the doctor's father on his 85th birthday anniversary May 1st. They returned home Sunday night.

GARNER CLINIC
GARNER, IOWA

Dr. E. M. Christensen, M.D.
Physician & Surgeon, Ph. 18
EYES TESTED — GLASSES FITTED

Dr. A. G. Landon, D.D.S.
Dentist, Ph. 207

PHOTOGRAPHS
Live
Forever
RUSSELL
Photo Studio
Next to J. C. Penny Co.
Ph. 2272 Mason City, Ia.

KLEMME LOCAL NEWS

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Ward spent the past week visiting with Frank's brother, John Ward at Elliot, Iowa.

Mr. and Mrs. Addis Greiman have their new home on their farm north of Klemme nearly completed.

Ewald Grosshuesch of Iowa State Teachers College, Cedar Falls, spent the week end visiting with his parents, Rev. and Mrs. Calvin Grosshuesch.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Paul, managers of the County Home and Farm at Duncan, were visiting with Klemme friends Saturday evening.

Dr. and Mrs. H. G. Voetberg, formerly of Klemme, have begun the construction of a ranch type brick home in the west part of Garner.

Miss Gladys Schlichting of Mason City spent the week end in Klemme visiting with her parents, Mr and Mrs. Fred Schlichting

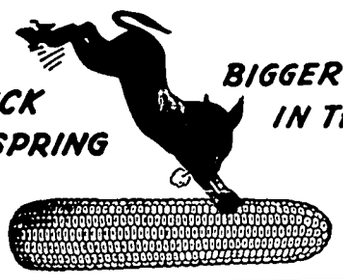
The Misses Esther and Velma Tiggerman of Forest City spent the week end in Klemme visiting with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Tiggerman.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Gast drove to Fort Dodge on Sunday afternoon for a visit with their new grand daughter at the Jimmie Fredin home.

Mrs. Donald Turgasen and son of State Center came last week for a visit over the week end with her parents, Mr and Mrs. J. E. Stille and with other Klemme relatives and friends.

Mrs. Elwood Geary and baby son, Eldon, who have been staying with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edd Schoenwetter at Garner for about ten days, came to their home in Klemme Saturday.

Advertise with a Times want ad.



HAGIES HYBRIDS, INC.
CLARION, IOWA
* • *
ELMER SCHAEFER — GARNER, IOWA

The Loader That LEADS In Exclusive PATENTED Features

CASWELL PATENT
Caswell Rigid Crossed-Chain Stabilization
PATENTED crossed double chains on single cylinder.

CASWELL PATENT
Caswell Fork Tilt Control
PATENTED lever control "sets" tilt of fork.

CASWELL PATENT
The Caswell Curved Guide
PATENTED "bow" guide holds lift in line.

BEING FIRST, we were able to originate and protect the many basic, common sense construction features which make The Caswell Hydraulic Power Loader so simple and safe to operate and so easy to mount and unmount.
BUT The Caswell has not stopped there—new ideas and improvements have been added each year to keep it in front—the loader that leads in efficiency, convenience and economy.

Completely Modern
The Caswell has no gears, no sprockets, no clutches, no winding drums, no brakes. Nothing to wear out. Single hydraulic cylinder with crossed chains gives tremendous, balanced lifting power. Low head room. No excess weight.

Northern Lumber Co.
FARM IMPLEMENTS
Phone 49 Klemme, Iowa

Overabundance of Deer Reported in Thirty States

Although countless sportsmen have hunted long and hard to bag a deer, 30 of the 48 states have areas where deer are too abundant, Wildlife Management Institute reports. In deer trouble areas, the animals have become so numerous that they have devoured all available high quality foods and have starved to death in large numbers. Stomachs of starved deer are usually full of food, a survey reveals, but the foods are of such low quality that while they supply plenty of bulk, their nutritional value is negligible.

The survey of deer trouble spots in the United States was made by Aldo Leopold, Lyle K. Sowls and David L. Spencer of University of Wisconsin. They point out that more than 100 different deer herds in the 30 states have reached the excessive population density that resulted ultimately in destruction of the food supply and starvation for the deer.

Areas of overabundance of deer have developed chiefly since 1900, it is pointed out, because before that time the two chief natural enemies of deer, timber wolves and mountain lions, were found on most deer ranges and tended to check local overpopulations both by actual destruction of some deer and by keeping them moving. Coyotes are not effective predators of deer because overpopulations frequently have developed where coyotes are numerous, but never where wolves or cougar occur.

Deer overpopulations are among the most critical wildlife conservation problems in the nation, because the public so often resists control measures necessary to cure the situation.

Disabled Veteran Believes He Can Lead Normal Life

On the basis of a nationwide survey covering 2,000 handicapped exservicemen, a picture of the average disabled veteran is presented by Disabled American Veterans.

The average disabled veteran, the compilation shows, is married, has one or more children, believes he can lead a normal family life, and is satisfied with his job.

Of World War II veterans, 75 per cent are married, 54 per cent have an average of two children each, 80 per cent believe the disabled veteran can lead a normal family life.

Of World War I veterans, 70 per cent are married, 64 per cent have an average of three children each, 76 per cent believe the handicapped veteran can lead a normal family life.

Eighty-four per cent of World War II disabled thought they were getting a better "break" than their counterparts of the first war. The disabled of World War I agreed.

However, a majority of handicapped of both wars felt that America has forgotten its obligation less than two years after the end of the last war.

Origin of Inscription

"In God We Trust" was first authorized for inscription on a United States coin 83 years ago during the presidency of Abraham Lincoln, according to Dr. Louis A. Warren, historian of Lincoln National Life Insurance company. In 1861 M. R. Watkinson, a clergyman living in Riddleyville, Pa., wrote to Secretary of the Treasury Chase appealing for a religious inscription on U. S. coins. One week after Chase received the letter, he addressed a note to James Pollock, director of the mint, asking that steps be taken to declare the trust of our people in God—on our national coins. Legal barriers stood in the way of immediately carrying out the proposal, and it was not until three years later, April 22, 1864, that an act was passed authorizing coinage of a two-cent piece bearing the religious inscription. About a month before Lincoln was assassinated, congress passed an act authorizing the inscription of the motto, "In God We Trust," on all United States coins.

Curtails Insects

Machines which were developed to generate fog to screen beachhead landings during the war have been adapted to dispense insecticides over a wide area, and are already being ordered by summer resorts to get rid of mosquitoes, flies, gnats and other pests. The fog produced by the machines, a dry vapor, travels with the air currents, creeps up the sides of buildings, through open doors and windows, through lawns and shrubberies. At Lake Placid, where a group of estate owners purchased a machine, insects and worms on trees had vanished within a few hours. After a fog treatment at Jones Beach, L. I., park officials reported a general drastic curtailment of insect disturbances.

Idiomatic English

"Head space" and "head room" are expressions which do not always mean the same thing and which illustrate the difficulty of idiomatic English for foreigners. The expressions can mean in a food-processing factory the air space left at the top of a jar when it is filled to allow for expansion of the food product as it heats. However, "head space" and "head room" also can mean the amount of clearance for vehicles on highways at points where the routes lead beneath bridges or overpasses.

Hear Organ At Fort Dodge

The following people from the Methodist Church drove to Fort Dodge Sunday afternoon where a demonstration of the Consonata organ was demonstrated:

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Josten, Rev. and Mrs. H. E. Harvey and LaNelle, Mr. and Mrs. Dwight Helps, Mr. and Mrs. Dwight Hummel and Mrs. R. A. Jorgenson, Sr.

Will Build New Home Here

Mrs. Art Knoke will build a new home on the cornor south of the John Neuberger residence in Klemme this summer. The site of the new home has been staked out and construction is expected to get under way soon.

Plan For Electricity Study On Iowa Farm

A farm improvement program now being carried out by Clarence Holtz of Webster County is going to answer a lot of questions which Iowa farmers have on their minds.

The Holg farm has been selected as a demonstration unit. The program is under the direction of Iowa State College.

The livestock includes about 100 hogs, 30 beef cattle and 300 to 500 chickens.

Right now the Holtz household has 16 electrical items, including such things as an electric refrigerator, washing machine, cream separator, furnace and three radios.

The farm equipment includes a water system, work shop motor, three electric pig brooders, and poultry house lights.

By studying electricity on the farm under normal conditions it is hoped to find out how to increase production, decrease the labor and make for better rural living.

KLEMME LOCAL NEWS

Really the newest . . . Cameo Petite Notes . . . suitable for all occasions. Times Office.

Mrs. Mildred Weisbrod, of Mason City, spent the week end visiting at the parental George Schoenwetter home. Mrs. Weisbrod is now employed by Marshall & Swift.

John Neuberger and children, John Jr. and Marchia, ofBrownsville, Texas, came Friday for a few days visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Neuberger and many other relatives in this community.

Elwyn Jacobs of Iowa State Teachers College, spent the week end visiting with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Jacobs. Elwyn will graduate this spring and has a position teaching mathematics and coaching athletics at Garwin, Iowa.

Garner Reformed Church
REV. R. D. STUEBBE

ZION CHURCH:

Ascension Day services in Peace Church on Thursday at 10:30.

Ladies Aid on Friday at 2:00 P. M.

Sunday.

Worship Services at 9:00 A. M.
Sunday School at 10:00.
A. B. C. at :730 in Zion church.

PEACE CHURCH:

Ascension Day Services on Thursday at 10:30.
W. M. S. on Thursday at 2:00 P. M.
Sunday School at 10:10.
Worship Services at 11:00 A. M.
A. B. C. on Sunday at 7:30 in Zion Church.

Phone your news to 12.

KLEMME LOCAL NEWS

See the new Vogue Stationery at The Times Office.

Mrs. George Smith was a Mason City visitor Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Borchers of Garner were dinner guests Sunday at the Emil Beier home.

Mrs. Beulah Pethram and Bernice, and Mrs. Walker of Hampton called at the W. F. Pavey home Tuesday.

Raymond Barz and family and Mrs. Clara Barz drove to Waterloo Sunday for a visit at the Evert Barz home.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Roben and daughter from Armstrong were dinner guests Sunday at the John Clements home.

Mr and Mrs Francis Oppold, Patricia and Tommy of Iowa Falls were Sunday dinner guests in the Mitchell Bock home.

New boxes of Thank You Notes, Get Well cards at The Times Office.

DR. F. L. HA
DENTIST
Office Over Rexall
Phone 21 Garner,

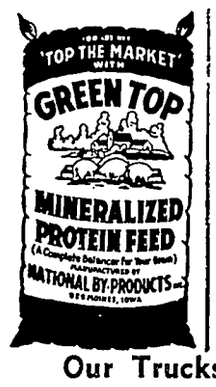
No Mea

Due to the illness o Quandt we will disco serving meals for the ent, but will continu lunches and other se

TOBACCOS
ICE CREAM
CIGARETTES
CANDY BARS

Thank You
QUANDT'S CA
Mr. and Mrs. Conr Quandt

DEAD STOCK
PROMPTLY REMOVED



Britt RenderingC
Dept. of Agr. Lic. No. 22
WE PAY PHONE CHARG
KLEMME Phone 700
GARNER Phone 4000
Our Trucks Are Steam Cleaned After Each Load
TANKAGE AND MINERALIZED FEED FOR SALE AT OUR PLANT

Look who gets squeezed!

Union leaders representing less than one-tenth of railroad employes reject recommendations of President's Emergency board—refuse to negotiate except on their own terms—threaten to paralyze nation by strike!

THE LEADERS of three railroad unions, representing less than one-tenth of all railroad employees, have called a railroad strike that would paralyze the nation.

These leaders refuse to accept a 15½ cents an hour wage increase retroactive to November 1, 1947. This increase was recommended by an impartial Emergency Board appointed by President Truman.

This increase of 15½ cents already has been accepted by the 19 other railroad unions. But the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen, and the Switchmen's Union of North America won't accept what more than 90% of all railroad employes have accepted. They have called a strike to get more!

Unions refuse rules discussion

Certain rules changes demanded by these union leaders—which would increase wages still further—were recommended by the Board. But the union leaders want more—they demand that the railroads put into effect ALL the changes they asked for, including those the Board felt should be denied.

On top of this, they insist that certain rules changes proposed by the railroads be withdrawn—in spite of the fact that the Board recommended them! These union leaders have refused to negotiate except upon these arbitrary terms.

Greater wage increase not justified

Engineers and firemen are among the highest paid of all employes in America, as figures in the box show. This strike threat doesn't justify giving a greater increase than other railroad workers received.

Emergency Boards are a means provided by the Railway Labor Act in the public interest to avoid strikes. The President's Board, after hearing evidence for 33 days, made recommendations based on all the facts in the case. The railroads have accepted these recommendations.

Who's to blame?

Although they deplored so large an extra cost burden, the railroads accepted the report of the Board because they felt it was in the public interest to uphold the spirit and intent of the Railway Labor Act.

In contrast, this small group of rail union leaders are attempting to flout intent and spirit of the Railway Labor and dictate their own terms.

They have dictated a paralyzing rail strike.

You will be the victim!

How long will the American public s for the undemocratic, arbitrary, and ab use of the right to strike and the disre of the obligation to provide transportat How long can the American people pe a few dictatorial union leaders to defy processes provided for peaceful settle of disputes?

Force seldom produces settlements that either fair or lasting. Moreover, a poi often reached when personal interests be held subordinate to the greater p welfare. That is why the railroads have cepted the Emergency Board recomme tions. That is also why the leaders of t three unions should reconsider their dec to call a paralyzing strike.

Compare these wages with what you make!

Here is a comparison of average annual earnings of engineers and fireman for 1939 (pre-war) and 1947. Also shown is what 1947 earnings would have been if the 15½ cents per hour increase, offered by the railroads and rejected by the union leaders, had been in effect throughout the entire year 1947.

Type of Employe	1939 Average Annual Earnings	1947 Average Annual Earnings	1947 Average Annual Earnings with Wage Increases Recommended by President's Board
ENGINEERS
Road Freight (Local and Way)	$3,966	$6,152	$6,785
Road Passenger	3,632	5,391	6,025
Road Freight (Through)	3,147	4,682	5,167
Yard	2,749	4,078	4,740
FIREMEN
Road Freight (Local and Way)	$2,738	$4,721	$5,310
Road Passenger	2,732	4,544	5,178
Road Freight	2,069	3,480	3,914
Yard	1,962	3,156	3,645

Railroad wages computed from Interstate Commerce Commission Statement M-300

WESTERN RAILROADS
105 WEST ADAMS STREET • CHICAGO 3, ILLINOIS

We are publishing this and other advertisements to talk with you at first hand about matters which are important to everybody.

CIAL
NTY
ER

THE KLEMME TIMES

me 53. KLEMME, IOWA, MAY 12, 1948 Number 26.

ccalaureate Sermon At Methodist Church May 16

TH GRADERS WILL GRADUATE HERE ON WEDNESDAY EVENING

mme Schools Coming To Close With Graduation And Picnic

e coming week is a busy for the Klemme Schools, as closing date comes nearer. e first important event on school calendar is the Bacaureate Sermon this week on day evening, May 16th at Klemme Methodist Church, the Rev. Calvin Grossh giving the address.

ighth Grade Graduation next Wednesday evening, 19th the public is cordialvited to the Eighth Grade ation Exercise at 8 o'clock e school auditorium. Two will be given by the ating class: "Orville's Big " and "The Curiosity Cure."

Commencement May 20

Thursday evening, May the annual Commencement ises will be held at the l auditorium when Seniors receive their diplomas for years of high school work.

Annual School Picnic

Friday, May 21st, the An- School Picnic will be held e Klemme Park. This is a unity affair and everyone vited to come and enjoy a luck picnic dinner. This close the school activities e year.

KLEMME SCHOOL HAS 32 CANDIDATES FOR GRADUATES

e class motto is "With the of the past, we will ring ells of the future." And lors are orchid and white. white rose is the class flow-calaureate Services will be at the Methodist Church unday evening, May 16th, Rev. Calvin Grosshuesch e Klemme Evangelical and rmed Church giving the ss.

mmencement will be held day evening, May 20th at igh school auditorium with Rumfard of the Baptist h, Mason City, giving the ss.

re are 13 boys and 19 girls e graduating class. They follows:

elynn Albers, Alice Ander- Loretta Anderson, Ruby Anderson, La Vonne Beier, n Carolus, Richard Findeulah Goll, Edward Gross- , Esther Hartbeck, Donevillin, Melvin Howard, Le- Hummel, William Jones, Latuin, Esther Klinge, Betramer, Ruth Kurtz, Billy , Charlotte Lewis, Lau- Lewis, Irene Menage, Bill gomery, Erdene Nelson, Neuhring, Rose Schaefuth Smith, Lois Stille, Stille, Helen Suckow, n VeLau, Darwin Wille.

ND GRADUATION OF URSES AT THE DEACONESS HOSPITAL

Calvin Grosshuesch and ter, Gertrude, drove to alltown Sunday afternoon nd the graduation exerof the Deaconess Hospital of Nurses. Miss Gert- Grosshuesch is an alumni school.

stayed at Marshalltown nd a Board meeting while Grosshuesch visited with other, Rev. Ruben Grossand family at Melbourne.

May 26 on your calenee Times next week.

HANCOCK HEALTH DAY HUGE SUCCESS

Ten Townships, Six Independent Districts Bring Out 100 Children To Participate In Parade

Britt was the scene of the first county wide health day celebration Saturday, May 8th. Children by the hundreds came, with their parents, their teachers and friends.

Ten of the townships were represented in the parade: Districts 2, 4, 3 from Amsterdam; districts 3, 7, 9, from Bingham; districts 2 and 6 from Boone; districts 2, 5, 6, 7 from Britt. districts 8 and 9 from Crystal; districts 1, 2, 6, 8 from Erin; districts 1, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9 from Garfield; districts 1, 5, 8, from Orthel; districts 3, 4, 5, from Liberty; and one district from Twin Lake.

Of the town schools Britt was represented through the grades and with the high school band. Room 2 at Hutchins was there 100 per cent. The Woden school came as a unit. The Klemme school, kindergarten through the grades. Kanawha school grades 1 through 6, and the school band. Garner school sent their fine high school band.

The one hundred per cent from this vicinity were:

District	Teacher
4 Liberty	Mrs. K. A. Schultz
5 Liberty	Mrs. Asa Legge
6 Twin Lake	Gladys Eliason
5 Twin Lake	Mrs. A. Johnson
3 Ell	Miriam Hueneman
1 Liberty	Robertine Gatchel
8 Liberty	Nora Eliason

In comparison with the record of a year ago, we now have 37 schools rating 100 per cent whereas a year ago there were three.

THE PARADE

Miss Nora Eliason, of Liberty No. 8, perhaps had the outstanding float from the point of relationship. A set of triplets, the Elmer Beier children, marched proudly with their schoolmates.

Klemme was representer by about 120 school children and the band in the parade.

Klemme Boy Fell From Bicycle And Broke Left Arm

Bobbie, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred J. Arnold seems to go on an annual bone-breaking spree. Last spring Bobby fell out of a tree while playing and fractured his right forearm.

Thursday after school Bobbie was riding his bicycle south of town when it got out of control gong down the hill at the Henry Boland farm toward the Riverside school. Bobbie took a bad tumble with the result that he fractured both bones in his left forearm.

Bobby is taking a few days forced vacation from his school work but is up and around again.

Baby Shower Held

Last Thursday, May 6th, Mrs. O. A. Fredin of Fort Dodge gave a shower in honor of little Carolyn Kay Fredin, small daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Fredin at her home inviting some of her neighbors and relatives from around Klemme. Those who attended from Klemme were Mrs. C. A. Arnold, Miss Minne Lenz, Mrs. Harry Gibbs, Mrs. Herman Gast, Mrs. Kenneth Gast and Judy, Mrs. Kenneth Zwald, Mrs. Loren Gast and Kathryn, and Mrs. Ronald Gibbs and Ronna, Mrs. Martha Ridder, great grandmother of Carolyn Kay was also present as she is making her home with her daughter, Mrs. O. A. Fredin.

Carolyn received many lovely gifts and a delicious lunch was served by the hostess.

PROPERTY TAXES UP $217,340.58 in HANCOCK COUNTY

Property owners in Hancock County paid $271,340.58 more property taxes in 1947 than they did in 1942, it was revealed this week, by local Farm Bureau officials.

Figures taken from the Iowa State Tax Commission report show an increase in taxes of $48,383.24 on property in cities and towns, of this county, and an increase of $169,057.34 on property in the rural districts of the county. These figures do not include the taxes on monies and credits.

County Farm Bureau president Jack Dethmers, points out that this substantial increase in property taxes is one of the chief reasons for the Farm Bureau's position in favor of full collection of the state income tax.

"We have long contended," he said, "that a part of the property tax burden should be relieved by replacing a portion of the local taxes with state aid collected from the Iowa Income Tax. The steady increase in property taxes reveals the very real need for collecting the income tax in full," he said.

President Dethmers referred to the official resolutions of the Iowa Farm Bureau which states: "We firmly believe the federal income tax should be the major source of revenue for the Federal government. In Iowa the State Income Tax should serve as a major source of property tax replacement.

"Farm leaders and many others in this state, who have given the matter consideration, have long sponsored the idea that taxes should be based more and more on ability to pay and less and less on property."

President Dethmers said, "The reasons for the Farm Bureau's position are readily understandable when you note the property increase in this county and state."

HANCOCK COUNTY DPIA HOLDS MEETING

The Hancock County Dairy Products Improvement Association held a meeting Tuesday. May 4th at Klemme. Nick Venechuk, county fieldman reports that a very interesting evening was spent. The guest speaker was Frank Barker, "Iowa Dairy Industry Commission." His program centered around the value of advertising and educational programs in the state and the value of starting a program similar to this in our county.

A light lunch was served at the close of the meeting.

Baptized At Liberty

Maridee Linda, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carol Brager was baptized by Rev. H. E. Harvey at the Liberty Church Sunday morning, May 9th, 1948

School Calendar

May 15 -- Junior-Senior Banquet
May 16 ---------- Baccaluarate
May 19 --- 8th Grade Exercises
May 20 ------- Commencement
May 21 ---------- Picnic

Buy A Poppy!

POPPY DAY WILL BE SATURDAY, MAY 22

Organization of the corps of volunteers who will distribute poppies here on Poppy Day, Saturday, May 22nd, has been completed by the Klemme Auxiliary. The corps is composed of members of the Auxiliary, both senior and junior and the Girl Scouts.

Carrying baskes of poppies, made by disabled Veterans of both wars, the Girl Scouts and the Auxiliary ladies will be on the streets early on Saturday of Poppy Day and will continue to offer flowers, to be worn in honor of the war dead, throughout the day.

All of the women and girls distributing the poppies donate their services for the day, and every penny of the money contributed goes for the benefit of the disabled men and the needy families of Veterans.

The local corps will be a part of a nation-wide army of more than 100,000 unpaid volunteers who will distribute the little red flowers of remembrances throughout the country on the annual Poppy Day.

Buy and wear a poppy!

FOR BETTER QUALITY CREAM

This is the time of year to clean and repair your cooling tank. In cleaning you should empty all water from the tank, then take a pail of hot water, add a half cup of wetting agent, and with a good stiff brush, wash the tank out thoroughly.

You should also respect the tank to see that it is good repair and that the cover fits properly. The lid should fit tight and be kept closed at all times.

Nick Venechuk, county fieldman, also stated that the inlet of the tank should be at the bottom and the outlet at the top. If it can't be arranged, add a section of pipe on, or a garden hose on to the inlet pipe so as it comes within four inches of the bottom for better circulation of water in your tank.

Honored At Birthday Dinner

Mr. and Mrs Emil Patet drove to Garner Sunday and attended the services at the Methodist Church and heard the new Hammond organ recently installed.

They then went to the Jerome Erckmann home at Forest City where 28 had gathered for a dinner in honor of Mrs. Lackore's birthday.

Esther Alverson Is Bride Of Donald Schaefer On May 10

United In Marriage At The Evangelical And Reformed Church, May 10th

In a quiet ceremony at the Klemme Evangelical and Reformed Church, Miss Esther Alverson and Donald Schaefer were united in marriage on Monday evening, May 10th at 8 o'clock by Rev. Calvin Grosshuesch. They were attended by Jesse Schwichtenberg and Miss Jane Bruhl of Clarion, friends of the couple.

The bride was attired in a street length pale blue dress and wore a double strand of pearls, which was a gift from the groom. She wore a corsage of red and white roses. The groom wore a light tan garberdine suit and a white carnation.

They left immediately on a honeymoon thru the south and into Mexico. Donald is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Schaefer of Klemme, and attended Liberty No. 9 Grade School and graduated from Klemme High. He spent four years in the U. S. Navy, nearly half of which was spent overseas in the South Pacific and North Africa. He is employed at the Hancock County Coop. Oil Ass'n. at Klemme.

Mrs. Schaefer is the daughter of Mrs. Nellie Alverson of Clarion, and attended the Grade School, and was employed at Thada's Store in Klemme following her graduation from High School. She has been employed at the Younker Store at Mason City until her marriage.

They will be at home at the apartment in the home of Mr. Edward Schaefer.

50 PERCENT GAIN IN TRUCK SAFETY

A gain of about 50 per cent in the safety record of Iowa's trucking industry in the first quarer of 1948, compared with a similar period last year, was announced by John H. Gillepie, executive secretary of the Iowa Motor Truck association.

Speaking to the 4th annual short course for motor vehicle fleet supervisors at Iowa State college, Gillespie said only 23 trucks and trailers were involved in fatal accidents in the first three months of this year, compared with 40 in the first three months of 1947.

He said the improvement was made in spite of the fact that the number of trucks and trailers in Iowa has increased by at least 15,000.

Gillespie based the "50 per cent gain" on the approximate ratio of fatal accidents to the number of vehicles operating. Highway deaths involving trucks were reduced 42 per cent, he said, while the number of registered motor freight vehicles was increased 12 per cent.

REVIEW BOARD DRAWS OFFICE TERMS BY LOT

The Hancock County board of review organized by drawing lots for terms of office as required by the county assessor law.

Chris Jacobson of Britt and W. C. Keraus of Klemme each drew a 4 year term; Ernest Senne of Woden the 3 year term; C. H. Schissel of Garner the 2 year term and H. D. Schroeder of Kanawha the one year term. Successors will all be appointed to a 4 year term by the appointive board.

The board began its audit of personal property assessments and will remain in session from day to day until the task of reviewing all assessments has been completed.

FOR MORE PROFIT KEEP HENS IN LAYING HOUSE

Turning poultry out to range over the farm during spring and summer is not good poultry management, according to reports from flock owners in the demonstration flock program.

Flocks confined to a laying house throughout the year lay more eggs and are more profitable than those given the run of the farm.

Confined flocks laid more eggs during fall and winter when egg prices were high, and the eggs were of better quality. The confined flocks had lower mortality and required less feed per hen annually. They also requlred less feed per dozen eggs laid.

Many farmers turn their flocks out to pick up waste feed scattered in manure piles and around grain bins. It has been found that feed picked up while out doors tends to fatten, rather than make birds lay more eggs.

Apparently, hens get enough exercise when confined, so that the waste feed they do pick up is not a gain—and may be a loss. The amount of feed picked up is a very small part of the total consumption for a year. Iowa State College poultrymen estimate that about 500 pounds of feed can be picked up around the farm in a year, as against a yearly consumption of some 18,000 pounds for the farm flock.

The benefits birds may gain from being in the sunlight and fresh air seem to be offset by the loss of protection against diseases lurking on the farmstead. Outbreaks of cholera, typhoid, tuberculosis and other filth-borne diseases frequently occur when poultry has free access to the barnyard. It is comparatively simple to keep a laying house sanitary and free from parasites, thus keeping the flock protected from an outbreak.

Thanks for sending in your news. Phone or send it in.

Klemme Farmer Developed New Soy Bean Variety

IOWA COMMUNITIES PREPARE FOR FLIES

They Liked Fly-Free Summer Last Year And Want To Repeat In '48

Iowa communities that enjoyed a fly-free summer last year intend to repeat that pleasant experience.

They have been almost unanimous in declaring they will again follow the simple program of good sanitation and regular spraying with DDT that brought excellent results in '47.

They'll do an even better job this year, most of them say. Knowledge of fly control methods gained in their first campaign will be put to use.

Try More Sprays

Harold Gunderson, Iowa State College entomologist, says one of the things which will be tried this year is additional sprays. Many towns have used a single spray in June, but those who repeated the general spraying in midsummer had the best results. Spraying of garbage cans, dumps and other fly-breeding spots was found to be necessary much oftener.

R. W. O'Connor, secretary of the Independence Chamber of Commerce, reports "We found that garbage cans should be sprayed every time they are emptied. Such spraying will prove a big help to the food dealer."

Cover Thoroughly

F. M. Brutsman, mayor of Traer, says that in the campaigns carried out there in 1946 and 1947 it was found that complete coverage when spraying is highly important.

From Lamoni the report is that two sprays did a good job last year, but a third one would have helped further. That third spray is planned for this year.

Not only frequent spraying but thorough spraying, is advised by those who have participated in fly control campaigns.

WEED-FREE LAWN EASY WITH 2,4-D

A weed-free lawn can be a reality this year if you resolve to follow a few simple rules to get rid of dandelion, plantains and other weeds.

2,4-D is the answer to the problem of getting weeds out of the lawn without spending hours of backbreaking drudgery, says E. P. Sylwester, Iowa State College extension botanist. While 2,4-D does a better job of freeing the lawn of weeds if applied in the fall, good results can be obtained if it is applied properly during the spring or summer.

Don't spray dandelions too soon, Sylwester says. Wait until they are fairly well leafed out. If the plants are sprayed when very small they will only be set back. The roots will send up new shoots. The best time to spray is when buds have appeared.

While it isn't best to spray soon after applying fertilizer, grass won't be hurt much more than by mowing if spraying is done properly. Mix 2,4-D according to direction and apply at the rate of one-half to three-fourths gallon of solution per square rod of surface. Avoid using excessive amount of 2,4-D. Don't spray 2,4-D on newly seeded lawn. Wait until the grass is well established.

Apply 2,4-D on a warm, still day. A sprinkling can may be used but is wasteful. A 3-gallon knapsack sprayer isbest. Spray with low pressure and avoid spray drift to desiable flowers, shrubs and vegetables. They are tender at this time of year and will be killed or severely injured if 2,4-D comes into contact with them.

MAKES TEST ON OWN SOYBEANS

Ben F. Greiman, a Liberty township farmer, is conducting his own experiment station on the growing of soybeans. A few years ago Greiman began developing a bean which has proven its worth and outyields the other varieties.

He began seed production and distribution of seed two years ago and the demand now is far in excess of the supply on hand. At present he is in the process of inbreeding another variety which he believes shows even greater promise for bean growers.

In addition to his regular farming operations he has one of the largest orchards of various kinds and types of fruit to which he devotes much time also in an experimental way. Experimentation in plants is a hobby with Greiman.

TWO BRITT WOMEN WIN DIVORCES

Decrees Granted In Hearings At Garner

District Judge T. A. Beardmore of Charles City granted divorces in the Hancock county district court to the following:

Verna Maxine Jackson of Britt was granted a divorce from Lewis Jackson, Jr., and given custody of Janet Kay, a minor daughter. Defendant was ordered to pay $25 monthly for child care and a stipulated property settlement was approved by the court. The couple was married at Kanawha on June 17, 1945, and lived together until about November 1, 1947.

Lula Ardith Stanlee of Britt was granted a divorce from Denver Rex Stanlee and given custody of a minor child, Mary Venessa Stanlee. The couple was married at Berryville, Ark., on April 18, 1942 and lived together until January 14, 1948. Atty. L. C. Beaumont of Britt appeared for both plaintiffs.

Organize Hancock County Softball Loop

At a recent meeting held at Hayfield a Hancock County softball league was organized. The teams represented are from Crystal Lake, Woden, Klemme, Ell Reformed church, Britt, Liberty Methodist church, Garner and Hayfield.

Rules and regulations were drawn up and the secretary instructed to draw a schedule of games. League games will be played under lights on Thursday evenings unless otherwise announced and a tournament will be played at the close of the season.

Each team is to play 14 games and the season's openers are scheduled for May 27. The roster of players for each team must be submitted to league offcials by May 22.

WET, COLD WEATHER DELAYS CORN PLANTING IN NORTH IOWA

The wet, rather chilly weather of the past week slowed up farm work in this section of the state. A few farmers had their corn planted before the bad weather and it is a debatable subject as to whether the corn is better in the ground, or in the bag. Most farmers like to have their corn planted between May 15-20, so there is yet plenty of time.

However, the weather the past week was fine for small grain, pasture and hay land and North Iowa really looks pretty now.

WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS

Anti-Communist Coalition Crushes Red Opponents in Italian Election; Lewis, Miners Fined for Contempt

By Bill Schoentgen, WNU Staff Writer

(EDITOR'S NOTE: When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of Western Newspaper Union's news analysts and not necessarily of this newspaper.)

EAST, WEST:
In Italy

By the time officials finished counting the first vote returns from Italy's national election there was no longer any element of surprise in the fact that the anti-Communist coalition parties were winning two-to-one.

Unusual thing was that the anti-Red Christian Democrats, Republicans and Social Unity party had scored such a top-heavy victory. They led everywhere, even in the so-called "Red North" where Communists had amassed considerable strength in the industrial cities. It appeared that the anti-Communists had secured absolute majority in both the Italian senate and chamber of deputies.

Communist front spokesmen conceded that the election results "must be considered a victory" for Premier Alcide De Gasperi's coalition.

This Italian election had been the plum for which both the U. S. and Soviet Russia had been competing frantically for six months. It was a real contest. Each nation had sent myriads of entries: "I think Italy should be anti-Communist (or Communist) because—" Each entry was accompanied, not by boxtops, but by boxcars of food and machinery as well as other blandishments.

Victory of the anti-Communists in the election was, in a manner of speaking, a clear-cut victory of benevolent capitalism over militant communism. As such it could exert tremendous influence on the course of European history.

Probably the principal factors deciding the outcome of the election were passage of the European recovery program and the U. S. proposal to return Trieste to Italy.

Further, the election appeared to make an important point concerning the workings of Communist aggression: Ability of the Communists to take over a country is greatly reduced in cases where the Red army cannot be brought into position to exert pressure on the intended victim.

The Red army was not a factor in the Italian elections. It was a factor, either through its immediate presence or its threatening proximity, in the coups of Czechoslovakia, Poland, Romania, Bulgaria and eastern Germany.

If that reasoning is sound, a disturbing conclusion is evident: Should Russia realize that Soviet domination of Europe cannot be accomplished without use of military force, the next step might be to bring the Red army into action.

LEWIS:
Lost and Fined

All things considered, John L. Lewis came away from his brush with the government in fairly good shape—suffering only relatively minor abrasions of the pocketbook.

For ignoring a federal order to end the soft coal strike that began March 15 over a pension dispute, Lewis was convicted by Federal Judge T. Alan Goldsborough of criminal contempt of court. As punishment Judge Goldsborough imposed a $20,000 fine on Lewis personally and fined his United Mine Workers union a total of 1.4 million dollars.

It was almost a verbatim re-enactment of the Lewis-Goldsborough drama of 1946 when the judge fined Lewis $10,000 and the union 3.5 million dollars for contempt.

This time, however, Judge Goldsborough wanted to be tough. He wanted to give Lewis a jail term but refrained from doing so upon advice from the government, chief prosecutor in the case.

Nevertheless, he deplored the government's policy of "expediency" which dictated that the mine chief's punishment should be limited to a fine and that he should not be given a jail sentence because that would make a martyr of him in the eyes of the miners.

It was a bad spot for Lewis—perhaps the worst of his career. Not only had he failed to beat the Taft-Hartley act and been forced to accept terms far short of his original demands in settlement of the pension dispute, but he also had put his UMW treasury 1.4 million dollars in the hole.

And now, if the miners continued to stay away from work in protest against the punishment, the government retained a powerful weapon it could wield. The Taft-Hartley injunction against them still was pending.

Ancient Africans

A heavy flint cleaver, reduced to chalk-like consistency after having lain in the earth for milleniums, is part of the evidence a Harvard anthropologist brought back from Northwest Africa to support his claim that man existed in that section of the world 150,000 years ago.

Dr. Hugh Hencken, director of the American School of Prehistoric Research, returned from the expedition with two tons of fossils.

Requirements

Gen. Omar Bradley, army chief of staff, told the house armed services committee that in the event of another war the U. S. must occupy Greenland, Iceland, Spitzbergen and the Azores or expose its industrial and population centers to air attack. In a bid for congressional support of the draft and UMT, General Bradley warned that the army today would be in no position to take such positive action should the need arise.

HOLY LAND:
What Now?

In its first positive action since the U. S. backed away from its stand favoring partition, the United Nations security council issued a call to both Jews and Arabs to stop fighting in Palestine.

It probably was a gesture of impotence, rendered even more impotent by the fact that the security council, although it laid down specific truce directives to both factions, decided against sending a U.N. commission to the scene of trouble to check on compliance.

Russia, continuing to favor the partition plan, refused to support the truce proposal but at the same time Andrei Gromyko, Soviet delegate, refrained from applying Russia's big-power veto and thus permitted the agreement to be concluded.

There was no assurance that either Jewish or Arab forces would agree to a United Nations truce and lay down their arms.

Well aware that the truce proposal had little or no significance in the pattern of the Holy Land tragedy, U. N. delegates shook their heads gloomily and wondered if the United Nations, not yet three years old, might not be a blue baby.

It was clear that the U. N.'s lack of "elan vital" in the Palestine problem stemmed directly from the decline of American prestige and leadership in the world organization.

After having pushed the partition plan through the U. N. by the sheer weight of its apparent conviction, the U. S. suddenly abandoned its support of partition in order to dabble in power politics with Middle East oil as the stakes. Instead of partition U. S. leaders advocated a temporary United Nations trusteeship. But they failed to indicate what kind of trusteeship or exactly how they thought it should be enforced.

While the American U. N. delegation was playing hard-to-get, other delegates were asking "What are we here for?"

Unofficial explanation was that the U. S. was trying, through Secretary of State George Marshall in Bogota, Colombia, to get some South American nations to offer to supply the troops that will be needed to enforce a trusteeship.

A-WEAPON:
Bingo!

Another batch of atoms has been exploded on the sea-girt wastes of Eniwetok atoll in the far western Pacific.

In the words of the U. S. atomic energy commission, the event marked the successful completion of an "atomic weapon." There was no further description of the sixth known atomic explosion in world history; but, as always in the case of applied nuclear physics, the element of mystery involved was at least as awesome as specific knowledge of the instrument might be.

At this stage, the situation between U. S. and Russia was not unlike a popular American game of chance. Democracy had just completed a row of numbers on its card; and in the U. S. announcement of a new atomic weapon kibitzers around the world could hear a loud cry of "Bingo!"

HYBRID CORN:
North Central

Twelve North Central states are well in advance of the South in the percentage of corn acreage planted with high-yield hybrid seed, according to a report by the department of agriculture.

The North Central group has increased its use of hybrid seed from zero in 1933 to 92.5 per cent of all its acreage planted last year, while the South has only 27.2 per cent planted to hybrid seed.

NEBRASKA:
Stassen Again

Harold E. Stassen had husked his political corn well in Nebraska.

Voters in the state's preferential primary—typed this year as a "popularity poll"—showered their favors on the wayfaring campaigner from Minnesota in a field of seven Republican presidential aspirants.

Results of the Nebraska balloting gave Stassen 15 national convention delegates for at least the first ballot. Legally, Nebraska's delegates go to the national convention unpledged. By custom, however, the outcome of the preferential primary is binding on the delegates for the first ballot. Stassen now estimated that he would command at least 300 delegates on the first ballot in Philadelphia this June.

As far as Thomas E. Dewey was concerned, the Nebraska primary added not a cubit to his political stature. He ran an indifferent second to Stassen; and there were many who predicted that this defeat, closely following the complete rout of Dewey forces in Wisconsin, virtually eliminated the New York governor from the GOP presidential campaign arena.

Ohio's Sen. Robert Taft, who had the support of Sen. Hugh Butler's state political organization, took third place, although he had been expected to show considerable strength in Nebraska. It was a critical blow to his political stock.

Far down the list and completely out of the money were the other four contenders: Sen. Arthur Vandenberg, Gen. Douglas MacArthur, Gov. Earl Warren of California and Speaker of the House Joseph Martin.

As always after a pivotal political event such as the Nebraska primary, innumerable experts were scurrying through their mental gymnasiums to find significances. This was the consensus:

Stassen had generated a lot of horsepower because of his Wisconsin and Nebraska victories. Conceivably, he could sweep the GOP convention, although that contingency was by no means certain yet.

Taft and Dewey were in shoal water and heading for the rocks unless some outside force gave their candidacies a boost. The question no longer was whether Taft or Dewey would get the nomination but whether they could resolve their differences long enough to get together to stop Stassen.

General MacArthur, it appeared, would not get a chance to accept the nomination.

Successor

Epidio Quirino, vice-president of the Republic of the Philippines, succeeded to the presidency upon the death of President Manuel Roxas. Roxas died in a Clark field hospital, only a short time after uttering a pledge of "indestructible faith" between the American and Philippine peoples.

UPSWING:
Inflation

Latest of President Truman's recurring announcements that the nation's economy is being endangered by high prices was backed up this time by department of commerce economists.

They found that business activity had been growing stronger in recent weeks and concluded that this increasing strength must be interpreted in the light of the economic impact of lowered taxes, the foreign aid program and stepped-up military spending.

Headliners

IN SCRANTON . . . Mrs. Mamie Francione pointed out that drinking is bad for the liver, dancing is hard on the heart, singing weakens the lungs, cited her abstinence from all three activities as the reason she has lived to be 100.

IN PHILADELPHIA . . . Raymond Palmer heaved a box through a jewelry store window, was led away to jail muttering, "I did it. I did it. It's something I wanted to do all my life. It's this very window I wanted to break."

IN TOKYO . . . Japanese whalers convened in a Buddhist temple, prayed for the souls of the 1,321 whales they caught last winter.

IN FORT WORTH . . . Thieves leaving a lumberyard in the middle of the night with a truckload of loot got stuck in soft ground, called a garage, had a tow truck pull them out, paid the garage man, drove away with their stolen lumber.

IN NEW YORK . . . American Bible society announced that it had distributed 9,310,439 copies of the Bible in 147 languages during 1947.

Washington Digest

Is This Where We Came In? War Department Thinks Not

By BAUKHAGE
News Analyst and Commentator

"Just now Washington isn't as warlike as it sounds. The emphasis is on defense, not offense. However, there are conflicting views on what we ought to do . . ."

That sentence just about reflects sentiment here as I write these lines—a sentiment that has changed rapidly in the last few weeks, days, hours, and may change still more before these lines are printed.

That sentence also reflected the sentiment in Washington eight years ago. (I found it among my clippings of the column which appeared early in October of 1940.) I had just come back from the war department which then was located on Constitution avenue. There wasn't any Pentagon building then. I had been interviewing an officer on the subject of "our new citizen army."

"According to many letters I get" (I wrote) "what a lot of people want to know is why we need a citizen army in peacetime?"

A lot of people are asking that question again today. The answer which I reported to you in this column eight years ago was this:

"Speed is what counts in an army today. We aren't calling out these boys to fight anybody. We are calling them out to train them so they'll be ready if we ever need them. The United States can always raise a big army if war is declared. But neither we nor any other country can raise a trained army overnight. And a lot can happen in the night these days. What we want to do is to train these men for a reserve . . ."

It was a year and three months after I wrote those words that something did happen, not in the night, but in the early morning, over Pearl Harbor. We didn't start it. The Japs did the deciding. They decided that we had to go to war.

The Lesson's Over, No Time for Recess

Today we have more to say. We have learned a great deal since December 7, 1941. We have learned how to fight a global war and win it. The question is will we do the things which will prevent a global war?

That will be something if we do.

Meanwhile the wheel seems to have made the circle and some of the boys who were learning squads right in 1940 are wondering if this is where they came in. I had a chance to think about that on another trip back from the war department recently, or I should say the department of national defense. It's a longer journey now than it was to the old "temporary" World War I building on Constitution avenue. The Pentagon sprawls geometrically over 310 acres across the Potomac in Virginia. The message I brought back was very much like the one I reported eight years ago.

It was a reassurance that the request for three billion more dollars for national defense is what the military men say is the minimum peacetime expenditure to prevent war. In other words, defense, not offense. It was pointed out that if it were necessary now to prepare for actual conflict, the cost would run closer to 50 billions than three.

I was most heartily assured that the United States did not want war, that no encouragement whatever was being given those few persons who urged "preventive" action. With less certainty, but advanced as an honest opinion, was the statement that Russia did not want war, either.

"There is no reason, as far as we know now," one official told me, "why war cannot be avoided, provided a reasonable balance is established between the military forces of the two countries. Now we are in imbalance."

It was noted that Russia and her satellites now have under arms nearly twice the number which this country and the anti - Communist countries of western Europe could put in the field.

It is well to remember too that the Russian Red army is mobilized; it is largely concentrated in eastern Europe, whereas American troops are thinly scattered over the whole earth. Russia has never really demobilized, she has more combat planes and men to man them; she has a greater land force; a numerically-superior artillery.

We are strong in bombing planes, but she has a stronger defense in fighter and interceptor planes. She is believed to be producing from 75,000 to 100,000 planes a year. We produced 1,700 military planes of all types last year.

But "our biggest shortage is in equipment," said a veteran officer. One might go on at great length. I won't. I have rehearsed the sad story of "redeployment" ever since I first heard it from a general's secretary, who, like most of the rest of us, thought it was "reemployment."

In case you have forgotten, the United States army, the greatest military machine in history, was "redeployed" out of existence and under such pressure from mothers and wives, and at such a breakneck speed, that in many cases it didn't leave a pile of scrap behind it to mark the spot whence it melted and dribbled away. The Red army didn't re-deploy. It is still largely deployed.

And so here we are again.

Panicky Outlook Is Not Justified

One might become exceedmgly pessimistic, one might grow panicky. But, as I think over the interviews, as I recall the faces of those men charged with our nation's defense, as I ponder the words, the tone of voice, I must say the net impression of the contacts is to make me feel more hopeful than I had felt before.

It was only three years ago, in April, 1945, that this high point of Russian - American camaraderie was reached when Maj. Gen. Emil F. Reinhardt of the U.S. first army greeted the major general commanding the Russian 58th infantry division at a meeting of American and Russian units at the Elbe river in Germany.

I had been pretty depressed when I began the round of calls in the various little cells that open onto the endless corridors of the Pentagon offices, large and small, with maps on the walls, the men in uniform or civilian clothes at desks.

When I left, I had the feeling that here were men who were looking at the task before them coolly and calmly, neither obsessed with a certainty that they were moving into another inevitable conflict nor indifferent to the possibilities that such might be the case.

"We anticipate no belligerent or provocative move on the part of the Russians. We don't pretend to be able to say what their plan is, or whether they have one. In any case, it is not our move. Whether there is to be peace or war depends upon the men in the politburo. We have no way of knowing what their next step will be. We doubt if they have made up their minds . . ."

And then one official came back to the remark I quoted before:

"Personally," he said, "I do not think Russia wants war. I am certain that we do not."

As I say, I went out past the reception desk, through the high doors and out to where the quiet river holds the city in its tranquil embrace. It looked no more turbulent, no less peaceful, when, during the war years, I used to come out that same door with my notes interpreting the latest strategic war in Normandy, the breakthrough at St. Lo, the Battle of the Bulge, Patton's tactical miracles.

Washington is calm. The other day as I opened my closet door, I noticed my trenchcoat with the faded blue patch with "war correspondent" on the shoulder. It didn't give me a turn. After all, we have just won the greatest victory of its kind in history—the completion of the plan to aid Europe. That and a few bloodless steps which caution and not desperation dictate are enough for now.

* * *

Even clergymen are able to think fast in a crisis, even though those who are prone to sleep through interminable sermons may be inclined to doubt the assertion. But up in Cambridge, Mass., a policeman was induced to tear up a speeding ticket when a clergyman he had stopped explained, "You have to be fast these days if you want to save souls."

* * *

June is the "dew month" in Japan. In this country, we insist, every month is "due month."

Sportlight
by GRANTLAND RICE

A CONTEMPLATIVE correspondent wants to know which is the bigger gamble—baseball rookies or race horses.

There isn't much difference. Many are called but few ever hit .300 or win big stakes—possibly one out of a hundred.

Race horses, the good ones, usually cost more money, ranging from $40,000 to $70,000 in the higher brackets. Yet Wakefield of the Tigers came in for a $52,000 bonus and 18-year-old Curt Simmons of the Phillies was somewhere in the $60,000 class. It also is reported that if the young left-hander had waited a while longer the Red Sox would have gone to $100,000 or more.

Simmons is the closest to Pericles, the $66,000 colt who won one race. If Simmons wins only one game, Ben Chapman will absorb at least one keg of cyanide.

Simmons, Wakefield and Bob Brown are three of the higher investments. Wakefield has been no part of a bargain at his price tag, while neither Simmons nor Brown so far has drawn a chance.

But rookies on their way to major-league fame are scarce. Last year the Cardinals had only one from a big crop—Jim Hearn, a pitcher. The Giants caught a find in Jansen—the Dodgers in Robinscn, to mention two of the best.

Few outsiders realize the size of a farm crop. The Dodgers had something like 500 budding phenoms at Vero Beach—the Giants over 400 at Sanford, Fla., and the Cardinals over 400 at Albany, Ga.

From the 1,200 young ball players gathered at these three locations, the Dodgers, Giants and Cardinals would be highly pleased to have 30 future big leaguers. Some vital statisticians have made it one out of 200.

So the percentage of young rookies and promising yearlings who make good is about the same—few and far apart.

* * *

Successor to Joe Louis?

In the boxing game about five out of 5,000 or possibly 10,000 make good.

They have been looking around for a good young heavyweight to take the place of Joe Louis for six years. Six years and no answer. Not an echo. But Walter Friedman tells me that there is a good young Irish heavyweight named Ray Stevens working out of San Francisco who may be the one.

"He's six feet two, weighs 205 pounds," Friedman says. "I know of one offer of $20,000 and another of $30,000 which have been refused for his contract. They won't even listen to $50,000. He's a good boxer and a good puncher. He can knock you down with a short punch. He's only 23 years old.

"Give him a break, and you might be the first to boost the next heavyweight champion of the world."

Stevens is hereby given favorable mention. And he doesn't have to be too good.

* * *

Duffers Lead the Parade

Too many golf writers are writing about the Nelsons, Hogans, Mangrums and Demarets in place of the duffers and the average golfers who compose at least 95 per cent of the game.

There would be no golf if it were not for the duffer and the average golfer. The few left couldn't afford to keep the courses in condition. They couldn't keep the manufacturers going.

And without the duffer and the average golfer, golf crowds would be under 500, and there would be no teachers and not many caddies. The stars would be playing for $500—not $10,000.

Above all, we love and admire the flaming spirit of the duffer who each year is going to remove at least five or maybe 10 strokes from his game.

I was talking about the duffer with Al Ciuci, the Fresh Meadow pro who has taught so many thousands, including star professionals, for so many years.

"What," I asked, "are the chief faults the duffers or the average players have? And what, by the way, is an average golfer?"

"An average golfer," replied Ciuci, "is one who shoots around 100. That's a good average. Some are around 90 or 92. Others well above 110. We can call it 100 and be safe."

"What is the most common fault?" I asked.

"Slicing," said Professor Ciuci. "There are many hookers, of course, but many more slicers. Slicing is largely due to not turning the body enough, to taking the club back outside the line of flight and bringing it into the ball from the outside.

"The club head should be taken back slightly inside. It should be brought down inside with the club head aiming for a target slightly to the right, not whipped from the inside to the inside.

"Most slicers aim to the left of the course in order to allow for the slice. I've seen them do this by the thousands. A slice usually costs from 30 to 40 yards. Take enough turn and let the club head travel slightly to the right.

Indian Gives Henry Idea on Mass Prod

One day, by the way, Hen was passing through Sant his way to California. Sto one of the numerous stall by Indians, he noticed som tifully carved chairs fash a curious style, and obvio spired by the stall-holder. of them were alike.

"How much for the Ford asked, in a busi tone.

"Five dollars."

"I like that one. Have others like it?"

"No, each one is diffe

"Can you make me so of the same kind?"

"Yes."

"If I order twelve, will me a special price?"

The Indian reflected a "I can make you twelve at eight dollars apiece."

"Eight dollars? But said five."

"Look. When I make when I create a new desi my whole heart and sou If I have to go through th times I must at least mak out of it."

Changed Her

She was pensive when I m
Sadness was on her brow
But my checkbook made h
And she's ex-pensive now.

Why Repeat?

Professor—Why aren't ing notes on my lecture

Student—Don't have to my grandfather's.

CLASSIFI DEPARTM

HELP WANTED—M

BE YOUR OWN BOSS! Establi business selling direct to user general clothing, sportswear, bl for the entire family Over $750 nished without cost. Must have NORTH COUNTRY, Minneapolis

COOKWARE MEN Outstanding opportunity for men ence in sale of cooking utensi specialties direct to users for capacity with nationally advertise CRAFT line. Highest earnings. for operating own sales force. E ritories. Write KITCHEN CR PANY, Division of West Bend Co., West Bend, Wisconsin.

"SALESMEN WANTE WANTED AT ONCE: Rawleig nearby county. Write RAWLE IA, Freeport, Ill.

BODY MEN: Need 2 more body town. Clean shop. Plenty wor rage. PARSONS MOTOR CO., Iowa.

FARMS & RANCH

CANADIAN FARMS—Write us for FORMATION on farm settlement Fertile soils. Reasonably priced R Canadian Pacific Railway, Union Paul, Minn.

20 ACRES set in 1946, 70% Ru Fruit, 30% Valencia oranges, Gardens, Rio Grande Valley, Te acre. D. M. APPLEGATE, O ham, Iowa.

REAL ESTATE—M

PASTURE LAND For Sale—410 County, Iowa. Owner, LERO Grand River, Iowa.

BUSINESS & INV. O

For Sale: Small synthetic cleaning unit. Suitable for dry cleaning business in small particulars write CAMP LAUN 3rd St., Burlington, Iowa.

THE BEST second-hand store of antiques. Stock $30,000. Bu Sale price stock $15,000 with building. ODDS AND END Creston, Iowa.

POULTRY, CHICKS &

BE ASSURED of Added Poultr year. Buy Lobdell's Giant Typ horns. LOBDELL HATCHERY terloo, Iowa.

SEEDS, PLANTS,

FOR SALE: Approximately 300 soybeans, germ. 97%. Write MI Iowa Falls, Iowa.

FARMERS! Feed and Seed We will pay up to 25c each f Ship us all your bags, they all even the ones with holes, or not ship bags that have grease Ship by rail or truck freight You can be assured of prompt from the largest buyers of America direct from farmers. MAN BAG CO., Storm Lake,

AUTOS, TRUCKS &

1942 CHEVROLET 2-ton truck speed axle, grain box, stock r hoist. Call or write for mor O. A. CLARK, LaPorte City,

MISCELLANEO

TAYLORCRAFT, L2A, mtr. new, complete modification ov cond. This airplane is priced $795. SHIMON FLYING SER Iowa.

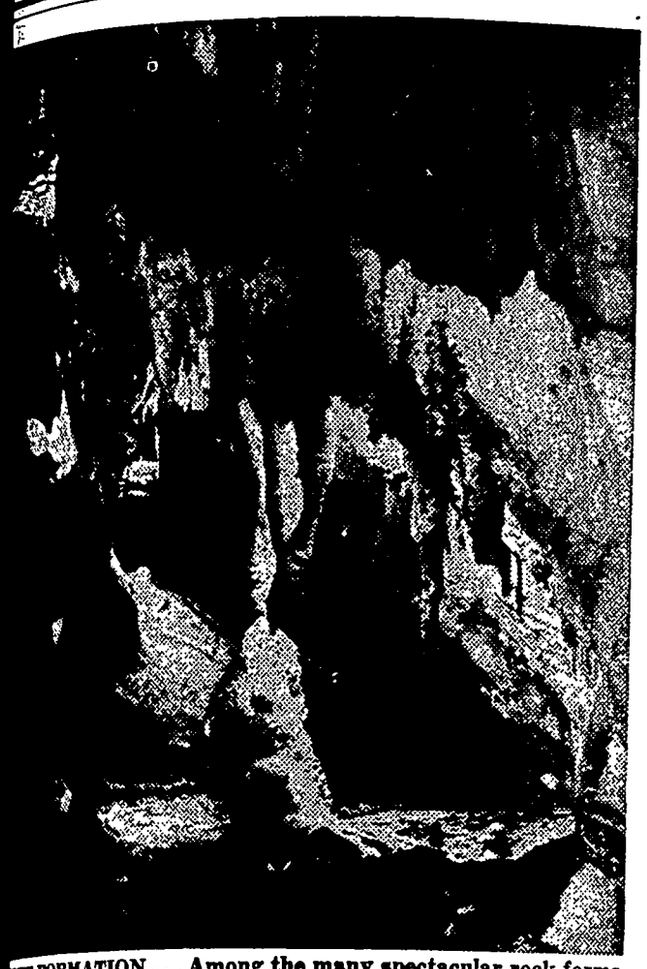
GLOSSY ENLARGED PRINT exposure roll developed and giant glossy prints 35c. Beau service. Giant reprints 4c ea velopes and price list on re FOTO SERVICE, Uni Place,

CALIFORNIA JUMBO SEEDL Save by buying direct from sun dried. High iron content. paid. Cash, money order or SILVER-BRUCE RANCH, D

HOLMES 35mm and 16mm TURE SOUND PROJECTOR schools, churches and small Write to: LANE AUDIO VIS roll, Iowa.

MANHATTAN BEAC Muskies, Pike & Pan Fish of Minnesota pines near White Fish Chain of L modern rooms & cott baths. Fine food, boats, tennis, fishing. For fol write A. C. Kavli, 217 So. neapolis, Minn.

WNU—N



...UE FORMATION ... Among the many spectacular rock forma- ...abounding in Mammoth Cave National park is this "Wall of ..."

* * *

...A FOR VISITORS

...stinctive Cave Formations ...ound in New National Park

WNU Features

...e of the nation's oldest tourist attractions and ranked second ... to Niagara Falls as a mecca for visitors, world-famous Mammoth ... in Kentucky has been dedicated as a national park.

...mmoth Cave, which boasts more than 150 miles of explored ...dors, has been visited by millions of travelers during the past ...ears, according to the national park service of the department ...terior.

...rliest reference to Mammoth ... is dated 1799. Just how ... before that date the cave ...actually discovered is not ... According to legend, a ... river pioneer named Hou... discovered the cave while ...ing a wounded black bear ... took refuge in the cavern. ...ny evidences of earlier habi... and use of the cave by ... have been observed. ...g these evidences are sev...mummies, moccasins, pieces ...th, bundles of reed torches, ...; pottery, wooden bowls ...various stone and bone ...ents.

...e mummy of an Indian ..., which was found a few ...s ago, probably dates ... the time of Columbus, ...certain shell implements ...ch have been discovered ...e cave, indicate that it ...sed by the Indians per... 1500 years ago.

...e real origin of the cave long ...ates man's history and goes ... to an early geological era. ... cave's passageways and ...tions present many distinc...features. On the fifth or ... level in the cave is the ...river, 360 feet below the ...'s surface. Only a small ...of its course has been ex... Blind fish inhabit the ... Strange names, such as ...rozen Niagara, the Hindu ..., the Lion's Den, have been ...to various of the spectacu...ck formations.

...Owned Cave in 1799

...t owner of Mammoth Cave ... man named Valentine ..., who was in possession ...cave and 200 acres of sur...ng land in 1799. A patent ...200-acre tract was issued ...mons in 1812 by Gov. ... Scott of the Common... of Kentucky.

...9, 1812, was a busy day ...culators at Mammoth Cave. ...t single day the caverns ...d hands three times. The ...e price was $116.67. Later ...day, it was sold for $400, ...ain for $3,000. On Aug. ..., one-half interest in the ...s sold for $10,000 to Hy...atz of Philadelphia. The ...alf was then owned by a ...kins of Lexington, Ky.

...e unusual interest in this ...erty indicated by these ... transfers in ownership ...eat increase in price was ...e deposits of nitrate ... as saltpeter found on ...ers of Mammoth Cave.

...ter, one of the principal ...ents in gunpowder, was ...an extraordinary value in ...ut by the French and ...embargoes, which cut off ... from Europe and later ...e United States fought ...Britain. Equipment for bleaching the nitrate was constructed in the cave in 1812 and was operated from then until 1814. Saltpeter from Mammoth Cave contributed largely to American successes in the war.

Discover Formations

During the early mining operations considerable exploration was done inside the cave, which led to the discovery of strange formations and many miles of passageways, and in 1816 the cave was opened for the first time to the public as a scenic attraction.

In 1838 a Mr. Gorin of Glasgow, Ky., purchased the enterprise, and in the following year Mammoth Cave received international fame when the owner's nephew became lost in the underground maze for 39 hours. Private ownership and exhibition of the cave continued for nearly 100 years. Dr. John Croghan, a Louisville physician, acquired the property in 1839 for $10,000, and upon his death 10 years later, the cave was placed in trusteeship for nine nephews and nieces.

Meanwhile there was a growing desire on the part of Kentucky citizens to remove the celebrated cave from private ownership and preserve it for all time as a national park.

In 1924, the Mammoth Cave National Park association was formed at Bowling Green, Ky., and immediately began to collect funds through voluntary donations for the purchase of the cave properties. A bill introduced in congress by Representative Maurice H. Thatcher, authorizing the acceptance of the area by the federal government was signed by President Coolidge on May 25, 1926, and boundaries for the proposed park were set.

Big Cattle Contract Scrawled in Pencil

LUBBOCK, Tex.—Scrawled in pencil on a piece of tablet paper, a million dollar contract recently signed here represents one of the largest cattle transactions for many years.

In an effort to help restock dry Texas ranges, Sam C. Arnett Sr., banker-rancher, and Tobe Foster, oilman-rancher, both of Lubbock, purchased between 12,000 and 13,000 head of cattle valued at approximately one million dollars.

The cattle were bought from the Red River Cattle company of Tucumcari, N. M., through Albert Mitchell. All of the stock was bred by the ranch and bears its brand.

Arnett and Foster plan resale of the cattle to ranchers of this area in small lots to "restock some of these dry ranges out here."

...eplace Stones in Wishing Well

...ADELPHIA — Boys and ...d adults, too—now toss ...ead of stones in a "wish... located in northeast ...bia.

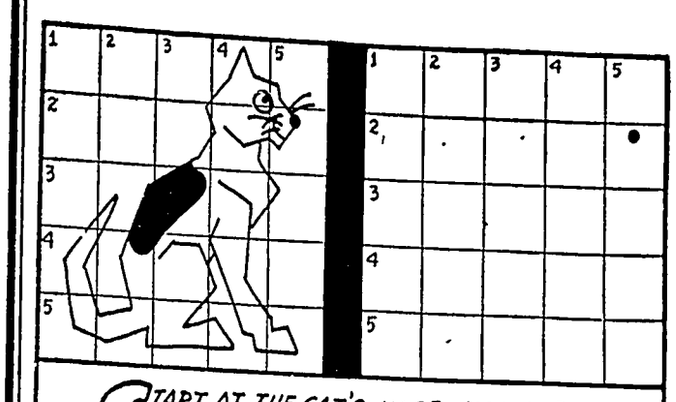
...nd, 36 inches deep, was ... constructed by Clifford ... as a landscape project ...operty. He put a few ... turtles in the pond but, ...rtunately, found the pond ...keystone of attention for neighborhood boys and girls who threw stones into the water.

Payton removed the fish and turtles. Much to his surprise, he found children — and frequently their parents — returning to the pond to toss in coins instead of rocks.

On the first day after the fish were removed, Payton fished out $6 from the pond. Since then, proceeds have averaged $3 a day.

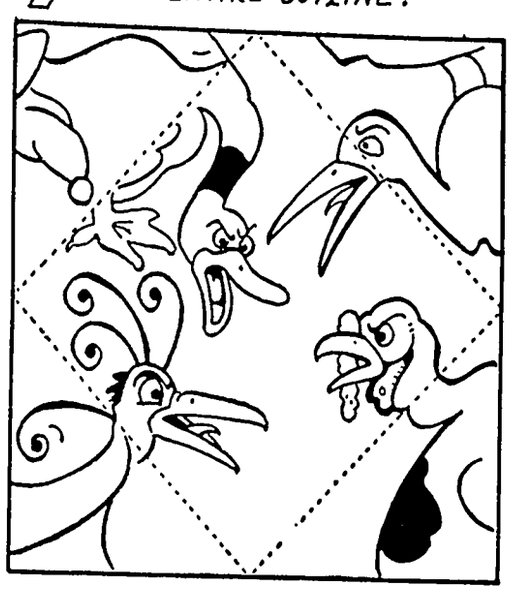
FUNLAND

By A.W. NUGENT

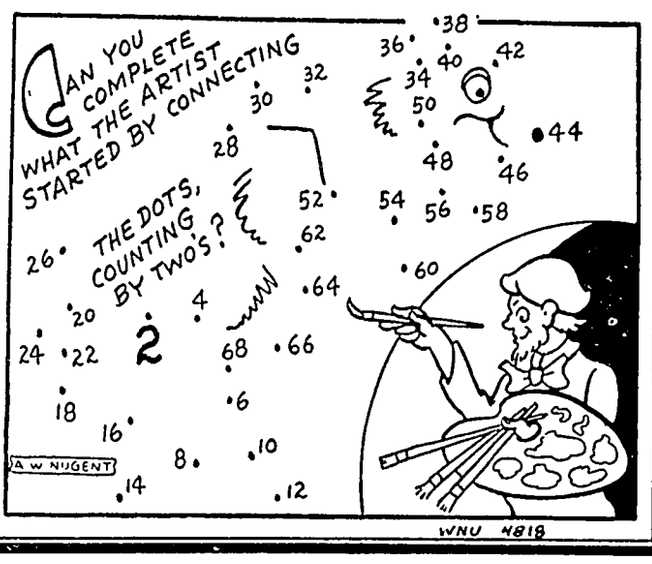


START AT THE CAT'S NOSE, AT THE RIGHT, AND MAKE YOUR LINES CUT THE BOXES IN THE EXACT POSITIONS THEY DO IN THE ORIGINAL. YOU WILL THEN HAVE MADE A PERFECT REPRODUCTION OF THE CAT.

FIRST CUT OUT THE PICTURE AROUND THE ENTIRE OUTLINE.

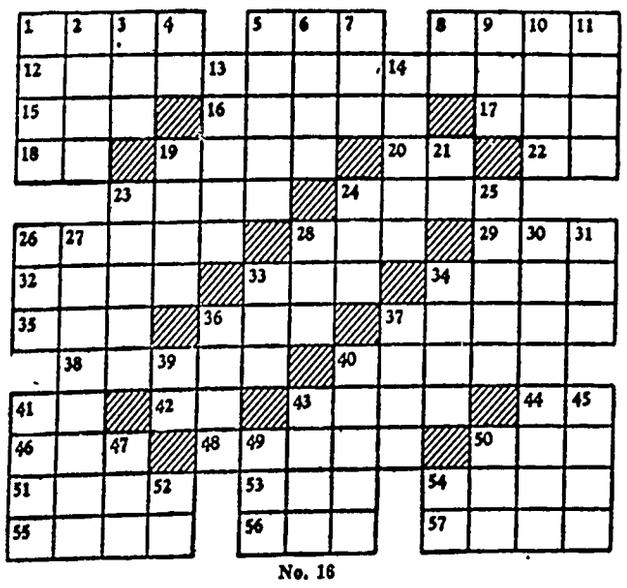


THEN CREASE THE 4 CORNERS BACKWARD ON THE DOTTED LINES. YOU WILL THEN SEE JUST WHAT IS CAUSING ALL THE EXCITEMENT.



CROSSWORD PUZZLE

Solution in Next Issue.



No. 16

HORIZONTAL

1 A clamp
5 Paddle-like instrument
8 Egyptian dancing girl
12 Act of self-examination
15 Member of an Indonesian tribe of Mindanao
16 Devotion
17 Period
18 Behold
19 Pastry (pl.)
20 Musical syllable
22 Compass point
23 To disparage
24 Movie celebrity
26 City in Massachusetts
28 Form of "to be"
29 To mimic
32 A tune
33 To stroke lightly
34 Spoken
35 Border
36 To sink in middle
37 To use up
38 Canvas shelter (pl.)
40 To be in agitation
41 Exclamation of triumph
42 A tribe in E. Assam, India
43 God of war
44 Prefix: not
46 No more than 48 Peeled
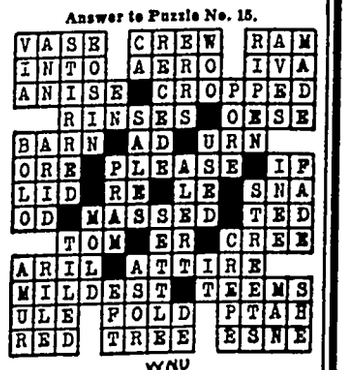
50 Female ruff
51 Brother of Jacob
53 To allow
54 Ireland
55 Sharp to taste
56 Seaport in New Guinea
57 A rolling stone gathers none

VERTICAL

1 Small glass container
2 To and in
3 As it is written (music)
4 Teutonic deity
5 Any of various willows
6 A monkey (pl.)
7 To soak
8 By
9 Cover
10 Heavenly body
11 Poker stake
13 Drug
14 Abnormal sac (pl.)
19 Petition
21 Midwestern state (abbr.)
23 Muck
24 Occupied a seat
25 Less refined
26 Czechoslovakian measure
27 Grecian wood nymph
28 To oscillate
30 Large basket for carrying provisions
31 Old
33 Dance step
34 A literary work
36 To halt
37 To flow off
39 Symbol for natrium
40 Mediterranean island
41 To aid
43 Extent of land
45 Sheltered side (pl.)
47 Thick, black substance
49 Entire
50 River (Sp.)
52 Note in Guido's scale
54 Printer's measure

Answer to Puzzle No. 15.



The Washington MERRY-GO-ROUND

© DREW PEARSON

Post Office Deficiencies

THE HOUSE POST OFFICE committee has been sitting on a confidential report on the Cleveland post office which may lead to a wholesale streamlining of big city post offices throughout the country.

Congressman Rees of Kansas, chairman of the house post office committee, has been holding the report close to his bosom, even refusing to let some of his colleagues see it. However, it may help to trim down the 345-million dollar total deficit that the government is stuck with this year.

The Cleveland post office was selected for an exhaustive efficiency study, but spot checks also were made at Cincinnati, Detroit and Buffalo. As a result of the survey, congress will be asked to earmark $50,000 for overhauling a section of the Cleveland post office, and if this is successful, the system will be adopted throughout the country. Annual savings for the nation are estimated at 72 million dollars.

Trundle Engineering company, hired to make the Cleveland survey, found low morale, high absenteeism, excessive sick leave, poor supervision and weak discipline. Transit time consumed too much of the carriers' day, greatly reducing delivery time. Deliveries were more frequent than the majority of patrons needed.

A fleet of obsolete trucks, requiring excessive maintenance, increased the postal bill. Mounted carriers drove their own automobiles and were paid high fees, the experts found. Total cost of delivering a 13-cent special delivery letter, for example, amounted to 20.5 cents. Special delivery messengers also spent approximately one hour every day filling out Form 3951, a special delivery receipt record not considered necessary.

The Trundle company recommended sweeping steps to abolish these defects. It urged a tightened, more equitable personnel policy, a morale-building program, a six-day 40-hour week for carriers instead of the present five-day week. It also recommended replacement of the obsolete truck fleet, purchase of modern shop equipment to service new trucks and government-owned automobiles for mounted carriers. It also advocated that "serious consideration" be given to boosting special delivery rates.

* * *

Underground Activities

A COMMERCE DEPARTMENT EMPLOYEE was being quizzed by a loyalty investigator about a young lawyer in the same department.

"Does he belong to any underground organizations?" asked the investigator.

"Yes."

"Which one?" The investigator leaned forward eagerly.

"The National Speleological society."

"What do its members believe in?" asked the puzzled prober.

"They specialize in the study of caves and underground caverns."

* * *

Stassen's Campaign Funds

A LOT OF PEOPLE HAVE WONDERED where Harold Stassen's campaign expenses were coming from.

The ex-Minnesota governor, not a wealthy man, has spent the last two years touring the length and breadth of the U. S., with campaign headquarters set up in several states. Naturally, this takes money. The matter of who is putting up the money is important to the voting public.

Most of Stassen's backers, it can be revealed, are blue-chip businessmen, including some of his old Minnesota neighbors. Several of the group, it should be noted, have progressive ideas and enjoy excellent relations with labor.

* * *

U. S. First in Berlin

Col. Alexander Jelisarov, Russian delegate on the allied control council of Berlin, forgot one important fact when he boasted that the Russians alone liberated Europe and that if the British were worried about Berlin, "Why didn't they get there first?"

He forgot that, three years ago, American troops were in Potsdam, the suburb of Berlin. Suddenly, the day after President Roosevelt's death, they were ordered out, back to the River Elbe.

The order came after vigorous, almost savage protests by the Russians claiming that the Red army, not the American army, was to occupy Berlin. This commitment apparently had been made at Yalta.

If American troops had remained in Berlin, the present dynamite-laden situation in that city might have been different.

However, although we can't turn back the clock, it is important to recall that at that time the U. S. was leaning over backward to cooperate with the Russians—not slapping them down as claimed by the boys around Henry Wallace.

FIRST AID to the AILING HOUSE

by Roger C. Whitman

QUESTION: I have bought an old house that has wooden gutters with metal linings. The linings have rusted through from lack of paint. Could I paint over the metal with some of the new-type waterproof paint?

ANSWER: If the metal has rusted through, I believe it would serve no purpose to retain it. If you can remove it without too much trouble, you could paint the wood gutters on the inside with liquid asphalt paint, and the outside with a good house paint. If there are spaces at the joints, cover them with roofing cement and roofing felt, then paint over the felt with asphalt paint.

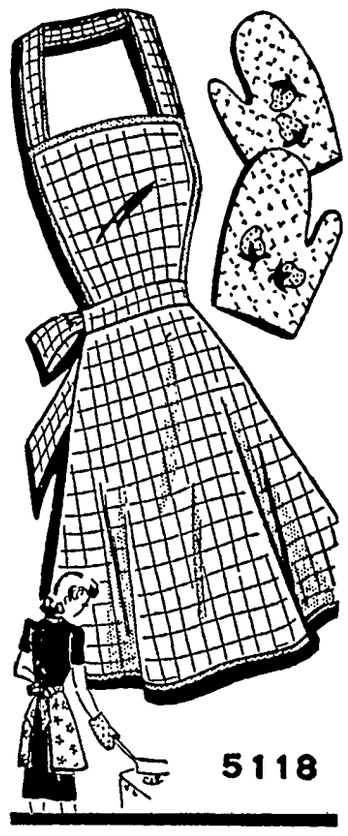
QUESTION: We just bought a new house and all the woodwork is painted white. I'd like very much to varnish it without taking the paint off. Could this be done?

ANSWER: Varnish cannot be applied over paint in the way that you ask about. The paint must first be removed either with paint remover or else by scraping or sandpapering.

QUESTION: Kindly advise me what I can do to smooth a concrete basement floor? It is rough, scaly and pitted.

ANSWER: For a fine job, you could have a terrazzo flooring contractor grind the floor down smooth with his terrazzo grinding machine. If the floor were very thin and cracking, I would suggest having it broken up and a new floor poured on top. If the floor is not leaking or cracked, I believe you could simply apply a floor leveling compound, smoothing it on with a trowel.

Apron Potholders



A BIG, competent-looking and very tailored apron which can take hard wear in the kitchen can be made of striped, checked or flowered cotton and trimmed with two rows of bright bias binding. The "mitt" pot-holders can be made of the same or of a contrasting material. Plain blue denim makes an interesting mitt if it is trimmed with a lush red appliqued strawberry as illustrated.

To obtain patterns for both apron and potholder-mitts and applique for the Kitchen Set (Pattern No. 5118) send 20 cents in coin, Your Name, Address and Pattern Number.

Due to an unusually large demand and current conditions, slightly more time is required in filling orders for a few of the most popular patterns.

Send your order to:

SEWING CIRCLE NEEDLEWORK
530 South Wells St. Chicago 7, Ill.
Enclose 20 cents for Pattern.

No._____
Name_____
Address_____

The juice of a lemon in a glass of water, when taken first thing on arising, is all that most people need to insure prompt, normal elimination.

No more harsh laxatives that irritate the digestive tract and impair nutrition! Lemon in water is good for you!

Generations of Americans have taken lemons for health—and generations of doctors have recommended them. They are rich in vitamin C; supply valuable amounts of B_1 and P. They alkalinize; aid digestion.

Not too sharp or sour, lemon in water has a refreshing tang—clears the mouth, wakes you up. It's not a purgative—simply helps your system regulate itself. Try it 10 days.

USE CALIFORNIA SUNKIST LEMONS

NEWS that makes folks sleep all night!

Thousands now sleep undisturbed because of the news that their being awakened night after night might be from bladder irritation, not the kidneys. Let's hope so! That's a condition Foley Pills usually allay within 24 hours. Since bladder irritation is so prevalent and Foley Pills so potent, Foley Pills must benefit you within 24 hours or DOUBLE YOUR MONEY BACK. Make 24-hour test. Get Foley Pills from druggist. Full satisfaction or DOUBLE YOUR MONEY BACK.

Relieves Distress of MONTHLY FEMALE WEAKNESS

Also Helps Build Up Red Blood!

Do female functional periodic disturbances make you suffer pain, feel so nervous, irritable—at such times? Then try Lydia E. Pinkham's TABLETS to relieve such symptoms. Pinkham's Tablets are also very effective to help build up red blood in simple anemia.

Lydia E. Pinkham's TABLETS

SPRAY WITH Black Leaf 40

—Double-duty insecticide: Kills by contact; kills by fumes. Destroys plant lice but spares beneficial insects. Insist on original factory-sealed containers to insure full strength.

One ounce plus soap makes 6 gallons of effective aphid-spray.

TOBACCO BY-PRODUCTS & CHEMICAL CORPORATION
Nicotine Specialists Since 1885
LOUISVILLE 2, KENTUCKY

LOOK FOR THE LEAF ON THE PACKAGE

ARE YOU A HEAVY SMOKER?

Change to SANO—the distinctive cigarette with

51.6%* LESS NICOTINE

Not a Substitute—Not Medicated

Sano's scientific process cuts nicotine content to half that of ordinary cigarettes. Yet skillful blending makes every puff a pleasure.

FLEMING-HALL TOBACCO CO., INC., N. Y.

*Average based on continuing tests of popular brands

ASK YOUR DOCTOR ABOUT SANO CIGARETTES

Let's go to town —at home!

NO TELLING what tomorrow's weather may be. It fools the best forecaster. But we do want chintz for the windows. We do need a carpet sweeper, a new percolator, and a new end-table in the living-room. And we don't want to slosh around rainy streets to hunt them. Problem: How to thwart the weather man. Simple enough! Let's sit down by the fireplace and read the advertisements. Here it's comfortable and snug. We'll take the newspaper page by page, compare prices, qualities, brand-names. Tomorrow, rain or shine, we'll head for the store that has what we want, and home again in a jiffy.

● "Buying at Home"—through the advertising columns—gives you wide selection, more time to decide, and satisfaction when you decide.

● MAKE IT ONE OF YOUR PLEASANT HABITS!

Phone your news to 12.

DR. F. L. HAYES
DENTIST
Office Over Rexall Store
Phone 21 Garner, Iowa

Entertained Store Force

Mrs. Edna Thada entertained her store force at a dinner at Belmond Monday evening and after dinner took them to the Lyric theatre to enjoy a good show.

Advertisement

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

Jeb Had the Folks in Stitches!

At the Pep Day Night Social, Jeb Crowell had the audience in stitches—doing a take-off on the blustering character who belittles everybody and everything that isn't from his own home town.

Well, we can laugh at that sort of character because from where I sit, Americans are just the opposite. We like to boast a bit perhaps, about the paint job on the new barn, or the missus' style of cooking—but we aren't intolerant of people who don't think or act exactly the same way we do.

In our town, for instance: Some folks like band concerts, others don't—some families serve beer with dinner, others, buttermilk—and as for politics, there's plenty of healthy disagreement.

But when it comes to denying folks the right to think or act as they choose ... no, we're like you—we don't believe in it, whether it goes for serving beer, or speaking one's mind on public affairs.

Joe Marsh

Copyright, 1948, United States Brewers Foundation

Gifts
For Graduates

- Portable Radios
- Electric Shavers
- Light Weight Irons
- Flash Lights
- Electric Clocks
- Electric Drills
- Album of Records
- Record Players
- Heating Pads
- Electric Lanterns
- Food Mixers
- Waffle Irons
- Phonograph Needles
- Carving Sets

See Us For Ideal Electric Gifts
For The June Bride

EVERYTHING IN APPLIANCES AT

Josten Appliance

Edmund K. Josten, Prop. Klemme, Iowa

Felco Feeds

IN ORDER TO GET PROFITS THIS YEAR
YOU SHOULD GET READY FOR EARLY MARKET

Get full value from grains. To do this get FELCO FEEDS.

You won't need a good-luck horseshoe when you use our quality better feeds for your livestock. Vitamin and mineral - enriched to make your animals grow big, healthy and vigorous . . . bring you plenty of profts.

Klemme Coop. Grain Company

"The Farmers Elevator" Glen Bridges, Manager

NOTICE TO RIFLE SHOOTERS

Boys have been shooting rifles on my property at the edge of Klemme and have been disturbing wild ducks and other wildlife. This practice must be stopped or the violaters will be punished according to law. Do not forget it is a Federal offense to shoot at wild ducks out of season.

It would be much bettter if the boys would cooperate with me in my wildlife project so that we can all enjoy better hunting later.

HERB GREIMAN. (2tp)

Saturday Bridge Club

Mrs. Ray Jorgenson, Jr. entertained the Saturday Bridge Club at her home Saturday afternoon. Out of town guests were Mrs. Verle Keraus of Garner and Larry Wicks of Minneapolis. Other guests were Mrs. George Lawhorn and Mrs. A. H. Dulmes.

Mrs. Orville Bridges won the high score in contract bridge; Mrs. A. H. Dulmes, second and Mrs. Keraus, low.

Miss Bernice Tanner Will Teach In California Next Fall

The Misses Bernice and Frances Tanner will soon leave for California, where Miss Bernice Tanner will teach this coming year in the 1st grade of the Salispeudes Elementary School at Watsonville, California.

Try A Times Want Ad.

BRING YOUR CAR TO US FOR

Greasing

AND A COMPLETE SPRING CHANGEOVER

*

In Motor Oil, Transmission, Differentail, Wheels and Chassis.

*

We have the equipment and proper lubricants to give you the best service.

*

See us for your needs in Batteries, Spark Plugs, and accessories of all kinds.

*

Smith's

STANDARD SERVICE
Klemme Iowa

AROUND IOWA

SOME PIG

At Klemme, butcher Martin Barz processed a hog that weighed 930 pounds, alive, and dressed out 670 pounds. That's quite a lot of pork chops and was in fact the biggest hog that Mr. Barz had ever butchered.

DOUBLE TRAGEDY

A few hours after Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Plagmann, now of Cedar Rapids, learned that a son, Harold, had taken his life by hanging, they received word that a son-in-law, husband of their daughter Rachel, was suffering from lukemia and was expected to live only a few hours.

UPSET

Trying to help her husband almost cost the life of Mrs. R. L. Raser, near Dallas Center, last week. When his truck got stuck in a field, Mr. Raser hooked a tractor to the truck and Mrs. Raser attempted to pull the truck out of the mud. The load proved too great and the tractor turned over backwards, pinning both her arms. She received a broken right arm, bruises and shock.

ARSONIST

At Hamburg, Ben Spooner was arrested last week and admitted setting fire to the Austin schoolhouse and a tenant house on a farm near Hamburg. Mr Spooner was taken before the insane commission and committed to the government hospital at Knoxville.

DAUGHTER SAFE

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Bohacek of Tama were relieved to get a letter last week from their daughter, now a school teacher in Bogota, Colombia, in South America. Following the Communist rioting there she reports conditions as "bad" but apparently under control. She does not know when the schools will open again.

FREE REFLECTORS

At Iowa Falls, young bike owners are being given free "reflector strips" for their bicycles, as part of a move to reduce the traffic hazards among the city's 600 bicycle owners.

ACCIDENTS

At Early, Melvin Toomer suffered the amputation of his left arm near the shoulder following an auto-truck accident. In Tama county, young Donald Gebers, of Lincoln, manufactured a home-made bomb. After failing to explode it, he was in the act of throwing the contraption away when it went off in his hand, blowing away part of the flesh. The hand was saved.

Birthday Party Held

Mrs. Henry Ward was honored at a birthday party Tuesday evening when her daughter, Mrs. Melvin Schaefer invited Mrs. Ward's old school girl friends and their husbands to a party at the Ward home. The evening was spent informally and a nice lunch was served by Mrs. Schaefer.

Klemme Town Clerk Resigns

Mr. A. J. Kudje, who has served as Town Clerk for the past 25 years handed his resignation to the Town Council at their meeting Monday night. Mr. Kudje remarked that 25 years was long enough in office and it was time that someone else took over.

She rode the devil's merry-go-round! For the true-life story of a model's experience with sleeping pills read "I Was A Sleeping Pill Addict" in the American Weekly with SUNDAY'S CHICAGO HERALD-AMERICAN.

No Meals

Due to the illness of Mrs. Quandt we will discontinue serving meals for the present, but will continue our lunches and other services.

TOBACCOS
ICE CREAM
CIGARETTES
CANDY BARS

Thank You
QUANDT'S CAFE
Mr. and Mrs. Conrad Quandt

The Methodist Church
Herschel E. Harvey, Pastor

KLEMME

Thursday:

Study Group meet with Mrs. Gerald Koerner at 2:00 p. m.

Choir meet at the church at 7:30 p. m.

SUNDAY

Worship at 10.00 A. M.

Sunday School at 11:00 A. M'

Youth Fellowship will not meet.

Baccalaureate here at 8:00 p. m. Rev. Calvin Grosshuesch will preach the sermon for the graduating class.

LIBERTY

SUNDAY

Church School at 10:15 A. M.

Worship at 11:15 A. M.

Baccalaureate at Klemme at 8 p. m.

AVERY
—The—
Theatre Beautiful
Garner, Iowa

MAY 12, 13
Wednes. - Thursday
LOUIS HAYWARD
JOAN LESLIE
In
REPEAT PERFORMANCE

MAY 14, 15
Friday - Saturday
BILL BOYD
In HOPPY'S HOLIDAY
— DOUBLE FEATURE —
"BURY ME DEAD"
CATHY O'DONNELL
GREG McCLURE

MAY 16, 17, 18
Sun. - Mon. - Tues.
A Glorious Love Story!
KATHARINE HEPBURN
PAUL HENREID
ROBERT WALKER
In SONG OF LOVE

MAY 19, 20
Wednes. - Thursday
D R A M A !
THAT'S MY MAN
Starring
DON AMECHE
CATHERINE McLEOD
With
Roscoe Karns
John Ridgely
Kitty Irish
Joe Frisco

W. S. C. S. Study Group Will Meet Thursday, May 13

The Study Group of the Klemme Methodist W. S. C. S. will meet at the home of Mrs. Gerald Koerner southwest of Klemme this week Thursday, May 13th. Mrs. L. A. Ridder will be the co-hostess.

Buy and sell with a Ti want ad.

DR. E. H. PHILLIP
Osteopathis Physician
Xray - Short Wave Dia thermy and Ultra Viole Equipment
Phone 149 Garner, Iow

K. F. M. Specials

FRIDAY and SATURDAY, MAY 14 - 15
We Reserve The Right To Limit

MONARCH FOODS

Mrs. Tucker's
VEGETABLE SHORTENING — 3 lb. can $1.2

Jack Sprat
CATSUP — 23

P and G
SOAP — 2 bars 19

Week End Special
RICE KRISPIES — 2 for 29

C-Z (liquid)
FLOOR WAX — pt. 49c qt. 79

Dog Food
GRO PUP — box 29

Colonel Pop's
POPCORN (yellow) — 10 oz. can 14

White Pearl
EGG NOODLES — pkg. 14

Del Monte
GRAPEFRUIT — No. 2 can 19

BRING US YOUR EGGS — CASH OR TRA

Klemme Food Marke

Monarch Finer Foods C. A. Larsen, P

Tree Trimmers

WILL IMPROVE YOUR ELECTRIC SERVICE

In order to improve electric service in Klemme, we have engaged the Wright Tree Service of Des Moines to trim all trees that interfere with our lines that carry energy to your property.

This firm of expert trimmers are under contract to get permission from all property owners before trimming any trees. These specialists make every effort to improve the appearance of trees that need trimming in order to provide proper clearances for electric lines.

We want you to have the best electric service possible.

CENTRAL STATES ELECTRIC COMPANY

Quick Truck Delivery
On
Diamond
D-X
ducts of all kinds
Phone 85
NEST HENSCHEN
Klemme, Iowa

thur Wellemeyer
UNERAL DIRECTOR
ith long experince and t equipment.
OMPT AMBULANCE SERVICE
ne 23-R2 Day or Night
mme - Iowa

Announcing

I hereby announce that I am a candidate

Coroner

Of Hancock County

Subject to the will and decision of the voters at the June Primaries.

Kenneth F. Boughton

Veteran Of World War II

Just For Fun

OP IN AT JOE'S PLACE . . .

For a game or two of pool on our new lively-fashioned tables. You will really enjoy playing this fascinating sport. Ladies are welcome and we will be glad to teach you the game.

Joe's Place

Finnegan, Prop. Klemme, Iowa

Seed Corn

FOR SALE

Why not plant some EARLY CORN for dry feed ?

PFISTER 50-A or 52
Real Early

Excellent feeding corn. Also other numbers available.

PFISTER HY-BRED SEED CORN CO.

Walter R. Eisburg

Phone 15R12, Garner, Iowa

KEEP THE FARM SANITARY
2-HOUR SERVICE ON REMOVAL OF

Dead Stock

Phone

KLEMME 580
BELMOND 580

We Pay The Call
Clean Truck With An Efficient Driver In Your Neighborhood Daily.

Belmond By-Products

"Your Home Plant"
Phone 580 Belmond, Iowa.

Rosemary Medin Had Birthday Party Tuesday Afternoon

Rosemary, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Medin was five years old Tuesday so her mother had a party for her in the afternoon which was attended by a number of little folks who enjoyed playing games after which they enjoyed a nice lunch. Rosemary received many nice gifts.

GRADE SCHOOL OPERETTA WAS ONE OF BEST EVER PRESENTED

The Grade School Operetta, "On A Mid-summer's Day," presented by the Klemme grades from the Kindergarten through the 8th grade was one of the most colorful ever presented.

Mrs. Wesley Patterson directed the operetta and was assisted by the several grade teachers. A large crowd was present for the occasion.

NEW FIRM AT GARNER FEATURES READY-MIX CONCRETE THIS WEEK

The Garner Construction Co., composed of Ronald Yohn, Ferd Grell and John Schisel, is this week using the advertising columns of The Klemme Times to tell the world about their new product, Ready-Mix Concrete.

Their new plant is located just northwest of the Milwaukee depot in Garner. Read their advertisement in this issue; it tells all about their new service.

Surprised On Mother's Day

When Mrs. Herman Gast was preparing dinner Sunday, Mr and Mrs. Gast's children and their families all drove up to the house and had well-filled baskets of food for a big dinner in honor of their mother.

Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Gast, Roger and Judy; Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Zwald, Winola and Eugene; Mr and Mrs. Loren Gast and Kathryn; and Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Gibbs and Ronna.

Will Move To Minnesota

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Franklin and son, Donald, formerly of the Klemme vicinity and who for the past year have lived at Rock Falls where Mr. Franklin is janitor of the school, will soon move to Mahtomedi, Minn., where Mr. Franklin has a position as janitor and where Mrs Franklin will teach. Their son, Donald, will graduate this spring and will attend the University of Minnesota this fall.

Court Whist Party Held At The Wesley Patterson Home

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Bulka and Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Patterson entertained a number of young people at a Court Whist party at the Patterson home on Sunday evening.

High scores were won by Mrs Raymond Wille and Ray Jorgenson, Jr. and low scores were won by Mrs. Carol Brager and Maurice Murray.

A nice lunch was served after the games.

Want Ads

For Sale

FOR SALE — SOY BEANS IN Bags, Ben Greiman's variety Roy Arnold (1tp)

FOR SALE—TRACTOR TIRES Have a large stock of rears on hand. Garner Auto Co., Garner, Iowa. (M-8tfc)

FOR SALE — LARGE BRICK Building on Klemme Main Street. Raymond Barz (1tc-

YES WE HAVE IT, NUTRENA Crumblized Chick Feed. For faster gains and less waste We deliver ½ ton lots or more GREEN ELEVATOR CO, Goodell, Iowa. (Apr 14 tfc)

Get your "Thank You Notes" at the Times Office. 59 cents. per box.

Miscellaneous

INSURE WITH HENRY WARD, Klemme for Auto, Personal Property, Farm Liability Insurance. (May 1, '48)

SEE R. W. ELDER FOR HANcock Co. Mutual Fire & Lightning Insurance renewals or new policies. (Apr. 1 pd)

Wanted To Buy

WANTED TO BUY FOR CASH —your used car. Any make, any model. Garner Auto Company, Garner, Iowa. M-8tfc)

Services Offered

FEED GRINDING OF ALL kinds done on your farm. Phone Klemme 76 or Goodell 58561. Carroll Etchen. (j-28-tc)

Lost And Found

FOUND—LADY'S GOOD BOOT size 7. Call at Times Office. (1tc)

Farm Bureau Calendar Of Coming Events

May 13.
Liberty 4-H boys at Paul Zrostlik's. 8:00 p. m.

May 13.
Ell Township Farm Bureau meeting. No. 6 school.

May 14:
Crystal 4-H boys at Orthel's. 8:00 p. m.

May 17:
Bingham 4-H boys at Bayken's. 8:00 p. m.,

May 17:
Avery 4-H boys at Garry Katler's. 8:00 p. m.

May 17.
Magor 4-H boys at Clarence Jurgensen's at 8:00 p. m.

May 18:
Boone 4-H boys at Zuehl's. 8:00 p. m.

May 19:
Orthel 4-H boys at Larry Fox's. 8:00 p. m.

May 19:
Britt 4-H boys at Lloyd Rasmuson's. 8:00 p. m.

Evangelical & Reformed Church

Calvin Grosshuesch, Pastor

PENTESOST SUNDAY
10:00 A. M. Celebration of Lord's Supper.
Offering for benevolence.
11:00 A. M. Sunday School.
8 00 P. M. Baccalaureate Service at the Methodist Church.

Klemme Rural Teacher Gives Afternoon Program At School

Mrs. Quentin Stille, teacher at Twin Lake No. 1 school held an afternoon program and tea party for mother's of her school children Friday afternoon, honoring them for Mother's Day.
All enjoyed a fine time.

B. C. BERGE
ATTORNEY-AT-LAW
Office Over Federated Store
Phone 20 Garner, Iowa

HANCOCK COUNTY REAL ESTATE DEALS

Becker, Elsie, Fred, husband et al to Larsen, Clarence A. 2-2-48 Wty. Deed $1.00 NW¼ Sec. 28-95-24.

Earl E. Josten, Gdn. of property of John Josten to Blumer, E. J. 1-31-48 $1,111 11 undiv 1_6 int. SW¼ NW¼ Sec. 21-95-24.

Earl E. Josten, Gdn of property of John Josten to Larsen, Clarence A. 1-31-48 one sxth int. in NW¼ Sec. 28-95-24 $6,000.

Earl E. Josten, Gdn. of John Josten to Hrubes, John 1-31-48 Gdn's Deed $1,111.11 NE¼SE¼ Sec. 20-95-24.

CURTIS G. RIEHM
Attorney-At-Law
Office Over Federated Store
Res. Phone 133W2
Phone 133 Garner, Iowa

FEDERAL
Land Bank
LOANS
Long Term Low Interest
No Fees No Commission
Wm. F. Johannaber
Secretary-Treasurer
Forest City, Iowa
Phone 50

DANCE

Duncan Community Hall

MONDAY EVENING, MAY 17, 1948

Music By The
VIKING ACCORDION BAND

Everyone Welcome

SHIP BY . . .

Motor Freight

FAST - DEPENDABLE - SAFE
Daily Motor Freight Service
To and From Klemme
By

Yohn Motor Freight

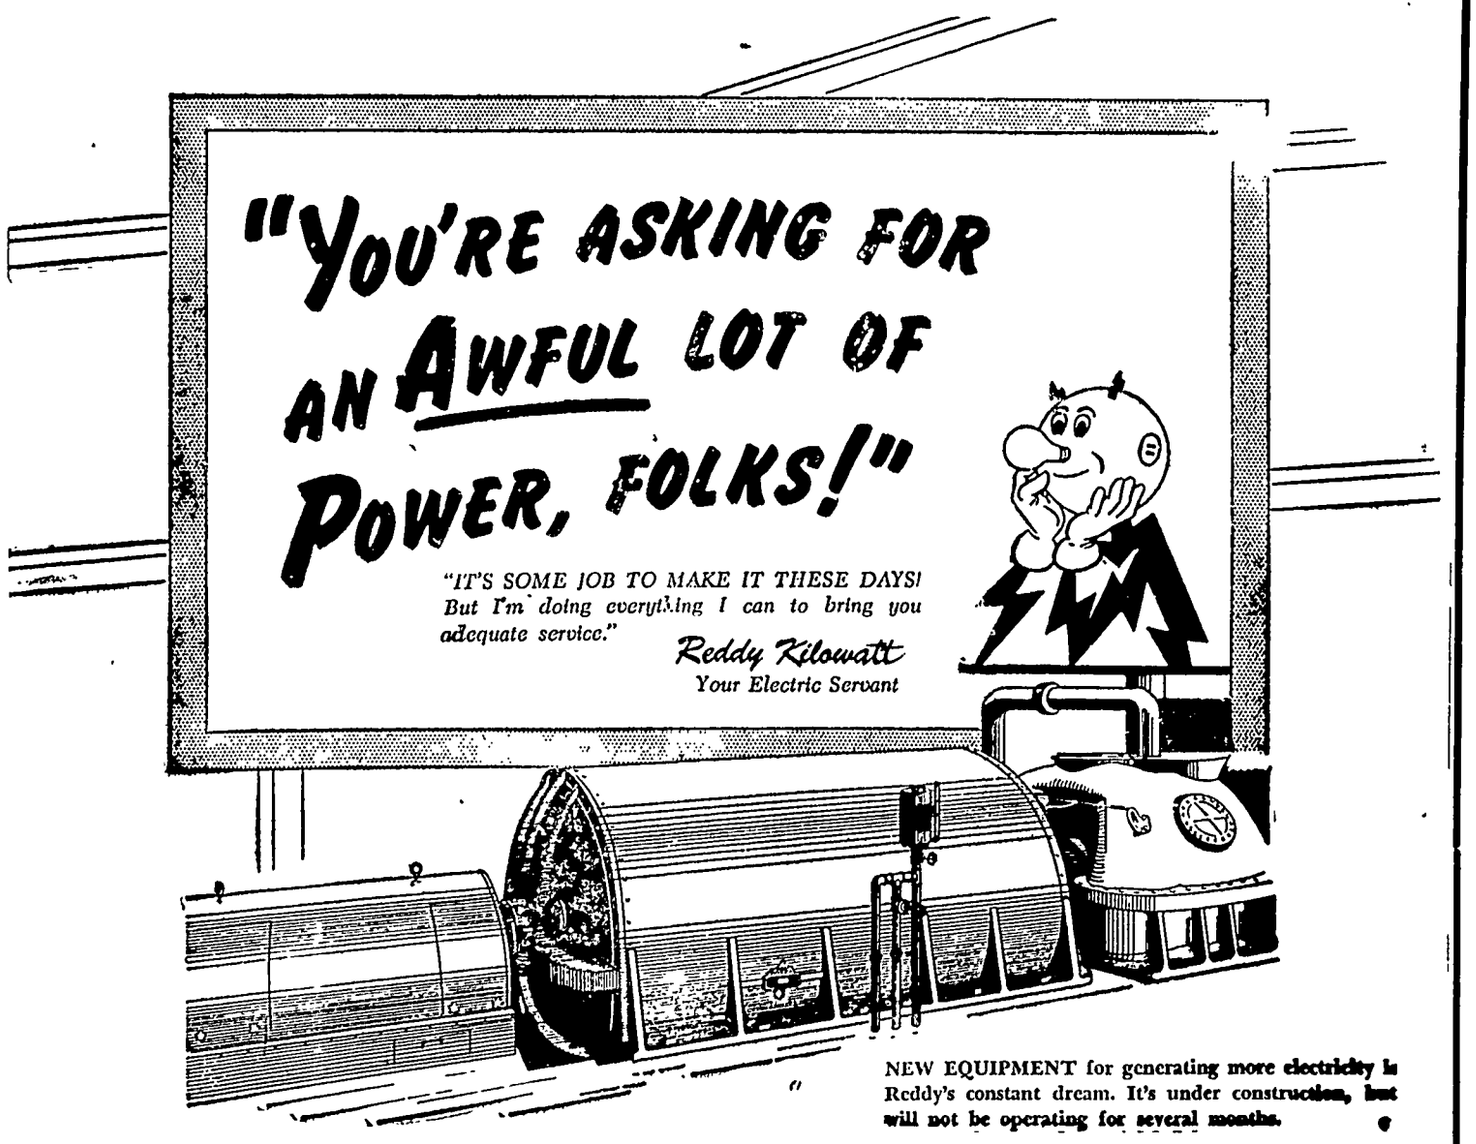
GARNER, IOWA

Curtis G. Riehm

Republican Candidate
For Renomination
For

COUNTY ATTORNEY

Your Vote Monday, June 7, 1948,
Will Be Appreciated



"YOU'RE ASKING FOR AN AWFUL LOT OF POWER, FOLKS!"
"IT'S SOME JOB TO MAKE IT THESE DAYS! But I'm doing everything I can to bring you adequate service."
Reddy Kilowatt
Your Electric Servant

NEW EQUIPMENT for generating more electricity is Reddy's constant dream. It's under construction, but will not be operating for several months.

It takes power galore to make a modern house a home . . . electrically. As appliances become available, you use more electricity. And when your neighbor and mine do the same thing it really counts up fast.

Up to now, Reddy Kilowatt feels very fortunate. Through the fine cooperation of his customers, he has met all demands, except when winter storms gave him a temporary setback.

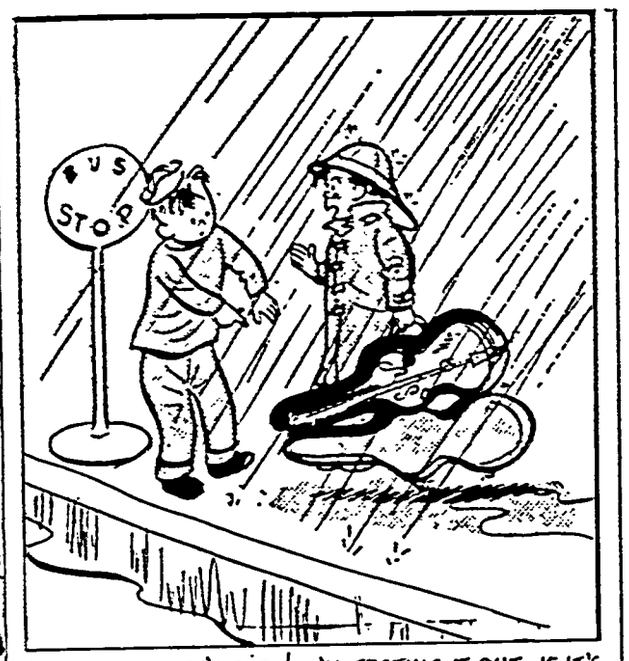
When everyone on heavily loaded lines is using large amounts of electricity, your service may not be quite up to standard. That condition will be remedied as rapidly as materials are available.

Reddy looks forward to the day when an adequate supply of line-building materials . . . and heavy generating equipment catches up with orders. That will mean adequate service to meet everyone's needs . . . in both quality and quantity. Till then, Reddy Kilowatt, speaking for your business-managed electric company, says: "Please be patient."

Central States Electric Co.

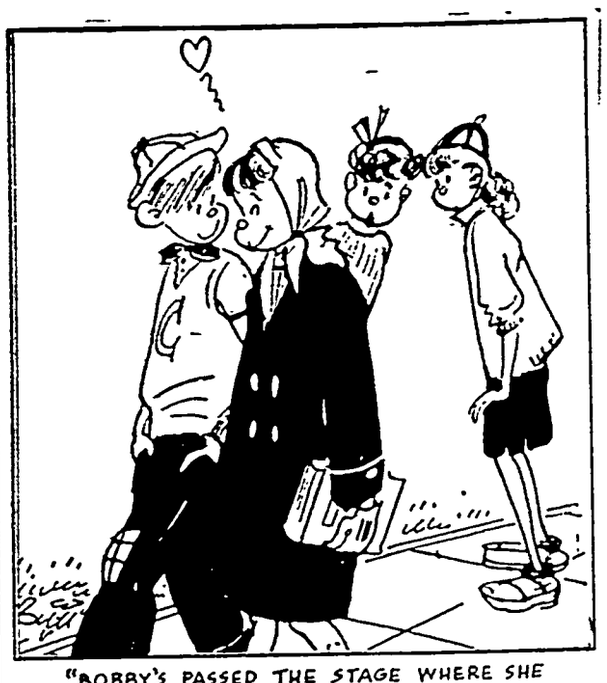
"The Low Rate Company"

Cross Town by Roland Cox

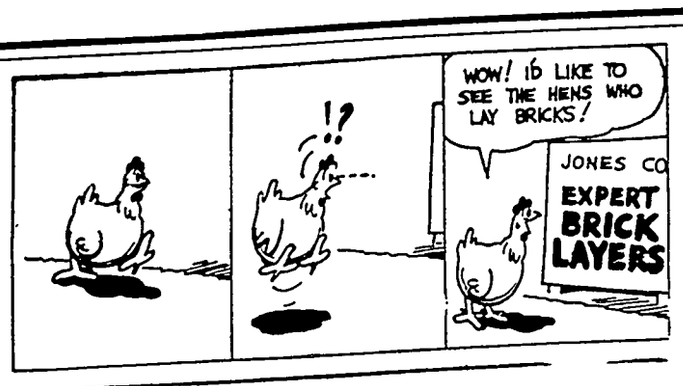


"YEAH, I KNOW IT'S OPEN! I'M TESTING IT OUT. IF IT'S A GOOD VIOLIN, RAIN WON'T HURT IT--IF IT AIN'T, I WON'T HAVE TO TAKE ANY MORE LESSONS!"

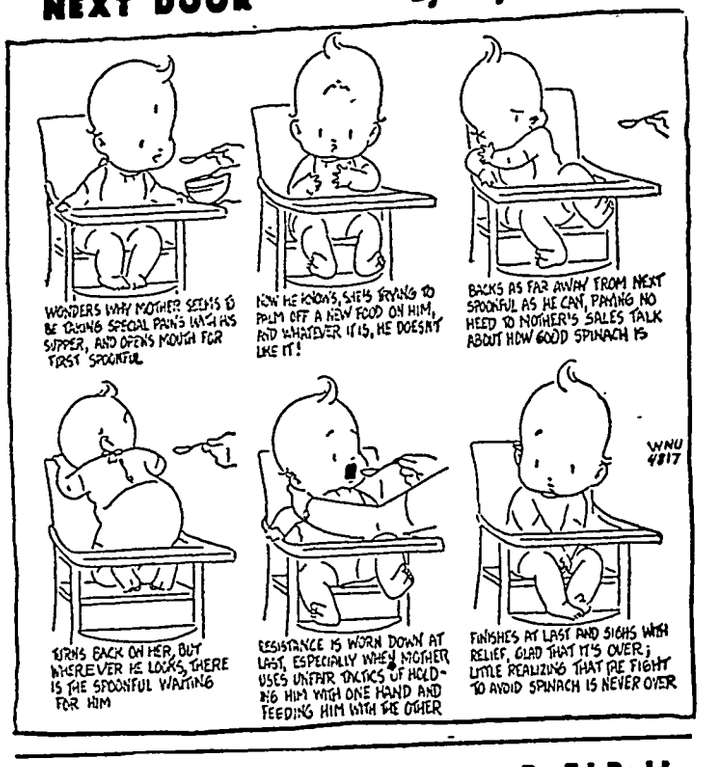
Bobby Sox by Mary Links



"BOBBY'S PASSED THE STAGE WHERE SHE JUST LOVES HIM MADLY -- THIS IS GETTING SERIOUS!"



NEXT DOOR — By Gluyas Williams



WONDERS WHY MOTHER SEEMS TO BE TAKING SPECIAL PAINS WITH HIS SUPPER, AND OPENS MOUTH FOR FIRST SPOONFUL
NOW HE KNOWS, SHE'S TRYING TO PALM OFF A NEW FOOD ON HIM, AND WHATEVER IT IS, HE DOESN'T LIKE IT!
BACKS AS FAR AWAY FROM NEXT SPOONFUL AS HE CAN, PAYING NO HEED TO MOTHER'S SALES TALK ABOUT HOW GOOD SPINACH IS TURNS BACK ON HER, BUT WHEREVER HE LOOKS, THERE IS THE SPOONFUL WAITING FOR HIM
RESISTANCE IS WORN DOWN AT LAST, ESPECIALLY WHEN MOTHER USES UNFAIR TACTICS OF HOLDING HIM WITH ONE HAND AND FEEDING HIM WITH THE OTHER FINISHES AT LAST AND SIGHS WITH RELIEF, GLAD THAT IT'S OVER; LITTLE REALIZING THAT THE FIGHT TO AVOID SPINACH IS NEVER OVER
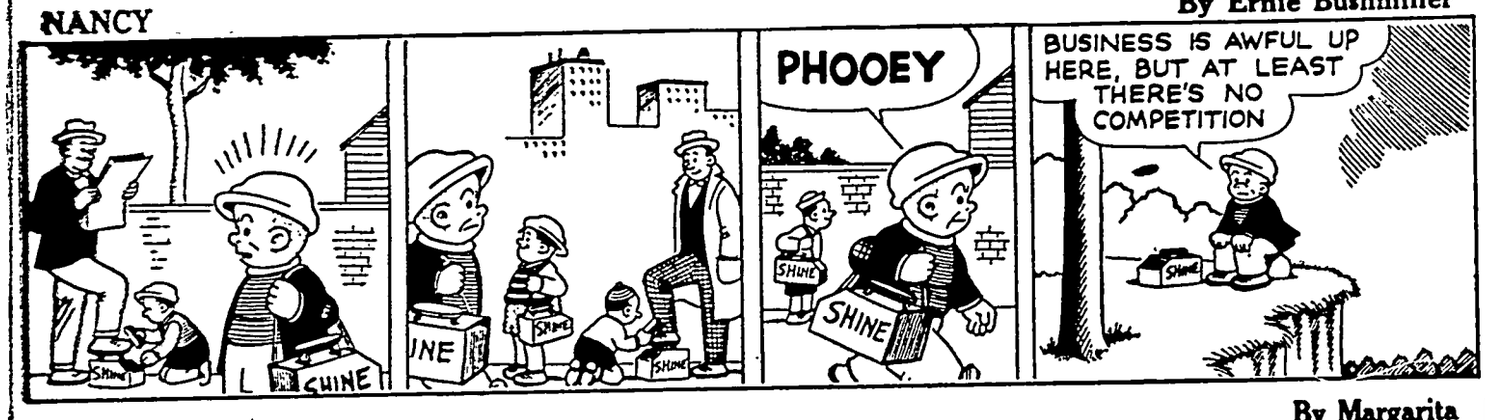
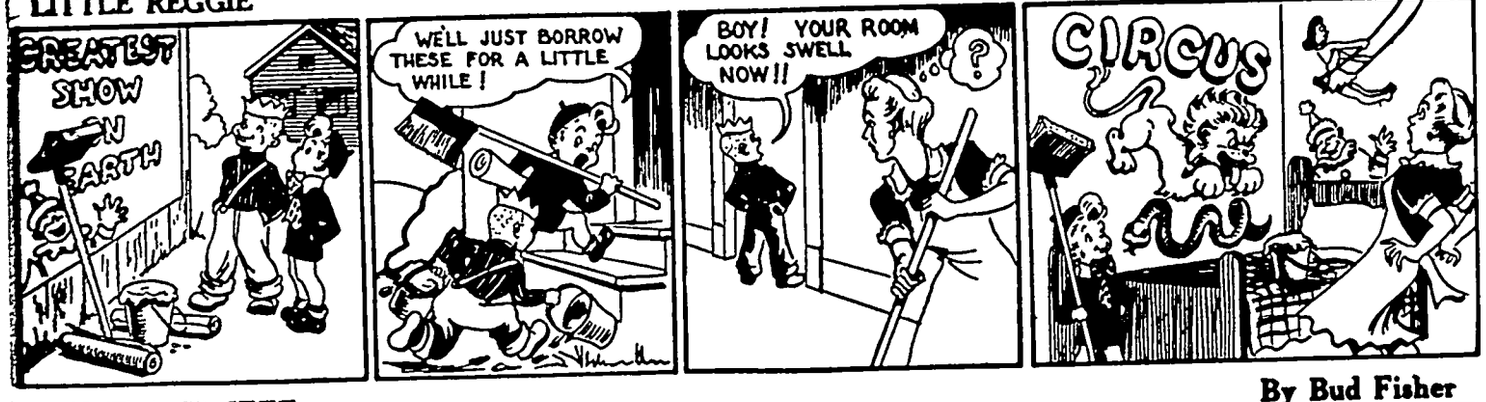
WNU 4817

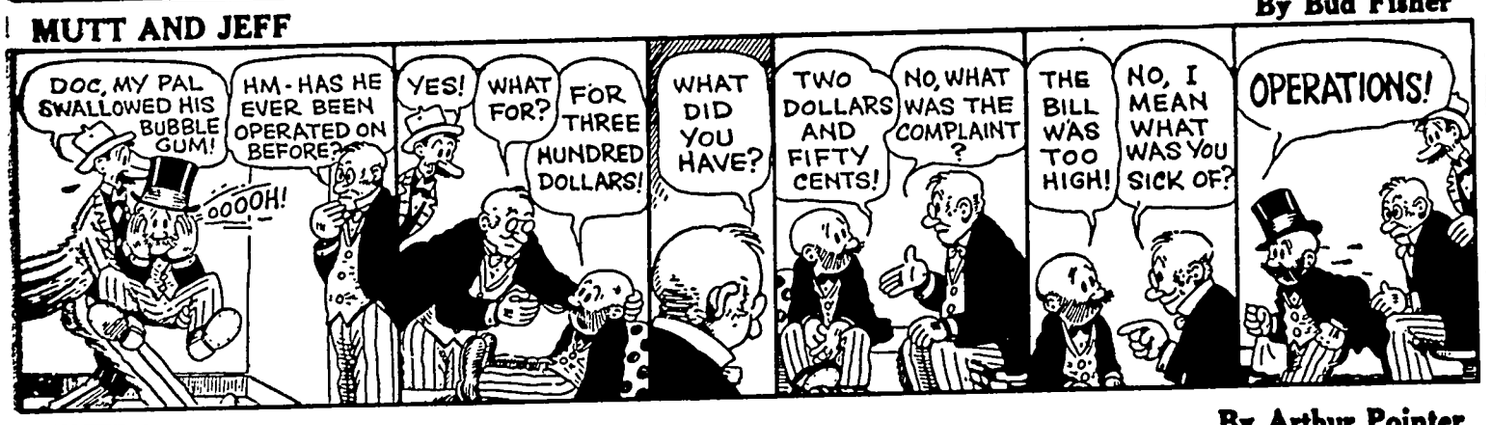
NANCY — By Ernie Bushmiller



LITTLE REGGIE — By Margarita



MUTT AND JEFF — By Bud Fisher



DOC, MY PAL SWALLOWED HIS BUBBLE GUM!
HM - HAS HE EVER BEEN OPERATED ON BEFORE?
OOOOH!
YES!
WHAT FOR?
FOR THREE HUNDRED DOLLARS!
WHAT DID YOU HAVE?
TWO DOLLARS AND FIFTY CENTS!
NO, WHAT WAS THE COMPLAINT?
THE BILL WAS TOO HIGH!
NO, I MEAN WHAT WAS YOU SICK OF?
OPERATIONS!

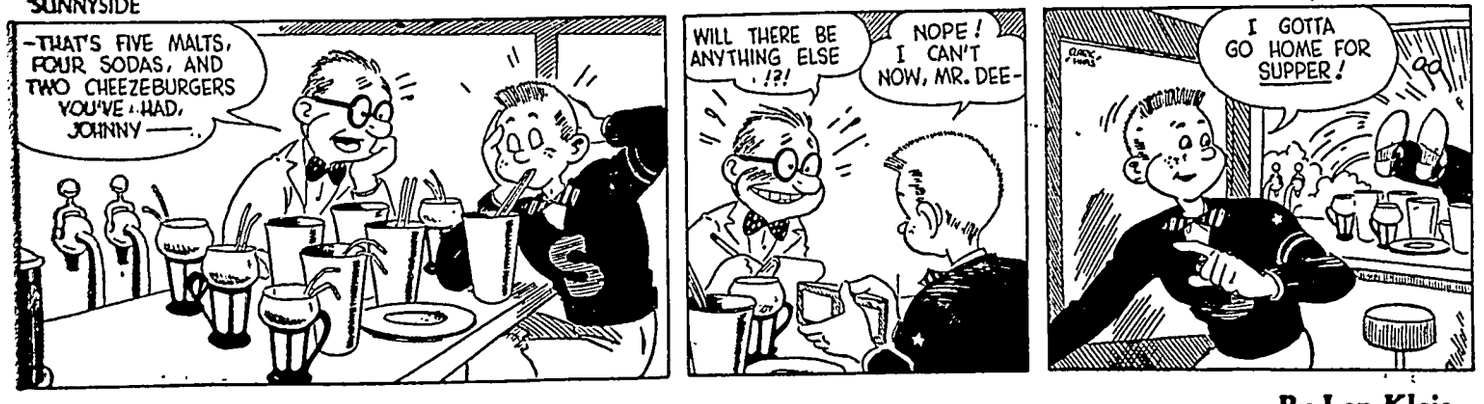
JITTER — By Arthur Pointer

ONE DOUBLE-CHOCOLATE-CARAMEL-NUT-BANANA-WHIP FRAPPE....AND A STICK OF GUM FOR THE MONKEY!
AH!
WHY, FRED...I THOUGHT YOU WERE REDUCING!
OH, HELLO, DEAR. ER...JUST GETTING A LITTLE SOMETHING FOR JITTER'S SWEET TOOTH.
?

REG'LAR FELLERS — By Gene Byrnes

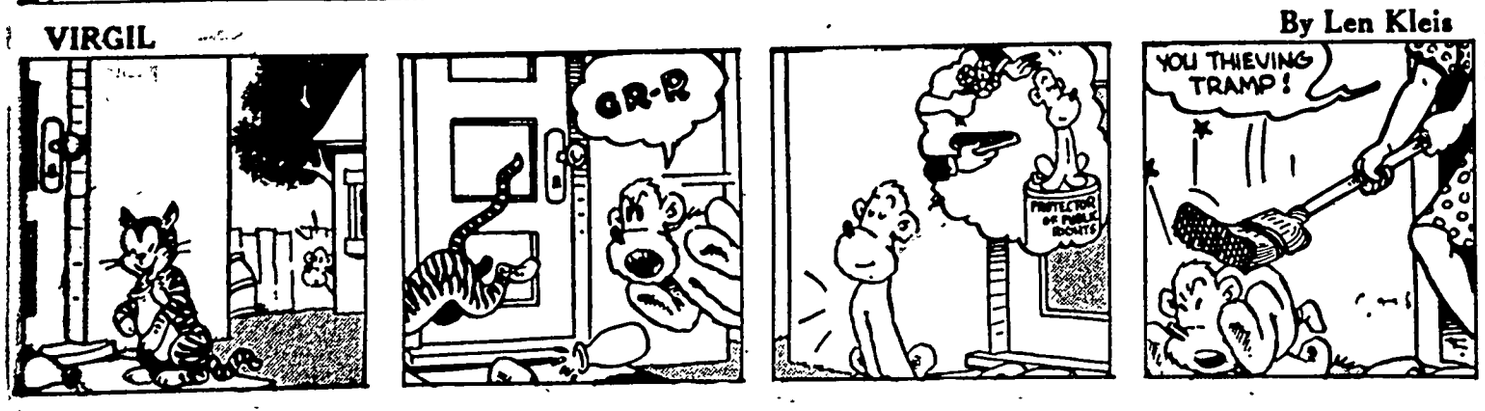
DOES YOUR COUSIN STILL WORK IN TH' MINT, BUMP?
NOPE! OH NO -- HE LEFT THAT JOB A YEAR AGO!
HE WASN'T MAKIN' ENOUGH MONEY!
WHOSE OPINION WAS THAT? HIS OR TH' GOVER'MENT'S?

SUNNYSIDE — by Clark S. Haas



-THAT'S FIVE MALTS, FOUR SODAS, AND TWO CHEEZEBURGERS YOU'VE HAD, JOHNNY ——.
WILL THERE BE ANYTHING ELSE ...?!
NOPE! I CAN'T NOW, MR. DEE-
I GOTTA GO HOME FOR SUPPER!

VIRGIL — By Len Kleis



INKLINGS — By Jarvis

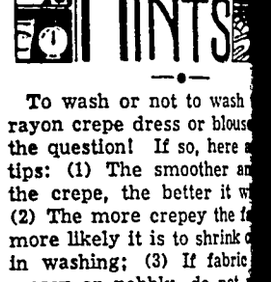
"YOU TOLD ME TO EMPTY THE ASH TRAY, SO I EMPTIED THE ASH TRAY!"

BACK HOME AGAIN — By Ed Dodd

KRNT RADIO THEATER
DES MOINES, IOWA.
2 NIGHTS ONLY—WED., THURS., MAY 19-20
Spike Jones AND HIS Musical Depreciation Revue
featuring THE CITY SLICKERS AND ENTIRE COMPANY
2½ HOURS OF MUSICAL MADNESS
MAIL YOUR ORDER NOW!
Enclose self-addressed stamped envelope.
PRICES: Main Floor $3.66, $3.05; Balcony $3.66, $3.05, $2.44, $1.83, $1.22. All prices include tax.
KRNT RADIO THEATER

Easily Built Automa Auto Garage

If you want a really sturdy some, automatic garage doo it yourself from the patte fered below. The pattern n simplifies building the door t tells how to attach the ne garage door hardware in o make it completely automa upward acting. All materials for building the door are no ly obtainable at lumber ya erywhere. The garage doo ware that makes this door automatic acting door is a available at hardware count lumber yards.



The pattern contains com rections for building an 8 ft. door. It also provides inf for building larger size needed. Realizing the impor style and having a door m exterior sheathing of your h pattern contains directions ing 12 other styles of doo are doors without lights, or 6 lights. Others are so doors that blend in with style houses

Send 50c for Swing-Up Door Pattern No. 86 to Pattern Company, Dept. W antville, N. Y.

HOUSEH HINTS

To wash or not to wash rayon crepe dress or blous the question! If so, here tips: (1) The smoother a the crepe, the better it w (2) The more crepey the f more likely it is to shrink in washing; (3) If fabric mossy or pebbly, do not have it dry-cleaned.

Keep light bulbs and gl from dust: even a light soil can reduce amount of siderably. Bulbs may be and wiped with a damp c must be thoroughly drie they are replaced.

Add a few drops of g the rinse water when wa skin gloves: it helps soft ther.

No fooling,—water dra spaghetti can be used in starch.

SO FAST..PURE..DEPE St.Joseph AS WORLD'S LARGEST SELLE

FATHER, IF YOU READ

come back to us. Mom's n you any more. She said, would have picked that qu Dad if I hadn't felt so Seems she'd been bothered stipation caused by lack the diet. Well, since Grand her off to KELLOGG'S AL Mom has joined the "regul what a difference in her! S off a bowlful of ALL-BR a.m., drinks a lot of w taken to baking swell m from the recipe on the A box. So come on back. home was never like t ALL-BRAN. JA

STOP LIGHTNING DAMA "National Quality" Systems Pre Stroke from Occurring. Write for "Is Lightning Protection Worth NAT'AL LIGHTNING PROTECTIO

Watch You Kidne

Help Them Cleanse of Harmful Body

Your kidneys are conta waste matter from the bloo kidneys sometimes lag in th not act as Nature intende move impurities that, if r poison the system and up body machinery.

Symptoms may be nagg persistent headache, attack getting up nights, swellin under the eyes—a feeling anxiety and loss of pep Other signs of kidney or order are sometimes burn too frequent urination.

There should be no doub treatment is wiser than Doan's Pills. Doan's have new friends for more than They have a nation-wide Are recommended by grate country over. Ask your n

DOAN'S P

Only GOOD MERCH Can Be CONSISTENTLY BUY ADVERTISED

The FICTION Corner

A RIDE IN THE DARK

By LOUISE BERGSTROM

...lights of the blue coupe ...d on in the driveway. ...ho had been watching from ...r window, reached hur... ...the coat lying on her bed. ...slipped into it she made a ...survey of the room to ...she had not forgotten any... ...the door her neatly packed ...stood ready, and even now ...had that deserted, imper... ...tosphere a room acquires ...occupant goes away.

...ightened emotions threw ...tral clarity over the famil... ...Little things she had not ...her weeks sprang suddenly ...A silly little horn hanging ...dresser was a reminder of ...Terry had taken her to ...were still in college. He ...ed her that night for the ...e. The photograph stuck ...dge of the mirror: Terry ...crible grimace pretending ...her throat as she knelt in ...ion in the sand. That had ...en the day the gang drove ...ree Tree Point for a picnic. ..." young we were'" she ...wistfully. "How terribly, ...young! And we'll never ...like that again!"

...hivered and drew her coat ...around her shoulders. For ...was the end of her girlhood, ...of the careless, silly years. ...ught nothing would ever be ...same again. Better, per... ...to yes—far, far better! But ...same, ever again.

...caught her breath in a ...panic, and for one hor... ...despairing moment she ..."I don't want to go ...with it! I'm afraid!"

...With a laughing sigh at her ..., she shook the mood from ...hurried out of the room ...looking back.

...In the car with her suit... ...acked under her feet, she ...comfortably against the ...of the young man behind ...ring wheel.

...Terry, there's a new moon ...Is that a good omen, do ...ence?"

...so, darling." He looked ...down at the delicate oval ...face, childish mop of brown ...the small hands folded ...in her lap.

...ence," he exclaimed abrupt... ...don't you think we should ...your mother after all? ...sure that you want to do ...this?"

..."Terry" She patted his ..."Let's not go into that ...it's too late, anyway. You ...Dear, she thinks I'm still ...She wanted us to wait at ...another year."

...might be right at that," ...replied uncertainly. "Maybe ...too young."

...yourself" She shook her curls ...gaily. "A girl knows when ...ready. Wasn't it lucky ...decided to go to California ...she did? Everything worked ...beautifully. Now she needn't ...worrying about it until it's all ...over."

...Darling," her voice grew pen... ...Why do you suppose it is ...middle-aged people can't seem ...to remember what it's like to be ...married in love? Don't they ...know the beauty and the re... ...urgency? Don't they know ...there has to come a time when ...they want to have it all and even ...that is not enough?" Her ...head lowered, and in the silence ...that seemed the words were like ...a heating.

...She reached down and took her ...hand in a hard grip.

"Joyce, dearest!" he whispered. They were silent then, and the moon-bathed landscape sped past as his foot pressed hard on the gas pedal. It was early spring, and the cool night air blowing in through the car window had the restless, exciting smell of new growth.

At last they were out of the country, coming into the suburbs of a town, where street lights dimmed the moon and houses stood in dark huddled rows.

Terry slowed the car, then suddenly pulled up to the curb and turned to the girl beside him. His arms went around her and his head bent down to hers.

"I love you, Joyce," he said against her soft hair. "Are you afraid of tonight?"

She thought fleetingly of the moment in her room when she said goodbye to her girlhood, but that moment was passed, swept away by the tide of new emotions.

"As long as you love me, Terry," she replied simply, "I'm not afraid of tonight or afterwards." It was quite true; she felt strong now, and confident, ready for anything the future might hold.

He kissed her gently and the car moved forward again, slowly now as though the future had become too precious for any risk. A brightly lighted building loomed before them, and Terry stopped again at the foot of a flight of stone steps. He picked up her suitcase and stepped out of the car, then turned to take her arm.

Joyce looked up eagerly at the words cut over the entrance to the building:

"LAKEWOOD MATERNITY HOSPITAL."

She smiled at her husband gravely, reassuringly, and together they started up the steps toward the welcoming lights.

"How young we were!" she thought wistfully. "How terribly, carelessly young! And we'll never be young like that again."

LET'S TALK ABOUT You

BY CHARLES B. ROTH

The Secret of Good Habits

Because you have been warned so many times against breaking habits, you may have jumped to the conclusion that all habits are bad. But they aren't. I think the number of good habits is greater than the number of bad habits.

You may be astonished when I tell you that being more effective and successful in your life is largely a matter of habit. What I mean is that clever and successful people have formed helpful habits of thinking and doing, while neurotic and unsuccessful people have the wrong kind of habits. That is the chief difference between them.

Look at a habit in this way, and you will see what I mean. What is habit except doing—or thinking—the same thing often enough until doing or thinking it becomes automatic, and you do every customary act in the same way. Such action is called "habitual action." When you think the same thoughts often enough until they have become thoughts that come and go without your bidding, really without your control, you are doing habitual or habituated thinking.

Now, the secret of winning the right kind of personality and place in life is simply to determine a pattern of thoughts that you want to have, and then to think those thoughts and keep on thinking them long enough until thinking them becomes a habit.

Let's say that at the present time you are willy-nilly about everything you do. You can't make up your mind. You waver. You postpone. You can't make decisions.

Those things are a sign of faulty thought habits.

Decide that for one week you will act decisively, even if wrongly, in little things. During that week act, live, carry yourself like a person of resolute habits.

Maybe one week's experiment isn't going to be long enough to overthrow the faulty thought habits of a lifetime, but it will help. It will be long enough to put you on the road to right thinking and to right habits.

Dig deeply enough into the way the person you admire the most lives, and you probably will find that he is controlled by a series of habits—right habits. The sum total of those habits is what gives him his personality, his attractiveness. The sum total of good habits in your life will do just as much for you.

New Army Technique Aids Plane Survivors

GOOSE BAY, LABRADOR. — A new technique for rescuing survivors of plane crashes in the frozen Labrador wastelands by pin-pointing dog-sled teams by parachute has been developed by the air transport command.

The newly developed operation "dogsled" will save precious hours for plane crash survivors exposed to the bitter cold and possibly suffering from injuries received when their craft plunged earthward.

Conceived by Sgt. George E. Abbott, Norfolk, Va., the unusual rescue operation is especially valuable because some areas of the woody terrain in Labrador are so dense that helicopters cannot land.

Huskies, sleds and para-doctors jump from C-47's via the silk chute route and gather together at a focal point where the dog teams are assembled. Then the unit proceeds to the scene of the crash where it administers first aid, evacuates the seriously wounded and provides food.

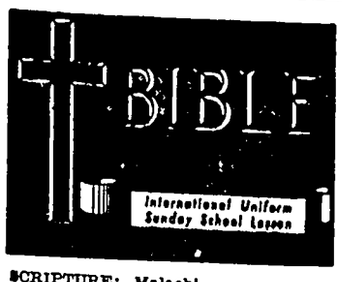
The entire procedure lasts only a few minutes, contrasting sharply with the hours and days that it has taken overland rescue teams to reach some crash scenes in the past.

Twins Are Identical, Even to Toothaches

Six-year-old Janice and Jeanette Washburn of Mattapoisett, Mass., are identical twins—painfully identical.

When they reported to the school dentist, Dr. George M. Teasdale, with toothaches in corresponding molars, Dr. Teasdale insisted he never before had heard of such a coincidence.

To their mother, however, it was an old story. The twins lost the same corresponding first baby teeth on the same day. Similar circumstances also surrounded the loss of their second teeth.



SCRIPTURE: Malachi.
DEVOTIONAL READING: Luke 3:3-6, 15-17.

Malachi Demands Sincere Religion

Lesson for May 16, 1948

GET ready for some straight talk in next Sunday's lesson. Malachi reveals the dark picture of unrequited love, polluted offerings, impious priests, unfaithful husbands. You wonder if Sam Jones has come back to life. He begins by crying, "The burden of the word of the Lord to Israel by Malachi." We shall miss the entire meaning of this lesson if we fail to read every word of the Book of Malachi. We cannot claim any of the promises of a better day, as indicated in the latter section of Malachi unless and until we deal with such hypocrisy as may infest our lives today, even as the priests and people were consumed with iniquity when Malachi prophesied unto them.

Dr. Newton

* * *

GIVING OUR BEST TO GOD

"A SON honoureth his father, and a servant his master; if then I be a father, where is mine honour? and if I be a master, where is my fear?" Malachi 1:6.

How can God bring good out of evil, when his people hold back their best from him? Let us bring it closer home, and ask, How can our earthly parents do their best for us, when we give them half-hearted allegiance?

* * *

OUR BEST IN WORSHIP

PASSAGES in the first, second and third chapters of Malachi reveal the lack of sincerity on the part of the priests in the worship which they offered and which they taught the people to offer. Here we see that unclean hands can never bring an acceptable offering unto the Lord. He looketh on the heart. He knows what is in man.

Using the house of God to make a show before men was one of the shameful evils of the priests in the days of Malachi. It did not fool God then, nor will it fool him today. Unless our worship is an expression of something fine and sincere, he will not accept it.

* * *

THE DAY OF RECKONING

"BEHOLD, I will send my messenger, and he shall prepare the way before me; and the Lord, whom ye seek, shall suddenly come to his temple, even the messenger of the covenant, whom ye delight in . . But who shall abide the day of his coming?"

One would think that such words of warning would have brought the priests and the people to their senses in humble contrition before God; but they continued to disregard the words of God's messenger.

"For, behold, the day cometh, that shall burn as an oven; and all the proud, yea, and all that do wickedly, shall be stubble; and the day that cometh shall burn them up, saith the Lord of hosts, that it shall leave them neither root nor branch."

Thus did God warn. And the day of reckoning did come—a day in which priests and people went down beneath the chariot wheels of the invaders. And once again the warnings of God, though despised, were fulfilled to the last word in the terrible punishment upon those who forgot him.

* * *

THE PROMISE TO THE FAITHFUL

BUT God does not forget those who truly love him, and thus the Book of Malachi closes with the words of promise to the faithful. "But unto you that fear my name shall the Sun of righteousness arise with healing in his wings; and ye shall go forth, and grow up as calves of the stall," Malachi 4:2.

The remnants of those who remained true to God in the midst of a wicked generation were used to perpetuate his witness in the earth. The dark days of persecution could not put out the light of his presence and peace.

Let us pause as we study this Book of Malachi and search our own souls, lest we be guilty of the hypocrisy which destroyed the people in the long ago. With every strand of strength which he grants us, let us do with our might what our hands find to do, and the peace that passeth all understanding will be our portion.

"And all flesh shall see the salvation of the Lord."

* * *

(Copyright by the International Council of Religious Education on behalf of 40 Protestant denominations. Released by WNU Features.)

CLEVER PRINCESS STYLE DRESS
DAINTY SUMMER OUTFIT FOR TOTS

Princess Style

Want something easy to sew with pleasing results? Then pattern 1760 is for you! This clever princess style molds your figure beautifully, has nipped in waistline and flattering keyhole neckline. You can turn it out in no time.

* * *

Pattern No. 1760 comes in sizes 12, 14, 16, 18 and 20. Size 14, 3⅛ yards of 39-inch.

* * *

The Spring and Summer FASHION offers a wealth of sewing information for home dressmakers. Special features, fashion tips, free pattern printed inside the book. 25 cents

SEWING CIRCLE PATTERN DEPT.
530 South Wells St. Chicago 7, Ill.
Enclose 25 cents in coins for each pattern desired.
Pattern No._____ Size_____
Name_____
Address_____

Summer Outfit

An adorable, cool looking summer outfit for your tiny tot. The dainty dress has wing sleeves and lace or ruffling in scallops to trim the skirt. Slip and panties can be worn with all her dress-up frocks.

* * *

Pattern No. 1675 is for sizes 1, 2, 3, 4, 5 and 6 years. Size 2, dress, 1½ yards of 35 or 39-inch; slip, 1⅝ yards; pantie, ⅝ yard.

Send today for your copy of the Spring and Summer FASHION — contains 52 pages of style, color, easy to make frocks for all the family. Free pattern printed inside the book. 25 cents.

Patrick Henry's Old Home To Become National Shrine

For a long time the home where Patrick Henry lived and is buried was forgotten. Now it has become an American shrine.

The Henry home—Red Hill, in Charlotte county, Virginia—which was burned in 1919, is to be restored as it was in Patrick Henry's time, and furnished with the furniture and decorations that Patrick Henry had.

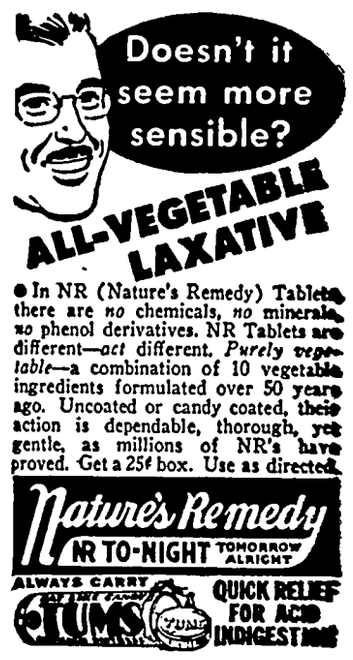
This great patriot won his first fame by demanding for colonial Virginians the rights of Englishmen. He won his greatest fame by demanding for all Americans complete freedom forever from England.

Although a slave-holder, Patrick Henry considered slave-holding an economic curse as well as a social evil. He was a lawyer by profession, and also a very successful politician.

By 1775 war was imminent. On March 23 Patrick Henry offered a resolution to organize the Virginia militia and put the colony in a state of defense. In supporting it he made his most famous speech, which closes with the declamation: "Give me liberty or give me death!"

Indian Skull Deformation

A strange skull deformation practiced by Indians of Mexico and parts of the southwestern United States a few centuries before arrival of the first white men is being studied at Smithsonian institution. It consisted of a marked flattening of the top of the back of the head, presumably by deliberate pressure applied to the heads of infants. In extreme cases it produced what might be described as "three-horned men" with pressure-produced protuberances on two sides and the front of the skull. This was the situation in the first case ever reported, that of a skull found by a French anthropologist about 100 years ago on the Island of Sacrifices just outside Vera Cruz. No other specimens have quite reached the three-horned stage, but some of the individuals must have presented a weird appearance. In some cases the front of the skull also was flattened, producing a high, peaked head.



Doesn't it seem more sensible?
ALL-VEGETABLE LAXATIVE
● In NR (Nature's Remedy) Tablets there are no chemicals, no minerals, no phenol derivatives. NR Tablets are different—act different. Purely vegetable—a combination of 10 vegetable ingredients formulated over 50 years ago. Uncoated or candy coated, their action is dependable, thorough, yet gentle, as millions of NR's have proved. Get a 25¢ box. Use as directed.
Nature's Remedy
NR TO-NIGHT TOMORROW ALRIGHT
ALWAYS CARRY
TUMS
QUICK RELIEF FOR ACID INDIGESTION

They Taste good-good!
Their fresh golden corn flavor makes Kellogg's Corn Flakes the favorite. Good—m-m-m!
Kellogg's
CORN FLAKES
MOTHER KNOWS BEST!

Buy Safe and Sound U. S. Savings Bonds

THAT NEW-CAR FEEL—"like putting on wings"
It's like putting wings on your car when your Sealed Power Franchised Dealer overhauls your old engine and puts in new Sealed Power Piston Rings! He can make your old car, truck or tractor engine work like new, whatever the make, model or cylinder wear condition. You'll save oil. You'll save gas. You'll thrill to its new wealth of surging power! See your Sealed Power Franchised Dealer now!
Send a postal for illustrated, informative new booklet on 7 ways to save oil. It's free and may save you lots of money. Sealed Power Corp., Dept. W5, Muskegon, Mich.
SEALED POWER
SEALED POWER PISTON RINGS
BEST IN NEW ENGINES! BEST IN OLD ENGINES!

9 cubic foot Seaco
SAVES MONEY, TIME and FLAVOR
Save as much as $50 a year on those quantity specials. Save more of your own garden produce. Save extra time-wasting trips to the store.
SEACO'S 9 cubic feet of cold storage space means ample protection for huge amounts of food. And the Super Silent sealed unit means lower operating costs.
All the good, natural flavors in foods are saved with SEACO. The proper-cold features—meat keeper, fruit and vegetable fresheners, ice maker, and main food compartment—keep all foods exactly right.
No extra price for a big, fully equipped SEACO. Stop in and see your SEACO DEALER today, you'll be glad you did!
Seaco Recipe
Gelatine Ecstasy
Dissolve 3 oz. (1 package) strawberry gelatine in 1 pint hot water. Add 1 pint strawberry ice cream to dissolved gelatine and stir until thoroughly melted. Chill till firm in Seaco. Variations: Add fruit, nuts, marshmallow pieces. Use lemon gelatine and vanilla ice cream; Chocolate gelatine and chocolate ice cream.
110-VOLT OR 32-VOLT
3"-3½" FIBRE GLASS INSULATION
SUPER SILENT SEALED UNIT
FULL 5-YEAR WARRANTY
ALL SHELVES REMOVABLE
ONE PIECE STEEL CABINET
OVER 20 SQ. FEET SHELF AREA
Seaco Inc
SIOUX CITY IOWA

...a Sorrowing One
Grace Noll Crowell
RATHER than any priceless gift today
I would bring you comfort if I could.
...be any word that I might say
...your aching heart, dear friend,
I would
...to speak that word, be glad to bring
...solace for your comforting.
...well I know that silence is a part
...sympathy—so great a part, indeed,
...in this first dark moment when your heart
...with shock, silence will meet your need
...than words . . . but let me clasp
your hand,
...by that touch say, "Friend, I understand."

Advertise with a Times want ad.

PHOTOGRAPHS

Live

Forever

RUSSELL

Photo Studio

Next to J. C. Penny Co.
Ph. 2272 Mason City, Ia.

KLEMME LOCAL NEWS

Mrs. Mildred Day spent Friday visiting with relatives in Garner.

Mr. and Mrs. Russel Hansen of near Kanawha were visiting at the E. Geary home Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Asa Arnold and daughters drove to Traer Saturday afternoon to spend Mother's Day with Mrs. Arnold's parents. Mrs. Arnold and the children remained at Traer for a longer visit at the parental Irwin home.

KLEMME LOCAL NEWS

Sunday evening dinner guests at the Roy Arnold home were Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Arnold, Wilbur and Evelyn.

Some hail fell here Sunday evening at about eight o'clock but apparently caused no damage.

Lorraine Wicks, of Minneapolis, spent the week end in Klemme visiting with her parents Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Buntenbach.

Mrs. Blanche Stille, Mrs. Kinden and Benny Lillenbridge of St. Louis came the latter part of the week for a visit in Klemme.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Baack and children were entertained to dinner on Mother's Day at the home of Elsie Baack.

The basement for Mrs. Art Knoke's new home was excavated last week and the cement footing run in by the contractor.

Rev. and Mrs. Boston of Goodell were here one day last week for a visit with Mrs. Della Christie at the Sumner Trumbell home.

Mrs. Rosa Mitchell of Swea City came Sunday evening and visited with her mother, Mrs. Antonio Keraus until today, Wednesday.

Mrs. Ed. Carey and Mrs. Carrie Schultz of Waterloo, and Mrs. C. A. Conklin of Goodell visited at the Sumner Trumbell home Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Lemke and family of Des Moines came Saturday to spend the week end visiting at the parental Otto Lemke home.

Mrs. Lydia Vriesen and daughter, Emilie, of Plymouth, Wisconsin, visited over the week end at the Rev. Calvin Grosshuesch home.

Mrs. C. H. Conklin of Goodell; Mrs. Bernice Waddington and Mrs. Nada Neilsen of Rowan visited with Mrs. Della Christie at the Sumner Trumbell home Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Swanson returned home last week from California where they spent the past several months. They are again living in their farm home east of Klemme.

Mrs. Elmer Arnold and Mrs. Roy Arnold attended the Health Day celebration at Britt on Saturday. They also stopped in at the County Home to visit with Grandma Suckow and Mr. and Mrs. Herman Paul.

Mr. and Mrs. Otto Lemke entertained to dinner on Mother's Day Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Lemke and children of Des Moines, and Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Lemke and daughter of Klemme.

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Keraus entertained Mr. and Mrs. Verle Keraus and children of Garner, and Mr. and Mrs. Otho Keraus of Osage at a Mother's Day dinner at the new Forrester Hotel at Forest City.

John Kaduce, Sr. who a couple weeks ago fractured a vertebrae in his neck in a farm accident, is getting around and recovering. He will be required to wear a rather uncomfortable cast for some time, however.

Mrs. Emilie Arnold, Mrs. Elmer Arnold, Mrs. Roy Arnold and Leona Lau attended a Parent-teacher meeting at Meservey school on Tuesday eveing. Exhibits of the year's work was shown in each room.

Mr. and Mrs. George Thieman entertained to dinner Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Murray and twins; Mrs. Hazel Murray of Mason City; and Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Schneider and Bob of Goodell.

Mr. W. A. Montgomery, who has been visiting with his son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Owen Neuhring since the middle of January left for his home at Stanwood, Iowa. Mr. Montgomery is 85 years of age but gets around remarkably well for his years.

The barn which burned down on Mrs. Frances Swalve's farm south of Klemme on Highway 69 last fall, and which was badly damaged by wind early this spring while being built, has now been completed. It is a fine large barn and is a fine improvement to Mrs. Swalve's farm. Her son, Clarence and family operate the farm.

MISS SEIM AND PRESENT KINDERGARTEN INVITE CHILDREN TO PARTY

The present Kindergarten and Miss Seim invite all the children that plan on entering Kindergarten this fall to a party next Tuesday, at 2:30 in the gymnasium. We would like to have the mothers of the present and next year's Kindergarten to come to the party.

KLEMME LOCAL NEWS

Every Wednesday night be ginning May 26. What? See Times next week.

Rev. H. E. Harvey was visiting at the Elwood Geary home Saturday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. V. E. Harris of Goodell, were business callers in Klemme Saturday afternoon.

Irwin Ax is employed for this spring and summer on the Ralph Ludeke farm south of Clear Lake.

Miss Marjorie Armstrong of Fort Dodge, spent the week end visiting at the Wesley Patterson home.

Mr. and Mrs. Merle Schoenwetter and family were visiting at the Elwood Geary home on Saturday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Ridder visited with his mother, Mrs. Ida Ridder and son at Leland Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Gast visited at the Lester and Edna Bredlow home near Swaledale Monday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Larsen drove to Elmore, Minn. Sunday for a visit with the latter's brother, Walter Yahnke.

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Kluckhohn and children, and Clarence Kluckhohn were dinner guests on Mother's Day at the parental C. E. Kluckhohn home.

Stanley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Ludeke of near Clear Lake, had his tonsils removed at the Mercy hospital last week, Monday.

Maxine Bachman Nettiffee and son of McAllen, Texas, have been visiting for the last couple of weeks at the parental Clarence Bachman home southeast of Klemme.

Tuesday afternoon, Jim Pavey, Mrs. Art Ridenour, and Mrs. Neta Robinson of Garrison drove to Klemme, to wish Mrs. Velona Pavey, a Happy Birthday, as she was 86 years old on May 11th.

Rev. and Mrs. Ruben Grosshuesch have named their new baby Joel Ruben. Their little daughter, Judith, is here visiting her grandparents, Rev. and Mrs. Calvin Grosshuesch this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Carol Brager of Liberty Township entertained to dinner Sunday Merlin Neuberger and family; Mr. and Mrs. Emil Blumer, Cliff Brager and family, Mr. and Mrs. Emil Beier and Granpa Brager.

Mr. and Mrs. D. S. Day and son Gary, of Mason City, drove to Klemme Saturday evening to get Mrs. Mildred Day to spend Mother's Day. Other guests at their home were Mrs. Geo. Petersen and Mr. and Mrs. Bert Mathews of Clear Lake.

Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell Bock, Jimmy and Joyce Ann were dinner guests Sunday at the parental Wm. Bessman home near Dows. In the afternoon, the above together with E. J. Meyers and family visited with Mr. and Mrs. Fred Bessman, grandparents of Mrs. Bock at Popejoy.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray A. Jorgenson, Jr. and children, Judy and Ray III, and Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Jorgenson, Sr. enjoyed dinner Sunday at Hampton with Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Liebendorfer of Mason City; Mr. and Mrs. Bob Liebendorfer and son, Jon of Clear Lake, and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Liebendorfer of Hampton.

Peter West, who has been visiting with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Sumner Trumbell for the last two months, left for his home at Sioux City, Sunday. Mr. Trumbell took him to Humboldt where his other grandparents met him to take him home. Peter says he likes Klemme and had a lot of fun here.

KLEMME LOCAL NEWS

It begins May 26. What? Watch The Times next week.

Miss Peggy Coobs of Des Moines spent the week end and Mother's Day visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Benn Coobs.

Delwyn, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dale Brede of south of Klemme underwent a major operation at the Belmond hospital on Sunday evening

Dean Jacobs, student at Iowa State Teachers College, spent the week end in Klemme visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Jacobs.

Mrs. R. W. Elder drove to Belmond Thursday afternoon for a visit with Delwyn Brede at the hospital and to take him some flowers

Mrs. Edith Izzard of Corwith, mother of Mrs. Roy Jacobs, came Friday to attend the Grade School operetta and for a visit over Mother's Day at the Jacobs home.

Mrs. Eugene Kluckhohn, who has been teaching in a rural school this past year, completes her school year this week. Mrs. Kluckhohn and children will soon leave for Stanhope where Mr. Kluckhohn is in the grocery business.

Early Gardeners

Echard Zeidler has for several years been one of the early gardeners in Klemme Thursday he brought a nice bunch of large radishes to The Times Office as well as a large bowl of lettuce. Mr. Zeidler plants a few early spring vegetables close to his house on the south side with the result . . early, firm radishes.

Now comes Lorinda White and says the Claude White family has enjoyed fresh radishes for the past 2 weeks from a little patch on the south side of their home.

Garner Reformed Church

REV. R. D. STUEBBE

ZION CHURCH:
Sunday.
Worship Services at 9:00 A. M.
Sunday School at 10:00.

PEACE CHURCH:
Sunday School at 10:10.
Worship Services at 11:00 A. M.

Public dumps are a prime breeding place for rats.

Mr. and Mrs. Otho Kera Osage came Saturday afte and visited until Sunday ing at the parental W. C. K home.

GARNER CLINIC
GARNER, IOWA

Dr. E. M. Christensen, M
Physician & Surgeon, Ph.
EYES TESTED — GLASS FITTED

Dr. A. G. Landon, D.D
Dentist, Ph. 207

VOTE FOR

Dr. Frank W. Missman

Republican Candidate For
HANCOCK COUNTY CORONER

Your Vote and Influence Will Be Greatly Appreciated

DEAD STOCK
PROMPTLY REMOVED

TOP THE MARKET WITH GREEN TOP MINERALIZED PROTEIN FEED — NATIONAL BY-PRODUCTS

Britt Rendering Co
Dept. of Agr. Lic. No. 22

WE PAY PHONE CHARGE
KLEMME Phone 700
GARNER Phone 4000

Our Trucks Are Steam Cleaned After Each Load

TANKAGE AND MINERALIZED FEED FOR SALE AT OUR PLANT

Greetings

1948

GRADUATES

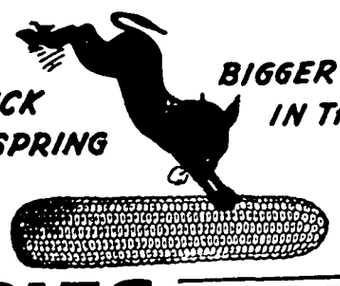
VISIT OUR STORE FOR NICE GIFTS . . .

We have a nice selection of useful gifts for both the Girl and Boy Graduate:—

Evening In Paris Sets
Jewelry of all kinds
Toilet Sets
Leather Wallets
Comb & Mirror Sets
Electric Shavers
Safety Razors
Fountain Pens
Wrist Watches
Alarm Clocks
Kodaks
Cosmetics
Compacts
Lip Stick Holders
Hair Oil - Tonics
Salem Cook Books
Home Permanent Sets
Sun Glasses
Tennis Racket
Golf Bag
Watch Chains
Necklasses
Pearl String
Bracelets
Ear Rings
Watch Bands

The Corner Store

R. A. Jorgenson, Jr., Prop. Phone 10



HAGIES HYBRIDS, INC.

CLARION, IOWA

ELMER SCHAEFER — GARNER, IOWA

BPS BARN PAINT RED
A BETTER PAINT THAT LASTS LONGER
Holds its bright red color . . . does not fade out like so many cheaper barn paints often do.
Resists all kinds of weather conditions.
Can be liberally reduced with linseed oil.
Spreads on easily . . . covers well.
Use it on barns, silos, outbuildings, fences, bridges, warehouses and all wood, brick or metal surfaces.
ALSO FOR METAL ROOFS— BPS BARN PAINT RED is the ideal paint to use on galvanized iron or tin roofs.
BPS BARN PAINT RED
SARGENT PAINT

Northern Lumber Co.

FARM IMPLEMENTS

Phone 49 Klemme, Iowa

Ready - Mix Concrete AVAILABLE NOW

SPEEDS WORK — SAVES MONEY
HELPS BUILDERS DELIVER QUALITY WORK

Do Your Concrete Work the Easy Way with READY-Mix - High Quaility Economical Concrete

Delivered To Your Job Site

- Fast, prompt delivery, any time, any place.
- No mess to clean up, dumped exactly where wanted.
- "Mix" that is accurately proportioned for your job.
- Full strength, reliability and uniformity in every load.
- Low price delivered — no gamble on cost.

TO FARMERS — We can sup Ready—Mixed Concrete for kind of job — Foundations, Sa tary Dairy Barn Floors, Feed Floors, to pave a muddy barny or other farm improvements.

OUR READY-MIXED CONCR is uniformly dense, enduring strong — as you expect of g concrete. The "mix" is right the use intended.

CONCRETE is the modern way to build firesafe, long-lasting impr ments, moderate in first cost and requiring almost no maintenance. is truly low annual cost construction.

"PHONE THREE - EIGHT - SIX FOR READY MIX"

Garner Ready - Mix Concret and Construction Co.

Phone 258-J Ferd Grell — Rohn Yohn — John Schisel Ge

OFFICIAL COUNTY PAPER

THE KLEMME TIMES

Volume 53. KLEMME, IOWA, MAY 19, 1948 Number 27.

Summer Movies Begin Next Wednesday Night For Season

HIGH CLASS MOVIES WILL BE SHOWN HERE EVERY WEDNESDAY NIGHT

The Very Newest And Latest In Equipment And Pictures Will Be Used

Klemme's first movies for the season will be shown next Wednesday night, May 26th. It is planned to show out-of-doors, but arrangements have not been completed so they will probably be shown in the Community Hall.

The Very Newest

The sound equipment and projectors being brought to Klemme are the very newest type obtainable. The picturs selected are of the very highest type and wholesome, that could be shown in your own home or in your church.

A variety of pictures will be shown. The first picture, just released and a first-run show is "Oklahoma Frontier," starring Johnny Mack Brown. In addition there will be a short and a comedy to round out the program.

May Be Permanent

It is quite possible that this new equipment will be purchased by a couple of enterprising young Klemme men. This would assure Klemme of year-around movie entertainment.

Bring your family to Klemme Wednesday night and see the first show of the season. Both young and old will enjoy this program.

Mother Daughter Banquet

The Eastern Star Chapter of Garner will have a mother and daughter banquet and program on Wednesday evening, June 2nd at the Chapter room in Garner. Klemme ladies who want to attend should make their reservations now with Mrs. Fred Arnold.

Work Circle Will Meet

The Work Circle will meet at the Methodist Church Thursday, May 20 with Mrs. Lee Ridder as Worship Leader and the hostesses are Mrs. Art Wellemeyer and Mrs. Mary Waterman.

The ladies will work on a quilt and will also clean the kitchen and wash windows.

BERNARD TAFTEY WEDS MISS DELLA REUBEN

Ceremony Performed By The Rev. C. Grosshuesch

Lighted candles and the altar banked with lilacs and baskets of spring flowers formed the beautiful setting for a double-ring ceremony at the Evangelical and Reformed Church at Klemme, on Wednesday evening, May 12th at 8:00 p. m., when Della G. Reuben, daughter of Mr and Mrs. William Reuben, and Bernard H. Taftey, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Taftey all of Kanawha, were united in marriage. The Rev. Calvin Grosshuech performed the ceremony.

Preceding the ceremony the candles were lighted by the ushers, who were Carolynn Albers and Jim Hartwig, while Mrs. Wm. Rheinhart played the organ. Miss Avis Jean Taftey, sister of the groom, sang, "Because" and "The Lord's Prayer", accompanied by Mrs. Wm. Rheinhart of Klemme.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a cream skinners satin gown, with sweetheart neckline, leg-o-mutton sleeves, and short train. Her finger-tip veil was edged with lace and was held in place with a tiara of orange blossoms and seed pearls. She wore white satin sandals, and her only jewelry was a single strand of pearls, a gift of the bridegroom. She carried a shower bouquet of pink roses.

Mrs. Bill Mewes, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. She wore an aqua formal with matching shoulder length veil. She carried a colonial bouquet of sweet peas and roses.

Mrs. Merlin Lowenberg, friend of the bride, was bridesmaid, she wore a pink formal and matching veil. She also carried a colonial bouquet.

Out of town guests were Rev. and Mrs. B. F Molstre and family of Beresford, South Dakota; Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Mohn of Canby, Minn.; Mrs. Harvey Heggen of Minneota, Minn.; Mr. and Mrs. Orville Hovey and Sylvia and Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Linderbaum and family of Cresco, Iowa; Mr. and Mrs Andrew Scott and Mrs. Casey Zdun of Prosper, Minn.; Mr and Mrs. Clarence Iverson of Clarion, Ia.; and Mrs. Anna Thompson and family and Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Barmore of Eagle Grove, Ia.

CLASS PROPHECY

Seniors of 1948

—By Bud and Ralph

This evening we will take a look into the future of the class of 1948 of Klemme High School 10 years from now We now find ourselves in Spokane Washington. As we stop at a fine fruit stand, who should we see but Donna Heivilin. She is now a luscious redhead, but believe it or not she is still single! Our next stop is Hollywood California. Looking in on the MGM studios we see the first scene of a new picture, "Sweetheart of Clemmy Hi," starring Betty Kramer.

Deciding that we have seen enough of Hollywood, we hop across the border to Reno, Nevada, where Melvin Howard runs the largest gambling joint in the state. He states that it is a very good business, and we notice he wears a 2 carat diamond on each finger. A former classmate, Esther Hartbeck, is now his beloved wife.

Hurrying to catch a bus we purchase a ticket on a bus bound for a dude ranch in Wyoming. When almost to our destination, the bus draws to a screeching halt, while a huge herd of cattle are being driven across the road by "Wild Trigger Smith," an expert cowgirl. Trigger says she enjoys her occupation very much. She mentions something about a piano concert to be held in Cheyenne, and that we should see it. So we obtain reservations on a plane to Cheyenne. Upon landing we notice a billboard advertising the concert, and who should be the star of the show, none other than LaVonne Beier This is a surprise to us. We enter the coleseum, soon the show begins Madame LaVonne takes her place at the piano, and begins to play. Well, what do you know, she still plays in her old style, that is banging on the black keys trying to get them level with the white one. After the concert we stop at Hotel Katuin owned and operated by multi-millionaire, Ben Katuin He invites us to be his guest for the night. We don't like the climate of the mountains, so we again hop a plane, this time to Texas. Approaching the great oil fields, we decide to look into the process of oil refining As we enter the office of the manager of the Wille Oil Corporation we are greeted by our old friend Darwin Wille Due to his lasting shyness he is still single, but has been a successful business man.

Tired of riding mechanical devices we decide to take a ride on a horse Journeying to a nearby ranch we find the owner Esther Klinge giving a cowhand a severe bawling out for not saddling a horse right. In the conversation with Esther we find that she has been a very ambitious rancher, and now owns a 10,000 acre ranch.

As our traveling funds have run low we are forced to ride a freight train. Upon joining some bums in a discussion we find our old classmate Ralph Nuehring. When questioned as to his occupation he replies that he does nothing in particular except eat. He said he wanted to see the world and decided this would be the cheapest way of traveling.

The next thing we know we are looking down the broad Mississippi then across to New Orleans We find Harlan Carolus running a used car lot. He has a gorgeous blonde bookkeeper, but to her we need no introduction, for she is also a former classmate, Erdene Nelson. Because we are old friends Harlan gives us a 1910 model "T" Ford to travel in.

Chugging along in our model T through the Ozarks of Missouri we are unfortunate enough to have a flat tire. Because it is late in the evening we must find a place to lodge for the night. After walking down a narrow cow path for about a half hour a small house comes into view, and who should answer our knock, but Kathryn VeLau the wife of an Ozark Hill-Billy. After spending the night with "Fritz" we suddenly become home sick for our home state so we cruise back to Iowa in our model T. Along highway 69 into Klemme we sight a billboard that says "Albers for Mayor". As we approach the great city of Klemme, a large crowd on the corner of Main Street is attentatively listening to a campaign speech being delivered by Carolynn Albers. After his speech we congratulate him on his great success in politics. Picking up the morning edition of the Klemme Times, we see where a prosperous young farmer by the name of Leland Hummel and Beulah Goll are engaged to be married. What a surprise, Leland finally popped the question Another article in the Klemme Times catches our eye, announcing the purchase of the Goodell Loan Co. by Lois Stille. Lois will probably be able to make good use of her bookkeeping skill attained in KHS. On our way across country we come upon a little red school house and there seems to be quite a commotion going on inside, being curious we look in a window and see the teacher punishing a small child by putting his finger in the pencil sharpener, now the teacher turns her face to us and its none other than Ruth Kurtz. While talking with Ruth we noticed a cartoon of the Des Moines Register with the cartoonist's name in the corner "C. Lewis". Yes that is Charlotte alright, says Ruth, she is chief cortoonist of the Des Moines Register.

While traveling through a village in Indiana we stop in on an old friend Bill Jones. He is now the manufacturer of one of his own inventions, a rubber-tired garden rake, Bill tells us that we should visit the Indianapolis Speedway. Who should we meet there but Bud Montgomery, making good use of his high school driving experience as the driver of a hot rod.

Drifting across country we come to Brooklyn, New York, the home of the Bums. As we are Dodger fans we stop in to see a game. As we near the Bums dugout, we are greeted by a handsome, well-built bat boy, Ed Grosshuesch. As Ed always did like baseball, we know he likes his job.

Having seen most of the United States, we'll hop across the ocean to Paris, France. First we must obtain reservations on a plane ot Paris. After finding a phone booth we place a call to the airport. When given our number the operator giggles, anyone knows that belongs to Shirley Stille

On the way to the airport we stop in to see Ruby Ella Anderson now a Powers model, my how time changes things.

Next we board the plane for Paris. Upon arriving at Paris we stop at Louie's Bar and Billiards, the largest in the world, owned by Laverne Lewis. He also employs two fine young ladies who dance on the bar They are also former classmates, Alice and Loretta Anderson. Also dining in Louie's is Leiutenant Colonel Richard Finders. He has done well in his army career and says he hopes for further promotion in the near future While in Paris we decide to look up another old classmate, Helen Suckow, a dress designer She says she is rather unexperienced in the business but with a very capable assistant, Irene Menage, she thinks she will do a good business.

Now let's journey to Moscow, Russia. Here we find Billy Lacey as the newly appointed United States ambassador to Russia. He likes his position, but would like to take a vacation to Hawaii. As we have never been there, we decide to make one more visit before bringing our journey to an end.

Entering Hawaii we purchase a morning paper, and who should be running an advertisement but Rose Schaefer. The ad states that she is running a dancing school and is one of the best in the world. Being her life-time ambition to become a dancer, Rosy is well satisfied with her work.

Having accounted for the senior class of 1948 we shall return to the present. And another thing to rmember is, that if any of this proves true in 1958 it is purely coincidental.

School Calendar

May 19 --- 8th Grade Exercises
May 20 ------- Commencement
May 21 ---------- Picnic

Picnic

SCHOOL PICNIC FRIDAY WILL BE HELD IN KLEMME PARK

The annual school picnic will be held Friday noon at the Klemme Park.

This is a community affair and everyone is invited whether they live in town or in the country and whether or not they have children in school

Families coming are asked to bring two covered dishes and enough sandwiches for their own family.

Hot and cold drinks and ice cream is free gratus.

Report Will Be On Air

Tune in KGLO, Thursday, May 20th, 11:45 a. m. A report of the recent county-wide preschool conference and dental parade will be featured Junior Red Cross Chairman and County Nurse will give the report from Hancock County.

LORRAINE WICKS GOES WITH NORTHWESTERN AIR LINES

Lorraine Wicks has completed her air hostess training in Minneapolis and has secured a position as a hostess with the Northwestern Air Lines out of the Twin Cities. She will begin her duties soon.

BUSINESS PLACES WILL CLOSE MONDAY, MAY 31

As Memorial Day, May 30th comes on Sunday this year, the business places will be closed on Monday, May 31st.

When holidays come on Sundays, business places have agreed that they will be closed on the following day. This will also apply to July 4th this year which comes on Sunday. The business places will close on Monday, July 5th. Bear these dates in mind

SURPRISE BIRTHDAY PARTY HELD FOR MRS. ERIC MEYER SUNDAY EVENING

Some 45 relatives and neighbors met at the Eric Meyer home Sunday evening with well-filled baskets and held a surprise birthday party for Mrs. Eric Meyer.

The evening was spent informally after which a nice lunch was served by the self-invited guests who also presented Mrs. Meyer with some nice gifts, and flowers.

Those present besides the Meyer family included Mr. and Mrs. John Beinhuis and family; Mr. and Mrs. Louis Griffen and Mable; Mrs. Langlitz and Forrest; Mr. and Mrs. Herman Schmidt and son.

Mr. and Mrs. Wiley Weaver and son; Mr. and Mrs. Herman Meyer and family; Mr and Mrs. and Mrs. Carl Finders; Miss Betty Meyer; Mr and Mrs LuVerne Christenson and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Meyer of St Paul, Minn.; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hougland and daughter; Mr. and Mrs. Bodie Blank and son; Mr. and Mrs. Fred Olthoff and daughter.

Black Top Street Program Cut Down By Objections

OLD DUTCH MILL THEME OF JUNIOR-SENIOR BANQUET

The annual Junior-Senior Banquet was held at the high school gym Saturday evening, May 15th with Iris Rosendahl, Junior as Toastmistress.

The gym was beautifully decorated in a setting depicting Holland and the Old Dutch Mill. The menu and program was also carried out in Dutch:

MENU

Gardeners Favorite Dutch Caps
Grassy Knolls Pretty Pinafores
Tulip Varieties
Festival Treat
Dutch Shoes

Miss Rosendahl welcomed the Grads and introduced the several program numbers. Supt. A. L. Kingery talked on "Over The Dutch Hills," and W. L. Patterson on "By The Garden Gate."

A Dutch Trio, composed of the Misses Beverly Beier, Gloria Haefner and LaNelle Harvey entertained with songs.

Miss Charlotte Lewis presented the Class Will while Bud Montgomery and Ralph Neuhring looked ahead into the future with their "10 Years Hence."

Dick Finders, Senior responded with his "Danke Schoen" which closed the program.

Engagement Announced At Shower and Party Saturday

Mrs. Ed. Jacobs honored Miss Carlene Severson, of Webster City at a towel shower at the Jacobs home Saturday afternoon. Court Whist was played and high scores were won by Mrs Verner Priebe and Mrs. Leo Esbeck.

After the games Miss Severson opened her gifts after which the hostess served a nice lunch at four tables which were decorated with sweetpeas.

Favors were small rings into which had been inserted a slip of paper announcing the engagement and approaching marriage of Miss Severson to Elwyn Jacobs. The wedding will take place May 29th.

Out of town guests besides Miss Severson, was her mother, Mrs. Esther Severson of Webster City; Mrs. Ameli New and Mrs. Louisa Wistey of Clear Lake; Mrs. Glenn Wistey of Cedar Falls; Mrs. Earl Schaeffer of Forest City and Mrs. Leo Esbeck of Ventura.

TWELVE BLOCKS COULD BE GIVEN BLACK TOP SURFACE

Main Objection Claims Drainage Inadequate In Some Sections

The hearing of the proposed black top street program was held by the Town Council at the Community Hall Friday evening which was attended by a large crowd.

The contractor was present and explained in detail the black top program and construction and preperation of streets, base, drainage, surfacing, etc.

Attorney Frank Senneff of Britt appeared for the objectors to the program and read the petitions against the program. The main objections on the petitions seemed to be that drainage was thought to be inadequate, cost too high at this time, the program not a neccessity nor feasible. The bulk of objections on petitions were on the south side of Main Street, however, there were also some objection filed north of Main Street.

However, there are a great many property owners in favor of improving the streets adjacent to their property. The black top contractor informed the Council that if necessary he would consider returning here if 12 blocks could be put in the program.

A check-up reveals that this could be possible and that connecting streets could be improved if desired. However, there has been no action on the matter, and further investigations into the project would be advisable.

Republican Women Will Meet

The Hancock County Council of Republican Women will hold a Rally at 2:00 p. m. at Hull's Cafe Saturday, May 22nd.

A special invitation to all Hancock County Republican Candidates has been extended. The Central Committee Chairman, Attorney G. W. Templeton will present the candidates.

Senator Knudsen will be the main speaker.

Garner Republican Club will be hostess and refreshments will be served.

Everyone is urged to attend.

Mrs. C. H. Tompkins
Hancock County Chairman

Commencement

High School Gymnasium

Thursday, May 20, 1948

8:00 O'clock P. M.

—khs—

Program

Processional ---------- Gloria Haefner
Invocation ---------- Rev. Calvin Grosshuesch
"God Bless Our Native Land" -------- Audience
Address ------ "Anchors For Our Ship Of State"
Rev. H. P. Rumford
"All In The April Evening" ----- Mixed Chorus
Honor Awards ---------- W. E. Patterson
Presentation of Class of 1948 ---- A. L. Kingery Presentation of Diplomas -------- Glen Bridges
President, School Board
Benediction ----------Rev. H. E. Harvey

KLEMME HIGH SCHOOL
Class Of 1948

—khs—

Class Roll

Carolyn Albers
Alice Anderson
Loretta Anderson
Ruby Anderson
LaVonne Beier
Harlan Carolus
Dick Finders
Beulah Goll
Ed Grosshuesch
Esther Hartbeck
Donna Helvilin
Melvin Howard
Leland Hummel
William Jones
Ben Katuin
Esther Klinge
Betty Kramer
Ruth Kurtz
Billy Lacey
Charlotte Lewis
Laverne Lewis
Irene Menage
William Montgomery
Erdene Nelson
Ralph Nuehring
Rose Schaefer
Ruth Smith
Lois Stille
Shirley Stille
Helen Suckow
Kathryn Velau
Darwin Wille

Class Flower: White Rose

Class Colors: Orchid and White

Senior Class Motto

"With the ropes of the past, we will ring the bells of the future."

Cross Town by Roland Coe

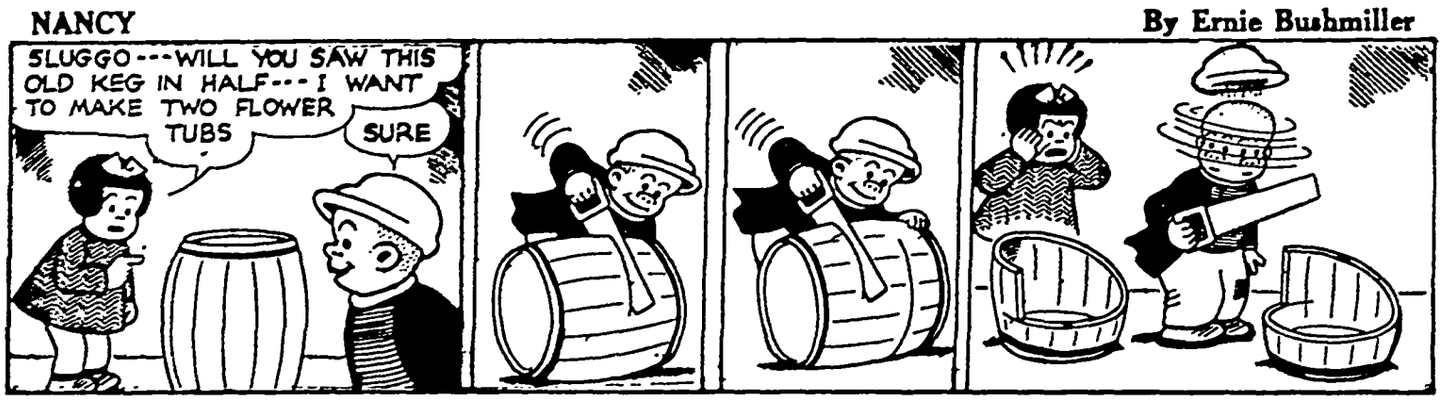
"ARE YOU CHILDREN MEMBERS OF THIS CLUB, BY ANY CHANCE?"

Bobby Sox by Mary Linke

"IS IT TRUE CONNIE, THAT YOU GOT A LETTER FROM NEAL MARKED 'PERSONAL AND PRIVATE?' ---I'LL BE RIGHT OVER!"

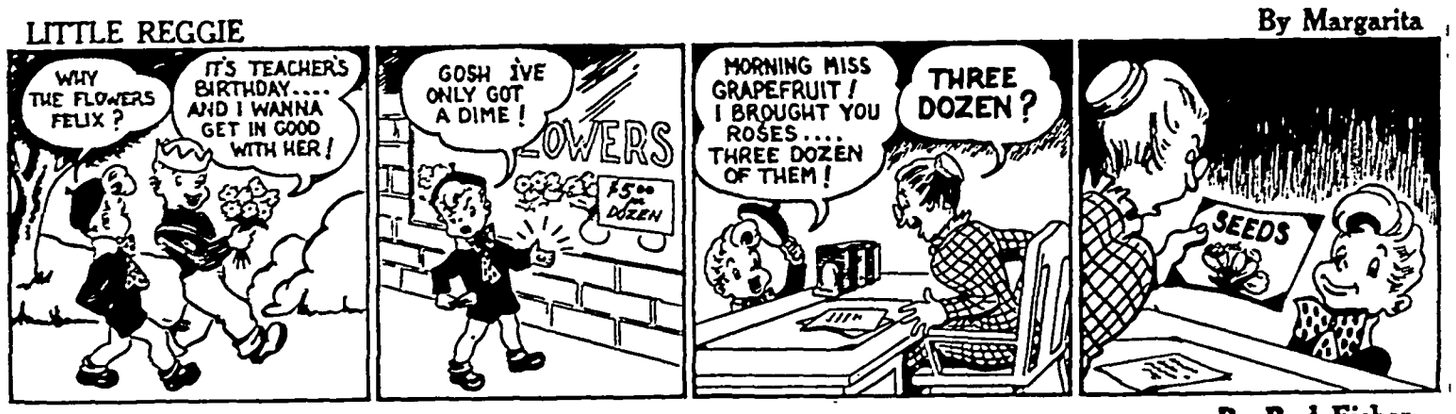
NANCY

By Ernie Bushmiller



LITTLE REGGIE

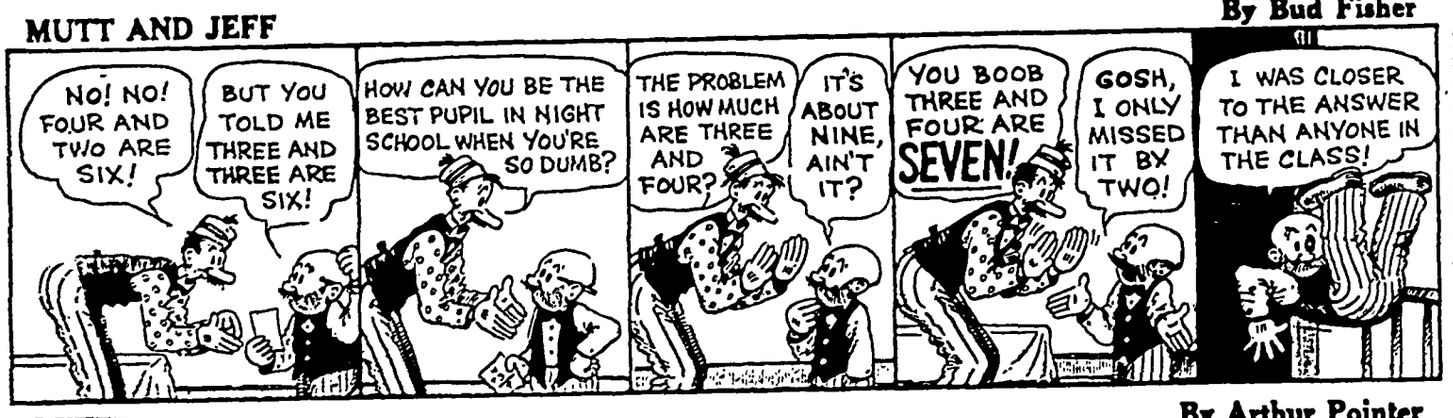
By Margarita



WHY THE FLOWERS FELIX?
IT'S TEACHER'S BIRTHDAY.... AND I WANNA GET IN GOOD WITH HER!
GOSH IVE ONLY GOT A DIME!
FLOWERS
$5.00 DOZEN
MORNING MISS GRAPEFRUIT! I BROUGHT YOU ROSES.... THREE DOZEN OF THEM!
THREE DOZEN?
SEEDS

MUTT AND JEFF

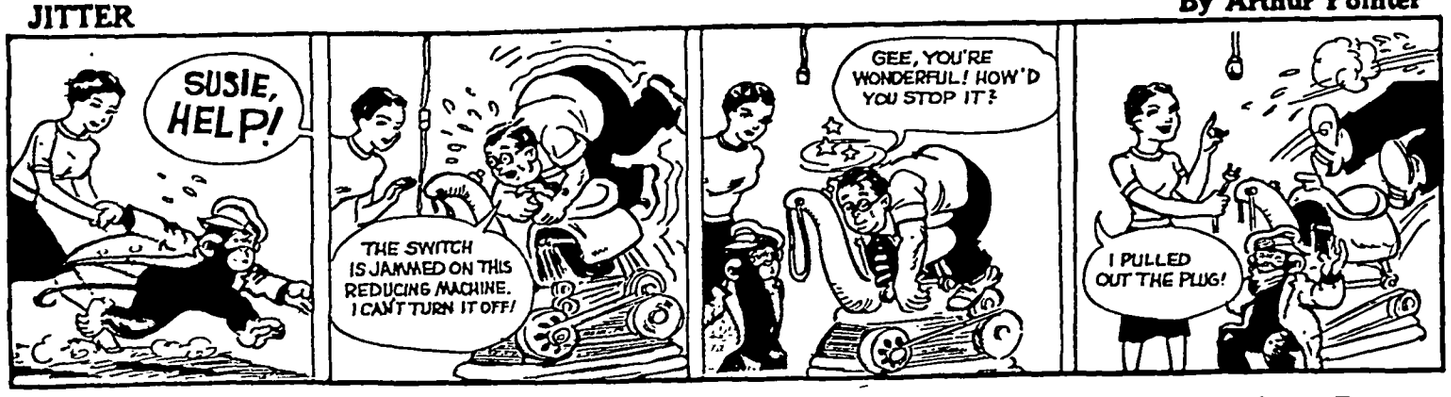
By Bud Fisher



NO! NO! FOUR AND TWO ARE SIX!
BUT YOU TOLD ME THREE AND THREE ARE SIX!
HOW CAN YOU BE THE BEST PUPIL IN NIGHT SCHOOL WHEN YOU'RE SO DUMB?
THE PROBLEM IS HOW MUCH ARE THREE AND FOUR?
IT'S ABOUT NINE, AIN'T IT?
YOU BOOB THREE AND FOUR ARE SEVEN!
GOSH, I ONLY MISSED IT BY TWO!
I WAS CLOSER TO THE ANSWER THAN ANYONE IN THE CLASS!

JITTER

By Arthur Pointer



SUSIE, HELP!
THE SWITCH IS JAMMED ON THIS REDUCING MACHINE. I CAN'T TURN IT OFF!
GEE, YOU'RE WONDERFUL! HOW'D YOU STOP IT?
I PULLED OUT THE PLUG!

REG'LAR FELLERS

By Gene Byrnes

I WISH I COULD GET OUTA MY DATE WITH MARY TODAY! I GOTTA FIGURE A WAY
SHE WON'T WANT TO BE SEEN WITH ME WITH THIS SHINER-- BOY--AM I ON TH' BEAM!
OH JIMMIE! WAIT 'TIL YOU HEAR ABOUT THE ODD ACCIDENT I HAD!

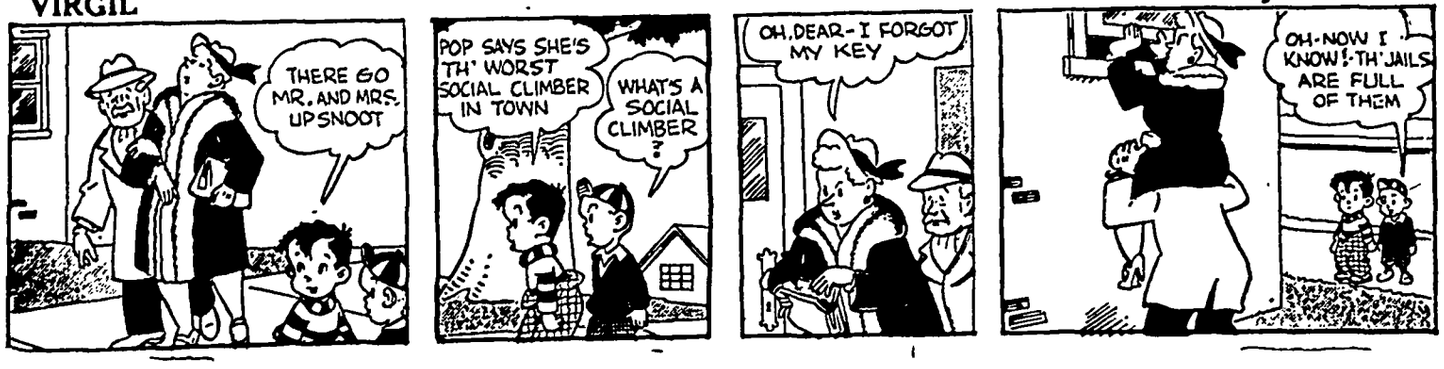
SUNNYSIDE

by Clark S. Haas

THANK GOODNESS I HAVE TWO HOURS OFF THIS AFTERNOON TO REST!!
HAIR TONIC
GREETING CARDS
CIGARS
IODINE
LIGHT BULBS
I'M SO HAPPY JIM HAD SOME TIME OFF THIS AFT TO CLEAN OUT THE BASEMENT!!

VIRGIL

By Len Kleis



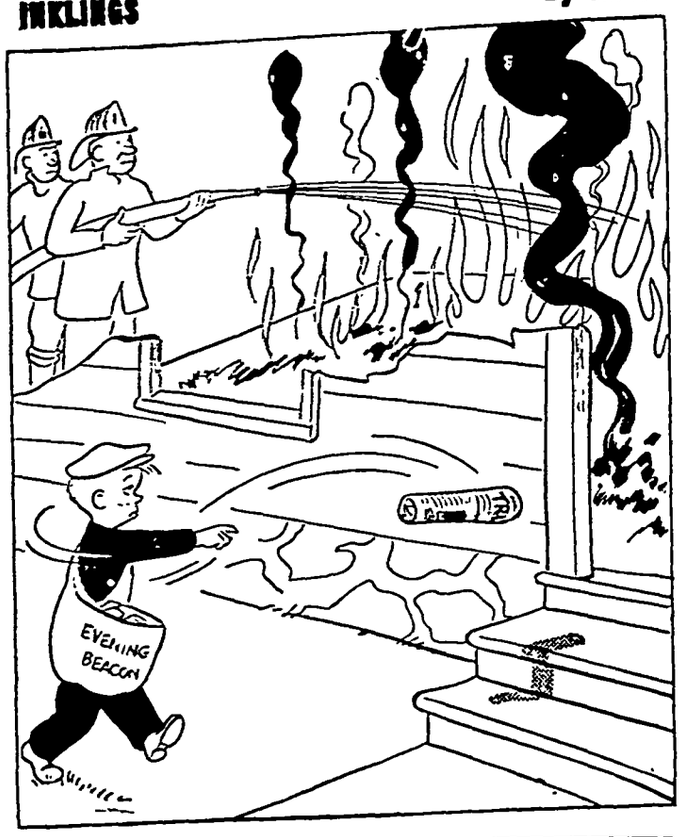
THERE GO MR. AND MRS. UPSNOOT
POP SAYS SHE'S TH' WORST SOCIAL CLIMBER IN TOWN
WHAT'S A SOCIAL CLIMBER?
OH, DEAR-I FORGOT MY KEY
OH-NOW I KNOW!-TH' JAILS ARE FULL OF THEM

GAGS

BEST LAUGHS OF THE WEEK

JINKLINGS

By Jarvis



WEEKLY RIB!

By Roy Mathisen

BACK HOME AGAIN

By Ed Dodd

KRNT RADIO THEATER
DES MOINES, IOWA.
3 BIG NITES—MAY 27 THRU MAY 29
Special Matinee Sat., May 29, 2:30 p. m.
ONE AND ONLY PRODUCTION DIRECT FROM 2 YEARS ON BROADWAY
MAIL YOUR ORDER NOW
THE THEATRE GUILD presents
FAMOUS SUCCESSOR TO "OKLAHOMA"
CAROUSEL
Based on FERENC MOLNAR'S "LILIOM" as adapted by Benjamin F. Glazer
Music by RICHARD RODGERS
Book & Lyrics by OSCAR HAMMERSTEIN, 2nd
Production Directed by ROUBEN MAMOULIAN • Dances by AGNES DE MILLE
Settings by JO MIELZINER • Costumes by MILES WHITE
Under Personal Supervision of Lawrence Langner & Theresa Helburn
Prices: Eves.—Main Floor $3.60, $3.05; $2.44; Balcony $3.66, $3.05, $2.44, $1.83, $1.22; Sat. Mat.—Main Floor, $3.05, $2.44, $1.83; Balcony $3.03, $2.44, $1.83, $1.22. All prices include tax. Enclose self-addressed stamped envelope with mail orders.

To solve your garage door problem quickly and economically, build this garage door yourself. You'll save money and have fun doing it. Best of all, when you walk to the garage each morning and turn the handle in the door, step back and watch the door float up overhead easily and as quietly as a feather in a summer breeze, you'll be mighty proud of the door you built from this pattern.

FIRST CHOICE OF MILLIONS
St. Joseph ASPIRIN
WORLD'S LARGEST SELLER AT 10¢

38% BRIGHTER TEETH in 7 days!
CALOX TOOTH POWDER
A McKESSON & ROBBINS PRODUCT

FIREWORKS
WHOLESALE. Roman Candles, Rockets, Salutes, Chinese firecrackers, Sparklers, etc. New Low prices. COMPLETE ASSORTMENTS LOW AS $2. Send now for free price list. BUY THE BEST FOR LESS.
BIG BEN FIREWORKS
P. O. Box 364, Sioux Falls, S. Dak.

OUT OF PAWN
Genuine DIAMOND
Direct to You—at Amazing Savings! Over 100,000 satisfied customers—Sold with Iron-Clad Money-Back Guarantee. Send for FREE from this ad. Write for FREE ILLUSTRATED CATALOG.
1/5 CARAT $49 $125 Value Tax Incl.
1/2 CARAT $95 $200 Value Tax Incl.
BERMAN'S COLLATERAL LOAN
Dept. WG, 635-38 W. Baltimore St., Baltimore 1, Md.

PILES TROUBLE
For Quick Relief
DON'T DELAY ANY LONGER! Use doctor's formula you can use at home to relieve distressing discomfort of itch—irritation due to piles. Tends to soften and shrink swelling. Use this doctor's formula. You'll be amazed at speedy action relief. Ask your druggist today for Thornton & Minor's Rectal Ointment or Suppositories. Follow label instructions. For sale at all drug stores.

GO-GETTERS—ATTENTION!
Earn big money. Easy, pleasant. Excellent as sideline, as your own boss. You sell direct as 1ter every woman wants a satin-like beautiful face-printed Plastic table cover. New and better, like hot-cakes. Large profits. See yourself. Send for details today.
PLASTIMAGIC CO., Household Div.
1133 Broadway, New York 10, N. Y.

SPRAY WITH Black Leaf
—Double-duty Black Leaf 40 kills by fumes. Use as a spray to kill plant lice by contact and beneficial insects by fumes.
One ounce plus soap makes 6 gallons of effective aphid-spray.
on original factory-sealed containers to insure full strength.
TOBACCO BY-PRODUCTS & CHEMICAL CORPORATION
Nicotine Specialists Since 1899
LOUISVILLE 2, KY.
LOOK FOR THE LEAF ON THE CAN

CHANGE of LIFE?
Are you going through the functional 'middle age' period of life? Do you suffer from hot flashes, make you suffer from hot flashes, feel so nervous, highstrung? Then do try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to relieve such symptoms. Pinkham's Compound also has what Doctors call a stimulative tonic effect!
LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S

When Your Back Hurts
And Your Strength & Energy Is Below Par
It may be caused by disordered kidney function that permits poisonous waste to accumulate. For then some people feel tired, weak and miserable when the kidneys fail to remove excess acids and other waste matter from the blood.
You may suffer nagging backache, rheumatic pains, headaches, dizziness, getting up nights, leg pains, swelling. Sometimes frequent and scanty urination with smarting and burning are other sign that something is wrong with the kidneys or bladder.
There should be no doubt that prompt treatment is wiser than neglect. Use Doan's Pills. It is better to rely on a medicine that has won countrywide approval than on something less favorably known. Doan's have been tried and used many years. Are at all drug stores. Get Doan's today.
DOAN'S PILLS

HE DID!

"Sir, I have a question of great importance to ask you—have I your consent to marry your daughter?"

"Do you drink, young man?"

"Thanks, Pop—but let's settle this other thing first."

don't use harsh Laxatives

Keep regular this healthful way—

Juice of a lemon in a glass of water, when taken first thing on arising, is all that most people need to be prompt, normal elimination. More harsh laxatives that irritate the digestive tract and impair nutrition! Lemon in water is good for you! Millions of Americans have taken lemons for health—and generations of doctors have recommended them. They are rich in vitamin C, supply valuable amounts of B_1 and P. They alkalinize; aid digestion.

The sharp or sour, lemon in water has a refreshing tang—clears the mouth, wakes you up. It's not a laxative—simply helps your system regulate itself. Try it 10 days.

CALIFORNIA SUNKIST LEMONS

Maternity

CHAMBRAY SUNDRESS

with cover-up cape collar

Sizes 10 to 20

7.95

Charm-pretty fashion for a charming Mother-to-be . . . designed in HELENE SCOTT'S own sweet way for garden parties, country week ends and warm days in town. DAN RIVER corded chambray . . . blue, rose, green, brown, navy . . . with button-on cape collar in white waffle pique. Mercerized . . . so it won't shrink over 1%.

Irene Bryant

5TH AVE. AT 40TH NEW YORK

ORDER BY MAIL SEND NO MONEY

Irene Bryant, Fifth Ave. at 40th St., N. Y. 17, N. Y.

Irene Bryant:

Please send me your Maternity Sundress with cover-up cape collar. I will pay the postman 7.95 plus postage and C.O.D. charges when received.

Size..... Color.....

NAME.....

R.F.D.....

CITY..... STATE.....

Also send me your free Maternity Fashion catalogue

The FICTION Corner

STATION IDENTIFICATION

By JOHN H. HOSE

"PLEASE take a seat along the mezzanine, sir. The next tour of Radio City begins in approximately five minutes," piped the charming hostess as she handed the tour tickets to Bob Johnson.

Only two days remained of the week for which Bob had saved all year. Vacation in New York—gosh! It had been wonderful . . . Coney Island, Grant's tomb, Statue of Liberty, Central park . . . meals in Greenwich village at the "Captain's Bell," and the night in Chinatown. Only two things remained on Bob's schedule—a night ride on the Staten Island ferry and this tour of Radio City.

Bob was 25, tall, blond and tagged as the rugged type by the home-town bobby soxers. After his graduation from Mascoutah high school, he had gone to work at Carl Mayhew's filling station and garage. Everyone in the Illinois town said that Bob was a born mechanic. Although Bob had been to nearby St. Louis many times, he always had longed to come to the big city. Now his dream visit had blossomed into reality, but it was drawing rapidly to an end. In 36 hours, he would be on the Pennsy speeding westward once again.

"But it sure was worth it," thought Bob, as he joined the group of 14 or 15 people which had gathered in the mezzanine foyer of the RCA building. He only casually noticed the girl who semed so deeply engrossed in the showcase full of modeled hands of eminent NBC conductors. He had been looking at the unusual display only a few moments when the petite tour guide called.

"Please step forward to the elevator, folks. I am Helen Barry. We're happy to welcome you to Radio City. In the course of this tour, we shall visit the studios, show you the inner workings of radio and conclude by attending an actual broadcast of the Fred Waring show.

"Now I think it would be nice to know your names, and especially where some of you are from. We'll let you begin, sir," she said as she pointed to the portly man in the vanguard of the little group.

"We're Mr. and Mrs. Albert Fisher from Cedar Rapids, Iowa," from the dignified gentleman.

The others dutifully chimed in.

"Elmer Petersen, St. Paul, Minn."

"Eloise Miller, Altoona, Penn."

"Bob Johnson, Mascoutah, Ill."

"Mr. and Mrs. Mark Brown and sons, Gary and John, Chicago."

"Anne Strong, Vandalia, Ill."

Partly because she came from nearby Vandalia, but more because of the soft, resonant quality of her voice, Bob turned quickly to inspect the young lady thus identified. As he looked into her self-confident, smiling face, he remembered the young lady whom he had noticed while waiting for the tour to begin. Her round face with its even, pleasing features made him think of Illinois, somehow. It seemed that she was symbolic of the wide, sweeping prairies of his home state — almost a breath of refreshment in the crowded elevator.

As the group emerged from the cage after a rapid ascent, Bob crowded ahead among the others until he reached Anne Strong.

"Miss Strong," he stammered, "I overheard you say you were from Vandalia. I'm from Mascoutah, and I've been to Vandalia lots of times."

"Yes, Bob, I heard you say you were from Mascoutah," answered Anne casually, as though she and Bob had been friends for years.

"Are you enjoying your visit here in New York?" she continued.

"Oh, you bet!" replied Bob. "I'm going back tomorr—"

"If you will step this way, please, we will enter the sound effects department," interrupted the guide at this point, and Bob didn't quite finish his sentence.

"Please observe, and I shall demonstrate how sounds are simulated with the most simple devices," the girl continued as she entered a glass-enclosed booth.

"For example, to create the sound impression of a trotting horse, we simply take these half cocoanut shells and clap them together sharply. The plop, plop, plop comes through your radio at home just like the trotting hoof-beats. If we wish to make your mouth water with the sound of frying eggs, we need only crinkle bits of cellophane before the microphone.

Anne Strong recognized that the remote flutter of excitement within her was due to this young man rather than the wonders of radio.

"When we wish to reproduce telephone calls, we use the filter microphone. . ."

The voice droned on and on, but Bob had lost interest in radio. He was infinitely more aware of the slim young lady at his side. Her arm had brushed against him as the group crowded forward to watch the sound demonstration on the other side of the glass partition, and Bob was shaken by the tremour of excitement aroused by this brief contact.

Anne Strong, too, recognized that the remote flutter of excitement within her was due to this young man rather than the wonders of radio.

When Anne left Vandalia, she had decided never to return. It was such a provincial little town, she thought, and she felt sure she couldn't stand spending the rest of her life there. Of course she knew that one didn't go to the big city to achieve fame like a Horatio Alger hero; but at any rate, she would be free from the petty gossip and restrictions of small town life.

Anne was considered the best beautician in Vandalia, so she was quite confident that she would experience no difficulty in finding work in New York. But for a few weeks, she planned to "see the sights" before going to work. Only this very morning, she had decided to see Radio City.

As they left the sound effects' room and moved along the corridor toward the television demonstration, Bob and Anne walked silently together. Each seemed to be deeply engrossed in his own thoughts.

"Now we shall televise some of you," the guide announced, and you can observe how you might appear on a television broadcast."

"Would you like to be first, Miss," she asked, indicating Anne.

"Oh . . . I guess so," replied Anne, stepping forward.

As he watched her enter the enclosure under the glare of the lights for the television view, Bob again was aware of the undertones of feeling created by Anne's vibrant personality. He couldn't help but note with possessive pride when he overheard the lady from Pennsylvania remark about how lovely Anne appeared on the television screen.

Then Anne was back at his side.

"How did I look, Bob? Was I terrible?" he inquired.

"You were wonderful!" said Bob, and Anne seemed to understand and interpret the feeling in his voice as genuine.

"When are you going back to Vandalia, Anne?" aked Bob, as they followed the group along the corridor.

"I wasn't planning to return to Vandalia . . . ever."

All the elation seemed to drain out of Bob when she answered. For the swiftly moving machinery which carries us so rapidly into the future already was busily at work creating fantasies for Bob. Across the miles, his thoughts had planned how he would borrow Carl's car to drive to Vandalia to see Anne. But Anne wasn't going back; she was staying in New York.

"That concludes our tour of Radio City. I hope you have enjoyed your view behind the scenes in radio," came from the girl guide to jerk Bob back to reality.

Turning to Anne he asked: "Since I'll probably never see you again, how about celebrating my last day in New York with me? It can be your farewell salute to Illinois."

Anne said, "O. K., Bob, what's on the schedule?"

Somewhat sheepishly, Bob told her his plans, and they set out together. They visited the art museum, lunched at the open air restaurant in Central park, shared a bag of popcorn at the Bronx zoo and enjoyed dinner in a Slovakian restaurant below Third avenue. They brought the happy day to a close with the ride on the ferry.

As they walked slowly toward the hotel where Anne was staying, she asked quietly: Where do you live in Mascoutah, Bob?"

"Since Mother died," replied Bob, "I've been living in two rooms over the garage where I work. I batch. It's not a bad place. There are five rooms there, but I use only two of them."

"I just wondered," said Anne, "thought I might like to send you a postcard some time. It's been great fun today, Bob. You're the first person in New York with whom I've felt really friendly. And you had to come all the way from Illinois." She paused as they drew near the hotel entrance.

"I hope you have a nice trip home," she continued as she extended her hand to him in a farewell gesture. "Thanks for a very nice day!"

"Gee, Anne, I had a swell time," said Bob. "Glad I got to know you. Maybe we'll see each other again some time, who knows."

They were both silent for a few moments. Then Bob shuffled his right foot around before he said, "Well, so long, Anne," Anne noticed the droop of his shoulders as he shuffled off down the street.

Two weeks later, Carl came into the garage and shouted to Bob:

"Hey, Bob, who do you know in Vandalia?"

Bob looked up somewhat surprised, asking, "Why?"

"Letter here from Vandalia for you, and it looks like a female's handwriting to me," bantered Carl. "Ummm! Smells good, too."

Before he looked at the trim handwriting, Bob knew that a certain beautician had decided that the big city wasn't so good after all.

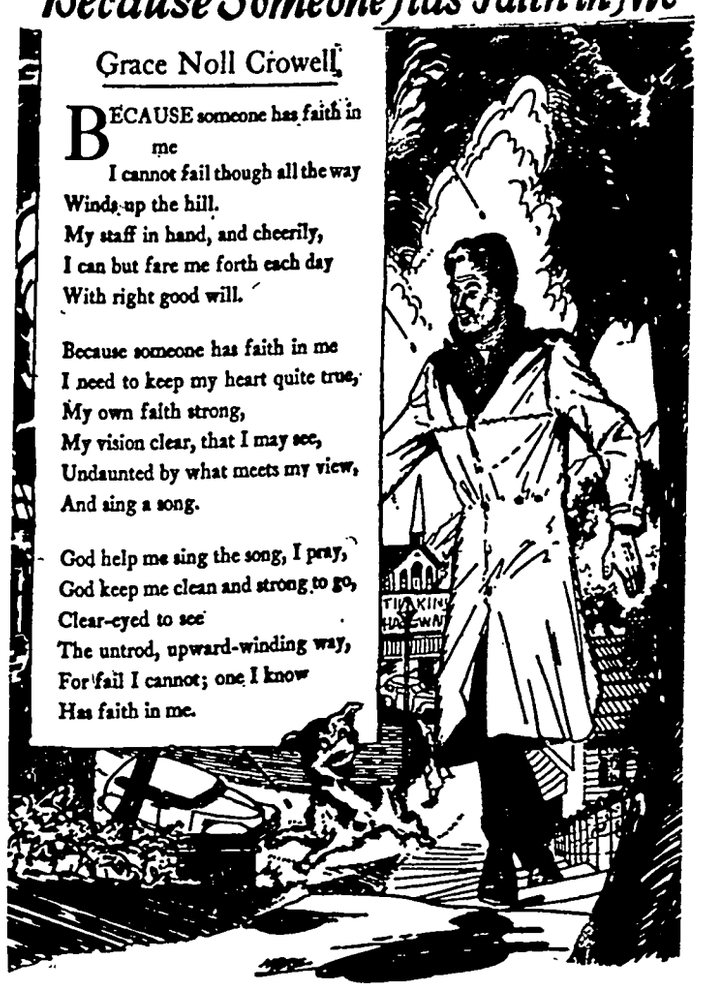
Because Someone Has Faith in Me

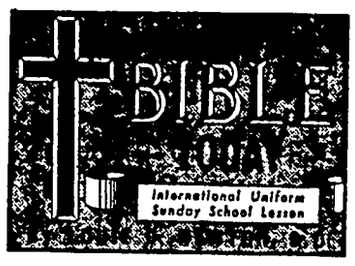
Grace Noll Crowell

BECAUSE someone has faith in me
I cannot fail though all the way
Winds up the hill.
My staff in hand, and cheerily,
I can but fare me forth each day
With right good will.

Because someone has faith in me
I need to keep my heart quite true,
My own faith strong,
My vision clear, that I may see,
Undaunted by what meets my view,
And sing a song.

God help me sing the song, I pray,
God keep me clean and strong to go,
Clear-eyed to see
The untrod, upward-winding way,
For fail I cannot; one I know
Has faith in me.





SCRIPTURE: Ezra 3:10-13; 5:6-17; Psalms 84: 1-2; Ezekiel 11:16; 37:26-28; 44:9-31; 47:1-12; Zechariah 6:9-15.
DEVOTIONAL READING: Psalms 96: 1-9.

The Temple in the Nation's Life

Lesson for May 23, 1948

OUR golden text is "O come, let us worship and bow down; let us kneel before the Lord our maker," Psalms 95:6.

Dr. Newton

The Jewish temple was a national sanctuary, whether we think in terms of the altars of Abel, Noah or Abraham, the tabernacle at Sinai, or the great temples at Mount Moriah, of Solomon, of Zerubbabel, or any of the other appointed places of meeting with God. The welfare of mankind, in every age, requires the faithful and frequent worship of God.

From the days when they sang the hymns of David, the Jews were prosperous to the degree that they were true to God in their worship and in their reverence for all things holy. This lesson traces the story, leaving no doubt in any pupil's mind about the solemn truth of the golden text.

* * *

A HOUSE OF WORSHIP

IN Ezra 3:10-13, we see the picture of priests leading the people to sing unto the Lord, "Because he is good, for his mercy endureth forever toward Israel."

Wherever you live, whether in the city or in some quiet rural community, remember this, the sanctuary measures the attitude of the people of such community toward God to a degree that no other gage of public opinion can offer. We have our various polls of public opinion, but none of them are so prophetic of a people's ultimate hope as their attitude toward God's house.

Boys and girls who regularly attend Sunday school and public worship will be watched by the men who are looking for trustworthy leaders tomorrow.

* * *

HONORING GOD'S HOUSE

"SERVE the Lord with gladness, come before his presence with singing," Psalms 100:2.

We read how the people in the long ago brought their best gifts to make God's house beautiful. What are we doing with our best gifts? I think of boys and girls today who are helping with their small gifts to erect and equip beautiful houses of worship. Tomorrow they will point with gratitude and thanksgiving to the part they had in making God's house the best house in the community. Thus do we honor God as we honor his house.

* * *

WHY WE GO TO CHURCH

MR. WANNAMAKER, the merchant prince, was once asked why he went so regularly to church. He replied:

"I go to church for two main reasons. First, because God commands it; second, because it enriches life."

The Jews teach us, in the long record of their faithfulness or unfaithfulness, that the people who go regularly to church are the most dependable people in any community. And we can bring it right down to our day and generation, and get the same answer.

A business man told me recently that he had a check made of the several hundred young people in his employ, and he found that more than ninety per cent of the regular church-goers were advancing in their work with his company. He further discovered that almost without exception, the people who were giving trouble were the people who never entered a church.

* * *

OUR NEED OF PUBLIC WORSHIP

OUR bodies require regular nourishment. And our souls are just as dependent upon regular nourishment. I would not say that it is absolutely necessary for one to attend public worship to grow spiritually, but the odds are entirely against those who claim that they can grow spiritually without attending public worship.

There is a place of worship within the reach of well-nigh every person in the United States. We are responsible before God if we neglect to claim the advantages and blessing of public worship.

The place of the temple in the life of Israel is a symbol which teaches us today that we dare not forsake the assembling of ourselves on the Lord's Day in his house. The fellowship of worship is the sweetest fellowship on earth. It is our surest road to peace here and hereafter.

* * *

(Copyright by the International Council of Religious Education on behalf of 40 Protestant denominations. Released by WNU Features.)

LOVELY NIGHTIE FOR TROUSSEAU; MAKE A FROCK IN CRISP CHECKS

Adorable Nightdress

Give your summer lingerie wardrobe a touch of glamour with this adorable nightdress that launders like a dream. Ribbon at neck and wasteline makes a pretty finish. Ideal gift for the bride-to-be.

* * *

Pattern No. 8134 comes in sizes 12, 14, 16, 18, 20; 40 and 42. Size 14, 3½ yards of 36 or 39-inch.

* * *

Send an additional twenty five cents for your copy of the Spring and Summer FASHION — free knitting directions and a free pattern printed inside the book.

Cool House Dress

A simple delightfully cool house dress to defeat the hot weather. And so easy for the beginner to sew — just four pattern pieces. Try a crisp checked cotton and trim with bold ric rac.

* * *

Pattern No. 8857 is for sizes 14, 16, 18, 20; 40 and 42. Size 16, 3¼ yards of 39-inch; 3½ yards trimming.

SEWING CIRCLE PATTERN DEPT.
530 South Wells St. Chicago 7, Ill.
Enclose 25 cents in coins for each pattern desired.
Pattern No._____ Size_____
Name_____
Address_____

HOUSEHOLD HINTS

A traveling clothes line saves steps and eliminates walking on wet grass, etc. The wire may be threaded through a well pully attached at the kitchen window and another on the garage, tree, post, or whatever is situated at a convenient distance and line is reeled out or in as clothes are hung or taken off.

—•—

Open wrapper of wrapped bread carefully on one end. Replace unused slices of bread and roll wrapper down tight; bread will remain fresh until last crust is used.

—•—

Stale rolls grate easily and produce fine, light crumbs.

When watering the house plants, be careful not to wet the foliage of the begonias, it will curl if you do.

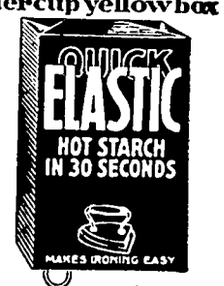
—•—

Roast meats will carve more easily if allowed to "set" a few minutes after they are taken from the oven.

High ceilings appear lower when painted a dark, rich color—such as red or royal blue.

STOP LIGHTNING DAMAGE PROTECT PROPERTY
"National Quality" Systems Prevent Lightning Stroke from Occurring. Write for FREE Booklet "Is Lightning Protection Worth Providing!"
NAT'AL LIGHTNING PROTECTION CO. St. Louis 2 Missouri

—the Starch in the buttercup yellow box



big IRONING help

NO BOILING
NO STICKING

"Everybody loves" SMACKS

THE REALLY DELICIOUS COCONUT BAR

MANHATTAN BEACH LODGE

Muskies, Pike & Pan Fish. In the heart of Minnesota pines near Brainerd on White Fish Chain of Lakes. Strictly modern rooms & cottages, private baths. Fine food, boats, guides, horses, tennis, fishing. For folder & rates, write A. C. Kavli, 217 So. 6th St., Minneapolis, Minn.

You Can Be a Partner
Buy U. S. Savings Bonds!

Alice hasn't an excuse...

WHY NOT BAKE MORE HOT BISCUITS AND ROLLS? TOM LOVES THEM
I NEVER HAVE YEAST WHEN I WANT IT
THAT'S EASY... USE RED STAR DRY YEAST
WON'T IT LOSE FRESHNESS?
NOT RED STAR... IT KEEPS FOR MONTHS—RIGHT ON THE PANTRY SHELF
BOHEMIAN KOLATCHEN
2 pkgs. Red Star Dry Yeast
½ cup warm water (100°-110° F.)
1 cup butter
½ cup sugar
3 eggs
1 teaspoon salt
Grated rind of ½ lemon
½ cup milk, scalded
5½ cups sifted flour (approximately)
Add 2 pkgs. Red Star Dry Yeast to warm water. Let stand. Cream butter and sugar, add eggs, one at a time, salt, lemon, the dissolved yeast, lukewarm milk and the flour gradually. Knead until smooth and elastic. Cover and let rise until double in bulk, about 50 minutes. Roll out ½ inch thick on floured board and cut with biscuit cutter into 3" rounds. Lay on well greased pans, not too close together. Press down center of each so as to raise a ridge around the edge. Let rise again light. Brush with slightly beaten egg white, sprinkle with granulated sugar. Fill indentation with cottage cheese filling made by combining 1 pound cottage cheese, 1 whole egg, 1 egg yolk, 6 tablespoons sugar, pinch of mace, ½ teaspoon salt, ½ cup raisins. Bake in moderately hot oven, 375° F., 10 to 12 minutes. Makes 2½ dozen.
Red Star
QUICK RISING
Dry Yeast
QUICKER EASIER FOR EATING FOR BAKING

RED STAR DRY YEAST

Teachers Are Lucky

The Auxiliary ladies raffled off a quilt and cake Saturday night at the Thada Store. Mrs. Sara Smith won the quilt, and Mrs. Robt. Andrea won a nice cake baked by Mrs. D. P. Anderson. Both ladies are Klemme school teachers.

Mrs. Esther Barz won a box of candy and Mrs. Hugh Humael a 24-lb. sack of flour.

FEDERAL
Land Bank
LOANS
Long Term Low Interest
No Fees No Commission
Wm. F. Johannaber
Secretary-Treasurer
Forest City, Iowa
Phone 50

"GOODBYE FLY"

Now is the time to get on the band wagon on farm and city fly control campaign. The "Goodbye Fly" campaign should get into high gear this month of May.

Sanitation and regular spraying with DDT are Hancock County's best bets for a fly free summer according to County Extension Director Paul Henderson. He says clean up your manure piles, garbage, and any other decaying materials to assist a spraying program.

Phone your news to 12.

DR. F. L. HAYES
DENTIST
Office Over Rexall Store
Phone 21 Garner, Iowa

BEST Regards

THIS IS 1948

boy and girl graduates, a year filled with marvels, full of opportunities, and . . . full of problems. You who are being graduated now must accept the challenge of the times.

We wish you courage, hope, joy, success—and godspeed!

Klemme Co-Operative Grain Company
Glen Bridges, Manager Klemme, Iowa

Advertisement

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

Take Your Choice, Neighbor!

The missus—who writes our Woman's Column in the Clarion under the name of "Nancy Gale"—gets letters about recipes, advice on etiquette, home management, etc.

One letter she got last week was about a recipe she published for Welsh Rarebit—made with tart cheese, Worcestershire, and a cup of sparkling tangy beer. "Turned out great," says her correspondent. "But you didn't mention what beverage to serve with it. Should I serve beer? Cider? Iced tea?"

The missus' answer was simply: "Any beverage your guests prefer. You don't have to serve cider—any more than you have to serve beer ... but it's often courteous to let guests have a choice."

From where I sit, that simple answer applies to more items than Welsh Rarebit. In a world where everyone has different tastes and ideas—we should recognize those differences—and never deny the right of choice to anyone!

Joe Marsh

Copyright, 1948, United States Brewers Foundation

BPS
BARN PAINT
RED
A BETTER PAINT
THAT LASTS LONGER
Holds its bright red color . . . does not fade out like so many cheaper barn paints often do.
Resists all kinds of weather conditions.
Can be liberally reduced with linseed oil.
Spreads on easily . . . covers well.
Use it on barns, silos, outbuildings, fences, bridges, warehouses and all wood, brick or metal surfaces.
ALSO FOR METAL ROOFS—
BPS BARN PAINT RED is the ideal paint to use on galvanized iron or tin roofs.
BARN PAINT RED

Northern Lumber Co.
Lloyd Sherwood, Mgr. Klemme, Iowa.

Farm Bureau Calendar Of Coming Events

May 19:
Orthel 4-H boys at Larry Fox's. 8:00 p. m.
May 19:
Britt 4-H boys at Lloyd Rasmuson's. 8:00 p. m.
May 21:
RYP skating party at Humbolt.
May 22:
Boone Buzzars 4-H girls club picnic at State Park at 2 p. m.
May 24:
Concord 4-H boys meeting at 8.00 p. m.
May 25:
Erin 4-H boys meeting at 8:00 p. m.
May 25:
Soil Conservation Dist. Commeeting at 1:00 p. m.
May 25:
Rural Young Married meeting at Memorial Building in Britt. 8 00 p. m.
May 27:
Gunderson speaker on corn borer at annual meeting of Soil Conservation Dist. Jake Blumer farm, N. W. of Garner.
May 27:
Concord Nimble Fingers special meeting at Alvin Meyer's at 2:00 p. m.

Garner Reformed Church

REV. R. D. STUEBBE

ZION CHURCH:
Sunday.
Worship Services at 9:00 A. M.
Sunday School at 10:00.
Daily Vacation Bible School will commence Monday at 1:00 P. M.

PEACE CHURCH:
Sunday School at 10:10.
Worship Services at 11:00 A. M.
Daily Vacation School will commence Monday at 8:00 A. M.
Clean Church Tuesday afternoon.

That little
BLACK SPOT
in the center of the target is hard to hit, but keep your eye on it, graduates of 1948! We just know you're going to make your mark in this world, and we wish you worlds of good luck.

Thada's
Klemme, Iowa

BRING YOUR CAR TO US FOR
Greasing
AND A COMPLETE SPRING CHANGEOVER
*
In Motor Oil, Transmission, Differentail, Wheels and Chassis.
*
We have the equipment and proper lubricants to give you the best service.
*
See us for your needs in Batteries, Spark Plugs, and accessories of all kinds.
*
Smith's
STANDARD SERVICE
Klemme Iowa

HANCOCK COUNTY REAL ESTATE DEALS

Becker, Elsie, Fred, husband et al to Josten, Edwin 2-2-48 $1.00 SW¼ Sec. 21-95-24.

Becker, Elsie, Fred, husband et al to Blumer, E. J. Wty. Deed 2-2-48 SW¼ Sec. 21-95-24.

John F. Kaduce, Jr. Adm. of Estate of Knoke, Louisa, et al Adm. Deed 4-21-48 part of tracts 1 and 2 of Auditor's Sub-Div.

Becker, Elsie and Fred, husband et al to Hrubes, John 2-2-48 Wty. Deed $1.00 NE¼ Sec. 20-95-24.

Quintus, Warren W. and Betty wife to Bunkofske, Raymond E. and Dorothy 11-14-47 Wty. Deed $1.00 L2 and 3 in Blk 42nd Driving Park Add to Garner.

Brcka, John S., single to Brcka, John G. Wty Deed $1.00 E½ N 75' tract 1 of 1st Sub-div. to Duncan, Iowa of that part NE¼ SE¼ Sec. 29-96-24.

Stille, W. F. to Stille, Lester 3-30-48 W½ NW¼ and W½ E* Sec. 36-95-24 and W½ SW¼ and W½E½SW¼ Sec. 25-95-24.

Stille, W. F., widower to Stille Donald F. 3-30-48 Wty. Deed $1.00 NE¼ Sec. 29-95-24 grantee to pay grantor $1,000 per year so long as grantor lives.

Hradecky, Wenceslaus C., single to Psotka, Albert and Anna 4-1-48 Wty. Deed L18, Blk. 3 in Duncan and tract 4 and S 48' of tract 2 of Auditor's 1st sub-div to Duncan of that part NE¼ SW¼ Sec. 29-96-24.

Hess, Jacob and Esther, wife to Schmidt, Albert A. 5-3-48 QCD $500.00 plat of ground in SW corner L12 in Barz Add to Shaw, David F. and Bertha S., wife to Senneff, Martha Lee 4-16-48 Wty. Deed $1,000 NW¼ Blk. 4 Lattimore's Add to Britt.

Brower, Viola and Charles P., to Hanson, E. G. 4-15-48 Wty Deed $750.00 W 75' S½ L6 Blk. 2 Van Osting's Add to Kanawha.

Hess, Jacob and Esther, wife to Smith, Albert 12-19-47 QCD $50 00 N 30', Blk. 5 Barz Add to Klemme, Iowa.

Longley, Charles, widower to Stille, George A. and Ina, wife 12-2-47 QCD $1.00 L1 2 3 14 15 16 and 17 and tracts between streets in Town of Amsterdam.

Town of Kanawha, Iowa to Farmers Coop. Elevator Co. 4-19-48 QCD $1.00 that part of Linden St. running N and S iln and between Blk. 17 and 18 of Orig. Town of Kanawha.

Earl E. Josten, Gdn. of property of John Josten to Josten, Edwin 1-31-48 Gdn's Deed $4,444.45 undiv 1-6 in SW¼ Sec. 21-95-24.

Drunken Drivers Lose Licenses In Iowa

The state revolked the drivers license of 203 Iowans and of 16 out-of-state motorists for drunken driving in April. The figure was the highest since January when there were 211 According to the state department of public safety, total revolcations for 1948 totaled 730 on April 30.

The drivers license division of the department suspended 114 licenses as the result of moving traffic violations during the month Accidents caused the suspension of 299 licenses under the operation of the safety responsibility law. There were 34 suspensions meted out in April in cases when the operator of a vehicle did not have a drivers license.

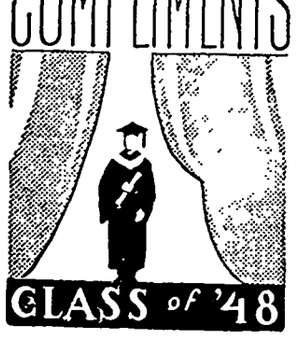
Police demand orders for the enforcement of suspensions went out 319 times during the month, and the suspensions and revocations were lifted on 267 Iowa drivers in the same period.

School Signs

A "school zone" sign should mean danger to motorists even in the summertime The department of public safety warns that children returns to the school grounds to play although school has been dismissed for the summer. Always take more than the ordinary precautions when approaching a schoolhouse

AVERY
—The—
Theatre Beautiful
Garner, Iowa
MAY 19, 20
Wednes. - Thursday
D R A M A !
THAT'S MY MAN
Starring
DON AMECHE
CATHERINE McLEOD
With
Roscoe Karns
John Ridgely
Kitty Irish
Joe Frisco
MAY 21, 22
Friday - Saturday
SPRINGTIME IN THE SIERRAS
ROY ROGERS
And
JUNE FRAZEE
MAY 23, 24, 25
Sun. - Mon. - Tues.
CASS TIMBERLANE
All They Had In Common Was LOVE and a Set of PRINCIPLES!
SPENCER TRACY
LANA TURNER
ZACHARY SCOTT
With
Tom Drake - Mary Astor
MAY 26, 27
Wednes. - Thursday
EDDIE ALBERT
CONSTANCE MOORE
JOAN EDWARDS
HIT PARADE OF 1947
Woody Herman and His Orchestra

COMPLIMENTS



THE KLEMME TIMES
BILL WOODY
RAY

For Quick Truck Delivery On
Diamond
D-X
Products of all kinds
Phone 85
ERNEST HENSCHEN
Klemme, Iowa

OUR REGARDS

Commencement, as the name signifies, is not the end but the beginning—the beginning of a new adventure upon which you are about to embark.

As you close the doors on your high school careers and journey forth on that new adventure, we wish for you all happiness and success.

Northern Lbr Co.
Klemme Iowa

Vernon Larson Enjoyed Birthday Party Sunday

Vernon, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Larson was 12 years old on May 13th, so on Sunday his mother planned a birthday party for him to which she invited many of Vernon's friends.

The afternoon was spent in playing games after which nice refreshments were served. Vernon received some nice gifts from his many friends.

Baptized At Methodist Church

Richard Lyle, Marvin Glenn and Keith Edward, small children of Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Green were baptized by Rev. H. E. Harvey at the Klemme Methodist Church on Sunday, May 9th.

B. C. BERGE
ATTORNEY-AT-LAW
Office Over Federated Store
Phone 20 Garner, Iowa

Announce Marriage Date

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Van Buskirk announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their neice, Miss Mabel Lee, to Donald Peterson, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Peterson of Goldfield. The marriage will take place June 1st at 8:00 o'clock at the Klemme Methodist Church, with the Rev. Herschel E. Harvey officiating.

CURTIS G. RIEHM
Attorney-At-Law
Office Over Federated Store
Res. Phone 133W2
Phone 183 Garner, Iowa

DR. E. H. PHILLIPS
Osteopathis Physician
Xray - Short Wave Diathermy and Ultra Violet Equipment
Phone 149 Garner, Iowa

Clinton D. Daniels
REPUBLICAN CANDIDATE
For Supervisor
Of Hancock County
•
Your Vote At The Primaries Will Be Appreciated

FOR REPRESENTATIVE
I wish to announce that I will be a candidate for State Representative
From Hancock County. Subject to the decision of the voters at the Republican June Primaries
YOUR SUPPORT WILL BE APPRECIATED
PENN ECKELS

NOTICE! LEAVE YOUR
Dry Cleaning!
AT KLEMME FOOD MARKET
For Twice A Week Pickup
MONDAYS and THURSDAYS
3-Day Service
Satisfaction Guaranteed - all clothes moth proofed at no extra charge.
Repairing - Dyeing - Water Repellent
GIVE US A TRY
Rainbow Cleaners
Clarion, Iowa

FOR SOUP THAT'S SUPER. Just as you serve it, pop a pat of butter in each bowl of soup—and you double its appetite-appeal. You add nutrition, too, for Butter is an energy-food, rich in vitamins we all need, especially Vitamin A. Yes, the matchless flavor of butter does so much for the appetite appeal of other foods. Its golden color comes from golden cream—and it takes pints of cream to make a of butter. For nutrition health, for downright goo Butter is still one of the values your money can b
Iowa Dairy Industry Co

IT'S BETTER WITH BUTTER -ORDER SOME TO

Methodist Church
E. Harvey, Pastor

KLEMME

Circle at the church at meet at the church at

SUNDAY
at 10.00 A. M.
speaker, Mrs. Lewis Bell
Fellowship at 7 p. m.

Church School. be-
:00 a. m.
dist Men at Liberty at

LIBERTY
SUNDAY
School at 10:15 A. M.
ip at 11:15 A. M.
Fellowship at 7 p. m.

n Church School be-
a. m.
dist Men at 8 p. m.

Big Rain Friday Night

This section of the county was visited by an extremely heavy rain Friday night. It might have been the "clearing off" rain and we might now enjoy some warm weather after two weeks of chilly, damp weather.

Home From Hospital

Delwyn, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dale Brede returned home from the Belmond hospital last week where he underwent a major operation. Delwyn is taking it a bit slow but is on the way to recovery.

Romance and heartbreak in old New Orleans! Read "Gay Micaela's Tragic Destiny" in The American Weekly, the great magazine of true-life stories distributed with SUNDAY'S CHICAGO HERALD-AMERICAN.

Seed Corn

FOR SALE

Why not plant some EARLY CORN for feed?

PFISTER 50-A or 52
Real Early

Excellent feeding corn. Also other numbers able.

PFISTER HY-BRED SEED CORN CO.

Walter R. Eisburg
Phone 15R12, Garner, Iowa

KEEP THE FARM SANITARY
24-HOUR SERVICE ON REMOVAL OF

Dead Stock

Phone

NAME ---------- 580
BELMOND ---------- 580

We Pay The Call
Clean Truck With An Efficient Driver In Each Neighborhood Daily.

Belmond By-Products
"Your Home Plant"
580 Belmond, Iowa.

In your Book of Memories, Graduation Day will long stand out as a red letter event. It marks the fruition of long years of dreams and effort, and at the same time signalizes your advent into the world of adulthood.

May the future hold in store for you many more happy pages for your Book of Memories—that is our wish on this joyous occasion.

Wellemeyer's
Hancock County's Largest Furniture Store

AMENDMENT TO ARTICLES OF INCORPORATION OF THE

STATE SAVINGS BANK, Of Goodell, Iowa

KNOW ALL MEN BY THESE PRESENTS:

That at a regular meeting of the stockholders of the State Savings Bank a corporation duly organized under the laws of the State of Iowa, held at the office of the Bank in Goodell, Iowa, on the 12th day of January, A. D., 1948 after due and legal notice had been given to the stockholders thereof in conformity with its articles of incorporation, and provisions of the Code, the following amendment was adopted.

AMENDMENT:

Article VI, Section 1, is hereby amended by deleting the words "second Monday" and "1943" in the second line of this section and substituting in lieu thereof, "third Tuesday" and "1949", respectively. This section would then read, as follows:

ARTICLE VI
ANNUAL AND SPECIAL MEETINGS OF THE STOCKHOLDERS

Section 1 The annual meeting of the stockholders shall be held at the office of the corporation on the third Tuesday of January of each year, beginning with the year 1949, at which time the stockholders shall elect a board of directors and transact such other business as may lawfully come before them.

(Pub. 19, 26, June 2, 1948.)

U-Delt-Em Club

Mrs. E. F. Jacobs was hostess to the U-Delt-Em Club at her home Thursday afternoon. Mrs. R. A. Jorgenson won high and Mrs. Art Kudje, second high.

Want Ads

For Sale

FOR SALE—EARLY MANCHU Soy Beans. Good germ cleaned. Herman Meyer, 5 mi west, ½ mi south of Klemme. (2tc)

FOR SALE—SOME GOOD 600 16 used tires. Jost Service Station (1tc)

FOR SALE—HEAVY STEEL Hog Troughs. Roy Schaefer (2tc)

FOR SALE—TRACTOR TIRES Have a large stock of rears on hand. Garner Auto Co., Garner, Iowa. (M-8tfc)

YES WE HAVE IT, NUTRENA Crumblized Chick Feed. For faster gains and less waste. We deliver ½ ton lots or more GREEN ELEVATOR CO., Goodell, Iowa. (Apr 14 tfc)

Get your "Thank You Notes" at the Times Office. 59 cents per box.

Miscellaneous

INSURE WITH HENRY WARD, Klemme for Auto, Personal Property, Farm Liability Insurance. (May 1, '48)

SEE R. W. ELDER FOR HANcock Co. Mutual Fire & Lightning Insurance renewals or new policies. (Apr. 1 pd)

Wanted To Buy

WANTED TO BUY FOR CASH —your used car. Any make, any model. Garner Auto Company, Garner, Iowa. M-8tfc)

For Rent

FOR RENT—7 ROOM HOUSE in country, water system, REA lights, all in good condition. Will rent cheap 6 or 8 months to right party Klemme phone 3-F6, Henry Wade, Garner Rt. 4. (1tp)

Services Offered

FEED GRINDING OF ALL kinds done on your farm. Phone Klemme 76 or Goodell 58561. Carroll Etchen. (j-28-tc)

Card Of Thanks

I want to thank all who sent me cards and gifts and who called on me at my home following an accident in which my arm was fractured.
Bobby Arnold. (1tp)

I wish to thank my frinds and neighbors who sent me cards and letters and who visited me while I was at the hospital. Also thanking them for other kindnesses performed.
John Kaduce, Sr. (1tp)

I want to thank all my friends and neighbors for remembering me with cards, gifts, flowers and visits while I was in the hospital, and also that I am now at home. Delwyn Brede. (1tp)

AROUND IOWA

FREAK FIRE

A freak fire was caused at Kiron recently when a spark from a drill flew into the gas tank of an automobile and ignited it. Lynnel Baker, who was working on the car in his auto body shop, was uninjured and managed to get the fire department there before much damage was done.

FATALITY

Playing on a swing brought death of 7-year old Janice Gray of near Osceola, last week. For while swinging with two schoolmates during recess, Janice was fatally injured when the iron-pipe structure topped over. The other children were not hurt.

HIGH PRICED GOAT

A white billy goat proved to be the "top animal" at an auction held recently at Laurens, bringing $355. What gave the goat his appeal, however, was the fact that proceeds were turned over to a memorial hospital fund. The bidding over, the goat reverted to his original owner.

LOTS OF MAIL

At LeMars, Herman Schultz has received world-wide publicity due to the fact that he is giving away a million dollars worth of farms. So far he has received 11,000 letters from persons unknown to him who wish to be "considered."

TOO EARLY

All Iowa sportsmen will join in mourning the fate of Tom Neuhardt of Lenox. A novice fisherman, Tom was trying his luck there recently and hooked a six-pound bass. He had to toss it back, hopes to catch it again after the bass season opens.

NO DAMAGES

A judge at Spirit Lake awarded a verdict of "no damages" recently, in a suit in which the owner of a Sikorsky flying boat sought damages against an automobile owner, as the result of an auto-plane collision on the highway there last summer.

TO MEXICO

Some prize Butler and Bremer county dairy cattle are on their way to Mexiro. Representatives of the Mexican Agricultural college were in those counties recently and purchased the cattle for class room work and for experimental purposes on the college farm at Saltillo, Coahuila, Mexico

Evangelical & Reformed Church

Calvin Grosshuesch, Pastor

SUNDAY
10 A. M. Morning Worship.
11 A. M. Sunday School.
7 P. M. Young Peoples Bible Class.

FRIDAY
8.00 P M. Choir.
Bible School will begin Monday morning at 8:00 o'clock.

TAKE A BOW!

Stand up, Graduates of 1948, and take a bow! We're all clapping for you, cheering and whistling! You've done it, and we're mighty proud of all of you. Need we say that we wish you all the luck in the world?

Josten Appliance
Klemme Iowa

Art Linkletter

Listen to the
GENERAL ELECTRIC
House Party
KGLO - 2:30 PM

See the complete line of CLEANERS at
JOSTEN APPLIANCE
Klemme, Iowa

AUCTION

Machinery and Market Day Sale

Saturday, May 29

KLEMME, IOWA

Bring in anything you have to sell in the line of Machinery, Furniture, Etc. Prices never better. We have several:

Tractors	Trailers
Cultivators	House Trailer
Miscellaneous	Combine

List your items now. Get your listings in early for State-wide advertising. Phone 86 or contact

TOM ROTHS

FRANK DAVIS
AUCTIONEER

Buy and sell with a Times want ad.

We specialize in printing Wedding Announcements.

We're on the sidelines

CHEERING YOU ON

in this game called Life. You've scored one major victory, as represented by your diploma, and we're rooting for you to amass many more in the years to come.

Klemme Food Market

Klemme - Iowa

GET READY GRADUATES!

This is it! This is the one we've been waiting for, working for. This is G-Day, H-Hour. Just a final briefing now before you "hit the beach."

Check your equipment. You should have your courage, ambition, energy, knowledge and good judgment. It's the best equipment there is, and it should be all you need. Your objective is Mount Success. You will encounter some opposition, but keep going until you get there.

That's all. Goodby and good luck.

Kluckhohn's

Klemme - Iowa

FEEL pretty good about your education, you graduates? Want to show it off a little? If you do—and what young grad doesn't?—drop in when you have some spare time and we'll conduct a powwow on cabbages and kings, or choose your own subject. You have proved to the rest of us that you have a right to your say-so, with your own knowledge and courage behind it. You already have our respect. Now please accept our most sincere congratulations.

Hancock Co. Coop. Oil Association

SUPER SERVICE STATIONS

Klemme Iowa

WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS

Palestine Trouble Heads for Climax As Arab Nations Prepare to Attack; Vandenberg Gives Warning to Russ

By Bill Schoentgen, WNU Staff Writer

EDITOR'S NOTE: When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of Western Newspaper Union's news analysis and not necessarily of this newspaper.)

CLIMAX:
Palestine

With a clashing of arms and a babble of alarmed voices, events in Palestine appeared to be piling up for another minor but bloody climax in human history.

This particular crisis had its immediate beginning in a savage attack on the Arab city of Jaffa by members of Irgun Zvai Leumi, Jewish underground force. Fact that the Irgunists' foray against Jaffa was made in defiance of orders by Haganah, the regular Jewish militia, carried no weight in the rush of incidents that followed.

From Palestine's coastal plain, site of the neighboring cities of Jaffa (Arab) and Tel Aviv (Jewish), the focal point of the disturbances moved swiftly inland to the holy city of Jerusalem.

Arabs and Jews hastily deployed their on-the-scene forces in preparation for what stacked up to be a major battle for possession of Jerusalem. Facing each other across a scant 200 yards of no-man's land, each side had its eyes fixed on the strategic Allenby camp which the British were evacuating.

But that wasn't all. It soon became apparent that the Arab league nations surrounding Palestine did not intend to stay out of this fight.

Reports were current that six Arab nations had decided to invade the Holy Land with ground, sea and air forces before the British ended their mandate on May 15.

The whole thing was shaping up in the form of a more or less total Arab effort to crush completely the Jewish intention of creating a Zionist state in Palestine.

Worried United Nations delegates, meanwhile, cast about for a means to prevent the inevitable carnage, or at least to preserve the city of Jerusalem.

France pushed its sponsorship of a heavily-armed volunteer U. N. police corps to safeguard Jerusalem. Hint of the make-up of such a force was given in the suggestion that it might include 100 New York police volunteers, but no Russians. This protective army would number from 500 to 600 members.

While the Palestine situation leaped into a frantic state of flux, the United States kept discreetly out of it all in conformation to its recently adopted policy of apparent disinterest to what happens in the Holy Land.

DEFIANCE:
Two Issues

In a surprise speech at a dinner given by Michigan chambers of commerce for the state's congressional delegation, Sen. Arthur Vandenberg served notice on Russia that:

1. The United States may join western Europe in a military alliance against Communist aggression, and

2. "We shall not surrender to Communist conspiracies in the United States."

Thus, the chief Republican proponent of bi-partisan foreign policy split the rind on two issues which, like grapefruit, will come more and more to be in the public eye as this year wears on.

Simply stated, those two issues are: Whether the U. S. should line up militarily alongside the recently formed union of western European nations, and whether the Communist party should be outlawed in this country.

They could become decisive issues in the presidential campaign. Indeed, Harold Stassen already has introduced one of them by coming out bluntly in favor of outlawing Communists in the U. S.

Vandenberg said, "We are suicidal fools if we do not root out and destroy any treason at home which may dream of bringing world revolution to the United States."

The Michigan senator only hinted at a U. S. military alliance with western Europe, but his remarks hardly could be misconstrued.

What Vandenberg didn't say is that while the U. S. has no formal or official role in the union of western European nations, American aid and support, military-wise, of that union almost inevitably is implied.

Whether or not this nation will grant that assurance will come to be a towering question in the public mind soon.

SKY-HIGH:
Bombing

A team of air force and army ordnance men is seeking better methods of hitting pin-point bomb targets from extremely high altitudes, out of reach of most anti-aircraft guns or fighter planes.

This joint organization is conducting most of its secret tests in the California desert at Muroc air base. It's assignment is to carry out research in bombing techniques, particularly at high altitudes.

OUTLOOK
The Dim Peace

Gen. Omar N. Bradley, army chief of staff, was taking a dim view of the possibilities of peace.

In fact, he admitted to the senate armed services committee, the prospect of a war is appreciably greater now than it was three months ago.

Adding forcefully to the pattern of evidence which U. S. armed forces representatives have been constructing to support their requests for a military draft and universal training, Bradley said:

"I think we would be neglecting our duty if we did not try to tell you that we are a little bit more afraid something will happen than we were three months ago when we were talking in terms of reserves."

And he added "we are not so sure" that war might not be looming in the immediate future.

To his testimony Bradley appended this caution:

"We know that we are all speaking about Russia."

There it was—a responsible appraisal by the chief of staff of where the present talking war between Russia and the U. S. might lead.

What caused General Bradley to think the situation is more critical now than it was three months ago? He didn't say, but there is only one apparent explanation.

The tide of power politics has turned against Russia and is moving in favor of the western democracies. With ERP beginning to channel money and supplies into Europe, the fields most favorable to Communist growth—poverty, hunger and dissatisfaction—are starting to be reclaimed.

As far as getting control of western Europe was concerned, Communists saw their main chance go glimmering when they lost the Italian election. They have, in short, gone beyond the stage where they can carry out territorial acquisitions through political coups.

In order to expand further now, Russia probably would have to apply force, which, in this case, would be the Red army.

And that may be why General Bradley thinks war is more of a likelihood now than it was three months ago.

SMASHER:
For Atoms

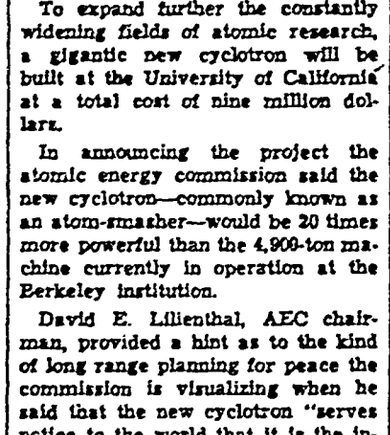
To expand further the constantly widening fields of atomic research, a gigantic new cyclotron will be built at the University of California at a total cost of nine million dollars.

In announcing the project the atomic energy commission said the new cyclotron—commonly known as an atom-smasher—would be 20 times more powerful than the 4,900-ton machine currently in operation at the Berkeley institution.

David E. Lilienthal, AEC chairman, provided a hint as to the kind of long range planning for peace the commission is visualizing when he said that the new cyclotron "serves notice to the world that it is the intent of the people of the United States to be pre-eminent in the development of fundamental science of all kinds."

Engineering already is under way on the huge atom-splitter, but it will take five years before it is completed. Conceived as 20 times more powerful than the most powerful cyclotron now operating, it will produce atomic bullets ranging in force from six billion to 10 billion volts.

At Large



Secretary of Commerce W. Averell Harriman has been named by President Truman as ambassador-at-large for the European recovery program. Harriman resigned his cabinet post immediately.

Money Talks

Now an inventor has come up with a check that not only will talk but will scream if it has been forged or tampered with.

Burgess Smith, who used to do legal counterfeiting for the U. S. treasury, claims that his check will identify itself verbally when it is passed through a special machine. And if it has been tampered with it will emit a shrill screech, indicating that it is worthless.

Target

Walter P. Reuther, president of the United Auto Workers (CIO), was seriously wounded when he was shot by an unknown assailant who fired a shotgun at him through the window of his Detroit home. Communists were suspected of being behind the attack because of Reuther's strong opposition to them in the union.

MINERS:
Temporary

Let not the public be deceived by the spell of quiet that is reigning in the nation's soft coal mines and the temporary evaporation of John L. Lewis from the stage.

As it looks now, this peaceful situation is good only until June 30. Even while the miners continue to chop coal in the pits, they make it clear that they expect to go back to their fishing on that date.

June 30 is the day the present wage agreement between the United Mine Workers and the coal operators expires. It is possible, of course, that a new agreement may be reached before then, but it is practically impossible to find anyone who thinks so.

After Lewis' tussle with Federal Judge T. Alan Goldsborough in which he and the union were fined a total of $1,420,000, the miners went back to work after hearing John L's "wish" that they do so. This, however, is regarded as merely a temporary truce.

One of the reasons advanced for Lewis' cantankerous delay in coming to terms on the pension dispute was that the mine leader was eking out the work stoppage as long as possible in order to deplete the nation's coal reserves and so put himself in a better bargaining position when the contract negotiations came up.

That he accomplished that end there is no gainsaying. Coal stocks went down almost to zero all over the country, resulting in curtailment of steel production, a cut in rail travel and various major and minor industrial shutdowns.

It is a fact, too, that industry will not have recovered its balance sufficiently by June 30 to cope adequately with whatever emergency Lewis might precipitate this time.

FOOD PRICES:
Logical

Not that it makes it any easier to pay the grocery bill, but the reasons why food prices are so high are no mystery.

U. S. has been channelling food and resources into foreign countries at a rate and volume never before approached. Also, every American able to digest solid food is eating 17 per cent more than he did before the war.

Finally, until just recently, consumers have been spending their money on food because there was nothing much else available to buy.

Those conclusions were reached by University of Wisconsin economists after an investigation into the causes of current high price levels.

Center of the whole spiral are grain prices.

Strong exports of corn and wheat caused an upswing in prices on the commodity markets. More expensive grains cause prices of flour, bread, ham, pork loin and rib roasts to go up.

OREGON:
Next Up

After whirling breezily through Ohio to the thorough disgruntlement of Sen. Robert Taft, campaigning Harold E. Stassen set his political sights on the May 21 Oregon primary election where he was due to joust with Gov. Thomas E. Dewey for that state's Republican convention delegates.

In a kick-off address in Portland Stassen refurbished his foreign and domestic policies for the edification of Oregon voters who will elect the 12-member GOP delegation.

Stassen was taking his Oregon campaign seriously because a large measure of importance was being attached to the election insofar as it would provide the first test of West coast opinion on Republican presidential contenders.

SHORTAGE:
Farm Machinery

Behind the present shortage of farm machinery in the U. S. lies a now all-too-familiar story: More such machinery is being produced than ever before but it isn't enough to meet the demand.

Waiting list for farm machinery is phenomenally long, yet 131 per cent more tractors, cream separators and other pieces of farm equipment were produced in 1947 than were available in 1939.

Washington Digest

Case of the Nazi Reception, Or Misleading Propaganda

By BAUKHAGE
News Analyst and Commentator

WASHINGTON—Last month there was a memorandum on my desk from the department of the army addressed to "all former war correspondents, subject: Army Day, 1948." It suggested that perhaps I had a war story that stood out in my mind that I would like to relate as an Army Day feature. The memorandum didn't state which war was preferred, if any, but I supposed that it didn't matter so long as it wasn't the next one.

I reported the landing on the Normandy beaches, the Battle of the Bulge and many of the other important events of the last war—from a microphone in Washington, my connection with World War I was less vicarious; my experiences during earlier conflicts such as San Juan, Gettysburg, Chapultepec, Yorktown and Hastings are a little hazy.

Therefore I decided that the department of the army might permit me to relate an adventure which provided a little comedy relief in 1939, in the nervous interlude, known as the "phony war," before the real storm broke. It went something like this:

It happened at Wesermuende, the German air and naval base, shortly after Britain and France had declared war on Germany. American correspondents still had considerable freedom, and I had managed to wrangle permission to interview the first British fliers shot down by the Germans. I did, but that isn't this story.

For all the careful German preparations for war, there was still a certain amount of confusion in the office of propaganda under the highly efficient father of lies, Dr. Goebbels, but I managed to get the use of a German army transport plane to fly me (with a German radio man) from Berlin to Wesermuende.

The war was roaring westward into Poland and the great Tempelhof airfield in Berlin was all but deserted when we arrived before dawn and were escorted with alacrity, and not a little wonderment, to our transport which already was warming up. We had been up all night and my colleague immediately fell asleep on a pile of parachute equipment. As soon as dawn broke, I busied myself watching the anti-aircraft batteries in the fields surrounding Berlin, gun pits in fields surrounded by complacent, cud-chewing cows who were, like the rest of the bemused population, unaware of what the Fuehrer was about to bring down on them.

For some reason we flew low, almost scratching our wings on the church steeples. At last my companion awoke. We were approaching the airfield. It was a lively spot. As we drew nearer, we could see a detachment of marines which came to attention as we approached. A half dozen staff cars were drawn up in a semi-circle, balanced by bluejackets and ground personnel of the air force.

"We're lucky," my companion remarked, "some big brass must be coming, we'll see a parade." No other plane was visible though, as we circled a couple of times over the docks, thick with ships including the long-lost Europa, back on her dash from Murmansk. Finally we landed a couple of yards from the military formation which by now was drawn up at attention. We were a little embarrassed, for we were in plain sight of the imposing array, and were afraid we might suddenly bump into the visiting dignitary—and we were hatless and unshaven. I let my companion go ahead. There was no place to go, however, but in the direction of the naval detachment and their commanding officer. It later developed he was the commander of the base, a tall, slim, correct naval officer, perhaps a little nervous, though we were too nervous ourselves to realize it at the moment.

We advanced, like pups approaching a porcupine. A command rang out. The troops snapped to present arms, the officer saluted and drew a manuscript from his tunic, something new to me in military procedure—all I could think of was a painting of General Washington reading a message to his troops (and I always had thought that was a flight of the artist's fancy).

The officer began reading—it was a message of welcome all right. Finally, my companion (he was half-English, which may explain his fortitude) interrupted: "There must be some mistake. We are two radio correspondents."

The commander bowed, looked abashed, glanced over our heads toward the plane.

"But where are the other gentlemen?" he wanted to know.

"There are just two of us," we replied.

"But the minister of propaganda? Who is representing him? We were notified by the department—a special plane—the truck for the baggage—"

We explained briefly, and waited for the skies to fall. They didn't. The officer continued his speech without even dropping his monocle—just to be sure—editing it slightly to make it apply as he went. There was no question that he thought we were going to be, certainly OUGHT to be Goebbels.

The formation melted away, the truck which had been requested to transport sound equipment started to load, all but one of the staff cars shook away. There was only one red face, the airforce commander's, and he felt not embarrassment but rage. This was a purely military field and I had held up the German war effort for half a morning, thus contributing my bit to Allied victory even before America was in the war.

For the rest, the only significant memory, except for my interview with those British boys, was the questioning by the German officers. Obviously they didn't share the complacent assurance of victory of the Nazi higher-ups—they remembered World War I.

Today the greatest danger to the peace is the possibility that the will, the purpose, the power of the United States will not be understood in time by the Russian command—that they will fail to recognize the risk of self-annihilation they are taking in their "cold war," as the Kaiser and Hitler failed to realize it.

* * *

Roses, But Never A Spray of Yew

There are many good garden books, and I for one had about come to the conclusion that the final word on gardening had been written, when along came the Woman's Home Companion Garden Book (P. F. Collier and Son corporation, publisher, New York City) with many new angles. Edited by John C. Wister, director of the Arthur Hoyt Scott horticultural foundation, Swarthmore college, this book speaks with authority.

"It is correct," it states on page 472, "to speak of narcissus, and also correct to use the English term daffodil for all species and varieties of narcissus. There is confusion about this, a popular impression being that daffodils are the yellow kind, and narcissus the white kinds. There also has been confusion about the name jonquil. All the daffodils of the jonquil group are distinguished by their narrow, garlic-like foliage and by their characteristic bright yellow color, which is the same shade throughout the flower."

All of this interested me mightily as I had just been studying a photograph of a clump of narcissus in a popular magazine's "name this picture" contest. The leaves on the plant shown were broad, though the answer given by the editor was "jonquil." Obviously, even contest editors may err.

The narcissus discussion is a sample of Editor Wister's directness in this new garden book and there is more like it on every page.

Not the least interesting writing in this book is the foreward by the well-loved Liberty Hyde Bailey, dean of all gardeners whose accomplishments need no eulogy here.

Another intriguing feature is the discussion and diagramming of various geographic areas according to their geological and climatic conditions. Most of us have been frostbitten too often for comfort by blindly following the usual maps.

Additional data and measuring qualities have been added to long-established material in making a broader and yet more personal presentation of his problems to the gardener in any given section of the United States and Canada. The net result is the clarification of many heretofore-vague statements.

It would be unfair to other excellent books to say that this is the best garden book yet published. In some ways it excels all others, but still there are other volumes which may contain more information on specific subjects.

Perhaps the way to size up this 1,000-page volume is to say that regardless of whatever other gardening books you own, you need this one too if you seek fresh angles on your favorite hobby.

With its fine cover and paper stock, its 24 photographic pages in full color, its 56 pages of black and white illustrations and more than 100 how-to-do-it pictures, the Woman's Home Companion Garden Book is completely satisfying.

Gems of Thought

CHEERFULNESS and content are great beautifiers, and are famous preservers of youthful looks.—Dickens.

Once he (Diogenes) saw a youth blushing, and addressed him: "Courage, my boy! that is the complexion of virtue."

As rust corrupts iron—so envy corrupts man.

African hunter — While wandering around a native village I spotted a leopard.

Sweet girl — Don't be silly. They grow that way.

My, My

Lady (to guide at Yellowstone park)—Do these hot springs ever freeze over?

Guide—Yes, indeed, lady. Last winter a lady broke through the ice and scalded her foot.

Angry Swinburne

The English poet Swinburne took offense at the slightest criticism. At one time, while visiting with a clergyman, he consented to show his latest poem to his host.

"It's very good," said the clergyman, "but don't you think some of the lines need polishing?"

Insulted, Swinburne peevishly snatched the manuscript from the other's hands and fled from the room. The next morning, when the poet came down for breakfast, his host apologized for what he had said.

"I didn't mean to hurt your feelings," he said.

"That's all right," replied Swinburne. "Before I went to bed last night I thought over what you had said and concluded that you were right. So I burned the manuscript."

"You burned it!" cried the clergyman, filled with remorse. "But it was a fine poem!"

"That's what I thought this morning," agreed Swinburne, pleased by the sensation he had created, "so I wrote it over from memory!"

ASK ME ANOTHER?
A General Quiz

The Questions

1. Where is the Song of Solomon found?
2. How fast do shooting stars travel?
3. Who were the Casket Girls in American history?
4. The land occupied by Arlington National cemetery was once the home of what person?
5. How many words and chapters are there in the Bible?
6. How big do mushrooms grow?
7. Mount Popocatepetl is located where?
8. What is the largest city in area in the United States?
9. How much of the earth's atmosphere is composed of oxygen?
10. Do fat persons have more blood than thin ones?

The Answers

1. In the Bible.
2. Slow meteorites travel about 25,000 miles an hour; rapid meteorites at approximately 180,000 miles per hour.
3. Women imported into Louisiana as wives for settlers.
4. Robert E. Lee.
5. There are 1,189 chapters in the King James version of the Bible, and 773,692 words.
6. One found in Thuringia, Germany, weighed 56 pounds.
7. Mexico.
8. Los Angeles, Calif., is the largest in land area. It is 50 miles long, 9 miles wide, and covers an area of 450 square miles.
9. About 21 per cent.
10. No. If the bone structure is the same, a fat person will have relatively less blood than a thin person.

CLASSIFIED DEPARTMENT

HELP WANTED—

"SALESMEN WANTED
WANTED AT ONCE: Rawleigh nearby county. Write RAWLEIGH IA, Freeport, Ill.

DRAFTSMEN AT
Excellent opportunity for young or more years of college and experience. Good possibility for in a steadily growing organizat ECONOMY FORMS CO P. O. Box 128, Hi. Pk Station, Iowa. Ph. 6-1141

FARMS & RANCH

90 A. WELL IMP. Elec. on Humboldt, Iowa. All till. No with annmt. of lease Very per acre. C. W. HANSMAN Manson, Iowa.

CANADIAN FARMS—Write for FORMATION on farm settlement Fertile soils. Reasonably priced. Canadian Pacific Railway, Unde Paul, Minn.

REAL ESTATE—BUS

ONE OF BEST known resorts fishing lakes in Cass County, for sale. Original owner retiri and illness. Select clientele of advertising necessary. All bo ing season. Only resort on gra Good deer country. Housek Serve meals if you like. Own to coach new owner. All cash Clear title. Real opportuni EWER, Remer, Minn.

REAL ESTATE—HO

FOR SALE — Beautiful mod 8-room, 1½ baths, sun p porch, fireplace, ga ra ge. In Fo city of Shattuck, St. Mary's. 43 mi super hwy, ½ construction 14 mi. Carleton, St. Onf A. FOSTER, Box 213, Faribau

REAL ESTATE—

PASTURE LAND For Sale County, Iowa. Owner, LEE Grand River, Iowa.

BUSINESS & INV.

FOR SALE—One stop servi rage, welding machine shop bottled gas business. Fully best of latest equipment. Ex Other business forces sale. building, equipment, plus in SUPER SERVICE STATION

DOGS, CATS, PETS

REGISTERED COLLIE PUPS ing. Attractive and prices VAUGHN ALBERT, Culver,

SEEDS, PLANTS,

FOR SALE: Approximately soybeans, germ % o Write Iowa Falls, Iowa.

FARMERS! Feed and Seed We will pay up to 25c each Ship us all your bags, they even the ones with holes, or not ship bags that have pre Ship by ra., or truck freig You can be assured of prom from the largest buyers o America direct from farmers MAN BAG CO., Storm Lak

3 RARE CACTI BLOOMING SIZE
FREE! 3 differe ing size dwarf c including Mexic cacti, complete directions. Sen mailing and h
FITZPATRICK'S C
Route 3, Box 100

AUTOS, TRUCKS

NEW Lincoln portable 10 trailer powered by Jeep e 1283, Sioux City, Iowa, o

PERSONA

AMATEUR PHOTOGRAP to join Associated News membership fee starts you CIATED NEWS SERVICE New York City.

MISCELLAN

GLOSSY ENLARGED PH exposure roll developed a giant glossy prints 25c. P service. Giant reprints 4c velopes and price list on FOTO SERVICE, Unl Pl

CALIFORNIA JUMBO SE Save by buying direct fro sun dried. High iron con paid. Cash, money order SILVER-BRUCE RANCH

WANTED T

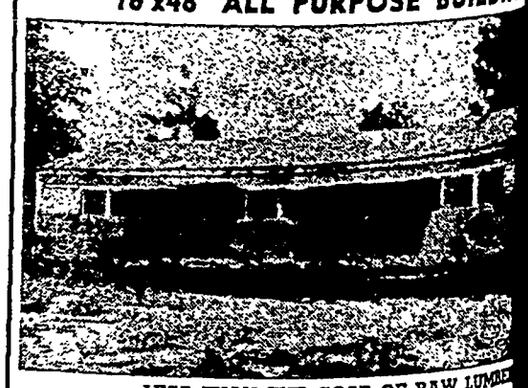
WANTED—6 ft combine, 490 or 290 J.D Planter condition. Write Box 31,

WANTED—USED POOL used pool and billiard t age or condition DIXO PLY, 1208 High St., Des 2-3571.

WNU—N

She was pensive wh
Sadness was on h
But my checkbook
And she's ex-pensi

AVAILABLE FOR SPRING DELIVE
16'x48' ALL PURPOSE BUILDIN



LESS THAN THE COST OF RAW LUMBE

Today's Most Sensational Building Opportunity
These Buildings Completely Pre-Fabricated

28 EASY-TO-ASSEMBLE SECTIONS

You can quickly convert one of these U. S. Army barrack buildings shown above into homes, cottages, cabins, garages, farm machinery sheds, chicken houses, hog houses, utility buildings, etc.

YOU CAN ERECT WITH A MINIMUM OF LABOR
NO PRIORITY NECESSARY

Entire building of No. 2 or better yellow pine lumber. These buildings have been used and are delivered in good reusable condition.

SPECIFICATIONS: Outside dimensions 16 ft. by 48 ft. Height to ridge approx. Height to ridge approximately 7 ft. Sections approximately 2x4 stud construction on 2x4 sills. Flooring on the outside. Floor 18 ft. double; sub floor finished. Roof, 12 sections 2x4 9 ft. ship lap on 2x4 rafters, insulated 90-lb. roofing. Gable rafters on inside. 8 ... vres. Windows, ... Doors, 2 wooden.

ALSO AVAILABLE: BLDGS. WITH DROP SID
SHIPPED VIA TRUCK—40c PER MILE
ALL PRICES F.O.B. CAMP SITE

25x45 ft.—$1,750.00 each—1 bldg. on a t
25x30 ft.—$1,175.00 each—1 bldg. on a t
25x25 ft.—$ 975.00 each—1 or 2 bldgs.

SLOTT SALES CO.
1327 Albion Ave., Chicago, Ill.

HOUSEHOLD MEMOS... by Lynn Chambers

Welcome the Crowd with Mocha Punch
(See recipes below)

Good Refreshers

...e homemakers keep sup- ...hand to prepare tasty re- ...s for unexpected friends ...drop in for a visit or after ...bowling or golf.

...l to keep the cookie jar ...for just such occasions. An- ...er is to keep packaged ice ...the freezer compartment ...refrigerator or the home ...ed your problem of what ...is solved. There are any ...ways to serve ice cream ..., fresh or canned fruit, ...course, it's wonderful to ...ick shakes, sodas, sundaes ...rs that can be prepared ...effort.

...bowl of milk punch with ...floating on top will be ...empting and satisfying ...erve for a large crowd. ...with cookies or sand- ...ade from items on the ...shelf. Any large bowl ...ed for the punch.

...Mocha Punch
...(Serves 12)

...hocolate ice cream
...reshly-made coffee,
...
...ops almond flavoring
...ches of salt
...hipping cream
...oon grated nutmeg
...ffee in refrigerator. To ...unch, pour coffee into ..., add half of the ice ..., and stir until partially ...ip cream until stiff, add ...ned blend. Fold in ...eam and rest of ice ...rinkle lightly with nut- ...erve immediately.

...ct those easy to bake ...the last minute? Yes, ...cookies are wonderful ...before serving because ...ess than a quarter of ...bake. Have the dough ...st such emergencies as ...

...Refrigerator Cookies
...(Makes 50)

...ter or shortening
...n sugar
... beaten
... vanilla extract
...sifted flour
...n baking soda
...n salt

...ening or butter until ...y. Add sugar gradual- ...until light. Add well- ...ed vanilla and mix ...Sift together dry in- ...ed gradually blending ...Shape into a roll and ...ed paper. Chill thor- ...es slices 1/8-inch thick ...eets in a hot (375 de- ...10 minutes.

...er cookies which keep ...nice to have already ...ar:

...rmalis
...n 4 dozen)
...
...wn sugar, firmly
...
...beaten
...ed flour
...baking soda
...cinnamon
...nutmeg
...salt
...d raisins
...d walnuts

...er the lard and su- ..., and then fold in ...s been sifted with ...d before all the flour

...n Better
...e
...should be defrosted ...week. Excess form- ...be avoided if you ...osed. Get what you ...refrigerator quickly ...om entering.

...et the refrigerator ...with warm water ...ed a bit of baking ...e abrasives on the

LYNN CHAMBERS' MENU

Cold Salmon Salad
Potato Chips
Toasted, Buttered Rolls
Carrot Sticks
Radishes
Pickle Fans
Ice Box Lemon Pie
Beverage

is blended add the nuts and raisins. Drop by spoonfuls on a greased or oiled cookie sheet about two inches apart. Bake in a moderately hot (375 degree) oven for 15 minutes.

Apple Butter Cookies
(Makes 24)

1/2 cup shortening
1 cup brown sugar
1 egg, well beaten
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon baking soda
3 cups sifted flour
1/2 cup buttermilk
1/2 cup apple butter or tart jam
Granulated sugar

Cream together shortening and sugar; add egg. Sift together the dry ingredients and blend in alternately with buttermilk. Chill until easy to handle. Roll to an eighth of an inch thickness then cut with 2 1/2 inch cookie cutter. Put together in pairs with apple butter or jam in the center. Press edges together with a fork. Sprinkle with sugar. Place on greased cookie sheet about an inch apart and bake in a very hot (400 degree) oven for 12 to 15 minutes.

* * *

If the crowd is hungry you can add some sandwiches to serve with the punch or milk shakes if you are entertaining a crowd of youngsters. Here are sandwiches easy to make with materials easy to keep on hand:

Deviled ham and cream cheese with lettuce on whole wheat or rye bread.

Egg salad alone or combined with sliced ham or tongue on wheat or white bread.

Peanut butter mixed with honey and chopped dates on toasted white bread.

Crisp bacon, crumbled and mixed with cold baked beans and chopped mustard pickle on white bread.

Cold canned chicken, chopped and mixed with celery, minced and green pepper.

Finely diced bologna with finely shredded cabbage, prepared mustard, salt and moistened with sandwich spread.

Cold meat loaf sliced thin and spread with chili sauce.

Dried beef, washed and minced, then mixed with cream cheese and seasoned with minced onion and a dash of horseradish.

Prepared Smithfield ham with cream cheese or chopped hard-cooked eggs or mayonnaise.

Ground leftover meat (pork, beef or ham roast) mixed with chopped hard-cooked eggs, grated raw carrots and mayonnaise.

Minced baked or cooked ham mixed with chopped hard-cooked eggs, and seasoned with a dash of dry mustard, mayonnaise and a bit of grated onion and Worchestershire sauce.

Deviled ham mixed with chili sauce and softened butter, spread on freshly toasted white bread.

Tuna fish and chopped olives, mixed with mayonnaise.

Peanut butter combined with orange juice and chopped dates.

Released by WNU Features

The outside should be wiped daily to prevent an accumulation of dirt. A damp cloth to remove fingerprints as soon as they are made will keep the finish gleaming.

Wipe spilled foods immediately before they get a chance to dry and require an extra portion of elbow grease.

Dust which accumulates in the unit compartment at the bottom of the refrigerator should be cleaned out periodically.

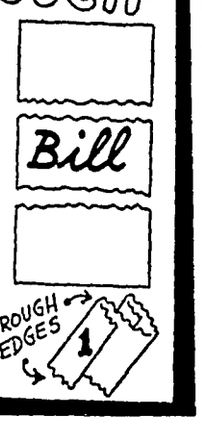
Ranges will give better service if pilot lights are always kept cleaned.

FUNLAND
BY A.W. NUGENT

THE MAGIC TOUCH

USE THREE PIECES OF PAPER ALL THE SAME SIZE AS SHOWN. HAVE SOMEONE WRITE HIS NAME ON ONE OF THE SLIPS, MAKING SURE THAT HE WRITES ON THE ONE WITH THE ROUGH EDGE ON THE TOP AND BOTTOM.

FOLD THE SLIPS AS IN NO. 1 AND PLACE THEM IN A HAT. BLINDFOLD YOURSELF AND TELL YOUR FRIEND THAT YOU WILL PICK OUT THE PAPER WITH HIS NAME. THEN YOU SELECT THE SLIP WITH THE TWO ROUGH EDGES.



HERE IS AN EXCELLENT GAME FOR TWO OR MORE PERSONS. EACH PLAYER IS REQUIRED TO MAKE FIVE THREE-LETTER WORDS WHOSE NUMBERS, UNDER THE USED LETTERS, WILL TOTAL THE GREATEST NUMBER. THE PLAYER HAVING THE HIGHEST TOTAL, IN FORMING HIS FIVE WORDS, WINS.

EXAMPLES: TOY, 20 + 15 + 25. TOTAL 60.
ZOO, 26 + 15 + 15. TOTAL 56.

A	B	C	D	E	F	G	H	I	J	K	L	M
1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9	10	11	12	13
N	O	P	Q	R	S	T	U	V	W	X	Y	Z
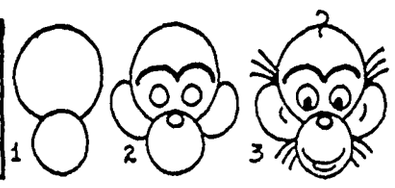
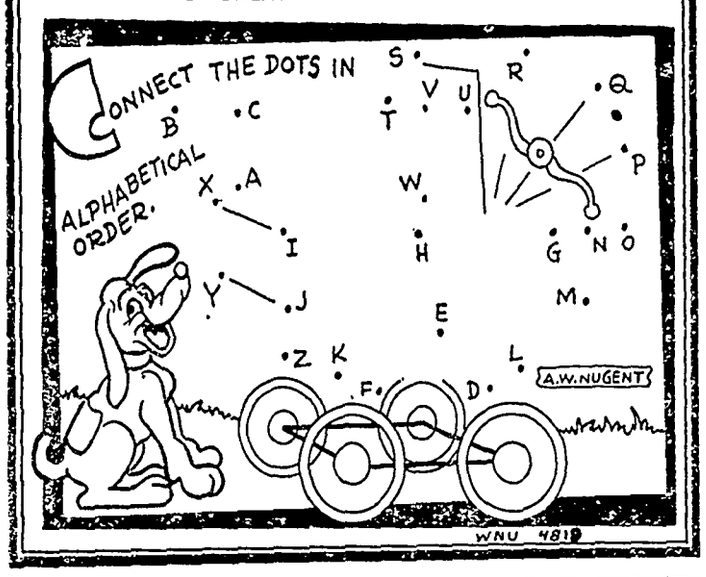
14	15	16	17	18	19	20	21	22	23	24	25	26

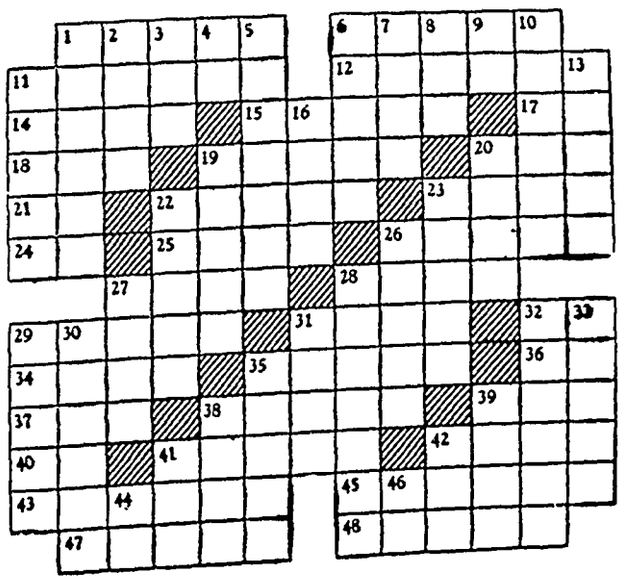
HEY KIDS! DRAW ME STEP BY STEP!





CROSSWORD PUZZLE

Solution in Next Issue.



No. 17

HORIZONTAL

1 Edible plant of Asia
6 Lance
11 To fill with air
12 Weirder
14 Malayan vessel
15 Frequent
17 Hebrew letter
18 Ethiopian title
19 To utter
20 Race of lettuce
21 That thing
22 Carpenter's tool
23 Abrupt
24 French for "the"
25 Flock
26 Female deer (pl.)
27 Expired
28 Mud
29 Strip of leather
31 Small opening
32 Printer's measure
34 Sea in Asia
35 Perforations
36 Egyptian sun god
37 Knave in cards
38 Happens
39 Headgear
40 Cyprinoid fish
41 Seasons
42 To sit for portrait
43 To stop
45 Aggravated
47 Spurts
48 Surfeited

VERTICAL

1 To scold
2 God of love
3 Chinese pagoda
4 French for "and"
5 Spotted animal
6 Bristles
7 Sly look
8 Eagle
9 Three-toed sloth
10 Rumor
11 Month
13 Reposes
16 To ward off
19 To slumber
20 To make well
22 Small bottle
23 Is concerned
26 Rents
27 Unit of weight
28 Bothers
29 Savory
30 Bartered
31 Kind of wine
32 Expunged
33 Matched
35 Stops
38 Speedy
39 Stockings
41 Title of respect
42 Light stroke
44 Symbol for samarium
46 Babylonian deity

Answer to Puzzle No. 16.

V	I	S	E		O	A	R		A	L	M	A
I	N	T	R	O	S	P	E	C	T	I	O	N
A	T	A		P	I	E	T	Y		D	O	T
L	O		P	I	E	S		S	I		N	E
		S	L	U	R		S	T	A	R
S	A	L	E	M		W	A	S		A	P	E
A	R	I	A		P	A	T		O	R	A	L
H	E	M		S	A	G		S	P	E	N	D
	T	E	N	T	S		C	H	U	R	N
A	R		A	O		A	R	E	S		I	L
B	U	T		P	A	R	E	D		R	E	E
E	S	A	U			L	E	T		E	R	E
T	A	R	T			L	A	E		M	O	S	S

WNU 4819

Sportlight
by GRANTLAND RICE

THERE seems to be a general opinion that the opening of a big-league season is an interesting item to only 10 cities in which the 16 clubs are parked. Nothing could be farther off the track of truth.

The 16 big-league teams are largely made up of ballplayers from the hamlets and the villages of the country who take a deep pride in the exploits of a native son. The big-league cities are only the spectators. They rarely contribute any of the talent needed to carry on the show.

Here are a few examples: Ewell Blackwell from San Dimas, Calif.; Phil Cavaretta, Wilmette, Ill.; Bill Nicholson, Chestertown, Md.; Larry Jansen, Forest Grove, Ore.; Harry Walker, Leeds, Ala.; Bob Feller, Van Meter, Iowa; George Kell, Swifton, Ark.; Phil Marchedon, Penetang, Ont.; Bill Johnson, Montclair, N. J.; Joe DiMaggio, Dom DiMaggio, Martinez, Calif., and Bobby Doerr from Illane, Ore.

After all, Ty Cobb came from Royston, Ga.; Mathewson from Factoryville, Pa; Lajoie from Woonsocket, Cy Young and Alexander from outposts in Ohio and Nebraska.

Baseball is a small-town game—a village enterprise. There is little room for sandlots in the big cities. The cities only supply the spectators. They haven't time to bother about the kids who, in the main, can live or die unless they happen to be lucky enough to live under the rule of Commissioner Wallander of New York, who is vitally interested in their careers. There are other Commissioner Wallanders now—but not enough of them.

In the last few years, baseball has taken on a tremendous lift. It broke all attendance records in 1946. It broke these records again in 1947. It is my belief the old game will set a new cluster of marks in 1948.

This season, if one can judge from the spring hullabaloo should be baseball's all-time record year as far as attendance goes. The two leagues should pass the 20 million mark with something to spare. Which finds us hailing the Charley Ebbets of 30 years ago as he remarked: "Baseball is in its infancy."

* * *

Pennant Predictions

AMERICAN LEAGUE

No. 1: New York Yankees.
No. 2: Boston Red Sox.
No. 3: Detroit Tigers.
No. 4: Cleveland Indians.
No. 5: Philadelphia Athletics.
No. 6: Browns, White Sox and Senators, neck and neck, for last place.

Under the sound leadership of Bucky Harris, the Yankees are picked to repeat for one solid reason—they look to be the most solid all-around team in the race.

Early buds and blossoms are a far cry from the yellow and crimson leaves of late September, so in making a selection one must gamble with fate and the fortunes of war, the breaks of the game, through the five and a half months beyond.

The Red Sox are as good as the Yankees, perhaps a shade better, up to the important matter of pitching and strong reserves.

With their excellent pitching, the Tigers might win through the right and left arms Steve O'Neil can throw against the enemy. But the Tigers have neither an infield nor an outfield to match either the Yankees or the Red Sox.

Cleveland's improved Indians still belong in fourth place as Connie Mack's Athletics have a death grip on the top of the second division.

The White Sox, Senators and Browns are strictly minor league clubs who have no place in a big league.

They are out to live or make money on the four strong clubs where, on their own, they couldn't draw 300 thousand people. They are the league's chiselers. They should offer a spectacular battle for last place in the dizzy dip to the subway title. So we can forget about them as busy broom-men sweep away the debris.

NATIONAL LEAGUE

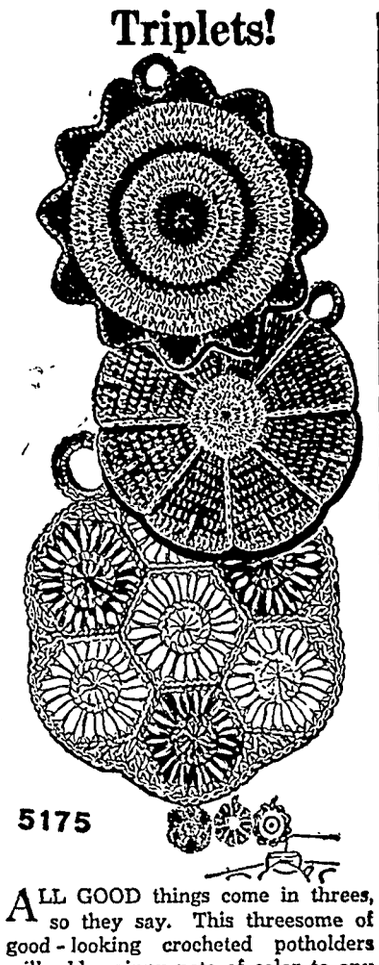
No. 1: St. Louis Cardinals.
No. 2: Brooklyn Dodgers.
No. 3: Boston Braves.
No. 4: New York Giants.
No. 5: Cincinnati Reds.
No. 6: Pittsburgh Pirates.
No. 7: Chicago Cubs.
No. 8: Philadelphia Phillies.

This is a very different picture from the American league layout. It will be a much better and much tighter race from top to bottom. There certainly should be a much closer scramble among the Cardinals, Dodgers and Braves than the younger league can give you.

In picking the Cardinals over the Dodgers and Braves, one has to gamble with fate—a kind of fate that will leave most of Eddie Dyer's veteran athletes intact.

The Cardinals, in their first-line strength, have the best team in their league, but their reserves are weak and thin. They can afford few reverses. Their catching is none too hot. But they have a pitching staff that should be well ahead of all others—Dickson, Munger, Brecheen, Pollet, Hearn, Brazle and at least two others who can win a lot of games.

Triplets!



ALL GOOD things come in threes, so they say. This threesome of good-looking crocheted potholders will add a zippy note of color to any town or country summer kitchen. Potholders at top of illustration are of double thickness, crocheted in two colors of silky-looking cotton thread. The whopper-sized holder at bottom is made of thick cotton rug yarn in two colors.

To obtain complete crochet instructions for the Triplet Potholders (Pattern Number 5175) send 20 cents in coin, Your Name, Address and Pattern Number.

Due to an unusually large demand and current conditions, slightly more time is required in filling orders for a few of the most popular patterns.

Send your order to:

SEWING CIRCLE NEEDLEWORK
530 South Wells St. Chicago 7, Ill.
Enclose 20 cents for Pattern.

No._____
Name_____
Address_____

Utah Judge of 90 Hopes To Tie Holmes' Record

SALT LAKE CITY. — Observing his 90th birthday anniversary, Tillman D. Johnson, U. S. district judge, expressed the hope that he would break the longevity record of the late Justice Oliver Wendell Holmes.

Judge Johnson now is the oldest federal judge in active service. Holmes was serving as a justice on the United States Supreme court bench when he retired at 91.

REASON IT OUT AND YOU'LL PREFER THIS

ALL-VEGETABLE LAXATIVE

● In NR (Nature's Remedy) Tablets, there are no chemicals, no minerals, no phenol derivatives. NR Tablets are different—act different. Purely vegetable—a combination of 10 vegetable ingredients formulated over 50 years ago. Uncoated or candy coated, their action is dependable, thorough, yet gentle, as millions of NR's have proved. Get a 25¢ box. Use as directed.

Nature's Remedy NR TO-NIGHT TOMORROW ALRIGHT
ALWAYS CARRY TUMS QUICK RELIEF FOR ACID INDIGESTION

SPEEDED-UP COMFORT for so-called KIDNEY SUFFERERS

Backaches, leg pains, broken sleep, painful passages usually go so much quicker if you switch to Foley (the new kidney-bladder) Pills. They stimulate sluggish kidneys; then ALLAY BLADDER IRRITATION. That's the cause of most pains, aches, urges once thought entirely due to kidneys. So for quicker, longer-lasting relief, soothe bladder as well as stimulate kidney action: Do this: use Foley (the new kidney-bladder) Pills; they also have direct sedative-like action on bladder. At your druggist. Unless you find them far more satisfactory, DOUBLE YOUR MONEY BACK.

Buy U. S. Savings Bonds!

WITH SNAP! CRACKLE! AND POP!...

DID YOU KNOW MORE MOTHERS BUY KELLOGG'S RICE KRISPIES FOR THEIR FAMILIES THAN ANY OTHER BRAND OF RICE CEREAL?
Pop!
Kellogg's RICE KRISPIES
Mother Knows Best!
COPYRIGHT 1948 BY KELLOGG CO

How to help your sick child GET WELL FASTER

... as recommended in the interest of child welfare by ROSE G. ANDERSON, Ph.D.
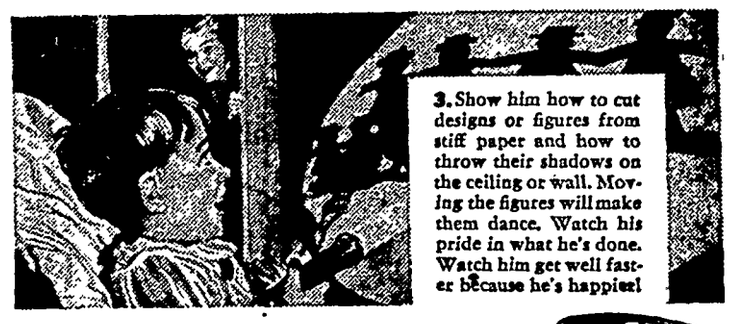
Director of The Psychological Service Center, New York

1. The after-effects of your child's illness are often more important than the illness itself. Pampering, catering to whims, oversolicitude teaches a child to dominate through weakness. Such well-meant kindness may prolong his convalescence.

2. You'll be smart to help him amuse himself. Give him something which doesn't require an adult's constant attention. Give him your "Eveready" flashlight... or get him one of his own. If he tires of flashing the beam, or flicking out imaginary signals, then...



3. Show him how to cut designs or figures from stiff paper and how to throw their shadows on the ceiling or wall. Moving the figures will make them dance. Watch his pride in what he's done. Watch him get well faster because he's happiest!

Proof!... In the laboratory... in your own flashlight...

"EVEREADY" BATTERIES OUTLAST ALL OTHER BRANDS!*

● Brighter light, longer life! That's what you want in a flashlight battery—and that's what you get with "Eveready" brand batteries. Laboratory tests prove it. And the best "laboratory" of all—your own flashlight—proves it! That's why "Eveready" batteries outsell all other brands—because they outlast all other brands!*

The registered trade-mark "Eveready" distinguishes products of NATIONAL CARBON COMPANY, INC.
30 East 42nd Street, New York 17, N. Y.
Unit of Union Carbide and Carbon Corporation
UCC

*According to the "General-Purpose 4-Ohm Intermittent Test" devised by the American Standards Association, which most closely approximates average use.

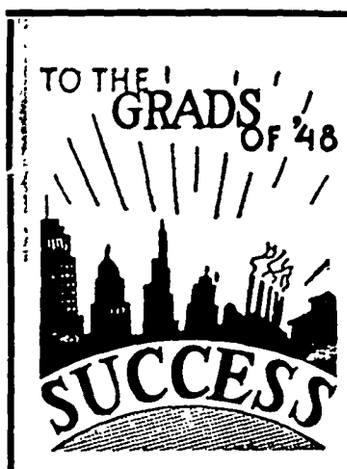
Advertise with a Times want ad.

PHOTOGRAPHS

Live
Forever

RUSSELL
Photo Studio

Next to J. C. Penny Co.
Ph. 2272 Mason City, Ia.



AS YOU CROSS THE THRESHOLD

carrying you from school days into the adult world, please add our name to your list of well-wishers. May the full measure of success be yours in the years to come.

Klemme Hdw. Co.

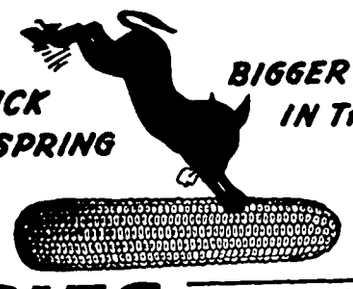
Klemme - Iowa

Times have changed since your parents went to school. Today's swift competition demands that you be prepared.

Congratulations are in order, and we're mighty proud and happy to extend them!

QUANDT'S CAFE

Mr. and Mrs. Conrad Quandt



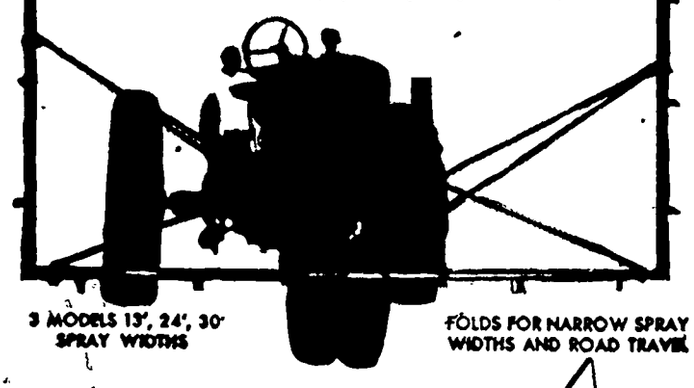
HAGIES HYBRIDS, INC.

CLARION, IOWA

ELMER SCHAEFER — GARNER, IOWA

LOW GALLONAGE
POLARIS
FIELD SPRAYER

The most practical, efficient, and complete low gallonage Field Sprayer on the market! Mount it on any make tractor without drillings or extra fittings. POLARIS delivers from 3 to 5 gallons per acre at tractor speeds of only 4 to 6 miles per hour. Easily and quickly adjusted to spray DDT, 2-4-D or any Butyl Ester base liquid weed killer at the recommended height of 18" above plants ranging from 1" to 36" high. Designed and engineered by men who know the farmer's needs; made from the finest quality materials. POLARIS will pay its way many times over.



3 MODELS 13', 24', 30' SPRAY WIDTHS

FOLDS FOR NARROW SPRAY WIDTHS AND ROAD TRAVEL

POLARIS

Northern Lumber Co.

FARM IMPLEMENTS

Phone 49 Klemme, Iowa

KLEMME LOCAL NEWS

Buy a Poppy Saturday, May 29th.

Mrs. Herman Bridges entertained Orville Bridges and family at dinner Sunday noon.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Fuss visited over Sunday with friends at Lone Tree.

Mr. and Mrs. John Lemke were visitors at the Benn Coobs home Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Benn Coobs, Mrs. Verner Lewis and Mrs. D. P. Anderson were Forest City visitors Saturday evening.

KLEMME LOCAL NEWS

Mrs. George Smith was a Mason City visitor Monday.

The Memorial Day Program will be published next week.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Roths, Marlene and Billy were Mason City visitors Friday evening.

Terry Esbeck of Ventura spent Saturday visiting with Ginger Kudje.

Mrs. Herman Back had a major operation at the Mercy hospital Monday morning.

Mrs. Martha Ridder came last week from Fort Dodge to help care for Mrs. C. A. Arnold, who is ill.

Mrs. T. W. Pavey and son, Herschel Brock of Albert Lea, Minn., spent Sunday at the W. F. Pavey home.

The Misses Bernice and Frances Tanner were supper guests at the Emil Beier home Monday evening.

Rev. and Mrs. Ralson of Somers, Iowa, were dinner guests at the Dr. D. P. Anderson home Saturday noon.

Elwyn and Dean Jacobs of Cedar Falls, spent the week end here visiing their parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Jacobs.

Mr. and Mrs. John Clements and sons were visiting at the Elwood Geary home Sunday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Clint Daniels of Garner were calling on Klemme friends Saturday. Mr. Daniels is a candidate for Supervisor.

Miss Frieda Radloff entered Mercy hospital Tuesday and will have an operation this Wednesday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Elwood Geary and son, Eldon, were Sunday dinner guest at the Edd Schoenwetter home at Garner.

Mrs. Robert Roths, Dean, Marlene and Marion Kastler spent Sunday at Des Moines visiting Wayne Bachman at the Broadlawns Hospital.

"Pete" Larsen,student at the Iowa State College, Ames, spent the week end here visiting with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Larsen.

"Red" Buntenbach of Upper Iowa University at Fayette, spent the week end in Klemme visiting at the parental E. C. Buntenbach home.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Schaefer returned to Klemme Sunday evening from their trip thru the southern states. They are now settled in the apartment at the Ed Schaefer home.

Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell Bock, Jimmy and Joyce Ann attended church at Alden Sunday morning and then drove to Iowa Falls where they were dinner guests at the George Lettow home.

Arthur Wellemeyer
FUNERAL DIRECTOR

—with long experince and best equipment.

PROMPT AMBULANCE SERVICE

Phone 23-R2 Day or Night

Klemme - Iowa

KEEP LOOKING UP

You've reached the summit of the peak . . . you look about over the country below and on to ever higher vistas . . . to peaks that beckon, challenge! Success in business, fame, professional attainments . . . always, always keep looking up! And as you go higher, remember our good wishes are with you every foot of the way.

JOE'S PLACE

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Finnegan

Klemme Iowa

KLEMME LOCAL NEWS

Buy a Poppy Saturday, May 29th.

Don't forget the movies start next Wednesday night.

Mrs. Mary Waterman, who had been visiting at the Radloff home for two weeks, returned home the first of the week.

Mrs. and Mrs. Dorance Day and Gary and Gary Pasco of Mason City were dinner guests Sunday at the Mildred Day home.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Lau and Cozette; Mrs. Herman Bridges and Mrs. Henry Medaus visited with Grandma Suckow and Mr. and Mrs. Herman Paul at the County Home Sunday afternoon.

Rev. and Mrs. J. L. Ralston of Sommers, Iowa, former pastor and wife of the Klemme-Liberty Methodist Churches, were visiting in Klemme Saturday. They had been at Lake Mills to attend a high school program directed by their daughter, Margaret, who teaches there this year.

KLEMME GIRL CHOSEN BY PURPLE ARROW SOCIETY

Miss Patricia Kudje, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Kudje of Klemme, was initiated into the Purple Arrow, an honorary schoolastic society for girls, at Iowa State Teachers College, having a 3 point or more average for two quarters A dinner was held in their honor Thursday evening at which time they each were given a 9-inch purple arrow which they were required to wear all day Friday.

Miss Kudje is also active in music on the campus and has played first choir or solo saxophone in both the marching and concert band. She is also a member of a saxophone quartette and has appeared in broadcasts over the radio on several occasions, playing solo parts in several numbers.

Made Trip To And From Minneapolis In New Airplane

"Red" Buntenbach flew to Minneapolis Friday afternoon in Buntenbach's new airplane, a Beechcraft Bonanza, and brought his sister, Larry Wicks and her two young lady friends, the Misses Shirley Hougland and Gretchen Stone, to Klemme for a week-end visit at the E. C Buntenbach home.

"Red" took the young ladies back to Minneapolis Sunday afternoon in the plane. The trip to and back from the city was made in less than 2 hours

Ell Township Farm Bureau See Conservation Film

The Ell Township Farm Bureau saw the conservation film, "The Other Side of the Fence" at their monthly monthly meeting Thursday nite, May 13th.

The film forwarded from the County PMA and projected by County Extension Director Paul Henderson. Mr. Henderson also discussed weed control, corn borer control, corn borer control and encouraged everyone to get out and vote.

R. C. Team Opened Season With Two Victories

During the past week the R. C. ball team opened its season with two victories. On Thursday evening they defeated Algona 10 to4 on the R. C. diamond and on Friday night they defeated Hayfield on the Hayfield diamond 11 to 6 in a game called in the fifth inning because of rain.

On Friday, May 21, the R. C. team will be host to the Garner team. Game time is 8:30.

See the movies Wednesday night.

BATHROOM
Closets
Metal Shower Cabinets
Soil Pipe and Fittings
Now Available!
ROY I. SCHAEFER

STUDY GROUP MET AT THE KOERNER HOME

The May meeting of the Study Group of the Methodist church met Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Gerald Koerner with Mrs. Lee Ridder as cohostess.

Mrs. Frank Ward led the devotions and the lesson on "Planning The Church" was in charge of Mrs. Lester Stille.

"Home Sweet Home" was sung by Mrs. Dwight Helps and Mrs. Roy Arnold. "That Wonderful Mother Of Mine" was sung by Mrs. Carold Larson and Mrs. Geo. Schoenwetter.

Delicious refreshments were served by the hostesses at tthe close of the meeting.

There were 32 adults and 6 children present.

Household Hints

By Mary Jane

Poach Eggs

When you are ready to poach eggs have your water boiling in the pan and take a spoon and swirl the water before breaking the egg into the pan and your egg will never break.

Rose Buds

If you want to keep rose buds for a special occasion and you want to keep the flower buds from opening put the stems in water. Cover the buds with a soft cloth or plastic piece of paper and tie or pin in place and put in the ice box and they will keep for a week.

To keep salt from caking in salt shaker place a clean small piece of blotter in bottom of salt shaker and it will always pour.

Buy a Poppy for Memorial Day.

GARNER CLINIC
GARNER, IOWA

Dr. E. M. Christensen, M.D.
Physician & Surgeon, Ph. 18
EYES TESTED — GLASSES FITTED

Dr. A. G. Landon, D.D.S.
Dentist, Ph. 207

Fifty-Fifty Class Had Weiner Roast Monday Night

Mr. and Mrs. Claude White entertained the Fifty-Fifty class at a weiner roast at their home near the river Monday night. Forty-five were present and all enjoyed a fine time.

WOMENS GUILD

The Womens Guild w at the Evangelical and med Church, Wednesda 29 at two o'clock. Mrs Grosshuesch and Mrs. Schmidt will serve.

DEAD STOCK
PROMPTLY REMOVED

Britt Rendering C
Dept. of Agr. Lic. No. 22

WE PAY PHONE CHARG
KLEMME Phone 700
GARNER Phone 4000

Our Trucks Are Steam Cleaned Aft Each Load

TANKAGE AND MINERALIZED FEED FOR SALE AT OUR PLANT

Greetings 1948 GRADUAT

We have watched your progress from the day you took your first faltering footsteps to this day when you stride confidently across the stage for your well-earned diploma.

Whether your steps now turn in the direction of another campus or take the road toward the business world our very best wishes go along, and we hope happiness and success will mark your every undertaking.

First National Ba

Klemme -

LOOK at America's Leading Trucks—
CHEVROLET
Advance-Design
TRUCKS

Today, American business that looks ahead looks to the leader's line of Advance-Design trucks for higher standards of value on the job. Today, Chevrolet trucks bring you the features of tomorrow—Advance-Design features—at the lowest prices in the volume field! Look ahead and look at them now—on display in our showroom.

LOOK at the Features...

New heavy-duty Chevrolet 4- Synchro-Mesh Truck Trans and Splined Axle Hub Co • New Advance-Design G Control and Foot-Operated ing Brake in 3-speed tru models • Improved Valve- Engine • Exclusively de Brakes.

LOOK at the Styling...

From headlight to tail li Chevrolet Advance-Design bring you the future's stri appearance in every fea body, cab, fenders and h

LOOK at the Cab...

Only Advance-Design tru the famous Cab that "br Fresh clean, cool air is and used air forced o heated in cold weather. Flexi-Mounted, cushioned with a fully-adjustable se round visibility with re windows.*

LOOK at the Prices...

Only Chevrolet offers you prices in the volume field trucks with comparable and specifications that than competitive mak models as much as $150.

CHEVROLET

*Fresh air heating and ventilating system and rear corner windows optional at extra cost.

GARNER MOTOR SALES
GARNER, IOWA

FICIAL
UNTY
PER

THE KLEMME TIMES

ume 53. KLEMME, IOWA, MAY 26, 1948 Number 28.

emorial Day Program Is anned By Service Groups

ORIAL DAY PROGRAM MONDAY

ay, May 31, 1948 At The lemme Park, 10:00 A. M. emorial Day Services, in e of the Klemme American on and Auxiliary will be on Monday Morning, May at the Klemme Park. In of inclement weather the ram will be held in the me Community Hall.

rogram At 10:00 A. M.

..... K. H. S. Band
Stanley Bulka, Director
erica" ..... Audience ation .. Rev. H. E. Harvey ders Field" --- Charlotte
ris.
ess .. Rev. T. Earl Hoon of Dows
..... K. H. S. Band
erica, The Beautiful - Double
ed Quartette, Directed By Mrs. Wesley Patterson
..... K. H. S. Band
diction, Rev. C. Grosshuesch

Parade Formation

s and Color Guard
me High Cchool Band
n Firing Squad
sh American War Veteran
Mr H. F. Yost rican Legion
iary Unit
r Girls
me Boy Scouts
me Girl Scouts
l Children, Citizens.

Services At Cemetery

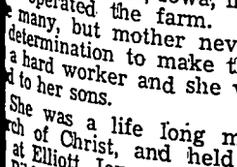
American Legion and the iary Unit will decorate the and continue services Klemme Cemetery, fol- the program at the Klem- rk.

organizations meet at the mmity Hall at 9:30 a. m. ram Subject to change.

rday Bridge Club Met

M. L. Harson was hostess Saturday bridge Club at me Saturday afternoon contract bridge was play- llowed by a nice lunch. Kenneth Medin won the core, while Mrs. Ray Jor- , Jr. was second high. m. Fuss was a guest.

HELLO, FOLKS!



nd Mrs. Vern Bisom, of , are the parents of a 3 oz. baby girl born on y, May 20, 1948, at the hospital in Mason City. been named Mary Re-

WEAR A POPPY

On Saturday, May 29, all of us will be asked to wear a little red poppy on our coats or dresses. The day will be Poppy Day, when, once each year, we of America pay tribute, by wearing their memorial flower, the the poppy, to those who gave their lives in America's service during the World Wars. And as we receive our poppy from the women of the American Legion Auxiliary, who will distribute the flowers on the streets that day, we will be aiding the wars' living victims by the contribution we make for the flower.

The disabled veterans who make the poppies derive benefit from the work. First, it gives them employment—their only chance to support themselves and families. With their strength and health gone, they cannot do regular work, but they can make poppies. Even in their hospital beds they can do this work, earning money for each flower they make. Second, the work is of real value in aiding their recovery, occupying hands and minds, breaking the tedium of long idleness, and restoring spirits crushed by hopelessness.

ORGANIZE MUSIC MOTHERS CLUB

Mothers of band members met at the school Wednesday afternoon and organized a Music Mothers Club. Meeting will be held the third Wednesday of each month and the next meeting will be at the schoolhouse June 16th. All mothers are urged to be present. Please keep this date in mind and plan now to attend.

Officers elected for the coming year were: President, Mrs. Ed Christians; Vice President, Mrs. Alvin Goll; Secretary, Mrs. Lee Rider; Treasurer, Mrs. Gruis.

Little Boy Fell Out Of Car

When Mr. and Mrs. John Clements and two small sons, Jimmy and Jerry, were returning home from the picture show at Garner Friday evening, the car door came open and little Jerry fell out. Fortunately he fell out on the right side onto the gravel along the paving and away from oncoming cars. However, he received a bad cut on his forehead which required the attention of a physician.

Legion-Auxiliary Meeting

The Klemme American Legion and Auxiliary will meet on Tuesday evening, June 1st at the Community Hall. Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Sherwood and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Schulz will serve.

MISS MARJORIE HARTBECK IS BRIDE OF EVERETT JURGEMEYER

Marriage Performed At The Klemme Evangelical And Reformed Church

Marjorie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Hartbeck, became the bride of Everett W. Jurgemeyer, son of Mr and Mrs Wm. Jurgemeyer, of Garner, Tuesday evening, May 18, at the Klemme Evangelical and Reformed Church Rev. Calvin Grosshuesch, pastor, performed the double ring ceremony.

The interior of the church was decorated with yellow tulips and white lilacs.

Miss Iris Rosendahl played "O Perfect Love" and the wedding marches on the organ and also accompanied Miss Jean Kurtz, of Marshalltown, who sang, "Because," and "The Lord's Prayer."

The couple was attended by Esther Mae Hartbeck, sister of the bride and Lewellyn Hippen, of Renwick. Ushers were Herbert Diekuis of Garner and Edward Barz, of Klemme.

The bride was given in marriage by her father She wore a white marquisette gown with a full train and fingertip veil. The bride's only jewelry was a strand of pearls, a gift of the groom. She carried a shower bouquet of white roses and snap dragons.

The maid of honor wore a yellow formal with a matching veil. She carried a bouquet of yellow roses and white snap dragons.

The groom wore a grey pinstriped suit. The best man wore a blue pin striped suit. Both wore white carnation boutonnieres.

A reception was held immediately following the ceremony in the church basement.

The couple will be at home on his father's farm, northeast of Klemme.

Methodist W. S. C. S.

The W. S. C. S. will meet June 3rd with Mrs. Roy Jacobs as leader of the worship service and Miss Leona Lau, leader of the program. Hostesses are Mrs J. C. Thomas, Mrs Sumner Trumbell and Mrs. Orville Bridges.

Engineers Surveying For Farm To Market Paving

Engineers of the Rowat & Murray Co. of Estherville and Belmond arrived in Klemme on Monday morning to survey the Main Street for the new Farm To Market paving that will join the paving at the post Office and continue east to the end of Main Street, and then will go north to the County Road.

K. H. S. Alumni Banquet

The K. H. S. Alumni banquet and dance will be held in the Community Hall on Friday evening, June 25th.

Miss Lydia Pearson returned home Friday from the Mercy hospital at Mason City where she was the subject of an operation.

HANCOCK COUNTY RURAL EIGHTH GRADERS PROMOTED

Promotion Exercises Held At Garner Friday Morning, May 21st

Rural Eighth Graders of Hancock County were promoted at the annual exercises held at Garner Friday morning, May 21. Dr Leonard C. Murray, Division of Public Health, Des Moines, gave the address.

Chas S. Whitney, County Superintendent of Schools, presented Certificates which entitle the holder to enter high school.

The following eighth grade pupils in Hancock County were promoted.

Honor Roll

Darrell Schaper ..... Britt 7
Lois Nuehring ..... Orthel 7
Kay Boehnke ..... Concord 2
Glen Blumer ..... Avery 2
Patricia Muhm ..... Erin 6
Marjory Schaper ..... Britt 7
Kenneth Boelts .... Bingham 4
Marie Ostercamp .... Orthel 4

Class Roll

Amsterdam

Dwayne Hansen, Bernard Lamfers, Delores Nelson.

Ell

Delores Alden, Shirley Greiman, Roger Howard, Mary Pannhoff.

Avery

Glen Blumer.
Donna Kramer, Wilda Schutter.

Liberty

Shirley Beier, James Legge, Mary Lou Prohaska, Vivian Stromer, Frencis Zrostlik.

Twin Lake

Harlan Anderson, Larry Fjetland, Clarence Sandry.

Miller Independent

Verla Jean Lemke, Marcus Mary.

Britt

Arthur Chizek, Richard Rasmuson, Darrell Schaper, Marjory Schaper, David Stewart.

Bride Honored At Miscellaneous Shower At Buseman Home

A miscellaneous post nuptial shower was given in honor of Mrs. La Verne Velau at the home of Mrs. Francis Buseman on Thursday afternoon, May 20th. Mrs. Melvin Schaefer and Mrs. Virgil Stille were in charge of the entertainment.

The Bride received many beautiful and useful gifts given her by the ladies present.

The hostess served a nice lunch later in the afternoon. Mrs. Velau is the former Miss Della Stafford, of Waterloo.

Soft Ball Games

Hayfield—The official opening of the Hancock County Soft Ball League will take place this week according to Cletus Liska, local player and secretary of the League.

Hayfield will play Garner here Wednesday night and the other teams will play Thursday night with Britt and Crystal Lake, Klemme at Liberty and Woden at R. C. Church park north of Klemme. All the fields are lighted and a lot of good clean sport should be had in these localities.

Bible School Class Made Trip To Mason City Churches

Mrs. Kenneth Medin's 7th and 8th grade Bible class of the Methodist Church is studying phases of inter-denominational churches.

To better visiualize their course of study, Mrs. Medin took her class of 14 to Mason City Tuesday where they visited a number of churches of different denominations.

Mrs. Medin, Rev. Harvey and Dwight Helps drove their cars and each took a load of pupils.

Hospitalized

Roy Jacobs is a patient at the Mercy hospital at Mason City where he had an operation performed for a shoulder injury on Friday morning.

SUPERVISOR CHAMBERS INSTALLED INTERESTING BRIDGE PROJECT

There wan an interesting bridge project going on near the John Christians farm northeast of Klemme Saturday when Supervisor John Chambers replaced an old wooden bridge across a dredge ditch with a modern type waterway.

To begin the story there were eight semi-truck loads of huge culvert sections brought up from Des Moines. Each section of culvert weighed 7½ tons. Each section was 6 feet long and 8½ feet high, giving a 7 foot clearance inside. The culverts are made of concrete re-inforced with steel.

The 8 sections were assembled on the road, being pushed together with a bulldozer until they formed one long pipe. Four heavy chains were then placed inside, holding the sections together.

Now that the old bridge was out of the way, a bulldozer was then used to roll the long culvert into place and it dropped into the ditch perfectly and as it slid into place water in the ditch was thrown forty feet into the air, as the 60 tons of concrete and steel hit the water.

This new type of waterway should last indefinitely and is much better than the old conventional bridge waterway. It also is cheaper to install and saves the county between $500 and $600 in cost.

After the culvert was installed, it was covered over and the road will be smooth and much better where a wooden bridge is installed.

EXTENSIVE REPAIR WORK BEING MADE AT THE REFORM CHURCH

A crew of men have been at work at the Klemme Evangelical and Reformed Church for over a week repairing the exterior walls and bell tower.

For some time the mortar between the bricks has been deteriating causing heavy rains to soak into the walls and cause further damage.

The crew made up of experts in their line, cover each brick with a special paper to protect the face of bricks while working. The old mortar is removed where loose and a new, water-proofed mortar is worked between the bricks. Where the brick work is bad the old bricks are removed and replaced. This is a slow, tedious process, but results are showing and when completed the job should be permanent and does not alter the appearance of the brick work very much from the original.

SUNBEAMS HAVE MOTHER'S TEA

Fourteen visitors, twelve members, and two leaders enjoyed a Mother's Tea, held by the Avery 4-H Sunbeams at the home of Iris Rosendahl, May 22nd.

Betty Ann Kramer gave a talk on, "Helps For A Good Fit" and Lois Lowenburg told us about selecting patterns for a school dress. Joan Burgess gave a talk on, "Correct Tread and Needle Sizes." Iris Rosendahl gave a demonstration on "Making Seams; Plain, French and Flat Feld."

Harriet Ostendorf showed us correct ways to press various materials.

A contest was held, and Harriet Ostendorf and Joan Lowenberg were chosen as the better groomed girls. Iris Rosendahl was elected our club's candidate for county officer and Joan Lowenberg will be her campaign speaker. Two girls were chosen to sing in the chorus and two were chosen to be in the skit on Rally Day.

Doris Gruis and Mary Ann Blumer will attend the District 4-H camp and Harriet Ostendorf will go to the State Convention at Ames.

Lunch was served and several pictures of the club were taken.

Mrs. Maude Hummel Died At Her Home Here Sunday

WATERLOO GIRL WEDS KLEMME FARMER IN ARKANSAS

Miss Della Stafford, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Stafford of Waterloo, and Vern Velau, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Velau, who reside on their farm soutnwest of Klemme, were united in marriage at Harrison, Arkansas, on Saturday, May 8th, 1948 at 10:00 o'clock in a single ring ceremony.

The bride wore a street length gray suit with a corsage of yellow carnations. The bridegroom wore a dark brown suit with a white carnation.

The couple was attended by Mr. and Mrs. Aaron Anderson, brother-in-law and sister of the Bride.

Mrs. Velau graduated with the class of 1947 at the Waterloo High School and since that time was employed at the Rath Packing Co. plant in Waterloo.

The couple will make their home on the Velau farm where the bridegroom has assisted his father in operating the farm for several years.

Tuesday evening a group of neighbors and friends gathered at the Velau home and gave the newlyweds a real old fashioned charivari that brought forth the desired treats.

GOODELL WILL HAVE MEMORIAL DAY PROGRAM AT CEMETERY

The Robbins-Christenson Legion Post of Goodell is planning their Memorial Day Program, which will be held at the Amsterdam Cemetery east of Goodell on Monday Morning at 10:00 o'clock.

The American Legion will assemble at the entrance and March to the grave of the Unknown Soldier where services will be held:

Program

Chaplin's Prayer - Mrs. Arthur Ruka
Reading of Honor Roll --- Wm. Butts
Presentation of Wreath -- Mrs. Ira Langlitz
Address ---- Rev. W. T. Boston
Pastor Goodell E. U. B. Church
Salute To The Dead -- Firing Squad, in charge of Kenneth Boller
Taps --------- Marvin Lackore

KLEMME LOCAL NEWS

Nora Eliason of near Kanawha visited at the Emil Beier home Thursday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Emil Beier drove to Rock Falls Sunday for a visit with Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Franklin.

Mrs. Johanna Wesendorf and Mrs. Geo. Carmen of Buffalo Center called at the W. F. Pavey home Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. Dwight Hummel has been assisting with work at the Post Office the past week while Clerk W. C. Keraus was working on tax matters with the County Board of Review.

Rev. and Mrs. Wm. Suckow of Van Metre, Iowa, were dinner guests at the Emil Beier home Monday. Rev. Suckow spoke at the Methodist Mens meeting at Liberty in the evening.

More tough luck for Bobbie Arnold, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred J. Arnold. A couple of weeks ago he fractured his arm and was nicely recovering and all set to take in the school picnic, but on Wednesday he became ill and had to go to bed for several days and so lost out on the fun of taking in the picnic.

Mrs. Esther Barz has had her home on East Main Street improved the past week by having a vestibule entrance built on the house. The new addition makes her home very attractive.

Funeral Services Held This Afternoon At Dwight Hummel Home

Mrs. Maude Hummel, 72, died Suddenly at her home in Klemme Sunday forenoon.

Funeral services in charge of Wellemeyer Funeral Service, was held this Wednesday afternoon at the Dwight Hummel home in Klemme with the Rev. Herschel E. Harvey officiating. Burial was in the Ell Township Cemetery near Klemme. The Casket Bearers were Everett Weiland, Wm. Velau, John Velau, Art Schoenwetter, John Etchen and Emil Beier.

The obituary appears elsewhere in this issue of The Times.

EXTERIOR WALLS OF SCHOOL HOUSE ARE DETERIATING

Deteriation of the brick work, especially on the east and south sides of the Klemme Public School has caused concern among the school board members as to what should be done to prevent further damage and expense to the building.

The building was constructed of rather soft brick which were held together with mortar that also has proved to be non-water resistant. The combination of the two has caused deteriation in the walls allowing hard rains to soak through the walls and damage the interior.

The building was constructed in 1939, only 9 years ago, on a P. W. A. project. Brick and material used was given an O. K. by a government engineer at the time.

Board members are at a loss on what to do as this repair may run into a $10,000 job as all four sides of the building should be gone over thoroughly and water-proofed.

Large Crowd At Annual School Picnic In Park Friday

One of the largest crowds in years attended the annual Klemme School picnic in the park Friday noon.

The weather was ideal for a picnic and the food was extra good and plenty of it. Hot coffee, cold drinks and ice cream was provided by the school board and there was plenty for everyone.

A new feature this year was a band concert by the K. H. S. Band, directed by Stanley Bulka, who furnished music during the noon hour. This was especially appreciated by the large crowd who enjoyed the music by one of Iowa's top bands.

PLAN PUBLIC SALE HERE ONCE EACH MONTH

There will be a public sale of farm machinery, and miscellaneous articles in Klemme on Saturday afternoon of this week on the lot north of the north elevator.

The sale is sponsored by Tom Roths, and Frank Davis, auctioneer. The men plan to hold a sale once each month in Klemme. Those who have livestock, machinery, household goods, etc. can bring them to the sale, or list them with Tom Roths for the June sale.

DUST! DUST!

There is a continual cloud of dust hanging over Klemme caused by cars and trucks stirring up loose dust on the streets. How about it, Councilmen, why not douse some calcium chloride on for relief? We can't go on like this all summer.

OBITUARY OF MRS. MAUDE HUMMEL

Maude M., daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wright was born on June 26, 1876, at ott, Iowa, and passed to her reward on 23, 1948 from no apparent illness at home in Klemme, Iowa.

Maude M. Wright was united in mare on May 15, 1898 to Leroy S. Hummel ed Oak, Iowa, by the Rev. E. W. Brickpastor of the First Church of Christ. To union were born three children, name- Gladys Juanita, who died in infancy; ht Russell and Donavan Hugh.

Mr. Hummel passed away in January and the mother was left alone with sons. They came to the Hummel farm west of Klemme, Iowa, in 1920, who toer operated the farm. The hardships many, but mother never wavered in determination to make things go. She a hard worker and she was deeply de- to her sons.

She was a life long member of the rch of Christ, and held her member- at Elliott, Iowa. This verse found in Bible shows her appreciation of her ch:

"A Sabbath well spent
Brings a week of content;
And a health for joys of tomorrow.
But a Sabbath profaned
Whatever be gained,
Is a certain forerunner of sorrow."

It was said at the funeral of her husband: "Mr. and Mrs. Hummel loved their home passionately, and he and his good wife knew how to make others happy and enjoy themselves when in their home."

Mrs. Hummel did her own house work and refused assistance in the things she could do alone. She mowed her own lawn and cared for her garden which was weedless, as she kept both immaculately clean.

Her motto seemed to be:

"I am only one, but I am one;
I cannot do everything
But I can do something.
What I can do I ought to do
And by the grace of God I will do."

Surviving her going are her two sons. Dwight Russell of Klemme, and Donavan Hugh of Garner RFD; one brother, Wayne Wright of near Kansas City, Kansas; four sisters: Mrs. Gus Spellerberg of Garden Grove, Iowa; Mrs. Fannie Saunders of Arcadia, California; Mrs. John Sweitzer, and Mrs. Eunice Brown of Omaha, Nebraska. Also seven grandchildren.

Cross Town by Roland Coe

"DON'T I GET AN APTITUDE TEST OR SOMETHING—MAYBE I'M NOT KINDERGARTEN MATERIAL!"

Bobby Sox by Marty Links

"YOUR EXPLANATION ABOUT LAST NIGHT IS NOT ACCEPTABLE, ALVIN — BUT YOUR GIFT IS!"

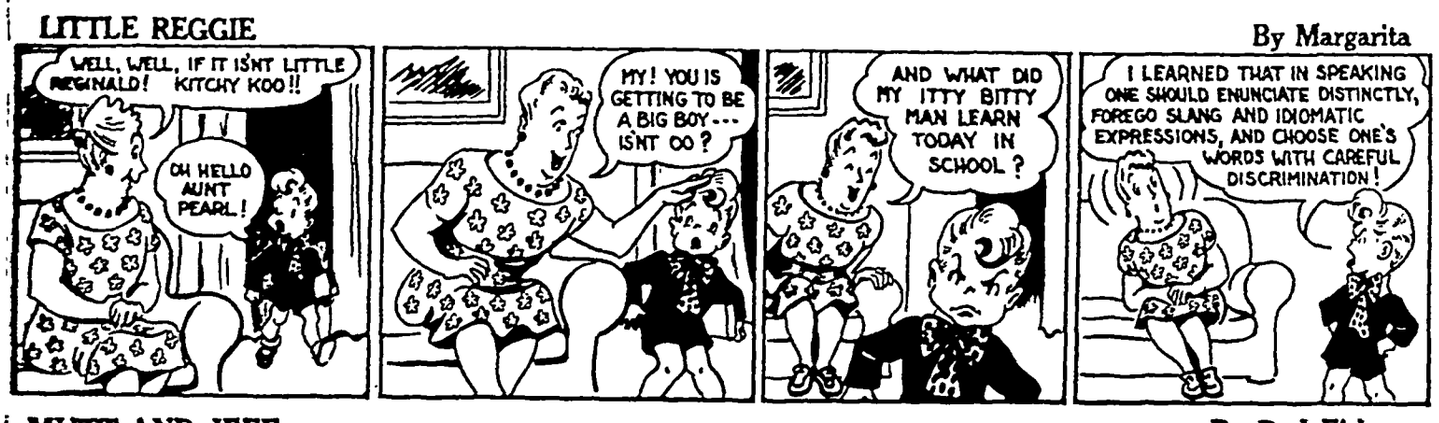
NANCY

By Ernie Bushmiller

YUMMY
I'LL HAVE ANOTHER CANDY, AUNT FRITZI
WHERE ARE YOUR MANNERS, NANCY?--SAY 'PLEASE'
MAY I HAVE ANOTHER CANDY, AUNT FRITZI, PLEASE?
NO
SEE---WHAT DOES IT GET YOU?

LITTLE REGGIE

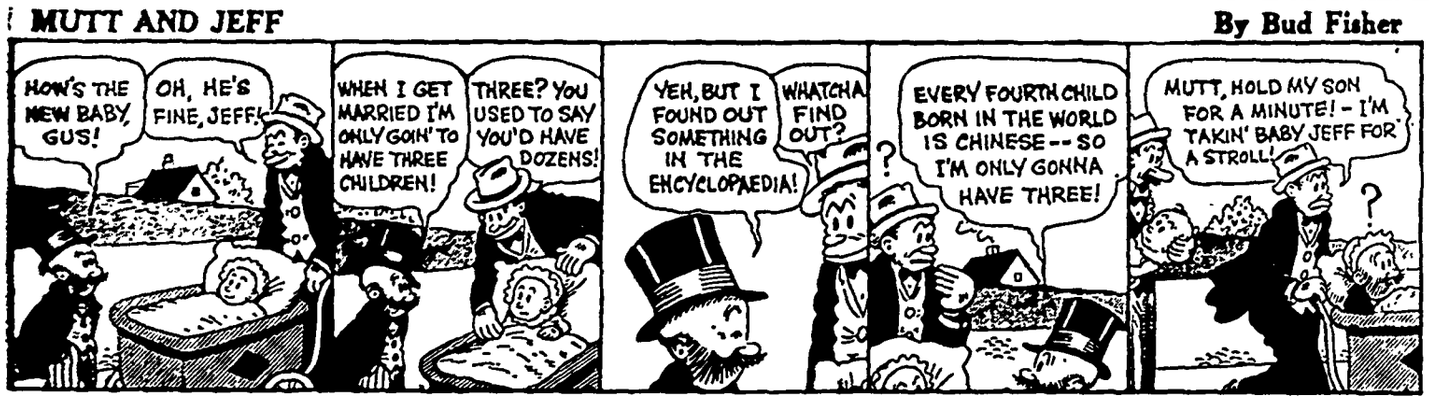
By Margarita



WELL, WELL, IF IT ISN'T LITTLE REGINALD! KITCHY KOO!!
OH HELLO AUNT PEARL!
MY! YOU IS GETTING TO BE A BIG BOY---ISN'T OO?
AND WHAT DID MY ITTY BITTY MAN LEARN TODAY IN SCHOOL?
I LEARNED THAT IN SPEAKING ONE SHOULD ENUNCIATE DISTINCTLY, FOREGO SLANG AND IDIOMATIC EXPRESSIONS, AND CHOOSE ONE'S WORDS WITH CAREFUL DISCRIMINATION!

MUTT AND JEFF

By Bud Fisher



HOW'S THE NEW BABY, GUS!
OH, HE'S FINE, JEFF!
WHEN I GET MARRIED I'M ONLY GOIN' TO HAVE THREE CHILDREN!
THREE? YOU USED TO SAY YOU'D HAVE DOZENS!
YEH, BUT I FOUND OUT SOMETHING IN THE ENCYCLOPAEDIA!
WHATCHA FIND OUT?
EVERY FOURTH CHILD BORN IN THE WORLD IS CHINESE--SO I'M ONLY GONNA HAVE THREE!
MUTT, HOLD MY SON FOR A MINUTE! - I'M TAKIN' BABY JEFF FOR A STROLL!

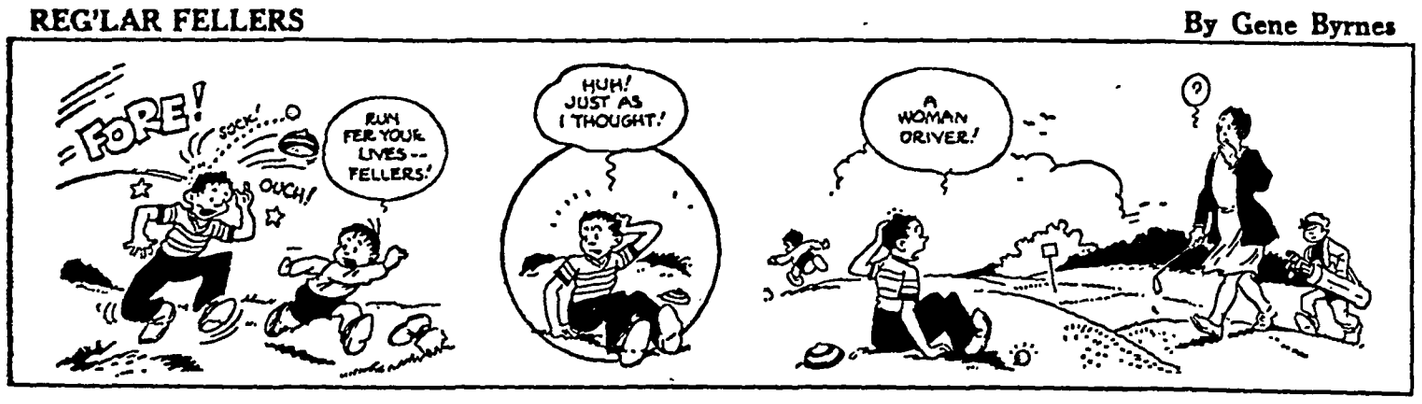
JITTER

By Arthur Pointer

WHERE'D YOU GET THOSE FISH?
JITTER SHOWED ME WHERE HE CATCHES 'EM
IT'S EASY TO FIND SOMEBODY MARKED IT WITH A FLAG
MAN! THIS IS PERFECT! DROP YOUR HOOK PULL IN A WHALE!
SO YOU'RE THE BUM WHO'S BEEN FISHING OUT OF MY NETS!

REG'LAR FELLERS

By Gene Byrnes



SUNNYSIDE

by Clark S. Haas

!!
OH, MY ACHING BACK!!
PERSCRIPTIONS FILLED Rx
- ANYTHING I CAN DO FOR YOU, FRIEND?!
DEE'S DRUGS
YEAH! COME OUTSIDE AND HELP ME FINISH CHANGING MY TIRE!!

VIRGIL

By Len Kleis

CLOSE OUT SALE THEATRICAL WIGS
WHAT A HORRIBLE MONSTROSITY
I'LL HAVE A LITTLE FUN SCARING VIRGIL WITH THIS WIG
GEE, POP-YOU LOOK SWELL WITH HAIR

GAGS

BEST LAUGHS OF THE WEEK

BACK HOME AGAIN

By Ed Dodd

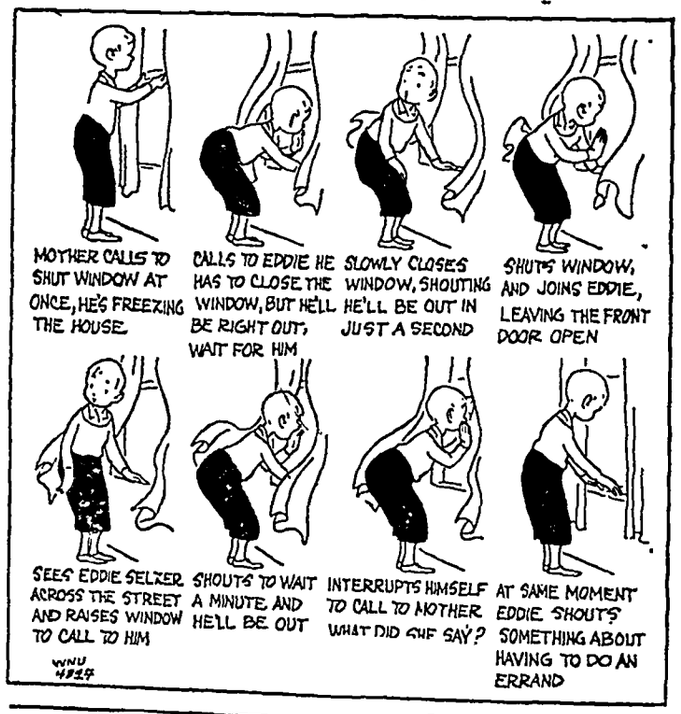
AG, I'VE JUST GOT TO TELL YOU A LITTLE SCANDAL ... I'M NOT INTERFERING WITH YOUR DINNER, AM I?
OH, HEAVENS, NO! - IT'LL BE HOURS BEFORE WE EVEN THINK OF IT!
THAT YOUNG MARRIED COUPLE
WNU 4820

WEEKLY RIB!

By Roy Mathison

NEXT DOOR

By Gluyas Williams



MOTHER CALLS TO SHUT WINDOW AT ONCE, HE'S FREEZING THE HOUSE.
CALLS TO EDDIE HE HAS TO CLOSE THE WINDOW, BUT HE'LL BE RIGHT OUT, WAIT FOR HIM
SLOWLY CLOSES WINDOW, SHOUTING HE'LL BE OUT IN JUST A SECOND
SHUTS WINDOW, AND JOINS EDDIE, LEAVING THE FRONT DOOR OPEN
SEES EDDIE SELTZER ACROSS THE STREET AND RAISES WINDOW TO CALL TO HIM
SHOUTS TO WAIT A MINUTE AND HE'LL BE OUT
INTERRUPTS HIMSELF TO CALL TO MOTHER WHAT DID SHE SAY?
AT SAME MOMENT EDDIE SHOUTS SOMETHING ABOUT HAVING TO DO AN ERRAND
WNU 4819

KRNT RADIO THEATER
DES MOINES, IOWA.
ONE NIGHT ONLY—FRIDAY, JUNE 4
By Popular Demand
The Philadelphia Orchestra
ORMANDY, conducting
HILSBERG, associate conductor 110 musicians
TRANSCONTINENTAL TOUR SPONSORED BY COLUMBIA RECORDS INC.
MAIL ORDERS NOW! Enclose Self-addressed Stamped Envelope
PRICES: Main Floor $3.66, $3.05, $2.44; Balcony $3.66, $3.05, $2.44, $1.83, $1.22 (tax incl.)

JUNIOR FROCK HAS NICE DETAIL

Date Dress

A stunning date dress for ju... with nice detail at the yoke ... hipline. Sleeves are cool ... comfortable, the skirt feature... popular ballerina look. Try a ... white sharkskin—lovely again... glowing tan.

* * *

Pattern No. 8289 is for size... 12, 13, 14, 16 and 18. Size 12... sleeve, 4 yards of 39-inch.

Don't wait—send today for a... of the Spring and Summer F... ION—it's brimful of sewing... gestions. Free pattern print... side the book. 25 cents.

SEWING CIRCLE PATTERN D... 530 South Wells St. Chicago ... Enclose 25 cents in coins for ... pattern desired.

Pattern No.____ Size...

Name____

Address____

20 Years—A... No Purgativ...

"For the last 20 years I have... on KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN to k... regular—it has never failed ... W. L. Carmichael, Portsmou...

If your diet lacks the bu... normal elimination, eat an ounce of KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN every day in milk—and drink plenty of water. If not satisfied after a 10-day trial send the empty carton to the Kellogg Company, Battle Creek, Mich., ... DOUBLE YOUR MONEY BACK. KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN today.

SPRAY WIT... Bla... Lea...

—Double-... elder Kills ... kills by fu... plant Bee ... beneficial ... on original factory ... tainers to insure ... TOBACCO BY-PR... CHEMICAL COR... Nicotine Specialists ... LOUISVILLE 2, ...

One ounce plus soap makes 6 gallons of effective aphid-spray.

LOOK FOR THE LEAF ON THE ...

STOP LIGHTNING DAMAGE ... "National Quality" Systems Prevent Stroke from Occurring. Write for F... "In Lightning Protection Work ... NAT'AL LIGHTNING PROTECTION ...

OUT OF ... DIAMO... Direct to You—... Savings! Over 100,... customers—Sold with ... Money-Back Guara... from this ad. Write ... ILLUSTRATED ... BERMAN'S COLLATER... Dept. WG, 635-54 W. Ran...

Planning for the F... Buy U. S. Savings ...

Kidneys M... Work W...

For You To Feel ...

24 hours every day, ... week, never stopping, the ... waste matter from the blo...

If more people were aw... kidneys must constantly ... plus fluid, excess acids and ... matter that cannot stay ... without injury to health, ... be better, understanding ... whole system is upset when ... to function properly.

Burning, scanty or too fr... tion sometimes warns that ... is wrong. You may suffer ... nagging backache, headaches, dizziness, ... pains, getting up at night, ...

Why not try Doan's Pi... be using a medicine recom... country over. Doan's stimu... tion of the kidneys and ... flush out poisonous was... blood. They contain no ... Get Doan's today. Use ... At all drug stores.

DOAN'S P...

The FICTION Corner

SUBWAY LOCHINVAR

By PAT HILKER

had a pocketful of nickels, be followed her to the change He stood behind her in the his eyes noting every detail her soft, short black curls to ll-size suede shoes. He even ed of her hat, a warm plum the exact shade of coat and as so busy with his survey failed to notice the nickel in the worn wooden cup in elf.

Lady," the money-changer after her, "You left your !"

must not have heard the man, was already through the turn- and was disappearing down the to the platform. Jeff tried to his voice sound casual as he man, "I'll give it to her."

man grinned. "Sure don't you."

fumbled in his haste to get the turnstile. He followed nstairs and spotted her in dle of the crowd on the plat- watching the F train roll in.

change," he panted, "You r change at the booth."

stared up at him, and the im- the incredibly dark velvety sed his heart into some orld far, far away. Desper- e searched for the smooth, exactly right thing he could think to say until it late. But, "You left your ," he repeated inanely, and the nickel.

thank you very much," she her voice was just what it ave been—low and soft and "How nice of you to chase e!"

that's all right," he said. I . . " and there he stuck. miled rather vaguely at him, minute, and started to turn en he failed to think of any- e to say.

please!" he shouted at her. 't need to shout—he was ide her—so close that the shing out of the train threw st him. For a breathless he saw her tiny hand clutch oat, smelled the wonderful of her perfume as she up at him. He supported rs and helped her catch her seems to be your day for me," she said, "Thanks

he could say another word, inside the car and the door ng. Then he realized he ed out her name or any- t her except that her left innocent of rings—wedding se.

ed down the platform and last late-closing door. It much to know that he e same train with her— e had no business on. It ed and he struggled hope- get back to her car. He sand deaths at 34th street, 4th, afraid she would get e would miss her in the ed at West 4th street, but in time and bounded after the stairs to the Sixth ave- m, barely keeping her in t she looked right at him, she wheeled and ran back r. "Hope she isn't afraid l peg me for a wolf," he lf. "No—that's silly! didn't even see me." He up the stairs—to find as not on the downtown looked behind the news th ends of the long plat- as not in sight. on him to look across the tracks at the uptown platform—where he saw her, just before the train pulled in.

Jeff spotted her in the middle of the crowd on the platform, watching the F train roll in. "Your change," he panted, "you left your change at the booth."

He skidded all the way down the stairs, landing in an ungraceful and thoroughly disgruntled heap at the bottom. By the time he untangled his long arms and legs and got across the mezzanine floor and back up the uptown stairs, the train was pulling out and she was gone.

He was sunk, stymied, and he didn't have the remotest chance of catching her—of finding out what any half-wit should have asked her before he returned the precious nickel. Who was she? Where did she live? Did she travel the same route every day? Did she work—did she—he didn't have the slightest clue as to how to find her again—ever.

Cursing himself for a blithering idiot, he stepped on the next train that came along. Might as well go back to 42nd street and ride his usual train—back to his lonely room and his lonelier thoughts.

Of course he decided to be at that change booth every day for the rest of his life, if necessary, until he found her again. He pondered an ad to run in the Times: "Will the beautiful lady with the dark eyes who forgot a nickel at the change booth at 42nd street on the night of. . "

The guard looked at her with understanding, looked grimly at Jeff and had a firm grip on Jeff's collar an instant later. "Bothering the lady, eh? Why you—I ought to have you thrown in the jug!"

In about 40 seconds, Jeff was standing dazed and furious outside the subway station, back where he had first maneuvered to walk close to the lovely little black-haired stranger.

Why had she raised such a rumpus? She must have seen him before, when she doubled back at West 4th—she must have run away from him! What was so frightening about him?

He puzzled and groused over that problem while he drank two cups of coffee in a little place across the street. He didn't get the answer until he reached into his pocket for his wallet to pay his check. The wallet was gone

Jeff remembered the appealing way her dark eyes had held his when she was thrown on his chest on the platform—remembered those pretty little white hands as they clung to his lapel—tugging at his heart strings—and his wallet.

Back at 42nd street, he stood gloomily staring at her for several minutes before he realized it. She was standing on the downtown platform again, right where he had first muffed his chances with this girl he had dreamed all of his life of some day meeting. She was talking to a man, so absorbed that she didn't even glance in his direction.

Once more Jeff dashed upstairs, downstairs and along the platform until at last he could reach out and grasp her arm.

She looked up then, surprise widening her dark eyes, and let out a blood-curdling scream. "Help! Police—Help!" She backed away from him, still screaming and started toward a blue-uniformed subway guard.

LET'S TALK ABOUT You

BY CHARLES B. ROTH

Tact—A Daily Need

One of the chief qualities of those whom you like and admire is a quality known as tact.

Chances are that in your lifetime you've known very few men and women who were completely tactful. But haven't you known scores and scores who were not?

You know the kind I mean—men and women who always are saying untactful things that make you unhappy, that fill you with doubts about yourself, that give you moments when you wonder whether there is such a thing as a kindly person in the world.

Tact is without doubt the essence of charm, graciousness and of gentleness. But do you know what it is?

It's merely the perception of what to do or say under delicate or difficult circumstances. That's a definition of tact. But tact is much more than a definition really.

Tact is really a way of life. You can't be tactful unless you are thinking about other people, about what they like, about their rights and feelings more than you think about your own.

The real value of tact in your life is that it relieves tension and glosses over situations that might endanger friendships or cause you to lose self-respect in the eyes of other persons. If you have tact, you balance both sides and never willfully offend another person.

At the risk of appearing untactful, let me tell you that no one ever is born with tact, but everyone who ever had it acquired it. And you can acquire it just as easily and just as surely as anyone else can. Do you want to know how?

I've already hinted at that earlier in this article. I hinted at this when I said that if you wanted to be tactful you had to think more about the other person than you think about yourself. And that's the advice I am going to give you now.

Think of that other person, try to see his viewpoint, try to see what his likes and dislikes are. Ask yourself what you would do if your respective roles were reversed. And then when you express yourself either by word or action, express yourself in unselfishness in the way you think he would like you to.

Familiar Birds

I ONLY wish you could see the color sketches of these birds—they're colorful enough to frame! The seven-inch bird designs to be embroidered on towels, pillows, breakfast cloths include a kingfisher, red-headed woodpecker, bluejay, robin, oriole, cardinal and two brown sparrows. Colorings are vividly natural and the fascinating designs are to be embroidered in outline and satin stitch.

To obtain 7 transfer designs, color chart for working, amounts of materials required for the Familiar Birds (Pattern No. 5191) send 20 cents in coin, Your Name, Address and Pattern Number.

Due to an unusually large demand and current conditions, slightly more time is required in filling orders for a few of the most popular patterns.

Send your order to:

SEWING CIRCLE NEEDLEWORK
530 South Wells St. Chicago 7, Ill.
Enclose 20 cents for Pattern.
No._____
Name_____
Address_____

Relieves Distress of MONTHLY
FEMALE WEAKNESS

Also Helps Build Up Red Blood!
Do female functional periodic disturbances make you suffer pain, feel so nervous, irritable—at such times? Then try Lydia E. Pinkham's TABLETS to relieve such symptoms. Pinkham's Tablets are also very effective to help build up red blood in simple anemia.
Lydia E. Pinkham's TABLETS

Buy U. S. Savings Bonds!

● In NR (Nature's Remedy) Tablets, there are no chemicals, no minerals, no phenol derivatives. NR Tablets are different—act different. Purely vegetable—a combination of 10 vegetable ingredients formulated over 50 years ago. Uncoated or candy coated, their action is dependable, thorough, yet gentle, as millions of NR's have proved. Get a 25¢ box. Use as directed.
Nature's Remedy
NR TO-NIGHT TOMORROW ALRIGHT
ALWAYS CARRY TUMS QUICK RELIEF FOR ACID INDIGESTION

NO TROUBLE AT ALL!

"Seaman Smith swallowed his knife, sir, and we've operated for its recovery without success."

"Very well. Issue Smith another knife."

NEWS that makes folks sleep all night!
Thousands now sleep undisturbed because of the news that their being awakened night after night might be from bladder irritation, not the kidneys. Let's hope so! That's a condition Foley Pills usually allay within 24 hours. Since bladder irritation is so prevalent and Foley Pills so potent, Foley Pills must benefit you within 24 hours or DOUBLE YOUR MONEY BACK. Make 24-hour test. Get Foley Pills from druggist. Full satisfaction or DOUBLE YOUR MONEY BACK.

Build Vigor...Energy!

Delicious Kellogg's Corn Flakes are satisfying fuel-food! A quick energy food for kids. They sure can use it!
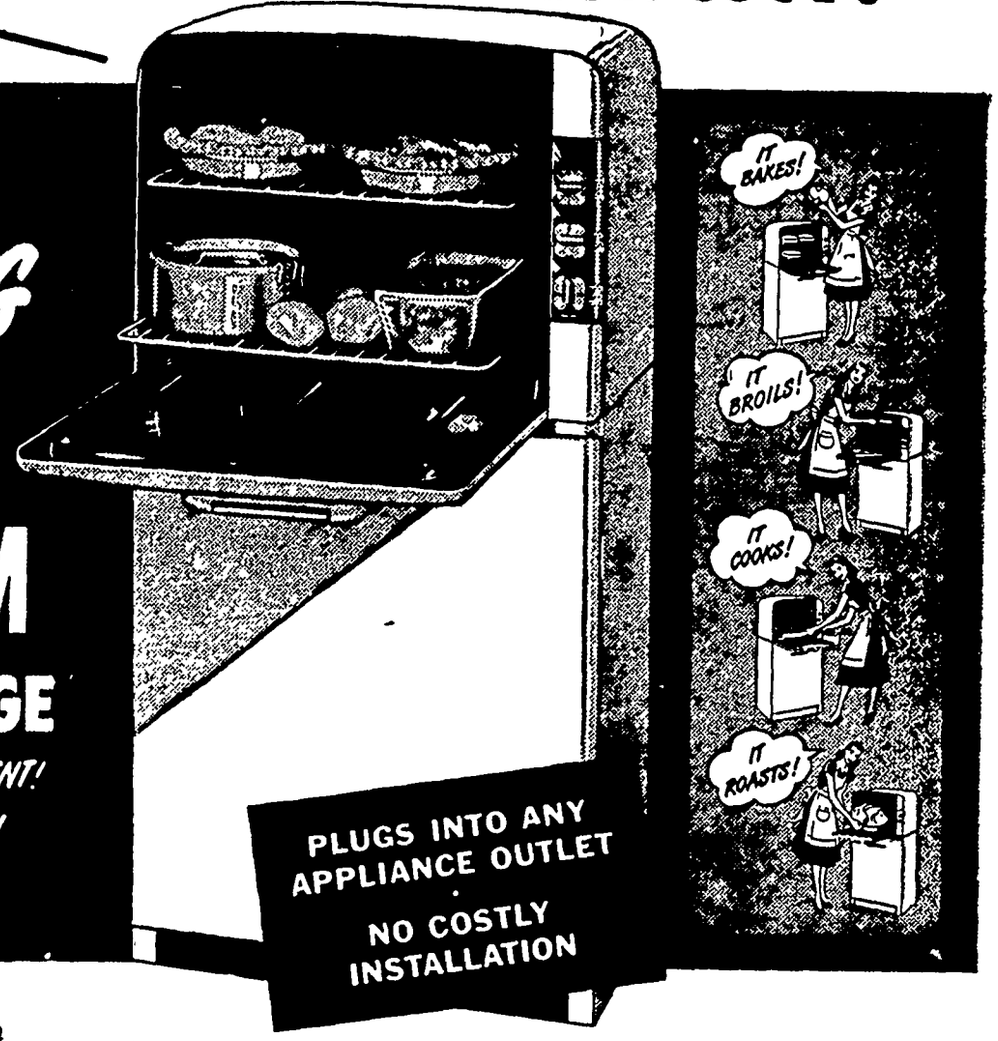
MOTHER KNOWS BEST!
Kellogg's CORN FLAKES

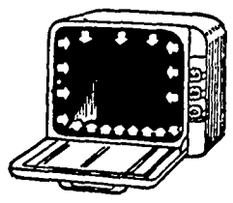
HAS YOUR DOCTOR SAID: "REDUCE SMOKING"?
Then ask him about SANO, the safer cigarette with
51.6%* LESS NICOTINE
Not a Substitute—Not Medicated
Sano's scientific process cuts nicotine content to half that of ordinary cigarettes. Yet skillful blending makes every puff a pleasure.
FLEMING-HALL TOBACCO CO., INC., N. Y.
*Average based on continuing tests of popular brands
YOUR DOCTOR KNOWS ABOUT SANO CIGARETTES

NOW! FOR THE FIRST TIME—
BIG RANGE PERFORMANCE AT SMALL RANGE COST!
THE AMAZING NEW BANTAM ELECTRIC RANGE
MEETS EVERY COOKING REQUIREMENT! HAS A FULL MEAL CAPACITY!

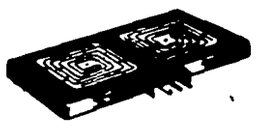


PLUGS INTO ANY APPLIANCE OUTLET
NO COSTLY INSTALLATION

2-WAY HEATING makes this amazing range possible!



1. Wrap-around Oven Element gives uniform oven heat for baking and roasting. Oven is thermostatically controlled.



2. Reversible Twin Unit for broiling and cooking plugs in top or bottom . . . provides fast broiling and surface cooking action.

Here is the most exciting development in years in electric cookery. This sensational Universal Bantam Electric Range plugs into any appliance outlet with no costly installation to worry about . . . does everything you'd expect of a regular range costing much more! Its easily accessible oven is large enough to roast a 20-lb. turkey . . . bakes four cakes, bread, desserts . . . broils steaks, chops and fish surprisingly fast . . . cooks a complete meal for the entire family. See the startling new Universal Bantam Electric Range in action today at your nearest Universal dealer's. Take it home . . . plug it in . . . enjoy the benefits of electric cooking immediately!

Big Range Utility in Small Range Space!

Fitting into a small bit of kitchen space, the Universal Bantam has amazing capacity. It provides a "solution extraordinary" to the problem of equipping new small homes . . . of making the best use of small kitchen space . . . and supplementing inadequate or seasonal cooking facilities.

Big Range Controls Never Expected in a Small Range!

The Universal Bantam brings you the latest advances in instrument-controlled cookery. Its easily accessible oven is thermostatically controlled for perfect baking and roasting—operates at standard oven heats. There's a simple control for every cooking need. An Electric Timer is available for full time-and-temperature control.

Big Range Quality in Small Range Construction!

Only space has been saved in making the Universal Bantam the most rugged, most efficient, small size range ever built. It requires no special utensils — uses regular-size pots and pans. Roomy, sturdily-built cabinet provides convenient space for utensils and kitchen accessories.

SEE THIS AMAZING, SPACE-SAVING, PLUG-IN RANGE AT YOUR NEAREST UNIVERSAL DEALER'S TODAY!

UNIVERSAL
LANDERS, FRARY & CLARK, NEW BRITAIN, CONN.

Think That God is Proud

Grace Noll Crowell

I THINK that God is proud of those who bear
A sorrow bravely—proud indeed of them
Who walk straight through the dark to find Him there
And kneel in faith to touch His garment's hem.

He's proud of them who lift their heads to shake
Away the tears from eyes that have grown dim,
Who tighten quivering lips and turn to take
The only road they know that leads to Him.

He's proud He must be of them—He who knows
How sorrow, sad how hard grief is to bear!
And so He sees them coming, and He goes
With outstretched arms and hands to meet them there,

And with a look, a touch on hand or head,
He finds his hurt heart strangely comforted.

DANCE

DUNCAN COMMUNITY HALL

Monday Night, May 31

JERRY RYPKA

And His Orchestra

EVERYONE WELCOME!

19%

Pig and Sow Meal

The special care you give your sows and little pigs now, and the careful feeding you provide in the months ahead will mean money in your pocket.

FEEDS FELCO FEEDS

Combined With Your Corn and Grain Produce Pork In A Hurry, At less Cost.

"Buy And Sell Where You Get A Dividend"

Klemme Co-Operative Grain Company

Glen Bridges, Manager — Klemme, Iowa

All Iowans benefit as Iowa grows and prospers. Gov. Blue's administration has adopted wise policies for the benefit of ALL IOWA.

State aid for schools is at an all-time high of $12,980,000.

Iowa has embarked upon the greatest road building program in its history.

For the first time, cities and towns are receiving State aid.

The Iowa Development Commission has attracted 252 industries to Iowa.

The State has adopted a community hospital building program.

A director of mental hospitals has been appointed and new buildings provided for at State institutions.

A 2½ million dollar lake and park improvement program has been started.

Gov. Blue is building a greater Iowa — A better Iowa for every citizen of Iowa.

VOTE FOR

GOV. ROBERT D. BLUE

REPUBLICAN PRIMARY

MONDAY, JUNE 7

BLUE FOR GOVERNOR CLUB

Carl Kluseman, labor, D. D. 3 and 4, L 37	9.90
Harold H. Rhine, labor, D. D. No. 3 and 4	9.90
F. J. Schoun, labor, D. D. No. 37-39	5.70
Fabian Kadera, labor and material, D. D. No. 37-39	36.30
V. L. Fric, labor, D. D. No. 37-39	25.84
Wm. J. Wood, labor, D. D. No. 46-3	3.48
Leo L. Hughes, labor, D. D. No 46-3	3.48
Geo. Gerdes, labor, D. D. No. 46-3	54.21
Alex Erkwold, repair work, D. D. No. 52-54-17	6.28
Nels Roslien, repair work, D. D. No. 52-55-17	6.28
J. A. Chambers, D D work and mileage, D. D. No. 54-121	4.50
Carl John Heginger, labor, D. D. No. 54-121	5.26
Marvin Bredlow, labor, D. D. No. 54-121	1.75
Bernard Abbas, labor, D. D. No. 54-121	4.56
Geo. Th. Gerdes, labor drainage work and mileage, D. D. No. 61-1-145	7.70
Farmers Cooperative Co., material, D. D. No. 61-1-145	2.65
Chris Schultz, labor, D. D. No. 61-1-145	22.57
Wm J. Wood, labor, D. D. No. 61-1-145	16.72
Leo L Hughes, labor, D. D. No. 61-1-145	29.26
Milbern Rapp, labor, D. D. No. 61-1-45	20.89
Bernard Abbas, labor, D. D. No. 70-147	4.66
Alvin Davidson, labor, D. D. 79-49	.88
Al Ruckley, labor, D. D. No. 79-49	.94
Donald Newbrough, labor as rodman, D. D. No 100-131-93	1.22
Vernon Miller, engineering service, D. D. No. 100-131-93	3.47
Howard Klein, labor as rodman D. D. No. 100-131-13	1.57

On motion and second the Board adjourned to May 10, A. D. 1948, at 9 o'clock A. M.

ATTEST:
MAYNARD SCHONEMAN
County Auditor

JOHN CHAMBERS
Chairman

New House Being Constructed

Mrs. Francis Ridder is having a new house built on the lot north of the Moberly residence. The wall has been built and the sub-floor has been laid. It is expected to have the house completed before fall.

SELL WHAT YOU DON'T NEED with a Times Want Adv.

Circle Meets

Mrs. Vivian Mace will entertain the Methodist W. S. C. S. Circle No. 4 at her home this evening at 8:00 o'clock, May 26.

Evangelical & Reformed Church

Calvin Grosshuesch, Pastor

SUNDAY
10 A. M. Morning Worship.
11 A. M. Sunday School.
7 P. M. Young Peoples Bible Class.

MONDAY - FRIDAY
8:00 A. M. Bible School.

WEDNESDAY
2.00 P. M. Women's Guild.

FRIDAY
8 00 P. M. Choir.

The Methodist Church

Herschel E. Harvey, Pastor

KLEMME

Vacation Church School each week day at 9 a. m.

Thursday:
Choir rehearsal at 7 p. m.
Sunday School at 11 A. M.

SUNDAY
Worship at 10.00 A. M.
Youth Fellowship at 7 p. m.

LIBERTY

Vacation Church School each week day at 9 a. m.

SUNDAY
Church School at 10:15 A. M.
Worship at 11:15 A. M.
Youth Fellowship at 7 p. m.
Womans Society June 2 with Mrs. Lowell Mau.
Birthday Social June 6, at 7:00 p m. with supper and program.

FEDERAL
Land Bank
LOANS
Long Term Low Interest
No Fees No Commission
Wm. F. Johannaber
Secretary-Treasurer
Forest City, Iowa
Phone 80

Rode, Kattie and Will, husband et al to Schutter, Therese, et al 4-28-48 Wty. Deed $12,129.-17 5-6 int. in NW frl. ¼ Sec 6-96-26.

3-12-12

FERTILIZER

FOR YOUR CORN

We have a few tons (uncalled for orders) on hand at our warehouse east end of Bell street,

Clear Lake

Price $49.50 A Ton

COME AND GET IT OR PHONE 500

Imperial Seed Co.

Clear Lake

AVERY

—The—
Theatre Beautiful
Garner, Iowa

MAY 26, 27
Wednes. - Thursday
EDDIE ALBERT
CONSTANCE MOORE
JOAN EDWARDS

HIT PARADE OF 1947

Woody Herman and His Orchestra

MAY 28, 29
Friday - Saturday
OUT OF THE UNDERWORLD
KISS OF DEATH
Starring
VICTOR MATURE
BRIAN DONLEVY
COLEEN GRAY
With
Richard Widmark
Taylor Holmes

MAY 30, 31
Sun. - Mon. Only
Musical Fun In Technicolor
GOOD NEWS
Starring
JUNE ALLYSON
PETERLAWFORD

Tues.-Weds.-Thu.
(THREE DAYS)
David O. Selznick's production of Margaret Mitchell's story of the Old South.

GONE WITH THE WIND

CLARK GABLE
LESLIE HOWARD
OLIVIA DeHAVILLAND
VIVIEN LEIGH
IN TECHNICOLOR

B. C. BERGE
ATTORNEY-AT-LAW
Office Over Federated Store
Phone 20 Garner, Iowa

BRING YOUR CAR TO US FOR

Greasing

AND A COMPLETE SPRING CHANGEOVER

*

In Motor Oil, Transmission, Differentail, Wheels and Chassis.

*

We have the equipment and proper lubricants to give you the best service.

*

See us for your needs in Batteries, Spark Plugs, and accessories of all kinds.

*

Smith's

STANDARD SERVICE
Klemme Iowa

Curtis G. Riehm

Republican Candidate

For Renomination

For

COUNTY ATTORNEY

Your Vote Monday, June 7, 1948,

Will Be Appreciated

DR. F. L. HAYES
DENTIST
Office Over Rexall Store
Phone 21 Garner, Iowa

"New Look"

for Men!

TRADE MARK REG U. S. PAT. OFFICE PAT. PENDING

Wally Riggs
SHOULDER-ZIP SHIRT

Here's the shirt whose unique design and flattering lines have created a sensation in men's sportswear circles. Hidden zipper and patented grippers make it the handsomest and most comfortable sportshirt in America. Superbly tailored from finest gabardines and luana fabrics in the season's favored colors.

$8.95

DRESS UP FOR MEMORIAL DAY . . .

We have a nice selection of summer items:

Sport Hats
Sport Shirts
Sport Shoes
Sport Slacks
Underwear
Newest Ties
Sport Socks
Handkerchiefs
Leather Belts
Suspenders

See Us For Your Summer Clothing Needs

Gildner - Paulson

Garner - Iowa

A Times Want Ad Brings Results

That's Right!

They do it in the East,
They do it in the West.
So come on down where it's best!

—PLAY POOL—
HAVE FUN!

Bring Your Girl Friends . . .

Joe's Place

Joe Finnegan, Prop. — Klemme, Io

VOTE FOR

RUTH HUGHES

Republican Candidate

FOR CLERK

I am at present serving the unexpired te of the late Elmer Raw. I would like to conti in office and am a candidate for the first t for the office of Clerk of the District Court.

I will appreciate your vote at the June mary election.

Clinton D. Daniel

REPUBLICAN CANDIDATE

For Supervisor

Of Hancock County

•

Your Vote At The Primaries Will Be Appreciated

FOR REPRESENTATIVE

I wish to announce that I will be a candidat

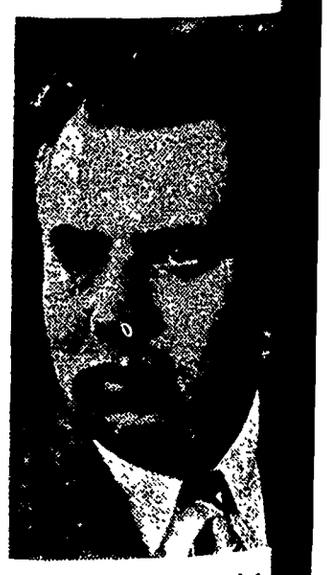
State Representative

From Hancock County. Subject to the dec of the voters at the Republican June Prim

YOUR SUPPORT WILL BE APPRECIAT

PENN ECKELS

KENNETH F. BOUGHTON FOR CORONER



World War II Vete

A vote for Kenneth F. Boughton, of Britt, for Coroner, will insure ficient service, day and night, in this important office. Well tra by education and experience. More than seventy-five percent of coroners throughout the country are licensed embalmers.

Mr. Boughton's location, in almost the center of the county, saves mileage and added expense, which is a big saving to tax paye

A property owner, tax payer, good community man. Has been ch man of the Britt Commercial Club, is a member Britt Post 315 Amer Legion.

Your careful attention to these matters and your vote for Mr. Bo ton will be greatly appreciated.

(This adv is paid for by Veterans, Business Men, Farmers, and Profes al Men, who are friends of Kenneth F. Boughton.)

KEEP THE FARM SANITARY
2-HOUR SERVICE ON REMOVAL OF

Dead Stock

Phone

KLEMME ---------- 580
BELMOND ---------- 580

We Pay The Call

A Clean Truck With An Efficient Driver In Your Neighborhood Daily.

Belmond By-Products

"Your Home Plant"

Phone 580 Belmond, Iowa.

STAYS WHITER LONGER

Specially prepared and controlled for maximum beauty, protection and durability. The result is years and years of unchanging white beauty . . . that makes one proud to say: "That's my house." It pays to get the best . . . BPS House Paint.

For the First Coat, use BPS Foundation Coat White . . . it does a better job of hiding the old, dirty surface.

A PATTERSON-SARGENT PAINT

Northern Lumber Co.

Lloyd Sherwood, Mgr. Klemme, Iowa.

HOUSECLEANING SPECIAL!

SAVE $10.00

Every home has 2 cleaning problems . . . rugs, carpets — above-the-floor cleaning.

Every home should have 2 cleaners

TIDY for above-the-floor cleaning. Nationally advertised price..... $43.00

TALL for cleaning rugs and carpets. Nationally advertised price..... $53.95

Regular price for both $96.85

NOW BOTH $86.85 If purchased together

Low down payment Easy terms

Josten Appliance

Edmund K. Josten, Prop. Klemme, Iowa

KLEMME LOCAL NEWS

Take in the movies in Klemme every Wednesday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Jennings and son were at Estherville on business Tuesday.

Mrs. Harry Hampel of Allison spent Sunday at the Rev. Harvey home.

Mrs. Matt Smith and daughter, Ruth, visited in Goodell, Sunday.

Mrs. Gerald Koerner was called to Dow City by the serious illness of her father.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Meyer of near Miller were shopping in Klemme Saturday evening.

Don Stille, of Los Angeles, California, came Saturday via plane for a visit with his father, Wm. Stille and many other relatives in this community.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Grange and Raymond Keeper and son of Mason City visited at the Henry Keeper home Tuesday evening.

Miss Peggy Coobs of Des Moines, spent the week end in Klemme visiting with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Benn Coobs.

Mrs. George Smith and children went to Nora Springs Friday to spend a few days visiting with her parents.

The first movie of the season tonight at the Community Hall. Movies in Klemme every Wednesday evening.

Mr and Mrs. Edd Schoenwetter of Garner were Sunday dinner guests at the Elwood Geary home

Mr. and Mrs. Emil Barz of Dunkerton spent the week end in Klemme visiting with relatives and old friends. Mr. Barz runs the bank at Dunkerton.

Wm. Wilson and family, former residents, who have lived on a farm west of Goodell for the past 3 years, were visiting in Klemme Saturday evening

Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Jacobs and Lois Ann, and Mrs. Geo. Lawhorn took Jack Freie to Mason City Monday afternoon where he boarded the Rocket for St. Paul on his way home.

Miss Patricia Kudje and her friends, Mary Garner, Shirlee Oppel, Norma Headles and Barbara Lee, all students at Cedar Falls, spent the week end at the Art Kudje home.

Jack Freie, F. M. (EN) U. S C. G. of Groton, Conn., spent the week end at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Lawhorn. Jack was on his way to Belt, Montanna for a visit with his parents He is a nephew of Mrs. Lawhorn.

Daryle Dean "Punky" Schlei, little son of Mr. and Mrs. Kermit Schlei, had his tonsils removed at a Mason City hospital last Thursday. He was able to return home Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Victor Waldek of Garner attended church here Sunday and were dinner guests at the Emil Patet home, also Mrs. Julius Meyer and daughter, Lila of Hayfield, and Mrs. John Lackore of Forest City.

Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Waterman, accompanied by Mrs. Clarence Kluckhohn drove to Stanhope Saturday afternoon where Mrs. Kluckhohn visited with Gene Kluckhohn and family and the Watermans drove to Ames to visit until Saturday evening with Mr. and Mrs. Buddie Wilcox.

Mrs. Frank Izzard of Corwith, mother of Mrs. Roy Jacobs of Klemme underwent a major operation at the Mercy hospital Friday morning. On the same morning Roy Jacobs also had an operation performed. Mr. and Mrs. John Chambers and Mrs. Roy Jacobs visited them at the hospital Saturday afternoon.

AMENDMENT TO ARTICLES OF INCORPORATION OF THE

STATE SAVINGS BANK, Of Goodell, Iowa

KNOW ALL MEN BY THESE PRESENTS

That at a regular meeting of the stockholders of the State Savings Bank a corporation duly organized under the laws of the State of Iowa, held at the office of the Bank in Goodell, Iowa on the 12th day of January, A D., 1948 after due and legal notice had been given to the stockholders thereof in conformity with its articles of incorporation, and provisions of the Code, the following amendment was adopted.

AMENDMENT:

Article VI, Section 1, is hereby amended by deleting the words "second Monday" and "1943" in the second line of this section and substituting in lieu thereof, "third Tuesday" and "1949", respectively. This section would then read, as follows:

ARTICLE VI
ANNUAL AND SPECIAL MEETINGS OF THE STOCKHOLDERS

Section 1. The annual meeting of the stockholders shall be held at the office of the corporation on the third Tuesday of January of each year, beginning with the year 1949, at which time the stockholders shall elect a board of directors and transact such other business as may lawfully come before them.

(Pub. 19, 26, June 2, 1948.)

KLEMME LOCAL NEWS

Mrs. G. P. "Zip" McCullough of Los Angles, California, came last week for a visit at the John Etchen home and with other Klemme friends.

Dr. W.F. Missman, candidate for Coroner of Hancock County, attended a Republican dinner and meeting held at Hull's Cafe at Garner Saturday.

We are glad to report that Mrs. Quandt, who has been seriously ill for several weeks, is on the way to recovery and is able to be out-of-doors each day. Mrs. Quandt is also gradually regaining her sight which was lost for some time.

Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Isvik and daughters were Sunday dinner guests at the Mr. and Mrs. Jule Harmon home at Ames. Mr. Isvik also attended the initiation and banquet of the Delta Tau Delta fraternity while there.

Asa Arnold drove to Traer on Saturday evening and on Sunday brought his wife and three small children home. Mrs. Arnold and children had been visiting for a few weeks with her parents at Traer.

Mrs. Russ Gray of Rockford, Ill.; Mrs.Linda Filkins of Iowa City, and Miss Ada Mutch of Grundy Center, all sisters of Mrs. A. H. Dulmes, came last week and visited until Friday at the Dr. A. H. Dulmes home, when in company with Mrs. Dulmes and Dick they went to Grundy Center. Dr. Dulmes drove to Grundy Center Sunday and his family returned home with him.

Want Ads

For Sale

WANTED TO RENT—160 ACRES with or without buildings. Charles Velau, Garner Rt. 4 (1tp)

FOR SALE—NEW 4-WHEEL Trailer with new tires. Never been used. Verner Priebe. (1tc)

FOR SALE—EARLY MANCHU Soy Beans. Good germ cleaned. Herman Meyer, 5 mi west, ½ mi south of Klemme. (2tc)

FOR SALE—HEAVY STEEL Hog Troughs. Roy Schaefer. (2tc)

FOR SALE—TRACTOR TIRES. Have a large stock of rears on hand. Garner Auto Co., Garner, Iowa (M-8tfc)

YES WE HAVE IT, NUTRENA Crumblized Chick Feed. For faster gains and less waste. We deliver ½ ton lots or more. GREEN ELEVATOR CO, Goodell, Iowa (Apr 14 tfc)

Get your "Thank You Notes" at the Times Office. 59 cents per box.

Miscellaneous

INSURE WITH HENRY WARD, Klemme for Auto, Personal Property, Farm Liability Insurance. (May 1, '48)

SEE R. W. ELDER FOR HANcock Co. Mutual Fire & Lightning Insurance renewals or new policies. (Apr. 1 pd)

Wanted To Buy

WANTED TO BUY FOR CASH —your used car. Any make, any model. Garner Auto Company, Garner, Iowa. M-8tfc)

WANTED—BABY PLAY PEN in good condition. Asa Arnold. (2tc)

Services Offered

FEED GRINDING OF ALL kinds done on your farm. Phone Klemme 76 or Goodell 58561. Carroll Etchen. (j-28-tc)

Card Of Thanks

I wish to thank my friends and neighbors who remembered me with flowers, cards and letters, and who visited me while I was at the Hampton Hospital and at my home.

Mrs. Wm. Lacey. (1tc)

I want to thank all my friends and neighbors for remembering me with visits while I was in the hospital.

Lydia Pearson. (1tp)

KLEMME LOCAL NEWS

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Chambers of Algona, and Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Farnan of Los Angeles, California were visiting at the J. A. Chambers home Friday.

The Methodist Men held the regular meeting at Liberty on Monday evening with a good attendance. Rev. Wm. Suckow was the speaker.

Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Kingery went to Armstrong this morning for a visit at the Lloyd Paris and John Whitesell homes near there. Mr. Whitesell and Mr. Kingery will go to Minnesota for a few days fishing.

Mrs. Earl Schaeffer of Forest City and Mrs. C. A. Larsen drove to Ames where they spent Friday and Saturday visiting wih Miss Eunice Larsen at the Alpha Gamma Delta house.

Mr. and Mrs. Art Wellemeyer drove to Mason City Friday evening to see their granddaughter, Linda Lee, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Burton Hanson of near Wesley, who is there as a patient receiving medical care.

Mr. and Mrs. Dorance Day and Gary drove to Eldora Saturday where they attended a picnic for Metropolitan Insurance Co. employees.

For Quick Truck Delivery On

Diamond D-X

Products of all kinds
Phone 85
ERNEST HENSCHEN
Klemme, Iowa

Buy and sell with a Times want ad.

CURTIS G. RIEHM
Attorney-At-Law
Office Over Federated Store
Res. Phone 133W2
Phone 133 Garner, Iowa

DR. E. H. PHILLIPS
Osteopathic Physician
Xray - Short Wave Diathermy and Ultra Violet Equipment
Phone 149 Garner, Iowa

Robt. D. Hoadley

Republican Candidate For Hancock County

SUPERVISOR

For The Term Beginning January 1, 1949

I live in the midst of the territory to be supervised by this term of office.

As there are three supervisors in the county, who are elected at large by the voters of the county, or by representatives from each township in the form of delegates if necessary in case it should go to a convention, do hereby state that each voter or delegate should consider and compare the three supervisors with these things:

The Church. The Home. And the Public School.

If they are not properly located through the county it is hard for them to properly serve their purpose.

I was Township Trustee of Amsterdam Township for 20 years and have had experience with the handling of heavy machinery and road building.

I assure you, that if elected, I will serve without partiality.

Your Vote June 7, 1948, Will Be Appreciated

Machinery and Market Day

Public Sale

SALE WILL BE HELD ON LOT ACROSS STREET FROM THE NORTH ELEVATOR IN KLEMME, ON

Saturday May 29

Sale Will Begin At 1:30 P. M.

Machinery, Miscellaneous

Minneapolis-Moline Tractor, with cab
1 New 1948 Chevrolet 1-Ton Pickup Truck
2 Farmall 20 Tractors
1 John Deere 226 Corn Picker, used to pick only 200 acres
1 2-Ton Chevrolet Truck with 17-ft. Combination box, booster air brakes, low mileage and in good condition
1 New Moon House Trailer, 20-ft. like new, with all modern fixtures and conveniences
1 Hollandale Bale Loader, brand new
1 Model A Ford, good condition, seat covers, sealed beam headlights
1 Post Drill
1 75-lb. Blacksmith Vise
1 Eletric Pump
10 gallons Red Barn Paint
Rock Island Plow, 2-bottom, 2 sets lays
2 Horse-drawn Corn Plows
1 McCormick-Deering Electric Cream Separator, used only 2 years, guaranteed
Hay Rack, A-1 shape on low wheel running gear
Harley Davidson Motor Cycle
Antique Side Board
100 quarts home canned vegetables
1 Maytag Gas Motor, fine for lawn mower

NOTICE. If you have articles to sell, bring them to this sale. We expect to hold a sale once a month in Klemme. List your stuff now for the next sale with Tom Roths.

Frank Davis, Auct.

Terms—Cash First National Bank, Klemme, Clerk.

WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS

House Group Approves Measure To Draft Men into Armed Forces; Hope for Palestine Agreement Ebbs

By Bill Schoentgen, WNU Staff Writer

(EDITOR'S NOTE: When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of Western Newspaper Union's news analysis and not necessarily of this newspaper.)

DRAFT BILL: On the Way

Yielding to the pressure of the times, congress was putting its hand gingerly to the business of passing a selective service act which would give the nation's armed forces a total manpower of slightly more than two million in two years.

The house armed services committee had approved the measure, after hearing Defense Secretary James Forrestal term it an "excellent" one, and passed it on to the floor of the house for debate.

Thus, for the first time since before the war, congress was facing squarely the momentous issue of a national draft. That this was happening during the hair-trigger days of an election year only served to underline the apparent urgency of the matter.

As approved by the armed services committee, the bill would:

1. Raise total authorized manpower of the armed forces to 2,005,882 —army 837,000, air force 502,000, navy and marine corps 666,882.
2. Require registration of men from 18 through 30, with those from 19 through 25 liable for two years' service.
3. Exempt most veterans from further service, but those under 31 would have to register.
4. Allow seizure of industrial plants by the government if they refused to give top priorities to armament orders.

As it stood, the draft plan was conceded to have a good chance of passage at this session of congress. But complications were being threatened by the senate armed services committee which seemed inclined to combine a universal military training measure with the draft bill.

The committee was waiting for Army Secretary Kenneth Royall to recommend details of a bill to call 161,000 18-year-olds for a year's training. They would be taken in addition to men procured through the draft.

As a combination, that didn't look so good to many Republicans. Rep. Walter G. Andrews (Rep., N. Y.), chairman of the house armed service committee, called the idea "utterly foolish, inconceivable and not called for."

OLEO TAX: Fight Ahead

One of the most pressing problems members of congress have had to decide this year is whether their political bread is spread with butter or oleomargarine.

It is further complicated by the fact that they might, in choosing one or the other, be letting the gravy get away from them.

For good or ill, however, the house of representatives made its decision. It passed by a vote of 260 to 106 a bill to repeal all federal oleomargarine taxes which have been on the books for 62 years.

Those taxes are itemized as follows: 10 cents a pound on colored oleo, 1/4 cent a pound on uncolored, $600 a year on manufacturers, $480 on wholesalers of colored oleo, $200 on wholesalers of the uncolored product, $48 on retailers of colored oleo and $6 on retailers of uncolored.

Even if the federal taxes were repealed, it still would be against the law to sell colored oleo in 20 states.

Nevertheless, the house had rid itself of the matter and now it was up to the senate, where a battle royal was in prospect.

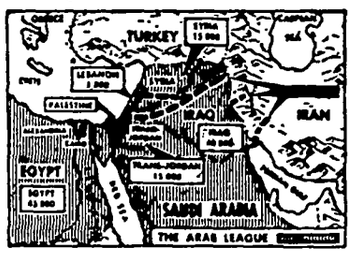
Reason the oleo tax issue has a stiff fight ahead in the senate is that senators are elected by voters of entire states, rather than by voters of districts within the states as are most representatives.

The result, in this case, is a split in the sentiment of constituents of many senators.

For example, big northern states such as Illinois, Wisconsin, Michigan and Ohio, are composed of consumer cities and producer farms. The country districts include dairy farmers and soy bean growers. Consumers in cities want repeal of the taxes, and so do the soy bean men whose product is used in manufacture of oleo. The dairy farmers, naturally, want the tax to remain.

The dairy interests are strong. Their supporters in congress have been able to retain the oleo tax by the simple process of shelving any repeal bills in committee. It happened to the current bill in the house agricultural committee, but a petition circulated among house members forced the bill on to the floor where it was approved.

Clouds in the East



Amateur and professional military experts now are weighing the pros and cons of "war" in the Holy Land. Palestine is completely encircled by Arab states except for its Mediterranean coastline. Numerals indicate estimated fighting strength of the various Arab states. Jewish forces in Palestine are said to number about 75,000.

JERUSALEM: Confused

Time was running out in Palestine, and with it the hope for averting a Jewish-Arab civil war for possession of Jerusalem.

In the waning days before Great Britain removed her troops from the Holy Land upon expiration of the British mandate on May 15, Palestine had become a savagely confused, moribund state.

Bitterly, the United Nations trusteeship council virtually abandoned its efforts to devise an effective plan to safeguard Jerusalem from ravishment by the warring factions. Delegates could not hit upon a scheme that could be enforced.

Nor was any Arab-Jewish agreement in sight which might result in a truce necessary to give any U. N. plan a chance. Like a little boy watching his father trying to get his kite out of a tree, the council looked hopefully to Jerusalem where the Red Cross was doing its best to bring a halt to the fighting.

As far as the threatened invasion of Palestine by neighboring Arab states was concerned, no one seemed able to sum up the situation accurately.

Jews were insisting, in the face of denials, that Syrian and Lebanese armies had invaded northern Palestine, and the British were reported to have rushed troops back into the country to deal with what they called a "seriously deteriorated" situation.

Still an unknown factor in the rapidly climaxing events was wily old King Abdullah of Trans-Jordan. Commander of the finest army in Arabia, the spike-helmeted Arab Legion, he had been talking big about invading Palestine from the East. He had been talking, too, about making himself king of Palestine. His ambition is a Middle East amalgam of states that would be in the nature of a greater Syria.

Experts were not discounting the role Abdullah and his power-politicking could play in the drama. In the end he could turn out to be the catalytic agent that might bring the unregenerate events in Palestine to a reasonable, if not a happy, conclusion.

COVENANTS: Just Paper

In a decision which may produce more extensive reaction than any designed civil rights legislative program, the U. S. supreme court handed down a decision that, in effect, outlaws so-called restrictive covenants which bar racial or religious minorities from buying or occupying property in many areas throughout the country.

Declaring the decision, Chief Justice Fred Vinson held that enforcement of restrictive covenants by state or federal courts was a violation of the 14th amendment.

That amendment, adopted in 1868, reads in part: "No state shall make or enforce any law which shall abridge the privileges or immunities of citizens of the United States . . . nor deny to any person within its jurisdiction the equal protection of the laws."

The supreme court's decision did not declare that restrictive covenants, as such, are violations of the constitution; but by ruling that it is unconstitutional for the courts to enforce the covenants it reduced them, legally, to mere scraps of paper.

For the most part, covenants are agreements entered upon by real estate promoters and buyers of land or homes. Purchasers agree not to sell their land or homes to persons barred by the covenant, terms of the agreement running from an average of 25 or 50 years to "perpetuity."

GOLD BRICKS HIGHER

Inflation Hits Swindler, Victims

Inflation has hit the swindler and his victims, just like everybody else in the postwar world.

Cost of being rooked by various popular frauds and rackets has gone up in proportion to the rise in the swindlers' living costs, a report by the family economics bureau of Northwestern National Life Insurance company reveals.

Professional charity solicitors, who take 50 to 90 per cent of the public's donations before turning over the balance to the organization in whose name they operate, now boldly ask donations of $10 to $25 instead of the $2 to $5 at prewar scale.

Their "benefit dance" tickets now cost $2 each, often more, against 50 cents to a dollar in prewar days.

? Current Events ?

Anyone who can answer all five of the following questions may consider himself an expert. It doesn't make any difference what kind of expert. It's enough just to be one without going into boring detail about it.

1. Trans-Jordan is playing a key role in the Palestine situation. How long has it been an independent state?

2. State department is considering some form of military lend-lease for the five nations which signed the Brussels pact. When did lend-lease begin and when was it terminated?

3. Do you know about how many of America's 542,000 troops now are serving outside the U. S.: (a) 358,000; (b) 258,000; (c) 158,000; (d) 58,000?

4. Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio is seeking Republican presidential nomination. There have been seven Ohio-born Presidents. Name them.

5. Bureau of labor statistics reported that the consumer price index declined from 168.8 in January to 166.9 in March. What event took place in mid-February that was a factor in the decline?

ANSWERS

1. A little over two years. In March, 1946, under a treaty with Great Britain, Trans-Jordan became a sovereign independent state.
2. President Roosevelt signed the lend-lease bill on March 11, 1941. It was terminated by President Truman as of August 22, 1945.
3. (b) 258,000.
4. U. S. Grant, Rutherford B. Hayes, James A Garfield, Benjamin Harrison, William McKinley, William Howard Taft, Warren G. Harding. All were Republicans.
5. The break in the grain market.

BIG PLANES: Russian

Russia put some big four-engined planes into the air over Moscow for the annual Soviet May Day parade and managed thereby to instill a modicum of uneasiness in the hearts of U. S. military experts.

At last reports they were awaiting more detailed reports of the planes from U. S. observers in order to gain, if possible, a new insight into Soviet airborne army equipment.

It is likely, the experts thought, that at least some of the planes were the Soviet TU-70, an aircraft bearing close resemblance to the American B-29. Assumption has been that the Russians copied many of the features of the five B-29s known to have been forced down in Soviet-controlled areas during the war.

Reported to be a hybrid transport-bomber, the TU-70 has a passenger capacity of 72. This probably could be increased substantially, however, if the plane were used strictly as a troop carrier.

THE BREAK: Colombia

Not quite a month after the abortive revolution in April swept the capital city of Bogota into turmoil and caused damage throughout the republic, the government of Colombia formally severed diplomatic relations with Russia.

That the break was a direct result of the revolt, reportedly Communist-led and inspired, no one bothered to deny.

Officially, however, no mention was made of the uprising. Foreign Minister Eduardo Angel's note to the Russian charge d'affaires said simply that Colombia considered that there were no ties which warranted a continuation of diplomatic and consular relations between the two countries.

In concordance with the diplomatic action the Colombian government began to redeploy its troops and reorganize administrative machinery to strengthen its hold and prevent further outbreaks by Communists.

Object Lesson

Just to prove that the old greenback ain't what it used to be, Rep. Helen Gahagan Douglas (Dem., Calif.) purchased $17.36 worth of groceries and toted the slim load onto the house floor to show her colleagues how prices have inflated since OPA controls expired in 1946. Mrs. Douglas has introduced a price control resolution in the house.

Glimmer, Glimmer

Science's long search to discover how the firefly is able to light up has been advanced another step as a result of new experiments.

Dr. Robert D. McElroy, John Hopkins university biologist, reported to the National Academy of Sciences that the lightning bug derives its power of self-luminosity from the same chemical energy that humans use in moving the muscles of their bodies.

Washington Digest

Voluntary Help Can Save Europe's Dying Children

By BAUKHAGE
News Analyst and Commentator

WASHINGTON—What to do until the doctor comes.

Pretty important to know that. Pretty important to be willing and able to do it. There are 230 million children in this world today who need first aid. The European recovery plan (E.C.A.) will help a lot of these children who have the stamina to outlive the ugly interim period when, dirty, almost naked, they must roam the countryside or live in cellars and hovels, hungry or starving.

But the E.C.A. is a huge undertaking, and like all great bodies, it moves slowly. Anyhow, its chief purpose is to provide the means to restore normal conditions to the stricken areas of Europe. It is largely indirect aid, not gauged to individual cases.

Meanwhile thousands upon thousands of these children will die. Some will be saved by individual help — your help. To make that help effective the many humanitarian organizations which seek to save as many young lives as possible have been merged into one great Crusade for Children. Local groups are organizing in the cities. In the rural districts, the Farm Grange, Farm Bureau federation, Farmers' Union, Council for Farm Cooperatives, U.S. department of agriculture and other groups are furthering the movement.

To anyone who has seen this tortured young generation, the effect is as staggering as the sight of a battlefield. To a young soldier, there is no shock like the sight of your first dead comrade. That still form, wearing the same uniform you wear, lying crushed against the earth. To me, the shock of the sight of European children moving with the shadow of a living death upon them was a terrible thing too.

I can remember getting off a train in what once had been one of the great railway stations of Europe—rubble ground into black mud, the ghastly smell of those buried deep under the foundations of ruined homes and shelters. Military police, hardened to the sights around them, walked back and forth. In the sinister shadows of the ruins the ghostly movement of little wraiths slipping in and out of sight, bent on any mission, no matter how fair or foul, that would win some chocolate, a piece of K-ration, a cigarette that might be traded for some bit of food.

No matter what the sins of the fathers, they could not be great enough to justify the punishment inflicted on these children. There is only one way their bodies and their souls can be saved. That is through the groups which are supported by individual donations, until economic life is restored to a degree of normalcy when society can be rebuilt, broken homes mended and the institutions which can care for the homeless put into operation as a part of a healthy community existence.

Government aid, like E.C.A., cannot establish direct contact with the individual. It is a matter of arrangements drawn up between nations. It means dollar credits which make it possible for the receiving nations to buy supplies.

Some of this money, of course, goes into food. But it takes time for the machinery to get into operation, and even after it is in operation, it is inadequate to satisfy the needs of the whole people. Much of the assistance goes into material things such as the reconstruction of factories, replacement and modernization of tools, machinery and agricultural supplies.

Frequently, supplies of such simple things as rakes and shovels are

This tiny child, long in need of medical aid, is now in a hospital supported by the U.N. International Children's Emergency Fund. Funds are being raised through the Crusade for Children of American Overseas Aid-United Nations Appeal for Children.

so short that farms can't be worked until they are furnished. Later they will be manufactured. But that means machinery for the factories comes first.

Crusade for Children is a well-organized private effort which has the backing and cooperation of the United Nations, and the sponsorship and approval of the government from the President down.

It provides direct citizen-to-citizen aid which is administered carefully with experienced personnel on the scene — personnel which cuts red tape and is free from many of the rules, regulations and restrictions which a government necessarily must employ. As a matter of fact, when the European recovery plan was first drawn up, it was contemplated that voluntary private aid would supplement it.

As an example of the type of thing Crusade for Children is designed to further: In Europe at present, there are some 50,000 distributing points, such as schools, child clinics and hospitals serviced by the International Children's Emergency Fund of the United Nations.

At schools and child centers, particularly through dried milk, ICEF makes a supplementary contribution to the noon meal, which costs the fund about three and a half cents per child. The entire meal costs only seven cents per child. One hundred dollars provides 7,500 hungry, undernourished children one glass of milk each at every meal. But because of limited funds, ICEF is feeding only four million of Europe's 30 million hungry children.

An Austrian orphan waits on snow-covered steps for the daily meal provided for him by the United Nations' International Children's Emergency Fund. He is one of millions who would starve without this vital service.

Here are some of the sickening facts, carefully collected and checked by United Nations authorities:

Infant mortality in Europe and Asia has jumped from 40 deaths per 1,000 live births to as high as 330 deaths per 1,000—compared with the United States rate of 38.3 per 1,000.

Tuberculosis has doubled in many areas, especially among children. Lack of food has vastly increased such diseases as rickets, scurvy and pellagra.

Physical examinations in one zone (of Europe) showed that boys 14 years of age are three inches shorter than boys of the same age four years ago. This is the direct result of malnutrition.

In some areas half the physicians were killed; teachers, nurses and those trained in child care are lacking.

I have sat in the office of a German physician—one room left livable in a bombed house, windows boarded up to replace the smashed glass, operating room, consultation office, bedroom, living room, all together with an endless line of patients with nothing to pay for the doctor's services which would buy anything for the doctor. That doctor told me that because of the hopeless fate of children, abortions were the rule rather than the exception, with sickness and death as the result.

Not the government, but private, voluntary agencies can alleviate these conditions. One may feel that Europe has brought much of its anguish upon itself, but it is not the children who are to blame.

As Secretary of State Marshall said: "Voluntary aid supplements the general relief which only governments can provide. It affords the things and services, including spiritual comfort, needed by the weakest of the war victims. . . ."

* * *

Secretary of State Marshall has warned South American countries that there will be no Marshall Plan for them. It appears that they either must go out and obtain private financing or work up a good Communist threat to share in Uncle Sam's largesse.

* * *

A modern president spends more effort trying to get what he wants into the papers and on the air than in finding out what's there already.

Sportlight
By GRANTLAND RICE

YOUNGSTERS WHO would like to make good money a few years from now, and not work too hard, should start throwing baseballs at various targets.

The N.P. (slang for National Pastime) is running out of pitchers. The N.P. needs more than double its present allotment of right or left arms that can get the ball over the plate with enough stuff to baffle the batter now and then.

Last year, for example, the Dodgers were good enough to win a pennant with a pitching staff composed of three or four-inning hurlers. They usually needed four or five pitchers to finish out one game. Yet they won a pennant.

The American league had only eight or 10 pitchers who were able to finish games. Both leagues were shy of arms that could locate a plate or go the distance.

Old-time pitchers such as Ed Walsh, Walter Johnson, Christy Mathewson, Pete Alexander and Cy Young could individually outpitch the greater part of an entire modern staff.

Bob Feller could and can handle his share of work. So can Hal Newhouser, Ewell Blackwell and Warren Spahn.

Few pitchers today can work 250 innings in a season. Johnson, Walsh and other old-timers were pitching more than 400 innings a year. Any pitcher who can't work 250 innings shouldn't be listed as a starting pitcher. He is certainly no part of a regular. Yet, few pitchers now getting relieved around the fourth inning could think of working 200 innings without an attack of palsy.

Hurlers Pitch Less Today

Feller—Newhouser—Blackwell — Dickson—Munger — Marchildon — there wasn't a pitcher in the American league last season who worked 300 innings. Feller and Newhouser were the closest.

There wasn't a pitcher in the National league who worked 300 innings. Spahn, Blackwell and Branca were the closest—up around 280. Today, someone you'd rate as an average good pitcher works in less than 200 innings—say 180.

The decline in pitching—old-fashioned pitching — has been startling. This means in games pitched — in games finished—in innings pitched—in bases on balls in games won (from 30 to 41 a season).

Walsh worked in 67 games one season—winning 40 and saving 12 others. Today the pitcher who can go nine innings without being removed is a local hero.

This is why we advise all kids to start throwing. You won't have to be too good. The pitchers we rate as real pitchers this season are Blackwell, Feller, Newhouser, Spahn, Dickson, Brecheen and possibly Munger, Trout, Houtteman and one or two from Connie Mack's Athletic group; very likely Brissie; he may be the best.

* * *

A Championship Score

The finest championship golf score of the year to date was Claude Harmon's 279 at the Augusta National's Masters show. It was better than Ben Hogan's 275 at Riviera, where the next open will be played.

There have been endless discussions of what a championship score should be, but Harmon has slipped in the best answer to date. The Augusta National was keyed to its toughest test in every way. Riviera wasn't, with its rough cut, its baked-out fairways and its soft greens.

I doubt very much that 283 will be broken at Riviera in the National Open. And Harmon happens to be a golfer who is quite capable of winning a U. S. Open or the P.G.A.

* * *

Arcaro's Comeback

A year ago there was pretty fair evidence that Eddie Arcaro was slipping. The slender Italian from Kentucky was still riding fairly well, but he was no centaur. He was booed around New York tracks whether he won or lost. It came to the point where it didn't matter to him whether they booed or cheered.

This was the situation when Arcaro headed for Santa Anita last December. But on this occasion his health was better. He was in better condition. And suddenly a new ambition was born.

"It will be different out here this time," he said. "It will be a lot different."

Eddie began winning. He began outriding Longden, Reeves and the rest of the outfit. When he saw he couldn't win he was no longer content to pull up and let other horses place and show. Now he was riding them out. All the way. He also was taking narrow openings, riding recklessly at times. He was the old Arcaro of winning years.

Then he came back East again. He began winning on opening day at Jamaica. He has been winning ever since.

Household Hints

Use two dust-cloths inste one—then both hands are useful.

—•—

There'll be no soggy crust place the freshly baked pie wire rack to cool instead a flat surface. The rack of broiler will do.

—•—

Fresh bread stays fresh if wrapped carefully and in your refrigerator. Do prevent early staleness.

—•—

White woolen toys ma cleaned by making a thick of dry starch and water. into the toy and let it stan dry; brush off starch.

—•—

For a subtle and refreshi grance, hang a pomander your clothes closet. This to make. Take a large orange and stick whole clov the entire surface.

—•—

When sanding unfinished ture for painting, sand thor with fine sandpaper w around a padded wood blo

CLASSIFIED DEPARTMENT

HELP WANTED—ME

"SALESMEN WANTED" WANTED AT ONCE: Rawleigh nearby county. Write RAWLEIGH IA, Freeport, Ill.

BODY MEN: Need 2 more body me town. Clean shop. Plenty work. range. PARSONS MOTOR CO., Ea Iowa.

FARMS & RANCHES

CANADIAN FARMS—Write us for F FORMATION on farm settlement oppo Fertile soils. Reasonably priced. C Canadian Pacific Railway, Union Sta Paul, Minn.

REAL ESTATE—MISC

ORANGE GROVE—Packing plant, come. Situated on U.S. No. 1 o Indian River. Income $4000.00 or year. Price $22,000.00 with ripari Terms. MRS. WILDA D. SMITH, Estate Broker, Box 256, Mims, F

BUSINESS & INV. OPP

FOR SALE—Service Station, lunch cabins. Complete with fixtures, CITIES SERVICE STATION, Hi and 18, Perkins Corner, Hull, Ia.

LIVESTOCK

REGISTERED Domino Blanchard bulls, 3 choice individuals. O. HORN, Lohrville, Iowa.

SEEDS, PLANTS, ET

FOR SALE: Approximately 300 bu. soybeans, germ. 97%. Write MIKE Iowa Falls, Iowa.

FARMERS! Feed and Seed Bag We will pay up to 25c each for Ship us all your bags, they all ha even the ones with holes, or dirty not ship bags that have grease or Ship by rail or truck freight co You can be assured of prompt, h from the largest buyers of u America direct from farmers. TH MAN BAG CO., Storm Lake, Iow

EXPOSED—Tall Corn Secret. Celebration Prizes. No plant foo research plans $1.00. HORTICUL SEARCH, Box 415, Iowa City, Io

ELECTRICAL EQUIPM

THE FORNEY MFG. of Colorado, largest builders of fa in the world, desires to increase force in the state of Iowa. We w train 6 men with good sales b Welding experience valuable, also of farming and farm equipment However, we are primarily intere ing SALESMEN. You must own will award PROTECTED territor only. See WM. W. BLAKELY, St., Des Moines, for evening inte 2-6967. Out-of-town applicants p

CLOTHING, FURS, E

PURSE PAK NYL Carry on extra pair, first quali Nylons. Handy transparent pack — Morning Mist, Glace Mocha guaranteed. Money Order. G. J. Overlook Hosiery Co., P. O. 1491, N. J.

Retail Price	Gauge
$1.60	45-30
2.25	51-15
2.95	54-15

Designate color, length, and size.

MISCELLANEOUS

GLOSSY ENLARGED PRINTS exposure roll developed and pri Giant glossy prints 35c. Beautif service. Giant reprints 4c each. velopes and price list on req FOTO SERVICE, Uni Place, I

CALIFORNIA JUMBO SEEDLE Save by buying direct from ranch sun dried. High iron content. paid. Cash, money order or ch SILVER-BRUCE RANCH, Del

WE CLEAN Septic tanks and C ters or cards post dated earliest first consideration. L. DYER, P er, Hull, Iowa.

SENSATIONAL KURL KLASP perfect pin curls without bobby 6 for only 25c. Postpaid. COMPANY, 1014 West 34th P 8, Illinois.

ECONOMY PRICE Baby Ducklings—$19.95 per Chicks—Heavy Breed, your per hundred. Heavy Breed, $7.95 per hundred. Broiler per hundred. Turkey Poults—our choice hundred. All shipments C age. Guarantee shipments weeks after order is receiv ORDER DIRECT FROM T Buckeye Chickery, Box 804.

WNU—N

IT'S NICE TO K
What goes on in community. T why this news brings you
LOCAL NE

It's Easy to Make Strawberry Shortcake
(See recipes below)

Strawberry Time

those of you who like straw-es, the season is too short! But 'm to do our best by them this a, so let's have them several each week as long as we can. fect strawberries are just plain served au naturel. And if you them sweeter, dip each in a of powdered sugar, before its deliciousness. Some like for breakfast with a sprinkling ar and a quaint pitcher of thick y cream.

rberries in shortcake make a of a dessert. Some prefer shioned biscuit type of short- split and covered with sweet- crushed berries and cream. prefer a more cake-like type companiment to the berries.

LYNN CHAMBERS' MENU

Cold Sliced Boiled Ham
Creamed Parsleyed Potatoes
Buttered Asparagus
Carrot Slivers Celery Curls
*Strawberry Shortcake
Beverage
*Recipe Given

*Strawberry Shortcake
(Serves 6)

ps sifted flour
aspoons baking powder
teaspoon salt
blespoons sugar
blespoons shortening
, well beaten
cup milk
aspoons grated orange peel blespoon soft butter ups strawberries, sliced and gared

flour, baking powder, salt and together; cut shortening into e with two knives or pastry r until mixture is the consist- of corn meal.

bine egg and milk; add to dry ents, mixing quickly to form dough.

the dough by spoonfuls into greased two quart heat re- glass utility dish. Sprinkle scuit with grated orange peel. in a hot (450 degree) oven minutes. Split hot biscuits read with soft butter. Place eetened strawberries between top of each biscuit. Serve er of cream with the short- if desired.

Fresh Strawberry Pie
ked 9-inch pie shell ups strawberries
sugar
tablespoons cornstarch or flour eetened whipped cream

t half the berries and bring g point. Stir in sugar com- with flour or cornstarch and ook, stirring constantly, until ed and well cooked. Spread alf of berries (whole) in ie shell. Pour hot cooked er top, cool, top with sweet- whipped cream and serve. e may be used instead of cream and pie browned in ate (350 degree) oven.

ial Strawberry Shortcake sifted all-purpose enriched spoons baking powder

poon salt
tablespoon sugar tablespoons shortening

orange juice
teaspoon lemon extract

ur, baking powder, salt and gether. Cut in shortening. e whole egg and one egg eserving one white for the ed orange juice and flavor- eaten eggs, then add to dry ds. Stir only enough to ugh hold together. Turn lightly floured board and half minute. Roll out 1/2 ck. Cut. Brush tops with

ATS:

kery Tips
ired Results

is to be stored for any time, rub outside thorough- at so that mold will not the lean part.

bacon in a cold pan and flame for cooking. Pour fat as it cooks.

ing meat or fish for salads, issors instead of a knife. in French dressing before give flavor.

white of egg and sprinkle with sugar. Bake on ungreased baking sheet for 12 minutes in 425 degree preheated oven. Split hot shortcakes, butter and fill with sliced sweetened berries. Replace top and pour berries over top. Serve with cream if desired.

Strawberry Meringue Pie

1 pint fresh strawberries
3 egg whites
1/4 teaspoon salt
1/3 cup sugar
Few drops vanilla
Honey
Baked pie crust

Beat egg whites with salt until stiff. Beat in sugar and flavor with few drops of vanilla. Drain berries carefully; sweeten with honey and fold into meringue. Turn into pie crust and brown in moderate (350 degree) oven about 30 minutes. Serve as soon as cool. (Other fresh, carefully drained fruits may be used.)

Standish Pudding
(Makes 1 quart)

1 quart strawberries
1 cup granulated sugar
1 cup water
Lemon juice
1/2 pint whipping cream
1/4 cup powdered sugar
1/2 teaspoon vanilla
2/3 cup rolled dried macaroons

Pick over strawberries, sprinkle with sugar and let stand for two hours. Mash, squeeze through a double thickness of cheesecloth and add water and lemon juice to taste. Turn mixture into a one quart brick mold or place in freezing tray. Beat cream until stiff and add powdered sugar, vanilla and rolled macaroons. Pour over fruit mixture to overflow mold. Cover with buttered paper and freeze in a mixture of ice and salt, or let freeze in refrigerator compartment.

Raspberry or Strawberry Whip
(Serves 4)

1 1/4 cup berries
1 cup powdered sugar
1 egg white

Beat ingredients together with wire whip or electric whip until stiff enough to hold shape. Serve over pieces of sponge or angel cake or pile lightly in a dish, chill, surround with lady fingers and serve with soft custard sauce.

Luncheon Dish De Luxe

Scrambled eggs with shrimp make a delicious and satisfying luncheon dish. To prepare, saute one chopped green onion and one slice mushroom in two tablespoons margarine or butter. Let cook over a low heat three or four minutes. Add one-half cup shrimp which has been broken into small pieces, and one canned tomato. Again cook over a low heat one or two minutes. Add four eggs which have been beaten with two tablespoons cream, salt and pepper. Stir slowly over a low heat until of desired doneness. Serve on toast or crisp wafers. Sprinkle with grated spicy cheese.

Released by WNU Features

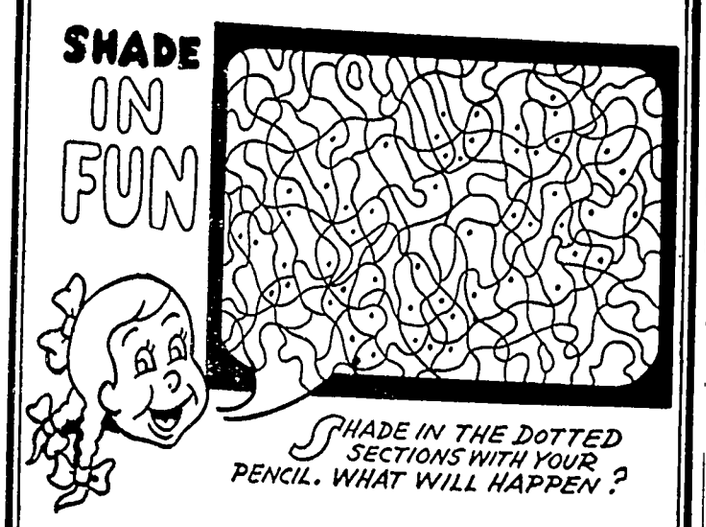
Here's a filling combination, made of all vegetables: Corn pudding, creamed string beans with almonds, French fried carrots and radishes.

Do you like mushrooms? Bake them in cream, then serve along with turnip souffle, buttered string beans and sliced tomatoes.

Serve cottage cheese with assorted fruits or assorted raw vegetables like sliced tomatoes and cucumbers, with olives at the side.

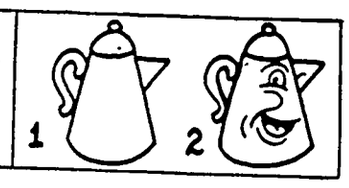
Fruit pies will be better flavored if you add a dash of honey to them.

FUNLAND
BY A.W. NUGENT



KIDDIE CORNER

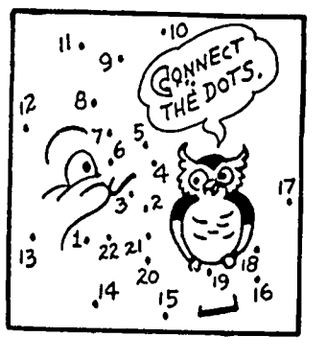
FIRST DRAW A COFFEE POT (1). THEN ADD A FEW LINES TO SEE WHO WANTS COFFEE (2).



UNSCRAMBLE THE LETTERS IN "NINE THUMPS" TO SPELL ONE WORD SUGGESTED BY THE PHRASE ITSELF.

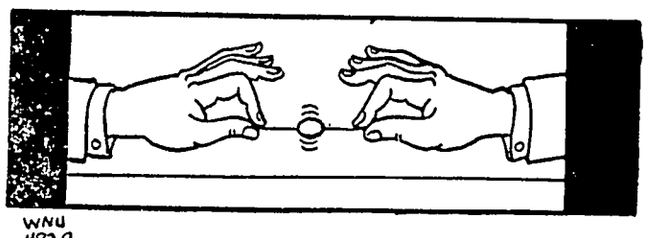
NINE THUMPS

SOLUTION: PUNISHMENT



The Spinning Coin

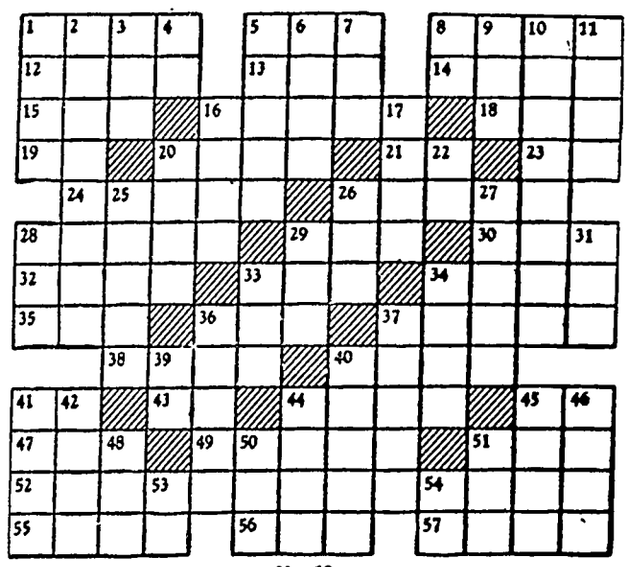
PLACE A PENNY ON THE TABLE AND CAREFULLY PICK IT UP WITH TWO PINS OR NEEDLES. THEN BY BLOWING ON THE COIN YOU CAN MAKE IT SPIN RAPIDLY AROUND. TRY IT.



WNU 4820

CROSSWORD PUZZLE

Solution in Next Issue.

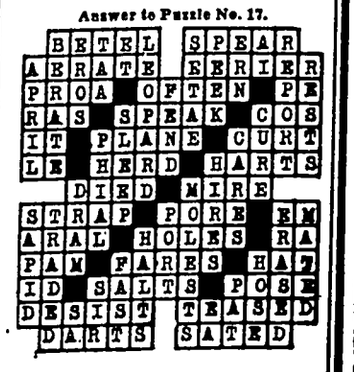


No. 18

HORIZONTAL
1 Smell
5 Pigpen
8 Recedes
12 Existence
13 Garden implement
14 Rymster
15 A newt
16 Circular
18 A beverage
19 Belonging to
20 Word of affection
21 Indifinite article
23 That thing
24 Customary
26 A dwarf
28 The Mohammedan religion
29 Female deer
30 The kava
32 Genuine
33 Occupied a seat
34 Allowance for waste
35 Inquire
36 A low island along a coast
37 To get up
38 Ardor
40 The pintail
41 Pronoun
43 Prefix: good
44 A wing (pl.)
45 Symbol for tellurium
47 Over (poetic)
49 To wager again
51 An East Indian timber tree
52 Abounding in insipid truisms
55 Anglo-Saxon slave
56 Siamese coin (pl.)
57 Poker stake

VERTICAL
1 A combining form meaning oil
2 Spreads
3 Often (poetic)
4 Note of scale
5 A shallow place in water
6 A trip
7 A desire
8 Epistle
9 Fur neckpiece
10 Trusts
11 Let it stand (printing)
16 Paper measure
17 Native of Denmark
20 Relating to two
22 A negative
25 To allay
26 Obtained
27 Girl's name
28 Man's name
29 Twenty-four hours
31 Consumed
33 Japanese coin
34 Woody plant
36 Tall timber tree of New Zealand
37 Famous Italian violin maker
39 Suffix forming verbs
40 Winter vehicles
41 Wish
42 Elongated fish (pl.)
44 Adjoin
45 Tense
46 Otherwise
48 Went fast afoot
50 Greek letter
51 Male offspring
53 One of the sol-fa syllables
54 Symbol for natrium

Answer to Puzzle No. 17.



WNU 4820

After Winchell

(WNU Service)

Things About New York:

Just about the time city hall was being built a young man was indicted for the murder of his sweetheart . . . Political influence resulted in Alexander Hamilton and Aaron Burr (the town's top criminal lawyers) uniting in the accused's defense. . . . The judge was named Lansing. . . . He suggested acquittal. . . . The aunt of the murdered girl interrupted the jury foreman as he announced: "Not guilty!" by shrieking: "There is no justice in heaven if those who have freed the slayer of my niece go unpunished!" . . . The weird finale to the case was written by history.

Hamilton, in his prime, was killed in the duel with Burr. . . . Burr died in disgrace, hated and despised, and Lansing, the judge, disappeared as mysteriously as the long missing Judge Crater.

In a magazine article Gen. Wild Bill Donovan, head of the O.S.S. in World War II, says in part: "Only now in America are we awakening to the existence of the hard fact that the Stalin challenge to our world is indistinguishable from the Hitler challenge.

"Many Americans (name two, General) who knew the situation and were familiar with Russian subversive activities besought our statesmen to inform the American people.

"Russia's malicious lies and distortions have gone unanswered and unchallenged."

News Item: Demmy Chairman J. Howard McGrath (in a statement observing the third ann'y of FDR's death) said President Truman had carried out the Roosevelt program.

Who were the other five pallbearers?????

Bigtown Murals: The blind man at 42nd and Vth. He drums up trade for the sightseeing bus. . . . Third avenue Tessy, whose hobby is riding the 3rd avenue bus scaring the passengers with a bowl loaded with turtles. . . . Sign on the harness of a horse on 2nd avenue: "Move Over Auto. I Was Here Long Before You Were." . . . The autograph hounds outside the midtown drug store (about eight thutty-in-the-morning) just to see their baseball heroes look grouchy. . . . The only place that sells a chocolate soda for a nickel: A vending machine on 6th at 46th.

Mary Dewson ("Molly" to her pals) was one of FDR's earliest and most devoted associates . . . James Farley sent her a copy of his book about FDR . . . She returned it with this note: "The Lord forgives but I don't"

Star in Your Eyes: Sarah Bernhardt sent reviewers into the streets dancing. But she didn't cherish her many ecstatic reviews as much as a note she received from Victor Hugo. . . . After her performance in one of his plays he sent Bernhardt a huge diamond with the following: "You have been great and charming. You have roused me—me, the old combatant—and, at one moment, while the public whom you enchanted cheered you, I wept. This tear which you caused me to shed is yours, and I place myself at your feet."

Barrymore's mightiest greasepaint triumph was Hamlet. A producer informed him: "You played Hamlet perfectly." "I have played many, many roles," Barrymore countered. "But I AM Hamlet!"

In his book, "Late City Edition," City Editor J. Herzberg lauds district men "as the artery of the newspaper business."

Now he's fired seven of them saying "they are obsolete."

In Washington the high court ruled (6-3) reversing decisions prohibiting the sale of magazines bearing risqay titles such as "Bargains in Bodies," "Girl Slave to a Love Cult," etc. . . . Previously, no less than 17 judges of the N. Y. court of appeals, court of special sessions, appellate division and N. Y. state supreme court voted to prohibit them . . . The ayes of six men in one court outruled 17 to 4 courts that voted nay . . . The majority rules ? ? ?

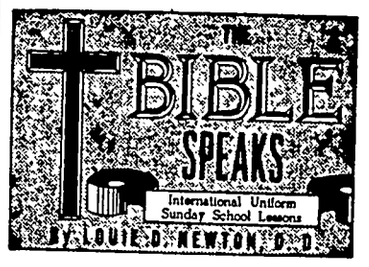
Churchill had the Life staff in a tizzy just as they were going to press. He cabled five pages of corrections. They made them because his contract calls for them, and he covered himself by marking the proofs: "Okay, but subject to further correction."

When they were "caught," Life's Mr. Longwell almost had apoplexy when another cable came reading: "Due to last minute political complications, hold up all articles!"

It was a gag by an office clown, but Mr. Longwell was in no mood for quips. Plenty cain was raised because of it.

Item: "Deepest hole in the U. S. is the Grand Canyon."

Next deepest is the state department pigeon-hole in which the pro-Nazi record of the Grand Mufti is buried.



SCRIPTURE: Daniel 1.
DEVOTIONAL READING: I Timothy 6:11-16.

Daniel Stands By His Convictions

Lesson for May 30, 1948

"A picket frozen on duty—
A mother starved for her brood—
Socrates drinking the hemlock—
And Jesus on the rood."

SUCH a picture we have before us in Sunday's lesson. All you need to do to get this dramatic picture is to read the first chapter of Daniel. You will then feel anew the meaning of that cherished statement, "'Tis conviction that convinceth."

• • •

BRAVE TO DO RIGHT

WE GET the first draught of this tonic in verses 8-9, 14-15, and 17. "But Daniel purposed in his heart that he would not defile himself with the portion of the king's meat, nor with the wine which he drank . . ."

Dr. Newton

He was brave enough to take a stand for what he knew was right. Which reminds me of the story of Henry Ward Beecher, when yet a small boy. A teacher in the school he attended asked a boy a question which he promptly answered. The teacher appeared displeased, and told the boy to sit down He asked several other boys the same question, and got the same answer. Finally he asked Beecher, and Beecher gave the same answer, but refused to sit down when the teacher frowned at him. Seeing that Beecher was going to defend the answer, the teacher said, "Boys, you were all correct, but only Beecher was sure enough to stand his ground. I was simply trying to teach you the lesson that you must stand by what you know is right."

• • •

DARE TO STAND ALONE

DANIEL knew that he was taking an unpopular position, but he was willing to be alone so long as he knew he was right. He knew that the consequences would take care of themselves. That is the quality of character which America needs today in her youth.

It is easy enough to be popular, if you run with the gang; but remember this—the gang is always heading downhill. Daniel stood by his convictions when it was costly. In the final windup, he was the head man.

• • •

ENDURING INVESTMENTS

DANIEL, winning his point, made every hour count toward victory. He not only abstained from strong drink, but used his superior strength to serve the kingdom in such way that his talents were sought out and brought into larger fields of opportunity

Standing by his convictions, he had won over those who at first were disposed to poke fun at him. By superb performance, due to clear thinking and high purpose, Daniel made enduring investments that paid off in big dividends. He did not do right for reward, but because he did right, the reward was inevitable. And so it will be with every young man and woman who purposes in his or her heart to do right.

• • •

GOD'S FAVOR

I WANT you to look carefully at verse 17. "God gave them knowledge and skill in all learning and wisdom; and Daniel had understanding in all visions and dreams."

It is impossible to account for Daniel's fortitude apart from his implicit trust in God. Remember the incident of Daniel opening hi window toward Jersualem in prayer?

God never fails those who stake their all on him. He will not—cannot let them fail. It was because of God's favor that Daniel and his companions proved themselves ten times better than the young men who defiled themselves

"Who sides with God must always win."

• • •

(Copyright by the International Council of Religious Education on behalf of 40 Protestant denominations. Released by WNU Features.)

Scoffers Stay On

Even those who scoff at the Bible prefer to live in a culture in which the dominating ideas of the Bible have been influential.

The Bible is a very dangerous book—dangerous to all systems based on greed and prejudice and oppression.

ASK ME ANOTHER?
A General Quiz

THE QUESTIONS

1. When was the "Star Spangled Banner" officially adopted as our national anthem?
2. What is the fastest speed ever reached by a human being under his own power?
3. Where did the word "khaki" originate?
4. When is the last veteran of World War II expected to die?
5. How long will the U. S. coal supply last if used at the present rate?
6. How big was Tom Thumb?

THE ANSWERS

1. March 3, 1931, by an act of Congress.
2. 108.92 miles per hour which Alfred Letourner attained on a bicycle behind a wind-shielding motorcar at Bakersfield, California, May 7, 1941.
3. India. It means earthlike.
4. By 2030. The last World War I, vet by 1995.
5. For the next 1500 years.
6. Tom Thumb stood three feet four inches when fully grown. He weighed seventy pounds.

FIRST AID to the AILING HOUSE
by Roger C. Whitman

QUESTION: I have a dark soft wood floor that I don't know what to do with. It is single flooring. If I were to lay linoleum squares, would the floor have to be smooth before cementing them down?

ANSWER: Linoleum must be laid on a smooth surface. If your floor is rough and uneven, it should be sanded smooth. The alternative would be to cover the flooring with plywood, which gives a good surface for covering with linoleum.

QUESTION: What about painting a house with the spraying method?

ANSWER: If well done by a professional the job should be entirely satisfactory provided, of course, he uses top quality paint, the surfaces are warm and dry, and the weather is warm and dry.

"Everybody loves" SMACKS THE REALLY DELICIOUS COCONUT BAR!

AS PURE AS MONEY CAN BUY St. Joseph ASPIRIN WORLD'S LARGEST SELLER AT 10¢

TAKE LAXATIVES? Try This Instead

LEMON IN WATER IS GOOD FOR YOU Try it 10 days · Sunkist

KILL ROACHES STEARNS' ELECTRIC BRAND RAT & ROACH PASTE SURE, QUICK WAY Nasty roaches eat Stearns' then die! Kills rats, mice, waterbugs, too. Used 70 years. Buy Stearns' at druggists.

PROTECT YOUR FUTURE BUY YOUR EXTRA SAVINGS BONDS NOW

HANCOCK COUNTY BOARD PROCEEDINGS

4TH ADJOURNED APRIL MEETING

Garner, Iowa
May 3, 1948

The Hancock County, Iowa, Board of Supervisors met in session on above Captioned date pursuant to adjournment with Supervisors John Chambers, F. J. Schoun and George Th. Gerdes, present.

The minutes of the last meeting were read and approved as read.

Supervisor Gerdes is appointed a committee to investigate and cause repairs to be made in D. D. No. 10, Lateral 2.

Supervisor Schoun is appointed a committee to investigate and cause repairs to be made in D. D. No. 3 and 4, Lateral 21; D. D. 3 and 4, Lateral 44; D. D. No. 80; D. D. No. 1 and 2, Lateral 2-A; D. D. No. 43, Lateral 1; and D. D. No. 80 Main.

Supervisor Chambers is appointed a committee to investigate and cause repairs to be made in D. D. No. 54-121; D. D. No. 26; and D. D. No. 6 Main.

On motion and second the resignation of Doris Goll, Deputy County Auditor, effective May 15, 1948, is approved.

On motion and second the following bonds are approved: Leo L. Becker, Contractor, Garner, Iowa; Pittsburg-Des Moines Steel Company, Contractors, Des Moines, Iowa; Herman Buns and Son, Contractors, Woden, Iowa; and Thorpe Well Company, Des Moines, Iowa, Contractors.

RESOLUTION Concurring in Recommended Award of Contracts for FEDERAL AID SECONDARY ROAD PROJECT NO. S-312(3) and S-763 (2) Hancock County, Iowa.

WHEREAS the Board of Supervisors of Hancock County, Iowa, has considered the bids received by the Iowa State Highway Commission on April 27, 1948, for construction work on Federal Aid Secondary Projects No. —— (or projects as listed herein) Hancock County

NOW THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED That the said Board of Supervisors of Hancock County, Iowa, concurs in the Commission's recommendation that contracts for said work be awarded to the low bidders as follows:

Grading Work:

To Herman Buns & Son, Woden, Iowa
For Project S-312(3), $14,219.26
For Project S-763(2), 6,783 86

Passed and approved this 3rd day of May 1948.

BOARD OF SUPERVISORS
HANCOCK COUNTY
By J. A. CHAMBERS
Chairman

ATTEST:
MAYNARD SCHONEMAN
County Auditor

On motion and second the borrow dirt agreement with Magnus Anderson is approved

In the matter of a partial release of the School Fund Mortgage given by Hancock County to Arthur Fisher.

BE AND IT IS THEREFORE RESOLVED by the Hancock County, Iowa, Board of Supervisors acting for and in behalf of said School Fund Mortgage of Arthur Fisher, that the following tract of land be released from said School Fund Mortgage:

That part of the West ½ of the SE¼ of Section 27 lying north of the right of way of the C M and St. P Railway and north and west of the right of way of the M & St. L. Railway, all in Township 96 North, Range 25, West of the 5th P. M. Hancock County, Iowa, described as follows: Commencing at the point where the line between the E½ and the W½ of said Section 27 intersects the north line of the right of way of the C. M. & St. Paul Railway, thence north 25 feet; thence easterly paralleled with the north line of the right of way of the C. M. & St. Paul Railway to the west line of the right of way of the M. and St. L. Railway, thence southwesterly along the west line of the right of way of said M & St. L. Railway to the point of intersection of said west line of said right of way with the north line of the right of way of the C. M. & St. L. Railway, thence westerly along the north line of the right of way of the C. M. & St. P Railway to the point of beginning.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the County Auditor be and he is hereby authorized to execute said partial release of record.

The foregoing resolution was offered and read by Supervisor Schoun, who moved its adoption, was seconded by Supervisor Gerdes, whereupon the Chairman, John Chambers, placed the motion of its adoption and upon roll call the vote thereon is F J Schoun, George Th. Gerdes and John Chambers, aye. Nays, none.

Whereupon the Chairman declared the resolution duly adopted.

This being the 3rd day of May, a date heretofore fixed for a hearing on the establishment of a road petitioned for by Albert Chizek, et al, between sections 16 and 21 in Garfield Township, the hour for said hearing having arrived, the proof of publication being on file and the board being fully advised said hearing was held as scheduled. The Board duly considered all phases of the Commissioners Report, the Petition and Claims for damages for the establishment of said road Upon motion by Supervisor Schoun to reject said road and second by Supervisor Gerdes, the Chairman presented the motion for its rejection and the vote thereon is F J Schoun, George Th. Gerdes and John Chambers aye. Nays, none. Whereupon the Chairman declared the establishment of said road rejected.

BE IT RESOLVED that the claims hereinafter set out be allowed in amounts designated thereon and the County Auditor be and he is hereby directed to draw warrants on the several funds of Hancock County, Iowa, in payment of such claims in amounts set opposite each claim.

County Fund Warrants

Urich Implement Company desk, Treasurer	$ 123.00
Carmen Goll, work Auditor	48.40
Yohn Motor Freight, freight courthouse	2.18
Carmen Goll, work Auditor	48.40
M. L. Swaney, Acting P. M. stamps, Recorder, Auditor Treasurer, Superintendent	48.75
L. R. Melcher, Supt., courthouse, water rent	7.75
Marshall & Swift Incorporation laundry, courthouse	2.08
N. W. Bell Telephone Co. telephone tolls	97.10
N W. Bell Telephone Co., telephone tolls, nurse	9.68
N. W Bell Telephone Co., telephone tolls, OAA	6.12
Roy L. McMillin, April bounty	188.90
Carmen Goll, work Auditor	48.40
M L Swaney, Acting P. M. stamps, Recorder	4.50
Vern C. Pringle, rep. and mat courthouse	71.81
J. A. Chambers, session committee	155.80
J. A. Chambers, session and committee mileage	65.10
F. J. Schoun, session committee	160.70
F. J. Schoun, session and committee mileage	71.95
Geo. Th. Gerdes, session committee	162.10
Geo. Th. Gerdes, session and committee mileage	81.80
L. M. Brower, sheriff, expense	65.87
James Cooper, deputy sheriff expense	4.30
Maurice Monson, board and lodging prisoner	8.00
Dr. C. V. Hamilton, call Zeismer, Sahey	3.00
H. H. Ferman, M. D., alch. test Helvick	6.02
Community Food Market, groc. Seifert	.71
Blank Drug Store, supplies sheriff	52.66
Harriet Oxley, R. N., county nurse expense	38.34
Curtis G. Riehm, county attorney, expense, March-April	178.99
Britt News-Tribune, board proceedings and ads	68.48
Kanawha Reporter, board proceedings and ads	109.29
Garner Printing and Publishing board proceeding and ads and bids	2.04
Fisher Typewriter Co., supplies assessor	2.24
Monroe Calculating Machine ribbons, auditor and treas.	272 62
Klipto Loose Leaf Co., supplies auditor, treasurer, assessor	211.12
Acres-Blackmar Co's. supplies, assessor, auditor, recorder	212.52
Fidlar & Chambers Co., supplies, auditor, clerk, attorney, assessor, OAA	5.03
Maxine I. Panosh, supplies O-AA	60.28
Koch Brothers, supplies assessor	4.62
Boone Blank Book Co., supplies clerk	61.00
Matt Parrott & Sons Co., supplies, auditor, recorder treasurer, clerk, engineer	44.05
Acme Chemical Co., supplies courthouse	3.36
Burroughs, machine, maintenance	26.10
H. B. Hopp Co., supplies courthouse	1.90
Fred C. Missal, money, adv. keys	7 40
J. I. Holcomb, Mfg. Co., supplies courthouse	215.33
Central States Electric, repair boiler, courthouse	14.00
J N. Steil, rodman	54.00
Wm. Henschen, engineer	43.16
Britt News-Tribune, notice and slips	17.00
Philip Johnson, rodman

Amsterdam Township Trustee Meetings

Paul Hasty, trustee	4.00
Oren C. Thompson, trustee	4.00
Omar J. Maland, trustee	4.00
M. L. Thompson, trustee	4.00

Avery Township Trustees Meeting

Paul Veldhouse, trustee	4.00
J. J. Cook, trustee	4.00
Vern Schluter, trustee	4.00
Anson Avery, trustee	4.00

Bingham Township Meeting

C. A. Bird, trustee	4.00
Fred Gerdes, trustee	4.00
Geo. Senne, trustee	4.00
D. H. Sonius, clerk	4.00

Twin Lake Township meeting

S. A. Barber, trustee	4.00
A. G. Ruka, trustee	4.00
Arthur Chelavig, clerk	4 00

Ell Township Meeting

W. H. Greiman, trustee	4.00
Alfred V. Josten, trustee	4.00
H. J. Thieman, trustee	4.00
Edmund K Josten, clerk	4.00

Concord Township Meeting

Clinton Daniels, trustee	4.00
Wm. Boehnke, trustee	4.00
Chas. F. Hollatz, trustee	4.00
H L. Ollenburg, trustee	4.00

Crystal Township Meeting

J J. Hansen, trustee	4 00
John Ruoss, trustee	4 00
Elmer Jenson, trustee	4.00
Norman Hanson, trustee	4.00

Magor Township Meeting

Wm. F. Erdman, trustee	4 00
Tom Hein, trustee	4.00
W. E. Puffer, clerk	4.00

Ellington Township, meeting and meetings	back
A. E. Bomen, trustee	10.00
K. P. Juhl, trustee	10.00
Olaf Westerberg, trustee	10.00
Fred L. Meinecke, clerk	13.83
Kenneth F. Boughton, coroner Torkelson case	13.30
Leonard Nelson, witness	2.25
Virgil Swanson, witness	2.25
Larry Torkelson, witness	2.25
Lloyd Anderson, witness	2.25
O Holverson, witness	2.25
M J. Boughton, witness	2.25
J. A. Chambers, tellephone tolls	3.24

Court Expense Fund

James H. Roberts, per diem and exp.	160.45
J M. O'Connor, bailiff	15.00
Stenotype Supply Co., ct. rep. supplies	17.80
Bernice Tait, ct. rep. deficit	6.31

Bang's Disease Warrants

Virgil Stille, stock slaughtered	78.48

Assessor's Fund

Blanche Ritter, assessing Madison	257.92
E. J. Blumer, assessing Liberty	253.10
Wm. E. Haes, assessing Garfield	256.55
Robert Roths, assessing Avery	277.65
Yohn Motor Freight, freight assessor	2.74
John Carothers, freight	1.03
Walter Wolwood, assessing Concord	270.20

Domestic Animal Fund

Blanche Ritter, listing dogs	11.90
E. J. Blumer, listing dogs	11.80
Wm. Haes, listing dogs	12.10
Robert Roths, listing dogs	9.90
Walter Wolwood, listing dogs	11.40

Soldiers Relief

Rufus C. Welter, meeting	4.50
Daniel E. Williams, meeting	3.10
C. S. Rice, meeting	2.10

Poor Fund

Dreitinger Hardware, merchandise, county home	7.93
St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, hospital, Hennings, Adams, Heath, Merton	818.45
Western Chemical Co., supplies County home	106.62
George R. Stokesbary, merchandise, county home	6.17
Quakerdale Farm, April care, Dingman	30.00
Glen Terhuften, hay, county home	146.25
Mullins Hybrid Corn Co., seed county home	13.20
Textile Industry, merchandise county home	32.11
Boughton Funeral Home, ambulance, George Adams	10.00
C. J. Schneider, groceries county home	109.50
Blank Drug Store, supplies, Fibble, Noble	15.81
Urich Implement Co., supplies county home	58.98
Lutheran Welfare Society, care Fischer and Brones	320.00
Orville Maben, insurance, county home	80.65
Herman Paul, money, adv. county home	52.27
Smith's Cash Grocery, provisions, Brooks	10.00
Woodford-Wheeler Lumber Co. mdse, county home	18.85
Dept. of Social Welfare, aid to blind	21.61
Dept. of Social Welfare, emergency relief	7.20
Dept. of Social Welfare, aid to	7.20
W. O. Kirchgatter, motor fuel	170.10
K. & H. Service Station, repairs	.77
Central States Electric Co., service	1.02
The Nolan Co., pulled jacks	230.00
Roger Tire Service, recaps	80.39
D. A. Lubricant Co., Inc., lubricant	104.04
Frank Zrostlik, tires and tube	106.95
Garner Auto Co., repairs	4.15
Redden Hardware, hardware	8.24
Central States Electric, service	37.70
Geo. Gerdes, labor	45.00
Kreitinger Hardware, furniture, hardware	18.65
Kanawha Hardware, hardware	8.80
Leo L. Hughes, labor	149.34
Henry Steinlicht, labor	199.44
Woodford - Wheeler Lumber, lumber	69.09
Greiman Mfg. Co., repairs	12.19
Herman M. Brown Co., repairs	181.71
Waterloo Steel & Equipment supplies	117.69
George Stille, labor	197.31

Road Construction Fund

M. & St. L. Railway, freight on lumber	834.23

Highway Construction, pay roll—

G. D McNabb, foreman	53.93
Wm. Hughes, labor	57.53
Sherl May, labor	53.93
John Brower, labor	70.44
H. M. Haxton, labor	47.43
W. P. Dunfee, labor	59.89
R. J. Brower, labor	55.99
Jake Lawman, labor	48 73
M. & St. L. Ry Co., freight on lumber	554.91

Highway Construction payroll—

G. D. McNabb, foreman	93.45
Wm. Hughes, labor	97.35
Sherl May, labor	98 75
John Brower, labor	97 65
H M Haxton labor	98.65
H J Brower labor	97 35
Jake Lowmam, labor	97.65
County Recorder filing fees	7.40
Britt News-Tribune, notices and ads	39.62
Philip Johnson, rodman	162.00
Wm. Henschen, rodman	36.70
Pioneer Lumber Co., lumber	3,162.79
Corwith Lumber Co., material	483.82
John Johnson, damage	5.00
Armco Drainage & Metal Prod material	1,516.92
Mrs. Wilma Johnson, right of way	128.00
John Neuberger, right of way	270.00
C. C. Boman, right of way	216.10
Mrs. Clara Barz, right of way	341.50
Werner Schlawin, right of way	207.50
Raymond F. Milbrandt, right of way	96.00
H. Martin Madson, right of way	192.00
Redden Hardware, hardware	4 90
Kanawha Reporter, notice to bidders	38.62
J N Steil, rodman	93.56
C. L. McConaughey, rodman	34.65

Drainage Fund

Marvin Bredlow, labor, D. D. No. 6, Lateral 1	4 95
Kenneth O. Boller, labor, D. D., No. 6	14.85
Carl Heginger, labor, D. D. No. 6 Lateral 1	19.80
Crystal Lake Lumber, material D. D. No. 7	5.80
Emmett Devin, labor D. D. No. 7	9.90
V. L. Fric, labor D. D. No. 7	55 69
Fabian Kadera, labor D. D. No. 7	72.27
Carl Kluseman, labor, D. D. No. 7	9 90
Harold H. Rhine, labor D. D. No. 7	24.75
V. L. Fric, labor, D. D. No. 7 Section 5	38.86
Fabian Kadera, labor and material, D D. 7, Section 5	48.38
Road Maintenance Fund, material and equipment, D. D. No. 8 Main	275 60
I. A Chambers, D. D. work and mileage, D. D. No. 9 L. 2	3.00
Kenneth O Boller, labor, D. D. 9, lateral 2	9.90
Carl Heginger, labor, D. D. 89 lateral 2	9.90
Bernard Abbas, labor, D. D. No. 9, lateral 2	4.95
George Stille, labor, D. D. No. 9, lateral 2	9.90
Milbern Rapp, labor, D. D. No. 10, lateral 6	4.95
Leo L. Hughes, labor, D. D. No. 10, lateral 6	9.90
Harry H Hanson ,labor, D. D. No. 15	39.00
Herman Brummund, dcoop work, D. D. No. 26	25.00
Marvin Bredlow, labor, D. D. No. 26	7.92
Clifford Montgomery, labor, D. D. No. 26	10.80
Kenneth O Boller, labor, D. D. No. 26	4.95
Bernard Abbas, labor D D. No. 26	21.78
Carl Henginger, labor, D. D. No 26	9 90
J. A. Chambers, D D work and mileage, D D No. 26	8.00
Gene Sweeney, labor, D. D. No No. 44	14.85
Gene Sweeney, labor, D. D. No. 48	20.79
John Haaf, labor, D. D No. 48	14 85
Milbern Rapp, labor, D. D. No. 48	14.85
Wm. J. Wood, labor, D. D. No. 48	13.86
Leo. L. Hughes, labor, D. D. No. 48	24.75
Emmett Devin, labor, D. D. No. 65	24.75
Carl Kluseman, labor, D. D. No 65 Main	19.80
Harold H. Rhine, labor, D. D. No. 65 Main	29.70
Wm Wrede, material and labor D. D. No. 80	12.26
Ernest Helps, labor, D. D. No. 81	34.15
Fred Peterson, labor, D. D. No. 82	10.50
Farmers Cooperative Society material and supplies, D. D. No. 83	9.00
Milbern Rapp, labor D. D. No. 97	4.95
Wm. J. Wood, labor, D. D. No. 97	9.90
Geo. Gerdes, labor, D. D. No. 97	30.00
Leo L. Hughes, labor, D. D. No. 97	9.90
Marvin Bredlow, labor, D. D. No. 99	9.90
Kenneth O. Boller, labor, D. D. No. 99	9.90
Bernard Abbas, labor, D. D. No. No 99	9.90
George Stille, labor D. D. No. 99	9.90
Philip Johnson, Inst man, D. D. No. 101	8.41
J. N. Steil, rodman, D. D. No. 101	6.93
Ivan Iverson, labor, D. D. No. 101	4.95
Crystal Lake Lumber, material D. D. No. 101	2 71
Emmett Devin, labor, D. D. No. 101	4.95
C. F. Merten, engineer, D. D. No. 101	27.26
Marvin Bredlow, labor, D. D. No. 116	1.08
J. A. Chambers, D D work and mileage, D. D. No. 116	2.00
Kenneth O. Boller, labor, D. D. No. 116	4.95
Marvin Bredlow, labor, D. D. No. 128	2.97
J A Chambers, D D work and mileage, D. D. No. 128	2.00
Carl Kluseman, labor, D. D. No. 129	19.80
Harold H. Rhine, labor, D. D. No. 129	19.80
Louis Knoke, labor, D. D. No. 129 Main	16.83
Marvin Bredlow, labor, D. D. No. 142	9.90
Kenneth O. Boller, labor, D. D. No. 142	9.90
F. J Schoun, D D work and mileage, D. D. No. 144	4.20
Geo. Th. Gerdes, drainage work and mileage, D. D. No. 144	4.80
J. A. Chambers, drainage work and mileage, D. D. No. 144	4.40
Philip Johnson, Inst man, D. D. No. 155	8.42
C. F. Merten, engineer, D. D. No. 145	31.96
J. N. Steil, rodman, D. D. No. 145	6.93
C. L. McConaughey, rodman, D. D. No. 145	10.80
Farmers Co-op. Society, material, D. D. 146	1.52
C. F Merten, engineer, D. D. No. 1 and 2	25.56
J. N Steil, rodman, D. D. No. 1 and 2 SM	13.85
Ivan Iverson, labor, D. D. No. 1 and 2 lateral 25	19.80
Emmett Devin, labor, D. D. No. 1 and 2 lateral 25	14.85
Philip Johnson, Inst man, D. D. No. 1 and 2 SM	16.83
C. L. McConaughey, rodman, D D. 1 and 2 SM	10.40
Crystal Lake Lumber, material D. D. No. 1 and 2 L 25	1.63
Fabian Kadera, labor and mat. D. D. No. 1 and 2	3.22
Harold H. Rhine, labor, D. D. No. 1 and 2, L 25	9 90
V. L. Fric, labor, D. D. No. 8 and 4, L 19	22.28
Wm. Henschen, engineer, D. D. No. 3 and 4 Main	148.50
H. A. Rogers & Co., blue prints D. D. No. 3 and 4 Main	3.43
Geo. Th. Gerdes, drainage work and mileage, D. D. No. 3 & 4	4.80
F. J. Schoun, drainage, mileage D. D. No. 3 and 4	3.50
J. A Chambers, drainage work D. D. No. 3 and 4	3.50
Fabian Kadera, labor and mat. D. D. No. 3 and 4 L 19	23.18
Associated General Construction, official publication, D. D. No. 3 and 4 Main dependent children	2.00 392.05
Lutheran Children's Home, April, care, Klipping	30.00
Frank Falada, groceries, county home	36.99
James Gilbert, work, county home	59.40
Garner Bakery, provisions county home	57.68
Griesemer Harness Shop, mdse county home	22.90
Gildner-Paulson, clothing county home	26.75
Blank Drug Store, mdse. county home	17.47
Butz Hatchery, chicks, county home	144.72
Margie Branstad, work, county home	30.00
Emily Book, work, county home	22.00
Coast-to-Coast, supplies county home	1.68
D & W. Dept. Store, mdse. county home	7.22
O. J Davidson, tobacco county home	43.08
Edelen Food Market, groceries county home	46.31
L. W. Swanson, M. D., medical care, Noble	13.40
Dr. C. V. Hamilton, medical care, Noble, Reynolds Chrlstofferson	7.8
McAuley's & Son, ambulance Annie Heath
Farmers Co-op. Society, supplies, county home	4.
Drs. Weston and Barg, operations, Adams and Heath	2
Mrs. Fred Kothenbuetel, two rugs	20

Road Maintenance Fund

Panther Oil and Grease Mfg. county shed, Britt roofing	21
Special Drainage Assesment, assessments on drainage	17
C. M. St| P. & P. Railroad, freight on gasoline	3.89
Ed F. Bock, gasoline	38
Bock Oil Company, gasoline	1.6
Yohn Motor Freight, freight on bands	78
N. W. Bell Telephone Co., telephone tolls, county shop
J. D. Armstrong, Heavy hauling, freight on scraper
Chicago, Milwaukee, St. P. & P. freight on jacks	6
Urbatsch Hardware & Appl. hardware
C. F. Merten, car mileage	3
Sieg Fort Dodge Co., supplies	3
Barclay Co., welding supplies	3
Carl E. Franzen, oil	1
Iowa Machinery & Supply Co., supplies	10
Thompson Distributing Company, supplies
Art Tabb, saw sharpening
C. H. Paulson, express paid
Fabian Kadera, labor
V. L. Fric, labor
Herman M. Brown Co., tractor and equipment	10.4
Garner Printing and Publishing Co., Road notices
J. T. Denny, tile labor
Coast to Conat Store, tools	1
Crystal Lake Lumber, material
Silas J. Jamtgaard, repairs
Gibbs-Cook Tractor and Equipment, repairs
Leo L. Becker, bridge repair
The Frederick Post Co., tapes
Moeller & Brunsen, grease gun tips
Globe Machinery & Supply Co. bolts
Tire Retread Co., tire repair
Britt Paint & Body Shop, repairs
Garner Motor Sales Co., repairs
Central Auto Electric Co., repairs
Klemme Hardware Co., hardware
Standard Oil Co., diesel fuel
Woodford Wheeler Lumber, tile and roofing
Bernard Abbas, labor
Marvin Bredlow, labor
Emmett Devin, labor
Merle Deibler, labor
John Haaf, labor
Paul Halfpop, labor
Donald Hodson, labor
Ivan Iverson, labor
Carl Kluseman, labor
Louie Knoke, labor
Clifford Montgomery, labor
Harold H. Rhine, labor
Kenton Richards, labor
Milbern F. Rapp, labor
Gene Sweeney, labor
L. F. Schleuger, labor
J. L. Tobin, labor
C. F. Merten, labor
Robert Devin, labor
George King, labor
Robert C. Hanson, labor
Kenneth O. Boller, labor
Carl John Heginger, labor
Wm. J. Wood, labor
Wesley Steiniker, labor
Standard Oil Co., tires and battery
Gildners, boots
Car Wood Industries Inc., repairs

Continued on inside pa

ANNOUNCEMENT OF PRICES OF

Ice Cream

Hand Packed ——— Pints 40c

Hand Packed ——— Quarts 75c

Factory Packed ——— As Before

Roths' Cafe

Quandt Cafe

Jorgenson's Corner Store

Advertisement

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

It's Leap Year, Girls!

First girl in our town to "get her man" on Leap Year was the Cuppers' daughter, Jane, who wed Bi Webster's boy last Saturday.

When I asked Bill Jr. if it w. true that Janey really did the proposing, Bill said: No, but she mad it plain she'd make an ideal wife Instead of looking for diversion o. excitement every evening, she wa content to chat beside the fire.

"I could plainly see," says Bill, "that we'd really have a happy home life—which is just exactly what I want from marriage."

I know it's usual for older folks to take their heads over the younger generation. (It's gone on for hundreds of years, now.)

But from where I sit, young people of marrying age today are every bit as commendable as their elders were—in their temperance (a glass of beer for instance), tolerance, and common sense. So to Jane and Bill—the best of luck!

Joe Marsh

Copyright, 1948, United States Brewers Foundation

K. F. M. Specials

FRIDAY and SATURDAY, MAY 28 - 29

We Reserve The Right To Limit

MONARCH FOODS

Campbells
SOUPS ——— 2 cans 35c

P and G
SOAP ——— 2 bars 17c

Week End Special.
COCOANUT ——— box 18c

Hixson's Cocoanut
CUSTARD PUDDING ——— 4 boxes 25c

Post's
GRAPE NUTS FLAKES ——— box 19c

Scarlet King
PEAS ——— 2 cans 29c

New Purfex Sudser
TREND ——— 2 boxes 40c

Hershey's
BAKING CHOCOLATE ——— 8 oz. pkg. 35c

Chocolate Cream
COFFEE (paper bags) ——— lb. 47c

BRING US YOUR EGGS — CASH OR TRADE

Klemme Food Market

Monarch Finer Foods — C. A. Larsen, Prop

No Meals

Due to the illness of Mrs. Quandt we will discontinue serving meals for the present, but will continue our lunches and other services.

TOBACCOS
ICE CREAM
CIGARETTES
CANDY BARS

Thank You
QUANDT'S CAFE
Mr. and Mrs. Conrad Quandt

Arthur Wellemeyer
FUNERAL DIRECTOR

—with long experince and best equipment.

PROMPT AMBULANCE SERVICE
Phone 23-R2 Day or Night

Klemme - Iowa

BATHROOM
Closets
Metal Shower Cabinets
Soil Pipe and Fittings
Now Available!
ROY I. SCHAEFER

GARNER CLINIC
GARNER, IOWA

Dr. E. M. Christensen, M.D.
Physician & Surgeon, Ph. 18
EYES TESTED — GLASSES FITTED

Dr. A. G. Landon, D.D.S.
Dentist, Ph. 207

PHOTOGRAPHS

Live Forever

RUSSELL
Photo Studio
Next to J. C. Penny Co.
Ph. 2272 Mason City, Ia.

DEAD STOCK
PROMPTLY REMOVED

TOP THE MARKET GREEN TOP MINERALIZED PROTEIN FEED NATIONAL BY-PRODUCTS

Britt Rendering Co
Dept. of Agr. Lic. No. 22

WE PAY PHONE CHARGE
KLEMME Phone 700
GARNER Phone 4000

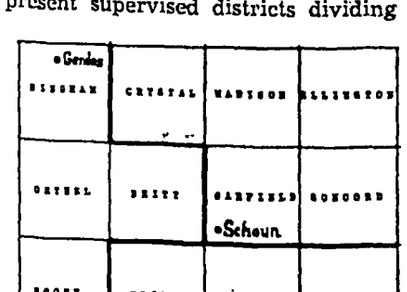
Our Trucks Are Steam Cleaned After Each Load

TANKAGE AND MINERALIZED FEED FOR SALE AT OUR PLANT

To The Voters O Hancock County

I wish to express my sincere appreciation for the port I have received in the past from the voters of Han County.

The Supervisors of Hancock County are nominated elected at large but serve in districts. A very large pr tion of the voters have at various times expressed a that Hancck County could be devided into three super districts and elected by districts. The law says that tricts should be established in proportion to populatio this could be accomplished by using approximately present supervised districts dividing on township lin



This would Britt and five ships in one d on the west, p tion 5,393; Garne five townships i other district o east, population and Klemme, C and Kanawha, a townships in the and east distric a population of

The supervisors have the authority to establish districts at the January meeing but it has never been

If I am nominated and elected, I shall accept th as a mandate of the voters for a division of Hancock C in Supervisor districts.

Yours Sincerely,

J. A. CHAMBER

CIAL
NTY

THE KLEMME TIMES

ume 53. KLEMME, IOWA, JUNE 2, 1848 Number 29.

shermen Can Fill Creels With Variety

SEASON OPENED JUNE FIRST

1st marked the opening fishing season on large allmouth bass, warmouth unfish, bluegill and rock Angling for these as well other protected species on there is an open season be legal until November 30. season on walleye pike, e, perch, white or silver ellow bass, and northern opened May 15. Fishing tfish has been legal since 15, and the trout season ay 1.

eral changes have been in the regulations by adtrative order of the Conion Commission. Length have been removed on ill, crappie, warmouth bass, bass, rout, perch, white or bass, and yellow bass. limits on large and smallh bass have been reduced eight per day to five with session limit of ten. Catch on catfish has been reducto eight with a possession of sixteen. Only eight may be taken per day with session limit of one day's

GE CROWD PRESENT FOR MEMORIAL DAY PROGRAM

e weather was ideal and as ult there was a good turnat the Park for the Mem Day program. The adgiven by Rev. T. Earl pastor from Dows, was y enjoyed. The program well balanced with band rvices were conducted at Cemetery by the American n and Auxiliary concludwith a salute by the Firing d and Taps.

ere was a sizable parade year from the Park to the etery with various organons taking part.

Program At Goodell

e Memorial Day services held at Goodell on Sunday ad of on Monday as the es had erroneously reported, ugh an error.

large crowd was present at Amsterdam Cemetery where Goodell Legion had charge the address was given by Boston.

W STREET FLAGS USED FOR FIRST TIME ON MEMORIAL DAY

me weeks ago the Town ncil purchased new flags for ay on the streets on patrioccasions. Special adapters made to fit the new poles the flags appeared for the time Memorial Day along Street in the new arrangewhich is very effective.

r. Edward Schaefer was 86 s old on May 24. Homee, icecream, birthday and ding cake was also on the u.

HELLO, FOLKS!

r. and Mrs. Wayne Pavey Webster City are the proud nts of a baby girl, born May at the hospital. The little will be called Sally Mar- and she weighed seven and four and one half ounc- She has a little sister, Carol who is seven years old. r. and Mrs. Wallace Pavey grandparents again.

KLUCKHOHN'S INSTALL A MODERN REFRIGERATED CASE LAST WEEK

Kluckhohns Store last week end installed a new 10-ft. refrigerated display case of the most modern type and design. It is entirely constructed of steel and is finished in white porcelain. It is the first refrigerated case of this design and type to be installed in Iowa.

Their old refrigerated case has been moved to one side of the store room and will be used for storing fresh fruits and vegetables. A new meat slicing machine has also been installed. Some time ago the Kluckhohns cut down their high shelving and remodeled their fixtures into the new modern low-type design. The new arrangement gives them a nice store with that "new look."

KLEMME LOCAL NEWS

Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Van Winkle of Aberdeen, South Dakota were recent week end guests at the Lee Jennings home. Mr. Van Winkle is Mrs. Jennings' brother.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Gerardi and family came Sunday morning from Kansas City for a visit at the Conrad Quandt home. Ernie went back Monday afternoon but the family stayed for a three weeks visit.

Mr. and Mrs. Walcott of Keokuk spent Saturday and Sunday visiting at the C. A. Larsen home. Mrs. Walcott is the former Miss Ruth Bailey of Klemme.

Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Koerner entertained to dinner Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Orville Stokesbary and family, Mr. and Mrs. Glen Bridges and family, Mrs. L. A. Ridder and family and Kermit Koerner.

Mrs. Lena Schroeder, Mrs. Rosa Mitchell of Swea City, and Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Keraus were dinner guests with Grandma Keraus Monday noon. In the afternoon, Mr. and Mrs. George Horecka and daughter of Oelwein called.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Lau and Cozette and Mrs. E. J. Arnold visited at the Ole Ramsey home in Waterloo a week ago Thursday, and also attended the commencement exercises at Cedar Falls, as Novella Bredbenner was one of the graduates.

Thursday noon, Mrs. P. M. Wilson was a dinner guest at the E. J. Schneider home. At six o'clock in the evening, she and Dr. and Mrs. Dulmes and Dick were guests with Mr. and Mrs. Sumner Trumbell. Friday noon she and Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Jorgenson were guest at the Dulmes home. While Friday evening for supper, Mrs. Wilson was a guest of Dr. and Mrs. Missman.

NO DEER

A deer jumped in front of a car driven by Orville Andersen, of near Corley and the vehicle received a dented fender. After the collision, however, the deer could not be found and apparently survived the collision better than did the automobile.

Evangelical & Reformed Church

Calvin Groneshuesch, Pastor

SUNDAY

10 A. M. Morning Worship.

11 A. M. Sunday School.

7 P. M. Young Peoples Bible Class.

MONDAY - FRIDAY

8:00 A. M. Bible School.

The Adult Bible Class will meet the second Monday of June. A special speaker has been engaged for this meeting.

PICNIC DINNER HELD TO CELEBRATE BIRTHDAYS

Also Shower For Mr. And Mrs. Donald Schaefer

On Sunday, May 23rd, there was held a picnic dinner for the birthdays of Mr. Edward Schaefer, which was May 24 and Mrs. Roy Schaefer,, May 25. There was also a miscellaneous shower for Mr. and Mrs. Donald Schaefer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Schaefer, who was married on May 10th to Esther Alverson of Clarion. Mr. and Mrs. Donald Schaefer received many nice gifts.

Those who attended were Mr and Mrs. Robert Hanson and family of Kanawha, Mrs. Emery Schaefer and son Donald A. and Miss Mary Freeman of Forest City, Mr. and Mrs. Herald Ridder and Mrs. Eva Wrench of Nora Springs, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Schaefer and Mr and Mrs. Irvin Blank and Gary of Liberty township, Mr. and Mrs. Milton Shuldt, Judy and Jackie, Mr and Mrs. Frank Shuldt and Mr and Mrs. Paul Griesmer all of Garner.

Mr. and Mrs. Loren Gast and Mr. and Mrs. Ben Ridder and Kathy, Mr. and Mrs. George Kern and Mary Katherine all of Liberty township. Mr. and Mrs. Ben Reimer and Mrs. Fred Gates of Garner.

Mrs Schaefer received a lovely chenille bedspread as a reminder of the day and Mr. Edw. Schaefer received several gifts. Mr. Schaefer, better known as Grandpa, is quite spry for his age as he still drives his own car.

LIBERTY TOWNSHIP F. B. MEETS

The regular meeting of the Liberty Township Farm Bureau was held at the Liberty School No 1 Thursday evening, May 27 at 8:00 p. m.

Mrs. Carl Schneider of Garner showed pictures of trips he and Mrs. Schneider had taken in Florida, Mexico and through the western states.

Miss Elsie Mae Van Wert, county extension home economist, gave a few pointers on canning and freezing and vegetables Bulletins on the subjects were given the ladies attending the meeting. Anyone wishing bulletins on canning or freezing may have them by calling or writing the Farm Bureau office in Garner.

HEARS OF WAR BUDDY ON RADIO PROGRAM SUNDAY

Harry Schuster and Bill Fuss were thrilled Sunday when they heard of a former war buddy on Ted Malone's radio program, when he told of the exploits of Capt. Dick Hamilton who was shot down in Japan while testing radio equipment. Harry had served in the army 4½ years with Capt. Hamilton, and Bill Schuster was with him for a shorter period of time. All were engaged in technical radio and radar work and the three men were closely associated and were the best of friends.

Birthdays Celebrated

Saturday was the birthdays of Mrs. A. G. Koerner and Mrs. Wm. Ax. They celebrated the occasion at the home of Mrs. Koerner by inviting their sisters to spend the afternoon with them. Those present were Mrs. E. J. Arnold, Miss Leona Lau, Mrs. Geo. Schoenwettter, Mrs. Art Schoenwetter, Mrs. Fred Schlichting all of Klemme and Mrs. Elmer Weisbrod of Fenton. Mrs. Koerner and Mrs. Ax received some nice birthday gifts. Refreshments were served at the close of the afternoon.

Baldwin Organ Recital

There will be a Baldwin Organ recital at the Methodist Church Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock. The public is invited.

LIBERTY GO-GETTERS MET AT ZROSTLIKS

The Liberty Go-Getters held their regular meeting at Paul Zrostliks on Thursday, May 13, with 13 mmbers and one visitor present.

Clarence Brcka and Duane Prochaska were selected as delegates to the camp at Clear Lake, June 8, 9, and 10.

The project enrollment blanks were filled out and soft ball practice was discussed. Charles Hadacek and Duane Prochaska were appointed on a committee to schedule soft ball games.

The next meeting is to be held at Duane Prochaska's.

Fractured Leg Playing Soft Ball At Liberty Diamond

Le Roy Bredlow suffered a fractured ankle while playing soft ball at the Liberty diamond Monday evening when engaged in a neighborhood game.

Le Roy will have to wear a cast for about two months while his injured ankle is healing. The accident happened when Le Roy made a slide for home base and one of his shoe spikes caught in the wood at the plate, causing his leg to twist and snapping a bone.

Consider Textbooks

The textbook committee of the Hancock County board of education met in the courtroom for the purpose of considering textbooks to be adopted during the ensuing year in Hancock County rural schools. The action of the committee will be reported to the county board at its regular meeting in June. Hancock County several years ago adopted a uniform textbook plan and all textbooks are now adopted on a uniform county wide basis.

REDECORATING KLEMME FOOD MARKET STORE

The interior of the Klemme Food Market was given a through scrubbing the past week and a new high-gloss enamel applied to the wood work and ceiling, which brightens up the interior in gleaming white. The store looks very inviting with the new interior finish.

A new refrigerated fruit case and frozen foods cabinet are some of the new modern equipment already installed. More new equipment is contemplated and it will be two or three weeks before the new store will be completed.

A. L. KINGERY RESIGNS AS SCHOOL SUPERINTENDENT OF KLEMME SCHOOLS

A. L. Kingery, who has been superintendent of schools here for the past several years, last week tendered his resignation to the School Board.

Mr. Kingery has some other attractive offers as superintendent of schools but as yet undecided as to the future. He may give up teaching and go into business. Mr. and Mrs. Kingery, however, will remain in Klemme for the summer at least.

Vacation Bible Schools Start In Klemme Churches

Last Monday morning the vacation Bible School began in both the Evangelical and Reformed Church and the Klemme Methodist Church, with good attendance reported at each school.

The Liberty Methodist Church will arrange for a picnic at the close of the school on June 11 and the program will be held in the Klemme church on June 13

The Evangelical and Reformed Church school runs for a longer period of time and will close with a picnic.

Webster City Girl Marries Klemme Young Man

CARLENE SEVERSON IS BRIDE OF ELWYN JACOBS

Married At Methodist Church At Webster City May 29

Miss Carlene Severson, daughter of the late Melvin B. Severson and Mrs. Esther Severson of Webster City, and Mr. Elwyn R. Jacobs, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ed. F. Jacobs of Klemme, were married on Saturday afternoon, May 29, 1948 at the Methodist Church at Webster City with the Rev. Calvin Grosshuesch of Klemme officiating. The beautiful double ring ceremony was performed by candlelight at 3 o'clock. Baskets of pink snapdragons and purple iris and bridal wreath decorated the front of the church.

Mrs. Glenn Wistey of Cedar Falls played the traditional wedding marches and also accompanied Mrs. R. K. Smith of Iowa City, who sang "Because" and "The Lord's Prayer."

The bride was given in marriage by her uncle, Mr. Arthur Mulholland of Kanawha and she wore a white satin gown with round neckline of seeded pearls, long fitted sleeves and tight fitted bodice, padded hipline and train. Her double veil was held in place with a matching seed pearl tiara. She carried a bouquet of deep pink sweetheart roses with red satin bow.

She was attended by her friend, Miss Joyce Ward of Hampton, Iowa, who served as Maid of Honor and wore a pink formal gown of chiffon and carried a bouquet of pink roses with blue satin bow. Miss Jeanne Brower of Kanawha and Miss Ann Sanderson of Fertile, served as bridesmaids wearing formal gowns of yellow net and light blue net respectively and carrying bouquets of sunburst tea roses.

Mr. Dean Jacobs, of Klemme, servied his brother as best man. Mr. Glenn Wistey of Cedar Falls and Mr. Edwin Wistey of Clear Lake, uncles of the groom, acted as attendants. Charles Papousek of Belmond and Francis Burke and Richard Bell of Duncombe acted as ushers. The gentlemen wore the Conventional suits with white carnation boutonnieres.

The mother of the Bride wore a light figured gown with white accessories to match and a corsago of white carnations. The mother of the groom wore a acqua blue summer suit, with brown accessories to match and a corsage of pink roses.

Following the ceremony, a reception was given in the church parlors by the bride's mother. Approximately 150 guests were present. Mrs. D. L. Wilkie of Kanawha acted as hostess, Mrs. Wendel Eliot poured coffee, Mrs. Carl Bell served punch, Mrs. Ross Howerter and Mrs. Ray Anderson, all of Webster City, cut the cake. Miss Charlotte Mitchell was in charge of the guest book. The bride's chosen colors of pink and white were carried out with pink snapdragons and pink tapers and a beautiful wedding cake centered with a miniature bride and groom

The bride choose a light blue dress with white accessories and a pink rose corsage as a going away costume.

Mrs. Jacobs is a graduate of the Kanawha High School Class of '46 and received her K. P. diploma at I. S. T. C. at Cedar Falls. Mr. Jacobs graduated from Klemme High School and will receive his B. A. Degree from I. S. T. C. in August. They will be at home at 1309 Franklin St. Cedar Falls and in the fall will teach together at Garwin, Iowa.

Movies Shown Here Every Wednesday Eve

Deer Seen Near Klmme

Friday evening when returning from fishing, Mert Harson saw a full grown doe just west of Klemme on Albert Swanson's property. Deer are being seen quite frequently in Iowa, but this is the first time that deer has been seen that near to Klemme, less than ½ mile from the business section.

Bobbie Larson Had Birthday Dinner Friday, May 23rd

Bobbie, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carold Larson was 10 years old on May 23rd so his mother had a dinner for him. Those present were his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. August Larson of Forest City, and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Kluckhohn of Klemme. Bobbie received some nice gifts.

Entertained At Bridge Friday Afternoon

Mrs. P. M. Wilson of Ames was the honored guest at a bridge party given by Mrs. R. A. Jorgenson Friday afternoon. Contract bridge was played at five tables, with Mrs. A. J. Kudje winning high prize and Mrs. R. A. Jorgenson, Jr. second high. Mrs. Wilson received a guest prize, and Mrs. Lloyd Lau the prize for honors. Mrs. Earl Schaeffer of Forest City was an out of town guest. A nice lunch was served.

Picnic In Park Monday Noon

The following relatives of Mrs. Clara Stilles' gathered in the Klemme Park after the exercise Monday for a basket picnic dinner:

Mrs. Clara Stille, George Stille family of Goodell, Cecil Bridges family, Kermit Stille family of Thornton, Arthur Carlson family of Clear Lake, Virgil Stille family, Quintin Stille family, Elmer Schaefer family and Mrs. Irving Blank and Gary, and Harlan Stille of Emmetsburg, and Rosann Reinig of Garner, and Mr. and Mrs. Herman Gast of Klemme.

Attends Funeral Of Brother

Edw. J. Schaefer went to Reeseville, Wis., to attend the funeral services of his brother, Mr. John Schaefer, who died after a long illness.

PLAN ANNUAL MEETINGS FOR 4-H BOYS AND GIRLS

Dates for two annual state meetings of Iowa 4-H members have been announced by the State 4-H club office at Iowa State College.

Representatives of the Hawkeyer State's boys' clubs will hold their short course on the Iowa State College campus June 28 to 30. Girls' clubs will send delegates to the nineteenth annual convention at the college from July 7 to 9.

An attendance of 1400 member delegates and adult leaders is expected for each of the gatherings. Each local club in the state is permitted one representative at the gathering. The minumum age for delegates is 14 years.

Frank Leahy, coach of the Notre Dame Football team, is scheduled to speak at the boy's short course on June 28.

Both groups will hold elections of state officers during their conclaves. Other portions of the program will include educational tours and lectures, recreation and several traditional events such as the initiation of honorary members.

Try A Times Want Ad.

FIRST MOVIE DREW LARGE CROWD AT COMMUNITY HALL WEDNESDAY

Klemme's first movie of the season drew a capacity crowd at the Community Hall last Wednesday evening and the crowd seemed well pleased with the show. There was a nice variety of short subjects as well as the main feature.

Sharon Ward, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Ward, received the cash award of $15.00 given away at the close of the program.

There will be movies in Klemme every Wednesday night during the summer. It is hoped that arrangements can be made to have band concerts on Saturday nights during the summer.

PETERSON - LEE MARRIAGE

Miss Mabel Lee, a teacher at Blairsburg and neice of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Van Buskirk of Klemme, and Donald Peterson, son of Geo. Peterson of Goldfield, were united in marriage at the Klemme Methodist Church on Tuesday evening with the Rev. H. E. Harvey officiating.

The couple was attended by Mrs. Everett Smith of Blairsburg and Wilbur Peterson, brother of the bridegroom. Roger Mikelstead was the ring bearer and Pauline Mathis of Webster City was the flower girl. Ushers were Wayne Peterson and Everett Smith, of Blairsburg.

Immediately following the wedding a reception was held in the basement.

The bride carried a bouquet of yellow and white roses.

Mr. and Mrs. Peterson will make their home at Goldfield where they will farm.

REPORT SHOWS AID IN HANCOCK COUNTY

E. Marion Paulson, Hancock County director of social welfare, released his report which indicates that 266 old age assistance recipients received a total of $8,415.90 during May or an average of $37.24 each. Three cases of needy blind received $122.50 and aid to 52 dependent children totaled $1,352.70, a per child average of $26.01.

W. S. C. S. Will Meet June 3rd

Thursday, June 3rd, the regular monthly meeting of the W. S. C. S. will be held at the Methodist Church. Mrs. Roy Jacobs will be the devotional leader and Mrs. W. F. Missman, the lesson leader. Hostesses are Mrs. Edwin Josten, Mrs. E. H. Patet, and Mrs. E. J. Arnold. There will be a quilt on, so come early quilters.

Married At Iowa Falls

Kermit Smith, son of Matt Smith, Klemme, and Miss Esther Ghoske of Iowa Falls, were married at the First Methodist Church at Iowa Falls on Wednesday evening, May 26th at 7:30 o'clock with the Rev. W. Feller officiating.

A reception followed at the Scenic City tea room after the ceremony.

Pink And Blue Shower

Mrs. LaRayne Stille of Mason City was an honored guest at a pink and blue shower given by Mrs. Lester Stille and assisted by Mrs. Lee Anderson, on Saturday afternoon. Mrs. Stille was the recipient of many beautiful gifts and the afternoon was spent informally after which a lovely lunch was served.

Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Patet had as their dinner guests Monday Rev. and Mrs. F. C. Griewe of Garner, Mr. and Mrs. Kermit Schlei and son of Klemme, and Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Schuldt and daughter of Britt.

Cross Town by WASTE PAPER
D. P. W.
"I ALWAYS HIDE MY VIOLIN IN HERE — IF IT'S STILL HERE WHEN I COME HOME FROM SCHOOL, I JUST GIVE UP AND TAKE MY MUSIC LESSON."

NANCY

By Ernie Bushmiller

LITTLE REGGIE

By Margarita

REGGIE, DID YOU WASH YOUR FACE BEFORE GOING TO YOUR MUSIC TEACHER?
YES'M
...YOUR HANDS?
YES'M
—AND YOUR EARS?
WELL....
..I WASHED THE ONE THAT WILL BE NEXT TO HER!

MUTT AND JEFF

By Bud Fisher

I HEAR YOU GOT A NEW JOB, JEFF!
YEH! I GET A NEW JOB ALMOST EVERY DAY!
WHERE YA WORKIN?
DOWN AT THE EAGLE LAUNDRY!
WHAT DO YOU DO AT THE LAUNDRY?
WHATDA YUH THINK? I 'WASH EAGLES!
TOMORROW I'M GONNA TRY FOR A JOB AT THE MODEL LAUNDRY!

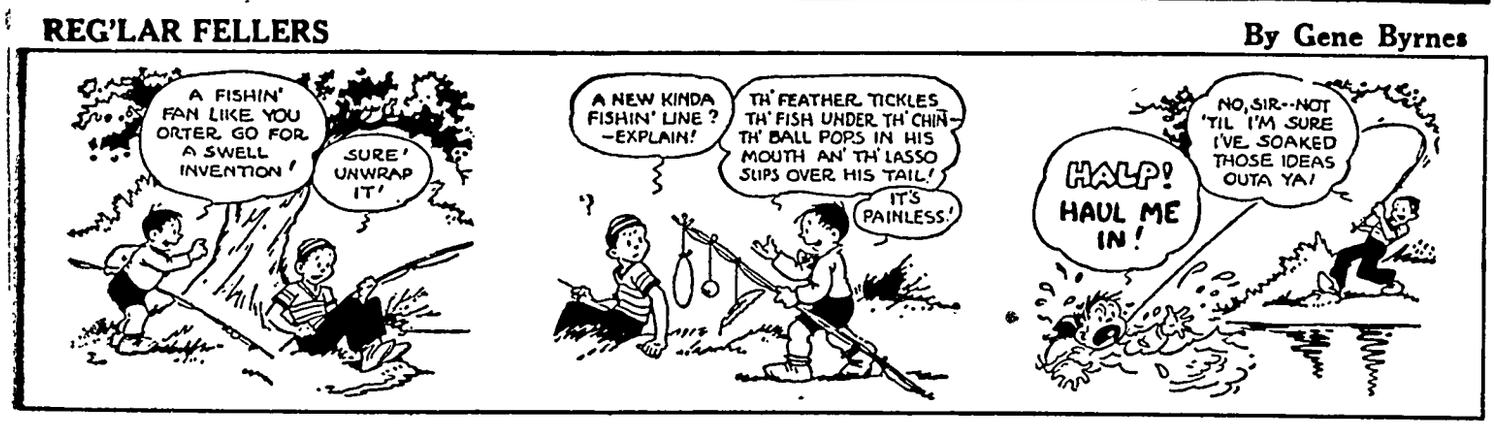
JITTER

By Arthur Pointer

PLEASE, POP, CAN'T JITTER GO WITH US?
...AND HAVE HIM SPOIL THE FISHING? NO! HE CAN USE THIS OLD POLE AND FISH BY HIMSELF!
HAD ANY LUCK, PAL?
NOT A NIBBLE ALL DAY!

REG'LAR FELLERS

By Gene Byrnes



A FISHIN' FAN LIKE YOU ORTER GO FOR A SWELL INVENTION!
SURE! UNWRAP IT!
A NEW KINDA FISHIN' LINE? —EXPLAIN!
TH' FEATHER TICKLES TH' FISH UNDER TH' CHIN— TH' BALL POPS IN HIS MOUTH AN' TH' LASSO SLIPS OVER HIS TAIL!
IT'S PAINLESS!
HALP! HAUL ME IN!
NO, SIR--NOT 'TIL I'M SURE I'VE SOAKED THOSE IDEAS OUTA YA!

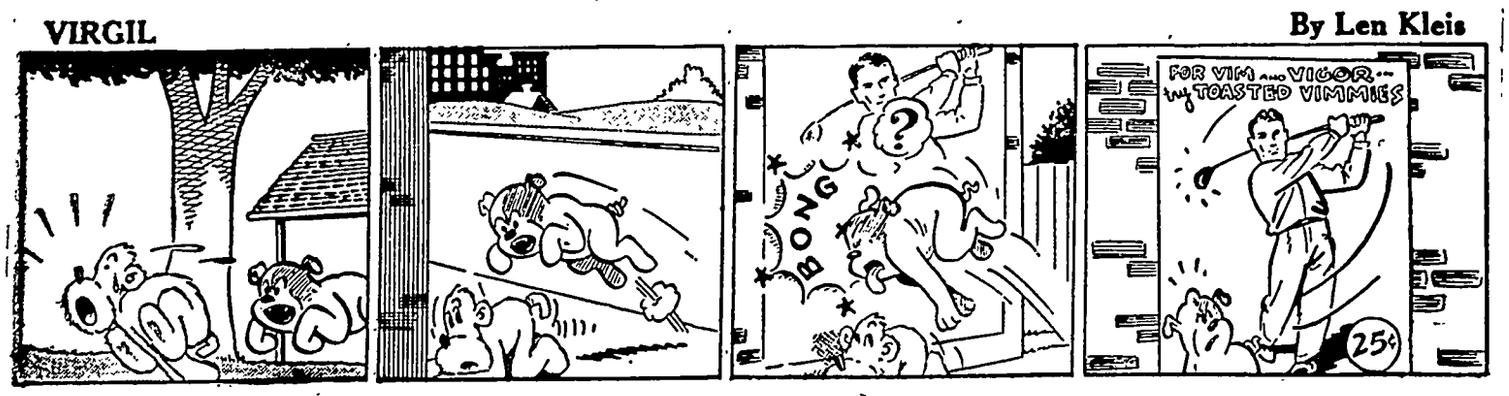
SUNNYSIDE

by Clark S. Haas

I JUST CAN'T MAKE UP MY MIND—
ON SALE TODAY! ICE BAGS AND COLLARS
WHICH ONE DO YOU LIKE BEST, JOHNNY?—
THAT BIGGEST ONE IS NICE....
IT GIVES YOU THAT "NEW BULKY LOOK"!
BIG JUMBO $1.39 FOR SUPER HEADACHES

VIRGIL

By Len Kleis



SPECIAL DELIVERY

Mr. C. J. Fletcher,
Commissioner of Motor Vehicles,
State of New York
Dear Sir:

I noticed a recent speech by you to a safety council in which you came out for greater control of pedestrians as necessary to cutting down auto accidents. I see what you mean. The way pedestrians are tearing around at top speed no automobile is safe, eh?

— * —

It is tough driving an auto these days on account of the streets are so full of reckless walkers, like you say. A car never knows when it is going to get hit. A driver is apt to be piloting his sedan out of a side street when — socko! — some careless pedestrian rams right into him!

— * —

I take it that you think if these people who insist on going around town on foot would be reasonable and keep themselves under control it would be O. K. for them to use the streets, but once a community lets them operate in a pair of shoes they think they own the roads.

— * —

Only today I was driving my uncle's 10-ton truck out of an alley (on the red light) when a woman pushing a baby carriage came right at me full speed with no horn or anything and bang goes my right fender. The baby carriage has no brakes and does not dim its lights. What is worse, I find the baby has no road license and the mother is so ignorant she thinks a green light gives her some protection. What are you going to do with a pedestrian like that?

— * —

A few days ago I saw an old lady on her way home from the fruit store with a bag of apples and what does she do? Just because she has the light with her she starts to cross the street. So what happens? She crashes into a taxicab speeding along minding its own business! (She was not even a registered apple bag carrier.) And you take the buses, commissioner: Do pedestrians give them a decent break? No. While a bus driver is carefully feeling his way down a street at 60 per hour, what are pedestrians doing? Dashing out at him from all directions. There ought to be a law. No vehicle is safe on the streets today.

— * —

By all means press this drive for a law to control pedestrians before more automobilists get hurt. Do not accept any halfway measures. Make every pedestrian take a road test. If he walks fast and does not slow down at crossings keep him off the streets. The situation is serious. You have been lenient with walkers long enough, the big bums!

Sincerely,
Elmer.

* * *

NO TAKERS

The world's a psychopathic case,
And all events confuse it;
I'd give it to the squirrels but
The squirrels would refuse it.

* * *

The Country Editor Says:

Zeke Stookel's little girl, Eppie, is so high strung and nervous that there doesn't seem much to do except put her in a ballet. Mrs. Luke Williper got through a nice long talk with her daughter on the sanctity of marriage just in time for the girl to tune in on a fresh batch of Hollywood weddings.

— * —

Hunk Doody's boy, Scat, who ran the milk truck off the bridge, ruined the motor harrow, sold the tractor, set fire to the cow barns and ran off with Caleb Swamproot's wife, has agreed to come home and have it all explained by a psychiatrist.

— * —

Zeke Bissell's boy, Agamemnon, is about set for a criminal career. He hasn't missed a movie since his twelfth year and only has a few more weeks to go before finishing his training on the Inner Sanctum, Tom Mix, Mr. District Attorney and Crime Doesn't Pay programs.

* * *

The senate appropriations committee has voted $50,000 to make the White House safe for the occupants. There seems to be an abundance of men willing to live there with the floors crumbling and the ceilings around their necks.

* * *

Can you remember away back when a strke was a last resort?

* * *

Harold Stassen, at all towns where he speaks, opens the proceedings by a question and answer period. It is now apparent that all those appearances on Information Please during the last few years constituted a training period. If Harold wins, how about a slogan "From quiz program to White House?"

* * *

As we get it, General Eisenhower finds distasteful the idea of landing via the soft underbelly of Philadelphia.

Atom Scare in Washington

Washington was frightened out of its dreams the other night when the most violent thunder-and-lightning storm I've ever witnessed atomic'd the capital. It broke about 2:18 a. m. and lasted several hours . . . Next day wherever you went, from the White House to Harvey's restaurant, the people all said the same thing. "I thought Russia dropped an A-bomb on us" . . . The lightning just didn't stop and the boom-boom of a zillion rolling bass-drums — made me wonder if that isn't exactly what our men go through up front during war . . . A devoutly religious woman said: "Nobody can make me believe God didn't arrange it just that way—right over Washington, D. C., so all the wicked men at the Pentagon would be reminded of what war sounds like when it gets close."

Sounds in the Night: At the Harem a comedian was bragging how he wowed 'em at Miami for two weeks . . . "I wowed 'em in Chicago before that," he added, "and I was a wow in Frisco, too!" . . . "You must have," interrupted Wally Wanger, "the wowsiest act in show business!" . . . At the Encore someone was reading aloud the news that Hollywood publisher Billy Wilkerson led Lana Turner down the aisle for her fourth marriage . . . To which Dot Kilgallen meow'd: "She shoulda been able to do it blindfolded!"

Robert Merrill, the Met. star, was telling an opera critic one of his first jobs was at Youngs Gap hotel (in the Catskills) serving meals.

"Oh," said the critic, "in those days you were a singing waiter."

"In those days," sighed Merrill, "I was a waiting singer."

Manhattan Murals: The elevator operator at 139 E. 57th who still wears his battered air corps hat up-and-downing his "plane" . . . The blood bank on 39th street for the Palestine wounded . . . The sign in the window of a 46th street Russian restaurant: "Dishes for Democratic gourmets" . . . The Columbus avenue delicatessen which advertises: "The New Lox."

Once a heckler caused the death of a great star, to hear vaudevets argue it . . . Literally, not professionally.

It happened at the Palace in 1913 . . . His name was Nat Wills, a beloved tramp comic . . . The headliner was Sarah Bernhardt . . . It was the opening matinee and Sarah went over big . . . The clapping kept on long after she took her last bow . . . Wills made the boner of coming on stage.

The audience broke into heavier applause and an usher, who waited too long, handed a huge bokay of posies over the footlights. They were for Sarah, of course . . . Wills motioned to her to come on stage and take them . . . He removed his hat in great respect to her.

But a heckler yelled: "Give 'em to Wills. He's dying!"

Two-a-dayers insist the cruel crack ruined the sensitive Wills. He was never the same after it. A few years later he died of carbon monoxide poisoning in his garage . . . Broadway never stopped wondering.

Bernard Baruch, whose advice is widely sought, is considered by many to be the smartest man in the country. He wears a hearing aid. A well known politico, often seen with Baruch, was asked if Barney still had trouble with his hearing.

"I really don't know," he replied, "when I'm with Baruch I just listen."

The Press Box: Simple to savvy the diplomatic scrambling if you remember that the international crisis now has reached the stage where nations are more concerned with military positions than moral standards . . . Sudden thawt: Appeasement can only give us a peace to end all peace . . . The reports about the rooking Russian-dominated nations are taking merely indicate that the Kremlin drove out the Nazis in order to install communistic slot machines.

In a Bronx haberdasher-shop a patron was blowing his top about the President. "Everything he does makes me mad!" he barked.

"Don't get apoplexy," shrugged the storekeeper. "He can't help it. It just doesn't happen to be his line!"

N. Y.-Washington Chitchat: One New York paper is preparing an expose that'll fracture the country. It alleges that the head of a greatly publicized congressional committee was a member of the Klan in 1925. (Under his real name) . . . How come editors haven't tried getting an interview with Frances Crane, heiress of the plumbing firm fortune? She's Jan Masaryk's ex-wife, reported "still bitter." . . . British officers say MacArthur "has more military know-how than any man since Napoleon."

Build It From A

SANDBOX OR WADI
EASILY CONSTR
TAKES LITTLE BUILD.

By: Donald R. Br

Youngsters enjoy pla doors in this sea-faring s can easily be built from lumber. The Full Size Patt ed below not only simpli struction but provides ful per outlines so that anyon orate it in a professiona
User merely traces the p
the lumber pattern specifi and assembles exactly as pattern indicates. No spe or skill are required. By w ing a piece of canvas and it to the inside of the bo quickly be turned into pool.

Send 25c for Sanbox P
30 to Easi-Bild Pattern
Department W., Pleasantv

Car Killings

No one yet has been ab mate how much wildlife is speeding automobiles ann checks along stretches of indicate it is enormous.

"Everybody l
SMACKS
THE
REALLY DELICIOUS COCONU

38%
BRIGHTE TEETH in 7 days

CALOX
TOOTH POWDE
McKESSON & ROBBINS

STOP LIGHTNING DAMAGE
"National Quality" Systems Prevent Stroke from Occurring Write for F
"Is Lightning Protection Worth
NAT'AL LIGHTNING PROTECTION C

Why EVER PAY MORE?
St. Joseph ASPIRIN
WORLD'S LARGEST SELLER AT 10¢

PILES TROUB
For Quick Re
DON'T DELAY ANY LONGER doctor's formula you can use a relieve distressing discomfort itch—irritation due to piles. Te ten and shrink swelling. Use th doctor's formula. You'll be amaz speedy action relief. Ask your today for Thornton & Minor's Re ment or Suppositories. Follow structions. For sale at all dr

SPRAY WI
Bla
Lea

—Double-cide kills b kills by fumes plant lice b beneficial on original (carto tainers to insure
TOBACCO BY-PR
CHEMICAL COR
Nicotine Specialis
LOUISVILLE 2,
One ounce plus soap makes 6 gallons of effective aphid-spray.
LOOK FOR THE LEAF ON THE CHANGE of LIFE?

Are you going through th
tional 'middle age' period to women (38 to 52 yrs.)? D make you suffer from hot feel so nervous, highstrun
Then do try Lydia E. Pi
Vegetable Compound to re symptoms. Pinkham's C also has what Doctors ca
machic tonic effect!
LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S

CTION Corner

TON turned pale when the telegraph boy at just one moment later hing to the telephone. mazingly slow to under- said it rapidly three E WON. WE WON, HE TELEGRAM HERE THE TRAILER COACH VE . . ."

on then, "you mean prize in that soap voice was hoarse with rton! That's just what lling you!"

ttered something that a combination of "Holy and "Jumping Catfish."

ervening days the Bur- told over and over that e luckiest people alive. people asked the rhyme s had submitted and y shaking their heads, not half as good as s almost delirious the iler coach arrived. It hing the pictures had ense, clear varnish, soft gadgets galore made it l palace.

y trouble," Henry com- s when I'm sitting inside think of something out- t to see. I never know of the door knob I'm y Anne made coffee and to bring their chaotic o earth. Henry put his down with a thud. "She best trailer that ever Florida."

" Anne paled. "You Florida! Henry—no!"

d some difficulty getting t account of the trouble ida. It developed that at aunt had been bitten by ke while there in 1916. She but had reported there s of snakes in Florida. won't go" was fervent.

reasoned that 1916 was ick, that the snakes must killed off and that he would guard her. In the decided they wouldn't go ir breakfast cereal next ne made an elaborately estion. "How about go- ifornia?"

ndered if California guar- re were no snakes.

iled sweetly "But the ery! Just think of see- ive actors." She sighed and let the toast burn.

the toast Henry inquired ere she wanted to see.

Lawford, of course," Anne Her smile was radiant.

per, Peck or Van John- y teased.

they're all married!" illed his coffee comment- n't you?"

ifferent, Anne tried to as- He should realize how Henry didn't. Before he front door a slam that e been heard a block he that he wasn't going to and moon over a lot of ep the unmarried ones, some people seemed to r gotten over their swoonkerchiefs later Anne ad- herself, with reservations, ight have said the wrong orking around their home e wondered what had hap- t their beautiful happiness

FIRST PRIZE!

By HELEN LANGWORTHY

was deserting them. She made an especially nice lemon meringue pie for supper and Henry brought her a box of candy rather sheepishly.

Everything was lovely once again at the Burton home. But nothing more was said about taking the beautiful trailer to California. In fact, it was two days later that Henry broached the subject of Denver.

"It would be fun," Anne agreed. She was to the point of mentally packing suitcases when Henry made an unfortunate remark.

"Boy, the fishing," he said dreamily. "Guys have told me they really catch 'em in the mountain streams."

"But the movies, Henry! Just think of seeing real, live actors." She sighed blissfully and let the toast burn.

He tilted back in his chair, "Imagine tying on to a big one——!"

"Do you mean to tell me you'd spend our vacation fishing all the time!" Anne's tone was icy. "Any time you think I'll just go along for the ride! Denver—never!"

Henry attempted to explain he wouldn't fish all the time. But Anne's mind was made up.

Shortly after that Anne's sister, Martha, came to give the trailer her dignified once-over. Martha was secretary to a psychiatrist and had "ideas." Her conversation dripped psychoses, split personalities and the subconscious.

Anne was showing her around as Henry came in. Martha thought it a wonderful way to have a vacation.

"Where are you going?" She asked.

Feeling almost guilty — but why. guilty!—Anne admitted that they hadn't decided.

Martha held forth on the New England states. She beamed at Henry as she told them she had always wanted to see the historical spots. She looked up at the ceiling as she related the dream she had the previous night. Using the doctor's pet terms, she explained her dream as a hidden desire, a desire very necessary of fulfillment for her to see the New England states.

She turned to Anne and asked brightly. "Surely you aren't going alone in that big trailer? It will easily hold another passenger!"

Anne choked and looked at Henry. For answer he said, "We haven't decided. Want a ride home? I'm going your way, Martha."

When he returned his mind was as invincible as steel. "But," Anne protested, "Martha would enjoy it so much. After all——."

"After all, she doesn't go where I go! Imagine every morning being forced to deliver last night's dream to Martha to mull over. No! I wouldn't like the New England states now if they gave a bonus to every trailer arrival. NO!"

And that was that!

In the week that followed they considered most of the U. S. as vacation possibility. If Henry made a suggestion, Anne had heard it rained there. If Anne suggested a state, Henry became positive his sinus would bother him.

They almost decided on New Orleans until Henry remembered the miles he tramped there in army training days and his promise to himself, "Never again." The shiny nice trailer seemed destined never to be used.

Then Henry's cousins, the Nortons, descended on them. A visit from the Nortons never had been unmixed joy and hearing Jean Norton gush as she made the date over the 'phone, Anne trembled.

They came. Their five-year-old imp, Bill, was twice as troublesome as Anne had feared. It seemed that the Nortons were being forced to move. Jean Norton talked much of the luck of some people. She was frankly envious of the Burtons and their trailer.

Out in the kitchen while they washed dishes Jean Norton remarked that her doctor had said she needed a complete rest.

To herself, Anne thought that anyone dealing with their Bill deserved a long rest.

Jean Norton cocked her head on one side and suggested delicately, "Bill wouldn't be the least trouble, and we could pay well——. Wouldn't you like to take Bill with you? He would be so much company for you!"

Anne was seized with a sudden choking spell and escaped to the porch. Henry followed her out anxiously. She told him how she had been propositioned.

They stood there staring balefully at the trailer, shiny and bright in the darkness. "Life was more fun before we received first prize," Anne said dolefully.

Henry had a sudden, wonderful idea. They whispered. They started to shake hands in congratulations, then Anne's arms stole around Henry's neck. Close together they stood for a moment, each thinking life again was fine.

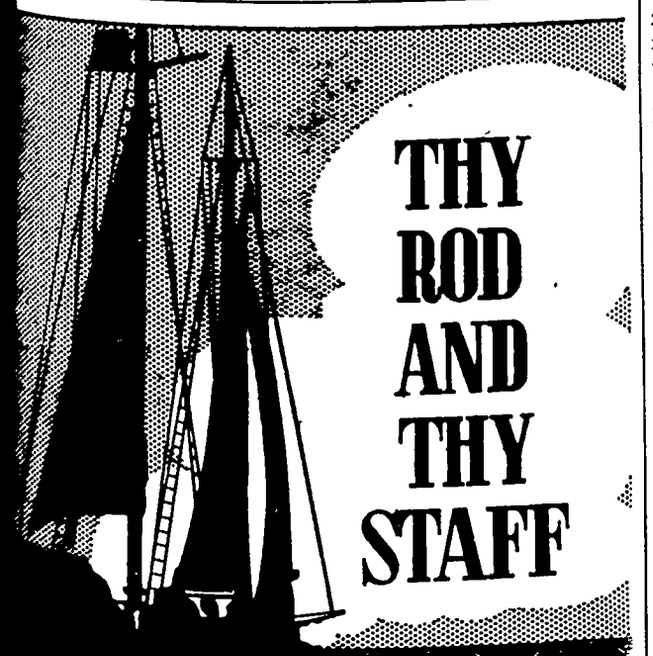
When they went inside Anne told the Nortons, "You're having trouble finding a house and you need a rest. Henry and I wondered if you wouldn't care to take our trailer?"

The Nortons fell on them. They laughed. Jean Norton half cried, "I can't understand what we ever did to make you share your wonderful, wonderful luck with us."

It was over at last. The Nortons left, promising their "undying gratitude," and making plans.

Anne picked up ash trays and Henry yawned loudly as he leafed a magazine. He sat up, suddenly excited. "It says here there's a contest where you win a——."

Anne reached for the magazine and closed it firmly. "No! We might be unlucky enough to win."



THY ROD AND THY STAFF

AS OLD as the green pastures of the earth,
As old as its quiet waters, is the need
Of comfort for the heart, and One alone
Has the power and will to heed.

I find my comfort in thy symbols, Lord:
Thy rod, thy staff, and like a small lost lamb,
Wet and cold and shivering through the night,
I find them where I am.

I reach for them, and they are in thy hands,
And closer than breathing, nearer than hands and feet,
I feel thy presence wrapping me about,
And thy comfort, Lord, is sweet.

Grace Noll Crowell

First Circus Museum Has Nostalgic Items

Heralded as the first museum in the United States devoted entirely to the circus, the Ringling Art museum has been opened at Sarasota, Fla. Eventually the museum will contain exhibits tracing development of the circus from Roman times.

The museum is located in an old warehouse, with a central pole and girders suggesting the interior of a circus tent. The building is on the estate of the late John Ringling, circus operator, who willed his residence and art museum to the people of Florida at his death in 1936.

Included among exhibits are five old circus wagons, costumes, masks, drawings for the decor of spectacles, handbills and photographs of famed circus characters.

Sportlight

by GRANTLAND RICE

BASEBALL'S YOUTHFUL SEASON is not very old, but enough has happened to prove this will be another rough year on the pitchers.

Part of this is the half-rubber ball, and part is lack of pitching ability as compared to the stars of the past.

Running into an old-timer, now one of the leading scouts, we picked up this opinion:

"Pitching still will decide both pennants," he said, "as erratic as the pitching has been so far. The Cardinals will get the best pitching in the National league after things have settled down, and warm weather has come along.

"The Dodgers have little quality on their pitching staff, but they have a world of quantity. They have about 10 pitchers who are just about the same, and few of these can go five innings. They are the wildest bunch of throwers, not pitchers, I've ever seen. They can be, and will be, dangerous.

"I feel now the Dodgers have too much youth and speed—too many good arms and legs for the Giants and Braves. The Cardinals are the only team that might handle them—and the Cardinals will have to keep on getting the best pitching in the league.

"Red Munger will have to improve, for I'm afraid Howie Pollet can't go the distance any longer. The Giants, with any sort of pitching, should win the pennant. I'm afraid they are not going to get the pitching they need!"

"They have done pretty well so far," I suggested.

"I'm only telling you what I think on ahead," he said.

"They have too many pitchers who are in and out—good one start and punk the next. You can't bank on any of them to give you a sound game.

"Boy, how I'd like to see those Giants get good pitching. Outside of this, they have a better ball club than the Dodgers, Cardinals or Braves. The Pirates are the most improved team in either league."

"What's your slant in the American league?" I asked the old-timer.

"No change," he said. "Still the Red Sox and Yankees. Detroit's great pitching has been a fizzle so far. Anyhow, it won't be good enough to lift a bad ball club. Cleveland got a great start, but Cleveland isn't that good.

"Feller will have a good year. Bob probably will win 22 games. Cleveland is much better, but its pitching is only fair."

* * *

Television and Sports

Sport, any game you might mention, has come face to face with its major problem—television.

One of the major promoters in this field, one with a tremendous interest involved had this to say:

"Television is the biggest guess I've ever run across in sport. No one can say for sure what will take place. With a half-million dollars involved in my own case—it may amount to much more than that—I've spent many an hour trying to figure it out. Here's what can happen:

"NO. 1. It will help attendance and gate receipts, just as radio did. It will bring about increased interest in various games, especially baseball. It will give us double revenue.

"NO. 2. It will cut down attendance figures heavily. People can hear about something and want to see it. But if they actually see it once, they won't be so eager about seeing it again.

"NO. 3. If attendance and the gate receipts are cut down, we can get our money back by lifting revenues from television. Television will have to pay for it. But how will it look to see a ball game played before 500 or 1,000 fans? That won't be so good. How will it look to see football crowds cut in two? That wouldn't look so good either.

"NO. 4. Television will have little effect on attendance, one way or another. In that case, we'll get our revenue from two sources, as we do right now.

"This is the situation," he said. "We don't know. I believe it will build up additional interest, as radio did, and increase attendance. This would be wonderful."

* * *

The Best Golf Grip

Most professional golfers and most leading amateurs stand strongly by the overlapping grip. Alex Morrison always has claimed that the interlocking loosens up the two wrists—and is far more useful for those who have passed 40.

It might surprise you to know how many golfers have passed 40—or 45. It might surprise you to learn how many golfers no longer have the whippiness of youth in their hands and wrists, as the grizzled gray begins to appear at the edge of their scalps.

It is much easier to break the wrists with the interlocking than it is with the overlapping, where the little finger of the right hand is placed over the forefinger of the left—sort of wedged in between the first two fingers of the left.

THE BIBLE SPEAKS

International Uniform Sunday School Lessons

By JOHN CLARK KIRK

SCRIPTURE: Daniel 3:6.
DEVOTIONAL READING: Acts 5:27-32.

Men Who Dared To Stand For God

Lesson for June 6, 1948

A FIERY furnace, and a lion's den. These are the tests to which Sunday's lesson will put our hero about whom we studied last Sunday, this young man Daniel. Three friends, Shadrack, Meshach and Abednego, will ungerdo the test of the fiery furnace, having been convinced by Daniel's example that God is trustworthy. And Daniel will spend the night in the den of lions. You will need to read chapters three through six to get the full story.

Dr. Newton

* * *

DANIEL IN THE DEN OF LIONS

THE sixth chapter must be read to have an adequate background for this study. Daniel had been chosen as the first of three presidents to rule over 120 princes who should govern the kingdom. The other two presidents and the princes could find no fault in this Hebrew, save that he believed and observed the law of his God. So, they conspired against him by persuading the king to issue a decree that no person in the kingdom was to make a petition to any God or man for 30 days, save to the king, on the penalty of being cast into the den of lions. This decree was issued by Darius, and Daniel's enemies reported to Darius that Daniel was opening his window three times a day, praying to his God. Darius was greatly troubled, but had to stand by his decree, and Daniel was cast into the den of lions. Darius spent a sleepless night, and hurried to the den at dawn to know about Daniel. Daniel replied, "O king, live for ever. My God hath sent his angel, and hath shut the lions' mouths, that they have not hurt me."

* * *

DARIUS REWARDS DANIEL

CONVINCED that Daniel's convictions had been miraculously rewarded by God, Darius ordered the other two presidents and the princes, together with their wives and children, thrown into the lions' dens. They were all destroyed by the lions.

Then Darius issued a decree to all the nations and people of all languages that dwell in all the earth. Hear this decree:

"Peace be multiplied unto you. I make a decree, That in every dominion of my kingdom men tremble and fear before the God of Daniel; for he is the living God, and stedfast forever, and his kingdom that which shall not be destroyed, and his dominion shall be even unto the end." So Daniel prospered in the reign of Darius and of Cyrus, the Persian.

* * *

COURAGE TO PUT GOD FIRST

LOOK now at the other test of faith—that of the three Hebrew children, Shadrack, Meshach and Abednego. Nebuchadnezzar, king of Babylon, had made a golden image, 90 feet high and nine feet wide, and set it up in the plain of Dura. On a certain day, when he was going to establish his state religion, he ordered every subject to fall down and worship this image.

But Shadrack, Meshach and Abednego refused to worship the image. Nebuchadnezzar was furious when he heard of their refusal. He summoned them into his presence, and warned them of their fate if they further refused to worship his gods. They answered him frankly that they would not bow down to the image. He ordered them thrown into the fiery furnace.

They decided that death was more honorable than apostasy. The men who cast them into the furnace fell dead!

* * *

UNSEARED AND UNSINGED!

BUT THE three Hebrew children walked in the flames, unseared and unsinged! The king was astounded. The people were amazed. They had witnessed what the God of all the earth can and will do.

Then went forth the decree, "There is no other God that can deliver after this sort." Thus we have the golden text for Sunday's lesson:

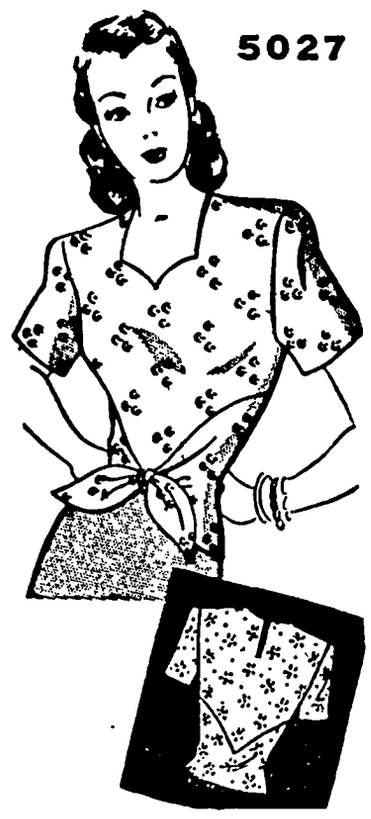
"Be it known unto thee, O king, that we will not serve thy gods, nor worship the golden image which thou hast set up."

And what happened in the long ago when man dared to stand up and trust in God will happen today and every day.

* * *

(Copyright by the International Council of Religious Education on behalf of 40 Protestant denominations. Released by WNU Features.)

Versatile, Easily-Made Blouse



Clever Blouse

A cleverly styled wrap-around blouse that you can put together in no time at all. Make it for evenings with sequins or beads to trim; or for daytime embroider your monogram in bold colors.

To obtain complete pattern with finishing instructions in size 12, 14 and 16 for the Dress-up Blouse (Pattern No. 5027)

SEWING CIRCLE NEEDLEWORK
530 South Wells St. Chicago 7, Ill.
Enclose 20 cents for Pattern.
No._____
Name_____
Address_____

HOUSEHOLD HINTS

Cut violets will stay fresher longer if leaves and flowers are kept close to the water—spraying gently and frequently also helps, since cut violets won't absorb much water through their stems.

—•—

Coleus plants will grow in the shade, but the more sun they get, the deeper the color of their leaves.

—•—

Organdie has a crisper appearance if ironed on the wrong side while quite wet.

STOP USING HARSH LAXATIVES

Try Lemon in Water—it's good for you

The juice of a lemon in a glass of water, when taken first thing on arising, is all that most people need to insure prompt, normal elimination.

No more harsh laxatives that irritate the digestive tract and impair nutrition! Lemon in water is good for you!

Generations of Americans have taken lemons for health—and generations of doctors have recommended them. They are rich in vitamin C, supply valuable amounts of B_1 and P. They alkalinize, aid digestion.

Not too sharp or sour, lemon in water has a refreshing tang—clears the mouth, wakes you up. It's not a purgative—simply helps your system regulate itself. Try it 10 days.

USE CALIFORNIA SUNKIST LEMONS

FOR YOUR RECIPE FILE

RICE KRISPIES MARSHMALLOW SQUARES!

¼ cup butter or margarine
½ lb. marshmallows (about 2½ doz.)
½ teaspoon vanilla
1 pkg. Kellogg's Rice Krispies (5½ oz.)

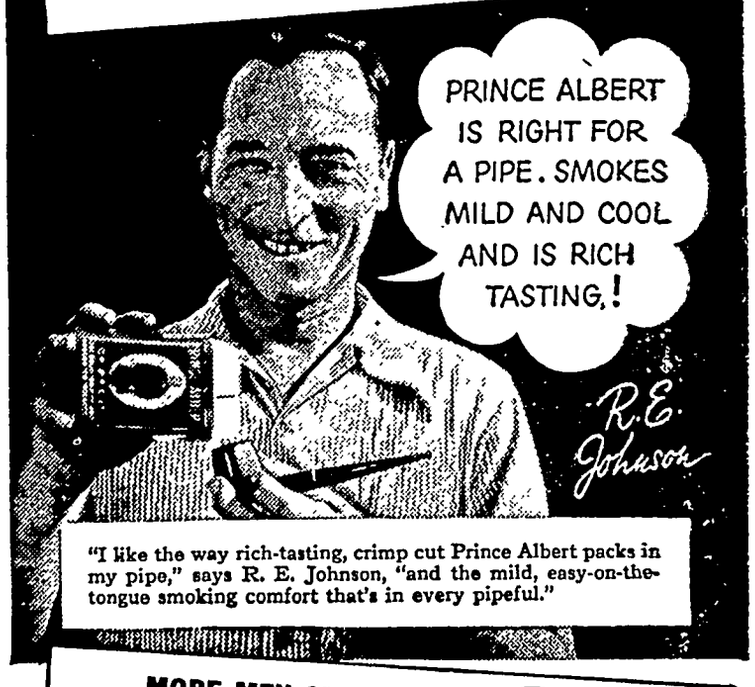
Heat butter or margarine and marshmallows over water until syrupy. Beat in vanilla. Put Rice Krispies in greased bowl and pour mixture on top. Mix well. Press into 9 x 13 greased shallow tin. Cut into 2¼" squares when cool. Yield: 24 delicious Rice Krispies Marshmallow Squares. Everyone will love them!

Kellogg's RICE KRISPIES

COPYRIGHT 1948, BY KELLOGG CO.

RIGHT ALL WAYS!

Right in pipes—Right in papers. It's Prince Albert—America's largest-selling smoking tobacco.

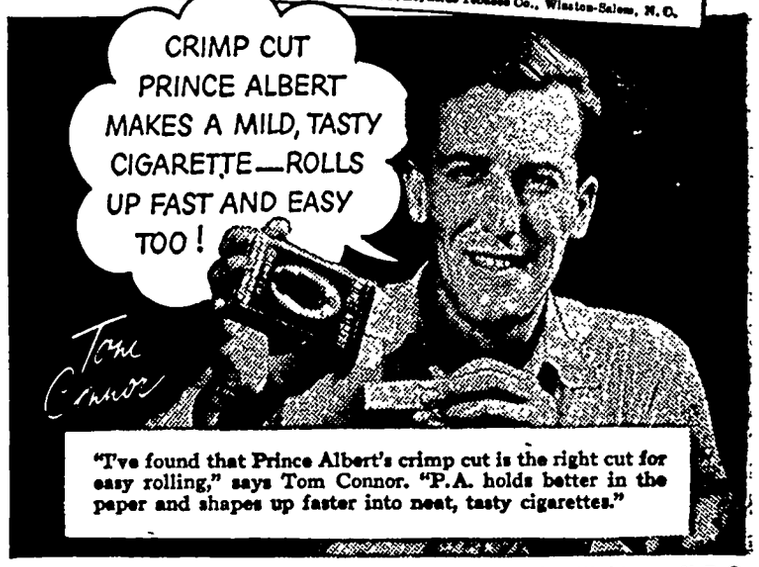


"I like the way rich-tasting, crimp cut Prince Albert packs in my pipe," says R. E. Johnson, "and the mild, easy-on-the-tongue smoking comfort that's in every pipeful."

MORE MEN SMOKE PRINCE ALBERT THAN ANY OTHER TOBACCO

The National Joy Smoke

R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Co., Winston-Salem, N. C.



"I've found that Prince Albert's crimp cut is the right cut for easy rolling," says Tom Connor. "P.A. holds better in the paper and shapes up faster into neat, tasty cigarettes."

TUNE IN Prince Albert's "GRAND OLE OPRY" Saturday Nights on N.B.C.

A Times Want Ad Brings Results

HOW MEN LOVE 'EM! Like to see a man enjoy himself? Then set a plate of piping hot biscuits in front of him—with plenty of butter. No matter what else you're serving, biscuits 'n' butter make any meal a success. Yes, whether it's biscuits or bread—vegetables or soup—pancakes or potatoes, the matchless flavor of Butter does so much for the appetite appeal of other foods. Its natural golden color comes from rich golden cream—and it takes four pints of cream to make a pound of butter. For nutrition, for health, for downright goodness, Butter is still one of the greatest values your money can buy.

Iowa Dairy Industry Commission

IT'S BETTER WITH BUTTER -ORDER SOME TODAY

For Sale -----

The East One-half (E½) of the Southeast Quarter (SE¼) of Section 18, Township 94 North, Range 25, West of the 5th P. M., Hancock County, Iowa.

The Northeast One-fourth (NE¼) of Section 19, Township 94 North, Range 25, West of the 5th P. M., Hancock County, Iowa.

The eighty acres above described is unimproved and one of Hancock County's choice eighties. The quarter section above described is a good piece of land and a good producer. Improvements fair.

Both tracts are 1 mile north and 2 miles west of Kanawha, Iowa, a splendid own, with adequate market.

This real estate will be sold at public auction at the premises at 2:30 o'clock P. M. on

JUNE 7, 1948

Terms of sale will be announced on date of sale. 15% to be paid on day of sale, balance upon delivery of Referee's deed and abstract showing merchantable title. Immediate possession, subject to 1948 leases.

Frank Senneff

First State Bank Building
Britt, Iowa
Referee

HANCOCK COUNTY BOARD PROCEEDINGS

5TH ADJOURNED APRIL MEETING
Garner, Iowa
May 10, 1948

The Hancock County, Iowa, Board of Supervisors met in session on above Captioned date pursuant to adjournment with Supervisor George Th. Gerdes, F. J. Schoun and John Chambers, present.

The minutes of the last meeting were read and approved as read.

On motion and second the resolution requesting a Farm To Market project in Klemme, Iowa, is approved, subject to the approval of the Iowa State Highway Commission.

On motion and second the Borrow Dirt Agreements between Hancock County, Iowa and C. C. Boman, Skiles Core, and Magnus Isaacson, are approved.

On motion and second the following bonds are approved: Herman Buns and Son Contractors, Woden, Iowa and Herman Brummund, Contractor, Kanawha, Iowa.

Supervisor Gerdes is appointed a Committee to investigate and cause repairs to be made in D. D. No. 107, Main.

Supervisor Chambers is appointed a Committee to investigate and cause repairs to be made in D. D. No. 142, L 1 and No. 99, South Main.

This being the 10th day of May A. D., 1948, a date heretofore fixed for a hearing on the establishment of a road petitioned for by Edward Formanek, et al, between sections 21 and 28 in Garfield township, the hour for said hearing having arrived, the proof of publication being on file, and the board being fully advised, said hearing was held as scheduled. After duly considering the Commissioner's report and the claims for damages, the establishment of said road was brought on for vote. On motion by Supervisor Schoun and second by Supervisor Gerdes it was moved that the establishment of said road be postponed indefinitely, the vote thereon is, F. J. Schoun, George Th. Gerdes and John Chambers, aye. Nays, none. Whereupon the Chairman declared the establishment of said road postponed indefinitely.

This being the 10th day of May, A. D., 1948, a date heretofore fixed for the hearing on the proposed establishment of Drainage District No. 149, petitioned for by Herman Limberg, et al, the hour for said hearing having arrived, the report of the engineer recommending such establishment and the proof of publication being on file and the Board being fully advised, said hearing was held as scheduled

The petition, report of the engineer, and claims for damages to such establishment were read by County Auditor Maynard Schoneman and objectors and and properties were given an opporunityity to discuss the necessity and feasibility of the establishment of the Drainage District and objections thereto, petitioned for by Herman Limberg, et al, as recommended in the report of the engineer.

BE AND IT IS THEREFORE RESOLVED by the Board of Supervisors in and for Hancock County, Iowa, acting for and in behalf of Drainage District No. 149 petitioned for by Herman Limberg, et al, that the hearing on the establishment of said district be and the same is hereby continued to May 24, A. D., 1948, at the hour of 1:30 P. M., at the Courthouse in Garner, Iowa.

The foregoing resolution was offered and read by Supervisor Gerdes who moved its adoption was seconded by Supervisor Schoun, whereupon John Chambers, Chairman placed the motion of its adoption and upon roll call the vote thereon is George Th. Gerdes, F. J. Schoun and John Chambers, aye. Nays, none. Whereupon the Chairman declared the resolution duly adopted.

On motion and second Wm. Boehnke, Wm. J. Rasmusson and Wm. Henschen, Engineer, are appointed a damage Commission to view lands in proposed D. D. No. 149, petitioned for by Herman Limberg, et al.

On motion and second the Board adjourned to May 24, A. D., 1948 at 9:00 A. M.

ATTEST:
MAYARD SCHONEMAN
County Auditor

JOHN CHAMBERS
Chairman

6TH ADJOURNED APRIL MEETING
Garner, Iowa
May 24, 1948

The Hancock County, Iowa, Board of Supervisors met in session on the above Captioned date pursuant to adjournment with Supervisors F. J Schoun, George Th. Gerdes and John Chambers present.

The minutes of the last meeting were read and approved as read.

On motion and second the resolution requesting a Farm-to-Market project in Klemme, Iowa, is approved, subject to the approval of the Iowa State Highway Commission.

Supervisor Chambers is appointed a committee to investigate and cause repairs to be made in D. D. No. 47, D. D. No. 139 and D. D. 54, L. 16.

Supervisor Gerdes is appointed a committee to investigate and cause repairs to be made in D. D. No. 46-3.

On motion and second the preliminary bond of Wm. Henschen, Engineer, on D. D. No. 150, petitioned for by Roy D. Clark, et al is approved.

In the matter of the petition of Roy D. Clark, et al, for the establishment of a sub-drainage district of D. D. No. 10.

WHEREAS Wm. Henschen was appointed engineer as Commanded in Chapter 455, Code of Iowa, 1946, and laws amendatory thereto, on November 3rd, A. D., 1947, to make a survey, investigation, and report on the feasibility and necessity of the establishment petitioned for by Roy D. Clark, et al, in D. D. No. 150, a sub-drainage district of D. D. No. 10, Hancock County, Iowa and said engineer did file his report on May 18, 1948, which report stated that he has investigated and surveyed the lands in proposed D. D. No. 150 and finds that the proposed establishment and construction thereof will be conducive to public health, welfare, convenience and utility and the benefits to be derived are greater than the cost thereof and recommends that said district be established and constructed.

BE AND IT IS THEREFORE RESOLVED by the Board of Supervisors in and for Hancock County, Iowa, acting for and in behalf of the proposed drainage improvement petitioned for by Roy D. Clark et al, that the report of the engineer be and the same is hereby approved as a tentative plan and may be amended at any time before final hearing thereon and said report of the engineer and plan shall come on for further hearing at the Courthouse in Garner, Iowa at 1:30 P. M., on the 7th day of July A. D., 1948.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the County Auditor be and he is hereby directed to cause notice of hearing on the report of the engineer and plan of said improvement to be published in the Britt News-Tribune, a newspaper of general circulation published in Britt, Iowa, advising all owners, occupants, lienholders and encumbrancers of record in the watershed of the proposed improvement of the pendency and prayer of the petitioners, the favorable report of the engineer thereon, the approval by the Hancock County, Iowa, Board of Supervisors of the report of the engineer as a tentative plan which may be amended before final action thereon and that all objections to such establishment and claims for damages must be in writing and must be filed with the County Auditor at or before the time set for hearing thereon.

The foregoing resolution was offered and read by Supervisor Gerdes, who moved its adoption, was seconded by Supervisor Schoun, whereupon the Chairman, John Chambers, placed the motion of its adoption and upon roll call, the vote thereon is George Th. Gerdes, F. J. Schoun and John Chambers, aye. Nays none. Whereupon the Chairman declared the resolution duly adopted.

This being the 24th day of May A. D. 1948, a date heretofore fixed for the continuation of the hearing on the proposed establishment of Drainage District No. 149, petitioned for by Herman Limberg, et al, the hour for said hearing having arrived, the report of the engineer recommending such establishment and the proof of publication being on file and the Board being fully advised, said hearing was held as scheduled.

The petition, report of the engineer, and claims for damages to such establishment were read by County Auditor and objectors and proponents were given an opportunity to discuss the necessity and feasibility of the establishment of the drainage district and objectors thereto petitioned for by Herman Limberg, et al, as recommended in the report of the engineer. All objections oral and written to the said proposed establishment were duly considered by the Board and after such consideration it was deemed conducive to public health, welfare and convenience and the benefits to be derived will be greater than the cost thereof and that said district be established.

BE AND IT IS THEREFORE RESOLVED by the Board of Supervisors acting for and in behalf of D. D. No. 149 Hancock County, Iowa, petitioned for by Herman Limberg, et al, which district is to be established through lands listed in the engineers report, be and the same is hereby established. On motion by Suprevisor Gerdes and second by Supevisor Schoun, that the proposed D. D. No. 149 be established in accordance with the report of the damage commission filed May 12, 1948, in the office of the Hancock County Auditor as commanded in Chapter 455.30, Code of Iowa, 1946, which, report, came on for hearing on May 24, 1948 at 1:30 P. M., at the Courthouse in Garner, Iowa, subject to the conditions that the damages to the farm described as SW¼, section 17-97-26 be increased to $3,250 only if this compromise of damage is accepted and not appealed by Anna Huisinga, as damage in full to the real estate above described on account of the establishment and construction of the D. D. 149, Hancock County, Iowa, as per plans specifications and report of the engineer Wm Henschen, filed March 29, 1948, which are on file as commanded in Chapter 455 Code of Iowa, 1946, recommending the establishment and construction thereof This compromise settlement to be null and void if not accepted by the said Anna Huisinga, the owner of above described real estate and the commissioner's report shall then stand

The hour of 1:30 P. M. on the 21st day of June, A. D., 1948, is hereby fixed as a time for the letting on the construction thereof. Said letting to be held at the Courthouse in Garner, Iowa.

The County Auditor be and he is directed to cause notice of such letting to be published in the Britt News-Tribune, a newspaper of general circulation published at Britt, Iowa, which notice shall request bids on labor and material for the construction of said drainage improvement, the time of commencement and completion, the approximate amount and kind of work to be done, that the Board reserves the right to waive technicalities, and to reject any or all bids, all in accordance with Chapter 455, Code of Iowa, 1946.

The foregoing resolution was offered and read by Supervisor Gerdes who moved its adoption, was seconded by Supervisor Schoun, whereupon the Chairman, John Chambers, placed the motion of its adoption and upon roll call the vote thereon is, George Th. Gerdes, F. J. Schoun and John Chambers, aye. Nays, none. Whereupon the Chairman declared the resolution duly adopted.

BE IT RESOLVED by the Board of Supervisor of Hancock County, Iowa:

That pursuant to the provisions of Chapter No. 317 Code of Iowa 1946, it is hereby ordered:

1. That each owner and each person in the possession or control of any land or lots in Hancock County, Iowa, shall cut, burn, or otherwise destroy all noxious weeds thereon, as defined in this chapter at such times in each year and in such manner as shall prevent said weeds from blooming or coming to maturity, and shall keep said lands free from such growth of any other weeds as shall render the street or highway adjoining said land unsafe for public travel Noxious weeds shall be cut or otherwise destroyed on or before the following dates and as often thereafter as is necessary to prevent seed production

Group 1. June 15, 1948, for leafy spurge, perennial, peppergrass, sour dock, smooth dock, sheep sorrell.
Group 2. June 30, 1948 for Canada thistle, Russian Knapweed, quack grass, buchhorn, wild mustard.
Group 3. July 15, 1948, for field bindweed, wild carrot.
Group 4. July 30, 1948, for house nettle, perennial sow thistle, butter print, puncture vine and cocklebur.

2. That each person and owner in the possession or control of any lands in Hancock County infested with any primary noxious weeds including quack grass, perennial sow thistle, Canada thistle, field bindweed, horse nettle, leafy spurge, perennial pepper grass, Russian knapweed, shall adopt a program of weed destruction prescribed by the weed commissioner, which in five years may be expected to destroy and will immediately keep under control such infestations of said primary noxious weeds.

3 That all weeds other than primary noxious weeds on all county trucek, primary highways and local county roads and between the fence lines thereof shall be mowed by the adjoining property owner to prevent seed production on or before July 15, 1948.

4. That if the owners or persons in possession or control of any land in Hancock County, Iowa, fail to comply with the foregoing orders, the weed commis-

Continued on next page

The Methodist Church
Herschel E. Harvey, Pastor

KLEMME
Vacation Church School each week day at 9 a. m.
Thursday:
Choir rehearsal at 7 p. m.
SUNDAY
Worship at 10.00 A. M.
Sunday School at 11 A. M.
Youth Fellowship at 7 p. m.
LIBERTY
Vacation Church School each week day at 9 a. m.
SUNDAY
Church School at 10:15 A. M.
Worship at 11:15 A. M.
Youth Fellowship at 7 p. m.
Womans Society June 2 with Mrs. Lowell Mau.
Birthday Social June 6, at 7:00 p. m. with supper and program.

FEDERAL
Land Bank
LOANS
Long Term Low Interest
No Fees No Commission
Wm. F. Johannaber
Secretary-Treasurer
Forest City, Iowa
Phone 50

DR. F. L. HAYES
DENTIST
Office Over Rexall Store
Phone 21 Garner, Iowa

B. C. BERGE
ATTORNEY-AT-LAW
Office Over Federated Store
Phone 20 Garner, Iowa

BRING YOUR CAR TO US FOR

Greasing

AND A COMPLETE SPRING CHANGEOVER

*

In Motor Oil, Transmission, Differentail, Wheels and Chassis.

*

We have the equipment and proper lubricants to give you the best service.

*

See us for your needs in Batteries, Spark Plugs, and accessories of all kinds.

*

Smith's

STANDARD SERVICE
Klemme Iowa

Fun For All

ALL FOR FUN . . . .

Klemme's recreation center . . . relax a game of pool . . . meet your friends he happy, have fun.

Ice Cold Soft Drinks

Joe's Place

Joe Finnegan, Prop. Klemme,

VOTE FOR
L. M. "Dutch" Browe
Republican Candidate For SHERIFF
Your Vote Will Be Greatly Appreciated

VOTE FOR
RUTH HUGHES
Republican Candidate
FOR CLERK

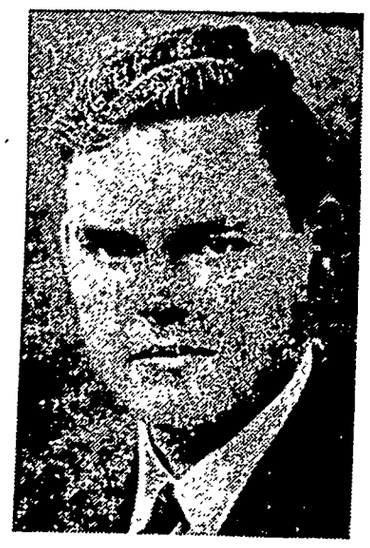
I am at present serving the unexpired of the late Elmer Raw. I would like to con in office and am a candidate for the first for the office of Clerk of the District Cour

I will appreciate your vote at the June mary election.

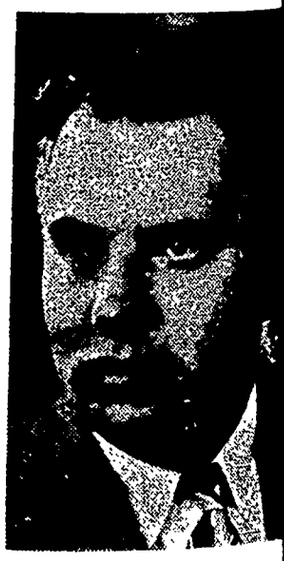
I am a candidate for the office of
SUPERVISOR
Of Hancock County
Ben F. Greiman
Your Vote At The Republican Primarie Will Be Appreciated

Clinton D. Daniels
REPUBLICAN CANDIDATE
For Supervisor
Of Hancock County
Your Vote At The Primaries Will Be Appreciated

I have been a Trustee of Concord Township for several years.



Curtis G. Riehm
Republican Candidate
For Renomination
For
COUNTY ATTORNEY
Your Vote Monday, June 7, 1948, Will Be Appreciated



KENNETH F. BOUGHTON FOR CORONER
World War II Vetere

A vote for Kenneth F. Boughton, of Britt, for Coroner, will insure ficient service, day and night, in this important office. Well train by education and experience. More than seventy-five percent of t coroners throughout the country are licensed embalmers.

Mr. Boughton's location, in almost the center of the county, oft saves mileage and added expense, which is a big saving to tax payers

A property owner, tax payer, good community man. Has been chai man of the Britt Commercial Club, is a member Britt Post 315 Americ Legion.

Your careful attention to these matters and your vote for Mr. Boug ton will be greatly appreciated.

(This adv is paid for by Veterans, Business Men, Farmers, and Professio al Men, who are friends of Kenneth F. Boughton.)

...ner shall cause this to be done and ...e expense of said work including costs ...e serving notice and other costs, if ...ay, to be assessed against the land and ...e owners thereof.

...S. That the County Auditor be and ...is hereby directed to cause notice of ...e making and entering of the forego... ...r order by publication in each of the ...ficial newspapers of Hancock County, ...owa.

The foregong resluotion was offered ...d read by Supervisor Schoun who mov... ...s adoption, was seconded by Super... ...oor Gerdes, whereupon the Chairman ...ced the motion of its adoption and ...en roll call the vote thereon is F. J. ...choun, George Th. Gerdes and John ...hambers, aye. Nays, none.

Whereupon the chairman declared the ...solution duly adopted.

Proceedings had at a regular meeting ...f the Board of Supervisors in and for ...ancock County, held at the courthouse ...n Garner, Iowa, on the 24th day of ...ay A. D., 1948, with members, J. A. ...hambers, F J. Schoun and George Th. ...erdes present, the following resolu... ...on was offered by Supervisor George Th. Gerdes, who read the same and moved its adoption:

WHEREAS, an appeal in pending before the District Court of Iowa in and for Hancock County in Equity Cause No. 11,582 wherein Ellsworth & Jones, Inc., successor trustee under the will of Eugene S. Ellsworth, deceased, and Board of Trustees of Ellsworth College, Iowa Falls, Iowa, appear as plaintiffs against tho Board of Supervisors of Hancock County, Iowa, and Drainage District No. 144 appear as defendant; and

WHEREAS, all of the objections and differences raised by said plaintiffs in said appeal have been settled and compromised by stipulation signed by said plaintiffs and submitted to this Board under date of the 24th day of May, A. D., 1948; and

WHEREAS, the board of Supervisors of Hancock County, State of Iowa, acting for and on behalf of Drainage District No. 144 believe that such compromise settlement will be to the best interest of all persons interested herein, and that the interest of all such persons will be promoted, protected, and preserved thereby; and

WHEREAS, said Board of Supervisors believe that the offer of settlement contained in said stipulation should be accepted:

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, that the Board of Supervisors of Hancock County, State of Iowa, acting for and on behalf of Drainage District No. 144 accept the terms of settlement set out insaid stipulation signed by said plaintiffs, and that the Chairman of said Board and the County Auditor be authorized to execute said stipulation for and on behalf of said Board of Supervisors acting for and on behalf of Drainage District No. 144, and that upon execution of said stipulation that the same be filed in Equity Case No. 11,582, together with decree of Court in accordance therewith.

Motion to adopt the foregoing resolution was seconded by Supervisor F J. Schoun and upon roll call the following vote was had: Ayes, J. A. Chambers, F. J Schoun, George Th. Gerdes. Nayes, none.

Whereupon the Chairman declared the resolution duly adopted.

Dated this 24th day of May, A. D., 1948 at Garner, Iowa.

On motion and second the Board adjourned to June 2, A. D., 1948 at 9 o'clock A. M.

ATTEST:
MAYNARD SCHONEMAN
County Auditor

JOHN CHAMBERS
Chairman

AMENDMENT TO ARTICLES OF INCORPORATION OF THE

STATE SAVINGS BANK, Of Goodell, Iowa

KNOW ALL MEN BY THESE PRESENTS:

That at a regular meeting of the stockholders of the State Savings Bank a corporation duly organized under the laws of the State of Iowa, held at the office of the Bank in Goodell, Iowa on the 12th day of January, A. D., 1948 after due and legal notice had been given to the stockholders thereof in conformity with its articles of incorporation, and provisions of the Code, the following amendment was adopted.

AMENDMENT:

Article VI, Section 1, is hereby amended by deleting the words "second Monday" and "1943" in the second line of this section and substituting in lieu thereof, "third Tuesday" and "1949", respectively This section would then read, as follows

ARTICLE VI
ANNUAL AND SPECIAL MEETINGS OF THE STOCKHOLDERS

Section 1 The annual meeting of the stockholders shall be held at the office of the corporation on the third Tuesday of January of each year, beginning with the year 1949, at which time the stockholders shall elect a board of directors and transact such other business as may lawfully come before them.

(Pub. 19, 26, June 2, 1948.)

COUNCIL PROCEEDINGS

Regular meeting was called to order by the Mayor, with all members present.

Minutes of the last meeting read and approved.

On motion the following bills were allowed.

H. N Rogers, Int. Impr Bonds	7.00
Iowa Des Moines National Bank, Int. Imp. Bonds	5.25
State Bank, Fort Dodge Int Impr. Bonds	3.50
Klemme Grain Co., coal	6.30
Hancock County, culvert and blade	47 60
Hancock County Coop. Ass'n. Acc't.	16.60
Central States Electric Co. Electricity	245.69
Klemme Times, Publications	42.75
Lloyd Lau, gravel hauling	98.75
Matt Parrott & Sons, register leaves	11.19
Employers Mut Cas Co. W C & E L Prem.	63 00
Geo. Buseman, April salary	150.00

On motion permission was granted Central Iowa Telephone Co. to break pavement to lay conduit pipe.

Street and Ally Committee to look after purchase additional dumping grounds. Rowat & Murray retained as engineers to look after preliminary survey work on paving project Resignation of A J Kudje as town Clerk, on motion accepted.

Meeting adjourned.

A. J KUDJE, Clerk.
Klemme, Iowa
May 10th, 1948

Initiatory Degree

The Eastern Star Chapter at Garner will confer the initiatory degree on Tuesday evning, June 8th. Klemme Stars are requested to attend.

We specialize in printing Wedding Announcements.

Want Ads

For Sale

FOR SALE — SPRING FRIES. Bert Jones. (2tc)

FOR SALE—SOUTH BEND 9" Lathe and all attachments, $200. Fred J. Arnold. (1tc)

FOR SALE—TRACTOR TIRES. Have a large stock of rears on hand. Garner Auto Co., Garner, Iowa. (M-8tfc)

YES WE HAVE IT, NUTRENA Crumblized Chick Feed. For faster gains and less waste. We deliver ½ ton lots or more. GREEN ELEVATOR CO., Goodell, Iowa. (Apr 14 tfc)

Get your "Thank You Notes" at the Times Office. 59 cents. per box.

Miscellaneous

INSURE WITH HENRY WARD, Klemme for Auto, Personal Property, Farm Liability Insurance. (May 1, '48)

SEE R. W. ELDER FOR HANcock Co. Mutual Fire & Lightning Insurance renewals or new policies. (Apr. 1 pd)

Wanted To Buy

WANTED TO BUY FOR CASH —your used car. Any make, any model. Garner Auto Company, Garner, Iowa. M-8tfc)

Services Offered

FEED GRINDING OF ALL kinds done on your farm. Phone Klemme 76 or Goodell 58561. Carroll Etchen. (j-28-tc)

Lost And Found

LOST — CANVAS BETWEEN Verner Nelson farm and Klemme on Tuesday morning. Verner Nelson. (1tc)

Card Of Thanks

I wish to express our sincere thanks and appreciation to all those who sent us cards, gifts, flowers; and visited us while in the hospital. Mrs. Vern Bisom and Mary Rebecca. (1tp)

We want to express our sincere thanks to all who were so kind to us in our recent bereavement, and to those who contributed flowers in memory of our mother, and who helped us in any way.

Dwight Hummel and family
Hugh Hummel and family. (1tp)

HANCOCK COUNTY REAL ESTATE DEALS

Waller, Lyle N. and Julia B., wife, et al to Vaughn, Esther 4-28-48 Wty. Deed $1.00 2-3 int. in L1, 2 and 3 Way's Sub-div. L1 Stubbins' 2nd Add to Britt.

Gelner, Donald and Blanche, wife et al to Gelner, Leon K., 4-7-48 Wty. Deed $1.00 5-6 int. in E½ NE¼ and SW¼ NE¼ and E½ NW¼ NE¼ Sec. 23-97-24.

Fred, Maurice H. and Mildred wife to Jass, Hattie B. 4-28-48 Wty. Deed $1.00 L8, Blk. 13 Orig. Town of Garner.

Jass, Albert Jr. and Helena, wife to Fread, Maurice H. and Mildred 4-28-48 Wty. Deed $1.00 L11 12 13 14 15 16 and 17 Blk 4. Park Add to Garner.

Hinders, Theodore and Irene wife to Ellefson, Sidney 5-23-48 Wty. Deed $75.00 L13, Blk 4 Original Town of Woden.

Pollock, Keith K. and Viola, wife et al to Pollock, Bertha M. 4-20-48 QCD $1.00 W½ L7 and 8 Blk. 8 West Side Add to Garner.

Fisher, Arthur D. and Grace, wife to Luebke, Helena 4-26-48 Wty. Deed $1.00 part of W½ SE ¼ 27 lying N of right of Way RR Sec. 27-96-25.

J. A. Chambers, Execestate Mary Ellen Longley to Stille, Geo. A. and Ina, wife 11-18-47 Adm. Deed $7,900.00 Blks 1 2 3 14 15 16 and 17 Amsterdam.

J. A. Chambers, Exec. Estate of Mary Ellen Longly, Dec'd. 5-3-48 Adm. Deed $1.00 All streets included between above named blocks in town of Amsterdam.

Bales, Pauline Anna and Jay, husband to Price Lee Kregle and Helen M. 4-24-48 Wty. Deed $4,500.00 W 50' L6 and all L5 Blk. 1 Fred Gorton's 1st Subdiv. to outlot 2 Kanawha.

Veldhouse, Laura and N. H., husband to Bethell, Theodore C. and Myrtel Alice 4-4-48 Wty. Deed $1.00 E½ NW¼ and W½ NE¼ Sec. 30-94-25 except Easement for highway purposes.

Hanson, Walter E. and Helen C. wife to Lee, Charles E. and Alice L., wife 5-6-48 Wty. Deed $32,000.00 ½ int. to each of SE ¼ Sec. 21-95-26.

Tegtmeyer, Louis, husband to Tegtmeyer, Marie, wife 5-4-48 Wty. Deed ½ int. NW¼ Sec. 15-96-26.

Barth, Lewis and Hattie, et al to Torkelson, Osmund J. and Joseph 4-23-48 QCD $500.00 L1 of Sub-div. S½ SE¼ Sec. 15, except W. 1½ acres thereof all in 97-23

Lolling, Tillie, widow to Eldridge, Sarah 5-1-48 Wty. Deed $1.00 W½ SW½ Blk. 11 Stubbins' 3rd Add to Corwith.

Buy and sell with a Times want ad.

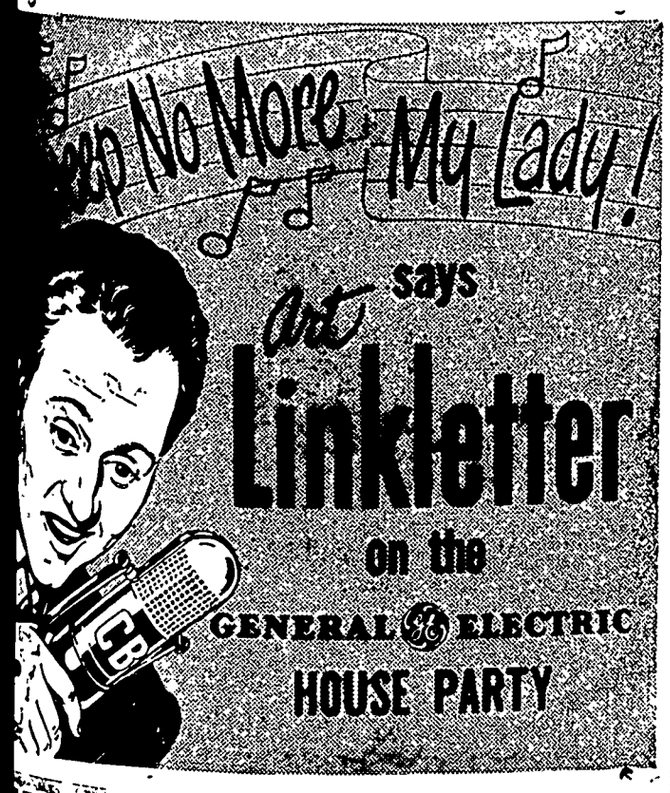
CURTIS G. RIEHM
Attorney-At-Law
Office Over Federated Store
Res. Phone 133W2
Phone 133 Garner, Iowa

DR. E. H. PHILLIPS
Osteopathis Physician
Xray - Short Wave Diathermy and Ultra Violet Equipment
Phone 149 Garner, Iowa

KEEP THE FARM SANITARY
2-HOUR SERVICE ON REMOVAL OF
Dead Stock
Phone
KLEMME ---------- 580
BELMOND ---------- 580
We Pay The Call
A Clean Truck With An Efficient Driver In Your Neighborhood Daily.
Belmond By-Products
"Your Home Plant"
Phone 580 Belmond, Iowa.

Farmers!
WE HAVE THE FOLLOWING ITEMS IN STOCK FOR IMMEDIATE DELIVERY
- Clay Litter Carriers
- Steel Gates, all sizes
- Step Ladders, all sizes
- Straight Ladders, all sizes
- Hen Nests, 8 - 10 hole
- Glass and Panel Doors, in regular sizes

See Us For Your Building Needs Today
Northern Lumber Co.
Lloyd Sherwood, Mgr. Klemme, Iowa.



KGLO 2:30 PM

Josten Appliance
Edmund K, Josten, Prop. Klemme, Iowa

To The Voters Of Hancock County

This is why we are for Ben F. Greiman, who is a candidate for

SUPERVISOR

of Hancock County . . .

He was born and reared in Liberty township and is at present a farmer in that township. He has spent his entire lifetime in Hancock County. He was Supervisor from 1936 to 1939; during that time more roads were graded, more sand and gravel was put on then than any other supervisor has done before or following him.

This is not political propaganda, but plain facts from the records at the courthouse. Ben F. knows how to maintain good roads; knows county drainage; knows machinery; and he did a good job previously. That is why we want Ben F. for SUPERVISOR again.

He has the taxpayers in mind and always sees that they get their money's worth. Moreover, Ben F. lives in the center of the district (E-W), which he would represent, if elected.

Ben F. Greiman
For Hancock County Supervisor

For Quick Truck Delivery On
Diamond
D-X
Products of all kinds
Phone 85
ERNEST HENSCHEN
Klemme, Iowa

Robt. D. Hoadley
Republican Candidate For Hancock County
SUPERVISOR
For The Term Beginning January 1, 1949

I live in the midst of the territory to be supervised by this term of office.

As there are three supervisors in the county, who are elected at large by the voters of the county, or by representatives from each township in the form of delegates if necessary in case it should go to a convention, do hereby state that each voter or delegate should consider and compare the three supervisors with these things:

The Church. The Home. And the Public School.

If they are not properly located through the county it is hard for them to properly serve their purpose.

I was Township Trustee of Amsterdam Township for 20 years and have had experience with the handling of heavy machinery and road building.

I assure you, that if elected, I will serve without partiality.

Your Vote June 7, 1948, Will Be Appreciated

IT'S Your CHOICE!
If you want better farm-to-market roads; better schools backed by a definite program of State Aid. If you favor removing the sales tax on food—if you want a real soil conservation and flood control program . . .

VOTE FOR

Wm.S. (BILL) BEARDSLEY
REPUBLICAN CANDIDATE
FOR GOVENOR
PRIMARY ELECTION . . . JUNE 7
This Advertisement Sponsored by Beardsley for Governor Committee

Let's Support Our Friend And Neighbor
JOHN CHAMBERS FOR SUPERVISOR

Without casting any reflections what-so-ever on the other fine gentlemen running for the office of Supervisor of Hancock County, we urge you to support your home-town man, J. A. Chambers at the Republican Primary.

John is our friend and neighbor. He is honest and capable and has done a lot of hard work in this district and has done his very best to make improvements at a minimum of cost to the taxpayer. He has tried to distribute county machinery over the district impartially so that each community can be assured of good service.

It was through Mr. Chambers' personal work that the County Farm To Market Highway is being brought into Klemme and that the East end of the Main Street Paving Project is now rapidly becoming a reality. The Citizens of Klemme can express their appreciation of Mr. Chambers' work by going to the polls Monday and give him a vote of Thanks!

Let's give John Chambers our loyal support at the Republican Primary.

This adv paid for by friends of J. A. Chambers

WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS

Soviets Express Desire for Peace, Agree to Discussion of Differences; U. S. Seizes Railroads—Strike Off

By Bill Schoentgen, WNU Staff Writer

(EDITOR'S NOTE: When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of Western Newspaper Union's news analysts and not necessarily of this newspaper.)

OVERTURE: Peaceful

All of a sudden the air between Washington and Moscow was filled with talk of peace and desire for cooperation.

Exactly what had happened to bring about the quick flow of the milk of human kindness between the U. S. and Russia was not clear. Certainly there had occurred no basic change in the potentially explosive relationship.

It began with a U. S. statement of position, voiced by Bedell Smith, ambassador to Russia, in the presence of Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov.

Smith, apparently speaking officially, suggested that the way is clear for a discussion of differences with Russia. Said the U. S. ambassador:

"The present state of U. S.-Soviet relations is a source of grievous disappointment to the American people. As far as the United States is concerned, the door is always wide open for full discussion and the composing of our differences."

Russia's reply, as broadcast by the Moscow radio, expressed a positive attitude toward improving Soviet-American relations and stated that Russia "is in agreement" with a U. S. proposal for "discussion and settlement of existing differences."

Although these developments received a big play in the press and radio of both nations, indications were strong that the aura of mutual hostility separating the U. S. and Russia might not be dispelled by the willingness to "compose our differences."

Neither side had modified its foreign policy. Rather, each had emphasized it in the exchange of notes.

The U. S. statement said, in part: "The concern and the determination of the people of the United States have been intensified by the inexplicable hostility of the Soviet government to the European recovery program—a measure which in its inception and subsequent developments is so obviously only a measure of American assistance for reconstruction on a co-operative basis without menace or threat to anyone."

In their reply the Soviets contrasted what they termed military threats against the Soviet Union with the Russian government's pursuit of "a consistent peace policy."

At least there was a definition of terms and a preliminary agreement to talk things over. Whether or not any good would come of it was, at this stage, problematical.

There was a suspicion abroad that Russia, balked in its ambitions to expand into western Europe by the European recovery program, might be ready now to try to make some kind of deal.

ALL ABOARD:
Trains Run

U. S. economy escaped being a victim of railroad paraplegia at the eleventh hour when three rail brotherhoods yielded to a restraining order brought against them by the government and called off their impending strike.

Events leading up to that climax had run a course which has become familiar to strike-weary Americans.

Negotiations between the railroads and the three dissenting brotherhoods — engineers, firemen and switchmen—had been fruitless. As the strike deadline approached they remained miles away from any kind of agreement on wages and working conditions.

By that time President Truman had built up a full head of steam and he opened the throttle wide. The U. S. could not stand "a nation-wide tragedy" such as the rail strike would be, he said.

Acting under the sanction of a 1916 law which authorizes the government to take over the railroads during the time of war (U. S. is still, officially, in a state of wartime emergency) Mr. Truman seized the entire vast network of tracks and trains in the name of the federal government.

That move paved the way for a court order restraining the unions from striking for eight days. Federal District Judge T. Alan Goldsborough issued the order and the nation's trains kept running, for the time being, at least.

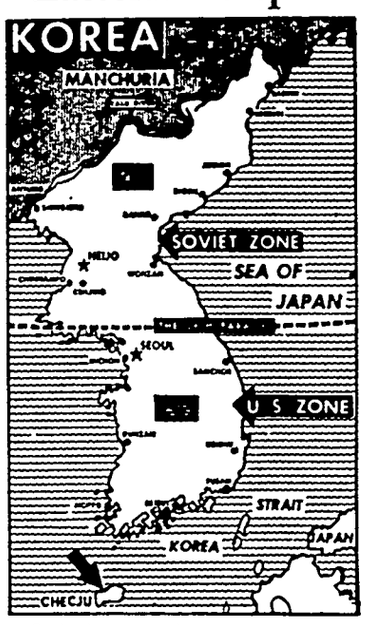
Possibly proving that there is no wind so ill that it doesn't blow up some good for somebody, one of the major influences leading to cancellation of the rail strike was John L. Lewis, who didn't have a word to say about it.

But Lewis had set the pattern. The rail union leaders—Alvanley Johnston of the engineers, D. B. Robertson of the firemen and A. J. Glover Jr. of the switchmen—were uncomfortably aware of what happened to the mine chief when he disobeyed an injunction to call off his soft coal strike.

They knew that if they disobeyed Judge Goldsborough's restraining order they would be exposing themselves and their unions to whopping big fines and possible jail sentences.

It was becoming apparent that the government had hit upon a hard-fisted way of delaying crippling strikes. With labor unrest destined to grow this summer, that method, though far from ideal, might come to be the basic formula for inducing arbitration and settlement of strikes.

Eastern Hotspot



Latest area to emerge as a pivotal point in the world-wide drive against communism is southern Korea where about seven million registered voters went to the polls to elect 200 representatives to what is known as the Korean national assembly. Prior to the election, Communist-trained agents were reported to have been attempting to stir up trouble in the U. S. zone to influence the balloting.

DIXIE:
Anti-Truman

Although President Harry Truman had not held forth publicly on the subject of civil rights for some time now, the echoes of the civil rights program he advanced earlier this year were rattling around like sabers south of the Mason-Dixon line.

Alabama voters had expressed themselves as being anti-Truman. In the state's primary election they had given majorities to candidates pledged to cast electoral votes against the President because of the civil rights issue.

It was the first concrete indication that a bolt from the regular Democratic party nominee might not be unlikely next November if the nominee (like Mr. Truman) is committed to supporting the civil rights program.

And in Jackson, Miss., a "state's rights" Democratic rally was keynoted with a flat prediction that President Truman would not be re-elected because he is not acceptable to the nation or the southern Democrats.

Gov. J. Strom Thurmond of South Carolina defined the South's stand when he told the rally that the South is not in revolt against the Democratic party but against its present leadership.

Spark that kindled the political fire in the South was Mr. Truman's espousal of proposals to pass federal laws outlawing lynching, poll taxes, job discrimination and segregation of races. Legislation like that, Governor Thurmond asserted, would violate the historic principle of the right of states to determine their own attitude toward such matters.

So far it was only talk, but anti-Truman feeling had crystallized in the South to the point where party leaders were badly worried. If the Dixie Democrats carried their defection to the ultimate point of nominating their own candidate, the big-wigs might as well throw in the sponge for the '48 elections and start looking to 1952.

UNCERTAINTY:
Who Won?

Just about all that anyone was sure of when the smoke from the Ohio primary elections had cleared was that Sen. Robert Taft had won 44 delegates to the Republican national convention and that Harold Stassen, the wolf at Taft's door, had captured nine.

How those results should be interpreted promised to be a thoroughly argued question by the time the Republicans convened in Philadelphia to nominate a presidential candidate.

Many held the opinion that the Ohio primary resulted in, if not an outright defeat for Stassen, at least a brusque check on the Minnesotan's heretofore snowballing campaign.

Stassen had competed with Taft for 23 of the state's 53 delegates. He won nine and Taft took 14 of those 23. In a pre-election statement, Stassen had said that the Ohio contest could be accounted a victory for him only if he won a majority of the 23 disputed delegates.

Thus, by his own estimate, Stassen lost in Ohio. He lost, however, to a "favorite son" candidate strongly supported in his own state by Ohio's powerful political organization.

It was hardly a victory for Taft to shout about.

In the final analysis the G.O.P. election race had not changed much. It was Taft and Dewey teaming up to force Stassen into the rail, with Sen. Arthur Vandenberg of Michigan coming up fast on the outside.

FARM ISSUE:
Truman's

Rather hard put for a good, earthy issue to play upon in his coming campaign, President Truman has hit upon the farm problem as the vehicle to carry some of his convictions before the public.

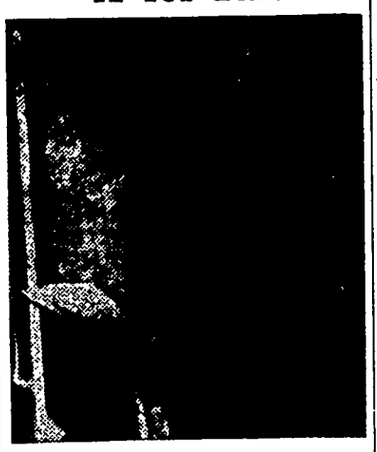
He began by planning a message to congress on the subject of long-range agricultural legislation. The idea was originated by the retiring Secretary of Agriculture Clinton Anderson who opined that such a plea to congress would put the Republicans "on the spot."

The message which Mr. Truman was preparing would ask for an "adequate appropriation" to continue the government farm program, "particularly on soil conservation," according to Alben Barkley, senate Democratic leader.

Barkley acidulously recalled that the President had asked in his budget message for 300 million dollars for soil conservation in the coming fiscal year, and that congress had cut that sum to 225 million.

Many U. S. farmers would be inclined to agree.

'X' for Taft



Sen. Robert Taft's presidential star once again was in ascendancy following the important Ohio primary election of 53 Republican national convention delegates. He won 14 of the 23 contests in which Harold E. Stassen was a strong disputant.

WHEAT:
Big Crop

Word from the department of agriculture was that the U. S. would produce the third largest wheat crop in history this year.

The department stuck to that prediction even though it had reduced its estimate of the important winter wheat crop by 14.5 million bushels from the April 1 estimate.

Except in parts of the southern great plains, the crop made good progress, it was revealed in an official department report.

As of May 1, prospects were for a total of 1.117 billion bushels of wheat. Largest crop was 1.36 billion bushels last year. Production in the 1936-45 period averaged 890 million bushels.

Department of agriculture estimated the fall-sown winter wheat crop at about 845 million bushels, a decline of 14.5 from its April 1 forecast. No official estimate of spring wheat was available, but a guess was that average yields should produce 272 million bushels.

PLANT LIFE:
Appetites

Atomic scientists have learned that some plants, like human beings, are finicky eaters.

This new knowledge, important commercially, is the result of exhaustive tests with radioactive isotopes of phosphorous.

Now science can tell a farmer who spends $50 to put phosphate fertilizer on his land whether the plant only nibbles or takes a bite big enough to repay his expense.

SMOKE, SMOKE, SMOKE

Americans Burning More Cigarettes

Cigarette consumption in the U. S. in 1947 ascended to an all-time high for the 14th consecutive year, despite spectacular wartime gains which would have made a subsequent postwar decline no great surprise to the industry.

According to an article in the May edition of "Business Comment," bulletin of Northern Trust company, total output of 370 billion cigarettes last year was 5 per cent greater than in 1946.

"Per capita cigarette consumption in the U. S. has followed an upward trend, with minor interruptions, since prior to World War I," the bank reported. On a per capita basis consumption jumped from 166 in 1914 to 2,400 in 1947.

Washington Digest

Series of Contradictions Marks Political Campaign

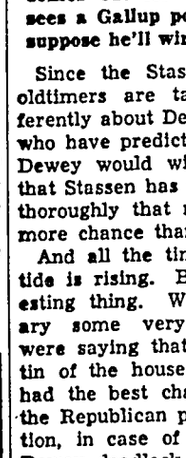
By BAUKHAGE

News Analyst and Commentator

WASHINGTON—Political currents and cross currents are running high, wide and deep along the Potomac these days.

The wave of popularity stirred up by Stassen supporters is not pleasant for regular Republicans to contemplate. Some of the non-professionals however, particularly those in the Taft corner, are very bitter about it, not because they think that Stassen will get in, but because of the way he has served to block the Taft efforts—despite the fact that those efforts have been labelled, rightly or wrongly, futile from the beginning. Deweyites don't admit they are worrying — but!

I talked to one of the Taft men recently. "What makes me sick," he said, "is the way the people who have done their best to break down Taft are full of praise for him now that they think he is beaten. They describe his efficiency, his knowledge, his frankness, his grasp of the subjects he discusses. And they talk about Stassen's vagueness and inability to answer Taft's charges." "And these," he wound up, "are the same people who have been shooting at Taft ever since he started his presidential campaign."



There is something in what this man says. You would be surprised how many liberals, how many Democrats even, praise Taft privately, would really like to see him elected, but either they can't quite come out openly in his favor, or they take for granted he can't win anyhow.

Then there is the great group of Republicans who are going to vote for Dewey, but act as if they were gritting their teeth in the process. "What have you got against Dewey?" I ask them. Some are vague, others say the New York governor is a "straddler . . . an opportunist . . . never comes out for an issue until he sees a Gallup poll on it . . . but I suppose he'll win . . ." Can he?

Since the Stassen hurricane, the oldtimers are talking a little differently about Dewey. Some of them who have predicted right along that Dewey would win now are saying that Stassen has undermined him so thoroughly that now Dewey has no more chance than Taft.

And all the time the Vandenberg tide is rising. But here's an interesting thing. Way back in February some very canny observers were saying that Speaker Joe Martin of the house of representatives had the best chance of anyone for the Republican presidential nomination, in case of the expected Taft-Dewey deadlock.

At the time many people were surprised at that opinion. But it wasn't long before we began to see mention of Martin here and there. Then, finally, insiders accepted him as probably the best bet of the several Republican dark horses. I know I could feel his popularity growing as I travelled around the country.

But then came the surprise move when Martin was credited with bringing about settlement of the coal miners' pension row—the appointment of Sen. Styles Bridges of New Hampshire as neutral trustee on the pension board with John Lewis and Ezra Van Horn, and the agreement that was reached between Bridges and Lewis.

At first the settlement put Martin in a favorable light with the public. Then some of the conservative Republicans who hate Lewis expressed their disapproval. There were hints of a "deal" that had been reached between Bridges and Lewis before Bridges was appointed. Democrats charged that Martin was politicking. Horn, representing the operators, appealed to the courts to declare the pension agreement invalid.

Martin's stock dropped. And the oldtimers began to say his chances for the presidential nomination were slim. Not so much because of the pension deal itself, but paradoxically—and this is one of the accepted paradoxes of politics—because his intervention in the row was taken as a public avowal of his candidacy. Martin ceased to be a dark horse—and as a light horse, he wasn't considered nearly as much of a favorite.

The paradox applies to Senator Vandenberg. The Michigan senator constantly and consistently has disavowed any desire or intention of being a candidate for the Republican nomination. If, according to this paradoxical political rule, the oldtimers say, he were thrust into the limelight, his cause would suffer too. At this writing, Vandenberg seems to stand as the No. 1 bet.

Stassenites, however, claim that this paradox is all old hat; that times and political thinking have changed. One of the first black marks which the Republican old guard checked against Stassen was the fact that he came right out as a candidate way ahead of time. The traditional thing is to be oh, so coy about it.

But some observers feel as Newsweek magazine expressed it some time ago: "Stassen's forthright quest for votes may end much of the traditional coyness of aspirants. In the future, it's thought that more candidates will frankly announce their intentions well in advance of election." Well, maybe.

There is plenty of old-line resentment against Stassen, not only because he began an open campaign so early, but also because of the efficient, powerful, highly-organized and aggressive machine he has built up. A right wing Republican I spoke to recently seemed especially resentful, grumbling about the "big money" backing Minnesota's ex-governor, and the New York banking interests "that wanted in."

Senator Taft was reported so furious over Stassen's invasion of Ohio that it was thought that he might forget his rivalry with Dewey and throw his support to the New Yorker earlier in the convention if the deadlock was certain.

All this talk AGAINST candidates is interesting psychologically.

You always hear far more reasons for voting AGAINST a candidate than you hear for voting FOR one. It's a very good thing that no candidate is ever quite so bad as his opponents claim he is. Otherwise the government would fall apart regularly every four years.

* * *

Monroe Doctrine Is Reactivated

On Charles street in the sleepy little town of Fredericksburg, Va., in the first floor office of a story-and-a-half brick house, you can see, if you obey the parking signs and stop there, a beautiful brass-bound mahogany desk, artistic handiwork of the French cabinet makers of the early 18th century.

It is an historic piece of furniture for on its surface 125 years ago, there was signed a document which, reactivated today, becomes at once the challenge and the hope of free men throughout the world.

That desk, carefully carried across the seas as a precious heirloom, found its way into the great, empty rooms of the White House, newly-rebuilt after the destructive fire set by an enemy torch in the War of 1812.

Turn back the pages to December of the year 1823. At this desk sits a man in a stiffly-starched stock. His broad forehead is wrinkled with thought. His wide eyes look down at the document he is about to sign. It is his message to the 18th congress of the United States, but it embodies the spirit and is couched in the phrases which his predecessors have used before him expressing the intent and the obligations of the young republic of which he, James Monroe, is the President.

Two years before, the Czar of all the Russians had uttered a ukase that no foreigner must approach within 100 miles of the American coastline north of the 51st parallel. Russia then had a firm foothold on the northwestern coastland of the western hemisphere. The iron curtain had descended.

Plus ca change, plus ca reste lax meme chose!

"We could not view any interposition for the purpose of oppressing them (the free countries of the Americas) by any European power in any other light than as the manifestation of an unfriendly disposition toward the United States."

One hundred and twenty-five years pass.

Today, the United States, in a world that has shrunk until Moscow is nearer to Washington than Boston was in Monroe's time, rededicates its resources to "help free peoples to maintain their free institutions and their national integrity against aggressive movements that seek to impose upon them totalitarian regimes."

The words are President Truman's, but the spirit is the same as that breathed in the Monroe doctrine. America carries on.

* * *

Polysyllabically, John L. Lewis and Gen. Douglas MacArthur have something in common. Perhaps Lewis should run as MacArthur's vice president. Think of all the sonorous five-syllable-word statements they could get out.

* * *

In President Lincoln's time, most of the speeches were made in the open air without benefit of public address system or microphone. Now all you really need is a few friends who can make themselves heard in a smoke-filled room.

The Washington MERRY-GO-ROUND

By DREW PEARSON

Senator Taft's Strategy

SEN. ROBERT TAFT, worried about his poor showing in the presidential polls, has been consulting with professional opinion researchers. Their advice has been that he become known as a "liberal."

One of Taft's advisers is Dr. Claude E. Robinson of Princeton, N. J., president of Opinion Research corporation, who has collected opinions on Taft from all over the country.

"You are so busy with the practical side of government," he told the senator, "that you have lost sight of the fact that people think in terms of goals. You should start letting people know that you are on the side of the Lord."

He suggested that Taft reveal himself in his "true role" as a liberal and stress his stand for the public good; that he start by examining the question of what is a liberal and defining it as one who believes in liberty and higher living standards. The strategy then is to show that Taft possesses the practical sense to achieve these goals.

Dr. Robinson warned that the public still is fearful that the Republican party represents "reaction and the vested interests." He quoted a typical opinion from his surveys — that "no poor man should be a Republican." The best way to combat this, he recommended, is to set up goals and catch the eye of the common man. Taft could bid for leadership of the true "revolutionary" movement — the revolution which started July 4, 1776, advised Dr. Robinson.

It was shortly after consulting with Dr. Robinson that Taft came out with his political "new look," starting off with a speech, "What Is a Liberal?"

* * *

CIO Will Draft Eisenhower

TWO POLITICAL PHENOMENA are taking place simultaneously in the nation. President Truman is moving heaven and earth to secure his own renomination, but with his Gallup poll rating continuing to drop. Meanwhile, General Eisenhower continues to discourage his nomination, but with his popularity continuing to increase.

A lot of interesting backstage figures are behind Eisenhower, one of them being CIO President Philip Murray. Murray has sent out word to every CIO steelworkers local suggesting resolutions for a "draft Eisenhower" movement. The steelworkers convention will go on record unanimously asking Eisenhower to run, and a similar movement already is under way in most other CIO unions.

Murray also held an important secret conference in Pittsburgh with Illinois Democratic Boss Jack Arvey. Arvey has been drafted by Illinois Democrats to run their political fortunes until after the presidential elections, and he agreed with Murray that the Democratic party's hope lay in nominating Eisenhower.

Although not talking much, Arvey has been a very busy beaver. He was principally responsible for the violent anti-Truman demonstration at the California Jefferson Day dinner when Mr. Truman was booed so vigorously that Chairman J. Howard McGrath almost quit talking.

Also active in the draft-Eisenhower drive is former Roosevelt labor adviser, Anna Rosenberg. Mrs. Rosenberg is a close friend of Eisenhower, also of Phil Murray, George Allen, Mrs. Roosevelt, the Rockfellers, as well as many of the ex-New Dealers.

Eisenhower's supporters are ignoring all of the general's protests about his candidacy. They're convinced that if a genuine draft movement develops, he will accept the nomination.

* * *

Sullivan's Resignation

RESIGNATION OF GAEL SULLIVAN from the Democratic national committee was inevitable. Only a few insiders knew it, but Mr. Truman hated him, barred him from the White House.

Sullivan always was getting in the President's hair, fighting on Palestine, for labor, against cartels. His departure means he thinks the fight on these things is hopeless.

Sullivan worked day and night for the administration, led the life of a monk socially, studied like a schoolboy to make government wheels turn more smoothly. He was an FDR favorite, being forced on Mr. Truman by Bob Hannegan. It has never been a secret that Sullivan was a Justice Douglas man. When named assistant postmaster general, he even insisted that Justice Douglas swear him in.

When the Ed Pauley grain-speculation investigation started, Mr. Truman called Sullivan to the White House, asked him if he was in the market.

"Mr. President," replied Sullivan, "you flatter me. I've never had a dime besides my salary since I've been in politics."

Household Hints

Use two dust-cloths instead one—then both hands are free useful.

—•—

There'll be no soggy crust if place the freshly baked pie on wire rack to cool instead of a flat surface. The rack of a broiler will do.

—•—

Fresh bread stays fresh longer if wrapped carefully and placed in your refrigerator. Do this to prevent early staleness.

—•—

CLASSIFIED DEPARTMENT

HELP WANTED—MEN

BODY MEN: Need 2 more body men in town. Clean shop. Plenty work. Fine rage. PARSONS MOTOR CO., Earlham, Iowa.

YOUNG MAN to represent one of the punch board and ticket manufacturers America. Full or part time. Exclusive tory. The man selected will receive training. TRIANGLE MANUFACTURING COMPANY, 609 So. Tenth St., Minneapolis 4, Minn.

CHRYSLER MECHANIC WANTED, available June 1st Top wages. CHRYSLER MOTORS, Jeffers, Minnesota.

SHEET METAL SHOP or oil burner man. Experience necessary Good permanent position. Modern shop. P. O. Box 407, Fargo, North Dakota.

YOUNG MEN, over twenty-one, to qualify drivers of new automobiles and trucks ered to all points of United States. DRIVE AND MAVIS FORWARDING CO., P. O. Box 2536, South Bend, Ind.

HELP WANTED—MEN, WOMEN

OPENINGS for qualified experienced housemothers, institutional cook, baker eral laborer, boys' supervisor and others Must furnish references. Only people of character need apply. STATE ORPHANS HOME, Twin Bridges, Montana.

FARMS & RANCHES

CANADIAN FARMS—Write us for FREE INFORMATION on farm settlement opportunities Fertile soils. Reasonably priced. R. C. Brown, Canadian Pacific Railway, Union Station, St. Paul, Minn.

REAL ESTATE—BUS. PROP.

FOR SALE — 7.65 Acres Lakeshore on Tuttle Lake. Excellent 7-room house basement. Chicken house 16x32; 2 houses; 1 cabin. Boat livery — only lake. Ideal place for poultry raising, boat and bait business. Reason for sale poor health. Write or phone C. W. DAWSON, Dolliver, Iowa.

REAL ESTATE—MISC.

WANT TO BUY or trade for Iowa stock grain farm to 320 A. In south central eastern part of state. Must be well and well improved. Would trade clear Angeles 5 room, 2 bed room house and ble bungalow. Could put in second bungalow. RAY E. CANNON, 7315 Denker Ave., Los Angeles 44, Calif.

POULTRY, CHICKS & EQUIP.

WHITE PEKIN DUCKLINGS—$8.50 $14.75 for 50 and $28.00 per 100. Pekin Austra White and White Giant Beauty started chicks. SCHECKEL'S HATCHERY Springbrook, Iowa.

LIVESTOCK

REGISTERED Domino Blanchard Bull bulls, 3 choice individuals. O. E. HORN, Lohrville, Iowa.

FARM MACHINERY & EQUIP.

FOR SALE—15-30 INTERNATIONAL TRACTOR. New rubber. Recently overhauled John Deere 3-bottom plow $55... SCHWARTZ, Jr., Hendricks, Minn.

1 1947 L.F.T. Thermodine Mack tractor new. 1100-22 tires, safety tanks, $... and straight air. 1 1946 E.H.T. Mack motor, in excel. cond. 1000-20 tires. $... vacuum brakes. 2 1947 Fruehauf deluxe stock trailers, 34 ft. tandem, ... solid top, double deck and panels. ... SELL LATCHAM, Sigourney, Ia. ...

INSTRUCTION

BE AN AUCTIONEER

Nationally Known Auctioneers for ... TERM—MAY 24-JUNE 12

National Auction Institute

BOX 4-C

COLFAX, ...

MISCELLANEOUS

GLOSSY ENLARGED PRINTS—... exposuro roll developed and printed, ... giant glossy prints 35c. Beautiful ... service. Giant reprints 4c each. Mail ... velopes and price list on request. ... FOTO SERVICE, Uni Place, Linton

WE CLEAN Septic tanks and Cesspools ... ters or cards post dated earliest with ... first consideration. L. DYER, Parkersburg ... er, Hull, Iowa.

2 MEAT DISPLAY Counters, 10 ft. ... 1 2-h.p. walk-in cooler, 9x15 ft. ... SON, Grantsburg, Wis.

ERCOUPE — '47 mod. 415-CD 150 ... on aircraft and eng. Always hangared ... scratched, deluxe equip., inc. ... needle ball, sens. alt. 2-way radio, ... ble landing lights, skis, $2,995. Will ... R. A. GERBER, 520 S. 3rd St., Minneapolis ... Minn. KE-0725.

BALER TWINE—$9.75 per bale, ... over. Pure Sisal. Fully guaranteed ... or call GEORGE WOLTER, Alta ... Phone No. 6.

AIRPLANE — BT-13B — 450 H.P. ... Low time. Must sell. Take $... LEDGE, P. O. Box 1018, Cedar Rapids

EARN SPENDING MONEY AT HOME — NO OBLIGATION. Just write and ask us to send you ... our Religious and Patriotic ... them easily at 35¢ each. Send us only ... one sold, you keep the rest. Remember, ... risk. Send no money in advance, ... SELL 40 AND KEEP $4.00 ... STEPHENS CREDIT SALES, ...

WNU—N

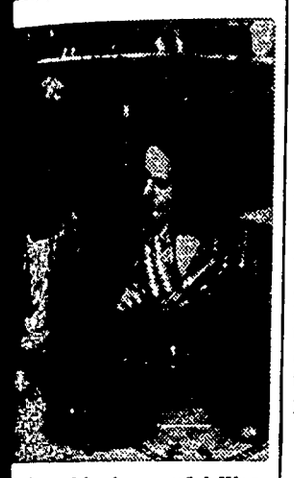
IT'S NICE TO KNOW ... What goes on in your community. That's why this newspaper brings you LOCAL NEWS

...nning Rules Insist On Perfect Ripeness, Freshness of Produce

...here never was a canning rule ...er devised than the one about ...ring up your fruit and vegetables ...their peak of freshness and while ...y are perfectly ripened. If you ...e your own garden of strawber... peas and asparagus, you can ...k them every day and decide ...n perfection has been reached.

...hen whisk the produce into your ...chen where jars and canning ...ipment wait in readiness. Fol...ing directions, you may be cer... you have caught the produce at ...best, thus assuring perfect eating ...yment later.

...e early canning we want to get ...of the way includes strawberries, ...barb, peas and asparagus, par...



...erries used for jams and jellies ...uld be fresh and ripe. Wash ...plenty of water just before ...g. It's best to wash and then ...k off the hulls.

...arly. It may seem early, but ...t now is the time when these ...aces are coming to their best ...

Strawberry Jam
...akes about 5 six-ounce glasses)
...3/4 cups prepared fruit
...3/4 cups sugar
...cup bottled fruit pectin

...prepare the fruit. Crush thor...ly about one quart fully ripe ...berries. Measure 2 1/8 cups ...a large saucepan.

...make the jam. Add sugar to ...in saucepan and mix well. ...e over high heat, bring to a full ...g boil, and boil hard one min... stirring constantly.

...move from heat and stir in bot...fruit pectin. (Scrape all bottled ...pectin from measuring cup.) ...stir and skim by turns for three ...tes to cool slightly, to prevent ...ng fruit. Pour quickly into ...es. Paraffin at once.

Strawberry Rhubarb Jam
(Makes 8 glasses)

...cups prepared strawberries
...cups prepared rhubarb
...cups extra sweet corn syrup
...cup sugar

...h, stem and crush strawber... Wash and slice rhubarb, add ...syrup and sugar. Boil until ...ed or jam is 220 degrees. ...and cool five minutes to pre...fruit from floating. Pour into ...hot jelly glasses. Cover with ...d paraffin.

Raspberry Jelly
(5 or 6 glasses)

...cups raspberry juice
...cups extra-sweet corn syrup
...cups sugar
...cup liquid pectin
...tablespoon lemon juice

...prepare juice: Sort and wash ...y underripe raspberries, drain. ...berries. Simmer 10 minutes. ...through jelly rag. Measure ...and mix with corn syrup, su... ...ed liquid pectin. Boil until ...age is reached (221 degrees) ...ture threads from a spoon. ...mon juice. Remove from heat. ...Pour into clean hot jelly ...Cover with melted paraffin.

...wberry Sunshine Preserves
...rts strawberries
...s. sugar

...and hull berries. Leave ...Add sugar and stir just ...to mix. Heat in a flat pan ...low burner. Stir occasionally ...ent sticking. When the boil... ...nt has been reached remove ...eat and pour into flat pans. ...with panes of window glass ...stand in the sunshine about ...y, or until the syrup is thick. ...clean jars.

...SAYS:

...the Thing
...ou Cook

...sausage patties to taste bet... ...ever? Roll them in egg and ...es before you fry them. ...chops take on the new look ...ou bake them in a mixture ...cups of cranberry sauce, one ...ey, and one-half teaspoon of ...

...d almonds go well in ...d chicken soup. Make it ...smooth and creamy.

LYNN CHAMBERS' MENU

Broiled Trout
Buttered New Potatoes
Fresh Peas
Tossed Salad
Hot Biscuits *Strawberry Jam
Beverage Pineapple Sundae
*Recipe Given

Tutti Frutti Jam

4 cups strawberries or raspberries
2 cups gooseberries
2 cups currants
2 cups diced rhubarb or pitted cherries
Sugar (3/4 as much as fruit pulp)

Mash fruits and heat gently until juicy and well mixed. Measure and add three-fourths as much sugar as fruit. Cook rapidly and stir the mixture until thickened, about 20 minutes. Pour into clean, hot jars and seal.

Asparagus

Remove scales from stalk. Wash thoroughly to remove all soil. Cut in jar lengths. Tie in bundles, place tips up in boiling water to cover lower tough portions. Cover vessel tightly. Pre-cook three minutes. Drain, pack into clean pint jars, tips up. Add 1/2 teaspoon salt to each jar if desired, fill jar to within 1/2 inch of top with water in which vegetable was pre-cooked or boiling water. Put on cap, screwing the band tight. Process 40 minutes at 10 pounds in pressure cooker.

Peas

Use only young tender, freshly gathered peas. Shell, wash and sort according to size. Pre-cook three to seven minutes, depending on the age and size of the peas. Pack loosely to within one inch of top into clean jars. Fill to within 1/2 inch of top with water in which vegetable was pre-cooked or boiling water. Add one teaspoon of salt and sugar mixture to each pint jar if desired. Put on cap, screwing the band tight. Process 60 minutes at 10 pounds in pressure cooker.

If you want to put up strawberries and rhubarb, the methods are really very simple. I am giving the two that will work well, one for strawberries that will not float, and an easy oven baked rhubarb that needs to be processed for only five minutes in the water bath.

Baked Rhubarb

Wash and cut rhubarb into one-inch lengths without removing the skin. Place in a baking dish and add one cup sugar to each quart of rhubarb. Cover dish and bake until rhubarb is tender. Place rhubarb and syrup which has formed, into clean jars to within 1/2 inch of the top. Put on cap and adjust according to manufacturers' instructions. Process in water bath five minutes.

Perfect jellies and jams are possible when you use the carefully tested recipes in this column.

Strawberries
(Will Not Float)

1 cup sugar
2 pounds strawberries
1/2 cup strawberry juice

Boil together the sugar and strawberry juice. This juice may be obtained by crushing and heating some of the culls or overripe berries. Cool and add the whole berries, then boil for three minutes. Cover the vessel, then set aside for four hours or overnight. Pack into clean jars to within one-half inch of the top. Adjust cap. Process in water bath for 15 minutes.

A Real Thirst Quencher

A refreshing fruit drink always is welcome as the warm days of spring and summer approach. Try the following for the evening's refreshments: For four glasses, combine two cups orange juice, one-half cup lemon or lime juice, one-half cup diced or shredded fresh pineapple. Chill thoroughly. Pour into glasses with chipped ice or ice cubes, fill with gingerale.

Released by WNU Features

Before you fold your omelet, spread it with a mixture of creamed crabmeat. Serve with tomato soup or a fruit cup to make an easy meal.

Mix tuna and crabmeat, then mix with celery, green pepper and hard-cooked eggs. Add cream sauce and bake in ramekins. This is an easy-to-fix meal on a busy day.

Using up hard-cooked eggs? Chop and mix with crumbled bacon, moisten with mayonnaise and season with Worcestershire sauce. A good snack on salted rye bread.

FUNLAND
BY A.W. NUGENT
SEE WHO CAN SCORE THE HIGHEST TOTAL, IN FIVE TRIALS, BY DROPPING A TOOTHPICK ON THE NUMBERED SECTIONS.
SHADE IN ALL THE DOTTED SECTIONS TO SEE WHAT THE MAGICIAN PRODUCED.
KIDDIE CORNER COPY ME STEP BY STEP.
1
2
3
FOLLOW THE DOTS.
DRAW STRAIGHT LINES FROM DOT ONE TO DOT FIFTY-TWO.
A.W. NUGENT
WNU 4821

CROSSWORD PUZZLE

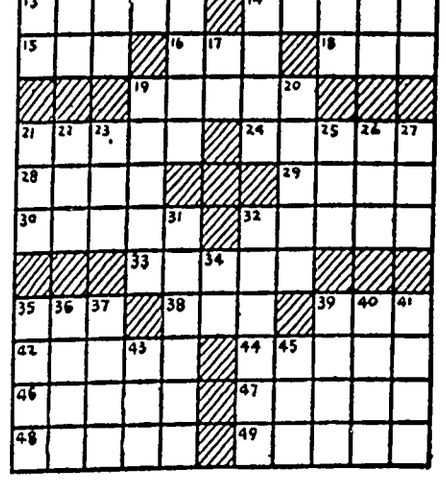
ACROSS

1 Great fear
6 Laths
11 Manila hemp
12 Custom
13 Number
14 Sharp
15 Cunning
16 June bug
18 Apex
19 Joins
21 Raised to third power
24 Cut
28 Particle
29 Minute opening
30 Form of riddle
32 Mauled
33 Wheel on a spur
35 Resort
38 Head covering
39 Constellation
42 Poisonous
44 Kind of nut
46 Fruit of Italy
47 Happening
48 River (Eur.)
49 Pauses

DOWN

1 Go by
2 Brother of Cain
3 Ships of a country
4 Frozen water
5 Frank
6 Fishes
7 Varnish ingredient
8 Touch end to end
9 Monkey
10 Stair
17 Ahead
19 Arboreal mammal
20 Part of a flower
21 Vehicle
22 Shoshonean Indian
23 Cut hair short
25 Promise
26 Before
27 Primary color
31 Association football
32 Condiment
34 West Africa (abbr.)
35 Pack away
36 Stick
37 Central line
39 Highest cards
40 Scold
41 Insects
43 I have (contr.)
45 Evening (poet.)

Solution in Next Issue.



No. 19

Answer to Puzzle Number 18

CHIC		GALL
HALL		ASEA
RIFLE		SPADE
ANT	AT	EVEN
GO	PRINCES
POME		ROT
SKY	CAW	ASS
	FAD	OMIT
KILTERS		NO
PINA	SI	AGO
ATENS		DARED
ERGO		EVER
STEW		SEAS

WNU 4821

GRASSROOTS by WRIGHT A. PATTERSON

PERSONAL VIEWPOINTS

HONEST though most of us may be, it is entirely human to consider proposals and events from the viewpoint of personal interest. We do it with no intention of being unfair, and, in fact, we do it subconsciously.

As a group, army officers attempted to consider universal military training only from the standpoint of national interest, but they were influenced by their training and by personal interest. Enactment of such a law would mean a larger peacetime army; it would call for more officers, more generals, colonels and on down the line of shoulder-strapped uniforms. A conscripted peacetime army would mean more rapid promotion for those who have made soldiering a profession. Army officers are human, and they have the same kind of human reactions that are found in all of us.

On the other side of the argument my neighbor insists he sees the subject from a purely practical viewpoint. He is not, and never has been, a soldier. Circumstances have prevented his being called upon to wear a uniform. He sees universal military training from the viewpoint of one of the millions who would do the paying. If such paying would help in our preparedness for immediate, or near immediate, war with Russia, he is for it regardless of cost. But will it do that, he asks?

Under a military training law such as congress was considering, the government estimates that 850,000 young men would be called to the colors each year. It would take close to 10 years before we would have even a good start toward a real army, probably too late to be of value in a war with Russia, if such a war is to come.

Universal military training would prepare young men to endure the rigors of combat divisions. In World War I, two out of four men did not see combat duty, were never on the battlefronts. They were not slackers, nor were they idle. They did what they were ordered to do, but their duties kept them well back of the fighting fronts. In World War II that percentage of non-combatants increased to seven out of 10. The next war, if one should come would call for an even larger percentage of non-combatants. The tools of war will be science-created machines and gadgets. It would take an even larger percentage of well-trained technicians to keep such machines and gadgets in working order. Young men trained for combat could not do the technician's job.

War preparedness, as my neighbor sees it, calls for the immediate production of the tools of war, those machines and gadgets with which the war, if any, will be fought. The making of these tools calls for labor. Where is labor available if it is not taken from peacetime commodity production? This will result in more peacetime scarcity and more inflation.

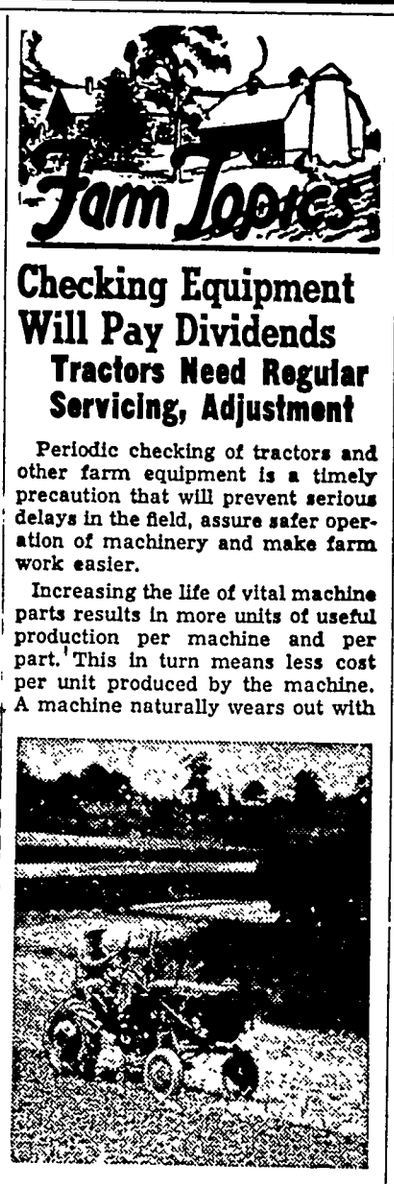
Universal military training would cost the nation approximately three billion dollars a year. At the same time production of the tools of war must be financed. It all adds up to increased taxes, heavier than those of war days, or more deficit financing.

The vote of those whom the polls show as favoring military training may be influenced by the belief that such training is preparedness for an almost immediate conflict with Russia. It could not be that. In fact, taking the young men out of factories which can produce the tools of war could be a decided disadvantage if we are called upon to fight Russia in five or even six years. Those boys garbed in overalls, rather than in soldiers' uniforms, at work producing the tools of war, also will be preparing themselves for the technical jobs that will be as essential to victory as the soldier carrying a rifle in a combat division.

Just as science and invention played a far larger part in World War II than in World War I, they also will play a larger part in World War III if it comes. The technician, the man with the mechanical know-how, who will keep the scientific tools in working order, will be even more essential than the heroic, rifle-carrying, doughboy of the combat divisions.

* * *

As long as congress attempts to legislate in the interests of one or more pressure groups, it is inviting trouble for all the people of the nation. No one group can be granted an advantage without encroaching on the rights and interest of others. The job for congress is to think and legislate in terms of all the people, never for a group no matter how important to the national economy that group may be. The Taft-Hartley act was legislation for all and serves as an illustration.



Checking Equipment Will Pay Dividends

Tractors Need Regular Servicing, Adjustment

Periodic checking of tractors and other farm equipment is a timely precaution that will prevent serious delays in the field, assure safer operation of machinery and make farm work easier.

Increasing the life of vital machine parts results in more units of useful production per machine and per part. This in turn means less cost per unit produced by the machine. A machine naturally wears out with use However, the rate of wear may be reduced greatly by a skillful operator who is exacting in his attention to adjustments for wear and for proper and systematic lubrications.

Careful inspection of tractors and other farm equipment at regular intervals will increase efficiency of the machinery.

A tractor in good repair, agricultural engineers estimate, can operate on two to three less gallons of fuel than the tractor with faulty operation. Adjustments in the carbureter, governor, timing, manifold and valves also will increase the efficiency

A careful check will disclose loose bolts and nuts as well as parts that need adjusting or replacing, thus eliminating the chance for costly breakdowns later. Every repair and adjustment should be made just as soon as the need is noted.

Farmers also are advised to equip their tractors with fire extinguishers and to provide secure holders for grease guns or other servicing tools carried on the machine. Loose accessories may cause falls or result in a tragedy.

Hitchhiking Pests

"Hitchhiking" insects, taking advantage of the frequency and speed of modern airplane flights, offer a continual threat to areas of the nation now free from certain insect pests. A continual watch must be kept at airports in infested areas to assure that "hitchhiking" insects do not move from one part of the United States to another or leap easily across international boundaries via the airplane.

Last summer, inspectors of the bureau of entomology and plant quarantine intercepted the projected flight of thousands of Japanese beetles trying to hitchhike by airplane from beetle infested airports in Washington, Baltimore, Philadelphia, New York and Newark. These beetles threatened to move into beetle free sections of the United States.

Inspectors closely checked more than 7,000 airplane flights and supervised the application of a thin film of DDT from aerosols over hundreds of commercial and military planes. The beetles' favorite food plants in the immediate vicinity of the airports were sprayed, using mist blowers for the job. The summer's program was the most comprehensive ever attempted to prevent beetle spread, and yielded the largest number of interceptions for any season since this type of control work became necessary.

Production of Citrus Shows Steady Increase

Production of citrus fruits in the United States has about doubled each 10 years of the last 40, a department of agriculture report indicates, with prospects that the record will continue to climb.

California and Florida produce more than 90 per cent of the oranges. Florida and Texas account for 90 per cent of the grapefruit. Almost the entire commercial crop of lemons is grown in California.

YOUNG FROCK WITH SCOOPED NECK

Dress-up Frock

Youthful and completely fascinating — a dress-up frock for juniors with a pretty scooped neckline and shaped peplum that's longer in back. Try a gay flowered fabric or dark sheer, and add your favorite jewelry.

* * *

Pattern No. 8254 is for sizes 11, 12, 13, 14, 16 and 18. Size 12, 4¼ yards of 35-inch.

The Spring and Summer FASHION gives you lots of ideas for a smart wardrobe. Special features, fashion tips, free pattern printed inside the book. 25 cents.

SEWING CIRCLE PATTERN DEPT.
530 South Wells St. Chicago 7, Ill.
Enclose 25 cents in coins for each pattern desired.
Pattern No._____ Size_____
Name_____
Address_____

2,500 Year Quest

Leading thinkers, scholars and scientists have been seeking to determine the correct size and shape of the earth ever since the days of the Greek philosopher, Pythagoras, who expounded his theories on the earth as a sphere about 550 B. C. Noted names have followed him through the centuries. Eratosthenes of Alexandria, Egypt, (275-195 B. C.) was the first known writer to describe and apply a method for using the sun as a measuring tool to get more information on the earth's size and shape. The findings of the American, John F. Hayford, of the coast and geodetic survey, early in the 1900's generally are conceded to be the most precise yet obtained in the 2,500 year quest.

COMMON SENSE.. proved thousands upon thousands of times! ALL-VEGETABLE LAXATIVE
● In NR (Nature's Remedy) Tablets, there are no chemicals, no minerals, no phenol derivatives. NR Tablets are different—act different. Purely vegetable—a combination of 10 vegetable ingredients formulated over 50 years ago. Uncoated or candy coated, their action is dependable, thorough, yet gentle, as millions of NR's have proved. Get a 25¢ box. Use as directed.
Nature's Remedy NR TO-NIGHT TOMORROW ALRIGHT
ALWAYS CARRY TUMS QUICK RELIEF FOR ACID INDIGESTION

YOUR IRON FAIRLY glides
QUICK ELASTIC HOT STARCH IN 30 SECONDS
NO BOILING NO STICKING
MAKES IRONING EASY

OUT OF PAWN! Genuine DIAMONDS
Direct to You—at Amazing Savings! Over 100,000 satisfied customers—Sold with Iron-Clad Money-Back Guarantee. Order from this ad. Write for FREE ILLUSTRATED CATALOG.
1/5 CARAT $49 $125 Value Tax Incl.
1/2 CARAT $95 $300 Value Tax Incl.
BERMAN'S COLLATERAL LOAN BANK
Dept. WG, 536-38 W. Balto. St., Balto. 1, Md.

A Times Want Ad Brings Results

Advertisement

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

Three Mighty Important Ideas

Maybe you read, where a great encyclopedia has sorted all basic ideas into a few select groups. Under the letter "T" they have:

Temperance - Truth - Tyranny.

Sounds like a funny combination. And to philosophize a little, notice that Truth is in the center—between Tyranny and Temperance.

Now and then you hear folks criticize temperate people who enjoy a moderate glass of beer... who talk about "two beers" getting some one into trouble, and claim: "There ought to be a law!"

Then Truth steps in between, and points out that two beers never got anybody into trouble—and that somebody's trying to distort the facts. No, there shouldn't be a law —there should be Truth.

From where I sit, those ideas are arranged just right. Temperance on one side, Tyranny on the other—and Truth in the middle—seeing that Tyranny never encroaches upon Temperance.

Joe Marsh

Copyright, 1948, United States Brewers Foundation

It's Picnic TIME. . . . .

A visit to our Bakery will insure a successfull Picnics. Pack your basket with our fresh, wholesome—

- Enriched Bread
- Tasty Buns
- Delicious Pies
- Cakes
- Cookies
- Doughnuts
- Rolls, Bismarks

Stop in when you are in Garner and take home an assortment of our nice Bakery Goods.

Garner Bakery

Mr. and Mrs. Otto Lehmann

Garner, Iowa

Felco Feeds

Mixed Daily

A good stock of the following on hand at all times;

Starter & Growing Mash

Laying Mash

Pig & Sow Meal

Hog Balancer

FORAGE CROP

Klemme Coop. Grain Company

"The Farmers Elevator"

Glen Bridges, Manager

KLEMME LOCAL NEWS

Mrs. Wesley Patterson and Paige returned home Monday from Missouri Valley.

Wesley Patterson visited with his parents at Bancroft Saturday evening and Sunday.

Bruce Arnold, of Ames visited at the parental E. J. Arnold home over the week end.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Gibbs of Mason City visited at Anna Gibbs, Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Emil Patet were dinner guests Sunday at the Will Gast home in Garner.

Mr. and Mrs. Clark Jennings of Estherville, Iowa, visited at the Lee Jennings home last week.

Friday Shirley Stille was a patient in a Mason City hospital where she had her tonsils and adneoids removed.

Charlotte Lewis, who was a Senior this year in the Klemme Schools is employed at the Jim Larson home this summer.

Douglas, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Jones, entered the Mercy hospital this morning for an operation.

Mr. and Mrs. Donn Gibbs and Rosemary of Clear Lake spent Monday at the Sumner Trumbell home.

Mrs. Lulu Lawhorn of Garner came Sunday and visited until Tuesday at the George Lawhorn home.

Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Wilcox of Ames spent the week end in Klemme at the C. G. Waterman home.

Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Conklin of Goodell spent Sunday visiting with Mrs. Christie and Sumner Trumbells.

Mr. and Mrs. Archie Conklin and family of Marion, Iowa visited with relatives at the Trumbell home this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Leo Cuypers of Dickey, North Dakota, Mr. and Mrs. Archie Christie of Seattle, Washington, visited over Sunday at the Sumner Trumbells.

Miss Irene Menage left last week for Rock Rapids where she has a position as receptionist and office girl of an eye specialist.

Dinner guests Sunday at the Frank Ward home were Mrs. Ida Ridder and son Walter of Leland; and Mr. and Mrs. Ben Ridder of Liberty. Afternoon visitors were Wm. Kulper and Miss Lydia Beier of Waterloo; Mr. and Mrs. Herald Ridder of Nora Springs, and Mr. and Mrs. Emil Beier.

KLEMME LOCAL NEWS

Roy Jacobs was glad to be able to come home from the hospital at Mason City, Saturday.

Mrs. Vernon Bisom and baby, Mary Rebecca, came home from the hospital Thursday morning.

Mrs. Rosa Mitchell came Sunday morning from Swea City to spend the Decoration Day week with her Klemme relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Musefelt of Clarion came Sunday and visited at her sister's, Mrs. Mary Waterman until Monday P. M.

Mr. and Mrs. John Clements and sons drove to Estherville and Armstrong Sunday for a visit with relatives.

Mrs. John Cutshall suffered a stroke Thursday morning so was taken to the hospital at Belmond in the Wellemeyer ambulance.

Mrs. P. M. Wilson of Ames arrived Wednesday morning for a visit at the Dr. A. H. Dulmes home.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Carson of New Hartford visited over the week end at the parental Hilma Johnson home.

Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Bradford of Mason City spent the week end at the parental Harry Gibbs home here.

Novella Bredbenner is enjoying a little vacation in Klemme, after attending school at Cedar Falls this past year.

Dr. and Mrs. Dulmes and Dick went to Grundy Center over the Decoration Day week end for a visit with relatives.

Mrs. Mildred Day went home with Dorance Day and family Sunday afternoon and visited over Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Anderson and children of Charles City visited with relatives in Klemme over the week end.

Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Gimer of Renwick attended the funeral for Mrs. Hummel Wednesday afternoon, and also visited with many old friends in Klemme.

Dean Jacobs, who is home from attending college at Cedar Falls, will be employed at the Northern Lumber Company this summer.

Decoration Day Mr. and Mrs. Paul Grange and Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Keeper of Mason City had dinner at the Henry Keeper home.

Mr. and Mrs. P. M. Wilson will leave Ames about the fifteenth of June for Des Moines, where they will be for the next two months.

Mr. and Mrs. George Thieman and Mr. and Mrs. Herman Priebe went to Marion, Iowa on Saturday, to visit relatives until Tuesday.

Mr. C. C. Schaefer and Mrs. Floyd Wilson from Marble Rock, and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hanson from Kanawha called at the Emil Beier home Sunday afternoon.

Miss Novella Bredbenner went to Ames Monday to attend the wedding of a college friend. She will also visit friends in Des Moines before returning to Klemme.

Dwight Hummel and family drove to Des Moines for the week end for a visit with friends. Janice stayed there for a longer visit.

Mrs. Winifred Kothenbeutel of Brainard, Minnesota, Dean Merkel of Forest City, Mrs. Lyle Dolder and baby, Susan Kay of Gowrie were guests at Ed. Christains Monday, May 31st.

LaRayne Stille of Mason City; Emma Terhifen entertained to dinner Sunday at the Stille home, Don Stille of Los Angeles, Cal.; Miss Ruth Stille of Des Moines; Lee Anderson and family of Charles City; Mr. and Mrs. Lorraine Stille of Mason City; Mr. and Mrs. Lester Stille and Lois of Klemme.

GARNER CLINIC

GARNER, IOWA

Dr. E. M. Christensen, M.D.
Physician & Surgeon, Ph. 18
EYES TESTED — GLASSES FITTED

Dr. A. G. Landon, D.D.S.
Dentist, Ph. 207

Arthur Wellemeyer
FUNERAL DIRECTOR

—with long experince and best equipment.

PROMPT AMBULANCE SERVICE

Phone 23-R2 Day or Night

Klemme Iowa

KLEMME LOCAL NEWS

Mrs. Daisy Lemke enjoyed having the following come for dinner Monday after attending the Decoration Day exercises: Rudy Hefte and family of Britt, Vernon McLaughlin and family of Belmond and the Albert Etchen family.

Meet the gallant crew of the ill-fated Maria Carlota! Read "Faith On the High Sea" in the American Weekly, the great magazine distributed with SUNDAY'S CHICAGO HERALD-AMERICAN.

Gerald Koerner went to Dow City Saturday to visit at the George Rule home. Mrs. Koerner and children returned home with him Sunday after having been at the home of her parents for the past week because of the illness of her father.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Mueller of Des Moines were calling on old Klemme friends Thursday afternoon. When visiting with Paul we asked about their son Herbert, and found out he is in Germany, in the service, having arrived May 10th.

Memorial Day, Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Jorgenson, and Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Jorgenson, Jr. and family, and Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Liebendorfer of Mason City were guests at a picnic supper with Bob Liebendorfer family in Clear Lake.

Bernard Smid entertained the following at his home here Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. Emery Schaefer, Roger and Harvey of Forest City; Mr. and Mrs. Edw. Rall of Hanover, Ill.; Miss Pat Smead of Clear Lake; Otto Smid of San Francisco, Cal.; and Henry Smid of Klemme.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Jennings and son, Ray, left this week for a two weeks trip into South Dakota and northern Minnesota, and Canada. They will visit Mr. Jennings' sister and mother in Sioux Falls, South Dakota, friends and relatives in Huron, South Dakota, and Mrs. Jennings' brother and family and parents at Aberdeen, South Dakota.

PHOTOGRAPHS

Live Forever

RUSSELL
Photo Studio

Next to J. C. Penny Co.
Ph. 2272 Mason City, Ia.

AVERY

—The—
Theatre Beautiful
Garner, Iowa

Tues.-Weds.-Thu.
(THREE DAYS)
David O. Selznick's production of Margaret Mitchell's story of the Old South.

GONE WITH THE WIND

CLARK GABLE
LESLIE HOWARD
OLIVIA DeHAVILLAND
VIVIEN LEIGH
IN TECHNICOLOR

JUNE 4, 5
Friday - Saturday
APACHE ROSE
Starring
ROY ROGERS

Sun. - Mon. - Tues.
JUNE 6, 7, 8
A Gripping Story
Of Sacrifice
WALTER PIDGEON
And
DEBORAH KERR
In
IF WINTER COMES

Wednesday
(ONE DAY ONLY)
Starring
NELSON EDDY
And
ILONA MASSEY
NORTHWEST OUTPOST
With
JOSEPH SCHILDKRAUT

DEAD STOCK

PROMPTLY REMOVED

Britt Rendering Co

Dept. of Agr. Lic. No. 22

WE PAY PHONE CHARGE

KLEMME Phone 700
GARNER Phone 4000

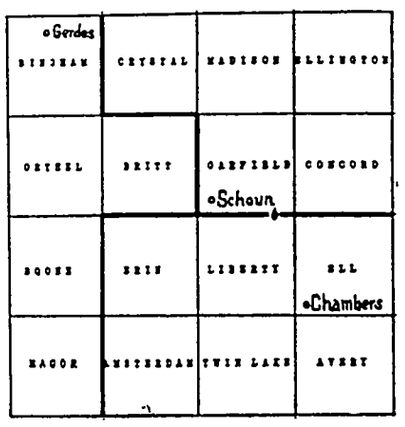
Our Trucks Are Steam Cleaned After Each Load

TANKAGE AND MINERALIZED FEED FOR SALE AT OUR PLANT

To The Voters O Hancock County

I wish to express my sincere appreciation for the s port I have received in the past from the voters of Hanc County.

The Supervisors of Hancock County are nominated elected at large but serve in districts. A very large prop tion of the voters have at various times expressed a w that Hancck County could be devided into three superv districts and elected by districts. The law says that tricts should be established in proportion to population this could be accomplished by using approximately present supervised districts dividing on township lines.



This would Britt and five to ships in one dist on the west, popu tion 5,393. Garner five townships in other district on east, population 5, and Klemme, Goo and Kanawha, and townships in the so and east district a population of 4,

The supervisors have the authority to establish th districts at the January meeing but it has never been d

If I am nominated and elected I shall accept the as a mandate of the voters for a division of Hancock Cou in Supervisor districts.

"I ask your support for the nomination in apprecia of the efficient services I have thus far rendered and desire and ability to carry out the road program establ ed by the township trustees, also the building of the Fa To-Market Road across the county from east to west thro Klemme to Corwith.

If you are in favor of the improvement on east street for which I have worked hard, your endorsement vote will be appreciated."

Yours Sincerely,

J. A. CHAMBERS

9 REASONS WH I'M FOR GOV. ROBERT BLUE

ROADS—Since the end of the war, the State has contracted spend $40,345,820 to improve Iowa's farm-to-market roads primary roads. The farm-to-market road system has been increa from 10,000 to 34,951 miles. A road equalization program has b set up.

SCHOOLS—The last legislature appropriated $12,980,000 schools. State aid is now at the highest in Iowa's history. Io is one of the 11 states which has increased its per pupil supp to meet the national average of rising costs.

AID TO CITIES AND TOWNS—For the first time in history, ci and towns now receive State aid. The State repays the local ta units $1,586,200 to help cover the costs of property tax exempti to veterans.

NEW JOBS—Over 250 new factories have located in Iowa, ro ing in several additional millions of dollars in pay rolls.

SOIL CONSERVATION — Iowa is cooperating in the Pick-Development plan and in local conservation programs.

SOCIAL WELFARE—Benefits to the aged, to the deaf and bli and aid to dependent children have been increased. Occupational disease law and a second injury fund act have been passed.

HOSPITALS—A program to provide hospitals for local counties has been adopted.

LAKES—$2,500,000 lake and river improvement program has been instituted.

SOUND ADMINISTRATION—Governor Blue's sound, wise administration has saved the tax payers money while giving Iowa good, efficient government.

VOTE FOR
GOV. ROBERT D. BLU
REPUBLICAN PRIMARY
MONDAY, JUNE 7

CIAL
UNTY
ER

THE KLEMME TIMES

ume 53. KLEMME, IOWA, JUNE 9, 1948 Number 30.

pervisor Race Goes To The County Convention

DSLIDE FOR BEARDSLEY SNOWS UNDER GOV. ROBT. BLUE

rghton And Missman In Close Race For County Coroner

llowing Monday's primary ion early returns indicated S. Beardsley of New Vir- held a lead over incum- Robt. E. Blue of Eagle e and as returns came in s a landslide for Beards- who was supported by the Bureau, labor and school sts of the state.

County Returns

terest in the county center- round the race for Super- with five candidates in field and in the Coroner between Kenneth Bough- Britt, incumbent against Frank Missman of Klemme. hton won by a narrow mar- f 114 votes of a total of with Missman getting 1282. e of the five in the super- race polled the necessary r cent. Ben F. Greiman, of ty lead with 783 votes Clinton D. Daniels of Gar- ext with 719 votes. Hoad- received 556; Chambers, in- ent with 470 and Williams rwith with 299.

e County convention will be d upon to name the nomi- n for County Supervisor. e vote was rather light over county. Ell township cast votes, which was over 100 from usual elections.

Farewell Supper

day evening the Liberty day Social held a seven k supper at the church ent honoring Bernice and is Tanner, who are to leave sday for their new home lifornia. As soon as they and choose a location, are planning on building new home.

Long Rooted Radish

day Mrs. A. G. Koerner n ordinary red radish to Times office that had a root ches long! Perhaps dry er caused the vegetable k water further down in round. A couple of radish- e that would make a fish- e.

Vation Bible School

Methodist Bible school nd this week Friday, with ic which will be held Fri- oon at the Liberty Church. one is invited to come. two covered dishes, sand- and table service for amily. Ice Ceam and cof- will be furnished by the y schools. Then on next y morning at ten o'clock closing program for the S. will be held at the e Methodist Church. The ent was 102 pupils, the attendance of any Va- Bible School.

HELLO, FOLKS!

nd Mrs. Wayne Badker parents of a 6 lbs. 3 oz. y born Tuesday evening, at the Mercy Hospital City.

nd Mrs. Harvey Barke- the proud parents of a lb. 3 oz. baby boy born on day, June 2nd, 1948 at e Memorial Hospital at . The new arrival has med Lon Harvey.

ANNUAL HARTBECK REUNION HED AT WAVERLY JUNE 2ND

Thirty-Five Relatives From Klemme Attended The Gathering

The annual Hartbeck Reunion was held Wednesday, June 2 at Waverly with 80 present. Of this number 35 were from Klemme and community.

The day was ideal and the picnic was enjoyed by all.

Those from here who attended were: Mrs. Esther Barz; Mr. and Mrs. Edmund Josten and family; Mr. and Mr. Milvern Barz; Mr. and Mrs. Louis Jurgameyer and Leland.

Esther Mae Hartbeck; Mr. and Mrs. Walter Rosendahl and family; Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Barz and family; Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Barz and family; Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Barz and family; Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Greiman and family; and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Barz.

Garner Reformed Church

REV. R. D. STUEBBE

ZION CHURCH:

Sunday.

Worship Services at 9:00 A. M.
Sunday School at 10:00.

PEACE CHURCH:

Sunday School at 10:10.
Worship Services at 11:00 A. M.

Will Build New Home

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Schmidt vacated their house on their farm west of town Monday and moved into their garage, as they have sold their house to be moved away. The Schmidts will build a new modern house this summer.

"TOKY" AHRENKEIL IS NEW SUPERINTENDENT OF KLEMME SCHOOLS

Mr. Taalkeus Ahrenkeil, principal of the Hubbard, Iowa high school, has been secured to fill the post of Superintendent of the Klemme Schools.

Mr. Ahrenkeil, who is a son of Mrs. Agnes Ahrenkeil, is well known to most residents of Klemme as he is a former Goodell boy and was a star basket ball player in High School and at Drake University. During the war he was athletic director at an army camp in California. He has a fine teaching record and had to get a release from the board at Hubbard who had already hired him for another year.

Mr. Ahrenkeil and family will move to Klemme as soon as living quarters are available.

ERNIE GERARDI TO MANAGE JEWELRY STORE AT DES MOINES

Ernest Gerardi, who has been the manager of the Helzeberg jewelry store at Kansas City, Kansas the past year, Tuesday took over the management of the new Helzeberg store at Des Moines.

Mr. Gerardi has been with the Helzeberg Co. for the past few years and was formerly at Wichita, Kan. before coming to Kansas City.

Klemme Boy Scouts Will Attend Field Day At Twin Lakes

A Boy Scout Field Day will be held at West Twin Lake on Saturday, June 12th. Boy Scouts from the following towns are expected to attend the event: Klemme, Garner, Woden, Britt, Stilson, Corwith and Kanawha.

SCHMIDTS BUILDING LARGE LIVESTOCK BARN IN NORTH KLEMME

Albert Smidt and son, Luther, have begun construction on a large livestock barn on the Farm To Market Highway across the street north of the telephone office.

Concrete footings for the building have been run in and construction work on the building will start soon. The new building will be 40 x 80 in size with a 16 x 16 office addition in front.

Inside the building will be pens to accomodate 5 carloads of hogs. Convenient alley ways will be installed and a new scale will also be installed, with the beam inside the office. An overhead loft will store 500 bales of hay. A sprinkler system will be installed for cooling and the building will be adequately ventilated.

Outside pens will also be built next to the railroad tracks and an alley way will connect the barn and pens with the Schmidt farm at the north edge of Klemme.

HOW TO FIGHT WEEDS IN '48

Sodium chlorate has been used for weed killing purposes for 25 years and still has a place in a weed control.

E. P. Sylweser, extension botanist at Iowa State College, says that for some specific purposes, sodium chlorate may be far better than 2,4-D. Sodium chlorate is especially good for controlling deep-rooted perennial weeds in small areas. It is effective against such weeds as quack grass, Russian knapweed, leafy spurge and devil's shoestring.

Use the material as a spray at the rate of 1 pound of sodium chlorate to each gallon of water Spray the weedy vegetation until the plants are dripping wet. Pressures from 50 to 100 pounds are advisable. Usually 1 to 3 gallons of solution are used per square rod, depending on the density of foliage.

While it is a very effective weed killer, sodium chlorate has its disadvantages. It is not a selective weed kille r because it kills all vegetation with which it comes in contact. It is corrosive to fences, is flammable, poisonous to livestock and may sterilize the soil from 1 to 3 years. But, Sylwester says, it is the best chemical to use for a quick knockout of all weeds if relatively high cost and soil sterilization are not important factors.

Pink And Blue Party Held Saturday Afternoon

Mrs. Verner Priebe held a miscellaneous Pink and Blue shower at her home Saturday afternoon in honor of Mrs. Wayne Badker.

The afternoon was spent informally and several games were enjoyed after which the hostess assisted by Mrs. Werner Schlawin served a nice lunch.

Mrs. Badker received many nice gifts from her friends and relatives.

The Methodist Church

Herschel E. Harvey, Pastor

KLEMME

All Church Picnic on Friday at noon at Liberty. Ball game to follow the dinner. Bring a basket lunch.

SUNDAY

Worship at 10.00 A. M.
Program by the children of the Vacation Church School. Theme: "Our Father's World."
Youth Fellowship at 7 p. m.

LIBERTY

See above for the Picnic for all church families and friends, Friday at noon.

Worship at Klemme Sunday morning at 10 A. M.

No Sunday School classes for either place on Sunday.

WILL STAGE SURPRISE FIRE DRILL THIS WEEK

Some evening this week there will be a "surprise fire drill." Firemen are asked to be on the alert to see how quickly they can assemble and get into action.

Caution

In the past "fire fans" have caused some interference by following the fire truck too closely. People are asked to give way to the truck and to stay away a distance.

Expects To Build New Home

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Back and sons moved out of the Mrs. Fred Kothenbeutel house Wednesday as it had been sold to Dan Kaduce. At present they are without a home but expect to build a new house in Klemme. Mr. Back is rooming with Frank Kluckhohn; Curly and Billy are rooming at Mrs. Daisy Lemke's and Mrs. Back is staying with her daughter, Mrs. Franklyn Buseman.

Damage Fence Insulators

While the Kenneth Curry family was in town Saturday night someone on a bicycle smashed several insulators on their electric fence which was not noticed until Sunday morning when the cattle went over the fence and into the oats field. Further damage was also done in the garden where there were numerous bicycle tracks.

Douglas, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Jones, returned home today from the Mercy hospital where he underwent a major operation.

Mrs. Worthie Usher, Carol and Worthie of Rowan, and Miss Helen Harding of Estherville spent Tuesday afternoon and were dinner guests at Grandpa and Grandma Tom Blanks.

LEWIS-CHRISTIE

Charles Christie, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Christie and Charlotte Lewis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chance Lewis were united in marriage at the Evangelical and Reformed Church at Klemme at 8 o'clock Friday evening, June 4th. Rev. C. Grosshuesch performed the double ring ceremony. Richard Finders and Donna Greiman were witnesses. Both the groom and bride are graduates of the Klemme High School. They will make their home on the Geo. Christie farm.

Celebrated Second Birthday

Mr. and Mrs. Melvin R. Schaefer, and Mr. and Mrs. Frances Buseman were supper guests at the Henry Ward home Friday evening in honor of Celeste's second birthday.

Burr Church and Maxine Kastler and Terry came in the evening to help Celeste celebrate Celeste received many nice gifts.

The men enjoyed shooting with bows and arrows as Mr. Ward has purchased a new archery outfit and enjoys the sport.

KLEMME FARMER INVENTS ROTARY CULTIVATOR SHIELD

Ben F. Greiman, Klemme farmer, who is noted for his experiments in producing a new variety of soy beans, has also turned to the inventive field.

Mr. Grieman invented and has patents pending on a rotary shield for attaching to a corn cultivator to replace the Conventional fin-type of shield which has been used for many years. Greiman's shield is being tried out by a number of farmers who praise it highly. It prevents clods of dirt from rolling onto the corn and also helps mulch the soil.

Mr. Greiman's rotary shield is very simple and will be inexpensive to manufacture.

DON'T MAR YOUR VACATION WITH AN AUTO ACCIDENT

The Iowa Department of public safety sends out the reminder that the vacation driver is already tuning up his fishing tackle and golf clubs for the annual 'get away from it all" trip. The department says that means more cars on the road and more accidents.

Safety experts say that more than 95 per cent of the traffic accidents are preventable. In practically every case the driver is at fault one way or another. And the most prominent fault is the outright violation of a traffic law.

With the prospect that the highways will be clogged with pleasure seekers this summer, the department urges all drivers to improve their chances of returning home safely by following the rules of the road. One of the easiest traffic laws to observe should be to obey signs, but department accident figures for 1947 show that motorists' disregard for signs caused 1,470 accidents in the state during the year.

In 712 cases the driver disregarded a stop sign or signal, while a stated speed limit was exceeded 373 times. Drivers caused 202 accidents by failing to observe a stop-and-go signal. Illegal U turns and passing on hills and curves also resulted in accidents that could have been avoided if traffic signs had been obeyed. The Department officials suggest that Iowa motorists follow the National Safety Council's slogan for June, "Signs of Life—Read Them."

AT LONG LAST, SCHOOL BUSES COME HOME TO ROOST!

Some over a year ago the school board purchased the north half of the Etchen Garage as a bus barn in which to house the three Klemme school buses. Since that time the buses have been parked outside.

Monday evening the members of the school board took out the front of the building in order to get an opening large enough to run the school buses into the building. Now they are all inside.

The front will have to be rebuilt and a large door installed.

FIRST BAND CONCERT OF SEASON SATURDAY NIGHT

All Band Instrument Players Asked To Attend Rehearsal Friday Evening

Stanley Bulka has announced that there will be band practice at the school house Friday evening at 7:30 o'clock and asks all school band members, all old timers and anyone who can play an instrument to come.

Concert Saturday Evening

The first weekly band concert of the season will be given on Main Street this Saturday evening.

Small Fire At Joe's Place Thursday Caused No Damage

The Fire Department made a run to Joe's Place Thursday afternoon in response to a call. A stove in the basement flared up endangering the ceiling. However, the blaze was extinguished before the fire boys arrived and the damage was practically nil.

Evangelical & Reformed Church

Calvin Grosshuesch, Pastor

SUNDAY

10 A. M. Morning Worship.
11 A. M. Sunday School.
7 P. M. Young Peoples Bible Class.

MONDAY

8:30 P. M. Adult Bible Class. Rev. Robert Jacobs of Manly is our guest speaker.

MONDAY-FRIDAY

8:00 A. M. Bible School.

Planning A Campaign To Make Klemme Fly-Free

VACATIONERS URGED TO USE CAUTION IN WATER RECREATION

Iowa lakes and streams furnish recreation for thousand of fishermen, boatman, and swimmers, but are also the scene of almost daily drownings, mostly caused by carelessness.

The American Red Cross suggests the following hints on water safety: Wait an hour or two after eating before going swimming. Don't stay in water before becoming tired. Swim only in supervised swimming places. Don't overestimate the distance you are able to swim. River currents are dangereous; don't try to buck them. Use the safest method possible to rescue in trouble in the water; use a boat or throw some floating object if possible. When a person accidentally falls into the water, he should remove clothing before attempting to swim out.

There are more than 10,000 pleasure boats on Iowa's inland waters, and a few simple rules governing their use will prevent many tragedies. Iowa laws require that all boats for hire must pass an annual inspection. All inspected boats have a small metal tag attached stating the passenger capacity of the boat. Under no condition exceed the passenger capacity of the craft. Do not use an unseaworthy boat. Do not go on the water when a storm is approaching or when the water is rough. Don't wear boots or other hampering clothing when in a boat. Do not purposely rock a boat or permit any horseplay by other occupants.

If you are unfortunate enough to capsize stay with the boat. Secure a firm hand-hold and wait for help or drift ashore with the craft. If there are two If there are two persons when the boat capsizes, hold hands across the bottom of the boat. If you lose an oar do not jump overboard to retrieve it without first dropping the anchor. The boat may drift away faster than you can swim. Never stand up in the boat to hoist anchor. Do not put a large motor on a small boat.

There are no finer sports than swimming, boating, and fishing, and everyone can enjoy these pleasures safely if good judgment is exercised.

THE FARMER OF TODAY

The farmer of today is a very quality minded individual, says Nick Venechuk, quality fieldman for Hancock County.

They are doing a very good job in keeping out sediment in milk and cream. Here are a few of the things: Keeping their barns clean, spraying all their buildings for flies and other insects; washing all their utensils twice a day, and rinsing them all in warm water with a sterilizer added before using; straining their milk, cream and water whenever it shows signs of rust; keeping their cooling tanks clean; and lid on tight at all times and washing the can that goes to the creamery, and just before using.

For all these extra precautions they are not only meeting the standards set up by the state and Federal government, but are getting the highest market prices for their dairy products.

OMELET

A truck load of eggs and a farm tractor featured in a collision in Harlan last week. Hundreds of eggs were scrambled, but the two drivers involved, Dick Paulson and Gerald Kluewer, escaped without serious injury.

PUBLIC INVITED TO MEETING AT COMMUNITY HALL FRIDAY NIGHT

Campaign Is Endorsed By State And Local Health Officers

Shall we make Klemme "Fly-Free" and a more pleasant and healthful place in which to live? Shall we take precautions against polio, typhoid and tuberculosis. An affirmative answer is entirely up to the people of Klemme and community.

In order to know all about D.D.T. spraying for fly control in Klemme, the Civic Club is sponsoring a public meeting to be held at the Community Hall this Friday evening at 8:00 o'clock. A man of authority will be present to explain how Klemme can be made Fly-Free and what it will cost the average home and business place.

Flies have long been recognized as an annoyance during the warm summer months. In more recent years, research scientists have discovered that they are definitely carriers of diseases, including typhoid, ttuberculosis, dysentery and summer complaints in infants. There is also evidence that they may be charged with helping spread infantile paralysis. This should be reason enough for every resident of Klemme to lend wholehearted support to the program.

Last year a number of property owners had DDT sprayed around their premises, while many home owners painted their screens with DDT, with the result that there were very few flies in Klemme last summer. A number of Klemme business places have indicated they were so pleased with the spraying last year that they will again have the job done this year. year. The cost is not a great deal and if we can prevent just one case of infantile paralysis from entering our community, that would more than pay for the work.

You, as a citizen of Klemme, should come to the meeting on Friday night whether you intend to follow the program or not. This is entirely up to the individual.

FIRST BALL GAME UNDER LIGHTS AT KLEMME JUNE 17TH

The first of a series of soft ball games to be played at Klemme's new lighted field will be next Thursday night, June 17th, when Crystal Lake meets Klemme at 8:30 o'clock.

Klemme has one of the best lighting systems in North Iowa and a large crowd is expected to turn out for the first game.

On June 24 R. C. plays at Klemme and on July 1 Garner meets Klemme.

Improving House

Harold Kothenbeutel is improving his house in northeast Klemme. At present the house is raised and a basement will be excavated and the house set on new walls. Other interior improvements are contemplated to make the house modern. City water has already been piped to the house.

Eastern Star Held Mother And Daughter Banquet And

There were over 100 present at the Mother and Daughter banquet and program at the Eastern Star Chapter at Garner Wednesday evening. There were 32 present from Klemme.

The Rainbow Girls were present and added color to the program after the banquet. All present enjoyed a fine evening.

Cross Town by [illegible]

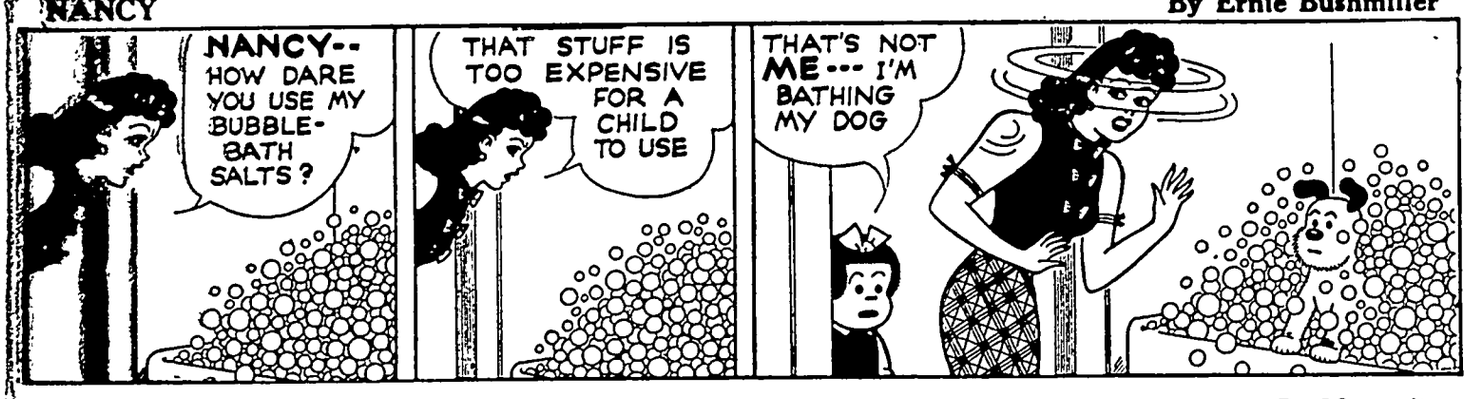
"JANEY AND I GET ALONG ALL RIGHT, MOTHER—BUT OUR DOLLS DON'T!"

Bobby Sox by Marty Links

"I COULD GO ON HEARING HIM THE REST OF THE NIGHT, COULDN'T YOU?"

NANCY

By Ernie Bushmiller



LITTLE REGGIE

By Margarita

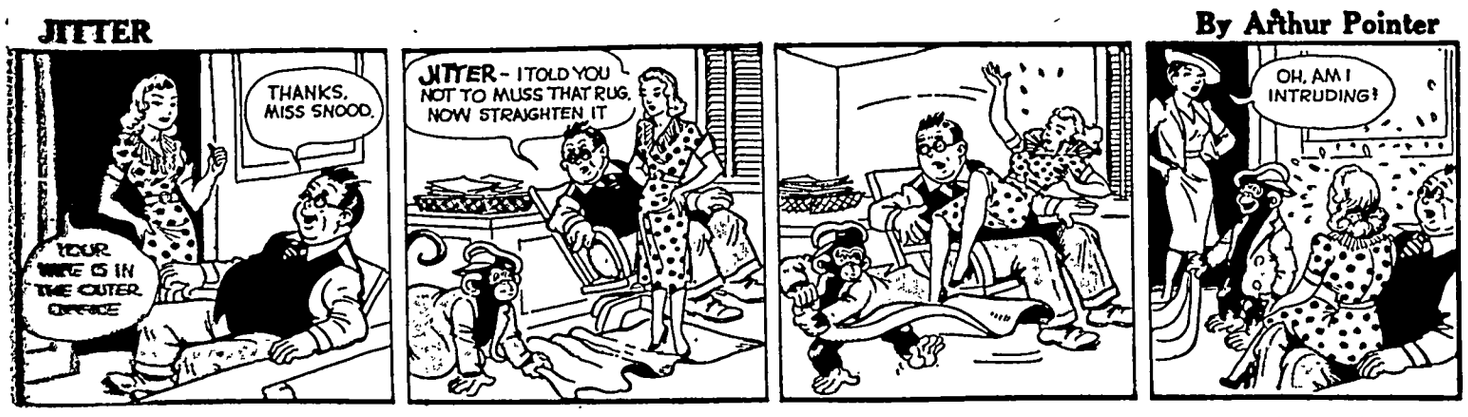
MUTT AND JEFF

By Bud Fisher

—WAITER, WHAT DO YOU CALL THE ROOSTER'S WIFE?
THE HEN, SIR!
AND WHAT DO YOU CALL THE CHILDREN OF THE ROOSTER AND HIS WIFE?
CHICKENS, SIR!
BUT WHAT DO YOU CALL THE CHICKENS BEFORE THEY ARE CHICKENS?
EGGS, SIR!
GOOD! BRING ME TWO ROAST ADULT EGGS!
?
OH, WELL, THIS IS MEATLESS TUESDAY ANYWAY!
CHICKEN $1.50
EGGS 30¢

JITTER

By Arthur Pointer



THANKS, MISS SNOOD.
YOUR WIFE IS IN THE OUTER OFFICE
JITTER - I TOLD YOU NOT TO MUSS THAT RUG. NOW STRAIGHTEN IT
OH, AM I INTRUDING?

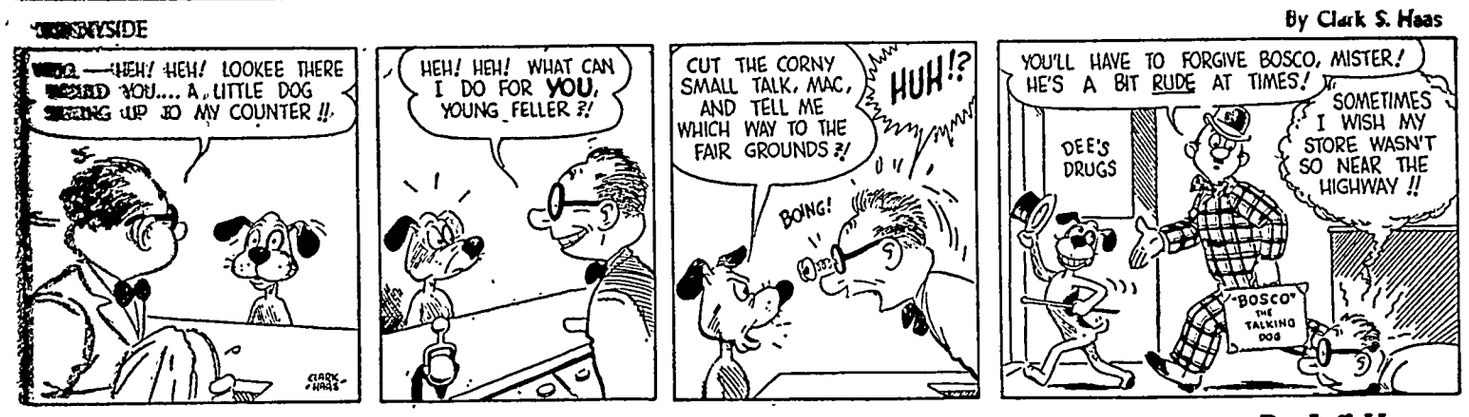
REG'LAR FELLERS

By Gene Byrnes

WHAT DO YOU THINK OF IT, JIMMIE?
RIGHT SHARP, AGGIE!
- BUT DON'T YOU THINK IT'S A BIT UNCOMFORTABLE FOR A BIRD? - OR A GOLD FISH?
WHAT?
I'LL TEACH YOU - TO INSULT MY NEW SPRING HAT!
SLAM!

BARNYARD

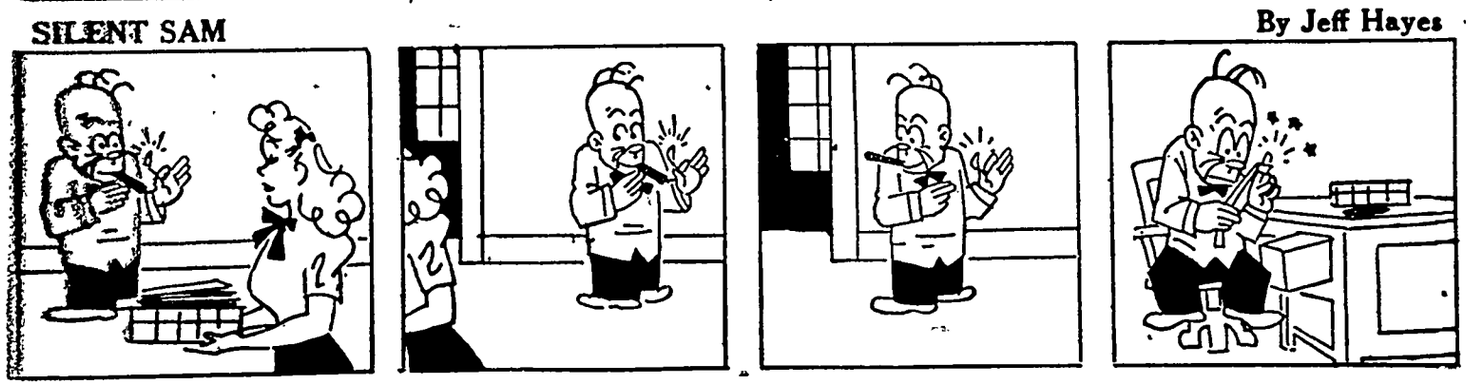
By Clark S. Haas



—HEH! HEH! LOOKEE THERE YOU.... A LITTLE DOG WALKING UP TO MY COUNTER !!
HEH! HEH! WHAT CAN I DO FOR YOU, YOUNG FELLER?!
CUT THE CORNY SMALL TALK, MAC, AND TELL ME WHICH WAY TO THE FAIR GROUNDS?!
BOING!
HUH!?
YOU'LL HAVE TO FORGIVE BOSCO, MISTER! HE'S A BIT RUDE AT TIMES!
DEE'S DRUGS
SOMETIMES I WISH MY STORE WASN'T SO NEAR THE HIGHWAY !!
"BOSCO" THE TALKING DOG

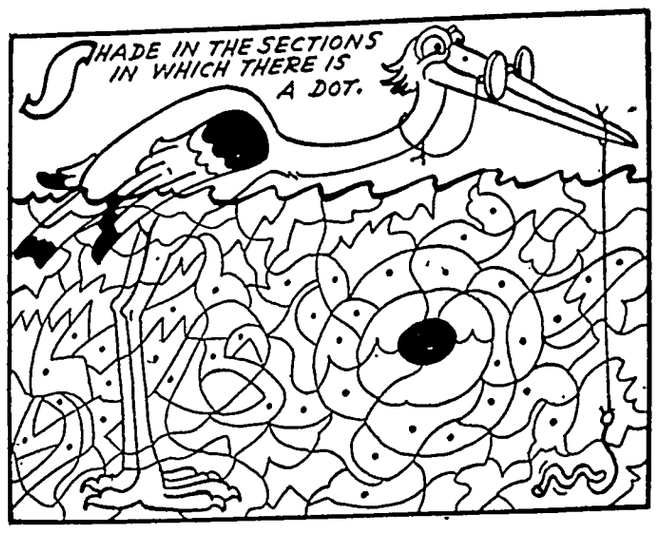
SILENT SAM

By Jeff Hayes

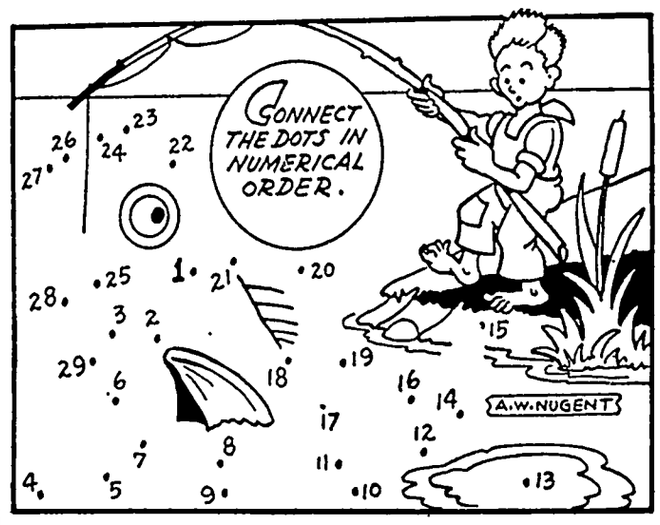


FUNLAND

BY A.W. NUGENT



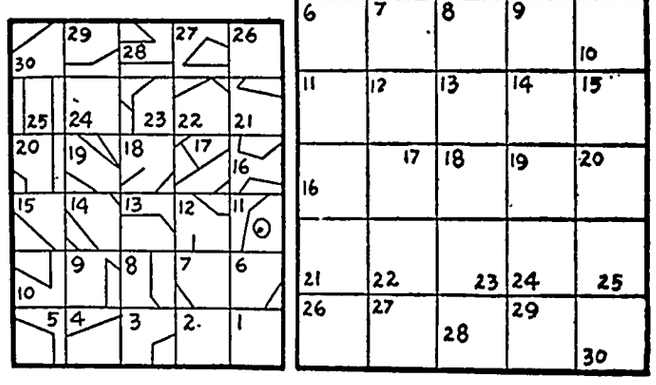
HEY KIDS: START WITH THE LETTER "R" AND ADD THE OTHER LETTERS IN "ROOSTER" TO SPELL MY NAME AND ALSO DRAW ME.



PENCIL FUN

DUPLICATE ALL THE LINES YOU SEE IN EACH SMALL SQUARE, IN THE EXACT POSITIONS IN THE LIKE NUMBERED LARGE SQUARES.

WHAT WILL YOU PRODUCE?



CROSSWORD PUZZLE

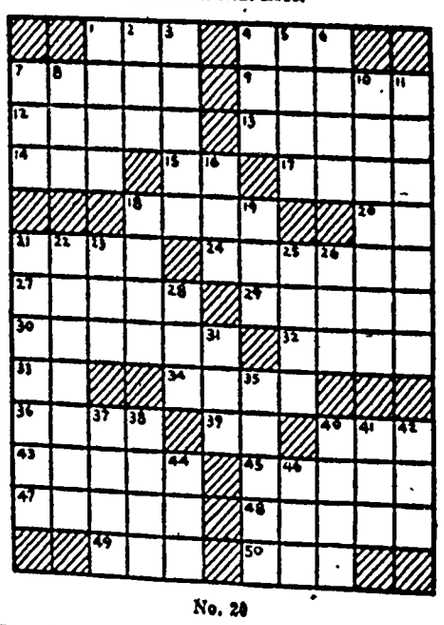
ACROSS

1 Distress signal
4 Mandate
7 Push
9 Heroic poems
12 Mohemmedan Bible
13 Country home (Eur.)
14 Still
15 Therefore
17 Observed
18 Capital of Switzerland
20 Public notice
21 Mass of floating ice
24 Bath house
27 Firearm
29 Slant
30 Influx
32 Youths
33 Earth as a goddess
34 Not firm
36 Wine receptacles
39 Nickel (sym.)
40 Fetish
43 Trend
45 Strange
47 Ingress
48 Belief
49 Boy's nickname
50 Female fowl

DOWN

1 Classify
2 Eggs
3 Meaning
4 Monetary unit (Bulg.)
5 Sacred bull
6 Artifice
7 Firmament
8 Garden tool
10 Freed of dirt
11 Shoes
16 Grampus
18 Inventor of telephone
19 Seize
21 Boat
22 Men who repair wires
23 Away
25 Girdle
26 Topaz humming bird
28 Goddess of dawn
31 Gained
35 Bird
37 Pilaster
38 Tree of apple family
40 Baking chamber
41 Honey insect
42 Old times (archaic)
44 Cereal grain
46 Metallic rock

Solution in Next Issue.

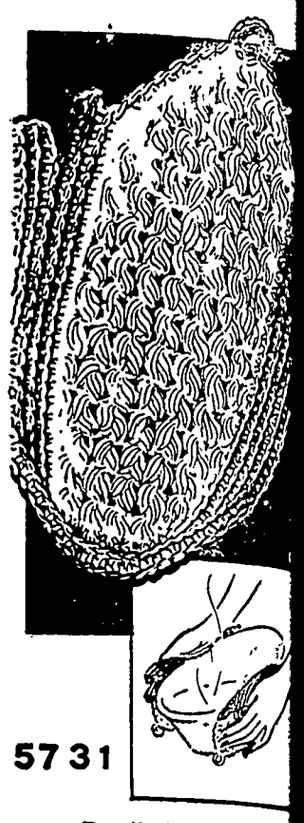


No. 20

Answer to Puzzle Number 19

P	A	N	I	C		S	L	A	T	S
A	B	A	C	A		H	A	B	I	T
S	E	V	E	N		A	C	U	T	E
S	L	Y		D	O	R		T	I	P
		L	I	N	K	S
C	U	B	E	D		S	I	V	E	R
A	T	O	M			P	O	R	E
R	E	B	U	S		P	A	M	E	D
		R	O	W	E	L
S	P	A		C	A	P		A	R	A
T	O	X	I	C		P	E	C	A	N
O	L	I	V	E		E	V	E	N	T
W	E	S	T	E	R	N		R	E	S	T	S

Corn Potholder Is Decorative



5731

Practical Potholder

An amusing and very practi potholder in the shape of an ear corn to brighten your kitchen. C cheted of yellow cotton in a pebb like stitch, the green leaves simple single crochet. Large enou to take care of all sizes of hot p

* * *

To obtain complete crocheting structions, stitch illustrations finishing directions for Corn holder (Pattern No. 5731)

Send 20 cents in coin, YO NAME, ADDRESS and PATTE NUMBER.

SEWING CIRCLE NEEDLEWOR 530 South Wells St. Chicago 7, I Enclose 20 cents for Pattern.

No._____
Name_____
Address_____

"Everybody loves SMACKS THE REALLY DELICIOUS COCONUT BA

STOP LIGHTNING DAMAGE PROT "National Quality" Systems Prevent Ligh Stroke from Occurring Write for FREE B "1a Lightning Protection Worth Provid NAT'AL LIGHTNING PROTECTION CO.

OUT OF PAW Genuine DIAMOND Direct to You—at A Savings! Over 100,000 customers—Sold with Iron Money-Back Guarantee. from this ad. Write for F ILLUSTRATED CATA 1/4 CARAT $49 1/2 CARAT $95 BERMAN'S COLLATERAL LOAN Dept. WG, 636-38 W. Balto. St.

710

Harsh Laxatives are NOT necessary for most people

The juice of a lemon in a glass water, when taken first thing on a ing, is all that most people need insure prompt, normal eliminat

No more harsh laxatives that irrit the digestive tract and impair nu tion! Lemon in water is good for y

Generations of Americans have ta lemons for health—and generati of doctors have recommended th They are rich in vitamin C; sup valuable amounts of B1 and P. T alkalinize; aid digestion.

Not too sharp or sour, lemon in wa has a refreshing tang—clears mouth, wakes you up. It's no purgative—simply helps your s tem regulate itself. Try it 10 da

USE CALIFORNIA SUNKIST LEMO

38% BRIGHTER TEETH in 7 days!

A McKESSON & ROBBINS PRO

THE FICTION CORNER

A CASE OF JITTERS

By WILLIAM CUTHBERT

NNY LISIK sat in the barber lf smiling as he fingered gh the pages of the magazine, g at the cartoons.

the mirror in front of him he the two men peer through the window. He expected that would move on once they saw Tony, the owner of the shop, there. Johnny's reputation as ber wasn't too good, and he id only one dissatisfied custo- all night.

denly it dawned on Johnny hese two men had appeared at indow a few minutes before. couldn't be mistaken. They had several weeks' stubble on faces, and hair was growing their ears and down their door opened and the men ed inside. Johnny winced. s almost eight o'clock. He'd to work overtime.

nny pushed himself out of the and noticed that both men as tall as he, but lean. He yes that were alert, but could some sleep. Beneath the h of whiskers were thin faces eeded a few square meals to fill out the sunken jaws. And od whiskbroom could be used vantage to remove some of ust from their clothing.

re the only barber here?" one e men snapped as he set a valise on a chair.

nny didn't like the man's tone. He hunched his broad lders, stretched to his full six and was tempted to toss the haggard looking gents out of shop, but decided that that t hurt Tony's business.

ah," answered Johnny cas- realizing that he had never the men in town before, "the of the shop took his wife out t, and I'm filling in for him."

l go first, Ed," the spokesman e two said as he began to re- his coat.

man called Ed grunted, "I like takin' this chance, Dick," flopped on a chair near the nd pulled the valise to him.

rget it," Dick grinned, "I feel with all this hair on me. A clean shave and haircut will s up."

ny walked to the door and d to pull down the shade. jumped to his feet knocking alise on the floor, his hand g to his coat pocket with the movement. "What are you that for?" he snapped men- y.

ny was stunned by the sud- outburst. He found his voice explained, "It's getting near time. I'm pulling the shades so that no one else will come giggled and said, "You've e jitters, Ed. We don't want else to come in here, do icion arose in Johnny's mind. en's names had a familiar Ed and Dick! Where had or heard these names link- ether before?

ent to the store window and down the big shade, and the men were hidden from the any passerby. He wished 't thought about the shades. an uneasy feeling now that alone with the two men.

aw the bolt lock on the in- the door and said, "That's Dick, we don't want anybody min' in here." With two long e reached the door and the bolt barrel into place.

"Nobody can come in now," he sneered. Then he went back, retrieved the valise, and sat down.

Johnny walked to the barber chair and adjusted the headrest. He had an inkling now of whom these two men might be, although it seemed fantastic that he could be right.

Dick loosened his necktie and collar then eased into the barber chair. He looked at his fingernails, brushed them on his knees and said, "You ought to have a girl here to manicure my nails. They could stand a polishin'.

At first Johnny winced at the thought of a man having manicured nails. Then, although he showed no outward emotion, he was jolted inside. Dapper Dick Crane! Surely that was the name of the man sitting in the chair! And the jittery man near the wall who was staring at him with cold piercing eyes was his twin brother, Ed.

"If this guy's a barber, then I'm Santa Claus," Ed snarled, "I think this guy's been planted here and we've walked into a trap!"

Johnny took a long linen cloth, spread it in front of Dick, then pinned it around his neck. So these were the kidnappers who had made the headlines two weeks before! They were 700 miles from the coast where they had collected $50,000 in ransom money, and the F.B.I. was supposed to be hot on their trail.

"Don't cut it too short," Dick said, "just give me a good quick trim, and make a neat job."

After picking up the clippers, Johnny turned his back on Ed. He had a good view of him in the mirror.

"Been in these parts long?" Ed asked behind him.

"Lived on a farm outside of town all my life, except when I was in the army," Johnny said as he ran the clippers up the back of Dick's neck.

"You don't look like a farmer to me," Ed growled, his voice full of suspicion.

"What's eatin' you Ed?" Dick grunted.

Johnny became shaky when he saw Ed's hand grip something in his coat pocket again. He began to work faster and the back of Dick's head didn't look so good.

"After all," Johnny thought, "a fellow who had cut hair only aboard a transport on the way back from Japan couldn't do too good of a job, especially on a mop of hair like this Dapper Dick had."

For a minute or two Ed watched in silence, then he stood up and put the valise on the chair. Put- ting his hands on his hips he turned toward the barber chair.

He snapped, "I told you, Dick, that this idea of stoppin' at a barber shop was no good. You know those F.B.I. boys are smart, and I bet they figured that Dapper Dick Crane wouldn't be able to resist stoppin' somewhere for a trim."

The clippers poised above Dick's head, Johnny looked in the mirror and said nothing, although a wild thought was running through his head.

Dick straightened in the chair, "You've got the jitters," he said, "what harm was there in comin' here?"

"If this guys' a barber, then I'm Santa Claus," Ed snarled, "I think this guy's been planted here and we've walked into a trap! Pullin' them shades down was a signal!"

Dick ran his hand over the back of his neck, and Johnny forced a smile.

Johnny said, "It doesn't look so good now, but wait until I put the other clippers on it."

He moved around the chair with Ed's eyes watching intently. After pulling open a drawer he reached far inside.

Suddenly he whirled about, a .3 in his hand.

The brothers were taken by surprise. Ed mumbled, "I told you he was one of Hoover's men."

Holding the gun in his left hand, Johnny used his right to throw the clippers at the big bulk store window.

Amid the crash of glass, Johnny backed around to the door, and as he unbolted it, he could hear running feet on the pavement.

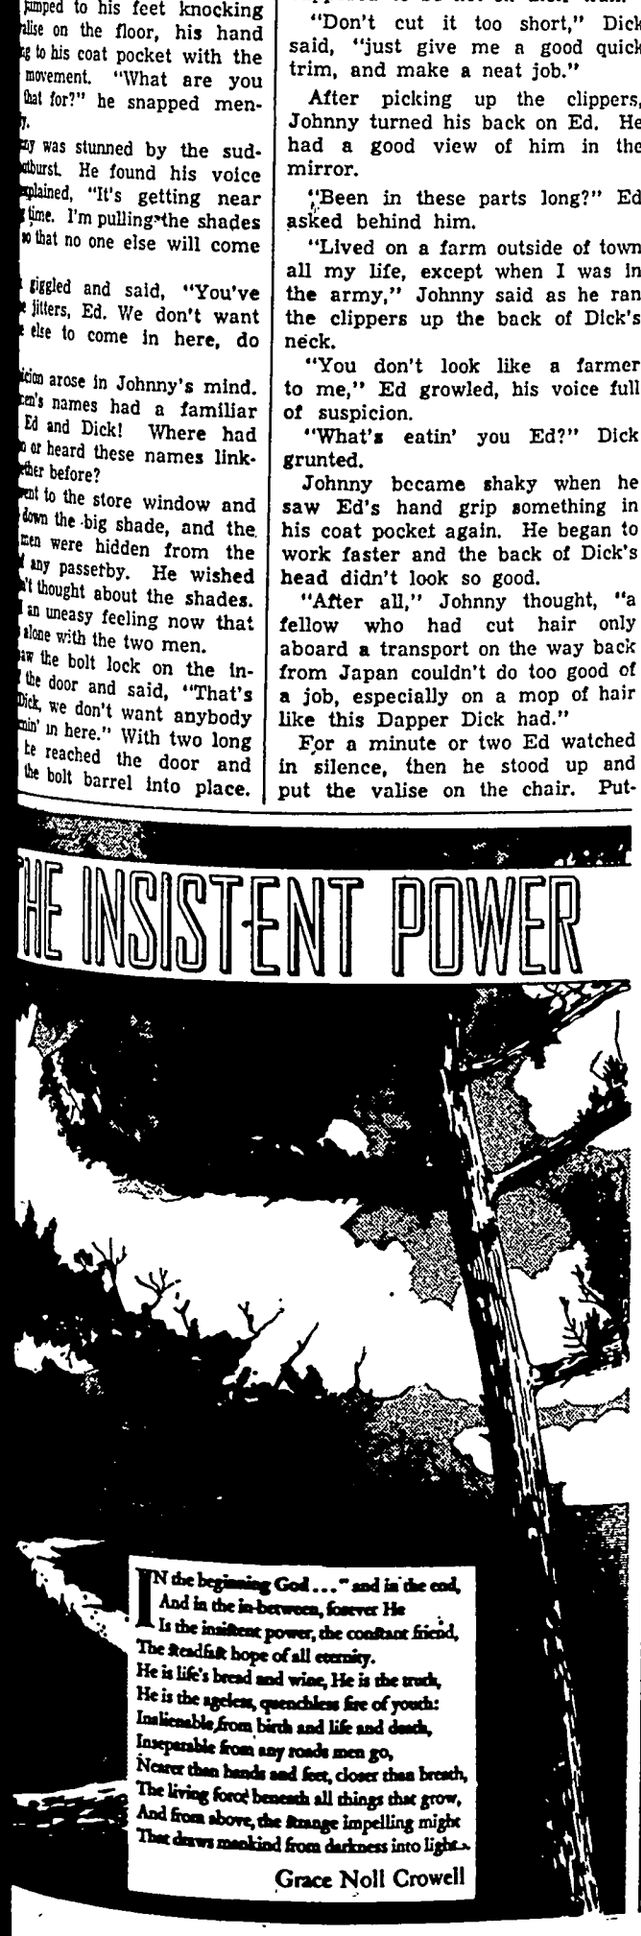
Sheriff Ike Williard was among the crowd that hurried to investigate the noise caused by the breaking window.

After Johnny explained who the brothers were, Ike smiled and said, "Local boy captures big city slickers."

Still rubbing his hand over the back of his neck, Dick mused, "then you ain't a Fed, heh?" He looked at his brother and added, "Why didn't you shoot the punk?"

Johnny waited until Sheriff Ike took guns away from the brothers, then he smiled and said, "I thought Tony was crazy for keeping an unloaded gun in the drawer—but I guess it was a good idea after all."

THE INSISTENT POWER



IN the beginning God . . ." and in the end,
And in the in-between, forever He
Is the insistent power, the constant friend,
The steadfast hope of all eternity.
He is life's bread and wine, He is the truth,
He is the ageless, quenchless fire of youth:
Inalienable from birth and life and death,
Inseparable from any roads men go,
Nearer than hands and feet, closer than breath,
The living force beneath all things that grow,
And from above, the strange impelling might
That draws mankind from darkness into light.

Grace Noll Crowell

Tricks -for- Teens

By NANCY PEPPER

Dance Mis-steps

When the record seems endless; when you can think of at least a half dozen other things you would rather be doing at that moment; when a cut-in would be as welcome as a 'phone call at 8:30 Friday night — it's time to change partners. And, according to a survey we've just made on this vital subject, any change would be an improvement when your partner is guilty of these corny crimes:

UPS AND DOWNS — You have plenty of 'em, when your partner uses the pump handle technique with his left arm and your right. By the time the dance is over you feel as if you had been harnessed to a see-saw which might have been more fun.

DISAPPEARING ACT—Don't you love the boy who leaves you stranded in the middle of the dance floor when the record is over? You know the type—as soon as the dancing stops, he mumbles something and silently fades away—leaving you with what seems like six hands and six feet and a fervent hope that someone will rescue you or that the house will catch on fire.

JOLLY GOOD FELLOW—Does he have to be so sociable—with the other boys' partners — when he's dancing with you? He carefully steers you from one couple to another in order to exchange pleasantries with all the girls he's NOT dancing with.

RAILROADING DELUXE

The trend in railroad car designing has us dizzy. It's all very well to spring a new de luxe car once or twice a year but when they come out once or twice an hour it is too much. Having done about everything possible to the outside of our trains, the boys now are working wonders with the inside. One road has just come out with a recreation car which includes (cross my heart!) a game and reading lounge, a children's inclosed playroom, an automat lunch, a sunken buffet lounge and a newsreel theater!

— * —

We have come to a point on our railroads where everything is so cozy that a passenger finds life drab and unbearable when he gets off.

— * —

This latest recreation car has everything except a bowling alley, squash court, swimming pool and fishing lodge. The motif is so swanky that when a conductor enters he seems almost an intruder from the other side of the tracks. Noting the "In case of emergency" cord a passenger is apt to interpret it as an emergency when a cardiacle wabbles, the griddlecakes are underdone or the movies are blurred.

— * —

Nobody will deny that for years there has been a crying need for improvement in railroad cars, but the present pace in modernization is dazzling. Changes come out so rapidly that a passenger no longer is surprised if an orchestra pit and sunken garden are added during a station stop.

— * —

The result is disquieting. We like comfort and a little swank, but when we board a choo-choo these days we feel as uncertain as when we are going through a night club on which the workmen still are busy. We have a feeling the conductor may ask us at any moment to step forward while a new rumpus room is installed.

— * —

When we take a de luxe train we keep wondering whether we are going to be disturbed by paper hangers, rug layers and interior decorators between stops. We observed a puzzled lady board a super-duper train recently and ask, "Can you direct me to the railroad car?"

— * —

Our trains are becoming Alice-in-Wonderland studios in pastels, murals, panels and upholstery trends. There are moments when we are not sure whether we are going places by railroad or by Good Housekeeping and Vogue.

— * —

And then there was the case of the two girls who disgustedly exclaimed after walking through four cars, "What! No floor show?"

* * *

John Ringling North says he will not permit general broadcasting of the circus by television. This is a source of relief to countless housewives. Once the elephants come stomping into the living room by video it will be a frightful job sweeping the peanut shucks from the rugs.

— * —

And it would be confusing too. At times we couldn't be too sure which was Gargantua and which was the radio commentator.

* * *

PRAISE FOR U. N.
It's weak and sick,
It's pale and thin,
But it's a darned good league
For the shape it's in.

* * *

The Country Editor Says:

Jason Wiggs who used to worry over things like saving tinfoil and cigarette pictures now is a leader in the Save Europe campaign.

— * —

Deke Bumble broke his silence in the 1948 political campaign this morning and came out for the first candidate who doesn't grin much.

— * —

Mr. and Mrs. Luke Whipple are recovering slowly after a long spell of trying to assemble their new prefabricated $10,000 home.

* * *

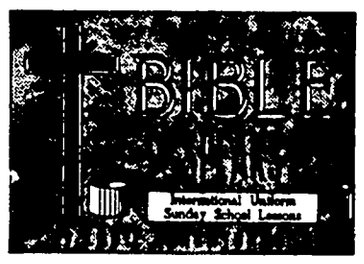
We have looked over that new half dollar critically. Our verdict is that it is not worth a nickel.

* * *

There are times when General Marshall must wish he was back in a nice, big war where he could get some place.

* * *

Warren Wright, who takes most of the derbies with his super racing stable, is a baking soda tycoon. Thus, in a way, is the home linked up with the turf. When we think of Citation we think of mother in the kitchen making bread and cookies . . . at the mention of Coaltown our mind centers on thousands of housewives baking a cake or preparing a potpie. We love horses and it comforts us to dwell on the fact that there is such a strong tie between a horse and a cruller.



SCRIPTURE: Esther.
DEVOTIONAL READING: Psalms 44: 1-8.

Esther's Zeal For Her People

Lesson for June 13, 1948

GEORGE MEREDITH has a line that runs like this, "God's rarest blessing is, after all, a good woman." In this study of Esther, you may wish to think of her primarily as a courageous woman—most people do, I guess. But back of her courage was a solid goodness, else she would never have been able to say, "And if I perish, I perish."

Dr. Newton

One must read the Book of Esther, of course, to have any grasp of this great story. It requires but a few minutes, and every reader will be richly rewarded. I have a lawyer friend, a prodigious reader, who tells me that once each month, for the past 50 years, he has read the Book of Esther.

* * *

A QUEEN WHO WAS BRAVE

DANIEL, we agreed, was a brave person; but not more brave than Esther. There is a verse in Hebrews 13:6 that serves admirably to interpret this first stage of Esther's manifest courage, "The Lord is my helper."

We go to the palace in Shushan, where reigned Ahasuerus. His kingdom stretched from India even unto Ethiopia. His queen, Vashti, refused to come before him when he had made a feast. As a result of this refusal, the king ordered young maidens brought before him that he might choose a new queen. There was in the court a Jew, Mordecai, who had been brought there from Jerusalem. He had in his care the daughter of his uncle, a beautiful maiden, named Esther, Mordecai saw here a great opportunity, and he brought her before the king. She was chosen. This brief sketch accounts for her position.

* * *

A QUEEN WHO HELPED HER PEOPLE

HAMAN, who was next to the king in authority, discovering that Mordecai was a Jew and was not worshipping as Haman had commanded, caused a decree to be issued which would put to death all the Jews in the kingdom. Mordecai, learning of this decree, sent word secretly to Esther, urging her to intercede on behalf of her people to the king.

Here is the heart of the story. Space does not permit a detailed recital. Is is sufficient to say that Esther, though still in her early twenties, managed this delicate situation with such skill that the gallows which Haman had built for Mordecai turned out to be the instrument of death for Haman and his sons. Instead of the Jews being slaughtered, those who had planned the death of all the Jews lay dead.

* * *

ESTHER RISKED ALL AND WON ALL

IF EVER there was a perfect illustration of staking one's all on one great moment, Esther provides such illustration. "Who knoweth whether thou art not come to the kingdom for such a time as this?" said Mordecai as he bolstered her nerve.

It is such a challenge as young people may be facing today. Obviously, the moment now confronting us calls for great faith and great sacrifice if this world is to be saved from utter destruction. It may be that this situation calls for hitherto unknown tactics. And let us pray God there is somewhere an Esther.

* * *

THE MESSAGE OF ESTHER

WHICH leads me on to suggest that racial hatred was never more bitter than at this moment. Unless the winds of God blow, unless some mighty manifestation of divine intervention is granted, the world will break up on the rocks of prejudice and selfishness and ambition and all the forms and fashions of sin.

"God moves in a mysterious way, his wonders to perform." Let us pray that we may early witness some mighty stroke of his mercy and deliverance, ere the night let down.

* * *

(Copyright by the International Council of Religious Education on behalf of 40 Protestant denominations. Released by WNU Features.)

Atomic Hope

Terrifying as is the prospect of atomic energy running wild in the hands of a generation of men morally and spiritually unprepared to handle it, even more thrilling is the prospect of a Divine Will subjecting even such a diabolic thing as the atomic bomb to discipline and control.

Junior Frock Has Nice Detail Slanted Lines on Smart Dress

1765
12-42

Daytime Dress

One of the smartest daytime dresses you'll see. The popular diagonal lines are finished in soft scallops—the high slit neckline is so flattering. If you like, three quarter sleeves are also provided in the pattern.

* * *

Pattern No. 1765 is for sizes 12, 14, 16, 18, 20; 40 and 42. Size 14, cap sleeve, 4⅞ yards of 35-inch.

8305
11-18

Date Frock

Three tiny buttoned tabs make a pretty finish for this youthful date frock. Juniors adore the brief sleeve, the fitted waist, the full flared skirt. It will be perfect in a gay candy striped fabric.

* * *

Pattern No. 8305 comes in sizes 11, 12, 13, 14, 16 and 18. Size 12, 4½ yards of 39-inch.

You'll like the smart and practical sewing information contained in the Spring and Summer FASHION. 52 pages of style, color, easy to make frocks - free pattern printed inside the book. 25 cents.

SEWING CIRCLE PATTERN DEPT.
530 South Wells St. Chicago 7, Ill.
Enclose 25 cents in coins for each pattern desired.
Pattern No._____ Size_____
Name_____
Address_____

Battle of Coral Sea Termed First Big Defeat for Japan

In the battle of that island-studded ocean known as the Coral sea, which is near the Solomon islands and about 1,000 miles northeast of Australia, America's first real victory of the war with Japan was scored. The action occurred on May 4, 1942, and called for deeds of valor as thrilling as any in all American history.

The Coral sea battle was the first great naval defeat ever dealt the imperial Japanese fleets. And yet this battle was fought entirely in the air, by the planes of opposing aircraft carriers.

The ships engaged in this battle never got sight of each other. They slugged it out without firing a single gun at another ship—the first engagement of its kind in history. In this first great victory for the U. S. in this global war the Japs lost more than 15 ships sunk and at least 20 others severely damaged. The action perhaps saved Australia from invasion.

However, America paid a high price for her victory in the sultry Coral sea. In this engagement the aircraft carrier, Lexington, famed ship that laid the foundation of our modern navy's aircraft carrier operations, went to the bottom. This happened on May 7.

Kool-Aid
Makes 10 BIG Cold Delicious DRINKS! 6 FLAVORS
AT GROCERS
KOOL-AID 5¢

● In NR (Nature's Remedy), there are no chemicals, no minerals, no phenol derivatives. NR is different—act different. Purely vegetable—a combination of 10 vegetable ingredients formulated over 30 years ago. Uncoated or candy coated. Gentle action is dependable, thorough, yet gentle, as millions of NRs have proved. Get a 25¢ box. Use as directed.

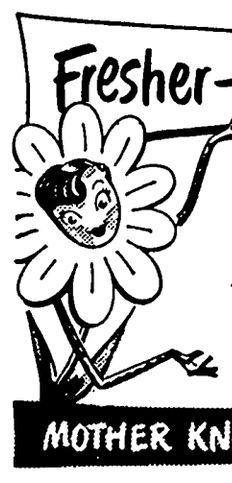
Nature's Remedy
NR TO-NIGHT
ALWAYS CARRY NR

ECONOMY PRICES
Baby Ducklings—$19.95 per Hundred.
Chicks—Heavy Breed, your choice per hundred. Heavy Breed, our choice $7.95 per hundred. Broiler Chicks per hundred.
Turkey Poults—our choice per hundred. All shipments COD plus postage. Guarantee shipments within weeks after order is received.
ORDER DIRECT FROM THIS AD
Buckeye Chickery, Box 304, Hamilton, O.

SO FAST..PURE..DEPENDABLE
St. Joseph ASPIRIN
WORLD'S LARGEST SELLER

Buy U. S. Savings Bonds!

Fresher—so...Tastier, Crisper



Because Kellogg's Corn Flakes are so popular, they come to you fresher: Crispy-delicious!

Kellogg's CORN FLAKES
MOTHER KNOWS BEST!

SHOULD A MAN OVER 40 STOP SMOKING?

Change to SANO—the Safer Cigarette with

51.6%* LESS NICOTINE

Not a Substitute—Not Medicated

Sano's scientific process cuts nicotine content to half that of ordinary cigarettes. Yet skillful blending makes every puff a pleasure.

FLEMING-HALL TOBACCO CO., INC., N. Y.
*Average based on continuing tests of popular brands

ASK YOUR DOCTOR ABOUT SANO CIGARETTES

AROUND IOWA

RETIRING

At Osage, Superintendent of schools G. H. Sawyer has retired after 51 years of service in the Osage school system, the last 47 as superintendent.

SHOT

While playing in her back yard last week, 5 year old Karen Hoth of Sumner was struck by a stray bullet, apparently a shotgun pellet, which penetrated the skin just below the heart. She has recovered.

SURVIVED

Four Sioux City residents had a narrow escape in Spirit Lake recently when a high wind capsized their boat. Melvin Brown, one of the occupants, dove under and released the outboard motor, so the boat did not sink completely. They were all rescued after 40 minutes in the water.

CAVED IN

Digging out a fox cost the life of Jesse Renfrow at Dallas Center recently. After digging a 12 foot hole in the side of a knoll, he was rapped and burried when the dirt caved in on him. His dog went for help, which arrived too late.

MAD CAT

At Manilla, Allan Miller is taking rabies vaccination after being bitten by a cat. Iowa City reported the animal as suffering from hydrophibia.

PAID FARE

A white leghorn hen went to roost underneath an automobile at Monticello recently and rode to Springville. The next morning she paid her fare by laying an egg.

FROM KOREA

Storm Lake had a young visitor from Korea recently. Sockhin Kim, 18 year old, accompanied Richard Gibson of Storm Lake back to this country. Kim had been attached to the army intelligence section in his native country because of his ability as a linguist and proved so popular that a fund was raised to send him to America for an education.

SAVED LIFE

Arlene and Judy Anderson of Graettinger "played house" one day recently with gasoline and matches. When Arlene's clothing caught fire, the seven year old girl may have saved her life by peeling off her blazing sweater. She has a chance of recovery.

PUBLICITY

Wayne Zahrt, Spencer high school pianist, has received nation-wide publicity lately, although not exactly as a piano player. While attending the state high school music contest at Emmetsburg recently, held in the Congregational Church, he got his hand trapped in a wineglass while "back stage." Before he could participate in the program, it was necessary to take him across the street and have the holder filed off. The story has since been "page one" news in the New York World-Telegram and the San Fransico Times.

LOST DUCK

When Clyde Helmick, Wright County farmer, missed a duck and went fox hunting. He located the den and found a fox, with nine pups. In addition to the the dead duck, Mr. Helmick found the remains of three or four lambs, three pigs, several rabbits and pheasants, a mudhen and chickens.

RECORD TIME

A 100 acre field belonging to Roy Numsen, of near Alcester, was plowed in what was perhaps record time last week. In Mr. Numsen's absence due to an injury to his five-year old daughter, neighbors gathered with 32 tractors and gave Mr. Numsen's field a fast going-over. The young daughter, incidentally, who had been struck by a car, is much improved.

SUED

Clifford Kelly, who was wounded and paralyzed in an Iowa City cafe by Oscar Anderson, has field suit for damages not only against Anderson but also in the amount of $25,000 against the owner of the cafe, charging negligence in permitting Anderson to enter and shoot him.

SHOT IN CHEST

As A. J. Busenbark of Carroll removed a .22 rifle from his car recently, the weapon discharged a bullet into his chest. He was taken to the hospital and will recover.

NO WATER

A water shortage has caused residents of Dallas Center some worry and inconvenience lately. The school well has been connected to the town water supply but pressure still remained below normal.

FIRST LADY

Mrs. Harry Truman, the "First Lady", was among those enjoying an Iowa smoked ham in Washington recently. The ham was served at a breakfast of the 76th Club and was taken to Washington by Paul Frenzenburg, Conrad locker plant operator, who processed it.

DREDGING

A project to dredge Five Island laake near Emmetsburg struck a snag last week when M. F. McChesney, foreman, announced that he would leave with his crew unless he could find housing accommodations. The project will take about a year to complete.

64TH YEAR

At Okoboji, the "Queen", the famous excursion boat of that region, is starting her 64th year. The Queen's hull was built for the Burlington, Cedar Rapids and Northern Railway Company in 1884, her steel hull being built by the Iowa Iron Works Company and shipped to Orleans, on to Okoboji, for assembling. Wood work was done in the railroad car shop at Cedar Rapids.

SUSPENDED

At Elkader, the board of education has voted to suspend Elkader junior college. Increased costs and decreased enrollment were the reasons.

FOUR GENERATIONS

Four generations were in attendance at the commencement exercises in Guthrie Center recently. Wilma McCluen, a senior, received her diploma in the presence of her Mother, grandmother and great-grandmother.

BASEBALL FAN

Iowa's oldest living pharmacist, 90-year old Tom Williams of Eddyville, is an ardent baseball fan. He lives near the high school diamond and is frequently called into service as an umpire. Mr. Williams, in spite of his years, still has good eyesight and hearing. He lives alone with his two dogs.

EIKS

Residents of Independence report that two elk spent a day recently on the John Deer farm near here. Members of the local Elks lodge apparently missed a good opportunity to stock up on teeth. The animals were genuine elk, seldom seen in Iowa, and not deer, according to observes.

VALUABLE BEEF

At Maquoketa, the Rosemere Farms celebrated their 50th anniversary by auctioning 51 head of cattle which brought a total price of $77,975. The top animal, a heifer, brought $6,200.

Now is the time to check over your silo if you're planning to put up grass and legume silage this year.

FREEZING IN GLASS

The new "freezer jars" have brought many recent inquiries to the U. S. Department of Agriculture about freezing in glass. The department has made no special study of the new containers but the specialists offer these considerations.

Advantages of glass jars in general use are. they are moisture-vaporproof; can be re-used; need no heat-sealing as paper containers do; and, though food must be thawed somewhat for removal, there is no leakage from the container in thawing.

Disadvantages of glass jars in general are: they are breakable; because they are round, they take up more space in freezers than rectangular paper containers; they become frosty on the surface when removed from the freezer so are slippery to handle without tongs.

The new "freezer jars" are more convenient than ordinary glass jars because the sides are straight so that food slips out easily after slight defrosting.

Farm economists say 1949 looks like a promising year for hog feeders.

HANCOCK COUNTY REAL ESTATE DEA

Hampe, Carl M. and Lau wife to Rasmuson, Lloyd 4-1-48 W½ NE¼ Sec. 23-96 except rt of way RR, subj to tenants rts.

Hampe, Laura, wife to Ham Carl, husband 5-1-48 Wty. De $1.00 ½ int. in part N½ SW lying N of RR and W DD No and 2 also S 377.5' of SW¼ N ¼ tract in SW corner SE¼ N ¼ all in Sec. 27-96-25.

Hancock County to Ross, B. 12-30-39 W½ L6 to 12 inc. B 3 QCD $18.00 Orig town of C with.

Alma Peterson, surv. spo and Ext. of Estate of Edw Peterson and Rush Gabriels Adm. with will annexed of tate of Edward Peterson to P erson, Walter E. and Til wife 3-4-48 Probate Deed $1 SE¼ Sec. 28 and E½ NE Sec. 28 all in 97-25.

DR. F. L. HAYES
DENTIST
Office Over Rexall Store
Phone 21 Garner, Iowa

Thanks
For Your Generous Support
Sincerely
Fern Peck Katter

To The Voters
Of Hancock County
Thanks for your support at the June Primaries.
Clinton D. Daniels
Candidate For Supervisor

FEDERAL
Land Bank
LOANS
Long Term Low Interest
No Fees No Commission
Wm. F. Johannaber
Secretary-Treasurer
Forest City, Iowa
Phone 50

BRING YOUR CAR TO US FOR
Greasing
AND A COMPLETE SPRING CHANGEOVER
*
In Motor Oil, Transmission, Differentail, Wheels and Chassis.
*
We have the equipment and proper lubricants to give you the best service.
*
See us for your needs in Batteries, Spark Plugs, and accessories of all kinds.
*
Smith's
STANDARD SERVICE
Klemme Iowa

B. C. BERGE
ATTORNEY-AT-LAW
Office Over Federated Store
Phone 20 Garner, Iowa

Thanks Voters
Thanks for your loyal support at the June Primaries. Your votes were appreciated.
Ruth Hughes

Thank You
I want to thank the voters of the County for their liberal support at the June Primaries.
Maynard Schoeneman

Two Ladies SHOT!!
. . . . a game of pool here and had a lot of fun. We welcome ladies and will give them an appointment for a table.
Have Fun At
Joe's Place
Joe Finnegan, Prop. Klemme, Iowa

Meeting your every electric need for 33 years

Yes, your electric company is 33 years old . . . . . 33 years of public service and good citizenship. These years are marked by the growing use of dependable, economical electric service in this community.

Today, you and thousands of your neighbors enjoy better light and more gracious living at low cost . . . . . thanks to your business-managed utilities. Your 1948 electric dollar buys more than twice as much electricity as it did twenty years ago.

We look forward to supplying the future electric needs of your home, business and industry with the best possible service at the lowest possible cost consistent with operating expenses and taxes.

CENTRAL STATES ELECTRIC COMPANY
"The Low Rate Company"

REMEMBER - - - -
Father's Day
SUNDAY, JUNE 20TH

Dad shoulders each burden with a smile—June 20th gives you a chance to make him extra happy with a gift he'll really appreciate! We are ready now with a grand array of everything dear to a man's heart, and whether you choose hankies or a hand-knit sweater, we bring you top quality for your money.

- Slacks
- Pajamas
- Socks
- Sweaters
- Sport Jackets
- Suspenders
- Swim Trunks
- Tie Clasps
- Handkerchiefs
- Slippers
- Bill Folds
- Neckties
- Shirts, Sport and Dress

GET TO KNOW
GILDNER - PAULSON
Clothing and Shoes Garner, Iowa

COCK COUNTY AL ESTATE DEALS

kl, Fred, widower to Zuehl 3-30-48 Wty. Deed $11,- SW¼ Sec. 24-95-26.

ge, Herbert and Anna, to Gerdes, Henry W. and geene, wife 5-8-48 Wty. $1.00 L8 and S½ L7 Blk. g. Town of Woden.

n, J. C. and Elsie, wife to Henry W. and Norma- wife 5-8-48 Wty. Deed L8 and S½ L7 Blk. 13 Town of Woden.

le, George M. and Carrie wife to Veldhouse, James, d Charlotte McCarthy wife Wty. Deed $300.00 L4 Ely 89' of Blk. 3 Lenten- Add to Corwith.

ter, John and Eleanor, to Hauptman, John A. 5- Wty. Deed $350.00 1.356 A n S line NE¼ Sec. 31-96-rley, Seth Dewey, unmar- o Gourley, Beaulah I. 5-15-48 QCD $1.00 L28 Aud. Subdiv NE¼ SE¼ Sec. 6-94-26.

Neuberger, J. M. and Pearl L., wife to Neuberger, Ruth 5-11-48 Wty. Deed $1.00 tracts 1 and 2, 3, 4 and 5 in Morningside Add to Klemme.

Sawyer, Jenney June, widow, et al to Clark, Ronald V. and Alice E. wife 4-3-48 QCD L4, 5, 6 and 9, Blk. 4 Lentengre's Add to Corwith.

Sawyer, Henry H. and Clara, wife et al to Clark, Ronald V. and Alice E., wife 4-6-48 QCD $1.00 L4, 5, 6 and 9 Blk 4 Lentengre's Add, Corwith.

Sawyer, Ray R. and Myrta A. wife et al to Clark, Ronald V. and Alice E. 4-2-48 QCD L4, 5, 6 and 9 Blk. 4 Lentengre's Add, Corwith.

Sawyer, H. H. Exec. estate of G. A. to Clark, Ronald V. and Alice E., wife 4-5-48 Probate Deed L4, 5, 6 and 9 Blk. 4 Lentengre's Add, Corwith.

Anderson, Edna and Elmer L., husband et al to Christie, Nick 3-25-48 Wty Deed $1.00 L14 Blk. 13 Orig. Town of Kanawha.

McCarthy, Frank A. and Emma L., wife to Dodd, Warren F. Jr. 5-15-48 $1.00 Wty. Deed S½ NW¼ Sec. 6-97-25.

Babcock, John W. and Vera F. wife to Hefti, Walter L. 5-20-48 QCD $1.00 Deed for corrective purposes tract 80' by 23' at East corner of Blk. 5, Orig. town of Corwith.

Ross, Della W. and B. A., husband to Hefti, Walter L. 5-11-48 Wty. Deed $1.00 Tract 80' by 23' at E. corner of Blk. 5 being part of L1 Orig. plat of Town of Corwith.

Gourley, Beulah I., single to Marr, Glen E. 5-27-48 Wty. Deed $3,500.00 L28 in Aud. Subdiv. of NE¼ SE¼ Sec. 6-94-26 in Corwith.

Lundberg, Frank and Mary, both single to Lundberg, Milo and Irene 11-23-45 $1.00 L 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 in W½ NE¼ Sec. 1-97-24; L9 and 10 Subdiv. of W½ NE¼ Sec. 1-97-24 except reservations for grantors so long as either lives.

Kaduce, Esther and John F. Jr., et al to Knoke, Louisa 5-15-48 Wty. Deed Cons. less than $50.00 L3 and 4 Blk. 12 Klemme's 1st Add to Klemme.

Buchlmeyer, William, unmarried to Bridges, Glen 5-2-48 Wty. Deed $3,000.00 L1 and 2 Blk. 4 Original Town of Klemme.

Kloock, Carolyn G. and Otto J., husband to Anderson, Robert L. 5-12-48 Wty. Deed $1.00 L11 and 12 Blk. 3 Driving Park Add to Garner.

Chapman, Charles and Helen M. et al to Chapman, Lydia A. 4-3-48 Wty. Deed $1.00 L2, Blk. 1 Rofinot 2nd Add to Corwith.

G H. Oxley, Gdn. James Johnson to Chapman, Lydia A., 12-31-47 Gdn's. Deed $33.33 Int. in L2, Blk 1 Rafinot's Add to Corwith.

Quick Truck Delivery On
Diamond
D-X
ducts of all kinds
Phone 85
NEST HENSCHEN
Klemme, Iowa

Thank You

I want to thank the people of Hancock unty for their support at the June Primary. especially want to thank the people of Klem- and community for their vote.

Dr. W. F. Missman

KEEP THE FARM SANITARY
2-HOUR SERVICE ON REMOVAL OF
Dead Stock

Phone
LEMME ---------- 580
ELMOND ---------- 580

We Pay The Call
A Clean Truck With An Efficient Driver In ur Neighborhood Daily.

Belmond By-Products
"Your Home Plant"
one 580 Belmond, Iowa.

OU ARE INVITED TO ATTEND THE ....
GRAND OPENING
OF THE NEWLY REMODELED
PEASE
The Clothier
MEN'S STORE
AT CLEAR LAKE, IOWA, ON
Saturday, JUNE 12
OUR TENTH YEAR IN THE CLOTHING BUSINESS

NEW BULLETIN OFF PRESS

"Money Saving Main Dishes" is a new bulletin just off the press.

The booklet contains 150 tested recipes, especially prepared by the Bureau of Human Nutrition and Home Economics.

Any homemaker interested in helping to save scarce food and at the same time serve interesting and nutritious meals may write or call at the Farm Bureau office in Garner, Iowa for this "New book." The bulletin is free upon request.

AMENDMENT TO ARTICLES OF INCORPORATION OF THE STATE SAVINGS BANK, Of Goodell, Iowa

KNOW ALL MEN BY THESE PRESENTS

That at a regular meeting of the stockholders of the State Savings Bank a corporation duly organized under the laws of the State of Iowa, held at the office of the Bank in Goodell, Iowa on the 17th day of January, A D., 1948 after due and legal notice had been given to the stockholders thereof in conformity with its articles of incorporation, and provisions of the Code, the following amendment was adopted.

AMENDMENT:

Article VI, Section 1, is hereby amended by deleting the words "second Monday" and "1943" in the second line of this section and substituting in lieu thereof, "third Tuesday" and "1949", respectively This section would then read, as follows

ARTICLE VI
ANNUAL AND SPECIAL MEETINGS OF THE STOCKHOLDERS

Section 1 The annual meeting of the stockholders shall be held at the office of the corporation on the third Tuesday of January of each year, beginning with the year 1949, at which time the stockholders shall elect a board of directors and transact such other business as may lawfully come before them.

(Pub. 19, 26, June 2, 1948)

Good Demand For Farm Products To Continue

The recent tax reduction and the enactment of he Foreign Assistance Act are going to help keep demand for farm products strong, says Francis Kutish, Iowa State College farm economist.

If Congress votes more money for military purposes, that too will affect the demand for farm products, Kutish reports. Of course, the main impact would be on industrial goods, he points out, particularly metals and the metal products.

In spite of these things, agricultural exports may be down 15 to 20 percent from the 1947 record of 3.9 billion dolars if crops in other nations turn out as well as expected. Biggest reduction is likely to be in wheat, which accounted for about one-third of our farm exports last year.

John Suckow Injured In Fall From Step Ladder

John Suckow, local contractor, while working with carpenters at the Paul Goll farm Saturday afternoon, fell from a step ladder and injured his ankle. Two years ago Mr. Suckow fractured the bones in his foot and he again fell on his bad leg. He will be forced to wear a cast for some time again.

Want Ads

For Sale

FOR SALE — SPRING FRIES. Bert Jones. (2tc)

FOR SALE—TRACTOR TIRES. Have a large stock of rears on hand. Garner Auto Co., Garner, Iowa. (M-8tfc)

YES WE HAVE IT, NUTRENA Crumblized Chick Feed. For faster gains and less waste. We deliver ½ ton lots or more. GREEN ELEVATOR CO., Goodell, Iowa. (Apr 14 tfc)

Get your "Thank You Notes" at the Times Office. 59 cents. per box.

FOR SALE

40 acres unimproved all under cultivation priced at $100. Good investment.

152 acres REA good location near Klemme, Iowa, priced at $135.00.

160 acres improved, REA, Silo, good road, most all under cultivation. House insulated, buildings fair $120 00.

80 acres good barn, REA, fair house, close to town, priced at $165 00.

FRED CHISEL
FOREST CITY

Miscellaneous

INSURE WITH HENRY WARD, Klemme for Auto, Personal Property, Farm Liability, Life, Health and Accident. (Oct. 1948 tp)

SEE R. W. ELDER FOR HANcock Co. Mutual Fire & Lightning Insurance renewals or new policies. (Apr. 1 pd)

The V. F. W. Auxiliary of Garner will sponsor a dance at the Legion Hall at Klemme June 10. Wayne Pringle of Mason City will play. Tickets are on sale now. Admission per couple $1.25 single admission 75c. Ladies Auxiliary will sell lunches. A large percent of the proceeds will be used to help finance the opening of the Schick Hospital. (1tc)

Wanted To Buy

WANTED TO BUY FOR CASH —your used car. Any make, any model. Garner Auto Company, Garner, Iowa. M-8tfc)

Services Offered

FEED GRINDING OF ALL kinds done on your farm. Phone Klemme 76 or Goodell 58561. Carroll Etchen. (j-28-tc)

Card Of Thanks

I wish to express our sincere thanks and appreciation to all those who sent flowers and gifts and who visited us while in the hospital. Mrs. Glenn Bier and Ronald Glenn. (1tc)

NO STARTER NEEDED TO CONDITION SEPTIC TANK

Not long ago an Iowa farm family paid a traveling sepeic tank "expert" to put several gallons of "starter" in the tank after he cleaned it.

That family might well have saved its money, according to Harold Beaty, Iowa State College agricultural engineer.

Beaty says a septic tank needs no starter of any kind to promote bacterial action A good septic tank needs no maintenance except a yearly inspection and an occasional cleaning. Most tanks ought to be cleaned at intervals of from 3 to 5 years. They should be cleaned when 18 to 20 inches of sludge and scum has accumulated.

IOWA WILL OBSERVE DAIRY MONTH IN IOWA

June Dairy Month is the time set aside by the dairy farmers and their dairy industry to pay tribute to the dairy cow and the milk she produces for better way of life for all mankind.

America is fortunate to have enough milk and milk products, butter, ice cream, cheese, and others which are the nation's best food buys in today's market. House-wives get more food in a quart of milk for their money than from any other food..

Milk has long been regarded by scientists and nutritionists as natture's most perfect food.

We of the dairy industry fully appreciate that we are daily competing against food groups who are spending millions of dollars for education, research and advertising to promote their own sales against ours.

In our inflated markets, milk and dairy products are the best buy for the house-wife. From the flavor, taste and nutrition standpoint together with the health and growth promoting elements which are contained in dairy food, the accepted dairy month slogan is: "DAIRY FOODS —YOUR BEST BUY!"

There's still time to poison pocket gophers.

Former Klemme Boy Building House In Mason Ctiy

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Keeper of Mason City are building a nice new home there on Highway 18 near the west edge of Mason City and across the street from the hatchery. Raymond is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Keeper of Klemme.

DR. E. H. PHILLIPS
Osteopathis Physician
Xray - Short Wave Diathermy and Ultra Violet Equipment
Phone 149 Garner, Iowa

Thank You

I want to thank the voters for their fine support at Monday's Primary Election.

Ben F. Greiman

Tax Exemption

DEADLINE IS JULY 1, 1948

All applications for Homestead Tax Credit and all applications for Soldiers' Exemption must be on file in the office of the County Auditor on or before July 1, 1948, in order to receive credit for the 1948 tax payable in 1949.

If you have not aleady filed with your assessor or at the office of the County Auditor and are eligible, you should do so at once.

Soldiers' Exemption need not be filed for if you have done so before in this county and you have your discharge on record at the County Recorder's office.

Applications for Homestead Credit must be made each year.

The County Auditor's Office will be glad to give any other information desired regarding these exemptions.

Maynard Schoeneman
COUNTY AUDITOR

SAVE $10.00 on this GE CLEANING COMBINATION

In every home there are two cleaning problems . . . rugs and carpets — above-the-floor cleaning.

In every home there should be two cleaners

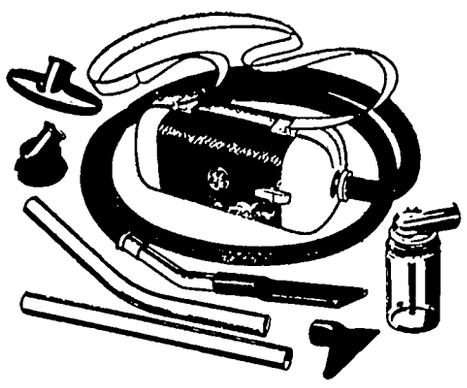
TWO cleaners are better than ONE



Model AVT-160

the TIDY
for all your above-the-floor cleaning. Nationally advertised price $43.60

the TALL
for cleaning your rugs and carpets. Nationally advertised price $53.25

Model AVT-160

Regular Price for BOTH $96.85
NOW if purchased together
BOTH for $86.85

Get yours now while they are available.

Ask for a free demonstration. Low down payment . . . Easy terms.

Josten Appliance

Klemme Iowa

WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS

Palestine Jews Proclaim New State Of Israel, Attacked by Arab Armies; U.S. Victim of Russian Propaganda

By Bill Schoentgen, WNU Staff Writer

(EDITOR'S NOTE: When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of Western Newspaper Union's news analysts and not necessarily of this newspaper.)

Impulse to Zion

Arnold Toynbee, British historian, types the Jews as a fossilized remnant of an extinct civilization.

He meant that because of their single-minded, faultless devotion to the religion of Moses and their strict adherence to ancestral customs, the Jews, descending through history as a compact group, have retained most of the original characteristics which marked them when first they emerged as part of the Syriac civilization thousands of years before Christ.

They are recognized today as being in but not of the societies in which they appear on every portion of the globe. They almost invariably form a minority group, and as such they have been targets for endless persecution.

Socially, world Jewry has been of two minds concerning the most desirable end it could achieve for itself. Those two conflicting trains of thought are represented by the "zionists" and the "dispersionists."

The dispersionists have advocated that Jews should mingle freely with whatever people they have chosen to live among and gradually be assimilated by that people. Zionists, of course, favor establishment of a national homeland — an indestructible ideal ever since Moses led the exodus to Canaan.

Since the war, with Nazi attempts to obliterate German Jews completely and subsequent displacement of millions of European Jews, zionism has been given a tremendous impetus.

That impulse to Zion has been distilled into what the world has come to know as the "Palestine problem." More recently it crystallized even further in the actual establishment of a Jewish state — called Israel — in Palestine, ancient homeland of the pre-Christian era Jews.

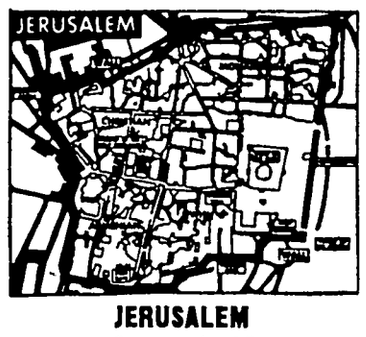
ISRAEL:
In Palestine

Events moved with the swiftness of time itself in the Holy Land.

Ritualizing the expiration of Great Britain's 30-year mandate rule over Palestine, Sir Alan Cunningham, British high commissioner, hauled down his personal flag in Jerusalem and flew to Haifa where he boarded a cruiser.

That was that. Britannia no longer ruled the Palestinians.

Then the Jews, who had been denied a legally partitioned state, proclaimed the existence of a new,



JERUSALEM

. . . Jew or Arab? . . .

independent republic in Palestine which was to be called Israel.

Before Israel was 20 minutes old it had received formal diplomatic recognition from the United States, first nation to extend such recognition.

And while Israel was yet only hours old it was already at war. The newborn state was invaded from the north by regular army forces of Lebanon and Syria and from the south by Egyptian troops. It was shelled from the east by Trans-Jordan's Arab Legion and bombed and machine-gunned from the air by Arab planes.

Haganah, the principal Jewish fighting force, rushed troops, seasoned by months of guerrilla warfare, to all fronts and the fighting settled down to the pattern with which every adult in the world has become familiar.

During the initial furor, Israel's provisional council of state managed to find time to elect Dr. Chaim Weizmann, a scientist and elder statesman of zionism, first president of the nation.

Most momentous news connected with establishment of Israel was the agonizingly prompt U. S. diplomatic recognition of the state.

CRISIS:
Supersonic

There is a "crisis" developing in military aviation, says Cmdr. Lynn S. Beals Jr., navy doctor, because it is not yet known how to keep human beings healthy when they fly faster than sound.

Main trouble is from vertical vibration — the up-and-down motion that comes as a plane reaches the speed of sound. This vibration is so fast that it equals five to six times the pull of gravitation.

WINDFALL:
Propaganda

In Ambassador Walter Bedell Smith's formal and completely routine statement to Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov, the Russians thought they had a propaganda bonanza.

It was cleverly done. Smith's otherwise tough statement, which simply repeated the basic U. S. foreign policy with regard to Russia, contained one sentence that Moscow took as a loophole: "As far as the United States is concerned, the door is always wide open for full discussion and the composing of our differences."

Molotov seized upon that sentence and the announcement was broadcast to the world that Russia accepted the American "offer" to negotiate.

It looked like a propaganda victory of major proportions for the Soviets. Briefly, it put them in the position of being able to point with pride to their manifest willingness to settle the bitter differences which have kept the world unnerved for so long.

If the U. S. refused to talk, that would be fine with the Russians who would capitalize on that fact wtih a vengeance. If a peace conference did develop as a result of the original trick, the old and familiar Soviet obstructionist tactics would be brought into play to do the usual job of sabotage.

That was about the way it stacked up to the high officials in Washington. Both President Truman and Secretary of State George Marshall made it clear that there would be no conference, that there was no logical basis for one and that such a conference could not possibly succeed at this time because neither the U. S. nor Russia had altered or modified its position in any way.

In addition to the propaganda value of the Russian move, it might also have been calculated to throw some sand into the gears of the incipient U. S. defense program.

If the Soviets, suddenly assuming a peaceful mien, were able to hypnotize the American people into feeling falsely secure, congress in an election year might be coerced into wasting a lot of time in preparing such items of the defense program as the 70-group air force bill and the draft bill. That wasted time could, in the light of possible future events, turn out to be incalculably precious.

Sequel

Second episode of the affair of the Russian peace overture was a Stalin-to-Wallace pass that went over the head of the U. S. government.

The Russian premier took advantage of an "open letter" which Henry Wallace had addressed to him demanding an open showdown between the two nations. Wallace's proposals, as summarized by Stalin, included:

1. General reduction of armaments and prohibition of atomic weapons.
2. Conclusion of peace treaties with Germany and Japan.
3. Evacuation of troops from China and Korea.
4. Respect for the sovereignty of individual countries and non-interference in their domestic affairs.
5. World development of international trade.

"I don't know whether the United States government approves Mr. Wallace's program . . . " Stalin said, making it starkly clear that he was talking, not to the government, but to the American people.

He applauded the Wallace letter as "the most important document of recent times," and declared, "As far as the government of the USSR is concerned, it considers that Mr. Wallace's program could serve as a good and fruitful basis for an agreement."

Apparently a Russian attempt to bring about a showdown in the East-West struggle before an audience of world public opinion, Stalin's bombshell statement renewed the question of whether the new Soviet tactics are merely propaganda or a genuine effort for peace.

Either way the U. S. was in a difficult position. If the Russian appeal is taken at face value it cuts the ground from under the tough American cold war strategy. If it is propaganda it undoubtedly will serve to put the U. S. in a bad light.

Well, Not Exactly

A. C. Hudson of Portsmouth, N. H., head of a committee of fire protection experts who examined the White House recently, said he wouldn't exactly call the President's home a firetrap, but still and all there are plenty of hazards existing at the Pennsylvania avenue edifice.

There is nothing wrong with the White House that a lot of fire-proofing won't fix, he said, but it needs a lot of money.

FARM PLAN:
Truman's

To shore up his sinking political prestige in his campaign for renomination, President Truman proposed to congress a four-point farm program which he claimed is "essential" to a productive, prosperous agriculture in the U. S.

Burden of his message were these recommendations:

1. A permanent system of "flexible price supports for agricultural commodities."
2. "Full support to the continuance and expansion of our program of soil conservation."
3. Legislation by congress to "continue and strengthen programs to assure adequate consumption of agricultural products."
4. "We need to consider other means for assisting farmers to meet their special problems. For example, we must support and protect farm cooperatives. We must continue to work toward a sound system of crop insurance."

There was nothing very startling about the proposals, and they carried the unmistakable ring of a campaign year bid for the farmers' favorable attention.

ITALY:
Vox Pop

Luigi Einaudi, 74, a banker, is to be president of the Italian republic for the next seven years.

He was elected at a joint session of both houses of parliament on the fourth ballot after the Communists, who had been supporting Enrico de Nicola, threw their votes to him. On three previous ballots none of the presidential prospects had been able to command the required majority because of the Communist bloc.

An opponent of communism, Einaudi also was a foe of Mussolini's brand of fascism. He is an internationally known writer on public finance and economic history.

Einaudi's first task as president of the republic was to designate a premier and instruct him to form a cabinet. There was no doubt that he would name Alcide de Gasperi, premier of the provisional government, to continue in that capacity on a permanent basis.

DISPLACED:
Bill Pending

Although the desperate problem of Europe's displaced persons has not been attracting much headline attention lately, congress has been busy working out legislation to admit quotas of DPs into the U. S.

Latest report was that an informal poll showed that a majority of the senate would vote for a bill to admit 200,000 displaced persons into this country during the next two years.

The actual bill being considered by the senate judiciary committee sets the figure at 100,000 DP immigrants for the next two years, but several senators have introduced amendments to raise that total to 200,000 and to remove some restrictions imposed by the committee.

One senate source said the poll indicated that at least 55 senators were ready to vote for the less restrictive version. The house judiciary committee already has approved a similar measure to admit 200,000 DPs in the next two years.

ATOM RACE:
Official

Governments of the world never have been farther from outlawing the use of atomic weapons. In fact, the atomic armament race is just settling down to a long, straight-away dash.

It is a contest involving astronomical costs, with horrible disaster if not ultimate destruction possibly lurking just beyond the horizon.

So far the U. S. is well in the lead, as indicated by the recent announcement of the development and successful testing of three new atomic weapons which are said to supersede the original atom bombs in destructive power.

The United Nations atomic energy commission made the race official when, after two years of fruitless effort to work out some kind of international atomic control, it finally voted to suspend negotiations.

Other developments followed swiftly to prove that the U. S. is deadly serious about developing a powerful and diversified atomic arsenal:

David E. Lilienthal, chairman of the atomic energy commission, reported that the "present stage of the commission's tests of atomic weapons is concluded."

President Truman then authorized the commission to take "steps . . . at once for further development based on information gained from the tests."

What Russia was doing about atomic weapons remained pretty much of a mystery, at least as far as the American public was concerned. It was an accepted fact that the Russians knew how to make an atom bomb. Whether they had the industrial facilities to do so still remained a matter of considerable conjecture.

Washington Digest

President Talks—Everyone Wants to Get in on the Act

By BAUKHAGE

News Analyst and Commentator

WASHINGTON.—The colonel was talking to the general. It was obvious that the general was as bored as his secretary looked, her interrupted dictation on her crossed knee, which she uncrossed as the general's eye wandered.

The colonel was the army's No. 1 specialist on the super-gadget which was about to revolutionize warfare, as the colonel could (and would, if he got a chance) tell you. The colonel knew the history of the gadget's development from its crude semi-gismo stage when, primitive as it was, it caused the entire re-organization of the tactics of the knights under Otto the great, first King of the Germans. He could trace its evolution down through the days of delicate interplay when it broke up the Empire of Charlemagne, and on down to the fall of Stalingrad.

The colonel had brought the general about up to the third Punic war and the secretary was wiggling. The general himself had begun to fumble with form 2A-3064-B29. The colonel realized that he was rapidly losing his audience. So he raised his voice so that file clerks in the next office stopped filing (their fingernails) and looked up.

"By the way, General," he remarked confidentially, "Did you know that I'm writing the President's next speech? The one he delivers to the Inter-Planetary association?"

The general's secretary perked up . . . the general raised an eyebrow . . . the colonel smiled . . .

At about the same hour, over in the Metropolitan club, a very dapper young man from the division of the Far, Near and Middle East and expert in economic-ethic-pathology, was sipping a thin scotch-and-soda which his chief had just ordered. His chief was bored.

"By the way, Chief," he said in a whisper so loud that even the waiters stopped looking respectful and listened: "I'm writing the President's next speech at the Inter-Planetary association's conference."

In four other places, four other young experts were telling their bosses the same thing. All were perfectly honest, all were believed, and in 20 minutes or so, stenographers, clerks, messengers, waiters and cab drivers were pointing out "the guy who writes the President's speeches."

All this has been going on, I suppose, in world capitals since before somebody else thought he had codified the code of Hammurabi.

What really happens is this:

The President calls in one of his more literary secretaries—all of them are literate, but not all literary (some—those whose duties are conversing with politicians, don't have to be too literate). The President says to the literary one:

"Bill, in this speech I have to write for the Inter-Planetary conference, I'm going to mention the super-gadget, and I want to touch on the current economic and social situation in Beluria, also there are some erosion statistics I need, and some data on the problems which arose as a result of the Whiskey Rebellion."

"Okeh, Chief," says the literary secretary, and on his way back to his office, he begins classifying, according to departments, the people he thinks may have the facts or the people who will know who knows somebody who has the facts. He either phones or dictates a brief memo to these people, requesting not more than one page from each on the subjects indicated.

Highly-pleased young and old men, on receipt of the memo or phone call, begin leafing through their research libraries and dictating to their secretaries. In two days, a number of large packages are delivered to the White House via special messengers The literary secretary curses and sets to work boiling down a 24-page thesis on the progression of tau-mute from the Sanskrit et elia to a sentence and a half which he has his stenographer type into the rough draft of the speech which the President has dictated and sent to him for the purpose.

Franklin Roosevelt became angered because columnists persisted in "revealing" which confidential adviser wrote the last speech he delivered, whatever it was, that he once showed us the actual draft of a speech he had dictated and written, and re-written as was his custom. In fact, the last-minute revising of Roosevelt's interlined manuscripts often went on while newshounds growled in the outer office and mimeographers stood by to handle the finally-okayed sheets in "takes."

President Truman got a little peeved recently over the same line of columnar chatter and began to "let it be known" that he could write himself. Of course, all presidents get advice, counsel, assistance and inspiration from many men of many minds. Of course, there are humanitarians and grammarians, stylists and Carlyle-ists, lexicographers and geographers, economists and agronomists, Russians, Prussians and Persians upon whom he can call if the need arises.

And somehow or other, each and all, if they but contribute one jot or tittle to the sacred paper, think they wrote the whole—or at least the stenographer who had to take down all the stuff hopefully offered for possible presidential use thinks so, and tells her friends about it—confidentially.

The problem of presidential speeches is much to the fore these days for this reason: President Truman and his advisers, despite the rebel yells, the wails of the defeatists, the triumphant roar of the elephant and the ominous hoofbeats of the polls as they Gallup downhill, still believe he has a fighting chance to return in November to the White House, and he intends to fight for it.

The President is going on a speaking tour of the West — of course, it isn't a campaign, that would be undignified and immodest before the convention has asked. He will speak under no "political sponsorship." But he will speak and he is going to ad lib, as we say in the trade. Even if we hadn't had our ears conditioned for 12 long years by the golden voice that breathed over the firesides, the unoratorical oratory of Harry Truman when he reads a speech, be it ever so humble, never would be mistaken for the vox humana or the angels' chorus.

But when Harry Truman gets up and talks, he's very human, very sensible, and not altogether unpersuasive. So from now on, he's going to speak extemporaneously, no matter how much preparation it takes.

He showed what he could do without notes or manuscript (and without learning by rote) when he addressed the newspaper publishers and the Gridiron club in April, and again in May when he talked off-the-cuff to the national conference on family life in Washington.

And since such speeches aren't written, nobody can say he wrote them for him.

* * *

'Will to Peace' Finds Expression

Next month a "national conference for the prevention of World War III" will be held on the campus of Grinnell college in Iowa.

The purpose is to present a "definite, concrete working plan to prevent a third world war; methods which can be presented to the two national political conventions at Philadelphia."

The roster of speakers will include representatives of many of the organizations now working for a single sovereign, world organization.

Meanwhile Winston Churchill is hammering steadily at his purpose of building a United States of Europe. Although the Attlee government has not approved the idea, the prime minister himself has spoken words of encouragement regarding the formation of a real federalization of the western union.

Attlee even went so far as to say that Britain was willing to sacrifice her sovereignty in part to bring it about, although he qualified the promise by saying the time was not yet ripe for such a step.

But Churchill wants to strike now. He received considerable support from the unofficial gathering in the Hague—a forum, they called it—composed of representatives of the Marshall plan countries, plus exiled leaders.

Churchill's proposals and the Grinnell conference are both part of the tremendous "will to peace" that currently is finding expression.

Perhaps eventually we will learn that great lesson of history—to yield the sovereignty that causes wars to the kind of sovereignty that allows not only the other freedoms to the individual but which, also will give him freedom from the FEAR of war. Just as the federalization of the separate colonies made the citizen of the state of New York free from the fear of war with the state of Pennsylvania —a situation possible because both recognize a higher sovereignty—the United States government.

Sportlight
by GRANTLAND RICE

AS FAR as anyone can see now, the month of June will be a big one for boxing with Louis defending his title against Walcott.

Louis says this will be his last fight.

What will happen if Louis wins, and then retires? The heavyweight division will be the way Gene Tunney left it years ago. Then the aftermath included Schmeling, Sharkey, Carnera, Baer and Braddock.

This was not what you'd call the greatest collection of fighting flesh ever thrown together. On a general average it was pretty sorry stuff. There wasn't a top fighter in the lot. Yes, Schmeling knocked out Louis, but Baer knocked out Schmeling. And so did Louis in the return match.

Tunney left a sorry bunch of fighters in his wake—until Louis came along. Louis made up for the mediocrity of the others that preceded him. It was Dempsey, Tunney, chaos and Louis.

What will it be after Louis? Suppose Louis wins. That will leave chaos again. If Walcott wins, Jersey Joe will be the new champion.

No one can rate Jersey Joe a great champion. He has been just another heavyweight too long; just another average fighter who happened to remain in shape when Louis didn't.

You can't sell a number of fighters, even champions, the idea that condition is as important as their own native skill. Yet condition happens to be more important than anything Louis has—his punch, his boxing skill, his gameness.

Louis as the heavyweight champion defending his title against Walcott was a joke, a travesty on training, on condition. He was a puffy fat man who couldn't move out of his tracks.

He returned from his exhibition tour in England weighing at least 240 pounds, and then worked desperately to lose 25 pounds in a few weeks.

Louis took on Walcott as a joke. If Louis can win in the condition he has to offer for late June, Walcott must be a joke. Louis will have to create a miracle to be even close to the form that made him, and kept him, champion so many years.

* * *

Medal Play Is Tops

Medal play and match play are two entirely different forms of golf. Especially on the psychological side, which is a big part of golf.

I still think medal play is the rougher test, where every stroke is important. This isn't true of match play where you can take a nine and only one hole.

There is no chance to give your concentration a vacation in medal play. There is in match play. In medal play you are fighting both the field and the course. In match play, your opponent is one man.

* * *

The Live Ball

It has remained for a young rookie pitcher to call a check on your reporter and also enter what is perhaps a well-deserved rebuke. This rookie pitcher is smart—and what is more important—he also can pitch. Up to $100,000 was offered for his service in the box.

"You write," he said, "that Johnson, Walsh, Alexander, Matty and others pitched around 400 innings or more. That's right. You also write that no modern pitcher can work 300 innings. Most of the good ones are 250-inning pitchers. That's right too. But don't forget those old pitchers were throwing a half-dead ball—a spit ball—a fuzzed-up ball—a logy ball that Samson couldn't hit out of a bandbox ball park."

"Now, check back with me. Home-run Baker hit 12 home runs in one year and promptly was labelled 'Home-Run' Baker. Here is the king of all home-run hitters. He smashes 12 four-baggers in one season and he is the king. Why today, some of these bums I'm throwing at might pile up 12 home runs in two weeks."

"I'm telling you," he continued, "that today we are throwing explosive bombs to the plate. Every ball we throw is loaded with dynamite. You can take a broom and hit one for three bases.

"You remember those old Yankees headed by Ruth and Gehrig? They set a home-run record that never would be broken, and they were swinging at a rabbit ball. Last year the Giants came along and made those Ruth-Gehrig Yankees look like bunters. They were hammering at a rubber ball, even faster than the one Babe and Gehrig swung at.

"To show the difference, if Ruth were playing in the day of 'Home-Run' Baker, his top would have been 20 home runs for the entire season."

Which reminds me that I ran into Larry Lajoie a few years after he had quit and the lively ball had come into use. Larry played in an old-timer's game.

"I'm glad," he said, "we didn't have this modern ball when I played."

ASK ME ANOTHE

The Questions

1. Which has the most its neck, the giraffe or t row?
2. How old is the game
3. How are illegal stil tracked down these days?
4. How many different trees are there on the Whi grounds?
5. Why is the India rubb so called?
6. What is the "ultraso dering" of clothes that predicted by a Britsh sci
7. What is the ratio of land in Alaska?
8. What is a grebe?
9. Approximately how "as much money as a carry"?
10. When did World Wa cially end?

The Answers

1. The giraffe has 7, t row 16.
2. It is said to have o in India in the third centu
3. By airplane
4. Ninety different kin
5. Because a 15-foot sp for example, can extend be pulled to a length of
6. The use of vibrations ly pitched inaudible sound to shake out the dirt.
7. Approximately one p every 10 square miles.
8. The grebe is a paddle almost tailless diving bird to the loon.
9. Ten billion dollars in t est bills printed (100,000 bills).
10. July 2, 1921, when P Harding signed a joint re declaring peace with G and Austria.

CLASSIFI DEPARTME

HELP WANTED—M

BODY MEN: Need 2 more body town. Clean shop. Plenty work. rage. PARSONS MOTOR CO., Iowa.

FARMS & RANCHE

640 A. SO. MINN. stock farm. C of improvements including 2 hous On state highway. High school. soil. Price $30.00 per A DE BUH CO., Albert Lea, Minn.

CANADIAN FARMS—Write us for FORMATION on farm settlement op Fertile soils. Reasonably priced. R Canadian Pacific Railway, Unio Paul, Minn.

REAL ESTATE—HOUS

LARGE home suitable for nursing apartments, built in elevator basement. J. P. ARNOLD, Cen

BUSINESS & INV. OP

SHOE SHOP for sale or trade. FISHER, Box 207, Brighton, Iow

APPLIANCE STORE—Well estab location, liv. quarters, low four- immed. because of health. C LAND CO., Mankato, Minn.

POULTRY, CHICKS & E

WHITE PEKIN DUCKLINGS—$8. $14.75 for 50 and $28.00 per 100. Austra White and White Giant started chicks. SCHECKEL'S H Springbrook, Iowa.

LIVESTOCK

REGISTERED Domino Blanchard bulls, 2 choice individuals. O. HORN, Lehrville, Iowa.

FARM MACHINERY &

NEW HARDIE Row-Crop Sprayer tank, 30' boom, 25 HP engine. C LIMBERG, Flanagan, Ill.

JOHN DEERE Model D on rubb condition, price $6000. KOTECK Rt. 2, LaSalle, Ill.

ELECTRICAL EQUIPM

20 HP G. E. motor, 220-3-60 1200 only few hours. CONCRETE P CO., Winterset, Iowa. Phone 274.

MISCELLANEOUS

WE CLEAN Septic tanks and Cess ters or cards post dated earliest first consideration. L. DYER, Per er, Hull, Iowa.

HOSE mending, reweaving, garm Mail orders welcome. JOSIE SH 301 Shops Bldg., Des Moines, Iowa.

WINDO-GLIDER
CARRIES WINDOWS WITHOUT WEIGHT
Solves Most Window Prob Stops Rattling

This handy device fits in the space between sash and fra easy to apply, and costs only set good for a whole window. to modernize your home or construction. If your dealer c carry it, we will make post-pai ment direct to you. Simple instr included. Send us check or M the number of sets you need. Today.

LEON PRODUCTS, Dept. WNU, 1028 N. Ashland, Chicago

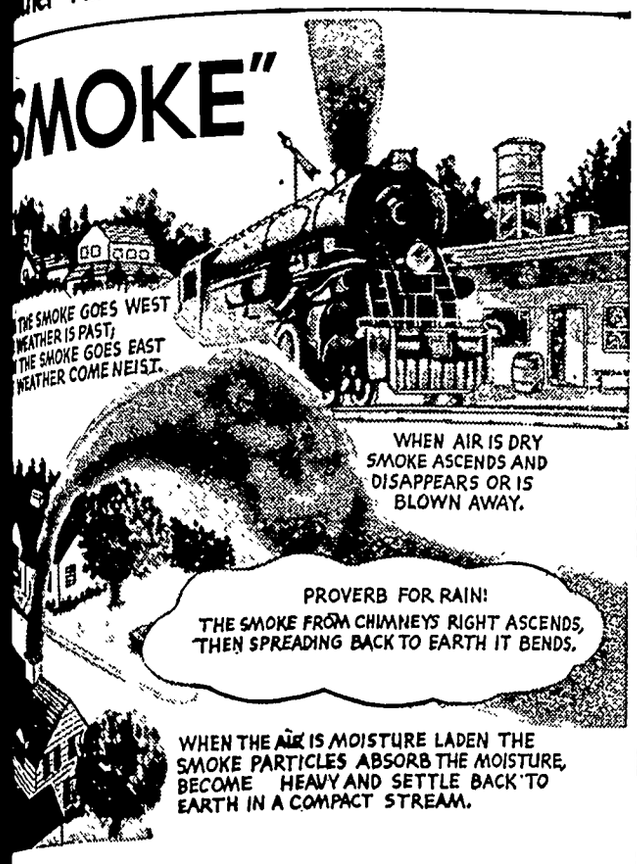
WNU—N

IT'S APPRECIA

...when you ph the news to u

THANKS!

...ther Vane — by Carl Starr



SMOKE"
THE SMOKE GOES WEST
WEATHER IS PAST;
THE SMOKE GOES EAST
WEATHER COME NEIST.
WHEN AIR IS DRY SMOKE ASCENDS AND DISAPPEARS OR IS BLOWN AWAY.
PROVERB FOR RAIN!
THE SMOKE FROM CHIMNEYS RIGHT ASCENDS, THEN SPREADING BACK TO EARTH IT BENDS.
WHEN THE AIR IS MOISTURE LADEN THE SMOKE PARTICLES ABSORB THE MOISTURE, BECOME HEAVY AND SETTLE BACK TO EARTH IN A COMPACT STREAM.

...HY WE SAY by STAN J. COLLINS & L. J. SLAWSON

The correct term is Palmy Days, not Balmy Days as so often said and today infers prosperity. This expression originated with the Roman gladiators who received a palm branch as a symbol of their victory.

...OKING AT RELIGION — By DON MOORE

JOAN of ARC
"THE MAID OF ORLEANS"
...IS P. TAFT, SON OF EX-PRESIDENT WILLIAM H. TAFT, RECENTLY BECAME THE FIRST 100 PER CENT LAYMAN TO HEAD THE "FEDERAL COUNCIL OF CHURCHES"
...MPLETE BOOK OF THE ...S AND CHARACTERS OF ...E SAINTS HAS NEVER ...N MADE!
WAS NOT BEATIFIED UNTIL NEARLY FIVE CENTURIES AFTER HER MARTYRDOM

Did'ja Hear?
BY Herman
RICHARD MACRONE, ARRESTED BY LOS ANGELES POLICE FOR PASSING BAD CHECKS, EXPLAINED HE WAS WORKING HIS WAY THROUGH DIVINITY SCHOOL.
QUESTIONING POLICE ANGERED MRS. VELMA O'DAY OF PALO ALTO, CALIF., SHE STARTED SWINGING...SENT THREE TO THE HOSPITAL BY KICKING ONE, BREAKING ANOTHER'S RIB AND JABBING A CIGARETTE IN THE THIRD ONE'S EYE.

The Washington MERRY-GO-ROUND

By DREW PEARSON

Dust Bowl Menace

ALBERT GOSS, master of the National Grange, bluntly warned President Truman the other day that we are inviting another "dust bowl" disaster unless we begin redeveloping the grasslands of the West.

"I have just returned from a trip to Wyoming and can tell you that the dangers are very real," reported Goss. "There has been too much plowing up of the grasslands we developed as insurance against future dust storms."

The grange leader, who is the ablest farm spokesman in Washington, explained that the high prices and demand for wheat for domestic and foreign aid were chiefly responsible, since farmers didn't want to maintain pasture lands when they could turn a quick profit on grain crops.

"Most people take it for granted that we have licked the dust bowl hazards which caused such tragedy in the West some years back," added Goss. "However, dust can blow again, and will blow in my opinion within the next few years unless those grasslands are restored."

* * *

Oil Lobbyists at Work

NO. 1 INDUSTRY IN THE CAPITAL has become lobbying. Despite the lobbying act, the hotels, the cocktail lounges, the corridors of congress now swarm with more of these oleaginous back-slappers than during the war. Standing out above the rest is the oil lobby—kingpin of them all.

The oil lobby has just scored one great victory—Palestine. Now it's concentrating on perhaps the richest of all prizes—tidelands oil.

Tidelands oil, the great continental shelf extending under the water off the Pacific and Gulf coasts, is estimated by some as more valuable than Arabia and the oil fields of the United States combined. Around 100 billion barrels lie buried in these underwater oil fields, as against only 20 billion barrels remaining in the dry-land oil fields of the United States.

"The petroleum resources of the continental shelf are ours to exploit whenever to exploit them becomes worthwhile," said Standard Oil in a statement to stockholders. And since the supreme court now takes a contrary view that the continental shelf belongs to the federal government, not the states, the oil lobby is focusing all its power on a bill introduced by Senator Moore of Oklahoma, himself an oilman, which would reverse the supreme court.

Having reversed the United Nations on Palestine, the oil lobbyists quite openly boast that they can put a law through congress reversing the highest tribunal of the land.

* * *

Ike, the Democrat

THE REPUBLICANS WERE RIGHT in calling the turn on General Eisenhower's use of army personnel after his retirement from the army. However, it's interesting that the man who called the turn was Congressman A. L. Miller of Nebraska, spearhead of the MacArthur-for-President movement. These boys don't like Eisenhower.

Also it's significant that other high-ranking generals and admirals have continued to use army-navy personnel after their retirement. For instance, Admiral Ernie King, now retired, used not only a navy office but navy clerical personnel to write a book.

And if all the money spent on Gen. John J. Pershing during his retirement were added up it would total over a million. Pershing, although retired for years, continues to be the second highest paid government official, drawing a salary of around $26,000 a year. Only the President of the United States tops him. In addition, Pershing has a colonel as an aide, plus other army personnel, and for years has lived at Walter Reed hospital.

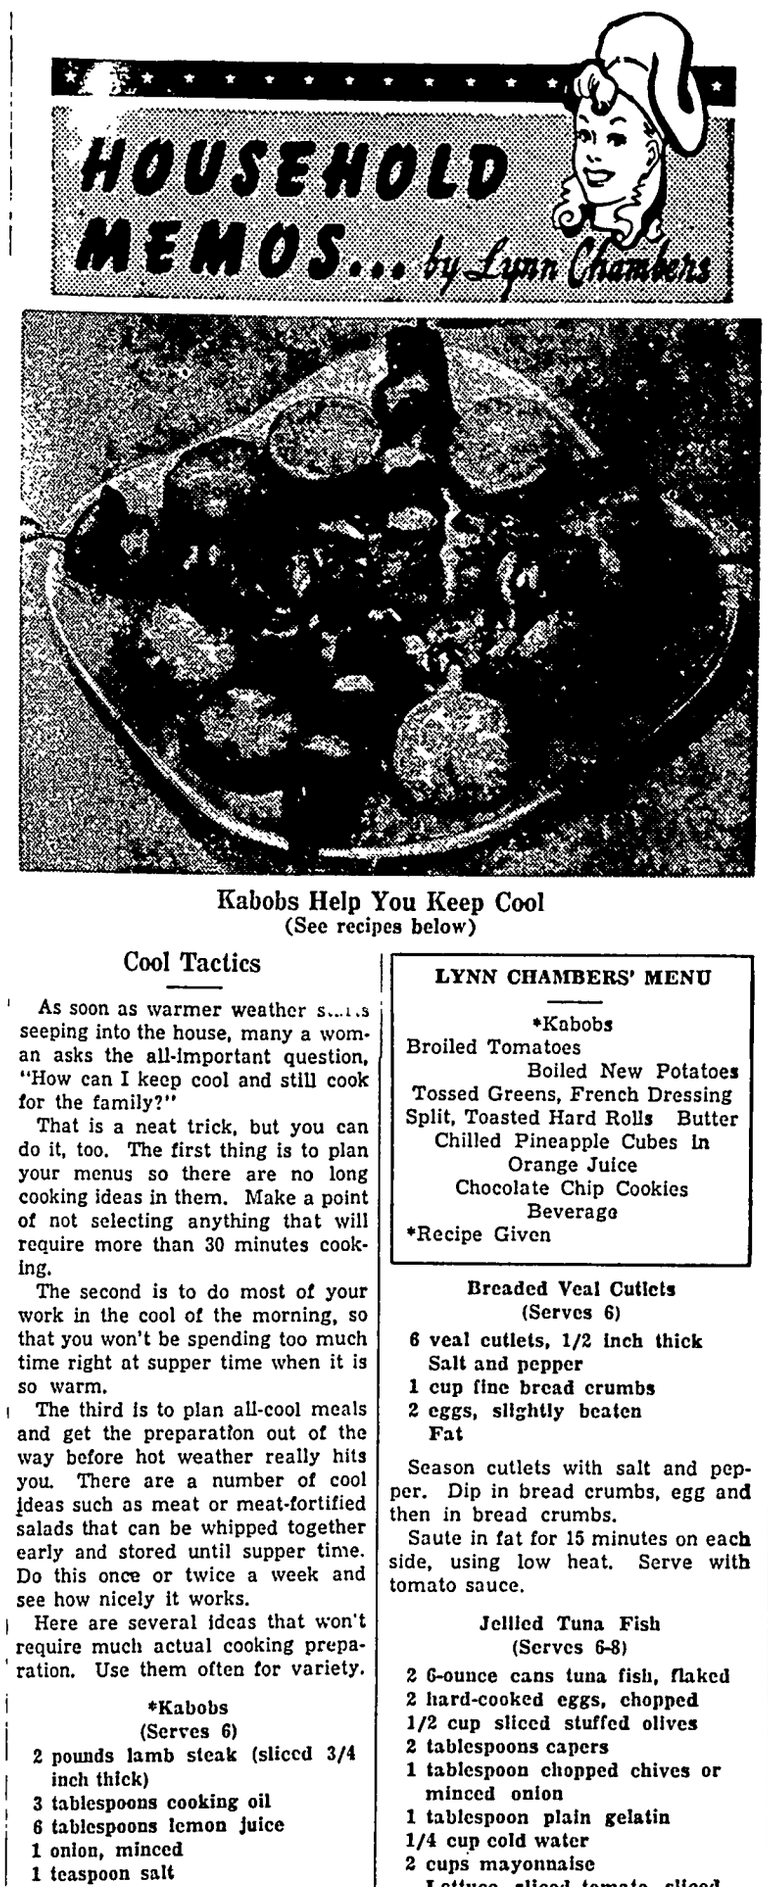
Eisenhower has a staff of three assigned to him at Columbia—Maj. Robert L. Schulz, an aide; WAC Warrant Officer Margaret Hayes and Mastersergeant Leonard Dry, a chauffeur. He also draws a salary of $15,751 a year for life from the army in addition to his salary as president of Columbia university.

Note—Pershing, although appointed by Woodrow Wilson, is the son-in-law of the Republican chairman of the senate appropriations committee, the late Francis E. Warren of Wyoming. The Republicans now consider Eisenhower a Democrat.

* * *

Capital Chaff

HENRY WALLACE is looking around for a new Charlie Michelson to supply him with campaign material. (Some people think that's a waste of time; Harry Truman's doing a better job than Charlie Michelson) . . . Democratic leaders will be amazed when they find out that Oregon Democrats are going to support Henry Kaiser against Truman.



Kabobs Help You Keep Cool
(See recipes below)

Cool Tactics

As soon as warmer weather starts seeping into the house, many a woman asks the all-important question, "How can I keep cool and still cook for the family?"

That is a neat trick, but you can do it, too. The first thing is to plan your menus so there are no long cooking ideas in them. Make a point of not selecting anything that will require more than 30 minutes cooking.

The second is to do most of your work in the cool of the morning, so that you won't be spending too much time right at supper time when it is so warm.

The third is to plan all-cool meals and get the preparation out of the way before hot weather really hits you. There are a number of cool ideas such as meat or meat-fortified salads that can be whipped together early and stored until supper time. Do this once or twice a week and see how nicely it works.

Here are several ideas that won't require much actual cooking preparation. Use them often for variety.

Kabobs
(Serves 6)

- 2 pounds lamb steak (sliced 3/4 inch thick)
- 3 tablespoons cooking oil
- 6 tablespoons lemon juice
- 1 onion, minced
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1/2 pound mushrooms

Cut lamb into one-inch squares. Combine oil, juice, onion and salt. Pour over lamb and let stand for several hours. Drain lamb and arrange on skewers alternately with mushroom caps. Place four inches below moderate broiler heat and broil 12 to 15 minutes, turning several times. Serve with broiled tomatoes (broiled at same time).

Pork Tenderloin in Sour Cream
(Serves 6)

- 1 1/2 pounds pork tenderloin
- Fat
- Sour Cream
- 1 tablespoon flour

Cut tenderloin into one-inch slices and brown in fat. Cover with sour cream and simmer about 20 minutes until tender. Remove meat, add flour to cream and simmer four minutes.

Salisbury Steak
(Serves 6)

- 4 strips bacon
- 1 1/2 pounds ground chuck or round
- 1/2 pound ground pork
- 1 tablespoon chopped onion
- 1 tablespoon chopped parsley
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1/2 teaspoon pepper

Chop bacon and mix lightly with meat, onion, green pepper, parsley and seasonings. Shape into cakes and place them three inches under broiler heat. Broil 12 minutes, turning once.

Vegetable Sausage Salad
(Serves 6)

- 1 quart diced cooked potatoes
- 2 cups cubed salami or Thuringer sausage
- 2 tablespoons vinegar
- 2 cups large cooked peas
- 1 cup chopped celery
- 1 pimiento, chopped
- 6 sweet pickles, chopped
- 2 hard-cooked eggs, chopped
- Mayonnaise and salt

Mix all ingredients together and add enough mayonnaise to moisten, salt to taste and extra vinegar, if desired. Heap in a large wooden bowl lined with crisp lettuce and garnish with tiny whole pickled beets and slices of hard-cooked eggs.

LYNN SAYS:

Color, Flavor Contrast Will Whet Appetite

If you don't want warmer weather to wilt appetites, keep in mind interesting texture, flavor and color contrasts in preparing foods. No appetite wanes when food plates look pretty.

Roll oranges and lemons until slightly soft before squeezing to get more juice.

For crisp, dry bacon, broil on a cake rack. Drain on unglazed paper.

LYNN CHAMBERS' MENU

- *Kabobs
- Broiled Tomatoes
- Boiled New Potatoes
- Tossed Greens, French Dressing
- Split, Toasted Hard Rolls Butter
- Chilled Pineapple Cubes in Orange Juice
- Chocolate Chip Cookies
- Beverage

*Recipe Given

Breaded Veal Cutlets
(Serves 6)

- 6 veal cutlets, 1/2 inch thick
- Salt and pepper
- 1 cup fine bread crumbs
- 2 eggs, slightly beaten
- Fat

Season cutlets with salt and pepper. Dip in bread crumbs, egg and then in bread crumbs.

Saute in fat for 15 minutes on each side, using low heat. Serve with tomato sauce.

Jellied Tuna Fish
(Serves 6-8)

- 2 6-ounce cans tuna fish, flaked
- 2 hard-cooked eggs, chopped
- 1/2 cup sliced stuffed olives
- 2 tablespoons capers
- 1 tablespoon chopped chives or minced onion
- 1 tablespoon plain gelatin
- 1/4 cup cold water
- 2 cups mayonnaise
- Lettuce, sliced tomato, sliced avocado

Combine tuna fish, eggs, olives, capers and chives. Soak gelatin for five minutes in cold water. Dissolve over hot water. Add to mayonnaise, stirring constantly. Add to fish mixture and mix thoroughly. Turn into mold and chill until firm. Unmold on lettuce and garnish with tomatoes and avocado.

Shrimp Salad, New Orleans
(Serves 4)

- 1 cup cooked rice
- 1 cup canned or cooked shrimp
- 3/4 teaspoon salt
- 1 tablespoon lemon juice
- 1 tablespoon minced scallions or onion
- 2 tablespoons French dressing
- 1 tablespoon chopped stuffed olives
- 1/4 cup slivered green pepper
- 3/4 cup diced raw cauliflower
- 1/3 cup mayonnaise
- 1/2 small head of lettuce or escarole, finely shredded

Chill rice. Clean shrimp, removing black vein down the back. Cut shrimp into pieces, then combine with remaining ingredients. Serve on individual beds of the shredded lettuce.

Salad That Satisfies

Salad suggestions always intrigue the homemaker who is interested in varying her menus, particularly when she wants to "dress up" a cold meal for hot summer days. Here is one slightly different from the usual salad: Make lemon jelly in the usual manner, using lemon flavored gelatin or the plain unflavored gelatin and following the standard recipe. Turn into molds which have been rinsed with cold water. Fill molds about one-fourth full. Let this gelatin harden. Then fill molds with a combination of chopped apple, grated coconut, celery and a bit of chopped pimento for flavor. To two cups gelatin, use one cup chopped apple, two-thirds cup chopped celery, one pimento and one-half cup grated coconut. Fill molds with gelatin and chill until firm. Serve on salad greens with French dressing or a sour cream dressing.

Released by WNU Features

Vegetable plates are interesting if they are carefully planned. Have you tried a nest of spinach with poached eggs, French fried onions, tomato stuffed with peas and creamed carrots?

Here's an idea that's as good as it is beautiful: Broccoli with hollandaise sauce, sliced beets, corn fritters and green peas.

Stuff peppers with Spanish rice, then serve them on the same plate with buttered carrots, fried eggplant and cole slaw with Russian dressing.

Walter Winchell

(WNU Service)

Man About Town:

Western Union soon will begin installing a new fire warning device in leading hotels. It's the invention of a Georgia farmer, deeply shaken by the loss of 121 lives in Atlanta's Winecoff hotel holocaust. He designed a thermostat which can be attached to phone wires to ring the switchboard when room temperatures get near fire level . . . Deeply religious and interested only in saving lives; nevertheless Western Union made him rich. His reward being $1,500,000 (it says here) in a deal swung by a Washington patent firm.

During a recent intermission critic George Jean Nathan was told that Chicago's dean, Ashton Stevens, was ill.

"Do you know," said a reviewer, "that Ashton's been a drama critic for over 50 years out there?"

"What!" said Nathan. "And he just got sick?"

This is the column's idea of an inoffensive Mefoofsky quip . . . Mefoofsky and a pinochle player named Bromowitz got into a big argument during a game . . . After tempers exploded (and they called each other names), Bromowitz challenged Mefoofsky to a duel with pistols in the park at dawn.

"Dot's a dill!" agreed Mefoof. "I'll be dare!"

Bromowitz and his seconds were at the appointed place on time, but Mefoofsky was nowhere in sight. After waiting an hour, Bromowitz sent one of his seconds to phone "the doyty coward!"

"Tell him not to get so excited," said Mafoofsky. "I got tied opp. I'll be dare in twenty minutes — tell him to start shooting."

When the President enters public halls for a speech the band strikes up "Hail to the Chief!" . . . At Mrs. P. Mesta's private affair for him, his entrance cued the orchestra to go into: "I'm Just Wild About Harry" . . . Jimmy Savo, the star, was robbed of pocket money by stickups after an engagement at a swank spot. The bandits didn't get $2,500 he hid in his wooden leg . . . Fifth avenue bus firms will hire you only if you can't drive. Break you in their own way.

Item: "Taft says he's still in the running."

They went THAT way!

Story Tellers: Robert Sherwood, the only intimate of Harry Hopkins and the top authority on FDR (capable of writing a book about them) will unveil his biography via Harper. He had the enormous Hopkins and Roosevelt White House files for his documentation . . . One New Dealer is writing a book on Jim Farley—not to be published until after Farley has gone to Heaven "so that he can't defend himself!" . . . Newsweek quotes Collier's chief editor, W. Davenport, as saying an editor is "one who knows precisely what he wants but is not sure what it is" . . . We like the old definition better: "An editor is a dead reporter."

Wallace Still Is Leading the Presidential Preference Poll (conducted by the five Embassy Newsreel theaters) with 3,799 . . . Stassen is second with 3,224 and Eisenhower is third with 2,389 . . . Arthur Murray thinks it's funny to see Arline Judge calling off her planned marriage. Arline usually calls things off AFTER the wedding . . . The no sirens on the New York police prowl cars isn't funny to the cops. Some of them managed to catch a stickup, anyway, after trailing him through midtown heavy traffic, despite all the stops they were forced to make at corners.

Midtown Vignette: Agent Paul Small met a ham in Lindy's. "How do you feel?" Paul asked . . . "Broke the record in Baltimore," was the answer . . . "I hear your wife's been ill," said Paul . . . "I killed 'em in Boston," was the retort . . . "Well," Small sighed, "what's new?" . . . "Broke the record in Detroit, too," said Our Hero . . . "Where do you go from here?" yawned Paul . . . "I go to Chicago," said the bore . . . "Yes," was the squelcher, "I hear the train's sold out!"

The Big "Scandal" over at the United Nations concerns one of Mr. Stalin's top comrades. He has fallen for a very "decadent" American custom. He is buying the most capitalistic doodads and gems for a keptive on Central Park South. A southern belle . . . If the courts decide that the movie and theater business must be divorced—Paramount is expected to sell its production interests and retain the theaters.

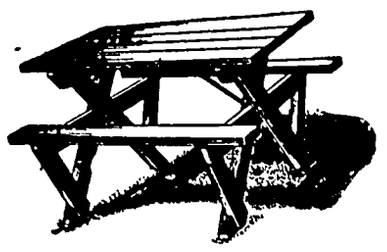
Newest quip on the Trumans: "Porchy and Bess."

Build It From A Pattern

By: Donald R. Brann

There's nothing like having an old fashioned picnic in your own backyard. Especially so when you have this sturdy table all set up ready to seat the entire family. Its construction permits leaving it out the year round.

The pattern offered below takes all the mystery out of building the table to any size needed. While the pattern suggests making it six feet, it provides complete, easy to follow, directions for making it longer, if desired. All materials used in building this table are stock size and readily obtainable at lumber yards everywhere.



Building the table or other pieces of lawn furniture provides an economical solution to your household equipment problems. In many cases two articles can be made for less than one costs ready made. Besides saving money, woodworking provides hours of complete relaxation. Once you've experienced the deep down satisfaction of seeing lumber turn into a useful picnic table or lawn chair, you will undoubtedly become one of a huge army of "Build It yourself" enthusiasts.

Send 25c for FULL SIZE Picnic Table Pattern No. 22 to Easi-Bild Pattern Company, Department W., Pleasantville, N. Y.

Super-Luxury Buses Being Built

Snack bars, rest room facilities, steward service and electric razors aren't usually connected with buses, but all of them will be a part of a new super-luxury bus service soon to start on the main highways of the nation.

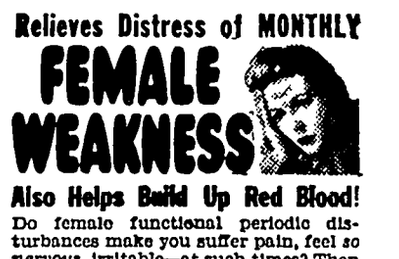
The first regular service of the new coaches will be limited to fast, extra-fare express schedules to and from New York, St. Louis and Chicago. Although constructed on a 41-passenger chassis, capacity of the new model is reduced to 32 seats in order to provide space for the washroom and the buffet counter and to give more legroom between the seats. The snack bar is located at the forward end of the bus beside the driver.

Constipated? So Was This Woman

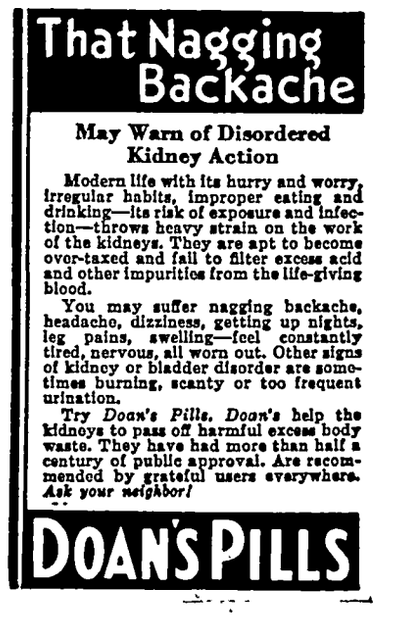
"I would go from one Sunday to the next, then take a harsh purgative. That's over now that I eat KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN daily."—Mrs. Katherine Turner, Indianapolis, Ind.

If your diet lacks bulk for normal elimination, eat an ounce of KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN every day in milk—and drink plenty of water. If not satisfied after 10 days, send empty carton to Kellogg Co., Battle Creek, Mich., and get DOUBLE YOUR MONEY BACK. Get KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN NOW!

SPRAY WITH Black Leaf 40
—Double-duty insecticide: Kills by contact; kills by fumes. Destroys plant lice but spares beneficial insects. Insist on original factory-sealed containers to insure full strength.
One ounce plus soap makes 6 gallons of effective aphid-spray.
TOBACCO BY-PRODUCTS & CHEMICAL CORPORATION
Nicotine Specialists Since 1885
LOUISVILLE 2, KENTUCKY
LOOK FOR THE LEAF ON THE PACKAGE



Relieves Distress of MONTHLY
FEMALE WEAKNESS
Also Helps Build Up Red Blood!
Do female functional periodic disturbances make you suffer pain, feel so nervous, irritable—at such times? Then try Lydia E. Pinkham's TABLETS to relieve such symptoms. Pinkham's Tablets are also very effective to help build up red blood in simple anemia.
Lydia E. Pinkham's TABLETS



That Nagging Backache
May Warn of Disordered Kidney Action
Modern life with its hurry and worry, irregular habits, improper eating and drinking—its risk of exposure and infection—throws heavy strain on the work of the kidneys. They are apt to become over-taxed and fail to filter excess acid and other impurities from the life-giving blood.
You may suffer nagging backache, headache, dizziness, getting up nights, leg pains, swelling—feel constantly tired, nervous, all worn out. Other signs of kidney or bladder disorder are sometimes burning, scanty or too frequent urination.
Try Doan's Pills. Doan's help the kidneys to pass off harmful excess body waste. They have had more than half a century of public approval. Are recommended by grateful users everywhere. Ask your neighbor!
DOAN'S PILLS

KLEMME LOCAL NEWS

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Schmidt left Tuesday for the Black Hills and Montanna on a vacation trip. They will visit Paul Stromer and family at Rapid City, South Dakota.

KLEMME LOCAL NEWS

Mrs. R. A. Jorgenson Jr., Judy and Ray III, Mrs. R. A. Jorgenson, Sr. and Mrs. M. L. Harson visited at the Lyle Liebendorfer home in Mason City Monday afternoon.

DANCE

DUNCAN COMMUNITY HALL

Viking Accordion Band

Monday Night, June 14

EVERYONE WELCOME!

BPS
BARN PAINT
RED
A BETTER PAINT
THAT LASTS LONGER
Holds its bright red color . . . does not fade out like so many cheaper barn paints often do.
Resists all kinds of weather conditions:
Can be liberally reduced with linseed oil.
Spreads on easily . . . covers well.
Use it on barns, silos, outbuildings, fences, bridges, warehouses and all wood, brick or metal surfaces.
ALSO FOR METAL ROOFS—
BPS BARN PAINT RED is the ideal paint to use on galvanized iron or tin roofs.
BPS
BARN PAINT
RED
A PATTERSON-SARGENT PAINT

PAINTERS AVAILABLE.

We have made contact with two reliable painters. If you need a painter we will be glad to help you.

Northern Lumber Co.

Lloyd Sherwood, Mgr. Klemme, Iowa.

KLEMME LOCAL NEWS

Shop in Klemme on Wednesday and Saturday nights.

Mrs. Herman Bridges was visiting with Mrs. Elwood Geary Friday afternoon.

Larry Wicks, air lines hostess at Minneapolis, spent the week end visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Buntenbach

Dr. and Mrs. D. P. Anderson and Neva Ann visited over the week end in Kansas City with relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Liebendorfer of Mason City were dinner guests Sunday evening at the Ray Jorgenson, Jr. home.

Mrs. Mildred Day returned home Monday from Mason City where she spent a week visiting at the Dorance Day home Dorance was ill the past week end and spent several days in the hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. John Clement and sons and Mrs. W. F Pavey drove to Webster City Sunday afternoon and were supper guests at the Wayne Pavey home They went to see the new baby Sally Marlene.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Baack and Mrs. Elsie Baack and Dorance drove to Council Bluffs Thursday and brought Gordon Baack home. Gordon attend the Iowa School for the Deaf at Council Bluffs and is making wonderful progress in his studies.

Mr. and Mrs M. L. Harson entertained to a fish dinner on Friday evening Mr and Mrs R. A. Jorgenson, Jr, Judy and Ray III, and Mr. and Mrs R A Jorgenson, Sr Mert has had wonderful luck fishing the past week at Clear Lake and the dinner consisted of an assortment of Walleye pike Northern pike Bluegill, Silver Bass and Striped Bass!

PHOTOGRAPHS

Live Forever

RUSSELL
Photo Studio

Next to J. C. Penny Co.
Ph. 2272 Mason City, Ia.

KLEMME LOCAL NEWS

Mrs A. H. Dulmes and Mrs. George Lawhorn were Mason City visitors Monday.

Mrs. George Schoenwetter was a Mason City visitor Monday afternoon.

Anson Avery of east of Goodell was a business caller in Klemme Tuesday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Edd Schoenwetter of Garner were Sunday dinner guests at the Elwood Geary home

Klemme business places are open two evenings a week: on Wednesday and Saturday. Shop in Klemme and save.

Mrs Antonio Keraus left on Wednesday for Swea City for a visit with her daughter, Mrs. Rosa Mitchell

Farmers will profit by fly control through more meat and [illegible] on from their live-

Mrs Odell Bock and daughter [illegible] from Montgomery, Alabama are spending a month at Odell Bock home

[illegible] Ahrenkeil and family [illegible] spent a few days [illegible] visiting with his [illegible] Agnes Ahrenkeil

[illegible]rge Lawhorn started hauling mail on Route 1 this week as carrier Sumner Trumbell is [illegible] a vacation for the balance of June

Mr and Mrs Fred Chisel of Forest City visited at the Emil Ludt home Wednesday afternoon Mr Chisel also transacted business in Klemme

Progress is being made on two new houses in Klemme Both Mrs Art Knoke's and Mrs [illegible] Ridder's houses are now roofed

Mr Sharron Raum and baby [illegible] of Missouri Valley visiting at the Wesley Patterson home The ladies are sisters

Mrs. Virgil Cook, who underwent a major operation at a Mason City hospital a couple of weeks ago and who was in a critical condition, at this writing is reported to be improveing in her home

Mr and Mrs E H. Patet drove to Colwell Sunday where they attended a wedding reception for a cousin, and also attended a birthday party for another cousin

Mr and Mrs Paul Grange of Mason City, spent Sunday visiting at the P. W "Happy" Johnson home at Dakota City Both families are former residents of Klemme

Mr and Mrs. Frank Hejna and four sons from northeast of Hayfield were Klemme visitors Tuesday morning The Hejna family lived on C A Larsen's farm west of Klemme several years

Mrs Carl Finders spent several days last week visiting at the home of her parents, Mr and Mrs Wm Warner in Iowa Falls. Mrs Warner came home with Mrs Finders to spend this week with her daughter and family

"Queen of the Con Game"—A colorful new series by Pat Frank about such famous characters as "Chicago May" Churchhill, Mildred Carr and others. Read the initial story in "Nellie Muench's Blackmail Babes," in The American Weekly, the magazine distributed with SUNDAY'S CHICAGO HERALD-AMERICAN

GARNER CLINIC
GARNER, IOWA

Dr. E. M. Christensen, M.D.
Physician & Surgeon, Ph. 18
EYES TESTED — GLASSES FITTED

Dr. A. G. Landon, D.D.S.
Dentist, Ph. 207

Arthur Wellemeyer
FUNERAL DIRECTOR

—with long experince and best equipment.
PROMPT AMBULANCE SERVICE
Phone 23-R2 Day or Night

Klemme - Iowa

KLEMME LOCAL NEWS

Mr. and Mrs. George Thieman were visiting Sunday evening at the Elmer Schneider home.

Dale Brede and family visited with Mrs. Anna Anderson Sunday afternoon.

Miss Doris Johnson was a dinner guest of Miss Irene Schmidt at the Fred Schmidt home Sunday.

Mrs. Odell Bock and Carolyn from Montgomery, Ala. visited at the Clifford Montgomery home.

The Study Group will meet at the Methodist Church Thursday instead of at Mrs. Arnold's home.

Mrs. Ernest Gerardi, Miss Marie Blank, Mrs Melvin Schlei and Mrs. Kermit Schlei and her mother of Clarion drove to Des Moines Tuesday.

Dr. E. A Watson and sons, Teddy and E. A. Jr. of Belmond and Glen and Lee Gruis were supper guests of Delwyn Brede at the Dale Brede home Friday evening.

Mr and Mrs. Fred Barz visited from Wednesday evening until Saturday with Mr. and Mrs. Emil Barz at Lamont, Iowa. Mr Barz is in charge of the Bank there.

Mr and Mrs. Verle Keraus entertained to dinner Saturday evening Larry Wicks of Minneapolis and Mr and Mrs. E. C. Buntenbach and "Red" of Klemme.

Dan Kaduce and family of Thompson moved Saturday into the Mrs. Fred Kothenbeutel house which had been occupied by Herman Back and family. Dan Kaduce, who purchased the house some time ago, is section foreman here

Mr and Mrs E. C. Buntenbach and son "Red" and Mickey Keraus flew to Minneapolis on Saturday to bring Larry Wicks home for the week end They arrived at the airport in time to see Larry, who is an airline hostess, get passengers off her plane.

Study Group

The Study Group of the Methodist Church will meet this week Thursday at the Klemme Methodist Church. Mrs. Lee Ridder is the lesson leader and the hostesses are Mrs. Frank Ward and Mrs. Vivian Mace. All ladies are invited

AVERY
—The—
Theatre Beautiful
Garner, Iowa

Wednesday
(ONE DAY ONLY)
Starring
NELSON EDDY
And
ILONA MASSEY
NORTHWEST OUTPOST
With
JOSEPH SCHILDKRAUT

Thur. - Fri. - Sat.
JUNE 10, 11, 12
(Three Days)
CALL NORTHSIDE 777
JAMES STEWART
With
LEE J. COBB
HELEN WALKER

Sun. - Mon. - Tues.
JUNE 13, 14, 15
7 GREAT SONG HITS!
JEANNE CRAIN
DAN DAILEY
In
YOU WERE MEANT FOR ME
With
OSCAR LEVANT
PERCY KILBRIDE

Wednes. - Thursday
JUNE 16, 17
SHE'S PLENTY GOOD!
LINDA BE GOOD
With ELSE KNOX
JOHN HUBBARD
MARIE WILSON

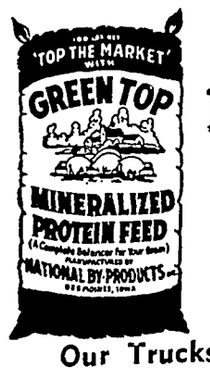
KLEMME LOCAL NEWS

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hougland and daughter and Mr. and Mrs. Junior Pringnitz were visiting at the Elwood Geary home on Thursday evening.

CURTIS G. RIEH
Attorney-At-Law
Office Over Federated St
Res. Phone 133W2
Phone 133 Garner, Io

DEAD STOCK

PROMPTLY REMOVED



Britt Rendering Co
Dept. of Agr. Lic. No. 22

WE PAY PHONE CHARGES

KLEMME Phone 700
GARNER Phone 4000

Our Trucks Are Steam Cleaned After Each Load

TANKAGE AND MINERALIZED FEED FOR SALE AT OUR PLANT

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

Who is this Man?

Now and then, in the pages of the Clarion, I run a biographical quiz, under the heading of "Who Is This Man?" For instance...

"He was one of the earliest lovers in American history...

"And yet he was too shy to court a woman outright...

"He came to the New World on the Mayflower...

"A cooper to repair the beer barrels accompanying the Pilgrims...

"Who is this man?"

I thought that everybody was stumped. But not Ma Hoskins, w returned the clipping to me wi "John Alden" on it. She recogniz all the clues—including that refe ence to "beer" and "cooper."

For Ma—who's read her histo knows that beer as the bevera of moderation, is as old in this la of ours as the never-ending Ame can search for tolerance whi brought the Pilgrims over to t country in the first place.

Joe Marsh

Copyright, 1948, United States Brewers Foundati

K. F. M. Specials

FRIDAY and SATURDAY, June 11 - 12

We Reserve The Right To Limit

Week End Special
PERFEX ---------- box 23c

Monarch
CATSUP ---------- bottle 23c

For Your Monday Washday
SUPER SUDS ---------- per box 35c

Occident
FLOUR ---------- 50 lb. sack $4.00

No Rub
FLOOR WAX ---------- pint bottle 39c

Kellogg's
VARIETY PACKAGE ---------- 32c

Hallmark
PRE COOKED BEANS ---------- per box 20c

Parker House
COFFEE ---------- lb. 49c

Griddle Mix
PANCAKE FLOUR ---------- per pkg. 39c

BRING US YOUR EGGS — CASH OR TRAD

Klemme Food Market

Monarch Finer Foods C. A. Larsen, Pro

We have a complete stock of

Felco Feeds

Try 'em

ACCOUNTS!

PAY WHAT YOU OWE US NOW—

We need our cash to meet our obligations.
Please don't make it necessary to use our time to collect what is due us. Thank You!

Klemme Coop. Grain Company

"The Farmers Elevator" Glen Bridges, Manager

THE KLEMME TIMES

...ume 53. KLEMME, IOWA, June 16, 1948 Number 31.

...w Lighting System Makes Klemme Brightest Town

...T OF CREWS COMPLETED ...RK HERE SATURDAY

...t And Most Modern Type ... Equipment Installed By ...tral States Electric Co

...mme's new lighting sys... Main Street and elec... line improvements in the have now been completed ...e Central States Electric ...aking Klemme the bright... spot in North Iowa.

...first crew to arrive here ...e installation job was the ... Construction Co. of Du... who did the surveying ...gineering for the Central ... Electric Co. Mr. Riley ...is son were both on the ...om start to finish to make ...rvey, lay the cable and in... ...he lights. Mr. Riley told ...es reporter that Klemme ...e only town in the state that had the new high ...oles on which the lights ...ounted. Steel poles are ... and most towns use con...oles. Mr. Riley and his ...ere very particular in ...work and the lights are in ...t alignment in both di... ... The new lights have ...n operation for the past ...weeks, but the Central ... Co. did not consider the ...g job in Klemme complete ...he residential section was ...d over.

...this job the Wright Tree ...e Company of Des Moines ...a crew of fine young men ...ir branches away from ... lines to remove trees ...interferred with electric ... or street lighting. Stan...addy, a GI who's home ...s Albia, was in charge of ...ew of young men. They ...all a very fine bunch of ...oung men and there was ...any vile language going ...is often the case with a ...oving into a town. They ...ll very courteous and re... ...the rights of others, and ...led with the people of ...n.

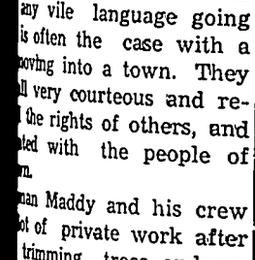
...uan Maddy and his crew ...ot of private work after ... trimming trees and re... trees. Their work was ...t and efficient and they ...ne job.

Central States Electric ...nt thousands of dollars ...me this year to give ...e the very best of elec...ting and service.

...ll Attend Wedding

...nd Mrs. W. F. Missman, ...nied by Dr. and Mrs. L. ...ons of Belmond, left on ... morning for Worches..., where they will at...e wedding on Saturday ... Gertrude Rosemary Mac...o Dr. Byrnes Missman. ... Missmans and Parsons ...o tour the northeastern ...n their vacation trip.

...ELLO, FOLKS!



...d Mrs. Glenn Lewis of ...osa, California are the ...arents of a baby son, ... lbs. 13 oz. born Satur...ne 12th. He has been ...ary Glenn.

...d Mrs. Armour Mullin ...ha are the proud par... ...wins, a boy and a girl, ...day, June 13, 1948 at ...e Memorial Hospital in ... The boy, Donald Lee ... 4 lbs. 14 oz., and the ...na Lee, weighed 5 lbs.

...d Mrs. Mullin are for... ...me residents.

FORMER KLEMME ATHLETIC COACH MARRIED AT DAYTON, OHIO JUNE 6

Mr. and Mrs. Owen E. Littler of Dayton, Ohio, announce the marriage of their daughter, Marietta, to Mr. Glenn R. Bowles of Indianola, Iowa on Sunday, June 6th at the Third Street Baptist Church at Dayton.

Mr. Bowles was athletic director of the Klemme High School before the War and saw extensive service over-seas. He will coach athletics in a Des Moines high school this coming year.

SUNBEAMS HEAR CAMPERS REPORTS JUNE 11

Friday, June 11 ten members of the Avery Sunbeams Club heard the reports from the two girls who attended the 4-H District Camp. The campers had a very good time, and learned many interesting things in their various classes and activities.

For old business it was decided the club will pay half of the campers fees and also half of the fees for the girl who will attend the State Convenion.

During new business we discussed plans for the all day meeting, which will be held on June 29th. The meeting will begin at 10:00. We shall have a work shop in the afternoon, following a pot luck dinner.

Doris Gruis gave a talk on day to day care of clothes. Lois Lowenburg gave a demonstration on sewing on a button.

The meeting was closed with songs and an interesting game which was led by Lillian Wille.

Stoudy Group Met

The Study Group of the Methodist Church WSCS met on Thursday for their June meeting.

Devotions were lead by Mrs. Otto Lemke and the lesson was given by Mrs. Levi Ridder.

A solo by Rev. Harvey was greatly enjoyed. He was accompanied on the piano by Miss LaNelle Harvey.

Questions and answers were in charge of Mrs. E. J. Arnold. There were 23 adults and 3 children present.

Refreshments were served by the hostesses Mrs. Frank Ward and Mrs. Vivian Mace.

Court House Will Close

The Hancock County Courthouse will be closed all day Thursday, June 17 so that county officials may attend the County Officers' School of Instruction to be held in Des Moines on June 16, 17 and 18.

BOY SCOUTS HAD OVERNIGHT CAMP AT THE TRUMBELL WOODS

The Klemme Boy Scouts, accompanied by their Scoutmaster, Claude White, packed heir duffle bags and hiked to the Trumbell Woods southeast of town and had an over night camp Saturday night.

The boys studied birds and flowers, fished and prepared supper and breakfast and had a camp fire at night singing songs and telling stories.

Dr. Dulmes brought the tried but happy boys home Sunday morning. Pictures were taken of the Troop.

JOLLY WORKERS CLUB MET WEDNESDAY

The Jolly Workers Club met at the home of Mrs. Louisia Waddingham on Wednesday afternoon June 9th, with sixteen members and one visitor present who answered the roll call by giving an account of how their tulip bulbs turned out which we received from Holland last fall. A couple of letters from our family in Holland were read. For recreation we read tongue twisters and held a spelling contest of which Mrs. Mildred Gruis was the winner Mrs. Lois Schlichting and Mrs. Ruth Trampel were in charge of recreation this meeting. It was decided that a picnic would be held in the Klemme park on Sunday, July 18 for all the members and their families. Each one is requested to bring two covered dishes and their own sandwiches Candy treats were given out to all in honor of childrens day which is in this month.

The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Ruth Trampel on July 14th with Mrs. Verdbelle Gilpin as co-hostess. A delicious lunch was served at the close of the meeting by Mrs. Louisia Waddingham as hostess and Mrs. Maude Bachman as co-hostess.

TWO INJURED WHEN CAR AND SCOOTER COLLIDE

Gary Swyter,7, of Goodell and Glenn Bier, 23, were shaken and bruised Monday afternoon when the motor scooter they were riding collided with a car driven by George William Hall of Mason City on highway 69, 3 miles south of Klemme. Sheriff L. M. Brower investigated the accident.

Pink And Blue Shower

Mrs. Kermit Schlei and Mrs. Clarence Lemke entertained a group of friends and relatives to a Pink and Blue shower at the former's home Wednesday afternoon, June 2nd, in honor of Mrs. James Larson. The afternoon was spent in playing games and visiting Mrs. Larson received many lovely gifts.

A delicious lunch was served by the hostesses at the close of the afternoon.

FIRST BALL GAME UNDER LIGHTS THURSDAY EVE

The new lights for Klemme's lighted soft ball field have been installed and the first game of the season will be played here in Klemme on Thursday evening of this week, Klemme vs. Crystal Lake, a league game beginning at 8:30 o'clock.

On Thursday, June 24th the R. C. team plays the Klemme team and on Thursday, July 1, Garner plays here. That will be three home games on each of the next Thursday nights.

Night games are thrilling to watch and it is cool every evening on the Klemme field on the school house grounds. Plan to take in these games.

Now Reside At Hampton, N. H.

The Times is in receipt of a letter from Mrs. Glenn Marshall, the former Pearl Wade of Klemme, in which she says their new address is now Box 146, Hampton, N H.

She also states that her grandfather, Henry Wade, is now visiting in Illinois and that he will soon arrive in New Hampshire by train.

Mrs. Marshall says they have had a lot of rain and are just putting in their gardens as the weather has been cold due to the fact that they live near the ocean. However, she says the flowers are beautiful and she has never seen such large pansies as grow there.

Attended Aviators Breakfast At Spencer Sunday Morning

R. A. Jorgenson and son, Ray Jr. flew their plane to Spencer early Sunday morning for an Aviators' Breakfast, at 7:00. o'clock. There were some 300 airplanes on the field from all over Iowa and Minnesota. The Wicks Field at Garner was represented by 14 people.

Air traffic was well organized and it was quite a sight to see planes coming into the field in groups and being parked in long rows about the field.

Band Concerts Saturday Nights

The first band concert of the season by the Klemme High School Band, directed by Stanley Bulka was given on Wellemeyer's lot on Main Street Saturday night and was enjoyed by a large crowd Band Concerts will be given regularly every Saturday night in Klemme.

Garner Reformed Church

REV. R. D. STUEBBE

ZION CHURCH:
Sunday.
Worship Services at 9:00 A. M.
Sunday School at 10:00.
PEACE CHURCH:
Sunday School at 10:10.
Worship Services at 11:00 A. M.

The Methodist Church

Herschel E. Harvey, Pastor

KLEMME
THURSDAY
Work Circle at 2:00 p. m.
Choir at 7:45 p. m.
SUNDAY
Worship at 10.00 A. M.
Sunday School at 11:00 A. M.
Youth Fellowship at 7 p. m.
LIBERTY
SUNDAY
Church School at 10:45 A. M.
Worship at 11:45 A. M.
Youth Fellowship at Klemme at 7:00 P. M.

Evangelical & Reformed Church

Calvin Grosshuesch, Pastor

SUNDAY
10 A. M. Morning Worship.
Rev. H. P. Ley of Mission House College and Seminary, Plymouth, Wisconsin will be our guest speaker.
11:00 A. M. Sunday School.
7 P. M. Young Peoples Bible Class.
THURSDAY
8:00 P. M. Mixed Choir.
MONDAY-FRIDAY
8:00 A. M. Bible School.

AVERY HUSTLERS MEET

The Avery Hustlers held a meeting on May 24, at the home of Gerry Kastler.

The leader gave an interesting talk showing the relationship between feed costs and the market price of an animal, and Delwyn Brede gave a talk on the feeding and management of dairy heifers. A discussion on table manners followed. Melvin James gave a reading "Under the Cow Hangs Milk."

Our next meeting will be held June 15, at the home of Larry Pals.

Liberty Go-Getters Meet

Dairy questions were filled out by the 12 club members at the meeting of the Liberty Go-Getters at the home of Duane Prohaska on June 2.

A soft ball game was scheduled with Garfield on Sunday, June 6.

KLEMME LOCAL NEWS

Let's make Kemme "Fly-Free" this year.

Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Elder were entertained to dinner Sunday at the Rev. Harvey home.

Rev. and Mrs. H. E. Harvey and LaNelle were at Mason City on business Monday.

Let's make Kemme "Fly-Free" this year.

Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Bier and son Ronnie of Goodell, were callers at the parental Art Polsdofer home Sunday evening.

Ruth Hughes, County Clerk of Garner, was calling on Klemme friends Thursday afternoon.

Mrs. Merlin Neuberger was a Mason City visitor Thursday afternoon.

Earl Denmark of Iowa University spent the week end visiting at the C. A. Larsen home.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Dow and daughter, Priscilla, of Sheffield, Iowa, were guests at the W. C. Keraus home Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. Mary Waterman returned home from Clarion where she spent about ten days visiting at the Fred Musfelt home.

Lawrence "Bud Polsdofer of Garner was a caller at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Art Polsdofer, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. John Tapper and family of Kamrar, Iowa, were Sunday dinner guests at the Claude White home.

The Youth Fellowship Class of the Methodist Church held their regular meeting at the Claude White home Sunday evening.

Janelle Kaye, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Lau was baptized at the Evangelical and Reformed Church Sunday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Mathews of Clear Lake were supper guests of Mrs. Mildred Day Friday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Dick Mohler of Dayton, Ohio, left Thursday after a couple of days visit at the parental Art Wellemeyer home.

Esther and Velma Tiggeman of Forest City visited over the week end at the parental Wm. Tiggeman home.

Mr. and Mrs. Emil Beier left Thursday for a two weeks vacation trip in Wisconsin and Minnesota.

Mrs. Art Hanson, of Garner, Mrs. Aug. Dahlstrom of Janesville, and Mrs. Art Polsdofer of Klemme were callers at the Glenn Bier home Thursday afternoon.

Marjorie Polsdofer returned home Saturday from the Iowa City hospital where she spent several days receiving treatment.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Keeper and son of Mason City and Mrs. Henry Keeper of Klemme left Friday for Wisconsin for a visit with Albert and Alvin Keeper.

Mrs. C. A. Larsen and Mrs. R. W. Elder drove to Ames on Thursday to bring 'Pete' Larsen home for the summer vacation. Mrs. Elder also visited with C. R. Elder and family.

Mrs. Otto Pringnitz will move a house to Klemme this year on the corner lot north of the Art Wellemeyer residence. The basement has been excavated and other work will go right along.

Lundys Honored On Their 25th Wedding Anniversary

RECEPTION AND DANCE WAS HELD AT COMMUNITY HALL MONDAY EVENING

Refreshments Served Following Program With Allan Barz As M. C.

Mr. and Mrs. Orris Lundy, who reside on the Buntenbach farm east of Klemme, were honored at a reception and dance at the Klemme Community Hall Monday evening, the occasion being their twenty-fifth wedding anniversary. A large number of relatives and friends were present to offer their congratulations.

The evening started off with a program with Allan Barz as Master of Ceremonies who kept things going at a lively pace. The first number on the program was a piano selection "Romance" by Barbara Luscomb of Ventura followed by group singing "Let Me Call You Sweetheart."

Miss Jean Kurtz honored the couple with a vocal solo, "The Anniversary Song" Next a tap dance by Bonnie Bysong brought rounds of applause. A humorous sketch by Allan Barz depicted Orris Lundy 25 years ago "Milking the Cow." The program came to a close with a Mock Wedding in which the following took part: Minister, Ruth Kurtz; Bride, Bud Montgomery; Groom, Joan Smith; Bride's Maid, Bonnie Bysong; Best Man, Madeline Lundy; Ring Bearer, Billy Renner; Flower Girls, Jean Renner and Barbara Potts; Train Bearers, Harlan Lee and Gary Baack; Bride's mother, Raymond Christians; Bride's father, Esther Hartbeck. The wedding marches were played by Iris Rosendahl.

Decorations Pink And White

After the program refreshments were served. The decorations were in pink and white and the Bride's table was centered with a large 4-tier wedding cake topped with a silver horse shoe and the enumerals 25. Bouquets of pink roses and white flowers completed the setting.

Mr. Barz presented Mr. and Mrs. Lundy with a silver coffee service and a silver sandwich tray from the guests. Both Mr. and Mrs. Lundy responded with short talks.

Following the lunch all enjoyed dancing to the tunes of Earle's Band until a late hour.

This party was planned by Mr. and Mrs. Lundy's two daughters: Mrs. Don Standley of Clear Lake and Madeline. They were assisted by Bonnie Bysong and Mrs. Menno Albers. A group of neighbor ladies and friends helped in the kitchen.

Were Married At Mason City

Mr. and Mrs. Lundy were married June 14, 1923 in the Methodist Church in Mason City. They were attended by Ruth and Eddie Fessenden as bride's maid and best man.

Mr. and Mrs. Lundy have lived at Dodge's Point, Clear Lake; north of Osage; south of Clear Lake and for the past several years have lived on the Buntenbach farm east of Klemme.

They are the parents of two daughters. Bernadine, now Mrs. Don Standley of Clear Lake and Madeline at home. They have three grand children, Donnitta, James and Donnie Standley.

Guests were from Osage, Clear Lake, Garner, Ventura, Klemme, Kanawha, and Thornton.

IMPROVEMENT IN CROP PROSPECTS

Pasture, Small Grain Benefit Materially

Crop prospects improved materially in Hancock County the past week. A one inch rain of general nature fell Friday evening in every section of the county and benefited all crops, especially pastures and also small grain.

Late planted corn and soybeans where stands have been poor are now expected to improve. Early corn is making rapid progress and some of the early fields have reached the knee high stage.

Oats is heading and looks good but will be sort on sandy soil do to prolonged drought.

The hay crop in the county will be the smallest in years as many acres of hayland have been plowed and put to grain crops. The first cutting of alfalfa will be completed this week.

FORMER KLEMME BOY MARRIED TO ALGONA GIRL ON SATURDAY AFTERNOON

Miss Jeanette Elaine Rogers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Rogers, and Robert W. Reed, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. J. "Jim" Reed, both of Algona, were united in marriage at the First Methodist Church at Algona on Saturday afternoon with the Rev. Gilbert S. Cox reading the double ring ceremony.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Reed are students at Iowa State College. The Reed family formerly lived in Klemme and Goodell when Mr. Reed was engaged in the garage business. He is now a salesman for an auto parts supply company and calls in Klemme every week.

Klemme's New White Way Lighting

Above is a picture taken last Wednesday night of Klemme's new modern white way lighting system recently completed by the Central States Electric Co. The Main Street business section is so well lighted that you can read a newspaper in the middle of the street. The above picture was taken from the Post Office looking west. The first building shown on the left is the Quandt Cafe. The bright spot in the upper right is the street light in front of the Bank. Notice the continuous row of bright lights on the right, reaching down the street to the Northern Lumber Co. This new lighting system makes Klemme the brightest night spot in North Iowa.

Tree Trimmers Improve Electric System

The above is a picture of a group of young men from the Wright Tree Service Company of Des Moines, who were employed by the Central States Electric Co. to trim trees to clear away branches from electric lines and around electric lights to improve both service and lighting. The young men pictured above are all from the southern part of the state, in Iowa's "Tree Country", Albia, Sheridan, Carlisle, Osceola, Indianola and were practically "raised in trees." Reading from left to right, top row are Clifford Baker, Kenneth Forsythe, Gerald Crawford, Stanley Maddy foreman of the crew, and James Crawford. Kneeling in front are B. Walders and D. Rogers who just joined the crew last week.

Cross Town by Roland Coe

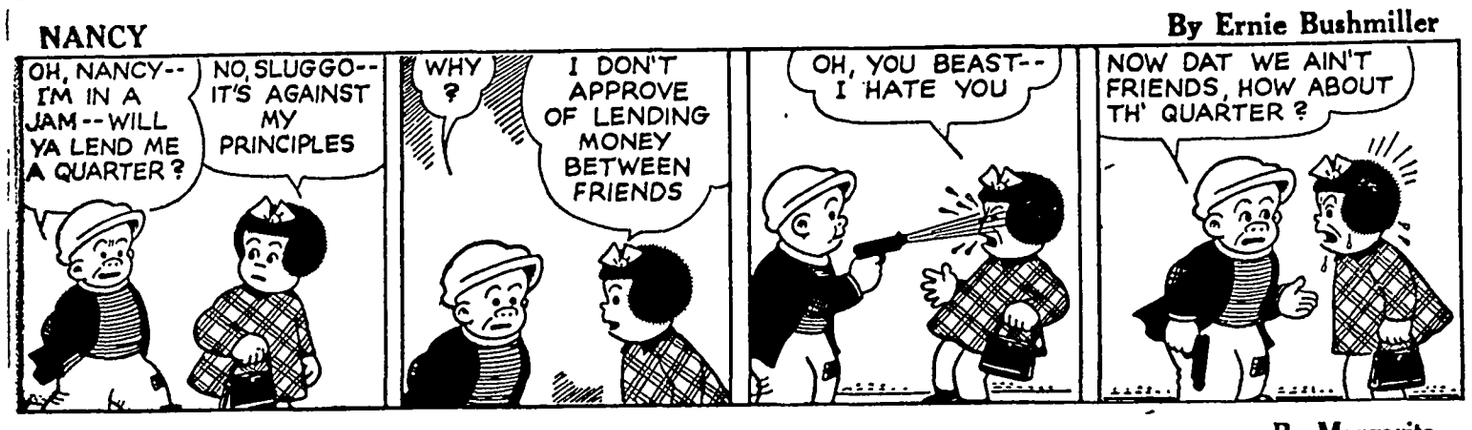
"SHE'S WAITING FOR 'SOFIE' SMITH, THIS IS THE DAY HE GETS HIS ALLOWANCE."

Bobby Sox by Marty Links

"EMMY LOU'S GOT THE MOST FASCINATING HOBBY!"

NANCY

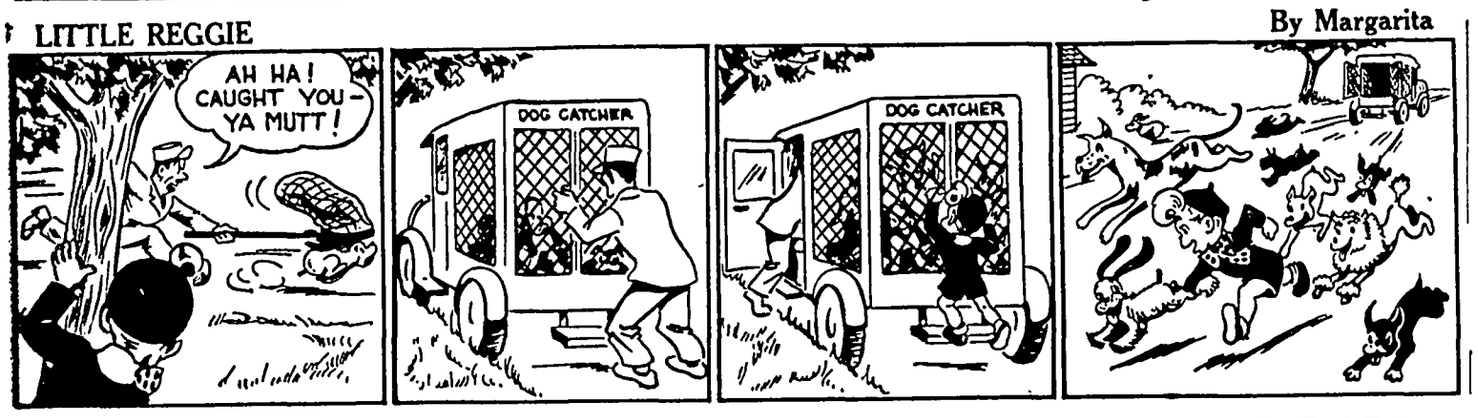
By Ernie Bushmiller



OH, NANCY-- I'M IN A JAM--WILL YA LEND ME A QUARTER?
NO, SLUGGO-- IT'S AGAINST MY PRINCIPLES
WHY?
I DON'T APPROVE OF LENDING MONEY BETWEEN FRIENDS
OH, YOU BEAST-- I HATE YOU
NOW DAT WE AIN'T FRIENDS, HOW ABOUT TH' QUARTER?

LITTLE REGGIE

By Margarita



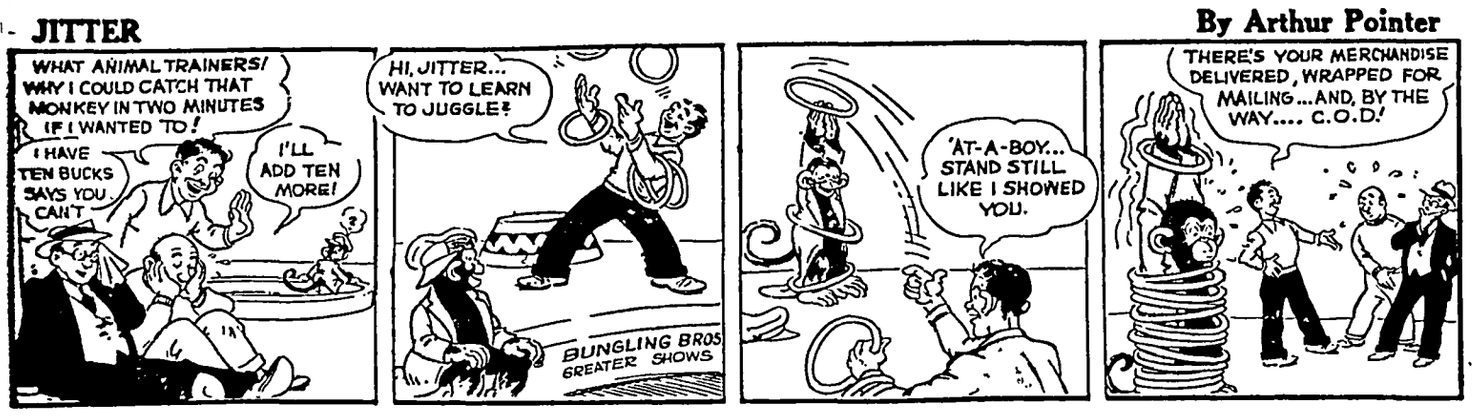
MUTT AND JEFF

By Bud Fisher

I'M ALWAYS SORRY WHEN THE WARM WEATHER COMES!
YEH, WHY?
ON ACCOUNT OF THIS NEW SUIT I BOUGHT
WHAT'S THE MATTER WITH IT?
OH, NOTHIN'! IT'S A GOOD SUIT! I GOT TWO PAIRS OF PANTS WITH THIS SUIT!
?
ONLY IT'S AWFUL HOT WEARIN' TWO PAIRS OF PANTS!

JITTER

By Arthur Pointer



WHAT ANIMAL TRAINERS! WHY I COULD CATCH THAT MONKEY IN TWO MINUTES IF I WANTED TO!
I HAVE TEN BUCKS SAYS YOU CAN'T I'LL ADD TEN MORE!
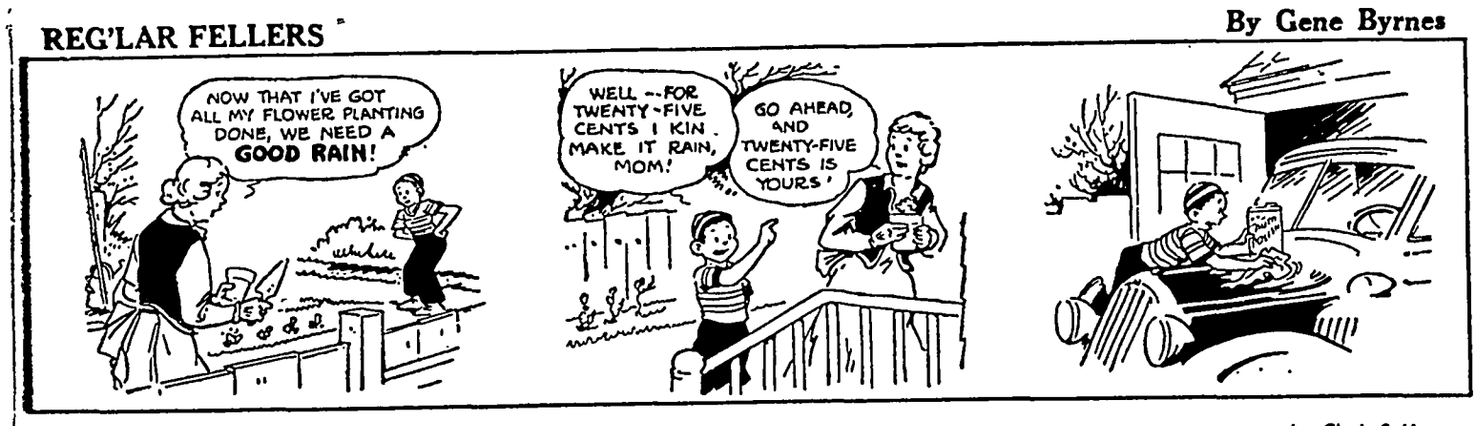
HI, JITTER... WANT TO LEARN TO JUGGLE?
BUNGLING BROS GREATER SHOWS
'AT-A-BOY... STAND STILL LIKE I SHOWED YOU.
THERE'S YOUR MERCHANDISE DELIVERED, WRAPPED FOR MAILING... AND, BY THE WAY.... C.O.D!

REG'LAR FELLERS

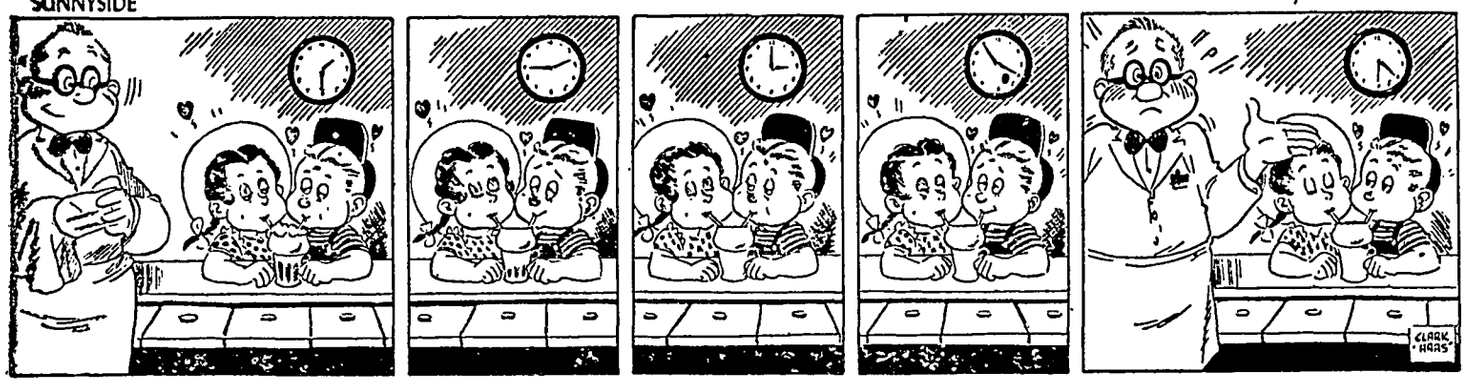
By Gene Byrnes



NOW THAT I'VE GOT ALL MY FLOWER PLANTING DONE, WE NEED A GOOD RAIN!
WELL --FOR TWENTY-FIVE CENTS I KIN MAKE IT RAIN, MOM!
GO AHEAD, AND TWENTY-FIVE CENTS IS YOURS!

SUNNYSIDE

by Clark S. Haas



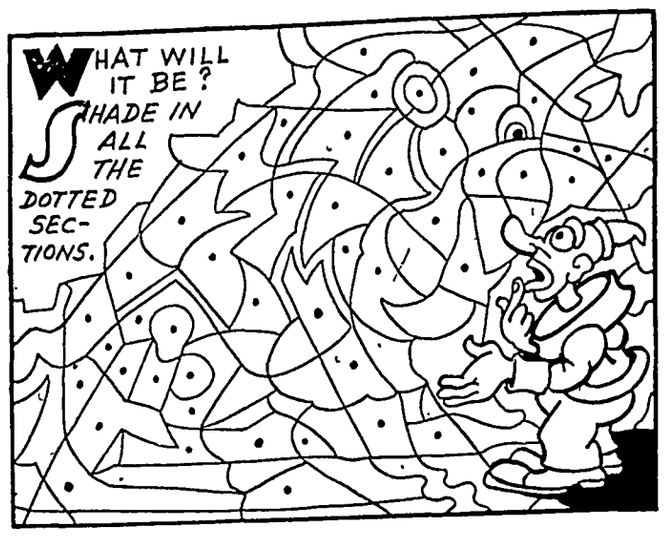
VIRGIL

By Len Kleis

YOU'RE A STUPID DUNCE AND A DUMMY AND I NEVER WANT TO SEE YOU AGAIN!
THIS IS TH' END OF EVERYTHING-
MY ONLY INTEREST IN LIFE IS GONE— WHAT NOW?
WHERE CAN I EVER FIND A NEW INTEREST TO TAKE HER PLACE?

FUNLAND

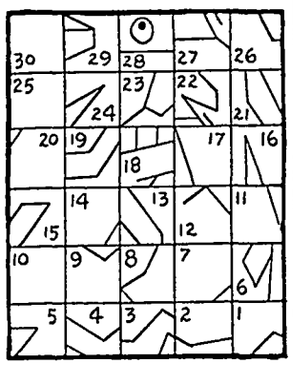
By A. W. NUGENT

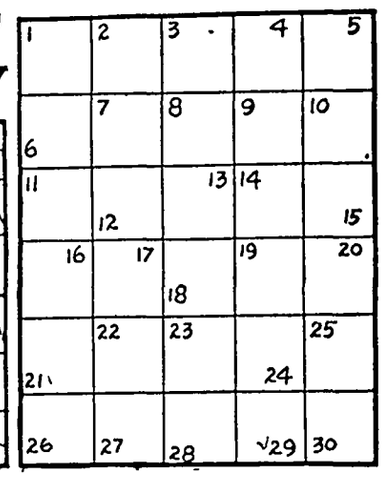


PENCIL FUN

DUPLICATE ALL THE LINES YOU SEE IN EACH SMALL SQUARE, IN THE EXACT POSITIONS IN THE LIKE NUMBERED LARGE SQUARES.

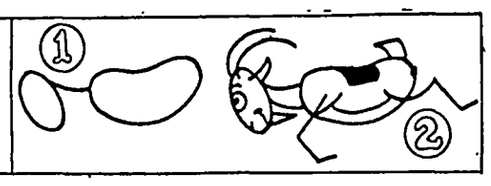
WHAT WILL YOU PRODUCE? START HERE





KIDDIE CORNER

DRAW ME IN TWO STEPS.

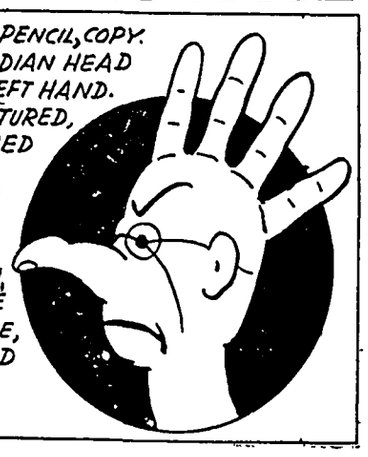


CHIEF MOVING FACE

BY USING A SOFT PENCIL, COPY THIS SIMPLE INDIAN HEAD ON THE PALM OF YOUR LEFT HAND. DRAW THE EYE, AS PICTURED, IN THE WRINKLE FORMED BY YOUR THUMB.

LOTS OF FUN CAN BE PROVIDED FOR THE KIDS BY MOVING YOUR PALM, OR FINGERS TO MAKE THE EYE WINK, THE NOSE, MOUTH, EAR, CHIN AND FEATHERS MOVE.

A. W. NUGENT



WNU 4823

CROSSWORD PUZZLE

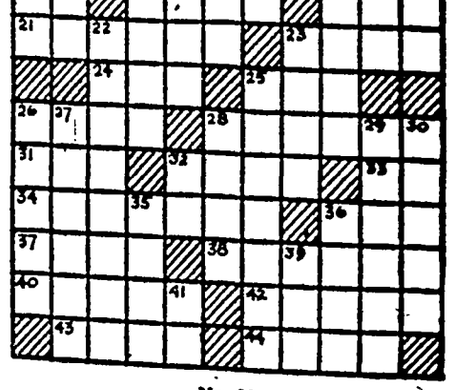
ACROSS

1 Applaud
5 Subsides
9 Cut
10 Ventured
12 Provision room
14 Wash
15 Noah's boat
16 Converts into ions
18 Music note
19 Prod
20 Vex
21 Walk with long steps
23 Band across an escutcheon
24 Type measure
25 Elevator cage
26 Millponds
28 City in Alaska
31 Shoshonean Indian
32 Musical instrument
33 Presiding elder (abbr.)
34 An order
36 A seagull
37 Large pulpit
38 Geological age
40 Layers
42 Outside
43 American Indian
44 Require

DOWN

1 A wine
2 Single ring of a chain
3 Perform
4 Punctuation marks
5 Editor (abbr.)
6 Island in Pacific
7 Pans for coals
8 Cuts
9 Masts
11 Writing tables
13 Bondage
17 Neon (sym.)
19 Fasteners
22 Recall
23 Young deer
25 Thistlelike plant
26 Gold coin (Aust.)
27 Very minute
28 Finished
29 Unfolded
30 More recent
32 Exclamation
35 Additional
36 Apportion
39 Hint
41 Selenium (sym.)

Solution in Next Issue.



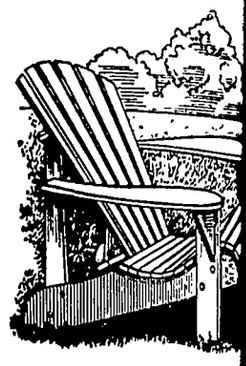
No. 21

Answer to Puzzle Number 20

WNU 4823

Build This Set of La Furniture Yourself.

If in need of lawn furnitu it yourself and save mon Size patterns are availab simplify building the m chairs and settee illustrate A smaller size chair, suit children two to eight years can also be constructed fro tern. Youngsters will be h join the family circle if th a chair they can call th Nothing seems to be quite portant to the young ones a things "just like Dad's".



The Full Size Woodwor tern provides a complete li terials needed, step by st tions and full size pattern ting each part. It's the dres idea applied to the flat s lumber. No special tools or required. All the materials by each pattern are stock readily available at lumb everywhere. So, for fun ove end, build one or more pieces. Get the youngster Have him sandpaper each him hold the pieces as holes. Explain why you use screws at every joint to h together and to keep moi If he's lent a hand buil chair you'll find him takin erably better care of it.

Materials for two chair purchased for less than c costs ready made. Make chairs from Pattern No. matching settee from Pa 39. Child size chair is Pa 132. Send 25c for each patte Pattern No. 132. Send 35c fo No. 39 to Easi-Bild Patt pany, Department W., Ple N. Y.

Small Fry

The youngster having cute little brown mouse i his family occupied, was a ing it to school with him. H tried to talk him out of the "It's all right, Mother," youngster. "We got lots of school."

"Yes, but those are whit the mother argued.

The kid looked at her i "Aha," he said. "Race huh?"

Makes 10 BIG Delicious Drinks! 6 Flavors! AT GRO Kool-A

"Everybody

SMACK! THE REALLY DELICIOUS COCO

FIRST CHOICE OF MI St. Joseph A WORLD'S LARGEST SELL

STOP LIGHTNING DAMA "National Quality" Systems Pre Stroke from Occurring. Write for "In Lightning Protection Wor NAT'AL LIGHTNING PROTECTI

PILES TRO For Quick R

DON'T DELAY ANY LONG doctor's formula you can u relieve distressing discomfo itch—irritation due to piles. ten and shrink swelling. U doctor's formula. You'll be speedy action relief. Ask today for Thornton & Minor ment or Suppositories. Fol structions. For sale at all

38% BRIGHT TEETH in 7 da

CALO TOOTH POW

A McKESSON & ROBBI

FICTION CORNER

FOLLOW THROUGH

By HAL MARQUETTE

SHOULD you encounter is man, exercise care.
ercus. Any further news
es in will . . ."

Anderson snapped off the e'd heard the particulars
rtal strangulation of Mrs.
and the description of ect several times this evefter that wordy, unlovely of the man, he felt that would recognize him if he tacted him, but he hoped wouldn't. Jerry was no but . . .

* * *

Jerry's recent discharge hospital, he decided that d to live out at the cotile making his plans for
re. His family objected, ut cause, and it wasn't Doc Crowder, the family and physician, convinced at it would be a good
Jerry to do under the nces, that they finally to his wishes. Jerry had very summer of his life
ntil his enlistment, and he old place.

en his mother and Lucy
ly left him this after-was glad. Not that he did reciate the things which been doing for him, but ed to be on his own. He to make and this change quiet that he would have perfect. He had tried, his month at home, to his own "self-reasoning" but to little avail. He dent that it could be tested by facing his problems
ently.

* * *

sat near the window for ce time trying to make at some of that "self-
," but his mind kept re-to the broadcast he had rlier. If the woman only a gun, he thought. She would have been afraid
it, though; most women
He thought of the empty his bag and wished that have tried again to get munition for it. He loved a gift from one of his who had not come back.
went into the bedroom and gun from his bag. He t and then slipped it into et. He smiled when he just how foolish that was.
back to his chair and his pipe.

d been sitting there for few minutes when, sud-
he heard the back door
ened, and then the click ght switch. He sat still, g who it could be, a oughts chasing through
d. He felt the useless his pocket and took it ping it firmly. Now, if could test himself on of the things which he ed during his rehabili-

than a minute, it seemed,
the ice-box door being and a low chuckle come intruder. Then he heard ing put on the table. He t whoever was in the eemed sure of himself.
know, he thought, that the whole house lighted, practically impossible to m any side.

nutes dragged while he
to the man eating and
From the noise he was slamming the ice-box moving his chair, the man undoubtedly thought that he was alone. Perhaps he had seen Lucy and her mother leave hours before and had waited for darkness to come.

After what had seemed an hour, he heard the man get up from the table and walk toward the hall which led into the living room. Jerry knew that his safety depended upon what he would be able to do within the next few minutes. It wasn't a very pleasant spot to be in, but . . .

He thought of the broadcaster's remark, that the killer had not used a car, and that it was suspected that he was making a getaway by the county back-roads and woods. This could be the man. For as long as he could remember, no ordinary tramp had ever strayed so far away from the main highway. He must have come upon the house by accident.

Jerry knew that his safety depended upon what he would be able to do within the next few minutes.

When Jerry heard a hand moving along the wall groping for a light-switch, he stood up and pointed the gun toward the door. Then it happened—the living room light was snapped on. He heard a hoarse cry of surprise.

The man's breathing was heavy as he stood motionless, facing the gun. He had a fear that Jerry could sense was genuine.

"Get 'em up! Who are you and what do you want?" Jerry was an officer in the infantry again as he made the demand.

The man was shaking when he spoke, "You're a cool one, brother. Put that gun down, please, before you hurt somebody." He took a step forward, and Jerry raised the gun and moved it slightly from side to side. Looking toward the man, Jerry was not sure of what he should do next. Then all the admonitions of his teachers came back to him: SHOW NO FEAR—THINK FAST—SPEAK WITH CONVICTION — REASON — FOLLOW THROUGH . . .

"Sit down in that chair," Jerry roared, surprised at his loud voice. This gave him a bit of confidence. Then he thought of his next move.

"A nut," the man ventured, half under his breath, and he obeyed. He kept his eyes on the gun as though hypnotized by it.

"Shut up and sit still."

"You're a smart . . ." The man glanced away from the gun just long enough to see if there was anything near that he could grab.

"Wot you going to do? Let me go. I ain't done nothing but eat some of your grub. Honest, mister, I'll get out of here quick if you'll put that gun down." This was the voice of a frightened man, but not the voice or true dialect of a hobo. Jerry relaxed slightly, and the man in the chair moved. This was the time to "follow through" if he was ever going to do it.

"Get up and do exactly as I tell you," he commanded.

The man cringed but rose slowly, his eyes still on the gun. He hated guns; he was afraid of guns, and he knew now that this man knew it, too. If he could only knock it to the floor . . .

"Keep your hands high, get to that telephone beside the door, and do as I tell you. Any monkey-business. . ."

The man advanced toward the door and the telephone without looking from right to left. Jerry moved to his side as he passed him. He could feel the man's body tremble, as though he were having a chill, when he touched him with the gun.

"Now put your left hand on the receiver, lift it off the hook and put it to your ear. When the operator answers, tell her to connect you with the Helm road district police. When they answer, tell them to come immediately to the Anderson cottage off Helm road."

The man lowered his arm slowly and took the receiver off the hook. He'd stall, he thought; maybe the nut would give him an 'in.' But hearing the sound of regular breathing and feeling the pressure of the gun against his back, any illusions that he might have had regarding an 'in,' were shattered.

"Operator, gimme the Helm road police station." His voice quavered, and his hand was shaking. He couldn't keep the receiver close to his ear.

The man was conscious of the gun at his back, and he spoke in a deep hoarse whisper, "Come to the Anderson cottage off Helm road right away."

"What's up?" Jerry heard the officer ask.

"Tell him," he snapped at the man.

"I've got the man you've been looking for."

Jerry heard the quick break of the connection at the police station. 'VISUALIZE—CHANCE IT—DO—FOLLOW THROUGH' . . . He had the answer . . .

"Drop that receiver and get your left arm up." He hesitated, then ordered his prisoner to go back to the same chair and sit down.

The killer had a dogged smirk on his face as he turned and moved toward the chair. He felt positive that his captor was a 'nut,' and with that gun . . .

Seconds passed as he continued to glare at Jerry. Then he thought of an old trick that he would try in order to get Jerry off guard. He wondered why he had not tried it when he first came into the room. Stiffening himself and settling back in the chair, he broke the silence with a tirade of oaths.

"Keep it up and keep them up, too," Jerry ordered.

This was not the reaction that the killer had hoped for. He then quieted and began to talk more coherently, and soon was telling of the crime for which he was being hunted. He spared none of the details.

Then Jerry heard the purr of a motor and men's voices. A slight wave of relief swept over him. Almost immediately, there was a sound of crackling shrubbery and running feet. The front door opened and two officers, with guns drawn, rushed in. They saw their man and covered him.

"Good work, Mr. Anderson, good work."

When the officers yanked the man to his feet and they had started for the door, one of them said to the prisoner, "You're lucky to have had this extra living time, him spotting you and with everybody in the county ready and willing to shoot you on sight."

The prisoner did not comment, but he scowled and was shaking and snorting with anger.

"The gun was not loaded, officer, and I could recognize him only from his story . . . you see, I am blind," Jerry said softly.

THE BIBLE SPEAKS

International Uniform Sunday School Lessons

By LOUIE D. NEWTON, D. D.

SCRIPTURE: Ezekiel 34:11-16, 22-31; Daniel 7:13-14; Zechariah 3:8-10; 6:12-13; 9:9-10, 12:10; 13:1; John 10:14.
DEVOTIONAL READING: Luke 1:46-55.

The Hope For The Messiah

Lesson for June 20, 1948

THE hope for the Messiah first revealed to Adam in Genesis 3:15, and repeated to Abraham, Moses, David and Isaiah, was now proclaimed through Ezekiel, Daniel and Zechariah.

Dr. Newton

Here we have the hope of preservation, the hope of peace, the hope of security, the hope of usefulness, the hope of deliverance, the hope of dominion, the hope of service, the hope of sovereignty, the hope of redemption and the hope of purification.

* * *

A PROMISE FROM GOD

THIS is no fancied scheme of man. It is God's clear promise. "Therefore will I save my flock, and I will set up one Shepherd over them, and he shall feed them . . . and I the Lord have spoken it."

God goes on to promise them peace by ridding them of danger, and security through his blessing upon the land. "There shall be showers of blessing."

* * *

LOOKING FOR A BETTER WAY

LONG had the people looked for a better way. Now God would provide that better way It would be vouched safe unto them through the Good Shepherd. He knows the way, he holds the key

The wistful hearts of the people must have been lifted up as Ezekiel and Zechariah shouted their prophecies of the coming Messiah. Many of these very passages have been used for the anthems which our choirs sing today. Well may every Christian employ them to tell of that better way in the midst of this troubled, changing world about us.

* * *

DANIEL'S DREAM OF THE DELIVERER

THE passage in Daniel is resonant with hope. "I saw in the night visions, and, behold, one like the Son of man came with the clouds of heaven." This dream of Daniel was a vision of the Messiah, bringing dominion, glory and a kingdom —a kingdom for all people, nations and languages. It is the universal hopes of the ages, brought nearer through this inspired vision of the prophet. "For unto us a child is born, and unto us a son is given; and the government shall be upon his shoulder; and his name shall be called Wonderful, Counsellor, Mighty God, Everlasting Father, Prince of Peace."

This vision of the coming Messiah set every bell ringing in the heart of humanity.

* * *

SAVIOUR AND KING FOREVER

ALL THE promises are embodied in these passages—Jesus the Saviour, Jesus the King, Jesus the Sanctifier Here was hope for the Jews, and for all mankind. It was proclaimed through Jewish prophets, and Jesus was born of a Jewish mother. Favored, indeed, was that race. And although there be many who have rejected the Messiah, he fulfills the deepest meaning of evevry man's hope.

With Charles Wesley we sing:

Hail, thou long-expected Jesus,
Born to set thy people free;
From our sins and fears release us,
Let us find our rest in thee.

Born thy people to deliver,
Born a child, and yet a King,
Born to reign in us forever,
Now thy gracious kingdom bring.

* * *

(Copyright by the International Council of Religious Education on behalf of 40 Protestant denominations. Released by WNU Features.)

Christian Generosity

On occasions a collection is taken in a tavern designed to relieve some man's distress. For any such generosity let us be thankful. But let us also remember that that sort of thing is done only occasionally in a liquor joint and it is the regular habit in a church.—Roy L. Smith.

No Grim Struggle

To become a musician you don't grit your teeth for a grim struggle. The basic fact for successful living is that life is eager to serve you. Approach it, then, in faith. "Fear not, little flock, it is your Father's good pleasure to give you the kingdom!"—Virgil Kraft.

Summery Party Dress for Tots
Versatile, Smart Shirtwaister

8307
1-5 yrs.

Party Dress

Delightfully easy to make — and such fun to wear! An adorable little party dress for warm weather with crisp wing sleeves and tiny ruffling to edge the round yoke. To match, dainty be-ruffled panties.

* * *

Pattern No. 8307 is for sizes 1, 2, 3, 4 and 5 years. Size 2, dress, 1⅞ yards of 35 or 39-inch; panties, ½ yard.

8037
14-46

Shirtwaist Style

The most wearable frock in your wardrobe—the neatly tailored shirtwaist style. This cool looking version has brief sleeves, set-in belt and a graceful panelled skirt. Suitable to almost any fabric.

* * *

Pattern No. 8037 comes in sizes 14, 16, 18, 20; 40, 42, 44 and 46. Size 16, 3½ yards of 35 or 39-inch.

The Spring and Summer Issue of FASHION offers a wealth of sewing information for every home dressmaker. Special features, easy to make styles, free pattern printed inside the book. 25 cents.

SEWING CIRCLE PATTERN DEPT.
530 South Wells St. - Chicago 7, Ill.
Enclose 25 cents in coins for each pattern desired.
Pattern No. _____ Size _____
Name _____
Address _____

Electric Appliances Require Safe, Convenient Location

Small electric appliances require a safe as well as a convenient place to stand if they are to be kept in good condition and repair bills are to be avoided. A safe place is both dry and level.

Tables and kitchen counters generally are safe locations for using appliances, but the drainboard of the sink is not. Electricity can travel through water. Therefore, wet hands, wet terminals and wet cords invite injury to the user as well as to the appliance. Water can ruin the heating element. Moreover, a sloping drainboard may let the appliance slip and fall.

Falls are the cause of much damage to small appliances in homes. Just one tumble can put an iron or toaster out of order and spoil its appearance as well. Every appliance should stand level. The cord should be out of the way so no one will catch or trip on it and pull down the appliance.

An electric appliance should not be set on a window sill where it can be knocked over when the window is shut, or where rain may come in and damage the heating element.

Elevator Travel

Some 17 billion passengers yearly travel more than 241 million miles in elevators. About 5,000 new elevators went into operation in metropolitan areas throughout the United States in early 1948, at an estimated cost of 60 million dollars.

makes ironing EASY

the Starch in the buttercup yellow box

NO BOILING
NO STICKING

Yodora checks perspiration odor

THE SOOTHINGEST WAY

Made with a face cream base, Yodora is actually soothing to normal skins. No harsh chemicals or irritating salts. Won't harm skin or clothing. Stays soft and creamy, never gets grainy.

Try gentle Yodora—feel the wonderful difference!

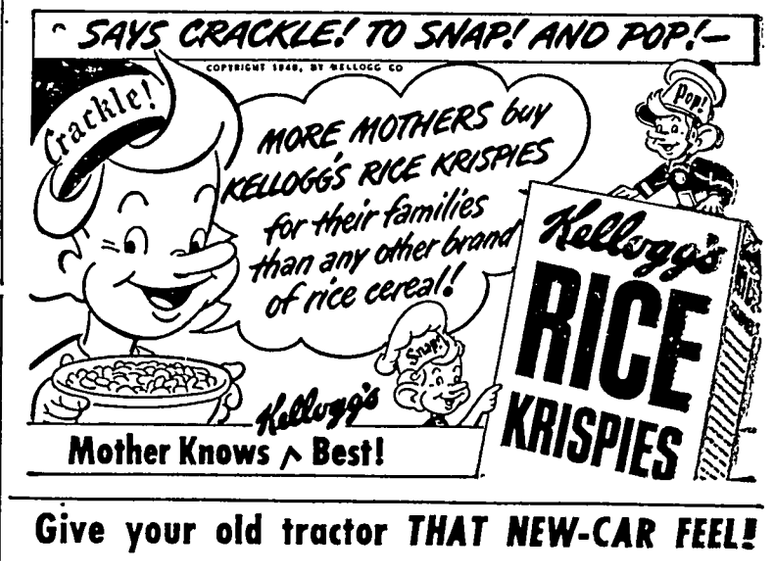
McKesson & Robbins, Inc., Bridgeport, Conn.

SAYS CRACKLE! TO SNAP! AND POP!—



Give your old tractor THAT NEW-CAR FEEL!

Your old tractor, car or truck engine can regain its original power and economy—as soon as your Sealed Power Franchised Dealer gives it an overhaul and puts in new Sealed Power Piston Rings! He has a set of Sealed Power Rings specifically engineered to do the best possible job in your engine, whatever the make, model or cylinder wear condition! You'll save gas! You'll save oil! See your Sealed Power Dealer now!

Send a postal for illustrated, informative new booklet on 7 ways to save oil. It's free and may save you lots of money. Sealed Power Corp., Dept. W6, Muskegon, Mich.

INDIVIDUALLY ENGINEERED

SEALED POWER PISTON RINGS
BEST IN NEW ENGINES! BEST IN OLD ENGINES!

Many Infallible Proofs
Grace Noll Crowell
If many these are, but in my heart alone
There are a thousand shining proofs that Christ
strong face today, for I have known certain infallible ones that have sufficed to stay all doubt: He is so near
I can touch Him with my reaching hand;
He draws so me that I can hear through the simple words I understand.
"Infallible proofs," He showed to them
Who walked and talked with Him on His earthly way;
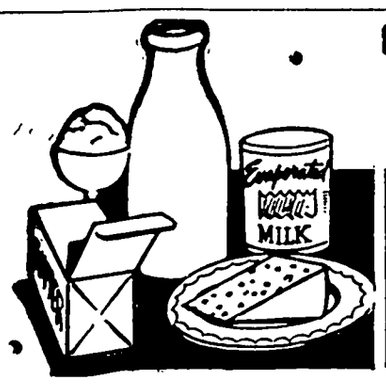
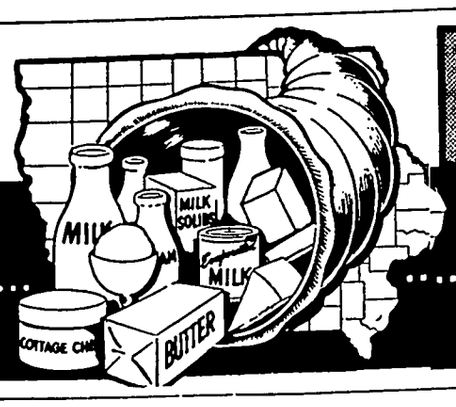
Some often touched His garment's hem,
Felt His healing power as well as they.
And those to them came proof on proof—
Within my loaf, He lives beneath my roof!

Seaco
110-VOLT OR 32-VOLT
means healthier, grand-tasting foods..NOW
Now you can keep foods packed with natural, mouth-watering flavor---chock full of health-giving vitamins and minerals. SEACO refrigeration is available to everyone. That is right, Seaco is made in 110 volt or 32 volt models.
So, stop in to see your SEACO dealer today. Examine the many practical features of the SEACO refrigerator and enjoy better eating from now on.
9 CU. FT. CAPACITY
OVER 20 SQ. FEET SHELF AREA
ALL SHELVES REMOVABLE
FULL 5-YEAR WARRANTY
ONE PIECE STEEL CABINET
3-3½ FIBRE GLASS INSULATION
SUPER SILENT SEALED UNIT
Seaco Recipe
NO-BAKE FRUIT CAKE
Crumble 13 slices zwieback, add ½ teaspoon cloves, ½ teaspoon cinnamon, ⅛ teaspoon nutmeg, pinch salt, mix. Add ½ cup nuts, ½ cup chopped dates, ¼ cup raisins, 1 tablespoon chopped orange peel, ¼ cup thinly sliced citron, and ¾ cup currants softened in hot water and drained. Add ½ cup cut marshmallows to ½ cup cream. Combine and blend with first mixture. Pour in oblong tray and chill in your Seaco refrigerator.
Seaco Inc.
SIOUX CITY IOWA



THIS IS JUNE DAIRY MONTH

Saluting the Nutritional Value of Dairy Foods.....Builders of Health and Wealth for ALL Iowa



A Times Want Ad Brings Results

KEEP THE FARM SANITARY
2-HOUR SERVICE ON REMOVAL OF

Dead Stock

Phone

KLEMME ---------- 580
BELMOND ---------- 580

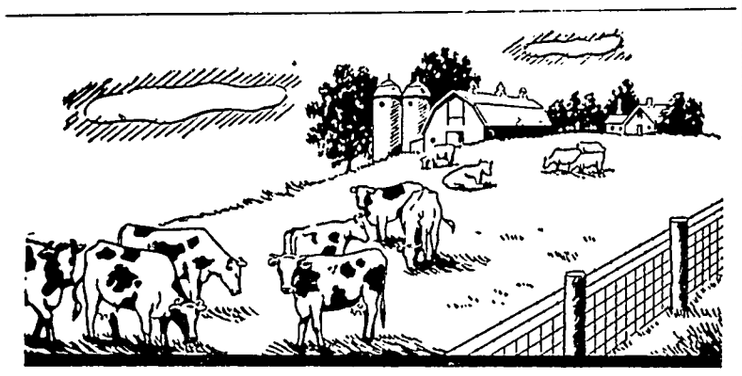
We Pay The Call

A Clean Truck With An Efficient Driver In Your Neighborhood Daily.

Belmond By-Products

"Your Home Plant"

Phone 580 Belmond, Iowa.



WE SERVE YOUR NEED FOR BETTER FEED

As an essential part of Iowa's great Dairy Industry, we too hail June as Dairy Month.

In Dairy Month as in every month, we're happy to have our Dairyman neighbors drop in and discuss feeding programs with us.

We're at your service, and hope we'll be serving you!

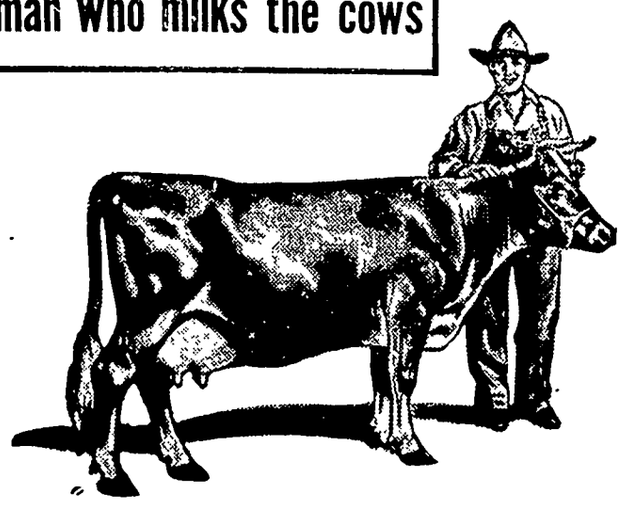
JUNE IS DAIRY MONTH 1ST in FOODS

"Buy And Sell Where You Get A Dividend"

Klemme Co-Operative Grain Company

Glen Bridges, Manager Klemme, Iowa

This Bank stands beside the man who milks the cows



GOOD dairying is good business—and this bank believes in both. Banking service to dairymen is a substantial part of our program.

Iowa's dairy industry pours $139,000,000 in revenue—much of it from outside the state—into Iowa's financial veins. That "Makes business good" all along the line.

Dairymen are always welcome at this bank, to discuss their problems — and you may be surprised to find how often this "tailor-made" banking service can be of real help to you. Come in any time, and talk over the business side of dairying with us. You'll find us informal — but informed!

JUNE IS DAIRY MONTH 1ST in FOODS

First National Bank

Klemme Iowa

GIRLS AND BOYS ATTEND 4-H CAMP

Nineteen girls and sixteen boys from Hancock Co. attended the annual 4-H District camp held at the Methodist Camp grounds at Clear Lake June 8, 9, and 10.

Mrs. Richard Oxley, Mrs. Elmer Doughan, and Mrs. Virgil Everett attended the camp and acted as camp sponsors.

Carol Lawson of the Boone Magor Pals Club and Eugene Smith of the Amsterdam Boosters Club, were members of the "Daily Cloverleaf" staff of which two editions were published.

Virginia Bonnstetter was elected on the camp council, whose duty it was to make the camp policies.

Paul Henderson, Couny Extension Director, was the chief finance officer of the camp and Elsie Mae Van Wert, Co. Extension Home Economist, assisted with the craft classes.

The people attending camp from Hancock County were as follows:: Janet Wetterling and Janice Olson of the Concord Nimble Fingers Club,; Alice Everett and Audrey Ann Doughan of Boone Buzzers Club; Darlene Larson and Margaret Nielsen of Crystal Merry-Maids Club; Madelyn Lundy and Doris Lenz of Ell Tip-Toppers; La Vonne Holck and Marilyn Weltzheimer of Amsterdam Pacemakers; Mary Ann Blumer; and Doris Gruis of Avery Sunbeams, Noreen Smith and Barbara Smith from Orthel Jolly Workers; Muriel Schutjer and Marjorie Cooper of Bingham Boosters, Madge Scott of Magor Mustangs; Carol Lawson and Virginia Bonnstetter of the Boone Magor Pals.

Duane Prohaska and Clarence Brcka, Liberty Go-Getters; Eugene Smith and Richard Trenary, of the Amsterdam Boosters; Curtis Sheets and Duane Boyken, Bingham Champions; Gary Volding and Phillip Orthell, of the Crystal Cyotes; Douglas Tienan and Ronald J. Knop, Concord Yanks; Paul Kelly, Orthel Eagles; Junior Formanek and Junior Rayhons, Garfield Sluggers; Darwin Wille and Doran Lackore, Ell Midgets; Roger Earles, Boone Busy Boys Club.

GAME BIRDS STOCKED IN 33 COUNTIES

Twenty-one counties in north Iowa have received 972 surplus adult pheasants from the State Game Farm at Boone. The birds, no longer needed for egg production, have been released in areas where seed stock is needed. Releases have been made in a ratio of about seven laying hens to one cock bird. The quail stocked in 12 south Iowa counties totaled 216 birds. Quail, unlike polygamous pheasants, have been stocked in mated pairs in areas in need of seed stock.

BRING YOUR CAR TO US FOR

Greasing

AND A COMPLETE SPRING CHANGEOVER

*

In Motor Oil, Transmission, Differentail, Wheels and Chassis.

*

We have the equipment and proper lubricants to give you the best service.

*

See us for your needs in Batteries, Spark Plugs, and accessories of all kinds.

*

Smith's

STANDARD SERVICE
Klemme Iowa

HANCOCK COUNTY REAL ESTATE DEALS

Klipping, Addie and G. E. husband, et al to Nonnweiler, Mrs. Ethel 5-24-48 QCD $1.00 L2 of Auditor's Sub-div NE¼ Sec. 2-97-24 and all of W½ of W½ NW¼ Sec. 1-97-24 lying W of RR and Sof center of Ravine.

Clark, Mrs. Emma, unmarried to Ethel 5-25-48 Wty. Deed $1.00 descripton as above-grantor reserves life interest.

Haberkamp, Eugene B., single to Becker, Edward H. and Gail husband and wife 6-3-48 Wty. Deed $1.00 L5, Blk. 9 Klemme's 1st Add to Klemme.

Cummins, Lloyd N. and Kathryn V., wife to Baade, William H. and Laura D., wife 6-2-48 Wty. Deed $2700.00 L1, Blk. 15 Latimore's Add, Britt.

Merriman, Mettie E. and W. H., husband George R., son to Sanderson, Clarence E. and Edith, wife 6-3-48 QCD $40000 L5 Blk. 21 Org. town of Garner.

Schreur, Anna and George, husband and wife to Uken, Mary widow 2-24-48 W½ SW¼ SE¼ SW¼ Sec. 22-94-25 except tract in SE corner 300' N and S by 230' E and W.

Chelsvig, Arthur and Gladys, wife to Benson, Anton and Anna, wife 6-1-48 Wty. Deed $1.00 L 1, 2, 17 and 18 Blk. 8 Orig. town of Goodell.

Filble, Wayne and Stella, wife to Molander, Royal and Clare 6-1-48 Wty. Deed $6,500.00 L2 and 3 Blk. 5, Park Add to town of Garner.

Becker, Edward H. and Gail, wife to Haberkamp, Eugene B. 6-2-48 Wty. Deed $1.00 L5 Blk. 9 Klemme's 1st Add to Klemme.

AROUND IOWA

ALLIGATOR

A customer drove into a Des Moines filling station last fall and asked attendant, Forest Kooker if he would like to have a present from Louisana. Kooker replied in the affirmative and a short time later received a live baby alligator. The 'gator is still thriving, on a diet of hamburger and live minnows.

TWO FIRES

Fire broke out in a seat cushion in the Cletus Bunker automobile at Remsen recently but was extinguished by passers-by. After driving the car home, the Bunkers were awakened hours later by their barking dog and found the seat cushion in flames again. After a second soaking the cushion gave no further trouble.

WANDERED

C. L. McCuber,82, year old Tripoli man, is safe and sound after wandering about all night in the swamps of the Wapsipinicon river valley. A car in which Mr. McCumber had been a passenger stuck in the mud; the driver went for help and returned to find his aged passenger missing. Mr. McCumber was found next morning about two miles from where he had left the car, after searching parties had looked for him all night.

DROWNED

At Ute, two year old Royce Jones fell into a stock tank last week and drowned. He had gone down to the barnyard to play with some kittens.

LONG TIME

John T. Smith, 88, has been a resident of Sabula, Iowa, for the past 78 years. He is still active in the real estate business there.

$15,000 FIRE

A $15,000 fire struck the Wm. Bently farm near Tripoli recently. Fire Departments from Tripoli, Sumner and Fredericksburg fought the blaze and succeeded in saving the house and part of the farm buildings.

ELECTRICIAN KILLED

Lloyd Bryant, lineman for a power company, received fatal burns when he touched a 15,000 volt line near Leon recently. His shirt burst into flames and was removed by fellow workmen who carried him down the pole.

IOWA RANKS HIGH AS DAIRY STATE

Fourth In Milk Production, Fifth In Cow Numbers, Second In Butter

Iowa, the land of corn and hogs, can hold her own as a dairy state.

The Hawkeye state ranks 4th in total milk production, 5th in number of milk cows, 2nd in butter production, and 9th in number of cows on test in Dairy Herd Improvement Associations U. S. Bureau of Agricultural Economics statistics show.

Proved Sires High

More DHIA sires were proved in the United States during 1947 than any previous year—and Iowa ranked fourth high with 331 sires proved for the year. Iowa is among the few states which still market most of their dairy production in the form of creamery butter.

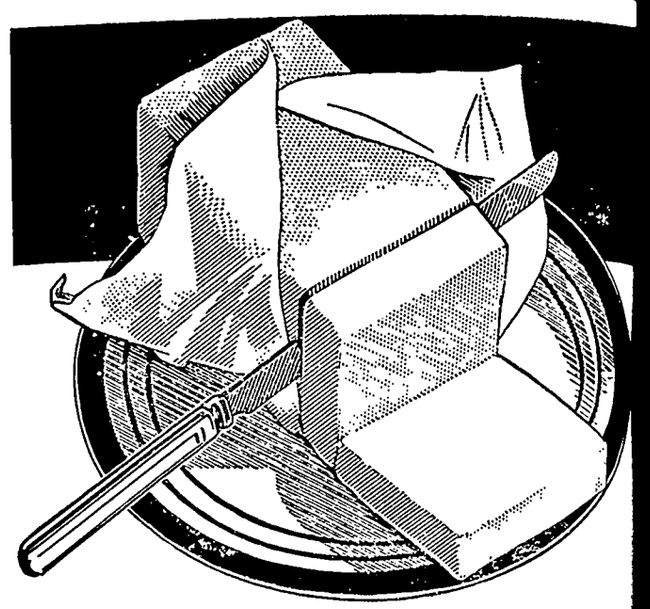
The future of Iowa dairying? That will depend to a large extent on how Iowa responds to the demands for better quality products and the economy of production of the dairy enterprise as compared with other farm enterprises, say Iowa State College dairymen.

Tied To Soil Saving

C. A. Iverson, head of the college Dairy Industry Department, says that with the efficiency of the dairy cow as a consumer of roughage and with soil fertility and future crop production tied closely to Iowa dairying, conservation minded fermers may well afford to look to dairying for conversion of soil-conserving crops into tasty, nutritious foods.

"If Hawkeye farmers ever took dairying seriously, Iowa could easily become the top dairy state in the nation," Iverson believes.

DR. F. L. HAYES
DENTIST
Office Over Rexall Store
Phone 21 Garner, Iowa



ONLY BUTTER CAN BE BUTTER!

Nothing in the world can take the place of butter—for flavor, for golden goodness, for health-building nutrition!

And June Dairy Month is an ideal time to enjoy butter to the utmost. Spread it thick on bread, toast, rolls, and sandwiches. Use it freely in cooking, to give that final richness and smoothness that can't be duplicated! See that children get lots of it, for carotene and Vitamin A! In almost every case, no matter what you cook or serve—"it's better with butter."

It takes four pints of fresh, nutritious cream to make a pound of butter . . . to give it that warm, yellow color that is nature's trademark for butter. Yes, for nutrition and appetite appeal, there's nothing to match the fine high-score Iowa butter for which our creamery has built a real reputation.

Klemme Cooperative Creamery Co.

JUNE IS DAIRY MONTH 1ST in FOODS

EVERYBODY Wants Milk

...and here in Iowa fortunately, EVERYBODY CAN HAVE IT

We're mighty proud of the dairy production of Iowa farmers—and we think Dairy Month is a good time to say so.

We know dairying brings "new dollars" into our community and our State —hundreds of thousands of them into Iowa each day! We know those dollars help to build Iowa business, Iowa schools, Iowa churches.

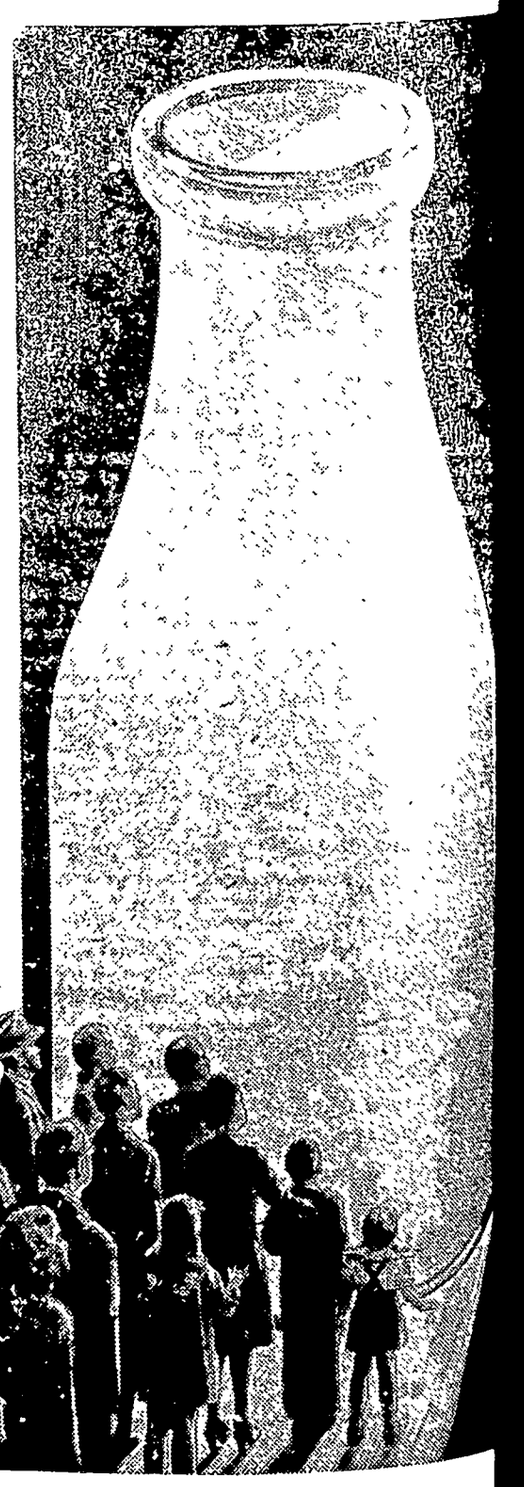
We know those dollars help to give Iowa "good business" and high living standards.

And we know that dairying makes men and women—builds character as it builds wealth—and as dairy foods build health!

So—more power to Iowa's Dairy Industry. Let's all observe Dairy Month by using plenty of Iowa's fine dairy foods.

Central States Electric Company

THE LOW RATE COMPANY

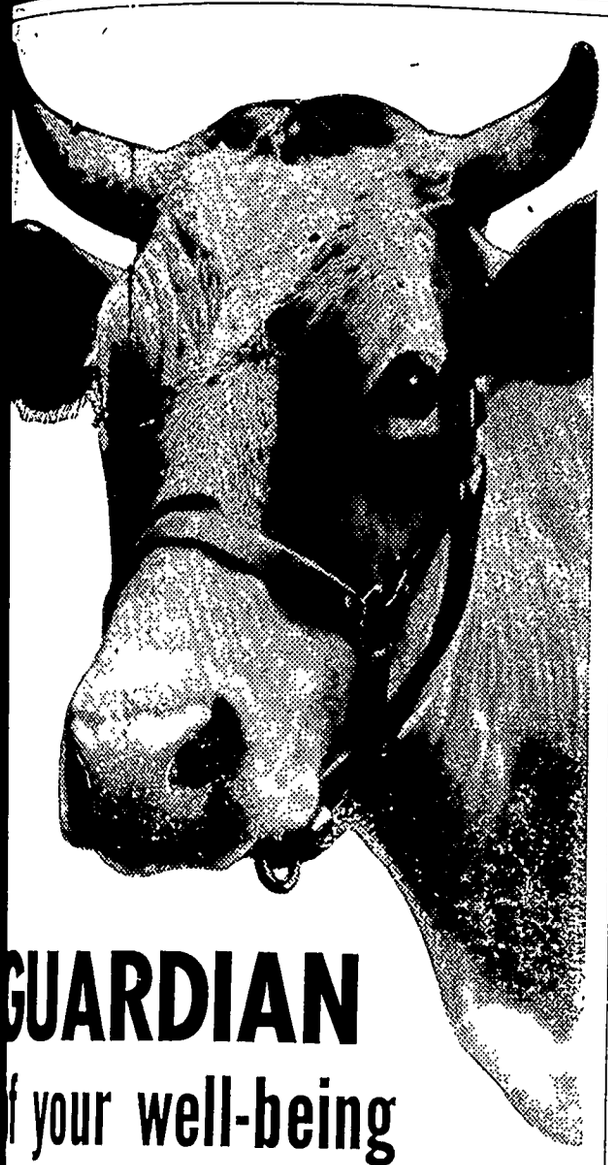


dumps are a prime place for rats.

Mulching will help conserve moisture in your garden.

Quick Truck Delivery On
Diamond
D-X
ucts of all kinds
Phone 85
EST HENSCHEN
Klemme, Iowa

FEDERAL
Land Bank
LOANS
Long Term Low Interest
No Fees No Commission
Wm. F. Johannaber
Secretary-Treasurer
Forest City, Iowa
Phone 50



GUARDIAN
f your well-being is brown-eyed beauty, and her 1,286,000 sisters on wa farms, make an important contribution to your rsonal welfare.

y after day, they produce the dairy foods so vital to e health of your family. And through that abundant oduction, they provide a major source of Iowa's cash come—over $3,000,000.00 every week—money that kes business for Iowa stores, and fills pay envelopes Iowa wage-earners.

, the dairy cow richly deserves the recognition ac- ded her during Dairy Month. And, throughout the r, your family deserves the privilege of enjoying, in erous measure, the fine healthful foods which the ry cow provides in such abundance.

A DAIRY INDUSTRY COMMISSION
SPOKESMAN FOR NEARLY 200,000 IOWA DAIRY FARMERS

KLEMME LOCAL NEWS

Mrs. George Smith and children were Mason City visitors Tuesday.

Mr and Mrs. R. W. Elder were Mason City callers Tuesday afternoon.

Bryce, son of County Clerk Ruth Hughes underwent an appendectomy at the Mercy hospital recently and is making a good recovery.

Mrs R. A. Jorgenson and Mrs. Fred J. Arnold attended a meeting of Past Worthy Matrons of the Eastern Star at the home of Mrs Jack Dethmers at Garner Thursday afternoon.

Mrs. Donald Schaefer is again clerking at the Thada Store. Before her marriage she clerked in the Thada Store and later at Younkers in Mason City. She is the former Miss Esther Alverson

Mr and Mrs. Ben Mullin drove to Belmond Tuesday evening to see their fifth and sixth grandchildren, twins, a boy and a girl born to Mr and Mrs. Armour Mullin Sunday

Mr. and Mrs A. M. Graeber of Goodell and Dean, son of Mr and Mrs. Joe Burgess of near Klemme, left last week for Spooner, Wis on a two week's vacation They are at a cottage with Mr Graeber's sister and family from Harvey, Ill.

Mr and Mrs. Mitchell Bock and children; Mrs Naska Bock and Miss Lydia Bock drove to Knoxville Sunday for a visit with William Bock at the hospital He is getting along fine and enjoyed an automobile ride home with tthe town people

Joe Lee, Houdini's former publicity director reveals why Houdini was so successful and how he performed some of his amazing feats! Don't miss "I knew Houdini" in The American Weekly, the great magazine distributed with Sunday's HERALD-AMERICAN

Mrs. Hilma Johnson and her daugnters, Bertha and Doris have moved from the apartment in Mrs. Clara Stille's residence to the old Johnson house, recently owned by Mrs Maude Hummel Mr. and Mrs. Harlan Neuhring will move into the apartment vacated by Mrs. Johnson and daughters.

WORK CIRCLE MEETS ON JUNE 17TH

The Work Circle will meet on Thursday, June 17th at the Methodist Church with Mrs. H. E Harvey as the leader. The hostesses are Mrs. Henry Helps and Mrs. Roy Arnold.

Those who quilt are asked to come early

Want Ads

For Sale

FOR SALE — SPRING FRIES. Bert Jones. (2tc)

FOR SALE—TRACTOR TIRES. Have a large stock of rears on hand. Garner Auto Co., Garner, Iowa. (M-8tfc)

FOR SALE—USED HM 229 HYdraulic Lift Cultivator 1st class condition ready to go. Priced right. Northern Lumber Co., Implement Dept, Klemme.

YES WE HAVE IT, NUTRENA Crumblized Chick Feed. For faster gains and less waste. We deliver ½ ton lots or more. GREEN ELEVATOR CO., Goodell, Iowa. (Apr 14 tfc)

FOR SALE—CASE 5 FT. POWer Take Off Combine, new; Massy-Harris Clipper with motor, 6-ft. cut; John Deere 12-a power take off like new; Horse-drawn Oliver Spreader on rubber, new; 2 John Deere Power Mowers No. 5; 2-M International Corn Picker, new. This machinery is ALL NEW except the John Deere Combine, and hard to get. TRUELS "Steve" STEFFEN, Phone 4113, Waterloo, Iowa.

Get your "Thank You Notes" at the Times Office. 59 cents. per box.

FOR SALE — HOME GROWN Strawberries, 50 cents qt. Mrs. Roy Schaefer. (1tc)

FOR SALE—McDRG. STANDard binder twine and Mc-Drg baler twine at $12.00 per bale. Get your twine now at this low price Northern Lumber Co., Implement Dept. Klemme.

Miscellaneous

INSURE WITH HENRY WARD, Klemme for Auto, Personal Property, Farm Liability, Life, Health and Accident. (Oct. 1948 tp)

SEE R. W. ELDER FOR HANcock Co. Mutual Fire & Lightning Insurance renewals or new policies. (Apr. 1 pd)

Wanted To Buy

WANTED TO BUY FOR CASH —your used car. Any make, any model. Garner Auto Company, Garner, Iowa. M-8tfc)

Services Offered

FEED GRINDING OF ALL kinds done on your farm. Phone Klemme 76 or Goodell 58561. Carroll Etchen. (j-28-tc)

FOR CUSTOM BALING — NO job too small, none too large. See Eugene Schaefer at John Etchens (July 2 p)

FOR HAY BALING—SEE FREDerick Bell. Phone 149, Klemme. (July 2 p)

Card Of Thanks

I want to thank all who sent me flowers, cards and gifts and who called on me at the hospital and at my home.
Douglas Jones. (1tp)

I wish to thank all the friends and relatives who sent me cards, gifts and flowers while I was in the hospital. They were greatly appreciated
Mrs. Herman Back. (1tp)

We wish to thank our friends and relatives for the lovely cards, flowers and gifts sent to us during our stay at the hospital. Mrs. Harvey Barkema and Lon Harvey. (1tc)

I wish to take this means of giving my sincere thanks to all my friends and relatives for their help, cards, letters and visits, and also for the beautiful flowers while I was sick.
Sincerely yours,
James Larson, Klemme. (1tp)

We, of the V. F. W. Auxiliary of Garner, wish to say "Thank You," to the Public for the grand response to the dance which was held at the Legion Hall, in Klemme, which enables us to send $100.00 to the Hospital Chairman, for the Schick Hospital Petetition. (1tc)

There can be no primary noxious weeds in grain fields passed for certification.

KLEMME LOCAL NEWS

relatives Sunday.

Mrs. Henry Helps is enjoying a visit from her sister, Mrs. Coughlin from Los Angles, Cal.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Kluckhohn were supper guests at the Carold Larson home on Tuesday, June 8th, it being Mrs. Kluckhohn's birthday.

Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Geary and sons of Claremont, Minn. and Wallie Geary of Fonda, Ia. were visiting at the Elwood Geary home Tuesday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Anderson of Charles City are on a fishing trip in Minnesota, and the children are staying with Mr. and Mrs. Lester Stille.

Craig, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carold Larson had his tonsils removed at the Mercy Hospital this Wednesday morning.

Lynford Bock and family were dinner guests Thursday evening at the Carold Larson home in honor of Carold's birthday. Carold had gone fishing and so a good fish dinner was enjoyed.

Ernest Gerardi, of Des Moines, spent Sunday in Klemme with his family at the Conrad Quandt home. Mr. Gerardi is now manager of the Helzeberg jewelry store at Des Moines.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Priebe, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Lew Griffen are visiting with relatives in South Dakota this week.

THOROUGH FLY CONTROL JUNE MEANS "GOODBYE FLY"

A through job of fly-control in June means "goodbye fly" for the rest of the summer.

But halfway measures can mean that Mr. Fly will stage a comeback—and win. Paul Henderson, County Extension Director, warned today that flies eventually become resistant to DDT, and are difficult to kill. They pass this ability on to the next generation. Scientists have been able to breed a race of DDT-resistant flies.

So it is doubly important that fly control be as nearly perfect as possible during June, Henderson said.

If strict sanitation is practiced by everyone, there will be no place to breed the "super-flies" which can absorb bigger quantities of DDT without harm.

And a complete application of DDT early in June will easily kill the "tender flies before they have an opportunity to develop immunity.

Henderson stressed sanitation in particular. Careful handling of garbage is important. It must be kept in covered cans, and collected and burned or buried frequently and regularly. Garbage can should be washed with boiling water once a week. Pits of outside toilets should be made fly-tight. Piles of weeds and grass should not be allowed to decay in the open. Manure should be hauled to the fields and scattered—or the manure piles treated to prevent breeding of flies.

Every householder, farmer and business man can cooperate in this work, Henderson said.

Crews are organized to apply the DDT spray in certain areas of the city, but homemakers can do their part here, too.

Henderson advised spraying garbage containers and the area around them with 5 percent DDT in oil solution once a week. In addition, spray or paint 5 percent DDT on door and window frames, light drop cords, ceilings, screens and other fly resting places around the home.

WORRIED ABOUT
Eating?
You don't hvae to worry about what you are going to eat when you come to the Quandt Cafe.
Always a good meal here for you. Here you can eat a meal that is well-balanced and satisfying.

TOBACCOS
ICE CREAM
CIGARETTES
CANDY BARS

Thank You
QUANDT'S CAFE
Mr. and Mrs. Conrad Quandt

Small grain see must germinate 90 percent or more strong to pass blue-tag certification requirements.

Advertise with a Times want ad.

B. C. BERGE
ATTORNEY-AT-LAW
Office Over Federated Store
Phone 20 Garner, Iowa

DR. E. H. PHILLIPS
Osteopathis Physician
Xray - Short Wave Diathermy and Ultra Violet Equipment
Phone 149 Garner, Iowa

Advertisement

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

How to Live Longer

Someone asked Pappy Miller last week how he stayed so spry at ninety. Pappy told him:

"Well, sir—when I work, I work hard. When I set, I set loose. When I think, I go to sleep."

According to Doc Hollister, that formula isn't far amiss. "Hard work," says Doc, "never wore out anyone before his time, providing he knew how and when to relax."

Doc himself works overtime, with his daytime patients at the office, and his evening calls. And when he gets home he takes it easy with a mellow glass of beer and chats with the missus until it's time to go to bed.

From where I sit, relaxing is a fine art—especially in these tense, fast-moving times. And there's nothing like a temperate glass of beer—enjoyed with pleasant company—to restore that easy frame of mind that one needs after a hard day's work.

Joe Marsh

Copyright, 1948, United States Brewers Foundation

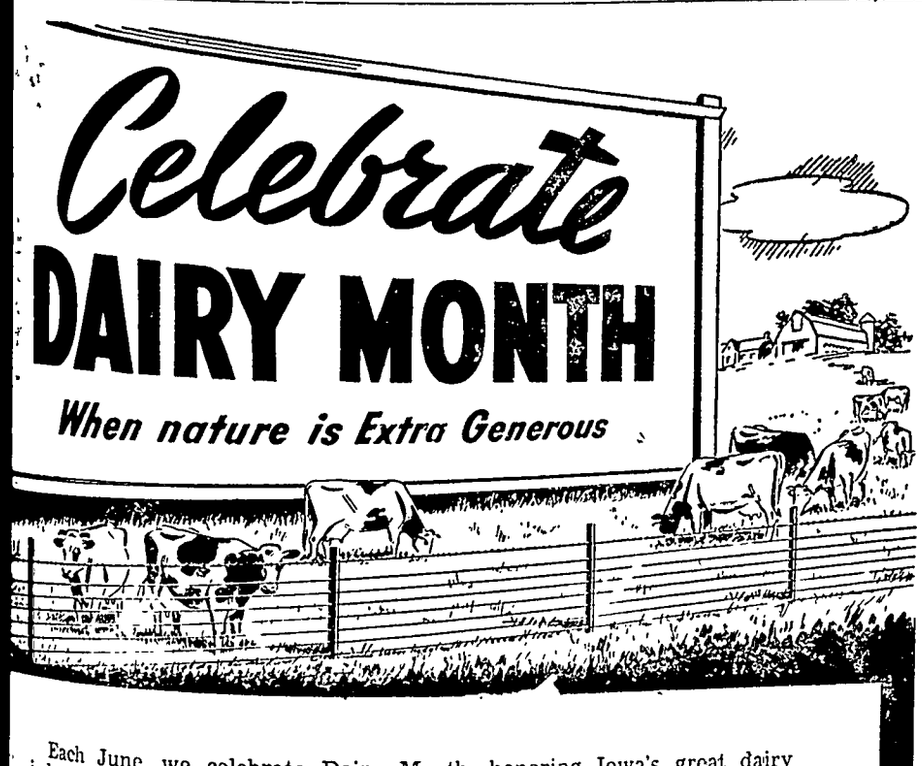
Haying Tools!

The haying season is just around the corner Come to this store for the itmes you may need:

Meyers Sling Carriers
Meyers Fork Carriers
Hay Track
Hay Track Hangers
Rafters Brackets
Rope Slings
Hay Pulleys
3-Tined Forks
Hay Rope, 7-8 and 1 inch
Greases and Oils
Work Gloves
Tarpaulins
Tractor Funnels, Gas Cans
Pump Oil Cans
Grease Guns, Fittings

Klemme Hardware Company
Wm. Fuss Harry Schuster

Celebrate
DAIRY MONTH
When nature is Extra Generous



Each June, we celebrate Dairy Month, honoring Iowa's great dairy industry.

Celebrate it? Sure! But by istself. that's not enough; let's DO something about it! For example:

Let's drink all the milk the doctors tell us we ought to have:: "A quart a day for each child—a pint (two glasses) a day for each adult." Let's order milk in restaurants. Let's take our pie with ice cream, or with a slice of fine-flavored cheese.

Let's have a milk-shake for that mid-afternoon break— and let's take home some ice cream for dessert!

And, at every meal and in every kitchen, let's enjoy lots of golden delicious Iowa butter!

Let's observe Dairy Month, as well as celebrate it! And we'll all benefit from better nutrition—for milk, butter, and other dairy products are "first in food!"

Hancock County Rural Electric Cooperative
"ELECTRICITY ON EVERY FARM"

y products provide Health and Vitality

For Health and Vitality—for true food Economy—make every month a
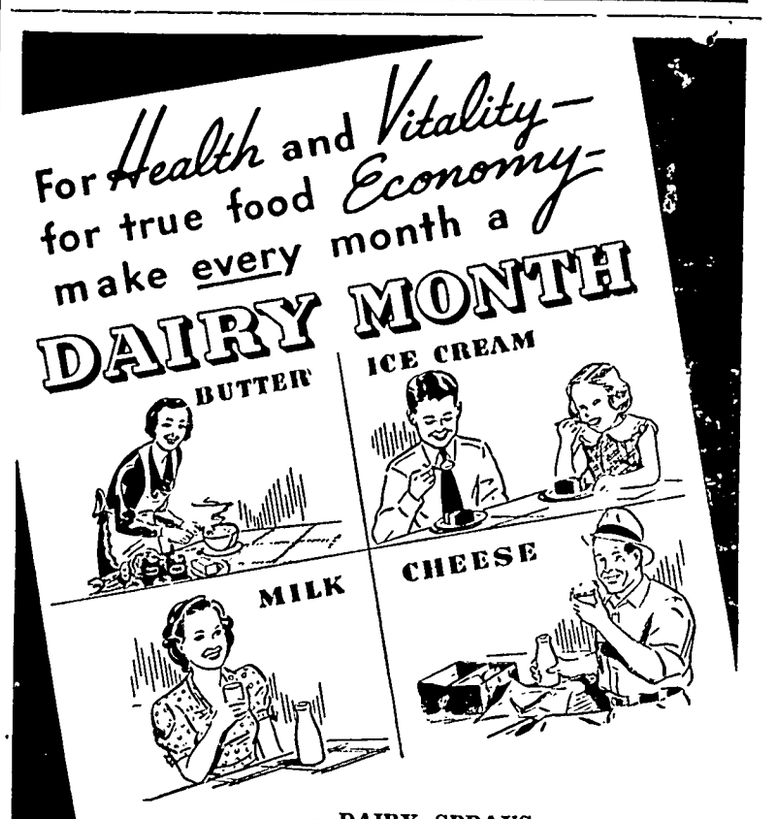
DAIRY MONTH



—DAIRY SPRAYS—
Lakeland double-duty dairy spray—quick knockdown—both in the bulk and concentrated. Concentrated has 16% of D. D. T.—at $1.25 per ½ pint (which mixed with water makes a gallon of spray, giving 1% D. D. T.

Lakeland straight 30% D. D. T.—one gal. makes 80 gals. of spray.
(In quart to drum quantity sizes)
ALSO—Stock dips in bulk and one gallon cans.

Hancock Co. Coop. Oil Association
SUPER SERVICE STATIONS
Harold Kothenbeutel, Mgr. Klemme, Ia.

WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS

Israel Registers Diplomatic Victory By Agreeing to 'Cease Fire' Order; Lewis Quits First Coal Conference

By Bill Schoentgen, WNU Staff Writer

(EDITOR'S NOTE: When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of Western Newspaper Union's news analysts and not necessarily of this newspaper.)

PALESTINE:
Diplomacy

What the Jews of Israel lacked in armed strength to resist Arab attacks against their new state they had made up in shrewd diplomacy.

It was just possible that the decisive blow of the Palestine war was struck when Israel, foreseeing military defeat, agreed to order its army to cease fire on all Palestine fronts if the Arabs would do the same.

That development, which took place as the battle for Jerusalem entered its sixth day in an unholy atmosphere of rattling guns, bursting shell and violent death, made the most favorable impression possible in the United Nations.

Thus having the onus of prolonging the Palestine fighting shifted suddenly to their shoulders alone, the Arabs were put on the spot in the U. N. and in world public opinion.

It was a clever diplomatic maneuver on the part of the Jews but, at least at the outset of this new line of circumstances, the Arabs were having none of it. They reiterated their determination to wrest all Palestine from control of the Jews.

Actually, all the Jews had done was to issue a surprise cease fire order in compliance with a U. N. security council request that the fighting be brought to a halt. Neither the security council nor anyone else had expected the request to be observed.

But that put it up to the Arabs who, faced with a deadline set by the U. N., were having trouble deciding whether or not to cease fire.

If they stopped fighting now they would have done so without attaining their prime objective—the revoking of Israel's claim to sovereign statehood. If they continued the war beyond the deadline they would be laying themselves open to possible security council sanctions of the economic variety.

SECURITY:
Desperate Plight

President Truman came up with another sound plank to reinforce his campaign platform when he demanded that congress overhaul and broaden the social security program.

To relieve the "desperate" plight of the aged and needy in this inflationary period he called for a 50 per cent increase in old age insurance benefits and asked that 20 million more persons be protected.

He offered a five point program and said he wanted quick action on it. For three years, the President pointed out with some irritation, similar requests on his part have been shunted aside. This time he was asking:

1. A 50 per cent increase "at least" in old age and survivors' insurance benefits; allowing pensioners to earn up to $40 a month instead of $15 without losing benefits; raising of the tax rate from 1 per cent to 1½ per cent next January 1.
2. Extension of coverage to farm and domestic workers, the self-employed and others not now covered.
3. Broadening of unemployment insurance to cover employees of small firms (having fewer than eight workers), federal employees and others.
4. Disability insurance to protect workers from loss of earnings caused by sickness and injuries.
5. Increased federal benefits to match state aid for dependent children, the needy, aged and blind.

Whatever his motives in presenting the problem of inadequate social security benefits again at this time, Mr. Truman did have a good, even a noble, point.

"People whose sole income is from social security payments have just about reached the breaking point. All of them face a desperate struggle in trying to procure bare necessities at present prices."

Both President Truman and the aged and needy were hoping fervently that congress would be able to squeeze social security legislation into the crowded docket it had prepared for the month preceding adjournment.

As for congress itself, it was on the fence again.

ECONOMICS:
Wage-Price

While prices continue to climb steadily, wage increases are beginning to show signs of levelling off, says the latest department of commerce report on inflation.

Possibility of a business recession, and with it the prospect for lower prices, vanished like mist in the sun after the foreign aid and military preparedness programs began to take shape in March, the department survey revealed.

Walkout

This photograph of the west end of John L. Lewis going east out of a door is perhaps symbolic of trouble to come in the nation's soft coal mines. First conference between the United Mine Workers and the coal producers on the miners' 1948 contract ended in frustration when Lewis walked out after refusing to seat a representative of the Southern Coal Producers association at the parley.

NO CONFERENCE:
Lewis Again

It was all typically Lewisian.

"I make the observation that there is now no conference," quoth John L., chief of the soft coal miners, as he walked grandly out on the first meeting to negotiate a new contract between the coal operators and the United Mine Workers.

UMW's present contract expires June 30.

Lewis broke up the discussion on 1948 wage agreements when he objected to seating Joseph E. Moody, president of the Southern Coal Producers association, at the conference and was outvoted by the operators.

He was not against Moody personally. Officially, his union's position was that the 14 regional organizations which comprise the Southern association must bargain in 14 separate groups, rather than delegate bargaining authority to the all-inclusive association.

According to Lewis' accepted pattern of operation, his balk at the Southern Coal Producers was the opening tactical stroke in his 1948 campaign for an improved miners' contract.

Following that, he could sit back and present the UMW wage demands in his own good time. Then, if the coal operators did not accede, he could call the annual strike.

Lewis knew his position was good. The UMW's recent pension walkout had left the nation's coal reserves seriously depleted. By the time June 30 rolled around soft coal stocks would not yet have been built up to the point where industry could stand a long strike.

Barring unforeseen circumstances, it looked like this would develop into another injunction case.

The union still is under an 80 day court injunction prohibiting renewal of the pension strike; but the court might rule that another walkout would be a brand new strike. In that case a new injunction might have to be sought by the government under Taft-Hartley procedure.

HARVEST:
European

Europe may look forward to possibly its best year since the war if food production prospects continue to be as favorable as they are right now.

U. S. agriculture department said that the continent will produce a larger part of its food needs this year than it did last year and that the crop outlook was good over most of Europe and the Soviet Union early in May.

Prospects indicate a considerably larger crop of bread grains—wheat and rye—than last year's desperately small one. A severe winter killed most of Europe's winter wheat and rye last year.

European production of bread grains may surpass 1.8 billion bushels, which was the size of the 1946 crop, largest since the war. Production last year dropped to about 1.5 billion bushels, compared with a 2.3 billion average before the war.

Long Voyage

Previous flight range records paled into insignificance when an air force B-36 superbomber flew an unprecedented 8,000 miles nonstop with a dummy bomb load of about five tons. It was aloft for a day and a half.

The B-36 returned to the ground with about 1,200 gallons of gasoline remaining in its tanks, enough to keep it aloft another two or three hours if necessary.

DAIRYING:
To a Crisis

While the U. S. dairy industry was busy promoting its 12th annual June Dairy Month for the purpose of selling more milk, butter, cheese and ice cream it also was taking a long, critical look behind the scenes and not liking what it saw.

Industry analysts had spotted what appeared to be a dangerous trend. In its simplest form the trend could be defined as an inexorable increase in the U. S. population.

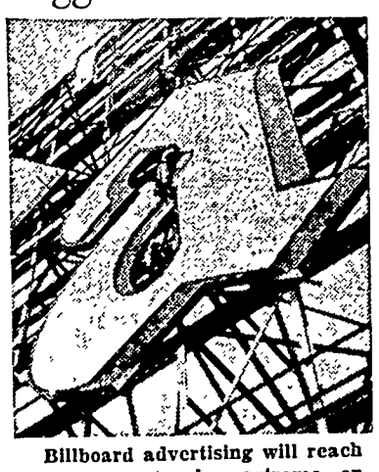
At the root of the problem was a stubbornly entrenched economic condition whose factors were the war, widespread hunger abroad and domestic inflation.

Continuing high prices for beef and veal have been instrumental in sending many dairy cows or potential dairy cows to the slaughter house. Too many American dairy farmers have discovered how they could reduce their herds drastically, put more land into money-making grain crops, realize a greater profit and still have more leisure time.

Adding those conditions to the fact that during the past few years the nation has experienced about a 45 per cent increase in its birth rate, the dairy industry came up with a grim conclusion: If these circumstances continue at the present rate, and there is every likelihood that they will, by 1952 the U. S. will be approaching the critical point at which it no longer will be able to produce enough milk to satisfy its own needs.

That, according to some prognosticators, might mean strict rationing in a land which hitherto had literally flowed with milk and honey.

Biggest Switch



Billboard advertising will reach a new spectacular extreme on Chicago's Lake Shore drive this July when the switch is thrown to turn on the lights of the world's largest sign—114 feet high and 210 feet wide. A mile and a half of neon tubing, illuminating letters 38 to 58 feet high, will flash the name of a spirited product which a certain distillery wants everybody to switch to.

POLITICS:
The Race

In Oregon, where the last presidential primary of this campaign year was held in an atmosphere of political hoopla, Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York was voted more likely to succeed than Harold Stassen.

Whether he would or not remained an open question, but it was certain that his political complexion had taken on a more sanguine hue as a result of the Oregon balloting.

Stassen, who had won spectacular primary victories in Wisconsin and Nebraska over Taft and Dewey, his chief rivals for the GOP nomination, and then had received a borderline setback at the hands of Taft forces in Ohio, at last had suffered a clear-cut defeat.

Oregon wasn't going to do Stassen any good. Having had to buck organized Republican opposition all the way along, he apparently had estimated that his best chance of procuring the nomination lay in building up sufficient prestige and momentum during the primary campaigns to stampede the June 21 convention.

However, he still will go to the national convention with at least 200 delegates pledged to support him on the first ballot. So, for that matter, will Dewey. A total of 548 convention votes is required for nomination.

Headliners

IN RICHMOND, Va. . . . George W. Harvey, winner of the city's safe-driving contest, was hailed into court, fined five dollars for driving too slowly.

IN LONDON . . . Buckingham palace announced some spot news to the press: Princess Margaret Rose had come down with measles.

IN OCEANA, W. Va. . . . A new postmaster was appointed—name of Please Wright.

IN NEW YORK . . . Magistrate Francis X. Giaccone "heard" 10 deaf mutes plead guilty to charges of loud and boisterous conduct, fined them a dollar each, then wondered how they knew they were guilty.

IN SOMERSET, Pa. . . . A department store, frustrated by contrary spring weather which sent temperatures skidding to 50 degrees, advertised straw hats with earmuffs.

Washington Digest

Diary Doesn't Have to Tell Earth-Shaking Occurrences

By BAUKHAGE

News Analyst and Commentator

WASHINGTON.—The nation, and particularly the nation's capital, where we are highly national and international-concapital, where we are highly national and international-conscious, is suffering as never before from the result of memories, good and bad. The Roosevelt epoch produced a rash of reminiscences—200 books about FDR, 32 of them just since his death.

Currently we have with us the Churchill war memoirs, as they are called, although when I was young and read "The Memoirs of Sherlock Holmes," I thought a memoir was something printed after a man's death. Of course Sherlock came back, so I suppose that legitimizes the terminology.

Winston Churchill was a great diary-keeper, as was his fellow-countryman, Samuel Pepys, whose stuff was so hot that the British government still hasn't released all of it. Franklin Roosevelt never kept a diary. His secretary of the treasury made up for this lack. Henry Morgenthau assembled 900 volumes of about 350 pages each, totaling about 80 million words. The task must have kept three stenographers a day working in relays. He had the diaries bound, some said at government expense, although I daresay he paid for it in the end.

His was a lazy method. He didn't have to depend on his memory. He had a dictograph in his office, and every word spoken in the supposed sanctity of his chamber in the treasury, overlooking the wide sweep of lawn and park that flows down to the Potomac, was duly transcribed. When the news of this epic achievement became public a terrible howl resulted and some of the volumes were returned to the government archives. What a man!

I wonder if diary-keepers are normal. I would hate to admit to a psychologist that I have kept a diary for years, even decades. I still keep one. I don't know how long ago I started, but I still have one slim, green volume, dated 1904, in my possession. The year 1904—that was just 15 years after another entry, not in my diary, but in my father's (diary-keeping is congenital) which stated "fine boy arrived 5 p. m." I may say the "fine" is the natural exaggeration of a proud parent who didn't know what he was in for.

At any rate, if diary-keeping is used against me; I have two outs—hardly anything, even of mild interest, is or will be recorded on the faded pages of my journals, and secondly, because I write such a vile hand that I can decipher only a few lines here and there myself.

My mother should have most of the blame for my bad handwriting, just as she is to blame for the fact that I can write at all. She was herself a writer and, unique as it was in those good old days, she possessed a typewriter, a stubby little affair, affectionately known as "the Blick."

Of course it was quite improper to expose a child of pre-school age to a typewriter. It was not my mother's fault. Back in the '90s, some of us weren't vaccinated for anything but smallpox. I was too young to understand that at the time, and since typewriters were as rare as porcelain bathtubs in a city of 20,000, who could guess their evil influence? I suppose I oughtn't to accuse my parents because I became thoroughly inured to the use of the typewriter long before I could balance a pencil, and this fact did my handwriting no good.

At that time what was called "Spencerian" still was taught in the schools of New York state, but very few mastered it even without the curlicues and shading of earlier days. And just as I was getting so I could make the wobbly "M's" and the terrible "q's", along came a new Pharoah to my scholastic Egypt and introduced the "vertical system." That was probably where my uneducation really began. I unlearned the Spencerian all right, but I was never able to go vertical.

Nothing Important Is Ever Entered

But to get back to diary-keeping, at least my diary-keeping. The illegibility of the entries in my diaries isn't really as important as the unimportance of their contents.

Let me illustrate from one with a worn leather cover which I have at hand. It is dated 1914, a good year for a diary, but a bad diary for the world. The record of war days should have been chronicled dramatically as the beginning of the end of an epoch, an epoch which breathed its last in the midst of another war. But did my record do that? Let's look at June 29, 1914.

Do we find the entry: "YESTERDAY ARCHDUKE FERDINAND WAS ASSASSINATED AT SARAJEVO?" We do not. We find this:

Juin

29. Lundi S. Pierre, S. Paul Bought Berlitz Greek Rustem Bey

(The book was purchased in Paris, where the year's record began. The entry was made in Washington.)

While the ancient throne of Hapsburg was receiving the blood bath that was to sweep a half dozen rulers into oblivion I was buying a Berlitz textbook for the purpose of studying some foreign language—I have no idea which one except that it was one I never learned. Rustem Bey, I remember was the Turkish ambassador whom I had to interview.

In all justice, it may not be entirely the fault of my diary-making that I didn't record the assassination of the archduke. Nobody in America took the tragedy very seriously. At that time few Americans expected much else from Europe's royal families but assassinations or less respectable peccadillos.

I ought to have known better than that since I had been helping cover the French foreign office for the two years preceding. But I had been drenched with war talk over there and had shaken it off when I returned. Europe almost immediately shrank into a dreamy domain of picture-book memory with no connection whatever with my work-a-day world.

Later on, to be sure, there is evidence that I, on second thought, felt I hadn't done my diary justice insofar as Ferdinand was concerned. But I always was feeling that way about my diary and never doing anything about it.

This, as I said, keeps my diaries from having the slightest value other than to exude a somewhat conscious-stricken odor and remind me that the good young days were no better than those bad old ones insofar as my habits and conduct were concerned, for an honest diary certainly has to be well edited to conceal one's true character.

You note in its pages some high resolve or noble undertaking which was more important to you at the moment of recording than the opening of the Panama canal or the result of a presidential election. In a short year you read it over and are utterly unable to recall the slightest thing about the events chronicled.

Sometimes my old diaries, even though they record no event of great historical significance, sound quite timely. For example on October 3, 1914:

"Not much doing. I don't seem to be able to save my money." . . . October 8: "The Belgian secretary appears, we consume quantities of beer and tells me his life story — a bore, but business." (just the weary routine of the hard-working reporter)

Fortunately my space is running out. Nothing is more interesting to write or read about than oneself. Nothing is less interesting to anyone else. But I wish to prove my point, namely, that no matter how important diary-keeping may have been for the Churchills, the Marco Polos or the Plutarchs, and perhaps therefore as harmful as important, mine was neither

And I marvel that any newsman, press or radio, who lives in the midst of alarms, who "was there" when most things happened and told all in breathless detail via the copy-desk or microphone to millions of wide-eyed readers or listeners would ever think of writing it down afterward.

Note for instance a recent diary entry for June 5, 1947, which a brittle clipping of even date declares not only vibrantly but with perfect inexactitude "may go down in history as the day of the beginning of the real peace after World War II." (Lest you have forgotten, that was the day Secretary of State George C. Marshall proposed at Harvard university a new approach to European rehabilitation which later became the Marshall plan, then E.R P and finally the economic cooperation administration.)

Note my diary for that date: "A meeting of the Association of Radio News Analysts. Kaltenborn to dinner."

Sportlight by Grantland Rice

WARREN WRIGHT, Calumet's owner, Ben and Jimmy Jones, Calumet's two trainers, were looking on ahead as the 1948 Preakness arrived.

They had seen Calumet's Whirlaway take the money-winning record away from Seabiscuit. They had seen the flashy Armed take the cold cash collection away from both Assault and Stymie, only to have Hirsch Jacobs' $1,500 claimer regain the lead in the race to be first to earn a million dollars in purses.

Ben and Jimmy Jones are not quite sure how the veteran Armed will come along. But both are pretty sure that whatever Stymie turns in, Citation will beat it, putting Calumet ahead again.

With the Derby purse and over $250,000 under his saddle, Citation faces the Preakness and the Belmont. That will mean close to another $200,000.

But that isn't all. There is the American Derby at Chicago—there is the Massachusetts Handicap at Suffolk Downs—there is the Suburban at Belmont—there is the $100,000 Santa Anita Handicap—there is so much money on hand that racing can almost match some of these radio programs where, I understand, they will give away entire states fairly soon.

The big races on ahead for three-year-olds run from $40,000 to $100,000 and it is quite possible that Citation will finish his three-year-old career above the $600,000 spot.

We talked with Ben and Jimmy Jones about this situation. The Jones boys are a trifle better than normally bright citizens. They would rather talk about what has already happened—or what might happen tomorrow—than about what might happen next month. They are not limb climbers. They have no use for limbs, except those limbs belonging to Calumet runners.

"You made $1,400,000 or more," I said to Parnell Ben a year ago, "how much will you make this year with Citation, Coaltown, Fervent, Armed, Faultless and your two-year-olds, two millions?"

"All I know is what we've won so far," Ben said.

Ben Jones counts no purses before they are collected and put in the bank. There is a rumor out that his two-year-olds will soon chase Citation and Coaltown off the tracks. It could happen.

* * *

Baseball's Upsets

It may be that the cold, raw, windy spring has had more than a little to do with the odd aspect of the two big league pennant races. Something has taken place that has an odd, lopsided look.

For example, if we owned a ball club and someone had offered us three pitchers, the odds are we would have broken both legs in a sprint for Ewell Blackwell, Hal Newhouser and Warren Spahn.

Well, it so happens that the last time we looked we discovered neither Blackwell nor Newhouser was among the first 40 in his respective league.

Both had been blasted and blistered, start after start, in the manner of a brace of rookies. Also Bob Feller had been chased to the showers two or three times.

Looking over these morbid details we discovered the Athletics and Indians leading the league, and the Browns playing as well as any other team.

They beat the Yankees in a game that was taken away from them by poor umpiring, as far as eyesight goes. This made a difference of two games for the Yankees and two games for the Browns.

* * *

What Makes a Coach?

Frank Leahy is a great coach. He also has the best material. Does Leahy make the material great? Or does the material make Leahy great? I'll let you answer that one.

There are at least two coaches I know who have the jump on Leahy or any other coach you can mention in the way of what you might call "a favorable press." Which isn't unimportant. These two men are Herman Hickman, now of Yale, and Bo McMillin, now of the Detroit Lions.

Hickman and McMillin have left two big gaps at Army and Indiana, where they have been big factors not only as coaches, but in the way of popular appeal.

In this season on ahead both Hickman and McMillin are heading for rough roads of travel. Hickman will need all of his art as a star line coach to give Yale a first-class line. The Blue has the backs, but the line material of other years is missing—none of those big guards and tackles is lingering under the elms.

McMillin has many notches to climb before his Lions are up with the Cardinals, Bears, Eagles and Giants—to mention only a few. But they still will draw a good press and hold the loyalty of their supporters for a year at least—whatever happens. When you can do that in a game as frenzied as football, you have to be popular.

Taking the Air

My little granddaughter active child three years slowly into the living ro mother, always accustome ing her bursting with ener at her and said, worriedl Louise, your nose is sto You can hardly breathe."

Louise replied, "Don' Mama. I'll just open m and fool my nose."

Imaginary Fishin

Sheriff—What you fishi that little ole mud hole?

Village Idiot—Fishin' fer be!

Sheriff — Gosh, all They's no sharks in there durn simpleton!

Village Idiot—Hain't no neither, so I might as we sharks.

A Way Out

John Barrymore rarely ful. Once he was cornere ciety matron, who insiste come to dinner the follow day.

Barrymore, who tho woman a bore, declined.

"I have a previous en madam," he icily explain I shall make as soon as

CLASSIF
DEPARTM

HELP WANTED—

FEED SALESMAN EXPERIENCED, for several go tories. Must have car. Prefer tablished following among feed farmers. Liberal salary and Write, or call in person for i view. GOERLINGS FEED MILL Iowa. Box 179.

FARMS & RANCH

FOR SALE — 774-acre river Lots of good buildings, artes fenced, 4½ miles from Lisbon, bargain at $50 per acre. Write, 327, Lisbon, N. Dak.

FOR SALE: Improved farm A. 27500 160 A 115. 80 A. 6500. CHAS. REILLY, New Ul

CANADIAN FARMS—Write us fo FORMATION on farm settlement Fertile soils. Reasonably priced R Canadian Pacific Railway, Unio Paul, Minn.

BUSINESS & INV.

FOR SALE—Hotel. Tavern an Will sell for a bargain if tak Interested, drive and see. AR Garber, Iowa.

POULTRY, CHICKS &

WHITE PEKIN DUCKLINGS $14.75 for 50 and $2[illegible] per Austra White and White Ga started chicks SCHECKEL'S Springbrook, Iowa.

LIVESTOCK

REGISTERED Durham Black bulls, 3 choice individuals. HORN, Lohrville, Iowa.

FARM MACHINERY

28-INCH all-steel Avery thresh dition. Price, $500. HARRY Glasgow, Mo.

1947 GEHL corn and hay field blower, like new, $2375. EH Round Lake, Ill.

HOME FURNISHINGS

STREAMLINED—Built-in kitc fit any kitchen. Complete, easy detailed plans and specifica "professional" construction m $1.00. THOMBERT CO., Box Iowa.

PERSONAL

SUCCESSFUL HEMORRHO MENT. CONSTIPATION R righted Doctor's Prescription examination on request, post PRODUCTS, 2115 P Street, ton 7, D.C.

MISCELLANEO

HOSE mending, reweaving, Mail orders welcome. JOSE 801 Shops Bldg., Des Moines, 1948 FAIRWAY DELUXE T for sale. Same trailer in co form at amazing savings. W ture. FAIRWAY TRAILER Kiester, Minn.

SPECIAL!! Ag Suction ho lengths—Best Quality. Regu $25 length. Now special $10 Send check or M O. or speci ABLE RUBBER PRODUCTS ington Blvd., Chicago 6, Ill.

GUARANTEED RAZOR BL ble Edge or 60 Single Edge ALLIED AGENCIES, Box Tenn.

STAMP COLLECTIONS bo J. A. NEWHOUSE, Box Bank Reference.

FISHERMEN! HE

Something entirely New to Fi Out! Absolutely looks, feels, Guaranteed to catch more fis hopper, Frog, Nymphs, Grubw mite, and Crawfish. Send $5c $2.00 for Complete Set.

M. R. K. SAL

1817 SO. KOMENSKY AVE.

WINDO-GLI

CARRIES WIND WITHOUT WE Solves Most Window Stops Rattlin

This handy device fits i space between sash a easy to apply, and cost set good for a whole w to modernize your hom construction. If your d carry it, we will make p ment direct to you. Simpl included. Send us check the number of sets you Today.

LEON PRODU

Dept. WNU 1028 N. Ashland, Chi

WNU—N

IT'S APPRE

...when you the news

THANK

Walter Winchell

(WNU Service)

of a New Yorker:

essman Hoffwit's alibi (for ing to put over that gag- bill) is that it would aid ion's security . . . Oh, horse- Even during the darkest the last war no such re- s were necessary . . . What wants, of course, is to be stop news and radio people p the people informed about . Anything a congressman ik wants kept secret is a finition of news . . . Must to be the editor of a screen and come out with a piece appy married life of Susan . . . She just announced r a divorce . . . Repartee the heavy rains while you eaming Reporter to Cop: y dull night" . . . Cop to "Wonderfully dull night."

—

nglish critic named Dick summed up a falling with theso scallions: "No No Love? No wit, no taste, No good, no like, no go."

—

Steinbeck recently turned ook which was favorable e Russian people. It soft- criticism of the Soviet . So wot happened? The ewspapers attack Stein- ensing him of being inac- . . Hawl . . . An editorial rumbles that all would be dy if we allowed Hitler n to slug it out—while we ated on licking Japan . . . cy . . The Japs and Nazis the same side . . . If we fought Germany, Hitler re won in Europe. That e would have been forced the Japs and Nazis minus t any allies . . . Besides, t have the choice of fight- not fighting Germany— eclared war against the . Rememberrrrrr???

—

n the Acts: Al Jolson d about rumors that he ed along with a certain Hollywood. "It's not e told a group. "Why, week I had him out to trying to teach him how " ccess Stories: Bob Cooke, new sports editor, ran 10 years ago after grad- m Yale . . . Stanley Wood- o was fired after being e 1931, allegedly refused a golf "tournament" the wives of advertising . . . A lot of fancy East aurants are so worried slump in business they g prices.

—

—

n Our Alley: After his ight click in a Ziegfeld r. Z. congratulated Will You're probably the only lucky enough to be in ess" . . . "Gwan," said everybody else in Okla- n the oil business!" . . . ores ago Irving Hoffman if he knew a certain . . "Only by repetition," ply.

—

e Marksmanship: H. W. The better a woman longer a man does . . . Only a few strong char- leave a ringing tele- e . . . Jack Kilty: like an insult; very can take it . . . Fanny hildren jingling with though they had swal- ghbells . . . B. Par- street as dark as a nths after John Wilkes ssinated President Lin- ther, Edwin Booth (one atest thespians of all ed in "Hamlet." pening night a drunk ley, Booth! What are o do for excitement to- that Lincoln's dead!" flushed and didn't know dy . . . A spectator e heckler down and oth: "Sorry for the in- Please go on." der was Robert Lin- on.

—

—

"ERP AID WILL BE ROM ANY NATION IN THAT SHIPS WAR RUSSIA." ia? Can't we stand sion?

—

Watch: Reports that H. ted H. Wallace are not working for the Wal- gn in Texas. His slo- ist and Wallace" . . . m to split the billing Alexander de Seversky, plane designer, is at . . . Harry Conover arline Judge has tried er ex in one basket . . . or got a telegram end who merged Top- er, offering an ar- Trifled: "Why I Mar- ner.") Let us all pray ther

The Washington MERRY-GO-ROUND

DREW PEARSON

Veterans Lose Again

WAR VETERANS GOT ANOTHER KICK in the pants the other day when 23 vice presidents of steel companies vetoed the allocation of 60,000 tons of steel for prefabricated housing. This means that veteran cooperatives, formed to finance prefabricated housing developments, will have to fold up or go in for the more expensive conventional houses, which most veterans can't afford.

The 23 steel vice-presidents are members of a so-called steel products advisory committee to Commerce Secretary Charles Sawyer which passes on volunteer steel allocations under a law passed by congress last year. However, the committee functions more like a little "supreme court" in determining who can buy steel.

Also, it does more dictating than advising, apparently, for the commerce department had okayed the 60,000-ton allocation, a third of what the prefab industry requested for new low-cost homes.

The steel moguls pointed out that prefabricated houses require four times as much steel as conventional homes built of wood, brick, et cetera. This explanation, however, is small comfort to war veterans and others who cannot afford conventional dwellings.

American Veterans committee has made a vigorous protest to congress about the steel magnates' action.

* * *

Psychological Warfare

U. S. DEFENSE CHIEFS haven't said so publicly, but one reason they have been so energetic in urging heavy rearmament is the fear of another Pearl Harbor. Vividly remembering how General Marshall was out horseback riding the morning of Pearl Harbor, they don't want to be caught again.

This is understandable.

However, there is another kind of Pearl Harbor which may hit the U. S. this time. And U. S. defense chiefs will be just as guilty of neglect if they are caught napping.

The most important, neglected chapter of war-prevention today is psychological warfare. You can call this propaganda, softening-the-enemy-from-the-rear or just plain winning friends. But the real fact is that this job of selling ideas, of making the people of another country believe in you, of winning the Russian people over to the U. S., has become almost the most important phase of modern peace and modern warfare.

Actually it boils down to the art of making it difficult for the 14 men in the Kremlin to declare war by persuading the Russian people that they themselves don't want war. At present, the Kremlin can take Russia into war overnight and the people have nothing to say about it.

An A-1 man, George Allen, has taken over this division, but he is still short of cash and barely had a chance to get started.

* * *

Truman Wants No Advice

REMINISCING WITH FRIENDS RECENTLY, Mayor David Lawrence of Pittsburgh, who is Democratic national committeeman from Pennsylvania, uncorked the following barbed comments:

"Back in the days when I used to call on Franklin Roosevelt, he always made a point of asking me: 'How are things going in Pennsylvania? What are they saying about me?'

"F. D. R. always wanted to know the score, especially about any trends in public opinion. But Harry Truman, while I admire his honesty and sincerity, never asks us questions like that. It isn't that he isn't interested, but he depends too much on a little clique of White House advisers to tell him what's going on in the country. And more often than not he gets bum advice.

"When the Democratic national committee had its last meeting in Washington, we expected Chairman Howard McGrath to invite us to get our problems off our chests when we called on the President. We thought that would be the first order of business, as it used to be in the old days. But neither McGrath nor the President made a move to ask us. Finally, some of us spoke up on our own.

"Yes, there's a big change at the White House," concluded Mayor Lawrence, "and I doubt that it's helping the party."

* * *

Marines Paint Houses

THE MARINE CORPS has a great record—from the halls of Montezuma to the shores of Tripoli. But in Washington marine brass-hats seem to think that enlisted men are to be used on such unheroic jobs as bartending and housecleaning.

Recently it was a new kind of war. The marines were sent over the top as housepainters.

For 12 hours a day they painted the house of the assistant commanding general.

HOUSEHOLD MEMOS... by Lynn Chambers

Let Foods Complement Each Other

(See Recipes Below)

Balancing Meals

ONE OF THE QUESTIONS most frequently asked by homemakers is, "How can I plan balanced meals?"

Fundamentals of balancing meals are really simple. Take your dinner, for example. Use a serving of potatoes or another starchy food to go with the meat course; add to this one or two vegetables that go nicely with your chosen meat cut. If you have not had a salad for lunch, this may be added to the dinner menu. If you have a heavy meal, use a fruit dessert; if the meal is light and the fruit requirement of the day has been satisfied, serve cake, pastry or cookies.

That is the dinner plan. However, it also is well to bear other points in mind, so that the meal will be pleasing

First, select foods that have contrast in color, for these will make meals more interesting We eat with our eyes first and a picture pretty plate certainly will whet the appetite.

Second, serve foods that have contrasting texture. You don't serve boiled potatoes, whitefish and cauliflower at a meal because they all have much the same texture. How much more interesting to serve asparagus with the broiled fish, with crisply fried potatoes.

Third, do have variety. Families have favorite dishes but they won't keep favored rating if they are served several times each week. Prepare everything you serve carefully so the family will learn to enjoy a variety of foods.

* * *

DOES YOUR FAMILY enjoy pork chops? Did you know that they could be served with a tomato sauce to add tang to their delicate flavor? Or perhaps you'd like to stuff them with a celery-bread combination, omit potatoes and serve creamed turnips You always can put your vegetables in the salad and balance the meal that way. Doesn't this meal sound tempting and colorful?

Stuffed Pork Chops
Creamed Diced Turnips
Asparagus Salad
Orange Muffins Prune-Banana Whip

Here are the recipes for the main dishes in the menu, and you may be certain there won't be any leftovers:

Stuffed Pork Chops

Have the butcher cut a pocket in each of six thick pork chops. Make the dressing as follows: Use 1 cup of bread crumbs and mix with 1 teaspoon salt, ¼ teaspoon pepper, 1 tablespoon chopped parsley, ½ teaspoon thyme and ½ cup celery, cut up and sauted in 3 tablespoons of fat. Moisten with 1 egg. Fill pork chops. Brown the chops in hot fat, season with a sprinkling of salt and pepper, then cover and bake in a moderate (350 degree) oven for one hour.

The turnips are diced and cooked until tender in boiling salted water. Fresh cooked or canned, drained asparagus, well chilled, may be used for the salad. Use a tart dressing.

Use your favorite plain muffin recipe to which grated orange rind has been added.

Here's the luscious dessert recipe:

Banana-Prune Whip
(Serves 6)

1/4 cup prune puree
1/3 cup sugar
1 cup thinly sliced bananas
2 egg whites stiffly beaten
1 tablespoon lemon juice

Mix together prune pulp and sugar and cook until the latter is dissolved, then cool. Add bananas mixed with lemon juice. Fold in beaten egg whites. Chill thoroughly. Serve in sherbet dishes garnished with more sliced bananas and cut marashino cherries.

* * *

NOW LET'S PLAN another menu around an entirely different meat course. This menu has the advantage of limiting cooking to an hour, and most of it can be done in the oven, so that you don't have to watch the proceedings:

LYNN CHAMBERS' MENU
Stuffed Baked Tomatoes
Tossed Green Salad
Sliced Cold Meat
Peach Pie a la Mode
Bread Butter Beverage

Tomato-Herb Soup
Meat Loaf Baked Potatoes
Yellow Waxed Beans or
Zucchini Squash
Beet Pickles or Tomato Salad
Fresh Fruit Parfait or
Apple Raisin Pie

If you choose the squash and pie, these can be baked at the same time as the meat loaf and potatoes.

The soup is made simply by heating canned tomato juice with a few herbs for flavor. If you serve the soup, have the beet pickles in place of the salad.

Easy Meat Loaf
(Serves 6)

2/3 cup dry bread crumbs
1 cup milk
1 1/2 pounds ground beef
2 slightly beaten eggs
1/4 cup grated onion
1 teaspoon salt
1/8 teaspoon pepper
1/2 teaspoon sage

Soak bread crumbs in milk; add other ingredients and mix well. Form into one loaf or individual loaves to be placed in muffin pans. Cover with piquant sauce and bake in a moderate oven 45 to 60 minutes.

Piquant Sauce: Combine 3 tablespoons brown sugar, ¼ cup catsup, ½ teaspoon nutmeg and 1 teaspoon dry mustard.

Zucchini Squash
(Serves 6)

6 medium sized zucchini squash
1 cup soft bread crumbs
1 small onion, grated
1 cup tomato quarters
1 teaspoon salt
1/8 teaspoon pepper
1 egg, beaten
2 tablespoons bacon drippings

Wash squash; cut off ends but do not peel. Cook in boiling salted water for five minutes. Halve lengthwise. Remove pulp and combine all other ingredients with pulp and fill zucchini shells. Sprinkle with American or Parmesan cheese. Bake in a moderate oven for 30 minutes.

Fresh Fruit Parfait
(Serves 6 to 8)

20 marshmallows
Juice of 1 lemon
1 cup crushed fresh raspberries
1 cup heavy cream whipped

Melt marshmallows in top of double boiler, add lemon juice. Cool slightly, then add berries. Fold in whipped cream; freeze in tray of automatic refrigerator about two hours.

Other parfaits in season: Substitute one cup finely chopped fresh peaches for raspberries.

Strawberry Parfait: Substitute one cup sliced or crushed strawberries for the raspberries in above recipe.

Released by WNU Features

LYNN SAYS:

Plan Colorful Meals With These Hints

A broiled ham slice or ham loaf goes well with buttered rice, sweet potato croquettes, stuffed baked potatoes or broiled potato slices.

Pork roast, either the loin or the shoulder cut, may be prepared with potatoes in one of the following ways: Mashed, browned, buttered, scalloped or baked. Baked squash also may be served in place of the potatoes.

Certain combinations of food go better than others for a meal, because of flavor and texture contrast. You'll enjoy these easy-to-use go-togethers.

When you serve breast of lamb, surround it with browned potatoes and green lima beans. Add a carrot salad for more interest.

When you have lamb shanks and dumplings, the meal can be rounded out with green beans and glazed carrots. Serve a side dish of apple sauce.

GRASSROOTS by WRIGHT A. PATTERSON

Unity in Religion

FROM the years of the dark ages down through the colonizing and development of this continent, creeds seemed of more importance to religious denominational followers, than the foundation on which the Christian religion was built. The foundation was the same for all denominations. It was the everlasting rock on which each church had built its superstructure. The superstructure was the denominational creed, the details of interpretation of that foundation on which all Christian churches were built. Those details were of but little real consequence.

As a small boy in the 1870's and 1880's I lived in a Methodist parsonage. Father was a Methodist preacher. In our small village were two churches, Methodist and Presbyterian.

Religiously the members of the two congregations did not mix. The members of each were firmly convinced that those who attended the other church were traveling the highway to perdition. To them creed, an interpretation, was of greater importance than the foundation on which both denominations were built. Religious evolution, not revolution, has changed that condition.

Some years ago, I have forgotten how many, I attended, as a newspaper writer, a great religious congress held on the Iron Pier at Atlantic City, N. J. Every state, every denomination, was represented among the more than 3,000 people present. The purpose was to unify by a revolution the efforts of the Christian churches. It was proposed to reduce the number of churches, retaining in each community only what its needs called for, and those retained to be without denominational creeds. Missionary work in pagan lands was to be consolidated. One strong mission was to replace the many weak ones.

I well remember the ardor and enthusiasm with which non-existent and unavailable billions of dollars were appropriated to carry out such a revolutionary program including more than a billion for foreign missions and more than half a billion to propagandize the program in this country. It was a noble conception, but as a revolution it was impractical. It did not get any farther than the voting of those non-existent dollars.

What revolution did not accomplish evolution is accomplishing. Faith, not creed, is today the dominant factor in the work of the Christian churches. There are now few, if any, religious hatreds; few if any, intolerances. Creeds remain, to be sure, but today they are but secondary to that foundation of religious faith on which the Christian religion is built.

Today the ministers and the members of practically all denominations work together for a common purpose. The details of creed interpretation are largely forgotten. Ministers and laymen now recognize that the foundation, built on the rock of faith, is supporting all the denominational superstructures; that all are traveling the same highway, leading to the same end. The bitterness between denominations, a bitterness caused by the details of interpretation, has largely given way to unified effort and all join together in one spiritual advance. Yes, evolution is accomplishing what revolution, as I saw it planned at Atlantic City, failed to accomplish. Evolution has done that desired job without sowing any seeds of bitterness that revolution undoubtedly would have planted.

Today creed, the superstructure of the Christian faith, means but little. It is the foundation that counts and the foundation is the same for all Christian churches.

* * *

Juke box manufacturers are fearful that the nation's rearmament activities will cut down on materials used in production of juke boxes. May their fears be well founded.

* * *

Corn has replaced cotton as the holder of first place in the use of store bought fertilizer.

* * *

An evidence of culture—serving on a radio quiz crew.

* * *

It is far more profitable for the builder to sell the $5,000 cost house for $12,000 or better than to rent it on the basis of a $2,000 value. Especially is that true when the banks, backed by a federal government guarantee, will supply the purchase price and the buyer assumes a mortgage, with monthly payments of $70 and up running for a period of 25 or more years. In all probability the house will be gone before the mortgage is paid.

The Once Over by H. I. Phillips

Special Delivery Letter:

Dear Eric Johnston:

You could have knocked me over with a gangster scenario when I read in the paper that you were not only chairman of the National Conference on Family Life in America but that at its Washington meeting you made an impassioned speech calling on everybody to rally and fight for the protection of American family life and to keep the young on the right paths. This was because I was under the impression you were also the top man in the movie industry, the one fellow in the country in a swell position to protect the home and to keep the kids from getting too many films blueprinting murder and crime techniques. But this must be some other Johnston and I am glad I realized the mistake. I hate to go off half-cocked.

— * —

Well, your fine speech certainly roused me and when you told the delegates from all over the country in a straight from the shoulder talk that the protection of the American home was a paramount issue of the day I felt like cheering.

— * —

You appealed to the National Conference on American Family Life to find ways to help the family strengthen itself and you stirred fathers and mothers everywhere by your deep interest.

— * —

There is no greater threat to the American home and to the future of this nation than the present alarming crime trend among children. In one day the papers carried the story of three 12-year-olds who waylaid and shot a citizen in the back; of a half dozen school children who riddled a teacher's home with bullets from Winchesters, and of an 11-year-old child "shot by six boys who mistook him for a member of a rival gang."

— * —

Where do the kids get such ideas? The idea of getting armed to the teeth and doing some bumping off is not natural to any child and it is not taught in any home, Mr. Johnston. Everybody is with you in your realization of the despair and sorrow felt around American firesides as such things go on and we are so glad you see the situation so clearly.

— * —

Will you forward a copy of your speech to the Eric Johnston who has that big job in Hollywood and who could do so much so easily to protect the fireside and keep the kids from learning criminal ways?

Yours truly
Elmer.

P.S.—Where do you speak next and could you arrange to get the other Eric on the same platform?

* * *

Real Estate Opportunities

ARE YOU A VET?—Did you fight for your country? Come to Larceny Heights and fight for an unwarped door. These homes offered at $10,000 are worth every other dollar of it. All ready to step into if you have a fast eye for weak floors and open trapdoors. Bring your own plumbing and have fun.

— * —

SACRIFICE—Country home; I paid $18,000 for this and will sell for $36,000 to a fast buyer and a slow thinker. Not much to look at but it was built at a time when nails were used.

— * —

COME TO HORNSWOGGLE ACRES! The Gyppem Holding corporation; we sell it and you hold it. These are the novelty homes of the year; no stairways; it's all done by ladders. The cement we are pouring on these jobs will guarantee you an exciting outdoor life for years, $25,000, with only two walls missing.

— * —

VISIT IT TODAY! These $22,000 Cape Cod homes will not last long. Built by Garrison Pluett, famous designer of baby chick brooders and mice traps. Live in one of these little places and you will know what Valley Forge was like. We have skimped on nothing in order to give you half what you need at twice what it is worth.

— * —

FOR SALE—A two-car garage with a house attached; garage has everything required for modern living; house has everything required by the easily satisfied. Hardware, bolts and fixtures by Great Eastern Trinket corporation. A few left unfortunately at $17,500.

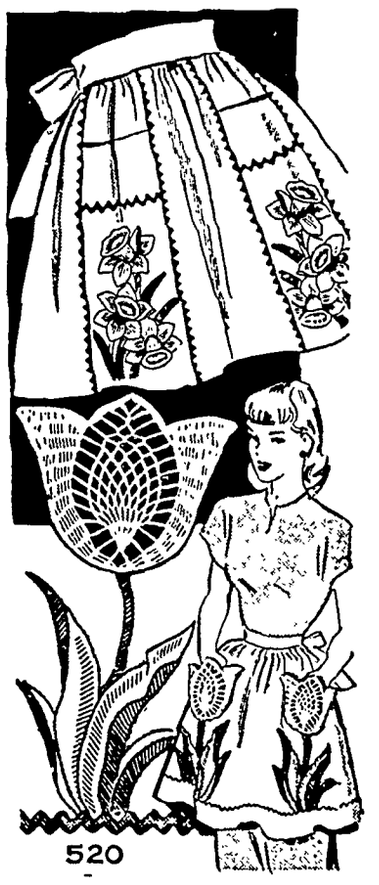
— * —

CO-OPERATIVE—Put $25,000 into one of our co-operative apartments and share the headaches with the other owners all under one roof. Pay no rent; just assessments, legal fees, repair bills, et cetera. A hectic life or your money refunded. What are we saying?

— * —

TO RENT — De luxe Quonset, but perfect for any young couple accustomed to privations. Will put in a melon crate as a spare bedroom for $500 extra.

EVER SO GAY



For gala occasions, gala aprons, of course! Easy needlework—variety too. Simple sewing, and each of these thrifty-cut aprons takes ⅞ yd. Flowers to crochet and embroider. Pattern 520; embroidery transfer; cutting charts; crochet directions.

* * *

Send 20c (in coins) for each pattern to:

Sewing Circle Needlecraft Dept.
561 W. Randolph St. Chicago 80, Ill.
Enclose 20 cents for pattern.
No._____
Name_____
Address_____

The juice of a lemon in a glass of water, when taken first thing on arising, is all that most people need to insure prompt, normal elimination.

No more harsh laxatives that irritate the digestive tract and impair nutrition! Lemon in water is good for you!

Generations of Americans have taken lemons for health—and generations of doctors have recommended them. They are rich in vitamin C; supply valuable amounts of B1 and P. They alkalinize; aid digestion.

Not too sharp or sour, lemon in water has a refreshing tang—clears the mouth, wakes you up. It's not a purgative—simply helps your system regulate itself. Try it 10 days.

USE CALIFORNIA SUNKIST LEMONS

SPRAY WITH Black Leaf 40

—Double-duty insecticide: Kills by contact; kills by fumes. Destroys plant lice but spares beneficial insects. Insist on original factory-sealed containers to insure full strength.

One ounce plus soap makes 6 gallons of effective aphid-spray.

TOBACCO BY-PRODUCTS & CHEMICAL CORPORATION
Nicotine Specialists Since 1889
LOUISVILLE 2, KENTUCKY

LOOK FOR THE LEAF ON THE PACKAGE

CHANGE of LIFE?

Are you going through the functional 'middle age' period peculiar to women (38 to 52 yrs.)? Does this make you suffer from hot flashes, feel so nervous, highstrung, tired? Then do try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to relieve such symptoms. Pinkham's Compound also has what Doctors call a stomachic tonic effect!

LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S VEGETABLE COMPOUND

Planning for the Future? Buy U. S. Savings Bonds!

Watch Your Kidneys!

Help Them Cleanse the Blood of Harmful Body Waste

Your kidneys are constantly filtering waste matter from the blood stream. But kidneys sometimes lag in their work—do not act as Nature intended—fail to remove impurities that, if retained, may poison the system and upset the whole body machinery.

Symptoms may be nagging backache, persistent headache, attacks of dizziness, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes—a feeling of nervous anxiety and loss of pep and strength.

Other signs of kidney or bladder disorder are sometimes burning, scanty or too frequent urination.

There should be no doubt that prompt treatment is wiser than neglect. Use Doan's Pills. Doan's have been winning new friends for more than forty years. They have a nation-wide reputation. Are recommended by grateful people the country over. Ask your neighbor!

DOAN'S PILLS

Father's Day gifts at the Corner Store.

CURTIS G. RIEHM
Attorney-At-Law
Office Over Federated Store
Res. Phone 133W2
Phone 133 Garner, Iowa

Thank You

I wish to thank the Public for the loyal support you gave me in the

June Primaries

Kenneth F. Boughton

Coroner Of Hancock County

Thank You

It is my wish that I may be able to serve the people of Hancock County, and continue to meet with their approval.

I sure thank you for the fine vote that I received.

It has been a pleasure to wait on you during the past years and that I may continue to do so, is the wish of

Roy L. McMillin

Your County Treasurer

Carpenters Wanted

GOOD PAY

STEADY WORK

Henkel Construction Co.

525 - 9th St. S. E., Mason City, Iowa

Josten Appliance

Klemme Iowa

KLEMME LOCAL NEWS

Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Harson and daughter of Klemme and Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Albro of Rowan were supper guests Sunday evening at the Rev. S. W Cunningham at Rowan.

KLEMME LOCAL NEWS

Mrs. Lyle Burr and children Carolyn and Bobbie of Ogden left Thursday for their home after visiting for a couple of days at the parental Mrs. Naska Bock home.

Harlan Stille of Emmetsburg, visited over the week end at the parental Quentin Stille home, Harlan is employed by the telephone company as a cable splicer.

Mrs. Bertha Moorehead and daughters, Mrs. Hank Van Blaricorn and Kathern, and granddaughter, Joy Ann Van Blaricorn of Rockwell, were callers at the Art Polsdofer home on Friday evening.

Wilsons Move To Des Moines

Mr. and Mrs. P. M. Wilson, who have lived at Ames for the past year have moved to 3104 44th Street in Des Moines where they will welcome their Klemme friends.

compare CONVENIENCE
You can't beat the speedy Easy Spindrier for convenience. Does a week's wash in less than an hour. No wringer. Instead, the Spindrier whirls out up to 25% more water so clothes dry faster indoors and out. No set tubs, rinse right in the spinner basket. It's America's biggest washer value.
EASY SPINDRIER

JOSTEN APPLIANCE
Klemme, Iowa

KLEMME NEWS

Give Dad an Electric Razor for Father's Day. See them at the Corner Store.

Mr. and Mrs. Lyle "Buddy" Wilcox of Ames came Thursday and visited until Monday at the parental C. G. Waterman home. Mr. Wilcox will attend the summer session at Iowa State College.

Don't forget Dad. Get him a gift at the Corner Store.

Mrs. Lida Filkins of Iowa City and Miss Ada Mutch of Grundy Center came Friday morning for a visit over the week end at the Dr. A. H. Dulmes home. Mrs. Filkins leaves next week for California to spend her summer vacation.

Elwood Geary left Friday evening for Cherokee, where he acted as best man for his brother, Gerald Geary of Dubuque. Elwood returned home Sunday evening accompanied by his sister, Darlene, who will visit for a couple of weeks at the Geary home.

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Josten have purchased the Fred Becker residence in southwest Klemme. They expect to retire from the farm next spring when they will move to town. Mr. and Mrs. Fred Becker purchased an acreage just south of Clear Lake where they will move in the spring.

Starts New Home

Mr. and Mrs. Verner Lewis are building a new house on a lot east of the Walter Bachman home in Morningside. The new home will be a basement house for the present and will later be built up.

FARMS NEAR KANAWHA SOLD UNDER HAMMER

Ceophas E. Proctor, Garner realtor, was the successful bidder on an unimproved 80 acre farm near Kanawha sold at auction Monday. The farm is in a high state of fertility and sold for $213 per acre.

At the same auction a 150-acre improved tract was sold to John May of Kanawha at a price reported to be $181.50 per acre.

The two tracts were a part of the Fred Jurgens estate. Auctioneer H. H. Brummund of Kanawha cried the sale.

JUST A FEW EXTRAS

Here's a story that recently came to light. The War Assets Administration sold 5,433 combat aircraft located at Kingman Field, Arizona for $2,780.00. (Original cost $1,157,000,000). When the buyer inventoried his purchase he found 38 more planes than had been stated on the bill of sale, not to mention 3 million gallons of high octane gas, 650,000 gallons of used oil and a large quantity of hydralic fluid all of which he was allawed to keep. It seems that the WAA had again failed to take an accurate inventory. These extras only set the government back about ten million dollars. Oh well, under the New Deal way of doing things, that can easily be made up in taxes.

GARNER SADDLE CLUB TO ORGANIZE JUNE 20

Thirty-seven horse and pony owners were present at the initial meeting of the Garner Saddle club at the Garner Sales company barn recently. Twenty horses and seven ponies were brought to the barn and the entire group went for a short ride following a short business session.

The organization meet of the club will be held Sunday afternoon, June 20, at which time about 50 people are expected to enroll.

The club is open to horse and pony lovers in Garner and nearby communities and anyone interested is requested to be on hand for the organization meeting. Equestrains were present from Hayfield, Ventura, Klemme and the Garner vicinity.

Remember Dad with a Gift from the Corner Store.

Try A Times Want Ad.

GARNER CLINIC
GARNER, IOWA

Dr. E. M. Christensen, M.D.
Physician & Surgeon, Ph. 18
EYES TESTED — GLASSES FITTED

Dr. A. G. Landon, D.D.S.
Dentist, Ph. 207

Arthur Wellemeyer
FUNERAL DIRECTOR

—with long experince and best equipment.
PROMPT AMBULANCE SERVICE
Phone 23-R2 Day or Night

Klemme - Iowa

AVERY

—The—
Theatre Beautiful
Garner, Iowa

Wednes. - Thursday
JUNE 16, 17
SHE'S PLENTY GOOD!
LINDA BE GOOD
With ELSE KNOX
JOHN HUBBARD
MARIE WILSON

JUNE 18, 19
Friday - Saturday
HERE COMES "HOPPY"
Starring
BILL BOYD
In
THE MARAUDERS
With
ANDY CLYDE
And
RAND BROOKS

JUNE 20, 21, 22
Sun. - Mon. - Tues.
ROMANCE! ACTION!
RED STALLION
With
ROBERT PAIGE
TED DONALDSON
NOREEN NASH
JANE DARWELL

JUNE 23, 24
WED. - THURS.
GEORGE BRENT
VIRGINIA MAYO
CAROLE LANDIS
In
OUT OF THE BLUE

PHOTOGRAPHS

Live Forever

RUSSELL
Photo Studio

Next to J. C. Penny Co.
Ph. 2272 Mason City, Ia.

Public Sale

Notice is hereby given that the hereinafter described property will be sold at public auction at 2:00 o'clock on

SATURDAY, JUNE 19, 1948

at Twin Lake subdistrict No. 2 schoolhouse (2 miles south of Klemme and 3 miles west of Highway 69; 3 miles north and 6 miles east of Kanawna):

1 School House 26' x 34'
1 Furnace
1 School Bell

The Board of Directors reserves the right to waive technicalities and to reject any and all bids.

Published by order of the Board of Directors of Twin Lake Township School District this 1st day of June, A. D. 1948.

TERMS—CASH

Harold Eliason, Sec.
TWIN LAKE TOWNSHIP SCHOOL BOARD

Mr. and Mrs. Dorance Day and son, Gary and Gary Pascel of Mason City, were dinner guests Sunday at the Mildred Day home.

Mrs. August Dahlstr Janesville, Iowa, visited home of her nephew, A dofer and family, Thurs Friday.

Thank You

I take this means to express my thanks the voters of Hancock County who gave their support at the June primaries.

Robt. D. Hoadley

Thank You

I want to thank the voters of the Co for their liberal support at the June Prima

Curtis Riehm
County Attorney

Thanks Voters

FOR YOUR LOYAL SUPPORT

I am still a Republican and always h been. I desired to serve this district as a u I am not pledged to any pressure group.

J. A. Chambers

Farmers!

Meet your neighbor here on your busi dealings . . . enjoy a game of pool while t ing over your problems.

Farmers Are Welcome At

Joe's Place

Joe Finnegan, Prop. Klemme, I

DEAD STOCK

PROMPTLY REMOVED

Britt Rendering C
Dept. of Agr. Lic. No. 22

WE PAY PHONE CHARG

KLEMME Phone 700
GARNER Phone 4000

Our Trucks Are Steam Cleaned Afte Each Load

TANKAGE AND MINERALIZED FEED FOR SALE AT OUR PLANT

Weed-No-Mor

SHERWIN WILLIAMS 2-4-D Spray Acid
This is an Ester Base Acid ____ per gal. $

ORTHO WEED-BE-GONE 64 59% Amine 2-4-D Spray Acid _____ per gal. $

ORTHO PEST-BE-GONE 25% DDT Corn Borer Spray _____ per gal. $

We have ONE 24 foot and ONE 30 foot LORIS SPRAYER on hand. These sprayers the perfect sprayer for corn borer control.

Pincor Power Lown Mowers _____ $15

Pincor Hand Mowers _____ $2

Jamesway Hog Feeders _____ $5

DDT Spray Drops (to be used in spraying DDT) _____ $

Northern Lumber C

FARM IMPLEMENTS

Phone 49 Klemme,

OFFICIAL COUNTY PAPER

THE KLEMME TIMES

Volume 53. KLEMME, IOWA, JUNE 23, 1948 Number 32.

Will Celebrate Opening Of New Field Thursday Night

WILL DEDICATE KLEMME'S NEW LIGHTED SOFT BALL FIELD

Band Concert, Two Soft Ball Games On New Lighted Field Thursday Night

Klemme's new lighted soft ball field at the school house will be dedicated this Thursday evening with a kid's soft ball game, band concert and a feature league game between the I. C. team and the Klemme town team.

The kid game will get under way at 7:00 p. m. which will be followed by a concert by the Klemme School Band, directed by Stanley Bulka. The feature game is scheduled to start at 8:00 o'clock.

Everyone is invited to attend. There will be no admission charge at the gate.

First Game Rained Out

The first game on the new field was to have been held last Thursday night but rain during the day made the field too wet. Klemme has the best lighted soft ball field in North Iowa, according to the electricians who wired in the lights. The field was laid out according to blue prints which had been engineered by experts in lighted fields.

Big Crowd Expected

A large crowd is expected to be at the field Thursday night. There should be plenty of competition in the kid game and the band concert is always enjoyed. The feature game between the I. C. and the Klemme team should be a thriller as both teams are fast outfits.

ELL 4-H GIVES PROGRAM

The Ell Midgets presented the program at the regular meeting of the Ell township Farm Bureau held in School No. 5, Friday evening, June 18.

Allan Anderson was master of ceremonies at the meeting and presented some very interesting and unique numbers. Doran Lackore and Don Maurice Jacobs each played piano solos and Joe Goll sang a song. Byron Freeman and Billy Waddingham modeled the Gibson Girl dresses of many years ago along with its modern counterpart.

All members of the club took part in "The Modern Class Room" with Darwin Wille as teacher. A taxicab act was put on by Doran Lackore and Darwin Wille. Doran Lackore gave a report of the District 4-H camp at Clear Lake.

Members of the audience were called upon to take part in numbers on the program. Mrs. Emery Weaver was asked to make a hat out of paper, pins, chore boy and various other articles. Addis Greiman and Mr. Gust Josten were asked to identify Canadian thistles and the morning glory by tasting the sections of the roots of those plants.

Mrs. Emery Weaver presented material on the 4-H health project that is being carried out by every boys and girls 4-H club in the County.

Miss Van Wert, County Extension Home Economist, gave some material on "Money Saving Kitchen Dishes."

Arnold Appointed Town Clerk To Succeed A. J. Kudje

At the last meeting of the Town Council, Asa R. Arnold was appointed Town Clerk of Klemme to succeed A. J. Kudje who resigned a few weeks ago after having held the office for the past 25 years.

CORN ABOUT KNEE-HIGH; OATS IS WELL HEADED OUT IN HANCOCK

The several rains of the past week have done wonders for the oats which is now well headed out and kernels are filling. Corn is near the knee-high stage in many fields and some corn is in the stage of growth now. The rains were also beneficial to pastures and hay land.

Clear Lake Couple Celebrated Golden Wedding Anniversary Sunday

Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Jorgenson, Sr. went to Clear Lake Sunday afternoon to call on Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Davenport who were celebrating their Golden Wedding Anniversary and held open house during the afternoon.

Mr. Davenport published the Clear Lake Reporter for 50 years and retired from the business a couple of years ago when he sold his newspaper to B. D. Merriman. The Davenports are members of the Hawkeye Press Club and attend meetings regularly.

Former Klemme Girl Married In Texas

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Bachman received word from their daughter, Maxine, that she was married to Mr. James Matherson, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Matherson of McAllen, Texas, on Saturday, June 12th.

They were attended by Mr. and Mrs. Warren Groy, friends of the couple. Mr. Matherson is engaged in farming.

They will live at 2527 West Highway in McAllen, Texas.

Correction

We stated last week that Wm. Bock rode home in the car with Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell Bock and children; Mrs. Naska Bock and Miss Lydia Bock who visited him at the Veterans Hospital at Knoxville. What we should have said was that "Billy enjoyed a ride around Knoxville with the home-town folks." Mr. Bock is getting along fine at the hospital but is still a patient there.

Music Mothers Club Met On Wednesday Afternoon

The newly organized Music Mothers Club met at the school house on Wednesday afternoon, June 16th. It was decided at the meeing to hold an ice cream social on Saturday night, July 10th. Ice cream, cake and pie will be sold.

It is hoped that every mother of band members and those of any boy or girl in the vocal groups will be present at our next meeting which will be held at the school house Wednesday at 2:00 o'clock, July 21st. If we are going to have a worthwhile organization it will be necessary that the mothers show their intrest by attending.

Klemme Folks On Eastern Tour

Martha and Novella Bredbenner left Monday for a trip to the East. They are traveling by bus and will stop at Detroit and Niagara Falls while enroute to Berwick, Pennsylvania where they will visit Novella's paternal grandmother. From June 29 to July 5 Novella will attend the National Kappa Phi Convention at Wellesley College in Massachusetts. Mrs. Bredbenner will remain in Berwick, Pa. during the week of the convention and will join Novella later for the Kappa Phi post-convention tours of Boston, New York City, and Washington ,D.C.

Streets Dust Treated

A number of Klemme streets were treated with calcium chloride Saturday to keep the dust down. Main Street and other streets with heavy travel were given a coat of the dust settling chemical which should give us a lot of relief from dust during the hot weather.

Permits On Stored Game Expire

All wild game held in storage under permits issued during the 1947-48 hunting season expire June 30, and conservation officers have been advised to see that the limit is enforced in their territories. Game birds or animals legally taken under non-resident licenses outside the state may be held indefinitely provided the game is properly identified.

Join the fight against flies.

IT IS ILLEGAL TO POSSESS OR SHOOT FIRECRACKERS IN IOWA

There has been a lot of complaint about shooting firecrackers in Klemme the past two weeks. Not only is the practice annoying but is also dangerous.

It might be well to warn those who shoot fire crackers that they are violating the law and are subject to a fine. It is illegal in Iowa to possess firecrackers and to shoot them anywhere in the State.

FLY SPRAYING PROGRAM SIGNED UP BY MOST RESIDENTS

The sign-op for the Fly Free Campaign was considered very successful and the first spraying of the town will be done today.

In addition to spraying the residence and business section of the town, the park will be treated, stockyards, the disposal plant and city dump. This should give Klemme a good coverage and ought to kill all the flies and mosquitoes in the area.

Greiman Family Reunion Held At Sheffield Sunday

A number of families from from this community attended the Greiman family reunion and picnic dinner held at Sheffield Sunday which date would have been the 100th wedding anniversary of Grandpa and Grandma Greiman had they lived. About 200 were present.

CORNER STORE BEING RE-DECORATED THIS WEEK

R. A. Jorgenson, Jr. is redecorating his Corner Store this week and having the fixtures re-finished in a light cream background with a light green trim which greatly brightens up the appearance of the store. Some new booths are also going to be installed this week, which will add to the convenience of serving fountain customers.

W. S. C. S.

Will meet Thursday, July 1st at the church with the children having the program, under the direction of Mrs. C. A. Arnold and Mrs. D. P. Anderson.

It will be a pot luck picnic, so each bring something. The committee in charge of the serving will be Mrs. Everett Guth, Mrs. Melvin Neuberger, and Mrs. Herb Marshall.

Spray oats, spring wheat and barley for weed control when the crops are in full tiller stage, all stooled out but no heads yet appearing.

Soft ball game on Thursday night under the lights.

Saturday Club Met

The Saturday contract bridge club met at the home of Mrs. Wesley Patterson with Mrs. Geo. Lawhorn, Mrs. E. F. Jacobs, Mrs. Wm. Fuss and Shannon Raum of Missouri Valley as guests. A lovely lunch was served by the hostess. Mrs. George Lawhorn won high prize and Mrs. R. A. Jorgenson, Jr. second high prize.

Honored At Post Nuptial Shower

Mrs. Harlan Nuehring was honored at a post nuptial shower at the home of Mrs. Fred Nuehring last Friday afternoon. Mrs. Earl Nuehring and Mrs. Irwin Nuehring were the hostesses. About 45 ladies were entertained and the hostesses served a nice lunch. Mrs. Harlan Nuehring received many nice gifts.

ARNOLD REUNION WAS HELD AT CHARLES CITY

The annual Arnold reunion was held at Wildwood Park in Charles City Sunday, June 20.

In spite of a light rain the picnic dinner was delicious and enjoyed by all.

Officers elected for the coming year were: T. E. Hartwick of Giard, President; E. J. Arnold of Klemme, Vice President; and Mrs. Lurena Soderberg of Burt, Secretary and Treasurer.

Those who attended from this vicinity were: Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Arnold, Wilbur and Bruce; Mr. and Mrs. Roy Arnold and Billy; Mrs. Emilie Arnold; Mr. and Mrs. Lew Griffen and Mabel; Mrs. John Eenhuis and children; and Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Upmeyer and Ruth.

Next year the reunion will be held on the 3rd Wednesday in June.

BIRTHDAY "SPUDS"

C. A. Bier of Greene celebrated his Birthday June 14 with a "mess" of new potatoes from his own garden. This is a traditional event with Mr. Bier and his potato-patch has "delivered" 48 times in the past 49 years, in times for the birthday observance.

Don't miss the opening game, under the lights, on Thursday night.

Kingery Appointed To State Vocational Education Office

Waterman Family Has Reunion, 60 Clan Members Meet At Community Hall

The Waterman family reunion was held at the Community Hall Sunday with about 60 decendants of Henry and Pauline Waterman attending. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Eldo Waterman, Mr. and Mrs. Art J Buch, Mr. and Mrs. Martin Stolper and Marilyn of Keystone, Iowa; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Garling, and Nellie Rieck of Luverne, Iowa; Mr. and Mrs. Chas. E. Schultz, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Schultz and Mrs. Orpha Holmes of Blairstown, Iowa; Mary Kettler, Cedar Rapids, Iowa; Mr. and Mrs. Wm. J. Waterman, Elaine and Carol; Mr. and Mrs. Laurence Weber, Marion and Joan; Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Waterman and family; Mr. and Mrs. Ray Steffen and family; Gilman Heydlauff, and Harold Behrens of Sanborn, Minn; Mr. and Mrs. M. F. Waterman, Mr. and Mrs. Merritt Waterman and Helen; Mr. nd Mrs. Allen Behrens, Barbara and Waye, of Lamberton, Minn.; Mr. nd Mrs. A. P. Steinberg, DeLos, Delores, and Audrae of St. James, Minn.; Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Waterman and children of Rochester, Minn.; Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Wilcox of Ames, Iowa; Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Waterman and Mrs. Mary Waterman of Klemme, Iowa.

This was the first meeting held since 1941. The next meeting will be held on the 3rd Sunday in June 1949 in Klemme, Iowa, which is centrally located for all.

Attended Silver Wedding

Mr. and Mrs. Benn Coobs, Mrs. Verner Lewis and Mrs. W. F. Pavey drove to McGregor Sunday to attend the Silver Wedding Anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Coobs.

Mr. Coobs is a brother of the Klemme ladies and Benn.

Join the fight against flies.

A. L. KINGERY TO SUPERVISE VOCATIONAL REHABILITATION IN 14 COUNTIES

A. L. Kingery has accepted a position as a Vocational Counselor with the Rehabilitation Division of the Iowa State Department of Vocational Education. This division is in the State Department of Public Instruction and the appointment was made by Miss Jessie M. Parker, State Superintendent of Public Instruction. Mr. Kingery will serve fourteen counties in North Central Iowa and his headquarters will be at Fort Dodge.

Mr. Kingery is a graduate of Iowa State Teachers College. He has attended Iowa State College, Ames, Iowa and Drake University, Des Moines, Iowa. He has been continously employed in public school work the past eighteen years. He was high school principal and coach at Crystal Lake for three years. He was principal and coach at Klemme, Iowa for nine years. In 1942 he became superintendent of the Seneca Consolidated School, Fenton, Iowa. The past four years he has been Superintendent of the Klemme Schools. He helped to organize the Hancock County Teachers Council and served as its first president. He is a member of that organization, of the Iowa State Education Association, The National Education Association, and the Hancock Couny School Masters Club. He served a two year term as representative at large for the North Central District at the delegate assembly of the Iowa Education Association.

Annual High School Alumni Banquet To Be Held Friday Evening

The annual Klemme High School Alumni Banquet and dance will be held at the Community Hall on Friday evening of this week. A large crowd is expected to attend and reservations are coming in every day.

Picnic Dinner Held Sunday At The Roy Schaefer Home

Sunday a family gathering and picnic dinner was held at the Roy Schaefer home in Klemme. The following were present for the occasion:

Mrs. Fred Gates of Garner; Mr. and Mrs. Bob Martinson of Minneapolis; Mr. and Mrs. Ben Riemer of Garner; Mr. and Mrs. Ben Ridder, Mr. and Mrs. Loren Gast and Kathy, and Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Kern and Mary Kathryn of Liberty. Mr. and Mrs. Emory Weaver, Egon and Troy of Ell; Eugene Schaefer of Klemme and Calvin Schaefer of Garner.

Former Klemme Boy Married Sunday At Little Brown Church

Elmer Jensen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Jensen of Mitchell, former Klemme residents, and Miss De Lone Ellingson, of St. Ansgar, were united in marriage at the little Brown Church near Nashua, Sunday afternoon at 5:00 o'clock.

Those from Klemme who attended the ceremony were Mr. and Mrs. Lew Abele; Mrs. Elsie Baack, Dorance and Gordon, and Mrs. Clarence Kluckhohn.

A reception was held after the wedding at the Jensen home at Mitchell.

Melvin Coobs Initiated Into Eta Kappa Nu

Melvin E. Coobs, Junior Electrical Engineer at the State University of Iowa, son of Mr. and Mrs. Benn Coobs of Klemme has been initiated into the State University of Iowa chapter of Eta Kappa Nu, nation honorary electrical fraternity.

Judge Gets Six Mouse Traps From Iowa Man To Ease Court Troubles

(Baltimore Evening Sun June 4, 1948.)

If an Iowa mousetrap maker is right in his prediction, Judge Michael J. Manley's courtroom, Baltimore City Court—will soon be free of its mouse troubles.

The Judge today received a shipment of six mousetraps. The maker had read an Associated Press dispatch in a Midwestern paper about the mouse which disrupted court proceedings in a recent day, annoyed the judge, scared a couple of women members of the jury, and actually ran up the sleeve of David O'Dunne, court bailiff.

Also Sends Letter

E. J. Thompson, of Klemme, Iowa, manager of a trap-making concern, sent the traps to the judge and at the same time sent a letter to Bailiff O'Dunne.

In his letter, Thompson deplored the idea that the movement of justice might be distracted by movements of mice and said something should be done. He wrote:

"I know of no better way than equipping the courtroom with run-way mouse traps. We are therefore sending you under separate cover enough of the traps to handle the situation."

Gets Letter From Reporter

In regard to the above story Ed. Thompson received the following letter from T. Denton Miller, Sun paper reporter, who wrote the original story that brought nation-wide distribution through the Associated Press:

"Having written the original story in The Evening Sun that brought about the Associated Press distribution of the Baltimore Courthouse mouse story last month, I thought you might be interested to see The Evening Sun clipping of June 4th in connection with your mousetrap presentation. Probably this may get AP distribution also, but it might not. At any rate, here is the clipping. So far the court has not reported any casualties." Yours truly, T. Denton Miller, Sun Papers Reporter.

Mouse Traps Made In Klemme

The above story gave The Run Way Trap Co. and Ed. J. Thompson a lot of publicity and incidently helps to put Klemme on the map. The traps Ed. sent to Judge Manley are made right here in Klemme and have been shipped to every state in the union as well as to several foreign countries. During the war manufacture was held up for lack of steel, which is still a critical item as the traps are entirely of metal. They are self-setting and a big feature of the Run Way Trap is that it does not require any bait to successfully catch mice.

Garner Reformed Church

REV. R. D. STUEBBE

ZION CHURCH:

Sunday.

9:00 A. M. Worship Services and Lord's Supper.

No Sunday School.

PEACE CHURCH:

10.30 A. M. Worship Service and Lord's Supper.

No Sunday School.

Evangelical & Reformed Church

Calvin Grosshuesch, Pastor

NO SERVICES OR SUNDAY SCHOOL SUNDAY

The congregation is invited to a Mission Festival at the Hampton Evangelical and Reformed Church, Wintermeyer pastor. Services will be in the morning, afternoon and evening.

Our Bible School will close with a picnic Friday. Program at 10:00 A. M. Picnic dinner at noon and entertainment in the afternoon.

Couple Married In Candlelight Ceremony In Prairie Center Church Near Britt

BRITT GIRL IS BRIDE OF KLEMME YOUNG MAN

Carol Fox Marries Harlan Nuehring In Double Ring Ceremony

Miss Carol M., daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lyal Fox of Britt, and Harlan A., son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Nuehring of Klemme, were united in marriage in a double ring candlelight ceremony by the Rev. C. B. Mitchell of Titonka, at the Methodist Prairie Center Church northwest of Britt on Saturday evening, June 5, 1948 at 8.00 o'clock.

Miss Carmen Higdon, of Britt, cousin of the Bride, played nuptial music and the wedding marches. Allan Barz of Klemme sang, "Because" and "The Lord's Prayer."

The church auditorium was decorated with baskets of pink and white peonies and lighted with candles. The Rev. Mitchell who performed the ceremony, also officiated at the wedding of the Bride's parents 30 years ago.

The Bride wore a white satin dress fitted at the top with lace, with a short train and a fingertip veil. She carried a Colonial bouquet of white roses and wore a carnation in her hair.

Miss Marjorie Fox, of Des Moines, maid of honor, wore a blue formal and carried a Colonial bouquet of yellow and white carnations.

The Bride's maid, Miss Charlotte Nuehring of Klemme, wore a yellow formal and carried a bouquet of yellow and white carnations.

Joyce Schubert, neice of the Bride, was the flower girl and the ring bearers were Russell Schubert and Harley Nuehring.

The Best Man was Earl Schulz, brother-in-law of the bride, and her brother, John Fox, of Forest City was the groom's attendant. Ushers were James Higdon of Britt and Edward Barz of Klemme.

Mrs. Fox, mother of the bride wore a light green flowered dress and the groom's mother wore a navy blue dress. Both had corsages of carnations.

After the ceremony a reception attended by 150 was held in the church dining room which was in white and pink. The Bride's table, which was decorated with flowers and lighted with candles, was centered with a 4-tier decoratde cake, topped with a bride and groom. Miss Delores Christensen of Des Moines was in charge of the guest book and waitresses at the bride's table were the Misses Mildred Sweeney and LaVon Higdon of Britt.

The Bride graduated from the Britt high school in 1945 and has since been teaching. The groom graduated from the Klemme high school in 1945 after which he served 21 months in the infantry of the U. S. Army. The couple will be at home in Klemme and will reside in the apartment at the Mrs. Clara Stille residence.

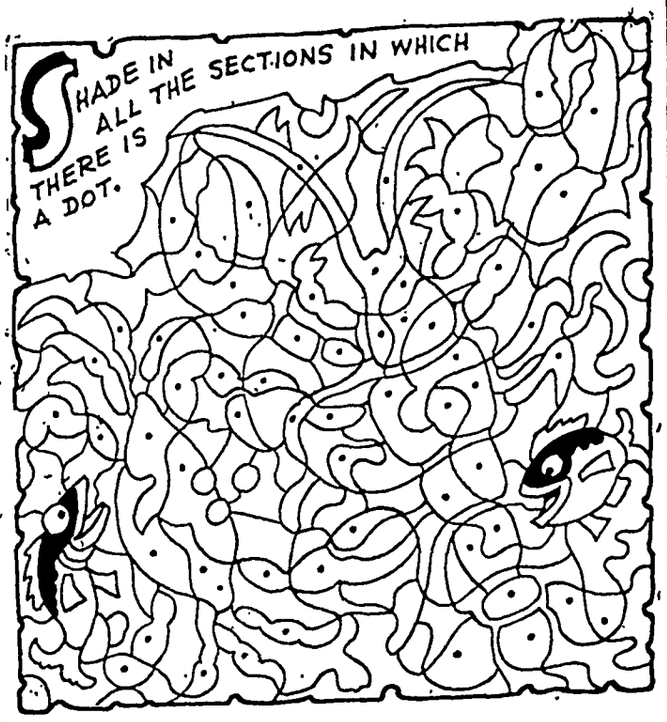
Cross Town
by Roland Coe

"HOLD UP ON THOSE CAMPAIGN PLANS —I'VE JUST THOUGHT OF SOME SWEEPING CHANGES!"

Bobby Sox
by Marty Links

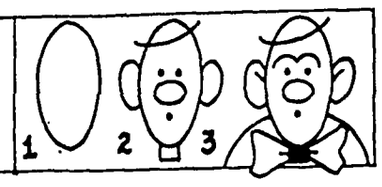
"WHAT IF YOU DID LOSE A DIME BACK OF THE SOFA CUSHIONS, YOU CAN'T COME IN NOW AND LOOK FOR IT!"

FUNLAND
BY A.W. NUGENT



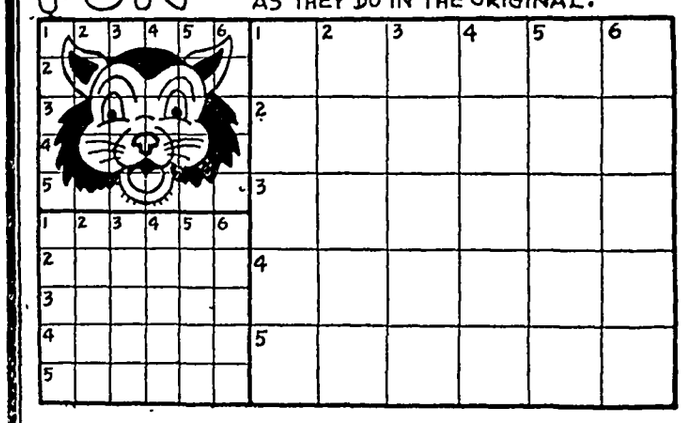
CHANGE ONE LETTER IN EACH GIVEN ANIMAL'S NAME TO SPELL THREE BOYS' AND THREE GIRLS' NAMES.
1 LION
2 RAT ANT
3 ELK NAG
4 MARE
5
6
1, LEON; 2, ANN; 3, RAY; 4, NAN; 5, ELI; 6, MARY.

LITTLE CARTOONISTS: DRAW THIS COMIC CHARACTER, STEP BY STEP.



DOUBLE FUN

DUPLICATE MY PICTURE ACTUAL SIZE, AND FOUR TIMES ITS SIZE. MAKE YOUR LINES CUT THE BOXES JUST AS THEY DO IN THE ORIGINAL.



WNU 4824

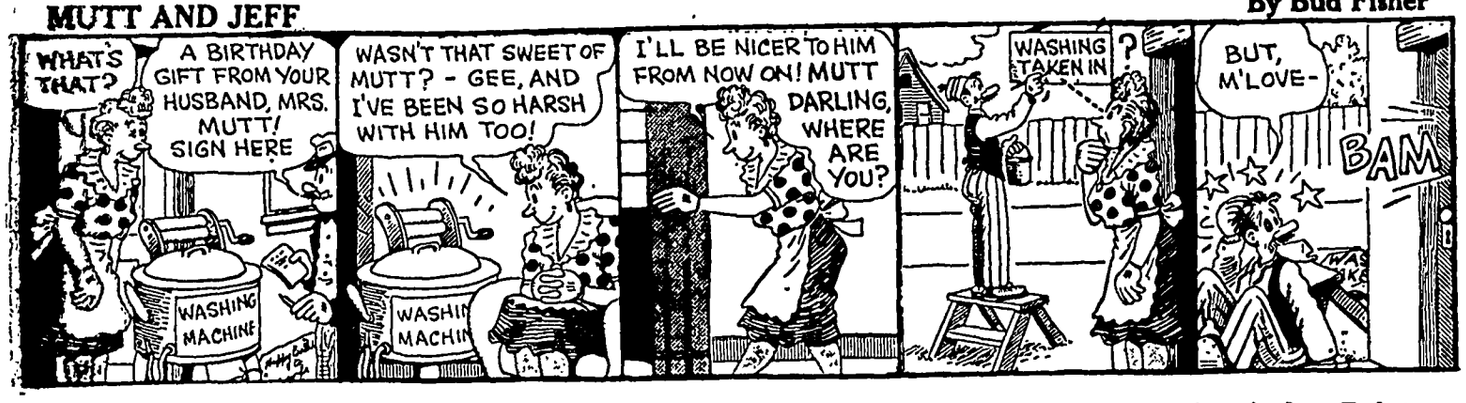
NANCY
By Ernie Bushmiller

AUNT FRITZI--CAN I HAVE A TELEPHONE EXTENSION UP IN MY ROOM?
OF COURSE NOT---- DON'T BE SILLY
I NEVER HAVE ANY PRIVACY WHEN I'M ON THE PHONE
R-RING

LITTLE REGGIE
By Margarita

HAW HAW HAW HO HO AREN'T WE RIDICULOUS HA HA HA
CRACK-POT PROGRAM
AND NOW—GRIMEY SOAPSUDS PRESENTS OUR NEXT CONTESTANT—
HA HA WELL YOUNG MAN—WHAT ARE YOU GOING TO BE WHEN YOU GROW UP?
I DON'T KNOW—WHAT ARE YOU GOING TO BE?

MUTT AND JEFF
By Bud Fisher



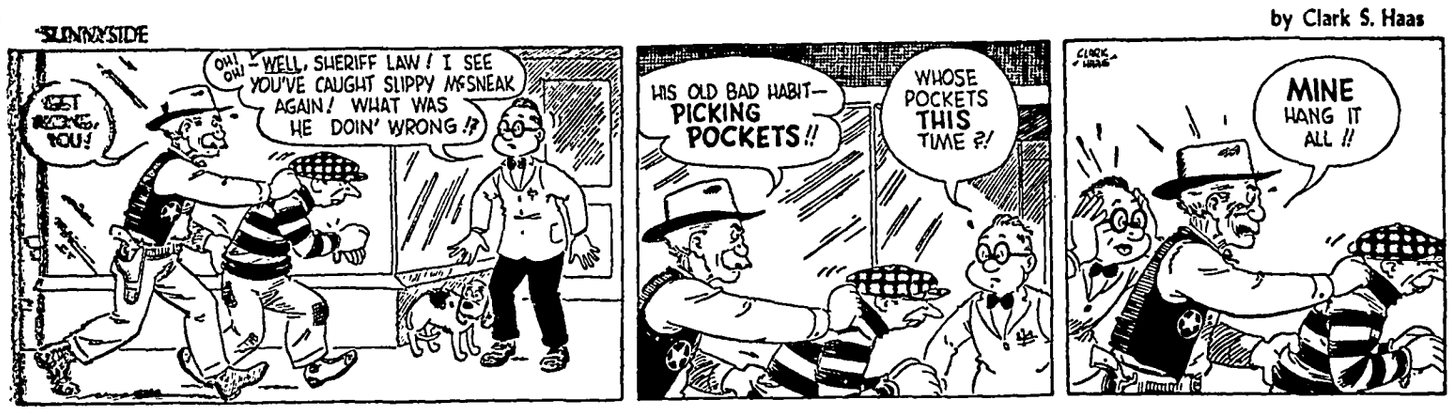
WHAT'S THAT?
A BIRTHDAY GIFT FROM YOUR HUSBAND, MRS. MUTT! SIGN HERE
WASHING MACHINE
WASN'T THAT SWEET OF MUTT? - GEE, AND I'VE BEEN SO HARSH WITH HIM TOO!
I'LL BE NICER TO HIM FROM NOW ON! MUTT DARLING, WHERE ARE YOU?
WASHING TAKEN IN
BUT, M'LOVE-
BAM

JITTER
By Arthur Pointer

MISS SNOOD, I'LL BE IN CONFERENCE AWHILE...DON'T LET ANYONE DISTURB ME UNLESS I RING FOR THEM!
YOU RANG FOR ME.
ME TOO.
DID YOU WANT ME?

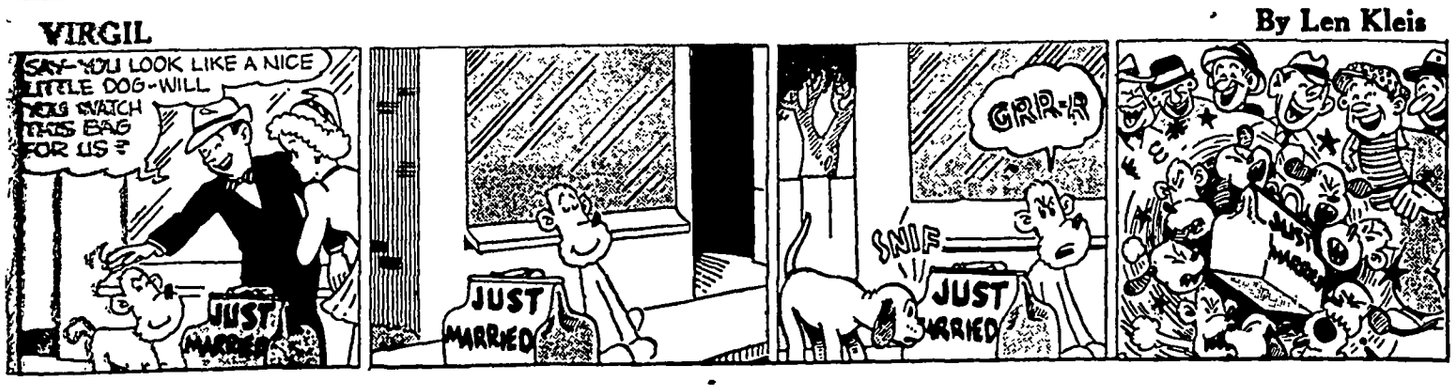
REG'LAR FELLERS
By Gene Byrnes

SUNNYSIDE
by Clark S. Haas



GET AWAY, YOU!
OH! OH! WELL, SHERIFF LAW! I SEE YOU'VE CAUGHT SLIPPY McSNEAK AGAIN! WHAT WAS HE DOIN' WRONG?
HIS OLD BAD HABIT—PICKING POCKETS!!
WHOSE POCKETS THIS TIME?!
MINE HANG IT ALL!!

VIRGIL
By Len Kleis



CROSSWORD PUZZLE

Solution in Next Issue.

ACROSS

1 Stylish
5 Nobleman
9 Carriage
10 More infrequent
12 Coin (Ind.)
13 Eat away
14 Goddess of harvests
15 Guided
17 Dry, as wine
18 Pronoun
19 Overwhelming fright
21 Inlet by sea (Eng.)
22 Music note
23 Gets away (slang)
25 Boxes scientifically
28 Concise
29 Fur-bearing marsupial
31 Type measure
32 At home
33 Pry
35 Like
37 Cut off
39 Beard of rye
40 Open (poet.)
41 Splendor
43 Tree
45 Beach
46 Mandate
47 Fills with solemn wonder
48 Carry

DOWN

1 Kind of car
2 Befalls
3 Diamond (slang)
4 Pincerlike claw
5 Foretell
6 Organ of hearing
7 God of love
8 Gets back
9 Bird
11 To ease again
16 Half elms
19 Fragments
20 Crawl
22 Distant
24 Fortify
25 Grins broadly
26 Coarse Mexican sugar
27 Legislative bodies
30 At the present time
34 Beginning
35 Swiftly
36 Denomination
38 Farm implement
40 Leave out
42 Part of "to be"
44 Shrub (Jap.)

No. 22

Answer to Puzzle Number 21

WNU 4824

Gay, Young Dress for Juniors

Date Frock

A pretty little date fro... summer-long wear. Note... exciting scooped neckline, th... cool sleeves, the full dancing... Try a tiny all over tie pri... have the flattering collar i... white.

Pattern No. 8303 comes i... 12, 14, 16, 18 and 20. Size ... yards of 39-inch; ¾ yard fo... and sleeves.

SEWING CIRCLE PATTERN ... 530 South Wells St. - Chicago ...
Enclose 25 cents in coins for... pattern desired.
Pattern No. ____ Si...
Name ____
Address ____

"Everybody lov...
SMACKS
THE REALLY DELICIOUS COCONUT ...

"It truly is a Laxative Fo...
"Anyone troubled with const... as I was, should try eating KE... ALL-BRAN regularly. It has d... so much good!"—Mrs. Hen... kowski, Kennywood, Pa. If y... lacks the bulk you need for reg... ular elimination, eat an ounce of KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN every day in milk—and drink plenty of water. If not satisfied after ten days' trial, send empty carton to Kello... Battle Creek, Mich., and get ... YOUR MONEY BACK. Order KE... ALL-BRAN today.

AS PURE AS MONEY CA...
St. Joseph ASP...
WORLD'S LARGEST SELLER ...

KILL RATS
QUICK W...
STEAR...
ELECTRIC BR...
RAT & RO...
PAST...
Used 10 ...
AT D...

STOP LIGHTNING DAMAGE
"National Quality" Systems Preve... Stroke from Occurring. Write for F... "Is Lightning Protection Worth ...
NAT'AL LIGHTNING PROTECTION ...

38% BRIGHTE... TEETH in 7 days
CALOX
TOOTH POW...
A McKESSON & ROBBINS

THE FICTION CORNER

MESSAGE FOR THELMA

By ROBERT ARTHUR

's note said that he would ce at 11 for his things. By Anne had packed all of his al belongings into the three bags and the wardrobe which she dragged empty e foyer of the apartment and there. Tom was never punc- He might come half an hour r half an hour late, and she to have everything ready so that she could be out e came.

d not linger over the pack- llow herself to feel anything, en she put the set of cuff and studs which had been her gift to him and the silver- military brushes she had on their first—and only ersary into the last bag.

der if anyone else in New es military brushes, she herself thinking. I never other man who did. A ental picture came to her of fore the mirror, making a ed effort with the brushes his sandy hair to stay in Then as quickly as it had e banished it.

al operations should be d clean. Even if it was w you were cutting out of art you mustn't linger over hen the three bags were beside the trunk, in their sturdiness, strangely re- er of Tom, did she have feel the emptiness within if, in emptying the closet m of his things, she had ething from inside herself ed it too.

ape the curious numbness pped her, she turned swift- ent for her hat and coat. them from the closet be- front door she saw the which hung there where the maid, could not help both on arriving and leav- elma was a good worker, ful. "Thelma—Please de- igerator," said last Thurs- e, reminding her that this day, and Thelma would do ing for the weekend un- But Thelma might be re Anne returned, and — esitated. Then, do every- as always, she told her- you let go now, it'll just e and longer.

ged into her coat, forced put on her hat with care. took up the pencil that to the pad by a red string to think what she would atoes, lettuce, oranges, k, coffee, she thought. . I don't know. I don't t eat.

rs were curiously stiff e carefully, in neat capi- DED. She underscored drew a line after it, then egun to write down the wanted Thelma to buy heard the elevator begin g rise.

ic assailed her. It was it might be Tom. He d her here. To see him knowing even now what had gone wrong, would an she could face. Her aintained self-possession ould go in a flood of with it the last remnant , all that she had left, ripped from her. She pencil, leaving the note barely begun, ran out d down the fire stairs before the elevator could reach her floor.

It didn't stop, after all. But the fear of being caught there by Tom's arrival stayed with her until she was outside and hurrying across to Washington Square. Only when she reached the small park did she slow her pace.

She found a bench in the cool sunshine and sat down. Then, watching the placid pigeons, the screeching children on skates, the mothers pushing carriages and the old men playing checkers, she tried to keep her thoughts turned from what was happening. But it wasn't possible.

Why? The question persisted in asking itself. What went wrong? Why didn't it work out?

She'd known it wouldn't be easy. A sports writer, Tom often had to be away for several days, sometimes even for weeks. And the time when he was gone was just a series of empty days and nights in which she missed him so much the sense of his absence was almost a physical ache.

Swift panic assailed her as she heard the elevator begin its humming rise. He mustn't find her here. She left the message unfinished and hurriedly fled.

But she'd known how it would be, and knowing, had accepted the job of making their marriage work. She had never fretted or wept when Tom had to be away. She'd kissed him goodby lightly and welcomed him back in the same spirit. She hadn't clung to him when he left or fussed over him when he returned. Men hated that.

She had never let him guess the horrible loneliness that stayed with her when he was away on an assignment, lest it make him feel guilty for leaving her alone so much. And she'd kept her job, writing store copy, not because she liked or needed it but because it helped fill the days of waiting when he was away.

But she hadn't let the job come between her and the home she was trying to make for him. With the help of Thelma and much forethought, she had kept it running so smoothly the mechanics of housekeeping never had obtruded upon the time they did have together. And yet —

She still could not analyze it. Why Tom gradually had become dissatisfied and restless. Had taken to making excuses for staying away even when he was not on an assignment.

Then had come the blonde girl, Marion something, fresh out of college and trying to be a reporter. And Tom, spending more and more of his time with her until Anne, with her own need for him so strong had, in her disappointment and inability to guess what was wrong between them, provoked that scene which could not be made up.

So now he was taking away his things . . .

Anne looked at her wrist watch. In the turmoil of her thoughts, more than an hour had passed. She rose and thankfully started back toward the apartment. Tom certainly would have come and gone by now. Anyway it was over. She could start rebuilding her life somehow. At least, she was thinking as she put her key into the door, she had kept her emotions in control.

Then she opened the door. And all thought fled. He had not left. His trunk and bags were still there, and he was standing beside them.

"Anne," Tom said, as woodenly she closed the door behind her, holding to the knob for support. "Anne!"

He took a step toward her. His voice was rough with urgency. She tried to turn, tried to open the door to flee, but his hands caught her.

"Anne, we've been fools. Or at least I have. I need you. I know it. I never stopped knowing it. It was just that—you didn't seem to need me."

"Didn't need you, Tom?" In surprise she ceased her blind efforts to release herself, to look up at him in astonishment. "But I do. I've always needed you. The times when you were away—"

And then, without warning, the tears came. It was the first time she ever had let him see her cry. Men hated weepy women, but when the tears were over, something cold and dead inside her had been washed away.

She dried her eyes on Tom's handkerchief and held her lips up for his kiss. And she knew then, somehow, what he meant. She had made their marriage a thing light and gay—and it had been too light, too gay. With her casual goodbys and her bright welcomes she had hid her emotions too well. That men hate emotion had been her guiding principle.

But a good marriage has depths. A woman must feel needed; but so must a man, too. In avoiding one extreme she had gone to another.

Tom tried, in awkward sentences, to explain. Tried to tell her about the blonde Marion, whose need for his help and advice had almost made him think that he—But he didn't have to explain. She understood all he said, and more. Only when he finished was she bewildered.

"If you hadn't let me know, though," Tom said then, his square, nicely ugly features twisted in a grin that was tight with the knowledge of how close their escape had been, "if you hadn't put it where I couldn't miss it—"

But she was able to still the question on her lips before it was spoken. For she saw the direction of his look, and followed it to see the message for Thelma which she had begun, directing her to buy tomatoes and other items, but had not stayed to finish. And what the abruptly broken-off message said now, instead was: "NEEDED — TOM."

Thirty-Three Years

Grace Noll Crowell

HOW young He was, how short His time on earth!
A pulse-beat through the centuries, a breath
Between the starlit hour of His birth
And that strange darkened hour of His death.

Yet had those years not gone their swift sure way,
Had their significance been lost to men,
There would be darkness in the land today,
No faith would lift, no heart could hope again.

Thank God, thank God for those years' precious store!
Thank God for sparing Him to you, to me,
"Out of the glory that was theirs before
The world was . . . " and the glory yet to be.

The darkened years for Him, that brought us light;
The weary years for Him, that gave us rest;
The clamorous years, that we might know the white
High silences of peace within the breast.

For thirty-three brief years that His feet trod
The earthly roads for us, we thank Thee, God.

Tricks for Teens

By NANCY PEPPER

OLD STUFF

We know what you did with last year's coat—you cut it off into a shortie. We know what you did with last year's sack dress—you converted it into a new long length skirt with elastic around the top. But we don't know what you did with last year's jabberwocky. How's about cutting it up for this year's small talk? You can start on these:

KILROY WAS HERE — But he hasn't been around lately.

OPEN THE DOOR, RICHARD — You don't care whether he does or not.

THAT'S A JOKE, SON—It's not any more.

HUBBA, HUBBA,—If all the Hubbas used today were laid end to end, they wouldn't make even one whistle at the Corner Casbah.

Don't Neglect Lunch If You Want to Stay Full of Pep, Health

ARE YOU ALONE at home for lunch so that you don't bother to prepare something for yourself? Or does the family come home, and you simply rummage around the refrigerator and don't know what to serve?

These are frequent situations in many homes throughout the country. Lunches of this type—or none at all for the homemaker alone at home—don't help pep, vitality and health. If you get a lag in the afternoon and wonder what's wrong with you, check your luncheon habits.

Physicians and nutritionists are of the opinion that if you skip a meal, it places too much of a load on another meal. Let's say you've skipped lunch and eat a very full and ample dinner. Do you feel like doing anything but flopping into bed and wasting the evening? And have

You may be busy, but you can prepare cottage cheese with oranges, grapefruit and berries in season with a buttered muffin and a glass of iced tea for a lunch that's healthful and balanced.

you ever thought of what it does to your disgestive process to have it called upon suddenly to digest a big meal after having been lazy for many hours?

It's much better to try to distribute your calories evenly throughout three meals during the day. In between you won't feel an energy lag and you will keep your system in good working order.

Don't give the excuse that you think lunch unimportant and simply don't feel like bothering with it. Even if you're alone at noon, it doesn't take much effort to prepare a nice cottage cheese and fruit salad and a glass of milk with roll or toast. Or, if the youngsters are at home, it's simple enough to cream some leftover vegetables into a piecheese, serving it with fruit and cookies for dessert.

Planning will give you plenty of the right foods on hand from which to choose a nutritious and well-balanced lunch. And if you value your health and well-being, you'll certainly not count half an hour at noon much to give up to it.

* * *

HERE ARE SOME HOT DISHES from which to choose for lunch if there are several of you at home. They are made from "planned" leftovers and are quick and easy to prepare.

Corn Scramble
(Serves 6)

1 cup cubed leftover ham
2 tablespoons fat
2 beaten eggs
Salt and pepper
1 No. 2 can cream style corn
1/4 cup green pepper, cubed

Brown ham in fat and then mix with other ingredients. Mix thoroughly. Cook over low heat, stirring constantly until the eggs are set.

Creamed Meat in Potato Nests
(Serves 4 to 6)

Combine one 10½-ounce can of condensed cream of mushroom soup with ½ cup milk. Blend and heat. Add 1½ cups of diced, cooked turkey, chicken, roast veal or pork, ham, or fish and ½ cup of diced pimiento. Add some of this hot sauce to 1 egg yolk and stir into remaining sauce. Heat thoroughly and serve in nests of reheated, mashed potato.

Beef Rice Croquettes
(Makes 12)

Combine 1 cup seasoned white sauce with 1 cup ground leftover roast beef, 1 cup cooked rice and ½ tablespoon chopped onion. Form into croquettes. Dip into beaten egg and water, then in bread crumbs. Fry in shallow fat.

LYNN CHAMBERS' MENU
*Cheese-Vegetable Pie
Date Muffins with Butter
Wedge of Melon with Lime or Bowl of Fresh Peaches or Berries with Cream Cookies
Beverage
*Recipe Given

Cheese Vegetable Pie
(Serves 6)

Pastry for 1 crust
1 cup freshly grated American cheese
1 cup milk, scalded
2 eggs
1 1/2 teaspoons salt
1/8 teaspoon paprika
1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
2 1/2 cups mixed, cooked vegetables
2 fresh tomatoes

Blend ½ cup of cheese with dry ingredients when making the pastry. Roll out and place in pastry tin. Bake in a hot oven for 10 minutes. Meanwhile, add milk to beaten eggs; add seasonings and vegetables, except the tomatoes. Pour into pie shell. Cut tomatoes into eighths and arrange on top. Sprinkle with remaining ½ cup of cheese. Bake in a moderate (350 degree) oven for about 30 minutes or until a knife inserted in the center comes out clean.

Salmon Macaroni Salad
(Serves 6)

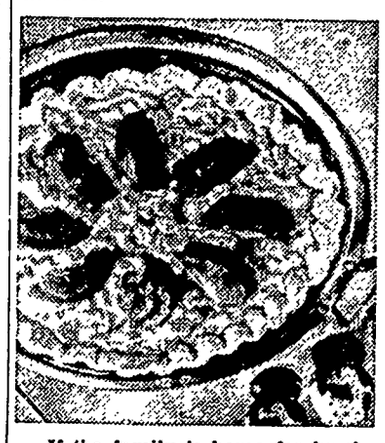
1 8-ounce can of salmon
2 cups canned peas, drained
1 cup shell macaroni, cooked
1/3 cup mayonnaise

Drain salmon, removing bones and skin. Combine with remaining ingredients and season to taste. Serve on crisp lettuce. Garnish with slices of hard-cooked eggs.

Asparagus-Ham Luncheon
(Serves 6 to 8)

20 stalks of canned or cooked asparagus
6 slices of cooked or cold ham
1 can of mushroom soup
1/2 cup cream
6 slices buttered toast

Mix mushroom soup with cream. Heat thoroughly. Place ham slices over toast, top with a few stalks of asparagus. Pour soup over all and run under the broiler for a few minutes.



If the family is home for lunch, it doesn't take long to prepare delicious and nutritious cheese, vegetable pie and serve it along with fresh fruit and berries for a vitamin-rich lunch.

Stuffed Onions
(Serves 6)

Cook 6 large Bermuda onions in boiling salted water for 30 minutes. Remove center and stuff with following: Combine 1 can of pork and beans with ½ teaspoon dry mustard, ½ teaspoon salt, 2 tablespoons chopped onion centers. Stuff onions. Sprinkle each with 1 teaspoon brown sugar and heat through.

Stuffed Baked Tomatoes
(Serves 6)

Scoop out center of six large tomatoes. Brown 1 tablespoon of chopped onion, 2 tablespoons chopped green pepper in 2 tablespoons of butter. Add 1½ cups corn cut off the cob, 2 beaten eggs and ½ cup bread crumbs and season to taste. Stuff tomatoes and sprinkle with grated American cheese. Bake in a moderate oven for 25 minutes. Chopped leftover ham or crumbled bacon or cubed sausage may be added to the corn if so desired.

Another good stuffing is canned macaroni or spaghetti. Stuff the tomato and bake until the tomato is done.

Released by WNU Features

LYNN SAYS:

How to Be Ready
For Summer Entertaining

When guests drop in unexpectedly during the warm weather keep cool by being ready for them by having special foods ready in your refrigerator.

No refrigerator should be without a platter of chilled fruits for warm weather. They're excellent as snacks, and they can be even more festive when served with quickly baked ice-box cookies.

Fillings for dainty sandwiches can be prepared ahead of time and the sandwiches made finger or triangle style at a minute's notice. These will keep well: Deviled ham and cream cheese; peanut butter moistened with honey and orange juice; cream cheese and chopped nuts; liver sausage wtih chili sauce; dried fruits, honey and nuts.

If you have room, store small cakes in the refrigerator to serve for guests. They'll keep better when chilled.

Amusing Designs to Embroider

5570

Old Fashioned Figures

These quaint old fashioned figures are fun to embroider on luncheon cloths, dinette curtains and kitchen towels. So easy to do, too. The designs measure 6½ inches tall, and make for "conversation pieces" wherever you use them.

* * *

To obtain hot-iron transfers for 4 designs, color chart and embroidery stitch detail for Conversation Piece Designs (Pattern No. 5570)

Send 20 cents in coin, YOUR NAME, ADDRESS and PATTERN NUMBER.

SEWING CIRCLE NEEDLEWORK
530 South Wells St. Chicago 7, Ill.
Enclose 20 cents for Pattern.
No._____
Name_____
Address_____

Olive Trees and Taxes

Many years ago, when the Balkan province of Macedonia was a center of contention among Turks, Bulgars and Greeks, the Turks, in possession at the time, set out to make the province unattractive to rival nationalities. They adopted the device of putting up taxes on olive orchards to the point that forced the unfortunate owners of olive orchards to cut them down. As olive growing was an important industry, the trick worked.

Kool-Aid
6 FLAVORS!
MAKES 10 BIG Delicious Drinks!
5¢
KOOL-AID
AT GROCERS

Yodora checks perspiration odor
THE SOOTHINGEST WAY
Made with a face cream base. Yodora is actually soothing to normal skins.
No harsh chemicals or irritating salts. Won't harm skin or clothing.
Stays soft and creamy, never gets grainy.
Try gentle Yodora—feel the wonderful difference!
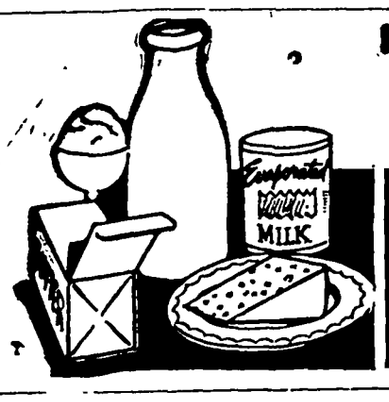
Guaranteed by Good Housekeeping
yodora
The GENTLER cream deodorant
McKesson & Robbins, Inc., Bridgeport, Conn.

They Taste good-good!
Their fresh golden corn flavor makes Kellogg's Corn Flakes the favorite. Good—m-m-m!
Kellogg's CORN FLAKES
MOTHER KNOWS BEST!

Buy Safe and Sound U. S. Savings Bonds

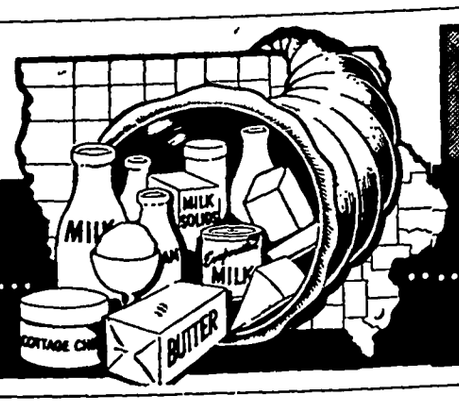
IS IT HARD FOR YOU TO CUT DOWN SMOKING?
Then change to SANO, the safer cigarette with
51.6%* LESS NICOTINE
Not a Substitute—Not Medicated
Sano's scientific process cuts nicotine content to half that of ordinary cigarettes. Yet skillful blending makes every puff a pleasure.
FLEMING-HALL TOBACCO CO., INC., N. Y.
*Average based on continuing tests of popular brands
ASK YOUR DOCTOR ABOUT SANO CIGARETTES
MILDEST OF THE MILD
SANO
CIGARETTES
ALL THAT JOYOUS AROMA BUT LESS NICOTINE

LOOK AT THE MEN GO FOR THOSE HOT ROLLS . . . HOW DO YOU GET THEM SO LIGHT?
WHOLE WHEAT ROLLS
2 pkgs. Red Star Dry Yeast
½ cup warm water (100°-110° F.)
2¼ cups milk
2½ teaspoons salt
3 tablespoons brown sugar
6 cups whole wheat flour
⅓ cup shortening
3 cups sifted all-purpose flour
Add 2 pkgs. Red Star Dry Yeast to warm water. Let stand. Scald milk. Add salt and brown sugar. Cool to lukewarm. Stir yeast solution and add to milk mixture. Add half the whole wheat flour and mix well. Stir in shortening. Add all purpose flour and remainder of whole wheat flour. Mix thoroughly. Turn out on lightly floured board and knead for 5 minutes. Shape into smooth ball and place in greased bowl. Brush top lightly with shortening. Cover and let rise until light, about 45 minutes. Shape part of dough into round buns and place in greased baking pan. Shape remainder into loaf of bread. Cover and let rise in warm place until light, about 45 minutes. Bake rolls in moderately hot oven (375° F.) for 18 to 20 minutes. Bread should be baked for 1 hour. Makes 2 dozen rolls, 1 loaf bread.
I USE RED STAR DRY YEAST... ITS EXTRA STRENGTH MEANS LIGHTNESS
ME FOR RED STAR WHEN THAT HUNGRY CREW ARRIVES... AND ALL YEAR, TOO
Red Star QUICK RISING Dry Yeast
RED STAR DRY YEAST



THIS IS JUNE DAIRY MONTH

Saluting the Nutritional Value of Dairy Foods...



.....Builders of Health and Wealth for ALL Iowa

KEEP THE FARM SANITARY
2-HOUR SERVICE ON REMOVAL OF

Dead Stock

Phone

KLEMME ---------- 580
BELMOND ---------- 580

We Pay The Call

A Clean Truck With An Efficient Driver In Your Neighborhood Daily.

Belmond By-Products

"Your Home Plant"

Phone 580 Belmond, Iowa.

ONCE A Rare TREAT . . .

IT'S A Daily TREAT NOW!

Remember when ice cream was a rare treat? It's a daily treat now—for many good reasons!

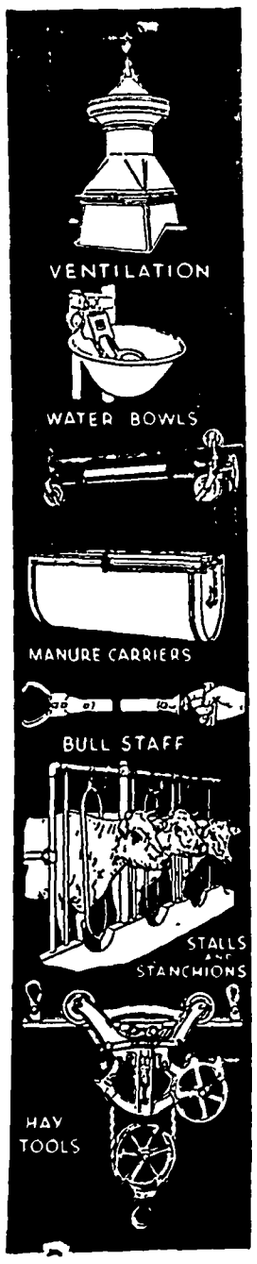
First reason of all is ice cream's goodness — rich, smooth, delicious! And so many fine flavors to choose from!

But just as it's good to eat, ice cream is good for you. It's an ideal way of getting the nourishment of milk. Besides, on warm days, it's cooling and refreshing.

So, during Dairy Month and every month, eat Ice Cream regularly. It's a daily treat, that's good for you, too!

JUNE IS DAIRY MONTH 1ST in FOODS

JORGENSON'S CORNER STORE
QUANDT'S CAFE
ROTHS CAFE
Klemme Iowa



DAIRY BARN EQUIPMENT Headquarters

This is Dairy Month with us, too—for we've got a big stake in the dairy industry we are so proud to serve.

Production of dairy farming equipment is at an all-time high — and generous quantities of machines and fixtures are now available, making it possible to say again "We have complete stocks of equipment for producing milk, butter, and other dairy foods."

Why not come in and see for yourself how much time and money you can save through up-to-date dairy equipment. You'll be pleasantly surprised!

Northern Lumber Co.

Klemme Iowa

REMINDS DAIRYMEN HOW OTHERS SPEND TO PROMOTE SALES

As Iowa dairy farmers swing into "Junetime action" to finance the state and nationwide advertising of their dairy foods in the year ahead, Frank Barker, state manager of the Iowa Dairy Industry Commission and affiliated with the American Dairy Association, today directed attention to the product promotion of other organizations and industries.

Investing $3,000,000 this year to advertise Sunkist oranges is the grower-financed promotion program of the California Fruit Growers Exchange as this organization marks the fortieth anniversary of its national advertising. During this entire period, the growers have invested more than $43,000,000 to boost orange and lemon sales.

Returns to growers have increased from 26 cents out of the retail dollar to 48 cents. The producers pay for their own advertising by a set-aside of 7 cents out of oranges and 14 cents on every case of lemons packed.

Consumption of oranges has multiplied sixfold. Forty years ago the national average was 20 oranges per person. Today, with a greatly increased population it is 120 oranges. The exchange through advertising is pointing to a goal of 200 organges per capita per year.

"An aggressive selling campaign, year after year," says Barker, "has built Sunkist oranges, grapefruit and lemons into a business that exceeds 100 million dollars a year. Advertising and merchandising have changed oranges and grapefruit from luxury items to necessary foods on the family table."

ADA Story Similar

The story of the American Dairy Association advertising program for dairy foods, while historically not so old as the story of Sunkist, parallels it in growth and action, he relates. Both started with a comparatively small budget, grew steadily, and played a major role in greater consumption. Both are producer-financed.

Beginning with 6 states in 1940, the American Dairy Association in the span of eight years, now has 40 states enlited for advertising action.

The ADA program is financed by an authorized advertising set-aside during the month of June. The rate is one cent a pound of butterfat sold. June 1 to 15, inclusive, under the Iowa Butterfat Tax Law. June 16 to 30, inclusive, under a voluntary deduction of one cent per pound of butterfat.

Competition Is Sharp

"Producers recognize that the competition in the food field is growing keener. Other industries are spending huge sums on advertising to assure profitable markets for their products. The dairy industry needs to bend every effort to maintain its leadership in the sales parade. With an ever increasing population we are selling to the largest number in history."

The following are cited as typical annual advertising budgets of competing products: P & G soaps $20,000,000; General Motors $15,000,000; Coca Cola $15,000,000; Lucky Strike cigarettes, $12,,000,000; Oleomargarine $3,500,000 and Meat Institute $2,900,000.

Referring again to the orange growers Mr. Barker said, "While Sunkist producers were the first to push perishable farm produce, their example has been followed by a long list, notably Texsun grapefruit. Washington apples, Idaho potatoes, Tillamook cheese, the National Meat Board, the American Dairy Association and the California Cling Peach Advisory Board and others.

Multiple Action

In merchandising, dairy foods have a tremendous advantage because they complement so many other foods, it was stated. Related food advertisers by featuring dairy foods in their ads multiply the effectiveness of the dairy farmer's advertising dollar in the ratio of 12 to 1, according to conservative estimates.

Pointing to the cottage cheese-Cling peach promotion, as an example, Barker says: "In April and May, cooperative efforts of the ADA with the Canned Cling Peach Advisory Board placed colorful ads in national magazines and newspapers reaching 34 million homes distributed 200,000 color "salad" posters in stores and restaurants and delivered 2 million recipe leaflets house to house through local dairies."

BRING YOUR CAR TO US FOR

Greasing

AND A COMPLETE SPRING CHANGEOVER

*

In Motor Oil, Transmission, Differentail, Wheels and Chassis.

*

We have the equipment and proper lubricants to give you the best service.

*

See us for your needs in Batteries, Spark Plugs, and accessories of all kinds.

*

Smith's

STANDARD SERVICE
Klemme Iowa

Phillips-Hicks Wedding At Garner Sunday Eve.

On Sunday, June 20th at the United Presbyterian Church at Garner Miss Jean Huntington Phillips, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Earl Huntington Phillips, became the bride of Mason A. Hicks, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Hicks of Rochester, Minnesota The Rev. J. Dallas Gibson officiated at the double ring, candle light service at 7 P. M.

One half hour of organ music by Mrs. Vernon Moss preceded the ceremony. Mrs. Moss also accompanied the vocalist, Mr. Joseph Johnson, voice instructor at the MacPhail school of music at Minneapolis and friend of the bride. He sang, "Trust In The Lord" by Handel, "Adore, Be Still' by Grounod immediately before the processional, "The Lord's Prayer" by Nalotte and the hymn "O Perfect Love" were sung during the service. The Processional was by Lohengrin and the Recessional from Mendelssohn.

The chancel was decorated with palms and tall baskets of snapdragons, daisies and babies breath. The pews along the white carpeted aisle were decorated with net bows and mock orange blossoms.

The bride, who was given away by her father, wore a gown of white chantilly lace over satin with sweetheart neck line, long fitted sleeves and bodice. Her veil, of silk illusion edged with lace fell from a headband of stephanotis.

She carried a bouquet of white roses, stephanotis, a maiden hair fern and wore a gold cross her mother had worn on her wedding day.

Miss Patricia Phillips, only sister of the bride, was maid of honor and wore a period dress of yellow faille over a hoop skirt and matching gloves, the skirt was kilted and showed an insert of yellow lace ruffles. She carried a colonial bouquet of yellow roses, perusion lillies and matching head band.

Nancy Brandwell, cousin of the bride, was flower girl and wore a green satin dress, with hoop, a copy of the dress worn by the maid of honor. She wore a head band of white sweet peas and carried a basket of white rose petals.

The best man was Mr. Roy C. Schroeder of Rochester, and the ushers were Leonard B. Phillips of New Haven, Conn., brother of the bride and Edward D. Buntenbach of Klemme, Iowa, friend of he family.

All of the men in the bridal party wore dark tuxedoes and white boutonnieres.

Mrs. Phillips, the bride's mother, wore a dinner gown of aqua crepe with gloves to match and a white hat trimmed with illusion veiling. Her corsage was talisman roses.

Mrs. Hicks, mother of the groom, wore a black crepe dinner gown with gloves to match and a corsage of red roses.

The reception was held in the home of the parents of the bride which was decorated with smilax and white wedding bells. The table was decorated with tall white tapers and white flowers. A bride's cake decorated in yellow and white was served. Decorated boxes of English wedding cake were presented to guests.

The brides four aunts, Mrs. Bradwell, Mrs. Nordland, Mrs. Kinney, Mrs. Jones assisted by Mrs. J. Dallas Gibson, Mrs. Art Wille, Mrs. Clarke Pollock served refreshments to 200 guests.

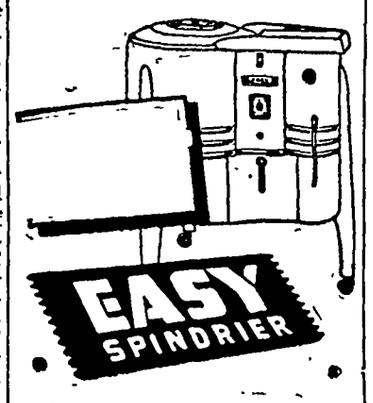
The couple left Sunday night for a trip to the northwestern states and down the coast through California. For the trip the bride wore a green faille ballerina suit and gold sandals and yellow roses.

The Bride a graduate of the Garner High School, graduated from the University of Minnesota with a B. S., majoring in education and public health and has a certificate in Public Health Nursing. She has been in charge of the student health Service of Minnesota State Teachers College at St. Cloud, Minnesota.

The groom is a graduate of Rochester High School and the Northwestern University with a B. S. and M. S. degrees. He has taken graduate work at University of Wisconsin where he will continue work on his doctorate during the next year. During the war, he was in Counter Intelligence Service and spent 3 years in Europe. During the past couple of years he has been head of the speech department at Minnesota State teachers College at St. Cloud.

The couple will make their home in Madison, Wisconsin.

The Easy Spindrier is America's top washer value! Does a week's wash in less than one hour! One tub washes while the other spins damp-dry. Uses less soap and hot water. Saves cleaning bills! See it in action today!



JOSTEN APPLIANCE
Klemme, Iowa

FELL FROM RAFT

At Decorah, 7 year old Charles Miller fell from a raft in a sand-pit pond, and was drowned. Playmates ran for help and the body was recovered by diving, but too late.

DR. F. L. HAYE
DENTIST
Office Over Rexall St
Phone 21 Garner, I

DANCE

DUNCAN COMMUNITY HALL

Malek's Accordion Band

Monday Night, June 28

EVERYONE WELCOME!

Advert

From where I sit ... by Joe Mar

They let the Wives in!

The ex-GI's of our town entertained their wives the other night at one of their "feeds" of hamburger sandwiches and ice cold beer. (The girls had hinted that they'd like to see what went on when their husbands got together!)

Being wary, the boys provided chicken sandwiches and cake and cider—for those wives who might have other tastes. But though they were grateful for the choice, most of the wives agreed that hamburger sandwiches and beer were a mighty pleasant combination.

After the "feed" the hu took their wives on at a ga darts, and later they playe dications." The party bro around ten, with the boys ag that it was mighty successfu

From where I sit, it's thi panionship among young c today, and their moderatio sensible beverage like beer, won the younger generation a wholesome reputation.

Joe Mar

Copyright, 1948, United States Brewers Fou

NATURE'S BEST IN FOO

MILK

Wise mothers encourage children to and to have more milk and milk foods! one of Nature's best ways of providing and tooth-building minerals, to work with min D . . the sunshine Vitamin . . in bui stong, sturdy bodies!

But even wiser is the mother who sees all her family gets plenty of milk ... grow as well as children. Doctors say . . "at le quart a day for each child, and at least a a day for every adult."

And best of all- there's nothing mor freshing, more delicious, more satisfying, a glass of cool, flavorrich, delicious Milk it-right now!

DRINK CHOCOLATE MILK!
We are now delivering de-licious Chocolate Milk children will love it. 15c per quart, 5c per half
TRY CHOCOLATE MILK TODAY!

Klemme Co-Operative Creamery Company

SPECIALS!

SATURDAY, JUNE 26

Thada's Store has installed the newst, most dern meat display case available in their t deparment. We are equipped to give y the finest in fresh or cold meats at their k in flavor.

Special—You May Get Your

Meat Purchase FREE! Saturday

A hidden alarm will sound in our meat department on an average of once every 30 minutes all day Saturday and Saturday night. If your meat purchase is on the scale when the alarm sounds, you get it

FREE OF CHARGE

SATUDAY SPECIALS!

- gna, home made-pure meat -- per lb. 49c
- shey's Chocolate Syrup ---- large can 16c
- by Catsup (the finest made) -- 14 oz. 19c
- Nut Loaf ---------- large can 25c
- by Baby Food ---------- per doz. 45c
- ys Gloss Starch ---------- 3 lb. box 25c
- cots (in syrup) ---------- 2½ can 29c
- Beans & Bacon -------- 2 cans for 17c
- the new wonder soap - 2 large boxes 38c

HAVE ALL THE BANANAS YOU WANT

Thada's

ood Store In A Good Town Klemme, Ia.

The Methodist Church
Herschel E. Harvey, Pastor

KLEMME
THURSDAY
Choir at 7:00 P. M.
SUNDAY
Worship at 10.00 A. M.
Sunday School at 11:00 A. M.
Youth Fellowship at 7 p. m.
MONDAY
Official Board at 8:00 P. M. at church.

LIBERTY
SUNDAY
Sunday School at 10.15 A. M.
Worship Services at 11:15 A. M.
Official Board at 12 noon.

Buy and sell with a Times want ad.

For Home Canning . . .

SEE US FOR YOUR CANNING NEEDS

We have:

- Pressure Cookers
- Can Sealers
- Tin Cans, Lids
- Food Mills
- Kettles, All kinds
- Sauce Pans
- Ladles
- Collendars
- Fruit Jar Tongs
- Fruit Jar Fillers
- Stirring Spoons
- Paring Knives

and everything you need for canning

KLEMME HDW. CO.
Klemme Iowa

Farm Bureau Calendar Of Coming Events

June 24:
Girls 4-H Leaders from Madison and Concord townships meet at the Farm Bureau office at 8:00 p. m.

June 25.
Crystal 4-H boys tour start at Jack Krull's, 9:00 a. m.

June 25:
District Guernsey picnic at Mason City.

June 26:
State Holstein picnic at Elkader.

June 28:
Women's County Comittee will meet C. D. of A. Hall, Garner at 1:30 p. m.

June 29:
Avery Sunbeams all day meeting at Lillian Wille's. Concord Nimble Fingers workshop meeting at Janet and Judy Wetterling's all day.

June 29:
Erin 4-H meeting at 8:00 p. m.

July 1:
Girls County 4-H committee meet at Farm Bureau office, Garner.

FORTUNE

At Whittemore, Bob Higgins purchased the former home of Mrs. Millie Kortum, which had stood vacant and undisturbed for more than a year. Workman found over $500 in coin and small bills, tucked away in envelopes in some card board boxes.

B. C. BERGE
ATTORNEY-AT-LAW
Office Over Federated Store
Phone 20 Garner, Iowa

DR. E. H. PHILLIPS
Osteopathis Physician
Xray - Short Wave Diathermy and Ultra Violet Equipment
Phone 149 Garner, Iowa

Want Ads

For Sale

FOR SALE—TRACTOR TIRES. Have a large stock of rears on hand. Garner Auto Co., Garner, Iowa. (M-8tfc)

FOR SALE — GLOW MAID Dutch Oven Range, white, black trim, polished top, excellent condition. $50. Mrs. Hauko Barkema. (1tp)

FOR SALE—½" SPEEDWAY Electric Drill, new $34.95 at Josten Appliance. (1tc)

FOR SALE—DRILL PRESS FOR Electric Drill. $12.95. Josten Appliance. (1tc)

YES WE HAVE IT, NUTRENA Crumblized Chick Feed. For faster gains and less waste. We deliver ½ ton lots or more. GREEN ELEVATOR CO., Goodell, Iowa. (Apr 14 tfc)

SPINET PIANO—PREFER TO sell locally for quick disposal. Write WALTHAM Piano Company, Wholesale Dept. 1802 E. Oklahoma Avenue Apt. 8, Milwaukee, Wis., for when this piano may be seen in Klemme. (2tc)

FOR SALE—CASE 5 FT. POWer Take Off Combine, new; Massy-Harris Clipper with motor, 6-ft. cut; John Deere 12-a power take off like new; Horse-drawn Oliver Spreader on rubber, new; 2 John Deere Power Mowers No. 5; 2-M International Corn Picker, new. This machinery is ALL NEW except the John Deere Combine, and hard to get. TRUELS "Steve" STEFFEN, Phone 4113, Waterloo, Iowa.

Miscellaneous

INSURE WITH HENRY WARD, Klemme for Auto, Personal Property, Farm Liability, Life, Health and Accident. (Oct. 1948 tp)

Wanted To Buy

WANTED TO BUY FOR CASH —your used car. Any make, any model. Garner Auto Company, Garner, Iowa. M-8tfc)

Services Offered

FEED GRINDING OF ALL kinds done on your farm. Phone Klemme 76 or Goodell 58561. Carroll Etchen. (j-28-tc)

FOR CUSTOM BALING — NO job too small, none too large. See Eugene Schaefer at John Etchens. (July 2 p)

FOR HAY BALING—SEE FREDerick Bell. Phone 149, Klemme. (July 2 p)

Notice

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN
WARNING—ANYONE CAUGHT hunting upon my land with a gun or dog will be prosecuted as my family and livestock are endangered. One of my steers died which appeared to have been shot with a rifle.
Clarence Neuberger. (1tp)

SATISFIED

Paul Franken, Norton Corners youngster, wondered what would happen if he put a dynamite cap in a can full of dirt and lit it with a match. He found out. Fortnunately, his injuries were not serious, minor burns and cuts.

FELCO

The Feed That's All Feed!

For Healthy, Vigorous Growth use a feed made for your special needs. A fresh feed—no chance for loss due to long storage. A farmer's feed for the farmer's needs. Ask the one who is feeding FELCO.

- FELCO 20% MASH
- FELCO 17% STARTER
- FELCO 40% HOG BALANCER
- FELCO 19% PIG AND SOW MEAL
- FELCO SIMPLE MINERAL
- BUTTERMILK (Barrels and Kegs)

Come in and let us show you how your own feeds can make and save money for you.

Klemme Co-Operative Grain Company

Glen Bridges, Manager Klemme, Iowa

PUBLIC SALE!

Legion Parking Lot Klemme

Saturday, June 26

Beginning At 1:30 P. M.

The following will be sold at Public Auction:

F-20 Tractor, new tires
HM 229 Hyd. Lift Cultivator
McDeering 102 Corn Planter
8 ft. McCormick-Deering Binder
7 ft. John Deere Power Mower
Spotted Saddle Horse, 4 years old
Bay Welch Pony	Chest of Drawers
Bay Work Team	Dining Room Chairs
1941 V8 Coupe	Drop-leaf Tables
Breakfast Set	Kitchen Stools
Occasional Tables	Metal Cabinets

This Is New Furniture

Terms—Cash

Tom Roths, Manager
Frank Davis, Auctioneer

Supplying electricity is an exacting business. It takes many highly skilled, well trained employees to bring you efficient, continuous service.

"There is a Lot of Skill Behind Your Electric Service"

Dependable, low cost electric service means better living in your home . . . and greater production payrolls for business and industry.

In the past 10 years, the average annual use of electricity in the home has almost doubled.

Greater use and low price have made it possible for you to enjoy more of the benefits of your most willing, labor-saving servant . . . electricity.

The electric company employee who is your neighbor, is one of hundreds of skilled men and women who help Reddy Kilowatt bring this service to your home. Their loyalty and cooperation is largely responsible for the fact that we can serve you more efficiently, with quality, low cost service.

CENTRAL STATES ELECTRIC COMPANY

"The Low Rate Company"

For Quick Truck Delivery On
Diamond
D-X
Products of all kinds
Phone 85
ERNEST HENSCHEN
Klemme, Iowa

FEDERAL
Land Bank
LOANS
Long Term Low Interest
No Fees No Commission
Wm. F. Johannaber
Secretary-Treasurer
Forest City, Iowa
Phone 50

AMERICAN RED CROSS

Water Safety Program

REGISTRATION FOR CHILDREN IN THE EAST HALF OF HANCOCK COUNTY

A Registration for the American Red Cross Water Safety Program will be held at the Central States Electric Co. office in Garner on

SATURDAY, JUNE 26, 1948
From 9:00 A. M. To 12:00 Noon for CHILDREN OF ALL AGES in the East Half of Hancock County who are interested in Water Safety which will include:

- Ordinary Splashing
- Beginner Swimming
- Advanced Beginners
- Intermediate Swimmers
- Advanced Swimmers

Training will be given at Clear Lake, Iowa.
Each person or locality will be responsible for their own transportation to and from Clear Lake.

INSTRUCTION IS FREE!
Instruction will be given by trained personel of the Clear Lake Red Cross.

Garner Chapter
American Red Cross
Bill Templeton, Chairman

WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS

Farm Groups OK Brannan Choice; Truce Request Fails in Palestine; GM Wage Pact Could Set Pattern

By Bill Schoentgen, WNU Staff Writer

(EDITOR'S NOTE: When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of Western Newspaper Union's news analysts and not necessarily of this newspaper.)

APPROVED: Brannan

President Truman's choice of Charles F. Brannan to succeed Clinton Anderson as secretary of agriculture has received the wholehearted approval of the national farm organizations.

They consider the 44-year-old former assistant secretary of agriculture "a friend of the farmer."

One of the bases for this feeling of harmony is the fact that Brannan and the farm organizations concur in thinking that the prewar parity law is badly outdated.

Such crops as soybeans, for instance, have attained a much greater importance since the law was passed but still have no satisfactory price fixing basis. Other farmers, including cattle and dairy producers, claim their parity scales are out of line in this postwar period.

Ideas developed by Brannan to help remedy this situation have been largely adopted by the leading farm groups and are incorporated in bills now pending before congress. Unless congress acts by the end of this year the law guaranteeing farm prices at 90 per cent of the fixed parity rate will expire.

Serving quietly as assistant secretary of agriculture for the past four years, Brannan has made himself the backbone of the administration's drive to enact a long-range farm program.

Thus, the farmers think a lot of Brannan because he has demonstrated that he is looking out for their interests in a realistic, level-headed fashion.

President Truman, it appeared, had made a good choice in putting Brannan at the head of the department. Almost everybody was satisfied, and that, in an election year, was a most desirable situation for Mr. Truman.

FAILURE: No Peace

It was difficult to say who would suffer more from the Arabs' rejection of U. N. truce plea for Palestine — the Arabs themselves, the Jews or the United Nations.

Probably the Jews came off to better advantage in the world councils of public opinion, inasmuch as through their willingness to accept a truce they now can appear in the role of a nation which has been wronged and is forced to fight a war that has been thrust willy nilly upon it.

The Arabs simply brushed aside the idea of a truce with the contention that they could not halt the shooting war until the state of Israel is abandoned and the Jewish army demobilized. There never was any question in the minds of Arab leaders about the truce. It was literally unacceptable to them. Their position was stated definitively by the Egyptian premier, Mahmoud Fahmy Nokrashy Pasha, who said:

"There never will be founded a state called Israel, or any other name, as long as the creation of that state relies upon the theft of Arab land, the extermination of its Arab owners and the sacrifice of moral principles of its Arab neighbors."

Nevertheless, the Arab refusal was a bitter blow to the U. N. security council. It had been organized for the express purpose of resolving just such disputes as this one in Palestine, yet it could do nothing more than make a weak gesture of placation.

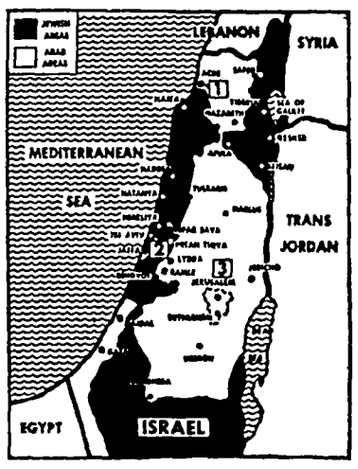
There was little doubt that the security council had been rendered toothless and impotent on the Palestine issue by the U. S. attitude, or rather lack of attitude.

What position the United States would take as an individual nation with regard to the Palestine war was not clear either.

At a conference with Chaim Weizmann, Israel's president, President Truman promised that the U. S. would provide financial support for Israel in the form of a loan of about 100 million dollars. Further, he hinted at the possibility that unless the Arab states cease fire the U. S. might provide arms for the Jews.

Day after the conference, however, Mr. Truman dismissed Weizmann's plea for a loan as something that could be handled by the export-import bank, and he completely ducked the issue of raising the embargo on arms shipments to the Middle East.

No Quarter



Fires of war between Arab and Jew continued to burn in the Holy Land when the Arab states refused to comply with a U. N. request for a truce. Attacking Jewish forces at all points, the Arabs said they would not quit until the Jews renounced their new state of Israel. Meanwhile, as victorious Haganah troops took over Acre (1), Egyptian planes intensified the air attack on Tel Aviv (2) and Arab troops enjoyed their greatest victories in Jerusalem (3).

PAY HIKE: New Formula

When General Motors corporation averted a threatened strike of 225,000 auto production workers by offering an 11-cent raise based on a cost-of-living formula it probably set a precedent which will be followed in settling other industrial labor disputes.

Under the agreement, described as an "entirely new approach to the living cost problem," GM production workers get an 8-cent cost-of-living increase and a 3-cent pay boost based on annual industrial efficiency improvement.

Terms provide that wages be adjusted up or down each three months to conform with fluctuations in the consumer price index of the bureau of labor statistics.

It appeared to be a sound plan and one that might be followed to good advantage by other industries. Biggest flaw in the scheme was the fact that General Motors might have to pass the cost-of-living raise on to the public, which step might have the eventual effect of nullifying the benefits of the raise to the workers.

Significance of this adjustable cost-of-living wage formula can be seen in a review of the rise in prices since 1940. The cost of living today is 69 per cent higher than in 1940. Using 1940 as a base year —which is what GM and the United Auto Workers did in arriving at their agreement—living costs now are at 169 per cent.

VOICE: Belittling

Voice of America broadcasts, which have never received a full measure of congressional approval, sank to an even lower level of disesteem because of a series of ill-starred programs beamed to Latin America last winter.

The scripts in question, denounced by senators as sabotage, slander and libel of the U. S., first attracted attention in March during house appropriation committee hearings on the Voice of America. In the sample script that the committee wanted to look over were some ill-chosen remarks about Wyoming.

Stout-hearted Wyoming congressmen shrieked in anguish. Other scripts were examined, and Sen. Homer Capehart (Rep., Ind.) finally aired the whole thing before the senate.

The legislators shuddered as they heard Capehart read from the scripts such excerpts as:

"New England was founded by hypocrisy and Texas by sin."

"Nevada's two main cities compete with each other because people get married in Las Vegas and divorced in Reno."

The programs were handled by the National Broadcasting company under contract with the state department. Rene Borgia, the man who wrote the scripts, was fired, and Alberto Gandero, Borgia's supervisor, resigned.

?Current Events?

Although they might seem a bit obscure to anyone who doesn't make a conscious effort to memorize the front page of a newspaper every day, these questions do have answers. As a matter of fact, the questions are so difficult that even the answers have answers.

1. Capitals of the seven Arab league states fighting Israel are: Mecca and Riyadh (dual capitals of one state), Baghdad, Damascus, Amman, Beirut, Cairo and Sana. What states do they belong to?

2. Sir Alexander Fleming has been awarded the American Medal for Merit for his contribution to medical science. What contribution?

3. Republicans meet in Philadelphia this month to nominate their candidate for president. Where did the GOP nominate its last successful candidate?

4. When President Truman nominated Charles F. Brannan as secretary of agriculture it brought the total of Truman cabinet appointments to 10, 16 or 21?

5. Everyone knows that the Taft of the Taft-Hartley act is Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio. Identify the Hartley.

ANSWERS

1. Mecca and Riyadh, Saudi Arabia; Baghdad, Iraq; Damascus, Syria; Amman, Trans-Jordan; Beirut, Lebanon; Cairo, Egypt; Sana, Yemen.
2. He discovered the germ-killing properties of penicillium mold—which led to development of penicillin.
3. Last sucessful GOP candidate was Herbert Hoover, nominated in June, 1928, at Kansas City, Mo.
4. Mr. Truman has appointed 16 to the cabinet.
5. Rep. Fred A. Hartley, Jr. (Rep., N.J.)

Oratorical Flight

If Secretary of the Navy John Sullivan had possessed wings he probably would have flapped them in his enthusiasm when he went before the house armed services committee to urge congress to let the navy speed development of a 65,000-ton super aircraft carrier, costing 124 million dollars.

CORNBALL: For Breakfast

Some of the more sentimental hands around the American Broadcasting company's Chicago studios like to think of Don McNeill as a beautiful and vibrant symbol of the rise and snowballing success of ABC itself. At least they both were young together and both had to fight their way up through a welter of opposable circumstances to find adjoining places in the sun.

McNeill

As toastmaster of the uninhibited Breakfast Club program, McNeill will celebrate his 15th anniversary on June 23 with the same kind of capers he has been executing five days a week between 8 and 9 a. m. since 1933.

Despite the subterranean regard which this sophisticated generation purports to hold for the more direct and obvious types of humor, McNeill has found that being a cornball pays off. He works without a script and his gags are strictly off-the-cuff.

He once invited a herpetologist (a student of reptiles and amphibians) who visited the program, to "Come into the parking lot after the broadcast and I'll show you a rare specimen. A windshield viper."

And when a New Jersey woman told him that her husband is a butcher and she is a corsetiere, he commented, "What an ideal arrangement. He fattens them up and you pull them in."

McNeill parlays this kind of extemporaneous patter with a feeling of genuine camaraderie for the plain people who are guests on his show to produce a program that has had a nationwide cult of early morning listeners begging for more for 15 consecutive years.

Unhealthy Families

Families with two children are "socially unhealthy," however fashionable they may be, the National Congress of Parents and Teachers in Cleveland was told by a University of Chicago professor of education, Robert J. Havighurst.

"A significant section of our population now have too few children to reproduce themselves," he told the delegates to the annual convention.

Washington Digest

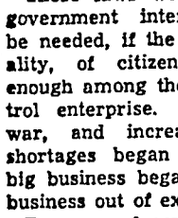
Throttling of Small Business Can Kill Democratic System

By BAUKHAGE
News Analyst and Commentator

WASHINGTON.—Over in England, where the majority voted to accept socialism because they felt the 400-year-old "capitalistic experiment" had been a failure, they are finding that you can't vote yourself into a prosperity any more than you can vote yourself into morality.

There are still a lot of Britons who think they have been voted out of the frying pan into the fire. Prime Minister Clement Attlee, in a recent report to the Labor party, admitted that conversion into socialist democracy was a long hard task, longer than they had imagined.

"We are engaged in a great venture," Attlee said, "We are trying to build up a great, free, socialist democracy." He warned that a society changed by undemocratic methods is apt to lose the "habits of democracy." I suppose he meant by that that socialism had to come by evolution, which is an ancient axiom of the more conservative socialists. Communists say it can come only by revolution.



Attlee also said that socialism was a way of life—not an economic theory. That will be questiond by some people. He added that socialism demanded a higher standard of citizenship than does capitalism. Some people will quarrel with that too. Many will say that it isn't that capitalism doesn't demand a higher standard of citizenship, but simply that capitalism (or any other known system, for that matter) doesn't always get it.

Capitalism fails, when it does fail, not because there is anything wrong with free enterprise or competition, but because sometimes the standard of morality or standard of citizenship if you will, running the system, bogs down. Then free enterprise is shackled and competition destroyed. The anti-trust laws were passed to punish people who tried to check free enterprise by killing competition.

Those laws wouldn't be needed, government intervention wouldn't be needed, if the standard of morality, of citizenship, were high enough among the people who control enterprise. Long before the war, and increasingly so when shortages began to appear later, big business began crowding small business out of existence.

Because of war conditions and the powerful influence of big business, the small buyer couldn't compete. He wasn't able to get the raw materials.

Small business is the keystone of capitalism. According to the Committee on Economic Development, 98 per cent of the business units in this country employ 50 people or less. Those "business units" of course aren't limited to manufacturing firms—they include the roadside hotdog stand, the one-woman hand laundry, the tea room, and the country store as well as the business men producing manufactured items on a small scale.

If this 98 per cent of a capitalistic country's business isn't prosperous, capitalism can't succeed. In fact you can't have capitalism when big industrial groups monopolize business any more than you can have it when the state monopolizes business.

What is happening to small business today? It can't compete. Big business is making big profits, paying big wages (regardless of whether the take-home pay of the workers is equal to cover high prices or not). Small business can't afford to pay the big wages, and the small town merchant is not making sales and profits because the consumers in his company haven't the money to spend.

A recent issue of the Kiplinger magazine made a survey of conditions in small towns as reported in a thousand letters from small businessmen, teachers, preachers, doctors, lawyers, housewives, workingmen and working women in those towns.

The net of the survey was that there was a definite letdown in business after January of this year, and that the people surveyed believed that there is a further letdown in prospect. There is evidence of reduced consuming power which is the first sign of a depression. A sign that the wealth of the nation is getting out of the buyers' hands.

Now that's a pretty gloomy picture and not wholly subscribed to by commerce department people here. They will tell you that business everywhere, large and small, showed a tendency to level off after January of this year, that there was a definite weakening in the first quarter of the year. But they believe that was a temporary trend, that it's over now, that business will reverse itself, and that the general trend is now upward again. They make no differentiation between large and small businesses in their prognostications and studies, and they feel that the trend for all business now is up.

But listen to what the people surveyed by Kiplinger say:

A food wholesaler in Iowa: "Bread sales are extremely high, also flour sales are good and the sale of rolled oats is good, as people apparently are filling up on these nutritious foods in preference to more expensive items."

A baker in Ohio: "We are selling fewer cakes and pies."

Women are doing more sewing at home, with clothing prices so high. An Illinois businessman said: "The local high school decided to have a night school on sewing. The first registration was 135 women."

Young woman in Wisconsin: "I'm not the only working girl in this community who doesn't have the new look."

Illinois farmwoman: "We planned to buy some new furniture, but the price is too high. I am making slipcovers."

Even electrical items, dreamed of by housewives as an after-the-war necessity, are not selling well. Said an Iowa dealer: "The edge is definitely off on hard goods, such as refrigerators, washers, radios, stoves, etc. Prices too high."

A traveling salesman covering the small towns finds the going tough: "I cover New York state and I am working twice as hard for half the business."

Many little signs of hard times were reported by Kiplinger's survey. Examples:

A Texas housewife: "I am feeding tramps for the first time since before the war."

A deacon: "Collections are off at our church."

A loan company man: "More borrowing from small loan companies."

A village cobbler: "My shoe repair business is good."

As the Kiplinger magazine puts it: "The folks in the small towns are harder up. Their incomes haven't gone up as much as the prices they pay."

In other words, according to the survey, the wealth is getting out of the hands of the consumer. And whether this survey or the commerce department's optimistic prediction are more nearly correct, (congress abolished the small business section), this much at least can be said:

You can redistribute the wealth by the socialistic intervention of government. That kills capitalism. Or you can redistribute it by permitting full and free competition—competition on the part of the producers of raw materials, competition on the part of labor, (an expensive item), competition on the part of processors. Industrial or labor monopoly, as I said before, will kill capitalism in the end as effectively as the Communist with his little red hatchet.

* * *

Even Russians Get Re-oriented

This item was passed along to me by a friend. A high officer in one of the armies which fought against Russia was visiting this country, and told this story:

Recently in Berlin, he was entertaining a high Russian officer stationed there. It was a farewell party as the Russian and his wife had been ordered to return to Moscow. The host remarked that it was nice that the Russian could take his wife back from the rigors of occupation life in Germany

The Russian had dined well, and perhaps was indiscreet. Anyway, he confessed that he was anything but pleased, that he was dreading the period he and his wife must pass in the "camp."

Then he explained that every Russian, before he was allowed to return to the Soviet Union, had to pass through a re-education center, and be indoctrinated with just what he should say to his friends and relatives.

I repeat this item because it comes to me in a direct, intimate manner; not a part of any organized propaganda.

* * *

It's as hard to reach an agreement with 16 lawyers haggling over every word in a labor controversy as it is to get into heaven with 16 theologians haggling over how many angels can stand on the head of a pin.

* * *

Good pastures save grain, says department of agriculture. Yes, and around about foreclosing time, good grain will save pastures.

Sportlight

By GRANTLAND RICE

A FEW decades ago I asked Christy Mathewson to name the best pitcher he ever faced. "That's easy," Matty answered. "His name is Charles Kid Nichols of Boston. Nichols isn't a good pitcher. He is a great one."

I recalled this talk when the mail brought a letter from Ty Cobb at Menlo Park, Calif.

"I think everyone has overlooked one of the greatest pitchers of all time," Cobb writes. "His name is Kid Nichols. Here are just a few of his records from 1890 to 1906:

"1. Won three consecutive games on three consecutive days, all pitched in different cities.

"2. Won 20 or more games for 10 consecutive years. He won 360 and lost 202.

"3. Won 28 or more games for eight consecutive seasons.

"4. Best three consecutive years of pitching percentage.

"5. Only pitcher of note to average 24 wins per year at present distances."

Cobb also extends his admiration to Eddie Plank and Ed Walsh. "I'd take Ed Walsh as my first choice of all pitchers for a five-year period," he told me once. "He literally pitched his arm off in 1908 when he worked in 66 games, winning 40 and saving 12 others. Imagine being responsible for 52 victories?"

"It's hard to outrank Eddie Plank," Cobb said in his recent letter. "Plank worked in 620 games, won 324 and lost 190. He was a fine pitcher—smart and always packed with control. He wasn't as fast as Grove, but he was a tough man to beat."

One can be reminded again of the great pitchers Connie Mack brought along from Waddell, Bender and Plank to Coombs, Grove, Earnshaw, Rommel and others — not overlooking Pennock and Bullet Joe Bush.

What manager ever dug up such left-handers as Eddie Plank, Lefty Grove, Herb Pennock and Rube Waddell, four of the greatest pitchers the venerated pastime has ever seen on display?

And today, the eminent Mr. McGillicuddy, aged 85, believes he has another staff just about as good as he had in those far off years.

Mack's Ups and Downs

No one in baseball has ever known as many ups and downs, as many booms and dips, as many ascents and descents, as Connie Mack has known since he came to the American league in 1901.

Connie finished fourth his first year and then promptly won his first pennant in 1902, his second start. He won again in 1905, and two years later began breaking up or dismantling his winning squad for the first time.

He kept Bender and Plank, but got rid of Harry Davis, Lave and Monte Cross, plus a few others. In place of these he picked up Eddie Collins from Columbia, Stuffy McInnis from New England, Jack Barry from Holy Cross and "Home Run" Baker from a Maryland hamlet.

Connie finished second in 1909, missing the flag by a brief eyelash. By 1910 he had his greatest team—a team good enough to win the pennant four times from 1910 through 1914. The Red Sox with Smokey Joe Wood burning up the league won in 1912.

The debacle of 1914, when the Braves won in four straight, sent Connie back to work dispersing another flock of star athletes.

String of Losses

Connie had broken up another club. It took him a long time to get back. He finished last in 1915, 1916, 1917, 1918, 1919, 1920 and 1921. At that time he appeared to have an endless lease on the cellar

Connie began to surge back in 1925, when he finished second. He was then 63 years old. But it was not until 1929 that he overhauled the Yankees and ruled the uplands for three years through 1932.

It was around 1933 that Mack began dismantling another club. He unloaded a freight car full of athletes on Tom Yawkey, the list including Robert Moses Grove and most of his stars.

This didn't help the Red Sox any, but it wrecked the Athletics. They finished last again eight more years through 1945 when their case looked to be hopeless.

Connie has finished last 15 or 16 times and next to last on many more occasions. He also finished first nine times.

He came up with a pretty fair ball club last season in his 84th year. At least they finished fifth. Then came the big surprise this season as the Mackmen, carried along by superior pitching and some timely hitting, moved out in front.

Where will the Athletics finish? October is a long hike off. But so far the Athletics have looked better than either the Yankees or Red Sox who were picked earlier to handle all the pace setting.

Household Hints

Save needless hours work by catching small tiny rips promptly. Besid darn a small tear, the will be less conspicuous.

—•—

Youngsters aren't fu realism. As long as thei painted in bright colors, not be exactly like the and objects they imitat

—•—

Do not let Turkish t come too soiled, becau bing wears them out.

—•—

Make a neat gallery portraits. Instead of plac of them on the piano, the favorites in the sam frame and hang them to the wall.

—•—

Treat zippers on your with vaseline if they hav rusted and are difficult Be careful not to get a fabric.

—•—

When making biscuits milk, measure one-half of soda for each cup of s The flavor of the biscui richer, their health val er, and the biscuits wil and fluffy.

Use two dust-cloths one—then both hands useful.

—•—

There'll be no soggy c place the freshly baked wire rack to cool inst a flat surface. The rac broiler will do.

—•—

Fresh bread stays fr if wrapped carefully a in your refrigerator prevent early st

CLASSIF DEPARTM

HELP WANTED—MEN,

AGENTS—New Calendar Date tiful, Accurate, Dependable. Th tory Guarantee. Easy Sales, SIMPSON COMPANY, 20 East Chicago 4, Illinois.

FARMS & RANCH

FOR SALE — 774-acre river Lots of good buildings, artes fenced, 4½ miles from Lisbon, bargain at $50 per acre, Write 327, Lisbon, N. Dak.

FOR SALE: Improved farm A. 27500. 160 A. 115. 80 A. 6500. CHAS. REILLY, New H

CANADIAN FARMS—Write FORMATION on farm settlement Fertile soils. Reasonably priced Canadian Pacific Railway, Paul, Minn.

BUSINESS & INV.

CITY Bus Line in N.W. Iowa One bus, new motor, trans. Will sacrifice for quick sale. interest. Contact JOHN STOU cer, Iowa.

POULTRY, CHICKS &

WHITE PEKIN DUCKLINGS— $14.75 for 50 and $28.00 per Austra White and White Gi started chicks. SCHECKEL'S Springbrook, Iowa.

HOME FURNISHINGS

STREAMLINED—Built-in kitch fit any kitchen. Complete, easy detailed plans and specifica "professional" construction m $1.00. THOMBERT CO., Box Iowa.

TRAVEL

WEIGELWOOD RES North of Park Rapids, Minn., surrounded by fine lake. Good fishing. Cool family resort. beach. Semi-modern, clean bou tages facing lake, ready to occ REA electricity, water, and goo $35.00 per week. Cottage beds. Room for metal cots at extra. We maintain a clean Soon! Postal address, Arago,

MISCELLANEOU

HOSE mending, reweaving, Mail orders welcome. JOSIE 301 Shops Bldg., Des Moines, STAMP COLLECTIONS bought J. A. NEWHOUSE, Box Bank Reference.

HEAVY DU

BURCH PAU

- For Farm Mach
- Wagons, Corn
- Trucks, Hay St

SEE YOUR DEALER

BURCH PAUL COST N

REINFORCED EYELET 3 FEET APART

Write for the nam your dealer

Ft. Dodge Tent & A FORT DODGE, IO

WNU—N

IT'S NICE TO

What goes on i community. why this new brings you

LOCAL NE

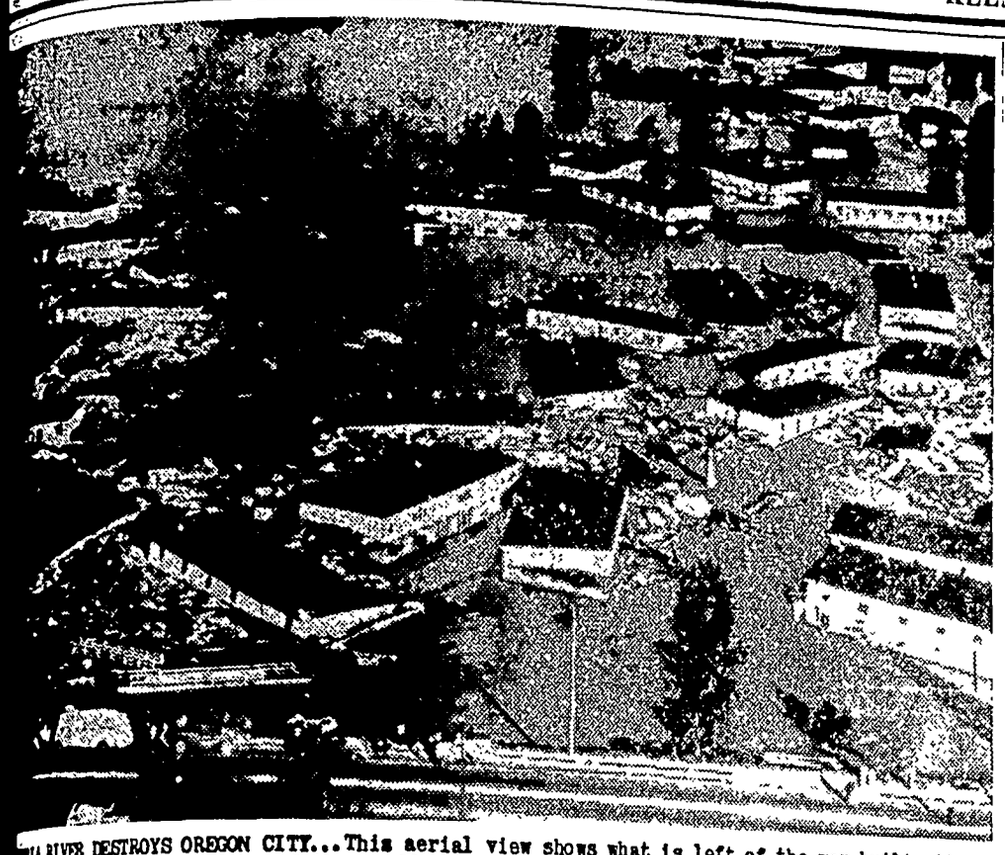
FEWER BENEFITS LOST

People Are Discovering Social Security

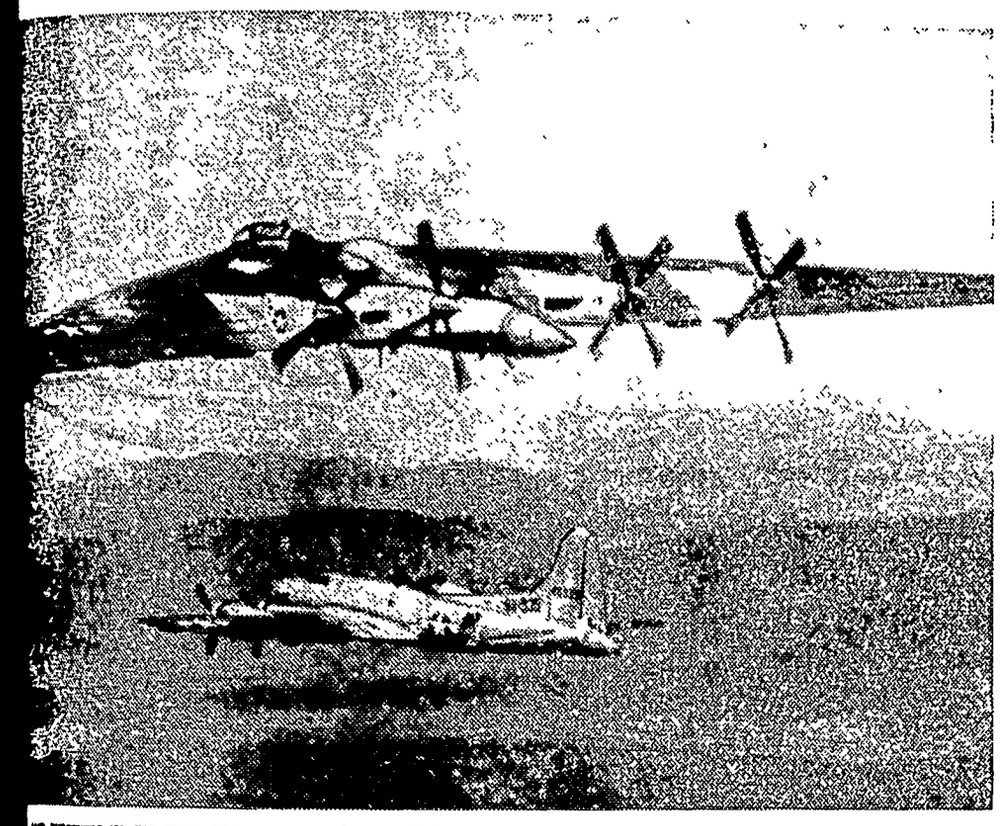
Although inadvertent loss of benefits remains a major problem, the number of persons who deprive themselves of old-age and survivors insurance benefits because they delay filing their claims is decreasing steadily.

That report has been made by the Federal Security agency's social security administration. In announcing the improvement, O. C. Pogge, director of the administration's bureau of old-age and survivors insurance in Baltimore, said:

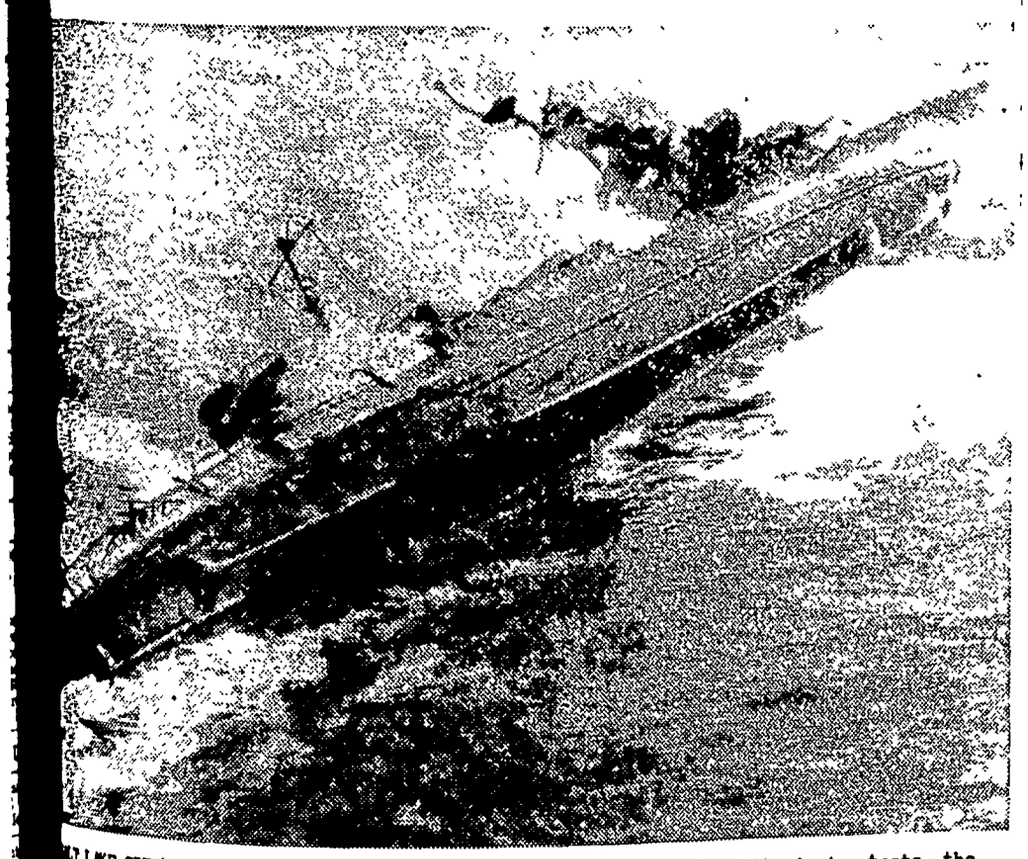
"Our continuing efforts to inform workers of their benefit rights have resulted in increased public awareness that old-age and survivors insurance benefits are payable only if they are claimed."



...LA RIVER DESTROYS OREGON CITY...This aerial view shows what is left of the war-built city ...port, Ore., after a dyke of the swollen Columbia river broke and let the flood waters ...structively through. Homes were ripped from their foundations and smashed against one ...of the town as the flood ripped through the community, leaving 19,000 Vanport residents ...ess and many others drowned. Elsewhere, vast areas of Oregon and Washington also were ...ed by the rampaging Columbia. An approximate 90,000 persons were made homeless through... the Pacific Northwest and the damage toll was at least 75 million dollars.



...ND YESTERDAY IN THE AIR...Here is visible evidence of the immense strides taken in avi... since the war. A mammoth Northrop flying wing B-35 bomber scoots past a B-17 bomber, one ...World War II heavyweights. There is a startling contrast in size between today's B-35's, ...g 100 tons and measuring 172 feet from wing tip to wing tip, and the flying fortress, ...e of bombing attacks on Europe. B-35s can fly 10,000 miles non-stop at speeds far in ...of the now obsolete B-17s. U.S. army air force is testing the flying wings for possi... ...spread use later on. Crew compartments, cargo space and engines all are housed within ...



...LT LAKE CITY'S LAST MANEUVER...Veteran of World War II and the Bikini atom tests, the ...er Salt Lake City has been sent to the bottom by the shells and torpedoes of its own ...e vessel weathered more than four hours of bombardment from planes and ships before ...blow came--two submarine torpedoes. It slowly turned on its side and slid beneath ...of the deep Pacific. Twenty-five warships and nearly 400 planes operating from car... the first task fleet took part in the assault, the first such test since the 1920s. ...still to be radioactive from the Bikini tests of the atom bomb, the cruiser was un... ...or scrap and for that reason was destroyed.

...INISTER REVIEWS CADETS...Traditionally, the U.S. military academy at West Point ...the first places where high-ranking foreign visitors are brought to have an im... ...on them. Gen. Jose Humberto Sosa Molina, minister of war for Argentina, is shown ...West Point cadets at a full dress review staged in his honor at the academy. Gen... ...has been in the United States as a guest of the war department for the purpose of ...methods, training and equipment. In these uneasy times Argentina is undertaking a ...preparedness program along with most other nations.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By Drew Pearson

Old-Age Pensions

AT A SECRET POWWOW with congressional Democratic leaders President Truman was told there was little chance of congress approving any of his proposals to increase old-age pensions. However, the leaders advised that the people were entitled to a frank report on how old-age insurance benefits—on which millions of Americans depend for retirement security—have lagged behind higher wages and living costs. That was why Truman decided to send his message to congress anyway.

Michigan's aggressive representative, John Dingell, an original champion of the social security law, summed it up bluntly: "Unless pensions are increased in ratio to higher wages, higher taxes and higher living costs, counties that have sold their poorhouses for the aged will have to re-establish them."

Dingell said it would be "actuarially sound" to increase pensions because of increased revenues from payroll taxes. He added: "Sixty million people are employed now, more than we ever dreamed of when we changed the law in 1939. We thought then that we wouldn't have that many employed until 1980."

"I want to cover as many people as practically possible," commented the President.

Biggest problem, observed Federal Security Administrator Oscar Ewing, is providing protection for casual workers, such as domestic servants and farmhands.

"We might try the stamp system they use in England," suggested Ewing.

"I doubt that it would work here," remarked Mr. Truman. "It's a nuisance to employers, difficult to administer and such casual employees frequently build up less credits for contributory pensions than they could get in an old-age assistance dole."

* * *

White House Visitors

THE PRESIDENT HAS RESORTED to new strategy in handling White House callers.

For some time, Washington observers were amazed at the number of visitors President Truman saw daily. But now the calling list has tapered off. The official list released every morning shows only a handful of visitors.

What most people don't know, however, is that there are five separate entrances to the White House, and in recent weeks Mr. Truman has been fooling the press. While regular White House correspondents wait in the lobby of the executive offices watching for presidential visitors, various private callers slip in other doors. Sometimes as many as 25 will flow into Mr. Truman's office unnoticed. They come in through various side doors, sometimes even the distant east wing, and then are spirited around the back through the rose garden and in to the President.

Some old senatorial friends also drop around to see Mr. Truman at breakfast. Others come in after breakfast, but before the press arrives. Ed Flynn has been in twice lately, unnoticed. Former Judge Sam Rosenman is again a White House regular using the east gate, as is George Allen, the old court jester.

Another new favorite Truman rendezvous is the presidential yacht, the Williamsburg, where he holds stag poker parties with old buddies, sometimes sleeping on board and walking back to the White House early in the morning before most people go to work.

* * *

Western Water Shortage

THE STORY OF A MODERN RUSH to California, more significant than the '49 gold rush, was laid before President Truman the other day with a warning that the state soon will not have enough water to go around.

Calling at the White House, Congressmen Dick Welch, Republican, and Frank Havenner, Democrat, both of San Francisco, described how the East was migrating to the West at the rate of 1,000 newcomers a day.

This tremendous influx has cost California millions of barrels of precious water from her dangerously dwindling reservoirs.

Yet 73,770,000 acre-feet of fresh water from San Joaquin and Sacramento rivers empty into San Francisco bay each year. The congressmen urged the President personally to look into this problem on his trip to California and recommend what can be done to save the water.

Mr. Truman pulled out maps of the bay region which he already had been studying, and assured the congressmen that he previously had intended to give the matter his personal attention.

"There shouldn't be a shortage of water in that area," he agreed, "with water running wild into the bay."

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

'NEW LOOK' REVOLT

Must the women of America dress to look part awning, part inverted tepee and part fashion slave? The question is being raised, and by the women themselves. From what this department hears the women's dress designers at last have succeeded in making the female worm turn, or nearly so. The current modes are not doing the gals any good pictorially and they know it.

— * —

Those long, loose, bell-bottom skirts not only make it difficult for a woman to look thin; they make it impossible for a thin one not to look fat. And unless the girls are just talking to hear themselves talk, a revolt against resembling a wigwam with a head and neck is on.

— * —

Any dress shop will tell you the women are mad clear through. "I am not a Mexican ballerina, a half opened umbrella or a poster for a colonial ball" insisted the missus the other day. "And I resent a conspiracy to make me look like a combination of all three. I have lived on lettuce and other rabbit food for a year to get fairly slender, and look what the garment industry does!"

— * —

"You women have yourselves to blame," we said. "Your slavish surrender to whatever some erratic style czars decree has been uninterrupted down through the years. Why don't you turn and kick them in the teeth by a simple refusal to toe the line? Your wardrobe is full of the recently outlawed models. This is a time for sense, thrift, and . . ."

— * —

"There you go on that thrift stuff again! I am discussing styles, not economics. And I am not against smart changes in modes. What makes me boil is the abrupt switch from clothes in which a woman could look pretty good, if over 16, to those 1948 get-ups which make almost any woman look as if she was understudying a free balloon."

— * —

"I am with you, my sweet," we insisted. "The 1948 modes do for a woman what sailor pants do for a man."

"In the past a woman could always take something from her left-over dresses in a pinch like this and weather the tide, but you can't make a 1947 dress look like a forty-eighter unless it is for New Orleans, Mardi Gras purposes," she replied sadly.

"I have seen some women who, wearing the new look thing could enter a Mardi Gras as a decorated float," we said.

— * —

"Don't look at me," snapped the missus. "The simple truth is that few outside of this year's high school classes can blossom forth in modern fashion without resembling Whistler's Mother or Barbara Fritchie both wrongside up and very unhappy."

— * —

She put on her hat and started for the door.

"Where are you going?" we asked.

"To the United Nations! The matter belongs on their agenda. And what's more no candidate for president gets my vote who doesn't come out with planks to compel dress designers to register, take an oath they are not malicious, swear they are not undercover agents for Old Mother Hubbard and stop racketeering in feminine vanity."

* * *

THE DOVE

I can't make peace with any men,
Except through Mr. Wallace, (Hen);
To each approach my stare is blank—
But not to Mr. Wallace (Hank);
It's funny how I give the gate
To all except ONE CANDIDATE;
Ah, I am sweet and short of malice—
But only via Henry Wallace!

* * *

The Country Editor Says:

Quent Parker has switched from regular to high test gas and is considering a cash offer to appear in a magazine advertisement as a gasoline user of distinction. Tootsie Benham's new 1948 bathing costume arrived yesterday in a regular sized envelope.

* * *

An appendix operation was the theme of a musical suite played at Hunter college the other night. The score, obviously, took a lot of cutting.

— * —

"Muted strings symbolized the patient's concerns," says an explanation of the composition. "Woodwinds and brasses depicted the actions of the surgeons. Classical tonal patterns described the fantasies of the patient under anesthesia."

BIBLE SPEAKS

International Uniform Sunday School Lessons

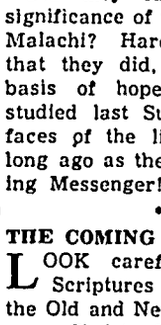
By Lloyd M. Newton, D.D.

SCRIPTURE: Daniel 2:31-45; 8; 11; Malachi 3:1-5; 4; Luke 1:67-79; 2:25-32; John 10:22-23.
DEVOTIONAL READING: Psalms 130: 1-8.

From Malachi To Christ

Lesson for June 27, 1948

THE inter-biblical period, covering approximately four centuries, is one of the great silences of history, save as the prophecies of God offer flickering light upon the winding paths in western Asia, northern Africa and southern Europe. A remnant of Jews resided in Jerusalem, whilst many others were dispersed about the face of the earth. The Old Testament was translated into Greek—the version used in the time of Christ. The Talmud and the 14 books of the Apocrypha were written. The synagogue arose. The schools of Hillel and Shammai were founded and flourished. The sects of the Pharisees and Sadducees originated. Buddha, Confucius and Zoroaster were beginning to influence life in the Far East, while in the Near East Zeno and Epicurus dominated philosophical thought. The Caesars ruled the Mediterranean world.



Dr. Newton

To understand something of this period from Malachi to Christ, we are asked to read the Scripture passages listed above.

* * *

BEFORE JESUS CAME

"BEHOLD, I will send my messenger, and he shall prepare the way before me; and the Lord, whom ye seek, shall suddenly come in his temple, even the messenger of the covenant, whom ye delight in; behold he shall come, saith the Lord of hosts."

Did they fully understand the significance of these great words of Malachi? Hardly may we expect that they did, but they got their basis of hope, about which we studied last Sunday. Imagine the faces of the little children in the long ago as they heard of the coming Messenger!

* * *

THE COMING CHRIST

LOOK carefully at the above Scriptures and see how both the Old and New Testaments center upon Christ. These great phrases are suggested:

The promised Christ, the expected Christ, the heralding Christ, the presented Christ, the enlightening Christ, the judging Christ, the merciful Christ, the redeeming Christ, the restoring Christ, the guiding Christ.

Space does not permit the citations, but a study of the passages will reveal each of these gifts and blessings in the coming Christ.

* * *

BETWEEN THE TESTAMENTS

DIMLY only do we envision that period of four centuries, but we have sufficient light to trace the steps by which the faithful amongst the Jews were cleansing themselves of idolatry as the fires of God purged away the dross of paganism and secularism. One will find rich reward in the reading of the Apocrypha and Josephus. Also, one will find in the opening chapters of the New Testament light which falls back upon those dark ages.

There were synagogue schools, taught, in many instances by very able men, such as Hillel. There was a groping toward the light. Men were hungry for the fulfilment of prophecy. It was the darkness just before the dawn.

* * *

THE LIGHT BREAKS

"BLESSED be the Lord God of Israel; for he hath visited and redeemed his people," Luke 1:68. Thus does the golden text for Sunday's lesson flash upon the waiting heart of expectant humanity the Good News.

The fulness of God's time had come. Jesus was born. Peace had come to men of good will. James Montgomery puts the Good News in these lovely lines:

Angels, from the realms of glory,
Wing your flight o'er all the earth,
Ye, who sang creation's story,
Now proclaim Messiah's birth:
Come and worship, come and worship,
Worship Christ, the new-born King.

* * *

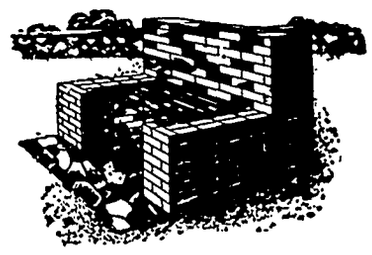
(Copyright by the International Council of Religious Education on behalf of 40 Protestant denominations. Released by WNU Features.)

Preacher's Task

No religious doctrine has any redemptive power until it is translated into the terms of a specific situation or an actual problem. It becomes the task of the Christian preacher in this generation to do the translating. The question, "What would Jesus do?" is always with him.

Build It From A Pattern

OUTDOOR FIREPLACE IS EASY TO BUILD.



If you want to really enjoy picnics in your own backyard, build this fireplace. The Easi-Bild method of construction takes all the mystery out of bricklaying. It tells how to dig foundations, size and depth needed, also the best cement mixture to use. Easy to understand, step by step instructions and clear assembly illustrations simplify procedure. All materials can be purchased at any lumber yard. No special tools or previous experience are needed. Send 25c for Pat. No. 73 to Easi-Bild Pattern Company, Dept. W., Pleasantville, New York.

British vs. U. S. Workers

British "working party" committees, sent to the United States to do on-the-job studies comparing American factory methods with those of Britain, agree that productivity per American worker exceeds that of his British counterpart in each of the industries surveyed.

don't use Harsh Laxatives

Keep regular this healthful way—

The juice of a lemon in a glass of water, when taken first thing on arising, is all that most people need to insure prompt, normal elimination.

No more harsh laxatives that irritate the digestive tract and impair nutrition! Lemon in water is good for you!

Generations of Americans have taken lemons for health—and generations of doctors have recommended them. They are rich in vitamin C, supply valuable amounts of B_1 and P. They alkalinize, aid digestion.

Not too sharp or sour, lemon in water has a refreshing tang—clears the mouth, wakes you up. It's not a purgative—simply helps your system regulate itself. Try it 10 days.

USE CALIFORNIA SUNKIST LEMONS

Black Leaf 40 KILLS LICE

Our Cap-Brush Applicator makes BLACK LEAF 40 GO MUCH FARTHER

JUST A DASH IN FEATHERS.. OR SPREAD ON ROOSTS

Relieves Distress of MONTHLY FEMALE WEAKNESS

Also Helps Build Up Red Blood!

Do female functional periodic disturbances make you suffer pain, feel so nervous, irritable—at such times? Then try Lydia E. Pinkham's TABLETS to relieve such symptoms. Pinkham's Tablets are also very effective to help build up red blood in simple anemia.

Lydia E. Pinkham's TABLETS

When Your Back Hurts -

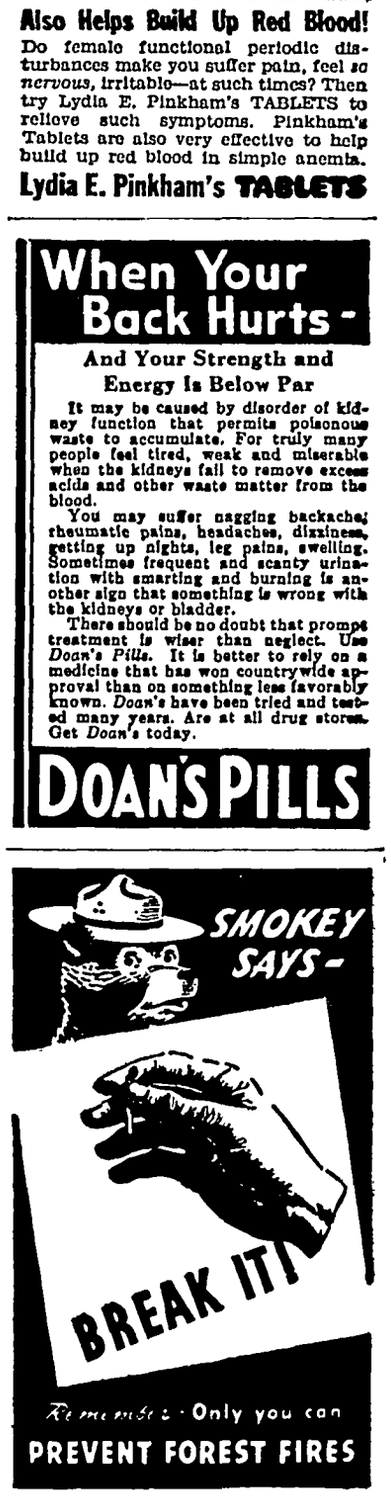
And Your Strength and Energy Is Below Par

It may be caused by disorder of kidney function that permits poisonous waste to accumulate. For truly many people feel tired, weak and miserable when the kidneys fail to remove excess acids and other waste matter from the blood.

You may suffer nagging backache; rheumatic pains, headaches, dizziness, getting up nights, leg pains, swelling. Sometimes frequent and scanty urination with smarting and burning is another sign that something is wrong with the kidneys or bladder.

There should be no doubt that prompt treatment is wiser than neglect. Use Doan's Pills. It is better to rely on a medicine that has won country-wide approval than on something less favorably known. Doan's have been tried and tested many years. Are at all drug stores. Get Doan's today.

DOAN'S PILLS



Mrs. Henry Helps and her sister, Mrs. Coughlin of Los Angeles, went Friday to the Ernest Pringnitz farm home northeast of Garner for a visit.

No Seeds - -

When You Use VITROGEN

SEEDLESS TOMATOES

plus increase in size, and weight, less acid earlier ripening, increased yield.

Less Seeds In Other Plants

Jorgenson's CORNER STORE

Klemme Iowa

KLEMME LOCAL NEWS

Miss Eunice Larsen is attending summer school at the Iowa State College at Ames.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Lau visited at the Clarence Bachman home Monday evening.

Nellie Greiman and Darlene Bachman visited from Friday until Sunday at the Harm Aries home in Waterloo.

Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Pherson and son of Ames came last Wednesday for several days visit at the Jim Thomas home.

Mrs. Eldon Hagen of near Hanlontown was visiting with her mother, Mrs. Clara Barz, Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Rob Roths and family were business callers in Belmond Saturday and attended the sale of furniture of the late Fred Bachman.

CURTIS G. RIEHM
Attorney-At-Law
Office Over Federated Store
Res. Phone 133W2
Phone 133 Garner, Iowa

KLEMME LOCAL NEWS

Harry Pringnitz underwent a major operation at the Mercy hospital at Mason City last Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Elwood Geary and Wayne Schoenwetter were visiting Jack Zielie at the Mercy hospital Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Herold Ridder of Nora Springs were dinner guests Sunday at the Ed. Schaefer home.

Martha and Charles Elder of Ames are vacationing with their grandparents. Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Elder on the farm.

Mr. and Mrs. August Josten recently improved their farm home with a new enclosed porch.

Mrs. Harvey Barkema and baby Lon Harvey returned home Sunday from Garner where they had been staying at the parental Romp home.

"Mike" Lemke, Walter Bachman and Wayne Busman took in the Iowa Grain Dealers Convention at Des Moines on Monday and Tuesday.

Mrs. D. P. Anderson, and Neva Ann; Mrs. Benn Coobs; Mrs. Verner Lewis and Mrs. W. F. Pavey were Mason City visitors Friday.

Mrs. Hulda Johnson Green of Los Angeles, Cal. arrived in Klemme Monday morning for a visit with her father, Joe Johnson, who is seriously ill.

Joan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Bacon of Lake Mills spent the past week with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Art Wellemeyer while her parents were on a fishing trip.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Suckow of Jennings, La. came last Thursday and are rooming at Duncan and are assisting in caring for Grandma Suckow who is ill at the County Home.

Mrs. Hulda Wiles of Des Moines, and Mrs. Elmer Yohn of Garner, have returned from a trip to the east coast. They visited at the George Buseman home Saturday evening.

Mrs. August Josten left Monday night by train for Kansas City where she will attend a conference of the Womens Guild of the Evangelical and Reformed Church. She will return home Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Keeper have returned from Michigan where they visited their sons, Alvin and Mr. and Mrs. Albert Keeper. They accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Keeper of Mason City on the trip.

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Durnham and son and Alvina Griffin of Garner; Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Montgomery, Bud, Carole and Darlene Geary went to West Bend Sunday to see the Grotto and to enjoy a picnic dinner.

Sunday guests at the Asa Arnold home were Margarette Irvine of Houston, Texas; Elizabeth McElhinney and Jean Irvine of Waterloo; Mrs. John Irvine, Bill and Betty of Dysart, and Elwood Miller of Reinback.

Mrs. Emmet Rogers of Lexington, Ill. and Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Meyers of Garner were calling on old Klemme friends Monday evening. Mrs. Rogers, who is a sister of Mrs. Meyers, will be remembered as the former Vivian Haner.

Work is progressing rapidly on the Schmidt Stock Yards new building in North Klemme. The foundation work was completed last week and the frame work is going up this week. Luther Schmidt, proprietor, says he expects to be buying hogs at the new location in about 10 days.

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Larsen and son, "Pete" left on a vacation trip last week Tuesday for a visit at Cecil, Wisconsin and Ewen, Michigan. They also visited the Indian Reservation at Menominee. This week they are staying at a lakeshore cottage and are enjoying fishing and resting.

Marilyn, Dale and Doris Schrieber of Moville came last Friday for a visit with their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Schneider. Mr. and Mrs. Schreiber, who brought the children here, drove to Chicago on business and from there went to Ottawa, Illinois for a visit with Grandma Schneider, who is now 94 years old.

She jilted a president-to-be! Yes, 15-year-old "Kitty" Floyd turned down a chance at the White House. Read "Romantic Secret of President Madison" in the American Weekly, the great magazine distributed with SUNDAY'S CHICAGO HERALD-AMERICAN.

KLEMME LOCAL NEWS

Ben Reemstma of Garner was a business caller in Klemme on Tuesday forenoon.

Grow tomatoes without seeds, bigger, earlier ripening. Inquire how at Corner Store.

Mrs. Mary Waterman went to Sanborn, Minn., Sunday for a visit at the Will Waterman home and with other relatives.

Throw away your tooth picks. Raise tomatoes without seeds. Ask "Jergie" at the Corner Store.

Mrs. Harry Schuster and children returned Monday evening from a visit of over a week with her parents at Powersville, Missouri.

Bernard and Henry Smid of Klemme, Mr. and Mrs. Otto Smid of San Francisco, and Miss Pat Smead of Clear Lake were dinner guests Sunday at the Emery Schaefer home.

The following families were dinner guests Sunday at the parental Fred Barz home for Father's Day: Walt Rosendahl, Ronald Barz, Marvin Barz, Harvey Barz and Eugene Greiman.

Mrs. Harry Leith returned home Monday evening from Somers where she had been for a visit with her parents. Her neice, Jean Leith, of Manson, came home with her for a visit until Sunday.

Don "Dolly" Schaefer has recently completed his training for a private pilots license. Don has 1200 hours in the air as a tail gunner on patrol bombers during his time in the U. S. Navy.

Mrs. Mildred Day visited a few days in Mason City last week and helped her son, Dorance, celebrate his birthday on June 17th. Mrs. Day's birthday was also last week, June 19th.

G. J. Dulmes, son La Monte of Adell, Wis., daughter Mrs. E. P. Simms, of Alamogoro, New Mexico, and son-in-law Wm. H. TenHaken of Madison, Wisconsin, came Friday and visited until Sunday morning at the Dr. A. H. Dulmes home.

Mr. and Mrs. Aaron Greiman, Mr. and Mrs. Al Larson and daughter, Clear Lake and Mrs. Fred Etchen returned Thursday from a week's fishing at Upper Red Lake, Minn., and were sight-seeing at Rainy River and Lake of the Woods. They caught some nice walleyes.

Mr. and Mrs. Otto Smid of San Francisco, Cal., spent the past week visiting with the Emery Schaefer family at Forest City; Bernard and Henry Smid in Klemme and with Mr. and Mrs. Rall at Hanover, Ill. Tuesday they went to Austin and Lyle, Minn. for a visit with relatives and friends before leaving for home.

GARNER CLINIC
GARNER, IOWA
Dr. E. M. Christensen, M.D.
Physician & Surgeon, Ph. 18
EYES TESTED — GLASSES FITTED
Dr. A. G. Landon, D.D.S.
Dentist, Ph. 207

Arthur Wellemeyer
FUNERAL DIRECTOR
—with long experince and best equipment.
PROMPT AMBULANCE SERVICE
Phone 23-R2 Day or Night
Klemme - Iowa

WORRIED ABOUT
Eating?
You don't hvae to worry about what you are going to eat when you come to the Quandt Cafe.
Always a good meal here for you. Here you can eat a meal that is well-balanced and satisfying.
TOBACCOS
ICE CREAM
CIGARETTES
CANDY BARS
Thank You
QUANDT'S CAFE
Mr. and Mrs. Conrad Quandt

KLEMME LOCAL NEWS

Mr. and Mrs. Art Lyons and family were Mason City visitors Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Koerner and Roger Ridder were in Mason City on business Thursday.

Cpl. Calvin "Kelly" Schmidt of Belleville, Illinois, came last week to spend a week's furlough visiting with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Schmidt.

The following were visitors at the Wm. Ax home Sunday afternoon: Mr. and Mrs. Carl Suckow of Jennings, La., Mr. and Mrs. Henry Ludeke and grandson of Meservey; Mrs. and Mrs. George Schoenwetter; Mr. and Mrs. Art Schoenwetter and Mrs. Fred Schlichting.

Mr. and Mrs. Dorance Day and Gary of Mason City, Mrs. Peterson and Mr. and Mrs. Bert Mathews of Clear Lake and Terry Koerner of Klemme were dinner guests Sunday with Mrs. Mildred Day.

T. G. Ahrenkiel and family of Hubbard, were in Klemme on business Saturday. Mr. Ahrenkiel is the new superintendent of schools here for this coming year. He has been principal of the Hubbard High School for the past two years.

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Jorgensen and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Jorgensen of Guthrie Center visited for a short time Thursday night with their cousin, R. A. Jorgenson, Sr. and wife. They had been at Milltown, Wis. to attend the funeral of their uncle, Marinus Jorgenson and were on their way home.

Mr and Mrs. M. L. Harson entertained the following for dinner Sunday noon: Mr. and Mrs. Ray Harson and Bill of Kanawha, Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Davenport and children of Belmond, Mr. and Mrs. Else Pals and children, Mr. and Mrs. Keith Jenison and children, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Henn and son all of Belmond and Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Harson and son of Clarion.

PHOTOGRAPHS
Live Forever
RUSSELL Photo Studio
Next to J. C. Penny Co.
Ph. 2272 Mason City, Ia.

AVERY
—The—
Theatre Beautiful
Garner, Iowa
JUNE 23, 24
Wednes. - Thursday
GEORGE BRENT
VIRGINIA MAYO
CAROLE LANDIS
In
OUT OF THE BLUE
JUNE 25, 26
Friday - Saturday
RIN TIN TIN, III
DONALD WOODS
BOBBY BLAKE
CLAUDIA DRAKE
In RETURN OF RIN TIN TIN
JUNE 27, 28, 29
Sun. - Mon. - Tues.
The Bombshell Picture Of The Year!
GENTLEMAN'S AGREEMENT
GREGORY PECK
DOROTHY McGUIRE
JOHN GARFIELD
JUNE 30, JULY 1
Wednes. - Thursday
DANGEROUS YEARS
WILLIAM HALOP
ANN E. TODD
SCOTTY BECKETT

When it's HO
AND SULTRY OUTSIDE
Cool off with your favorite ice cold at Joe's where it's always cool and comfo
Meet Your Friends At
Joe's Place
Joe Finnegan, Prop. Klemm

DEAD STOC
PROMPTLY REMOVED

Britt Rendering
Dept. of Agr. Lic. No.
WE PAY PHONE CHA
KLEMME Phone 70
GARNER Phone 40
Our Trucks Are Steam Cleaned A Each Load
TANKAGE AND MINERALIZED FEED FOR SALE AT OUR PLANT

Tax Exempti
DEADLINE IS JULY 1, 1948
All applications for Homestead Tax and all applications for Soldiers' Ex must be on file in the office of the Coun itor on or before July 1, 1948, in orde ceive credit for the 1948 tax payable in
If you have not aleady filed with sessor or at the office of the County and are eligible, you should do so at on Soldiers' Exemption need not be fil you have done so before in this county have your discharge on record at the Recorder's office.
Applications for Homestead Credit made each year.
The County Auditor's Office will be give any other information desired re these exemptions.
Maynard Schoene
COUNTY AUDITOR

Pressure Cooke
CANNING SUPPLIES AND ITEMS FO YOUR KITCHEN . . . .
We have a good selection of Pressu ers, Pressure Pans and other items f Canning:
- National Pressure Cookers
- Universal Pressure Cookers
- Presto Pressure Cookers
- Aluminum Sauce Pans
- Electric Ovens
- Electric Roasters
- Knife Sharpeners, Cookin Kitchen Mixing Spoons, Spoons, Large Forks, Spat Turners, Large Stirring Sp
- Electric Fans . . . Keep yo cool with one of our nice f reasonably priced.

Trade At Jostens And Save
Josten Applia
Edmund K. Josten, Prop. Klem

NOTICE OF REPUBLICAN
County Convention
The Hancock County Republican Convention will be held at the Court House in Garner, Iowa at 10:00 o'clock A. M. on the 2nd day of July, 1948 for the purpose of selecting delegates to the regular Republican State Convention, Judicial Convention and District Judicial Convention and for the transaction of other business as may properly come before it.
G. W. Templeton
CHAIRMAN, HANCOCK COUNTY CENTRAL COMMITTEE

K. F. M. Specials
FRIDAY and SATURDAY, June 25 - 26
We Reserve The Right To Limit
MONARCH FOODS
For a Breakfast Treat
SHREDDED WHEAT ---------- 2 for 35c
Del Monte
TOMATO JUICE ---------- tall can 29c
Standby
CATSUP ---------- bottle 19c
Week End Special
SALA DRESS ---------- pints 39c quarts 69c
Palmolive
SOAP ---------- reg size 2 for 23c
Staley's
CUBE STARCH ---------- 2 boxes 25c
Week End Special
PERFEX ---------- box 23c
American Beauty
SHELL MACARONI ---------- pkg. 19c
Friday and Saturday
CHOCOLATE CHIPS ---------- pkg. 23c
BRING US YOUR EGGS — CASH OR TRADE
Klemme Food Market
Monarch Finer Foods C. A. Larsen, Prop.

THE KLEMME TIMES

ume 53. KLEMME, IOWA, JUNE 30, 1948 Number 33.

tral States To Further Improve Electric Service

AL STATES BUILDING ER STATION SOUTH OF BELMOND

uncement was made this of the construction of a million dollar deisel elec- generating plant by the l States Electric Company e southern city limits of nd.

plant, to be known as Belmond Generating Sta- will be a part of the 000 construction pro- to provide more power in the demand for electric in homes, factories and on rm growing by leaps and , the eleven operating companies, of which Cen- States is one, have inauger- extensive building pro- for 1948.

Belmond plant will be ed with natural gas and fuel. The capacity of plant cannot be set at a e figure because it is so acted as to allow for ad- al units to be added at me.

ative plans are for the nd plant to be in operation ecember The new plant ot only benefit Belmond, ll of the surrounding towns ell. It will assure Klem- even better service than e past.

TAL BLUMER REUNION AS HELD SUNDAY

annual Blumer reunion was held on Sunday, 27th, in the Community due to rain.

se attending were Mr. and John Lemke, Mr. and Mrs. Blumer, Mrs Anna Wadd- n, Mr and Mrs. Curtis ingham, Timmy, Kenneth Mickey, Mr. and Mrs. Ar- Waddingham, Garry and , Mr. and Mrs. Walter er, Ivan, Glenn Marianne, ne, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond and Margo Mae, Mr. and Jacob Blumer, Robert, Har- Donald and Ivadell, Mr. and Alvin Halverson, Mr. and Herman Baack, Robert and rd, Mr. and Mrs. Roy and Bennette, Mr. and Caris Kropp, Cauta and , Mr. and Mrs. Paul Baack arry and Mrs. Henry Me-mittee members were the Paul Baack, Alvin Hal- and Herman Baack.

DULMES HAD BIRTH- AY PARTY SATURDAY AFTERNOON

Dulmes was 12 years old nday, June 27 but had a day party on Saturday was attended by 13 boys s around with. The after- was spent playing games with a ball game at the Mrs. Dulmes served a nice lunch in the yard after mes.

received some nice gifts he boys all voted they had e time. The 13 present did em to be a jinx.

HELLO, FOLKS!

Baby Girl

ice baby girl arrived Mon- June 28th, to live with Mr. Mrs. Kenneth Kluckhohn. pped the scales at 9 lbs and She has a little brother two years old. She and mother are in the Mercy al.

ELEVENTH ANNUAL LAU HELD SUNDAY

The eleventh annual Lau reunion was held Sunday, June 27th in beautiful Backbone State Park in the northeastern part of Iowa. One hundred twenty-seven relatives from Iowa, Minn. and Michigan gathered to enjoy the picnic dinner and visiting. Four generations were present, Mrs. Lena Reusch of South Haven, Michigan and Mrs. Minnie Lau of Cannon Falls, Minne. being the two present of the oldest generation. Mrs. Dora Greiman the only other one of this generation was not able to attend.

A short business meeting was held at which time A. G. Lau of Garner was elected President; Floyd Lau of Spring Valley, Minn. as Vice President and Mrs. Martha Bredbenner, of Klemme as Secretary and Treasurer. A report of the marriages, births and deaths was given.

Those from Klemme and vicinity who attended were Geo. Lau, Leona Lau, Mrs. and Mrs. Lloyd Lau and Cozette, Marjorie Lau, Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Arnold and Evelyn, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Arnold and Bill, Mrs. A. G. Koerner and Kermit, Mrs. Lee Ridder, Marlee and Dennis, Terry Koerner, Mr. and Mrs. Glen Bridges and family, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Schmidt, Mr. and Mrs. Luther Schmidt and Roger, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Etchen, Mr. and Mrs. Emil Lau, Verner and Lois Ann and Erdene Nelson.

Mrs. Lena Reusch gave a very enthusiastic invitation that the reunion be held in South Haven, Michigan in 1949, but after much discussion it was decided to hold the meeting at New Hampton.

At the close of the afternoon ice cream and cake was served and the many relatives departed for heir homes after a most pleasant time.

LUDEKE REUNION HELD ON SUNDAY AT BRITT

A reunion of the Ludeke families was held at the E. H. Ludeke home at Britt Sunday, honoring Mr. and Mrs. Carl Suckow of Jennings, Louisiana.

Those present were Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Schoenwetter, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Meyer, Alvin, Lorraine, Richard and Jean; Mr. and Mrs. Fred Schlichting and Gladys, Mrs. Mabel Lassohn, Joyce Gordon and Terry.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Ax and Irvin, Mr. and Mrs. Leslie DeMerritt, Beverly, Billie and Marcille. Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Weisbrod and Ralph; Mr. and Mrs. Milford Elberts, Jerry and Ruth Ann of Fenton; Mr. and Mrs. Henry Ludeke; Mr. and Mrs. Paul Ludeke and Larry of Meservey; Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Ludeke and Clarence; Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Swan and Mike; Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Lloyd, Judy and Larry of Britt.

Mr. and Mrs. George Schoenwetter, Mrs. Mildred Weisbrod, Marlene and Maynard of Klemme; Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Ludeke and Marilyn; Mr. and Mrs. Jack Dominic, Jill and Pamilla of Clear Lake; and Mr. and Mrs. Carl Suckow.

All brought well filled baskets of food and enjoyed a picnic dinner together. The afternoon was spent visiting. All were present but Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Collins and Family of Clear Lake and Mr. and Mrs. Howard Schoenwetter.

Howard is attending Georga Tech. and could not come at this time.

The American Legion and the Auxiliary will meet at the Community Hall on Tuesday July 6th.

CLEAR LAKE GIRL IS BRIDE OF YOUNG KLEMME FARMER

Wedding Ceremony Held Sunday Afternoon At Home Of Bride's Parents

A background of green palms and with candlabra with baskets of white gladioli and blue delphinium formed the setting for the wedding of Miss Bonita E. Hopley and Clarence Christians at the home of the bride's parents south of Clear Lake on Sunday afternoon, June 27, 1948 at 2.00 o'clock. The candles were lit by Douglas Hopley, brother of the bride.

Proceeding the ceremony Rose Marie Floy sang "Because," and "I Love You Truly," accompanied by Ruth Ann Floy at the Piano.

The bride, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Hopley of Clear Lake, approached the improvised altar on the arm of her father, who gave her in marriage. The double ring ceremony was read by the Rev. Harvey Walker, pastor of the Methodist Church at Thornton.

The bride was attired in a blue Palm Beach suit with white accessories. Her shower bouquet was of red roses and white snapdragons. Miss Maxine Nicolet, friends of the bride was maid of honor. She was attired in a pink street length dress with white accessories. Eugene Grossbeck, of Klemme, friend of the groom was best man.

Mothers of the bride and groom wore Navy blue dresses with corsages of red roses and snap dragons. Miss Halmgaard had charge of the guest book, and Marian Dorenkamp was in charge of the gifts. Both were class mates of the bride.

The reception table was centered with a pink and blue bouquet and lighted with white candles. A four-tier blue and white frosted wedding cake was topped with a miniature bride and groom. About 80 guests attended from Mason City, Ventura, Goodell, Thornton, Clear Lake, Lake Mills, Dougherty and Klemme. Mrs. A. L. Dittmer poured. The favors were miniature cars with bride and groom.

Mrs. Christians was graduated from the Thornton high school this spring and Mr. Christians, who is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Christians of Klemme, has been farming.

After a wedding trip the young couple will be at home on the Christians farm east of Klemme where the groom is engaged in farming with his father.

Evangelical & Reformed Church

Calvin Grosshuesch, Pastor

SUNDAY

10:00 A. M. Morning Worship.
11:00 A. M. Sunday School.
7:00 P. M. Young People's Bible Class.

The Adult Bible Class will meet the second Monday in July.

Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Suckow visited at the Elmer Weisbrod home at Fenton Monday.

LARGE CROWD ATTENDED OPENING OF NEW LIGHTED FIELD

There was a big crowd present for the opening game on Klemme's new lighted field last Thursday evening. Cars were parked in every available space on the grounds around the field, along the streets and along the road.

The first attraction on the program was a kid game between Klemme and the R C. kids which was won by Klemme The High School Band put on a concert between games and the feature game between Klemme and the R. C. team got under way at about 9:00 o'clock.

The game had a lot of thrills in places but neither team seemed to be up to par and a lot of costly errors were made. The game was tied a couple of times and an extra inning had to be played in which Klemme was awarded the tie-breaking score in a rather close decision that left the crowd, and the players, wondering if the game was over. The final score was: Klemme 18, R. C. 17.

Late Bulletin!

A meeting of the League managers was held Monday night regarding the outcome of the Klemme-R. C. game. It was decided to call it a tie. An extra innng will be played either July 2 or 6th at a regular game to decide the outcome.

Garner here this Thursday night. Lake Mills is scheduled to play here Friday night of this week.

GAST REUNION AND PICNIC HELD IN PARK THURSDAY EVENING

The Gast families held a reunion and picnic supper in the Klemme Park last Thursday evening in honor of Mrs. Kenneth Folkers, nee Pearl Prull, from Grand Rapids, Minnesota, and Mrs. George Kramer nee Lula Prull of Waukee.

Well filled baskets of food were brought by the sixty families present and all enjoyed a fine supper after which visiting was in order. All enjoyed a fine time.

The following families were present: Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Janssen of Iowa Falls; Mr and Mrs. W. C. A. Gast of Garner; Mr and Mrs. Kenneth Schulz, Mr and Mrs. Herman Gast, Mrs. Kenneth Zwald, Winola and Eugene, Mrs. Ronald Gibbs and Ronna, all of Klemme; Mr and Mrs. Loren Gast and Cathy, Mr and Mrs. Earl Stille, Mrs Cecil Stille, Bob and Tom, Mr and Mrs. Chet Stille, Val and Muriel, Fred Meckstroth, Roy Stille all of Garner.

Mrs. Clara Stille, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Schaefer, Mr. and Mrs. Bodie Blank and Gary, Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Schaefer and Celeste, Mr. and Mrs. Quentin Stille and Larry, of Klemme; Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Carlson and Carol, Mr. and Mrs. Kermit Stille, Jerry and Richard, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Bridges, Stanley and Rockney of Thornton; Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Stille and Donna, Miss Shirley Stille, and Darlene Schulz of Mason City; Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Stille and Max and Kenton of Goodell.

10Th Annual Janssen Reunion

Because of the rain the 10th annual reunion of the Janssen decendants was held at the Marvin Preilipp home in Clear Lake, instead of the state park, on Sunday, June 27.

Eighty-two relatives were on hand to enjoy a picnic dinner at noon, followed by a business meeting and entertainment.

The following officers were elected: John Lauen, President; Carl Wille, Vice President; Mrs. Harwood Avery, General Secretary; Mrs. Werner Schlawin, Secretary, Wille side; Mrs. L. E. Wessels, Secretary, Janssen side; Mrs. Grace Henn, Secretary, Schuler side; Mrs. Blanche Meyer, Secretary, Thiel side .

The 1949 reunion will be held at the Belmond park.

WARDEHOFF-PECK WEDDING

Miss Irene Peck of Clarion, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. H. Peck, who reside on a farm east of Klemme, and Paul Wardehoff of Cedar Falls, son of Mr and Mrs. Charles Wardehoff of Cedar Falls, were united in marriage at the Catholic Church in Clarion on June 19 at 10:00 a. m. with Rev. Father Kurt reading the double ring ceremony.

Mrs. John Paulson, Jr played nuptial music during the High Mass for the reception, Miss Doris Lind sang, "Because" and "Always," at the reception.

The bride wore a Marquisette Princess Style gown with chantilly lace. The train was fastened with large bow with chantilly lace and her veil was fingertip length held in place with a coronet of crystal orange blossoms. Her only jewelry was a small gold cross.

Miss Dorothy Zimmerman of Stockton, Iowa, was the Maid of Honor, Miss Thelma Peck, sister of the bride, and Miss Vitalis Wardehoff, sister of the groom were brides maids. Junior brides maids were Joyce Borcherding and Janell Borcherding, friends of the bride They wore yellow Sandshark formals and carried blue fanshaped bouquets. Miss Zimmerman wore a lime green Sandshark formal and carried a fan-shape bouquet of carnations. The brides maids wore valendar Sandshark formals and carried yellow fanshaped bouquets of carnations Marilyn Duvall, neice of the groom was the flower girl and was dressed in a blue organdy formal and carried a basket of mixed flower petals. Loren Rienenking was the ring bearer.

Delmar Duvall, brother-in-law of the groom was best man. Earl Enabnit and Everett Tartor were the attendants. Terry and Merle Peck, brothers of the bride, were ushers. The bride's mother wore a pink suit dress with black accessories and a corsage of mixed carnations.

A reception after the ceremony was attended by about 75 people Mrs. Melvin Keeling and Mrs. Gifford Holm had charge of the gift table and Doris Lind had charge of the gest book and dining room hostess.

Mrs Pete Kraeger presided and cut the five tier wedding cake which was topped by a miniature bride and groom, the same that was used at the bride's sister's wedding and also for the 25th wedding anniversary of the bride's parents. Waitresses were Mrs. Richard Stevens, Clarion; Mrs. Lawrence Ute, Belmond; Arlene Leonard, Belmond and Katie Kinseth, Coulter. Caterresses were Mrs. Vern C. Rohrer and Mrs. Whiteside of Clarion.

The bride's going away outfit was a summer brown dress with white accessories and an orchid corsage. After a wedding trip to scenic places along the west coast and the south, the couple will be at home at 2315 Grenewood Drive, Cedar Falls.

The bride is a graduate of the Clarion High School and attended Iowa State Teachers College. The past year she taught the 4th grade at Coulter. Mr Wardehoff is a graduate of the Pierce City, Mo. high school and attended Iowa State Teachers College. He is employed as bookkeeper for the Premier Creosote Co. and as a machine operator at the John Deere plant.

Ginger Kudje Celebrated 7th Birthday Friday Afternoon

Ginger, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Art Kudje, was 7 years old Friday, June 25th.

On account of the serious illness of her grandfather, Mr. Joe Johnson, Ginger did not have a regular party. However, her little friends called on her and gave her gifts and her relatives also came for a brief visit. Mrs. Kudje served a light lunch to those who called. Ginger was glad her aunt, Mrs. Hulda Green of Los Angles was present for her birthday.

First Of Three Fly Control Sprayings Given Klemme

ANNUAL HIGH SCHOOL BANQUET WELL ATTENDED

About 120 graduates of the Klemme high school attended the annual Alumni banquet and dance at the Community Hall Friday evening.

The banquet room was beautifully decorated for the occassion and there were place cards in groups at the table for each class of graduates. President Ray A. Jorgenson, Jr. was in charge of the program and business meeting. Other officers were Miss Gertrude Grosshuesch, Vice President and Miss Irene Schmidt, Secretary and Treasurer. The new officers were Allen Barz, President; Graydon Back, Vice President, and LaVonne Beier, Secretary and Treasurer.

The Alumni complimented the Auxiliary ladies for the nice dinner they served and the efficiency of the waitresses in serving the dinner.

After the banquet and business meeting dancing was enjoyed by the group until a late hour.

Large Crowd Gathered At The Ausborn Home Sunday For Birthday Dinner

The following people were present at the Albert Ausborn home Sunday for dinner in honor of Mr. Ausborn's birthday:

Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Erdman and children, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Groh and family of Livermore; Mr. and Mrs. Daryl Fredericks and baby of Humbolt; Mr. and Mrs. John Groh of Algona.

Mr. and Mrs. Philip Erdman and Harold, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Loeffler, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Rogotta and family, Mrs. Minnie Kolpin and children, Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Schimp and Larry, Mr and Mrs. Arthur Pringnitz and Koren, Mr. and Mrs. Archie Lee and girls, Mr. and Mrs. Karl Loeffler and son, Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Zeiger and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Morlam and son, all of Belmond.

Mr and Mrs. Richard Ulrich and family, Mrs. Louisa Knoke, Miss Nellie Sherwood, Mr. and Mrs Dale Linahon, of Klemme.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Groh and family of Mason City; Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Gifford, the Ausborn Brothers of Ventura; and Mr. and Mrs. Cletus Anderson and boys of Goldfield.

RED CROSS SWIMMING LESSONS BEGIN FRIDAY

The First Lesson of the Red Cross Water Safety Program will be held on the beach southeast of Main Street at Clear Lake on Friday of this week There will be three periods of instruction: 2:30 to 3:00; 3:00 to 3.30 and 3:30 to 4:00.

Instruction will be given on Monday, Wednesday and Fridays. The advanced swimmers will have one hour periods and the beginners will have thirty minute periods.

No Band Rehearsal

There will be no band rehearsal this Friday evening and there will be no band concert on Saturday night this week. After that date concerts will again be held on Saturday nights.

Had Picnic Dinner At West Bend

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Barz and children. Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Barz and daughters; Mr. and Mrs. Walter Rosendahl and children and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Barz drove to West Bend Sunday to visit the Grotto and to enjoy a picnic dinner in the Grotto Park.

TOWN OF KLEMME GIVEN 100 PERCENT FLY CONTROL SPRAYING

New Method Developed By Iowa State College Used In Spraying Here

The entire town of Klemme was given a fly control DDT spraying here last Wednesday by the Mullins Service of Britt. This included the residential section, business section, town dump, stock yards, city park and ball field. A few places in town were accidently missed by the crew, but this will be made good when they return to give the business section the next spraying. The business section will receive 5 sprayings and the residential section 3 sprayings.

New Method Used Here

A few property owners were disappointed in the spraying as they thought it was not done efficiently. Some of the Klemme business men drove over to Britt to register the complaint with Mr. Mullin.

The method which had been used up until just very recently was that the spray nozzles were elevated to shoot the spray high into the air and the fog of DDT would settle down. This was thought to be the most efficient method. Prof. Gunderson, of Iowa State College, however, had made tests and experiments and found that in that manner most of the chemical was deposited in the tree tops and on the roofs of the houses. He learned that the large per centage of insects were near the ground and around the side walls of the houses. He then developed the "roll-in fog" type of spraying, as was used in Klemme. By shooting the DDT on the ground, the almost invisible "fog" rolls along and reaches more insects.

However, it was rather windy the day Klemme was sprayed and it may be that the job was not 100 per cent efficient. Mr. Mullins stated he will endeavor to get the next spray on when there is no wind to contend with.

Let's Not Condemn Spraying

Although some people think the job was not well done, let's give it a fair trial. The entire town was covered and we can expect results. Property owners who have chicken coops, barns, garages and other outside buildings should spray the interiors of those buildings as but little spraying would roll into those buildings.

It will also be well to remember that the DDT spray sent out from the nozzle is so fine that it is almost invisible and you may think you are not getting any spray. Formerly a fine chalk-like substance was added and the result of the spraying could be easily seen, but the powder had no fly-killing value.

If there are some property owners who are not satisfied and who thinks their place was not properly sprayed should see Dr. Dulmes or any member of the Civic Club and their complaint will be brought to the attention of Mr. Mullin.

BUSINESS PLACES TO CLOSE MONDAY

Whenever a legal holiday comes on Sunday, the Klemme business places have agreed to take Monday as their legal holiday. As July 4th comes on Sunday this year, Klemme business places will be closed all day Monday. Do your week end shopping here Saturday night.

Buy and sell with a Times want ad.

Cross Town by Roland Coe

"THE BOSS WANTS TO KNOW IF WE'LL LET HIM PLAY."

Bobby Sox by Marty Links

"SINCE YOUR RAINCOAT'S STILL AT THE CLEANER, MOM, BORROW MINE!"

NANCY

By Ernie Bushmiller

IN JUST A MOMENT --- THE LAST ACT OF OUR MYSTERY --- AND NOW--
GO TO YOUR DRUGGIST FOR A TUBE OF SQUIRTUM'S TOOTH PASTE
----AND THIS CONCLUDES TONIGHT'S MYSTERY PLAY---- GOOD-NIGHT, ALL PHOOEY

LITTLE REGGIE

By Margarita

REGGIE DID YOU SEE SOME PEARLS LYING ON THE TABLE?
WHITE— WITH A STRING THROUGH EM?
YES YES— WHERE ARE THEY?
I USED THEM IN A GAME OF NIBS!
REGGIE! DID YOU LOSE THEM?
NAW! I WON—
— AND TRADED THEM IN FOR REAL MARBLES!

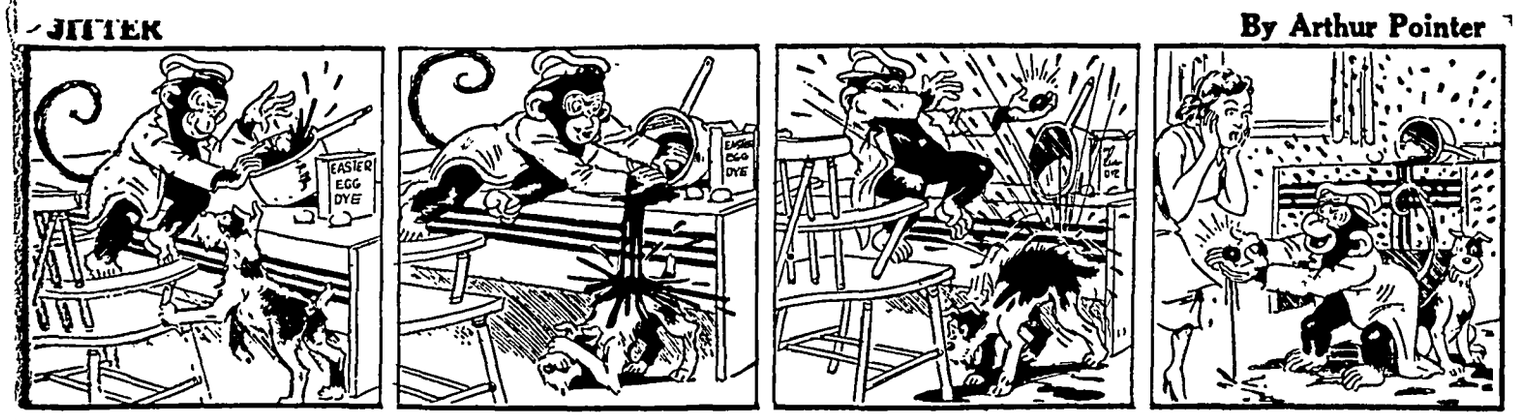
MUTT AND JEFF

By Bud Fisher

I GOT A GOOD PART IN THE MOVIES
GIT 'EM UP, PODNUH!
GIT 'EM UP!
WHAT ARE YOU DOIN', JEFF?
I'M JUST SEEIN' IF I CAN BEAT MYSELF TO THE DRAW!
STICK 'EM UP!

JITTER

By Arthur Pointer



REG'LAR FELLERS

By Gene Byrnes

NASTY NANNIGAN SAYS HE'S SORRY HE HAD A FIGHT WITH YA AN' WANSTA MAKE A PAL OF YA'
IT'S A BEAUTIFUL DEAL'
TELL NASTY I'M GAME-- LET'S LEAVE BYGONES BE HAS BEENS --I'LL MEET HIM IN A HOUR AN' SHAKE HANDS'
OKAY JIM'
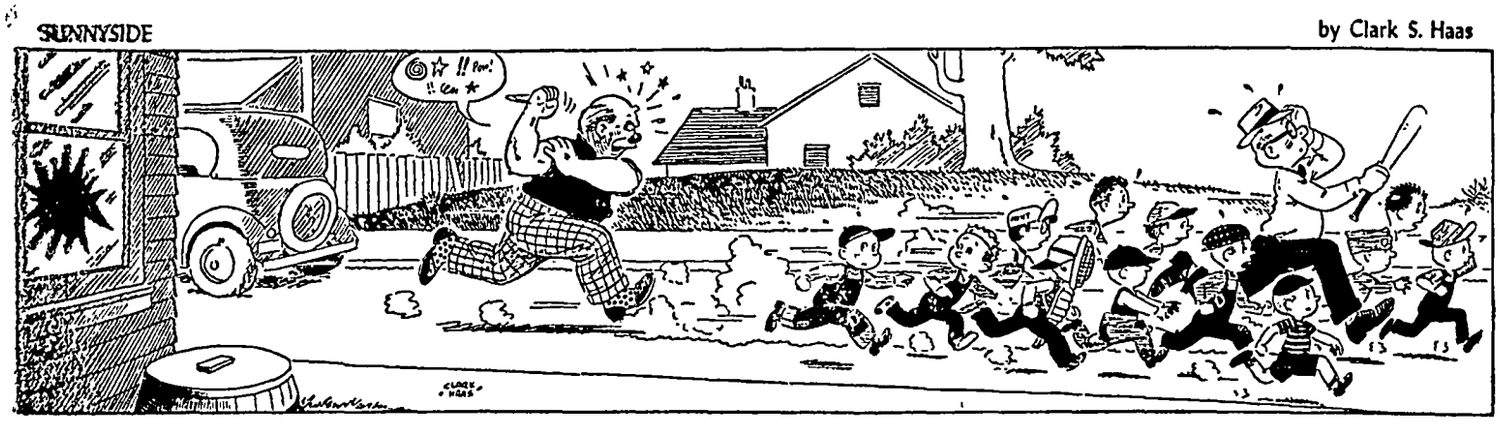
FROM NOW ON WE'RE FRIENDS, EH, NASTY' PRATIKALLY BLOOD BROTHERS, JIM PUT 'ER THERE'

SUNNYSIDE

by Clark S. Haas



VIRGIL

By Len Kleis

HEY! WHO LEFT A RING IN TH' BATHTUB?
HOW DISGUSTING!
FILTHY HABIT!
DON'T LOOK AT ME! I ALWAYS SCRUB OUT THE TUB
AND SO DO I!
IT COULDN'T HAVE BEEN ANY OF US HERE
GEE-THAT'S SWELL!- AN' I'LL BET IT'S A GENUINE DIAMOND ROOMS

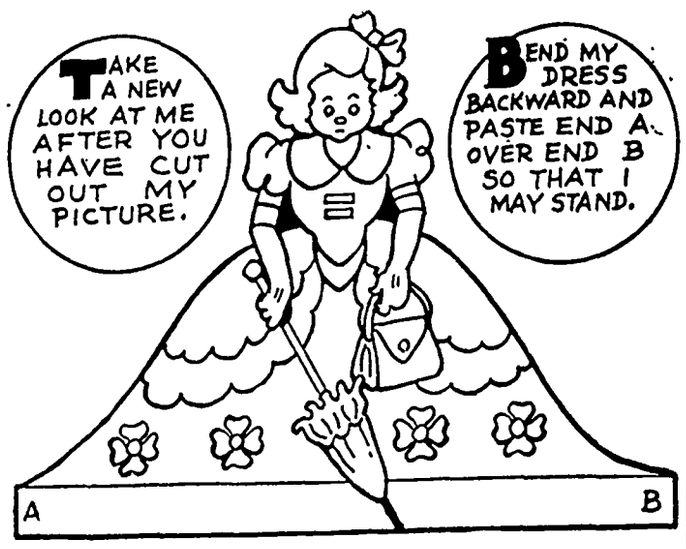
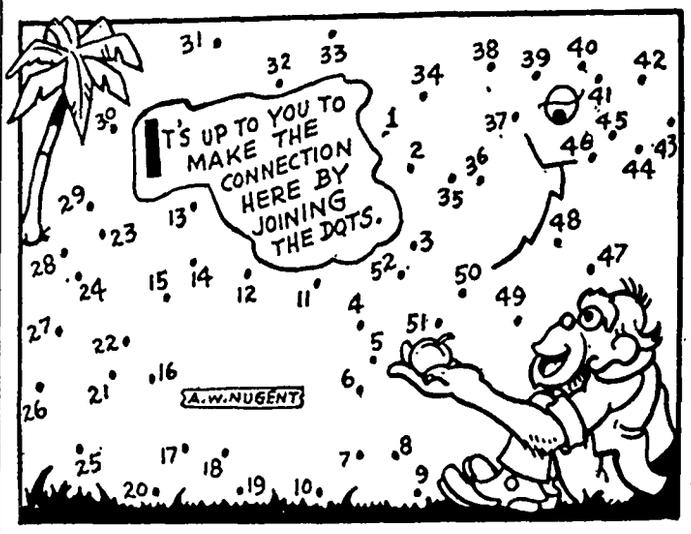
FUNLAND

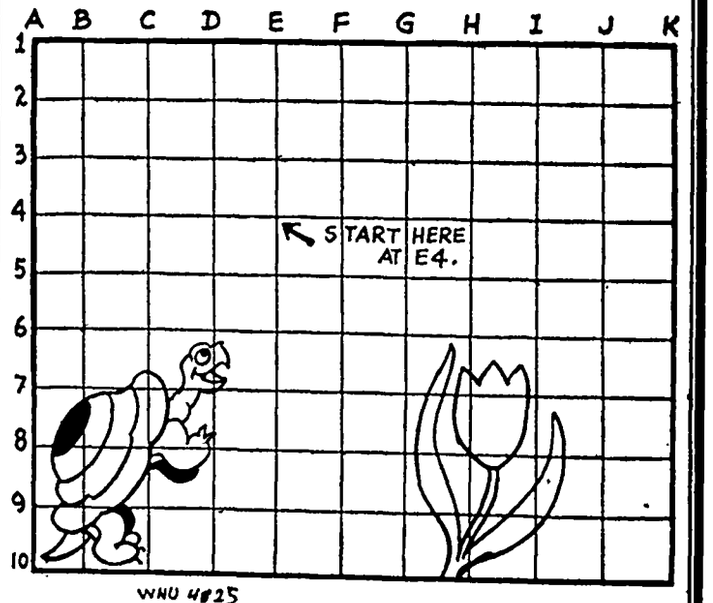
By A.W. NUGENT





LITTLE ARTISTS: COPY THIS SIMPLE DRAWING LESSON IN TWO EASY STEPS.

DRAW A CONTINUOUS LINE, TO THE SECTIONS WHERE THE LINES CROSS, IN THE FOLLOWING ORDER: E4, D5, C5, B6, E6, F5, E6, F7, G6, H6, G6, F7, F8, G9, D9, C10, I10, K8, J5, J8, J7, I5, G3, E3, K2, H1, E2, C2, B3, B4, C4 AND D5... DRAW A CIRCLE AROUND C3.



WNU 4825

CROSSWORD PUZZLE

ACROSS

1 Marked with a date
6 White linen vestment
9 Social group
10 Small perforated ball
12 Rough stone
13 Relieve 14 Dexterous
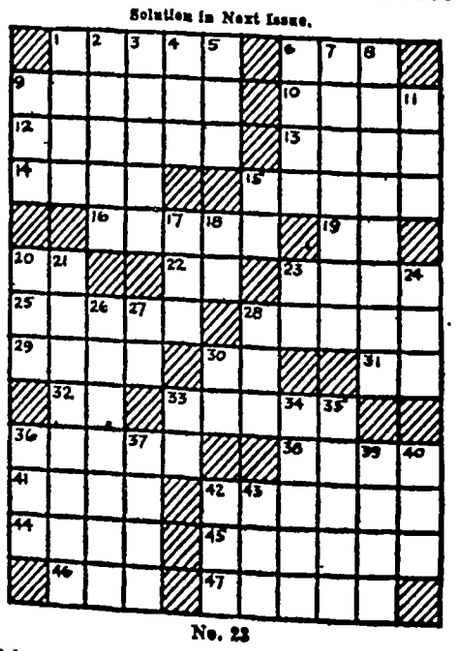
15 Like an elf
16 Mistake
19 Letter of credit (abbr.)
20 Jewish month
22 Whether
23 One who inherits
25 Holding device
28 To repeat again
29 Boy's nickname
30 Bird (Hawaiian)
31 The (Old Eng.)
32 Close to
33 Additional
36 Water vapor
38 Native of Arabia
41 Confined
42 To venerate
44 River (It.)
45 Occurrences
46 Juice of a plant
47 Postpone

DOWN

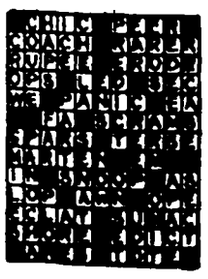
1 Paint carelessly
2 Walk slowly
3 River (It.)
4 Old measure of length
5 Color
6 Biblical name
7 Pamphlet
8 Quality of being a base (Chem.)
9 Friar's title
11 Lair
18 Erbium (sym.)
17 Tear
18 From
20 Perform
21 Large fat herrings
23 Hawaiian Islands
24 Spawn of fish
26 Part of radio set
27 Belonging to me
28 Speck-
30 Farm animal
33 Type measure
34 Fray
35 Sphere of action
36 Resort
37 On top
39 Showily imitative of art
40 God of pleasure
42 Color
43 Evening (poet.)

Solution in Next Issue.



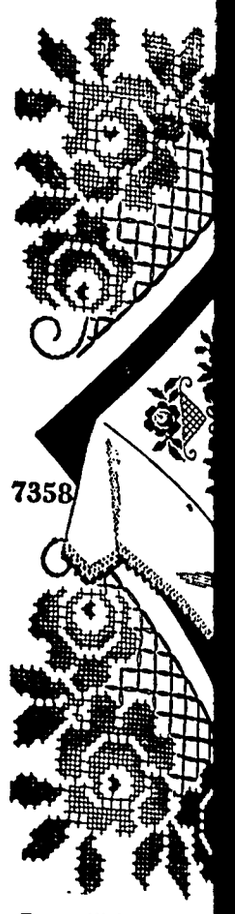
No. 23

Answer to Puzzle Number 22



WNU 4825

MAKE THIS E



7358

Cross-stitch — easiest work in the rose design ular of decorations! crosses, outline and run

Use this for any line 7358 has transfer of 20 to 4½x7½ inches.

Send 20c (in coins) fo tern to:

Sewing Circle Needlec 864 W. Randolph St. Chi Enclose 20 cents for p

No.
Name
Address

TAKE LAXATI
Try This Ins

JUST JUICE A LEM IN GLASS WAT FIR THI O ARIS

LEMON IN WA IS GOOD FOR Try it 10 days· Sun

SPRAY W Be Le

4832

—Double- elder Kills kills by fu plant Tic beneficial on original fact tainers to insure TOBACCO BY- CHEMICAL CO Nicotine Specialt LOUISVILLE 2.

One ounce plus soap makes 6 gallons of effective aphid-spray.

LOOK FOR THE LEAF ON TH

Buy U. S. Savings

CHANGE of LIFE?

Are you going through tional 'middle age' perio to women (38 to 52 yrs.)? make you suffer from h feel so nervous, highstru Then do try Lydia E. P Vegetable Compound to re symptoms. Pinkham's C also has what Doctors c machic tonic effect!

LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S

Kidneys Mu Work We

For You To Feel

24 hours every day, week, never stopping, the k waste matter from the blood.

If more people were aware Kidneys must constantly plus fluid, excess acids and matter that cannot stay in without injury to health, be better understanding of whole system is upset when to function properly.

Burning, scanty or too fre tion sometimes warns that is wrong. You may suffer ache, headaches, dizziness, pains, getting up at nights.

Why not try Doan's Pills! be using a medicine recommended country over. Doan's stimulate tion of the kidneys and help flush out poisonous waste blood. They contain nothing Get Doan's today. Use with At all drug stores.

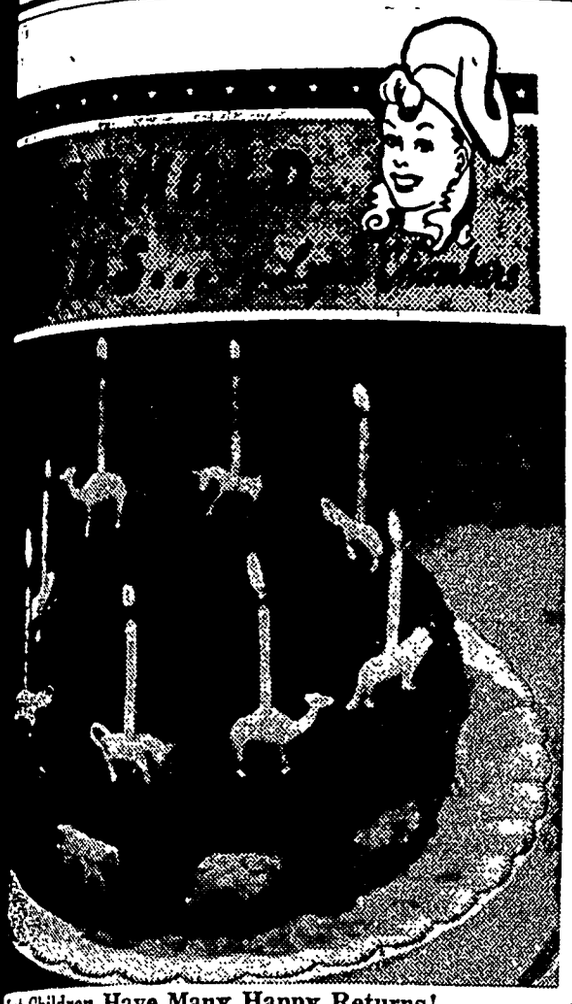
DOAN'S PIL



Let Children Have Many Happy Returns!
(See Recipes Below)

...y Birthday

...TS WILL MATCH the ...a real birthday party ... your youngster. The ...ed by a few favors, ... decorations, a house ... friends and a cake all ...e are the things a child ...er so pleasantly for a ...

...party menus depend ...e age of the children. ... food is the order of ...ildren of three or four; ...en of five or six, the ...ghtly more elaborate. ...en 8 to 10 and older ...gs such as lamb chops ...s for the main dish, ... important to plan to ...miliar foods for little ...

...and cake are essentials ... party no matter what ...p. For the younger ...ever, serve only plain ...ch as vanilla, and a ... not too rich cake, so ...no digestive upsets.

* * *

...S AND RECIPES I've ... give you a clue as to ...o plan these particular ...

...y Party Menu ...ngsters 3 to 4) ... of Tomato Soup ... or ...ickerod Eggs ... Sticks or Curls ...ter-Jelly Sandwiches ...eam Sponge Cake with ... Orange Icing ...

...eggs are a nutritious ...the party is for lunch ...e. Eggs prepared this ...a bit more partified ...d eggs. ...

...ickerod Eggs ...erves 6 to 8) ...ons butter or substitute ...ons flour ...p ...n salt ...iled eggs ...

...edges ...cerfter, blend in flour, ...k slowly and stir in ... Cook until thickened. ... eggs into tiny slivers ...the white sauce. Pour ...ture over toast wedges ...th hard-cooked yolks ...gh a sieve. Garnish ...

...ches may be omitted ...s are served, but if ... may be made into ...d also served. If ...served, they may be ... plate along with it. ... will do the job nicely ...er generation is this ...th hot milk, eggs and ...shortening. It may be ...y with a confectioners' ...ed with orange juice ... with grated orange ... it through a pastry ... and don't forget to ... birthday across it and ...

...ix Sponge Cake ...p ... sugar ...p milk or water ... cake flour ... salt ... baking powder ... lemon extract ...ten egg whites ...yolks until very thick; ...radually and continue ...

...e Be ...ey Savers ...e a few pieces of pine- ... them to garnish and ...meat dish for dinner. ...uits? Combine them ...salad. Or make them ...for a pudding. ...e some leftover pota- ...e boiled? Brush them ...fat and broil along ...ers, chops or a slice ...

LYNN CHAMBERS' MENU

Chicken Chop Suey on Rice
Chinese Noodles
Molded Orange Salad
Bran Muffins Jelly
Beverage Rhubarb Pie

beating. Add milk; mix well and add sifted dry ingredients. Mix until smooth and add extract. Fold in egg whites. Bake in an ungreased cake pan in a slow (325 degree) oven for one hour. Invert pan to cool, then frost.

Birthday Party Menu
(For Children 5 to 6)

Creamed Chicken in Toast Cups
Green Peas Carrot Slices
Ice Cream and Birthday Cake
Beverage

You may use the recipe for creamed eggs, and use chicken. The green peas may be mixed with the chicken or served separately. The carrot slices may be raw or cooked and served with the peas. Use the same cake as suggested for the first menu.

Birthday Party Menu
(For Children over 7)

Lamb Chops on Toast or Hamburgers on Broiled
Tomato Slices
Potatoes Au Gratin Green Beans
Ice Cream with Sauce or Crushed Fresh Berries
Birthday Cake
Milk

If you serve lamb chops, it's a good idea to have them boned when you give them to the younger children. They're more healthful, too, if they're broiled.

Here's a tasty recipe for hamburgers, if you decide on them for the party:

Broiled Hamburgers
(Serves 6)

1 pound ground round or chuck
2 tablespoons chili sauce
1 1/2 teaspoons prepared mustard
1 teaspoon minced onion
1/4 cup fine bread crumbs
1 1/2 teaspoons Worcestershire sauce
1/4 teaspoon pepper
8 slices bread
8 slices fresh tomato

Combine all ingredients except sliced bread and tomatoes. Spread on slices of bread. Broil for eight minutes at moderate heat, then top with tomatoes which have been broiled at the same time. Serve at once.

* * *

FOR YOUR BIRTHDAY CAKE, select a yellow, white or chocolate one depending upon the youngsters' preference. Then frost it with chocolate frosting, as given below. The cake may be put together with marshmallow cream, spread with the frosting. A procession of animal crackers around the sides will delight the children. If animal candle holders are available, use them on top.

Magic Chocolate Frosting

2 squares unsweetened chocolate
1 1/3 cups (1 can) sweetened condensed milk
1 tablespoon water

Melt chocolate in top of double boiler. Add sweetened, condensed milk, then stir over boiling water five minutes until the mixture thickens. Add water. Cool. Spread on cold cake. This recipe makes enough frosting for the top and sides of two (nine-inch) layers.

Released by WNU Features

What can you do with those sliced tomatoes? Use them in meat loaf or meat patties or as a sauce base for flavoring other meats. Or stew and sieve them and use for soup.

Is there a dab of applesauce in the refrigerator? Cook it into the youngsters' morning farina or use it in an applesauce cake.

Never toss away those delicious fruit juices from canned fruit. Thicken with cornstarch and use as pudding sauce or as liquid for gelatin desserts and salads.

The FICTION Corner

THE BIG CHANCE

By FREDERICK LAING

HE WASN'T the kind to pick a secretary by the color of her hair. Not Bill Hargrave. Both Paula and Nancy had been smart enough to know that. And for some time every one in the office had known that one of them, Paula or Nancy, was going to get the job. In fact, the decision probably would come through this afternoon. Hargrave was leaving town and wanted to get it settled.

The two girls could see him from their desks outside his office. Maybe it was only a set of proofs for the Zippo campaign that he was looking at with cool, keen eyes. But for a moment his finger seemed to pause above those two efficient little push-buttons. If he pressed the left one, it would be Paula's pulse that would go into high speed.

Paula couldn't keep her eyes off that light on her desk. She kept making mistakes in her typing and nervously ripping the sheets out to start fresh again.

She leaned across her typewriter and said to Nancy: "The boss is all dolled up today. Must be going on a special trip with the new president of Zippo."

She was just talking to relieve her nervousness. Nancy took her time about answering. She wasn't used to having Paula talk to her in such an intimate tone. Not since they'd learned a month ago that they were both in line for a promotion, for the important job as Bill Hargrave's secretary.

"He does look nice," she said, finally.

Hargrave was young and outside of office hours he was said to be human. But that wasn't why he'd gotten to be one of the key men at Advertising, Inc. He was quiet, and some of the boys in the office hadn't realized how fast he was traveling until they somehow happened to get in his way.

The two girls saw him get up from his desk and walk to the doorway of his office. He stood there with one hand in a pocket of his double-breasted blue flannel suit. There was a small white flower in his buttonhole and the usual keen, unrevealing smile on his face.

"Did you send for the tickets?" he asked Nancy.

"I got the tickets all right," she answered, "but . . ." and she tried to smile in the same hard way the boss did. She looked as hardboiled as a white kitten. "But there just aren't any staterooms to be had," she told him. "Not for love or money."

The boss was certainly disappointed. Anybody could see that.

"Suppose I try it?" Paula suggested quickly.

And for the next 10 minutes, half the office force could hear Paula telling the ticket agent where to get off.

"Listen," she said, "I don't care whose reservations you have to cancel . . ."

Well, the job was worth going after. There was the salary, for one thing. And there was the prestige. The boss' secretary knew a lot of answers. And there were the interesting people she got to talk to. The big shots. And the boxes of perfume, flowers and candy they often left on her desk.

And there was Bill Hargrave for a boss. Young and clever and attractive. That was a factor, too. Because in the advertising business you called the boss "Bill," and he called his secretary "Nancy" or "Paula," and took her to dinner on the expense account, on nights when the work was late.

It was all strictly business, but it seemed intimate and informal.

Both Paula and Nancy knew about those dinners. Bill had tried to be fair. He would ask Paula to stay one night, and then it would be Nancy's turn the next.

But Paula had been smart. She'd soon learned how impersonal Bill Hargrave could be, even at those intimate dinners. About as personal as an ad that says. "This means you." And she saw how much harder to please he was during the overtime hours — more irritable, more apt to get that edge of complaint in his voice.

So when Nancy had said, "I don't mind staying nights, really. I know Paula usually has a date. She's popular with the men . . ." well, Paula had been glad to let it go at that. She'd been quick to see that neither of them was going to get the job mainly on sex appeal, and she was right.

Paula didn't need any lessons when it came to office politics. She was the one who was always busy when some copy cub wanted his stuff typed. "Sorry, but it's impossible, Mac. Why not ask Nancy?"

And they did. It left Paula free to do Bill Hargrave's work in a hurry. Never too busy for Mr. Bill.

When Hargrave finally pressed one of those buttons it was at Paula's desk that the light flickered. She started to make a grab for her note book, but she whipped out her mirror first. Then she grabbed up her note book and an envelope that was on the desk.

As for Nancy, what else could she do but sit there with her pretty blonde head bent over her typewriter? Nancy was a natural blonde, and that seemed the best way to describe her She just didn't seem to know any tricks.

The moment Paula got inside Hargrave's office, he asked about that stateroom.

"Any luck, Paula?"

No, Paula hadn't been dumb. It was the little things that would add with Mr. Bill. Orchestra seats when the client was in town and the show was sold out. Or a stateroom when there were "no staterooms to be had for love or money."

She handed him the envelope. It contained the two sets of tickets. "That's your stateroom number on the outside," she said crisply.

She had on a double-breasted blue flannel suit something like Bill's, and it was clear he thought she looked pretty smart in it.

"Don't forget the time," she added, "eight fifteen."

Hargrave grinned. "So there were no staterooms for love or money, eh?"

He looked again at the number of his stateroom and he put the envelope carefully in his inside pocket.

Then he told her. She had a new job. He mentioned the salary, too. He didn't neglect to mention the salary.

She took it just right. Just enough of gratitude. And then, the old sportsmanship. How sorry she felt about Nancy. She didn't look sorry.

And neither did Bill. He told her it was okay, that Nancy wasn't made for the job anyway, and that they were leaving on their honeymoon tonight. Tonight, at eight fifteen.

And for the next 10 minutes, half the office force could hear Paula snappily telling the ticket agent where to get off.

Grave Noël
SO long I have been guided by Thy power
Up many a tangled path and stony hill,
And now, dear Lord, through this strange darkened hour
Be with me still.
Be with me for the way is long and lonely,
I am bewildered, and I cannot see,
But, Lord, I shall not be afraid if only
You walk with me.
If I can ever keep recalling
The darkened roads I traveled in the past,
How, after You long guarded me from falling,
Light shone at last:
Then surely, Lord, I can go forward knowing
That somewhere on the hills the light will dawn,
And I shall reach it safely if, in going,
You still lead on.

Tricks for Teens

By NANCY PEPPER

Wise Guise

Clip this paragraph out for your own favorite Joe and, if he can take a hint, he'll come around next weekend looking like something out of Smart magazine. It's about time we told the boys how you felt about their clothes, anyway. They certainly haven't stopped telling you ever since the "new look."

CORDUROY COMMOTION — By actual survey, we find that you high school Jills think every boy looks his best in a corduroy jacket. You're partial to the light tan jobs, worn with sharp slacks. You also like to date something in a three-quarter length corduroy coat. And, with his letter sweater, you think yellow corduroy slacks make him look as suave as Rory Calhoun.

BEAUX WITHOUT BOWS — The majority of tenn-age girls vote against bow ties—but go all out for wild four-in-hand ties that light up the dark without benefit of electricity. On his ties you like one of those new clasps that looks as if it had been pierced right through the fabric. In fact, you like them so much that you're begging, borrowing, or stealing them from him. Well, if at first you don't succeed when you ask for one—just cry, cry again!

LET'S FACE IT
Parties will be disappointing,
Until with this you've coped:
They can never be as good
As in advance you'd hoped.

BRING 'EM BACK ALIVE!

The revival of "Gone With the Wind" has made lots of you wonder where are the movies of yesteryear, and why doesn't someone bring them back. When you enjoy a book you read it over and over. How many times have you read "Seventeenth Summer?" But, when you enjoy a movie—it's usually only the memory that lingers on; the movie, itself, disappears like yesterday's snow. According to a recent soda fountain survey, here are the epics you'd like to eat popcorn through again.

"STATE FAIR"—Jeanne was so lovely—and there must be a word for Dana, but we can't think of it. Then, there's that music!

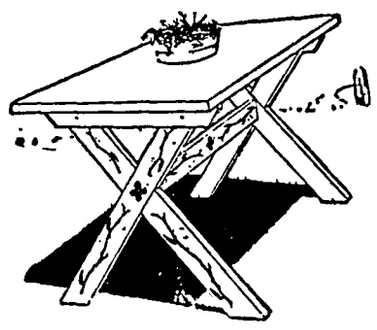
"JOLSON STORY"—It's practically everyone's choice for a revival at least once a month.

"MRS. MINIVER" — You'll even forgive Greer for "Desire Me" if she'll bring the Minivers back to town with her.

Well, when it comes to movies—one good showing deserves another.

Peasant Table Built From Full Pattern

DINE out on this gayly decorated, easy-to-build Peasant Table. Ideally suited for use on porch, lawn or dining room. Full size pattern simplifies making and decorating.



User merely traces pattern on lumber specified, saws and assembles exactly where pattern indicates No special tools or skill required. A matching bench, suitable for use on lawn or porch, can be made from Pattern No. 57.

Send 25c for Peasant Table Pattern No. 17 to Easi-Bild Pattern Company, Department W, Pleasantville, New York.

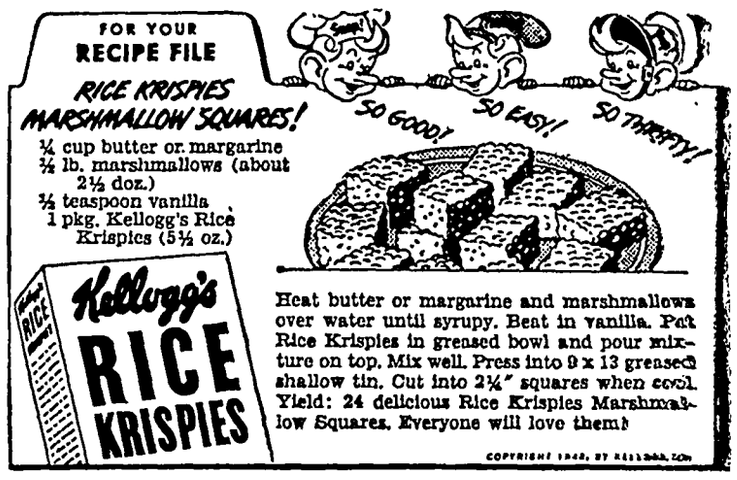
Sun Valley's Dogs

Many of Sun Valley's dogs came from Alaskan Eskimo tribes and others have come from Eastern Canada. The result has been a good blending of traits that result in strong, very gentle dogs that have proved ideal for the long runs over miles of trails.

Yodora checks perspiration odor
THE SOOTHINGEST WAY
Made with a face cream base. Yodora is actually soothing to normal skins.
No harsh chemicals or irritating salts. Won't harm skin or clothing.
Stays soft and creamy, never gets grainy.
Try gentle Yodora—feel the wonderful difference!
Guaranteed by Good Housekeeping
Yodora
The GENTLER cream deodorant
McKesson & Robbins, Inc., Bridgeport, Conn.

"Everybody loves"
SMACKS
THE REALLY DELICIOUS COCONUT BAR!

★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★
A Safe, Sound Investment—
Buy U. S. Savings Bonds!
★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★



FOR YOUR RECIPE FILE
RICE KRISPIES MARSHMALLOW SQUARES!
SO GOOD! SO EASY! SO THRIFTY!
¼ cup butter or margarine
⅓ lb. marshmallows (about 2½ doz.)
½ teaspoon vanilla
1 pkg. Kellogg's Rice Krispies (5½ oz.)
Kellogg's RICE KRISPIES
Heat butter or margarine and marshmallows over water until syrupy. Beat in vanilla. Pat Rice Krispies in greased bowl and pour mixture on top. Mix well. Press into 9 x 13 greased shallow tin. Cut into 2¼" squares when cool. Yield: 24 delicious Rice Krispies Marshmallow Squares. Everyone will love them!
COPYRIGHT 1948, BY KELLOGG CO.

√Check and Double Check
Pipe smokers and "makin's" smokers agree—
"There's greater smoking pleasure and comfort with Prince Albert."
√ FOR PIPES
I GET REAL TONGUE-EASY SMOKING COMFORT WITH RICH-TASTING PRINCE ALBERT IN MY PIPE
G. R. Bondurant says, "I know what they mean when they say crimp cut P.A. is specially treated to insure against tongue bite." G. R. Bondurant
√ FOR PAPERS
CRIMP CUT PRINCE ALBERT IS GREAT 'MAKIN'S' FOR CIGARETTES. P.A. ROLLS UP FAST AND SMOKES MILD AND TASTY
"There's more enjoyment in a Prince Albert cigarette," says Bill Goldsmith. "P.A.'s choice tobacco is crimp cut—holds in the paper for easier shaping." Bill Goldsmith
R. J. Reynolds Tob. Co. Winston-Salem, N. C.
PRINCE ALBERT
CRIMP CUT
LONG BURNIN' PIPE AND CIGARETTE TOBACCO
The National Joy Smoke
MORE MEN SMOKE
PRINCE ALBERT
THAN ANY OTHER TOBACCO
Tune in Prince Albert's "Grand Ole Opry" Saturday Nights on N. B. C.

KLEMME LOCAL NEWS

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Kluckhohn of Stanhope were among the out of towners who attended the Alumni banquet Friday evening. Mrs. Kluckhohn and children had been here several days previous visiting at the parental Albert Schmidt and C. E. Kluckhohn homes.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Arnold and Evelyn after attending the annual Lau family reunion at Strawberry Point Sunday, visited at the H. H. Oelke home in Farmersburg. Monday morning they called at the T. E. Hartwick home in Giard and at the Louisa Rienzenhauser home in Monona. The Arnolds arrived home Monday evening.

BRING YOUR CAR TO US FOR

Greasing

AND A COMPLETE SPRING CHANGEOVER

*

In Motor Oil, Transmission, Differentail, Wheels and Chassis.

*

We have the equipment and proper lubricants to give you the best service.

*

See us for your needs in Batteries, Spark Plugs, and accessories of all kinds.

*

Smith's

STANDARD SERVICE
Klemme Iowa

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Suckow expect to leave for their home at De Ridder, La. about July 1st. They have spent a couple of weeks here visiting with relatives and friends.

Mr and Mrs. Henry Busse visited Saturday evening at the home of Mrs. Frank Sandry.

Miss Ada Mutch left Monday afternoon for her home in Grundy Center after visiting for several days the past week and the week end at the Dr. A. H. Dulmes home. Dick went home with her for a visit.

Dr. and Mrs. A. H. Dulmes and Dick expect to take their summer vacation the first two weeks in July.

Awald Grosshuesch, who is attending the summer session at the State Teachers College, has spent the week end visiting with his parents, Rev. and Mrs. Calvin Grosshuesch.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Henry Galbreth and son, Billie, of Des Moines, visited a short time on Saturday afternoon with old Klemme friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Neuberger and family, Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Neuberger and family, Janice Swanson, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Lemke and Pamela, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Hippen and family from Renwick, Mr. and Mrs. Marion Anderson from Corwith, Wert Loger, Mrs. Lewis Neuberger and Lester Neuberger and family enjoyed a picnic dinner at the Lester Neuberger home, Sunday, in honor of Donald and Lester's birthdays.

Mrs. Oscar Busse of St. Cloud, Minnesota came last Tuesday for a visit with Mrs. Frank Sandry and other relatives in this community

John Petersen of Seneca, Ill., came Sunday for a visit at the A. J. Kudje home.

Patricia Kudjo left Monday afternoon on the rocket for Kansas City, for a visit at the Harry Heite home.

Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell Bock and children, and Carolyn Burr of Ogden, drove to Rowan on Wednesday evening and visited with Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Gordon.

Carolyn Burr of Ogden left Wednesday for her home, after spending the past week visiting at Mitchell Bock's and Mrs. Naska Bock homes.

Mrs. Emmett Rogers of Lexington, Ill., who has been visiting for a couple weeks with her sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Meyer at Miller, returned home Friday evening. Mrs. Rogers was the former Miss Vivian Haner, daughter of Mrs. Chas. McKee.

Mrs. Melvin Pearson and Lydia Pearson and Betty Ann Kramer were shopping in Mason City Saturday afternoon.

Mrs. Paul Kramer visited with Mrs. Mike Kearney on Thursday afternoon.

Geo. and Dave Henry from Ventura helped Clarence and Delbert Bachman paint the buildings on the farm tenanted by Mr. and Mrs. Art Conners.

Robert Cavitt spent Wednesday at the Art Conners home.

Darlene and Robert Bachman and Stevie Nettifee were callers at the Art Lyons home Wednesday afternoon.

The Grosshuesch family drove to Melbourne Sunday morning, where Rev. Grosshuesch conducted the services and baptized a grandchild, Joel Ruben, son of Rev. and Mrs. Ruben Grosshuesch. In the afternoon they attended a Mission Festival at Baxter where Ruben was the speaker.

Mrs. Lawrence Schaefer of Milwaukee, Wis., came Tuesday for a visit with Mr and Mrs. Carl Suckow and with Klemme relatives.

Klemme friends have received word that Mrs. Charlie Ell of California is very ill at this time.

CROPS DAMAGED BY HAIL

A hail storm struck Klemme and vicinity late Tuesday afternoon. The greatest damage centered around the Barz farms just east of Klemme. Corn and beans were stripped on Raymond Barz's farm which seemed to be in the storm center. Heavy losses to beans and corn was also done on the Glen Terhufen and Milvern Barz farms. Lighter damage was done in the neighborhood along the path of the storm.

We specialize in printing Wedding Announcements.

Surprise Party

Mrs. Clarence Lemke planned and successfully carried out a surprise party on Mrs. Otto Lemke on Wednesday afternoon, June 23rd, when she invited in a group of neighbors and friends to help celebrate her birthday. The afternoon was spent playing games after which a delicious lunch was served by Mrs. Clarence Lemke. The honored guest received many lovely gifts, cards and handkerchiefs as a remembrance of the day.

CHARLES ROSENOU PASSED ON AT MASON SITY HOSPITAL

Services for Charles Rosenou, father of Mrs. Leslie Hartbeck, retired farmer died at a Mason City hospital Wednesday, June 23, 1948.

Charles Rosenou was born in Prussia, Germany, son of Frederick and Anna Kramm Rosenou. He came to America to join a brother at the age of 15.

December 31, 1900 Mr. Rosenou was married to Maude Estella Temby. They lived on a farm near Cornelia for three years. He lived until 1920 south of Clear Lake, then he purchased a farm north of Ventura, where he resided until his wife died in 1941. For the last three years he has made his home at his daughters.

Mr. Rosenou is survived by four children: Mrs. Leslie Hartbeck, of Klemme, Mrs. Hallis Bokelman, of Ventura, Fred Rosenou, of Ventura, and Emil Rosenou in Germany with the armed forces. Six grand children and two great grand children and a brother, Gustave Rasnou, of Manson.

Services were held at the Evangelical United Brethren Church at Ventura, Rev. E. M. Miller, pastor, assisted by Rev. C. Grosshuesch of the Evangelical and Reformed Church of Klemme.

JUNE DAIRY MONTH SALUTE TO SALES

June Dairy Month is the time set aside by the dairy farmers and their industry to pay tribute to the dairy cow and the milk she produces for a better way of life for all mankind.

America is lucky to have milk enough to go around. There are many countries in the world practically without milk today. While other countries are slowly regaining their agricultural productivity, authorities agree it will be several years before dairy production will be restored to a level that will begin to take care of their own needs.

America is fortunate to have these precious dairy foods. Because of their nutritive value, milk and dairy products still are the nations best food buys on today's market. Housewives get more food in a quart of milk for their money than any other food. Milk has long been regarded by scientists and nutritionists as nature's most perfect single food. Cheese, butter, evaporated milk, ice cream and powdered milk are concentrated forms of the goodness of milk.

During June Dairy Month, dairy farmers throughout the United States observe the period as action time to remind the consumer of the goodness of dairy foods. It is also the time when they put together the funds that build their advertising, merchandising, research and educational program to promote sales of dairy products in the year ahead. Perhaps the greatest contribution which dairymen make to agriculture and the nation is in their contribution to soil conservation. The hay and pasture that maintain the soil fertility.

Ice Cream And Cake

Spearheading the Junetime action of the nation's dairy farmers during the June Dairy Month is the ice cream and cake promotion, sponsored by the State and International Ice Cream Manufacturers' association and leading manufactures of cake flours.

Colorful advertising will reach into more than 38 million homes Ads of the American Dairy Association will spotlight ice cream and cake. The same combination will receive extra sales impetus at no extra cost to the ADA through the nationwide advertising program of cake flour manufactures.

Nation-Wide Action In June

The ice cream and cake promotion is only one of more than a dozen merchandising events scheduled for the coming months on all dairy products. The year around, month-by-month, merchandising program is made possible by the Advertising set-aside of dairy farmers in the 40 major milk producing states enlisted under the business banner of the American Dairy Association and acting just once a year to make June Dairy Month the springboard for 12 months of sales activities.

FLY CONTROL MAY HELP PREVENT POLIO

Will an outbreak of infantile paralysis terrorize Iowans this summer?

The mysterious disease, with its crippling after-effects, was found but little in the state last year. That was the year of the first successful statewide fly control program.

Whether flies can be blamed for "polio" has never been definitely determined but there is some evidence which links them to it.

Experiments have shown that they do carry the poliomyelitis virus. They have infected experimental animals with the disease, and they have contaminated food which in turn produced polio in experimental animals.

The only remaining gap is the lack of proof that flies can infect humans, says Harold Gunderson Iowa State College entomologist.

But even without a direct indictment of flies as polio carriers there is plenty of reason for destroying them.

Public health officials long ago put the finger on flies as contributing to at least 20 diseases, including typhoid tuberculosis, dysentery and summer complaint in infants.

And the Iowa Fly Control Campaign which this month swings into its second season offers a tested method of ridding Hancock of flies. Sanitation cleaning up of garbage and the other fly-breeding filth — plus DDT sprays get the job done. It's as simple as that. Half the towns and cities in Iowa found the method successful last year Hancock County can hardly afford to pass up the opportunity this year.

BEGIN USING DDT ON FARM ANIMALS Start Early To Avoid Having

Generations of Flies That Can Resist

Flies may not be bothering livestock on Iowa farms yet—but it's not too early to start killing the first generation. Later generations may become resistant to DDT and be difficult to kill, Harold Gunderson, Iowa State extension entomologist, said this week.

The use of DDT at the right time can make quite a difference in dollars and cents at market time, Gunderson says. Beef cattle show greater gains under fly-free conditions and have been known to gain as much as ½ pound more per day when treated with DDT. Tests conducted on Iowa dairy herds last year proved that 12 cents worth of DDT can increase the production of a dairy cow by 200 pounds of milk in a 2-month period.

Use Wettable Powder

DDT in the wettable powder or dust form is recommended for most flies, lice, sheep ticks' bedbugs on poultry, fleas and brown dog ticks.

Wettable powder is recommended for all farm uses. Purchase the 50 percent DDT wettable powder and mix it 1 pound to 12½ gallons of water to make a 0.5 percent DDT spray, or 2 pounds to 5 gallons of water to make a 2½ percent DDT spray.

Oil solutions, usually 5 percent DDT, are used principally on screens and garbage cans.

When dusting, a 10 percent dust usually is used. Sulfur, clay or talc are the usual carries.

In all cases, be sure to read the directions accompanying the chemicals, Gunderson recommends. Success in using this method of insect control depends upon the time it is applied and the care used in applying it.

Mr. And Mrs. Emil Beier Return From Interesting Trip.

Mr. and Mrs. Emil Beier have demonstrated that it is not necessary to travel several thousand miles to see interesting scenery and famous places on a vacation trip. They returned home Saturday from a trip to near by places.

They took in the sights and visited at Lake Geneva where they enjoyed a boat ride on the beautiful blue water lake,, Milwaukee, Watertown, Beaver Dam and Columbus, Wisconsin. They took the boat trip through the scenic Dells of Wisconsin.

They took in the wonders of Eagle Cave, Wis., and Niagara Cave near Harmony, Minn. They visited Pike's Peak at McGregor, Iowa, and saw the many scenic sights around there. At Spillville, Iowa, they visited the Billy Brothers famous collection of clocks. They said this alone was worth driving from Klemme to see. They also visited the world's smallest church near Festena. This little church was built of stone 100 years ago and seats 8 people.

Through Wisconsin peas were being harvested for canning and they saw many pea viners at work and canning factories.

On the way home they had breakfast Saturday morning with Marvin Suckow, son of Rev. and Mrs. Wm. Suckow. Marvin works at a jewelry store there.

The Beiers left Klemme with Iowa air in their tires and returned with the same air. They had a wonderful trip and one which could be taken profitably by anyone who wants to see a lot of scenery without traveling far from home.

Could Not Find Many Corn Borer Eggs In Stocks Around Here

August Lau, local De Kalb seed corn dealer, stopped at The Times office Saturday to give us the "low down" on the corn.

Mr. Lau had three leaves of corn which had corn borer eggs on the under side. At the first glance the eggs appear to be just a white spot on the under side of the leaf and next to the rib. Under a glass the eggs are visable.

Mr. Lau says he has examined a lot of fields around here and the egg count is low. However, he advises farmers to be on a sharp lookout for the borers and check the number to be found. The 3 samples he had were picked from 100 stalks selected at random and in this case there was nothing to be alarmed about.

SUNBEAMS HEAR CAMPERS REPORTS

Friday, June 11, ten members of the Avery Sunbeams Club heard the reports from the two girls who attended the 4-H District Camp. The campers had a very good time, and learned many interesting things in their various classes and activities.

For old business, it was decided that the club will pay half of the campers fees and also half of the fees for the girl who will attend the State Convention.

During new business we discussed plans for the all day meeting which will be held on June 29. The meeting will begin at 10:00. We sh work shop in the following a pot luck
Doris Gruis gave a to day care of cl Lowenburg gave a
tion on sewing a butt
The meeting was songs and an interes which was led by Li

FISHING LICENSES APRIL 1947 SA

More than twice
Iowans purchased l fish during April 194 out permits during month in 1947, accord ures released by the servation Commission, thousand, four hun
ninety-seven anglers
245.50 this year co
27,891 for $41,842.33 th year. Combination lic
bined permits to hun increased from 44,641
Commission official ing the increase, po
that for fishing li mild spring weather stream stages this ye trast to cold weather water in 1947 was pr
sponsible for early b
a May drop-off was
Some net increase in ber of license buyers
ed because of a cont
ward trend throughout
The increased number bination buyers is due to a more opt.m
of the fall game popul
was general a year ag

BIBLE SCHOOL CLOS PROGRAM AND

The Bible School of me Evangelical and Church closed with a
and picnic Friday Jun
The enrollment for week period was 10
average attendance of had a perfect attendan
The teachers and lea
as follows Music Dire
Elizabeth Goll, Pianist,
Rosendahl; Primary
Lois Ann Lau; Leader,
Nuehring; First Grade
Miss Beulah Goll.
Junior Department
Miss Rosie Lauden, Le
lian Wille; Intermed
partment: Teacher, M
Fuss; Leader, Mildre
ers. Senior Departmen
er, Rev. Grosshuesch;
Luella Priebe and Del
jens.

WORRIED ABOUT

Eating

You don't hvae to about what you are to eat when you c
the Quandt Cafe.
Always a good meal
for you. Here you c a meal that is well-
ed and satisfying.

TOBACCOS
ICE CREAM
CIGARETTES
CANDY BARS

Thank You
QUANDT'S CA
Mr. and Mrs. Con
Quandt

When it's HOT

AND SULTRY OUTSIDE

Cool off with your favorite ice cold drink at Joe's where it's always cool and comfortable.

Meet Your Friends At

Joe's Place

Joe Finnegan, Prop. Klemme, Iowa

THE CHILDREN WILL LOVE

Chocolate Milk!

AT YOUR STORE OR DELIVERED TO YOUR DOOR

Or get it at your favorite soft drink counter. Here's a delicious refreshing drink that gives you more in a health provider than you can get for your money in any other way.

Adults as well as children love this chocolate flavored drink. Put several bottles in your refrigerator.

Per Quart ---------- 15c
One-Half Pint ---------- 05c

Klemme Coop. Creamery Co.

Kenneth Medin, Manager Klemme, Iowa

AVERY

—The—
Theatre Beautiful
Garner, Iowa

JUNE 30, JULY 1
Wednes. - Thursday
DANGEROUS YEARS
WILLIAM HALOP
ANN E. TODD
SCOTTY BECKETT

JULY 2, 3
Friday - Saturday
TRAIL TO SAN ANTONE
GENE AUTRY
— DOUBLE FEATURE —
HALF PAST MIDNIGHT
DANGER! MURDER!
KENT TALLOR
PEGGY KNUDSEN

JULY 4, 5, 6
Sun. - Mon. - Tues.
SHE'S YOUR NEW GIRL FRIEND!
"MICKEY"
IN CINECOLOR
Starring
LOIS BUTLER
With BILL GOODWIN
IRENE HERVEY

Wednes. - Thursday
GHOST GOES WILD
Starring
JAMES ELLISON
ANNE GWYNNE
EDWARD EVERETT
Edward Everett Horton
Ruth Donnelly

Notice

The Drivers Licence Examiners will b
the Courthouse inGarner, Iowa to renew ers licences on the following dates: Each day during he month of July, and on Wed day the 7th and 28th.

If the number in the upper right hand
ner of your drivers licence is over 500,000, drivers licence must be renewed within 30
before your next birthday after July 5, 194

If you are absent from the state, when drivers licence are to be renewed you may tain an extension certificate from Drivers ence Division, State House, Des Mones, I
by written request. Give your full name, address and number of your drivers licence

L. M. Brower

SHERIFF

OPEN HOUSE

AT

KLEMME FOOD MARKET

Friday and Saturday July 2 and 3

WE INVITE YOU TO COME IN AND HELP US CELEBRATE THE OPENING OF OUR SELF SERVICE GROCERY DEPARTMENT.

FREE PRIZES

100 lbs. SUGAR

SMOKED HAM

50 lb. Bag Of Flour

25 lb. Bag Of Flour

FREE GIFT TO EVERYONE USING THE SELF SERVICE CARTS.

EVERYONE IS WELCOME TO TRY FOR OUR GIFTS. THE ABOVE ITEMS WILL BE GIVEN AWAY ON SATURDAY NIGHT AT 9:00 P. M. YOU NEED NOT BE PRESENT TO RECEIVE A GIFT.

OCCIDENT
Flour
$3.59

Stanby Catsup
2 FOR
35c

Peas No. 3 Seive
2 FOR
25c

Fruit Cocktail
2½ CAN
37c

SALMON
PINK
53c

GALLON
HILEX
45c

46 oz. TALL CAN
TOMATO JUICE
2 for
49c

Hersheys Cocoa
½ LB.
19c

GALLON
VINEGAR
49c

SALA-DRESS
PINT
33c

Toilet Tissue
6 ROLLS
49c

BRING US YOUR EGGS
CASH OR TRADE

Fruits & Vegetables

NEW POTATOES
Peck 59c

ORANGES
2 Dozen for 45c

LEMONS
Dozen 39c

CELERY
17c

BANANAS
NO LIMIT

Klemme Food Market
Klemme, Iowa

VAN CAMPS
PORK & BEANS
2 No. 2 CANS
35c

WHEATIES
REGULAR BOX
13c

CHOCOLATE CHIPS
19c

Oleomargarine
49c

MARASCHINO CHERRIES
15c

JAR RUBBERS
3 FOR
10c

TIDE
3 FOR
$1.00

Baking Powder
25 OZ. JAR
13c

DREFT
3 PACKAGES FOR
$1.00

P&G SOAP
3 FOR
25c

STRAWBERRY PRESERVES
42c

WE RESERVE THE RIGHT TO LIMIT

BOARD PROCEEDINGS HANCOCK COUNTY

REGULAR JUNE MEETING
Garner, Iowa
June 14, 1948

The Hancock County, Iowa, Board of Supervisors met in regular session as required by law on above captioned date with Supervisors F. J. Schoun, John Chambers and George Th. Gerdes present.

The minutes of the last meeting were read and approved as read.

On motion and second Supervisor Chambers is appointed a Committee to investigate and Cause repairs to be made in D. D. No. 1 and 2, L No. 16.

On motion and second Supervisor Gerdes is appointed a Committee to investigate and cause repairs to be made in D. D. No. 97, L. No. 1

On motion and second Supervisor Schoun is appointed a Committee to investigate and cause repairs to be made in D. D No. 3 and 4, L. No. 9; D. D. No. 1 and 2, L. No. 1A.

On motion and second Supervisor Schoun is appointed a Committee to investigate and cause repairs to be made in D. D. 3 and 4, L. No. 4 from the railroad south to the road in Section 11-96-24. This has been referred to Wm. Henschen, Engineer.

On motion and second the application, bond and permit for the sale of Cigarettes is hereby approved for R. W. Rasmuson.

On motion and second the application, bond, and permit for the sale of Cigarettes is hereby approved for Marvin C. George.

Extension of Contract between Hancock County, Iowa and Clermont Brick and Sand Company of Clermont, Iowa.

This agreement by and between Hancock County, Iowa party of the first part and Clermont Brick and Sand Co., of Clermont, Iowa party of the second part.

WITNESSETH: That the contract between the above parties dated Sept. 22, 1947 is hereby extended to November 1, 1948 and that the quantites in said contract be increased by approximately the amounts shown in the original contract. The prices for loading and hauling are to be the same as shown in the original contract.

In witness whereof the parties hereto have set their hands for the purpose herein expressed to this and two other instruments of like tenor as of the second day of June 1948

Hancock County, Iowa
Party of the first part
By J. A. CHAMBERS
Chairman Bd of Supervisors
Clermont Brick and Sand Co.
Party of the second part
By LEN T SIMEK

On motion and second a notice of Non-Residence is hereby ordered served on Joe Elmer Johnson and family.

In the matter of a contract for grading of 2 5 miles of road through Section 6 and 7, Ell township and through the south half of Section 31, Concord township, by casting, blading and rolling, between Hancock County, Iowa and Clair R. Nelson of Belmond, Iowa.

BE AND IT IS THEREFORE RESOLVED by the Board of Supervisors acting for and in behalf of Hancock County, Iowa, and said Hancock County, Iowa roads, that the bid of Clair R. Nelson of Belmond, Iowa, be and the same is hereby accepted and he is hereby awarded a contract for said above described work.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that John Chambers, Chairman of the Board of Supervisors, be and he is authorized and ordered to execute said contract in behalf of Hancock County, Iowa.

The foregoing resolution was offered and read by Supervisor Schoun who moved its adoption, was seconded by Supervisor Gerdes, whereupon the Chairman John Chambers, placed the motion of its adoption and upon roll call the vote thereon is F J Schoun, John Chambers and George Th Gerdes, aye. Nays, none. Whereupon the Chairman declared the resolution duly adopted.

On motion and second the contract between Hancock County, Iowa through its Board of Supervisors and R. P Courtney, J. R. Courtney and William D Aubry as A P Courtney and Sons of 49 Northeast 23rd Street, Oklahoma City, Oklahoma for the tuck pointing of all mortar that is missing on the outside of the Courthouse building in Garner, Iowa, painting of the water tower, pointing brick of the barn, painting the flag pole and main gate of the Hancock County home, is hereby approved and John Chambers, chairman of the Board of Supervisors is hereby authorized to execute said contract in behalf of Hancock County, Iowa.

On motion and second the board adjourned to June 15, A. D., 1948 at 9:00 a. m.

ATTEST:
MAYNARD SCHONEMAN
County Auditor
JOHN CHAMBERS
Chairman

7TH ADJOURNED APRIL MEETING
Garner, Iowa
June 2, 1948

The Hancock County, Iowa, Board of Supervisors met in session on above Captioned date pursuant to adjournment with Supervisors George Th. Gerdes, John Chambers and F. J. Schoun present.

The minutes of the last meeting were read and approved as read.

RESOLUTION WHEREAS the residents of Klemme, Iowa, and the Town Council wish to improve the east end of Main Street in the Town of Klemme.

NOW THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED that the Board of Supervisors of Hancock County, request the Iowa State Highway Commission to change Federal Aid Secondary route No. 89 to read as follows "From F A Route 41 spur in Klemme east to FAS Route 1453, also from another point on FAS Route 1453 (at the N W corner of Section 32-95-23) east of FAS Route 928, 3 miles south of Rockford"

Passed and approved this 10th day of May, 1948.

Board of Supervisors Hancock County
ATTEST·
MAYNARD SCHONEMAN
County Auditor
JOHN CHAMBERS
Chairman

APPROVED
Iowa State Highway Commission
By SANFORD ZEIGLER
Date 5-26-48

Supervisor Gerdes is appointed a Committee to investigate and cause repairs to be made in D. D No. 1 and 2, L. 14.

Supervisor Schoun is appointed a Committee to investigate and cause repairs to be made in D. D. No. 28 and D D. No. 1 and 2, L. No. 8.

Supervisor Chambers is appointed a Committee to investigate and cause repairs to be made in D D. No. 14, L No. 2 and D. D. No. 9, L. No. 2.

On motion and second the Petition for reclassification if D D No. 3 and 4, lateral No. 26, petitioned for by Barbara Trea, is hereby approved.

On motion and second Wm Henschen is appointed Engineer for the reclassification of D D. No. 3 and 4, Lateral No. 26, petitioned for by Barbara Trea.

On motion and second T J Matson is hereby appointed Engineer on D. D. No. 145 for clean-out and repair, petitioned for by Walter Kohler, et al

On motion and second Earl Henschen and Edith Elling are hereby appointed a Committee to witness the destruction of the General Election ballots of November 1946

In the matter of the petition and consent of a Public Highway petitioned for by Eleanor Guenther and Gilbert Guenther, between sections 20 and 29, Township ninety-five North, Range twenty-five west.

WHEREAS the written consent of all the owners of the land to be used for said road have been filed in the County Auditor's office the 27th day of May A. D., 1948, and the Board being satisfied that the proposed road is of sufficient public importance to be opened and worked by the public.

Be AND IT IS THEREFORE RESOLVED by the Hancock County, Iowa Board of Supervisors that the proposed road described as follows: A Highway sixty-six (66) feet wide commencing at the southwest corner of Section twenty, Township ninety-five north, Range twenty-five west and running thence east one mile between sections twenty and twenty-nine in Township ninety-five north, Range twenty-five west and terminating at the southeast corner of Section twenty, Township ninety-five north, Range twenty-five west, be located and established, all in accordance with Section 306.37 Code of Iowa, 1946

The foregoing resolution was offered and read by Supervisor Schoun, who moved its adoption, was seconded by Supervisor Gerdes, whereupon the Chairman John Chambers, placed the motion of its adoption and upon roll call the vote thereon is F. J Schoun, George Th Gerdes, John Chambers, aye. Nays, none. Whereupon the Chairman declared the resolution duly adopted.

BE IT RESOLVED that the claims herein-after set out be allowed in amounts designated thereon and the County Auditor be and he is hereby directed to draw warrants on the several funds of Hancock County, Iowa, in payments of such claims in amounts set opposite each claim.

County Fund Warrants

M. S. Swaney, acting P. M. postage, courthouse .... $ 54.66
Central States Electric Co., electric service, courthouse 102.85
John Carothers, freight courthouse 4.41
Edith Elling, board of welfare 45.00
Carmen Goll, work, auditors office 47.92
John Carothers, freight courthouse 3.07
Joseph C. Johnson, maps, treasurer 10.00
N. W. Bell Telephone Co. telephone tolls, courthouse 93.21
Roy L. McMillin, May bounty 154.60
J. A. Chambers, session and Committee 168.00
J. A. Chambers, session, committee mileage 77.30
F. J. Schoun, session committee 159.20
F. J. Schoun, session, Committee mileage 75.15
Geo. Th. Gerdes, session, committee 159.20
Geo. Th Gerdes, session, committee mileage 78.40
Geo. Th. Gerdes, telephone tolls 8.45
L. M Brower, sheriff expense 65.50
James Cooper, deputy sheriff expense 68.66
Maurice Monson, board and lodging, prisoner 16.25
Grill Cafe, meals prisoner 1.58
Dr. Thos. McMahon, blood tests sheriff 8.00
Dr. H. W. Morgan, schl. tests 15.00
Harriet Oxley R. N., county nurse expense 37.20
Garner Printing and Publishing supplies, board proceeding and ads 856.03
Kanawha Reporter, board proceedings and ads 68.85
Britt News Tribune, board proceedings and ads 93.95
R. A. Jorgenson, board proceedings and ads 11.71
W G. McFarland, weed eradication 90.17
Ray E. Hunsley, weed commissioner 122.27
F A. Chisel, catching dogs 17.50
Matt Parrott & Sons Co., supplies, engineer, auditor 13.48
Koch Brothers, supplies, auditor and assessor 87.19
Boone Blank Book Co., electric supplies and assr. 980.50
Klipto Loose Leaf Co., supplies, sheriff, adultor, treasurer, assessor 40.00
U S. Stationery Co., ampli, phone, auditor 20.68
Fidlar & Chambers Co., supplies, auditor 25.50
Costello Mfg. Co. supplies courthouse 1.16
Chris Jacobson, board of review mileage and expense 118.64
C. H. Schissel, board of review mileage and expense 83.20
Ernest Senne, board of review mileage and expense 105.34
W. C. Keraus, board of review mileage and expense 69.31
H D Schroeder, board of review, mileage and expense 92.94
Maxine I. Panosh, supplies OAA 4.53
C. J. Schneider, supplies courthouse 1.99
Don Roe, supplies courthouse 1.04
Coast-to-Coast Store, mdse. courthouse .46
E. M Papousek, sander, courthouse 3.00
Central States Elec. Co., service, courthouse 72.22
N W Bell Telehone Co. telephone service, OAA 10.14
Iowa Retail Farm Equipment book, assessor 4.00
Elling Insurance Agency, policy No. 14339, Treasurer 168.75
Daniel E Williams et al, transcript of fees 8.50
C. L. Hartzell, transcript fees 2.00
J N. Steil, rodman, D. D. No. 150, Co-adv. 3.50
Wm. Henschen, engineer, D. D. 150 Co-Adv. 48.00
Wm. Boehnke, damage appraiser 8.00

Poor Fund Warrants

Central States Electric Co., electric service, county home 46.97
Gildner & Paulson, clothing, county home 7.84
Hancock Co. Co-op. Oil, fuel county home 42.03
Jacob Hess, shoeing horses county home 7.00
Moorman Mfg. Co., feed county home 103.00
Mullins Hybrid Corn Co., seed corn, county home 25.00
Shoe Industry, shoe, county home 4.05
Lutheran Welfare Society, May care, Brones and Fischer 130 59
Herman Paul, expense and mileage, Iowa City 25.00
Drs. Weston and Barg, operation, Hennings 150.00
J. C. Wilson, barber shears 2 75
Mrs. Lena Ax, work, county home 32 67
Quakerdale Farm, care Dingman May 30 00
Emily Book, work county home 5.94
General Hospital, hospital, Mrs. Brock 161.00
Lutheran Children's Home, May care Klipping 30.00
St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, hospital, Noble 83 35
L. W. Swanson, M. D., medical care, Noble 26.00
Farmers Co-op. Elevator, fuel Omvig 24 79
Acme Chemical Company, supplies, county home 190.50
Dept. of Social Welfare, aid to blind 34 11
Dept. of Social Welfare, emergency relief 9.68
Dept. of Social Welfare, aid dependent children 400 78
Garner Leader & Signal, subscription, county home 3 00
Farmers Co-op. Society, mdse. county home 333 35
Frank Falada, groceries, county home 35.88
Edelen Food Market, provisions county home 16.10
Coast-to-Coast Store, mdse. county home 11 10
Blank Drug Store, medicine and supplies, county home 12.50
Marge Branstad, work, county home 30.00
Butz Hatchery, feed, county home 106.05
C. J. Schneider, heater and supplies, county home 363 52
J. J. Urich, 725 bushel oats, county home 870.00
Geo. E. Powell, piano repairs county home 15 00
Harbison Food Market, proc lard, county home 12.05
Farmers Co-op. Society, coal Noble 6.50
Dale Frazer, seed corn, county home 64 50
Peter Engstler, seed potatoes 150.00
Central States Electric Co. electric service, county home 66 70
Dr. Thos. A. Burke, operation Reynolds 200.00

Road Maintenance Fund

Norton Machine Works, repairs 8.25
Bock Oil Co., grease 5.31
Elmer Carr, labor 187 76
Hancock County Co-op, diesel oil and supplies 575 13
Rich Line, freight 4 49
Central States Electric, electric service county shed 3.88
Chas. A. Anderson, labor 24 75
C. M. St. P & P R. R. Co., freight on gas 233.84
N. W. Bell Telephone Co.,telephone, county shop 9.39
Bock Oil Company gasoline, tank and acc. 1,216.35
Abbas, Bernard, labor 193 55
Boller, Kenneth, labor 186.33
Bredlow, Marvin, labor 206.41
Carr, Elmer, labor 191 97
Deibler, Merle, labor 205 73
Devin, Emmett, labor 183 15
Halfpop, Paul, labor 205 72
Heginger, Carl John, labor 172 06
Hughes, Leo L., labor 205 72
Iverson, Ivan, labor 202 66
Kluseman, Carl, labor 121 73
Knoke, Louis, labor 199.28
Montgomery, Clifford, labor 210.38
Rapp, Milbern F., labor 205 73
Rhine, Harold H, labor 136 72
Richard, Kenton, labor 194 37
Schleuger, L. F., labor 206.22
Sweeney, Gene, labor 165.82
Wood, Wm J, labor 198 99
Hodson, Donald, labor 100 98
Central States Electric, electric service 1 02
Farmers Co-op. Co., material 193.60
Iowa Machinery & Supply Co. supplies 107 33
Barclay Co., welding supplies 20.79
Joe Daniels Auto Supply, tire repairs 32.44
Ernest Helps, tile repair 25.99
Tande & Son, repairs 14.07
L. H Wilson, carpenter work. 90.75
J J Bartek, tiling across road 15.00
C. F Merten, rodman 174 20
C. F Merten, car mileage 52 90
Woodford Wheeler Lumber, lumber, 4.26
Gibbs-Cook Tractor & Equipment, scraper 5,138 46
K & H Service Station, kerosene and points 1.69
Hawkeye Supply Co., antifreeze 196.35
Paper, Calmenson & Co., blade 467.05
Paulson, C. H. freight and express paid 14 67
Standard Bearings Co., bearings 48.27
Tire Retread Co., retread 25.57
Minneapolis Iron Store, zerex 26 13
The All-Wheel-Drive Co., oil seals 2.53
Urbatsch Hardware & Appl. hardware 20.28
Corwith Hardware Co., hardware 7 46
Coast-to-Coast Store, hardware 1 84
Marvin Bredlow, gasoline 1.20
The Frederick Post Co., tapes 10.84
W. D. Allen, Mfg. Co., shovels 21 42
Special Drainage Assessment, assessment on drainage 152.82
Tobin, Joe L., drag line operator 298.25
Haaf, John, labor 199 67
Central States Electric, electric service 3.06
Central States Electric, electric and gas service 13.32
Britt Oil Co., motor oil 208.69
Woodford Wheeler Lumber, tile 7 65
Thompson Distributing Co., supplies 13 72
Standard Oil Co., oil and grease 77 59
Farmers Co-op. Society, material 27 18
Oakes & Clark, material 81 96
Armco Drainage & Metal Prod. metal building 3,170.65
Sorenson Hardware, material 19.77
Britt Cylinder Head & Auto rings 9.69
Forest City Motor Co., wheel 22.75
Sieg-Fort Dodge Co., supplies 43.61
Kuhn Auto Radiator Repair, radiator repairs 6.00
Norton Machine Works, repairs 1 35
K & H Service, repairs 1 68
T. H. Junker Garage, repairs 10 69
Jukehart Tractor & Equipment, repairs 160.56
Garner Auto Co., repairs 3 38
Garner Construction Co., drag line work 7.00
V. L. Fri, labor 18.75
Kadera, Fabian, labor 22.50
Stille, George, labor 205 72
Griesemer Leather Store, washer .50
Geo. Gerdes, labor on tile 135.00
Dens-Oil Lubricant Co., lubricant 41.65
Gibbs Cook Tractor & Equip. material 14 82
Lampert Yards, cement 3 01
Greiman Mfg. Co., cutting culverts 12.46
Henry Steinlicht, labor 210.37

Road Construction Fund

E. J Westerberg, right of way 230.60
Highway Construction, payroll
G. D. McNabb, foreman 114.59
Wm. Hughes, labor 118 69
Sherl May, labor 112 71
John Brower, labor 121.01
H. M. Haxton, labor 121.01
W. P. Dunfee, labor 116.81
H. J. Brower, labor 118.69
Jake Lowman, labor 121.01
C. I. McConaughey, rodman 48 51
Highway Construction Payroll
G. D. McNabb, foreman 112.36
Wm. Hughes, labor 116.81
Sherl May, labor 103.96
John Brower, labor 120 67
H. M. Haxton, labor 120 66
W. P. Dunfee, labor 116.47
H. J. Brower, labor 117.75
Jake Lowman, labor 112.26
Philip Johnson, rodman 180 92
John H. Peck, rodman 40.11
J. N. Steil, rodman 97.02
Carl E. Swanson, right of way 157.50
Oscar Swanson, right of way 420.50
Redden, Hardware, hardware 10.50
Redden Hardware, hardware 22.35
Fred W. Reiter, right of wa 333.00
Herman Nuehring, right of way 172.50
Armco Drainage & Metal Prod. culverts 2,740.96
Iowa Concrete Prod., concrete culvert 1,238.20
Wallace E. Donovan, right of way 96.00
Clear Lake Sand and Gravel, gravel 63.91
Fullerton Lumber Co., material 111.71
Joe Fohrman, right of way 70.00
Fern Katter, Recorder, recording easements 6.15
Garner Printing & Publishing letting notice 7.02
Leo L. Becker, estimate No. 1 1,571 40

Domestic Animal Fund

Ole G. Peterson, listing dogs 1 20

County Assessor Fund

Doris Goll, work assessor office 12 80
Edward J Mullin, mileage and expense 8.05

Soldier Relief Fund

C. S Rice, meeting 2.10
Daniel E. Williams, meeting 3.10
Rufus C Welter, meeting 5.70

Refund Fund

Rosa Hejlik, error on assessment 2.64

Bang's Disease Fund

Dr D G Quist, inspector 51 30

Drainage Fund

F J Schoun drainage work and mileage, D D No. 7 4.50
Emmett Devin labor D D. No. 7 14 85
Carl Kluseman labor D. D No 7 19.80
Harold H Rhine labor D. D. No. 7 Main L 112 and 50 19.80
V L Frie labor D D No. 7 21.04
Fabian Kadera labor, D D. No. 7 29 54
Farmers Coop Society, cement D D No 7 6.42
Wm Henschen engineer, D. D No. 8 11 88
Bernard Abbas, labor, D. D. No. 9 L. 2 4 95
Henry C Bergman, labor, D. D. 10 L 9-A 15 00
Clifford Montgomery, labor, D. D No 11 4 95
Bernard Abbas labor D. D No 11 L 2 4.95
Clifford Montgomery, labor, D. D No. 9 L. 2 4 95
F J Schoun repair work, D. D No. 28 5 15
Gene Sweeney labor D. D. No. 3 9 90
Leo L Hughes labor D. D No 38 9.90
Carl Kluseman labor D. D No 13 L. 1 9.90
Harold H Rhine labor D D. No 13 L 1 9 90
Carl Paulson labor D D No. 43 6.00
Carl John Heginger labor D D No. 47 9.90
J N Steil, rodman, D D No. 65 13 86
John H Peck rodman, D. D. No. 65 13 86
Wm Henschen engineer, D. D No. 65 47 52
F J Schoun drainage work and mileage D D No. 72 4 10
Wayne Gelner labor D D. No. 72 9 28
Carl Paulson labor D. D. No 74 48 00
Woodford Wheeler Lumber Co bracket and cement D D No. 80 37.28
F J Schoun repair work, D D No. 80 2 60
Carl Kluseman labor D D No. 80 L 201S 29.70
Fabian Kadera labor D D No. 80 L 201S 37 13
V L Frie labor D D No. 80 L 201S 30 94
Harold H Rhine labor, D D. 80, L 201S 9 90
C. C Hejlik labor D D No. Farmers Coop. Society cement 80 32 00
D D No. 80 5.25
Fred Peterson labor, D D No 80 33 00
Farmers Coop. Society, cement D D No 82 1 84
Chas A Anderson labor D D No. 83 56.00
Marvin Bredlow, labor D D No. 99 9 90
Elmer Carr labor, D. D. No. 99 19 80
J A Chambers drainage work and mileage, D D No. 99 5.50
Bernard Abbas, labor, D. D. No. 99 9.90
Schram Bros estimate, No. 1 D D No 101 1,144 52
C F Merten engineer, D. D No. 101 15.38
Fred Peterson labor D D. No. 102 40 60
Farmers Coop Society, cement, D D No 102 5.30
Marius Nielsen, labor, D. D. No. 106 27.50
Gene Sweeney labor D D. No. 107 5 94
Carl Kluseman labor, D. D No. 114 9 90
Garner Construction Co tile repair, D D No. 114 63.00
Farmers Coop Society cement, D. D. No. 114 1 41
Marvin Bredlow labor D D. No 131 4 95
J A Chambers drainage work and mileage D D No 131 2 00
Carl John Heginger labor D D. No. 131 4 95
Bernard Abbas labor, D D No. 131 4.95
Bernard Abbas labor D D No. 131 4 95
Fabian Kadera labor, D D. No. 138 L. 68 4.46
V L Frie labor, D D. No. 138 L. 68 3 71
J A Chambers, drainage work and mileage D D No. 139 2.00
Concrete Product estimate No. 1 D D No 141 1,982.88
Gordon Volding labor, D. D. No 144 5.00
J N Steil rodman, D D. No. 141 3.47
John H Peck, rodman, D D. No. 141 3.47
C. F Merten, engineer, D. D. No. 141 13 18
Philip Johnson, inst. man, D. D No 144 4 21
Senneff & Buck fees and expense D D No. 144 212.27
Schram Bros estimate No. 2 D. D. No. 145 3,142.00
Concrete Products, estimate No. 2, D D 145 1,295 78
C L. McConaughey, rodman, D. D No. 145 10 40
J N Steil rodman, D D. No. 145 17.33
Philip Johnson, inst. man, D. D 145 21 04
C. F Merten engineer, D. D. No 145 27.51
Chas A Anderson, labor, D. D No. 146 43 50
Redden Hardware, dynamite, D D No 146 2.80
Gene Sweeney, labor, D. D. No. 146 39.60
F J Schoun, drainage work D. D. No. 149 3.50
Wm Henschen engineer, D D. No. 119 29.70
W J Rasmuson damage commission D D No 119 5.00
Philip Johnson inst man, D. D No. 1 and 2 SM 12.62
J N Steil rodman, D. D No. 1 and 2 10.39
John H Peck, rodman, D. D. 1 and 2 SM 3.46
C F Merten engineer, D. D. No 1 and 2 29.31
Wm J Wood, labor, D. D. No. 1 and 2 L. 27 9.90
Geo. Gerdes tile labor, D. D. No. 1 and 2 L. 6 30.00
Emmett Devin, labor, D D. No. 3 and 4, L 2 and 15 9.90
Garner Consrtuction Co., tile repair, D D No. 3 and 4, L 37 42.00
V. L. Fric, labor, D. D. No. 3 and 4 L. 31-38 and 49 19.80
Fabian Kadera labor, D. D. No. 3 and 4, L. 3-38 and 49 24 21
Ivan Iverson, labor D D. No. 3 and 4 L. 2 4 95
Wm. Henschen engineer, D. D. No. 3 and 4 M 118.80
Kenton Richard labor, D. D. No 3 and 4 L 6 4.95
Walter Kahl, assessment commission, D D. No. 3 and 4 M 50.60
Harold H. Rhine, labor, D. D. No. 3 and 4, L 6-2 and7 19.80
Garner Printing and Publishing drainage notice, D. D. No. 3 and 4 7.79
W J Rasmuson, assessment commission D D No. 3 and 4 M. 48.35
Marius Nielsen, labor, D. D. No. 3 and 4, L. 25 13.75
Fred D. Havnen, labor, D. D. No. 30-34 .40
Theo. Dorenbush, labor, D. D. No. 30-34 .50
Lenny Harmon, labor, D. D. No. 31-36 26.77
Theo. Dorenbush, labor, D. D. No. 31-36 14.84
Fred D Havnen, labor, D. D. No. 31-36 7.65
Erwin Spicker, labor, D. D. No. 31-36 3.82
Geo. Gerdes, tile labor, D. D. No. 31-36 22.94
Garner Printing & Publishing notice, D. D. No. 86-2 20.60
Harold H Rhine, labor, D. D. No. 37-39 16.54
Donald Hodson, labor, D. D. No. 37-39 8.27
Emmett Devin, labor, D. D. No. 37-39 L 6B 20.67
Ivan Iverson, labor, D. D. No. 37-39 L 6B 8.27
Dwight Graham, labor, D. D. No. 46-3 12.51
C. H Cooper, labor, D. D. No. 46-3 3.13
Raymond Baade, labor, D. D. No. 46-3 12.51
Rubert Young, labor, D. D. No. 46-3 3.13
Oliver Young, labor, D. D. No.
Geo. Gerdes, tile labor, D. D. 46-3 3.13
No. 46-3 15.64
O T Rafdal, backfilling, D. D. No. 52-545-17 27.79
Elmer Carr, labor, D. D. No. 54-121 1.05
Oakes & Clark, material, D. D. No. 61-1-155 3.07
Carl John Heginger, labor, D. D. No. 70-147 4.66
A. T Buckley, labor, D. D. No. 79 - 49 1.11
Northern Lumber Co., material D. D No. 79-49 .06
George Albertson, labor, D. D. No. 79-49 .16
Luther Ingebretson, labor, D. D. No. 79-49 .16
Vernon Miller, engineering service, D D No. 100-131-93 3.36

On motion nd second the Board adjourned to June 14, A D., 1948 at 9:00 A. M

ATTEST·
MAYNARD SCHONEMAN
County Auditor
JOHN CHAMBERS
Chairman

1ST ADJOURNED JUNE MEETING
Garner, Iowa
June 15, 1948

The Hancock County, Iowa, Board of Supervisors met in session on above captioned date with John Chambers, George Th. Gerdes and F. J. Schoun, present.

This being the 15th day of June A. D., 1948, the second Tuesday following the Primary Election held on June 7, A D., 1948, the Board of Supervisors of Hancock County, Iowa, did proceed to organize as a Board of Canvassers and did proceed to canvass the results of the Primary Election held on June 7, A. D 1948, as commanded in Section 13 49 Code of Iowa, 1946, and laws amendatory thereto. The result of said Canvass follows

For State Offices

State Representative — Penn Eckels-Republican.

State Senator—Herman M Knudson-Republican.

Governor—Wm. S. Beardsley-Republican—Carroll O Switzer-Democrat.

Lieut. Governor—Kenneth A. Evans-Republican — Iver Christofferson-Democrat.

Secretary of State — Mrs. Earl G. Miller-Republican—Phillip L. Shutt-Democrat

Auditor of State—Chet A Akers-Republican John L. Keller-Democrat.

Treasurer of State—J M Grimes-republican W A Irwin-Democrat.

Secretary of Agriculture -Harry D. Linn-Republican Gale McClean-Democrat.

Attorney General Robert L. Larson-Republican—Harold J Fleck-Democrat.

Attorney General (to fill vacancy) Robert L. Larson-Republican

Commerce Commissioner — Carl W. Reed-Republican—Sidney Ramsay-Democrat.

Representative in Congress—James I. Dolliver-Republican—James Irwin-Democrat.

For County Offices—Republican

County Auditor—Maynard Schoneman; Vacancy—Maynard Schoneman, County Treasurer—Roy L. McMillin, Clerk of District Court—Ruth Hughes (Vacancy-Ruth Hughes), Sheriff—L. M. (Dutch) Brower, County Recorder—Fern Peck Katter County Attorney — Curtis G. Riehm County Coroner — Kenneth F Boughton Supervisor—term beginning 1949 no nomination - Candidates and number of votes follows J A. Chambers, 170 Clinton D Daniels, 719, Ben F. Greiman, 783, Robert D Hoadley, 556; Chester R. Williams, 299; Supervisor-term beginning 1950 — George Th. Gerdes

For County Offices—Democrat

No one nominated for County Auditor, Treasurer, Clerk of District Court, Sheriff, Recorder, County Attorney, Coroner or Supervisor

For Township Offices—Republican

Ellington—Constable—Frank Chisel: Township Trustee-1949—A. E. Boman, Township Trustee-1950—Olaf Westerberg, Township Clerk—Fred L. Meinecke, Committee Man — A. C. Boman, Committee Woman—Mrs. Delia Griggs.

Madison — Township Trustee-1949—N. H Willis, Township Trustee-1950—Albert Lundberg, Committee Man—Gustav Schulz, Committee Woman—Mrs. Evelyn Haas

Crystal—Township Clerk—Norman Hanson, Committee Man—J. B. Haan; Committee Woman—Mrs. Mate S. Gilstrap.

Bingham — Constable—Hans Smith, Township Trustee-1949 — C. A. Bird; Township Trustee-1950—George Senne; Township Clerk—D. H. Sonius, Committee Man—Jake C. Helm, Committee Women—Mrs Martin Smith.

Orthel—Township Trustee-1949, Everett Sheets, Township Trustee-1950—G. A. Robinson, Township Clerk—Ben Higdon, Jr , Committee Man—Forrest Eckels, Committee Woman—Anna Sankey.

Britt—Justice of the Peace, Daniel Williams, Township Trustee-1949—W. J. Rasmuson Township Trustee-1950—Ray S. Baker, Township Clerk—E. W. Sheets; Committee Man- Ole G. Peterson; Committee Woman—Mrs. Frank Baxter.

Garfield- Constable—Don Butz; township Trustee-1949 — Harry Horecka; Township Trustee-1950—M. J. Stupka; Township Clerk—E. B. Nedved; Committee Man—F. J Schoun, Committee Woman—Gertrude Urich.

Concord—Justice of the Peace—R. J. Fritsch, Township Trustee-1950—Wm. Boehnke, Township Clerk—H. L. Ollenburg, Committee Man—G. W. Templeton; Committee Woman—Ge[...]

Ell—Township Trus[...] Greiman, Township Tru[...] Thieman, Committee [...] nold, Committee Wom[...] Jorgenson

Liberty — Township[...] Fred Klinge, Township[...] John Buzicky, Committ[...] Greiman, Committee W[...] F. Greiman.

Erin — Township Tru[...] Brcka, Township Trust[...] Hill, Township Clerk—[...] Committee Man—Claren[...] mittee Woman—Mrs. C[...]

Boone: Committee Ma[...] Committee Woman—Che[...]

Corwith Precinct—Bo[...] Magor—Committee M[...] ley, Committee Woman[...] Welter.

Twin Lake—Township[...] S. A. Barber Township[...] Chelsvig, Committee Ma[...] Committee Woman—Mrs[...]

Avery—Committee Ma[...] Committee Woman—Mrs[...] dorf

Amsterdam — Justice[...] Fred A. Gorton, Townsh[...] —Omar Maland Townsh[...] —Melvin Thompson To[...] Oren Thompson, Commit[...] Gorton

For Township Office[...]

Ellington- None Mad[...] Clerk—A C Taylor Co[...] A. C. Taylor Crystal—N[...] None. Orthel None. Bri[...] field—None Concord—N[...] Liberty - Township Clerk[...] man. Erin—None. Boone[...] Trustee-1949 - Henry [...] ship Clerk Bud Las[...] cinct. Boone None M[...] Clerk—W E. Puffer Am[...] Twin Lake None. Avery[...] Peace— Paul Ludeke Co[...] Vern Schluter, Commit[...] Edna McNutt.

On motion and second [...] journed to 9:00 A. M., o[...] D., 1948.

ATTEST
MAYNARD SCHONEM[AN]
County Auditor
JOH[N CHAMBERS]

2ND ADJOURNED JUN[E MEETING]

The Hancock County [...] Supervisors met in session [...] tioned date pursuant to adj[...] F J Schoun Geo Th Ge[...] Chambers present

The minut of the last [...] read and approved as read

On motion and second [...] John Huisinga and Charl[...] are appointed a Board of T[...] Woden Benefited Water D[...] den, Iowa.

On motion and second [...] liams is reappointed to a t[...] on the Soldiers' Relief Co[...] fective September 1, 1948.[...]

On motion and second [...] is reappointed to the one-[...] the Soldier's Relief Comm[...] tive September 1 1948

On motion and second t[...] between Clair R Nelson [...] Iowa and the First State [...] mond, Iowa is approved [...]

Supervisor Gerdes is app[...] mittee to investigate and [...] to be made in D D No 46[...]

Supervisor Chambers is [...] committee to investigate [...] pairs to be made in D. D N[...] 15.

On motion and second [...] plication, and permit for [...] Cigarettes for Fabian Kade[...] Iowa is approved.

This being the 21st day o[...] 1948 a date heretofore fix[...] ting on the construction [...] 149, Hancock County Iowa[...] said letting having arrived[...] publication being on file a[...] being fully advised said let[...] as scheduled The Chairman [...] proceeded to open all bids [...] after duly considering all [...] the bid of Ewing and Lake[...] of Onawa Iowa was foun[...] lowest and best bid on file [...] the bid of Iowa Concrete P[...] pany of Ames Iowa for [...] AND IT IS THEREFORE [...] by the Board of Supervis[...] and in behalf of D D No [...] bids of Ewing and Lake for [...] Iowa Concrete Products [...] material, are hereby acce[...] lowest and best bids for the [...] of D. D No. 119, Hancock [...] All other bids are hereby re[...]

BE IT FURTHER RES[...] a Contract is hereby award[...] and Lake of Onawa, Iowa, [...] Concrete Products of Am[...] Chairman John Chambers i[...] thorized to execute said Co[...] half of Hancock County Io[...]

The foregoing resolution [...] and read by Supervisor Gerd[...] ed its adoption was second[...] visor Schoun whereupon t[...] John Chambers placed the [...] adoption and upon roll ca[...] thereon is George Th G[...] Schoun and John Chambers [...] none. Whereupon the Chair[...] the resolution duly adopted.

On motion and second W[...] was appointed Constructio[...] D. D. No. 119

On motion and second Wi[...] ke, W J Rasmuson and Wa[...] Engineer are appointed a [...] to classify lands and asse[...] D. D. No 119 Hancock C[...] as Commanded in Section 45[...] Iowa 1946 and laws amend[...] and said Commission to fil[...] on or before the 2nd day o[...] D., 1948

On motion and second th[...] journed to July 2 1948 at 9[...]

ATTEST
MAYNARD SCHONEMAN
County Auditor
JOHN [CHAMBERS]

Sale!

MARATHON

TIRES by GOODYEAR

ONLY $11.95 600-16 SIZE

PLUS TAX

Now You Can Buy A Whole Set!

LET'S TRADE! We'll buy all the unused mileage in your old tires--at prices that will astound you!....

15 Per Cent on discontinued lines of all sizes!!!

Hancock County Coop Oil Association

Klemme Super-Service Stations Garner

DR. E. H. PH[...]
Osteopathis Phy[...]
Xray - Short Wa[...]
thermy and Ultra[...]
Equipment
Phone 149 Garne[r]

KEEP THE FARM SANITARY
2-HOUR SERVICE ON REMOVAL [OF]

Dead Stoc[k]

Phone

KLEMME ______________

BELMOND ______________

We Pay The Call

A Clean Truck With An Efficient Dri[ver]

Your Neighborhood Daily.

Belmond By-Product[s]

"Your Home Plant"

Phone 580 Belmond,

...E OF COMPOST ...TO CONTROL FLIES

...getable growers have ... responsibility in co... in the fly-control ... They should keep rot...tables and decaying ...terial cleaned up and ...d properly to prevent ...ding and emergence. ...the feeling of Harold ..., Iowa State College ...ist.

...ually not desirable for ...le grower to use plant ... from his own garden ...d organic material on ...because of disease. But ...bles to have a compost ...should be properly pre...d maintained.

...caying material should ... in the ground and ... lightly with borax or ...vent DDT powder, then ...with at least a foot of ... the compost heaps are ...er them with tar pap...vent flies from getting ...laying their eggs, Gun...ys.

...OR HOME GARDEN ...KEEP IT PRODUCING

...e home garden every ...eep it producing for all ...rd, was the recommen... given Iowa gardeners ...k by Iowa State College ...horticulturist Edd Cott. ...ys the dry weather is ... garden crops of com... vegetable growers. If ...nes dry, the home gar... have to supply the bulk ...family's table needs this ...

...ep your garden doing ... hold the weeds down, ...ulch and water where ...

...control by shallow cul... is recommended. Cut ...ds off just below the soil ...to help conserve what ... is available.

...o haven't already done ... suggests that you put a ...mulch of straw, hay or ...ed grass clippings on the ...around the plants, es... such long-season crops ...toes, eggplants, peppers ...bages. The mulch will ...wn moisture evaporation ...trol weeds.

...to water the garden, if ... It can be watered ...the mulch. Or, if the ...as not yet been put on, break up the soil surface enough so the water will soak in easily, water it well, then apply the mulch as soon as the ground is dry enough to walk on.

DURABLE GOODS IS ON INCREASE NOW

Demand For Radios Declining Now; Other Goods Will Follow Trend

John Q. Public's long-waited dream of immediate delivery on his purchases of durable goods is nearing reality—at least on some products.

Some durable goods are already running into demand decline and others, including cars, are expected to follow, says Iowa State College extension economist Francis Kutish, in his weekly outlook letter.

Demand for radios is now on the decline. Vacuum cleaners are expected to be next to feel the effects of easing demand, with washing machines, refrigerators and passenger cars to follow in that order.

Car Backlog

Automobile output at present, however, is only about equal to the replacement needs and normal increase in the number of cars in use. Current production is being held back because of supply difficulties, and no net reduction has been made thus far in the backlog of demand built up during the war.

Turning from consumer durable goods to food, the Kutish report says market supplies of meats, turkey, most of the manufactured dairy products, and fats and oils (other than lard) are likely to be smaller the next few months than they were last year.

Food Prices

"Retail prices of foods in the next few months will go down seasonally. But prices probably will stay higher than a year ago," the weekly letter said

Turkey prices are expected to reach a new high this fall. Bureau of Agricultural Economics reports are that turkey prices will be at least 10 percent above 1947. Reason for the increase is that producers are raising about a fifth fewer turkeys this year than last. Too, there will be less red meat and chicken to compete with turkey this fall than in 1947.

FARM INCOME UP FOURFOLD

But Farmers Pay 15 Times As Much Tax

Des Moines—Iowa's farm income in 1947 was nearly 4 times the amount in 1940, but farmers paid nearly 15 times as much in state income taxes in 1947 as in 1940.

The Iowa Taxpayers association reported Friday that farm income rose from $716,369,000 in 1940 to $2,408,000,000 in 1947. At the same time, the association continued, farmers paid $232,771 in income taxes in 1940 and $3,178,409 in 1947.

During the period urban Iowa residents' income tax payments were nearly doubled. In 1940, urban residents paid $3,590,927 and in 1947 they paid $6,685,157.

Association figures showed property taxes levied for collection were about the same for both urban and rural groups in 1940 and about the same in 1947. However, urban taxes increased rather steadily while rural taxes jumped sharply between 1944 and 1946.

The levies in 1940 for urban property total $49,412,851, and for rural property the figure was $49,109,684. In 1947 the total for urban property was $62,149,033, and for rural property $61,817,659.

SHOULD HANDLE SPRAYS AND DUSTS WITH CARE

Sprays and dusting powder are as useful as matches and gasoline if they are handled properly,, but treat them with a lot of respect, warns Norval Wardle, farm safety specialist at Iowa State College.

Chemical sprays and dusts keep crop losses down, but they can cause disability and death to humans and livestock, Wardle asserts. Proper precautions are necessary at all times.

Wardle advises keeping spraying and dusting materials in closed metal containers. Label the containers for clear identification.

Keep the containers away from kitchen food stocks. This is to prevent accidental mixing of the chemical insecticides with food, such as flour or other commodities.

He recommends the use of a respirator when spraying or dusting if winds are likely to carry the material back into the user's face. Those who spray should keep the body well covered. Don't spray with the arms or legs bare. Follow all of the manufacturer's recommendations.

Finally, burn all empty bags which contained spraying materials. At the same time, keep away from fumes.

Want Ads

For Sale

FOR SALE—NORGE WASHING Machine Double tubs; Perfection Oil Stove, 3 burners; Living Room Suite; Ironing Board. Dwight Hummel (1tc)

YES WE HAVE IT, NUTRENA Crumblized Chick Feed. For faster gains and less waste. We deliver ½ ton lots or more. GREEN ELEVATOR CO., Goodell, Iowa. (Apr 14 tfc)

D D T
25% Solution
FOR CORN BORER CONTROL
$2.45 Per Gal.
NORTHERN LBR. CO.
IMP. DEPT.
KLEMME IOWA

SPINET PIANO—PREFER TO sell locally for quick disposal. Write WALTHAM Piano Company. Wholesale Dept. 1802 E. Oklahoma Avenue Apt. 8, Milwaukee, Wis., for when this piano may be seen in Klemme. (2tc)

FOR SALE — GLOBE MAID Cook stove, first class shape; Sellers Cabinet good as new, 2 cylinder Maytay Motor. Bert taStlander Meservey 2tp

Miscellaneous

INSURE WITH HENRY WARD, Klemme for Auto, Personal Property, Farm Liability, Life, Health and Accident. (Oct. 1948 tp)

TWINE
McCormick Deering
STANDARD
$12.50 Per Bale
NORTHERN LBR. CO.
IMP. DEPT.
KLEMME IOWA

Services Offered

FEED GRINDING OF ALL kinds done on your farm Phone Klemme 76 or Goodell 58561. Carroll Etchen. (j-28-tc)

Baler Twine
McCormick Deering
STANDARD
$12.50 PER BALE
NORTHERN LBR. CO.
IMP. DEPT.
KLEMME IOWA

FOR CUSTOM BALING — NO job too small, none too large See Eugene Schaefer at John Etchens. (July 2 p)

FOR HAY BALING—SEE Frederick Bell. Phone 149, Klemme. (July 2 p)

Card Of Thanks

We want to thank all who sent us cards and gifts, and who called on us at the hospital and at home. Mrs. John Cutshall and Susie. 1tp

We wish to thank all our relatives and friends for their many acts of kindness and sympathy during the illness and death of our father, Charles Rosenou.

Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Hartbeck and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Hollis Bokelman and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Rosenou and family.

Emil Rosenou. (1tp-

Greek Warfare Now Rages At Site of Ancient Clashes

The Greek government's drive to rout rebel concentrations from Mount Olympus and Mount Ossa has its setting in the rugged and beautiful region of eastern Greece where the ancients placed a struggle of the gods.

The two classical mountains rise on either side of Penelos river, along which much of the guerrilla warfare has raged, notes National Geographic society. On the north, Mount Olympus, traditional home of Zeus, looks down from snowy heights of more than 9,500 feet. Ossa's summit is nearly 6,500 feet.

In his legendary Olympian palace of rose-and-gold tinted clouds, Greek mythology says, the king of the gods held court, feasting on nectar and ambrosia. Homer relates that when the twin giants, Otus and Ephialtes, declared war on the Olympian mortals, the famous threat was made to pile Ossa on Olympus to help create a pathway to heaven itself.

Less than 150 miles northwest of Athens, the present-day theater of Greek fighting favors guerrilla tactics. The Olympian range, highest in Greece, is made up of dozens of peaks. Snow crowns its ridges and fills its upper gorges for most of the year. Violent windstorms and even sleet sweep its high passes late in summer.

Underground streams, barren, rocky hillsides and narrow defiles mark the general region. Hidden caves and overhanging crags offer both shelter and points of attack.

The magnificent oak and beech stands that once covered the lower slopes of the mountains are gone. But in their place is a widespread bush growth of the protective maquis type, such as gave its name to the resistance movement of southern France during World War II.

Don't Smell Now—But Fish Used for Cakes, Ice Cream

Although it may sound fishy, codfish and shrimp of too poor quality for human food can be utilized to make silk dresses or to replace the white of egg for cakes and ice cream.

A report on this remarkable claimed development has been brought back from Germany by scientific investigators attached to the army. All the proteins, or nitrogen-containing amino acids, are extracted from the fish and mixed together in the proportions in which they exist in egg white. The result is a substance difficult to distinguish from white-of-egg, 94 per cent of which is composed of proteins, the essential body-building substances in food.

According to the report, the material contains nearly all of these necessary for a human diet. It will keep almost indefinitely. Investigators were shown apparently undeterlorated specimens that had been in storage for six years.

The synthetic material, it was claimed, "whips" better than natural egg white but apparently a slight fishy flavor cannot be entirely eliminated.

Honey a Medicine

Recent research conducted by the Soviet Institute of Agriculture and many Soviet medical institutions seems to justify the old belief that honey is good for wounds and as an internal medicant. Honey proved to be beneficial in cases of chronic dysentery, jaundice, swellings caused by heart and kidney ailments and many other diseases. Patients said they were better four or five days after receiving honey. It has been proven that the dark varieties of honey have greater blood-forming value than do the light, but both are of dietary importance Medicinal honey produced by bees fed on artificial honey from sap of green vine leaves is being used in Soviet hospitals.

Answers Biblical Query

The question asked by the psalmist in the Bible, "If salt should lose its savor wherewith shall it be salted?" now can be answered by adding a mixture consisting of potassium chloride, ammonium chloride, potassium formate, calcium formate, magnesium citrate and starch. This material, developed by Winthrop Chemical company under the name neocurtasal, provides the salt flavor. It is expected to prove useful to those who are required to stay on a salt free diet. Under some conditions the sodium in ordinary salt is handled with difficulty by the body and in others a rigid balance between sodium and potassium is necessary.

Ate 'Poisonous' Tomato

While today we know that the tomato is a rich source of health-giving vitamins, it was not always so considered. In the early part of the nineteenth century the tomato was considered poisonous. It remained for Michele Felice Corne, an artist during that time to prove otherwise. When Corne started to eat a tomato his friends and local physicians got ready to rush him to a hospital. He lived to prove that his rash experiment was harmless and that the tomato was a delicious food. In a Rhode Island cemetery rests the body of this "pioneer" but no monument has been erected in his name, and he is unknown to the vast majority of those who profited from his test.

Steps Listed to Prevent Farm Driveway Mishaps

Because of the heavy toll of accidents or "near" accidents occurring at entrances and driveways to farmsteads, it behooves farm people to take extra precautions to avoid hazards, warn specialists of the agricultural extension service. Frequently the farm driveway is flanked on either side by trees and shrubs which obstruct the view of traffic on the main highway. Attractive landscaping can be achieved without the use of such view-obstructing plantings, and no landscaping is beautiful if it includes accident traps for the farm family.

Further emphasis is placed on the precautions recommended by National Safety council to insure safety in the farm driveway entrance. From a point on the farm driveway 10 feet from the main highway, there must be a clear vision of the main highway for a distance 700 feet in either direction. If farm trucks are used, the clear vision distance must be increased to 830 feet in either direction. National Safety council further recommends that—

When entering the highway: 1. Make a full stop—about 10 feet from the edge of the pavement; 2. look both ways—left and right; 3. turn into the proper lane—avoid swinging beyond the center line when turning right.

When leaving the highway: 1 Signal your intention of turning well in advance; 2. give yourself plenty of distance so that you can slow down gradually; 3. stay in the proper lane—do not swing out to the left before turning right and vice versa.

Medicine Cabinet Intended As Safeguard, Not Menace

Although contents of the family medicine cabinet are intended to safeguard the health of the family, frequently the medicine cabinet door opens to a confused and dangerous mixture of aspirin bottles, antiseptics and old prescriptions.

Improperly handled, some medicines may become menaces. Here are a few simple rules for taking care of your prescriptions:

(1) Keep all medicines properly labeled and in their original bottles. Never mix them.

(2) Keep all medicines out of the reach of children.

(3) Keep medicine bottles tightly capped.

(4) Throw away all medicines as soon as they are no longer needed. Powders and liquids should be flushed down the drain; their bottles should be rinsed out and destroyed.

(5) Keep all compounds containing poisons prominently labeled and separate from other medicines.

Equally important are the following rules for taking medicines:

(1) Read all labels three times, twice before and once after taking. Don't trust memory.

(2) Follow directions on the bottle carefully.

(3) Never take or give medicines in the dark. Turn on the light and see what you are doing.

(4) Don't give medicines prescribed for one person to another without consulting your physician.

CONTROL OF CATTLE GRUB WILL CHECK HEEL FLIES

Dairy herds all over Iowa have been observed running to barns or shade with tails in the air, victims of the persisent heel fly. This insect pest makes darting attacks to lay eggs on undersides of cattle in pasture on bright days. It causes stampedes which result in wire cuts, lost weight and poor milk production.

There is no treatment for the heel flies themselves, says Harold Gunderson, Iowa State College entomologist, but he points out that Iowa farmers can now observe what happens when the cattle grubs, which come from the eggs laid by heel flies, weren't properly treated last winter and spring. The flies probably stay on the farm where they were raised as grubs, says Gunderson, since they usually don't move more than one-half mile.

Control of the grubs is through the use of rotenone, applier at 30-day intervals, beginning in the late fall when the grubs begin to appear in "warbles" on the backs of cattle.

WSCS THURSDAY

Thursday will be the Children's Day at our W. S. C. S. meeting, at 2:00 P. M. July 1st. It is pot luck lunch, and will be served in the park, if the weather permits. Bring your own dishes and one covered dish and sandwiches. Quilters come early.

Mrs. August Josten Attended Convention At Park College, Mo.

Mrs. August Josten returned home Saturday from Parkville, Mo., where she attended the Womens Guild Conference at Park College. There were present more than one hundred and fifty leaders of the Womens Guild representing 11 states.

DR. F. L. HAYES
DENTIST
Office Over Rexall Store
Phone 21 Garner, Iowa

FEDERAL
Land Bank
LOANS
Long Term Low Interest
No Fees No Commission
Wm. F. Johannaber
Secretary-Treasurer
Forest City, Iowa
Phone 50

JULY 4, 5, 6,

TALL CORN THEATRE
KANAWHA IOWA

COAL

Now is the time to buy your coal. Fill Your bin this summer and be sure of your supply next winter. Don't take chances of possible coal strikes, rail tie-ups but fill your bins now.—

WE HAVE ON TRACK TODAY
INDIANA 6x3 FURNACE COAL
ILLINOIS RANGE 2x1½
BLUE BLAZE 5x2¼

This is all very good coal and you won't go wrong on this coal.

Twine

HARVEST is just about here and we are selling TWINE every day. Come in and get what you need for the season.

GREEN TOP TWINE $12.50
RED TOP TWINE $14.00

We have a FELCO FEED for every need. Buy FELCO, Feed Felco and the results will make you money every time. We have hundreds of satisfied FELCO customers.

Klemme Coop. Grain Company
"The Farmers Elevator" Glen Bridges, Manager

Closed . . .

ALL OF NEXT WEEK UNTIL TUESDAY, JULY 13

• * •

My Beauty Shop will be closed while the force is on vacation.

• * •

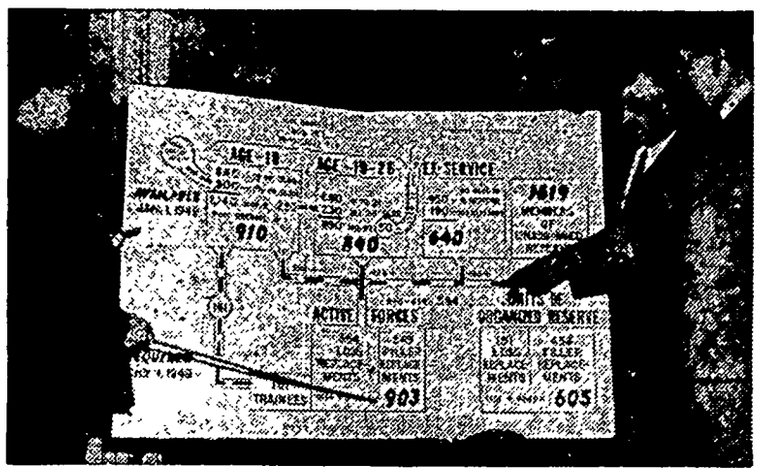
MARIE'S
BEAUTY SHOP
Marie Blank, Proprietor Klemme, Iowa

WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS

Truman's 'Non-Political' Tour Breaks Precedents, Hits Snags; Senate Fights to Recover Aid Slash

By Bill Schoentgen, WNU Staff Writer

(EDITOR'S NOTE: When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of Western Newspaper Union's news analysts and not necessarily of this newspaper.)



ODDS ON SECURITY . . . Seeking to end what he termed a "desperate gamble" with the nation's security, Sen. Chan Gurney (Rep., S. D.) (left) opened senate debate on the measure to draft youths aged 19 through 25. Chairman of the senate armed services committee, Gurney here is discussing the draft bill with Senators Leverett Saltonstall (Rep., Mass.) and Richard B. Russell (Dem., Ga.).

NON-POLITICAL:
Truman's Tour

President Truman's "non-political" swing through the West could be described as non-political only in the sense that Mr. Truman, as a candidate for Democratic renomination, had jettisoned many of the rules of standard party politics.

It was a lone wolf fight he was waging—going over the heads of party leaders to talk directly to the people. And most of what he had to say to the people concerned the Republican congress and what he termed its inaction.

In Chicago, speaking before the Swedish Pioneer Centennial association, he hammered out a platform upon which he can be expected to base his chances for renomination. It was a platform for "more and better democracy."

From Chicago the President, with his entourage, headed for the heart of the farm belt, Omaha, Neb., and it was there that he was set sharply back on his heels.

He continued his lambasting of the Republican congress—this time concentrating on GOP farm policies—in a speech at the Ak-Sar-Ben coliseum in Omaha. Fantastically, in the coliseum which has a capacity of 10,000, fewer than 2,000 persons were present to hear Mr. Truman talk.

This phenomenon was variously interpreted. Some said the President's box office appeal had wilted. Others claimed the Nebraska Democratic machine had done a miserably inadequate job in promoting his appearance.

Probably closer to the truth was the plain fact that the "non-political" label of the presidential trip had backfired seriously. He made a political speech and had expected to get a crowd of friendly Democrats to fill the hall for the occasion.

But the White House previously had told the Democratic organization in Omaha to lay off the political hoop-la, and the organization acted in compliance with those instructions. Payoff came when nobody else showed up to fill the aching void which the Democrats created by staying away.

It was an unpleasant blow for the campaigning Mr. Truman and one that might produce grave political repercussions.

But the President was resilient. And in a more or less happy frame of mind he left Omaha on his train and rode away into the setting sun in search of happier hunting grounds.

AID SLASH:
'Less Recovery'?

Sen. Arthur Vandenberg was fighting mad at what the house of representatives had done to his political baby, the world recovery program, by slashing nearly a million dollars from the appropriations for the Europe-Asia aid bill.

On the Republican foreign policy leader from Michigan rested the administration's hope of reclaiming the appropriations cut in senate action on the measure.

Certainly, Vandenberg has a more than usual affinity for global aid program since it was he who labored to steer the Marshall plan to congressional approval last April.

What the house had done was to approve a total foreign aid expenditure of $5,980,710,228 to be spread out over a period of 15 months. The administration had asked $6,533,710,228 as the minimum fund needed for a 12-month period.

Secretary of State George Marshall, fighting hard against the cut, had asserted that the smaller appropriation would mean putting Europe on a relief dole, rather than helping it to its feet.

But Rep. John Taber (Rep., N. Y.), chairman of the house appropriations committee, went right ahead and swung the ax. He said the funds his committee proposed were all that could be spent with any degree of prudence.

Paul G. Hoffman, head of the European recovery program, said he "certainly hoped" congress would restore the cuts.

ERP was hardest hit in the fund cut. Whereas congress previously had authorized up to 4.245 billion dollars in 12 months for that 16-nation recovery project, the appropriations bill as passed by the house knocked that figure down to 4 billion dollars for 15 months.

Other reductions:

Assistance to Greece and Turkey was cut from 275 million to 200 million dollars and aid to China cut from 463 million to 400 million.

DRAFT:
Debatable

In the waning days before adjournment of congress the senate had buckled down to the task of producing action on a limited revival of the military draft.

The house was waiting only for the senate to dispose of the question before its members waded into the tricky currents of a similar measure.

Legislators in both houses were treading gingerly about on the issue, throbbing with the knowledge that this is an election year and furthermore there are any number of American parents ready to offer material objections at the ballot box if their boys are called up for military service.

In the face of all this the senate, nevertheless, was trying to do some kind of a job. Its measure provided for the drafting of men 19 through 25 in sufficient numbers to bring the armed services up to their authorized strength. The bill would permit 18-year-olds to volunteer for a year's training, thus disposing of a universal military training act for the present.

Among the side issues that arose during the senate debate was the old bugaboo of civil rights. After an abortive two-hour filibuster by southern Democrats, the senate voted 37 to 35 to outlaw the poll tax as a requirement for voting in federal elections so far as members of the armed forces are concerned.

Actually, it was a minor issue, inasmuch as most of the seven southern poll tax states still have in effect wartime suspensions of the tax for members of the armed services.

Under the senate measure the draft would be authorized for five years, but the program is left flexible enough so congress each year could raise or lower both the regular and reserve forces to meet shifting world conditions.

Drafted men, after completing two years of service, would have to serve in the reserve for five years or, as a matter of choice, volunteer for an additional year in the regular services or two years in the national guard.

LATEST:
In Bombers

Army air force is developing another new long range jet bomber which will use propellors driven by jet turbines. It is called the XB-52.

The experimental plane represents another effort by designers to overcome the high fuel consumption and resulting limited range of jet bombers but still retain the jet's high speed. Jet-driven propellors may provide a partial answer.

Biggest Eye

Scientists and astronomers are tugging at the leash in anticipation of the secrets of the universe which the newly dedicated 200-inch telescope atop Mount Palomar, Calif., will reveal to them.

The telescope's enormous mirror—almost 17 feet across—will permit penetration twice as far into space as has previously been possible and may solve the ancient problem about life on Mars.

MINE TALKS:
More Snags

As usual John L. Lewis was mining the channels of possible agreement in the latest series of contract discussions between him and representatives of the soft coal mine operators.

The explosive the UMW chief planted this time was a demand that the operators first guarantee welfare aid for distressed miners before they can expect his union to sign a new contract.

Thus, the "Lewis situation" in the United States was being brought to the fore again.

Already the possessor of enough government injunctions to paper the den of his Springfield, Ill., home, Lewis received another one before he would consent to bargain with the operators on a new 1948-49 contract. (The old contract expires June 30.)

U. S. District Judge T. Alan Goldsborough issued the latest injunction ordering Lewis to bargain with the Southern Coal Producers association. The mine chief previously had refused to bargain with the association because the 14 member groups were being represented at the contract talks by just one man.

However, Lewis bowed to the injunction and agreed to talk.

In the course of this talk one of the first things he did was to call the mine operators "fat cats" and then wave an arrogant club at them with these words:

"We assume that you would deplore any impairment of your abnormal income after July 1. Such an assumption would seem to be a logical predicate for the making of a new wage agreement before that date."

Briefly, it looked as though Lewis was determined to strike again. Deprived of one snag, he immediately grasped another. As a result the first round of contract talks was fruitless.

Transition

Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, in the manner of all old warriors, probably will remain a soldier at heart till the end of his days, despite the fact that he has discarded his military trappings for the cap and gown of an educator. Ike has settled down as president of Columbia university, and that's the only kind of president he wants to be, he says.

GERMANY:
New Plan

Pivotal point of a healthy and prosperous Europe, Germany long has been under scrutiny by the Allied powers who have been searching for a way to return it to the world family of nations without starting another squabble.

Zonal partition of Germany perhaps has been the biggest hindrance to the formulation of such a plan, and Russia consistently has objected to re-establishing an autonomous German government.

Now, however, a new plan was afoot. The U. S. and five other friendly powers — Britain, France, Belgium, Luxembourg and The Netherlands — revealed a scheme for self-government in western Germany.

At the same time notice was served on Russia that occupation troops will remain there "until the peace of Europe is secured."

The plan calls for international control of the Ruhr and for steps toward convening a German constituent assembly in the three western zones "to prepare a constitution for approval of the participating states."

That was the skeleton of a program which might put Germany back on its feet.

Reaction in the U. S. was favorable. The state department hailed it as a major step toward recovery in Europe, and it also was regarded as a body blow to Russia in the cold war.

But, although the plan asserted with some vehemence that "Germany must not again be permitted to become an aggressive power," there was some worry as to whether France would approve it.

Does the decision to go ahead with the political rehabilitation of western Germany to the exclusion of Russia's eastern zone mean that the defeated nation is finally and irrevocably split?

U. S. officials don't think so. The theory is that although it was Russia itself which forced the western powers to act without Russia, the new program does not preclude the participation of the rest of Germany in the new self-governing federation if and when the people of the Soviet zone want in.

Washington Digest

Reciprocal Trade Is Vital To Well-Being of the World

By BAUKHAGE
News Analyst and Commentator

WASHINGTON.—Despite the spirited battle over extension of the reciprocal trade agreement authority, nothing which even its best friends could hope to do about it would be definitive, for everyone knew from the start that final action must be postponed until next year.

Reciprocal trade agreements have been a definite part of our foreign trade policy for 14 years. If they were of any value in the past, they are of even more value now. But with an election a little more than four months off and congress trying to break a log jam of legislation, lengthy debate on the subject was impossible.

Putting it backwards, the reciprocal trade agreement policy is this: If a country is prevented by a high tariff wall from selling to us, it can't get the dollars to buy from us. Or, if the country has borrowed money from us, it can't get the dollars to pay us back. That's what happened after World War I, and the breakdown in foreign trade was one of the great factors in bringing on depression.

But that isn't the only thing that tariff walls do. They tend to force isolationism, extreme nationalism on a country and behind the tariff walls, as ex-Secretary of State Cordell Hull used to say so often, grow the roots of war.

Secretary of State Marshall stated that the Gearhart bill would destroy the substance of the reciprocal trade theory, a theory which is not only the cornerstone of our general foreign trade policy, but the principle which we have insisted must be followed by nations participating in the European recovery program.

The secretary said that "only the shadow of the original act would be preserved in the substitute bill proposed by Representative Gearhart, while its substance would be destroyed." And he added: "I think our national interests would be better preserved to permit the trade agreements act to expire than to permit H.R. 6556 to be enacted."

He pointed out that any serious weakening of the trade agreements act at this critical period in world affairs would "almost certainly be regarded by other countries not only as a surrender of our leadership in the international economic field, but as a repudiation of much that has been accomplished under our leadership in that field."

Presumably he meant this: When we agreed to the European recovery plan (E.C.A.), one of the things we emphasized, demanded in fact, was that the countries receiving our aid would have to break down tariff barriers against each other and the rest of the world. We knew there couldn't be economic recovery if there was not a free flow of world trade.

Even before the E.C.A. was ever thought of—since 1934, as a matter of fact—by vigorously pursuing the reciprocal idea, by concluding reciprocal trade treaties with so many countries (we have them with all but six or seven of the Marshall plan participants) we have encouraged the world to reduce tariff walls. Thus it would hardly seem consistent suddenly to reverse ourselves and go back to the old days of high tariff economic isolationism.

The measure as the house presented it had another drawback in the eyes of Secretary Marshall and supporters of his point of view. The bill would force the President either to accept the recommendations of the federal tariff commission on adjustments above or below a certain bracket or submit them to a congressional veto. That sounds reasonable in theory, but what it does is to smash absolutely the whole basis for reciprocal trade negotiation.

A nasty little joker in the measure stating that tariff commission recommendations must be made on the principle of protecting the special interests concerned revealed the intent of its framers. That provision would destroy the purpose of negotiation by removing trade agreements from the field of the "general good" and narrowing them down to a question of whether the particular industry is to be protected from competition. Thus, not only would international relations and conditions have to be ignored entirely, but broad national interests as well.

Secretary Marshall used strong words in criticizing this clause when he said: "The bill, in effect, makes pure protection the sole criterion for tariff action."

Very few groups outside of the big industries which want to keep down foreign competition oppose the reciprocal trade program. The great majority of the chambers of commerce are for it. Earl Shreve, national president of the chamber of commerce, has said that any "restrictions on or crippling of the trade agreements program would have very undesirable repercussions. Discontinuance or impairment would destroy consistency in United States policy and would undermine world confidence."

Former Republican presidential candidate Alfred E. Landon came out in favor of the three-year extension of the trade agreements act as urged by the administration. He said that failure to extend the act would be contrary to the Republican policy plank of 1944.

Frequent public opinion polls have shown that the majority of the people favor trade treaties. In fact, persons who know what trade treaties are vote better than eight to one to retain them.

I'm no economic expert, but all I have ever read or heard about the old high protective tariff debates, the experience under the Smoot-Hawley bill, the post-World War I debt repudiation and depression would seem to indicate that the high tariff idea should and would be dead as a dodo.

If not, it means we spin the wheel backward to the grand old days of high tariffs which killed foreign trade, made it impossible for foreign countries to sell us goods and spend their money here, or to pay back the money they owed us — simply to protect certain private interests.

* * *

This Convention Is Different

As the Republicans swing into action with the greatest hope they have had for electing a president since the fifth birthday of this year's first voters, there are a number of striking contrasts to be noted between this convention in Philadelphia and former GOP conclaves.

One big contrast is in the size of the audience which actually will behold the speakers as they step forward onto the rostrum. In 1940, some 10,000 people not actually in the hall witnessed the convention.

Two television cameras mirrored the scenes to a fairly select audience, some of it composed of persons fortunate enough to share the hospitality of the Railroad club in the same building as the hall. There one could escape the sound and fury, the glare of the lights, the heat and aridity, and could snack and sip in a comfortable chair.

This year in Philadelphia, the estimated television audience will be counted in the millions, for networks will carry the scene to viewers from Massachusetts to California. Instead of two lonely cameras, there will be the pooled equipment and programming of the various nets.

But there is a greater contrast in the Republican political situation than in the delegates' physical surroundings between today and 1940.

No one who witnessed the Willkie stampede can forget. It was just about as unorthodox a procedure as history records, for the candidate was chosen, not in the hall, nor in a smoke-filled room either, but out in the sticks. If this is to be a "wireless" convention, the 1940 affair was a convention "by wire."

A group of high-pressure amateurs, who were no amateurs when it came to organized action, was putting pressure on the "big men" in every community, and the "big men" were getting to bosses or to the delegates direct by telegram and telephone. The Willkie amateurs "stole" the show from the professionals, and the professionals swore it never would happen again. It isn't happening this year.

Another highly interesting contrast between conventions — this time between 1948 and 1944—is the hectic atmosphere of today as opposed to the comparative calm then. There was a "Dewey-has-it-in-the-bag" feeling back in Chicago four years ago which took the zip out of the Chicago air. Also the war overshadowed the conclave then. The National Republican (the party newspaper) started off its lead article on June 26, 1944: "With the invasion news commanding the attention of the entire convention . . ."

Another contrast between '44 and '48 is in the attitude toward foreign policy. Then it was the most delicate question which faced the platform committee. Today Senator Vandenberg has foreign policy wrapped up in a neat package signed with his name and sealed with his signet ring. That issue is no worry at all.

Sportlight
by GRANTLAND RICE

THERE are many millions who take either a keen or a casual interest in what happens day by day in baseball. But these have nothing like the passionate interest some three or four million golfers have in reducing their score.

Baseball's major interest belongs to spectators. Golf's major interest belongs to the players and competitors. Golf is one of the greatest health-making and training games of all time for the multitude.

Baseball is one of the greatest fan games or mental relaxations for the crowd, minus any physical aid. The golfer's interest is largely personal. "How can I chop off a stroke or two," asks Bill Brown, "so I can trim that fathead, Jack Smith, who makes me play him even?"

There are things you can do or at least try. For example here are tips that came direct from Harry Vardon:

"Vardon gave me a great tip," Walter Hagen told me one day. "It was about playing shots from heavy rough or from the sand in bunkers. I used to go into the rough or walk into a bunker gripping a niblick as if it were a matter of life or death. It meant power.

" 'Don't do that,' Vardon told me. 'Grip the club lightly or gently in your hands. Get the full play of your hands and wrists. Eliminate tension, as far as you can. Most people in trouble, in the rough or the bunker, nearly always develop too much tension. This is the spot where you can't afford tension. Just ease up.' "

Another Vardon tip came years ago from a British publisher whose short game was phenomenal.

"I'll tell you who helped me," he said. "It was Vardon on chip shots. Vardon showed me how to pick out a spot or a target just an inch ahead of the ball. This helped me to chip or swing through the ball. It prevented stabbing or jabbing.

"Vardon is an amazing man," the publisher said, "on the simple side of the game. He doesn't use a straight left arm. He breaks his left elbow, bends it. But his left arm is straight at impact. That is when it counts. That is where almost everything that counts takes place. At impact."

On chip shots you might try the Vardon system—picking out a spot an inch beyond the ball as the target.

Golf Is Personal

Golf is your game. To a large degree baseball, football and boxing are someone else's game. Golf is the playing game. Tennis is a playing game. The others are spectator's games.

How can you pare away that extra stroke or two—maybe three or four strokes? Here are just a few more tips:

BEN HOGAN: "At the finish of my swing, the right hand is in control. The left hand is important until the final smash.

"But I can give you another good tip. It concerns putting. Most putts are missed because there is knee-and-body motion when you stroke the ball. I concentrate on locking my knees so there can be no knee-or-body motion. Putting belongs entirely to the hands and wrists. Keep the body still and then stroke the ball. But concentrate on stroking the ball."

GENE SARAZEN: "The big weakness in golf is the tension most golfers develop in being too slow. They say golf is not a game of motion. It is with me. I hit a drive. Then as I walk up to the ball I make up my mind on the club I need. That won't take over a second or two.

"It's the same way on the green. Don't hurry. But don't get tied up. Keep moving. When you've decided on the club you need, forget everything else. Concentrate on that club only. But never hurry any swing.

"Here is an excellent tip. Never hurry any swing or any part of a swing. You can loaf on your backswing. But it is more important to loaf on your downswing."

Delay in Downswing

"In my opinion," Tommy Armour has told me several times, "the delay in the downswing is the most single important feature in golf. This was a big factor in Vardon's swing, the finest swinger I ever saw play. It was a big feature in Bobby Jones' swing in his later campaigns, I mean after 1922. Hagen was never in a hurry. He was a magnificent timer.

"I wonder how many golfers know they start their downswing before they finish their backswing? They simply can't wait to hit the ball. They get about two-thirds back and then the downswing starts.

"I would say this is the biggest common weakness in golf. The main idea is not to hurry anything. You can loaf on your backswing—you can loaf on your downswing. Not too much, but enough to keep everything smooth. Don't ever rush that downswing. That even goes for chip shots."

CLASS
DEPART
WATCHM
Be a Watchmaker—B
Day and Evening
Approved for V
Write today for free
Chicago Institute of
Mt. Vernon Br
7 So. Pulaski Road

HELP WANTE
Make M
At Ho
Good territories open want to build themselv ness calling on feeder home field with a co
minerals and cultured money making opportuni
man. For complete inf
DEPT. T,
Tanvil
FEED CO.,
585 S. W. 7th St., Des

Earn EXTRA MONEY sell sport garments for men, w
fit. Rapid Service Garmen
Pulaski Rd., Chicago 41,

FARMS & RAN
FOR SALE — 774-acre rive
Lots of good buildings, a fenced, 4½ miles from Lisb bargain at $50 per acre. Writ
327, Lisbon, N. Dak.
FOR SALE: Improved farm
A. 27500. 160 A. 115. 80 A
6500. CHAS. REILLY, New
WELL imp. 160 A. Dwl, m land in good state of cult. B of the best fenced farms in
A. Others all sizes and ty small down payments. Floyd ton, Iowa.
CANADIAN FARMS—Write w
FORMATION on farm settlem
Fertile soils. Reasonably priced
Canadian Pacific Railway, Ua
Paul, Minn.

REAL ESTATE
MISSOURI Lands for Life-pi
Life Magazine (Opportunities) and investment-Terms low monthly. Free details and buyers. Write J. T. Armstro

BUSINESS & INV.
FRANCHISE OPEN-IT S
operated 5c shoe shine machi sell this proven money make facturing, 1001 Louisiana, K
CAFE and barbecue, one of th and highly patronized plac
Minnesota. Located on two in the heart of the vacation room in knotty pine, two r ing quarters, building and eq best. Will stand the closest
Priced to sell. $7,500 will h
terms to suit. Write G. H. R Minn., Owner.

AUTOS, TRUCKS &
ONE 1946 Jeep with metal t
Jeep with Governor. One 1947 wagon; all in perfect shape.
now. Howard Auto Company
Iowa. Ph. 408.
TRUCK box, 8 ft. All steel incl
Taken from Diamond-T one t fit ¾ or 1 T. truck. List price
Schwendemann, Leigh, Ia.

INSTRUCTION
Simpson Co
Indianola, Iow
Dependable program
sonalized counseling a ance.
Accredited by the A
of American Universiti
Degrees conferred in Arts, Business, Music,
Training.
Fall term starts Sept
For specific informati to the Department of Relations.

TRAVEL
VACATION on Womans lake a Lake at Minne-Teepe Resort.
housekeeping cabins set amon white birches and pines. Write tion and reservations to Minne-T
Hackensack, Minn. Mr. and Mr
Engler, Props.

MISCELLANEOUS
HOSE mending, reweaving, gar
Mail orders welcome. JOSIE S
301 Shops Bldg., Des Moines, Iow
STAMP COLLECTIONS bought
J. A. NEWHOUSE, Box 323, W
Bank Reference.

HEAVY DUTY
BURCH PAUL
● For Farm Machi
● Wagons, Corn Cr
● Trucks, Hay Stac
SEE YOUR DEALER . . .
BURCH PAULIN
COST NO
REINFORCED EYELETS A
3 FEET APART
Write for the name of your dealer
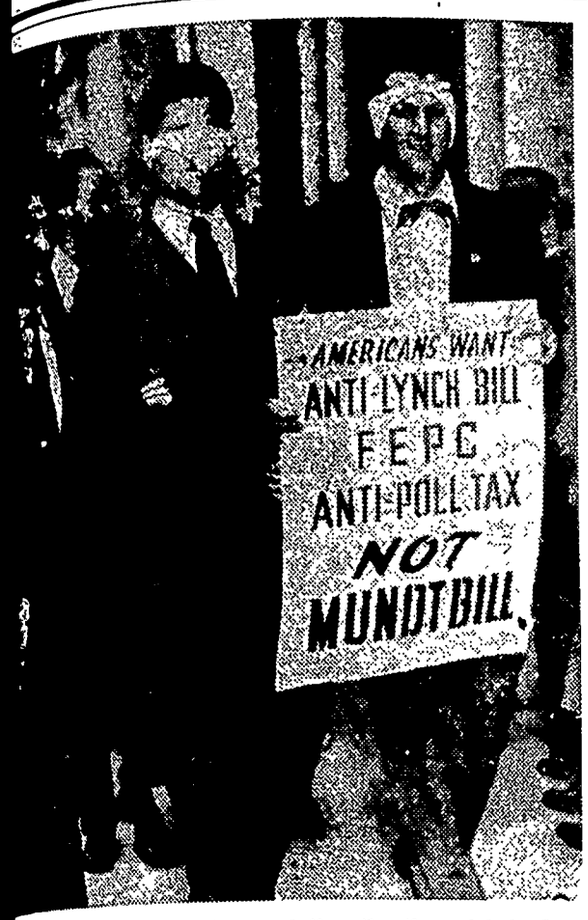
Ft. Dodge Tent & Awni
FORT DODGE, IOWA

WNU—N

To remove old paint or from fine wood, place a steel wool in a rubber cr and rub lightly, being ca avoid scratching. Then cle with turpentine.



...NES . . . Three pickets, emulating the three fabulous' "see no evil, hear no evil and speak no evil," are shown ...e Republican national headquarters in Washington as they ...st the Mundt-Nixon anti-Communist bill. Whether they ...ey the three monkeys symbolism to the anti-Red bill or to ...ments is not clear. Also, they aren't lined up in the ...hear, speak" order. Still, it wasn't a bad stunt as stunts ...

DEMO SONGSTRESS... Eighteen-year-old Phyllis Hoyland of Washington, D. C., has been selected to sing the Star Spangled Banner at the Democratic national convention in Philadelphia July 12. She is a soprano.

AMBASSADOR . . . Newly appointed British ambassador to the U. S. is Sir Oliver Franks. A professor of philosophy, the 43-year-old Briton never has held a diplomatic post or political office before.

NAVY NURSE . . . Ensign Yoshiko Tanigawa, a native of Rossville, Calif., is the first and only nurse of Japanese ancestry to be commissioned as a member of the U. S. navy nurse corps. She's at work in the naval hospital at Long Beach.

DEFIANCE . . . William Z. Foster, head of the U. S. Communist party, told the senate judiciary committee that the party would not obey the Mundt-Nixon "anti-Communist" bill if the measure becomes law. He also testified that American Communists would not fight against Russia in the event of war.

...THE UNIVERSE . . . With appropriately impressive cere... world's largest mirror telescope received its dedication in ...r mountain, Calif., observatory. It was christened the Hale ...honor of the late Dr. George Ellery Hale, pioneering chair... ...rnia Institute of Technology's observatory council, who ...ed the project 20 years ago. The 200-inch mirror can be ...upper right.

...L AIR MAIL . . . Ever since the days of the pony express ...mericans have been looking for new ways to deliver mail. ...way. The 155-foot blimp "Wonder Ship" set a precedent by ...w level delivery of a mail pouch with contributions to the ...York fund. The mail was delivered at the seaplane base ...et and East River in New York. The whole thing only goes ...at can be done when a press agent sets his mind to it.

...S OF WAR—AN OLD STORY . . . Despite talk of a truce ...e peace negotiations, the war in Palestine continues its ..., producing deaths, destruction and prisoners as all wars do. ...embers of the Jewish Haganah were captured by the Arabs ...ttle of Kfar Etzyon, a strategic Jewish settlement outside ...Arab reports say these were the only two prisoners taken.

SCRIPT WRITER . . . Rene Borgia, author of allegedly "slanderous" scripts used on Voice of America broadcasts, told congress that material for the disputed programs was taken from a WPA guide book and John Gunther's "Inside U.S.A."

AH OPEN LETTER

Messrs. Stalin and Wallace
Gents:

The letter-and-statement-exchanging season is on and everybody is trying to get into the act.

— * —

Well, I have been going over once more those statements and letters of you two boys and I don't know if I ever read two statements which could mean so much to a baffled world if they could be taken as the real McCoy or a reasonable facsimile thereof.

— * —

I have yet to find a fellow who is not for everything you both say you stand for. Every item you list as representing something you favor has been favored by nine out of 10 men ever since V-J Day. If anybody else but you, Joe, and you, Henry, wrote letters announcing a favorable stand on those same points they would not get in any paper in the world on account of they are old stuff.

— * —

In your letter, Henry and in your answering statement, Joe, you both came out for:

1. Co-operative efforts for peace.
2. Reduced armies.
3. Non-interference with the sovereignty of another state.
4. Swifter peace with Germany.
5. An end to obstructionist tactics.
6. Non-interference with the domestic affairs of any state.

— * —

Who is the fellow who has been against these, Joe? Tell me who has been blocking, frustrating, sabotaging and monkey-wrench tossing whenever a conference on these aims opened up? Who has been walking out on and busting up meetings? Who was that guy who took over Czechoslovakia? (It didn't look to me like Harry Truman or Georgie Marshall.) Who has been crashing into little countries right and left and telling them where they get off? (The Messrs. Dulles, Hull, Harriman?) What is the name of that fellow who has been hurling the 200-pound veto? (It didn't sound like "Byrnes.")

— * —

And that "century of peace" idea, Henry, what about that? If you had to point out somebody who maybe wasn't red hot for a century of peace would you point to Uncle Sam? Don't you know very well that there isn't an American leader who wouldn't settle for a half century? So how come two fellows named Josef Stalin and Henry Wallace put each other out in front as the only men warm for such a great benefit to the human race?

— * —

Joe, you say "I do not know whether the United States government approves of Mr. Wallace's program as a basis for an agreement between the United States and Russia." Please, will you stop acting. The United States government has been approving of the program ever since the war ended, except for that matter of the atom bomb, and only you two boys see eye to eye on finagling Uncle Sam out of that one.

— * —

Well, anyhow the pen is mightier than the sword and it feels better, too. So keep on writing, as it can't do much harm.

Yours hopefully,
Elmer Twitchell.

* * *

PUBLIC ENVY NO. I

A look of triumph lights his eyes
And by his knowledge I am floored;
For he got underneath those sheets . . .
And had a look at that new Ford!

* * *

Vanishing Americanism

"Arabs armed with scimitars."

— * —

"They had a little nest egg in the bank for emergencies."

— * —

"Take all the time you need to pay."

— * —

"My time is your time."

* * *

A gang caught cracking a safe had gone directly to the job from a ball game. They were the fellows who had kept yelling "Steal, ya bum, steal!"

* * *

Babe Ruth will go to Yale during commencement and present to it the original manuscript of his life story. This will amount to socking one over the old Yale fence.

* * *

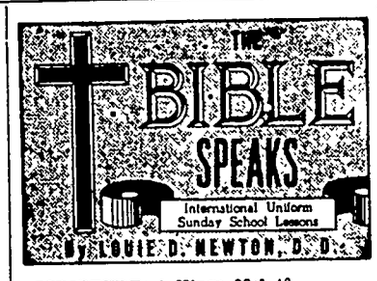
We liked this recent observation by Arthur Krock: "In case of a deadlock the convention may come in a smoke-filled room. There is nothing wrong about it: How, except by conference, can a decision be reached? And it is not yet a cardinal sin to use tobacco."

* * *

"President Truman's western tour will not be political."—News item.

— * —

Wanna bet?



SCRIPTURE: I Kings 22:1-40.
DEVOTIONAL READING: Psalms 138: 1-8.

Micaiah, A Prophet of Israel

Lesson for July 4, 1948

WE BEGIN a new series of studies this quarter—a series of lessons based on less known Bible characters that have much to offer us. Such a character is found in Micaiah, about whom we learn in I Kings 22:1-40.

Dr. Newton

Ahab, king of Israel, planned an expedition to recover the city of Ramoth in Gilead, which the Syrians had taken. He invited Jehoshaphat, king of Judah, to join him. Ahab relied upon his court prophets to predict victory; but Micaiah, the prophet of God, whom Ahab had shut up in prison, when he was summoned, at the insistence of Jehoshaphat, told Ahab the truth—the unpleasant truth—which subsequent events verified.

* * *

BRAVE ENOUGH TO TELL THE TRUTH

THE first blessing in the study of this obscure Bible character, Micaiah, is to discover a man who was brave enough to tell the truth when he knew it was unpopular.

It is always the best policy to tell the truth, though there be many in today's world who deny this principle. It is not enough to say that we will tell the truth because it pays. That is true, but it as a by-product of doing what is right. One must tell the truth because it is right to tell the truth. Men swear with their hand upon the Holy Bible that what they testify is the truth and nothing but the truth. But, alas, such men often tell anything but the truth. They have been carefully coached to evade the truth.

Micaiah told the truth, because he was speaking for God. It hurt him, but it must needs be the truth he spoke to Ahab.

* * *

TRUTH DISREGARDED

Ahab scorned the words of Micaiah, and ordered him thrown back into prison But scarcely had the prophet of God been thrust again into prison, until Ahab was bleeding to death in his chariot.

Men not only take their own lives in their hands when they disregard the truth, but, like stubborn Ahab, they bring grief to countless others. Had Ahab heeded the words of truth which Micaiah proclaimed, Ahab might have lived. Indeed, had Ahab heeded the words of truth, he might have recovered Ramoth, and more beside.

Truth may appear forever on the scaffold, wrong forever on the throne, but time always proves a hard taskmaster to the man who regards wrong instead of truth.

* * *

THE SOURCE OF TRUTH

GOD is the source of truth—all truth. If we miss this, we miss the lesson of the lesson. Note the words of the golden text, "As the Lord liveth, what the Lord saith unto me, that will I speak," said Micaiah.

Let us remember that it was God speaking through his prophet. Ahab could not have doubted that Micaiah was speaking what God had told him to speak. But Ahab did not want to hear the truth. He wanted to hear pleasing words that would encourage him in his evil plan.

God speaks the first and the last word on every subject, because God is truth. "I am the truth," said Jesus. And he went on to say, "Ye shall know the truth, and the truth shall make you free."

* * *

THE PENALTY OF DISOBEYING THE TRUTH

HORRIBLE, indeed, was the penalty which Ahab suffered for disregarding the truth. The way of the transgressor is hard—always hard. The wages of sin is death. Be sure your sins will find you out.

Take down your cherished books of history. What do they say to you? That the straight line of truth is the only safe way in which to walk. It is applicable for the individual, for the family, for the community, for the nation, for civilization.

Thus every great prayer must be, "Thy will be done." God's will is the way of truth. Micaiah declared it. Every true prophet must declare it. It is the only way to peace and joy in this world.

* * *

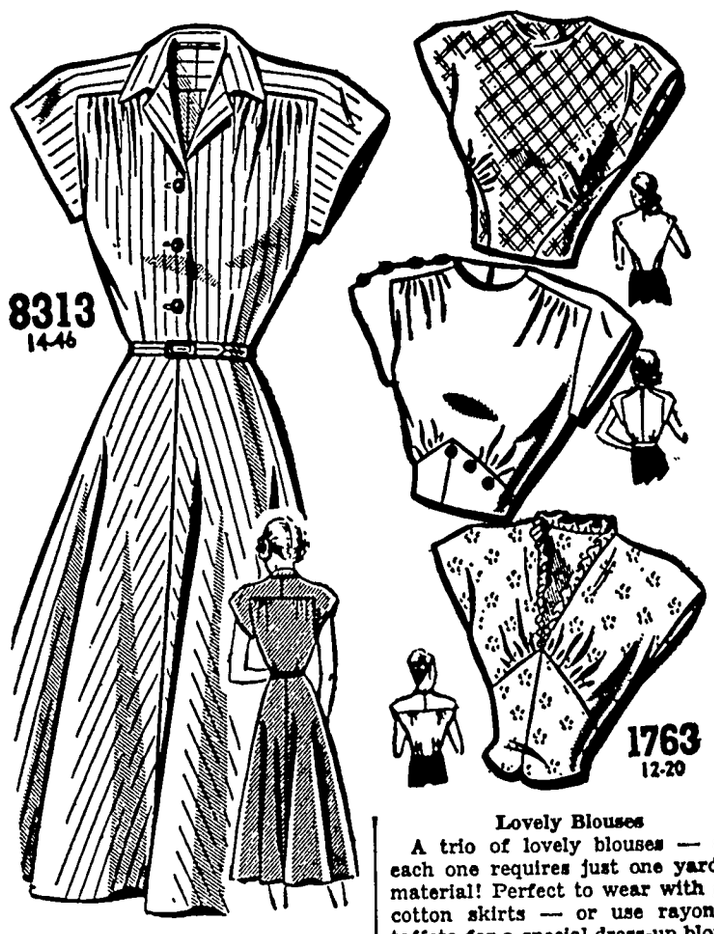
(Copyright by the International Council of Religious Education on behalf of 40 Protestant denominations. Released by WNU Features.)

On Believing

All over the world now there is a reaction from the superficial talk that it does not make much difference what a man believes. We have learned our lesson. What a man believes makes a world of difference not only in what he does, but what happens to him.

Smart Shirtwaister for Women

One Yard Blouses Easy Sewing



Casual Frock

Crisp, casual, well tailored — a beautifully fitting shirtwaist frock that's suitable for practically every occasion. Extended shoulders are cool and comfortable. Try a brightly striped fabric used in contrast.

* * *

Pattern No. 8313 is for sizes 14, 16, 18, 20; 40, 42, 44 and 46. Size 16, 4⅝ yards of 39-inch.

Send today for your copy of the Spring and Summer FASHION — contains special fashions by top flight designers; easy to make frocks; free pattern and free knitting directions printed inside the book. 25 cents.

SEWING CIRCLE PATTERN DEPT.
530 South Wells St. - Chicago 7, Ill.
Enclose 25 cents in coins for each pattern desired.
Pattern No. _____ Size _____
Name _____
Address _____

Lovely Blouses

A trio of lovely blouses — and each one requires just one yard of material! Perfect to wear with gay cotton skirts — or use rayon or taffeta for a special dress-up blouse. Nice gift idea, too.

* * *

Pattern No. 1763 comes in sizes 12, 14, 16, 18 and 20. Size 14, 1 yard of 39-inch for each blouse.

FIRST AID to the AILING HOUSE

by Roger C. Whitman

QUESTION: How can I put a maple finish on an unpainted wooden table?

ANSWER: First rub down the wood with fine sandpaper and steel wool until the surfaces are smooth and "satin"-like; then wipe off the dust with turpentine. If you wish to have an orange maple color, you can get this effect by the application of two coats of pure orange shellac. The first coat should be thinned half-and-half with denatured alcohol. For other shades, apply an oil stain, selecting the color that you prefer from a color-card at your local paint store. Apply the stain as directed on the label and finish with two coats of quick-drying varnish.

QUESTION: The mortar is powdering between the bricks of our chimney. How can I repair it?

ANSWER: Clean out the old mortar to a depth of half an inch or so, wet the grooves with water, then pack with a mixture of 1 part portland cement, 1 part hydrated lime and 5 parts of clean, coarse sand with just enough water to make a workable mixture.

Rows 15,000 Miles Yearly Within Sight of His Home

MIDDLEPORT, OHIO. — Arvin Roush, Clifton, W. Va., rows a boat an estimated 15,000 miles a year yet never gets more than three-quarters of a mile from his home.

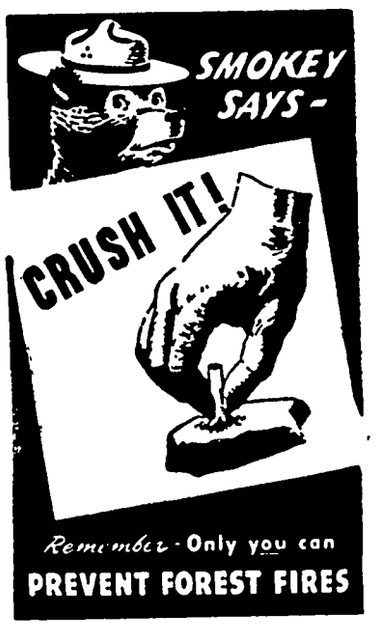
Roush, operator of the Clifton-Middleport ferry across the Ohio river, is one of the fast-disappearing clan of hardy ferry operators who still work their ferries by hand. They have been replaced mostly by toll-free bridges.

is this yellow box

in your home?
NO STICKING

Why EVER PAY MORE? Why ACCEPT LESS?
St. Joseph ASPIRIN
WORLD'S LARGEST SELLER AT 10¢

PILES TROUBLE?
Eor Quick Relief
DON'T DELAY ANY LONGER! Now, a doctor's formula you can use at home to relieve distressing discomfort of pain—itch—irritation due to piles. Tends to soften and shrink swelling. Use this proven doctor's formula. You'll be amazed at its speedy action relief. Ask your druggist today for Thornton & Minor's Rectal Ointment or Suppositories. Follow label instructions. For sale at all drug stores.



IT'S GOOD BUSINESS
If it advertises in our paper. When a business doesn't advertise it's usually because it doesn't have much to offer. Our advertisers do.
DRIFTWOOD FOR SALE

Try A Times Want Ad.

CURTIS G. RIEHM
Attorney-At-Law
Office Over Federated Store
Res. Phone 133W2
Phone 133 Garner, Iowa

For Quick Truck Delivery On
Diamond
D-X
Products of all kinds
Phone 85
ERNEST HENSCHEN
Klemme, Iowa

No Seeds - -
When You Use
VITROGEN
SEEDLESS TOMATOES
plus increase in size, and weight, less acid earlier ripening, increased yield.
Less Seeds In Other Plants
Jorgenson's
CORNER STORE
Klemme Iowa

KLEMME LOCAL NEWS

Dr. A. H. Dulmes and C. G. Waterman were at Britt on business last Thursday.

Miss Peggy Coobs of Des Moines spent the week end in Klemme visiting with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Benn Coobs.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Jansen of Iowa Falls were over night guests at the Clara Stille home on Thursday.

Miss Dorotthy Polsdofer, who has been staying at the Glenn Bier home near Goodell, returnhome Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Josten and Mrs. and Mrs. Frank Ward visited at the Emil Beier home Sunday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Suckow spent Thursday at the H. A. Ludeke and Paul Ludeke homes at Meservey.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Suckow were supper guests at the Fred Schlichtng home Saturday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Suckow visited with Mr. Suckows mother, Mrs. H. Suckow and Mr. and Mrs. Herman Paul Sunday evening.

Advertise with a Times want ad.

GARNER CLINIC
GARNER, IOWA
Dr. E. M. Christensen, M.D.
Physician & Surgeon, Ph. 18
EYES TESTED — GLASSES FITTED
Dr. A. G. Landon, D.D.S.
Dentist, Ph. 207

KLEMME LOCAL NEWS

Larry Stille spent last week at Thornton visiting with his cousins, Jerry and Richard Stille.

Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Bier and son, Ronald, were dinner guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Rice near Rockwell Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Francis Buseman were Sunday dinner and supper guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Kluckhohn of Stanhope.

Mrs. Awalt Jahnke and children of Mason City attended the Reformed Bible School picnic and also visited at the parental Ben Mullin home.

Mr. and Mrs. Elwood Geary and son, Eldon, and Darlene Geary of Fonda and Mr. and Mrs. Edd Schoenwetter and son Wayne were Sunday dinner guests at the Merle Schoenwetter home.

Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Carothers and children of Bellflower, California and Mr. and Mrs. John Carothers and Mary Tyler of Garner were guests at the Quentin Stille home on Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Jones and family and Mr. and Mrs. Mrs. Quentin Stille and Larry attended a family reunion at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Tyler at Mason City on Sunday. The ladies are sisters.

Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Kingery drove to Green Thursday for a visit and to attend the Kingery family reunion on Sunday. Mr. Kingery also had business in Des Moines in regard to his new position which he takes over at Fort Dodge on July 1st.

Mrs. Claude Smith, Mrs. Calvin Smith, Mrs. J. Paulson, Miss Anna Faust, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Faust, Mrs. Cleo Faust, Mrs. Helmer Hill, Mrs. Jerome LaBunty, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Schroeder, and Arlene and Geo. Jr., all of Kanawha; Mrs. Nora Gordon of Miller; Miss Sadie Dorenkamp of Mason City, attended the wedding and reception of Irene Peck at Clarion June 19.

AROUND IOWA

NOT SO SMART

At LeMars, three youngsters are wondering if owls are so smart after all. They surprised one in a pasture and it flew up into a tree, becoming entangled in the branches. The boys shot it as it hung helplessly there.

OVER-TURNED

Last week Ellis Myres loaded his tractor with two barrels of spray solution. As he backed the machine off a platform, involving a "drop" of about a foot, the machine turned over and killed him instantly.

METEOR?

When Clinton Gabriel went out to look at his tomato field one morning recently, he found a large patch of the plants "burned out" as if they had been subjected to intense heat. In the center of the area was a hole, about one foot deep and several feet in diameter. In the center of the large hole, a smaller one about two inches in diameter extended into the ground for about five feet. A small meteor is thought to have caused the damage.

FIRST

The Thornton Enterprise publisher, W. S. Nelson, was the first election official to turn in returns in the primary last week. Results of his Grimes-Thornton precinct were reported exactly ten minutes after the polls closed.

SNAKE

At Volga, a farm women went out to gather the eggs, she found a five foot snake coiled on top of them and killed him with an axe.

RECOVERING

At the Hartley hospital, little Rosemary Rohde, one year old, is recovering from a bullet wound in the stomach. She was injured when a brother picked up her father's revolver, accidently discharging it.

GROWING

In Clarke County, measurements conducted by Lyle Miller showed that corn grew three inches in a 24 hour period. (It will do better when the weather warms up!)

OATS, SOYBEANS GOOD HAY CROP

Quality Determined By Way The Crops Are Handled Specialist Says

Iowa farmers facing a shortage of hay supplies for next winter because of winter-killed legume seedings can now turn to emergency hay crops.

Marvin Anderson, extension argonomist at Iowa State College, points out that oats and soybeans make good emergency hay crops. Soybeans, if handled properly, have about the same feeding value as alfalfa. Oats hay is about equal in total digestible nutrients and about half as high in digestible protein as alfalfa.

Meet Problem

Dairymen who had relied on new seedings for hay have two ways to meet the problem. One is to plan for additional silage, keeping in mind the possibility of building a temporary silo. The other is to cut soybeans or oats for hay.

The farmer who faces a hay shortage probably will be better off to put his grass up for hay and to put corn in the silo. Anderson points out that soybeans also make good silage.

The quality of the hay a farmer gets from his oats or soybeans is largely determined by the way it is handled, Anderson says. Some of the factors are time of cutting, the amount of leaves saved and degree of weathering.

When To Cut

Cut oats for hay when the heads are in the milk stage. If cut later, the yield of total hay is greater, but the protein content is lower and the fiber content higher.

Soybeans should be cut for hay when the pods are fairly well filled and when the lower leaves start to turn. Anderson points out that it is important to save as many leaves as possible and not to expose the hay to the weather any longer than necessary.

Sudan Grass

Some farmers sowed sudan grass this summer. Sudan will make hay comparable to oats in feeding value. Cut sudan any time after it has headed out up to the soft dough stage. If sudan was seeded around corn panting time, it is possible to get two crops of hay. However, the farmer planning on 2 crops of sudan hay should cut the first a little earlier than normally.

HANCOCK COUNTY REAL ESTATE DEALS

Johnson, Oren W. and Mildred H., wife to Thomas A. Rose 2-4-48 Wty. Deed $400.00 a tract of land beginning 20' E of SW corner of Outlot 5 Call's 1st Add. Kanawha 45' E and W by 142' N and S.

Sonius, Anna, single, et al to Sonius, David 4-30-48 Wty. Deed $1.00 NE¼ Sec. 32-97-26.

Sonius, Anna, single, et al to Sonius, Folkert 4-30-48 Wty. Deed $1.00 SE¼ of Sec. 31-97-26.

Scanlon, M. P. and Emma, wife to Monson, Marlen C. and Pauline 6-15-48 Wty. Deed $8,000 L1, 2, 3, 4 and 5 Blk. 10 Crystal Lake, Iowa.

Brcka, Anton F., widower et al ot Houdek Anna 6-14-48 QCD $1.00 E½ SW¼ Sec. 16-95-24.

Olson, John E., a widower to Olson, Arthur C. 6-14-48 Wty. Deed $1200.00 L8, 9, 10, Blk. 2 Grandview Add to Kanawha.

Hanson, Elmer G. and Dorothy wife to Brunsen, Eldo and Maude W., wife, 3-8-48 Wty. Deed $11,000.00 the N. 134' of W½ of L10 and N 134' of L11, Blk. 1 Van Oosting's Add to Kanawha.

Read "Romanic Rebels—The Fabulous Claflin Sisters." Profiles of Ohio-bred Victoria and Tennessee Claflin. Not satisfied with their 19th century roles as "sheltered women" the sisters entered business and politics. Learn how one ran for President, the other became Lady Cook in the American Weekly, the magazine distributed with SUNDAY'S HERALD - AMERICAN.

Poultry owners have found that confined flocks pay more than those turned out to roam the farm during the spring and summer.

PUBLIC HEALTH COUNCIL

The Hancock County Public Health Council met in Britt Central States Building, Wednesday, June 16th.

Dr. L. W. Eller, Kanawha, discussed rheumaitc fever, the scourge of childhood, with the council members. The group enjoyed seeing movies taken of the dental health day parade.

A report on public health nursing activities reveal that 49 Hancock County children were seen at the Crippled Children's Clinic this month. The Tuberculosis contact program is beginning now. This program is extended to people who have had tuberculosis, been in contact with it or for some other reason are referred by their family doctors for chest x-rays. The x-rays will be given sometime during July.

Mention was also made of the 4-H physical examination program in Hancock County this year. The County and Township Health Chairman of the Farm Bureau are presenting this to the 4-H groups. Each boy and girl to complete the health part of the 4-H must have a complete physical examination by his family doctor.

Initial plans for the annual dinner meeting of the council were made. It will be held again in October.

LIVESTOCK DEATH LOSS $25,000,000

Livestock losses cost Iowa farmers $25,000,000 in the period between June 1946 and June 1947.

The Statistical Labratory at Iowa State College has recently released results of a survey taken during that time on sickness and death of stock in the state. It is belived to be the most complete information of its kind ever compiled directly from farmers.

Surveyors found that every Iowa farm could be charged with an average $120 livestock loss for the year. On farms where livestock is the principal business, the loss would be much greater.

One Pig In Five

Investigators found that of 16,507 pigs farrowed on 164 different farms, 3,017 died before they were 8 weeks old. In other words, one pig in every five died.

Once they passed the weaning stage, Iowa pigs did much better. During the year there were 353 deaths in an average inventory of 10,000 or about 3.5 percent.

Among cattle 9.8 percent of the calves died within 1 month of birth. After 1 month, the annual death rate was 2.2 percent.

Among chickens the annual death rate was about one in every hour.

It's obvious that it would be impossible to eliminate entirely this $25,000,000 annual livestock loss. But some of it could be prevented.

Some Unavoidable

Dr. I. A. Merchant of the Veterinary Division of the Iowa State College made an estimate after examining the results of the Iowa survey. He said he thought farmers might have saved $18.000,000 of the total if they had lavished money and attention on their animals without regard to whether or not it was profitable for them to do so. By using methods that would be practical on most farms, only about $13,000,000 of the loss could be prevented, Dr. Merchant believes. That would mean providing reasonable care, good nutrition, veterinary service, adequate equipment and sanitary conditions.

Farm economists point out that the answer would vary according to the market value of the animal and the cost of feed.

Biggest cause of death among young pigs was from being crushed by the sow. Sixty percent of the total were reported killed in that manner. Other main causes of death were "stillborn," "weak and runty," "exposure" and 'hypoglycemia."

CELEBRATES

Mrs. Amelia Horner celebratted her 80th birthday at Clarinda last week by taking her first airplane ride. She is the mother of seven daughters and five sons, all of whom are living.

OVERCOME

When a workman climbed down into the Albert City water tower recently, to help paint it, he found a fellow workman dazed from the fumes and unable to climb out. A rope harness was rigged to lower the victim from the tank. He recovered quickly.

PALS

At Ossian, Billy Goggin has a 16-year old dog, Duke and a one year old duck, Donald Lucifer, as pets. The duck thinks Duke is wonderful, follows him wherever he goes and sits by patiently whenever Duke takes a nap.

The Methodist Church

Herschel E. Harvey, Pastor

KLEMME

THURSDAY

Womans Society meeting at 2 P. M.

Choir rehearsal at 7:30 p. m.

SUNDAY

Worship at 10.00 A. M.

Sunday School at 11:00 A. M.

Youth Fellowship at 7 p. m.

Recreation afterward.

TUESDAY

Intermediate Fellowship at 7:15 P. M.

METHOJI CAMP for the Youth Fellowshippers, July 11 - 17.

LIBERTY

SUNDAY

Sunday School at 10.15 A. M.

Worship Services at 11:15 A. M.

Home Builders at 6:30 p. m. Supper.

B. C. BERGE
ATTORNEY-AT-LAW
Office Over Federated Store
Phone 20 Garner, Iowa

Arthur Wellemeyer
FUNERAL DIRECTOR
—with long experince and best equipment.
PROMPT AMBULANCE SERVICE
Phone 23-R2 Day or Night
Klemme - Iowa

NO BACK

Mrs. L. A. Wal... was eating a gr... when her jaw ... joint. Her upp... are now wired to... rect the injury. ... shouldn't happen ... especially to a wo...

The family ca... Broesder, son and ... ter at Union rec... found to have r... three victims ar... hydrophobia shots.

Phone your new...

PHOTOGRA...
Live... Fore...
RUSS...
Photo St...
Next to J. C. ...
Ph. 2272 Mas...

compare S...
Easy Spindrier do... wash in less than ... tub washes while the ... and spins damp-dr... 25% more water so... faster! No wringer w... ironing goes faster! ... action today!

EASY SPINDR...
JOSTEN APPL...
Klemme, I...

Advertisement

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

Pampered Farmers

If the folks in our town were less tolerant, they'd be really burned up over that nationally circulated article on "pampered farmers," describing them as living off the fat of the land.

From where I sit the farmer is anything but "pampered." If he's better off today than twenty years ago it's because he's worked hard to improve the quality and quantity of his production.

Take Bert Childers, for example. Bert is up at four in the morning, to get the milking finished—and ploughing or harvesting, depending on the season, until sundown. In the evening he finally relaxes with the missus over a moderate glass of beer.

And the farmer today's not only temperate in his habits, like Bert's evening glass of beer ... but tolerant in his opinions. So he'll probably say of that article, "somebody got the facts wrong," and just let it go at that.

Joe Marsh

Copyright, 1948, United States Brewers Foundation

DRESS UP IN SUMMER TOGS FOR . . .
The Fourth!
COOL CLOTHING FOR HOT WEATHER
• * •
You will find a nice selection of Summer Clothing at our store. Why not select your summer items today and be comfortable on The Fourth?
We Are Now Featuring:
- Straw Hats, all kinds
- Sport Shirts
- Summer Slacks
- Light Sport Sweaters
- Summer Underwear
- Summer Ties
- Light Weight Suits
- Sport Jackets
- Hosiery

If it's Summer Foot Wear you want . . . seek no futher. We have North Iowa's nicest line of footwear.
• * •
Get To Know
Gildner-Paulson
Shoes and Clothing Garner, Iowa

DEAD STOC...
PROMPTLY REMOVED

Britt Rendering...
Dept. of Agr. Lic. No. ...
WE PAY PHONE CHA...
KLEMME Phone 70...
GARNER Phone 400...
Our Trucks Are Steam Cleaned A... Each Load
TANKAGE AND MINERALIZED FEED FOR SALE AT OUR PLANT

Raw Milk - -
WILL BE DISCONTINUED AFTER JULY 1, 1948
Due to the lack of demand for RAW ... we will discontinue selling and delivering ... Milk after July 1st.
We would have to discontinue selling ... Milk eventually as a State Law has been ... ed and will become effective that all milk ... be pasteurized after January 1.
The majority of our patrons like past... ed milk much better and we are sure that ... of you who have been using Raw Milk will ... that pasteurized is much better.
Klemme Co-Operative Creamery Company
Kenneth Medin, Manager Pho...

OFFICIAL COUNTY PAPER

THE KLEMME TIMES

Volume 53. KLEMME, IOWA, JULY 7, 1948 Number 34.

Klemme Business Changed Ownership Last Week

...y Jorgenson, Jr. Sells Corner Store To Glenn Terhufen

...last week an important ...ness change took place when ... Jorgenson, Jr. sold his ...er Store to Glenn Terhufen, ...er just east of Klemme. ... deal included the sale of ..., fixtures and building, ...ch Mr. Terhufen will take ... on August first.

...y Jorgenson, Jr purchased ... business from P. M. Wilson ... March 1st, 1947. Since pur...ing the business Mr. Jor...son has done some remodel... and lately has been redeco...g the store. A new soda ...tain has been ordered and ...pected to be installed next ...k. His plans for the future ... indefinite.

...nn Terhufen, the new own... has been farming for a num... of years. After disposing ...is crops, stock and farm ...pment Mr. Terhufen and ...ly will move into the apart...t at the rear of the store ...ding. Mr Terhufen is well ...n here and should make a ...ess of the business. He is ...dy directly connected with ... affairs as he is a member ...ur school board.

...r. and Mrs. Ray Jorgenson, ...pect to take a vacation trip ...re school begins and will ... around before entering in...siness.

...LANS FOR 1949 FARM BUREAU PROGRAM

...l Farm Bureau members in ...cock County this week were ...d to begin thinking about ... kind of a program they ...ld like to see the organiza... carry out next year. With...e next couple of months ...County Farm Bureau Reso...ns committee will be ap...ted and will start develop... the program for 1949.

...very member of the Farm ...eau in Hancock County is ...pletely welcome to express ...deas concerning the organ...n's platform' declared the ...ident, Jack Dethmers. "We ...ot want our members ever ...el that they have no oppor...y to have a part in the ...lopment of their official ...utions," he said. "For that ...on, we wish to do every... possible to make all of ... members feel welcome to ...ss themselves."

...en the resolutions commit... appointed, it will have the ...nsibility of drawing up a ...f resolutions which express ...entiment of Farm Bureau ...bers in this county. Once ... resolutions have been of...ly adopted at the annual ...ng this fall, they can not ...anged until the following ...

...e resolutions set forth, the ...es of the organizations, and ... of the utmost importance ... all members know these ...es, and that they have an ...e part in their develop...," President Dethmers said. ...ery soon we shall have to ...e what we want to recom... with regard to the tax ...es of the state. Also, we ... to carefully consider how ... we can solve our second... ...oad program, and what to ...bout our educational sys...

...olutions which are adopt...y this county, will be pass... to the state Farm Bureau, ... to its annual meeting in ...mber.

...eturns From Vacation

...nner Trumbell was back on ...oute Tuesday after taking ... vacation. Mr. and Mrs. ...bell had just returned home ... a trip in Wisconsin.

BOB HARTZELL ELECTED AS LEGION COMMANDER FOR COMING YEAR

At their meeting Tuesday evening the Klemme American Legion elected their new officers for the coming year with Bob Hartzell as Commander and Bob Schneider as Vice Commander Claude White was elected Chaplain and the following were re-elected to their former offices Ray Jorgenson Jr Adjutant; J C Thomas Finance Officer; and Graydon Back Sergeant-at-Arms

Members elected to the Board were Art Polsdofer, Lloyd Sherwood, Frank Schulz Ernest Henschen and Lyndon Kilgore

SUNBEAMS HELD ALL DAY MEETING

At ten o'clock on Tuesday morning, June 29th 11 members of the Avery Sunbeams Club opened their meeting at the home of Lillian Wille The morning was spent doing the family laundry, a demonstration was given by Iris Rosendahl Lillian Wille, and Mary Ann Blumer. Hanging out the wash was done quickly when all of the club members helped

The business meeting was resumed after a pot luck picnic dinner

During the meeting we discussed plans for our coming local achievement day, which will be held in August at the home of Doris Gruis Joan Lowenberg and Harriet Ostendorf were chosen to be the demonstration team from our club

A talk on sorting clothes for the laundry was given by Jo Ann Burgess, Pauline and Betty Ann Kramer gave a demonstration on putting in a hem The rest for the afternoon was spent working on our own project All of the club members, both leaders, and Miss Van Wert were present for the afternoon program.

Evangelical & Reformed Church

Calvin Grosshuesch, Pastor

SUNDAY

10:00 A. M Morning Worship.
11:00 A. M. Sunday School
7:00 P. M Young People's Bible Class.

MONDAY

8:30 P. M. Adult Bible Class.

Uncle Sam Says

How about making Flag Day this year Security Day for you and your family? The two observances go hand in hand because your security is inseparable from the country's Security. What ever you do for your own future good, such as buying United States Savings Bonds regularly through the payroll savings plan where you work, helps to stabilize America's economy. Help keep Old Glory flying over the land of the free and the home of the brave for your children and your children's children.

U. S. Treasury Department

Grandson Of Mr. And Mrs. Jim Reed Died From Accident

"Chuckie" Hoef, 4 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Hoef, farmers near Luverne, and a grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Reed of Algona, former Klemme residents, died following an accident at his home.

The little boy was playing in the yard when he accidently upset a window box of flowers which fell on his head, causing fatal injuries.

Mr and Mrs. Carold Larson attended the funeral services held last week Tuesday.

Farm Bureau Calendar Of Coming Events

July 7, 8 and 9:
Annual 4-H Girl's Convention at Ames
July 8:
Fun Club tour.
July 10:
Bingham Club tour
July 11:
Hancock County R. Y. P. Picnic at Clear Lake
July 12.
Concord Nimble Fingers will meet at Yvonne Olson's at 2:00 p m Regular meeting of R. Y P With Rev. Gatch of Britt as guest speaker on "Youth Looks At Marriage" 8.00 p. m. at Central States Building in Britt
July 12:
Ellington 4-H Meeting.
July 13:
Crystal Merrymaids regular meeting, with Marilyn Nelson, Mary Lou Smith, and Jennie Delger as hostesses. .00 p. m.
July 14:
Madison Live Wires meeting at Celia Bredlow's at 2 p. m.
July 15:
Boone Buzzers meeting at Shirley Doughan's 2.00 p. m.

July 15:
Liberty Busy Bees meet at Beverley Haberkamps at 2.00 p. m

July 15:
Boone Magor Pals, all day work shop at Mrs. Percy Baileys, 10:00 a. m to 3:30 p m.
July 16:
4-H County Committee meeting 1.30 p. m. at Central States in Britt.
Crystal 4-H boy's meeting.
Avery Sunbeams regular meeting with Pauline Kramer as hostess at 1:30 p. m.

HELLO, FOLKS!

Mr and Mrs. LaRayne Stille of Mason City are the parents of a baby boy weight 7 lbs. 12 oz born at the Mercy hospital on Friday, July 2nd. He has been named Steven William.

EARLY REPORTS INDICATE INCREASE IN PHEASANT POPULATION

The State Conservation Commission stated today that preliminary examination of pheasant census data and information from farmer interviews show that the 1948 spring pheasant population was slightly higher than that of the previous year

All parts of the state, except the northwest district, showed some increase over the 1947 counts.

Except for possible damage by recent heavy rains and a few hail storms, weather conditions have been ideal for nesting this season. Nesting activities began from ten days to two weeks earlier than usual, while most farmers were a week to ten days later than normal in making their alfalfa cuttings. This allowed many hens to bring off their broods before the hay was cut. Reports on broods of young pheasants indicate a high number of birds per brood.

Opening Of New Grocery Store Attended By A Large Crowd

Klemme Food Market Remodeled And Made Into Modern Type Store

Open House was held Friday and Saturday at the Klemme Food Market to celebrate the completion of an extensive remodeling program There was a steady stream of customers through the store on both days

During the past several weeks the store has been undergoing extensive remodeling and many new fixtures were installed and the store was re-decorated in soft, harmonizing pale green paint. New type low shelving and display islands were installed, together with a modern fruit and vegetable refrigerated unit and a refrigerated berry case.

The new type arrangement features the modern "self-service" and there are handy push carts available for the shopper A checking counter has also been installed for the convenience of the customer Self-service is featured, however, those who want to have a clerk wait on them are also given that service

Mr C. A Larsen, owner and Martin Barz, manager are to be congratulated on the fine modern store they have laid out.

Purshased House In Des Moines

Mr and Mrs. Ernest Gerardi, last week purchased a home in the west part of Des Moines They formerly lived at Mission, Kansas, a suburb of Kansas City, where they owned a nice home Mr. Gerardi was transferred as manager of the K. C. store to Helzeberg's jewelry store at Des Moines, as manager.

Work Circle

Methodist Work Circle will meet at the church July 15th Come early and quilt. Leader of worship, Mrs Lester Stille and hostesses are Miss Leona Lau and Mrs R. A Jorgenson.

Fire Department Called To The Aaron Stromer Farm On Tuesday Afternoon

The Klemme Fire Department made a run to the Aaron Stromer farm Tuesday afternoon to extiguish a hay fire

A load of hay had caught afire from a spark from the tractor pulling it and the load of hay and the hay rack were destroyed. No other damage was done.

ICE CREAM SOCIAL

The music Mothers will serve home made ice cream, cake and pie at Wellemeyer's lot on Saturday evening, July 10th

Uncle Sam Says

You do not need to be a crystal ball gazer to figure out the truth of the saying that the future holds for you what you hold for the future.

If you look into your present you'll find the answer to how much security you can count upon for yourself and your family. Are you bringing home United States Savings Bonds regularly? Millions of my nieces and nephews know that these bonds are among the most essential assets to hold for their future because savings bonds are safe and profitable.

U. S. Treasury Department

SOWS, PIGS CAN BE FED NEW OATS

Seems Wise To Use Them To Carry Hogs Until 1948 Corn Is Ready

Swine producers short on feed can use good quality new oats to carry the hog crop along until this year's corn is available

E. L. Quaife, extension swine specialist at Iowa State College, says oats can prove extremely valuable in carrying swine this year, even though it is normally a high priced hog feed in comparison to corn.

Breeding stock on a good legume pasture can be gotten through this summer by using oats in the ration Old sows will do very well when self-fed whole oats, with about one-third pound of protein supplement fed daily during the latter part of the pregnancy period

Grind, Soak

Gilts can be fed the same way, though they might need an ear or two of corn daily, and should have the protein supplement throughout the pregnancy period, says Quaife

Experiments conducted at the Iowa State Experiment Station indicate that hogs weighing around 100 pounds will make very satisfactory gains on the ground soaked oats and good legume pasure. Meat meal may be added to the ration if additional gain is wanted, but it will be more expensive, says Quafe The addition of mineralized yeast is not recommended for hogs weighing 100 pounds or more. It increased only the cost of gain in the college experiments.

Mix With Corn

Grinding and soaking the oats is practical when the hogs are fed near the hog house, and where water and troughs are available. When hogs are at some distance from the water and dry feeding must be practiced, Quaife advises a mixture of three-fourths ground oats and one-fourth ground corn or wheat, with 10 pounds of protein supplement added to each 100 pounds of grain

WILL ENTERTAIN AT OPEN HOUSE, JULY 11TH

Mr and Mrs. Emil Beier will entertain at open house at the Liberty Methodist Church Sunday, July 11, from 2.00 until 4 00 p m. in observance of their Silver Wedding Anniversary, which was postponed from Feb 21st

KLEMME WON TWO BALL GAMES THE PAST WEEK

Klemme's ball club posted 2 night games on the home lighted field the past week defeating Garner 3 to 0 on Thursday night beating Lake Mills 17 to 5 on Friday evening

Thursday night Klemme travels to Britt and on Sunday evening they play Algona here. Garner Independents will play here on next Tuesday night.

Funeral Service Held For Joe E. Johnson, Tuesday

USE RIGHT TREATMENT AVOID IVY POISONING

Dull or smooth, growing bushy, shrubby or climbing, three green leaves are a signal for caution.

The fact is Norval Wardle, Iowa State College specialist poison ivy is dangerous in all stages all year through.

Symptoms of ivy poison usually appear 12 to 24 hours after exposure But they may show up as long as several days later.

Any case of poisoning belongs in the hands of a competent physician, Wardle believes. But when you've been exposed immediate treatment will keep the poison from spreading and may prevent or greatly reduce the effect on the exposed parts. Just as soon as you possibly can, wash exposed areas with plenty of warm water and strong soap Because oil soaps tend to spread the poison, use laundry or homemade soap.

Washing with a half-and-half mixture of 5 percent solution of ferric chloride and 50 percent alcohol solution is another way to prevent poisoning after exposure.

When irritation and inflammation have started, baking or epsom salt usually gives relief. Use 1 to 2 teaspoons to a cup of water Apply with damp cloth, changing it frequently. Avoid any fatty or oily ointments entirely, for they may spread the poison

DANIELS NAMED ON THIRD BALLOT AS SUPERVISOR CANDIDATE

Clint Daniels, of Garner, was named Republican candidate for the office of Supervisor on the third ballot of the Republican County Convention held last Friday at the Court House.

Results of the balloting were as follows.

First Ballot

Daniels 23
Hoadley 22
Greiman 14
Chambers 10
Williams 9

Second Ballot

Hoadley 31
Daniels 25
Greiman 11
Williams 7
Chambers 4

Third Ballot

Daniels 45
Hoadley 33

Get your "Thank You Notes" at the Times Office. 59 cents. per box.

Was Widely Known Among Farmers As Live Stock Buyer

DIED SATURDAY EVENING FOLLOWING LONG ILLNESS

Funeral services for Joe E. Johnson were held Tuesday afternoon at the Klemme Methodist Church. Mr. Johnson passed away at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Art Kudje, Saturday evening following an illness of several months duration.

Burial was in the Ell Towship Cemetery near Klemme on the family lot. Casket bearers were Leo Esbeck of Ventura, Dr. Earl Schaeffer of Forest City, C. G. Waterman, John Etchen, Lloyd Lau and Verner Priebe.

Mr. Johnson was widely known over this part of the county as a livestock buyer. He followed this business for many years and also farmed at the time. Later he moved to town but continued buying livestock until a few years ago when he retired.

Mr. Johnson was always interested in the welfare of Klemme and at one time served as councilman.

The obituary appears elsewhere in this issue.

REVERSAL

An Iowa couple has reversed the usual order of things. Donald and Bonnie Maurer, who were married in Reno, have been divorced in Waverly.

The Methodist Church

Herschel E. Harvey, Pastor

KLEMME
THURSDAY
Choir at 7:45 P. M.
FRIDAY
G. S. C. S. at State Park, leave at 4.30 from church.
SUNDAY
Worship at 10.00 A. M.
Sunday School at 11:00 A. M.
Senior Youth Fellowship will go to Camp ot Okoboji.
Beier Family Reunion and 25th Anniversary at noon.

LIBERTY
FRIDAY
G. S. C. S. (See Klemme)
SUNDAY
Sunday School at 10.15 A. M.
Worship Services at 11:15 A. M.
Home Builders meet at 7:00 p. m. at State Park, Shelter House.

Obituary Of Joe E. Johnson

Joseph E. Johnson, son of Mr. and Mrs C. M. Johnson, was born in Nottja, Sweden June 15, 1865. He was the eldest in a family of four children.

Mr. Johnson attended the public schools in Sweden. He became a member of the Swedish Lutheran Church at Nottja at the age of 15 years, by confirmation. He together with his parents, his brother John and sister Hulda, came to America in 1880 and made their home at Seneca, Illinois.

He was united in marriage to Miss Anna Sophia Ryden of Chicago, Illinois, on December 31, 1889. The couple lived for the next twelve years on a farm near Morris, Illinois. In 1902 they came with their family to their own farm near Klemme, Ia., where they continued farming for 16 years. In 1918 they left the farm and Mr. Johnson was engaged in the livestock business until 1939 when he retired.

After moving into town, Mr. Johnson affiliated with the Klemme Methodist Church by confession of faith, in which fellowship he remained until the end, being faithful in its support by his attendance, his prayers, his gifts and his service.

Heaven blessed this home with ten children, three sons and seven daughters. His wife and two daughters preceeded him to that great beyond. Mr. Johnson reached the age of 83 years and 18 days. It was cancer which rapidly brought his life to a close on July 3, 1948.

There are left to mourn his passing eight sons and daughters, namely;

Mrs. G. C. Greene, Los Angeles, Cal.
Clarence Johnson, Renwick, Iowa
George Johnson, Mason City, Iowa
Arthur Johnson, Klemme, Iowa
Mrs. Oliver D. Potter, Mason City, Iowa
Mrs. Arthur J. Kudje, Klemme, Iowa
Mrs. Dwight R. Hummel, Klemme, Iowa
Mrs. Stuart Heivilin, Mason City, Iowa

I know not what the future hath
Of marvel or surprise
Assured alone that life and death
His mercies underlies.

I know not where His islands lift
Their fronded palms in air;
I only know I cannot drift
Beyond His love and care.

—Whittier

WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS

Uneasy Truce Prevails in Palestine; No Talks With Russia, Truman Says; Draft Machinery Set to Begin Work

By Bill Schoentgen, WNU Staff Writer

(EDITOR'S NOTE: When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of Western Newspaper Union's news analysts and not necessarily of this newspaper.)

HOLD FIRE

Still No Peace

For a little while the dove of peace drifted over Palestine on frayed and weary wing as Arab and Israeli armies were observing, more or less loosely, a four-week truce in the war for possession of the Holy Land.

At best the United Nations-supervised truce agreement was a fretful and uneasy affair. Before the four-week mediation period was two days old both Arabs and Jews had begun charging each other with violations of the pact.

Count Folke Bernadotte, U.N. truce negotiator, was investigating the accusations, but it looked very much as though another security council cease-fire order might go unloved, unhonored and unobeyed.

Actually, it is difficult to see how any synthetically imposed truce could succeed in Palestine. There are no basic grounds upon which a genuine interruption of hostilities could rest. Both sides profess military proficiency and the ability to keep on fighting and winning.

And, more important, each side is fanatically opposed to modifying its demands: Israel is determined to retain its sovereignty and to have unlimited immigration of Jews into the state. The Arabs are just as determined to erase the state of Israel from the map.

Thus, there is little confidence in the security council's truce plan and its power to effect peace. And that pessimism was heightened by the knowledge that no U.N. cease-fire edict has worked yet.

Aside from the seriousness of the struggle for Palestine itself, deepest significance of the affair lay in the fact that it is raising once more the old question of whether any world peace organization of nations ever can succeed in the task it sets for itself—the maintenance of peace and order on earth.

Pressure of world opinion—which is all the U.N. security council can bring to bear, lacking both military teeth and the power to bring economic sanctions against offending nations—apparently is not going to be enough, at least in the case of Palestine.

One inference which may be drawn is that the U.N. will need more power of one kind or another before it can prevail against the fetish of blind, militant nationalism that has hurled the world into two major wars already in this century.

PRESIDENT: About Russia

Forsaking for the moment the political whiplash he has been using on congress during his western tour, President Truman issued a major enunciation of U.S. foreign policy, bounded on all sides by an indictment of Russian tactics, in a speech at Berkeley, Calif.

His address was the clearest cut answer thus far made to the recent spurious but widely publicized Soviet offer to talk over Russian-American differences and the issues of the cold war.

Although the Soviet overture patently had been made as a last-ditch effort to derail the European recovery program and also slow down the U.S. military preparedness program, it undoubtedly carried a great propaganda impact abroad and, to a smaller extent, inside the U.S.

President Truman's Berkeley speech was a creditable reply.

His theme was that the Soviet Union is acting as an aggressor and obstructor of world peace, and he postulated the theory that there is no likelihood of settling disputes between the two nations by negotiation so long as Russia continues to wield international communism as a weapon to influence the course of world events.

The American intent, he said, is to deal with the East-West cleavage by deeds, not propaganda.

"We shall judge the policy of every nation by whether it advances or obstructs world progress toward peace and we wish our own policy to be judged by the same standard."

As a measuring stick for that principle Mr. Truman suggested that Russia begin the demonstration of her good intentions, if any, by halting the perilous strife in Greece and Korea.

Thus, both Americans and Russians know where the U.S. stood. And from this side of the ocean it looked to be as good a place as any.

DRAFT: Machinery

Peacetime selective service actually had been all but a reality for months before President Truman put his signature to the draft bill.

The gears, wheels and levers of the draft machine needed but a flick of the finger to start turning out citizen-soldiers for the benefit of the nation.

So much spadework has been done that the office of selective service records estimated that it could have inductees on the way in 60 to 90 days after the law becomes effective.

Those 19-to-25 year olds eligible for service can expect something like this:

There will be no hoop-la or goldfish bowl drawings. Instead of being determined by lottery the order of induction probably will be figured out according to age groups.

It is likely that 21-year-olds will start the proceedings. After the registration, all men over 21 and under 22 would be classified. Those not exempt would be put into Class 1A as eligible for immediate induction. Whether the first age group selected would be exhausted before another is called up had not yet been decided.

Military authorities estimate that about two out of every three men in the 19-through-25 bracket who are single and non-veterans will have to serve in the army, navy, air force or marines, either as draftees or volunteers. Roughly, there are about 1,552,000 single non-veterans in that age group.

The whole business will have a familiar ring for Americans who can, without half trying, remember the details connected with getting an army together for World War II.

U. N. SITE: Changeable

Not that it's an original idea, but another move is reported to be getting under way quietly to switch the United Nations headquarters from the U. S.

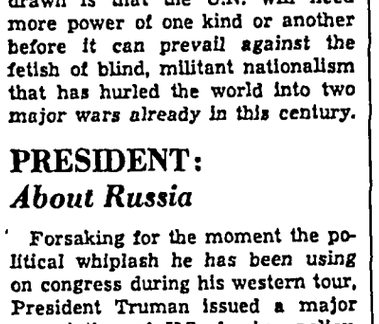
Geneva, Switzerland, is being mentioned as the substitute site, although nations supporting the idea are taking no open steps and are confining their efforts currently to laying groundwork for the real drive which may be expected to emerge this fall at the Paris assembly.

The whole plan might go down the drain, however, if congress were to approve the 65-million-dollar loan to the U.N. for building the projected skyscraper headquarters in Manhattan.

As usual, there is a play of forces behind the scenes on this question. The Arab states favor moving the U.N. to Europe, primarily because they are bitter over the success Zionist Jews have had in influencing the U.S.

Britain originally wanted a European site and might, under certain conditions, revert to that stand. Russia, another question mark, is expected to grasp the opportunity to attack the U.S. for failure to keep promises should congress fail to approve the loan.

Bingo!



In addition to taking rapid-fire pot shots at congress during his points west tour, President Truman sharpened up his target eye by blazing away at some clay pigeons on his stopover at Sun Valley, Ida. In contrast to congressmen, the clay pigeons couldn't snipe back.

INFLATION AND TAXES

Vacations Cost More This Year

If you haven't been on a vacation since 1940 and you are planning one for this summer, you're probably in for a shock—the kind that makes the bankroll tingle.

For depending on the kind of vacation you take and the brand of recreation you prefer, vacation costs in 1948 have jumped from 20 to 100 per cent over comparable prices in 1940, according to the family economics bureau of Northwestern National Life Insurance company.

For instance, a 12-day cruise from New York City to Nassau, Havana and Miami cost as little as $120 in 1940. Today the same cruise is listed at a $218.50 minimum, an increase of 82 per cent.

City Parents

Mr. and Mrs. Girard Van Barkaloo Hale of Santa Barbara, Calif., "adopted" the war-ravaged French village of Maille in 1946, subsequently sent 12,000 gifts of food and clothing to its inhabitants. Now they've gone to Maille to receive the personal thanks of the 366 persons whom they shepherded through the hard years.

AID CASH: And Politics

Although its funds were still in a state of confusion as a result of a combination of congressional economy and GOP political machinations, the economic cooperation administration nevertheless managed to toss off the biggest bundle of foreign relief cash so far.

Paul G. Hoffman, ECA administrator, approved the assignment of $95,610,605 for 10 European countries, including Trieste, and China. The action brought total Marshall plan authorizations from available funds to $393,737,029.

Countries sharing in the new approvals were Great Britain, The Netherlands, France, French zone of Germany, Austria, Denmark, Italy, Norway, Greece, Trieste and China.

The assignment of almost 96 million dollars in foreign aid funds served to point up the squabble set off in congress when the house voted to spread the recovery funds over 13 months instead of 12, thereby producing the effect of slashing aid appropriations by one to two billion dollars.

While the senate restored the appropriations cut, many U.S. leaders were gravely worried about another possible significance of the house action.

Theory was that the house, by cutting ECA appropriations, demonstrated that Republican organization bosses are determined to fight, and reverse if possible, the line of foreign policy represented by the Marshall plan.

It was thought to be part of a larger plan to gain control of the Republican party and to defeat the new postwar GOP leaders—Vandenberg, Dewey, Stassen and Warren—by chipping away the cornerstone of the foreign policy they all profess.

The situation had the outward appearance of chaos, but behind it lurked the business of playing election year politics while permitting the rest of the world to go hang.

MIDDLE INCOME: That's $2,920

Any American family which could add up the wages it received in 1947 and get $2,920 for the total had earned a "middle income," according to the way the federal reserve board has it figured out.

That "middle income," up $320 from 1946, incidentally, means that half of all the 42 million U.S. families made more than that while the other half made less.

About 69 per cent or 28,980,000 families had a joint income of $2,000 or more last year. By contrast, in the mid-1930s fewer than 6.6 million families had incomes at that level. But a dollar bought considerably more then than it does now.

Twenty-one out of each 100 families rated incomes above $5,000 in 1947, while eight of that group got more than $7,500 a year.

However, not all were in the top money. Of each 100 families 13 had incomes under $1,000 and another 18 earned between $1,000 and $2,000. But even many of the well-to-do were unhappy about the whole thing. They felt that they were becoming worse off financially because of the high cost of living.

According to the federal reserve board's sample survey, those persons who own their own business or manage somebody else's earn the most money. Middle income for families headed by "a managerial or self-employed person" was $4,500.

Next on the list were professional workers with a middle income of $4,000. Skilled and semi-skilled workers followed with $3,000, clerks and salespeople with $2,900 and unskilled workers with $1,800.

Weigh Your Words?

Scientists with a will to weigh have developed at the Rahway, N.J., Merck institute for therapeutic research a scales so incredibly delicate that it records the weight of a puff of air from a single wave of the hand.

The scales are being used to weigh potent new drugs and also to weigh the energy spent by animals placed under the influence of medicinal drugs.

Washington Digest

GOP Wanted Mac's Return; Oh, Yes, They Surely Did

By BAUKHAGE
News Analyst and Commentator

PHILADELPHIA.—Gen. Douglas MacArthur, in regretfully regretting his inability to accept the senate appropriation committee's invitation to come to Washington to testify on the Far Eastern situation, said he'd rather wait until after the national political conventions; that he didn't want to get any political implications mixed up with his visit.

Regular Republicans solemnly accepted the general's response just as if they hadn't moved heaven and earth to keep him from accepting. Sen. Styles Bridges of New Hampshire remarked gravely at the time that if anything should happen while MacArthur was away (from Japan), he (Senator Bridges) certainly wouldn't want the responsibility of having the general back here (Oh, dear no!).

The enthusiastic political amateurs who urged that the general be invited finally were quieted down to the dismay of the Democrats who wept loudly into their beards when they heard the general would not come. But there was enough danger of ructions, rows and revolt among contenders for the Republican nomination without taking chances on a military applecart upsetter.

MacArthur in the United States, marching under arches of triumph, enjoying the laying on of leis, not to mention being cheered and perhaps even voted for by a few starry-eyed elephant cubs, was no pleasant thought for the Republican regulars to contemplate. On the other hand this contingency would fill the simple Democratic soul with joy beyond compare.

We observed the same sweet innocence as to the objectives of President Truman's recent little informal tour of the country. As Chairman Reece of the Republican national committee remarked before he left: "It (the trip) will be as non-political as the Pendergast machine," which indicates the nature of the inter-party amenities which may be expected from now on.

It is indeed a tragedy that this quadrennial sporting event—a presidential election—in which we go through all the motions of tearing our adversaries to pieces, accusing them of all the crimes in the calendar just as if we meant it, should have to take place while wars cold, if not hot, seem to be breaking out all over.

It is probably a fine thing however, that, as civilization progressed, we changed our methods of choosing a leader.

In the old days it was a very simple process. When the eldest son had reached that point of strength and wisdom where he felt it was relatively safe to argue with papa the two of them took up their clubs, the ladies and younger children made a circle, and father and son held an election. It didn't take long, and the best man won.

The ladies buried the defeated candidate, and tribal life continued tranquilly until the first Tuesday after the first Monday of the month and year that junior thought auspicious.

Nowadays, we stretch the affair out for a whole year or more. The Russians have simplified elections by removing one candidate beforehand which eliminates much of the element of chance. With us the contest is highly absorbing and, just as the sabre tooth tiger often sneaked in and carried off some of the tribe while the others were watching the "election," so all sorts of things happen to us when we have our minds on the political race.

This time there is some danger that a large fat bear may grab off a large chunk of oil-land while we are watching the events leading to the November finals.

* * *

Union of Nations To Secure Peace

Recently Gen. Omar Bradley, chief of staff of the army, made a masterful argument for an unselfish and positive effort for peace, along with an idealistic appeal that we steer "by the stars, not by the light of each passing ship."

"In our hatred and renunciation of war," said General Bradley, "we must not forget that the roots of conflict flourish in the faults and failures of those who seek peace, just as surely as they take shape from the diseases and designs of aggressors. While the American people have within themselves the moral strength, the power and wisdom to marshall their forces against aggression in whatever form it affects—we cannot feign innocence through indifference or neglect of struggles that bring on wars. We have suffered enough in two world wars to know that non-involvement in peace means certain involvement in war.

"Either we shall employ our strength, power and conscience, boldly and righteously in defense of human dignity and freedom, or we shall waste those reserves for peace, and default to the forces that breed new wars."

Wars can be prevented, said Bradley, just as surely as they can be provoked, and therefore "we who fail to prevent them must share in guilt for the dead."

That thesis of General Bradley's that it requires positive peacetime action to stop wars is concurred in by Clarence Streit, president of Federal Union, Incorporated, an organization working for the federalization of the free countries of the world.

Streit's argument, made before the house foreign affairs committee, did not get the publicity it should. Streit said that only through freedom can peace come.

Specifically, if the free nations unite in a federation (by free nations, he refers to nations which are not dominated by any foreign power and where at least the theory of democracy, as we understand it, obtains) these free nations can assure peace. He suggests as charter members of the federation the United States, the United Kingdom, France, Switzerland, Belgium, Luxemburg, The Netherlands, Denmark, Iceland, Norway, Sweden, Eire, Canada, Australia and New Zealand.

Streit says further that power can be divided into four suits, like a deck of cards, and that these 15 democracies, if they federate, can hold every ace. He lists them:

"The Ace of Clubs: Armed power. Not only would their soldiers, if united, number as many as Russia's and be much more mobile and better-equipped, but this union would begin by having the bulk of the world's airpower; 90 per cent of its naval tonnage; advance bases everywhere on earth; 100 per cent atomic power.

"The Ace of Spades: Productive power. Despite the tangle on tariffs and currencies, these democracies outproduce the rest of the world. Think what they could do with a free flow of trade similar to that among our own states!

"The Ace of Diamonds: Raw material power. No need of separate stockpiling of essentials. These nations would produce 50 to 90 per cent of most of them.

"The Ace of Hearts: Moral power. This union would unite all lands towards which the rest of humanity has looked for refuge from oppression and leadership toward liberty. Nothing can appeal to men so deeply as can individual freedom—and to back it up with every ace is to add irresistible authority to its appeal."

I think that is a very concise and logical statement. Western Europe already is moving toward a union, slowly, out of necessity, because there is NO OTHER WAY!

The peoples of the world do not want war; the free nations, having achieved freedom, have no cause for war except to defend that freedom. The federation could maintain freedom without war, for no one would dare challenge it.

* * *

Convention Coverage Took Much Planning

Convention hall in Philadelphia, as the Republican convention got under way, was no sight for the sore eyes of Harold McGrath and Bob Menaugh, superintendents respectively of the senate and house radio galleries and Bill Henry, president of the Radio Correspondents association.

Since October, 1947, they've practically been commuting from Washington to Philadelphia to inspect the hall, plan where broadcasts should originate, decide where network and independent radio news broadcasters of varying degrees of importance should be seated, confer with Republican and Democratic politicos, supervise hotel accommodations and, most vital of all, hurt nobody's feelings in the process.

Four hundred and 36 radio news-men were assigned to cover the Republican convention as compared to the 40 radiomen accredited eight years ago and 160 in 1944.

Forty-four organizations in addition to the four major networks originated broadcasts from the convention; 31 of these shows came from the hall itself. Others originated in the 14 other facilities scattered around the building, some on the stage of the hall, some in the basement and so on.

COVER NEEDED

A grave digger, absorbed in his thoughts, dug the grave so deep he couldn't get out.

Came nightfall and the evening chill, his predicament became more and more uncomfortable. He shouted for help and at last attracted the attention of a drunk.

"Get me out of here," he shouted. "I'm cold."

The drunk looked into the grave and finally distinguished the form of the uncomfortable grave digger.

"No wonder you're cold," he said. "You haven't any dirt on you."

Back-Fired!

The telephone in the rectory sounded its summons. The good minister took down the receiver and said, "Hello."

"Hello," came a voice the reverend recognized as belonging to one of his parishioners. "Bring around two quarts of Scotch tonight, Mulligan."

"My dear lady," retorted the minister, "this is not Mulligan. This is your rector."

He waited for the erring one to break down with shame and repentance, but he was doomed to disappointment.

"Indeed," came the indignant rejoinder, "and pray what are you doing over at Mulligan's dive?"

A NUISANCE

"How do you like your job as a salesman?"

"Oh, it's dandy. You meet some fine fellows at the hotels and have lots of fun in the evenings, but what I don't like is calling on all those store managers."

Court Relief

Down in a rural Georgia court a jury was being selected. One man, a rather surly looking farmer, was claiming exemption, but seemed very reluctant to state the grounds for his claim. At last, when pressed, he blurted out:

"Well, your honor, the truth is I have the itch."

"Clerk," was the judge's instant demand, "scratch him off, scratch him off!"

Playing It Safe

Thomas, a fourth grader, was being interrogated by his father on his school work. "How do you like history?" he inquired.

"O. K.," replied Thomas. "I have no trouble. Teacher asks a question, some of the children raise their hands and she calls on one of them for the answer. You see, Dad, I never raise my hand."

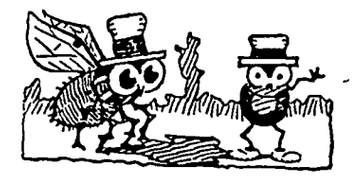
Don't Tell Him

Bessie, in town with her mother, caught sight of a bald-headed man. "Oh, mother," she exclaimed, just see that man! He hasn't a hair on his head. Isn't that sad?"

"Hush," replied her mother. "He might hear you."

"Oh!" said Bessie in subdued tones, "doesn't he know it?"

MODERN BUGS



First Farmer—Potato bugs ate my whole crop in 10 days.

Second Farmer—They ate mine in two days and then roosted in the trees to see if I would plant some more.

Seed Merchant—That's nothing. Right now there's one over there going through my books to see who has ordered seed for next spring.

Army Talk

Two buck privates paused by the roadside to look at a dead animal.

"It has two stripes—what is it?" said one.

"That simplifies the question," said the other. "It's either a skunk or a corporal!"

CLASSIFIED DEPARTMENT

HELP WANTED—WOMEN

SALESWOMEN: Make big money. Nationally advertised home wave. In demand. Quick easy sales. Write for FREE booklet. L. R. KALLMAN, No. Clark, Chicago 1, Illinois.

FARMS & RANCHES

FOR SALE: Improved farm barg... A 27500. 160 A. 115. 80 A. 1050... 6500. CHAS. REILLY, New Hampto...

200 ACRES for sale, ½ under cu... bnl. Blue Grass pasture, fences fai... well, running water in pasture, bl... gravel rd. REA. Priced to sell $6... 4½ mi. from city. Poss. at once... like to have priv. loan on same. A... LUND, Stewart, Iowa

CANADIAN FARMS—Write us for FR... FORMATION on farm settlement oppor... Fertile soils. Reasonably priced. R. C. D... Canadian Pacific Railway, Union Stati... Paul, Minn.

REAL ESTATE—BUS. P...

MARVELOUS business opportunity ... of beautiful northern Minnesota ... year business. Most popular spot in ... Minnesota. Close to population cen... tive air base adjoining. Illness ... selling. M. VENTRUCCI, Eveleth, ...

BUSINESS & INV. OPP...

BOTTLE GAS BUSINESS for sale, ... 400 customers. P. O. Box 424, Mi... Iowa.

LIVESTOCK

FOR SALE pure bred Chester W... boars. Bred gilts and baby pigs. At... mi. E. D.M. on 163 ½ m. S. of ... R. BISHOP, Plt. Mitchellville, ... Runnells.

DOGS, CATS, PETS, E...

PUREBRED sable collie female pu... marked and fine breeding $10. A... reg. female. RALPH SCHENK, M... Iowa.

BITTANY spaniel puppies, grand... Dual Ch. Brit. of Bellows Falls, Re... and F.S.D.B. A. P. SEVEREID, ... Wilmoth, Ames, Ia.

FARM MACHINERY & E...

1946 ¾-T CHEV. pickup, 12 ft. l... dinger, Winchester 22 spec. rifle; ... cond. LLOYD CARLSON, Spicer, ...

AUTOS, TRUCKS & ACC...

$157.50 POWERBIKE motor unit, ... bike. Ready to go. Now only $97.... HURON MACH. CO., 301 E. Court ... Moines, Iowa.

TRAVEL

WOMAN LAKE Finest Resort, Se... Lodge, Hackensack, Minn. Modern ... Modern cottages, excellent fishin... main lodge, boats & motors. Write ... LEY, Hackensack, Minn.

MISCELLANEOUS

STAMP COLLECTIONS bought, W... J. A. NEWHOUSE, Box 323, Wa... Bank Reference.

PAINT — Surplus Outside White, ... quality paint in 1 & 5 gal. cans at ... 55 gal. drums at $2.40 gal. F.O.... with order or 25% bal. C.O.D. MID... Box 412-Dept. D., Bloomington, ...

Wanna Trade...

Send us one to six ties you no long... soiled or not. We'll send you an e... ber of beautifully cleaned ties sent ... other tie-traders. Just pay postman ... a few cents postage on delivery. ... TIETRADER, Dept. N-120, ... Great Neck, N. Y.

HEAVY DUTY
BURCH PAUL...
● For Farm Machin...
● Wagons, Corn Cri...
● Trucks, Hay Stack...
SEE YOUR DEALER...
BURCH PAULINS...
COST NO M...
REINFORCED EYELETS A... 2 FEET APART
Write for the name of your dealer
Ft. Dodge Tent & Awni...
FORT DODGE, IOWA

WNU—N

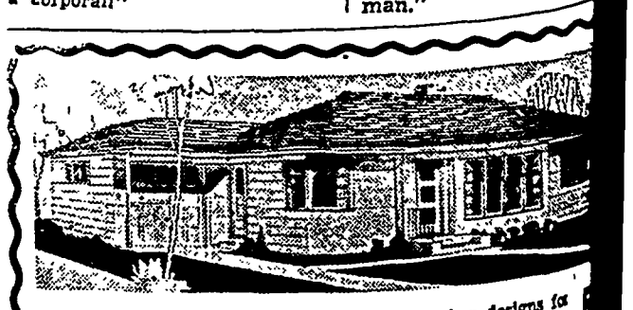
Huge Ventilating Sy... In New Brooklyn T...

The Brooklyn-Battery V... tunnel, now under constru... New York harbor, will h... world's largest ventilating ... says Collier's.

It will deliver 4,200,00... feet of fresh air a minut... per cent more than the sy... the Holland tunnel betwee... hattan and Jersey City, an... cent more than that in the ... tunnel between Liverpo... Birkenhead, England.

Bridal Wreath...

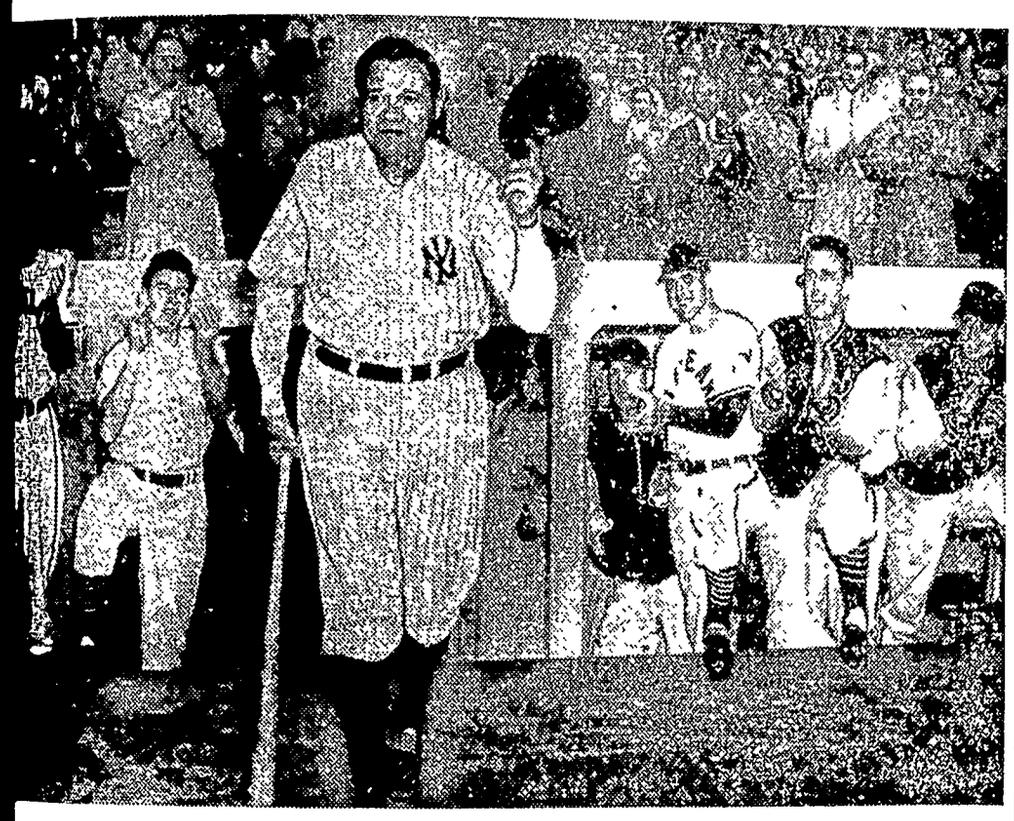
The wreath of flowers ... the bride's hair is a relic ... "corona nuptualis" used ... Greeks and Romans to ... triumph. In other words, t... who wears a wreath on h... is telling the world she ... man."



PLAN BOOK 1948 edition showing designs for 1, 2 and 3 bedroom houses. Plans and specifications are available

SMALL HOUSE PLANNING BUREAU, ... ST. CLOUD, ...

INTERNATIONAL ICE PATROL—1948 . . . One of the continuing missions of the U. S. coast guard is known as the international ice patrol, consisting of air and surface operations supplemented by effective use of radar to locate and report ice conditions on the seas. In combating this menace to navigation coast guard patrol units determine set and drift of icebergs, collect weather information and surface and sub-surface oceanographic data and keep all interested parties and commercial shipping informed of the facts they collect. These three crew members of the USCGC Mendota watch the coast guard ice observation plane fly over a large berg in the Atlantic. Coast guard cutters and planes assigned to patrol the steamer lanes of the North Atlantic are based at Argentia, Newfoundland.



TEMPORARY COMEBACK FOR THE BABE . . . Babe Ruth showed up on a baseball diamond again wearing a uniform and swinging a bat. The event took place in Yankee stadium before the start of a recent game between the New York Yankees and the Cleveland Indians, and the baseball world paused briefly to do homage to one of its all-time greats. The Bambino made his appearance in his famous Number 3 Yankee uniform, thus making him the last Yankee ever to be allowed to wear that particular suit. It has been turned over to Paul S. Kerr, secretary of baseball's Hall of Fame, to be placed in the Cooperstown, N. Y., museum along with other mementos of the Babe's great days in the sport. In the picture, members of the Cleveland team applaud Ruth in the dugout behind him.

CHINESE STUDENTS DEMONSTRATE AGAINST U. S. . . . This is an illustration of the manner in which Red, aggressive communism operates in China. Thousands of Chinese students, girls and boys from Tsing Hua university in Shanghai, planned a monster "Anti-U. S. aid to Japan" parade through the streets of Shanghai to the American consulate general. Their efforts were thwarted by police, however, who blocked the road park, gathering point for the demonstration. The police are seen here holding back scores of girl students, most of them very young. The mayor of Shanghai declared that the planned demonstration was backed by Communists.

LET VICTOR BELONG THE SPOILS . . . Contests of one kind or another between teams of Republicans and Democrats or legislators of two different states have become legion in this land. There are bean baking contests, corn growing contests, cheese tasting contests, fur bearing contests and so on to infinity. Latest and most distinguished line of mildly competitive events was a milking contest between Massachusetts and Vermont lawmakers. The Massachusetts team won, maybe because the cows cooperated more fully with it. Rachel Gordon of Cambridge gives kiss to Sen. Charles W. Olson of Ashland, captain of the Massachusetts team. Rep. Arthur Simpson of Vermont shakes fist for publicity purposes.

WIZARD OF FINANCE

Bernard M. Baruch, the very symbol of prudence and thrift, lost his roll out of his pockets at a race track. The wad, $2,200, was found by a track attendant and returned to the elder statesman. It proved once again that Baruch is long on luck. But it left America feeling low.

—•—

That this famous American, whose every word on finance has been clung to as almost the ultimate authority on sagacity, could, even before he reached the betting windows at a race track, lose his roll came as a hard blow to people everywhere. On all sides one heard the cry, "Well, whaddaya know about that!"

—•—

Men who for years had listened to him give sage advice on money matters were stunned. Women who had taunted their husbands a thousand times wtih, "Did you read what Baruch said about safeguarding money? Why can't you be like him?" swooned. Young people who had seen his picture so often under the caption, "Warns Country to Guard Its Funds," shook their heads. Senators and representatives who had formed a habit of sending for Baruch when they wanted the straight dope on financial stability reeled and groaned.

—•—

Other people, we had all thought, could in the excitement of a gala outing in a crowded place, whip out and drop their roll while fumbling for a ticket, green sheet, notes on good things, pencils, programs, et cetera, but not Bernard M. Baruch! Never!

—•—

We could picture plenty of men carrying their money carelessly, even to the point of a wallet only halfway in the pocket, but not B. M. B.! Baruch gave the finder a reward of $500 and delivered a few brief words of gratitude, but the public is not satisfied.

—•—

To restore his prestige he must issue a statement reassuring the American public, the U. S. senate, the house of representatives and all federal economic bodies.

—•—

If there is any place to show prudence and caution it is at a race track. Baruch loses his dough BEFORE he even gets down a bet! Impossible! This department, which has been following his advice on money for years, prefers to think it was all a stunt; that he was merely conducting an honesty test. Or that, as a lover of racing, he was trying to offset the bad press it has been getting.

—•—

At any rate, speak up, Baruch, and let us have the full details. You don't want husbands everywhere answering a wife's caustic, "Why can't you be more careful with your money?" with a firm, "Aw, look at Bernard Baruch!" do you?

* * *

TYPEWRITER GENIUS
A wonder man
Is Chidsey Wrinn:
He puts his own
New ribbon in.

* * *

Horse Racing Ethics

"It must be remembered that it is the theory of the pari-mutuel system that the track is a stakeholder only. It receives a commission on the amount wagered and has no interest in the outcome of a race. When it is required to contribute to a minus pool by allowing place and show betting and bears a loss, the effect is to give the track an interest in the outcome of a race, although it has no chance of winning."—Maryland racing commission.

—•—

Let's keep the race track operators from being put in the awful position of having a slight interest in horse racing as horse racing, by all means.

* * *

"The Soviet union is a non-imperialist country. It is dedicated to peace and its whole record has been a record of fighting for peace. Soviets do not make war. Russia would never attack America or anybody. It is impossible."—William Z. Foster before a senate committee.

—•—

Now how do you suppose that other story ever got around?

* * *

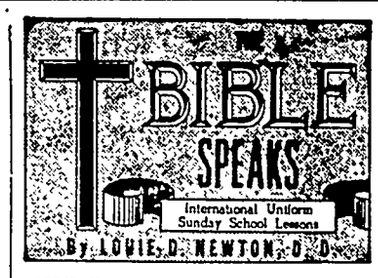
"CHIANG KAI SHEK SAYS HE WILL CRUSH CORRUPTION." —Headline.

—•—

Wanna bet?

* * *

Governor Driscoll of New Jersey deplores the "abysmal ignorance of youth on American history." How can you expect the kids to study hard when they can get $100 a night for just remembering the first name of Washington on a radio program?



SCRIPTURE: Exodus 31:1-11; 35:30—39:43; II Chronicles 1:5.
DEVOTIONAL READING: Exodus 20:1-17.

Bezalel, The Craftsman

Lesson for July 11, 1948

THE dignity of labor, the source of artistic ability, the secret of mechanical skill, and the service of good workmanship—these are the facets that break across the ages, pointing us to worthier effort, as we study again the achievement of Bezalel and his associates in the construction and furnishing of the Tabernacle at Sinai.

Dr. Newton

You wish to read the scripture passages for the lesson and the devotional reading, Exodus 20:1-17, and the golden text· "Whatsoever thy hand findeth to do, do it with thy might," Ecclesiastes 9:10

* * *

A MAN WHO DID FINE WORK

BEZALEL, grandson of Hur, son of Caleb, was called of God to superintend the building of the Tabernacle His name means "under the shadow of God." He knew how to do fine work, having been trained in Egyptian art and handicraft—metallurgy, carpentry, weaving, embroidery, leather-dyeing, gem-cutting and confections. He even knew the art of apothecary.

Best of all, he loved to do fine work It is one thing to possess the know how, it is yet another thing to love the execution of a great design

* * *

TRAITS OF CHARACTER

BEZALEL possessed knowledge as a fine craftsman, but back of this technical knowledge was spiritual discernment. He was filled "with the spirit of God." He worked at the temporal, but he worked for the eternal

He possessed wisdom—wisdom which comes only from God. Wisdow which means understanding in the sense in which Solomon speaks in Proverbs

Picture life with every workman filled with the spirit of God, and possessing an understanding of his task in the light of God's eternal will Here, I fancy, Henry Van Dyke may have got the inspiration for his great poem on "Work."

* * *

HANDS THAT SERVE GOD

AHOLIAB, meaning "the father is my tabernacle," was called of God to help Bezalel in this high and holy task He was of the tribe of Dan—which tribe furnished Hiram as chief artist in building Solomon's temple. Aholiab, "given of God" for this divine task, gladly dedicated his skillful hands in helping Bezalel.

And there were many others who helped—"wise hearted," we read. Here was a task, God's task, and here were leaders, Bezalel and Aholiab, ready to serve God; and here were helpers, wise hearted.

* * *

WORK FOR EVERY DAY

TURNING now from the fascinating story of how Bezalel and Aholiab and their helpers constructed and furnished the Tabernacle at Sinai, according to the minutest detail as outlined in the passages above cited. Let us ask, What about our work?

There is work for everyone every day "To every man his work." And every task is essential in bringing to pass the Kingdom of God on earth. God did not make us for idleness He made us for a purpose —that purpose to do our particular work. None other can do what God has ordained that we should do.

"My father worketh hitherto, and I work," said Jesus "Work, for the night cometh when no man can work."

Will my work be done ere the night come?

"Time worketh,
Let me work, too,
Busy as time my work I ply,
Till I work the work of eternity."

* * *

(Copyright by the International Council of Religious Education on behalf of 40 Protestant denominations. Released by WNU Features.)

New Generations

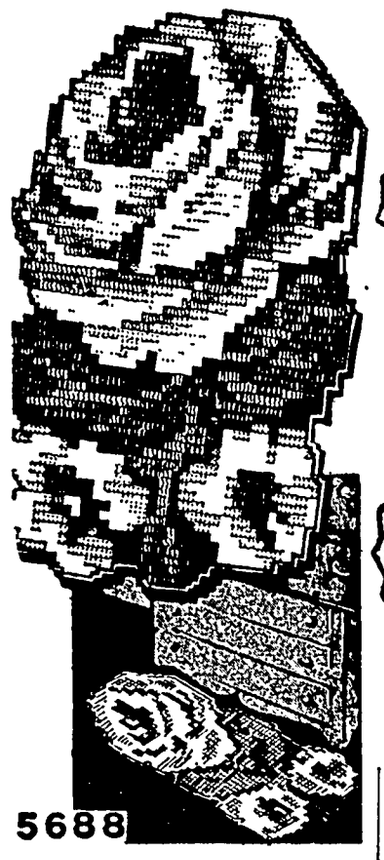
God is the infinitely persistent experimenter, and when one generation fails him he always tries another. Always there is a new generation as fresh and multitudinous as morning dew, to hear again God's gracious gospel and have an opportunity to respond to his inspiring challenge.—E. M. Walker.

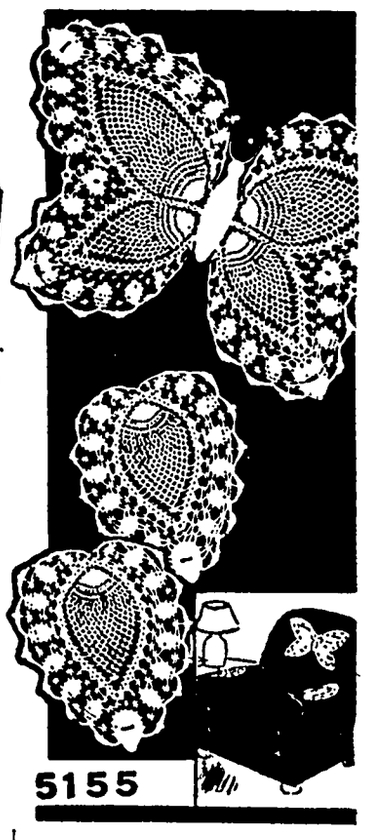
Missions

Whether we like it or not, we have been thrust into a world that has been crowded up into such close quarters that there is no longer any "home mission" field or "foreign mission" territory The needs of all the world are our problem.

—Roy L. Smith

Crochet This Lovely Rose Rug Chair Set in Pineapple Motif





Lovely Rug

Give your bedroom a bright new look with this lovely rug in authentic rose and leaf shadings. It measures 21 by 32 inches and is so easy to crochet. You'll enjoy every minute spent in the making.

* * *

To obtain crocheting instructions with chart for row by row directions, color suggestions and stitch illustrations for Crocheted Rose Rug (Pattern No 5688)

Send 20 cents in coin, YOUR NAME, ADDRESS and PATTERN NUMBER.

SEWING CIRCLE NEEDLEWORK
530 South Wells St. Chicago 7, Ill.
Enclose 20 cents for Pattern.
No._____
Name_____
Address_____

Handsome Chair

A handsome chair set done in butterfly shape with the popular pineapple motif. It's a giant size, too, measuring over eighteen inches from wing tip to wing tip! A nice idea for a gift.

* * *

To obtain stitch illustrations and complete directions for making the Butterfly Chair Set (Pattern No. 5155)

ASK ME ANOTHER?

A General Quiz

THE QUESTIONS

1. When was the first professional game of football played?
2. Who formulated the principle of the parachute as long ago as 1495?
3. A viva voce vote is taken how?
4. Can people become immune to snake bites?
5. Where did the American Indian originally come from?

THE ANSWERS

1. In 1895 at Latrobe, Pennsylvania.
2. Leonardo Da Vinci, who is remembered mostly for his painting, but who was also a great scientist.
3. Orally.
4. Yes. The famous Australian snake expert, August Eichorn, allowed himself to be bitten by snakes hundreds of times for exhibition purposes. He finally died at the age of 87 as a result of blood poisoning caused by a barbed wire scratch.
5. Most scientists agree that the American Indian probably originated in Siberia.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS

A few drops of glycerine or a pinch of borax added to wash water will keep woolen garments from turning stiff and hard after they dry.

—•—

To prevent ink-written addresses on packages from becoming smeared by rain or snow rub it several times with the stump of a white candle.

—•—

Colored felt hats can be brightened up by rubbing them with a piece of stale rye bread. Don't try this on white ones.

—•—

Before scaling a fish rub vinegar over it. Scales will then come off easily.

—•—

Moisten the string you use to tie up a package. It will shrink and tighten up the knots as it dries.

—•—

One or two pans of cold water placed in an overheated oven will cool it quickly.

Swine Vaccination Successful

More than eight million pigs have been vaccinated against swine erysipelas in the past 10 years in the largest single animal disease control experiment in American history, livestock health authorities report. The huge experimental project, using the live-culture and serum method of vaccination, has been carried on since 1938 under the federal and state supervision, the American Foundation for Animal Health reports, and results have been "entirely satisfactory". Swine erysipelas runs quickly through the herd, killing many hogs and making other victims unprofitable for market. Moreover, the disease can be contracted from swine by other animals and poultry, as well as human beings.

"Everybody loves" SMACKS THE REALLY DELICIOUS COCONUT BAR!

DRY, SORE NOSTRILS? QUICK RELIEF WITH MENTHOLATUM
SOOTHES IRRITATED NOSTRILS ...BRINGS EASIER BREATHING
MENTHO LATUM
MENTHOLATUM

IT'S ASPIRIN AT ITS BEST
St. Joseph ASPIRIN
WORLD'S LARGEST SELLER AT 10¢

WATCHMAKING
Be a Watchmaker—Be Independent
Day and Evening Classes
Approved for Veterans
Write today for free information
Chicago Institute of Watchmaking
Mt. Vernon Building
7 So. Pulaski Road Chicago, Illinois

SPEEDED-UP COMFORT for so-called KIDNEY SUFFERERS
Backaches, leg pains, broken sleep, painful passages usually go so much quicker if you switch to Foley (the new kidney-bladder) Pills. They stimulate sluggish kidneys; then ALLAY BLADDER IRRITATION. That's the cause of most pains, aches, urges once thought entirely due to kidneys. So for quicker, longer-lasting relief, soothe bladder as well as stimulate kidney action. Do this: use Foley (the new kidney-bladder) Pills; they also have direct sedative-like action on bladder. At your druggist. Unless you find them far more satisfactory, DOUBLE YOUR MONEY BACK.

Buy U. S. Savings Bonds!

JIM SHERRILL'S
FARMERS - MERCHANTS - BUSINESSMEN
AVOID TAX TROUBLES - - GET
EZ way TRADE-MARK Reg. U.S. Pat. Off.
BUSINESS AND TAX RECORD, INCOME TAX SERVICE
P. O. Box 5147—Memphis, Tenn.
SIMPLE - COMPLETE - DEPENDABLE - INEXPENSIVE
Keep your own records in 10 minutes a day. No bookkeeping knowledge required. We make your Income Tax returns—a two-year record; a two-year Service—less than 53c a week for EVERYTHING. A SPECIAL ONE FOR THE FARMER. Write for details TODAY. (Openings for Salesmen—full or part time).

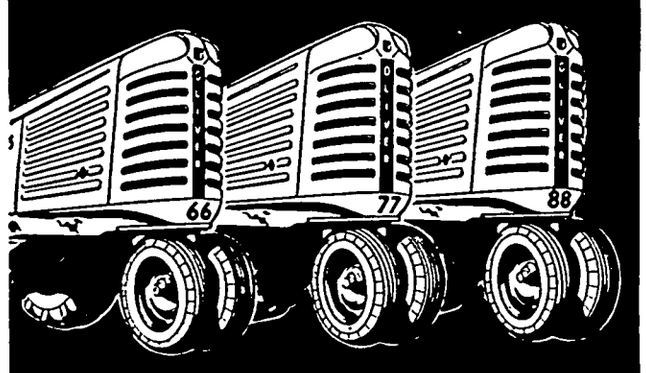
SAVED CHILD

Mrs. Malvern Curtis of Northwood looked out the window one day recently, just in time to see her 3-year old daughter fall into a cistern. She ran out and jumped in, supporting herself and child by holding onto an iron pipe. Help arrived to pull them out in about twenty minutes.

LEG

After a year of effort, Pete English of Belmond has succeeded in sending an artificial leg to a nephew in Greece, who lost his own limb fighting the guerillas. The limb, built from measurements supplied from Greece, probably will not fit perfect but better than nothing.

OLIVER



Begins Its Second Century

...with a

New Farm Tractor Fleet

Three new Oliver tractors to fit your farm power needs! A new 2-plow, 4-cylinder "66"! A new 2-3 plow, 6-cylinder "77"! A new 3-4 plow, 6-cylinder "88".

Your choice of three great new engines for all three! An "HC" for gasoline, a "KD" for tractor fuels, and a diesel that will be available later.

All three are equipped with 6-forward-speed transmissions. The remarkable new direct drive power take-off is available for all three. A choice of cast iron or stamped steel wheels to fit your traction and weight requirements—interchangeable among all three Row Crop models.

All three are farm-engineered . . . incorporate the same advanced new features. Oliver's full line of centrally mounted and rear suspended tools are basically interchangeable among all three Row Crop models.

Available in Row Crop, Standard, Row Crop with Adjustable Front Axle, or Row Crop with Single Front Wheel. See us first for facts on all the modern, valuable farm features on this versatile new tractor.

Fred J. Arnold

OLIVER AUTHORIZED SALES SERVICE

Klemme, Iowa

Now Showing How!

THE COMET PUMP

Revolutionizes Grease Gun Loading

Demonstrations Daily At Your Dealer

It's Here!

the NEW Comet GREASE PUMP

The Ideal Grease Gun Filler

No dipping or sucking of grease from pail. Saves grease.

No dirt or water gets in . . grease stays clean. Saves bearings.

Fills grease gun solidly - - quicker. More time saved. Gun works better. All equipment gets clean grease . . and, at right time. Bearings last longer. Fewer breakdowns.

Easy to attach and remove from grease pail. Big time saver. Scientifically built of high quality steel for long hard service.

Pumps from center—not side! New patented Follow Plate goes into action immediately when pumping starts and follows down uniformally as grease is pumped into gun. No grease clings to sides of pail. No air pockets in either pump or gun. All the grease is pumped easily and consistently through large pump outlet into grease gun. This new patented Follow Plate revolutionizes grease gun filling.

NEXT TIME YOU'RE IN TOWN BE SURE TO STOP AT YOUR DEALER FOR A DEMONSTRATION. YOU NEED THIS PUMP!

—SEE YOUR TANK WAGON MAN—

Save Time - Save Bearings - Save Grease

You Need This Pump!

Hancock Co. Coop. Oil Association

SUPER SERVICE STATIONS

Harold Kothenbeutel, Mgr. Klemme, Ia.

Horse Sense Will Prevent Mishaps With 'Old Dobbin'

How does your horse sense stack up against "old Dobbin's"? Are you smart enough to avoid the frequent accidents which result from unsafe handling of horses?

National Safety council reports that 12 per cent of the fatal farm work accidents in Kansas last year were caused by horses. The 1945 summary of Illinois Agricultural association clipping service indicated that 125 farmers were injured by horses in farm work accidents, 29 of which were fatal.

Broken harness and equipment frequently contribute to accidents involving horses. Periodic cleaning and oiling of harness increases the tensile strength and reduces the hazard of breaking. The slack work season is a good time to do the cleaning and oiling jobs. At the same time, check the neck yokes, single trees, double trees, eveners, tongues and other accessories and repair any weakness or flaw at once.

Irritation caused by flies makes horses nervous and skittish. Nose baskets and fly nets offer protection against these pests in field work. Eliminate martingales and belly girth except when they are absolutely necessary for the equipment. Clean and darkened stalls reduce irritation in the barn. DDT has proved effective in barn fly control. Annual bot treatment, putting a repellent on the horses' legs to keep bots from laying their eggs, improves the disposition of the horses during the work season.

'Little Honorable Plant' Is China's Most Valued Gift

China has given the western world many of its blessings, and some things that are not so blessed. Out of China have come tea, jade, gunpowder and many other items we take for granted. But probably the most valuable of China's gifts to the western world is "little honorable plant."

"Little honorable plant" has an almost unbelievable number and variety of uses, and is sometimes called the most amazing of all plants. With an ever-expanding and amazing versatility, it has risen from an emergency crop to one of major importance. It was a highly essential and vital crop in the international war emergency program.

"Little honorable plant" won its way to recognition as an aid to good farming, a commercially worthwhile crop; a useful, nutritious human food; a valuable protein food for all kinds of livestock, and a source of raw material for numerous essential industrial products. The plant has reached its highest development in this country, where new varieties of it have been developed by plant breeders to meet specific needs.

"Little honorable plant" is better known to Americans as the soybean.

Bad Neighbors

There are a number of economically useful plants which make bad neighbors for other plants because they spread diseases. When such a plant is found, some action has to be taken to determine which plant is the more desirable and valuable, and steps taken to eradicate the undesirable plant, or at least to control its disease spreading activities. Such an example of a good plant being a bad neighbor is the red cedar tree, which is the host for a red rust that is damaging to apples. Other examples are white pine and currant and gooseberry, and certain kinds of barberry and grains. The white pine is host to the white pine blister rust, and the barberry to black stem rust. Strenuous barberry eradication programs have had to be carried out to protect small grain crops from the black stem rust.

Trees of Our Country

Native trees usually are grouped into two classes. There are the conifers or softwoods which include the trees bearing cones and having scale-like or needle-like leaves. Pines, spruces and all native evergreen trees are conifers. Cypress and larch are also conifers although these two species are not evergreen and shed their leaves each fall. The second class of trees is known as hardwoods. This class contains all the broad-leafed trees and those shedding their leaves every year, the oaks, hickories and walnuts. Cottonwood is also a hardwood, hence the classification has nothing to do with the actual hardness of the wood, for in a literal sense, the wood of larch is considerably harder than that of cottonwood.

No Whit Particular

Deer, limited to wild plants for food, show a decided preference but when it comes to domestic crops they will accept most things that man plants for his own use. Wisconsin's conservation department last year paid out more than $31,000 to compensate farmers and gardeners for damage done by deer. Verified claims show that deer ate tomatoes, soy beans, beans, corn, rutabagas, cabbage, clover, oats, buckwheat, squash, strawberry plants, beets, raspberry plants, apple trees, potato plants, cedar trees, melons, cherry trees, carrots, cabbage, hay, rye, alfalfa, willow trees, cucumbers, cranberries, cauliflower and other evergreens.

Birthday Dinner July 4th

Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Isvik entertained to dinner Sunday, July 4th, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Larsen, Eunice and Pete, and Earl Denmark of Chicago in honor of Eunice's birthday, which was Saturday, July 3rd and Mary Ellen Isvik's birthday which was July 4th. Ginger Kudje, Mary Ellen's play-mate, was also present to help celebrate.

Mrs. Isvik had prepared a nice decorated birtnday cake for the occasion which was lighted with 5 candles for Mary Ellen, and 21 for Eunice

DIED

In California, Mrs Carl Butler gave birth to a baby daughter. The little lady was named Linda Lane, after her great aunt, Lane Butler of Oskaloosa Just nine minutes after the child was born the great aunt passed away.

Local Man Has Good Luck

Fishing At Clear Lake

For the past two weeks M. L. Harson has been No. 1 fisherman of the local nimrods. Mert has taken some fine fish out of the lake the past week including an 8 lb. Northern, 4 and 5 lb. walleyes, 4 lb. black bass and a good assortment of other fish, all of good size.

COME NOW!

A typographical error caused some embarrassment to the office of the clerk of the court at Anamosa last week. Included among the assets of an estate was the item, "One wicked love seat."

DR. F. L. HAYES
DENTIST
Office Over Rexall Store
Phone 21 Garner, Iowa

Picnic Dinner July Fourth

A picnic dinner was held Sunday, July 4th at the Bob Liebendorfer home at Clear Lake. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Liebendorfer of Mason City; Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Chapman and Mr. and Mrs. Dave Chapman of Mission Kansas; Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Jorgenson, Sr. and Mr. and Mrs. Ray Jorgenson, Jr. and family of Klemme.

Read it first in The Times.

FEDERAL
Land Bank
LOANS
Long Term Low Interest
No Fees No Commission
Wm. F. Johannaber
Secretary-Treasurer
Forest City, Iowa
Phone 50

SELL WHAT YOU DO with a Times Want

WORRIED ABOUT
Eating
You don't hvae to about what you a to eat when you the Quandt Cafe. Always a good me for you. Here you a meal that is well ed and satisfying.

TOBACCOS
ICE CREAM
CIGARETTE
CANDY BA

Thank You
QUANDT'S C
Mr. and Mrs. Co Quandt

Klemme Food Mk

Friday & Saturday Specials

Save The Self-Serve Way!

Sugar 100 lb. Bag $8.39

Crisco 3 lbs. 1.19

Tasty Loaf Cheese
2 lbs. 98c

Lemons
doz. 36c

Flour OCCIDENT 50 lbs. $3.5

P&G 3 Bars 25

Butternut Coffe
Drip or Reg. lb. 4

BANANAS
No Limit!

FREE GIFT COUPONS!

Be sure and register for the FREE GIFTS listed below. You need not be present Satu day night when we give these gifts away. Ask us how you may receive one of these big gi FREE!

50 lbs. Flour, Smoked Ham, 25 lbs. Flou

OXYDOL 3 Boxes for only $

MONARCH BRAND—Sliced or Halves in Heavy Syrup
NO. 2½ CAN
Peaches 29c

OATMEAL Monarch Brand
Large Box - - 35c

K.C. Baking Powd'r
25 oz. Jar - - 13c

Tide 3 for $1

STA FLOW
Liquid Wax 19c

RECESS BRAND
Peas 3 Can 25

Blended Juice
46 oz. can 2 for 45

Syrup Hershey 16 oz can 15

JOHNSON'S
Glo-Coat, quart 75c

Bring Us Your Eggs
CASH or TRADE

Klemme Food Market
Klemme, Iowa

We Reserve T Right To Limit

y and sell with a Times
d ad.

RING YOUR CAR TO US FOR

Greasing

AND A COMPLETE SPRING CHANGEOVER

*

n Motor Oil, Transmission, fferentail, Wheels and assis.

*

We have the equipment d proper lubricants to re you the best service.

*

See us for your needs in tteries, Spark Plugs, and cessories of all kinds.

*

Smith's

STANDARD SERVICE
me Iowa

TO OBSERVE JULY 25-31 AS FARM SAFETY WEEK

The week of July 25--31 has been proclaimed by President Harry S. Truman as National Safety Week.

In setting the dates for this fifth observance of safety week, President Truman emphasized the goal to be achieved. "I urgeently request each member of every American farm family to accept responsibility for eliminating at least one possible source of accidents during that week."

He also asked that all organizations and persons interested in farm life and welfare join in a concerted attack upon these menaces to the lives and happiness of American farmers and their families.

PUP

When it was learned that proceeds from a collie pup, offered for sale at an Indianola community sale, where to go to the building fund of the Friends church, bidding picked up The pup, which ordinarily would have brought $2 or $3, finally went at $28.

U. S. Cities Set Record For Expansion In 1946

Setting a new record of urban expansion, 259 U. S. cities extended their boundaries during 1946 to include suburban territory according to the International City Managers' association. This marks a 70 per cent increase over city annexation in 1945. Among the cities that have taken this action to control metropolitan "fringe" growth, 152 were over 10,000 population. Statistics gathered for the 1947 Municipal Yearbook show that 42 cities annexed areas of at least one-half of one square mile. Twenty-five of these annexed areas were one square mile or more.

In 1945, only 150 cities added new land, 87 of which were over 10,000 population. Increased annexations reflect city efforts to adjust to record-breaking growth of metropolitan areas during the war, and in anticipation of a continued suburban building boom.

Fort Worth scored the greatest area growth last year of any city—annexing 35 square miles of land by charter amendment election December 17. This triples the city's topographic size by increasing its area from 17.1 to 52.1 square miles. In the previous year, biggest annexation was made by nearby Dallas, which annexed a 39 square mile area. Other cities over 10,000 annexing at least one square mile of territory in 1946 are Beaumont, Borger, Dallas, Lubbock, San Antonio, Tyler, and Waco, Tex.; Wilmington, N. C.; Salem, Ore.; Reno, Nev.; Columbus, Ga.; Denver, Colo.; Marion, O.; Fresno and Pasadena, Calif.; Kansas City, Mo.; and Fairmont, W. Va.

'Sad Sack' Still Exists— Even in the Fowl World

There seems to be a "Sad Sack" in every form of community, including the animal world.

At the Chicago Museum of Science and Industry, an exhibit devoted to the "Sad Sack Chicken" demonstrates the social order that chickens establish among themselves.

Known as the "Peck Order"—a term generally used to designate such animal social orders—the exhibit consists of two colonies of five one-year-old hens and roosters. Each chicken is banded with a different color for identification and the public is permitted to determine the social caste or "peck order" by placing colored rings corresponding to the leg bands on numbered posts and then check their observations against those of the museum.

In each colony, one chicken will become the "boss," demonstrating his superiority by pecking the other members. The No. 2 chicken will peck every other member but No. 1 and so on down the descending social scale. The poor Sad Sack chicken who becomes No. 5 in the "peck order" can do nothing except develop a frustration complex—he is just a chicken bum. This "peck order" is most observable at feeding time.

Lighthouse Beacon

A small radar beacon for lighthouses, designed to supplement and in time perhaps to replace the conventional lighthouse light, has been perfected. Called an "electronic beacon," the unit was built for the coast guard and emits signals invisible to the human eye that are easily picked up by radar-equipped ships, regardless of weather conditions. The beacon sends out signals, which appear as a bright ray on a ship's radar screen, showing the exact direction of the beacon in the same way that the lighthouse is located by its beam of light. The experimental unit consists of two parts, the transmitter, which is said to beam radar waves in all directions at a speed of 186,000 miles a second, and a vertical dipole antenna, which resembles a police nightstick in appearance. It is powered by one tube and operates in the 3,200-megacycle range.

Phone your news to 12.

Want Ads

For Sale

FURNACES — NOW IS THE time to be thinking of your winter heating. See us for any of heating Installation and equipment. Klemme Hardware Company. (1tc)

YES WE HAVE IT, NUTRENA Crumblized Chick Feed. For faster gains and less waste. We deliver ½ ton lots or more. GREEN ELEVATOR CO., Goodell, Iowa. (Apr 14 tfc)

PLAYER PIANO AND ROLLS FOR SALE $50. Write Musical Supply Co., 2013 W. Clarke Street, Milwaukee, Wis.' as to when Piano can be seen in Klemme. (1tp)

HANCOCK COUNTY FARMS FOR SALE

160 Acres, improved. On gravel road West from Klemme 145 acres farm land. Balance pasture and lots. 6 room house, garage, barn, milk house, double corn crib, granary, hog house and chicken house. Electricity in buildings.

310 Acres, Improved On a gravel road. 6½ miles Southwest from Garner 282 acres tillble. 28 acres pasture. Four room house, barn, 2 double corn cribs, one with overhead granary. Buildings have electricity.

WRITE E. M HIGGINSON, FARM FIELD SUPERVISOR
P. O. BOX 53 CLEAR LAKE, IA.
(July 5-12, '48) 2tc.

DDT

25% Solution

FOR CORN BORER CONTROL

$2.45 Per Gal.

NORTHERN LBR. CO. IMP. DEPT.

KLEMME IOWA

SPINET PIANO—PREFER TO sell locally for quick disposal. Write WALTHAM Piano Company, Wholesale Dept. 1802 E. Oklahoma Avenue Apt. 8, Milwaukee, Wis., for when this piano may be seen in Klemme (2tc)

TYPEWRITERS — REPAIRED and cleaned. All work guaranteed. Leave at Times Office.

FOR SALE — GLOBE MAID Cook stove, first class shape; Sellers Cabinet good as new, 2 cylinder Maytay Motor.
Bert taStlander Meservey 2tp

Miscellaneous

INSURE WITH HENRY WARD, Klemme for Auto, Personal Property, Farm Liability, Life, Health and Accident.
(Oct. 1948 tp)

TWINE

McCormick Deering STANDARD

$12.50 Per Bale

NORTHERN LBR. CO. IMP. DEPT.

KLEMME IOWA

Services Offered

FEED GRINDING OF ALL kinds done on your farm. Phone Klemme 76 or Goodell 58561. Carroll Etchen. (j-28-tc)

Baler Twine

McCormick Deering

STANDARD

$12.50 PER BALE

NORTHERN LBR. CO.

IMP. DEPT.

KLEMME IOWA

FOR CUSTOM BALING — NO job too small, none too large. See Eugene Schaefer at John Etchens. (July 2 p)

FOR HAY BALING—SEE FREDerick Bell, Phone 149, Klemme, (July 2 p)

If you dont want it, sell it with a Times want ad.

Klemme Young Man Made Solo Airplane Flight

Martin Barz, who is taking a G I flight training course at Wicks Field at Garner, made his solo plane flight Monday morning. Graydon Back began taking a G I course about a week ago and is making good progress in the air.

KLEMME WINS IN PLAY-OFF WITH R. C. TEAM

As a curtain riser for the Forest City-Klemme ball game here Tuesday night, the R. C.'s and Klemme had their tie-breaking play-off in a one-inning thriller that found Klemme leading 2-1.

Klemme also won over Forest City 11 to 5.

AROUND IOWA

NO NEST

A female hawk has recently hatched out a family of baby hawks, on the flat roof of the Murphy building at Red Oak. She built no nest; just laid the eggs on the bare roof, which is covered with tar and rock. At last report, "mother and children were doing well."

REMEMBERANCE

When Bill Dau of Algona went up to Canada recently and got ready to fish, he found his friends back home had given him something to remember them by. His tackle box had been welded shut!

Card Of Thanks

I want to thank the Klemme Fire Department for their quick response and to my neighbors who came to help when my hay field and property was threatened by fire Tuesday.
Aaron Stromer (1tp)

Phone your news to 12.

BULLET

While outdoors talking to her husband, near Schleswig, Mrs. Raymond Hollander felt something strike her thumb. The thumb started to bleed and she went back to the house, washed the wound and bandaged it up. Two days later, a .22 calibre rifle slug was removed from her thumb.

RIDE

Mrs. Anna Johnson, Emerson was in her five-room house when a tornado struck there recently. The house was picked up and blown fifty yards. The neighbors found Mrs. Johnson walking about in the ruins, bruised and suffering shock but otherwise unhurt.

TWINS

At Maquoketa, twin mules were born to a Belgian mare belonging to Frank Ebersole.

COLLISION

When Irvin Miene of Waukon set the brakes of his truck on highway 9 near Lansing recently, he started an unusual "chain reaction." Just behind him, a second truck also rolled to a stop; and a third truck ran into the second truck and a fourth truck crashed into the third truck.

USE DDT SPRAY TO RID CATTLE OF HORN FLIES

Those clusters of little black flies you see clinging on the shoulders and backs of cattle and other livestock in pastures and feedlots can be removed if you follow the instructions given by Harold Gunderson, Iowa State College entomologist.

About one-half the size of the housefly, these dark colored insects are known as horn flies A 0.5 percent DDT spray (1 pound of 50 percent DDT wettable in 12½ gallons of water) applied at the rate of 1 to 2 quarts per animal every 14 to 21 days will control the insects.

CLOSE CALL

When a cable on a ditching machine broke, the 1500 lb. boom dropped on Ben Bielenberg of Schleswig. The teeth cut his back and head and bruised him. That was all.

AVERY

—The—
Theatre Beautiful
Garner, Iowa

Wednes. - Thursday

GHOST GOES WILD

Starring
JAMES ELLISON
ANNE GWYNNE
EDWARD EVERETT

Edward Everett Horton
Ruth Donnelly

JULY 9, 10

Friday - Saturday

ACTION!

THE FABULOUS TEXAN

With
WILLIAM ELLIOTT

JULY 18, 19, 20

Sun. - Mon - Tues.

ALBUQUERQUE

IN CINECOLOR
Starring
RANDOLPH SCOTT
And
BARBARA BRITTON

(A Paramount Picture)

JULY 14, 15

Wednes. - Thursday

KEN MURRAY'S

"BILL AND COO"

IN TRUCOLOR

(A Republic Picture)

100 In The Shade

ND MAYBE NO SHADE . . .

But don't let it worry you. You will find r place is always cool. Come in and relax d enjoy an ice cold refreshing drink while u are playing a game of pool.

Meet Your Friends At Joe's

Joe's Place

Finnegan, Prop. Klemme, Iowa

You Farm Welders!

OULD BE . . . AND OTHERWISE:

We know there are a lot of Welders on farms this territory and we wish you to know that are heartily in favor of a farmer, or anyone doing his own welding. It takes a lot of ssure off of us in the rush seasons.

However, from what we have seen there have n a lot of mistakes made by people buying ipment and supplies that were not suited to ir need.

f you want GOOD equipment and material, h as we use here, we have it for you. The ice and instructions that go with the sale his merchandise is FREE.

We Are Here To Help You

red J. Arnold

r Sales and Service Klemme, Iowa

THE PROFIT YOU MAKE DEPENDS UPON THE QUALITY OF

Your Feed

And we can prove to you that for every feeding purpose we can help you make more profit with the FELCO FEED we sell.

FELCO FEED has been selected because it does a better job—because it will bring you a better net return. Talk it over with us! Feed Felco!

FEEDS FELCO FEEDS

Klemme Co-Operative Grain Company

Glen Bridges, Manager Klemme, Iowa

700 Detasselers Needed At Belmond In Hybrid Seed Corn Fields

The Thompson Hybrid Corn Company has increased their acreage near Belmond by fifty percent over last year and needs more help from a wider area. Men, Women, Bays Girls will be used. It is work that anyone who is at least twelve years old can do. Your supervisor will show you how to do it.

TOP WAGES
FREE TRANSPORTATION

Vacation funds. Money for those new Fall Clothes. Money to put in your Savings Account. Wages are paid that many of you never dreamed you could earn. Ask your local sign-up agency about wages. Transportation will be furnished in School Busses from central points.

------WORK STARTS------
JULY 15th - - - 20th

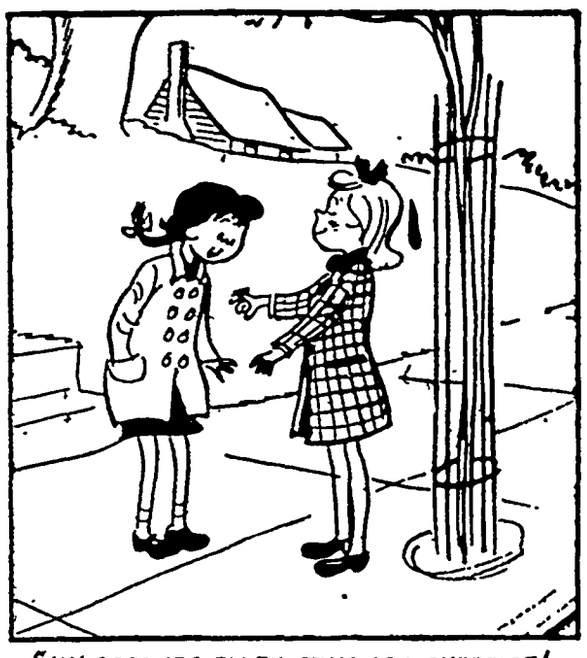
Corn detasseling will start sometime between July 15th and July 20th. It will last approximately three weeks. Just long enough to give you a good Summer tan and some wholesome exercise in the fresh outdoor air. If you can not work the full three weeks, sign up anyway, and tell us how long you can work. Many people take their Summer vacation during detasseling time. It is as invigorating to an office worker as a trip up North, and you will be money ahead.

Sign Up Now-Today With

Geo. Lawhorn, Klemme Dempsey Cafe, Goodell
Klemme Times Office

Thompson Hybrid Corn Co., Inc.
Belmond, Iowa

Cross Town by Roland Coe



Bobby Sox —by Marty Links

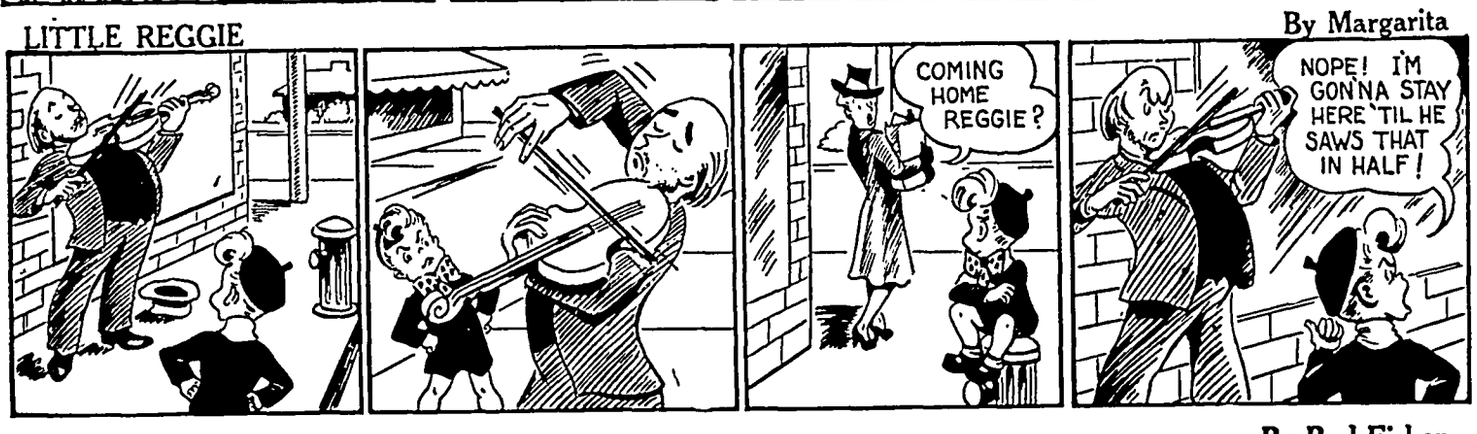
NANCY

By Ernie Bushmiller

YOU LITTLE RUFFIAN --- WHY CAN'T YOU BE NICE LIKE LITTLE NANCY?
AW-- SHE AIN'T POIFECT
IT BOINS ME UP--EVERYBODY THINKS NANCY'S AN ANGEL
HELLO, SLUGGO
TAXIDERMIST

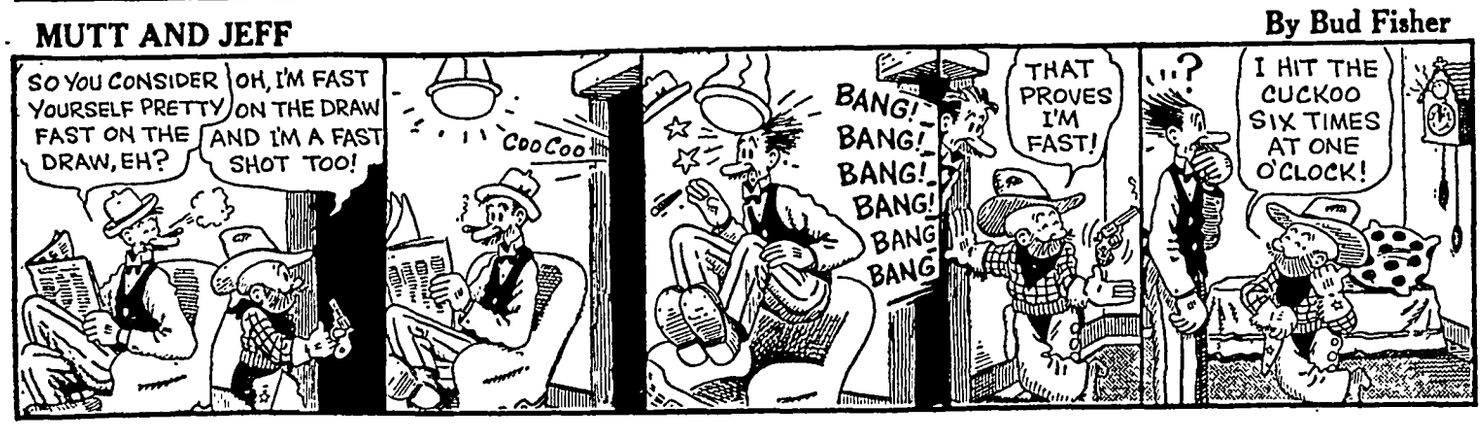
LITTLE REGGIE

By Margarita



MUTT AND JEFF

By Bud Fisher



SO YOU CONSIDER YOURSELF PRETTY FAST ON THE DRAW, EH?
OH, I'M FAST ON THE DRAW AND I'M A FAST SHOT TOO!
COO COO
BANG! BANG! BANG! BANG! BANG!
THAT PROVES I'M FAST!
I HIT THE CUCKOO SIX TIMES AT ONE O'CLOCK!

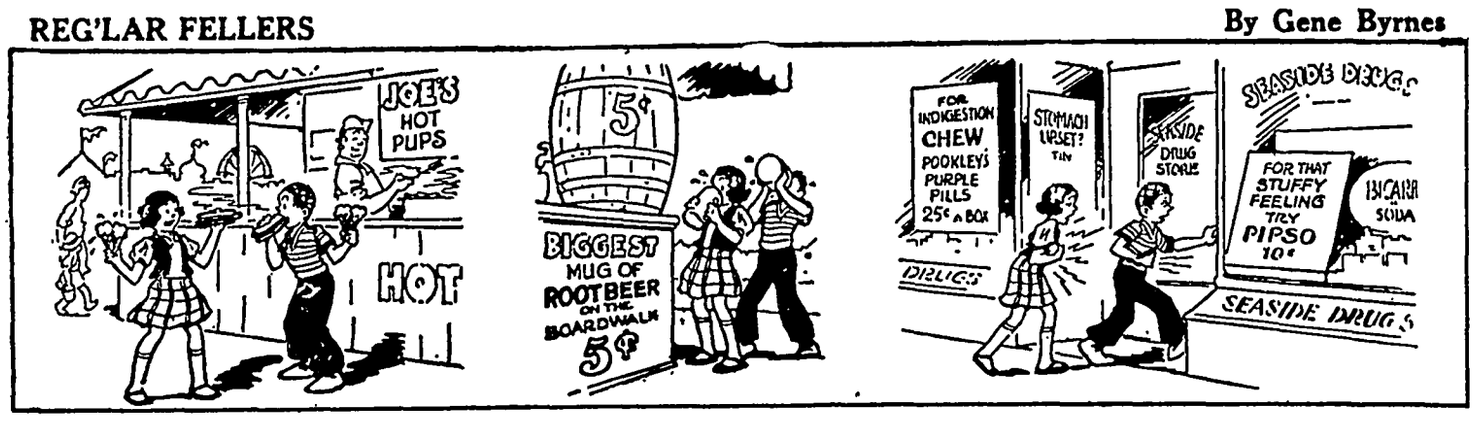
JITTER

By Arthur Pointer

AH...THIS CIRCUS LIFE GETS IN YOUR BLOOD! IT DOES THINGS TO YOU!
UH HUH.. LIKE MAKING YOU PREMATURELY OLD!
MEAT SAUCE
FOR USE IN CASE OF FIRE

REG'LAR FELLERS

By Gene Byrnes



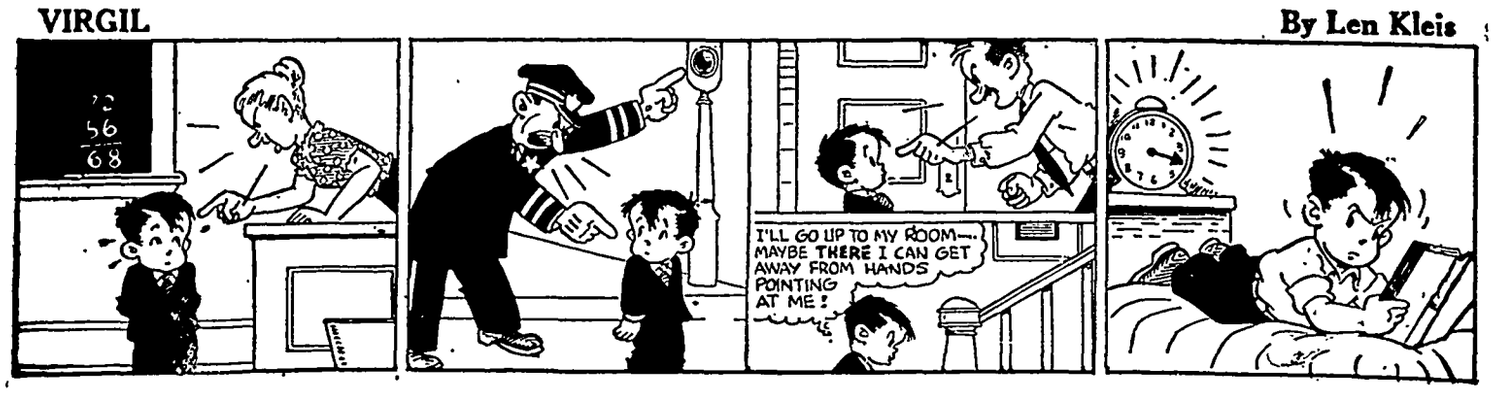
SUNNYSIDE

by Clark S. Haas

O'BOY! THE OLD SWIMMING HOLE! I HAVEN'T BEEN HERE SINCE I WAS A KID.
NOT A SOUL IN SIGHT! I JUST HAVE TIME FOR A QUICK DIP!
WHEE!
SPLASH!
AH! THIS IS THE LIFE!!

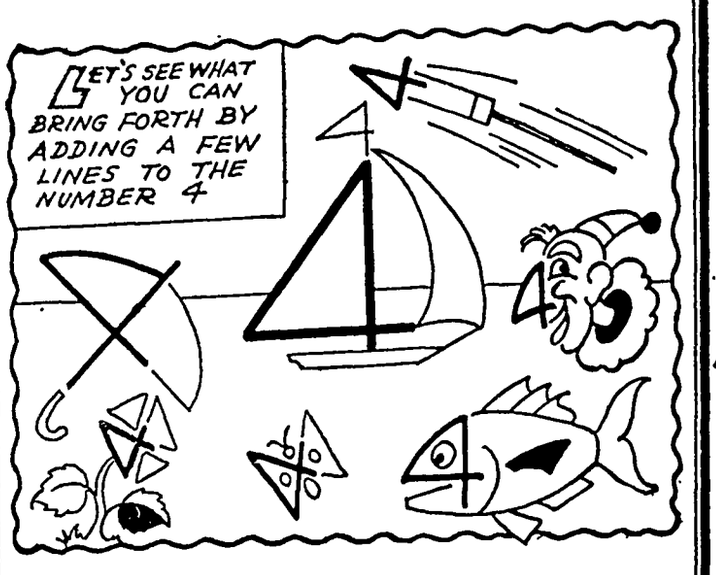
VIRGIL

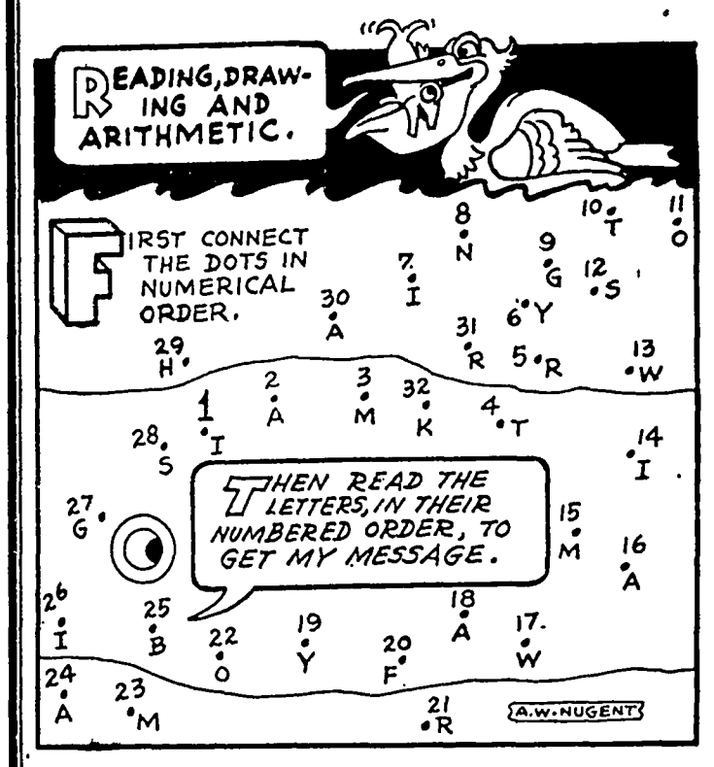
By Len Kleis



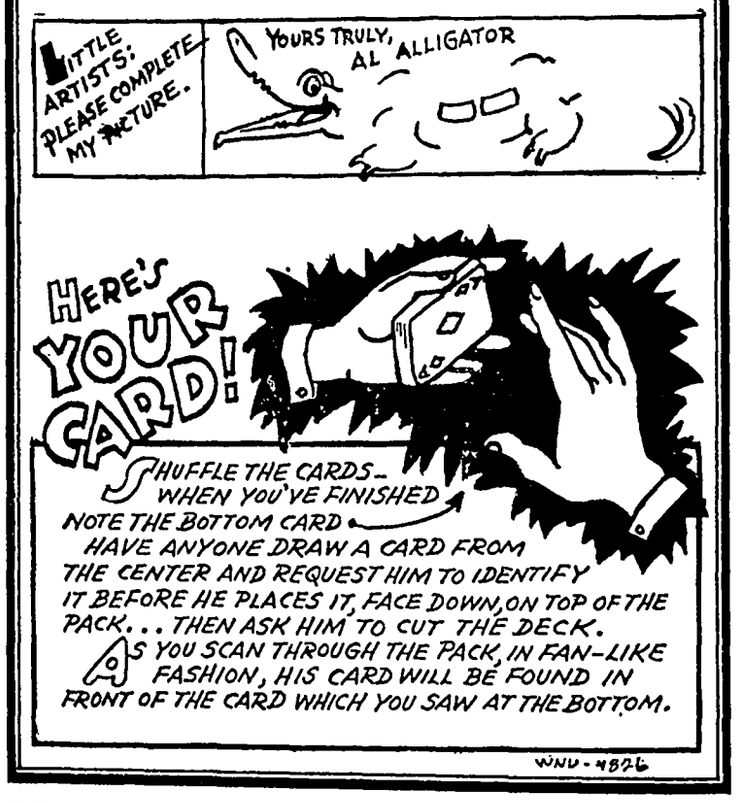
FUNLAND

By A. W. NUGENT





READING, DRAWING AND ARITHMETIC.
FIRST CONNECT THE DOTS IN NUMERICAL ORDER.
THEN READ THE LETTERS, IN THEIR NUMBERED ORDER, TO GET MY MESSAGE.
A.W. NUGENT



LITTLE ARTISTS: PLEASE COMPLETE MY PICTURE.
YOURS TRULY, AL ALLIGATOR
HERE'S YOUR CARD!
SHUFFLE THE CARDS— WHEN YOU'VE FINISHED
NOTE THE BOTTOM CARD
HAVE ANYONE DRAW A CARD FROM THE CENTER AND REQUEST HIM TO IDENTIFY IT BEFORE HE PLACES IT, FACE DOWN, ON TOP OF THE PACK... THEN ASK HIM TO CUT THE DECK.
AS YOU SCAN THROUGH THE PACK, IN FAN-LIKE FASHION, HIS CARD WILL BE FOUND IN FRONT OF THE CARD WHICH YOU SAW AT THE BOTTOM.
WNU-4826

CROSSWORD PUZZLE

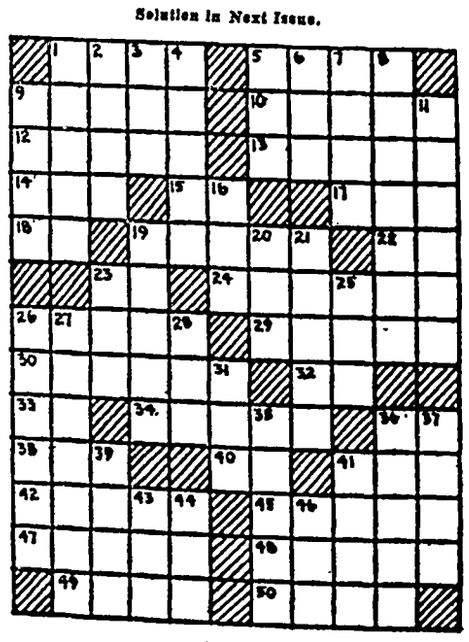
ACROSS

1 Resorts
5 Parts of locomotives
9 Game
10 Manila hemp
12 A maxim
13 Pleasure boat
14 Bitter vetch
15 Aloft
17 Torrid
18 Pronoun
19 Fool (slang)
22 Old English (abbr.)
23 Cry of pain
24 Boring instruments
26 Short-billed rails
29 City, N. W. France
30 Longs for
32 River (Chin.)
33 Sun god
34 Rejoice exceedingly
36 Neuter pronoun
38 Devoured
40 Music note
41 Epoch
42 Fleers
45 Citadel
47 Variety of sorghum
48 Occurrence
49 Wooden pins
50 Infrequent

DOWN

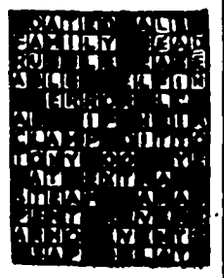
1 Primitive reproductive body
2 Kettles
3 Skill
4 Holy water basin (Eccl.)
5 Island in Gulf of Mexico
6 Sleeveless garment
7 Composer (Ger.)
8 Institutes of learning
9 Merganser
11 To bear witness
16 Seed vessel
19 Cut loosely, as whiskers
20 Sphere
21 Initial
23 Openings (anat.)
25 Wreath of flowers
26 Lean necks of mutton
27 Address
28 Masculine or feminine
31 Total
35 Measure
36 Goddess of peace
37 Open pie
39 River (Eur.)
41 Pitcher
43 Size of coal
44 Distress signal
46 Eggs

Solution in Next Issue.



No. 24

Answer to Puzzle Number 23



WNU 4826

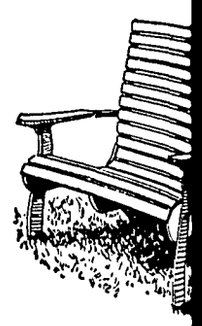
Build It From A

Live Out Of Doors! N... Break Your Budget ... Attractive Lawn Fu...

By DONALD R. B...

Make your porch, ter... an outdoor living roo... your backyard into a pic... You'll be agreeably surp... what fun dining out ca... takes on an added zest... vored with the thrill of ...

You can build wonderf... lawn furniture at very... The set illustrated abov... from patterns. These p... all the mystery out of wo... Each shows the full size... length for cutting each ... ever two parts are fas... ther, the exact location ... on the pattern.



Making a home is t... American. The stren... country rests on the ... have built a home for ... and their families. Bu... furniture or any other h... ment is not difficult. Yo... if you try. Each patt... signed so that no speci... skill are required. Build... set for immediate use. ... money and have fun ... All materials pattern s... stock size and readily ob... lumber yards everywher...

Send 25c for Lawn Ch... No. 56; 35c for Lawn ... tern No. 55 and 35c for ... Pattern No. 75 to Easl-H... Co., Dept. W, Pleasant...

U. S. Flag Merchan...

U. S. flag merchant ... May 1, 1948, totaled 3,54... 1,000 gross tons and ... against 3,577 vessels in ... category on April 1, 19... total fleet, 1,948 vessel... active service· 1,084 ... owned, 833 government ... sels under bareboat c... government-owned ves... G.A.A., including nine ... terity" vessels temp... passenger service, and ... ma railroad vessels. In... sels totaled 1,594 includ... vately owned, tempora... tive; 138 vessels inact... G.A.A., 1,407 vessels in ... fleet and one Panama ra... sel under repair.

STOP

Try Lemon in W... it's good for y...

The juice of a lemon in ... water, when taken first thi... ing, is all that most peop... insure prompt, normal el...

No more harsh laxatives t... the digestive tract and im... tion! Lemon in water is go...

Generations of Americans ... lemons for health—and g... of doctors have recommen... They are rich in vitamin ... valuable amounts of B_1 a... alkalinize, aid digestion.

Not too sharp or sour, lemo... has a refreshing tang—... mouth, wakes you up. ... purgative—simply helps ... tem regulate itself. Try ...

USE CALIFORNIA SUNKIS...

Relieves Distress of ... FEMALE ... WEAKNESS

Also Helps Build Up ...

Do female functional p... turbances make you suffer ... nervous, irritable—at such ... try Lydia E. Pinkham's T... relieve such symptoms. ... Tablets are also very effec... build up red blood in sim...

Lydia E. Pinkham's V...

That Nagg... Backa...

May Warn of Dise... Kidney Actio...

Modern life with its hurr... irregular habits, improper ... drinking—its risk of expos... tion—throws heavy strain ... of the kidneys. They are o... over-taxed and fail to filte... and other impurities from th... blood.

You may suffer nagg... headache, dizziness, getti... leg pains, swelling—feel ... tired, nervous, all worn out ... of kidney or bladder disor... times burning, scanty or ... urination.

Try Doan's Pills. Doan's ... kidneys to pass off harmful ... waste. They have had more ... century of public approval ... mended by grateful users ... Ask your neighbor!

DOAN'S PI...

Serve Stuffed Cauliflower for Dinner
(See recipes below)

...-Shy Meals

...ANT GET the meat ...want for meals, or if ...t to serve something ...ce over the main dish ...ned for you today. ...all protein-rich foods ...ely for a main course ...cheon or simple sup... ...es have flavor-value ...y of them will teach ...ery tricks with foods ...treats when properly

...serving heavy eaters ...ies, plan a calorie- ...that will completely ...petite. These dishes ...rich, tasty pies, cakes ...cream desserts.

* * *

...ULIFLOWER DISH ...plete meal and turns ...a platter when served ...tomato halves and ...om caps, also broiled.

...d Cauliflower ...ves 4 to 6) ...ad cauliflower ...ons butter or sub- ...ons flour ...d milk ...on prepared mustard ...ded American ...pper ...ped mushrooms ...bread crumbs ...mushroom caps ...omato halves

...auliflower in boiling, ...until tender. Melt ...ons butter in top of ...blend in flour, then ...y, stirring constantly. ...ed, add mustard, ...and pepper to taste. ...pped mushrooms in ...ns butter. Add the ...o tablespoons of the ... Place the cooked ...n a round platter, ...weets apart and fill ... Pour remaining ...of cauliflower and ...kle with the broiled ...mushrooms.

...ale Loaf ...erves 8) ...ion, chopped ...lic, minced ...ons salad oil ...ned tomatoes ...rn kernels ...e butter ... chili powder ...n salt ...low cornmeal ... olives, seeded and ... and garlic in oil. ...heavy pot with to- ...chili powder, but- ...Mix milk and corn- ...d. Cook until very ...0 minutes, but stir ...ing careful not to ...beat in whole eggs, ...Turn half the mix- ...oaf pan or baking ...enly with chopped ...ver with remaining ...ture. Cover and ...derate (350 degree) ...nutes. Cool slightly ...into thick slices and ...well-flavored tomato ...af will make a com- ...en served with a ...tossed citrus salad ...cheese dressing.

LYNN CHAMBERS' MENU
Chilled Tomato Juice
*Baked Crab Salad
Molded Pineapple-Carrot Salad
Bran Muffins Honey
Chocolate Cream Pie
Beverage
*Recipe Given

Add 1/4 cup of the crumbled cheese to each 3/4 cup of well seasoned French dressing.

* * *

HERE IS A PERFECTLY DELICIOUS way to prepare that delicacy, egg plant. The tomatoes and cheese add a rich, meaty flavor making this suitable for a main dish.

Egg Plant Parmesan
(Serves 6)

1 medium-sized egg plant
Cracker crumbs
1 egg, beaten, diluted with
2 tablespoons water
1 pound ground beef
1 onion, chopped
2 1/2 cups tomatoes
1 teaspoon sugar
1 cup grated Parmesan cheese

Slice the egg plant into quarter-inch pieces. Peel. Dip in crumbs, diluted egg and in crumbs again. Fry on both sides in a little fat until browned. Season ground meat with salt and pepper. Form into small balls and fry. Cook onions in fat until browned. Add well-drained tomatoes and sugar. Season to taste with salt and pepper.

Place a layer of egg plant into a buttered casserole, then the meat balls. Sprinkle with half the cheese, and pour over half of the tomato mixture. Cover with remaining egg plant, cheese and tomato mixture. Bake in a moderate (350 degree) oven for one hour.

Spinach Luncheon Dish
(Serves 2)

2 strips bacon, chopped
1 cup cooked, drained spinach, chopped
2 eggs, slightly beaten
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 tablespoon grated American cheese.

Cook bacon until crisp, drain off fat. Arrange spinach evenly in skillet over the bacon. Add salt to eggs and pour over spinach. Sprinkle with grated cheese, cover and cook slowly over low heat for five to seven minutes. Serve at once.

Baked Crab Salad
(Serves 6)

1 large green pepper, chopped
1 small onion, chopped
1 cup finely cut celery
1 can crabmeat, shredded
1 can shrimp, cleaned
1 cup mayonnaise
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/8 teaspoon pepper
1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
1 cup bread crumbs, mixed with
2 tablespoons butter

Combine green pepper, onion and celery. Remove all tendons from crabmeat and shred or flake. Remove black line from shrimp and cut in small pieces. Mix fish with vegetables. Add mayonnaise and season with salt, pepper and Worcestershire sauce. Place in buttered ramekins or in greased baking dish. Cover top with buttered crumbs. Bake in a moderate (350 degree) oven until top is nicely browned, about 30 minutes.

Released by WNU Features

Vegetables Most ...em Properly

...of vegetables re- ...min C content, but ...otatoes, when baked, ...in most of theirs. To ...uate supply of this ...best to use some ...ecially citrus, every ...covered kettle for ...bles, and cook only ...er.

The red color of vegetables is due to their acid, and needs to be kept that way. Tomatoes have enough acid to keep their color, but beets and red cabbage may need a bit of lemon juice or white vinegar in their water to keep red.

Sauces and toppings enhance most vegetables. Cheese and white sauce are old favorites, but you might try mustard sauce with green beans, crumbled bacon and bread crumbs over spinach and hollandaise sauce over asparagus.

The FICTION Corner

THE NEW LOOK

By WILLIAM CUTHBERT

JOE KAUFMAN stood in front of the mirror. Two years in the penitentiary hadn't taken the plumpness from his body nor the color from his cheeks. The tint of silver about his temples was becoming, and the change from drab, loose fitting prison gray to tailor - made banker's gray gave him confidence.

"I've got that new look, Pinky," he said to the man who had been his cellmate during his first year of confinement.

"Don't get any new ideas, Joe," Pinky said as he sat on the edge of the bed, "you better do like I'm doin'; go straight!"

"Hogwash," Joe laughed. "The cops have me figured as a counterfeiter, but I'm giving up that angle They'll never suspect me of being a stickup man."

Pinky stood up. He was tall like Joe, but thin. "If you won't take the job I've got for you, Joe, then this is good-by."

Joe was thoughtful for a minute, then he said, "So you don't know who is putting out that new batch of counterfeits, heh?"

"I thought you said you were givin' up counterfeiting," Pinky snapped.

"I am," Joe assured him. "I guess it's just professional jealously to hear that someone else is putting out stuff that is almost perfect."

"All I know is that you've got to use a magnifying glass to find the flaws," Pinky told him.

"Let's see," Joe mused, "Batson is still up the river, Jaeger and Sims are in South America, Pete and Wilson have dropped out of sight and nobody knows where they've vanished to, and Barody stopped a bullet when the cops raided his plant. It just can't be any of the old gang. Somebody new must have moved in."

Pinky shook his head and said, "You'll learn that you can't win on the wrong side of the fence, but I'm afraid it will be too late. Good-by, Joe."

Joe dismissed his former cellmate with a wave of his hand. Plans already were forming in his mind for the first holdup.

News had drifted into the prison that Lee Stanley was going places, and fast. Lee had been only a petty racketeer a few years back, and Joe never had liked him, but apparently Lee had found a way to become big-time. He was the new owner of the Roxy night club, and Joe knew it for a swanky place.

Joe snapped his fingers. He knew the layout of the Roxy. It would be easy to get to Lee's office, and it would give him satisfaction to get hold of some of Lee's profits.

He went to the closet and found the hidden wall hole he had made before his arrest. The revolver and a box of cartridges were still there. They were about the only things the police hadn't found.

With a handkerchief and a piece of wire, Joe cleaned the barrel, then loaded the chamber in case he should have to use it.

Then he turned to the window and looked outside. Sergeant Cain was on the corner leaning against a telegraph pole. Joe was annoyed, but not disheartened. The cops always put a man on you after you did a stretch up the river. And this was the same copper who had caught him with a pocketful of counterfeit bills two years before.

It would be several hours before he would be able to go to the Roxy, so Joe decided to play with the detective before losing him.

When Joe stepped out onto the pavement, he saw Sergeant Cain straighten up. He walked to a restaurant, and took his time ordering and eating, noticing that the sergeant was keeping a hungry eye on him outside the window.

Joe then spent a couple of hours in a cheap movie, and was aware that Sergeant Cain was sitting only a few rows behind him.

Then he decided it was time to give the detective the slip.

He was followed from the theater, but kept his eyes open as he walked along the street. Suddenly he saw what he was waiting for, a cruising taxicab.

With a quick movement he was inside the cab and snapping orders to the driver.

With a quick movement he was inside the cab and snapping orders to the driver.

The taxi leaped forward, and Joe looked out of the rear window in time to see Sergeant Cain waving to a taxicab that was traveling in the opposite direction. Joe's taxi turned half a dozen corners before he was definitely satisfied that he had lost Sergeant Cain. Then he had the driver take him to within a half block of the Roxy.

Joe worked his way cautiously to the back of the night club. He smiled when he saw the fire escape. It was the kind that needed weight to carry the bottom section down to the ground.

Joe climbed a rainspout and reached out and grabbed the side rail. As he rode the section to the ground, the rusty iron's screech filled the night, and Joe stood still for a full minutes, waiting to learn if anyone inside had heard the sound.

He decided finally that the other noises out in the street had drowned out the sound. He went up the steps until he reached a window which opened into a corridor. He forced the window without too much trouble and climbed inside.

Music was playing out on the dance floor and the sound of laughing voices penetrated the walls, but nothing stirred in the corridor.

Joe tied a handkerchief over his mouth and nose, and pulled his hat down over his eyes. He glanced around to refresh his memory, and smiled. Apparently this was to be one of his lucky nights. He saw the light through the glass in the door of the room he sought, and shoved the door open.

Startled, Lee Stanley looked up from behind a desk at the gun which Joe held in a steady hand. There one had entered the corridor, then he ran to the window.

There was no way of knowing how much money he had in his pockets, but he felt sure that it was enough for him to leave the city and have a free and easy life for a few months.

A half hour later, as Joe stepped into his room, he was chuckling to himself. He visioned Sergeant Cain hurrying about the city trying to pick up his trail.

He switched on the lights, then froze. Sergeant Cain was leaning against the wall, toying with his Colt police positive.

"What—what do you want?" Joe stammered.

"The way you gave me the slip," Sergeant Cain said, "I figured you were anxious to contact that new counterfeiting gang. Also figured the best place to pick you up was right here."

Joe relaxed and sat on the bed. He said, "I'm through with counterfeiting." At the same time he eased the gun from his hip pocket and deftly pushed it under the pillow.

"How about if I see what you have in your pockets?" Sergeant Cain asked.

Joe stood up and smiled. He had nothing to fear. The detective had no way of knowing where the money came from, and he felt sure that Lee Stanley wouldn't report the holdup to the police. He didn't know how Lee had become big-time, but he was sure his method wasn't honest, and he wouldn't want the law poking into his business.

Sergeant Cain found the twenty dollar bills and stepped back a safe distance from Joe. He took a small magnifying glass from his pocket and examined a twenty.

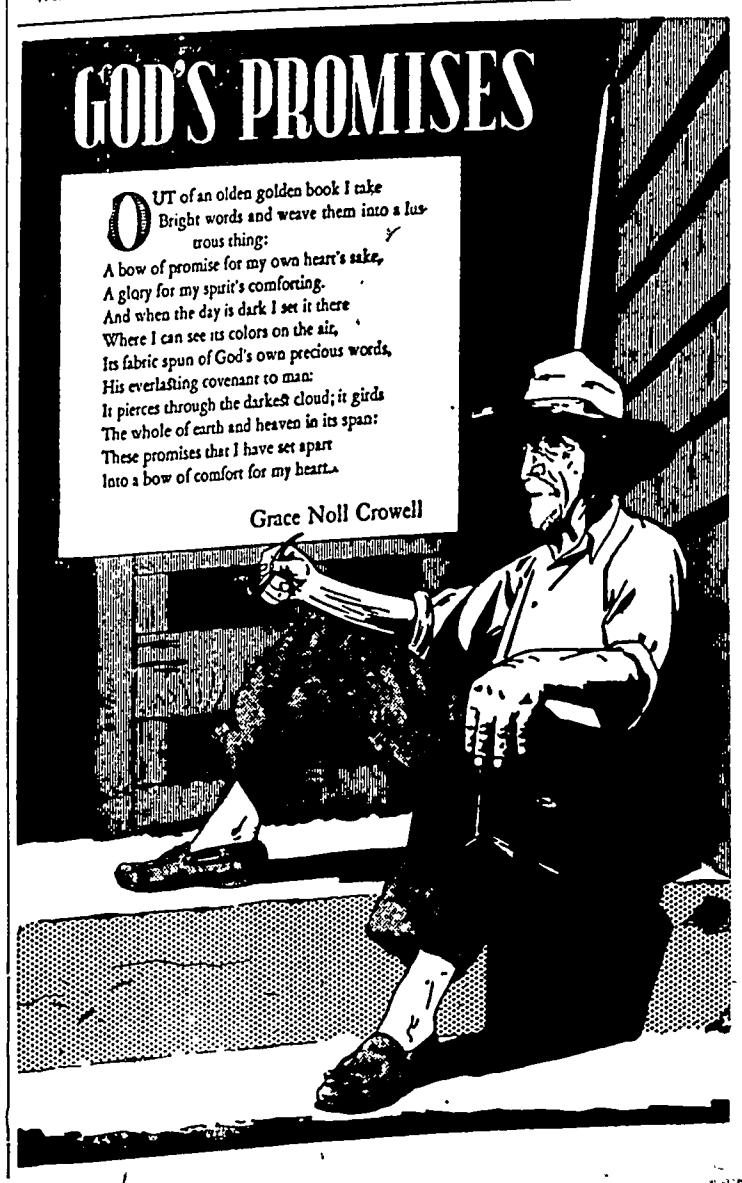
Instead of giving the bills back to Joe, he stuffed them into his own pockets and said, "You sure work fast, Joe. Loaded with counterfeit money already. Come on, you're going to headquarters."

"Counterfeits!" Joe gasped. Thoughts began to race through his mind. So that was how Lee Stanley had become big-time! He was using a printing press—and if Joe told the police where he got the money, his life wouldn't be worth a dime.

Sergeant Cain snapped a pair of handcuffs on his wrists.

Joe looked at his tailored clothes and realized he was about to lose that new look.

As he started to walk toward the door, he wondered if Pinky would keep that job open for him, for a couple of years?



GOD'S PROMISES
OUT of an olden golden book I take
Bright words and weave them into a lustrous thing:
A bow of promise for my own heart's sake,
A glory for my spirit's comforting.
And when the day is dark I set it there
Where I can see its colors on the air,
Its fabric spun of God's own precious words,
His everlasting covenant to man:
It pierces through the darkest cloud; it girds
The whole of earth and heaven in its span:
These promises that I have set apart
Into a bow of comfort for my heart.
Grace Noll Crowell

Tricks for Teens

By NANCY PEPPER

Trixie Teen Says—

Life for a teen not only has its ups and downs; it has its INS and OUTS. Being IN the smooth crowd and the big doings can make your four years of high school the "Best Years of Your Life." Being OUT of them can make them seem like 40 years of solitary confinement. You don't need a key to get IN; you need a good personality, a smooth appearance, a spirit of cooperation — and, maybe, a little more aggressiveness than you've been able to muster up until now. Once you make the effort, you'll see the results. Instead of eking out a day-to-day existence, you'll be riding a date-to-date merry-go-round.

Woman's Frock Has Dainty Trim

Youthful Frock Simple Sewing

Puffed Sleeve Frock

As welcome as a summer breeze — a youthful, charming puffed sleeve frock that's so easy to sew, so simple to care for. It's cut all in one piece with drawstring at the waist for snugness.

* * *

Pattern No. 8181 is for sizes 11, 12, 13, 14, 16, 18 and 20. Size 12, 2⅝ yards of 39-inch.

The Spring and Summer FASHION offers a wealth of sewing ideas for the home dressmaker. Free knitting instructions and free pattern printed inside the book. 25 cents.

Afternoon Dress

A softly styled afternoon dress with feminine detail and charm. Dainty scallops finish the neckline and surplice closing—sleeves can be brief or longer. Try an all-over flower print, or dark sheer fabric.

* * *

Pattern No. 8315 comes in sizes 32, 34, 36, 38, 40, 42, 44, and 46. Size 34, 4 yards of 39-inch.

SEWING CIRCLE PATTERN DEPT.
530 South Wells St. - Chicago 7, Ill.
Enclose 25 cents in coins for each pattern desired.
Pattern No. _____ Size _____
Name _____
Address _____

Electric Fence May Kill; Safety Precautions Listed

Electric fences take their toll of human lives every year. Most victims are children. Also, many animals are killed. Listed below are some of the safety rules recommended by the National Safety council.

Do not use home-made electric fence controllers; they are not safe.

No fence should be energized from any electric source except through an approved controller, one that meets the safety standards of a recognized agency. It is important that the controller is properly installed with good ground and lightning protection.

Do not tamper with the controller. If it needs servicing return it to the manufacturer or have repairs made by a factory-authorized representative.

Teach children not to tamper or play with an electric fence.

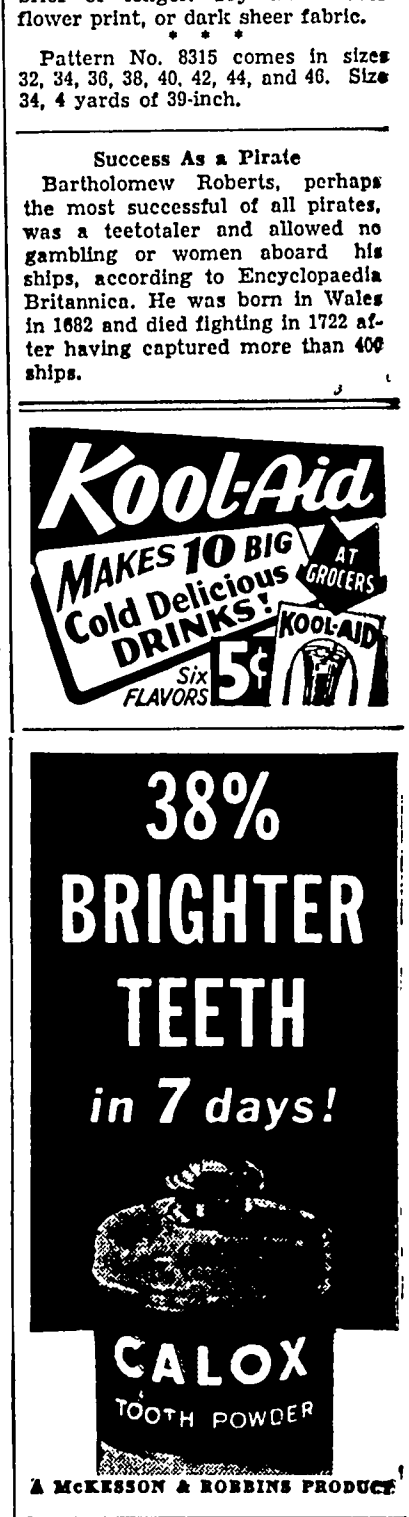
Avoid locating an electric fence where the charged wire and a good ground such as a pipe line, pump, stock tank, pond, irrigation ditch, or other normally wet ground can be contacted at the same time.

Identify electric fences, especially those near buildings, property lines, or roads with prominent signs.

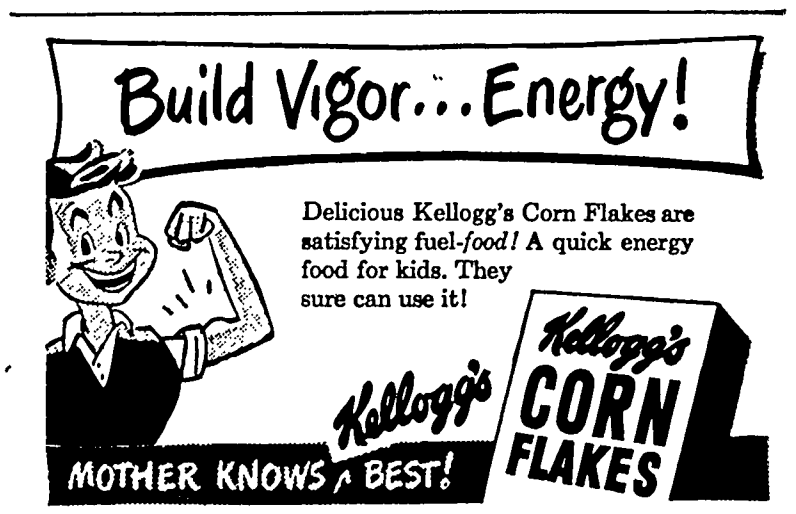
Provide insulated gate grips for opening and closing gates.

Success As a Pirate

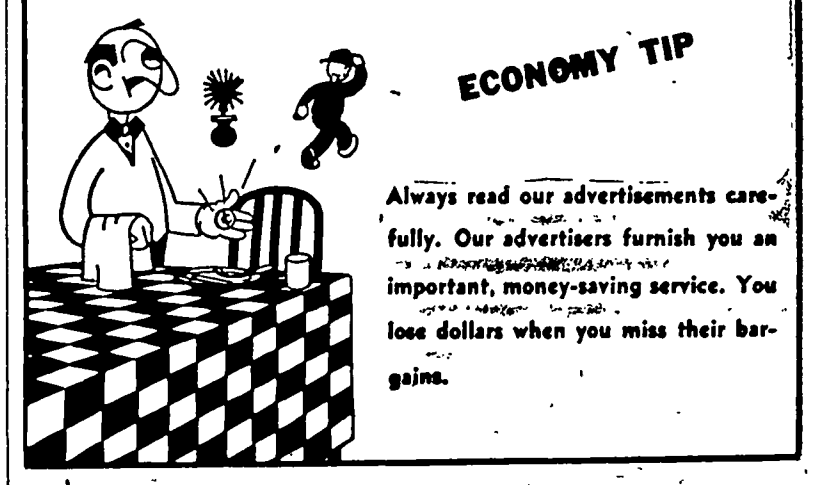
Bartholomew Roberts, perhaps the most successful of all pirates, was a teetotaler and allowed no gambling or women aboard his ships, according to Encyclopaedia Britannica. He was born in Wales in 1682 and died fighting in 1722 after having captured more than 400 ships.



Buy U. S. Savings Bonds!



Build Vigor... Energy!
Delicious Kellogg's Corn Flakes are satisfying fuel-food! A quick energy food for kids. They sure can use it!
Kellogg's CORN FLAKES
MOTHER KNOWS BEST!



ECONOMY TIP
Always read our advertisements carefully. Our advertisers furnish you an important, money-saving service. You lose dollars when you miss their bargains.

KLEMME LOCAL NEWS

Dick Dulmes spent a few days the past week with his aunt, Ada Mutch, at Grundy Center.

Ernest Gerardi of Des Moines, spent the week end in Klemme with his family at the Conrad Quandt home.

Mr. and Mrs. Aug. Larson of Forest City, and Mr. and Mrs. Carold Larson attended the funeral of Mrs. Ole Allison of Algona last Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Kingery returned home Sunday evening from Greene where they visited the past week. Mr. Kingery will be in Des Moines for the next two weeks getting acquainted with his new work before he takes over the district office at Fort Dodge.

DR. E. H. PHILLIPS
Osteopathis Physician
Xray - Short Wave Diathermy and Ultra Violet Equipment
Phone 149 Garner, Iowa

CURTIS G. RIEHM
Attorney-At-Law
Office Over Federated Store
Res. Phone 133W2
Phone 133 Garner, Iowa

For Quick Truck Delivery On
Diamond
D-X
Products of all kinds
Phone 85
ERNEST HENSCHEN
Klemme, Iowa

KLEMME LOCAL NEWS

Rev. and Mrs. H. E. Harvey visited with Grandma Suckow at the County Home one day last week.

Going on a picnic? Get your paper plates, napkins, thermos jugs and supplies at the Corner Store.

Mrs. Mary Waterman returned home Friday from Sanborn, Minn where she spent two weeks with relatives.

Do you want a lovely Tan? You can tan without burning with lotion sold at the Corner Store

Mr and Mrs. Dorance Day and Gary of Mason City came Saturday evening and visited until Sunday at the Mildred Day home. She accompanied them home for a few days.

Could prejudice cause another "Dreyfus Case"? Read the absorbing, complete details of this case in The American Weekly, the great magazine distributed with Sunday's CHICAGO HERALD-AMERICAN.

Mr and Mrs. Otho Keraus if Osage came Wednesday afternoon for a visit at the W. C. Keraus home. Thursday they visited at Ames and then spent the balance of the week at the Buntenbach cottage at Clear Lake with Verle Keraus and family

Advertise with a Times want ad.

GARNER CLINIC
GARNER, IOWA
Dr. E. M. Christensen, M.D.
Physician & Surgeon, Ph. 18
EYES TESTED — GLASSES FITTED
Dr. A. G. Landon, D.D.S.
Dentist, Ph. 207

KLEMME LOCAL NEWS

Full line of sun glasses at the Corner Store.

Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Lemke and children of Des Moines spent the week end visiting at the parental Otto Lemke home.

Clarence Kluckhohn of Waterloo spent the week end visiting with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Kluckhohn.

Fred Blank and family of West Bend were week end visitors at the parental T. Blank home.

Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Kilgore of Ralston came to spend the Fourth of July week end visiting at the Joe Burgess home.

Harold Jost and his lady friend from Toledo, Ohio spent the week end visiting at the Henry Jost home.

Dr. and Mrs. A. H. Dulmes were dinner guests Thursday evening at the Dr. McWhorter home in Allison.

Mrs. Naska Bock entertained to dinner Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Bock and daughters of Garner.

Leave your good watch at home. Get one of our low priced pocket watches to carry with you in the field and at work Jorgenson's Corner Store.

The Misses Gertrude Grosshuesch, Doris Johnson and Irene Schmidt left Sunday morning for the Black Hills to enjoy a week's vacation.

Mr. and Mrs. Claude White and family returned home Friday from a two weeks vacation spent touring in Iowa and visiting with old friends.

Rev. H. E. Harvey was at Storm Lake Wednesday to attend a Methodist pension board meeting of which he is the secretary.

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Kluckhohn and children of Stanhope spent the week end visiting at the parental C. E. Kluckhohn and Albert Schmidt homes.

Mrs. Marvin Barz underwent a major operation in Mason City last week Tuesday morning. She is making a satisfactory recovery.

Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Patterson and Paige spent the week end at the parental Patterson home at Bancroft. Paige remained with her grandparents for a longer visit.

Sunday dinner guest at the Edd Schoenwetter home at Garner were Mr. and Mrs. Russell Hansen and family of near Kanawha and Mr. and Mrs. Merle Schoenwetter and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry C. Johnson of Kansas City spent all of last week visiting at the Dr. D. P. Anderson home. Mrs. Johnson is a sister of Dr. Anderson.

Mr. and Mrs. Wallie Geary and sons, of Fonda, came Sunday morning to visit their son Elwood Geary and family. The Gearys returned to Fonda Monday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Buntenbach and son, "Red" left last week for a vacation trip to the National parks in Colorado, where they are enjoying cool weather and beautiful scenery.

Miss Eunice Larsen and Earl Denmark, who had spent the week end visiting at the C. A. Larsen home, returned to Ames Monday. Mr. and Mrs. Larsen took them to Ames in their car.

Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Chapman and Mr. and Mrs. Dave Chapman of Mission, Kansas came on Friday afternoon and visited until Monday morning at the R. A. Jorgenson home.

Darlene Geary of Fonda, who has been visiting at the home of her brother Elwood Geary, left Tuesday afternoon by train for Claremont, Minn., where she will visit with her brother, Wayne Geary and family.

Truels Steffens and family visited Sunday at the Mrs. Hilma Johnson home. Mr. Steffens returned to Waterloo Monday evening while the family remained here to attend the Joe Johnson funeral.

FIRE DRILL

There will be a fire drill some evening in the near future. Be on the alert.

KLEMME LOCAL NEWS

Mr. and Mrs W C Keraus spent the July Fourth week end at the Buntenbach cottage at Clear Lake with Verle Keraus and family of Garner, and with Mr. and Mrs. Otho Keraus of Osage.

Mr. and Mrs. Vern Huff entertained Howard Huff and family and Rev. and Mrs. H. E. Harvey and LaNelle at a weiner roast Wednesday evening. Home made ice cream was also on the menu.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Thompson have been enjoying a visit the past week from his sister, Mrs. Harley Dawes and two daughters of Walnut Creek, Cal. Mrs. Dawes and daughters are also visiting with her father, Thomas Thompson of Kanawha.

Hazardous Business

Tragic stories from all over the country prove that farm folk are, as the insurance statisticians say, in a hazardous profession — almost as hazardous as coal mining or some other supposedly dangerous work. Why not start an accident prevention campaign of your own today? Fix that broken step. Fill in that old dry well. Put a railing on those stairs. Be sure your electrical wiring is safe. Store your gasoline and oil in a separate building well away from house or barn, and in safe containers, painted red. Be sure that bull is kept penned up properly and handle him with staff and ring. These and a few other simple precautions will pay off in making the home a safer place in which to live and the farm a safer place on which to work. There are few, if any, unavoidable accidents. The terrible accident toll could be reduced with just a little foresight and caution.

Avoid Forest Fires

Every year America's forests and woods and ranges suffer an average of 210,000 fires—575 a day. Extension foresters urge extreme caution this year when timber and wood products are so desperately needed. Farmers who intend to burn off crop land that is near wooded areas are urged to practice extreme caution. Plowing around areas to be burned will help to reduce spread of fire. Dry or windy weather should be avoided as days for burning. Plenty of tools and help should be handy in case the fire gets out of control. Records show that care will prevent 9 out of 10 forest fires. Do your part by observing the safety rules.

Avoid Chances

Accidents resulting from home dry cleaning have disfigured or fatally burned many persons. Many homes also have been destroyed by fires resulting from dry cleaning mishaps. Avoid taking chances by doing home dry-cleaning outside the house. Keep the hands out of cleaning fluid through use of a suction washer. Use only a fluid labeled non-flammable. Dry the garments outside. Children and pets should be kept at a safe distance from the cleaning operation.

Leaf From Fig Tree

A man may sit in more comfort and security under his own vine and fig tree if he knows the roots are sound. That conclusion is more justified today than ever before since Biblical times because of findings of the department of agriculture on the damage done to field crops and to truck, orchard and ornamental plants by the insidious nematode, which does most of its damage to the roots. Recently department nematologists used a fig plant on which to demonstrate the critical damage the root-knot nematode can inflict. They permitted the roots from one half of the plant to grow in a pot of soil infested with the pest and those of the other half in a pot of soil in which all the nematodes had been killed by steam. After several months, during which the fig tree bore fruit, it was uprooted and the roots washed free of soil. The root development in the soil free of nematodes was long and spreading and of several times the extent of the clubby mass that had grown in the infested pot. In the tree itself was final evidence that nematodes cramp the plant. Th half of the tree above the re stricted rootage had 7 fruits. The half above the free soil had 23 fruits.

Painting Stucco

Stucco may be painted satisfactorily by use of either cement base water mixed paints or the regulation oil base paints, but the procedure differs according to the type of paint which is used. If cement base water mixed paints are used, surface of the stucco should be first dampened in accordance with the instructions of the manufacturer of the cement base paint, which usually are printed on the container. On the other hand, if a regular oil base paint is to be used, the stucco should first be seasoned for several months to get rid of any free lime which might burn the paint, and moreover, should be thoroughly dry at the time when the paint is applied.

Try A Times Want Ad.

Two Epochs In History Celebrated on Same Day

One of the most sensational epochs of World War II was recalled when the gallant army air force fliers who dropped the first bombs on Tokyo and four other Japanese cities five years ago April 18 held a reunion in Miami, Fla., to commemorate the flight.

Lt. Gen. James H. Doolittle, who led the 16 B-25 Mitchell bombers on the raid, presided over the reunion. Of the 80 officers and enlisted men who flew the mission, 61 survive. Seven lost their lives as a result of the Tokyo raid and 12 others died in crashes and other combat action after returning from the mission. Thirty-three of the 61 survivors are still in the AAF and the remaining 28 have been released from service.

April 18 is the anniversary of another famous incident in American history. It was on the night of that date 172 years ago that two lanterns were hung in the tower of Old North church in Boston. Paul Revere watched for the signal from across Charles river, "ready to ride and spread the alarm" of an enemy attack.

Longfellow described it in "The Midnight Ride of Paul Revere," in which he wrote, "One if by land, and two if by sea . . ."

If such a signal were to be arranged today, "three if by air" would complete the code, and a third lantern would be required to warn of the possible approach of an enemy over a new frontier.

The patriots of 1775 faced great odds and so did the men who fought in World War II. But no greater valor has been shown at any time in American history than the bravery with which the Tokyo raiders flew to their objectives, completed their assigned missions and then attempted to reach safety against almost insurmountable odds.

Present Costs of Living Modify Ancient Proverb

Remember the old proverb, "Two can live as cheaply as one"? Rensselaer Polytechnic institute comes up with evidence that it probably should read "Two can live as cheaply as one and one-half."

The Rensselaer chapter of American Veterans committee surveyed more than a third of approximately 3,000 veterans on the campus. The finding.

Living costs for the average unmarried veteran were $103.32 a month, of which the largest item was $47.93 for food.

Living costs for the average married veteran were $150.70 a month, of which the largest portion was $62.12 for food.

All of which proves, perhaps, that "two heads are better than one."

The survey was made up to help provide data for a national AVC drive for increased government subsistence allowances for veterans attending colleges.

Chances of Survival

Chances of survival at birth decrease as the number of babies in the litter increases, conclude Dr. Horluf H. Strandskov and Doris Ondina of University of Chicago in the American Journal of Physical Anthropology. After a careful analysis of United States birth records for 1922-36, they present these approximate odds for live births: single babies, 28 to 1; twins, 12 to 1; triplets, 6 to 1, quadruplets, 4 to 1. The poorer odds for multiple births are attributed variously to premature birth, uterine competition and common placental membranes. Girls have a slightly better chance of survival than boys—about 31 to 1 against 25 to 1. This is attributed to differences in size and other constitutional factors. White babies have a considerably better chance than colored. A difference in economic status of parents is the probable explanation.

Copper Pennies

Copper pennies, now rapidly replacing the wartime substitutes, may not be the common coins a generation from now. The reason is that the U. S. mint may run out of copper by then. Elmer Pehrson, chief of the economics and statistics service of the bureau of mines, estimates that, on the basis of the country's rate of consumption of copper for the five years before the war, copper reserves will last only another 33 years. If there aren't enough copper pennies then, the zinc-coated coins that were used during the war won't be the answer, because the life of zinc reserves is considered limited. Urging stockpiles of our metal reserves, Pehrson warns that some other metals are going to run out before copper and zinc.

Infantile Paralysis Cure

A remedy for infantile paralysis may be found among some plants—this is the belief and hope of New York Botanical garden. With funds provided by National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis for a five-year search, scientists are hunting for some drug, mold product like penicillin. Many plant substances will destroy germs. Infantile paralysis, however, is caused by a virus and few plant elements have been found that will attack virus. The botanists have gone a long way in their fight. They have developed a quick and reliable method of testing for virus-killing activity in plants.

Army Operates Largest Lost and Found Agency

More than 8 million dollars in personal funds which had either been lost by army personnel or found among the effects of deceased soldiers has been returned to the proper owners since December, 1942, by the army effects bureau at Kansas City, Mo., according to the war department.

This sum, dispatched along with personal effects valued at thousands of dollars, was part of the operations of perhaps the largest lost and found agency of its kind in the world.

In assisting in locating owners, photographic studios, watch companies, high schools and many business firms have furnished leads which eventually brought property back to the hands of those who had lost it.

Because of the large amount of funds received, the bureau has practically become a banking institution within itself. Relatively small amounts were received initially. Receipts gradually continued, however, and as of March 31, 1947, the bureau had received funds totalling $8,393,072.37 and had made disbursements of $8,352,126.19.

Whether it's money, rings or pets, the army effects bureau stands ready to put its elaborate plans for tracking down belongings into action.

The bureau started its work in May, 1942. It is expected that most cases covering the effects of overseas casualties will be completed in 1947. Even when this work is finished, however, it still will serve those now in the army and former soldiers still in search of misplaced items. It will continue to operate as the army's largest lost and found department.

We specialize in printing Wedding Announcements.

B. C. BERGE
ATTORNEY-AT-LAW
Office Over Federated Store
Phone 20 Garner, Iowa

Arthur Wellemeyer
FUNERAL DIRECTOR
—with long experince and best equipment.
PROMPT AMBULANCE SERVICE
Phone 23-R2 Day or Night
Klemme - Iowa

Gets The D
A bottle set adrift
States coast guard cut a 3,000 mile journey i months, finishing up
the same parallel of la
on which it was la bottle, picked up on Rosslare bay, Eire, b
of Wexford, contained
"This bottle was set a
United States coast
Mendota at 52 degree
grees west on April order to study the ocea
the North Atlantic.
this message to the a
Thank you. Richard
States weather burea ton, Mass., U S A."

New Goiter Tr
Goiter may be perm
trolled by a new harmle out surgery Physician more than 90 per cen
dreds treated by the d completely cured with
The drug is called prop
a compound made of c
gen, oxygen and s medication is taken two tablets every eight tests were conducted
Medical school and Brighton hospital in prophylthouracil

Cooling Mi
Extension dairymen about cooling milk. T that rapid cooling plays producing good qualit to keep the bacteria t
from developing, the should be kept down within two hours after the cow If milk is only will souring be d
also good flavor will re sion dairymen say tha picks up off-flavors a much faster than co
Water is still one of t to cool milk. A can o water will cool 21 time
it will when standing to the same temperatu
ter. It takes eight ga
gree water to cool
milk down to 55 degr causes milk to cool a but it also results i more bacteria.

PHOTOGRAP
Live
Forev
RUSSE
Photo Stu
Next to J. C. P
Ph. 2272 Mason

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

Will's Hospitality Isn't "Cracked"!

Ever since January, Will Dudley planned to give his living room that "new look"—planned to carefully refinish the woodwork and replaster the walls.

Every time Will got out the putty to start filling in the cracks, a neighbor stopped by to pass the time of day—and first thing you knew, there was a group of us helping Will do the job up right. After Will called a halt to the evening's work, we'd sit around the fire enjoying a friendly argument and a sparkling glass of mellow beer.

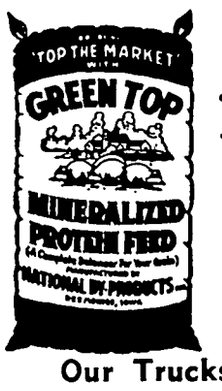
So Will's living room doesn't look like it did a year ago—but it's by far the most "livable" living room I know: A place you can always drop in for good talk, good beer, and a warm welcome.

From where I sit, so long as Will puts that atmosphere of hospitality and good fellowship ahead of everything else, we'll all be happy to help Will change the looks of his living room any time he wants.

Joe Marsh

Copyright, 1948, United States Brewers Foundation

DEAD STOC
PROMPTLY REMOVED



Britt Rendering
Dept. of Agr Lic. No.
WE PAY PHONE CHA
KLEMME Phone 7
GARNER Phone 40
Our Trucks Are Steam Cleaned A Each Load
TANKAGE AND MINERALIZED FEED FOR SALE AT OUR PLANT

DANCE
DUNCAN COMMUNITY HALL
Monday Night July, 12
Six Fat Dutchmen Orchestra
EVERYONE WELCOME!

KEEP THE FARM SANITARY
2-HOUR SERVICE ON REMOVAL OF
Dead Stock
Phone
KLEMME 580
BELMOND 580
We Pay The Call
A Clean Truck With An Efficient Driver In Your Neighborhood Daily.
Belmond By-Products
"Your Home Plant"
Phone 580 Belmond, Iowa.

Picnic Time!
WE CAN HELP YOU MAKE IT A BIG SUCCESS
These hot July days call for a picnic evening when its nice and cool. Rem when you plan your picnic we can h make it a success with our Bakery Good
- Buns and Rolls
- Cookies
- Cakes
- Cup Cakes
- Bismarks
- Pies
- Milk Maid Bread

When in Garner, drop in at our Bak get a supply of our nice fresh baked goo
Garner Bake
Mr. and Mrs. Otto Lehmann
Garner, Iowa

OFFICIAL COUNTY PAPER

THE KLEMME TIMES

Volume 53. KLEMME, IOWA, JULY 14, 1948 Number 35.

Blank Family Reunion Held Sunday, July 11th In Park

Mr. Geo. Carmen And Miss Marie Blank Instigators

Mr. Blank held a family re- on Sunday, July 11, in the me Park with dinner at Methodist Church basement. hundred and thirty three ives gathered. Mrs. Elsie r of Alexanderia, Minneso- me the fartherest, which 300 miles, and the Lippo family of Klemme had largest representation with present.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Blank parents of seven children, boys and two girls, of two are living and were nt: Mrs. Kate Mauss of , Iowa, who is 72 years of and Taalkeus Blank of me, who has reached the of 84. There also are two ter-in-laws living: Mrs. ma Westendorf, 80, of Buf- Center, and Mrs. Taalkaus 86. Both were present.

er dinner a program was ed with John Mauss of as Master of Ceremonies. first number on the pro- was a piano selection by a Blank of West Bend. was followed by Ernie Ge- of Des Moines, who played ccordian. Next Carrol Ush- honored the group with al vocal solos, after which Gerardi accompanied the singing with his accor-short business meeting was at which time John Mauss ke was elected President; Blank of Klemme, as Vice dent and Mrs. W. C. Usher Rowan as Secretary and urer se present were: Johanna ndorf, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. n of Buffalo Center; Nor- Blank and George Blank of aul, Minn., Mr. and Mrs. Lemke and Mr. and Mrs. n Prehpp and children of Lake; Mrs. Elsie Miller of nderia, Minn.; Mr. and Mauss and children of lyn, Minn., Mrs. Kate Ma- nd Mr. and Mrs. John Ma- Rake, Iowa Mr. and Mrs. t Gerardi and daughters of Moines; Mr and Mrs. W. J. and son, Alfred, Mr. and Robert L. Blank of Gar-and Mrs. Dick Katuin and en, Mr and Mrs. Kenneth , Mr and Mrs. George s, Mr and Mrs. J. E. Ein- Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Elia- and family, Herman Eck- Mr and Mrs. Herman Eck- and children and Mr. and Henry Betten all of Kanaand Mrs. John E. Betten family, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. s and children and Mr. Mrs. Minno Swyter of Mr and Mrs. Gerald Swy- nd children; Mrs. A. N. kiel of Goodell; Mr. and Chester Gerdes; Mr. and Ernest Smith and Coleen Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Einhuis children of Hayfield; Mr. Mrs. George Einhuis and en of Wesley; Mr. and S. B. Einhuis and Mr. and Alvin Einhuis and child- Forest City; Ralph Blank wa Falls; Mr. and Mrs. Blank and family, West Mr and Mrs. T. G. Ahren- nd son, of Hubbard; Mr. Mrs. Leonard Lau and son, es; Mr. and Mrs. W. C. and sons of Rowan; Mr. Mrs. F. O. Blank of Appling- linn; Mrs. Katherm Kwi- nd sons of Sioux City; Mr. Mrs. George Abbes and en of Goldfield; Elzo Grace Blank, Mr. and Taalkaus Blank, Ralph Marie Blank and Mr. and Conrad Quandt all of ne.

George Carmen of Buffalo Center and Marie Blank of Klemme were the instigators of this family reunion. From all reports a wonderful time was enjoyed by all and they wish to take this way of saying "Thanks to Kathryn and Marie" this will be an annual affair from now on.

WITH 200 AIRPORTS IOWA AVIATION IS NOW BIG BUSINESS

Last summer there was an airplane for every 1,471 people in Iowa compared to the national average of one plane for nearly 1,600 people And one Iowan in 2,500 has a private plane at his service

These facts about Iowans' growing interest in their skyways were gleaned from the "Iowans Flying," a survey intended to encourage the development of aviation in Iowa, released by the Iowa aeronautics commission The report was prepared under the department of mechanical engineering, college of engineering, of the State University of Iowa.

In reviewing Iowa aviation today, the booklet points out that "of 1,760 planes registered in Iowa, 691 are in commercial service; Iowa's fleet of personal planes and planes used for private business amounts to slightly over 1,000—In early 1947 there were 8,950 pilot's licenses held by Iowans."

The report contends that aviation is already a big business. with about 200 airports in Iowa. "The average Iowa airport," the survey reveals, "is between two and three miles from the community it serves, covers 150 acres of ground, and has a miscellaneous assortment of small buildings and hangers."

The operation of seaplanes on Iowa's lakes and rivers is becoming common. In the north-central part of the state there are eight lakes, varying from 157 to 568 acres surface area, on which seaplane operation is permitted, and 61 other lakes on which landings are permitted but not recommended

Music Mother's Made Good At Ice Cream Social

The ice cream social held by the Music Mothers was well attended and one hundred and one dollars was realized from the sale of home made ice cream, cake and pie. The social was held on the Wellemeyer lot and the ladies especially thank Mr. Wellemeyer for the lights and his cooperation

The next meeting of the Music Mothers will be held at the school house Wednesday afternoon, July 21, at 2 o'clock. Please bear this date in mind and all mothers interested in the music department of our schools should be present

OK Drain Cleanout

The Hancock County Supervisors approved the report of William Henschen, drainage engineer, recommending the cleanout of the ditches in Hancock County drainage District No. 65, petitioned for by R. M. Hutson, et al., and fixed August 16 at 1:30 p. M. at the courthouse in Garner, as a time and place for hearing on the cleanout and the report of the engineer. The district is located north of Hayfield.

Fire Department Has Good Average On Run Time

The Klemme Fire Department has made a very good record on the last three runs. From the time the alarm was sounded until the truck got to the scene of the fire they have averaged 1 mile in 2 minutes.

TIMES RECEIVES LETTER FROM TANNER SISTERS

547 South 9th St.
San Jose, Calif.
July 4, 1948

Dear Mrs. Jorgenson

The Klemme Times arrived O K. two days after your card. We read them thoroughly One week of school is over. Like it so far. There are 2,262 enrolled for the six weeks summer course Many of them teachers

We have bought a new house, just completed, from our cousin's husband, a contractor It is at Aptos, just next to their house We will be just three-fourths of a mile from the ocean It is located on a hillside, called Aptos Heights, outside the city (population about 600) limits. Have a grand view of the ocean. You will have to come and visit us.

Aptos is between Watsonville and Santa Cruz about 40 miles from here

We went to the First Methodist Church this morning. The minister asked the visitors to stand and tell where they were from Mrs. Luick of Belmond stood up Her son, Wilbur, is an instructor here at San Jose College, tho not teaching this summer We talked with them after services. They said one-fourth of the congregation were former Iowans.

It is quite cool here today. We wore suits to church At Aptos along the coast, it is usually about 10 degrees cooler.

Glad to hear Iowa is getting rains. Here everyone waters and irrigates. They have just finished picking cherries, mostly Bings and Royal Annes. They are delicious. Apricots and early peaches are beginning to ripen There are miles and miles of all kinds of fruit trees around here

Your friends,
Bernice and Frances Tanner

National Farm Safety Week From July 25 to 31

The week of July 25-31 has been proclaimed by President Harry S. Truman as National Safety week

In setting the dates for the fifth observance of safety week, President Truman emphasized the goal to be achieved. "I urgently request each member of every American farm family to accept responsibility for eliminating at least one possible source of accidents during that week."

He also asked that all organizations and persons interested in farm life and welfare join in a concentrated attack upon these menaces to the lives and happiness of American farmers and their families.

HARVESTING OF OATS HAS STARTED IN THIS COMMUNITY MONDAY

A few of the earlier variety of oats were being cut in the fields near Klemme on Monday As the week progresses there will be quite a lot of oats in the chocks.

Corn Shoulder High

Much of the corn in this community made rapid growth the past week and in many fields the corn is about shoulder high and tassels are forming

LEGION AUXILIARY ELECTS NEW OFFICERS FOR YEAR

The Klemme American Legion elected the following officers for the coming year:

President, Mrs. Margaret Thomas; Vice President, Mrs. Carrie Schwichtenberg; Secretary and Treasurer, Mrs. Helen Stille; Chaplin, Mrs. Ella Polsdofer; Historian, Mrs. Nellie Arnold; Sergeant-At-Arms, Rose Schaefer.

The members named on the Executive Board are Mrs. Irene Barz, Mrs. Irma Sherwood and Mrs. Leafy Coobs.

Estimated $287,000 To Be Spent In Modernizing Farm Homes, In County

An estimated $287,000 will be spent in repairing an modernizing non-farm homes in Hancock county during 1948, according to a report just released by the Tile Council of America.

That sum will be expended largely on painting, repairs to heating equipment, new roofs and plumbing, the report disclosed "Greater availability of building materials will make possible a record amount of home improvement throughout the nation this year," declared Mr Malcolm Schweiker, chairman of the Council's residential construction committee.

About 30 of every 100 homes in Iowa will be painted, either inside or out, during 1948 and 11 will have heating equipment overhauled or replaced according to the report. Nine will be reroofed and 8 will have plumbing repaired, bathrooms tiled or showers installed, the report revealed.

"To meet demands for materials for both new homes and home repairs, production has been stepped up in practically every type of material," said Mr Schweiker. The output of ceramic tile for bathrooms and kitchens, for instance, is now at the highest rate in history, government reports show

Throughout the nation between $2,600,000,000 and $3,300,000,000 will be spent this year on home repair, according to the Tile Council report. This is believed the largest amount everexpended for such work.

OATS LOANS AVAILABLE TO DECEMBER 31, 1948

1948 oats lonas will be available from harvest until December 31, 1948, according to an announcement by the Hancock County AAA Office last week.

Loans are made at the rate of 68c per bushel, bear 3 per cent interest and mature on April 30th 1949.

When stored on the farm, the oats must have been stored in the oats must have been stored in the granary at least 30 days prior to inspection for measuring, sampling and sealing The oats must grade No 3 or better and must not contain moisture in excess of 14½ in order to be eligible.

Three elevatores in the county The Davis Elevator Co at Denhart, the Davis Elevator Co. at Corwith, and the Brown Grain Co. of Goodell—have all signed Uniform Grain Storage Agreements with Commodity Credit Corporation, making their storage space eligible so that producers storing oats in them still obtain loans on the oats.

Fire Deapnrtmet Made Quick Run On Practice Drill

The Klemme Fire Department made a quick run on a practice drill Friday evening when they went to the Carl Wille farm Carl said it was only 5 minutes from the time the alarm was sounded until they pulled into his yard. The men on the fire department were not told when the run would be made.

This was the second time the men made a practice run to the Wille farm. Carl says it is o. k. but he wishes they would pick a new spot as it looked too much like the real thing and it gets the neighbors all excited!

Donald Thieman Had Birthday Party Thursday

Donald, son of Mr. and Mrs. Mac Thieman had a birthday Thursday, July 8th, and in honor of the event his mother planned a party for him and had a number of his friends present to help him celebrate. The boys had a fine time playing games after which Mrs. Thieman served them with lunch. Donald received a number of nice gifts.

IOWA LEADS MIDDLE WEST IN SPRAYING

Iowa is setting the pace in the midwest in spraying cities and farms from the air to fight insects, the civil aeronautics administration reported Friday.

The Iowa CAA office has granted 30 permits this spring and summer to spray or dust individual cities by plane. And among them are Ottumwa, Mason City and Marshalltown The CAA has also approved 20 "open country" permits for spraying farm land

Last year about a dozen permits were granted in Iowa.

Harry Troxell, senior aeronautical inspector of Iowa CAA, said Iowa leads the six other states in the midwest CAA region—Wyoming, Colorado, Kansas, South Dakota, Missouri and Nebraska—in granting of permits

Safety Hazards Lurk Around The Farm Home

General safety hazards lurk around many Hancock County farms. They need not, eliminating many of them is easy.

Norval Wardle, extension safety specialist at Iowa StateCollege, says one of he worst hazards is weak creaking steps and railings. Repairs here will prevent falls Tailored storage, with everything having a place, makes housekeeping safer, he adds. Shelves and closets with the floor area clear is highly desirable.

An orderly shop for efficient and safe repairing will reduce farm accidents too, according to County Extension Director Paul Henderson. Have racks and stands for all tools. A rack for pitchforks is a good safety feature and to have in the barn, he adds.

Boars with tusks removed and strong, high bull pens may save a farmer's life, Henderson points out. He advises removal of the lower section of ladder, silos and windmills to discourage climbing and possible falls by farm youngsters

Other common hazards are poisinous drugs or sprays, guns, matches, sharp knives, broken glass, boards with protruding nails, small rugs on slippery floors, Wardle reminds.

National Farm Safety week is July 25 to 31, and now is a good time to eliminate these, and all other safety hazards around the farm.

HANCOCK 4-H GIRLS ATTEND CONVENTION

The following Hancock County 4-H girls left for Iowa State College Wednesday to attend the convention of 4-H girls, according to announcement by County Home Economist Elsie Mae Van Wert, who will also attend.

Doris Lenz, Ell Tip Toppers; Mercedes Formanek, Madison Livewires, Phyllis Hauan, Crystal Merry Maids. Beverly Haberkamp, Liberty Busy Bees; Harriet Ostendorf, Avery Sunbeams; Phylis Jurgenson, Boone Magor Pals; Marjorie Young, Garfield Lively Workers; Iva Lou Sevens, Boone Buzzers; Noreen Smith, Orthel Jolly Workers; Darlene Nelson, Concord Nimble Fingers; Muriel Schutjer, Bingham Boosters; Marjorie Bredlow, Liberty Busy Bees; and Club leaders Bernice Weaver and Mrs. Aaron Stromer.

At Girls Camp

Camp Methoji opened on Sunday at West Okoboji, for Senior boys and girls. Mrs. Claude White went from Klemme as the councelor for our Methodist Church. The campers are Gloria Haefner, Isabelle Gibbs, JoAnn Hummel, LaNelle Harvey, and Marjorie Lau.

They will spend the week at the Methodist Camp Grounds.

Advertise with a Times want ad.

Schlei-Beier Reunion Was Held On Sunday, July 11

Farm Woman Has Peculiar But Painful Accident

Even kitchens can be dangerous and the source of an accident as Mrs. Kermit Schlei learned Thursday morning while she was using an electric food mixer to stir up ice cream mixture.

Mrs. Schlei had about completed mixing the batch and is customary to tilt the mixer and with a spatula was smoothing down the mixture when the spatula caught in the rapidly whirling beaters and in some manner struck Mrs. Schlei's left hand and when things came to a sudden stop Mrs Schlei's left thumb was wedged firmly between the two beaters of the mixer. She could not extract her thumb and had to make the trip to town carrying the mixer. Before a local doctor could do anything, the mixing beaters had to be cut with a bolt clipper in order to free Mrs. Schlei's thumb The bone was not broken but the thumb was badly crushed and cut in a couple of places. She suffered a great deal of pain before her thumb could be freed from the mixer

Birthday Surprise Party

Mrs. Verner Nelson was pleasantly surprised on Tuesday evening when a group of neighbors dropped in to remind her of her birthday. After a social time and game, the self-invited guests served a lunch consisting of sandwiches, cake, ice cream and coffee Mrs. Nelson was presented with a beautiful framed picture by the following: Mr and Mrs. Henry Busse, Mr. and Mrs. John Lass, Mr and Mrs Sibert Shoop and family, Mr and Mrs Bill Green and Gerald, Mr and Mrs. Ted Dutheridge, Mr and Mrs. Bill Johnson, and Edwin Shoofstall.

THE BLUMER FAMILY HOLDS REUNION, KLEMME, JUNE 27TH

The Blumer reunion was held in the Klemme Community Hall, Sunday, June 27th. This is an annual event. Those attended were, Mr and Mrs. John Lemke, Mr and Mrs. Emil Blumer, Mrs. Anna Waddingham, Mr. and Mrs. Mrs. Curtis Waddingham and family, Mr. and Mrs. Ardell Waddingham and children, Mr and Mrs. Walter Blumer and family, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Wille and Margo Mae, Mr and Mrs. Jacob Blumer and family, Mr and Mrs. Alvin Halverson, Mr and Mrs Herman Baack, Robert and Richard, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Baack and Bennette, Mr and Mrs. Carls Kropp and children, Mr and Mrs. Paul Baack, Mrs Alvin Halverson and Mrs. Herman Baack were committee members.

Farm Bureau Calendar Of Coming Events

July 16:
County 4-H Committee meeting at Central States Building in Britt at 1.30 p. m.

July 16:
Avery Sunbeams meet with Pauline Kramer as hostess.

July 19-20:
District No. 2 extension conference held at Clear Lake.

July 19:
Amsterdam-Magor Pace Makers meet at Mrs. Wendell Johnson's home.

July 21:
Garfield Lively Workers meet at 1:30 p. m. with Celestine Nedved as hostess.

July 22:
Erin's Eager Club meeting with Reta and Veronica Chizek as hostesses at 2.00 p. m.

Also 25th Anniversary Of Mr. and Mrs. Emil Beier Was Observed

The Schlei-Beier reunion was held Sunday, July 11th, at the Liberty Church. A business meeting followed the dinner. Mrs. Herald Ridder was named Chairman, Mrs. Wilbur Haefner as Secretary, and Beverly Beier, program chairman. The reunion will be held at the same time and place next year

The following program was given: piano solo by Gloria Haefner, piano solo by Gordon Beier, trio by LaVonne, Beverly and Shirley Beier, piano solo by Margaret Haefner, piano solo by Shirley Beier, Marimba solos by Marcille Josten.

The 25th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Emil Beier, which had been postponed from February, was observed in connection with the reunion.

The table of the honored couple and their immediate family was beautifully decorated in blue and white, their wedding colors 25 years ago. Blue paper streamers, nut cups and lighted candles and lovely bouquets of garden flowers were used. A beautiful cake topped with an ornament of silver bells and love birds, was baked and decorated by Mrs. D. P. Anderson.

Rev. Gauger gave an interesting talk following the musical program and Mr. Beier responded with a talk. Rev. Harvey also made a few well chosen remarks.

Open house was held in the afternoon and many friends of Mr. and Mrs. Beier called to wish them well. Marcille Josten played several marimba selections during the afternoon.

Those present at the reunion and anniversary were Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Ridder and family of Waterloo; Miss Lydia Beier of Waterloo; Mrs. Ida Ridder of Leland; Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Kulper, Waterloo; Mr. and Mrs. Ben Riemer, Garner; Rev. and Mrs. A. W. Gauger, Mason City; Mr and Mrs. Wm. Riemer and Iola of Garner; Mr. and Mrs. Ed W. Weisbrod of Fenton; Mr. and Mrs. Elwin Schlei and family, Fenton; Mr. and Mrs. Herold Ridder of Nora Springs; Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Schlei, Fenton; Norman Crossley, of Waterloo; Beverly Kunkle, Waterloo.

Mr. and Mrs. Emil Beier; Mrs. Aug. Nuehring; Mr. and Mrs. Emil Blumer; Rev. and Mrs. H. E. Harvey and LaNelle; Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Josten and Marcille; Mr and Mrs. Howard Spitler; Mr. and Mrs. Ben Ridder; Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Beier and family; Mr. and Mrs. Carol Brager and family; Mr. and Mrs. Merlin Neuberger and Dean; Mr. and Mrs. Loren Gast and Kathryn; Mr. and Mrs. George Kern and Mary Katherine; Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Haefner nd family; Mr. and Mrs. Roy Schaefer; and Mrs. Daisy Lemke all of this community.

Mr. and Mrs. Beier were presented with a gift of silver by those at the gathering. They also received other gifts and many cards.

Mr. and Mrs. Beier want to thank all who came to make it such a wonderful day for them, and thanking all who helped plan and carry out the celebration.

No Services Sunday At The Evangelical And Reformed Church

There will be no services Sunday at the Klemme Evangelical and Reformed Church on July 18.

Get your "Thank You Notes" at the Times Office. 59 cents. per box.

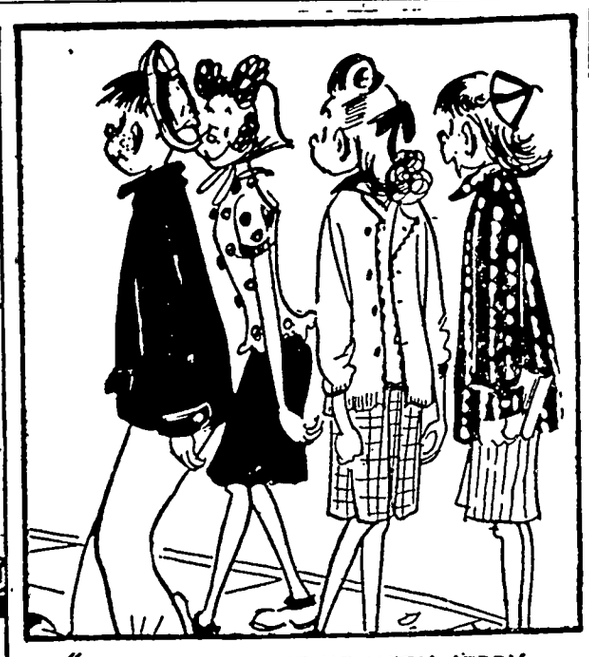
Cross Town

by Roland Coe

"WE HAVE NO COMPLAINT DEPARTMENT, MADAM. THIS STORE OPERATES ON THE ASSUMPTION THAT OUR CUSTOMERS HAVE NOTHING TO COMPLAIN ABOUT."

Bobby Sox

by Mary Links



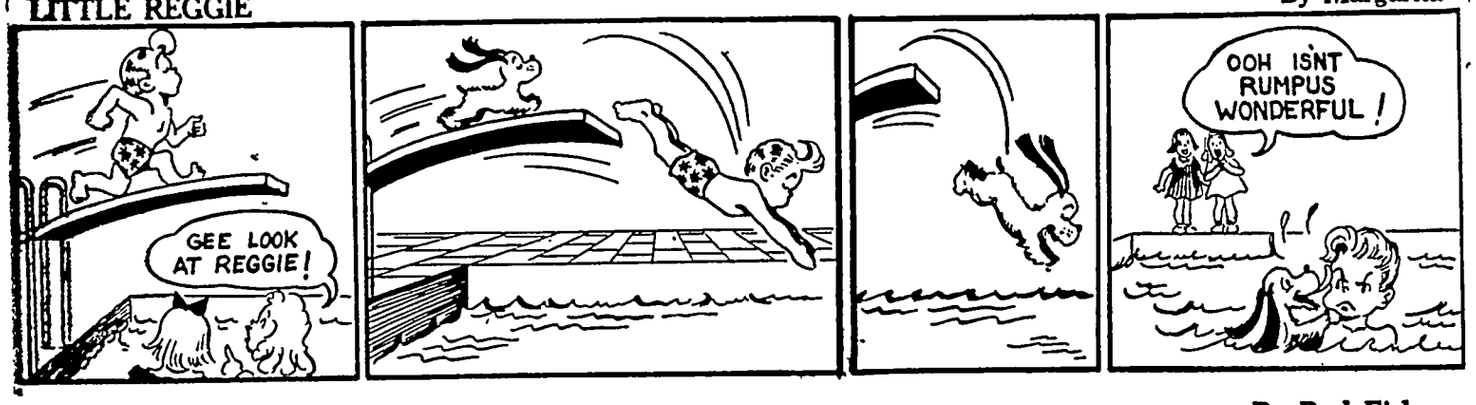
NANCY

By Ernie Bushmiller

OH, AUNT FRITZI--- WILL YOU GIVE ME A HAIR-DO LIKE THIS MODEL?
OKAY
HEY--- WHY ARE YOU WALKIN' ON YER TOES, NANCY ?
I CAN'T HELP IT
AUNT FRITZI PULLED MY HAIR UP SO TIGHT

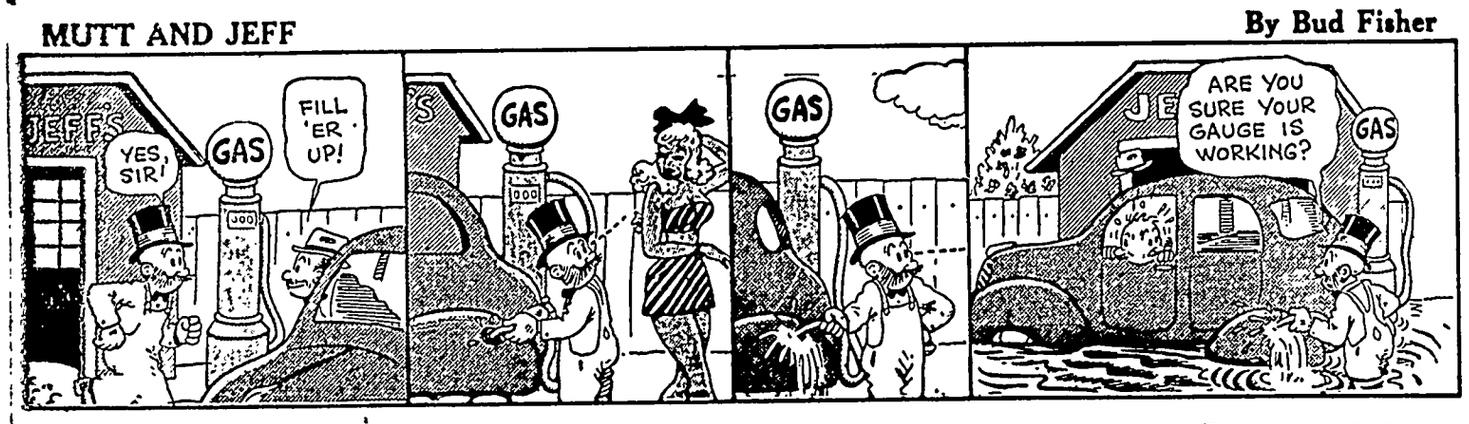
LITTLE REGGIE

By Margarita



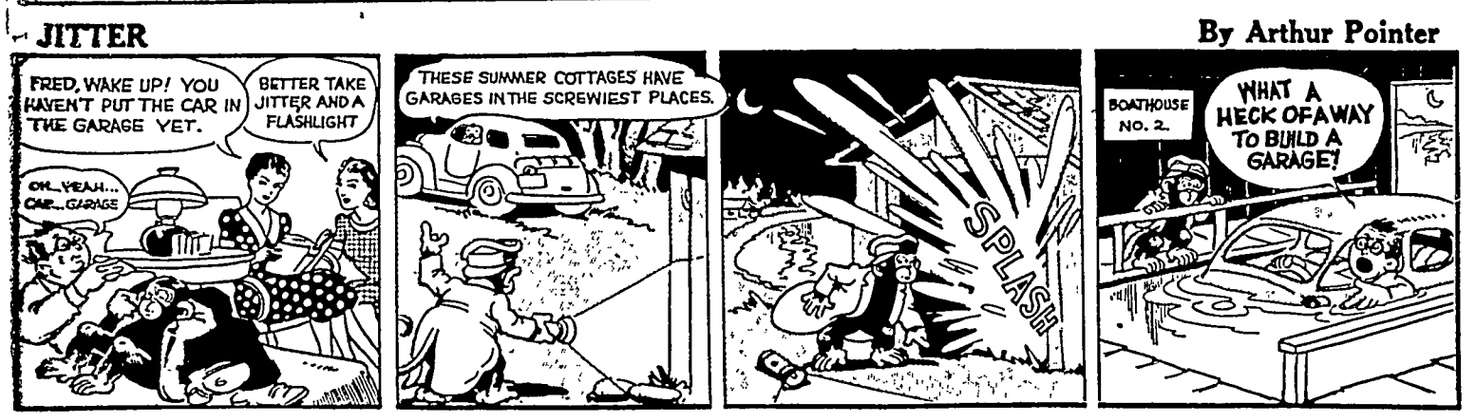
MUTT AND JEFF

By Bud Fisher



JITTER

By Arthur Pointer



FRED, WAKE UP! YOU HAVEN'T PUT THE CAR IN THE GARAGE YET.
BETTER TAKE JITTER AND A FLASHLIGHT
OH...YEAH... CAR...GARAGE
THESE SUMMER COTTAGES HAVE GARAGES IN THE SCREWIEST PLACES.
SPLASH
BOATHOUSE NO. 2.
WHAT A HECK OF A WAY TO BUILD A GARAGE!

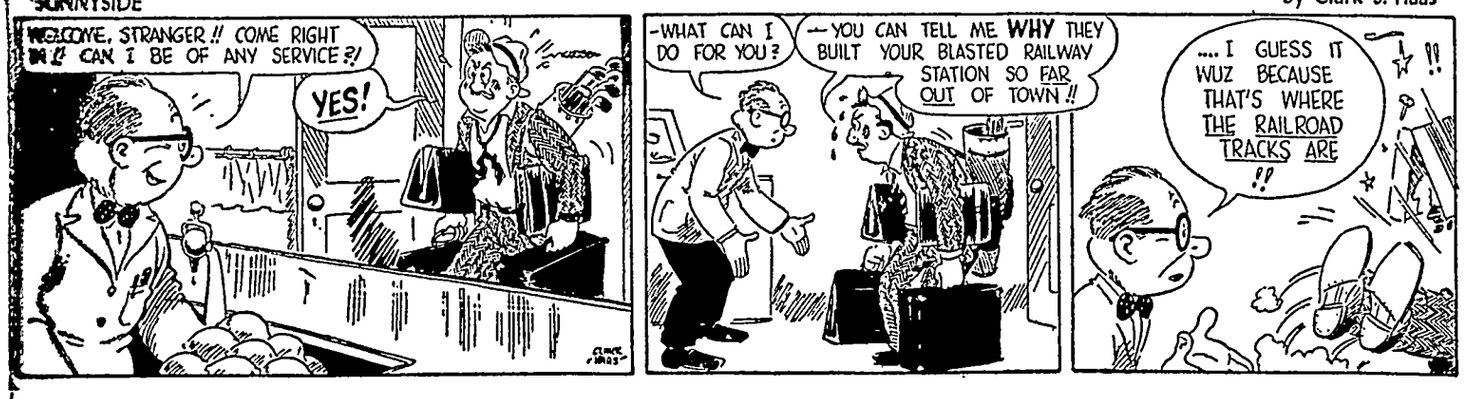
REG'LAR FELLERS

By Gene Byrnes

LOOKIT NELLIGAN'S NANNY-GOAT EATIN' THOSE OLE TOMATO CANS!
THEY CAN'T BE GOOD FOR HIM--- PINHEAD!
THEY'RE NOT, ZOOLIE --- TOO MUCH OF ONE THING --BUT I'LL FIX THAT!
THERE Y'ARE, OLE BOY! TRY A FEW OF THESE VITAMIN SOAKED SPINACH CANS--TAEY'LL PUT HAIR ON YA' CHIN FOR YA!
CLANK! CLANK!

SUNNYSIDE

by Clark S. Haas



WELCOME, STRANGER !! COME RIGHT IN !! CAN I BE OF ANY SERVICE ?!
YES!
-WHAT CAN I DO FOR YOU ?
--YOU CAN TELL ME WHY THEY BUILT YOUR BLASTED RAILWAY STATION SO FAR OUT OF TOWN !!
.... I GUESS IT WUZ BECAUSE THAT'S WHERE THE RAILROAD TRACKS ARE !!

VIRGIL

By Len Kleis

ABSOLUTELY NOT! YOU'RE RUNNING A TEMPERATURE SO IN BED YOU STAY!
BUT I'VE GOT SOME REFERENCE WORK TO DO AT TH' LIBRARY-
YOU JUST WANT TO GET OUT! I'LL DO YOUR REFERENCE WORK FOR YOU!
OH, YES - YOU'LL FIND THAT BOOK IN THE CHILDREN'S SECTION PUBLIC LIBRARY
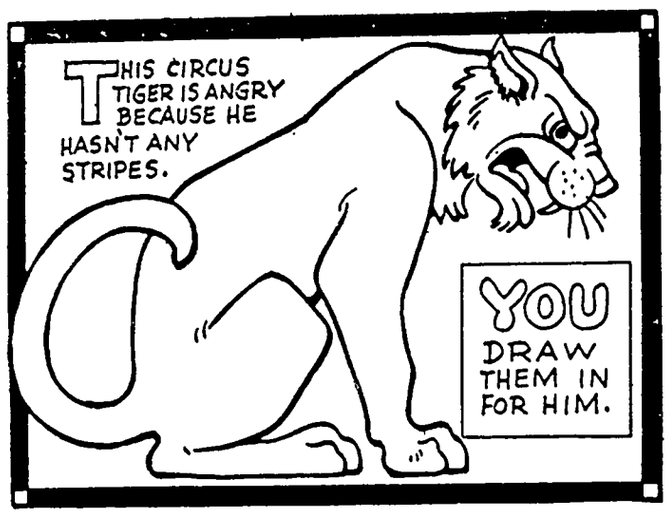
ABCDE HIJK
HOW THE TURTLE GOT HIS SHELL

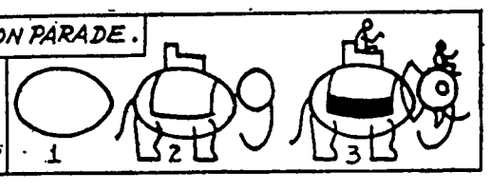
FUNLAND

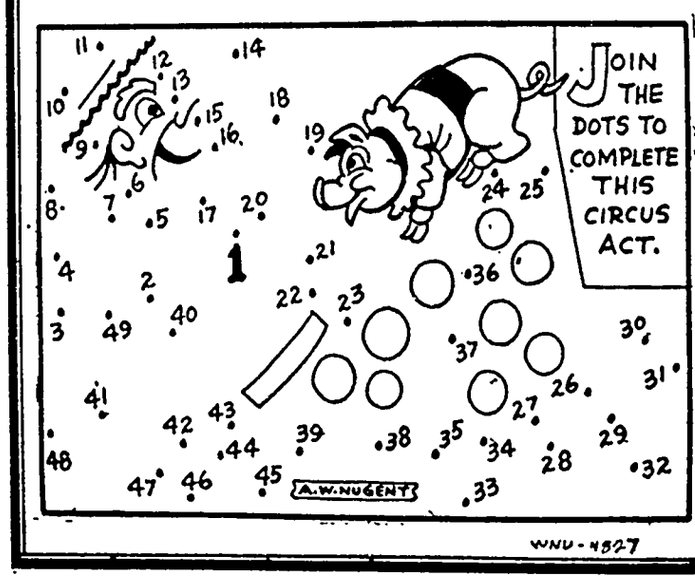
By A. W. NUGENT



DRAWING ON PARADE.

LITTLE ARTISTS: COPY THESE SKETCHES.





CROSSWORD PUZZLE

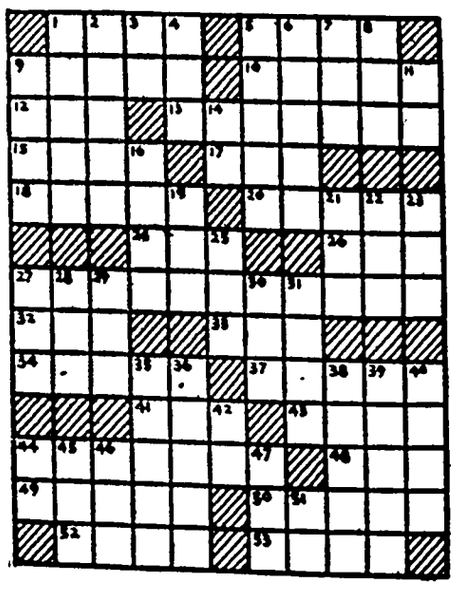
ACROSS

1 Threw
5 Slam
9 Light boat
10 Masculine name
12 Coin (Swed.)
13 Bone on side of face
15 Tip
17 Distress signal
18 Minute groove
20 Good conductor of heat
24 Epoch
26 Astonishment
27 Transformable
32 Open (poet.)
33 Vehicle
34 Full of news
37 Squeeze
41 Disease of chickens
43 Certain
44 Go back
48 Narrow inlet
49 Inner satellite of Uranus
50 Relieved
52 Bamboo-like grass
53 Feat

DOWN

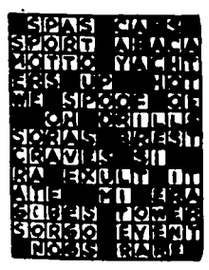
1 Proofreader's mark
2 Close to (poet.)
3 Thus
4 Evening sun god
5 Plump and rosy
6 Ascend
7 Nothing
8 Jellify
9 Policemen (slang)
11 Music note
14 Like
16 City, NW Ukraine
19 Part of "to be"
21 Flap
22 Hole-boring tool
23 Sheltered side
25 Portion of curved line
27 Peruse
28 Open (poet.)
29 Novel
30 Spigot
31 Flower
35 Frolic
36 Produce
38 Care for
39 Wept
40 Chief
42 Father
44 Sun god
45 Blunder
46 Fasten
47 Spread grass to dry
51 Symbol in Lloyd's register

Solution in Next Issue.



No. 25

Answer to Puzzle Number 24



WNU 4827

Sunbonnet Gi

7200

Something mighty fetc your kitchen linens! Six li bonnet Girl motifs—all so colorful. Very easy needlew

Amusing designs to do, up your kitchen. Patter transfer of six motifs 6x6

Our improved pattern with easy-to-see charts an and complete directions needlework easy.

• • •

To obtain this pattern CENTS (in coins), YOUR ADDRESS and PATTER BER to:

Sewing Circle Needlecraft 564 W. Randolph St. Chicag Enclose 20 cents for patt

No.
Name
Address

HOUSEH HINTS

To remove bloodstains o tress cover them with a paste. Let the paste dry move it. Keep this up un are gone.

—•—

Never hang mirrors wh will be hit by the sun's you do, the mirror will cloudy.

—•—

A coating of talcum po cornstarch will help prese rubber article after it h washed and dried.

—•—

Peroxide is good for r chocolate candy stains o fabric.

—•—

A teaspoonful of salt in tom of an oil lamp will kee flickering.

KOOL-A AT GROCERS Makes BIG, c Delic DRI 5¢ KOOL-AID FLA

SO FAST..PURE..DEPE St. Joseph AS WORLD'S LARGEST SELLER

PILES TROU For Quick Re

DON'T DELAY ANY LONGE doctor's formula you can use a rollevo distressing discomfort itch—irritation due to piles. Te ten and shrink swelling. Use i doctor's formula. You'll be am speedy action relief. Ask your today for Thornton & Minor's R ment or Suppositories. Follow structions. For sale at all dr

Yodora checks perspiration odor

THE SOOTHINGEST

Made with a face cream base, is actually soothing to norm No harsh chemicals or irr salts. Won't harm skin or c Stays soft and creamy, no grainy.

Try gentle Yodora—feel the w difference!

Guaranteed by Good Housekeeping

The GENTLER cream deodorant

McKesson & Robbins, Inc.

FICTION CORNER

THE TRAGIC WEDDING

By RAY FULBRIGHT

death was a shock, com- her wedding day as it bor folks would be shak- heads sadly. People liked rt of old-maidish she was, t there was kindness and in her heart.

t her death would be a She was very frail and a art sufferer. Doc Hunt- egged her to slip off with ave a quiet justice-of-the- ding and avoid excite- t no. She'd wanted to be family—what family she uch as it was.

tening throat, Doc gazed the thin dark figure in ille wedding dress lying ed bedding. She'd fallen carpet, they had told e arrived, and one of the ts had picked her up her on the bed and had ir stockings to massage Doc noticed the heavy ks on the thin ankles. ue swept to the digitalis the dressing table.

heart never had been in condition that a shot of ulant hadn't brought her But it was obviously a ck. Her face was bluish, eyes bulging, as if from g heart. A look of ab- r had torn open her ting her pretty face.

band was settin' in the waitin' fer the preacher to come, Doc," Cousin -Doc always called her ra, because she was Lib- , the only relative Libby st guests were jest com- e road. I was in the rimmin' up the weddin' thought I heard Libby bout an hour ago it me in here as quick as sh off my hands, and was a-lyin' there on the blue in the face."

Laura was a big-boned ch suspicious, disapprov- Her hair was coal black. d whispered that Laura ed Grandpappy Bogle, 40 senior, for his farm. He deaf and couldn't (it was t the time) live more nths. Grandpappy had Bogle, living with him. the family—Grandpappy sin Laura Bogle, Harv Libby.

always had an uncom- eling that Laura hated least resented his taking the family.

d hear Grandpappy in oom yapping away with No matter what anyone , he assumed that they ing with him and went Harv?" Doc said.

out to the barn sulking, on account of the wed- in Laura said with evil "He ain't been in all even come in fer his ten she became thought- k eyes slitting. "Now, ute—I believe I seen him back porch about an hour I did, come to think of erstood about Harv not attend the wedding. that Harv Bogle had like a man possessed. ened a half dozen times elf if she didn't marry when that didn't work, ly threatened to kill her. day he'd told Libby that he'd rather see her dead than marrying the doctor.

Doc had brushed Libby's fears aside.

Harv was harmless. Give him a month of fishing and squirrel hunting down in the Obion river bottoms and he'd forget it, Doc had assured her. Harv was the bachelor type. He lived from day to day, felt no responsibility about anything. The only thing he planned ahead was his tobacco patch out behind the barn.

Doc found Harv sitting on the wagon tongue in the barnlot. He was distractedly scraping blue mud from his rough brogans with a rag carpets looked as if they'd just been washed a day or so before.

Doc went to the wall telephone, rang central and asked for the sheriff.

"This is Doc Huntley, Sheriff. I want to report a murder . . . yeah, out at Grandpappy Bogle's place. . ."

Doc hung up, turned. Cousin Laura stood in the kitchen door, her black eyes staring balefully. Slowly, doubt and indecision tore her mouth open.

"Did you say 'murder?' "

"Yes. Libby was murdered. By the person who would inherit the 200 acres of rich bottom land. Libby's land is certainly more tempting than Grandpappy Bogle's red clay hills—"

"How—how—"

"Libby was picked up by her ankles and held upside down until she died from a heart attack. That's how those bruises came to be on her ankles; they certainly weren't caused by massaging. Her heart

Cousin Laura was a big-boned woman with suspicious, disapproving eyes.

shiny woods knife. He was a heavy-set man in tattered overalls, grizzled, his teeth showing the effects of constant tobacco chewing. He didn't talk much and spent most of his time alone in the river bottoms.

His attitude towards the doctor was surly since Doc had started courting Libby. Harv looked up darkly.

"Been out here all afternoon, Harv?"

"Here and the bottom—if it's anything to you." He kept on scraping mud.

"You were seen in the back yard about the time Libby died."

"Died! Is she—" He studied Doc suspiciously. Slowly, conviction crept over his face. "Somebody lied," he said dully, and returned his attention to his shoe.

"Harv, I never talked with Libby about it. But who gets Libby's property? She had a will, didn't she?"

Doc knew that Libby owned 200 acres of valuable bottom timber land where Harv did his hunting and fishing.

"Naw," Harv replied. "She didn't leave no will. You sort of got left out, didn't you, Doc? If'n she'd lived through the day, you'd have got yo'r hands on that land, wouldn't you?"

Doc struggled to keep from getting mad. His gaze shifted to the dry branch at the foot of the red-gullied hill. Snarled, hungry-looking sassafras grew on the bank and along the fence rows, as if it had been forced out of competition for space in the rich bottom lands and relegated to the hills where competition for food was tired and hopeless.

Doc returned to the house, looked around the barren red clay back yard. Then he entered by the back way. The back porch, screened in, was as neat as a perfume counter. Libby's room was just as neat. The rag carpets looked as if they'd just been washed a day or so before.

Doc went to the wall telephone, rang central and asked for the sheriff.

"This is Doc Huntley, Sheriff. I want to report a murder . . . yeah, out at Grandpappy Bogle's place. . ."

Doc hung up, turned. Cousin Laura stood in the kitchen door, her black eyes staring balefully. Slowly, doubt and indecision tore her mouth open.

"Did you say 'murder?' "

"Yes. Libby was murdered. By the person who would inherit the 200 acres of rich bottom land. Libby's land is certainly more tempting than Grandpappy Bogle's red clay hills—"

"How—how—"

"Libby was picked up by her ankles and held upside down until she died from a heart attack. That's how those bruises came to be on her ankles; they certainly weren't caused by massaging. Her heart wasn't so bad that she couldn't have gone on living a quiet life."

"Harv musta done it."

"No. Laura, you lied when you said you heard Libby scream. People don't scream with heart attacks. If she screamed, it was because someone was attacking her. In that case, you would have caught the person who was attacking her. It would take time to kill her by holding her upside down till she died, then straighten out her clothes and hair before escaping. You only had to rinse off your hands, you said."

"Maybe—maybe I was mistaken about the scream—"

"Maybe. But when I talked with you a while ago, you must have thought that I was getting suspicious. You lied when you said you saw Harv on the back porch. If he had been on the back porch and had entered this room, he would have left traces on the floor. But there are no traces—not in this room, nor on the porch, nor in the yard."

"Traces?"

"Yeah. The rich blue river-bottom mud that covers his shoes."

Tricks for Teens

By NANCY PEPPER

Your Coat, Madame

It seems just yesterday that you were brooding about your fall wardrobe. Then, along came the new look—and you had to start all over again. Well, there's never a dull moment—because summer is coming and now's the time to worry about your summer coat. What'll it be?

A SUGAR COAT?—That's the very brief boxy topper that just comes to your hipline. It's usually inexpensive — and you can wear it over everything.

A FLARED TOPPER? — It covers your hipline and it flares way out in back, the way your loud Greatcoat did last fall. Looks equally well over straight or flared skirts. You'll like it in pastel suede fabric or in plaid.

A COCOON?—It's not something that a caterpillar goes into and a butterfly comes out of. It's a topper that tapers in at the hips; that you wrap around you like a, like a —well, like a cocoon. If it's high fashion you're looking for, this is IT!

JABBERWOCKY AND JIVE

"DEMATERIALIZE" — You could say "scram," but that's too easy.

"GOT TO HANG"—Not as bad as it sounds. Simply a new way to say good-by on the telephone.

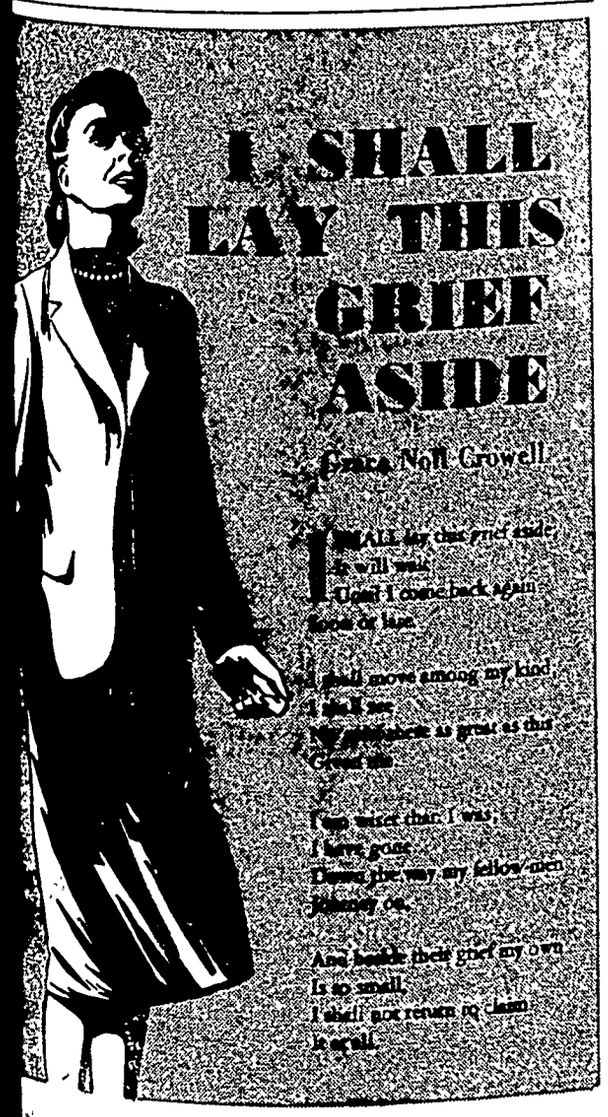
"SEEING DOUBLE"—The currently favorite way to say they're going steady.

"ROCKABY MONEY"—Salary of a sitter.

"MONKEY GLASS"—Your mirror —or does it depend upon who's looking in it?

"PARTING IS SUCH SWEET SORROW"—If Shirley can go Shakespearean so can you—and you do, whenever you say "good-by."

"LOW MAN ON THE TOTEM POLE"—Drippiest boy in the class.



HOUSEHOLD MEMOS... by Lynn Chambers

It's Time to Turn Luscious Berries Into Tender Jellies

WHEN ORCHARDS are covered with snow and vineyards no longer are bursting with their luscious berries, the best way to bring them back to the table is to serve, flavor-fresh, delicately tinted jellies made from the berries at their peak of the season.

A good idea is to make a sort of canning plan. Decide what your family likes most, figure out about how much they ate last year, and make up a program for the next year.

Sort out your canning supplies, buying any necessary equipment before you start the work.

When you make jellies and jams, try to work with small batches only. It seems to take less time, but far more important than that, the results are better. The jellies are tender and more colorful, and there is less chance of error.

If you have fruits and berries with small pectin content of their own,

When making jams and jellies, assemble your equipment and materials before you begin cooking the fruit.

use a commercial product for quick work. You'll save color and flavor as well as time and energy.

For fruits and berries that have a naturally high pectin content, use small batches and cook quickly to have a perfect product.

* * *

IF YOU'RE STARTING to make jelly now, the following fruit and berry combinations are excellent for appetite appeal. They are also in season in most parts of the country so that you can make them readily:

1. Blackberry and rhubarb
2. Boysenberry and rhubarb
3. Dewberry and rhubarb
4. Loganberry and rhubarb
5. Raspberry and rhubarb
6. Youngberry and rhubarb

Here is the recipe for jelly made from any of the above combinations:

3 cups juice
4 cups sugar
1 box powdered fruit pectin

To prepare juice, crush thoroughly or grind about one quart of fully ripe berries. Cut into one-inch lengths (do not peel) about one pound of rhubarb, and put through food chopper. Place fruits in jelly bag or cloth and squeeze out juice.

Measure sugar and set aside until needed. Measure juice into a three- or four-quart saucepan and place over hottest fire. Add powdered fruit pectin, mix well and continue stirring until mixture comes to a hard boil. Pour in sugar at once, stirring constantly. Continue stirring, bring to a full rolling boil, and boil hard one-half minute. Remove from fire, skim and pour quickly into seven six-ounce glasses. Paraffin hot jelly at once.

* * *

ARE YOU FOND of unusual jellies? Here's an old-fashioned one with a lovely and unusual delicate flavor:

Rose Geranium Jelly

Select tart, sound apples. Wash and cut off blossom ends. Do not remove peeling or cores. Cut into quarters and barely cover with water. Cook until fruit is tender. Strain juice through a jelly bag and measure. Bring to boiling point and add three-fourths cup of sugar for each cup of juice. Boil rapidly to jelly stage (dip spoon into syrup. As the boiling mass nears the jellying point it will drop from the side of the spoon in two drops). When almost done, immerse in the boiling jelly two or three rose geranium leaves. These wilt quickly and give off their flavor. Tint with rose vegetable coloring. Pour into sterilized jelly glasses and paraffin at once.

* * *

HERE ARE TWO PERFECT berries for jelly making. You'll be delighted with their fresh fruit flavors and beautiful colors:

Currant Jelly

Select currants that are not overripe. Remove leaves but do not stem. Mash with potato masher. Add one-half cup of water to each two quarts of berries. Cook 10 minutes, stirring frequently. Strain through jelly bag. Use three-fourths cup sugar for each cup of juice. Heat juice, add sugar and stir until it dissolves. Cook until the syrup sheets off the spoon. Seal in hot, sterilized glasses.

Red Raspberry Jelly
(Makes 12 6-ounce glasses)
3 quarts red raspberries
7 1/2 cups sugar
1 bottle fruit pectin

Thoroughly crush raspberries; place in jelly bag and squeeze out juice. There should be four cups. Heat juice; add sugar; bring to boiling, stirring constantly. Add fruit pectin. Bring to a full rolling boil; boil one-half minute. Remove from heat; skim; seal in hot sterilized glasses.

* * *

HERE ARE TWO very special recipes which you will enjoy having for they are perfectly delicious and make wonderful accompaniments to any meal, breakfast, lunch or dinner.

Deluxe Strawberry Preserves
2 pounds capped berries
4 tablespoons lemon juice
5 cups sugar

Mix berries with sugar. Let stand three to four hours. Place over low heat until simmering point is reached. Add lemon juice. Boil rapidly for 10 to 12 minutes or until berries are clear and the syrup thick. Cover and let stand over night. Pack cold into hot jars and process 15 minutes at simmering (in hot water bath).

Berries, which are making their appearance now, should be converted into jams and jellies before they get too ripe.

If you're making watermelon rind preserves, do so at the early part of the season for the rind is thicker on watermelon.

Watermelon Rind Preserves
2 pounds watermelon rind
1 tablespoon ground ginger
4 cups sugar
2 lemons
2 quarts of water

Cut off all green peel and pink part. Then cut rind into one-inch squares. Soak two to three hours in lime water. Freshen in two or three more changes of water. Sprinkle ginger over rind. Cover with water and boil one and a half hours. Drain and drop into cool syrup made with sugar, water and lemon juice, of one lemon. Boil gently one hour. Add second lemon, sliced thin. Continue boiling until the rind is tender and the syrup thick. If syrup gets too thick before rind is tender add a little more water. Let stand several hours. Pack into hot jars, and process in a water bath for 15 minutes at simmering temperature.

Released by WNU Features

LYNN SAYS:

Pointers Will Help You In Making Jams, Jellies

Broken fruits may be used for making jams, but at least a portion of the fruit should be underripe. Overripe fruits and berries lack pectin, and some pectin is necessary to make the mixture "jelly."

It's a good idea to cook fruits and berries slightly before adding the sugar to give the pectin substance a chance to develop.

Jam is a highly concentrated mass that will burn easily unless care is taken. Stir the mass from the bottom to prevent burning. Cook briskly but watch carefully. Don't let it simmer carelessly for hours if you want to protect flavor and color.

The best jam is made when you do not add too much sugar. When you are not using a commercial pectin, the rule is three-quarters of a pound of sugar to one pound of fruit.

LYNN CHAMBERS' MENU
Creamed Potato Salad
Sliced Ham
Tomato Wedges Carrot Sticks
Biscuits with Currant Jelly*
Melon Beverage
*Recipe Given

DRESS, BOLERO FOR SUMMER WEAR

YOUTHFUL FROCK IS EASY-SEWING

Sun Dress

Just right for sunny hours out of doors—a simple yet smart sun dress that can be made plain or in contrast. To match, a pert bolero for cover-up. There's lots of mix-match possibilities in this charming outfit.

* * *

Pattern No. 8309 is for sizes 12, 14, 16, 18 and 20. Size 14, dress, 2¾ yards of 39-inch; bolero, 1¼ yards.

Date Frock

For romantic summer evenings, a striking date frock that junior sewers can put together with ease and assurance. Our well illustrated sew chart guides you smoothly.

* * *

Pattern No. 8316 comes in sizes 11, 12, 13, 14, 16 and 18. Size 12, 4⅛ yards of 39-inch.

The Spring and Summer FASHION is filled with smart ideas for summer wardrobes. Free knitting instructions and free pattern printed inside the book. 25 cents.

SEWING CIRCLE PATTERN DEPT.
530 South Wells St. - Chicago 7, Ill.
Enclose 25 cents in coins for each pattern desired.
Pattern No. _____ Size _____
Name _____
Address _____

Speeding, Main Accident Cause

Exceeding of safe speeds was given as the reason for one out of every three fatal motor vehicle accidents last year, according to the accident prevention department, Association of Casualty and Surety companies. The department added that a majority of these deaths occurred on straight and wide-open highways where drivers were inclined to step on the gas.

—the Starch in the buttercup yellow box

do shirts

BEAUTIFULLER MORE EASILY

SNAP! CRACKLE! AND POP! SAY...

MOTHER KNOWS BEST!

MORE MOTHERS buy Kellogg's Rice Krispies for their families than any other brand of rice cereal. Um! Popular! Delicious!

COPYRIGHT 1948, BY KELLOGG CO.

Kellogg's RICE KRISPIES

Old CARS can get THAT NEW-CAR FEEL!

You can't rebuild an old horse. But your Sealed Power Dealer can give your old engine 1948 pep and economy—with an overhaul and set of new Sealed Power Piston Rings! He can give your car, truck or tractor the same power it had when new—whatever the make, model or cylinder wear condition. You'll save oil, save gas, and lengthen engine life. See your Sealed Power Dealer today!

Send a postal for illustrated, informative new booklet on 7 ways to save oil. It's free and may save you lots of money. Sealed Power Corp., Dept. W-7, Muskegon, Mich.

INDIVIDUALLY ENGINEERED

SEALED POWER PISTON RINGS

BEST IN NEW ENGINES BEST IN OLD ENGINES

ARE YOU A HEAVY SMOKER?

Change to SANO—the distinctive cigarette with

51.6%* LESS NICOTINE

Not a Substitute—Not Medicated

Sano's scientific process cuts nicotine content to half that of ordinary cigarettes.—Yet skillful blending makes every puff a pleasure.

FLEMING-HALL TOBACCO CO., INC., N. Y.

*Average based on continuing tests of popular brands

ASK YOUR DOCTOR ABOUT SANO CIGARETTES

GENEROUS CORN HARVEST SEEN

Last Year's Crop Smallest Since 1936

The agriculture department Friday issues a crop report that is expected to forecast a generous grain harvest this year, especially in corn and wheat.

Corn is important because it is the raw material for meat. This is the department's first coorn estimate for 1948 although a private crop expert has predicted a 3,137,000,000 bushel crop. Such a harvest would be the 2nd largest on record exceeded only by the 1946 crop of 3,249,950,000 bushels.

Last year's production of 2,447,442,000 bushels was the smallest since 1936 because of the drought last summer. This year's growing weather nas been fine up to now.

A department meat expert pointed out that the number of pork chops on U. S. dining room

It takes time for meat production to catch up to the increase in feed, however. This year's fall pigs, which will be eating the 1948 corn, won't be meat on your table until next spring and summer If the 1948 fall pig crop is not increased somewhat over last year, total meat production in 1949 is likely to be even less than this year.

DANCE

DUNCAN COMMUNITY HALL

Monday Night July, 19

Moellers Accordion Band

EVERYONE WELCOME!

Budget Estimate

SCHOOL DISTRICT

NOTICE —The Board of Directors of The Independent School District of Goodell, Hancock County, Iowa, will meet Aug 9, 1948, at 8 00 P M., at the Schoolhouse. Taxpayers will be heard for or against the following estimate of expenditures for the year beginning July 1, 1948, and ending June 30, 1949. A detailed statement of receipts and disbursements, both past and anticipated will be available at the hearing

V E HARRIS
District Secretary

FUNDS	1 EXPENDITURES For year July 1, 1946 to June 30, 1947	2 EXPENDITURES For year July 1, 1947 to June 30, 1948	3 Proposed Expenditures Estimated 1948-1949	4 Estimated Unencumbered Balance to Apply Upon This Budget	5 Estimated Income Other Than Taxation	6 Amount Necessary to be raised by Taxation
General	$17,437 85	19,296 28	25,077 00	none	7,500 00	17,577 00
Tuition	612 00
Transportation	1,175.59	1,533 53	465 00			465 00
Textbooks and Supplies	818.70	562.61	139 50			139 50
Total General Fund	$20,044.14	21,392.42	25,681.50	none	7,500.00	18,181.50
Bonds and Interest	$513 13		none			none
Special Courses Fund			none			none
Total All Purposes	$20,557.27	21,392.42	25,681.50	none	7,500.00	18,181.50

Secretary's Balance July 1, 1948.

1 GENERAL FUND	$ 115 55	Est. tax per $1,000 00 assessed value			$ 44 32
2 Less Unpaid Bills	$	Number of persons of school age,			96
3 Less Balance Reserved	115 55
Net Unencumbered Balance (G F)	none	Taxable valuation, 1947			$ 408,292
SCHOOL HOUSE FUND	none	Moneys and Credits, 1947			$ 63,322

Tuition	$ 3,400.00
State Aid	1,600.00
Semi-annual Apportionment	250 00
Other Receipts	2,250.00
Total	$ 7,500.00

Rural Mail Carriers To Make July Wildlife Survey

Approximately 1,000 of Iowa's 1,400 rural mail carriers will make their second wildlife survey the week of July 26 through 31. During that period cooperating carriers will record the number and size of quail and pheasant broods observed while driving their regular routes. Cards on which daily counts will be recorded will be sent to carriers a week before the survey is to start. At the end of the six-day period the tallies will be mailed to the Biology Section of the State Conservation Commission for compilation.

The July survey is the second of four to be made during 1948. The first population count in which mail carriers participated was made in March. Commission officials state that, "Information on quail, pheasant, and cottontail numbers gathered during the March survey to be of great value to conservation officials in forming a better picture of wildlife conditions in Iowa."

Data gathered during the July survey, when compared with spring census figures, will aid in determining the increase in game bird populations during the nesting season.

A summary of the results of the July wildlife survey will be mailed to all cooperating carriers. Rural mail carriers who did not aid in the March count and who wish to cooperate in the forthcoming survey may secure tabulation blanks by writing to the State Conservation Commission, 914 Grand, Des Moines, Iowa.

WILL SPRAY FOR FLIES HERE THURSDAY

The second application of fly spray will be put on here this Thursday. Cover your fish pools.

Klemme Men In Rochester Hospital

Leslie Hartbeck underwent a major operation at the Rochester, Minn. hospital Tuesday.

Jake Nannenga was taken to the Rochester hospital in an ambulance this Wednesday morning for examination and treatment.

Miss Ardella Nelson Returns To Duties In Wisconsin

Miss Ardella Nelson has returned to her duties in Madison, Wisconsin after spending the holidays with her parents and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Verner Nelson and Erdene. Ardella is working with the American Society of Agronomy.

Crop Outlook Is Wonderful At This Time

We have been having some real corn weather the past week, with the mercury climbing up into the nineties.

At this time the least we can say is that the main crops, corn, soybeans and oats, look wonderful. If nothing happens, there will be a bumper yield

Crops recovered remarkably from the setback that was caused by the dry weather at one time Rains later made everything come on in great style

Oats are filling well Corn long ago passed the knee-high stage. Soybean fields look fine

Harvest is almost upon us and the oats yield promises to be very good.

This extremely hot weather may not be good for oats, but it is hard to say at his writing how much damage will be done.

Appointments Made By Supervisors

The Hancock County Supervisors made the following appointments· Daniel E Williams of Britt was appointed for a 3 year term as a member of the Hancock county soldier's relief commission and Rufus C Welter for a one year term Both men were appointed to succeed themselves. Chet Rice of Garner is the third member of the commission. The board appointed Ted Hinders. John Huisinga and Charles Christensen of Woden as board of trustees to administer the affairs of the newly organized water district in the town of Woden

DR. F. L. HAYES
DENTIST
Office Over Rexall Store
Phone 21 Garner, Iowa

Ell Tip Toppers Meet

The Ell Tip Toppers 4-H club met at the home of Doris Lenz, July 2nd. Reports were given on the camp at Clear Lake by Doris Lenz and Madelyn Lundy, and a talk about health examinations.

We learned what we could display at the Achievement Show We also planned a picnic, to which the mothers of the members are invited.

Read it first in The Times.

FEDERAL
Land Bank
LOANS
Long Term Low Interest
No Fees No Commission
Wm. F. Johannaber
Secretary-Treasurer
Forest City, Iowa
Phone 50

SELL WHAT YOU DON
with a Times Want A

WORRIED ABOUT
Eating
You don't hvae to about what you ar
to eat when you c
the Quandt Cafe.
Always a good mea
for you Here you
a meal that is well-
ed and satisfying.

TOBACCOS
ICE CREAM
CIGARETTES
CANDY BAR

Thank You
QUANDT'S C
Mr. and Mrs. Co
Quandt

WE INVITE YOU AND YOUR FAMILY
TO ATTEND OUR

Meeting

Which will be held at the Klemme Legion Hall this week Friday evening, July 16, beginning at 8:00 O'clock.

FREE ENTERTAINMENT BY WHO TALENT

HEAR FRANK ANDERSON in a short talk.

We want every member present at this meeting. If your neighbor is not a member . . . bring him along . . . we want every farmer in the community to be one of us.

There will be a business meeting also. Important problems will be discussed. This is YOUR cooperative . . please be present.

Klemme Coop. Grain Company

"The Farmers Elevator" Glen Bridges, Manager

Klemme Food Mkt

Friday & Saturday Specials

Save The Self-Serve Way!

Sugar 100 lb. Bag $8.49

Spam 49c

Stanby Catsup
2 For 35c

BABO 10c

Flour OCCIDENT 50 lbs. $3.5

Jello 3 For 25

KIRKS Hard Wat
Soap 3 For only 2

PERFEX 1

DUZ 3 Boxes for only $

Elastic Starch
Box 12c

LIPTON TEA
1-4 lb. 2

Hershey Baking Chocolat
Now Only 37

Puffed Rice
SPARKIES
2 boxes for 27c

Post's Corn
TOASTIES
Box 22c

Shell Macaroni
19c

Van Camp's Bean
2 For 35c

Hilex Gallon 45c

Trend 2 For 3

Fruit
COCKTAIL
2½ TIN
Only 37c

Whole Canned
Sweet Potatoes
2½ TIN
2 Cans 25

Bring Us Your Eggs
CASH or TRADE

Klemme Food Market
Klemme, Iowa

We Reserve Right To Limit

KEEP THE FARM SANITARY
2-HOUR SERVICE ON REMOVAL OF

Dead Stock

Phone

...LEMME 580
...ELMOND 580

We Pay The Call
A Clean Truck With An Efficient Driver In ...ur Neighborhood Daily.

Belmond By-Products

"Your Home Plant"

...one 580 Belmond, Iowa.

Report Of Condition Of

State Savings Bank

Of Goodell

in the State of Iowa at the close of business on June 30, 1948 to the SUPERINTENDENT OF BANKING, STATE OF IOWA

ASSETS

Cash, balances with other banks, including reserve balances and cash items in process of collection	$	68,840.39
United States Government obligations, direct and guaranteed		371,668.27
Obligations of States and political subdivisions		124,314 72
Other bonds, notes, and debentures		56,424 57
Loans and discounts (including $208.99 overdrafts)		2,000.00
Bank premises owned $4,000, furniture and fixtures $950.00		4,950.00
TOTAL ASSETS	$	628,197.95

LIABILITIES

Demand deposits of individuals, partnerships, and corporations	$	433 414 58
Time deposits of individuals, partnerships, and corporations		89,555.44
Deposits of United States Government (including postal savings.)		17,848.58
Deposits of States and political subdivisions		55,343.78
Other deposits (certified and officers' checks, etc)		89.16
TOTAL DEPOSITS $596,251 54
Other liabilities
TOTAL LIABILITIES	$	596,251.54

CAPITAL ACCOUNTS

Capital *	$	15,000.00
Surplus		7,500.00
Undivided profits		6,818.61
Reserves (and retirement account for preferred capital)		2,597 80
TOTAL CAPITAL ACCOUNTS		31,946 41
TOTAL LIABILITIES AND CAPITAL ACCOUNTS	$	628,197.95

* This bank's capital consists of
Common stock with par value of $15 000 00

We, V E Harris, President and William P Butts Cashier of the above-named bank do solemnly swear and affirm that the above statement is true, and that this report fully and correctly represents the true state of the several matters herein contained and set forth to the best of our knowledge and belief

V E. HARRIS, President
WILLIAM P BUTTS, Cashier

Correct—Attest:
WARNER T BUTTS
AMOS O. HANSON
MABLE BURGESS
ALVA M NEWGORD, Directors

STATE OF IOWA, Hancock County, ss.
Sworn to and subscribed before me this first day of July, 1948
MARIE HARRIS, Notary Public
My commission expires July 4, 1948.
(Notary Seal)

Report Of Condition Of

First National Bank

Of Klemme

Charter No. 6659 Reserve District No. 7

in the State of Iowa, at the close of business on June 30th, 1948. Published in responso to call made by Comptroller of the Currency, under Section 5211, U. S. Revised Statutes.

ASSETS

Cash, balances with other banks, including reserve balance, and cash items in process of collection		532,428 23
United States Government obligations, direct and guaranteed		1,232,877 68
Obligations of States and political subdivisions		4,982.57
Corporate stocks (including $2,100.00 stock of Federal Reserve bank)		2,100 00
Loans and discounts (including $887 75 overdrafts		153,643.16
Bank premises owned $5,000, furniture and fixtures $1 500		6,500 00
Other assets		126.79
TOTAL ASSETS	$	1,932,658.43

LIABILITIES

Demand deposits of individuals, partnerships, and corporations		1,297,823.09
Time deposits of individuals, partnerships, and corporations		409,544.76
Deposits of United States Government (including postal savings		393.70
Deposits of States and political subdivisions		131,652.32
Other deposits (certified and cashier's checks, etc.) $1,839,413.87
TOTAL DEPOSITS		255.50
Other liabilities
TOTAL LIABILITIES	$	1,839,669.37

CAPITAL ACCOUNTS

Capital Stock: Common stock, total par $35,000.00		35,000.00
Surplus		35,000.00
Undivided profits		22,989.06
TOTAL CAPITAL ACCOUNTS		92,989.06
TOTAL LIABILITIES and CAPITAL ACCOUNTS	$	1,932,658.43

State of Iowa, County of Hancock, ss
I, C. G. Waterman, cashier of the above named bank, do solemnly swear that the above statement is true to the best of my knowledge and belief.
C. G. WATERMAN Cashier.
Sworn to and subscribed before me this 7 day of July, 1948.
(SEAL) W C. KERAUS, Notary Public.

Correct—Attest:
E. J ARNOLD
A. J. KUDJE
F. A. ARNOLD
Directors

Baptized

Lynette Kay, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Franklyn Buseman was baptized July 4th, and Dennis Wayne, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Badker was baptized on July 11th at the Klemme Evangelical and Reformed Church.

CURTIS G. RIEHM
Attorney-At-Law
Office Over Federated Store
Res. Phone 133W2
Phone 133 Garner, Iowa

GARNER CLINIC
GARNER, IOWA
Dr. E. M. Christensen, M.D.
Physician & Surgeon, Ph. 18
EYES TESTED — GLASSES FITTED
Dr. A. G. Landon, D.D.S.
Dentist, Ph. 207

IOWA ELECTRIC FENCES FACINATE MAN FROM KANSAS

A couple of weeks ago when the Editor and wife enjoyed a few days visit from Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Chapman of Mission, Kansas, who are frequent visitors in Klemme as the ladies are sisters, Mr Chapman was quite interested in the way farmers had erected electric fences along the roads where their cattle could get some nice feed.

Electric fences are a rarity in Kansas and Missouri and Mr. Chapman thought it was a very good idea. Electric fences are numerous around here and we never gave it a thought that people from other states would even notice them.

Although Mr. Chapman is in business in Kansas City manufacturing wood boxes, he owns a farm in Kansas about 35 miles from the city He said he was going to get an electric fencer and show his farm neighbors a "new wrinkle" used in Iowa'

CORN BORERS FOUND NUMEROUS IN MANY FIELDS AROUND IOWA

Earlier examinations of corn fields around Klemme failed to show a great deal of corn borer infestation However, quite a few fields examined Monday showed a heavy population of corn borers in the top part of the stalk.

Spraying With Planes

Farmers who found corn borers at work in large numbers immediately contacted spraying services and Monday fields belonging to Lester Stille, Edwin Josten, Harvey Harberts, Al Koerner and others were being sprayed with liquid DDT by airplanes to hault the destruction of the heavy corn borer population working in the upper parts of the stalk.

CRUSHED

Four year old Charles Hof of Humbolt was killed last week at play. A loose window-box fell without warning, crushing the youngster. Playmates escaped injury.

Want Ads

For Sale

FOR SALE—1941 A C-60 Crank Speed Change, with everything Roy Arnold, Klemme (1tp)

YES WE HAVE IT, NUTRENA Crumblized Chick Feed. For faster gains and less waste We deliver ½ ton lots or more GREEN ELEVATOR CO, Goodell, Iowa. (Apr 14 tfc)

HANCOCK COUNTY FARMS FOR SALE

160 Acres, improved. On gravel road West from Klemme 145 acres farm land. Balance pasture and lots. 6 room house, garage, barn, milk house, double corn crib, granary, hog house and chicken house Electricity in buildings.

310 Acres, Improved. On a gravel road 6½ miles Southwest from Garner 282 acres tillble. 28 acres pasture. Four room house, barn, 2 double corn cribs, one with overhead granary Buildings have electricity.

WRITE E. M. HIGGINSON,
FARM FIELD SUPERVISOR
P O BOX 53 CLEAR LAKE, IA.
(July 5-12, '48) 2tc.

Miscellaneous

INSURE WITH HENRY WARD, Klemme for Auto, Personal Property, Farm Liability, Life, Health and Accident.
(Oct. 1948 tp)

Card Of Thanks

I wish to thank each and every one for their lovely gifts and flowers, cards and letters, and to all those who visited me while I was at the hospital. It was greatly appreciated.
Mrs. Marvin Barz. (1tp)

We want to thank all who were so kind to our father during his long illness and who sent him cards and called on him. In our bereavement we want to thank all who helped us in any way and who sent flowers in his memory.
The Joe Johnson Children.
(1tc)

The Methodist Church
Herschel E. Harvey, Pastor

KLEMME

THURSDAY
Choir at 7:45 P M.
Work Group at 2 00

SUNDAY
Worship at 10.00 A. M.
Mr Howard Huff, as guest speaker.
Sunday School at 11:00 A. M.
Youth Fellowship at 7 P M.
Labrotory School at Clear Lake this week.
CHURCH VACATION July 25.
Annual Church Conference August 8th.

LIBERTY

SUNDAY
Sunday School at 10 15 A. M.
Worship Services at 11 15 A. M, Mr Huff speaker
Youth Fellowship at 7 P M.
Birthday Social July 19

Buy and sell with a Times want ad.

BRING YOUR CAR TO US FOR

Greasing

AND A COMPLETE SPRING CHANGEOVER

*

In Motor Oil, Transmission, Differentail, Wheels and Chassis.

*

We have the equipment and proper lubricants to give you the best service

*

See us for your needs in Batteries, Spark Plugs, and accessories of all kinds.

*

Smith's

STANDARD SERVICE
Klemme Iowa

A Times Want Ad Brings Results

100 In The Shade

AND MAYBE NO SHADE . . .

But don't let it worry you. You will find our place is always cool. Come in and relax and enjoy an ice cold refreshing drink while you are playing a game of pool.

Meet Your Friends At Joe's

Joe's Place

Joe Finnegan, Prop. Klemme, Iowa

McCULLOUGH'S

Hog Feeders

YOU CAN AGAIN BUY THIS POPULAR FEEDER FROM US!

We now have in stock for immediate delivery McCullough's 35-bushel

UTILITY HOG FEEDER
6 Ft. - 14 doors - 2 bins

This feeder is constructed of Galvanized Steel, reinforced, and held in place with a lumber frame One of the best feeders on the market for the money.

One Of These Feeders Is Set Up In Front Of Our Yard

Northern Lumber Co.

Lloyd Sherwood, Mgr. Klemme, Iowa.

700 Detasselers Needed At Belmond

In Hybrid Seed Corn Fields

The Thompson Hybrid Corn Company has increased their acreage near Belmond by fifty percent over last year and needs more help from a wider area. Men, Women, Bays Girls will be used. It is work that anyone who is at least twelve years old can do. Your supervisor will show you how to do it.

TOP WAGES

FREE TRANSPORTATION

Vacation funds. Money for those new Fall Clothes. Money to put in your Savings Account. Wages are paid that many of you never dreamed you could earn. Ask your local sign-up agency about wages. Transportation will be furnished in School Busses from central points.

-----WORK STARTS-----

JULY 15th - - - 20th

Corn detasseling will start sometime between July 15th and July 20th. It will last approximately three weeks. Just long enough to give you a good Summer tan and some wholesome exercise in the fresh outdoor air. If you can not work the full three weeks, sign up anyway, and tell us how long you can work. Many people take their Summer vacation during detasseling time. It is as invigorating to an office worker as a trip up North, and you will be money ahead.

Sign Up Now-Today With

Geo. Lawhorn, Klemme Dempsey Cafe, Goodell
Klemme Times Office

Thompson Hybrid Corn Co., Inc.

Belmond, Iowa

WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS

Weary 80th Congress Comes to End Of Trail in Welter of Legislation; Truman Ends Political Road Show

By Bill Schoentgen, WNU Staff Writer

(EDITOR'S NOTE: When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of Western Newspaper Union's news analysts and not necessarily of this newspaper.)

CONGRESS:
Adjourned

Embattled and fatigued, the 80th congress nevertheless managed to spew forth a batch of important legislation with the relentlessness of a doughnut machine before it adjourned for the national political conventions.

In the waning hours before adjournment the dog-tired senators and representatives pushed through farm legislation and a peacetime draft, together with bills having to do with housing, displaced persons, the atomic energy commission, wages of federal employees and foreign aid appropriations.

Republican leaders made it apparent that although congress had adjourned its session the way was being left open for it to reconvene later this year.

Despite this, however, the 80th congress had run its formal course. And that it was a vital, exciting course and one that had produced some momentous legislation no one would gainsay. Partly responsible for this character of congress, of course, was the fact that President Truman had written a record number of vetoes.

Some of the high points of congress' record:

FOREIGN AID—Congress issued billions for the support of Greece and Turkey and for general foreign relief, capping that by underwriting the Marshall plan for world economic survival and revival and establishing the economic cooperation administration as a further investment in the future of 16 friendly European nations.

NATIONAL DEFENSE—Aware of the implications of the realistic foreign policy the U. S. had begun to follow, congress adopted a peacetime draft, demanded a "70-group" air force, appropriated funds to modernize the army and navy, enacted a law to unify the armed forces and created the atomic energy commission.

HIGH PRICES—Congress ignored President Truman's repeated and insistent demands for authority to control prices and wages and kept to the classic Republican conception of "laissez faire" with regard to business and industry. It reduced personal income taxes and reduced the domestic budget by two billion dollars.

LABOR—The Taft-Hartley law was enacted over President Truman's veto in an effort to curb union excesses and restore a better balance between labor and management. The minimum wage law, growing constantly less useful as prices and wages rose, was not revised.

DRAFTEES:
Back Again

With the peacetime draft a reality in the U. S. again for the first time since 1941 many thousands of young men (19 through 25) are face to face with the prospect of wearing G.I. clothing for 21 months.

Most of them were destined to go into the army, since the navy and air force are scheduled to receive an extremely small percentage of the draftees.

For those non-veterans who wanted to escape the draft there was at least one reasonable method of doing so—enlistment in the national guard or reserves before the President signed the bill. And national guard officers all over the country reported that they were receiving a most gratifying number of inquiries from prospective enlistees.

Meanwhile, Gen. Omar N. Bradley, army chief of staff, reported jovially that the army would try to take on as many as 10,000 draftees a month under the new act.

Selective service, he said, will "back our leadership in the world and will strengthen our foreign policy." That, certainly, was the hope of most Americans, notwithstanding the furious last-ditch efforts of isolationists in congress to block passage of the draft law.

The chief of staff revealed that at present there is only one domestic army division up to full strength. He said the draft and enlistments will bring the army up from 540,000 to 790,000.

Is there any immediate emergency that must be met by a prepared army force? Most authorities think not, and General Bradley himself soft-pedalled the idea.

Bongo Bongo

Evidence of a recurrence of cannibalism in French Equatorial Africa has prompted the French colonial administration to launch a vigorous effort to wipe out that evil among the natives.

The government is imposing hard labor penalties on offenders, using that punishment as a threat to break the hold of witch doctors who get free supplies of meat by promoting annual human-sacrifice rituals.

Eight Ball

With the all-crucial (for him) Democratic convention only days away, with the Republicans throwing political rocks at him, with southern Democrats blustering against him and his policies and with his own Democratic organization feeling very tepid about his prospects, President Truman could be forgiven indeed for having that "behind-the-eight-ball" feeling.

RETURN:
Truman

President Truman was back in the White House after journeying 9,505 political miles—one of them on a ski-lift at Sun Valley—to bring his story before U. S. voters.

That story was primarily his bitter characterization of the present congress as wallowing in defection.

As a U. S. President going before the people to seek re-nomination by his own party, he summed up his stand in a single, tough phrase made during his speech at Harrisburg, Pa. If the voters don't make a change in congress this November, he said in effect, they "can stew in your own juice."

Whether or not the spectacle of the President stumping the country in search of popular support is viewed as admirable or otherwise, it certainly must be regarded as a phenomenal pilgrimage in the annals of American politics.

At first flaunting a "non-political" banner, which he soon discarded, Mr. Truman traveled 8,534 miles on eight different railroads, 720 miles by automobile, 225 miles by air, 25 miles across Puget sound by yacht and one mile by ski-lift.

In that political hegira the President brought the public up to date on the background of what is probably the most bitter feud between a President and congress since the days of Andrew Johnson.

There is no doubt that the President, safely back at his desk in Washington, was feeling that he had accomplished pretty much what he had set out to do: The arousing of voter-interest in the issues at stake and the presentation of himself to the people in the role of a comradely but hard-hitting President who is the watchdog of their welfare.

PALESTINE:
Mediation

Although the situation in Palestine—the truce between warring Arabs and Jews—has been overshadowed in the U. S. by the clamorous news from the Republican convention, Count Folke Bernadotte's negotiations were continuing—and so was the tension.

There were no indications, however, that the United Nations mediator was having any signal successes in bringing Israel and the Arab states together on terms.

As the truce went into its second week the U. S. assigned three destroyers in the Mediterranean to immediate duty with the Palestine mediator to help supervise the armistice.

The destroyers, American officials said, were not empowered to use force of any kind in patrol duties, nor would they be allowed to stop or board any ships.

Meanwhile, to inject a further atmosphere of law and order into Palestine the first United Nations "army" had been started on a shoestring. Thirty permanent U. N. guards from Lake Success were flown east to help supervise the truce, along with 20 other volunteers selected from U. N. secretariat employees.

TARGETS:
Fleet Test

Battleships New York and Nevada, survivors of the Bikini atom bomb test, were scheduled to be sunk this month as targets during Pacific fleet tests.

The two old battlewagons will be towed 50 miles south of Honolulu to play their final role with the navy they have served through two wars. They will be used to test weapons of the fleet in tactical maneuvers.

MEAT:
Too Popular

With the exception of vegetarians and some carrot juice addicts, nearly everyone likes meat. And in the U. S. everyone eats a lot of it.

That is why all the Mr. and Mrs. Jack Sprats in America are deeply incensed whenever the meat supply falls off from the normally prodigious amounts available to the consumer.

A condition of that general description currently prevails in the U. S. and, according to R. J. Eggert of the American Meat institute, it will take at least a year following good crops in 1948 to bring about any substantial increase in the amounts of beefsteaks, pork chops and bacon on the table.

Biggest trouble, Eggert said, is that the ratio of the eaters to the edibles has grown too top heavy since the war.

Wartime drain of flocks and herds and last year's short corn crop are responsible for the currently declining animal population.

But there is no comparable decline in demand in sight. The meat industry forecasts a continuing steady demand for meat because: Incomes are near an all-time high; the real income (actual purchasing power) of the average consumer is one-fourth greater than in 1939; population has increased 15 million in the past decade; people are convinced of the nutritive value of meat.

SHIPMENTS:
Restricted

Widespread agitation by politicians, newspapers and just plain people over shipment of critical U. S. goods to Russia had paid off in what economists might term an unfavorable balance of trade with the Soviets.

During April, when the clamp-down on exports to Russia first took full effect, the United States received $12,594,841 more goods from the Soviet Union than it shipped.

Whether that imbalance will turn out to be strategically unfavorable to the U. S. if the controversy with Russia continues to expand is a question that the next few years probably will answer.

In its simplest form the situation is a paradox. It is an axiom in international relations that unrestricted trade among nations is one of the best guarantors of peace. Yet the restrictions on export trade to Russia last April were imposed to prevent shipment of potential war goods to the Soviets.

Significant is the fact that U. S. imports from Russia were higher in April than in any other month this year except March, indicating that there has been no immediate effort by Moscow to retaliate for the tightened U. S. controls.

One oddity, perhaps also significant, was Russia's shipment of $1,312,382 worth of manganese and chrome, both basic items in the manufacture of war materials.

Job Done

Sen. Arthur Capper (Rep., Kas.) is 83 years old and has represented Kansas in the senate for 30 years. Now he has announced that he will not run for re-election. He thinks it is time for him to step aside in favor of a younger man.

MAGINOT:
Try Again?

France's Maginot line, that supposedly impenetrable, concrete-and-steel system of static defense that failed to stop the Nazis in 1940, is being touted now as a shield against possible Russian attacks.

Some French army engineers even go so far as to say that the United States would be wise to finance the reconditioning of the Maginot line as insurance against the Red army.

And at least one of France's top military leaders, Gen. Jean de Lattre de Tassigny, is reported to believe that the line should be investigated with the idea that its immense underground forts might be transformed into atomic bomb shelters.

When the fortresses came into Allied hands near the close of the war it was discovered that the Nazis had removed much less of the armament and equipment than had been believed. Most of the guns, minus only the breech blocks, had been left in place.

Simple fact, however—and it is accepted by most U. S. military men—is that the Maginot line is badly outmoded by present swift and mobile methods of warfare, and further, that it was outmoded even before the start of World War II.

Washington Digest

One Diplomat Knew Better: Scratch One Tyro Diplomat

By BAUKHAGE
News Analyst and Commentator

WASHINGTON.—Back in the partially-deserted capital after one and before another political convention in these days when Washington's tiger heat drives those who are not too driven otherwise out to the mountains and beaches, I took a short ride with a friendly official who, like most of the press and radio, has to stick out a good share of the summer in the city.

We passed some of the last few fine old residences and a number of embassies and legations. Shutters were drawn, orange-red paint was smeared in a pattern I never have been able to understand on ironwork of high picket-fences and window bars. Some windows were boarded up.

"If it hadn't been for you," I remarked to my companion sitting beside me in what he alludes to as 'the taxpayer's limousine,' "I might not have been in Washington this summer. I might have been loafing at a mountain- lakeside or elsewhere . . ."

"How so?" he inquired.

"Don't you recall," I asked, "that you were a newspaperman yourself once and, corollarily speaking, met a lot of interesting people? I was one of them. That meeting killed what I thought then was to be a brilliant diplomatic career."

The story begins right across the street from the office I now occupy on Eighteenth street, in a fine old brick house which I saw first in the year 1914. The carriage drive in front of it is blocked now by the curbing, probably because the traffic officials thought no automobile could safely make the turn which a "spanking pair" negotiated so easily three decades ago.

A sign on the lamp-post in front of the house says "no parking at any time." A brass plate over one of the windows, still barred with the gracefully-curving ironwork of another century says: "Columbus University." The plate it replaced used to say "Former Home of Secretary of State Lansing."

In 1914 it was some two hours after leaving that red brick house that I began "putting off"—(putting things off is a great art and one that has reached a high point of refinement in Washington. I always have practiced it.) If I hadn't put off then, I might have become a diplomat. As it was, all I got was deadlines the rest of my life.

It happened this way I had just returned from an extended period in Europe where I had been going through the motions of acquiring an education. In the process I acquired the ambition to become a member of the foreign service of the state department. I planned to rise, by easy stages, on pure merit, of course, to the position of ambassador to the Court of St. James. Beyond that, as a cabinet officer says following a change in administration, I had no plans.

I did have four out of five necessary qualifications which I knew from experience on the Quai d'Orsay and elsewhere assured a successful diplomatic career. The four which I possessed were a top-hat, a tailcoat, striped pants and a pair of spats.

The fifth I was confident I could soon acquire easily since I had an excellent letter to the father-in-law of the secretary of state, who had been a secretary of state himself and an important pillar of Washington society. I was sure that under such auspices I could acquire that sine qua non—a wife rich enough to keep a diplomat in the style to which he is supposed to be accustomed.

I recall that afternoon very well. I rang the bell to that door—well, it was a different door of course—there are four there now with brass handles worn shiny by ambitious Columbians—but at least the door which that afternoon was to be my portal to a brilliant career was right there in the same frame.

It opened, I handed the silk hat and ebony stick to the servant and in a few moments I was being warmly greeted by a gentleman wearing what Sam Blythe once called the most diplomatic whiskers in Washington, John Watson Foster.

I saw that my striped pants and tailcoat which had just enough of a continental cut to make a proper impression, as well as the bow-from-the-waist I had learned in Berlin, were doing their work and I made mental note of the less unattractive unattached females. So after tossing off a bon mot or two, I left, feeling that my career was virtually launched.

It was still fairly early, so I decided to drop in at the National Press club to which my old schoolmate, David Lawrence, had given me a guest card. As the weather was fine, I decided I might as well walk and give Connecticut avenue a chance to admire my distinguished stripes and tails, although tailcoats and top-hats, per se, caused very little consternation in those days.

As I walked, I idly speculated on what course I would take if knee-breeches were insisted upon when I was presented at court. Meanwhile, I observed the strolling young ladies who, though probably unable to support an ambassador, were nevertheless quite as attractive as any of the better-qualified ones at the reception.

I had just about decided not to make an issue of the knee-breeches thing—after all I had been on the stage for a short period in my career and a couple of pairs of long stockings underneath would do for my calves what nature hadn't—when I found myself at the club.

A tall, black-haired gentleman arose and gave me a dignified greeting. I had thought it best while I was considering my diplomatic career to accept a temporary position with the Associated Press—a position I received after some rather tall talk on the part of David Lawrence and a kindly letter from Superintendent Roberts of the Paris bureau for whom I had worked. The gentleman who greeted me at the club was one of the staff which I was to join, assigned to the state department. And he was the man I alluded to—the friendly official—in the early paragraphs of this column.

Right there, or shall we say in the course of an hour or two, there developed the beginning of a beautiful friendship and the beginning of the end of any illusions concerning a diplomatic career. I applied for membership in the club, never went to another "at home" in the fine old brick house on Eighteenth street.

From that time on it has been deadlines instead of receiving lines. Although I didn't realize it at the time I really wasn't properly equipped for a diplomatic career—my spats were black.

The diplomatic world has not been altogether neglected in the course of meeting deadlines, but when I entered that allegedly romantic demesne as I still do in the course of my job, it is by way of the back door, an entrance which, I have discovered, often provides a much more revealing view of the surroundings. Perhaps it isn't polite to refer to the chancery entrance that way, but it is certainly not the front door.

As it turned out, not many weeks after I had given up my dreams of becoming a Machiavelli or a Metternich, I found myself a caller at six or eight embassies a day—I was put on the diplomatic run because a war had broken out and it was quite as important for belligerents and nervous neutrals to provide news from their points of view as it was for us to collect it.

The butlers in most of the embassies before World War I would as soon admit a reporter as they would a rug-peddler or a scissors-grinder. It required considerable working over to bring them into line.

And what a change today! The amount of time, money and energy expended by foreign nations in getting information to the American radio, press and public is one of the major items on their Washington budgets!

* * *

Another Jawbone For Samson

An old-fashioned dentist thinks the Russians have Hitler's jaw The dentist, Dr. Plaschke, says he read in a German dentistry magazine that his former assistant, now in Russian custody, had identified a jaw which the Russians were toying with as Hitler's.

Dr. Plaschke claims the assistant couldn't positively identify it, but he himself feels it must be Hitler's because the magazine ridicules the work as old-fashioned.

Plaschke says he did an old-fashioned job on Hitler when he made a bridge of 12 teeth in 1934. Plaschke also claims to have studied dentistry at the University of Philadelphia in 1908. Their methods have probably advanced since then, but Hitler was old-fashioned about some things.

All we can do is hope the bridge pained him. And remember that that jawbone, if it's authentic, slew more men than the one from a similar source that Samson used when he went after the Philistines.

* * *

One of the features of the Republican convention was a mammoth scapple breakfast. The delegates furnished the scrap.

Sportlight
By GRANTLAND RICE

SO FAR the United States has taken only a mild interest in the coming Olympic games to be held this summer in London. It has been taken for granted that the U. S. will mop up again as usual. Even more so this time, with our athletes well-fed and most other competitors reportedly underfed.

So if we win, well, why not? The United States team should win in a romp. It shouldn't be even close. It should be no contest. That's the early setup. No credit if you win—pretty awful if you lose.

At the Berlin games in 1936, we had several talks with trainers and coaches and star athletes from other nations. Here was their verdict:

"The United States is a nation of acrobats—not athletes. You can't win from 400 meters and on beyond this distance. You have no runners with any stamina—runners who can travel a mile and longer.

"You are marvelous acrobats—like circus performers. You can sprint and pole vault and hurdle. These are all acrobatics. They make no demand on stamina or courage."

It still takes an athlete to run and jump.

The answer is that we have won too seldom at testing distances. We have no runners from the mile to the marathon worth naming.

Once again, we'll probably win the pole vault—rated a feat of acrobatics and not the work of an athlete by foreign nations. It is certainly on the easier side than it is to get ready for 1,500 or 5,000 or 10,000 meters.

The U. S. has never been much interested in stamina—which is even more important than speed. Speed gives out quickly. Stamina carries you all the way through.

When you sift all the angles, the United States hasn't done nearly as well as our ballyhoo experts have figured out the case. Without our Negro stars, this country would have been something of a joke.

In place of mopping up in London, we still can be something of a joke—despite the winning edge we have in food, the main basis of condition. We have every advantage this way. It will be interesting to see what we can do with it.

* * *

Stars Miss Big Show

One world series weakness is that too many stars had no chance to show at the big show.

Napoleon Lajoie, one of the greatest, never was seen in this classic. And he was something to see, the most graceful ballplayer that ever lived. And one of the game's greatest natural hitters.

Walter Johnson came to his first world series when he was on his way over the mystic hill. The earlier Walter Johnson would have joined Mathewson with three shutouts.

Bob Feller has never had a world series appearance, and Feller also is just about over the top. Feller came to Cleveland 12 years ago and he has been pouring that fast ball through for a long time. The navy also took three or four of his best years. The navy caught him at his peak and held him a long time.

Also after returning to baseball, Feller has given a good part of his time to outside interests, which hasn't helped his baseball. But he still would be a shining spot in any post-season championship. Feller is one of the all-time greats. He won't have to bother about his spot at Cooperstown.

Rube Waddell, a world series natural, had his lone chance in 1905 when he suffered an injured shoulder in a train scuffle. So the Mathewson - Waddell duel never came off. That would have been up in the super class, the motion picture colossal stuff.

Still many stars have made the world series grade—Mathewson, Alexander, Cobb, Ruth, Collins, Jackson, Hornsby, Grove, Wagner, Brown, Kling, Plank, Coombs, Bender, Johnson, Wood, Fox, Fritsch, Dizzy Dean, Cochrane, Dickey, too many more to mention.

It would be nice to see Feller and a few more stars, who have never made the big show, slip under the tent and mingle with the elephants.

* * *

Fitzsimmons Is Tops

In the middleweight boxing division my nomination for the top man is Bob Fitzsimmons. Fitz was middleweight champion, light-heavyweight champion and heavyweight champion. He was a brilliant boxer. He was also a terrific puncher.

Fitz broke seven bones in both hands punching Jeffries in their second fight. He almost ripped Jeff's face away from his head. But he couldn't knock out the Jeffries of that period. No one else could. And this includes Jack Johnson who whipped a half-bald, fat, fading old-timer who was in no shape to fight anybody.

I saw Jeffries training for the Johnson fight in 1910. He was pitiful. He was a long way from the Jeffries I knew in 1903.

Schoolboy Ho

These little gems o... were taken from exami...

Prevailing winds ar... always blow when ... stop blowing.

In some rocks we ... prints of fishes.

CLASSI... DEPARTM...

HELP WANTED—

GRADUATE NURSES. The Minnesota Hospitals have pos... nate nurses for general staff ... rooms, surgical and medical ... salary, vacation and other al... DIRECTOR OF NURSES, Un... nesota Hospitals, Minneapolis

FARMS & RAN...

Well improved 520-acre live... farm 4 miles east of Chatf... 400 acres tillable. $65.00 per... eral other well improved sect... farms. Northwestern Mort... Northwestern Bank Bldg., ... Minnesota.

BUSINESS & INV...

STANDARD Service station ... stall garage, 5 room modern ... car shed and 1 acre of grou... junction of Highways 69 a... burg, Iowa. This is also the ... $20,000. Possession just as ... ness tranactions are taken ... R. JOHNSON, Blairsburg, I...

FOR SALE—Clean stock sta... modern self serve grocery ... from Lake Okoboji. Year ar... trade. Don't write. F. C. ... ford, Iowa.

DON'T pass this one, Larra... shalltown Seating capac... Priced to sell L. J. STEPA... St., Marshalltown, Iowa.

INCOME property for sale... building 75-80, center of ... Ia., 3 store fronts, steam ... trunk lines Chicago to Omah... and 63. Contact F. A. SO... Iowa.

3.2 TAVERN & Cafe Tile ... bsmt., mod. liv. qtrs., gd bu... Heart of lakes. Terms. BO... Minn.

FARM MACHINERY

I HAVE a model AG Cle... Heil angle bulldozer, 1½ ya... Send me a price on this tr... In A-1 condition. ARNOL... La Claire, Iowa.

ELECTRICAL EQU...

Electric Refrig...

Now you can buy a combina... refrigerator! 4 cubic feet ... space, 10 cubic feet of stand... and 12 lbs of ice making ca... illustrated folder and complet... PREMIER SALES C... 204 Empire Bui... Des Moines, Iow...

AUTOS, TRUCKS &...

$157.50 POWERBIKE motor... bike. Ready to go. Now on... HURON MACH. CO., 301 E... Moines, Iowa.

G. I. Truck ...

We carry a very complete ... vehicles. Immediate delivery. ... Wire

WILENSKY AUTO P... 1225 No. Washingt... Atlantic 4438 M...

New School B...

1948 Fords with 36 pass. W... New 1947 Ford with 35 pa... SAVE.

OPITZ MOTOR CO... Clarinda, Iow...

HOME FURNISHING...

STREAMLINED—Built-in ... fit any kitchen. Complete, ... detailed plans and specif... "professional" construction ... $1.00. THOMBERT CO., Bo... Iowa.

MISCELLANE...

FOR SALE: Truck body, ... box and stock rack 15 ft. l... nearly new $200. Phone ... HASS, 239 S. 14th St., Cl...

STOP Diseases. Doc Hagedo... Poultry Remedy for Necro... other diseases. Guaranteed ... two days treatment at Cer... stock and 2 cents on poultry. ... WM. HAGEDORN, Manning, ...

ATHLE... FOOT AND ... FUNGU...

of feet, hands, limbs, body ... due to the fungus germ ... It takes the fungicide RING-... immediate relief at last, ... of misery! RING-X is new ... to the Nation for the first ti... lished, in fact overjoyed at ... refunded on request and ... postpaid on receipt of $1.00. ... THE RING-X CO., ... ONE NORTH LaSALLE, C...

HEAVY D... BURCH PA...

- For Farm Ma...
- Wagons, Corn ...
- Trucks, Hay S...

SEE YOUR DEALER ... BURCH PAU... COST ...

REINFORCED RUBB... 3 FEET APA...

Write for the m... your dealer ...

Ft. Dodge Tent & A... FORT DODGE, I...

WNU—N

IT'S APPRE...

...when you ... the news ...

THANK...

ST AID to the AILING HOUSE

by Roger C. Whitman

ON: There are finger the head board of my caused by perspiring can I remove these

R: Clean the surface by th thick suds of mild just thin, watery soap- with a clean, damp rub dry. Turpentine may If this does not work, try marks with a scratch- g powder and a little the ball of your finger.

ON: Could you give me ation on tile flooring? e work myself?

R: Whatever type you ember that a solid color irt very quickly. Mottled clean-looking much perfectly possible for a to lay tile, provided he th tools and has a good Any kind of tile must e proper "bed" no mat- It is clay tile, asphalt, ything else.

ON: Should one patch has come off in a base-

R: If it's ordinary plas- sed for living rooms, it st to remove all of it trying to patch it. This er is affected by damp- not intended for use in

ON: How can I polish en off my glass table

R: That type of polish- be done at home. It is a aler in plate glass who ipment.

t-Minded People

ransit riders leave more 0 worth of goods on buses and elevated lines , American Municipal reports. One of the larg- er lost was one million egotiable bonds left on by a South American st unusual item forgot- box of white mice.

h Laxatives OT necessary ost people

f a lemon in a glass of taken first thing on aris- at most people need to pt, normal elimination. h laxatives that irritate e tract and impair nutri- in water is good for you! of Americans have taken ealth—and generations re recommended them h in vitamin C, supply ounts of B_1 and P. They id digestion.

or sour, lemon in water hing tang—clears the es you up. It's not a simply helps your sys- itself. Try it 10 days. NIA SUNKIST LEMONS

KILLS LICE 40 OUR Cap-Brush Applicator makes BLACK LEAF 40 GO MUCH FARTHER ERS... AD ON ROOSTS

NGE FE?

ing through the func- ge' period peculiar (38 to 52 yrs.)? Does this suffer from hot flashes, ous, highstrung, tired? by Lydia E. Pinkham's Compound to relieve such Pinkham's Compound at Doctors call a sto- ic effect! INKHAM'S VEGETABLE COMPOUND

h Your Kidneys!

Cleanse the Blood ful Body Waste

s are constantly filtering from the blood stream. But may lag in their work—do more fatended—fail to re- that, if retained, may son and upset the whole ery.

may be nagging backache, aches, attacks of dizziness, ights, swelling, puffiness ort feeling of nervous ss of pep and strength. of kidney or bladder dis- sions burning, scanty or uent action.

be no doubt that prompt wise than neglect. Use Doan's have been winning more than forty years. nation-wide reputation. ded by grateful people the ld your neighbor!

DAN'S PILLS

Confident Republicans Choose Dewey-Warren Team for 1948

By WALTER A. SHEAD
WNU Washington Correspondent

PHILADELPHIA — Bowling over all opposition in an unchecked power drive toward the coveted goal of 548 votes, Governor Thomas E. Dewey, of New York, swept to victory on the third ballot at the Republican National Convention.

After a night of speculation on vice-presidential candidates which included the names of Charles Halleck, of Indiana; Senator John Bricker, of Ohio; Governor Warren was put forth as the Dewey choice for the post.

Governor Earl Warren, governor of California, was nominated to the vice-presidency by acclamation after Arizona had withdrawn the name of Harold E. Stassen.

Actually the colorful New Yorker's nomination came by unanimous vote after he had demonstrated unprecedented strength on the first ballot over six other contenders for the nomination. Governor Dewey polled 434 votes on the first ballot to 224 for Senator Robert A. Taft, of Ohio, his nearest competitor, with former Governor Harold E. Stassen trailing in third place with 157 votes. Senator Arthur Vandenburg, of Michigan, polled 62; Senator Raymond Baldwin, of Connecticut, 19; Speaker Joe Martin, of Massachusetts, 13; Carroll Reese, of Tennessee, chairman of the GOP national committee, 15; General of the Army Douglas McArthur, 11; Governor Dwight Green, of Illinois, 56; Governor Alfred E. Driscoll, of New Jersey, 35; Governor Earl Warren, of California, 59, and Congressman Everett M. Dirksen, of Illinois, 1.

Governor Dewey won the nomination because he had the best organization, because his opposition underestimated his strength and despite the fact it broke a Republican party precedent of never having nominated a losing candidate.

The two-time nominee, he was the party's standard bearer in 1944, was given a tremendous ovation when he came into the convention accompanied by his personable wife. His nomination came swiftly after Senator John Bricker, of Ohio, had withdrawn Senator Taft's name and Stassen had himself gone to the platform to withdraw in favor of Dewey. They were quickly followed by Governor Warren, of California, and the others.

GOV. EARL WARREN

Governor Dewey told the delegates he accepted the nomination "unfettered by a single obligation or promise to any living person." His acceptance speech, which evidently had been prepared in advance, since it was delivered in mimeograph form to the press before he made it, was on a high plane of a "spiritual upsurge."

"Our problem," he said, "is most of all spiritual. Our problem is not outside ourselves. Our problem is within ourselves . . . we have devised noble plans for a new world. Without a new spirit, our noblest plans will come to naught."

Dewey In Center Of Early Activity

Governor Dewey came into the convention as the leading candidate, with approximately 350 votes pledged to him on the first ballot and possibly some 50 to 75 votes as a reserve upon which he could count after favorite son candidates had been moved out of the picture. The New York governor's managers decided however, after they failed to improve the governor's position in the first two days of the convention, to shoot the works on the first ballot in an effort to start a bandwagon stampede of delegates for the New Yorker. The maneuver, clever physchologically in many instances, became known as the Dewey "blitz."

THOMAS E. DEWEY

It had one effect, however, it united the other leading candidates in a move to "stop Dewey." Senator Robert A. Taft, of Ohio, second man, with some 250 or more delegates on the first ballot and former Governor Harold E. Stassen, of Minnesota, with some 175 delegates, along with the Connecticut state chairman, Governor Kem Sigler, of Michigan, and some other delegate leaders held a meeting at which they canvassed the situation and decided that Mr. Dewey did not have the votes he claimed.

Further, the Dewey "blitz" brought Senator Arthur Vandenburg from out of his cocoon as a dark-horse and into the picture as an active candidate to be nominated on the first roll call of the states.

First shown-down was a split in the Pennsylvania delegation of 73 votes resulting in the withdrawal of Pennsylvania's Senator Edward Martin as a favorite son candidate in favor of Governor Dewey, throwing roughly half of the delegation to the New Yorker. This did not change the picture in the total vote, however, since it meant only that the other half of the Keystone state delegation controlled by Governor James J. Duff would go to Senator Vandenburg on the first ballot instead of waiting until a later ballot.

Then the Missouri delegation split with Senator James P. Kem, of that state going to Governor Dewey with his following of the delegation and Senator Forrest Donnell holding out for Senator Taft with his Missouri delegates. Governor Alfred E. Driscoll, of New Jersey, who had been flirting with the Vandenburg candidacy for several weeks then pulled into the Dewey camp with his 35-vote delegation. Up to this point before the balloting started, Governor Dewey had reached the peak of his claimed strength.

Confident Spirit Highlights Sessions

Until the demonstrations for candidates started the wild and tumultous session which lasted long into Wednesday night, there had been little enthusiasm and actually small crowds attending the convention. There was an air of tenseness and responsibility about these delegates which did not lend itself to hilarity or horse-play to any large degree

These delegates gathered here were all convinced they were naming the next President of the United States . . . that 1948 is a sure winner for the Republican party.

The best demonstration up to the roll call of states came when Herbert Hoover, former president and GOP elder statesman was escorted to the platform by Alf Landon, of Kansas, the 1936 nominee. Mr. Hoover was given a 16-minute demonstration and he made a sturdy, if aged picture there with the klieg lights beaming upon him.

Foreign Aid Plank Features Platform

Highlight of the 1948 GOP platform and chief bone of contention in sessions of the resolutions committee was the foreign relations plank. The all-out approval, however of the European recovery program and support of the United Nations was a clear-cut victory for Senator Arthur Vandenburg, of Michigan, and Senator Henry Cabot Lodge, Jr., of Massachusetts, the chairman of the resolutions committee. While ERP was not mentioned by name the platform plank was clear and strong.

The platform was all-inclusive covering the field of domestic issues including conservation of natural resources, farm price supports, economy in government, against high prices, abolition of useless government bureaus, maintenance of an adequate armed service for sea, land and air; reduction of the federal debt and taxes, elimination of monopoly to aid small business, a sound soil conservation program, development of sound farm credit, encouragement of family-sized farms; progressive development of the nation's water resources for navigation, flood control and power; a comprehensive reclamation program; recognition of the nation's obligation to all veterans and a realistic and adequate adjustment of benefits; housing by private enterprise at lower costs, but federal aid for local slum clearance and low-rental housing; extension of the federal old age and survivor's insurance program and increase of the benefits to a more realistic level; strengthening of state-aid programs to provide more adequate hospital facilities, to improve methods of treatment of the mentally ill, to advance maternal and child health and generally to foster a healthy America.

The civil rights platform plank included an anti-lynching law, abolition of the poll tax as a requisite for voting, opposition to racial segregation in the armed services and "equality of all individuals in their right to life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness . . . right to equal opportunity to work and to advance in life not limited because of race, religion, color, or country of origin."

The platform also pledged new legislation against communism, revision of the procedure for election of president and vice-president to "more exactly reflect the popular vote." This plank referred to the Lodge constitutional revision resolution to change the vote procedure of the electoral college. Equal rights for women, equal pay for equal work regardless of sex, educational opportunities for all and giving title of tideland oil lands to the states completed the document.

Convention Hall Sidelights . . . .

Governor Dwight Green, of Illinois, the convention keynoter who delivered one of the able speeches of the convention, definitely had the lightning rod up on the vice-presidency. However when the Illinois delegation broke from Green, it went, not to Dewey, but to the hopeless candidacy of Senator Taft. Green couldn't deliver.

For the first time network television carried the live scenes of this convention to the eastern seaboard from Richmond north to Boston.

* * *

All television networks "pooled" their shots and fed through a central broadcast station so that all networks received the same coverage.

"Canned" television took the story inland. Around Philadelphia every television set was tuned into convention hall and even in the lounges at the meeting outside the convention floor, the television was for many a much more popular and comfortable method of "covering" the proceedings than the actual convention itself.

1948 HONORARY AWARDS

BATHERTOP, HORACE J.—Few men are more deserving of this signal recognition. Throughout the past year you at no time cut a box-top, worked on a prize slogan or dropped everything to try for a jackpot. Take a degree of Doctor of Extraordinary Willpower and help yourself to a glass of beer.

— * —

MOOSEJAW, BASIS R.—It is a pleasure to see you in today's line of honorary degree takers. So far as we know, you are that outstanding example of manhood, an American who, having his old car to dispose of, let his neighbor have it at a low price instead of conniving with slick operators to get twice what it was worth. Take any degree that fits, and won't you stay for lunch with the faculty?

— * —

CARP, OSCAR W.—On numerous occasions you were observed standing in the doorway of a bus in the rush hour. Asked to step forward, you did so. A degree is not enough, Oscar. Name your wish and you shall have it.

— * —

WIGGLESWORTH, PRENTICE K.—The university crowns you a man among men and a citizen extraordinary. Although in a position by a little skulduggery and a mild twisting of conscience to get money from the government, you bothered to realize that Uncle Sam is being gypped right and left, that he is in a hole up to his neck and that he is too good a guy to swindle. You also openly expressed concern about the government's financial future, even dropping the funnies to analyze the situation. You get not only an honorary degree but strawberry ice cream with cherries.

— * —

CRUMMETT, THADDEUS R.—You are an American workingman and union member. We have the positive proof that, instead of blindly following a wild-eyed leader when you were convinced he was wrong, you voted the other way at the special meeting You were heard to make the statement on your feet and in a loud voice, "I could be right, too." Take a box of cigars as you go out and help yourself to the chicken sandwiches—all white meat

— * —

TUPPER, HALLOWAY G.—We want you to take a degree printed on special gloss paper and also $1,000 in cash. Called before a committee of the United States congress in a time of national crisis to answer the simple question, "Are you a member of the Communist party?" you did so. You did not demand to read a long statement. Furthermore, you showed up without your lawyer. Get up there nearer the head of the line where you belong!

— * —

COOKSEY, GERALD K. H. — What are you doing away down here? We meant to honor you first. You shot a composer of radio jingles on sight. See us in the dean's office later. We're throwing a special party.

A TIP TO COLUMBIA
Mind your books
And students be
Or Ike will put
You on K. P.

Zeke Clay Says:

Tex Willoughby and the wife are on speaking terms again but there's still a cold war going on between them.

— * —

The Chet Eppergills who have been social outcasts for years bought a television set last week and now are the most popular folks in town.

— * —

Even Gadsby's boy, who has graduated from two universities, has returned home but has to phone the garage for help in fixing the lawn mower.

— * —

Doodie Kimbell fell into enough money the other day to have his gas tank filled and is thinking of having his auto washed at a public garage.

— * —

Will Kippey will open bids on a shave and haircut next week.

* * *

The stock market has had its biggest rise in eight years and nobody is more frightened than the fellow who finds his stock is up a dozen points.

* * *

"Ashen faced and close to collapse he trembled as his counsel pleaded for clemency, saying he lacked the strength to resist temptation."—News item on a rent gouger's prison sentence.

— * —

That was no tremble; it was just the usual "shake."

* * *

We just heard a fellow explaining his despondency by saying that he had just popped the question and his girl "Gromykoed me."

SCRIPTURE: Ruth
DEVOTIONAL READING: Psalms 23:6-9.

Naomi, Woman Of Faith

Lesson for July 18, 1948

IF we are to understand Ruth, cherished heroine of the book bearing her name, we must know Naomi, her mother-in-law — woman of faith in God and surpassing patience and sacrifice in service to her day and generation.

Dr. Newton

It is the Book of Ruth which we have for Sunday's lessons, with Psalms 28:6-9 as the devotional reading. The golden text, "Thy people shall be my people, and thy God my God," Ruth 1:16.

* * *

IN SEARCH OF BREAD

FAMINE in Judah, where Elimelech and his wife, Naomi, and their sons, Mahlon and Chilion, dwelt, drove them to Moab, in search of bread. Elimelech died, and the sons married young women of Moab, Ruth and Orpah. And then the sons died. Naomi, feeling that she must not longer remain in Moab, announced her intention to return to her native land, and bade Ruth and Orpah farewell. In one brief decade Naomi had lost husband and sons, and now she longed for home.

* * *

"INTREAT ME NOT TO LEAVE THEE"

ORPAH accepted Naomi's suggestion, and turned away to her own people; but not so with Ruth She loved Naomi. She could not give her up. Naomi had done something for Ruth in those years of sorrow and loss.

"Intreat me not to leave thee, or to return from following after thee; for whither thou goest, I will go; and where thou lodgest, I will lodge Thy people shall be my people, and thy God my God. Where thou diest, I will die, and there will I be buried The Lord do so to me, and more also, if ought but death part thee and me"

With these sublime words, Ruth lashed herself to Naomi, and together they started on the long trek to Bethlehem.

* * *

WHEN FAITH CONQUERS

HERE we witness conquering faith—conquering faith in the hearts of Naomi and Ruth And they come to Bethlehem It was the harvest season, and Naomi directed Ruth to glean in the field of Boaz, a wealthy and generous-hearted citizen of Bethlehem. Faith in action! And the world loves the story of Ruth becoming the wife of Boaz, and thus the mother of Obed, the grandfather of David the king in the ancestral line of Jesus Christ, the King of kings.

And Naomi, through her conquering faith, held in her arms the little baby, Obed, and dreamed of God's unfolding purposes to bless the world.

In this unsurpassed romance we witness faith in adversity, faith in association, faith in conduct, faith in claim, faith in confidence, and faith in a glorious climax.

* * *

WHEN FAITH CONQUERS

LIFE is always ennobled when faith conquers. It is easy to imagine how history might have missed this beautiful love story, had not Naomi been a woman of conquering faith. She might have given up and over to her great sorrow, and pined away in grief and defeat.

But Naomi followed the gleam. And her trust in God shed its gentle glow into the lonely heart of the Moabite widow, Ruth. Ruth clave unto Naomi. She could not do otherwise. "Truth is stranger than fiction."

And all history was enriched. It is ever so when faith conquers. Thus the poet states the case:

"God moves in mysterious ways,
His wonders to perform,
"He plants his footsteps on the sea,
And rides upon the storm."

* * *

(Copyright by the International Council of Religious Education on behalf of 40 Protestant denominations. Released by WNU Features.)

Faith

I cannot conceive that God could make such a species as the human merely to live and die on this earth. If I did not believe in a future state, I should believe in no God.
—John Adams.

Where there is no faith, there can be no endeavor.

Believe In Life

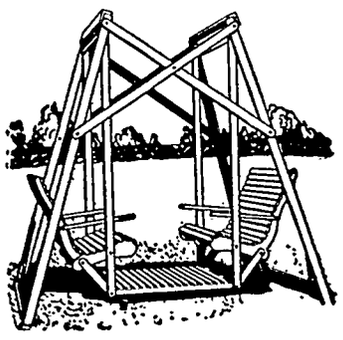
To believe in immortality is one thing, but it is first needful to believe in life.—Stevenson.

What is the highest secret of victory and peace? To will what God wills, and strike a league with destiny.—W. R. Alger.

Build It From A Pattern

New Method Simplifies Building Modern Version of Old Fashioned Lawn Swing

By DONALD R. BRANN



Pattern Simplifies Building

The Lawn Swing is easy to build. No special tools or skill are required. The Full Size pattern offered below provides all the information needed to buy the materials, cut and assemble the swing. All materials specified are stock size and are now readily available at most lumber yards.

Trace, Saw and Assemble

It's as easy as that. The pattern provides a full size, printed paper outline of each component part of the swing. Trace each piece on the lumber specified, saw and assemble. Wherever two pieces are joined, their exact location is shown on the pattern. All bolts and screw holes are also shown. You'll have fun building this swing and lots more fun using it.

Send 50c for Lawn Swing Pattern No. 155 to Fasi-Bild Pattern Company, Dept. W, Pleasantville, N. Y.

Habits of Lightning

It isn't true that lightning never strikes in the same place twice. It can and does, because certain places and things attract lightning. Lightning is chiefly a rural hazard, where nine out of 10 deaths occur, and only occasionally strikes areas with many buildings. Here are some thunderstorm tips: Get inside a house. Avoid isolated outbuildings and single trees, especially on high ground. If you must stay out, seek a grove of trees or a gully. Stay away from utility poles, downspouts, wire clotheslines and metal fences. In the house, close windows and doors, stay away from stoves, fireplaces, radiators, telephones and radios.

"Everybody loves" SMACKS THE REALLY DELICIOUS COCONUT BAR!

SUNBURN? QUICK RELIEF WITH MENTHOLATUM COOLS... SOOTHES... EASES BURNING PAIN MENTHOLATUM

WATCHMAKING
Be a Watchmaker—Be Independent
Day and Evening Classes
Approved for Veterans
Write today for free information
Chicago Institute of Watchmaking
Mt. Vernon Building
7 So. Pulaski Road Chicago, Illinois

NEW AWNINGS Patio Covers
Keep the sun's heat and glare out of your home! Make your outdoor area colorful, cool, modern, and more enjoyable! Top quality custom made Awnings, Patio and Terrace Covers direct to you . . at low cost. Easily installed. We also furnish recovers for lawn furniture, etc., and Bamboo, and woven wood porch shades. Write for full information and free samples...state color choice. Order Dept. WN.
Dealer Inquiries Invited
CALIFORNIA TENT & AWNING CO.
Sunnyvale, California

NEWS that makes folks sleep all night!
Thousands now sleep undisturbed because of the news that their being awakened night after night might be from bladder irritation, not the kidneys. Let's hope so! That's a condition Foley Pills usually allay within 24 hours. Since bladder irritation is so prevalent and Foley Pills so potent, Foley Pills must benefit you within 24 hours or DOUBLE YOUR MONEY BACK. Make 24-hour test. Get Foley Pills from druggist. Full satisfaction or DOUBLE YOUR MONEY BACK.

For Quick Truck Delivery
On
Diamond
D-X
Products of all kinds
Phone 85
ERNEST HENSCHEN
Klemme, Iowa

Mr. and Mrs. Verle Keraus and children of Garner were visiting in Klemme Saturday evening.

DR. E. H. PHILLIPS
Osteopathis Physician
Xray - Short Wave Diathermy and Ultra Violet Equipment
Phone 149 Garner, Iowa

New
OLIVER "88"

A New Farm Power Leader

Here's the power leader of Oliver's new, modern tractor fleet. It's the husky 3-4 plow "88" with a 6-cylinder engine and six forward speeds to provide you with a practical working pace for every farm operation.

The "88" is an ideal unit for concentrated farming . . . for all the heavy "rush" jobs season after season. To suit your fuel situation, Oliver offers three great engines: (1) for gasoline, (2) for tractor fuels, (3) diesel . . . designed specifically for a farm tractor and available later.

Look at these new features: direct drive power take-off, Oil Miser transmission case, floating oil pump screen inlet, 20-gallon fuel tank, battery ignition and automatic spark advance, basic interchangeability of Oliver's full line of centrally mounted and rear suspended tools and a choice of interchangeable cast iron or stamped steel wheels with all other new Row Crop models.

● Let us give you the details on all the valuable farm-utility features found on Oliver's new farm-engineered tractor fleet, built in Row Crop, Standard, Row Crop with Adjustable Front Axle or Single Front Wheel models.

Fred J. Arnold
OLIVER AUTHORIZED SALES SERVICE
Klemme, Iowa

KLEMME LOCAL NEWS

Paul Ketchum and family of Rowan were dinner guests Sunday at the M. L. Harson home.

Mrs. Mildred Day had her property improved the past week by having her house given two coats of white paint. In the same city block Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Barz gave their house two coats of white paint, using a brown trim. It makes a nice improvement in both cases.

AVERY
—The—
Theatre Beautiful
Garner, Iowa

JULY 14, 15
Wednes. - Thursday
KEN MURRAY'S
"BILL AND COO"
IN TRUCOLOR
(A Republic Picture)

JULY 16, 17
Friday - Saturday
TWILIGHT ON THE RIO GRANDE
GENE AUTRY
— DOUBLE FEATURE —
THE CHALLENGE
TOM CONWAY
As
"Bulldog Drummond"

JULY 18, 19, 20
Sun. - Mon. - Tues.
SHE SET THE TRAP!
T-MEN
Starring
DENNIS O'KEEFE
MARY MEADE
And
WALLY FORD

JULY 21, 22
Wednes. - Thursday
TENTH AVENUE ANGEL
Starring
MARGARET O'BRIEN

RELAX AND ENJOY A GOOD SHOW

KLEMME LOCAL NEWS

Rev. Calvin Grosshuesch was at Marshalltown on business Monday.

Miss Ava Chambers of Seattle, Washington is visiting with her brother, J. A. Chambers and other Iowa relatives this summer.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Newlin and daughters of Chicago and Theo. Kochinski and family of Tomah, Wisconsin, visited over the July 4th week end at the J. A. Chambers home.

Mrs. Paul Grange and Mr. and Mrs. Ray Keeper and Terry of Mason City were supper guests Sunday evening at the Henry Keeper home

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Coobs of McGregor spent Sunday afternoon visiting at the W. F Pavey home and with other relatives and friends here. Their daughter, Alice Mae, is attending the Methodist Camp at Clear Lake.

Mrs. Art Kudjc and daughter, Ginger, went to Kansas City on the Rocket Sunday afternoon for a visit at the Harry Heite home. Mrs. Heite has not been well the past few weeks.

Miss Peggy Coobs of Des Moines came Saturday evening for a visit until Sunday evening with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Benn J. Coobs.

Rev. Calvin Grosshuesch and Ed. Becker drove to Scotland, South Dakota Tuesday morning, where Rev. Grosshuesch was called to conduct funeral services for a Veteran returned from the Pacific.

Rev. and Mrs. Calvin Grosshuesch and his mother, Mrs. J. W. Grosshuesch left this Wednesday morning on a week's vacation trip for a visit with Rev. Grosshuesch's borthers and their families at Madison, Freemont and Plymouh, Wis.

"Bud" Montgomery enjoyed his first plane ride Thursday evening in the publisher's Cessna piloted by Ray Jorgenson, Jr., Elwood Geary and Jerry Finders also took rides which all enjoyed.

The Misses Gertrude Grosshuesch, Doris Johnson and Irene Schmidt returned home Saturday from a week's vacation spent seeing the sights in the Black Hills. The girls enjoyed their trip very much.

Read "Within-the-Law Mosby" the first in the new "Medical Hucksters" series by Dr Morris Fishbein and William Engle. "Within-the-Law Mosby" tells how a medical huckster ran a handful of herbs into a million dollar business, read about it in The American Weekly, the great magazine distributed with SUNDAY'S CHICAGO HERALD-AMERICAN.

Arthur Wellemeyer
FUNERAL DIRECTOR
—with long experince and best equipment.
PROMPT AMBULANCE SERVICE
Phone 23-R2 Day or Night
Klemme - Iowa

PHOTOGRAPHS
Live
Forever
RUSSELL
Photo Studio
Next to J. C. Penny Co.
Ph. 2272 Mason City, Ia.

KLEMME LOCAL NEWS

Jim Pavey of Garrison spent Sunday at the W. F. Pavey home.

Mrs. Marvin Barz returned home Sunday from the Mercy Hospital where she underwent a major operation. Mrs. Barz is making a good recovery and is feeling fine

Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Jacobs and Lois Ann visited with Mrs. Wistey at Clear Lake Thursday. They also drove to Mason City for a visit with Mrs. Marvin Barz at the hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Wilcox, of Ames, and Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Waterman drove to Minneapolis Saturday afternoon for a visit with Mr. Wilcox's relatives. They returned home Sunday evening.

Mrs. Mildred Day entertained to dinner Sunday Mrs. Peterson of Clear Lake and Mr. and Mrs. Dorance Day and Gary of Mason City. Dorance and family left Monday on a week's vacation to Michigan where they will also visit with Mrs. Day's brother and family.

The Times received a card Monday from Mr. and Mrs. E. C Buntenbach and "Red" who were enjoying the sights at Glacier National Park in Montana. Iowa could stand a little of the cool weather they were enjoying as they said they slept under four blankets Friday night!

Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Terhufen and Mr. and Mrs. Ray Jorgenson, Jr. spent all day Friday in Mason City at the Hanford Hotel buying Christmas merchandise for the Corner Store. Two large companies had their displays there for the day. Mr. Terufen purchased a fine line of goods for the Christmas trade.

Paul Stromer and daughter, Bernita, of Rapid City, South Dakota, came Friday evening for several days visit with relatives and friends in this community The Stromers have enjoyed visits from several Klemme families this summer and more are expected to make the trip. Paul says he almost bought a tourist camp recently so he would have plenty of room for his Klemme friends who call.

Dr. and Mrs. A. H. Dulmes and Dick, accompanied by Miss Ada Mutch of Grundy Center, left Saturday morning on their vacation trip. From here they went to Duluth, Minn. and from there they expected to take the north shore drive to Port Arthur, Canada. Other points on their trip include a visit to the Dells of Wisconsin and they will also visit relatives in Wiscin and Illinois.

RECEPTION DANCE

Mr. and Mrs. Dan Kaduce request the presence of their friends at a wedding reception dance at the Klemme Community Hall on Thursday evening, July 15th, in honor of their daughter Delores who is to be married to Don Cole. Everybody welcome. (1tp)

FARMS FOR SALE

160 Acres improved and 110 acres unimproved in Avery Township, Hancock County, Ia.

Approximately a 70 acre tract with improvements in Hancock County and Wright County, Ia.

These farms formerly belonged to W. A. Rhodes, Deceased.

C. G. Waterman, Referee
Klemme, Iowa

B. C. BERGE
ATTORNEY-AT-LAW
Office Over Federated Store
Phone 20 Garner, Iowa

SPECIAL
9c SALE
FRIDAY and SATURDAY
JULY 16 and 17

P&G or Crystal White Laundry Soap
3 Giant Bars only 1

Apricots in syrup ------ quart cans, 2
ROBIN HOOD FLOUR
FREE heavy aluminum pan with each 50

SAVE THIS ADV. IT IS WORTH
10 cents
on the purchase of a 2 lb. box of
MACARONI or SPAGHETTI

Cake Flour ---------- full 2 3-4 lb b

CIDER VINEGAR
For Pickling -- 45 gr. strength, only per
29c
Stock Up At This Low Price!

The New Wonder Soap
Trend ---------- 2 large box
WE HAVE ALL THE BANANAS YOU
Scott County Brand
Pork & Beans
2 for 9c

Date Nut Loaf (large can) --------- Omar White Cake Mix ---------- and 1 box Devils Food Cake Mix F

BLEACH Miracle Quart Bottles--- 2 for

Pop (We carry all flavors) -- per case ON Standby
Catsup ---------- 14 oz. bottle ON
HAMS SMOKED or COOKED Ready To Eat Per lb. Only Quick Meal Peas ---------- 2 cans
Standby
Baby Food ---------- 12 cans ON Ground Beef PURE - FRESH
Per lb. Only ----------
Giant 3 lb. box
Gloss Starch ---------- ON Stock Salt ---------- 100 lb. bag ON
Crystal White
Scouring Powder ---------- 3 cans ON FLATS for 2-piece jar covers
2 Dozen ONLY
Pure, Sweetened
Orange Juice -- 46 oz. can, 3 cans ON

RED PIE CHERRIES FOR CANNIN
30 lb drums of 1948 crop cherries, sugar
ONLY $7.39 for 30 lb drum

Highest Prices For Your Eggs Cash o
Thada
THE STORE OF EVERYDAY LOW PR

Now its proved quality becomes more impressive than ever

...AND CHEVROLET'S LOW PRICES

are even more attractive than in the past!

FIRST in Value . . .

FIRST in Big-Car Quality at Lowest Prices . . .

FIRST in Registrations

NOT only does Chevrolet stand out as the first and only low-priced car with all the following major advances which comprise the soundest and best in modern motoring . . . not only does it offer all these major advantages of Big-Car quality at lowest prices . . . but it offers them at prices that are now definitely and decisively lower than those of any other car that even remotely approaches it in quality!

It's the first and only low-priced car with the original and outstanding Unitized Knee-Action Ride. It's the first and only low-priced car with a world's champion Valve-in-Head Engine. It's the first and only low-priced car with the enviable Body by Fisher. It's the first and only low-priced car with the triple safety-protection of Fisher Unisteel Body-Construction, the Unitized Knee-Action Ride and Positive-Action Hydraulic Brakes.

And yet, despite the fact that CHEVROLET AND ONLY CHEVROLET IS FIRST to offer all these major advancements of low-cost motoring, it holds an even greater price-advantage and gives you even more value for your dollars in comparison with other automobiles today than at any previous time in Chevrolet history!

Compare Values!... Compare Prices!...

CHEVROLET—and Only CHEVROLET—IS FIRST!

GARNER MOTOR SALES
GARNER, IOWA

DEAD STOCK
PROMPTLY REMOVED

Britt Rendering Co.
Dept. of Agr. Lic. No. 22
WE PAY PHONE CHARGES
KLEMME Phone 700
GARNER Phone 4000
Our Trucks Are Steam Cleaned After Each Load
TANKAGE AND MINERALIZED FEED FOR SALE AT OUR PLANT

THE KLEMME TIMES

Vol. 53. KLEMME, IOWA, JULY 21, 1948 Number 36.

mme Softball Team Wins Two More Ball Games

E WON TWO BALL AMES THE PAST WEEK

ay Fast C. I. O. Mason Team Here Sunday Evening

Klemme soft ball team away two more wins the eek by defeating Crystal 12 to 8 and winning a close me Garner 8-7.

umber of games are sched- to be played here this and next. This Thursday Liberty plays the Klem- m.

Friday night, July 23 Clar- ill be entertained on the field.

Game Here Sunday Night

day night Klemme will one of the outstanding in North Iowa when they the Mason City league s, the C. I. O. on the me field. This should be f the best games of the n. Admission to this game cents for adults.

t Tuesday evening Hay- comes to Klemme and on day evening, July 29 Wo- will play here.

at is a card of real enter- ent ahead for the week.

Takes Interest In Creaam Quality Program

e Hancock County Dairy an, Nick Venechuk, re- that he is very well pleas- the way the 4-H boys are rating and taking an in- t in the cream quality am in Hancock County the help of Paul Hender- county extension director he will have several dairy nstrating teams ready for Achievement Show in Aug. e demonstrations will cover tages of dairy on our farms.

PETUNIA SEEDS TO HIT MARKET AGAIN

pan's famous double petu- seeds, which brought fancy s before the war, will be y for flower fanciers again fall.

he agriculture department Japan's entire seed produc- —10 pounds— will be ex- ed. There are 280,000 seeds n once. A 20-pound seed est is planned for next r.

e Japanese horticulturists de- ped the seeds in the early 's. They grow into rare ts bearing double blossoms. Japanese have always mon- lized world production.

. S. prices for this garden ity ranged from $250 to an ounce before the war t off imports. The depart- nt didn't estimate the what new price would be.

JOLLY WORKERS CLUB NEWS

The Jolly Workers Club met the home of Ruth Trampel on dnesday, July 14th. 15 mem- s answered roll call by tell- of their experience on the of July. Three visitors were sent. Edith Kramer called meeting to order as Mil- d Gruis, our president, could be there. We discussed our ns for the picnic to be on the lowing Sunday. We all sign- a card to send to Luella lman who is in the Belmond spital with twin boys. Happy rthday song was sung to na Conners as she was cele- ating her birthday that day. ith dismissed the meeting. Jenny Nelson had a quiz pro- am for entertainment and ne Marshall read an interest- poem. A lovely lunch was rved by Ruth Trampel with rbell Gilpin as co-hostess. The August meeting will be at e home of Freda Lass with is Schlichting assisting.

MRS. DORA GREIMAN OBSERVED 87TH THURSDAY, JULY 15

Mrs. Dora Greiman observed her 87th birthday Thursday, July 15 at the home of her son and daughter-in-law, Mr and Mrs. Henry Greiman on the Greiman farm northeast of Klemme. Mrs. Greiman moved onto the farm when she was a bride and has lived there ever since

In order not to have a large crowd at once Grandma Greiman's relatives came at various times to help her celebrate the

On Wednesday afternoon Mrs. Walter Greiman came to see her and that evening Mr and Mrs. Will Greiman called on her. Mrs. Rudy Hoeft and children of Britt paid her a visit Thursday afternoon, as also did Mrs. Daisy Lemke and Mrs. Albert Etchen. Daisy Lemke baked a nice birthday cake for her mother and a nice lunch was enjoyed. Mr. and Mrs. Carl Swanson came Sunday afternoon to see her. During the week other relatives and friends visited with her.

Grandma Greiman received many nice cards and gifts from her relatives and friends.

POSSIBLE TO CUT CAR'S GAS CONSUMPTION 70%

Tests by one automotive firm show you may be able to cut your car's gasoline consumption 70 per cent.

Proper lubercation and engine tuneup saves a 10 per cent fuel waste.

In city driving, another 60 per cent saving was made by reasonably moderate braking and acceleration at stop lights and intersections, in conrast to the quick stops and starts.

The moderate driver, in a 10-mile trip in city traffic, was only 1½ minutes slower than the "hurry up" fuel waster

In rural driving, a 50-mile speed was found to use 50 per cent less fuel than a 70-mile speed.

HELLO FOLKS

Mr and Mrs. Jim Larson are the proud parents of a 9 lb 4 oz. baby boy born at their home west of Klemme on Monday, July 19, 1948. He has been named Arthur James, but his dad says they will call him Jimmy.

Uncle Sam Says

The dollars my young nieces and nephews earn this summer can give them a stake in the future and help keep the country's economy running on an even keel. By investing as much of their summertime earnings in United States Savings Bonds as possible, junior and sis will be building a nestegg for achievement of future goals. It's up to us grownups who have learned how big a nestegg we can accumulate through the payroll savings plan for buying savings bonds to impress upon sis and junior that the future holds for them what they hold for the future.

U. S. Treasury Department

KOLLING REUNION HELD ON SUNDAY AT BELMOND

A Kolling reunion was held on Sunday, July 18 in the Belmond Park with sixty four present.

Everyone seemed to have a good time, even if it tryed to rain.

Those attending were Mr. and Mrs. Herman Meints and sons, Mr. and Mrs. James Larson and daughters, Mr and Mrs. John Larson; Mr and Mrs. Alex Early and Norma all of Klemme

Mr and Mrs. Alvin Haupt and Evelyn, Mr and Mrs. Ralph Larson and Harvey, Mr and Mrs Walter Lauden and daughters all of Goodell.

Mr and Mrs. Elmer Larson and sons of Ganer; Mr. and Mrs. Wm G Landaman and David of Ackley; Mr. and Mrs. Harry Larson of Belmond; Mr. and Mrs. Anon Kolling, Mr. and Mrs. Rasmus Kolling; Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Jensen; Mr and Mrs. Hans Jensen and Marilyn all of Jewell; Mr and Mrs. Gasper Harson of Stanhope, Mrs. Glenn Ramp and children of Story City; Mr. and Mrs. Sam Anderson and children of Ellsworth; Mr. and Mrs. Delbert Andrew and Mr. and Mrs. Pete Anderson and children all of Webster City.

HANCOCK COUNTY REAL ESTATE DEALS

Farmers Cooperative Elevator Co., Kanawha to Stewart, H. H. 6-23-48 Wty. Deed $1.00 NW¼ of SW¼ of SE¼ of SW¼ Sec. 22-94-25

Oxley, Emma and George H., husband to Escher, L. W. 6-24-48 Wty. Deed $300.00 L16 and 17 Blk. 4 Standring's Add to Corwith.

Nerdig, Dean H. and Berdean M., wife to Jurgemeyer, William H. 7-1-48 Wty. Deed $4,000 L1 Blk. 9 Tallman's Add to Garner

French, Raymond and Lola, wife to Goll, George L. 1-30-48 Wty. Deed $6500.00 W 71' of L4 Blk 31 Original Garner.

Susie Gjerde, Admx of Estate of Ole Gjerde to Ellefson, Sidney and Robert E. 5-7-48 Probate Deed $237.50 L14 Blk 4 Orig Town of Woden.

Vescelius, Emilie Schubert, widow to Vescelius, Miles S. 6-30-48 Wty. Deed $1.00 undiv. 1-3 int. in L1, 8, 9, and 10 Blk. 1 Chas. Miller's Add to Britt and 1-3 int. in W½ L5 Blk. 8 Orig. Town of Britt.

Brear, N. E. and Anne J., wife to Gruis, Harmke 6-6-48 $1 00 SW¼ Sec. 25-95-26.

Brear, N. E. and Anne J., wife to Gruis, H. B 7-6-48 Wty $1 00 W½ of NW¼ Sec. 36-95-26.

Hefte, Arnold J. and Fern, wife to Hill, Merle C. 6-22-48 Wty Deed $1.00 NW¼NE¼ and part of NE¼NW¼ lying S and E of M & St. L. RR except strip 2 rods wide across N. boundry Sec. 11-97-24.

Trca, Frank J. and Abbie, his wife to Hancock County Rurl Elec Coop. 7-7-48 Wty. Deed a tract in SW¼ Sec. 30-96-23 S. of RR.

Engstler, Charles Rober and Barbara, wife to Gatchel, Clarence S. and Robertine E. 7-9-48 Wty Deed a tract 90' E and W by 6 10-17 rods N and S. commencing 256.5' W of NW corner of Blk. 7 West Side Add Garner.

SUNBEAMS PLAN FOR LOCAL ACHIEVEMENT DAY

Eleven members were present at the home of Pauline Kramer, Friday, July 16th to make plans for the Avery Sunbeams local achievement day. This event will take place at the home of Doris Gruis on the evening of August 10th. There will be a president and Mrs. Delores Ridby the club members. The clothing projects which the girls have made will be on exibit. Refreshments consisting of home made ice cream, cake, coffee and cool aid will be sold by the club. Also during the meeting Harriet Ostendorf told us about the 4-H girl's convention at Ames which she attended.

TIMES DELAYED THIS WEEK BECAUSE OF MECHANICAL TROUBLE

The Times may reach you a bit late this week because of mechanical trouble in the composing department. The linotype machine developed trouble that the Times force could not cope with and a linotype machinist from Mason City was called in to get the machine adjusted and running, which delayed work in the shop a full day We hope to get back an schedule again before another week rolls around

FARMERS CULTIVATE AND MAKE HAY FOR FARMER IN HOSPITAL

Neighbors made short work of cultivating corn and beans and making hay for Jake Nannenga on Thursday and Friday, July 8 and 9.. Mr Nannenga is a patient in the hospital at Rochester, Minn and had been unable to get help for his farm work

Orris Lundy, Wayne Williams, Paul Barz, Paul Baack, Paul Goll, Fred Goll, Chester Renner and John Ball, Jr finished cultivating corn and beans.

A hay making crew appeared and made quick work of that phase of the farm work. Orris Lundy, Mike Malley, Everett Guth and Ewald Josten were all in the field cutting hay

Next the hay making crew supervised by Herman Baack and Albert Kehl went to work making hay. About half of the hay was baled by Fred Bell Others who put up hay were Orris Lundy, Wayne Williams, Chester Renner, George and Clarence Nannenga, Jennings Anderson, Mike Malley, Richard Bamman, Paul Goll, Howard Baack, Wert Loger, Ewald Josten Augusts and Calvin Josten, Everett Guth and Elmer Menders.

The ladies were on the job also and the following helped Mrs. Nannenga wih house work, care of the children and helping with the chores Mrs Elma Ball, Mrs. Fred Goll and Eunice Ball.

EMPLOY ENGINEER FOR FARM TO MARKET ROADS

T F. Matson of Clarion has been hired by the state highway commission and the Hancock county board of supervisors to do the engineering on farm to market road projects in Hancock County, according to County Engineer Charles F. Merten. Matson is to receive 8.5 per cent of the project cost for his services.

HANCOCK BOARD OK's MATERIAL CONTRACT

Hancock County supervisors approved the final report of engineer C F Merten on the material contract of the Concrete Products Corporation of Humbolt. A hearing on the report will be held at the courthouse in Garner Monday, Aug. 16, at 10 a. m. The total contract for material was $5,205 65. The district is located in Avery ownsh p near Goodell.

Will Move School House To Town For

Melvin Neuberger purchased the Tanner school house southwest of Klemme and will move the building to Klemme to remodel it into a home.

HELP YOURSELF TO A NICE COLD DRINK AT THE FOUNTAIN

Last week the Town Officials had the drinking fountain on Main Street changed so that there is now a steady flow of water going through, making the water nice and cold. Heretofore the water only ran when the valve was opened and the water was usually only luke warm. Now it is cold.

Get a drink of Klemme water, the purest in North Iowa from one of North Iowa's deepest wells, which gushes from the Jordan sand 1,500 feet down! Incidently, the Jordan sand is as white as the finest sugar.

ANNUAL KOERNER REUNION HELD AT STATE PARK SUNDAY

The fourteenth annual Koerner reunion and dinner was held at the State Park, Clear Lake, Sunday One hundred relatives gathered from five states, those coming the farthest distance came from Moscow, Idaho; Watertown, South Dakota; Chicago, Illinois and Munnsville, New York Iowa towns represented were Mason City, Rudd, Charles City, Rockford, Meservey, Goodell, Des Moines, Fort Dodge, Garner and Klemme

Those present from Klemme were Mr and Mrs A G. Koerner, Kermit Koerner, Mr and Mrs. Gerald Koerner, Terry and Kathleen, Mrs Lee Ridder, Roger, Marlee and Dennis, Mr and Mrs Glen Bridges, Sharon, Berleen, Gaylon, Collyn and Vickie, Mr and Mrs. Orville Stokesbary, Janice, Jerry, and Julie, Mrs Emilie Arnold, Miss Minnie Lenz, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Gibbs and Isabelle; Mr and Mrs. Ronald Gibbs and Ronna, Mr and Mrs Lester Stille, Ruth and Lois; Wm Stille and J E. Stille Marjorie Lau and Janice Swanson were guests

A business meeting was held and Lester Stille was re-elected program and style review given der was re-elected secretary and treasurer for the next year Mrs Elvira Anderson was elected to succeed Mrs J E. Stille as genealogist

The afternoon was most pleasantly spent visiting while the young people enjoyed swimming The group will meet again the third Sunday in July at the same place next year

ROAD CONTRACTS LET IN HANCOCK

Supervisors Concur In Awards By State

Three contractors have been awarded farm to market road projects in Hancock County by the state highway commission, according to a report from the office of the county engineer Hancock county supervisors have concurred in the awarding of the contracts and some of the contractors have already started work on their contracts

Herman Buns & Sons of Woden were awarded a contract near Woden in the sum of $20,952.62 Clair Nelson of Belmond received a contract for farm to market work near Klemme in the sum of $22,125.45 and Gus Ostermann & Son of Ocheyedan were awarded a contract for farm to market roads near Hayfield in the sum of $30,727 12. Ostermann & Son are at present building the state highway from Crystal Lake to Britt

Hope To Control Borers Spraying By Airplanes Here

LARGE CROWD ATTENDED ANNUAL MEETING OF COOP. GRAIN CO.

There was a large crowd present at the annual meeting of the Klemme Cooperative Grain Co at the Community Hall last Friday evening The hall was pretty well filled and all seats were taken

A fine entertainmnt put on by a group of folks from station WHO of Des Moines was greatly enjoyed. A speaker from the Iowa Grain Dealers gave out some pertinent facts after which the regular business meeting was taken up.

Dwight Helps was elected a director to take the place of Fred Klinge, and E. J Arnold was re-elected as director A report of the past year's business was given and everyone present was given a copy of the report In all, it was one of the best annual meetings held for several years A light lunch was enjoyed after the meeting

The Board of Directors will meet at an early date to name their officers

C TO TOMATO JUICE

A simple way to make home-canned tomato juice equal in vitamin C, value to orange juice is to add ascorbic acid tablets or powder to the jar in canning, the Maine Experiment station suggests The Specialists added 150 mg of vitamin C in tablet form to each pint jar and found that the vitamin was well retained even after the jars had been stored for six months Measure for measure, plain canned tomato juice offers a little more than a third as much vitamin C as canned orange juice Fresh orange juice averages, slightly more C than canned

The addition of vitamin C was not found to affect either the color or flavor of home-canned tomatoes in recent U S Department of Agriculture tests

Brother-In-Law Buried In South Dakota Last Thursday

Mr and Mrs Howard Baack received word of the death last Thursday of Chris Nelson, a brother-in-law of Cushing, Minn Burial was at Vermillion, South Dakota on Sunday afternoon Mrs Nelson was the former Miss Norma Schubert, sister of Mrs Baack

MANY FIELDS SPRAYED FOR CORN BORERS BY PLANES LAST WEEK

Quite a large number of fields of corn around Klemme were spraying with a strong solution of DDT by airplanes last week

The spraying operations attracted a lot of people who were thrilled to see the flyers spraying the fields The pilots sent their planes zooming across the fields, just a few feet above the corn tops. The pull-out at the ends looked thrilling as often the pilots had to make a steep pull-up in order to clear high lines and telephone lines. This is dangereus flying and there have been several crack-ups in the state.

Some fields are badly infested with corn borers and some fields nearly every stalk shows evidence of the borer. It is not known just how effective the spraying will be. The cost of spraying by plane is $3.00 per acre Many farmers are taking the chance of getting that much or more per acre if the spray proves even partly successful.

BOOST SOLDIER BUDGET NEEDS

The Hancock County soldier's relief committee met at the courthouse and filed its 1948 budget with the board of supervisors

Proposed expenditures for 1949 were listed at $15,000 and mount necessary to be levied $10,000

Expenditures for relief of veterans and their families is steadily increasing, according to membrs of the commission and it was necessary to increase the 1949 budget $5,000 over 1948

THIRTY-NINE FROM KLEMME TO DE-TASSEL HYBRID CORN FIELDS

Thirty nine women, boys and girls, started wor this Wednesday morning de-tasseling hybrid corn for the Thompson Hybrid Seed Corn Co. at Belmond. The Company has over 2,000 acres of seed corn in their fields The de-tasselers will work for about three weeks.

JOLLY WORKERS CLUB HOLDS PICNIC

The Jolly Workers Club of Avery Township held a picnic in Klemme Park Sunday Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Vidgil Waddingham and family; Mrs. Louise Waddingham; Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Gruis and family, Mr and Mrs. Walter Blumer and family; Mr. and Mrs Clarence Bachman and family, Mr and Mrs. Albert Ausborn and family; Mr and Mrs. Clarence Trampel and family; Mr and Mrs. Glen Schlichting and Wayne; Wemkie Cavitt and Robert, Mr and Mrs. Art Conners; Mr and Mrs. Harlow Helps and family, Mr. and Mrs. Verner Nelson; Mr. and Mrs. Herb Marshall and Irene; Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Pearson and Verlinda; Mr. and Mrs. Carl Pearson Herbert and Lydia; Mr. and Mrs. Paul Kramer and family.

Guests were Nellie Sherwood, Ruth Smith and Delores Thieman and Clarence Glaser from Klemme, and Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Matherson and Stevie from McAllen Texas.

The ladies served a delicious meal and ice cream was furnished by the club.

The men spent the afternoon visiting and watched the younger boys play ball. A cheery letter was written to Luella Boelman congratulating her on her twin boys born July 12th.

All agreed such a nice time was had by all, and they plan to make the picnic an annual affair.

Stille-Reinig Vows Are Exchanged At St. Boniface

ROSE ANN REINIG, GARNER, BRIDE OF HARLAN STILLE, OF KLEMME

Rose Ann Reinig, daughter of Mrs Pauline Reinig of Garner, became the bride of Harlan Stille, son of Mr and Mrs. Quintin Stille of Klemme in a double ring ceremony Monday, July 19, at the St. Boniface Catholic Church at Garner with the Rev. Father Manternach officiating.

The bride was given in marriage by her uncle and God father, Roy Doughan of Britt. She was attended by Miss Shirley Stille, sister of the bridegroom The bridegroom was attended by Kenneth Reinig, the brother of the bride and the ushers were Allan Doughan and Ronald Yegge, cousins of the bride. Mary Sheets was the flower girl and Douglas Jones, cousin of the bridegroom was the ring bearer.

The bride wore a white satin gown with sweetheart neckline, fitted bodice and long train The finger-tip veil was edged with lace and a crown of pearls. Her bouquet was of pink and white carnations. She wore a strand of pearls, a gift of the bridegroom.

Miss Stille wore a gown of pale blue Jersey and net and carried a bouquet of pink carnations.

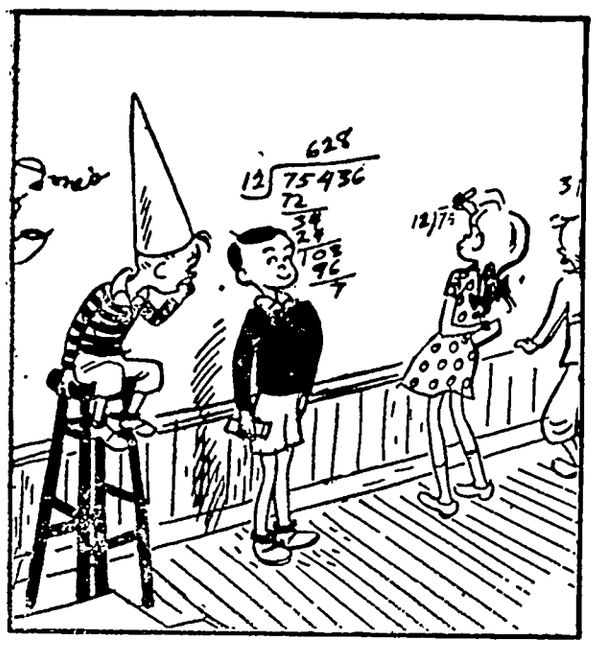
After the ceremony a reception was held in the parlors of the church with 125 present. The decorations were pink and white and the bride's table was centered with a large wedding cake.

Mary Tyler, cousin of the bridegroom and Miss Formanek played the piano during the reception Kenneth Reinig sang, "Because" and "I Love You Truly."

The waitresses, close friends of the bride, were Darlene Lemke, Reta McCormick, Vivian Hull and Rose Mary Jorgensen Mrs. Chuck Wismer was in charge of the guest book and Betty Schoneman took charge of the gifts.

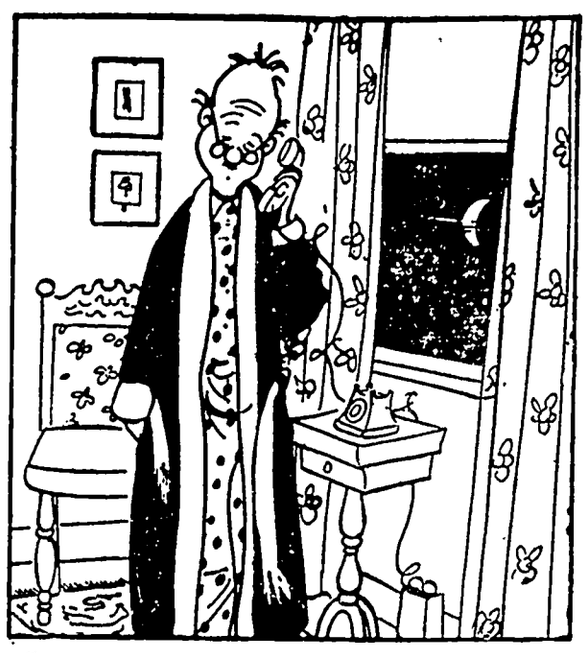
The bride is a graduae of the Garner High School in the class of 1947 The groom attended the Klemme High School and is employed by the Central Iowa Telephone Co. at Emmetsburg. After a short wedding trip they will be at home in Emmetsburg.

Cross Town



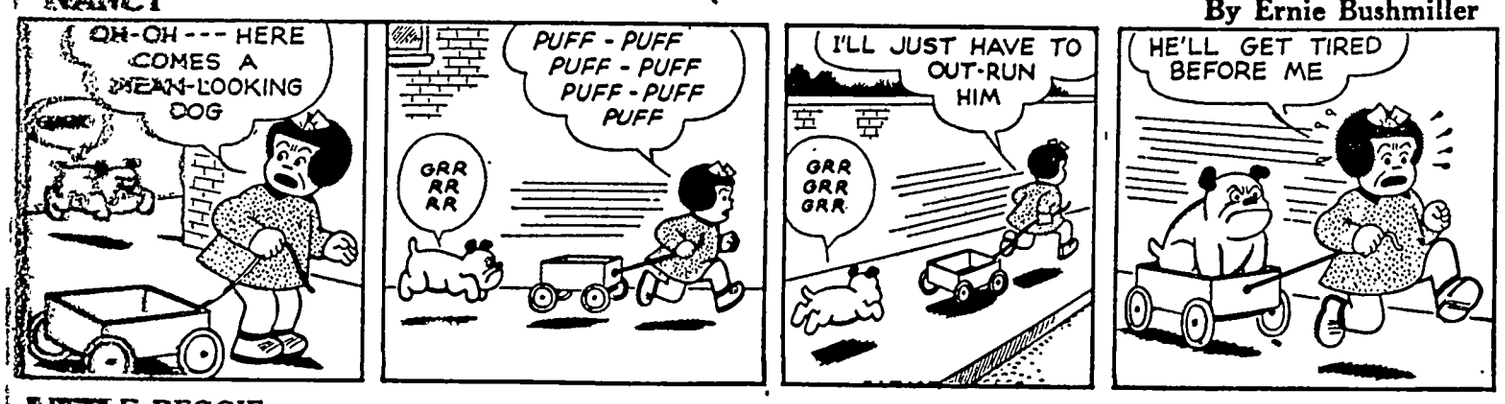
Bobby Sox

by Mary Links



NANCY

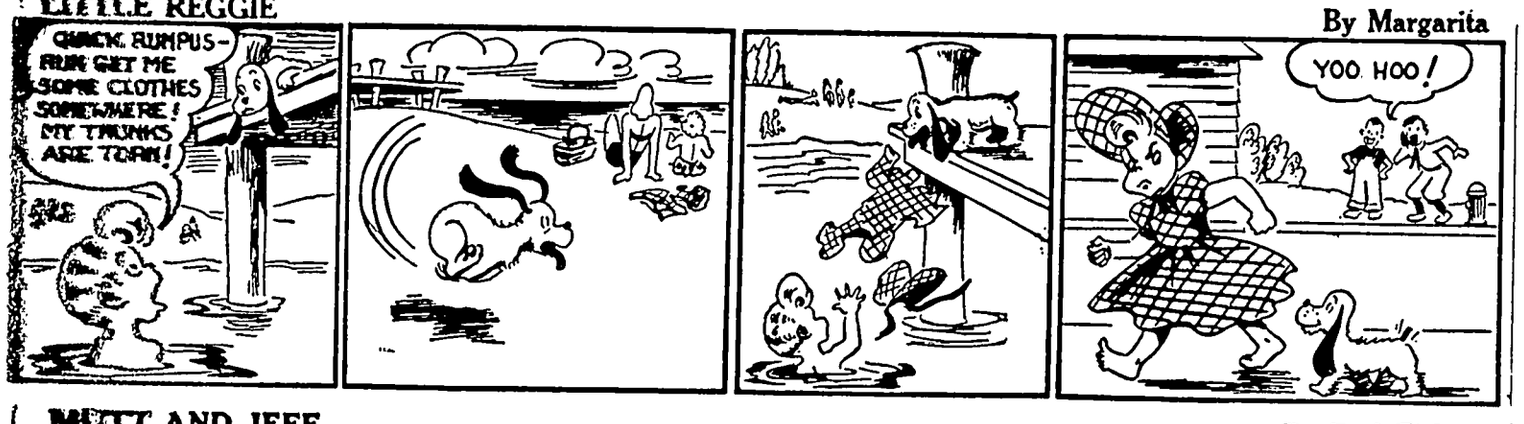
By Ernie Bushmiller



OH-OH --- HERE COMES A MEAN-LOOKING DOG
PUFF - PUFF PUFF - PUFF PUFF - PUFF PUFF
GRR RR RR
I'LL JUST HAVE TO OUT-RUN HIM
GRR GRR GRR
HE'LL GET TIRED BEFORE ME

LITTLE REGGIE

By Margarita



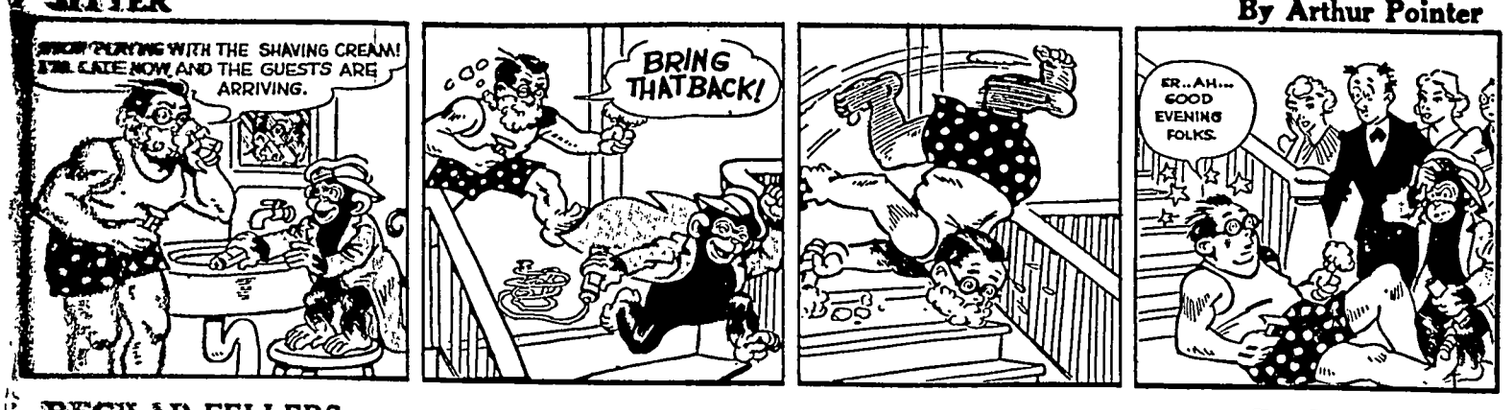
MUTT AND JEFF

By Bud Fisher

MUTT, CAN I BORROW YOUR OLD WATER WINGS THAT YOU USE FOR SWIMMING?
SURE! THEY'RE IN MY BOTTOM DRAWER!
CLUCK! CLUCK! CLUCK! KWA-A ACK-
WHAT ARE YOU DOIN'?
OH, I'M JUST EXPERIMENTING-
I'M TEACHING CHICKENS TO SWIM IN HOT WATER SO THEY'LL LAY HARD-BOILED EGGS!
CLUCK CLUCK

JITTER

By Arthur Pointer



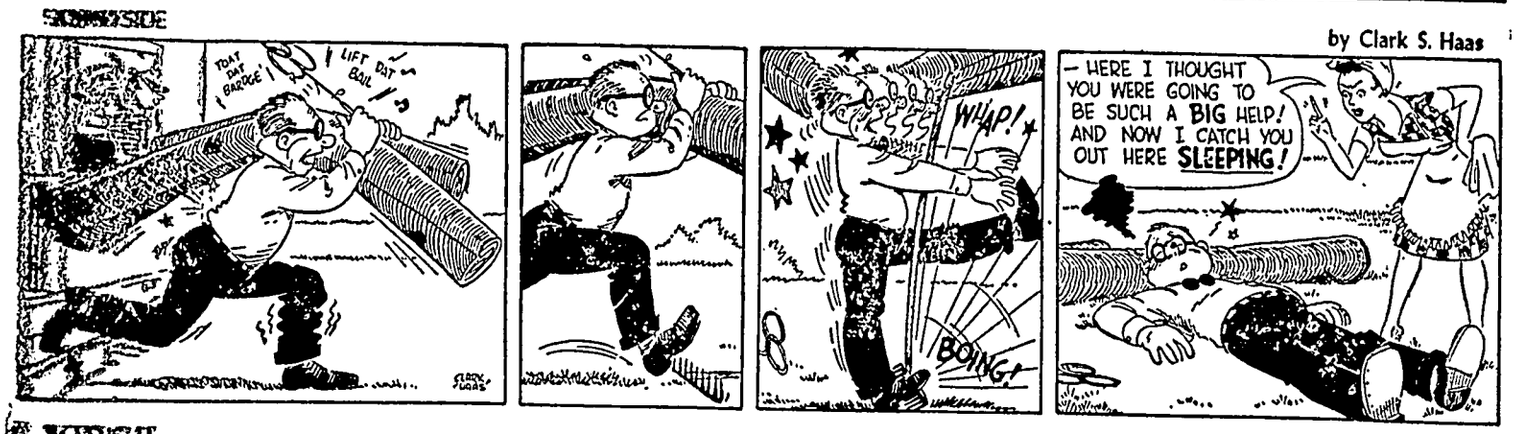
REG'LAR FELLERS

By Gene Byrnes

WHY SHOULD I WORK LIKE THIS FOR HAFFA BUCK AN' HOUR? I THOUGHT I WAS SMART!
YESSIR, BOY -- FINISH THIS JOB AND I PAY YOU THIRTY-FIVE CENTS A HOUR OUTA MY POCKET!
GOSH! TH' JACKPOT!
LATER TO BE EXACT, THAT EVENING
COURST I HAVEN'T FINISHED -- I'M IN NO HURRY AN' ALREADY I'VE EARNED A DOLLAR FIVE!

SCHNOZZLE

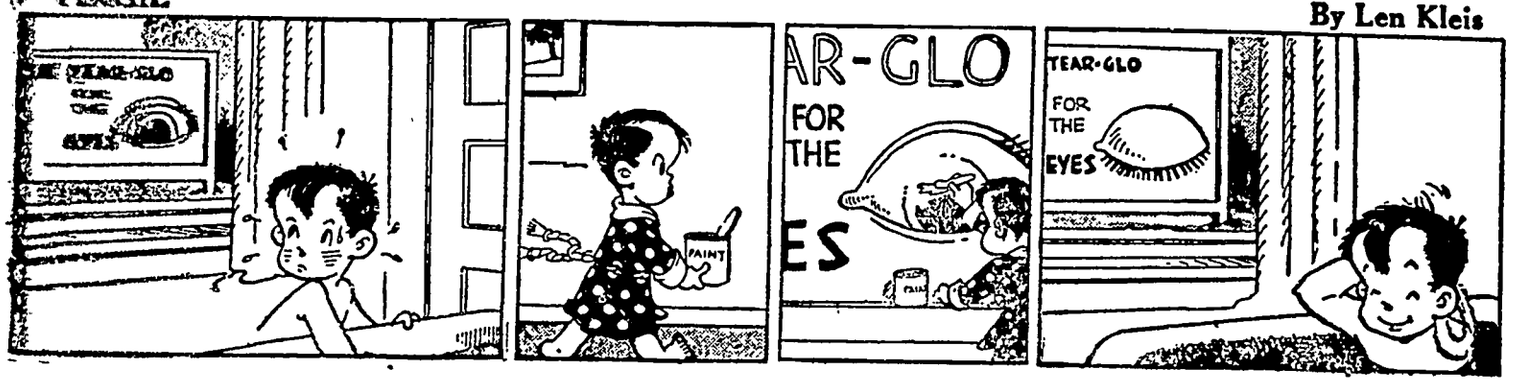
by Clark S. Haas



TOAT DAT BARUCE
LIFT DAT BAIL
WHAP!
BOING!
— HERE I THOUGHT YOU WERE GOING TO BE SUCH A BIG HELP! AND NOW I CATCH YOU OUT HERE SLEEPING!

VERGIL

By Len Kleis



The Once Over by H.I. Phillips

NEW STAMP DESIGN

"President Signs Bill for Stamp Honoring Poultry Industry."—News item.

Postmaster General—Well we have to get out another stamp.

Designer—What do we honor this time, the discovery of gold, the inventor of the walkie-talkie or the discoverer of lipstick?

P. G.—The hen.

Designer—Hen Wallace?

P. G.—No; the other egg layer.

Designer—What has it done now?

P. G.—I guess it's a matter of recognition of past performances. The hen has been around a long time and always done its best.

— • —

Designer—Do you want her on a postage stamp settin', layin' or roostin'?

P. G.—That's for discussion. How about her with a brood of chicks?

Designer—Is there room on a three-cent stamp?

P. G.—There is on the kind we are turning out these days.

— • —

Designer—If we are going to honor a hen, how about working in an egg?

P. G.—Hard-boiled or soft?

Designer—Possibly a festoon of omelettes for a border.

P. G.—We mustn't emphasize the food angle, especially at present levels of chickens and eggs. I think we should limit the design to the chicken alone.

— • —

Designer—Now the question of what kind of chicken arises. What would you say to southern fried?

P. G.—With waffles?

Designer—I'm asking about a stamp, not taking a dinner order.

P. G.—My mistake. Cancel the southern fried. We don't want to have another war between the North and South all over a three-cent stamp.

— • —

Designer — Hmm. Did congress specify any particular breed of hen?

P. G.—I hear the Republicans were for the white Leghorns, but the Democrats favored the buff Cochin. In committee conference they finally compromised on a hen combining the best features of each, with a touch of Plymouth Rock to please New England.

— • —

Designer—Very well. I'll get busy and submit some designs.

P. G.—How will I know when you have accomplished something?

Designer—I'll cluck.

• • •

An Editor's Diary

Rufe Goggins, Buckport, Me., hotel man, while cleaning up the garret, ran across some observations of a newspaper editor back in 1877:

Been asked to have a drink . . . 11,392

Accepted . . . 11,392

Requested to retract statement . . . 416

Ignored request . . . 416

Invited to parties by people expecting puffs . . . 3,333

Took the hint . . . 33

Threatened with horsewhipping . . . 48,000

Been whipped . . . 0

Whipped the other feller . . . 4

Gave to charity . . . $5

Gave for a terrier dog . . . $25

Cash on hand after years in newspaper business . . . $1.

• • •

Henry Wallace and Glen Taylor will be nominated in Philadelphia and make their acceptance speeches in the ball park there. From the "bull" pen?

— • —

The office Tory says that Hank and Glen will accept in a baseball field in order that they may get the feel of being left on bases.

• • •

"Havana.—Two were killed and four wounded as two high school groups shot it out in front of the Havana institute today. The shooting began when one group of teenage students emerged simultaneously."—News item.

— • —

So they get "Inner Sanctum" down there, too, eh?

• • •

Joseph J. Koenig, a 41-year-old manufacturer, has completed a college course with high honors and will return for a diploma from the graduate school. He says he entered college as a diversion. But it is just possible that as a businessman suffering the harassments of today all problems put up to him by college professors seemed infinitesimal.

• • •

We can't understand the labor troubles at the Oak Ridge atomic plant. That would seem to me to be one place where money would seem the last thing to worry over.

• • •

Sometimes we get the feeling that if anybody anywhere these days would cease firing it would be a big help.

• • •

The list of Reds cracked down on under the Mundt bill will be known as the Book of the Mundt.

Flattering Afternoon Style Complete Wardrobe for Tots

Afternoon Style

A beautifully fitting afternoon style to flatter the slightly larger figure. Soft scallops make a pretty trim, sleeves are nicely shaped, a partial belt ties in back.

Pattern No. 8292 is for sizes 36, 38, 40, 42, 44, 46, 48, 50 and 52. Size 38, 5 yards of 39-inch.

Send an extra twenty five cents for a copy of the Spring and Summer FASHION—52 pages of easily made styles for a smart summer wardrobe. Free pattern printed inside the book.

SEWING CIRCLE PATTERN DEPT.
530 South Wells St. Chicago 7, Ill.
Enclose 25 cents in coins for each pattern desired.
Pattern No. _____ Size _____
Name _____
Address _____

Tots Sunsuit

For the tinest family m a complete little wardrob such fun to sew. The cut made sunsuit is suitable for boy or girl. This outfit is gift for a new mother.

• • •

Pattern No. 8180 comes i months, 1, 2 and 3 years. dress, 1¼ yards of 39-inch; ⅞ yard; slip and panties, 1

ASK ME ANOTHER ?

A General Quiz

The Questions

1. Who was the first Roman emperor to protect Christians and become one of them?
2. What is the method of enameling metal or porcelain called?
3. A farmer signed the Declaration of Independence. Who was he?
4. When the Rubicon is mentioned, you think of what?
5. How was Mary, queen of Scots, dressed when she went to the scaffold for execution?
6. When a cat's eyes become slits in a strong light, which way do the slits extend, vertically or horizontally?
7. How many departments of government were represented in Washington's cabinet?

The Answers

1. Constantine (the Great).
2. Cloisonne.
3. John Hart (New Jersey).
4. A river.
5. In brilliant scarlet.
6. Vertically.
7. Five: state, treasury, war, post office and judicial.

Deer Hunting in Wisconsin

One hundred years ago Wisconsin had an all-year deer season. In 1851 the legislature restricted this privilege by creating a limited season beginning July 1 and ending February 1. From then on deer hunting seasons were established annually, with the exception of six years of no deer hunting. Almost all of the thousands of deer taken during these many hunting seasons were by rifle and shotgun hunters. The bow and arrow had no place in the equipment of the deer hunter until recent years. Twenty years ago there was no bow hunting in Wisconsin.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS

Here's a good treatme scorched linen. Rub the flat a raw onion on the discolore then soak in cold water for hours.

—•—

Remove wrappers from soon as you get it home so will get at it while it's stored soap lasts longer than does soap.

—•—

Water potted plants with water to stimulate growth avoid shock.

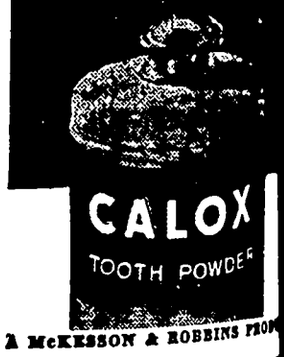
—•—

When your silver polish d you can usually remedy it water slowly.

—•—

Revive putty that's gott and hard by mixing it well few drops of linseed oil.

38% BRIGHTER TEETH in 7 days!



A McKESSON & ROBBINS PROD

Now Available

KOYKER THE ONLY ONE MAN PORTABLE ELEVATOR

Handles SMALL GRAIN, EAR CORN, Feed, etc., from 1200 to 3000 bu. per Hr. One man maneuverability. Steel construction. Elevates to 18'. Spring mounted—like your auto. Two 6:00 x 16 tires, for rapid transit.

AMAZING NEW TILTING HOPPER ATTACHMENT

Hopper edge only 11 inches above ground - allows for maximum dump of truck or wagon body - means 90% less scooping. Exact approach to low hopper unnecessary - save time in lining up. Attach tilting hopper in seconds.

Convert to labor saving, Low Cost, DRAG FEEDERS!

For free plans for feeder use and full information on this outstanding elevator equipment, mail handy coupon.

INSTALL CHUTE for DRAG FEEDER BEFORE HARVEST!

DEALER FRANCHISES STILL OPEN IN SOME LOCALITIES WRITE FOR FULL INFORMATION

KOOIKER MFG CO HULL IOWA

KOOIKER MFG. CO. DEPT. WN72 HULL, IOWA
Send free plans for Drag Feeder use, details about Kayker Elevator
NAME _____
ADDRESS _____
CITY _____ STATE _____

Entertain Simply but Attractively
(See recipes below)

LYNN CHAMBERS' MENU
Broiled Trout
Lemon-Butter Sauce
Parsleyed New Potatoes
Fresh Asparagus
Cole Slaw on Tomato Slice
Cracked Wheat Bread Butter
*Chocolate Icebox Cake
Beverage
*Recipe Given

mmer Parties

U PLANNING to do more here of entertaining dur- rm weather? You'll want e tips into a safe place e the refreshment prob- For here are party des- dwiches, cooling thirst- and cookies that are its with whatever crowd o serve.

rties easy on yourself, by advance, and thus keep- f cool and collected at an hour before guests

* * *

DAL or baby showers, ple commencement party plate of sandwiches and am beverage are perfect u'll like these:

Chocolate Mix
(Makes 1 Pint)

es unsweetened choc-
e water sugar
oon salt
heavy cream, whipped

chocolate and water in and cook until thick. Use and stir frequently. Add salt, bringing mixture to Let cool, then fold in cream. Store in covered rigerator. For a cold bev- e one to two tablespoons x to a glass of milk, beat- rotary beater. Top with ice cream and sprinkle shavings or gratings on e cream. One pint of the nough for about 32 servare entertaining elegantly ower or commencement ake sandwich filling tuna fish or crabmeat and and serve in cream puffs between bread. Everyone this clever and different ere's the way to make the

Cream Puffs
1 dozen large or 4 dozen small puffs) shortening
spoon salt boiling water
sifted flour
, unbeaten

ortening and salt to boil- r and heat to boiling. Re- , add flour all at once and rously until mixture forms around the spoon, leaving clean.

e from heat. Add one egg , beating five minutes aft- addition. Continue beat- mixture is thick and shiny ks from the spoon.

on an ungreased cookie ing one teaspoon or one on, depending upon the size (The smaller size is pre- if you are using the puffs wiches.) Bake in a very hot ree) oven for 20 minutes. beat to moderate (350 de- and bake 15 to 20 minutes Cool. Split and fill.

* * *

KIES AND BEVERAGE delightful but even simpler refreshment:

Butterscotch Bars
sifted flour
spoon baking powder
spoon salt
shortening
brown sugar spoon vanilla
milk
oatmeal nutmeats

SAYS:

ou Putting Salads With Success?

people will eat salads when re properly prepared. Check these tips to improve your making.

fish, fruit and vegetables arinated, that is soaked in ng, before mixing with other ients and serving to increase tang and flavor. When mar- g is called for in a recipe, let marinate for an hour or so.

Sift together flour, baking powder and salt. Add shortening, sugar, vanilla and half the milk. Beat until smooth. Fold in remaining ingredients. Spread into an eight-inch square pan, greased, and bake in a moderate (350 degree) oven 25 to 30 minutes. Cut into bars while warm. Cool and dust with powdered sugar.

* * *

A CHOCOLATE DESSERT with a cool or iced beverage makes a perfect choice for refreshment, and either of these may be made ahead of time to save last minute work.

Chocolate Angel Pie
(Serves 6-8)

2 egg whites
1/8 teaspoon salt
1/8 teaspoon cream of tartar
1/2 cup granulated sugar
1/2 cup finely chopped nutmeats
1/2 teaspoon vanilla
1/4 pound sweet chocolate
3 tablespoons water
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 cup cream, whipped

Beat egg whites until foamy; add salt and cream of tartar and continue beating until the mixture will stand in soft peaks.

Add sugar gradually and continue beating until the mixture is very stiff. Fold in nuts and one-half teaspoon vanilla. Turn into a lightly greased pie pan and make a nest-like shell, building sides to one-half inch above the edge of the pan. Bake in a slow (300 degree) oven 50 to 55 minutes. Cool.

Place chocolate and water in a saucepan over low heat. Stir until the chocolate is melted. Cool until thickened. Then add one teaspoon vanilla and fold into whipped cream. Turn into meringue shell. Chill two hours before serving.

Chocolate Icebox Cake
(Serves 8)

1 teaspoon minute gelatine
2 tablespoons sugar
Dash of salt
1/3 cup water
1/4 or 1/2 pound sweet chocolate
2 egg yolks, slightly beaten
1 teaspoon vanilla
2 egg whites, stiffly beaten
1/2 cup cream, whipped
1 1/2 dozen (36 split) ladyfingers

Combine gelatine, sugar, salt in top of double boiler. Add water and chocolate. Place over low heat and cook until chocolate is melted and the gelatin dissolved, stirring constantly, about three to five minutes. Remove from heat and add egg yolks gradually beating until well blended.

Place over boiling water and cook two minutes, stirring constantly. Add vanilla. Cool. Fold into egg whites. Chill. Then fold in whipped cream and nuts.

Line bottom and sides of a one quart mold with waxed paper. Arrange ladyfingers on bottom and sides of mold. Pour in half of the chocolate mixture. Cover with lady fingers. Then add remaining chocolate mixture and top with ladyfingers. Chill 8 to 12 hours in refrigerator. Unmold. Garnish with additional whipped cream.

Released by WNU Features

Plan to have all ingredients in the refrigerator a minimum of two hours before making the salad. A good way is to wash fruit, vegetables and lettuce when you buy or bring them in from the garden. Then they will be ready for use at any time.

The bowl and plates on which a salad is served also should be well chilled to increase palatability.

Salad dressing is tossed into a salad just before serving so the ingredients will remain crisp.

THE FICTION CORNER

CARNIVAL NIGHT

By MARY KEMPE CHEATHAM

ALL along Elm street to the old park grounds, the carnival was drawing people like a magnet. From where Ellie sat, on the top step in front of Mrs. Blodgett's boarding house, she could see them hurrying along in groups and couples, laughing and chatting, their merriment floating back to her on the early summer air. Cars whizzed by, carrying others, till it seemed the entire population of the little town was rushing in one direction. All, that is, except Ellie—and possibly Mrs. Blodgett, who, now that the supper work was over, sat contentedly in the kitchen, resting her feet.

There was nothing in the world like carnival music, reflected Ellie, leaning her head wistfully against the porch rail. The nostalgic ripple of tunes, half sad, came to her on sudden bursts of breeze, cutting into her heart with the sharpness of pain. She closed her eyes to shut out the sight of the couples—always the couples, passing through the early dusk, smiling into each other's eyes, murmuring words of which only the tone need be heard.

Carnivals are for couples, she thought. No, for children, too; for families, even for old people, visiting their neighbors and winning lamps and blankets. But not for someone alone. Never for someone alone. You could walk through the crowded grounds under the blaze of lights, caught in the blare of melody, and become the loneliest person in all the world. She had been doing fine till the carnival came to Greyville. Why, she thought, oh, why, did the carnival have to come?

She opened her eyes, at a soft touch on her knee, and saw Patty Brown, a little neighbor girl, sitting on the step below her.

"Gee," sighed Patty, on a long, mournful breath. "Isn't it LONESOME?"

Ellie smiled. "For you, too?" she asked.

Patty nodded, hard, "Yes," she said soberly. "Everybody's gone to the carnival but us. I guess you and me, and Miz Blodgett and my Grandma, we're about the only ones in town that didn't go. Miz Blodgett, she never goes anywhere, anyway, and neither does Grandma since my Grandpa died. My Grandpa was swell! He always took me to carnivals." She shook her head in rapturous recollection.

"You live with your grandmother?" Ellie asked. She felt suddenly ashamed of how little she knew the neighbors. She had been boarding at Mrs. Blodgett's several months, since first she came to Greyville to work in its dress factory and to work even harder at the serious business of forgetting Bruce.

"Ever since I remember," answered Patty. "My Grandpa loved carnivals like I do. Grandma was always scoldin' him about it, but he'd take me every night and we'd go on the rides and buy cotton candy. My," she breathed, "I sure miss Grandpa."

Ellie studied the serious small face, framed by the smooth brown pigtails. Here too was someone adjusting to a loss, and she had not even taken the trouble to find it out. She had seen Patty often enough, running errands for Mrs. Blodgett and playing hopscotch or jacks on the wide front sidewalk, but she had been too absorbed in her own affairs to ask about the child. How selfish people are, thought Ellie.

"Patty," she asked humbly, "would you like to go to the carnival with me?"

"Yipes!" uttered the little girl, almost toppling off the step backward. "Would I!"

"Be careful!" cried Ellie, thrusting an arm about the little shoulders. She laughed in spite of herself to see the change in the young face. There was nothing serious about it now. It was afire with the dazzle of carnival lights themselves.

"I'll go ask Grandma," shouted Patty, bounding across the lawn. "I'll be right back."

"Bring a wrap," called Ellie after the swinging pigtails, "It may be cool on the rides." She went inside for her own light coat and to go over her makeup at the dresser. Her face in the mirror was smooth and quiet, showing only in pallor the turmoil of the empty months. It was still quite a good face, the eyes a wide, deep blue, the hair a dusky cloud, brushed back from a widow's peak at the forehead. With lipstick and rouge and a deliberate turning up of the lips at the corners, it was even an animated face. By concentrating on Patty, Ellie found she could keep the lips curved upward. She would forget all other carnivals.

"Oh, my goodness," complimented Patty. "You look beautiful!"

Ellie laughed. She tucked the child's hand under her arm and they started for the park grounds. The groups were dwindling now. As Patty had said, most everybody was already there.

"It's funny you haven't got a boy friend," Patty mused. "Pretty as you are."

"I used to have one," Ellie obliged, out of a long silence. "His name was Bruce."

Patty considered gravely, but asked no more questions.

"Oh, look!" thrilled Patty. "There it is. Please, please, let's go on everything!"

"Most everything," Ellie amended, "not the really rough rides. But the others."

She held tight the warm, squirming hand in her own, to fortify herself for the first glimpse of the sprawling tents. "You have to get over this, Ellie, my girl," she told herself, gulping down the lump in her throat. "Tonight's as good a time as any."

It was like all carnivals before, without the magic. No, she decided, looking at Patty's happy face, it is I who am without the magic.

The barkers called from their concessions, drawing the crowds with imperative cries. Girls passed, carrying feathered kewpies, spangled whips, bright birds and monkeys on sticks. There was a blend of hotdog and hamburger odors, coffee aroma, the roasting fragrance of peanuts and popcorn. Everywhere were people, eating ice-cream sandwiches, drinking pink lemonade from sweaty glasses.

Patty, high on the merry-go-round, clung lovingly to her horse's bridle and waved to Ellie every time she passed.

"That was fun," she beamed, finished at last, running to Ellie for new adventure. They joined hands and started over the grounds.

"Who's your girl friend, Sis?" asked a man's voice.

Instantly guarded and alert, Ellie turned to look. She gazed warily, straight into two gray eyes. So gray, she thought. I'll always be a push-over for gray eyes. He was not a dressed up young man, but he looked nice with his soft shirt open at the neck, showing his tanned throat. His face was tanned too, right up to his straight black hair.

"Mr. Kenyon already knows you haven't got a boy friend," soothed Patty. "I told him when he asked this afternoon."

"Oh," said Patty, startled. "She's Ellie. She lives at Miz Blodgett's."

"Yes," agreed the man. "Remember, you told me that this afternoon when I got your ball out of the street."

"Uh-huh, I remember," said Patty. "He's Mr. Kenyon," she told Ellie, "the man that was riding around in the loudspeaker car. He told me his name today."

"Fun and frolic for all," mimicked the young man, using his hands for a megaphone, "that's me."

"Since Ellie hasn't a boy friend," Patty suggested, "maybe you'd like to take us on the ferris wheel?"

Ellie's chill expression warmed to a flush. "Pat!" she exclaimed.

"Mr. Kenyon already knows you haven't got a boy friend," soothed Patty. "I told him when he asked this afternoon."

"Pat!" protested Ellie again, feebly.

"She used to have one," Pat continued helpfully, "but not any more."

"I used to have a girl friend too," offered Mr. Kenyon. "I know how it is. I'd like to take you on the ferris wheel. Take over for a few minutes, will you, Mike?" he called to a man at the shooting gallery.

Helplessly, Ellie found herself engineered along.

"So you were asking about me," she managed at last.

"Yes," he answered. "In a little place like this, who wouldn't be? You're an attractive girl, you know. This is a nice town too."

"What ever happened to her?" asked Patty, "the girl friend you haven't got any more?"

"She didn't like my job," replied Mr. Kenyon. "She said she couldn't see any future in it, but it was the only work I knew."

"Huh!" snorted Pat, "She must have been silly!"

"Oh, no," said Mr. Kenyon, "but she made me mad and we had a quarrel. I told her there was another girl who would like it fine. There wasn't, of course, but my real girl thought so."

"Pat's right," agreed Ellie. "She was very foolish. There's no more future to anything, than love."

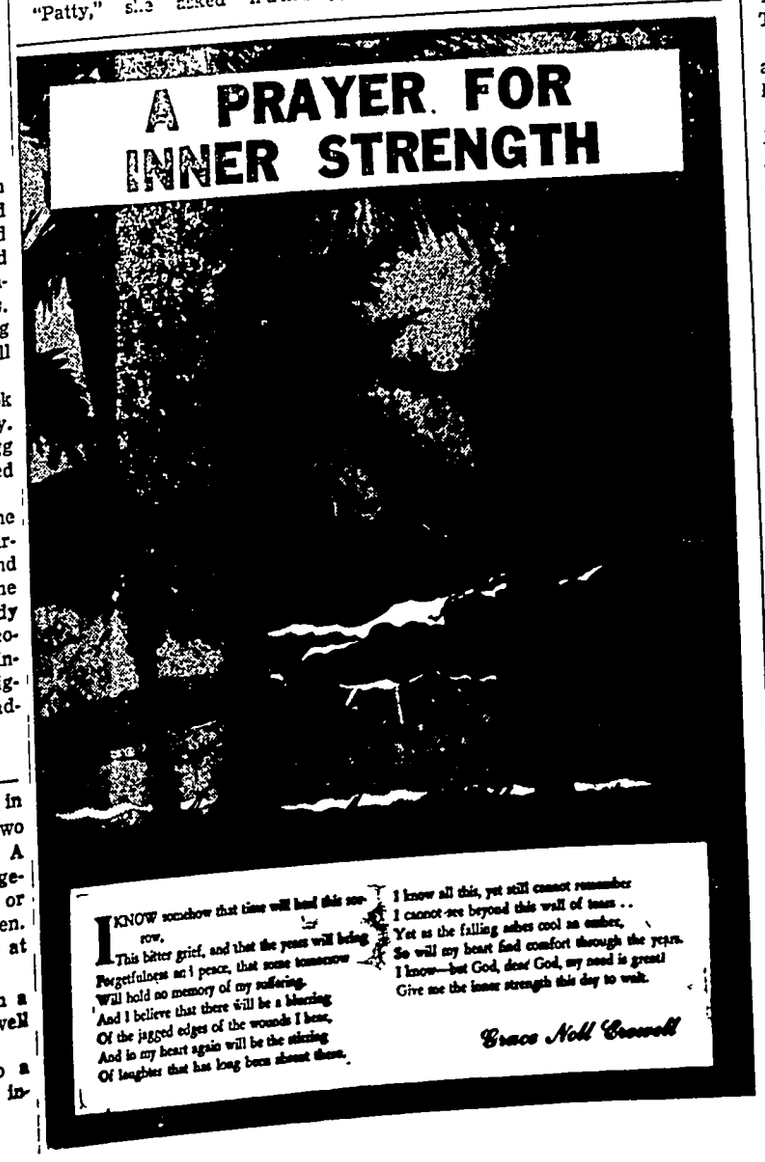
They walked up the ramp and the carnival man fastened all three into a seat, with Patty in the middle. The wheel started its wonderful backward swoop, taking them up, up, above the tents, above the trees, above the little trailers where the carnival workers lived. The stars were close, and the people, oh, so small and far below. Ellie shut her eyes, recalling another carnival, another time. She opened them when a hand reached out to clasp her own.

"Hello, Ellie," said Mr. Kenyon softly, the gray eyes looking deep into hers.

"Hello, Bruce," whispered Ellie with a quiet smile.

His arm, to reach her, had also to encircle Patty, who seemed not to notice. They had stopped at the top now, rocking gently in the night. Patty stared over the seat edge into space.

"Oh, my," she quavered. "THIS MUST BE ALMOST HEAVEN!"



A PRAYER FOR INNER STRENGTH
I KNOW somehow that time will heal this sorrow,
This bitter grief, and that the years will bring Forgetfulness as I peace, that some tomorrow
Will hold no memory of my suffering.
And I believe that there will be a blessing
Of the jagged edges of the wounds I bear,
And in my heart again will be the singing
Of laughter that has long been absent there.
I know all this, yet still cannot remember
I cannot see beyond this wall of tears . .
Yet as the falling ashes cool an ember,
So will my heart find comfort through the years.
I know—but God, dear God, my need is great!
Give me the inner strength this day to wait.
Grace Noll Crowell

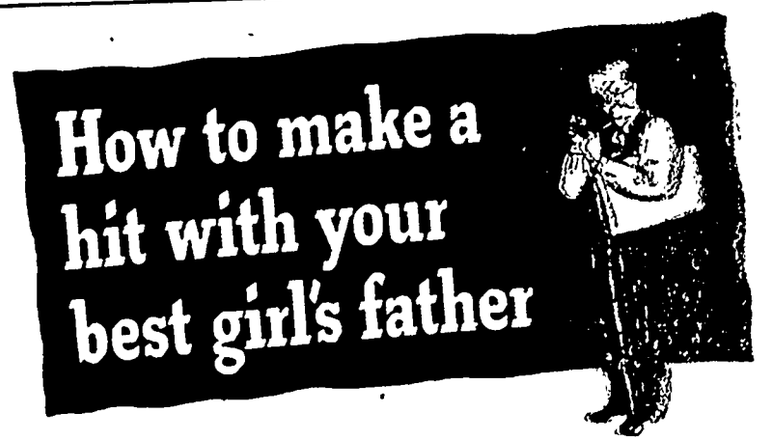
Keeping Bees

Persons who are planning to go into beekeeping should consider first their personal reaction to stings, relations with the neighbors and suitability of their locality. In the early days bees were kept to supply the only natural sweet available, but they were also kept by some for observation, for the interest in their life and habits. Beekeeping is interesting, independent work, which may be practiced with supplementary agriculture or some other occupation. It is also a fascinating hobby.

Buy U. S. Savings Bonds!

Fresher—so...Tastier, Crisper
Because Kellogg's Corn Flakes are so popular, they come to you fresher. Crispy-delicious!
Kellogg's
MOTHER KNOWS BEST!
Kellogg's CORN FLAKES

TAKE MARY'S ADVICE...
SAVE TIME WITH THIS NEW RED STAR RECIPE
QUICK METHOD ROLLS
2 packages Red Star Dry Yeast
½ cup warm water
¾ cup sugar
2½ teaspoons salt
1 cup lukewarm water
2 eggs, beaten
5½ cups sifted flour
4½ tablespoons shortening
Dissolve 2 packages Red Star Dry Yeast in ½ cup warm water. Let stand 2 to 3 minutes. Place ½ cup sugar, salt and 1 cup lukewarm water in a large bowl. Stir yeast solution thoroughly and add to this mixture. Add beaten eggs and half the flour, mixing well. Add melted and cooled shortening, stirring vigorously. Add remainder of the flour stirring until well mixed. Place dough on lightly floured board and knead for 3 minutes. Shape into smooth ball and place in greased bowl. Brush top lightly with shortening. Cover and let rise in warm place (not over 30 minutes. Punch dough down, then roll to ½ inch thickness. Cut the rolled dough with a 2½ inch floured biscuit cutter. Make crease through middle of each piece with floured knife handle. Brush with melted butter and fold over pocketwise. Place close together and let rise in warm place for 45 minutes. Bake in moderately hot oven (425° F.) 15 to 20 minutes. Makes 30 rolls.
COUNT ME OUT, MARY, I WON'T HAVE MY BAKING FINISHED IN TIME TO GO
IT WON'T TAKE LONG IF YOU USE RED STAR QUICK RISING DRY YEAST
DOES RED STAR REALLY SAVE TIME?
RED STAR STARTS WORKING THE INSTANT YOU ADD WARM WATER GIVES YOU TASTIER BAKED GOODS TOO
Red Star QUICK RISING Dry Yeast
KAY ROGERS SAYS: "Take Mary's advice, and learn how really delicious baked things can be. Start today with this RED STAR Quick Method recipe for rolls."
RED STAR DRY YEAST



How to make a hit with your best girl's father
Remember... you may think of your girl like this, but her dad still thinks of her like this ...and he probably thinks of you like this. So your job is to convince him you're a solid-type citizen like this. Promise to bring her home at a definite time—and do it! But if something goes wrong, be sure to phone no matter how late. Let him know your driving is careful, not like this. And that in case of flat tires you have a flashlight handy ...might as well tell him the flashlight's powered with "EVEREADY" BATTERIES—because they outlast all other brands*.....And take it easy!
*In General-Purpose 4-Ohm Intermittent Tests
THIS "EVEREADY" BATTERY OUTLASTS ALL OTHER BRANDS!
Who thought up this test that takes the guesswork out of buying flashlight batteries? The American Standards Association, no less!...And this is the test that most closely approximates the average use you give batteries in your own flashlight. Be bright tonight! Buy "Eveready"! flashlight. Be bright tonight! Buy "Eveready"!
The trade-mark "Eveready" distinguishes products of NATIONAL CARBON COMPANY, INC.
30 East 42nd Street, New York 17, N. Y.
Unit of Union Carbide and Carbon Corporation
EVEREADY
Fresh Power
BRIGHTER LIGHT
LONGER LIFE

HANCOCK COUNTY BOARD PROCEEDINGS

3RD ADJOURNED JUNE MEETING

Garner, Iowa
July 2, 1948

The Hancock County, Iowa, Board of Supervisors met in session on the above captioned date pursuant to adjournment with John Chambers, George Th Gerdes and F J Schoun, present.

The minutes of the last meeting were read and approved as read

On motion and second Improvement Certificate No. 2 on D. D. No. 144 for Ellsworth College is approved

On motion and second the quarterly reports of Fern Peck Katter, County Recorder and of Maynard Schoneman, County Auditor, are approved.

Resolution approved by State Highway Commission for grading, draining and paving a 20' strip on East main to east Corporation line in Klemme, Iowa.

WHEREAS, under the Federal Aid Highway Act of 1944 the Congress of the United States has authorized the appropriation of funds to assist the states and counties in the construction of a secondary system of highways, and,

WHEREAS, a certain portion of the said Federal funds will be available for such work in the State of Iowa, and,

WHEREAS, the Board of Supervisors of Hancock County wishes to secure said county any State or Federal funds that might accrue to said county's credit in the Farm to Market Road Fund

NOW THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED That the Board of Supervisors of Hancock County, Iowa, on this 10th day of May, 1948, recommends that the following projects be approved by the State highway Commission for improvement with said Farm to Market Road Funds

Item No. 1, F. A. S. Route No. 89 Grade, drain and pave a 20' strip on East main street in Klemme, Iowa, from present pavement east to east corporation line at east line of Section thirty-one, Township ninety-five north, and Range twenty-three west. Est. cost $14,000.00. Length 0.3 Mi. (1519 feet)

(s) J. A. CHAMBERS
Chairman, Board of Supervisors

I, Maynard Schoneman Auditor in and for Hancock County, Iowa, do hereby certify the above and foregoing to be a true and exact copy of a resolution passed and approved by the Board of Supervisors of Hancock County, Iowa at its meeting held on May 14, 1948.

(s) MAYNARD SHONEMAN
County Auditor

The project, or projects, herein described are hereby approved
IOWA STATE HIGHWAY COMMISSION
BY (s) SANFORD ZEIGLER
Date June 22, 1948

On motion and second the Bond of Ewing and Lake of Onawa, Iowa is approved.

On motion and second the Contract between Hancock County, Iowa and Ewing and Lake of Onawa, Iowa for Construction of D. D. No. 149, is approved

On motion and second the permit of Northern Natural Gas Company of Omaha, Nebraska is approved

On motion and second the bond of Clair R. Nelson of Belmond, Iowa, is approved

On motion and second the report of Engineer C F Matson on D. D No. 139 is hereby approved.

Supervisor Schoun is appointed a committee to investigate and cause repairs to be made in D D. No. 5 Main and D D No. 80, L. No. 127, Branch 40

Supervisor Chambers is appointed a committee to investigate and cause repairs to be made in D. D. No. 58.

Supervisor Gerdes is appointed a committee to investigate and cause repairs to be made in D D No. 46-3, L. No. 6 3

On motion and second the following applications, bonds, and permits for the sale of beer are approved Garner Gun Club Walter Agnew, Falada General Store, and Katolicky Delnik Lodge.

On motion and second the following applications, bonds and permits for the sale of Cigarettes are approved Higdon's Hamburger Hut Denhart Store, Walter Agnew, Logan's Food Market, Falada General Store and Donald Butz Lunch and Station

Whereas C F Merten has to report that Concrete Products Corporation of Humbolt, Iowa, have completed their contract for material on Hancock County, Iowa, D. D. No. 145 to his entire satisfaction and there is due on said contract a final estimatae in the sum of $1187 47

BE AND IT IS THEREFORE RESOLVED by the Board of Supervisors of Hancock County, Iowa, acting for and in behalf of D D No 145 that the report of the Engineer be and the same is tentatively approved and a final hearing thereon will be held at the Courthouse in Garner, Iowa, at 10 30 A. M. on the 3rd day of August, A D., 1948 The County Auditor is hereby directed to give notice of such hearing by publication in the Klemme Times.

Whereas Wm. Henschen has to report that Joe Needles of Greenfield, Iowa has competed his labor contract on D. D. No. 147, Hancock County, Iowa, to his entire satisfaction and there is due on said contract a final estimate in the sum of $1773.84

BE AND IT IS THEREFORE RESOLVED by the Board of Supervisors, of Hancock County, Iowa, acting for and in behalf of D. D. No. 147 that the report of the Engineer be and the same is tentatively approved and a final hearing thereon, will be held at the Courthouse in Garner Iowa, at 10 o'clock, on the 3rd day of August, 1948. The County Auditor is hereby directed to give notice of such hearing by publication in the Britt News-Tribune.

In the matter of the petition of R. M. Hutson, et al, for a cleanout to grade of the open ditches of Drainage District No. 65, Hancock County, Iowa, in sections 7, 8, 9, 15, 16, 17, 20, 21, and 22 of Madison Township, Wm. Henschen having heretofore been appointed engineer to investigate and report on the necessity of said cleanout and said engineer did file his report on July 2nd A. D., which report does recommends that said cleanout be made as prayed for in the prayer of the petitioners and that the cost thereof will be less than the benefits to be derived.

BE AND IT IS THEREFORE RESOLVED by the Board of Supervisors acting for and in behaf of D. D. No. 65, Hancock County, Iowa, that the report of the engineer be and the same is hereby tentatively approved and a hearing on the report of the engineer and petition will be held at the Courthouse in Garner, Iowa on the 16th day of August, A D., 1948 at the hour of 1 30 P M The County Auditor be and he is hereby authorized and ordered to give notice of such hearing by publication in the Garner Leader and Signal, a newspaper published at Garner, Iowa, setting out the time and place of hearing, all as directed by law in Section 455 20 and 455 21, Code of Iowa, 1940, and laws amendatory thereto.

The foregoing resolution was offered and read by Supervisor Schoun, who moved its adoption, was seconded by Supervisor Gerdes, whereupon the Chairman John Chambers, placed the motion of its adoption and upon roll call the vote thereon is F J Schoun, George Th Gerdes and John Chambers, aye. Nays, none Whereupon the Chairman declared the resolution duly adopted

BE IT RESOLVED THAT THE CLAIMS hereinafter set out be allowed in amounts designated therein and the County Auditor be and he is hereby authorized and ordered to draw warrants on the several funds of Hancock County, Iowa, in payment of such claims in amounts set opposite each claim.

COUNTY WARRANTS PAID JULY 2, 1948

Carmen Goll, wk Aud Office	91 48
M L Swaney Act. P M pstg cthouse June	42.75
Marshall & Swift, cleaning mops, cthouse	2.34
Merlin Fell, painting flagpole, cthouse	20.00
Rosemary Jorgenson, ext. help, Nurse	4 36
N W Bell Tele. Co., tolls, cthouse	72.25
N W Bell Telephone Co. tele tolls ,nurse	5.81
N W Bell Telephone Co. tolls CAA	6.22
Mrs. Melvin Schlei, ext. wk treas. office	22.00
Carmen Goll, wk aud office	43.56
Roy L. McMillin June bounty	43 80
A P Courtney, painting and painting cthouse	970 00
J A Chambers, sess comm	168.50
J A Chambers, sess and comm mi	72.05
J A Chambers, sch instr exp	14 00
J A Chambers, tele tolls	19 62
F J Schoun, sess and comm mi	74 30
F J Schoun, sch of instr exp	12.10
F J Schoun, tele tolls	8.23
F J Schoun, sess comm	169.00
Geo. Th Gerdes, sesscomm	156.30
Geo. Th. Gerdes, sess and comm mi	83.20
Geo. Th Gerdes, sch instr. exp	12.00
L. M. Brower, sher exp.	109.63
Jim Cooper, dep sher exp.	70.37
N W Bell Telephone Co. tele tolls sher	8 36
Stole Barber Shop, hair cut pris.	1 00
H. B. Hopp Co., flares sher office	14.34
Dr Thos. McMahon, bld test sheriff	3.00
Blank Drug Store, film sher	44
Maurice Munson, bd and ldg, pris	18 60
Harriet Oxley R. N nurse exp.	46.50
Harriet Oxley R. N exp meeting chicage	55.50
Maxine I Paneah, supp. OAA	7.02
Daniel E. Williams heat and light jail	36.42
Matt Parrott & Sons, supp supp., rec.	38 63
Acres-Blackmar Co's supp assr-and cthouse	25.94
Burroughs, mach meint & supp	42 88
Koch Brothers, supp-aud rec	10.49
Klipto Loose Leaf Co., supp aud and treas	9 96
Farmers Co-op Society, mat cthouse	5.24
Brueckners' Drug Store, supp-cthouse	1 41
Central States Elec Co., elec. serv-cthouse	43.70
Arthur Wellemeyer, linoleum, cthouse	193 19
Woodford-Wheeler Lbr Co Caulking comp. cthouse	4 08
Coast-To-Coast, supp courthouse	2.45
Garner Electric Shop, supp cthouse	10 09
Gamble Store supp courthouse	7 14
Acme Chemical Co., supp Cthouse	34 75
Curtis G Riehm, comm on fines	150.10
Curtis G Riehm, co att'y exp	13.92
Curtis G Riehm, co Att'y mtg exp	32 00
Roy L. McMillin, Treas. sch of instr exp.	36.30
Ruth Hughes, sch instr exp	18.11
Helen Patrick, reg sch of instr	2.00
Maynard Schoneman, del ballots and elec supp	20.31
Burt J Thompson, overpayment fees	2 70
Mary Zrostlik, wk aud off	20.90
Daniel Williams, trans. fees	3 50
C L. Hartzell, trans. fees	2.00
R. E. Nesbit, unclaimed fees	51.34
L. E. Avery, unclaimed fees	54 91
John W Costello, unclaimed fees	1 60
Kanawha Reporter, bd proc and ads	68.34
R. A Jorgenson, bd proc and ads	72 63
Ray Hunsley, weed comm	219.80
Bruece Lacook, weed erad	75.00
W G. McFarland, weed erad	217 41
William Marth, weed erad	75.30
George Schutjer, weed erad	82.42
Hancock County Co-op Oil distillate	5 68
Erick Olthoff, spec police	24 50
Bob Prellp spec police	18.20
Garfield Twp. Trustees
M. J. Stupka, trustee	4 00
Harry Horecka, trustee	4.00
Lewis Urich, trustee	4.00
E. B. Nedved, clerk	4.00
E. L. McFarland, weed erad	95.04

POOR WARRANTS PAID JULY 2

Osman Chapel, funeral Chase	135 00
A. P. Courtney, labor co home	195.00
Garner Roller Mills, feed and grinding county home	43.40
Griesemer Harness Shop Clothing, co home	20 36
Ace and Bill's DX All Serv tire rep, co home	4 22
Garner Electric Shop, mdse county home	4 00
F. J. Falada, mdse and rep county home	28.55
Francis Falada, trucking county home	4 12
Frank Falada, groc. co home	14.50
Farmers Co-op. Soc., feed supp, co home	400.08
Coast-To-Coast, paint and supp, co home	66.08
Central States Elec Co. elec serv co home	59.17
Margie Branstad, wk county home	29 70
Butz Hatchery, mash and feed, co home	200.65
Blank Drug Store, supp	8.04
Brueckner's Drug Store, med Gelner	54.39
Mrs. Lena Ax, wk, county home	35.64
Garner Bakery, prov, co home, May and June	104 44
Boughton Funerla Home, amb, Garcia	20.00
Boughton Funeral Homo amb, Olson	10.00
David F Shaw M. D., med care, Hennings and Olson	84.00
Geo. R Stokesbary, supp county home	53.29
C. J. Schneider, supp and prov co home	148.96
Fred Pringnitz, baled hay county home	85.00
Dr R. J Ryan, vet, county home	167.89
Jake Koolbeck, butchering county home	42.89
Lutheran Children's Home, June care Klipping	30.00
Dr. H. R. Morgan, dent. Holverson	11.00
Moorman Mfg. Co., minerals county home	71.76
E. S. Nedved, rep chimney county home	9.12
I M. Hons, tobacco, county home	49.34
Hancock Co. Co-op Assoc. fuel, co home	61.20
Iowa Farm Serum Co. weed spray, co home	93 40
Louis Jensen, wk county home	20.00
Dept. of Social Welfare, aid to dep. children	443.03
Dept. of Social Welfare emergency relief	10.87
Dept. of Social Welfare, aid to blind	35.11
Oscar Durham, subscr co home	6.30
Blank Drug Store, presc Fllble, Knoke	8.42
Lutheran Welfare, June care Brones and Fishre	159.87
Dr Thos. McMahon, med care Gardner	2.00
Thomas Machine Co., rep tractor, co home	4.00
Thada's Store, co home	7.13
Urich Implement Co., rake co home	214.20
Woodford-Wheeler Lbr Co. cement co home	.82
St Joseph Mercy Hosp. hosp., Skelly Reynolds Olson	859.08
Dr Westen & Bang, op. Garcia	100.00
Woodford-Wheeler Lbr Co. mat co home	7.70
Woodford-Wheeler Lbr Co. material	3 21
Dr H G Marinos, prof serv -Garcia	46.00
Arthur Wellemeyer, supp co home	27 64
Yohn Motor Freight, freight co home	2 47

ROAD MAINT. WARRANTS PAID JULY 2

Hancock Co. Co-op Oil Assn. diesel fuel and repairs	570.81
Chas A Anderson, labor	79 75
V L. Fric, labor on tile	12.50
Yohn Motor Freight, freight	2 77
N W Bell Telephone Co. tele serv co shop	8.78
C M St. P & P Ry Co freight	1 29
Central States Electric Co. serv, co shop	1 02
State Tax Commission, use tax on truck	43 46
Bernard Abbas, labor	201.96
Kenneth O Boller, labor	196.06
Marvin Bredlow, labor	201.96
Elmer Carr, labor	187 76
Melre Delbler, labor	197.31
Emmett Devin, labor	201 96
John Haaf, labor	196.06
Carl John Heginger, labor	155.23
Donald Hodson, labor	201 96
Ivan Iverson, labor	216.22
Carl Kluseman, labor	83.19
Louis H. Knoke, labor	202.14
Clifford Montgomery, labor	201 96
Henry Steinlicht, labor	201.96
George Stille, labor	167 86
Gene Sweeney, labor	197.31
J L. Tobin, labor at dragline operator	286.58
Harold H Rhine, labor	191.40
Kenton Richards, labor	187 76
Wm J Wood, labor	197 31
Fablan Kadera, labor	14 85
James Formanek, damage	10 00
Klemme Hardware Co. mtrl	9.32
Redden Hardware, material	30 10
Woodford-Wheeler Lbr Co. drain tile and cement	353 39
Coast-To-Coast Store, mtrl	5.96
Mellotts Service diesel fuel	1 40
Central States Electric Co. Elec and gas service	13.29
Swaney Oil Co., weed-no-more	834.69
Sieg-Fort Dodge Co., supp	53 00
Globe Machinery & Supply supplies	211 93
Gambles Store, battery	15.50
Zrostlik Truck Lines, tires	113 86
Acres-Blackmar Co's, supp eng	56.61
Leo Sankey, sand and rock	116.25
Harold Nielson, tiling across road	28.51
Iowa Machinery & Supply supplies	54 87
Yohn Motor Freight, freight	2.07
C H Paulson, freight pd	28.20
Geo. Gerdes, tile labor	49 50
Gordon Schubert, tile and intakes	100 00
Central States Electric Co. Service	3.06
Smith Garage, repairs	30.01
Pritchard Auto Co., repairs	52.92
Mullins Hybred, repairs	15.42
Tande & Son, repairs	14 07
Paul Halfpop, labor	197 31
Leo L. Hughes, labor	180 48
Milbern F Rapp, labor	197.31
L. F. Schleuger, labor	200.28
Farmers Co-op Soc., cement	176 60
W O. Kirchgatter, gasoline	113 40
Central Auto Elec. Co. (material	32.03
Ft. Dodge Machine & Supply material	17.00
S. J. Doyle, repairs	19 95
Gibbs-Cook Tractor &Equip. repairs	25 74
Thompson Dist Co., repairs	95.58
Dukehart - Hughes Tractor & Equip., repairs	4 67
Barclay Co., welding supp	10.97
Waterloo Steel, beacons	79.56
Raper Colmenson Co. steel	239.55
Gibbs-Cook Tractor & Equip. sprayers	3,653.11
Standard Oil Co grease	31.01
Carl E. Franzen, motor oil	209 96
Motor Inn, material	133 75
Mrs. W F Dorrow, damaegd plants	15.00
Wesenberg & Son, repairs	66.05
Mullins Hybrid Corn, 2-4D Ester	780.30
Carl Paulson, labor	7 50
Marie Wille, right of way	115.50
Herman Buns & Son, est. No. 1	2,943.00
Highway Payroll labor
G P McNabb, foreman	97 00
Wm Hughes, labor	103.42
Sherl May labor	89.09
John Brower, labor	104.40
H. M. Haxton, labor	104.40
W P Dunfree, labor	93 29
H J Brower, labor	101.20
Clair R Nelson, grading	728.41
Leo L. Becker, estimate No. 2	1,404.00
Higrway Const. pay roll, labor
G D. McNabb, foreman	103.96
Wm. Hughes, labor	108.16
Sherl May, labor	100.16
John Brower, labor	108.16
H. M. Haxton, labor	108.16
W. P. Dunfree, labor	104.36
H. J Brower, labor	108.16
Harry Rehs, extra work 1947 contract	96.00
Crystal Lake Lumber, lumber	128.06
C. F Merten, car mi and exp.	97.70
Philip Johnson, rodman	193.54
C. F Merten, rodman	186.00
John H Peck, rodman	91.34
Magnus Isaacson, right of way	105 40
Abel Limberg, inspector farm to market	92.40
County Recorder, recording easements	2 90
Bowen's Superior Explosives dynamite	320.03
B. C Berge, legal serv in right of way	36.00
Clear Lake Sand & Gravel gravel	144 22
Skiles Core, right of way	187.15
Lloyd H. Neswold, right of way	218.40
Redden Hardware, tools	26.45
W C. Brown Supply Co. washers	14.44
Farmers Co-op. Co., cement	90.30
J N. Stell, rodman	110.88
Fullerton Lumber Company cement and lumber	637.62
Waterloo Steel Co, steel	710.73
Armco Drainage & Metal culverts	1,779 23

COURT EXPENSE WARRANTS

James H. Roberts, court reporter	14.11
Geo. A. Blake, court reporter	379.30
R. E. Holder, deficit	90.05

BANG'S DIS. WARRANTS

John Goll, stock slaughterer	20.78
C. D. Schlouger, stock slaughtered	75.00
Dr. D. G. Quist, inspector	9.80

SOLDIERS RELIEF WARRANTS

Rufus Welter, mtg and mi	4 50
C. S. Rice, mtg. and mi.	210
Daniel E. Williams, mtg. and mi	3.10

COUNTY ASSESSOR WARRANTS

Doane Agr. Service Inc. appraisal book	10.00
J. M. Cleminshaw Co., manuals	8.00
Fred C. Missal, sch instr exp.	21.08
Edward J. Mullin, sch of instr exp.	11.04
Edward Mullin, dep assr mi	4.95
Herman Nuehring, sch of instr.	22.20
Dan Williams Town Clerk maps	3.00
N W Bell Telephone Co. tele tolls assr	10.55

DRAINAGE WARRANTS

H C Young, estimate No. 2, DD No. 1 and 2 SM	14,688 00
Harry Rehm, cattle passes DD No. 1 and 2 SM	264 00
Philip Johnson, instr man DD No. 1 and 2 SM	16.83
C F Merten, engineer, DD No. 1 and 2 SM	27.26
John Peck, rodman, DD No. 1 and 2 SM	13 86
J. N Stell, rodman, DD No. 1 and 2 SM	13.86
Geo. Gerdes, tile labor, DD No. 1 and 2 L22	22.50
Emmett Devin, labor No. 1 and 2 L1A
V L. Fric, labor, D 3 and 4 L49
Fablan Kadera, labor No. 3 and 4 L49
Beidler Concrete Prod. tile, DD No. 3 and
Woodford Wheeler drain tile, DD No. 4 L49
Carl Kluseman, labor No. 3 and 4 L9
Carl Kluseman, labor No. 3 and 4 L49
W J. Rasmuson, a comm, DD No. 3 Main
John H Peck, rodman No. 3 and 4
Wm Henschen, engineer No. 3 and 4
J N Stell, rodman, No. 3 and 3
Farmers Co-op Soc., DD No 5
Carl Kluseman, labor No, 7 L112
Smith Garage, labor on vert, DD No. 26
Lenny Harman, drag

DR. F. L. HAYES
DENTIST
Office Over Rexall Store
Phone 21 Garner, Iowa

Thada's Store
Friday and Saturday
SPECIALS!

Cheese 2 POUND BOX ONLY 98c

Pyramid
MASON JAR COVERS ____ per doz. ONLY 5c

Mircle
CLOTHES BLEACH _____ per gal. ONLY 29c

Ladies, Look!
LADIES APRONS _____ ONLY 39c and 29c

Beans & Bacon Otoe Brand 2 Cans only 15c

Rex or Babbitt
LYE _____ 3 cans for 25c

FROZEN FOODS
We carry a full line of "Birdseye" fresh frozen fruits, vegetables and fish

Super Suds Large Size Box 29c

Makes 20 gal. of Cleaner
PERFEX _____ per box ONLY 19c

Kremel
PUDDINGS (all flavors) _____ 4 boxes for 25c

Crystal White
TOILET SOAP _____ 4 bars 16c

Kool Aid 3 Pkgs. ONLY 10c

Week End Special
APRICOTS _____ per gallon 59c

Don't Miss This!
APPLE BUTTER _____ per quart ONLY 19c

Friday and Saturday Only
SURE JELL _____ 2 boxes for 19c

BOLOGNA
PURE MEAT - HOME MADE
Only per lb._____ 45c

Dixianna
PANCAKE FLOUR _____ 25c

FREE COUPON
ThisCoupon worth 50c on the purchase of a 1 quart can of plastic linoleum finish
Clip this coupon — Bring it with you.

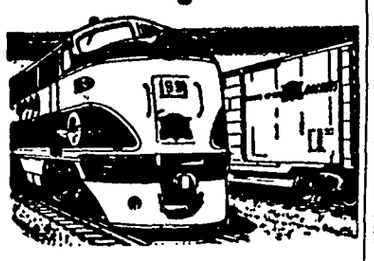
This Week End Only
K. C. BAKING POWDER ____ 25 oz. can 10c

Borax Large 2 3-4 pound Box at _____ 10c

Highest Prices For Your Eggs Cash or Trade

Thada's
THE STORE OF EVERYDAY LOW PRICES

• ROCK ISLAND •
has BOTH to give you the BEST in freight service!



1 MODERN FACILITIES — Huge Diesel-powered Rocket Freights, that haul long trains of latest-design freight cars at express speeds, are just part of Rock Island's fine physical equipment. 8,000 miles of improved right-of-way serve the freight-transport needs of 14 great states. And with fine water terminals at Houston, Texas City and Galveston, Rock Island gives fast through-service to export and import shippers.

2 CAPABLE REPRESENTATIVES —Rock Island has 272 Freight Representatives, whose experience totals 3,620 years, strategically located in 71 cities. In addition to giving you information on rates, routes and schedules, they are experts on packaging, marking and stowing methods. Get in touch with your local Rock Island Freight Representative. Chances are he can give you money-saving suggestions.

• For expert help, and information on rates and routes, ask •

R. R Shaeffer, Div. Freight Agent
Rock Island Passenger Station
Estherville, Iowa

Visit beautiful "Rocket Village"— the Rock Island Exhibit at THE CHICAGO RAILROAD FAIR

Rock Island ROCK ISLAND LINES
The Road of Planned Progress

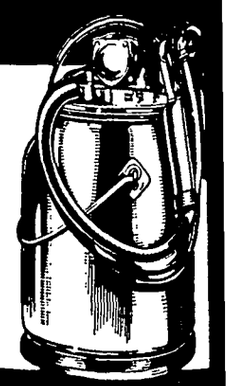
FEDERAL
Land Bank
LOANS
Long Term Low Interest
No Fees No Commission
Wm. F. Johannaber
Secretary-Treasurer
Forest City, Iowa
Phone 50

WORRIED ABOUT
Eating
You don't hvae to about what you a to eat when you the Quandt Cafe. Always a good me for you Here you a meal that is well ed and satisfying.

TOBACCOS
ICE CREAM
CIGARETTES
CANDY BAR

Thank You
QUANDT'S C
Mr. and Mrs. Co Quandt

Make Every Milking Minute Count with a



McCORMICK-DEERING

There's no time lost in the dairy barn when you use a McCORMICK-DEERING Milker. Here's why:

Place unit on floor, attach stanchion hose, turn on vacuum — no straps, no hook on pail. Apply teat cups one at a time—and you're milking. You don't have to balance pail or worry about it being level.

You can save plenty of time with this quick, direct milking method—the McCORMICK-DEERING way. Get complete details on this modern milker from us now.

Northern Lumber C
FARM IMPLEMENTS
Phone 49 Klemme, Io

BUDGET ESTIMATE AND RECORD OF FILING
COUNTY BOARD OF EDUCATION ESTIM

NOTICE—The Board of Education of Hancock County Iowa wil August 4, 1948, at 8 P M., at Courtroom, Garner Taxpayers heard for or against the following estimate of expenditures for t cal year beginning January 1, 1949. This is in accordance with C 147, Acts of the 52nd General Assembly, creating a county school s

CHAS S. WHITNEY
County Superintendent and Secretary of Board

	1	2	3	4	5
FUNDS	EXPENDITURES For Year: For Year 1946	EXPENDITURES For Year: For Year 1947	Proposed Expen Estimated 1949	Est Unencumbered Balance Jan. 1, 1949	Est Income Other Than Taxation 1949
Co Board of Education	none	none	11,451 96	none	none

Distribution of Board of Education Expenditures

	EXPENDITURES: Past Year	Proposed Ensuing
General Control	NONE	$
Instruction
Auxiliary Agencies
Coordinate Activities
Fixed Charges
Capital Outlay
TOTALS - Board of Education Fund		$1

BUDGET ESTIMATE
SCHOOL DISTRICT

NOTICE:—The Board of Directors of Klemme Independent, H County, Iowa, will meet August 2nd, 1948, at 8 P M., at School Bo Taxpayers will be heard for or against the following estimate penditures for the year beginning July 1, 1948, and ending June 3 A detailed statement of receipts and disbursements, both past an ticipated will be available at the hearing

A. J KUDJE,
District Secretary

	1	2	3	4	5	6
FUNDS	EXPENDITURES For year: July 1, 1946 to June 30, 1947	EXPENDITURES For year: July 1, 1947 to June 30, 1948	Proposed Expenditures Estimated 1948-1949	Estimated Unencumbered Balance to Apply Upon This Budget	Estimated Income Other Than Taxation	Amount
General	29,962	39,077	38,605	3,605	16,000
School House (Voted)	none	2,000	1,200	none	none
Bonds and Interest	1,988	1,988	2,000	none	none
Special Courses Fund	none	none	3,400	none	none
Total All Purposes.	31,950.	42,995	45,205	3,605	16,000

Secretary's Balance July 1, 1948.

GENERAL FUND	$ 2,808
Less Unpaid Bills	3,115
Less Balance Reserved, none	3,115
Net Unencumbered Balance (G. F.	none
SCHOOL HOUSE FUND	$ 1,343

Number of persons of school ag
Taxable valuation, 1947 $
Moneys and Credits, 1947 $

DD No. 28 ... 45.00
Devin, labor, DD ... 9.90
Hodson, labor, DD ... 9.90
Lake Lbr, cement ... .92
No. 38 Henschen, engineer, ... 35.64
No. 65 Steil, rodman, DD ... 6.93
Peck, rodman, DD ... 6.93
Paulson, labor, DD ... 9.00
A. Anderson, labor ... 2475
No. 38 A. Anderson, labor ... 22.00
No. 108 Matson, eng. work ... 63 50
No. 139 Meinecke, intakes ... 25 00
DD No. 143 ... 2
Prod. est. No. 2 ... 1,781 64
DD No. 144 ... 11 10
Lake Lbr, tile ... 8 42
No. 144 Johnson, instr man ... 41 04
No. 144 Merten, engineer, DD ... 10 40
Peck, rodman, DD ... 6 93
Steil, rodman, DD ... 175.45
Wheeler Lbr Co. ... 125.06
No. 145 L1A ... 48 00
Prod., est. 3 sub-DD No. 145 ... 6.00
needles, est. 2, DD ...
No. ...
Smith, labor DD ...

RTIS G. RIEHM
Attorney-At-Law
Over Federated Store
Res. Phone 133W2
133 Garner, Iowa

ARNER CLINIC
GARNER, IOWA
M. Christensen, M.D.
Physician & Surgeon, Ph. 18
TESTED — GLASSES FITTED
A. G. Landon, D.D.S.
Dentist, Ph. 207

Wm. Henschen engineer, DD No. 147 ... 11.88
H. N. Rogers Co., blue prints DD No. 147 ... 2.56
F. J. Schoun, dr wk, DD No. 149 ... 3.00
Geo. Th. Gerdes, dr wk and mi, DD No. 149 ... 5.60
Wm Henschen, engineer DD No. 149 ... 47 52
John Chambers, dr wk, DD No. 149 ... 3.50
John Ufkes, labor DD No. 36-2 ... 2.92
Crystal Lake, cement, DD No. 37-30 ... 7 59
Geo. Gerdes, tile labor, DD No. 52-54-17 ... 15.64
Thompson Yards Inc., cement, DD No. 52-54-17 ... 34
Geo. Albertson, labor, DD No. 52-54-17 ... .78
Archie Lovik, tile repair DD No. 52-51-17 ... 1.00
Sander Schnell, labor, DD 54-121 ... 2.53
Don Sherman, labor, DD No. 51-121 ... 1 97
Lampert Yards, land, DD No. 54-121 ... .89
Harry Haabrouck, labor, DD No. 54-121 ... 2 46
W H. Egeme, labor, DD No. 54-121 ... 1 97
A T Buckley, labor and mi DD No. 79-49 ... 1 21
Northern Lbr Co., material, DD No. 79-49 ... .07
Dan McMahon, labor, DD No. 79-49 ... 33

COUNTY BOARD OF EDUCATION
WARRANTS PAID APRIL 13
As Approved by County Board Of Education

R. A Jorgenson, supplies ballots ... 155 14
Mrs. Chas S Whitney, expense to Oklahoma ... 38.05
C. W Sankey, expense for spelling ... 15.00
Mrs. Edmund Andregg, expense mtg ... 2.80
H R Brooks, expense mtg ... 2.86
W E. Puffer, expense mtg ... 5 16
Mr. Virgil Cook, expenset meeting ... 3 10

WARRANTS PAID MAY 6

Sharleen Hanson, extra help ... 13.50
Rosemary Jorgenson, extra help ... 4.50
Joanne Patrick, extra help ... 1.50
Mrs Thelma Stille, extra help ... 4.50
Mrs. Sue Wille, extra help ... 9.00
Mr W E. Puffer, mi and mtg exp. ... 6.75
H R Brooks, mi and mtg exp. ... 1 10
Edmund Andregg, mi and mtg exp ... 1 50
Chas. Whitney, mi within coutny ... 26.80
Chas. S. Whitney, mi outside county ...
Kanawha Reporter, printing ... 20.02
Britt News-Tribune, printing ... 4.95
Klipto Loose Leaf, office supp ... 2.70
Fidlar & Chambers Co., office supp ... 108.59
Loring Supply Co., office supp ... 91.60 trans from co bd of Ed to County General ... 6 00
Hammond & Stephens, office supplies ... 1,676.63
Houghton Mifflin Co., office supplies ... 29 31
O G Waffle Bk Co. books for Garner ... 9.82
E M Hals & Co., books for Klemme ... 87 01
Iowa Pupils Reading, books for Kanawha ... 21 51

WARRANTS PAID JUNE 28

Post Office, 3,000 envelopes ... 57 01
County Auditor, 300- 3c stamps ... 60 00
Marlus Rasmus, help 8th grade grad ... 15.00
Mrs. L. J Thies, extra help ... 3 00
W E. Puffer, mi and mtg. exp ... 4 50
Chas. Whitney, mi exp ... 2.25
H R Brooks, mi and mtg exp. ... 27 10
Edmund Andregg, mi and mtg exp ... 1.10
Virgil Cook mi and mtg exp ... 1.40
Garner Leader, printing ... 1 55
R A Jorgenson, printing Klemme Times ... 5.42
Britt News-Tribune, printing ... 22.47
W C Harvey, ins depository ... 12.24
Elling Ins, ins. on Gamble Store ... 18 63
John Dode, ins. on Smiths Store ... 58 33
O. G Waffle, world Almanac ... 5.00
Bureau of Dental Hygiene dental cards ... 1 60
Klipto Loose Leaf Co. supp ... 3 77
Fidler & Chambers, supp ... 14 57
Loring Supply Co., stencils ... 36.16
Loring Supply Co., labor o n mimeograph ... 22.26
Baker Paper Co., mimeograph paper ... 4 00
National Educ Ass'n "All American Children" ... 24.60
D. C Health, books ... 1 25
Houghton Mifflin Co., books ... 12 64
Laidlaw Brothers, books ... 10.00
Laurel Book Co., books ... 10.11
J B Lippincott Co. books ... 12.66
Lyons & Carnahan books ... 311 72
MacMillan Book Co., books ... 1,429.22
Row Peterson Co., books ... 22.95
Scott Foresman & Co. books ... 46.97
Silver Burdett Co., books ... 528.87
L. W. Singer Co., books ... 145.54
Mr Carl Worwood or Sec. bolks transferred ... 155.16
W D Schroeder, credit books returned ... 29 95
Robert Roths Sec, book ret to Co bd ... 40 51
Margrette Tjafen sec, book ret to co. ... 2.28
Mrs Delmar Swanson, Sec book ret to co ... 12.42
Joseph Schuldt Sec books ret to co ... 1 08
N H Willis Sec books ret to co ... 10 08
Elmer Peterson, books ret to co ... 18 21
Post Office envelopes ... 11 88
William Huenemann extra help ... 37 12

LIBRARY FUND

Iroquois Pub Co geography books ... 71 50
Pioneer Publ Co books ... 21 60
On motion and second the Board adjourned to July 7th A D., 1948 at the hour of 9 o'clock A M

ATTEST:
MAYNARD SCHONEMAN,
County Auditor
JOHN CHAMBERS,
Chairman

4TH ADJOURNED JUNE
Garner, Iowa
July 7, 1948

The Hancock County, Iowa, Board of Supervisors met in session on above captioned date pursuant to adjournment with John Chambers, Geo. Th Gerdes and F J Schoun, present

The minutes of the last meeting were read and approved as read

On motion and second the application bond and permit for the sale of cigarettes for Evanson Service Station is approved.

On motion and second the quarterly report of the Clerk of Court, Ruth Hughes, is approved.

This being the 7th day of July A D. 1948, a date heretofore fixed for a hearing on the proposed establishment of Drainage District No. 150, petitioned for by Roy D. Cark, et al, the hour for said hearing having arrived, the report of the engineer recommending such establishment and the proof of publication being on file and the Board being fully advised, said hearing was held as scheduled.

The petition, report of the engineer, objections, and claims for damages were read by the County Auditor and objections and proponents were given an opportunity to discuss the necessity and feasibility of the establishment of the Drainage District and objections thereto, petitioned for by Roy D Clark, et al, as recommended in the report of the engineer

BE AND IT THEREFORE RESOLVED by the Board of Supervisors in and for Hancock County, Iowa, acting for and in behalf of Drainage District No. 150, petitioned for by Roy D Clark, et al, that the hearing on the establishment of said district be and the same is hereby continued to the 9th day of August, A D., 1948, at the hour of 1 30 P M., at the Courthouse in Garner, Iowa.

The foregoing resolution was offered and read by Supervisor Schoun who moved its adoption, was seconded by Supervisor Chambers, whereupon John Chambers Chairman, placed the motion of its adoption and upon roll cal the vote thereon is F J Schoun and John Chambers, aye. Gerdes absent Nays, none Whereupon the Chairman declared the resolution duly adopted

On motion and second the Board adjourned to July 12, 1948, A. D., at 9 00 A M

ATTEST
MAYNARD SCHONEMAN,
County Auditor
JOHN CHAMBERS,
Chairman

GRANDMA H. L. SUCKOW DIED THIS MORNING AT DUNCAN

As The Times goes to press we learn that Grandma H. L. Suckow died this Wednesday morning in the apartment of her son-in-law and daughter, Mr and Mrs. Herman Paul at the county Farm Funeral arrangements had not been completed.

Want Ads

For Sale

YES, WE HAVE THEM, TWO great Hog Balancers, Nutrena Hog Balancer and Sargent Mineral Meal. We deliver ½ ton lots or more. GREEN ELEVATOR CO., Goodell, Iowa.

FOR SALE—RESIDENCE LOT, water and sewer connected. George Buseman (1tc)

YES WE HAVE IT, NUTRENA Crumblized Chick Feed. For faster gains and less waste. We deliver ½ ton lots or more. GREEN ELEVATOR CO., Goodell, Iowa. (Apr 14 tfc)

FARMS FOR SALE

160 Acres improved and 110 acres unimproved in Avery Township, Hancock County, Ia.

Approximately a 70 acre tract with improvements in Hancock County and Wright County, Ia

These farms formerly belonged to W A. Rhodes, Deceased

C. G Waterman, Referee
Klemme, Iowa

FOR SALE—WILL SELL SPINet-type piano in Klemme for $365.00 if taken at once Convenient terms. Write to Critchett Piano Company, Des Moines, Iowa. (1tp)

FOR SALE — NEW SHOWER Cabinet, complete. Wholesale price. Mrs. Frances E. Ridder. (1tp)

Wanted To Buy

WANTED TO BUY — USED Piano. Phone Klemme 98. 1tp

Miscellaneous

INSURE WITH HENRY WARD, Klemme for Auto, Personal Property, Farm Liability, Life, Health and Accident. (Oct. 1948 tp)

Card Of Thanks

THANK YOU

We sincerely thank all our friends and neighbors who have come to our assistance in getting our farm work done. It was a very kind and neighborly act which we will never forget. Thanking everyone who assisted us in any way. Mr. and Mrs. Jake Nannenga. (1tp)

THANK YOU

We want to thank all who helped to make our ice cream social a success. We want to thank Mr. Larsen for storing our ice cream in his locker plant; thanking all those who furnished and who helped; thanking Mr. Wellemeyer for the use of his lot, and thanking all who patronized us at the social.

The Music Mothers. (1tp)

NOTICE OF PROBATE OF WILL

STATE OF IOWA
ss.
Hancock County
IN DISTRICT COURT
No. 3166 May Term, 1948
TO ALL WHOM IT MAY CONCERN

YOU ARE HEREBY NOTIFIED, That an instrument of writing purporting to be the last Will and Testament of Jos. E. Johnson, Deceased, dated October 1939 having been this day filed, opened and read, Thursday the 29th day of July, 1948, is fixed for hearing proof of same at the Court House in Garner, Hancock County, Iowa, before the District Court of said County, or the Clerk of said Court and at 10 00 o'clock A. M. of the day above mentioned all persons interested are heerby notified and required to appear, and show cause, if any they have, why said instrument should not be probated and allowed as and for the last Will and Testament of said deceased.

Dated at Garner, Iowa, July 14, 1948

RUTH HUGHES
Clerk of District Court

KLEMME LOCAL NEWS

Miss Gertrude Grosshuesch returned home Friday from Cedar Falls where she visited at he Bill Grosshuesch home

Mr and Mrs. G. R. Richards and George from Alexander were dinner gusts at the George Schoenwetter home Sundy.

Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Montgomery and Carole Ann visited at the Wm. Kurtz home Sunday evening

Women are born with two eyes but with one tongue, in order to see twice as much as they say.

Carole Ann Montgomery and Marlene and Billy Roths were among the pupils of Mrs. Selma Griesy that gave a piano recital at the Congregational church in Belmond Tuesday afternoon.

If you dont want it, sell it with a Times want ad

The Methodist Church
Herschel E. Harvey, Pastor

KLEMME

THURSDAY

Silver Tea at Liberty at 2:00 P M.

Choir at 7:45 P. M.

SUNDAY

There will be no services here on Sunday The Okoboji Bible Conference opens today and will last for eight days.

LIBERTY

THURSDAY

Silver Tea Today at 2.00 p .m Klemme will be our guests.

SUNDAY

There will be no church services today All go to Okoboji Bible Conference who can.

SELL WHAT YOU DON'T NEED with a Times Want Adv

AVERY
—The—
Theatre Beautiful
Garner, Iowa

JULY 21, 22
Wednes. - Thursday
TENTH AVENUE ANGEL
Starring
MARGARET O'BRIEN

JULY 23, 24
Friday - Saturday
SHARE THE THRILLS!
THE TENDER YEARS
A Woderful Picture
JOE E. BROWN

JULY 25, 26, 27
Sun. - Mon - Tues.
Crimson-Haired Slave Girl, Dsired by a Man of Destiny!
Starring
GARY COOPER
PAULETTE GODDARD
Cecil B. DeMille's
"UNCONQUERED"
With
Howard Da Silva
Boris Karolff
Cecil Kellaway
Ward Bond
Color By Technicolor

JULY 28, 29
Wednes. - Thursday
IT'S HIT-AND-RUN FUN!
THE PILGRIM LADY
LYNNE ROBERTS
WARREN DOUGLAS
ALAN MOWBRAY

A Times Want Ad Brings Results

Shocking Oats?
YOU PROBABLY ARE.
After a hot day in the field you will enjoy coming in here . . . have an ice cold drink . . relax while playing a game of pool with your neighbor.
Meet Your Friends At Joe's
Joe's Place
Joe Finnegan, Prop. Klemme, Iowa

HANCOCK COUNTY BOARD PROCEEDINGS

5TH ADJOURNED JUNE MEETING
Garner, Iowa
July 12 1948

The Hancock County, Iowa Board of Supervisors met in session on above captioned, date at the courthouse in Garner with Supervisors F J Schoun, John Chambers, and George Th Gerdes, present.

The mnutes of the last meeting were read and approved as read

Supervisor Chambers is appointed a committee to investigate and cause repairs to be made in D. D. No. 49-1-125, 58 and D D. No. 8 lateral 7

On motion and second the bond and application of the Sheets Service Station for a cigarette permit is hereby ordered granted

On motion and second the proposal and agreement for engineering service covering Farm to Market Roads in Hancock County, Iowa with T F Matson is approved and Supervisors John Chambers is hereby authorized and instructed to execute said agreement and proposal in behalf of Hancock County, Iowa, all as by law directed

On motion and second the Resolution concerning in recommended award of Contracts for Federal Aid Secondary road project No. S-1010 (2) and S-1018 (1) in Hancock County, is approved Contracts are awarded to Clair R Nelson Belmond, no S 1010 (2) and Gus Osterman & Son Ochesdan on S-1018 (1) Chairman J A Chambers is hereby authorized and instructed to execute such concurrence in behalf of Hancock County, Iowa

On motion and second the petition of Roy D. Clark, et al requesting the suspension of further engineering on work on D D. No. 150, which petition was filed on July 12, A D 1948, is approved

On motion and second the schedule of wages paid to tractor truck, maintainee and dragline operators is hereby increased 5c an hour effective as of July 1, A D., 1948 The Salary of the janitor at the Courthouse and the shop foreman is increased $10. per month effective July 1, A. D., 1948.

Whereas C F Merten, engineer, has to report that Concrete Products Corporation of Humbolt, have completed their contract for furnishing material on D. D. No. 141 to his entire satisfaction and whereas there is due a final etimate on said contract in the sum of $941 12

Be and it is therefore resolved by the Board of Supervisors in and for Hancock County, Iowa, acting for and in behalf of D D No. 144, that the report of the Engineer is hereby tentatively approved and further hearing on the report will be hold at the Courthouse in Garner, Iowa, at 10 o'cock A M., on the 16th day if August A D. 1948 The County Auditor is hereby directed to cause notice of such hearing to be published as by law directed

The foregoing resolution was offered and read by Supervisor Schoun who moved its adopton, was seconded by Supervisor Gerdes, whereupon John Chambers in the chair placed the motion on the adoption and upon roll call the vote thereon is F J Schoun, Geo Th Gerdes, John Chambers aye, nays none Whereupon the Chairman declared the resolution duly adopted

Be it remembered that on this, the 12th day of July, 1948, the Board of Supervisors of Hancock County, Iowa met in session for the purpose of filing and considering the estimate for the local budget of said county There was present a quorum as required by law Thereafter and on said day there was filed the following estimate

FUNDS	1 EXPENDITURES For Year For Year 1946	2 EXPENDITURES For Year For Year 1947	3 Proposed Expenditures Estimated 1949	4 Estimated Unencumbered Balance Jan 1, 1949	5 Estimated Income Other Than Taxation 1949	6 Amount necessary to be raised by Taxation 1949
General	$ 91,764	88,369	130,000	none	40,000	90,000
Court Expense	5,015	6,163	7,500	3,000	none	4,500
Poor	23,817	28,155	35,000	20,000	none	15,000
State Inst	13 098	18,086	25,000	5,000	none	20,000
County School	6,000	10,000	10,000	none	4,000	6,000
Soldier Relief	3,978	7,284	15,000	5,000	none	10,000
Bovine Tuber	12,078	1,281	4,000	4,000	none	none
Bond Interest			1,500	none	none	1,500
County Bonds		551	10,000	none	none	none
Emergency			31,000	21,000	none	none
County Assessor			18,000	none	none	18,000
Bang's Disease	1,310	989	3,000	2,000	none	1,000
Farm To Market			100,000	50,000	50,000	none
A Cnst ½ mill	72,316	150,952	150,000	50,000	100,000	none
C Mnt 2 m	137,037	175,900	225,000	none	75,000	150,000
E Opti			15,000	none	none	15,000
F Road Clearing			20,000	none	none	20,000
TOTALS	$ 366,503	487,730	790,000	160,000	269,000	361,000

Thereafter said estimate was duly considered by the board The board being fully advised finds that a date of hearing on said estimate should be fixed and it does fix the 9th day of August A D 1948 at the hour of 10 00 A M. of said day as the date of hearing, of said hearing to be had at the Courthouse in Garner Hancock County Iowa The county auditor was directed to publish the estimate and notice of hearing as required by law in the official newspapers of the county

Publication to be for one insertion and to be at least ten days prior to the date set for hearing

On motion and second the Board adjourned to Monday July 26, at 9 o'clock A M

ATTEST
MAYNARD SCHONEMAN,
County Auditor
JOHN CHAMBERS,
Chairman

KEEP THE FARM SANITARY
2-HOUR SERVICE ON REMOVAL OF
Dead Stock
Phone
EMME ... 580
LMOND ... 580
We Pay The Call
A Clean Truck With An Efficient Driver In r Neighborhood Daily.
Belmond By-Products
"Your Home Plant"
ne 580 Belmond, Iowa.

E WISH TO ANNOUNCE THAT
E WILL BE ON A
Cash Basis
GINNING AUGUST 1, 1948 . . .

At the Annual Meeting of the Klemme Cooperative Grain Company on Friday evening, July 16, the members of this association voted to put the business on a strictly CASH BASIS beginning August 1st..

The members feel that this will not be a hardship on anyone and that it is the best business policy to pursue. Operating on a CASH BASIS they feel will be a benefit to all concerned.

The Directors, Officers and Management are here to carry out the wishes of the members to the best to their ability.

Thanking you for your business in the past and soliciting your continued good will and patronage.

Klemme Coop. Grain Company
e Farmers Elevator" Glen Bridges, Manager

You... Your Car... Your Vacation...

That's a combination that can spell a lot of pleasure, or--- a lot of trouble or tragedy. Which will it be in your case?

Make sure! First, be sure your car is in perfect condition. Then resolve to drive most sanely and carefully.

Before you go, come to us for a complete checkup---brakes, lights, steering gear. Be sure!

Hancock Co. Coop. Oil Association
SUPER SERVICE STATIONS
Harold Kothenbeutel, Mgr. Klemme, Ia.

WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS

GOP Convention Hands Nomination To Dewey in Display of Unanimity; Warren Second Choice on Ticket

By Bill Schoentgen, WNU Staff Writer

(EDITOR'S NOTE: When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of Western Newspaper Union's news analysts and not necessarily of this newspaper.)

GOVERNOR DEWEY AND FAMILY

. . . They want a new, white house . . .

DEWEY EYED

GOP Convention

Out of the smoke-blurred rooms during the recess before the third roll call came the word: It was Dewey—first again with the medicine men.

From the very beginning of the GOP convention in the sweltering confines of Philadelphia's convention hall it was a simple case of Dewey against the field The field was composed of Taft, Stassen, Vandenberg, Warren and MacArthur, plus a scattering of favorite sons.

Despite some frenetic jockeying for delegates by Dewey, Taft and Stassen over the week-end preceding the convention, the big three of the GOP started out on Monday with their pre-convention alignments unchanged.

But by the time Gov. Dwight Green of Illinois had finished with his keynote address Monday night it was apparent that a stop-Dewey movement was struggling to get under way. As it turned out that movement never did get beyond the struggling stage and Dewey remained virtually the only one unaffected by it.

In retrospect, the convention by that time already had assumed an inexorable course toward the Dewey camp. Second - guessers maintained that the whole affair oozed along as if motivated by some fundamental and changeless law, although that was not fully evident until the convention could be viewed as a finished product.

If there was a fundamental law it was compounded from a series of heterogeneous factors, political and personal:

First of all there was the superbly functioning Dewey machine, operating with almost 100 per cent efficiency to corral votes.

Secondly, the Dewey opposition was divided. Taft and Stassen, poles apart in their political philosophy within the Republican party, could not get together. Stassen flatly refused a deal and Taft kept waiting for a break that never came. California's Gov. Earl Warren refused to have a hand in a stop-Dewey drive, insisted he was running for the nomination and not just against Dewey. Vandenberg added to the confusion by remaining silent, noncommittal and even disinterested.

Nomination

Actual climax of the convention came when Sen. Edward Martin of Pennsylvania renounced his favorite son candidacy and threw his support, backed by about half the members of Pennsylvania's 73 delegates, to Dewey. That started the blitzkrieg. From then on it was Dewey and downhill all the way

As the crucial balloting began in humid, steaming convention hall it became more evident that a stop-Dewey coalition had not jelled.

On the first roll call it was Dewey 434, Taft 224, Stassen 166. On the second ballot Dewey had gone up to 515 and Taft to 274, while Stassen dropped to 149.

At that point the convention recessed for three hours, a move engineered by Taft, Stassen and other anti-Dewey leaders to give them time to decide whether or not to continue the fight.

When the convention reconvened for the third roll call the stop-Dewey drive had changed to a nominate-Dewey stampede. Sen. John Bricker of Ohio was the first on the rostrum to withdraw the name of his state's candidate, Senator Taft. This was swiftly followed by similar withdrawals by Warren, Stassen, Vandenberg and MacArthur.

GOVERNOR WARREN

. . . He accepted . . .

On the third ballot the 1,094 delegates to the convention nominated Gov. Thomas E. Dewey as their unanimous choice to run as the Republican candidate for President in 1948.

Warren

Selection of Gov. Earl Warren of California as the Republican nominee for vice-president came as a complete shock to almost everyone, despite the fact that the choice was a logical and reasonable one.

Warren was a surprise pick because prior to the convention he had maintained stoutly that he could not afford to take the vice-presidency and would not accept the second spot.

It was even more a departure from the norm in that the Dewey-Warren ticket failed to offer a grain of consolation to the old guard and isolationist wing of the party. Warren has strongly internationalist political views — even more so than Dewey—and has been a consistent critic of the GOP isolationists.

Initial speculation as to the vice-president spot ran to Rep. Charles Halleck of Indiana or Sen. Kenneth Wherry of Nebraska, both of the "conservative Republican" tradition.

But in the night-long pow-wow that followed the Dewey nomination it was Warren who was chosen. Dewey himself averred that he had not influenced the choice, that the party leaders had become convinced that the California governor was the best bet.

Nevertheless, Dewey had had to make certain promises in order to get Warren for the job: The vice-presidency, he said, no longer would be the stale, flat and unprofitable post it has been. He planned to make Warren a "full partner"

Significance

Whether the GOP convention constructed its policy platform to fit the candidates or nominated the candidates to fit the platform is, of course, an impossible question. Nevertheless, the Republicans managed to do both.

Categorically, the platform is a sound, forward-looking one in the light of the issues, both foreign and domestic, to be faced.

Strongly internationalist and bipartisan in tone, it rejects the old line of isolationism for isolationism's sake and upholds the European recovery program.

That foreign policy stand, harmonizing as it does with the previously stated convictions of Dewey and Warren, may stand as a historic milestone in development of the Republican party.

NOMINEE

Dewey Runs on Calculated Ambition

Thomas Edmund Dewey is a success story in himself, featuring the kind of success that is achieved not happenstance but through precisely calculated ambition spearheaded by precisely directed energy.

At 46 he has been elected governor of New York twice and defeated once for the same office Moreover, he has received the Republican presidential nomination twice in succession.

It is the only instance in the history of the Republican party where a defeated presidential candidate was nominated to run again.

Born in Owosso, Mich., Dewey achieved prominence in New York City as a racket-busting district attorney.

CRACKDOWN: Marshal Tito

Russia's iron curtain had twitched apart along its Yugoslavian seam to provide a glimpse of the Communist stage set with the rickety scenery of dissension, fear and insecurity.

Marshal Tito of Yugoslavia was the central figure, but remained so for only a brief instant before his Soviet bosses whisked him off the bo: ls.

Plain fact was that Tito, hitherto the fair-haired boy of eastern European communism, had been all but purged from the Communist party because he was trying to make a play for western capitalism.

Actually he, together with his henchmen in the Yugoslav government, was ousted from the all-important Cominform (Communist information bureau) which was established l year to provide greater unity for the Soviet satellite states of eastern Europe.

Tito and his regime were charged with virtually everything the Soviet politburo considers a crime—ranging from Trotskyism and anti-Sovietism to "ineptness" and "false demagogic tactics."

Behind this official facade which the Communists had thrown up, however, were the real reasons for Tito's expulsion from grace:

As the only wartime hero of the Communists the Yugoslav marshal had begun to take himself too seriously, hence, was beginning to feel the need to express his own opinions and policies on matters political and economic. Stalin wanted no other boss in his sphere.

Tito was building up a "personal police" army which was molesting other Communists, including Russians, in Belgrade. Also, he had followed an independent foreign policy without Moscow's approval.

Finally he committed the cardinal sin of currying favor with western capitalist diplomats with an eye to obtaining reconstruction credits for Yugoslavia.

SERVICE: Drafting

That draft which men in the 19-through-25 age group are beginning to feel is the result of the U. S. armed forces drawing in their breath and preparing to expand all over the place.

Between next fall and next summer the services plan on calling about 30,000 draft-age young men every month. Drafting is scheduled to start about September 22.

With a strength of 837,000 authorized by congress in the selective service bill, the army has estimated that it will need between 225,000 and 250,000 selectees to approach its authorized strength. That number is in addition to the 250,000 or 300,000 volunteers it so fervently hopes it will get.

In discussing plans for this second peacetime draft in U. S. history, Army Secretary Kenneth Royall explained that the army now has 542,000 men but it won't jump to the 837,000 figure immediately because funds for the fiscal year which began July 1 are not sufficient.

Thus, by July 1, 1949, the size of the army will be an estimated 790,000. The peacetime draft is a relatively slow-functioning process. Certainly it can't compare with the wartime levying of manpower. Peak of the induction rate during the war was reached in February, 1943, when 406,374 men received their greetings.

When the army attains its full 837,000 strength it will consist of 12 regular army divisions. Backstopping these will be six national guard divisions, together with other supporting elements such as anti-aircraft artillery and service troops.

BLOCKADE: Berlin

Russia's freight blockade of Berlin, while a stark enough action in its own right, nevertheless was a secondary manifestation of the same old cold war crisis arising out of the Soviet bid for power in Europe.

While American and British planes by the hundreds were flying in food to besieged Berliners the western powers were pondering a question they had had to answer in 1938 when Hitler was in power—whether or not to appease.

Long range plans of the Kremlin, of which the Berlin blockade is just one phase, call for the forcing of the western Allies out of Berlin. This, according to Soviet thinking, could be done by either of two means: Either by threats and terrorization involving the risk of war, or by a four-power negotiation which could be hoped to result in a western appeasement policy such as grew out of the ill-starred Munich conference of 1938.

Britain and the U.S. are on a dangerous spot If they pulled out of Berlin under pressure of force applied by Russia the power and influence of western democracy would be perilously weakened in Europe.

Emotional Asthma

Asthma, with its painful choking and wheezing, often may be the result of an emotional disturbance rather than being brought on by purely physical factors.

Dr. F. B. Schutzbank of Tuscon, Ariz., told the American Medical association meeting in Chicago that many of the asthmatic victims who flee to Arizona for relief could save the trip simply by curbing their family quarrels and other distresses

Washington Digest

No Right-Minded Candidate Will Antagonize Newsmen

By BAUKHAGE

News Analyst and Commentator

CONVENTION HALL, PHILADELPHIA.—The notes for this column are inspired by a view from the extreme left wing of the Democratic platform. I do not mean that figuratively, but literally.

I am sitting in the left-hand corner of the wooden platform filled with the brass hats of the party and their friends who are gathered together to nominate a Democratic candidate for President of the United States.

The scene isn't so very different from other political conventions I have attended back to—well, never mind how far back. I have in my mind's eye a different picture. It is a platform, viewed from just about this angle, but instead of this high rostrum protruding into the hall from the middle of the wide platform there is just a wooden box with boards atop it—rough-hewn rails to fence off the speakers from the shouting delegates. The name of Abraham Lincoln is being put in nomination This vision, let me hasten to add, is purely visionary. I did NOT cover that convention. I saw a picture of it in a book

The scene I have been watching is no more placid. That Democrats love a Donnybrook is an old saying. No smoke-filled rooms, no private fights for them—rather a free-for-all in a wide field, even if they know what the final outcome is to be in advance.

But frankly I have been thinking about something else as I sit here in this tropical heat—that is, in the moments when I have been able to think between the flashing of the light which is the silent bell on the telephone beside the mike I am sharing with Earl Godwin. The flash of the light on the phone means someone in the ABC booth, high above us, wants one or the other of us to jump in and give a brief word-picture of what is transpiring in our immediate neighborhood, for we are in the thick of things here and, believe me, sometimes things are pretty thick.

What I have been thinking about is the lot of the newsman and the small thanks he gets for his pain and suffering in a political year Besides being hauled and mauled by the public—his public, as the listeners of a commentator are referred to—besides that, he is under slantwise attack by the candidates when they forget themselves.

Nobody, either the partisan listeners or the politicos, ever thinks the columnist, commentator or reporter is being fair unless he is boosting his side.

Candidates, when they are in possession of their full senses, don't go around arousing the wrath of the newsmen. Even Franklin Roosevelt, who was forever needling the newspapers, always carefully explained that it was the publishers and editors and headline writers who twisted the news, not the men who wrote or broadcast it.

But sometimes candidates slip. And as we sit, perspiring under the klieg lights and trying our best to tell the truth without malice and with as much charity as possible about what is going on before us, we recall without too much rancor, the statement of the candidate who is not being unanimously nominated. On his recent trip he made one off-the-cuff remark, which prompted him to send that offending piece of haberdashery to the laundry immediately after he had thought it over

President Truman opined to one rear-platform audience that it was almost impossible to get the facts definitely before the public "because there are certain people in the newspaper business and certain people in the radio business who have a distorted view of what the people ought to know and what the people ought to think."

It might have been better if he had worded his plaint in the language of an earlier candidate—much earlier—John Quincy Adams, who at least narrowed his charges against the press to a few papers, even though he didn't name them specifically. This offered a sop to the rest.

However, President Truman, in a previous outburst on that same western trip was specific too He attacked the Chicago Tribune and the Spokane Spokesman-Review In lambasting the Tribune, he was following in Franklin Roosevelt's footsteps. You may recall that on one occasion when FDR was asked a particularly sharp question by a Tribune reporter, he replied: "Oh, tell Bertie (Robert McCormick, publisher), he's seeing things under the bed."

Mr Truman's attack on the Tribune came about this way: While travelling through Washington state, a reporter put to him a question which, although it seemed guileless, might have concealed a barb. Anyhow the President interpreted it that way when Senator Magnuson revealed that the reporter asking the question represented the Spokesman-Review.

The President knows that part of the country and the sentiments expressed by its publications. It was then that he said the Spokesman-Review and the Chicago Tribune were "the worst newspapers in the country, the Tribune having the edge." That was about as sharp a thrust as a President ever has launched at the press in modern times. It was in that connection that he also called the present congress the worst in our history, later amending it to "second worst."

It would have been kinder to the rest of us if Mr. Truman had stuck to the specific instead of adopting the sweeping generalization quoted earlier—"some people in the newspaper and radio business, etc.—"

